ST. JOHN, N. B., SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1913.

THE TIMES MUST RETRACT.

Observing citizens of St. John, irrespective of political affiliations, will agree that statements dealing with political matters appearing in the Telegraph and Times have not always been confined to facts.

Prior to the general election these papers were regarded by Liberals as the local organs of the Minister of Public Works, and the responsibility attached thereto tended to some extent to limit their flights of fancy.

Under the heading, "The Returning Tide," the editor of the Times devoted more than half a column of editorial space to a boastful recital of the prowess of the Liberal party.

The utterance of this false statement, while it may have relieved, did not completely cure, or else the Times' editor found such pleasure in the effort that he returned to it, for further along in the same article, we again find that "East Middlesex had previously reduced the Conservative majority by nearly three hundred votes, and even in Chateaugay the majority was also greatly reduced."

Let us look now to the facts. In Chateaugay, Quebec, on October 11th, the Conservative candidate, Mr. Morris, was elected by a majority of 143 votes over Hon. Sydney Fisher the Liberal candidate.

Not once was there a Conservative elected until the 11th day of October, 1913, so the Times deliberately lies when it says there had been a great reduction in the Conservative majority.

the other hand Teeswater, where Sir Wilfrid Laurier attempted to smooth away the effect of Mr. Guthrie's speech, very nearly went Conservative, the Liberal candidate polling, according to the Telegraph's figures, the smallest of any of the majorities.

From these figures it can be seen that the Standard's statement that the constituency had always been an uncertain one is absolutely correct, while the Times' claim of a great Liberal victory is entirely without foundation.

The facts being as they are in all three constituencies, there is but one course open to the Times. Let it publish the record of Chateaugay and retract the incorrect statement that the Liberals there, had made "a great reduction in the Conservative majority."

THE STEAMSHIP SITUATION. The Standard regrets that doubt has been cast upon the correctness of the report that the Royal Line of steamers will sail from this port during the coming winter.

This newspaper, which does not usually rely upon the Times for its information, assumed that the announcement in that paper on Thursday evening was well founded. Since the publication of the denial of the truth of the report The Standard has endeavored to obtain further information, but the absence from Toronto, yesterday afternoon, of Mr. D. B. Hanna, of the Canadian Northern, made it impossible to get a definite statement from him.

Why Not? (Monetary Times). "If the working people would save, for the next five years, the money that they spend on beer, tobacco and baseball, they could control a large share of capital employed in industries," says a United States writer.

Next, how about South Bruce, which caused the Times such a shock? The returns from the bye-election there show that R. E. Trux, Liberal, had a majority of 124 votes over Wellington L. Cargill, Conservative.

DIARY OF EVENTS IN LIGHTER VEIN

One Care. "This agitator says money ought to be smashed." "A queer statement. Can money be smashed?" "Well, I once saw a conductor knock down a nickel."

Don't Miss That. Mrs. Robinson—And were you up the Rhine? Mrs. De Jones—I should think so; right to the very top. What a splendid view there is from the summit!

Real Suffering. Lady: "I am collecting for the suffering poor." Man: "But are you sure they really suffer?" "Oh, yes, indeed. I go to their houses and talk to them for hours at a time."

Writes More Than Hundred Novels. Justus Miles Forman, the author of over a hundred novels and short stories, was born at Le Roy, N. Y., thirty-eight years ago today.

An English Duke. The Duke of Abercorn, who succeeded to that title early this year, will pass his forty-fourth birthday today.

The Passing Day. All Saints Day. All over the world, especially in Latin countries, the festival of All Saints will be observed today.

Why Not? (Monetary Times). "If the working people would save, for the next five years, the money that they spend on beer, tobacco and baseball, they could control a large share of capital employed in industries," says a United States writer.

No Other "Six" in the World Near this Price

The new Studebaker "SIX" stands absolutely alone and apart in the entire field of six-cylinder cars. At its price of $1975 less by hundreds than the price of any other "Six"—it brings you vastly more than the operative advantages of the "Six."

