

HEAVY SEAS TORE SHIP'S HULL APART

Captain Randall Relates Bitter Experiences as His Ship Pounded to Pieces.

DECKS SWEEP CLEAR BY STORM

Forced to Put on Life Belts and Cast Themselves Into Icy Water and Swim.

Kingston, Ont., Nov. 26.—Captains Henry Randall, of the wrecked steam barge John Randall with two other members of the crew, who had been almost given up for lost in a big storm on Lake Ontario on November 16, reached the city this afternoon and he had a thrilling story to relate. According to the Captain's story, the Randall had put into the bay at the main docks on the afternoon of November 16 to seek shelter from the storm that was raging on the lake. After they had been lying there for some hours the wind shifted from northeasterly to east, and a heavy sea broke in on the bay.

Boat Carried Off.

The boat broke loose and was carried out to sea. Her stern struck on a flat rock and her engine was lifted up. She broke in two as the result of the impact. The main steam pipe broke and the water rushed to the forward end of the vessel, which remained above water. They stayed on the vessel up forward, in the wheel house, until daylight, as it was impossible to do anything in the darkness.

Sea Washed Decks.

"The heavy sea washed the deck, cabin and lifeboats off the deck," stated Captain Randall. "We stayed on the boat until two o'clock Wednesday afternoon, thinking that someone would pick us up."

"No one came," he said, "and weather conditions were becoming very serious. The only thing left for us to do was to put on life belts and trusting ourselves to the mercy of the sea and start swimming for shore. Just as we got there, a distance of about fifty feet, the lighthouse keeper and his wife and son came along and gave us assistance as they could. We were forced to walk a mile and a half to the lighthouse. Brady and Harry Smith (two members of the crew) were almost frozen to death. The exposure was really terrible.

"On arriving at the lighthouse we were given a treatment of rum, and to this drink of liquor Harry Smith, attributes the saving of his life. Since then we have been living at the home of the lighthouse keeper, Mr. Fred Bongard, and no more kind or hospitable treatment could have been given us than by Mr. Bongard and his family. We could not get in communication with the city in anyway until yesterday, and for that reason we had to be given up, practically as lost."

NEW YORK PRESS RESENTS ATTACK ON UNION JACK

This Is Not Ireland—Nothing Could Aid Lloyd George More' is One View.

New York, Nov. 26.—Several New York evening papers comment somewhat bitterly on yesterday's disorders after the MacSwiney memorial mass at St. Patrick's Cathedral, when a mob of 6,000 Irish sympathizers, waving a British flag displayed in a window of the Union Club, attacked the building and carried on a desperate battle until a horde of policemen drove them away. All the windows on the lower floor of the club building were wrecked and there were many injuries from flying missiles.

"The demonstration yesterday is a naive assumption that New York is a part of Ireland," says the Globe. "Nothing could do more injustice to Ireland or win more friends for Lloyd George than this absurd attempt to dictate to American opinion and conduct."

"The mob," says the Evening Post, "may have been composed of American citizens. But they did not act as if they were Americans. They acted as if they were Irishmen."

"This is not Ireland"

"Irish sympathizers who act as Irish sympathizers acted yesterday forget where they are. This is not Ireland. It is not England. It is the United States. Anybody who is not naturalized and who proposes to proceed as if New York was Dublin, or any other foreign city, abuses our hospitality, and anybody who is naturalized, or was born here and who takes a similar course, gives the lie to his Americanism."

"This country has watched and continues to watch the effort of Ireland to obtain self-government with sympathy. But it cannot be stated too emphatically that our only legitimate interest in Ireland's struggle is as Americans. It is humanly impossible for the American people to feel the tragedy of Ireland more keenly than the majority of us. Their first duty is, nevertheless, to America. They cannot transfer a European struggle to American soil. Real Americans justly resent any such move."

Secretary of War Baker Announces That Plan of Britain and France Rejected.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The United States will not follow the example set by Great Britain and France in removing the body of an unidentified soldier for interment in this country. It was announced today by Secretary of War Baker. It had been suggested that the interment, if approved by the War Department, should take place in the planned Victory Hall, Pershing Square, New York.

RUSSIA READY TO DECLARE WAR ON TURK REDS

War to Begin Against Mustafa Kemal Unless He Quits Advance Into Armenia.

CONSIDER BREST TREATY ENDED

Change of Gov't in Armenia Said to be Basis of the New Ultimatum.

Constantinople, Nov. 26.—The Moscow Government has notified Mustafa Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists, that it would regard a further Turkish advance into Armenia as cause for war. The message, it says, was sent as a consequence of the change in the government of Armenia.

George Tchitcherin, the Soviet Foreign Minister, demanded withdrawal of the Turks to the west bank of the Argh-Chal River and informed the Nationalist Government at Ankara officially that the treaty of Brest-Litovsk was considered invalid.

It is reported that Legrand, Soviet representative in Erivan, the Armenian capital, gave assurances to the new government that the Soviets would not tolerate aggression on the part of Azerbaijan, against the new Soviet republic and promised at the same time to furnish it with 50,000 pounds of fuel.

ST. JOHN'S FISH DEALERS BREAK

Liabilities Exceed One Million Dollars With Assets, Consisting of Fish, Catch Large

St. John's, Nfld., Nov. 26.—The difficulties which have beset the fishing industry of Newfoundland, culminated today in the announcement of the liquidation of three large fishing firms on the south coast, with total liabilities exceeding a million dollars. It was said that the assets were considerably in excess of the liabilities, but that they consisted largely of fish products and other property, which it was impossible to turn into cash under present conditions.

The firms and their liabilities are the Moulton Company, Burgeo, $580,000; Irpen Company, Burin, $350,000; Lake Company, Fortune Bay, $190,000.

CANADIAN SETTLER RESCUES ALL CREW

Montreal, Nov. 26.—A message received today by the C. G. M. M. from Captain G. B. Leonard, master of the Canadian Settler, which sailed from Sydney, N. S., on the 24th for Liverpool, stated that he had picked up at sea the captain and crew of the schooner Eloise Francis, of St. John's, Newfoundland, which had been abandoned at sea. The rescued crew were all in good health, the despatch stated.

FEWER WORKING DAYS SUGGESTED BY ONTARIO C. M. A.

Manufacturers Think Plan Better Than Dismissal of Many Men from Shops.

Toronto, Nov. 26.—At a joint meeting of the Ontario Division Executive and the Toronto Branch Executive of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association here today the unemployment question was discussed. It was decided to recommend that all manufacturers should do everything possible to prevent the suspending or dismissal of men where it was possible to keep them employed, and that where a reduction of the working time was regarded as necessary, the reduction should be carried out by closing for whole days, rather than for parts of days, as is to minimize factory disorganization and inconveniences to the workers.

STORM CENTRE OF C. N. R.

Ottawa, Nov. 26.—The newspaper report that the employees of the Canadian National Railway would strike on Monday in protest against order of the President D. E. Hanna, that no employee should become a political candidate is not true," said a prominent representative of a railway union in discussing the situation today.

A meeting has been arranged between representatives of the unions affected and the management of the Canadian National, at which the whole matter will be discussed, and an effort made to come to some arrangement.

SHOT AT DEER, HE CLAIMS, BUT KILLED NEPHEW

Carleton Vail Was Wounded Fatally While He Was Trimming a Log in Woods.

STILL INSISTS HE FIRED AT A DEER

Snow So Deep That Victim Could Not be Got to Medical Aid Quickly.

Special to The Standard
St. Stephen, N. B., Nov. 26.—Some particulars of the tragedy at Brockway today. The victim was Carleton Vail, thirty-one years of age, and the shooting was done by his uncle, James Vail, about fifty years of age.

Carleton Vail was working with others at lumber camp four miles from the village but was alone when the accident happened, his companions being deeper in the woods. He was standing on a log near the camp trimming it with an axe, when a shot rang out and a bullet pierced his left leg just above the knee, this happening about ten o'clock Thursday morning.

Still Thinks It Deer
James Vail who fired the shot, still is confident that the object he shot at was a deer which got away. He is quite deaf but is known as an expert and very careful woodsman, by men who have been in the woods with him. Companions came quickly to the aid of the injured man and he was carried to the camp where first aid was administered. The wound was severe the bone being shattered and the victim suffered severely. Some delay occurred in summoning a physician but Dr. Sullivan of St. Stephen was finally reached and left St. Stephen by auto the intention being for a car from Brockway to meet him at Wald Junction, eight miles from the scene of the accident.

Roads Were Blocked
The travel from this end was so blocked with snow that progress could not be made and resort was had to a team. Dr. Sullivan reaching Brockway about three in the afternoon. By this time the men at the camp had placed the injured man on a lighter and started to carry him to the village. He chatted with them on the way out, but soon conversation ceased and investigation showed that the spark of life had fled. Death is attributed to the severe shock the system had suffered. Mr. Vail was married in September, 1919, to Miss Mary Smith, daughter of Sullivan Smith of St. David, Charlotte County who survives him with an infant daughter.

GOVERNOR WANTS SOLDIERS SENT

Martial Law May be Declared in Mingo County Where Miners Strike.

Charleston, W. Va., Nov. 26.—Governor John J. Cornwell, of West Virginia, announced tonight that he had asked the government to send federal troops into the Mingo County, West Virginia coal strike zone, and added that as soon as the soldiers took charge, he would ask President Wilson to declare martial law. Federal troops controlled the Mingo region for some time, but were withdrawn about six weeks ago.

Much Disorder Since
Since that time many disorders have occurred, a number of persons have been shot and killed, and gangs of unidentified men have attacked coal properties.

The state government is totally unable to cope with the situation in Mingo County, the governor said. "I hope, with all my heart," he added, "that martial law will be declared immediately after an invitation has been made, but I am totally unable to venture an opinion upon what eventual military action will be."

MOTHER SLAIN, SON STABBED, HOME BURNED

Neighbor Who is Alleged to Have Been Concerned in the Affair is Missing.

QUEBEC POLICE GONE TO SCENE

Son Found in Stable With Head and Body Terribly Cut by Sharp Knife.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—Word of a murder and of an attempted murder was received here today. The occurrence was at St. Veronique de Turgeon, near L'Assomption, Labelle County, Quebec, and detectives have been sent to investigate the crime and the murderer.

The victim was Mrs. N. Claremont, forty-four years of age of St. Veronique, who had been stabbed several times with a pocket knife and her limbs afterwards burned down.

Her son, Oscar Claremont, 20 years old, was found in a nearby stable with severe cuts about the head, face, hands, feet and body.

Ozias Rippe, a neighbor, was held by the coroner after the jury had rendered a verdict blaming him.

The Boy's Story.

Oscar Claremont, who is reported as improved tonight, made a statement, according to Dr. Cartier, of Nominique, before Justice of the Peace, Hous and Edouard Hamet, of Nominique, to the effect that their neighbor, Ozias Rippe, knocked at the door of the Claremont home on Wednesday evening and when he opened the door, Rippe struck him with his knife. Rippe then, he said, attacked his (Claremont's) mother, and when he tried to defend her Rippe struck him again. Claremont then ran into the stable and hid himself. The house was apparently set on fire by means of cinders from the stove accompanied by oil poured on the floor and was burned to the ground.

It was not until 4:30 on the following (Thursday) afternoon that Marcellin, a habitant of St. Veronique, passed the ruins and found Claremont in the stable.

"SANTA RITA" SENDING S. O. S.

Lives of 33 Persons, Including Mother and Babe, Believed to be in Danger.

Astoria, Ore., Nov. 26.—"S. O. S." calls were received here this afternoon from the steamer Santa Rita, a short distance south of Umanilla reef. The call said the steamer was in distress and the lives of 33 persons were in danger.

Had Tow Aloft.
Seattle, Wn., Nov. 26.—The steamer Santa Rita, towing the barge W. J. Pirrie, late today was in distress off the Washington coast, 30 miles south of Cape Flattery, according to a wireless message from Tacomah to the Seattle Merchants Exchange. A seventy mile southwesterly gale was blowing.

Barge Cut Adrift.
Advices late today at the office of W. C. Grace and Company, said the wife and baby of Captain A. B. Jensen, master of the Pirrie, are on the barge. The Santa Rita is in little danger, officials of the company said, but was forced to cut the Pirrie adrift. The Santa Rita left Tacoma, Wednesday towing the Pirrie, loaded with a cargo of lumber for the West Coast of South America.

BUTTER AND MILK PRICES TO BREAK

Denmark's Product Will Cause Decline in America View of Big Dealers.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 26.—Prediction of what appeared to be a "serious drop" in milk and butter prices was made in an address at the Chamber of Commerce today before Omaha businessmen by George M. Wilbur, of Mayville, Ohio, head of the executive committee of the Ohio Wool Growers' Association. "There is facing us a serious drop in milk and butter prices because Danish butter will soon be coming at the rate of 500,000 pounds a month," Mr. Wilbur said. "At the same time," he added, "more than 450,000,000 worth of domestic evaporated milk is piled up in New York. It cannot be sold for lack of export demand and condensing factories are closing all over the country."

KILLED HIS BROTHER

Charlottetown, P.E.I., Nov. 26.—At French River on Thursday, Arnold Pidgeon, a young man, James Pidgeon, was killed by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of his older brother, Parmenas, aged thirteen. The latter was repairing the gun in the kitchen, and Arnold was watching the operation.

SECOND ATTACK ON ANOTHER SHOP

Gang in Detroit Hurts Ammonia Into Man's Face and Steals $10,000.

New York, Nov. 26.—Three armed thugs early today blackjacked the night watchman of a taxicab service on East 66th street, and after binding and blindfolding him, blew the office safe and made their escape with $51,000 in cash and promissory notes.

Under the guise of prospective customers the bandits entered, asking to be shown an automobile in the rear of the garage. As the watchman, whose name is Paolo Giamblone, led the way, he was threatened with drawn revolvers and ordered to throw up his hands.

Knocked Down in Fight
Defying his assailants, Giamblone resisted and was felled by a blow on the head. When he recovered consciousness, he found the safe open and the money gone.

In Brooklyn, James Ryan, night watchman of a towel supply company, was similarly attacked by four armed men who knocked him unconscious with a crow-bar, forced open a heavy iron safe and escaped with $1,200.

When the robbers' victim regained his senses, he found himself bound to an armchair. Gnawing the ropes with his teeth, he at length freed himself and gave the alarm.

SYDNEY MEN TO ARBITRATE

Strikers Declare They Are Ready to Place Their Case Before a Board.

Sydney, N. S., Nov. 26.—The railway strike situation remains the same, and although settlement is talked of in a general sort of a way, no definite step has been taken by either side in the dispute to bring matters to a head.

This afternoon George K. Wark, when interviewed, said that in order to settle the strike, he and the men would consent to put the question in the hands of any properly constituted board of arbitration.

Some men are to be paid off at the plant tomorrow, although it will not be a large number. Up to the present time, operations are being kept up to the standard set in the first few days of the strike.

SMALL ESTATE HAS SPENT OVER $100,000 TO FIND DOUGHTY

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Arriving in the city this morning from New York, Mrs. Ambrose J. Small, wife of the missing theatrical magnate, drove directly to the Capital Trust Company offices for a conference with Dr. G. R. Connolly, managing director of the company for the Small estate.

After the conference she was asked: "How much has it cost the Small estate to prosecute the search for light on the subject of the disappearance of Ambrose J. Small and his secretary, John Dougherty?"

"I could not begin to tell you now," said Mrs. Small. "It is more than you would ever believe, and I do not know myself now."

"More than $100,000?" she was asked.

"Oh, far, far more than that," she replied. "We have followed up every clue all over the country and, months ago, we had a conference with all the agencies in New York. For the first time, we seem to be getting results."

SINN FEINER LEADERS WILL BE INTERNED

Arrest Made at Dublin Part of Plan to Round up All Known Irish Leaders.