It brings you these advantages, emphasized and enhanced because this "SIX" is not only a manufacturer's "SIX," but a Studebaker-manufactured "SIX."

Carries Seven in Comfort

It brings you passenger capacity for seven.

It brings you the manifold advantages of electric lighting and starting through a two-unit system that has proved itself on thousands of Studebaker cars.

You have never before been able to buy such a car at $1975.

Today you cannot find such another car, at this price, in the entire world.

Six Thousand Manufacturing Operations

How completely the Studebaker "SIX" is the product of the great Studebaker plants you will realize when you know that its construction requires more than 6,000 manufacturing operations.

We build its motor, from the raw iron and steel, down through the numerous processes of casting, machining, grinding and assembling to the finished product.

We build its full-floating rear axle; stamp the light though tremendously strong housing from the sheet steel; we forge, cut and machine the axle and transmission gears.

Throughout the rear axle and transmission, and in the front wheels we use 13 Timken roller bearings for quiet, easy running.

Economical of Fuel and Tires

In fuel consumption we believe the "SIX" will match, if not surpass, the economy of any car of equal horsepower. Its motor size is 3 1/2 x 5 inches.

It is economical because, in spite of its 121-inch wheel-base it is light, and easy on its 34 x 4 inch tires; yet it is wonderfully strong.

It is generously roomy and richly upholstered, and carries its seven passengers in utmost comfort.

In design and line, the "SIX" acknowledges no greater beauty and grace.

Separate Electrical Units

The starting and lighting system is the Wagner two-unit, starting motor and generator separate.

Lamps are Gray & Davis' highest quality, parabolic type. In short the "SIX" lacks nothing in style, beauty or comfort.

$1375

This "Four" the Final Word Among Four-Cylinder Cars

This Studebaker "FOUR" has been developed from our experience in building 110,000 "FOURS."

Its price, $1375, represents the outside limit you should pay for a "Four"; because no "Four" can give you more, in actual value or performance, than this one does.

So its price is right. Its capacity is right. Its power is right. It is the right type—the last word among four-cylinder cars.

A Powerful Long-Stroke Motor

Nothing that we can say here will give you an adequate idea of the power possibilities of this car—or of the things of which it is actually capable.

The motor presents the latest approved engineering practice—cylinders cast on bloc, valves enclosed, exhaust and intake manifolds integral.

The intake is very short and direct, placing the carburetor in a most advantageous position.

In fuel, both oil and gasoline, it will give long mileage.

Thirteen Timken bearings reduce friction and wear to the minimum at every point in the transmission and rear axle and in front wheel hubs.

A Car Pleasing to the Eye

The "FOUR" presents the beautiful continuous streamline effects, with hood sloped upward to a deep cowl.

Running boards are clean and free, with foot plates of aluminum.

The gasoline supply is under the cowl, giving a short, direct gravity feed to the carburetor.

Its rear axle is of the full-floating type, and completely accessible.

The rear springs are full-elliptic, very long and easy, and with the lower member suspended beneath the axle.

Electric Lighting and Starting

It has left hand steering and center control.

The electrical starting and lighting equipment is the Wagner two-unit system—two units for greater efficiency and greater dependability.

Headlights are Gray & Davis' best quality parabolic lamps.

The windshield is of new design, ventilating, clear vision and rain vision.

Most Modern and Complete Equipment

Rims are detachable demountable, with one extra rim and tire carriers at the rear.

Studebaker-Jiffy curtains are always ready for quick lowering from within the car.

The dash equipment includes illuminated speedometer, oil feed and electric current indicator.

Electric horn, robe rail, tools and tool box are also furnished with the "Four."

The care can now be seen at the Studebaker store, and a demonstration arranged.