COURT MARTIAL CONDEMN MANY

Twenty-Nine Sent to Prison and Eleven Are Acquitted in Dublin Trials.

Dublin, Nov. 26.—Authoritative information was given the Associated Press this evening that the arrests today of Arthur Griffith, founder of the Sinn Fein, and John MacNeill and E. J. Duggan, Sinn Fein members of parliament, and others, was the prelude of a contemplated round-up of well known men, either actually or believed to be connected with the Irish Republican movement.

"Some form of internment is planned, and it is intended to hold the lot of them indefinitely," the correspondent was told.

Going Back to Work

Belfast, Nov. 26.—The Londonderry employees of the Lough Swilly Railway at Donegal have decided to seek reinstatement. This will be the first breaking away from the Irish railwaymen who decided some time ago not to carry armed forces of the crown or munitions.

Week's Tragic Record

London, Nov. 26.—A statement issued in Dublin today says that in the week ending November 20, which was comparatively calm, the number of serious outrages falling to the lowest on record during the past six months, was succeeded by the commencement of a week of tragic events without parallel in the history of Ireland since the rebellion of 1916.

"In the space of forty-eight hours," says the statement, "thirty-eight persons met with violent death, and seventy-nine were wounded or injured. The statistics of minor outrages were exceptionally light. One vacated police barracks was destroyed. Raids on the mails fell from twenty-six to sixteen. Forty trials by court-martial resulted in twenty-nine convictions and eleven acquittals. There were sentences to imprisonment at hard labor, varying from two years to eighty-four days, imposed in twenty-five cases."

Lloyd George Displeased

London, Nov. 26.—Arthur Griffith's arrest in Dublin, it is stated, came as a great surprise to Mr. Lloyd George and the Irish office. It is even declared that it brought forth some criticism from the premier and those on the inner circles of Number 10 Downing street, the premier's official residence.

IN THE EDITOR'S MAIL

To the Editor of the St. John Standard.
Sir—If newspaper reports are correct, it would appear that the Canadian Government Merchant Marine steamers will patronize the ports of St. John and Halifax as follows:
St. John with 9 sailings
Halifax with 22 sailings
As we are assured that the C. N. R. under present management by commission, would be operated on a strictly business basis, it is left to the public to assume that it is most profitable for the C. N. R. to haul freight to Halifax than to St. John.
I am correctly informed, the rate on export freight to Halifax is 300 cent (3s) per 100 pounds more than to St. John.
The mileage from Moncton to Halifax is 184 miles. The mileage from Moncton to St. John is 90 miles, thus leaving a difference of 94 miles in favor of St. John as the shorter haul.
Per the sum of 1c. per 100 pounds the railway is paid, the freight is carried an extra 94 miles. Can any railway profitably haul freight at this rate?
In discussing this matter with some who are interested in transportation matters, I have heard it expressed as a defense of the attitude displayed by those in charge of the shipping of mail, that after the freight arrives in St. John, it is subjected to a further charge of 75c. per 100 pounds, in order to deliver it at West St. John piers where steamers may accept delivery. This charge of 75c. is made up, as I understand it, of a shunting charge of 2c. per 100 pounds, and an unloading charge of 73c. per 100 pounds, all of which is paid to the C. N. R.
Why discuss the cost of delivery to the West Side, when the steamers for which this particular lot of freight is intended are solely those of the C. G. M. M., and not of various other lines? Is it necessary for the C. G. M. M. steamers to load at the West Side piers?
For arguments sake, let us assume that it is. With 1c. per pound less of a freight rate to St. John, and the 75c. per 100 pounds referred to, we have a difference of 83c. per 100 pounds to meet the expense of hauling 100 pounds of freight a distance of 94 miles. It may be possible to haul freight at this rate, but would equal 1 1/2c. per ton mile.
On the other hand it is the opinion of some at least, that it is not necessary for the C. G. M. M. steamers to load at the West Side piers. In fact, as I am informed that 50 p. c. of the total sailings from Halifax and St. John can be easily carried for at the C. N. R.'s own, the Long Wharf. If not, then we have both the Pettigall and McLeod wharves to supplement the capacity of the Long Wharf. If this is a reasonable opinion, and the steamers can be so loaded, this leaves the sum of 1c. per 100 pounds to the C. N. R. for hauling freight a distance of 94 miles, or a rate of 1 1/2c. per ton mile. Again the question is presented, can any railway profitably haul freight at this rate? This is not a case of delivering freight to various lines of steamers, who may exercise an authority over the point of delivery to them, but one in which there are two co-related departments operated by the government of the day for the convenience and profit of the Canadian taxpayer.
If it is a question of providing more economical facilities for loading the C. G. M. M. steamers, and Halifax has been selected for a greater amount of patronage, on this account, then let us ask the question, can the steamers be handled at the port of Halifax at less cost than at St. John, and if so, will the difference in cost more than compensate for the loss occurring in the longer haul.
It is true that the lowest freight rate offered by the C. N. R. is that of 3c. per 100 pounds on lines from Brookville to St. John? If so, this would equal 12c. per ton mile.
An explanation is due St. John, and it is about time that the Easy Mark

Sign which adorns our front door is...
Since writing the above, I have read in the 'Daily Telegraph' of this date that a committee of the Board of Trade had made some inquiries as to the cause of the shipping discrimination, and had reported that upon interviewing the local agent of the C. G. M. M., it was not deemed advisable to apply for more sailings at this time on account of lack of facilities.
I do not propose to offer any opinion in direct contradiction of anything such as is stated in a better position to judge of C. G. M. M. requirements than I, neither do I propose to question the veracity of the committee which reported to the Board of Trade, I offer the following in an effort to bring before the public the subject of facilities, and as to there being sufficient to care for more than the ten steamers allotted to St. John, and at least 50 p. c. of the 31 steamers of the two ports, Halifax and St. John.
Irrespective of West Side facilities, we have the Long, Pettigall and McLeod wharves, with which to supply these particular steamers, the only interference with a continuous use being the West India boats requiringments fortnightly at Pettigall or McLeod wharves, and an odd tramp at Long Wharf.
The Long Wharf can accommodate two steamers weekly, and at that rate covering a winter season of 20 weeks, would provide for 40 sailings. This would be subject to a few tramp steamers which might require space at that dock. The Pettigall and McLeod wharves would take care of an equal amount of sailings, subject only to the requirements of the West India steamers and possibly a tramp steamer. The argument against the use of the Pettigall and McLeod wharves may be that facilities for unloading freight from the island farly such requirements as 40 sailings would impose. This may or may not be so, but if so, why the necessity for giving up so much street and wharf space as is continuously being requested by the C. N. R. authorities?
While the selection of steamer routes in their respective sailings from St. John and Halifax may be considered by those in authority as a fair one, it does appear that even in this respect Halifax has had some friends at court.
Let us put the cards on the table, and in this game of solitaire which appears to be the only one St. John knows, let us instead of commencing with Aces, let our cards each represent a question:—
1. Are present conditions due to lack of facilities?
2. Are they due to a desire to more profitably handle the business?
3. Are they due to railway officials having a preference for Halifax over St. John?
4. Are they due to the fact that Halifax presents more capable and influential political representation at Ottawa than St. John does?
Finally, may I ask if the Board of Trade desires on the part of some to remain satisfied that nothing further can be accomplished in this particular regard until increased facilities are available, is due to the greater desire on the part of some to secure harbor commission, and perhaps force the issue through this medium.
Thanking you for the valuable space afforded me,
Believe me to be, yours very truly,
H. R. McLELLAN,
St. John, N. B. July 26, '20.

Lace And Rabbits Sold By Nobility

Keeping a Hotel a Favorite Occupation of British Titled Ladies.
By L. K. COMMANDER.
(Copyright, 1920, By Cross-Atlantic.)
London, Nov. 26.—Gertrude, Lady Deedes is one of the few peeresses who have not, so far, made a success of their ventures. She began business in the hotel and rabbit trade. She in the hotel and rabbit trade. She failed but failed brilliantly. The rabbit idea was partly sentimental. She not only wishes to "make a bit," but to capture the German trade in rabbit furs. Also she wanted to give work to ex-soldiers. Alas! the venture did not last long; but Lady Deedes is by no means disheartened, and hopes one day to try again.
Lady Margaret Brockville, famous as a poet is also a producer of pointed toys and, very appropriately, of fairy books. In addition she has a lamp shade business in Islay Street which was opened just before the war.
Women Wear Scarlet.
A titled hotel proprietor in Lady Honeywood, who, a little while ago, opened her hotel, the Old Raven, at Shrewsbury. Her entire staff of women all wear scarlet livery.
There are other societies of hoteliers, just as there are titled milliners and dressmakers who carry on business under different pseudonyms, as "Vania," "Madame de Courcy," "Vania," and "Machenka."
Lady Evelyn Ward, daughter of the Earl of Erne, and sister-in-law of the Earl of Dudley, was once a part owner in a fashionable London business, and later on opened a millinery shop in Bion Street, Toronto, Canada.
The most recent venture is that of Lady Parsons, wife of the famous marine engineer, Sir Charles Parsons, who has just started an engineering business for women. She has chosen the trade name of "Atlantis" for her business. Her position is not to be purely a nominal one; she is going to help run the business herself.
Titled Film Star.
Lady Miles Stapleton has chosen more arduous work than is generally imagined in becoming a film star. She is the heroine of the British bureau proved a veritable boon to the distressed housekeepers of Belgravia.
Indeed the list of titled women in business might be extended almost indefinitely.
The Duchess of Abercorn used to be referred to as "the Irish dairymaid." Lady Warwick, too, it will be remembered, staggered society by starting business in Bond Street.
The Countess of Alington, Gordon-Lennox, established a fruit-bottling business in Oxfordshire.
Lady Essex opened a laundry; Lady Stowe and Mrs. Stowe started a vegetable farm at Adare-Manor, while the Marchioness of Bute established a small lace factory at Corwen, Wales.
Edinburgh. All these instances, however, created mild interest compared to that caused by the recent announcement that the Marchioness of Queensberry had opened a pair of sausage shops.

PALLID CHEEKS AND DULL EYES

Tell the Story of Watery Blood—How to Regain a Good Color and Health.
To be run down in health and to lose the attractiveness of the face are the lot of many young girls. Their pallid cheeks and dull eyes tell every one that they are doomed to days of wretched headaches and are victims of breathlessness and bloodlessness. The anaemic girl, if she neglects her health, may be a sufferer all her life; for an active happy woman cannot be developed out of a bloodless, consumptive looking girl, without the help of new, rich red blood.
Bloodlessness must not be neglected. Plenty of good air, a nourishing diet and rest will help you, but the cure you need most, primarily is new blood. HEIGHTS AT WHICH SOUNDS ARE HEARD

Gliding along in an aeroplane with the engine switched off and with only the hiss of air rushing by to interfere, the shout of a man can be heard distinctly at the height of two thousand and six hundred feet; the sharp rattle of a cricket the sound of a church bell; the report of a gun and the barking of dogs at nine hundred feet higher; the noise of a railway train penetrates to a height of eight thousand two hundred feet; and the whistle of a locomotive engine to nearly ten thousand feet.

FOR WOMEN

AMUSEMENTS

Don't Marry Perfect Man

Futility of Looking for a Paragon Illustrated by Ottawa Preacher.

Special to The Standard. Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 26.—"If you succeed in finding a perfect man, one who is the personification of all the virtues, and who may not be accused of a fault, for God's sake—don't marry him," said Rev. C. H. Wincott in the course of a sermon.

"Do not consider an alliance with a perfect man—for there is no such person," said Rev. Mr. Wincott. "Imagine what a companion you would make for an angel." There had been one perfect couple, and they had "said down the banks of Eden together." He counselled young ladies not to marry men of bad habits, in the hope of "reforming them." If a man had been addicted to bad habits for 25 or more years there was small chance of his being reformed. Let the reformation come before thought of marriage was entertained," he said.

"It is not a question of addition to wine and whiskey nowadays, so much as to wood alcohol and strychnine," said Rev. Mr. Wincott. "There are many men who are married to their occupations," such as money making. Marry a man who is a fortune in himself," he said. "If a man has nothing but money, then he is poor indeed. But if a man possesses good character, then he is rich indeed."

"Every cradle contains an affinity to some other cradle," said Rev. Mr. Wincott. "They may be at the end of the earth, but something which the world calls 'fate,' and which is called 'Providence' by the church, will bring them together." He bitterly assailed "matrimonial advertisements." "Better to put your head in a lion's mouth, or to take a glass of Paris green, than to pay attention to the wiles of these villains and lepers."

"There are imbeciles and scoundrels who are positively angelic before marriage, but who show their true characters when they have entered matrimony. Better for a woman to live alone for 5,000 years than to marry one of these masculine failures," he said. "The young men of our country whose proper sphere in life was a state of celibacy. They had missions to perform, as had Florence Nightingale, Grace Darling and Edith Cavell. Rev. Mr. Wincott urged that there should be profound deliberation before young ladies consented to marry. "They have in the kitchen at home more than the men have," he said. "The mannikins that infest our cities should not be considered, as they are so many real men available."

WANTED—KEATING'S POWDER. To kill cockroaches—EVERY cockroach, sprinkle Keating's round the cracks and crevices in the kitchen at night, and sweep up the cockroaches in the morning—DEAD. Sold in Carleton only at all dealers. Insist on having Keating's.

It is not true that Canada does not furnish enough employment for all its people. There is plenty of work in this country. If people leave to find work elsewhere it is because they are too particular as to what they work at.

Woolen Petticoats Back To London

Garment Has Improved Till Grandmothers Would Hardly Know It.

(Special Correspondence Cross-Atlantic Newspaper Service, Inc.) London, Nov. 26.—The woolen-knitted petticoat is with us again. It hails from Paris and is the latest of the dainty and hideous garment, usually done in red and grey, which our grandmothers wore, that one might readily doubt any relationship. It comes in the palest shades of shell-tint wool, as light and airy as a cob-web. Round the top is a crocheted stitch of silk, and the bottom is a strip of soft satin ribbon in the same shade.

Speaking of petticoats, taffeta is a favorite material, but many women prefer the new crepe-de-chin garments, made plain to the hips, and finished thereupon with a deep accorded-pleated flounce. These are very graceful and clinging, and most suitable to the present slim outline. They are usually priced from $12 to $20, and are shown in many attractive colors.

The fashionable shops are making display of the new scarlet leather handbags. These are all shapes and sizes, from the quite useful staid bag with inner compartments to a small and dainty pochette. Lined either with scarlet, moiré or soft white kid, they are equally charming. A class of mother-of-pearl is a favorite fastening, though some have a quaint little Chinese figure in silver.

Llama crepe is one of the favorite new materials for making very attractive nighties, in pink, pale blue, or mauve. They are fashioned with Empire waists, and have long sleeves, with hemstitched borders, and are priced at $8 to $10. A nice nightie, prettily trimmed with lace insertion and feather stitchings, and comfortable, costs only about $5.

REFLECTIONS OF A BACHELOR GIRL

By HELEN ROWLAND
(Copyright, 1920, by The Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

Repartee: A gallon of words to a spoonful of thoughts.

There is as much difference between truly loving and just "being in love," as there is between being good and "getting religion."

Marriage is the door, by which a woman escapes from work, from spinsterhood, from loneliness; by which she escapes from herself or from a lot of other women. If you want to see the bright side of it, stop thinking of what you are going to get by marrying, and begin thinking of what you are going to escape.

It takes one woman twenty years to bring up her son—and another woman all the rest of his life to bring him down a little.

What a man doesn't know may not trouble him; but what a woman doesn't know causes her untold agony, until she finds it out.

Sometimes, it seems to a woman, that the only way to get any flattery, or flowers from her husband is to lie down and die.

Some men are born for marriage; some achieve marriage; but all of them live in the deadly fear that marriage is going to be thrust upon them.

When woman invented clothes she invented romance; and every time she cuts her frock a inch lower, or trims her skirts an inch shorter, she parts with a little bit more of the illusion and mystery, on which a man's romantic dreams are built.

The trouble in most unhappy marriages is that the man expects too much—and the woman suspects too much.

EVERYDAY CREATURES MAKE AN INTERESTING STUDY BY NATURALIST

Showing the Interest in the Life at Our Doors—Case of a Baby Rat Reared by Cat.

Miss Frances Pitt has for some years shown herself one of the keenest, most interesting, and most successful of field naturalists, and her recent issue of "Wild Creatures of Garden and Hedgerow" is distinctly the best nature book in the home field that recent months have seen. We give Professor Arthur Thompson's recent review from "Nature," which, with inimitable skill, brings out the fine character of the book.

"Miss Frances Pitt has given us a delightful book of personal observation on the everyday creatures that may be met with in garden, meadow, and hedgerow—the mice, birds, frogs, toads, and other animals that every person comes across. She records what she has seen and learned, and is plainly an observer of experience and insight. She shows the interest of the life at our doors, and makes it clear that there is a great deal still to be discovered. Her book is to be strongly recommended for young people, not only because of its interest and simplicity of style, but also because of its scientific temper."

The Ways of the Bat
"The book begins with a tale, which are bundles of peculiarities and peculiarities. Let us take an example of Miss Pitt's method. When a bat hawking in the twilight makes a dash after an insect and catches it, it often apparently tumbles through the air for a foot or two. This is because the bat has grabbed its insect, bends its head down into its infernal pouch where its prey cannot escape, and crumple it quickly as the bat goes on flying.

The Thrush and Snails
"Of great interest is the story of a young thrush, which took about a week to learn how to deal with snails. It was very evident that he learned by experience and that the snail-cracking habit of the thrush is not a specialized instinct, but arises from the tendency of this bird to beat on the ground and thus kill snails, like a big worm that cannot be easily managed. My thrush would beat and hammer everything that was at all troublesome or which it did not understand.

Ferocity of Shrews
"Dealing with shrews, Miss Pitt says: "It is only by watching these small animals that one can gain any idea of their untiring energy, intense vitality, and their great pugnaciousness. They are perhaps the most quarrelsome creatures in the world! If horns and tigers were as fierce, active and fearless in proportion to their size as shrews and moles are, with their little bodies, what awful creatures they would be!"

"In regard to the death of a large number of common shrews in the autumn, the author favors the theory that these animals are annuals." Here, as in other parts of the book, there is a useful exposure of the nonsense that is often talked about the misery and cruelty of wild nature.

"If to us it seems dreadful that death should always be on the watch for them, it seems altogether certain that the small animals enjoy their life to the utmost."

Frogs and Toads.
"We come next to the sympathetic study of frogs and toads. The toad's cry is described as of pale melody

Rat Reared by Cat
"We thought we knew something about mice, but we have learned much from Miss Pitt. For their size they are extraordinarily fierce and strong, they fight furiously, and it is doubtful whether a weasel could master one. On one occasion a mole moved a nine-pound brick, which is like a man moving more than three tons. Their rate of digestion is past belief. One that was supplied with 40 worms in the late afternoon was dead next morning—with an empty stomach."

"Who ever you do not despise the poor little mole. . . . In its dark tunnels it fights hants, feasts, mates, and enjoys life with quite as much gusto as the creatures of the light and air."

"Miss Pitt made a fine experiment with a very young, common rat, still blind, feeble, and very naked. She gave it, in a diplomatic way to a cat whose litter had been reduced to one about ten days old. I could hardly hope that the cat would be so good, or shall I say so foolish, as to nurse such an utterly alien baby as a rat; but that was what happened. The rat was accepted, cleaned, fed, fondled and treated just like the kitten along with which it was reared. Even after another family came to occupy the cat's attention she remained as friendly terms with her adopted son, and often paid him a visit. He had been a good rat, but after the adoption ratting was done with."

Boulder Measurer Th Estimate Made by W Was Far Too Liberal.

Halifax, Nov. 26.—R. W. W. the engineer who made preliminary survey of the St. John's Bay road, upon returned to the Nova Scotia branch of the Highway Board, estimates of were based stated at this morning session of the Royal Commission investigating the administration of Highway Act in Nova Scotia. His estimate might not have within one hundred or two hundred per cent of the boulder actually used.

H. Foster, a boulder measurer, who acted as the supervisor of the work, stated that the witness stand had been to estimate boulders over one-third cubic yard, and under one cubic as a cubic yard.

Who Gave Orders?
When asked from who he received these instructions he replied: "To be candid, I received them from F. M. Clarke, assistant provincial engineer, and G. C. Reid, who I thought was the job."

Cross-examined by L. A. I. counsel for the Bedford County Company, (the contractors) and A. K. MacLean for the provincial government, the witness said could not recall the conversation had with Clarke in the matter said further that no one had suggested an improper system of measurement to him.

Denies The Story.
F. M. Clarke, who then recalled the stand and under examination Mr. Loylt denied that he had received these instructions from T. F. Morrison, the resident near representing the highways on the work of the St. Margaret's road, was the witness at the session and reversed his earlier given earlier in the week respecting the measurement estimates. Mr. Morrison said that in making up it turns he used his own figure because those in Mr. Wooten's would show more. At the same he said that Mr. Wooten's figures showed a yard where it was a foot.

Thought Him Generous.
Questioned by James MacG. St. John's counsel for the highway board, who had made the charge in his figures, he said he thought they too high, and that he had returned much yardage. Later the witness repudiated his evidence and said, "I stuck down on Wooten's return because I thought he was too generous a contractor."

The inquiry will be continued Monday.

Salts If Kidneys Or Bladder Bot

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder where it often remains to irritate the bladder, causing a burning, smarting, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder obliging to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is constantly dreading the water passing times with a scalding sensation very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it.

Bladder weakness, most folk think, because they can't control it. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes painful, this is by one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Salts from your pharmacist, take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue the two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so longer in a course of irritation bladder and urinary organs then act normally again.

Salts is inexpensive, harmless and made from the secret of lemon juice, combined with other salts, is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary troubles caused by uric acid. Salts is splendid for kidney cases, you had effects whatever cause you have a pleasant, efficient, and reliable which you believe Bladder trouble.

WITNESS DENIES GIVING ANY ORDERS

Boulder Measurer Thought Estimate Made by Worker Was Far Too Liberal.

Halifax, Nov. 26.—R. W. McChalmers, the engineer who made the preliminary survey of the St. Margaret's Bay road, upon which the Highway Board's estimate of costs was based, stated at this morning's session of the Royal Commission investigating the administration of the Highway Act by Nova Scotia, that his estimate might not have been within one hundred or two hundred per cent. of the boulder actually present.

H. Foster, a boulder measurer employed on that section of the road, which was under the supervision of D. C. Reid, a resident, stated that he liked L. E. Pentz, a professional on the witness stand had been told to estimate boulders over one-third of a cubic yard, and under one cubic yard, as a cubic yard.

Who Gave Orders?

When asked from who he had received these instructions he replied: "To be candid, I received them from F. M. Clarke, assistant provincial engineer, and G. C. Held, when I went to the job." Cross-examined by L. A. Lovitt, counsel for the Bedford Construction Company, (the contractors) and Hon. A. R. MacLean for the provincial government, the witness said he could not recall the conversation he had with Clarke in the matter. He said further that no one had ever suggested an improper system of measurement to him.

Denies The Story.

F. M. Clarke was then recalled to the stand and under examination of Mr. Lovitt denied that he had instructed Foster as the witness had claimed. T. F. Morrison, the resident engineer representing the highway board on the work of the St. Margaret's Bay road, was the witness at the afternoon session and reversed his evidence given earlier in the week respecting the measurement estimates. Mr. Morrison said that in making up the return he used his own figures, because those in Mr. Wooten's books would show more. At the same time, he said that Mr. Wooten's figures showed a yard where it should be only a foot.

Thought Him Generous.

Questioned by James MacC Stewart, counsel for the highway board, as to why he made the estimate in Wooten's figures, he said he thought they were too high, and that he had returned too much yardage. Later the witness reversed his evidence and said, "I cut back down on Wooten's return because I thought he was too generous to the contractor." The inquiry will be continued on Monday.

Salts If Kidneys Or Bladder Bother

Take Salts to flush Kidneys and neutralize irritating acids.

Kidney and Bladder weakness result from uric acid, says a noted authority. The kidneys filter this acid from the blood and pass it on to the bladder, where it often remains to irritate and inflame, causing a burning, scalding sensation, or setting up an irritation at the neck of the bladder obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night. The sufferer is in constant dread, the water passes some times with a scalding sensation and is very profuse; again, there is difficulty in voiding it. Bladder weakness, most folks call it, because they can't control urination. While it is extremely annoying and sometimes painful, this is really one of the most simple ailments to overcome. Get about four ounces of Jad Salts from your pharmacist and take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast, continue this for two or three days. This will neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation to the bladder and urinary organs which then set normally again. Jad Salts is inexpensive, harmless, and is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and is used by thousands of folks who are subject to urinary disorders caused by uric acid irritation. Jad Salts is splendid for kidneys and causes no bad effects whatever. Here you have a pleasant, effective, harmless drug, which actually relieves bladder trouble.

Canadians Are Seeing Plays First

Canadians Now View British Productions Before They Are Played in New York.

(By Ben Deason, Canadian Press Correspondent.) New York, Nov. 26.—Canada's position in the theatrical world appears to be gradually assuming greater importance in the estimation of New York. There was a time—and not a very distant time—when the Dominion looked upon merely as a convenient buying ground for the New York theatre. Then a good many of the New York producing firms were under the impression that anything—any old thing at all—could get in Canada. Canadians were practically dependent upon productions labelled "Made in the U.S.A." and therefore the theory prevailed that Canadians should be satisfied with whatever New York chose to send them. The fifth-rate companies, the "original New Yorks," put things have changed. New York managers have discovered that Canadian audiences are as discriminating as those of New York and possibly more so. "Learn to wear! Limit yourself to two or three colors, and stick to them in all your clothes, then you will have things that match and harmonize." "Learn the value of blue and white, and black with white touches. These suit nearly every one, and look well in the streets. The girl who wears brown should collect brown garments, with yellows and oranges, that are within her color scheme." "If every London business girl would spend all her clothes money on one well-made, dark, simple street suit, or one smart little hat instead of two or three cheap ones, well-cut shoes without buckles and with good lines, a blouse or two that were well-cut, instead of several trashy jumpers, how much more beautiful our streets would be!" "Don't wear wooly scarfs that are suitable for countryside only in London, and picture hats when you don't look smart and not picturesque."

"Don't Tell," is subtle. Canada's budding theatrical independence is reflected in New York this season. At one time New York had first call upon all of the big London successes. After this city had failed with them, they were generally sent to Canada, but New York first was the rule. This season the old-time procedure was reversed in several cases. "Don't Tell," the Graham Moffat comedy, for instance, was presented to Canadian audiences before New York was given an opportunity of seeing it. This season it was a shock to some New Yorkers. One of the critics, who was unable to grasp the humor of the piece, became rather peevish over it. "The company supporting Mr. Moffat is imported from the Alhambra Theatre in Glasgow," he remarked, "they have been playing only recently in Canada, which leads to the suspicion that the whole affair was smuggled in secret across the Canadian border." Canada was a whole season ahead of New York in the case of the London comedy, "Tilly of Bloomsbury." Last year it was given in a number of Canadian cities; it appeared here in Toronto this season. It was presented here as "Happy Go Lucky," possibly because the average New Yorker hasn't the faintest idea where or what Bloomsbury is, and possibly, again, because a new name gave it that bright and shiny brand new appearance which New York demands. William Faversham, who has long been a favorite in Canada, presented "The Prince and the Pauper" before a Canadian audience before he presented it to New York, and now New York has to wait until next week for Judge Kennedy's appearance in a speaking role, while Toronto has been privileged to welcome her back to the stage in "Coroner."

Screen Star. New York is being astounded in the advance notices this week that Miss Kennedy is to appear "personally." Undoubtedly there is a great deal of interest on the part of the theatre-going public here in the beautiful screen star's return to the stage. Her somewhat spectacular career on Broadway, followed by her three years of motion picture work have given her a very large following in this city, and the thousands who have devotedly attended the movie houses in which her pictures have been shown are very evidently looking forward to the return of the strayed lamb to the "legitimate" fold. A change from screen public interest as opening up an avenue for comparison of the two rival branches of the mimetic art. Miss Kennedy believes that she has learned a great deal about acting from her screen work. "I am sure I have improved in gesture and expression," she said in an interview published here. "Screen work has also forced me to keep my mind on my part during every fraction of a second." There are many actors and actresses who would be glad to discover something which would force the audience to keep its mind on their parts, but this is a problem with which Miss Kennedy is not obliged to cope. She has charm, personality and talent sufficient to accomplish that feat automatically.

Circumstantial Evidence. (Philadelphia Ledger.) Eugene Walter, the brilliant playwright, pronounced prohibition a failure at a Lamb's club banquet in New York. "How can we claim," said Mr. Walter, "to be prohibitionist, when liquor only be bought at an enormous price. It is true—on all sides? Our prohibition prices for booze compel the poor class to keep the law, but the rich, the very rich—Mr. Walter paused, then continued: "You can booze if you are rich enough. The stuff is so costly that the poor regard boozing nowadays as a sign of great prosperity, like owning a Rolls-Royce, a yacht, or a house on Fifth avenue. "Cassius, a friend of mine said to his servant, on returning home and finding he had missed a caller, 'was the man who came to see me looking for work?'" "Oh, no sah," Cassius replied, "him no working man, sah. Him a powerful riel millionaire, 'fo' he smellin' strong 'o' whisky."

In brokerage circles at Montreal, it is said that there is no significance attached to the selling of Smelters this forenoon, a house having been ordered to sell the stock in order to permit of purchases of other securities. It not only writes for itself, but its work speaks for itself. The Remington Typewriter.—A. Mine Fraser, Jas. A. Little, Mgr., 27-28 Dock St., St. John, N. B.

Limit Yourself To Dark Colors

Advice of Paris Designer Urges Fewer But Better Clothes Purchased.

(Copyright, 1920, By Cross-Atlantic.) London, Nov. 25.—"The girls here have gone a long step since they discovered the chic of dark clothes for street wear," says a famous Paris dress designer. "Oh, those awful greens and blues that they used to wear! Limit yourself to two or three colors, and stick to them in all your clothes, then you will have things that match and harmonize." "Learn the value of blue and white, and black with white touches. These suit nearly every one, and look well in the streets. The girl who wears brown should collect brown garments, with yellows and oranges, that are within her color scheme." "If every London business girl would spend all her clothes money on one well-made, dark, simple street suit, or one smart little hat instead of two or three cheap ones, well-cut shoes without buckles and with good lines, a blouse or two that were well-cut, instead of several trashy jumpers, how much more beautiful our streets would be!" U. S. EXPORTS INCREASE. Washington, Nov. 26.—Exports during October increased by nearly $150,000,000, while imports decreased approximately $1,000,000, foreign trade figures made public today by the Department of Commerce show. Exports were valued at $752,000,000 against $605,000,000 in September, while imports were valued at $362,000,000.

GRAIN GROWERS' CAPITAL.

Calgary, Nov. 26.—The United Grain Growers, Limited, shareholders at the annual meeting here today authorized the directors to increase the borrowing powers of the company from twelve to fifteen million dollars.

Libraries Discouraged.

Sunday newspapers are said to have been started between 1780 and 1785. Circulating libraries were first set up in London in 1750, and in Birmingham in 1751. They increased so rapidly that some wise man proposed to tax them.