SPECULATORS CHECKED BY CALL MONEY FLUCTUATIONS

New York, Oct. 31.—With call money fluctuating between five and ten per cent. today, speculators were not inclined to deal heavily in stocks. Renewals were made at six per cent.,
compared with five per cent. yesterday, and the rate then rose to ten per cent., the highest of the year. Offerings were enlarged at this figure,
and the market relaxed. The high point today marked the stiffest rate
for call money since last December,
when twelve per cent. was quoted.
Bankers spoke of the flurry in call money as of only passing importance, due to conditions not unusual at this period of the year. With the November 1 payments of dividend and interest out of the way, it is expected that the market will relax next week to a normal basis. The effect of collections for the November settlement was increased by the calling of loans to arrange for payment of $30,000,000 Interborough Rapid Transit five, called for retirement tomorrow. Coincident with the rise in call money there was a tightening of rates for time funds.

the money market, the stock market acquitted itself well. Prices were lowered generally in the early session.
Many of the important issues losing one to one and one-half. Trading was light all through the day, and in the afternoon the market rose gradually so that final changes as a rule were unimportant. Had speculation been on a larger scale, the effect on stocks of the flurry in call money
might have been more pronounced.
Speculative sentiment was against decidedly pessimistic.
Affairs in Mexico were still uppermost in influencing the growth of the bearish sentiment. Mexican Petroleum broke seven points. New York Central's decrease of nearly $1,000,000
in September net earnings and New Haven's falling off for the quarter of $2,225,000 tended to depress the railroad list. New Haven convertible sixes touched a new low record at 102 1/2.
Weakness was pronounced in spots in the bond market, in which the movement in general was downward.
Total sales, per value, $1,666,000.
United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WEEKLY LETTER CLOSING COTTON
ON MONTREAL
MARKET

(F. B. MCCURDY & CO.)
Montreal, Oct. 31.—The past week has been full of disappointment for the stock market. Advice received from the United States rarely contain anything distinctly cheering and seldom fail to represent the situation in a more or less pessimistic light. The President of the United States Corporation made a statement in the west which contained little that could be interpreted as encouraging for the near future, and the bears immediately attached the worst interpretation permissible to it. Charles Schwab also made some remarks of a character which seems to have thrown gloom on the market. Mexico has been full of troubles, and the market sees the United States being compelled to send over an army to occupy the territory.
In Europe there is no longer talk of Balkan troubles, and it may be doubted if the belligerent countries could renew the fight if they wanted. There is talk of money shortage everywhere.
Those who predicted an advance in the minimum discount rate of the Bank of England were, however, disappointed, the rate continuing firm at 5 per cent. The proportion of reserve however, showed a falling off once more, although it still continues very high, when the rate is taken into consideration.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
New York, Oct. 31.—There was nothing striking in today's cotton news
but there was obviously a considerable revolution of bear sentiment for one reason or another.
One of these was closer analysis of the Giles report which revealed the grounds upon which the authority re-estimated her 13 1/2 million crop estimates. There was also a reversal of technical form to help the rally. Bear pressure on the advance failed to cause liquidation while on every moderate decline contracts seemed to be in demand from the shorts.
Southern spots advices was somewhat more assuring and the into slight figures, while large, were offset by substantial spinners takings.
JUDSON & CO.

In Germany the bank rate was lowered to 5 1/2 per cent., but in Wall Street the rate has been higher all the way round, reaching 10 per cent.
on Friday, but later falling to 8 1/2 per cent. The Canadian Bank of Commerce is said to have loaned $1,000,000 to Wall Street at the six per cent. rate. In the local market
the rate for money continues unchanged at 6 1/2 per cent., notwithstanding the statement that loans have been made at 6 per cent. It is quite possible that some money has been loaned at 6 1/2 per cent. The quantity available for street is greater in relation to demand, but the probabili-ties are that this result has been brought about rather by the falling off in demand than by the increase in supply. The local situation must, to some extent, wait on the world's financial markets, and these are at present not such as to lead to the belief that any marked improvement
will take place for some time to come.
In Canada's favor, however, is the industrial depression and unrest in other countries, these having the effect of stimulating immigration both of population and of wealth from these countries to Canada. During the past few months the United States seems to be taking a much more active interest in Canada, and never a week passes now but further reports are heard of branches of American industries being established or of new Canadian bond issues being underwritten by United States financial houses. This means a new supply from which Canada may draw funds to carry her over the present period of financial troubles. Because of this, it is hoped in local financial and industrial circles that the depression