AFTER ALL

After all, to be living. To be part of it all, to be something of all the giving. Something of all we see. Something of all that's glowing in the world around us, dear—After all to be living. Now, this moment, and here! What if the dreams do shatter. What if the dust does rise. What if the small things matter. What if the spirit cries! Something in all makes even The joy and the sadness true; Sorrows may shadow our hearts. But skies next day are blue. Just to be part of the effort. A bubble of bloom in the weather. A breath of the morning's rime; God, it is worth the anguish Just to be living and part Of the beautiful world whose singing is a song in the heart! —Baltimore Sun.

100 YEARS OLD

"The kidneys play a most important part in causing premature old age and decay—the more injurious the poisons passing through the kidneys the sooner comes decay"—so says a distinguished physician, who further advises all people who are past thirty to preserve the vitality of the kidneys and free the blood from poisonous elements, such as uric acid—to drink plenty of pure water—sweat some every day and take "An-uric" (anti-uric acid) before meals.

This "An-uric" is put up in tablet form, and can be obtained at almost any drug store. For that backache, lumbago, rheumatism, "rusty" joints, swollen feet or hands, due to uric acid in the blood, "An-uric" quickly dissolves the uric acid. It was discovered by Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y. Send him 10c for trial pkg.

RHEUMATIC JOINTS Rub Pain Right Out—Try This!

Rheumatism is "pain only." Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly into your sore, stiff joints and muscles and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and cannot burn or discolor the skin. Limber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of old-time "St. Jacobs Oil" at any drug store and, in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" has cured millions of rheumatism sufferers in the last half century, and is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

WHAT OTHERS SAY
 (Quebec Telegraph)
 "So you preach for money, do you?" sneered a deacon of a chapel to his minister, who had appealed for more money as his family was suffering through lack of nourishment. "I thought you preached for the good of souls," "We can't eat souls," replied the minister, "and if we could, it would take a thousand such as yours to make a meal!"

ENFORCING THE LAW.
 Under the heading "Obey the Law," a writer in the Halifax Herald—whose efforts appear to be thought so much of that the resulting production is published in the editorial columns of this paper—criticizes the attitude adopted in regard to the Spracklin case "as an editorial in one of the leading dailies in a neighboring city." As the writer quotes certain lines which appeared recently in this column, we can only assume that it is this journal to which he refers. Says this writer: "Without doubt any sane man regrets that it was necessary to shoot down a fellow man; but likewise any sane man regrets that the innkeeper in question made it necessary. The whole matter hinges on one thing:—Are the laws of our country made to be obeyed or flagrantly violated? If the latter, then why not invite to our shores the men who are carrying the red banner through Europe? But if the former, then Rev. Mr. Spracklin's act was perfectly justifiable. He was not only doing what any man has the right to do—protect his own life, but he was enforcing the law of the realm." The writer admits that "sane" men regret the occurrence. It must be inferred from this that who do not regret it are not sane. From all parts of Ontario, in fact from almost all parts of Canada, have come resolutions sympathizing with the Reverend Liqueur Inspector, and applauding his action. As the promoters of those resolutions do not regret the occurrence, we have it on the authority of the Herald writer that such men are not sane, and their resolutions should therefore be disregarded. The Herald writer is right; these prohibition resolutions are just as fanatical in tone as the liquor question is the most unfortunate inmate of the Provincial Hospital. They have lost all sense of reason; a man may be an habitual breaker of every one of the Ten Commandments, but so long as he proclaims himself an ardent prohibitionist, they will clasp him to their bosoms. Then this Herald writer characterizes the contention that Spracklin should not have carried a gun as "a little short of ludicrous." The common law of England, which applies in this country, does not give any official the right to enforce any law at the point of a gun, and the Herald writer's contention that Spracklin was justified in using his gun because "he was enforcing the law of the realm," is worse than ludicrous. The law of this country only gives to a man the right to use a gun to protect his own life, and it can be shown that "Trumble had a gun in his hand at the time he was shot, Spracklin was entirely justified in shooting first. But neither Spracklin nor any other official has any right to kill a fellow man merely to enforce a law. The methods to be employed in enforcing the laws are laid down in the statutes, and deliberate killing is not included among them. A man riding a bicycle on the sidewalk is breaking the law, and according to the Herald writer's contention, a policeman would be justified in shooting him if he refused to get off the sidewalk on being ordered to do so. The Herald writer refers to "the antiquity of the journal in question to the prohibition enactment." How can any sane, reasonable or fair-minded journal do otherwise than oppose an act which so deliberately violates all principles of British justice as to (1) put upon a suspected person the onus of proving his own innocence; (2) deprive him of his right, given him by the Great Charter itself, to trial by jury; (3) refuse all right of appeal even from an ignorant and incompetent country justice (who may himself be a prohibition fanatic), whilst it gives the prohibition officers two chances to appeal in case they are not satisfied with a justice's decision. Is a law which allows such procedure as that fair, or even commonly honest? The wretch who fires his neighbor's barn, the black-hearted villain who robs a widow of her savings, the evildoer who debauches a child, all get fair trials; but the unspicable blackguard who happens to have a four-ounce bottle of brandy in his grip is outside the pale of civilization altogether. He must be shot on sight.

THE WESTERN PROVINCES' NATURAL RESOURCES.
 The middle Western Provinces are at least to make another effort to secure for themselves the control of the natural resources within their own boundaries. They cannot be blamed for this; and there is no reason why they should not have them, provided other provinces are given what is coming to them. The only question is, What compensation are the Maritime Provinces going to get to make up for the concession to the Western Provinces? The latter, when their natural resources were retained by the Dominion, were each granted subsidies in lieu of these resources. Now they want to obtain the resources, and keep the subsidies as well. Both Ontario and Quebec have each had large areas of territory added to them within the last few years, as also has Manitoba. In fact, about all the provinces in the Dominion have benefited in some way or other, except the Maritime Provinces, which always seem to be left out in the cold when any benefits are being given out. If those Western Provinces are willing that the Maritimes should each have a considerable increase in subsidy to make up for the concessions to the former, well and good; but their attitude so far has been strongly opposed to any further subsidies to the Maritime Provinces. These Westerners seem to forget that the natural resources of their provinces are part of the Dominion, in which the Maritime Provinces in partners; and that if any part of the partnership assets are to be given away, it must only be on the terms that compensation is given to those who are despoiled.

ARTHUR GRIFFITH.
 An article from Dublin announces the fact that Arthur Griffith, the Sinn Féin leader, has been arrested, in company with several other men prominent in that movement. What effect this arrest is going to have upon the situation remains to be seen. Griffith is by a long way the ablest Irishman now alive, and he is about the only political thinker who appears to have a statesman's mind. He is not an agitator in the sense that he believes in physical force, but he has is Home Brew Criminal?

 (Quebec Telegraph)
 This is the weighty question that a number of the people, newspapers and officials of the United States are engaged in discussing. Mr. Kramer, the Prohibition Commissioner of New York, says that "the man who makes home brew in his Northern home is just as much a lawbreaker as the illicit distiller who makes the moonshine in the mountain fastnesses of the South." The New York Herald commenting upon this declaration, says that though these are sorry words for sinners, it fears they will not turn the hearts of the wicked, and by way of illustration our contemporary adds: "More than a mere poker and bridge game in the Constitution of the State of New York that gambling was neither authorized nor allowed and that the Legislature must pass laws to prevent gamblers. There probably has not been one single second since gambling was prohibited that gambling has not gone on. Every night there are more poker and bridge games in this city than there are trees in Central Park. There have been professional gamblers who have been punished for making a living out of gambling, just as the moonshiner is looked up for making a living out of his still. But the man who makes beer in his cellar has no more compunction about it than his wife has about the poker game she is playing in the dining room." And in the same issue of the Herald appears a letter on the subject from a writer correspondent who is among other things: "When the Prohibition Commissioner calls home brewing criminal he reflects on the Volstead act. This law specifically prohibits the issue of warrants for residences except on information that liquor is being made to sell. The inference from that is that home brewing carried on for the household's own thirst is not criminal. Perhaps Mr. Kramer, like many of his temperance confederates, of course it is. So he loves and he drinks, smokes, and unnecessary talking and reading of light novels. All pleasures—except reading other people's business—are wicked."

THE "BIG INTERESTS" BOGGY.
 (London Free Press)
 The chief argument used against the administration is that it is a Government of big interests. Hon. T. A. Crerar made this his main line of attack in his Saskatchewan speeches and will presumably follow the same tactics in his speech at Regina. The farmers of the West declared, "No Government was ever so hopelessly entangled with the big interests as is the present Government at Ottawa." Mr. Crerar was a member of Union Government for two years. Was it a Government of big interests while he was a member of it? Is it not following out the same policies today? Wherein does it differ from the administration of which he was minister of agriculture? Mr. Crerar knows that "the big interests" were opposed to the Government's policy of nationalizing the Grand Trunk and were particularly bitter against Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen. Mr. Crerar also knows that "big interests" are taxed as heavy today as in any other country. The income tax and the corporation tax have been increased on "big interests" during the past year. Speaking to the farmers of the West he said: "The corporation tax was last year raised to 10 per cent. The business profits tax called for payment to the Government of 25 per cent. of all profits earned in business over 7 per cent. and up to 15 per cent. 50 per cent. of the balance between 15 and 20 per cent. and 75 per cent. on profits over 20 per cent. The 'big interests,' so called, were never so hard hit as by the present Government." Mr. Crerar is simply pandering to the spirit of unrest when he makes such a statement. The facts are that there has never been a Government which has so little regard for "big interests." Mr. Meighen is a son of the soil; he is a poor man himself and a man whose interests are with the common people. He is a man who has worked his way up the ladder by hard work and ability. He is a democrat to the hills. The "big interests" boggy will not frighten the people of West.

A BIT OF VERSE
 EXPERIENCE.
 I wonder that we worry so
 And lose our way with wandering
 When every hill and vale we know
 For Time has shown us ev'rything,
 We know where we may walk, and where
 The brambles are, the dangers lie—
 For Time has set a signpost there,
 Experience to guide us by.
 We know the way, for other men
 Have walked a thousand times before.
 The world the same world it was then,
 The path unchanged forevermore,
 We know we need but follow on
 With faithful conscience for our guide.
 We know that we shall find the dawn
 Who falter not, nor turn aside.

GUESSING ABOUT ATLANTIC SUGAR

Rumor That New Financing Will Consist of Short Term Bonds Redeemable at 105.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—There was considerable conjecture in brokerage house circles here yesterday as to what form the new Atlantic sugar financing would take. It was stated in one quarter that the securities to be issued would be short term ones—probably five years—and be made redeemable at 105 on maturity. The issue would bear 6 per cent interest and be secured by a second mortgage on the company's property, according to this report.

Nothing official in this respect was forthcoming, however, and it is unlikely that any announcement will be made until the shareholders meet on December 4 next.

FRENCH LOAN SUCCESSFUL

Paris, Nov. 26.—The new French six per cent loan, including yesterday's commerce day subscriptions has passed the 26,000,000 franc mark, according to figures made public in financial quarters here today. It is expected that subscriptions when the loan closes four days hence will total 30,000,000 francs.

ECLECTIC CLUB WAS ENTERTAINED

Members Were Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. F. Robertson—Plantation Days Subject.

Plantation Days was the subject of last evening's programme at the Eclectic Reading Club. Mr. and Mrs. James F. Robertson entertained the club, and as yesterday was the birthday of Rev. Canon Armstrong, Rev. Canon Daniel and Dr. Hibbard, a birthday cake was a notable feature of the prettily decorated supper table. A number of invited guests were present. Mrs. Robertson was in charge of the delightful programme, in which the following took part: Mrs. George F. Matthew, Mrs. G. A. Kuhring, Mrs. Alfred Morrissey and Mrs. James F. Robertson. Mrs. Matthew's paper was on the British West Indies, while those read by the others told of Plantation Days in the Southern States before the war. Mrs. Robertson gave entertaining personal recollections of the south. Miss Louise Knight was in charge of a musical programme, in which several of her pupils took part and which gave much pleasure.

Description of The West Indies

Audience in Marsh Bridge Mission Enjoyed Lecture by Rev. Ernest Styles.

In continuation of the observance of the tenth anniversary of its existence, an illustrated lecture was given last evening at the Marsh Bridge Mission by Rev. Ernest Styles, pastor of Carmichael Street Methodist Church. There were over two hundred persons present who listened with deep interest to the description of the West Indies which Mr. Styles, from his twelve years' residence there, was competent to give. During the course of his address he told of the Methodist mission work in the islands. Pictures were shown, J. B. Arthurs looking after the lantern.

William Baxter, superintendent of the Sunday School, was chairman. Rev. H. A. Goodwin moved a vote of thanks to the speaker, which was spoken to by William Shepherd and Robt. McLaughlin. Mr. J. E. Arthurs was included in the thanks. Before the lecture commenced, a song service was held, and during an intermission a solo, "Oh, Heart of Mine," was sung by Mrs. W. C. Good. There was a large number of young people present last evening. The Primary department of this Mission has been in charge of Mrs. McTavish and Mrs. Sailer for a number of years, and is a very successful department. Two boys from the Mission have entered the ministry. It is hoped to have an Honor Roll of the boys from the Mission who fought in the Great War.

The Blood Pressure

"WHAT is the meaning of blood pressure?" you may ask, and "What has it to do with the health?" For, as much as we hear of blood pressure these days, it is somewhat of a mystery to most people.

Perhaps the easiest way to explain it is by comparison with water pressure, whereby water is supplied to homes and made available upstairs and down at a mere turn of the tap.

The blood in the human body, is under a similar pressure, as you will know if you cut an artery and see the force with which the blood spurts out.

The arteries may be likened to the rubber hose which you attach to the water system in your house. So long as the rubber retains its elasticity you do not fear trouble, but as it gets older and harder and begins to crack you dread the water pressure which is everywhere testing the strength of the hose.

And so it is with the arteries. The walls of the arteries harden as age advances, more particularly if the vital organs are not doing their full duty in filtering and purifying the blood and keeping it in rich, healthful condition.

When your physician suspects that your arteries are hardening and losing the elasticity which enables them to withstand the strain put on them he recommends that you have your blood pressure tested. Then he seeks a means of improving the condition of the blood and of restoring the health and vigor of the digestive, filtering and excretory organs.

In the great majority of cases the weak functioning of these organs is due to the low vitality of the nervous system, and the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is resorted to with most satisfactory results.

Comparatively few people realize that the healthful working of each and every organ of the human body is dependent on the amount of nervous energy with which that organ is supplied, and that when nervous energy is consumed in overwork or worry, in sorrow or mental anxiety, these vital organs must fail for want of motive power.

Dr. Chase's Nerve Food restores by improving the quality of the blood and increasing the amount of nervous energy in the human system. In other words, it increases vitality, and this is what is lacking in persons whose arteries are hardening and whose blood pressure is consequently rising. 50 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto. OBITUARY.

Fred G. Triles. Word reached relatives on Monday that Fred G. Triles passed away peacefully in Winnipeg where he had been living for the past twelve years.

The deceased who was the oldest son of the late Thomas Triles of Triles, of this city, at one time conducted a dry goods store on Charlotte street. Miss Lillian and Bird Triles whose home is on Wright street, are sisters of Fred G. Triles, of Boston, is a brother. The late Mr. Triles was engaged in the insurance business; was unmarried and about forty-five years of age.

Wm. D. Esington.

William D. Esington, for many years identified with the printing business in the city, passed away early yesterday morning at his home, 25 Golding street, at the age of sixty-five years. He leaves one daughter, Mrs. R. D. McQuarrie. The funeral will be held at 1:30 o'clock on Sunday afternoon from his late residence and there will be service in St. Mary's church at 1:45 o'clock. Mr. Esington came to St. John from Fredericton when a young man and spent practically his whole life in the printing trade here. He was a compositor and was at different periods employed in the editorial offices of the Telegraph, the Sun, J. & A. McMillan and Barnes & Company.