with which other countries are threatened will pass over Canada without any great effect.
During the past week local stocks have held their own. Steel Corporation, after recovering to 42 last week,
gradually sold off during the present
week until it struck 37 3/4 on Friday,
after which it recovered to 40.
The trading in the stock has been heavy,
and no doubt a lot of selling has taken place on the theory that the dividend will be passed, or that in any case the general depression will affect the price of the stock.
C. P. R. was weaker on Friday than on any day for a considerable period, being down about five points from the previous week.
The rest of the market showed comparatively little change. Were it not for trading in Steel Corporation, C. P.
R., and one or two other stocks the market would be very dead just now.

News of The Churches

BAPTIST

The following from the address of the retiring President of the Ontario and Quebec Convention, A. A. Ayer, Esq., is worthy of careful consideration.

Unity of Effort. Canadian churches take warning by present conditions in New York, Chicago, Boston, and other cities, and would be wise to us as Christians and as Canadians citizens if the Gospel is not given to all the foreigners coming into Canada.

The problems of our Churches, country and city, and the spiritual school and how to reach and hold the people. The problems of our homes and the future of our children.

Missionary. At the convention is Amherst on Tuesday night, Dr. Brown has given a great need and the depressing debt of $8,000 which rests on the Eastern section of the Board, and of the great burden that the Ontario Convention Board is staggering under.

The Baptist Christians in India have grown from 217,000 to 331,000 in ten years, a gain of 52 per cent. Says the Helping Hand: "In all parts of Russia, Baptists are undergoing bitter religious persecution."

Roxborough church, Philadelphia, Rev. J. B. Chapman pastor, which will soon celebrate its 125th anniversary, has an experience to relate in the matter of missionary giving.

school for the past year had reached the total of $1,700. For the first time the vacation season has ended with a surplus and a balance of several hundred dollars in the treasury for current expenses, showing how groundless was the fear that increased missionary giving would lessen the giving to the current expenses of the church.

Rev. Mr. Champion is an old Acadia boy, and was one time pastor of the Baptist church, Sussex. We rejoice in the success that is attending his ministry.

Rev. O. C. S. Wallace, D.D., for some years Chancellor of McMaster University, Toronto, but more recently pastor of the First Baptist church, Baltimore, Nev., has entered upon his pastorate of the Westmont Baptist church, Montreal, and is meeting with great success.

Rev. D. D. MacLaurin has closed his pastorate with the First church, Walla Walla, Washington. The church gave Dr. and Mrs. MacLaurin a farewell reception. The parting words were full of tenderness and love.

Rev. Edmund D. Webber, who recently resigned at Wolfville, N. S., has been called to the pastorate of the First church, Haverhill. He was formerly pastor at Wolfville for several years in Couva, Trinidad, and the daughter of the late Rev. John Morton, D.D., one of the pioneer Unitarians, social worker under the Assembly's Board of Social Service and Evangelism, missionary for several years in Glasgow, N. S., for many years president of the Society.

Rev. James A. Francis, D.D., pastor of the Claremont street church, Boston, gave last week in the Beverly church a course of studies under the general title, "A Week with the Bible."

The ordination and induction of Mr. John T. MacNeill, M. A. B. D., who answered the call to Chipman congregation, will be held in the Presbyterian church, Chipman, on Thursday, Nov. 14th, at 7:30 p. m. At the meeting of the presbytery of St. John, called for the purpose, Dr. J. H. MacVicar will preside, ordain and induct. Rev. J. H. Anderson will address the congregation.