Mrs. Flora Ferguson.

Mrs. E. J. Bowmar.

The death of Robina A. wife of E. J. Bowmar and daughter of Mrs. Susanah and the late Wm. Dunlop of Passenge, N. B. took place at her home in Brandon, Man., on Nov. 25th, after a lingering illness. She leaves to mourn her husband and three sons, Ralph, Melbourne and Ewing, all at home. She was a consistent member of the Methodist Church.

George Bulmer.

Hillsboro, N. B., Nov. 25.—The death of Mr. George Bulmer occurred very suddenly at a late hour on Saturday evening at his home, Stoney Creek, Albert County. Deceased had been in his usual state of health and was taken ill on retiring that evening, death being due to heart failure. The late Mr. Bulmer was 67 years of age. He had been a life long resident of Hillsboro, Albert Co., until a year ago, when he removed his family to Stoney Creek. He was held in high esteem, a member of the First Hillsboro Baptist Church. The news of his death has come as a great shock to the family and friends and much sympathy is felt for the bereaved wife, two daughters, and two sons. The daughters are Mrs. Paul Edgett of Moncton, N. B.; Mrs. Jennie Barron, Stoney Creek; the sons are Harold of Moncton, and Frank at home.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Mrs. Bridget Kane was held yesterday morning from the residence of Mrs. William Deberry, 148 Douglas avenue, to St. Peter's church. High Mass of Requiem was celebrated by Rev. Edward Scully, C. S. R., and interment was in the new Catholic cemetery. Many spiritual offerings were received.

A GOOD BUY

These melton cloth overcoats are clearing at $25—regularly sold at $40, $45 and $50. The season for the great reduction is because the lines are sold out to ones and two of a kind and we want to turn the "remnants" quickly into money. If your size is here, and there's some in most sizes from 35 to 42, you can make no mistake. The materials are thoroughly good and the tailoring excellent. We have sold very many of these coats and they have invariably given satisfaction. Better look in, one may fill the bill.—Altmour's, 68 King street.

Able Address To The Business Boys

Major Fred Smith Delivered Interesting Address at the Y. M. C. A. Last Night.

Do you live twenty-four hours every day? Such was the question put to the Y. M. C. A. Business Boys when addressed by their National Physical Director, Major Fred Smith, O. B. E., M. P. E., last evening.

The major said that there was a vast difference between living and merely existing; to live was to get everything there was to get out of life.

He pointed out to the boys that there were only twenty-four hours in a day, and that no one could borrow a few hours from tomorrow. What was to be done now must be done at once.

One has to struggle to succeed, and every struggle made that there is to be achieved comes that much nearer. It had been said that if one were to take an hour a day for ten years he could master any subject he wished to master. He himself knew of a chap who had been imbued with the idea of acquiring a knowledge of birds. He went to work with a will in every minute of his spare time, and today he is one of the leading experts in America on bird life.

In building an edifice of any kind, the builder had first to consider how big a house, church or factory he wished to build. Once having decided on the first thing to do was to build the foundation. The larger the building the more care necessary with the foundation.

So it was with boys. In boyhood they must look forward to what they intended to do when men; the bigger and nobler they wished to be, the more care and attention they should give to the foundation. The larger the building to succeed as men they must first learn to work as boys.

The idea contained in the competitive game was not only the sport that was in it, but also the building of character. He who learned to use his head, to think quickly, and to act on the instant, was the larger the building to succeed, and to whom people would look for leadership.

Egypt Wants to Know About The Province

The secretary of the Board of Trade has received the following letter of enquiry from a business corporation in Mansoura, Egypt:

"With reference to the advertisement in the Times' Trade Supplement (Special Canadian Number), we shall be glad to have further particulars with regard to the Province of New Brunswick."

The advertisement referred to was one that the City Council recently published in the London Times Supplement. Information along the lines asked for will be forwarded to the Egyptian firm from the Board of Trade office.

Soldiers And The Sailors Will Play

The Army and Navy Eleven's Play Annual Gridiron Contest in New York Today.

New York, Nov. 26.—Amid a stage setting unique and different from any other football game of the year, the Army and Navy Eleven's will play their annual gridiron contest at the Polo Grounds here tomorrow afternoon. Other inter-variety football struggles may draw greater attendance of spectators, or be surrounded with greater tradition and classic atmosphere, but none approaches the battle of the eleven from the United States Navy and Military Academies for martial pomp and splendor.

Marching of Cadets

The marching West Point Cadets and the Annapolis Midshipmen, headed by blaring bands, the Army Mule and the Navy Goat, present a picture entirely foreign to any other field of American football. The huge rectangular blocks of cadet gray and the sailor blue, where the rival academy cheering squads are located on opposite sides of the field, supply a color scheme not matched in any football stadium in the country.

There is, in addition, a marked difference in the appearance of the spectators as a whole. Field boxes and grandstands are flecked with the gold-trimmed and starred uniforms of distinguished naval officers sitting shoulder-to-shoulder with generals, colonels and captains of the army. In the more drab uniform of the civilian may be seen high officials from Washington diplomatic circles, while filling in the background of the scene may be found thousands of plain football enthusiasts who never miss the opportunity to witness the Army-Navy game, the closing act in the gridiron drama of the year, providing they have enough influence to secure tickets from the few available sources of supply.

Admission Cards

Admission cards for the Army-Navy game have always been hard to procure, whether played at Philadelphia, Princeton or New York, and seldom has there been a public sale of the coupons. This season the situation, so far as seats are concerned, is undoubtedly the worst in the history of the series between the two arms of the service. In keeping with the popularity of football in general, the demand for tickets for the Army-Navy game has far surpassed any previous year. While the Polo Ground stands have been charged to accommodate close to 20,000 spectators, fully twice that number of persons have made application for seats from either the athletic association of West Point or Annapolis, or through prominent government officials, who are supposed to have entry to the custodians of the precious pasteboards. The few tickets which have fallen into the hands of spectators are bringing fabulous prices, and are being snapped up without hesitation or haggling by those who are determined to witness the play regardless of the cost.

Viewed from certain angles, the game is worth the prices being asked for those who have tickets to sell, for the atmosphere and setting are full of a huge open-air spectacle, filled with music, cheers and action, such as never seen outside this particular and distinctive American athletic contest. The rival academy cheering squads armed with megaphones and brilliant colored streamers furnish the noise, while the 2 rival players on the field supply action and thrills equal to any developed by the best of the big varsity football classics.

Keen Rivalry

No keener rivalry or harder play is ever seen in any gridiron climax in any part of the country than that displayed in the football meeting of the Soldiers and Sailors.

Close and exciting contests are the rule rather than the exception, and the very intense series is shown by the almost equal allotment of honors after 22 years of play. Since 1898, when the initial game was staged, the Army has won 11 games and the Navy ten, with one that of 1908 played at Princeton, resulting in a 6 to 6 tie.

Y. M. C. A. Meetings Held Yesterday

Major Fred Smith Kept Busy — Matters of Importance Dealt With.

Major Fred Smith was certainly a busy man yesterday, for there was not a moment, morning, afternoon and evening, that he was not kept on the hustle with different meetings, banquets and making addresses with certain sections of the Y. M. C. A.

Morning Session

In the morning a session of the Physical Directors' Corps was held. Halifax was represented by Art Dawson, Fredericton, Bert Cochrane, Moncton, Joe Sinclair, Charlottetown, P.E.I., W. Scantlebury and St. John, W. Bowie.

Maritime Society Formed

At this session it was decided to form a Maritime Directors' Society, and Mr. Dawson, of Halifax, was chosen president; Mr. Bowie, secretary. It was further decided that this society be a branch of the International Physical Directors' Association of Canada, dealing with the work in the Maritime Provinces.

New Features

New features are to be introduced when the indoor season is finished. The matter of National swimming and life-saving competition was brought up, and it was decided to hold the same in May and June, and all associations agreed in the effort to teach every lad to swim. An effort will be made country-wide to get every boy to learn.

Boxing and Wrestling

The conference went on record, as being in favor of teaching both boxing and wrestling, and it was agreed to promote both local and provincial championships. It was pointed out that the local "Y" is putting a strong program with an average of 26 at class meetings, but there is a handicap because of lack of gloves and mitts to accommodate the members.

On the Floor

After adjournment, the physical directors went on the "Gym" floor with the combination of noon and evening business men's classes in a work-out led by Major Smith in the gymnasium, during which time he introduced some novel group games, and the program finished up with a strong game of volley ball, in which the evening class won by a score of 15 to 8. There was a large crowd present, and the floor was thronged with spectators. The party adjourned to Bond's for luncheon, where Major Smith gave the business men a short straight physical talk, which had a punch in every sentence.

Physical Education

After the luncheon, Major Smith, with Messrs. F. T. Barbour, Capt. Stokes and Capt. Bowie waited on Premier Foster in reference to physical education in the schools. The delegation urged that a definite program be introduced into the schools.

Afternoon Session

At the afternoon session it was decided that any bonified member of a Y. M. C. A. Basketball Championship team would be eligible to represent his local in any Y. M. C. A. championship.

New Features

New features were discussed at the conference. The indoor game of "Gym" hockey was outlined by Mr. Dawson, of Halifax, and he was willing to promote the same.

Article Revised

It was resolved that an article of alliance between the Y. M. C. A. and the A. A. U. C. be revised, where it was believed that a better understanding would be attained by having all Y. M. C. A. athletes take out registration cards when taking part in open competition, and that the Y. M. C. A. allowed the right to sanction competition in local branches.

Major McLean leaves for Fredericton this morning and will return tonight and will address two meetings in the Y. M. C. A. today.

WORLD'S CHAMPION LIGHTWEIGHT SUCCESSFULLY DEFENDS TITLE

Benny Leonard Won $2,500 Diamond Belt and Scored Technical Knockout Over Joe Welling in Fourteenth Round at Madison Square Garden Last Night—Hard Fought Battle.

New York, Nov. 26.—Benny Leonard, the world's champion lightweight, successfully defended his title and won the $2,500 diamond belt emblematic of the title of the championship which was presented to him by Tex

BENNY LEONARD

Richard when he scored a technical knockout over Joe Welling of Chicago in the fourteenth round of what was to have been a fifteen round fight at Madison Square Garden tonight.

FIGHT BY ROUNDS

The following is an account of the fight by rounds:

Round One

After some sparring, Welling landed his right hand on Leonard's right side of the head, and after an exchange Leonard sent a right half arm uppercut to the chin. There was no damage done.

Round Two

They exchanged rights and lefts on the body and Leonard hooked a right to the face, both landed left and right to the head, both closed left and right to the head at close quarters. Leonard kept jabbing to the face and sent three hard lefts to the body, blocking Welling's right lead to the head. Leonard kept forcing the pace to the bell, doing nearly all the leading.

Round Three

Leonard hooked a hard left to the ear and sent another to the nose, Welling was strictly on the defensive, seeming to be waiting for Leonard to tire from his efforts. Welling was carried by the referee for hitting low on the body. At short range Welling put two rights to the body and Leonard sent a hard right to the head. There was some in-fighting, with no damage, the men exchanging light rights to the head.

Round Four

Round Five

Round Six

Leonard kept jabbing to the body and then sent his left hand to the body and head, without a return. Leonard put more steam in his blows at this stage and sent right and left to the head, following with three vicious right uppercuts. Welling hooked his left to the face and received a vicious return right to the chin. This was the liveliest round so far.

Round Seven

Leonard jabbed three lefts to the body and they exchanged rights to the head. Then Leonard staggered Welling with a left hook to the ear and followed with a right to the body, forcing Welling into a neutral corner and driving two rights to the head before the gong sounded.

Round Eight

Leonard sent three left jabs to the body. After a clinch, Leonard hook-

Round Nine

Leonard hooked his left to the head, three times and drove a hard right to the stomach. The champ was out-boxing and out-fighting his man, but his blows seemed to lack steam, as though making weight had weakened him. Leonard sent his right to head twice while Welling didn't land an effective blow during the round.

Round Ten

There was a lot of fiddling in this round, which was rather tame until Leonard sent his left to the body and followed it with a hard right to the face. Leonard hooked two lefts to the face and they were sparring at the bell.

Round Eleven

Leonard drove his right over heart and Welling countered right on head. Leonard hooked left to body and head. Leonard kept forcing, but there was a good deal of clinching. Leonard tried a right swing for the head, but it went wild, just before the bell.

Round Twelve

High landed rights to the head and Benny kept boring in, sending lefts to the body. Welling going into a clinch frequently. Benny hooked a hard right to the ear. He jabbed left three times and hooked his right again to the head. At close quarters Leonard sent two rights to the body and followed it with a short half right arm uppercut. Welling went to his corner seemingly unharmed.

Round Thirteen

Leonard sent his left and right to the body and right to the head. Welling still being on the defensive. Leonard hooked right to the jaw staggered Welling who fell backward through the ropes. Benny was up again in a moment. Leonard hooked at him again, sending Welling down again for a count of two. Then he battered him all over the ring with lefts and rights, sending Welling down once again for a count of four. Welling got up again very groggy and he staggered into his corner as the bell rang.

Round Fourteen

Welling was in distress but game as he came up. Leonard hooked left to head and sent two rights to the jaw. Welling going down for a count of seven. Benny was over-anxious and missed a swinging right uppercut. Leonard swung another right on Welling's jaw and the referee stepped between, stopping the bout to save Welling from further punishment, despite the protest from Welling and his seconds. Time of fourteen rounds, one minute and seven seconds.

Attendance about 12,000.

OLD COUNTRY FOOTBALL

London, Nov. 26.—(Canadian Associated Press)—Clapton defeated Barnsley in a third division soccer football game today, by 3 to 2. In a rugby union championship match Middlesex defeated Eastern Counties by 48 to 0.

Ty Cobb Boomed Out of Ball Park

San Jose, Cal., Nov. 26.—Ty Cobb was boomed out of the ball park by indignant fans who came to see him play here, when he quit the game yesterday at the end of the sixth inning after an argument over an empty ball.

The umpire and the San Jose team refused to take the ball, to which he objected, on top of the game. He declined to go to bat and left the park. Cobb's all stars were defeated 7 to 2.

U. N. B. Students Elect Officers

R. G. Barnes Was Re-elected President — Basketball and Hockey Managers Chosen.

Fredericton, N. B., Nov. 26.—The officers association for the "Michaelmas" term of the U. N. B. students were elected today. R. G. Barnes was re-elected president. H. H. Trimble, basketball manager, G. G. Atkinson, hockey manager, G. H. Mowatt, who is leaving college, tendered his resignation as advertising manager of the U. N. B. Monthly.

Harry H. Trimble has been elected captain of the U. N. B. football team for next year. Clarence G. Jewitt has been elected vice captain.

Bowling Tonight

Steeles, Cutler and T. S. Summers will play in the Industrial League at Black's tonight. Ford Motors will also meet T. S. Summers in the Commercial League.

Means Saving of $5 to $10

It has always been our policy to produce the very brightest grade of work at minimum cost. While the price of woollens for spring show no reduction from the prices now prevailing, yet we are making a reduction of from $5 to $10 on every Suit or Overcoat made to order in order to turn over present goods into cash.

We also have a small line of the very best ready-to-wear Ulsters, Overcoats with velvet collars, and Suits which we are reducing to make a quick clearance.

Everything sold by us represents honest value, and that is why we have been able to establish the largest tailoring business in the city.

COAL AND LABOR PRICES TO FOLLOW

Independent Steel Companies Slash the Prices at Which They Sell Goods.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Nov. 26.—Return of steel prices established by the United States Industrial Board March 21, 1919, developed here today when James & Laughlin Steel Company, the largest of the independent interests, adopted new selling rates on certain finished steel products.