FIGHTS FOR THE FLAG

The Siege of San Sebastian

There appeared to be a crowd of some 200 men immediately before me, opposite the front of this work—those in front of this body returning a fire directed at them from the parapet above, and which, was sweeping them down in great numbers, and also from an entrenchment which the enemy had thrown across the main ditch, about a yard or two retired from the opening into it. I observed at the same time a heavy firing at the breach; and as the larger portion of the right wing appeared to be collected, as I have described, opposite the demi-bastion, it was very manifest that those who had gone forward to the breach were not only weak in numbers for the struggle they had to encounter, but it was apparent they were also unsupported. I endeavored with the head of my detachment to aid some of their own officers in urging and pushing forward this halting body. They had commenced firing, and there was no moving them. Falling in this, I proposed to Lieutenant Clarke, who was in command of the light company of the Royals to lead past the right of these people, in the hope that, seeing us passing them, they might possibly cease firing and follow. I had scarcely made this proposition when this fine young man was killed; and several of my own (5th) detachment, as also many of the light company Royals, were here killed and wounded. In passing this body with the few of my own people and most of the light company Royals, some might have come away, but the bulk remained. Their halting there (opposite the demi-bastion) thus formed a sort of stopping-place between the trenches and the breach, as the men came forward from the former on their way to the latter. On arriving at the breach, I observed that the whole lower parts thickly strewn with killed and wounded. There were a few individual officers and men spread on the face of the breach, but nothing more. These were cheering, and gallantly opposing themselves to the close and destructive fire at them from the round tower and other defences on each flank of the breach, and to a profusion of hand-grenades which were constantly rolling down. In going up I passed Jones of the Engineers, who was wounded; and on gaining the top of the breach, I went to assist their endeavors, and again went up the breach with them, when I was shot through the inside part of the left thigh.

The breach was fully occupied and alive with fire, and the party with him quite unequal in itself—seeing, also, the many discouraging circumstances under which the attempt would have to be made, of forcing its way through such opposition—he ordered his party to retire, receiving when speaking to me, a shot which broke his arm. I came back with him and his party, and on my way made the shot, whose advance became interrupted by the wounded and others of the Royals returning.

The attack had thus failed; and in the British batteries the supply of ammunition was exhausted; South was coming fiercely on through the passes of the Pyrenees, and Wellington had no choice but to turn the siege into a blockade till fresh supplies arrived from England. Thirty days had been spent in open trenches, and thirty days of the blockade followed; days, as far as Wellington, who was covering the siege, was concerned, of desperate and bloody fighting. But South's gallant host, at the close of these operations, was sweeping a broken mass, in wild tumult back to France, with a loss, in killed, wounded, and prisoners, of not less than 20,000 men. Then Wellington resumed the siege. On August 13, a battering train arrived from England; on the 23rd came a second battering train; but with a touch of administrative stupidity, delightfully characteristic, ammunition for only a single day's consumption was sent out with the guns.

On the morning of the 26th, the batteries opened in thunder on the doomed city. No less than 114 guns were in action at once. By August 30 two wide breaches gaped in the eastern wall, the fire of the place was almost silenced, three mines had been run from the southern attack towards the curtain crossing the isthmus, and everything seemed ready for the final assault. The gallant French commandant, however, had spent the thirty days of the blockade in perfecting his defences; and with a wise prevision of the difficulties before them, Fraser records in his "Diary" on August 22: "This St. Sebastian is destined to be a thorn in our sides, or a feather in our caps." At this stage the "thorn" was more visible than the "feather."

Key: The French commandant did not hope to maintain an equal duel with the furious British batteries; his plan was to make assault on the breach hopeless. He constructed immediately behind the great breach an interior rampart, 15 feet high, with outstanding bastions. The appearance, therefore, was, in effect, a death-trap. On reaching its crest, the storming party would find before it a huge pit, from 20 to 35 feet deep, its bottom strewn with every sort of impediment; and beyond it a new and unbroken rampart, loopholed for musketry, with traverses at either extremity. A mine charged with 12 cwt. of powder was driven beneath the slope along which the stormers must come; two other mines were designed to blow down part of the sea-wall on the British columns as they passed along it to the attack. Never, in fact, was a more desperate task than that of carrying San Sebastian. And it is to be noted that the engineering blunder which made the first attack a failure was repeated. The defences that covered the breach were left undestroyed.

On the night of August 29, a false attack was made on the breach, in order to tempt the besieged to spring their mines, and show the direction and scale of the fire they had prepared for the assaulting columns. The morning broke gloomy and black. A dense mist drifted down from the high valleys of the Pyrenees, and girdled San Sebastian with a shroud of grey vapor so dense that the besieging batteries could not fire. As the day advanced, however, the fog lifted, and a tempest of shot was poured for more than two hours on the defences of the city. Eleven o'clock struck; the batteries suddenly ceased. Robinson's men leaped from their trench, and a river of scarlet uniforms swept towards the breach. It was known that heavy mines were in the path of the columns; but twelve men led by a sergeant ran forward at speed, and leaped upon the covered way to cut the fuse by which the mine was to be exploded. Startled by their rush, the French hurriedly fired the mine. The sergeant and his brave band were instantly destroyed, and the great sea-wall was thrown, with a terrific crash, upon the flank of the advancing column, crushing some forty men beneath it. Had it been fired some five minutes later it would have slain hundreds. As it was it did not arrest the attack for a moment. Micaure, of the 4th, who led the forlorn hope, "conspicuous," says Napier, "from his long white plume, his fine figure, and his swiftness, bounded far ahead of his men in all the pride of youthful strength and courage. But at the foot of the great breach he fell dead, and the stormers went sweeping, like a dark surge, over his body."

Meanwhile Wellington, dissatisfied with the conduct of his men in the first attack, called for fifty volunteers from each of the fifteen regiments in the 1st, 4th, and light divisions; "men," the appeal ran, "who could show other troops how to mount a breach." That stinging phrase was felt by the gallant men of the 5th division like the stroke of a whip; but the response in the other divisions was easier, and even tumultuous. Here is a picturesque little passage from the "Private Journal" of Larparent:—"There was nothing but confusion in the two divisions here last night (the light and 4th), from the eagerness of the officers to volunteer, and the difficulty of determining who were to be refused and who allowed to go and run their heads into a hole in the wall, full of fire and danger! Major Napier was here quite in misery, because, though he had volunteered first, Lieutenant-colonel Hunt of the 52nd, his superior officer, insisted on his right to go. The latter said that Napier had been in the breach at Badajoz, and he had a fair claim to go now. So it is among the subalterns have volunteered where two are to be accepted. Hunt, being Lieutenant-colonel, has nothing but honor to look to; as to promotion, he is past that. The men say that they don't know what they are to do, but they are ready to go anywhere."

The "Historical Record" of the 52nd says that when Wellington's appeal reached that regiment "entire companies volunteered, and the captain had a difficult task in selecting the men most fit for such an undertaking, without hurting the feelings of the others; in many cases lots were resorted to to settle the claims of those gallant fellows who contended for the honor of upholding the fame of their regiment." When the order was communicated to the 4th division, and volunteers were invited to step to the front, the whole division moved forward!

Leith, however, who commanded the 5th division, was much aggrieved at the slight put upon his men, and he placed the 750 volunteers who were to "show other troops how to mount a breach" in support, and gave the men of the 4th division the post of honor. The men of that division, indeed, were so exasperated with the slight put upon them that there was some risk of their firing on the volunteers themselves, instead of on the French!