This reduction, the first to be made by independents in the Pittsburgh district, will not affect the wages, it was understood, of the approximately 25,000 persons in the company when the new prices, which are effective immediately, are: Bars, $2.35; structural sheets, $2.45; plates, $2.60, base Pittsburgh. Adjustments will be made on the prices for wire and cold rolled steel products.

THE MARITIME COMMERCIAL TRAVELLERS' ASSOCIATION

The Annual General Meeting of the members of this Association will be held at the Board of Trade rooms, Halifax, N. S., on Friday, December 10th, 1920, at 8 p. m. To receive the report of the Board of Management for the year, the result of the ballot for officers and directors for the ensuing year, to consider and, if approved, to adopt certain proposed amendments to the by-laws, and for the consideration of any other business that may properly come before the meeting.

THE GROWN-UPS' FAIRYLAND.

(Verna Loveday Harden.) We often envy children playing A simple little game, And wish that we could go a-Maying, And lay to joy such claim.

But tho' our play is not so merry, And not so clear our sky, Our grievances we often bury, To wear with Fancy's hid.

For grown-ups have imagination, And in their Fairyland, Are beauties of their own creation, And gifts from Fancy's hand.

In Fairyland, their every longing Is lavishly fulfilled, And joys they long have wished come thronging, By Fancy kindly willed.

When wearily they seek seclusion, The thoughtful Fairies pile Before them ever a sweet delusion, Till they begin to smile.

But we have cause to envy childhood, For we must leave our play, While, in their Fairyland's great wild wood, They laugh thro' all the day.

While flowers at our feet are falling, And sunbeams light our way, We hear the voice of duty calling, And hearing, must obey.

Had Bad Cough For Three Years.

The constant hacking, racking, persistent cough that sticks to you in spite of everything you have done to get rid of it, is the kind that is dangerous.

The longer the cough sticks, the more serious menace it becomes to your health.

There is no remedy that will relieve coughs—coughs that won't let go—like Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

It has a healing and soothing action on the air passages, and at the same time acts as a disinfectant of the respiratory organs, destroying the germs that produce serious lung complications.

Mrs. John Miller, Minburn, Alta., writes: "I had a very bad cough for three years. I went to several doctors and tried different cough medicines, but nothing seemed to help me. One day a friend told me about Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and after using several bottles I became completely relieved. I always keep a bottle in the house, and also recommend it to others."

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup has been universally used for over 20 years, and so great has been its success, it is only natural that a great many imitations have been placed on the market. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; a pine tree on the inside of the wrapper, and the name "Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup" is printed only by The T. M. Wood Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

ALL RECORDS SMASHED SAY BIG DRUG FIRMS

Now Conservatively Estimated That New Brunswick Will Require Over 8,000 Bottles of Tanlac for December and January Business.

CARLOAD ORDERED FOR NEW BRUNSWICK

Wonderful Success Preparation Has Achieved Here Has Far Exceeded All Expectations.

Announcement has just been made by The National Drug and Chemical Co., of St. John, the well-known whole sale druggists, that they have recently ordered a solid carload of Tanlac to supply the large and rapidly growing demand for this well-known medicine in St. John and surrounding territory.

The fact that approximately 542,500 bottles of Tanlac have been sold and distributed by this firm through their Canadian branches since its introduction a little less than two years ago, is a business item that will, no doubt, attract attention and be read with widespread interest.

As a matter of fact, Tanlac has already become the sensation of the drug trade in the United States and Canada. In the entire history of the drug trade in this country no other medicine has ever made a record worthy of comparison with the truly phenomenal sales record made by Tanlac.

The greatest drug firms of the country have voluntarily come forward and stated in cold, plain figures the record-breaking sales everywhere. The enormous popularity of Tanlac is the one great outstanding proof of its merit. No remedy of less than superlative quality could possibly sustain such a huge sales record nor gain, as has Tanlac, the unequalled endorsements of thousands of well-known men and women who stand for the best in their communities.

The greatest test of any medicine is the "repeat" sales it enjoys. Tanlac's phenomenal record has been possible because of the fact that men and women who buy one bottle invariably buy another.

THE GREATEST TEST OF ANY MEDICINE IS THE "REPEAT" SALES IT ENJOYS. Tanlac's phenomenal record has been possible because of the fact that men and women who buy one bottle invariably buy another.

EX-SERVICE MEN ON P. E. I. FARMS

Demobilized Soldiers Making Good on the Land—Some Interested in Foxes.

Special to The Standard. Charlottetown, Nov. 26.—During the past six weeks twenty-five men have been established on farms in Prince Edward Island under the Soldiers' Settlement Board. About 250 have been established in this Province during the year. The payments of these men, it is interesting to note, have been well maintained, about ninety-five per cent. having made good their yearly amounts and a great many have made more than their payment called for. It is also interesting to note that two artillery officers of the Imperial Army, Capt. Ryder and Lieut. Unwin, graduates of Cambridge and Oxford, are on the island training themselves in practical farming and intend purchasing farms next year. Another English army officer, Lieut. Hoar, is expected to arrive shortly and intend taking up farming in this Province. Lieut. Unwin spent the summer at Rosemeath and is going to the McDonald Agricultural College, St. Anne de Bellevue, to become more thoroughly grounded in the elements of his work. Captain Ryder has been residing lately in Summerside, where he is studying the essential points of fox ranching.

Chipman

Chipman, Nov. 26.—Mr. and Mrs. E. Pastore and Miss L. Pastore of Sheldon, Miss F. Grotto-Bonobio of Ireland and Miss H. Vincent of St. John were at the Chipman House last Friday on their return from a hunting trip up the Big Forks. Miss Vera King and Mr. Gerald King have returned from St. John where they spent last week. Mr. William Porter has returned to Boston after a ten days' visit here. Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Richardson are waiting their daughter, Mrs. Frank Taylor, Halifax. Messrs. Dunford, Wetmore and Topham of Lowell, Mass., who have been at Guide John Bishop's camp last Saturday, came out of the woods last Saturday, each having filled his license. Capt. May of the Bank of Nova Scotia, St. John, is in town for a few days. Mr. T. McMahon of the Dominion Bridge Co., Montreal, is here with a party of men to erect the superstructure of the Coal Creek bridge. Mr. and Mrs. G. H. King are spending the week in St. John. Mr. Harry King and Mr. E. St. C. Alexander shot two fine deer within a mile of the village yesterday afternoon. The Rev. William Moore united three couples in marriage on Monday morning in St. Joseph's.

How to Keep Fit in All Weathers INACTIVE KIDNEYS THE CAUSE OF PAIN AND DISEASE

MANY and varied are the consequences of careless treatment of kidney troubles. The symptoms—backache, headache, gravel, dizziness, sleeplessness, painful urination, stiff muscles and joints—are often treated as being of no importance. Yet neglect, or even delayed treatment, may result in years of suffering.

In the train of the early symptoms closely follow lumbago, sciatica, rheumatism, swollen joints and other serious maladies. Everyone should watch closely for the first indication that the kidneys are failing to remove the poisons from the blood stream. At the least sign, sickness and afflictions can be warded off by taking

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS

The effectiveness of Gin Pills lies in the fact that they dissolve and drive uric acid from the system. They clear the blood of all impurities and thus provide sure relief. The chief ingredient of Gin Pills is derived from the Juniper Berry—in other words, Gin without the harmful alcohol. The formula of Gin Pills combines with this extract of Juniper seven other valuable diuretic and antiseptic medicinal properties scientifically compounded. The result is a Pill which restores the kidneys to full and proper activity. Gin Pills quickly strengthen weakened kidneys, soothe inflammation, and eliminate all waste and infection from the system.

During the year 1919, the people of Canada bought 613,644 boxes of Gin Pills. On the basis of the 1911 census, that is one box to every twelfth person, man, woman and child in Canada and Newfoundland. Surely these figures point significantly to Gin Pills as the one remedy for kidney and bladder trouble.

The following letter is illustrative of the wonderful effectiveness of Gin Pills:—

"For two years, I was an invalid, incapable of work of any kind. Sixteen months of this time, I was unable to move without the assistance of a crutch and a cane. During this time, I took medicines, but did not improve, and had about given up hope of ever being of any use again, when a friend advised me to try Gin Pills. This I did, and within two months was as well a man as ever I was. This was four years ago, and I have had no return of my troubles since. I still use a box or two as a preventative, and am enabled to go fishing and shooting in the Spring and Fall, and lie out on the ground at night without any inconvenience. It is a wonderful medicine, and I take great pleasure in recommending it to all sufferers from rheumatism."—Name upon request.

Gin Pills have brought relief to thousands, and there pours into our office a continual stream of voluntary testimonials. What they do for others, they can do for you. Neglect your kidneys now, and the results may be fatal later. You cannot afford to be without Gin Pills. Start taking them to-day.

Sold everywhere for 50c. a box. Sample free on request.

New Brunswick Council Annual

St. John Ambulance Assn. Meeting Last Evening—Presentations Made.

The annual meeting of the New Brunswick Ambulance Association was held, under the distinguished patronage of His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, in the Sunday School hall of St. John's (Stone) Church last evening.

The occasion was a noteworthy one, both because of the number of prominent members of the community in attendance, and also because of the many First Aid certificates presented to representative citizens throughout the city.

An inspiring sight was the large group of young policemen who received the First Aid certificates, for which they had qualified by attending a series of lectures in their own spare time.

The president of the Association, Col. Murray MacLaren, presided, and he had seated with him upon the platform His Honor Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley, Premier W. E. Foster, Brigadier-General Macdonell, C. M. G. D. S. O., Dr. J. Roy Campbell, Dr. S. Skinner and Dr. Stanley Bridges.

The meeting, by the moving of a vote of thanks and welcome to the Lieutenant-Governor, both for extending his patronage to the meeting and in attending it as well as the motion was made in a gracious speech by Dr. J. Roy Campbell, who said tribute to the Governor's active support which he has extended to every movement for the public good since his elevation to the Governorship. A. C. Skelton seconded the motion.

Governor Pugsley Speaks.

Governor Pugsley spoke of the pleasure it gave him to attend the meeting, and said that the great good done by the association not only in the province but throughout the whole Dominion entitled it to the hearty support and sympathy of all citizens. In referring to the history of the association, he said it had been founded by the Crusaders with the motto, "For the service of mankind," and their good work had been handed down through the ages. The aim of the association was not to preach, but to act, in doing good to their fellow-men. There was an especial need of such workers in the community today, as was witnessed by the spirit of mob violence becoming so prevalent. He wished the association Godspeed and every success in their splendid work.

The Annual Report.

The annual report of the association was read by the secretary, Miss Lillian Hazen. It was an exhaustive record of the great amount of work accomplished by the association throughout the province during the year. Among other things, Miss Hazen stated that councils had been formed in Moncton, Newcastle, Chatham and Woodstock. Travelling representatives were appointed in the person of Miss Marion Magoe. Thirteen courses were started, with a membership of 289; of these, 151 received First Aid certificates.

Telegrams expressing regret at their inability to be present and congratulating the association on the good work done throughout the year were read from the general secretary, Col. R. J. Birtwhistle, and the president of the Provincial Chapter of the I. O. D. E., Mrs. N. T. Fitzandolph, of Fredericton.

Col. MacLaren spoke of the great benefit derived by the community through the St. John Ambulance Association, and paid high tribute to the forty-two men of the St. John police force who had attended the First Aid lectures given for them and qualified for certificates. He said it was especially praiseworthy on their part, as the time devoted to the lectures had been given by men who had a duty. He advocated allowing the men in the future to take the course as part of their training. He also congratulated the head of the T. S. Simms Co., Ltd., and the Corona Co. plants for affording an opportunity to their employees to take First Aid courses. Premier Foster moved the adoption of the secretary's report in a short speech, in which he congratulated the association on its good work, and complimented the members who had qualified for badges. The motion was graciously seconded by Lady Ashburnham, of Fredericton.

First Aid Certificates.

Certificates for First Aid and Home Nursing were then presented by Dr. Skinner, president of the St. John centre; to Miss Warner's class, Miss Reid's class, to members of M. R. A. Ltd.; the Cotton Mills, and the Sugar Refinery; to a number of Boy Scouts, to pupils of Witanstede School, and to seventeen members of the city police force.

The force presented a particularly fine appearance. They were present in a body, having marched from the Central Police Station under Chief of Police Smith and Inspector Caples. The snappy salute of the exercises man was in evidence when the certificates were presented.

C. M. A. URGES HIGH TARIFF

Hamilton, Ont., Merchants Declare Prosperity of Land Depends on Policy.

Hamilton, Ont., Nov. 26.—The tariff commission, composed of Sir Henry Drayton, chairman; Senator Robertson and Dr. S. P. Tully, which opened a two-day session in the city council chamber this morning, heard a strong plea from the Hamilton branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for retention of the government's present fiscal policy. It was declared that removal of the tariff would immediately and seriously injure the present and future prosperity and development of Hamilton and the surrounding agricultural district.

FREDERICTON LIQUOR SENT TO MONTREAL

Over $29,000 Value of Seized Goods Being Removed from the Province.

Fredricton, N. B., Nov. 26.—Sixty barrels and two hundred and forty cases of liquors and alcohol valued at more than $29,000 are being shipped out of Fredericton today. The shipment consists of the contraband in storage at the provincial government's vaults in this city where liquor seized by the staff of prohibition inspectors are stored until sold by the chief inspector. It was said to be consigned to Montreal.

Two particularly pleasing presentations took place when Mrs. A. M. Rowan was presented with the medal and pendant, the highest honor which can be conferred by the association upon one of its members, in recognition of her splendid work in organizing and conducting large First Aid classes in the North Shore.

The second presentation was that of a silver purse, handsomely engraved, to Miss Lillian Hazen, who resides in the office of secretary after six years of strenuous and devoted service.

The purse was engraved with the arms of the association, Miss Hazen's name, and the dates of her six years of service. Col. MacLaren expressed the regrets of the association at Miss Hazen's retirement and its gratitude for her years of devoted service.

Miss Hazen replied in a few fitting words.

Brigadier-General Macdonell spoke on the merits of First Aid, and Mrs. G. A. Kuhring on the work of the V. A. D.

The Coming War Between the "Closed" and "Open Shop"

In the belief that the "open-shop" crusade is intended to undo everything union labor has accomplished and to "feudalize America," the heads of the American Federation of Labor are making war plans. These labor leaders agree that a united front must be presented to these attacks, and that every unwarranted attempt to reduce wages and working conditions to pre-war levels must be resisted with every legitimate weapon. Thus, as the Baltimore Sun notes, labor and capital are lining up for a finish fight. The leading business interests "will bargain collectively with labor only when forced to do so" and "a concentrated campaign of the employers' interests already has been launched against organized labor on the reaffirmation of the 'open shop' principle and on the stand that wages must be reduced as part of the process of deflation."

The labor situation is probably the biggest problem that confronts the great mass of the American people today, and as this article in the "DIGEST" this week—November 27th—presents opinions from all sides, it will be read closely.

It is Now Time To Think of Christmas

As one goes through the daily routine of life; time slips by very quickly and a day comes when the realization that Christmas is close upon us brings one up with a start.

Christmas Day, this year, falls on Saturday—only 24 shopping days away.

Our Women's Shop Suggests

Dressing Gowns

Velour Gowns that are nice to look at but ever so much nicer to wear for they have been deftly fashioned of fabrics of a weight that will contribute much to one's winter comfort. Some are effectively enhanced with bindings of silk, while others are untrimmed save for roomy pockets and handy cord girdles. Sizes 36 to 42... $ 7 to $ 18

Corduroy Gowns $16 to $20

Quilted Silk Gowns $12 to $18

You Can't Help Pleasing When You Choose a Sweater

Happy indeed is the fortunate woman who unties a Christmas remembrance made festive with tissue paper and holly ribbon and finds revealed a Sweater of her favorite color. It may be of soft wool—the kind so desirable for skating—or a smart affair of silk, for we are showing many alluring models of both types.