The assault was fixed for 10 o'clock on the morning of August 31. Robinson's brigade was formed in two columns. One was to storm the eastern end of the curtain, that crossed the isthmus, the other was to assault the great breach; Bradford's Portuguese were to cross the river and assault the smaller and more northerly breach. The morning broke gloomy and

U. N. B. DEFEATS MOUNT A. IN HARD FOUGHT BATTLE

Special to The Standard.
 Fredericton, Oct. 31.—U. N. B. won from Mount Allison here today in the first game of the Intercollegiate Football League, this season, by a score of 8 to 3. It was the first time in five years that U. N. B. had scored on Mount A., and the first occasion in six years that the red and black had triumphed over garnet and gold.

Student celebrations in connection with the game were on a more elaborate scale than ever before. While Mount A. had the biggest cheering section they have brought here in years, U. N. B. students went there one better and had a brass band composed of students on hand to lead parades and provide music at half time and add to the fun. After the game the students paraded to City Hill and while their band played in My Harem they did the turkey trot around the fountain.

While U. N. B. won, their showing was in some ways a disappointment, as Mount A. had the weakest team sent here from Sackville in years. U. N. B. lost probably as many as four tries, twelve points or more, by the inaccuracy of the passing of the backs, with Capt. Melrose as the worst offender.

U. N. B. outkicked their opponents and except for the first portion of the second half the U. N. B. scrim outplayed their opponents. That first portion of the second half was the only time that U. N. B. didn't have the best of the play from every angle. Mount A.'s superiority at that time was largely in their forward division, the score being made by Appleton on a dive around the scrimmage following a succession of scrimmages on U. N. B.'s line. The try was made at one corner of the field and there was no chance for Capt. Godfrey, who attempted to convert, to get the ball over the cross bar.

U. N. B. scored both their tries in the first half. Laughlin got the first on a pass from Bender, the latter after a scrimmage following McGibbon's long kick, carried the ball almost to the line and when tackled slipped the ball into Laughlin's hands and the latter, with Murray shoving him along, went over the line and dropped. Main man converted the goal, the kick being from a fairly difficult angle, although not what would be called a hard chance. The second try was scored by Balkan on a fine run around the end, following a pretty piece of passing across the field by the U. N. B. half line. Mainman tried the kick, but the angle proved too difficult for him to convert the goal.

Lon Siderski of Glouce Bay gave good satisfaction as referee.

The teams lined up as follows:

U. N. B.	Mount A.

The St. John team will line up as follows: Anglin, full; Brooks, Melrose, Howard, Finley, halves; McGowan, Ross, Gilbert, quarters; Gorman, Humphries, Walker, Howard, Morrissey, West, LeLacheur and McDonald, forwards.

ANDERSON AND M'DONALD WRESTLE NEXT SATURDAY

A couple of weeks ago Sam Anderson, the champion of the United States, wrote the sporting editor of The Standard that he had just finished a successful tour of the United States with a company of wrestlers and was feeling in excellent condition. He further stated that he was quite willing to hold to his statement which he made before a St. John audience last spring in the Queen's rink when he stated that he was ready at any time to wrestle Dan McDonald, the Cape Breton Scotchman, and would guarantee to throw McDonald twice within an hour. The promoter of the bouts held last spring communicated with McDonald who is the champion of Canada, and after considerable hesitation McDonald accepted Anderson's offer and the match was completed. There is a great feeling among the friends of McDonald that Anderson can't throw McDonald twice within an hour and McDonald who has been training faithfully says that he feels the same way. Both are very strong men and each knows all the holds and tricks of the wrestling game. This match has been arranged to come off in the Nickel Theatre on Saturday night next, Nov. 8th. Anderson will arrive in the city within a few days to complete his training, and McDonald is already here and will finish up his work during the week.

Anderson is one of the hardest wrestlers in the country and holds the world's championship belt for his weight and the lovers of physical culture and skill in the art of wrestling which has a great fan among both ladies and gentlemen throughout the United States and Upper Canada will have an opportunity of witnessing two of the best in the game.

Burton and McLeod will bowl Baxter and Evans Monday evening at 8 o'clock.