- Wool Sweaters $5.25 to $15
- Silk Sweaters $10 to $20

A Most Interesting Christmas Campaign Will Be Launched on Saturday

A Store Full of Gift Things Bought at the Great Advantage of Lowered Prices—Which Advantage is to Be Passed On to the Public.

WE ARE FORTUNATE in not having contracted for our Christmas goods months ago as is usual, for by holding off we have been able to secure great advantage from lowered prices within the last three weeks. This advantage will now go to the Christmas shopping public and incidentally we believe will give us the biggest Christmas business we have had for years.

The task of a thirty-five per cent increase over last year's business has been a greed upon for the different departments and from the variety of gift things at the moderate prices marked and the enthusiasm of our salespeople we believe the objective will be accomplished. It is only a question of letting the people of St. John know about it and we would like you, as an individual, to join the hundreds and perhaps thousands of people who will visit our store tomorrow, Saturday, the first day of Christmas display. We recognize also that there are only twenty-seven days to Christmas Day, and business will have to be interesting, quick and at lower prices than have been prevailing of late.

Visit this interesting Christmas store tomorrow and get the Christmas habit in this Christmas atmosphere.

Yours truly, F. W. DANIEL & CO., LTD. Head of King Street

Would Not Be Without Baby's Own Tablets

Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets for her little ones she would not be without them. They are the ideal home remedy for the baby; being guaranteed to be absolutely free from opiates or other harmful drugs. They are a gentle but thorough laxative and have proved of the greatest aid in cases of constipation, indigestion, colic, colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Ernest Gagne, Beauséjour, Que., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for constipation and colic and have found them so successful that I would not be without them. I would strongly recommend every mother to keep a box in the house." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrups and more than easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known "ready-made" cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes.

Get from any druggist 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, as desired. The result is 16 ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made and saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never soles.

This Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It loosens the phlegm, stops the nasty throat tickle and hush the sore, irritated membranes so gently and easily that it is really astonishing.

A day's use will usually overcome the ordinary cough and for bronchitis, croup, hoarseness and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better.

Pinex is a most valuable concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to break up severe coughs.

To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for "2 1/2 ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Build Solid, Fine-flavored Meat on Your Hogs with EMPIRE Hog Feed

The right hog feed will not be wasteful by providing too much protein nor will it be over-economical so that there is not enough protein to secure the best results.

Now, we know, and we offer this feed to hog-raisers with every confidence that it is the best for them to use. We are not trying to compete with low-grade feeds that are mixed to get down to a price. EMPIRE Hog Feed has its own standard—the highest—and while it costs a little more will positively yield big results.

Try also EMPIRE Dairy Feed and Empire Horse Feed—both carefully balanced rations of extra quality ingredients—the sort of feeds that cannot fail to give best results. Make a careful test and watch results—that's all we ask.

EMPIRE Hog Feed was not put upon the market until we were sure of its being perfectly balanced, tested and proven.

INA E.—I am very sorry to have any little news or news to think for even a moment that their answers would be left out intentionally...

On Wednesday afternoon Morrison strolled down town. The first place he called at was Johnson's ironmonger and locksmith...

Mr. Bates in surprise. "I don't know what you mean, sir. I have never seen you before. You are not one of the fellows from school, did you?"

"No," said Mr. Bates in surprise. "I don't know what you mean, sir. I have never seen you before. You are not one of the fellows from school, did you?"

"We will," sighed the tall trees; "we will." "Woo-oo-oo!" sang the Autumn Wind...

"Woo-oo-oo!" sang the Wind. "But I must go where I am sent; I must blow as I'm bidden. This is my work, and I must do it..."

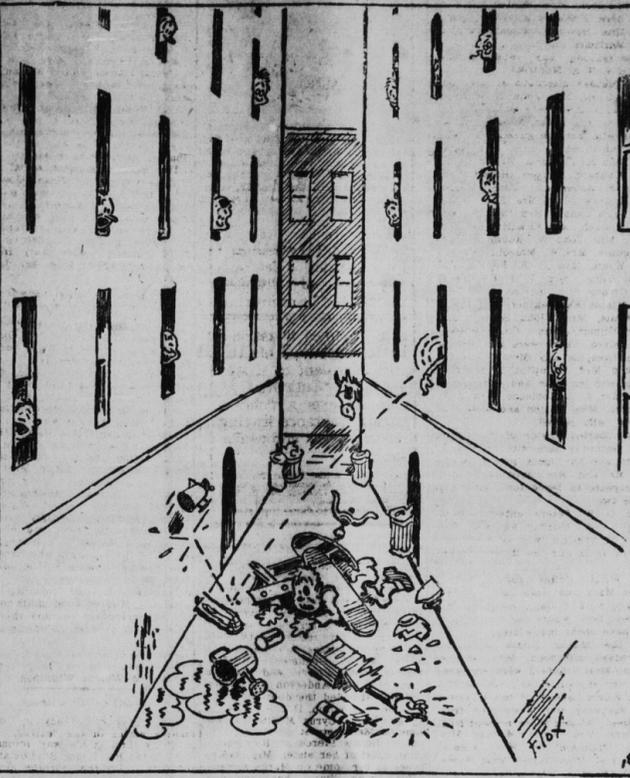

"How are you getting on?" shrieked the Wind, blustering round the garden-rose once more.

"We have them what we could, but they are still cold," sighed the kind, bare trees.

"Here we are!" they said; "we have come to you." "The Wind sent us the message, and we will cover you well, Good-night..."

"The wind cleaner stopped," said the other. "It's only you that's changed in us, I got kicked out."

Morrison was interested, and with-drew his hand from his pocket. "Any to you?" he asked, and pressed something into the boy's palm.

Shortly after the word had gone around that the man in the rear court was the Landlord himself.

A Regular Saturday Page for the Kiddies

The Riddle Book

There were once a father and mother who had boys and girls in plenty. A very large family, indeed—in fact, exactly twenty.

With the worry of thinking how on earth she could keep them quiet till dinner. At last when she was nearly dazed with the romp and racket...

No child was to have its breakfast, or its dinner, or its tea. Until it could answer three riddles right—every meal a new three.

When they didn't appear, and all was still—and another day—and another day—and another day...

She used to say, "If you rampage so, my magic spells will go pop. And blow you all to smithereens!"

When they didn't appear, and all was still—and another day—and another day—and another day...

Puzzles

1—Numerical. A very well known proverb of new words and twenty-three letters. Number 11, 12, 13, 22 means sacred; 4, 5, 10, 8, 21, 14, means to tempt to do wrong; 1, 20, 9, and 5, means to make a slight sound; 15, 6 and 7, means a swelling on the eyelid; 17, 2 and 12 is a great American poet; 13, 8, 16 part of a bride.

2—Enigma. Each line suggests a letter. My first is a part of a busy bee; My second the centre of a rooster's tail; My third is a beverage, cheering and good; My fourth turns the verb, am, into a food; My fifth is the end of all that is true; My sixth is found in bell and blue; My whole was a place where an altar was made; And a man to the God of his fathers prayed.

3—Three. Our body contains many things. Can you find these on yourself: 1. A standard measure. Am. Foot. 2. Found in the school-room. 3. Part of a hill? 4. Domestic animal? 5. What carpenters use? 6. Means of defence? 7. A kind of paper? 8. A small fish? 9. Tropical plants? 10. Parts of a clock? 11. Found in some mines? 12. Plenty of assurance?

ANSWERS TO LAST WEEK'S PUZZLES. 1—Easy to Spell. 1. CAT; 2. HAY; 3. ICE; 4. THAT; 5. IT.

2—Riddles. 1. Sea urchin. 2. The one that is down is always the lightest. 3. Room for improvement. 4. The door-bell. 5—Removing the "Eyes." 1. Pain; 2. Patient; 3. Patent; 4. Red; 5. Moist; 6. Most; 7. Said.

English And American Beauty

Types of Both Nations Judged by Artist and Photographer in Competition.

By L. K. COMMANDER.
(Copyright, 1920, by Cross-Atlantic.)
London, Nov. 23.—The American woman knows how to make the most of her natural beauty, the English woman does not. That is the decision of M. E. O. Hoppe, the artist and photographer who has just returned to England after having acted as judge in two beauty competitions that have been interesting America and England alike.

"The American girl enhances any natural beauty by her instinct for dress," he said. "She is influenced by Paris. Even the poorest girls make the best of themselves, and you find yourself seeing beauty in all types because of the excellent general effect."

"The balance and pose of the American girl often give an impression of beauty where there is no actual regularity of feature, and this pose is perhaps rather lacking in many of our otherwise lovely girls. I find that English women of exquisite features who, if they possessed that balanced air so common among Americans, would rank high as beauties."

Gibson Girl.

"As for types of beauty there are many in America, not one only. Once upon a time the 'Gibson girl' stood for America. Any one with a tip-tilted nose, long neck, pretty chin and hair fluffed up in front was dubbed 'American,' but it was really only one man's expression of a woman he admired in his own country. The tip-tilted nose is really of French origin, that glorious fair hair is Scandinavian and the so-called American woman are, to my mind, only representative of various races which have settled in America."

"Beautiful many of them are, most undoubtedly, and few men have had a harder task than that allotted to me to say that five-five only out of the thousands who send their photographs—were really more lovely than all the rest. Should I compare 'American beauties' with English 'roses' I should have to drop national boundaries and deal with dark and fair, tall and short, slim and round; for England versus America, where feminine loveliness is concerned, will not be a fair fight until the type has really evolved across the Atlantic."

"One of the first things I refused to do over there was to judge by 'classical' standards. We have new standards for loveliness, and judged by these, the English girl is second none. Our dark beauties may not have the sparkle and vivacity of the fair American, but there is a dreaminess in their eyes which is very attractive."

Beautiful Skin.

Talking of 'roses,' nowhere have I seen the possible bloom of the fair English girl's skin. The fair American has a clear, 'snow-maiden' look about her, and some have light hair with quite dark skins, but that velvet quality of skin, that deep gold of the hair is something absolutely English.

No one can deny, of course, the perfect rhythm of the American girl's movements. The eye follows her with pleasure as she walks. Her feet are well shod and her ankles neat, but she has not the subtle curves of the English maiden, nor that delicate turn of the ankle, that 'exquisite reserve' of the foot which Browning describes so aptly.

"The figures of both the American and English girls have lost the stateliness of old. They are Dianas, even in their youth, and they are Venuses. They are a swiftness about them which sport and the modern life have given. One competitor who sent in her picture was actually posed for the famous 'Diana of the Chase' in the New York Museum of Art."

"The so-called American type of girl is non-existent. American beauty is of many types and therefore it is impossible to compare the American with the typical English girl. But if particularly would like our English women to learn a little more of the value of impression created by balance, pose and dress, for they have all that makes for beauty in themselves, but they do not always know how to make the best of themselves, as American women undoubtedly do."

AUTUMN.

You take your Summer, you take your Spring.
You take your Winter and everything.
Give me the Autumn, give me the Fall.
That is the dandiest season of all!
Summer's too hot and your Winter's too cold;
Spring half the time you are foolen and you're sold.
But on the Autumn a man can depend—
Springtime is fickle, but Autumn's his friend.

Easy on cattle, easy on sheep,
Easy to handle and easy to keep;
Cult in the meadow a-runnin' around—
Autumn suits that fellow down to the ground!

Pleasant for sleepin' pleasant for work;
Toll like a Trojan and eat like a Turk.
None of your sweatin', and none of your freeze—
Regular Autumn it is, if you please!

Roads aren't dusty, roads aren't wet—
Start on a journey you know what you get.
Look at the load that a fellow can haul;
Weather gets settled along in the Fall.

Life is worth livin' along about now—
Honest to goodness, a pleasure to plow!
Never a shiver, yet tang to the air—
No, you can't beat it, no time and no where!

Just enough wanness, just enough chill;
Just enough sunshine up there on the hill;
Just enough darkness, just enough light;
Just about goodness—just about right!

SHIP LANES TO BE SET IN THE PACIFIC

Companies Mapping Out Definite Routes on "Safety First" Principles.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
Tokyo, Nov. 23.—Owing to the increasing number of steamers crossing the Pacific, both by the northern route and to San Francisco via Honolulu, it is now proposed to have each steamship company map out a well-defined lane to be followed by its vessels both east and west bound, and to furnish this information to other companies.

This plan, adopted on the Atlantic, is considered an aid in reducing the chances for accidents at sea. A big passenger liner, on a recent voyage from the Pacific coast to Yokohama, met nine vessels during the trip. Under the circumstances now existing there is always the possibility of collision, but if each steamship company were to have a definite route, known to all shipping men traveling in the Pacific, would be infinitely safer.

Several of the large steamship companies have approved the scheme and have reported the route followed by their ships, while others favor the matter, which they are taking up with their head offices. More than fifty ships are constantly plying to and across the Pacific, of which some twenty are passenger liners.

The "Glorious Uplift."

(Kingston Standard.)
Here then is striking evidence on the glorious uplift which has been given to the world through the Great War. Our ladies have made a definite step forward. From the ordinary cigarette they have graduated into the ranks of pipedoms, and we can only trust and pray that we shall shortly be able to chronicle the pleasing and edifying fact that the ladies will be no longer seen at the country store and toasting his shins at the hospitable central stove. That indeed, will be an ideal, glorious day when the ladies of our land shall generally adopt the pipe and do their little part to swell the internal revenues through the collection of the excise upon the additional tobacco consumed by them. It will emphasize the truth of the statement of Artemus Ward that "The female woman is one of the greatest institutions of which this land can boast."

Douglas MacLean has commenced work on "One a Minute," his latest Thomas H. Ince production for Paramount's story adapted for the screen by Joseph Franklin Plant from the stage farce by Fred Jackson, author of "La La Lucille" and "The Naughty Wife." Supporting the star will be Marjorie Debeck, Victor Patel, Frances Hayward, Andrew Robson and Graham Pettie.

FEASTING AND WORSHIP MARK THANKSGIVING

Turkeys for Rich and Poor Were Features of the Day in Boston City.

Boston, Nov. 23.—Whitely weather made this Thanksgiving Day one that followed closely the ideas of the Fathers who instituted it. Feasting and worship held the principal place on the programme for the day here after the dealers having crated or minimized the outdoor sporting events which have crowded the former features in recent years. The traditional turkey was not the popular bird it has been, high prices causing many to turn to other fowl as the principal items of their family dinners.

Turkeys Are Numerous

It seemed that only the very poor who were supplied by welfare organizations, or the rich, were the classes that had most of the turkeys. The inmates of city institutions found turkey instead of pork on their plates this year, a surplus in the hands of the dealers having made possible an eleventh hour purchase of a lot at 55 cents a pound.

At Deer Island, where petty prisoners and alien radicals are confined in the same group of buildings, those awaiting deportation participated in this turkey treat.

GERMANS GET FIELDS OF IRON ORE IN BRAZIL

Steel Magnates Seeking Independent Supply Large Enough for All Requirements.

(Copyright, 1920, by Public Ledger.)
Berlin, Nov. 23.—A group of German steel works are understood to have obtained control of large ore deposits near Sabana, in Minas Geraes, Brazil. The deposits, which are reported to compare in quality with Swedish ores, are about 500 miles from the general policy of the German government to broaden the sources of their ore supply and to assure supplies as far as possible by the opening of mines of their own.

At present, when running at from 25 to 60 per cent. of their capacity, German industry finds no difficulty in getting all the ore it needs, or rather, can pay for, despite the loss of the Lorraine fields. France and Luxembourg raise no obstacle to the export of their Minette ores and sufficient ore is obtainable from Sweden, Spain and India.

German ironmasters, however, foresee possible political and economic difficulties in the way of getting enough raw material once the iron and steel industries not only in Germany but also in France and the rest of the world are on their feet again. They wish to assure themselves by direct access to independent sources of adequate quantities of ore for the full requirements of German mills.

Not Likely.

A bishop was travelling in a mining country and encountered an old Irishman turning a windlass which hauled up dirt out of a well that was being dug. His hat was off, and the soil was pouring on his unprotected head.

"Don't you know the sun will injure your brain if you expose it like that?" said the bishop.

The Irishman wiped the sweat of his forehead and looked at the clergyman.

"Do you think I'd be doing this all day if I had any brains?" he said.

St. Matthew's Church Received Large Class

Last Sunday was a red letter day in the history of St. Matthew's congregation, when about twenty-five new members were received into the church and had their names inscribed on the records. This was the largest class of candidates received into the church at one time since the congregation was formed some twenty-three or four years ago.

Rev. W. J. Davis, pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Lorneville and interim Moderator of St. Matthew's, conducted the Communion service, preaching a most inspiring and appropriate sermon to both the new members and the congregation.

On the preceding Friday evening, Rev. J. A. Morrison, D. D., Ph. D., of the First Presbyterian Church, West St. John, conducted the preparatory service, publicly examining and welcoming the new members to the congregation.

All of the various organizations of the church are now preparing for a season of upbuilding both spiritually and materially. The congregation expects to remodel the church building during the summer season of next year to make room for the rapidly

MONTREAL TRAM DROPS 20 POINTS, SMELTERS SELLING

Over 1,660 Shares of Smelters Sold at the Low Price of 18 1/2 Points.

Montreal, Nov. 26.—The features of today's stock market transactions here were the heavy liquidation in smelters and the sale of Montreal Tramways at a drop of 19 1/2 points. The former heavy sale is attributed either to a bear drive or to the forced sale of a block of stock at the market. Smelters touched a new low at 18 1/2 and then rallied a little to 19 1/2, a net decline of 3 1/2 points on sales of 1,660 shares.

Smelters, which were sold through one of its routine movements, today being an upward one, the stock closing at a net gain of 1 1/2 points. The relatively low shares of paper stocks met a moment when buyers were few and some material reductions in prices were the result. Brompton fell 1 1/2 points to 61 1/2; Laurion, a similar amount at 59 1/2; Spanish River preferred 1 1/2 points at 88 1/2 and the common and Wayagamack a fraction each. Howard Smith lost a point at 114; Abitibi moved against the tendency and finished the day a large fraction net up at 58 3/4.

Call Loans 6 Per Cent. The utilities were irregular with Bell Telephone a fraction, Brazilian unchanged; Montreal Power down 3/8 point and Quebec Railway up 1/8. Montreal Tramways sold at 18 1/2, down 2 1/2 points from the sale last on April 7th. Elsewhere steamship preferred firm 1 1/2 points, lost a couple of days ago; Abitibi in quiet trading lost 3 1/2 points; Dominion Steel was down a point at 45 1/2; and Steel of Canada a large fraction at 61. Among the banks Nova Scotia lost 5 points at 258, and Montreal gained 1 1/2 points at 197 1/2. Total sales, listed, 5,831 bonds, $85,500.

IRREGULAR AND HEAVY TRADING IN WALL STREET LISTS

Foreign Exchange Was Firmer and Call Money Remained at Six Per Cent.

New York, Nov. 26.—Trading on the stock exchange today presented an irregular picture in its relation to the market, price movements being extremely irregular when not actually heavy. Apart from the related tone of the money market, which extended to bankers' acceptances and commercial paper, developments and advances over the holiday recess were again of a character to inspire extreme caution. Grain quotations suffered another seasonal decline, other commodity markets were nervous, and one of the most important of the industrial steel manufacturers adopted lower prices 'due to the law of supply and demand.'

London Exchange Better. Exchange on London was firmer, the improvement coinciding with the better showing of the Bank of England in its liability reserves, and relief to most other foreign centres, Greece again excepted, were variably higher. Shipments, oils, steels and coppers were the most vulnerable issues, their reactions of one to five points keeping pace with reduced business, lower prices and reduction of output, especially in the metal industry. Rumor of the associated some of today's selling with the closing out of former bull pools. Crucible Steel, Atlantic Guilt and Mexican Petroleum reflected constant pressure with International Paper, Virginia-Carolina Chemical and several of the cheaper rails. Neutralizing factors were restricted to several of the investment rails, notably coals, also American Woolens and sundry specialties. Sales amounted to 785,000 shares.

Call Loans 6 Per Cent. Call loans for the day and into the coming week held at the one rate of six per cent, and an enlarged volume of business in acceptances and mortgage loans was reported at lower quotations. Although the new issue of Canadian Northern bonds was quickly taken, the general bond market was dull and heavy, especially for Liberty issues, the second 4 1/2 per cent losing one point, the fourth 4 1/2 a large fraction. Total sales, par value, aggregated $15,275,000.

FARMERS TIRE OF HOLDING WHEAT AND FLOOD THE MARKET

Prices at Winnipeg Touch a New Low for the Season and Continue Weak.

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Wheat touched the low price of the season here today, with November at $1.75; December at $1.80; and May at $1.85. The opening was extremely weak, being from 1 1/2 to 16 cents down and was followed by further declines in the nearby position. Reaction followed later and substantial advances were made, only to be partly lost again, and the general situation was bearish and underdone weaker. The market was generally quiet. The demand for cash wheat was very quiet. Buyers were squaring away and gave evidence of having cleaned up for November. The offering was very heavy, indicating that farmers are tired of holding their grain and are gradually letting go. Wheat—November, $1.75; December, $1.80; May, $1.85. Oats—November, $2.75; December, $2.80; May, $2.85. Cash prices—Wheat, No. 1 northern, $1.75; No. 2 northern, $1.77; No. 3 northern, $1.74; No. 4 northern, $1.49; track Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, $1.55. Oats—No. 2, c.w., $5.75; No. 3, c.w., $5.35; extra No. 1, feed, $5.75; No. 1, feed, $7.85; No. 2, feed, $4.75; track, $5.15.

TORONTO

Toronto, Nov. 26.—Manitoba oats, No. 2, c.w., $5.75; No. 3, c.w., $5.35; extra No. 1, feed, $5.75; No. 1, feed, $7.85; No. 2, feed, $4.75; all in store Fort William. Northern wheat, new crop—No. 1 northern, $1.75; No. 2 northern, $1.74; No. 3 northern, not quoted; all in store Fort William. Cash prices unchanged. American corn—No. 2, yellow, $1.05; nominal, track Toronto, prompt shipment. Canadian corn, feed, nominal. Manitoba barley, in store Fort William—No. 3, c.w., $9; No. 4, c.w., $8; rejects, $7; feed, $7. Barley, Ontario malting, $9 to $5, outside. Ontario wheat—No. 2, $1.70 to $1.80; No. 1, $1.75 to $1.85; No. 3, $1.70 to $1.75; No. 4, $1.45 to $1.55, according to freight. Buckwheat, nominal, $5 to $1. Oats, No. 2, $1.50 to $1.55. Old Dominion, in jute bags, government standard, prompt shipment, delivered at Montreal, nominal, $8.50. Manitoba flour, in jute bags, government standard, nominal, $8.50. Manitoba flour, track Toronto, cash prices; first patents, $11.00; second patents, $11.00. Milled, carloads, delivered Montreal, freight, bags included; bran, per ton, $35 to $40; shorts, per ton, $42 to $45; feed flour, $2.75 to $3. Hay, loose, No. 1, per ton, $38 to $39; baled, track Toronto, $30 to $32. Chicago, Nov. 26.—Strained financial conditions in North Dakota had much to do today with a violent new break in the price of wheat. For the first time in several years the cereal commanded less than $1.50 a bushel. There was a nervous close at 6 to 7 3/4 net decline. Corn finished at 1 1/2 cent loss to 3 1/2 cent gain; oats up 1/8 to 3/8, and provisions varying from 20 cents off to an advance of 1 1/2 cent. Attention to the remarkable series of rural bank failures in North Dakota was so eager and general among wheat growers that a selling stampede could be easily foreseen. As soon as the market opened, rushes to the bear side of the market began, and buyers were restrained through knowledge not only of the North Dakota banking situation, but also on account of a fresh break in the cotton market, and

WESTERN TRADE DULL

Winnipeg, Nov. 26.—Business conditions throughout Canada continue dull and unsatisfactory and collections are generally poor, especially in the West, states the weekly report of the Canadian Credit Men's Trust Association. Sugar Market Quiet. New York, Nov. 26.—Raw sugar was quiet today at 4 3/4 for Cuba, cost and freight, equal to 5 1/2 for centrifugal. Refined sugar steady at 8 7/8 to 9 1/8 for the granulated. Sugar futures were very quiet during the forenoon. May, the only position traded in, advanced 15 points on covering.

GOSSIP AROUND THE MARKETS

It is announced that the recent City of Toronto bond issue of $2,500,000 have been disposed of by the Dominion Securities Corporation and their associates. The bonds, which are offered at a price to yield 6.35 to 6.00 per cent, according to maturity, have all been placed in Canada. Dividend declarations today are Steel Company of Canada, 1 3/4 per cent, on preferred and 1 1/4 per cent, on common, payable February 1, to record January 10. The announcement is made at Montreal that a syndicate composed of A. Read and Co., the National City Co., The Guaranty Co. of New York, Lee, Higginson & Company, the Bankers Trust Company, and Blair & Company, Inc., all of New York, and the Continental and Commercial Trust and Savings Bank of Chicago, have purchased $25,000,000, 20 year 7 per cent, bonds of the Canadian Northern Railway, dated December 1, 1920, and maturing December 1, 1940. The bonds are guaranteed unconditionally as to principal and interest by the Canadian Government. It is understood the bonds will be offered at a slight premium. The only position traded in, advanced 15 points on covering.

A Buy Which Means Money Made

Financial authorities agree that prices of securities, particularly those of public utilities, are at the bottom, and it is a fact that the new N. B. Telephone issues fulfill all requirements of stocks now so generally recommended for purchase.

(1) It is seasoned; has stood the test.

(2) It yields so good an income that advance in price seems inevitable.

For your own sake, do not let this period of low prices of excellent investments pass.

FAILURE TO RATIFY TREATY COSTLY TO AMERICAN FIRMS

German Taxes Will Hit U. S. Concerns Doing Business in That Country.

"BUCK" HERZOG HAS RECOVERED

(Copyright, 1920, By Public Ledger.) Berlin, Nov. 26—America's failure to ratify the Versailles peace treaty threatens to have unpleasant financial consequences for American firms and individuals established in Germany.

According to the government's present financial program, one-third of the entire contribution is to be collected automatically. The tax is assessable on a basis of the possessions of individuals or companies.

Other former enemy nationals and companies established in Germany since the end of last year are claiming exemption under that clause, and have filed their tax declarations under protest.

The National Cash Register, Steinway & Sons, pianoforte makers, the American Radiator and 150 other American firms are caught by this treaty quibble.

Mattias Erbenberger, minister of finance, had no idea when he introduced the bill early last year that ratification of the treaty by the necessary three powers and its consequent completion would be so long delayed.

The tax, especially under the bill now before the Reichstag for the immediate collection of from 10 to 15 per cent on the property of individuals or corporations will have such a sweeping effect on the whole business life of the country that special machinery has been provided for the liquidation of the sale of real estate, securities, jewelry, furniture, etc., surrendered by those who were unable to raise the cash to pay the tax.

KIDNAPPED BOY FOUND IN WOODS

Youth Remembers Being Captured, But Not How He Escaped.

Morrisville, N. Y., Nov. 26—The authorities are investigating an attempt by unknown individuals to obtain money from Mrs. Lapland, of Hyde Park, by kidnapping her 17-year-old son, Greter. The youth was found dazed and half frozen in a small building in a maple sugar orchard on Saturday night.

After being revived Grover Lapland said he had been in Richmond for two weeks' visit and on his return last Friday he started to walk home from Hyde Park Station. Near the fair grounds in Morrisville, he said, three men in a closed automobile made him get into the car. He asserted that they refused to let him out, and when he tried to shut off the power he was struck on the head. He could not remember what happened after that.

Women and the Strike.

(London Daily Chronicle.) It is certain that women, who have been growing in power in recent years have in the strike threat a weapon of overwhelming power. One trembles to think what would happen in the homes of this country if the housewives suddenly struck work to enforce a demand for better conditions.

Undoubtedly.

Mr. Spiffkins observed that the quiet boy at the foot of the class had not yet had an opportunity to display his knowledge of the Bible. So the teacher gave him this one: "In what condition was the patriarch Job at the end of his life?" "Dead," said the quiet boy.—Pittsburgh Courier.

Seeing Ourselves As Others See Us

James Hedman of Cleveland Gives Standard Some of His Impressions of St. John.

Seeing ourselves as others see us, or should be, is a lesson that the editorial staff of a leading industrial journal of the United States, was in the city yesterday afternoon. He has a good pair of eyes and a lot of experience. He was asked by The Standard for his impressions of the city.

The Narrow Streets "What struck me forcibly was the narrowness of some of your principal business streets. For a city of 200,000 your streets are crowded, too crowded. I wonder how you are going to accommodate the multitude when St. John grows bigger, as it is destined to grow."

Lack of Boosting

"From what I can learn in my short stay here, you are not boosting yourselves as much as you should. You have great port facilities. I think you could attract a lot of commerce and much other business if you had a speaker who toured the country, telling of the industrial possibilities of St. John and the port of St. John, and with motion pictures illustrating the greatness of your industries and the possibilities for growth, the diversity of your products, the great stretch of your water front, the impressiveness of your wharves and piers, the loading and unloading of ships in your busy season, and all the other big things that go to make up what you say it is, the real Winter Port of Canada, a great port through which much commerce flows; but more, much more, should flow."

Cruelty to Animals.

(Los Angeles Times.) A naturalist says that canaries and all genuine song birds indicate either fear or disdain in the presence of our jazz music. Put on a record of the "Every Stable Blues" and a self-respecting nightingale will burst into tears of anger and reproach. A canary bird condemned to listen to jazz band rendition of "Whoo, Bill!" tried to drown itself in its water dish. And we say that song birds have no intellect!

PRIZE MONEY IS BEING MAILED TO NAVAL MEN NOW

Dept. Has an Incomplete List of Present Addresses so Many May be Overlooked.

Ottawa, Nov. 25.—A large number of cheques have been distributed by the Department of the Naval Service for prize money to men who have served in the R. N. V. and R. N. V. R. as far as money is concerned, however, the addresses of the men for whom cheques have been issued are not known, it has not been possible to forward all the cheques and the department would like to be informed as to the address of any man entitled to prize money who has not been paid.

MODERATE PARTIES WEAKEN IN SAXONY

Diet Election Reflects Political Drift Evident in Germany Since January 1919.

(Copyright, 1920, By Public Ledger.) Berlin, Nov. 25.—The Diet elections in Saxony show the same political drift which has characterized every election in Germany since the revolutionary elections for a constituent assembly in January, 1919. The weakening of the moderate elements among the Socialists and the bourgeois Liberals and a growing tendency to divide into two sharply hostile camps—conservative and radical labor.

Trusted By New York Bankers

Churches Were Loaned Funds and Have Always Repaid Credit Good.

That the church's credit is good is proved by the following incidents: When the leaders who planned the fair church movement saw the need of vast sums to pay expenses before the separate churches could be expected to furnish funds, they called on the leaders of the New York City to inquire if they were willing to underwrite the funds and trust to the church people to repay. The bankers soon responded that they were gladly willing to advance any amount of money needed and stated that in the entire history of the banking industry there was not an incident where there had ever been a loan sustained through advancing money to a Christian institution of enterprise.
