Mrs. Maybrick's Case. LONDON, May 15 .- Solicitor Harris, who is acting on behalf of Baroness de Roques, mother of Mrs. Maybrick, has made announcement of his intention to persist in his demand for a public inquiry in the new phase of Mrs. Maybrick's case in spite of the refusal of Home Secretary Asquith to

A Coat That Won't Rip.

BERLIN, May 15 .- An improved bulletproof coat, the invention of the Mannheim has now some very promising riders. tailor, Dowe, was subjected to a test at Spandau to-day, the coat being much lighter in weight and texture than those hitherto tested. Twelve shots were fired at various distances, each one striking the coat, but none of them pierced the gar-

Many Victims of Lightning. BERLIN, May 15 .- A terrific thunder storm passed over a portion of Prussian Silesia yesterday evening, killing a number of persons and doing much damage to property. At Buntzlau the burgomaster, Herr Werner, and six others were struck by lightning and killed, and several other from the interior.

William. BERLIN, May. 15 .- Prof. Ludwig Quidde has published a pamphlet entitled "Caligula," which purports to be a study of the madness of the Roman Emperor; but the uthor has so selected and grouped his classical quotations as to make the whole work bear directly upon Emperor William's actions. The pamphlet probably will be

LONDON, May 15 .- The students of Christ Church, Oxford, who were concerned in the smashing of doors and windows of the Bullingdon Club last Saturday morning, were suspended, and left Oxford this morring for their homes. They occupied 50 hansoms in driving to the station, and were escorted thither by the remainder of the students of Christ Church, who cheered Hebrew Population of Prussia.

BERLIN, May 15 .- Ahlwardt, the Jewbaiter, gives in his new journal, the "Rundschau," some statistics concerning the enormous increase of the Hebrew population in Prussia. Berlin had 6,500 Hebrews in 1840, 30,000 in 1870, and 75,000 in 1890. The "Rundschau" asserts that 46 per cent of all the houses in Berlin belong to Hebrews.

Lawsuit Over Emin's Papers.

BERLIN, May 15 .- A lawsuit over Dr. Emin's papers has been begun here. One claimant is Ferida, Emin's daughter by an Abyssinian woman and generally regarded in a double play and stole a base. as his heir; the other is a woman living in Constantinople, who asserts that she was Emin's legal wife, and produces a certificate, signed apparently by Emin, to prove the legitimacy of their child Paulina. The proof in the latter case seems to be com-

Topsy-Turvey State of Things in

Honolulu. London, May 15 .- A letter from Honolulu, printed in the Chronicle, under date April 10, says: "Affairs in these islands are still in a terrible condition of topsy-turvey. It is deficult even to say what nationality is claimed by the Provisional Government in its principal supporters. One day they are enthusiastic American patriots, the " next day they are Hawaiians indignantly repudiating the idea of American inter-

Tribute to Canadians.

LONDON, May 15. - The old comrades and friends of the Royal Military College of Canada have just placed in the south transept of Rochester Cathedaal a handsome memorial to three officers of the Royal Engineers who were graduated at the college, viz., Capt. W. G. Stairs, Capt. H. B. Mackay and Capt. W. H. Robinson. The first two officers died of fever in Africa, and Capt. Robinson was killed in an action pear Sierra Leon in March, 1892. The college at Kingston has given to the army some excellent soldiers.

The Miners' Congress.

BERLIN, May 15 .- At to-day's session of the International Miners' Congress there were present delegates representing 1,170. 000 workmen in mines. Great indignation has been aroused among the German delegates, Herren Singer, Liebknecht and the others, who are also members of the Reichstag, by the remarks of the English delegate, Pickard, at yesterday's session. Mr. Pickard declared it was not the intention of himself and his fellow-English delegates to support any movement to incite class against class. He also declared he preferred the welcoming address of French Delegate Lamentine to that of Deputy Singer, because Lamentine was a workingman and spoke as such, while Singer was at a disadvantage, not being a workingman. Pickard's speech will undoubtedly be hotly replied to before the congress is over. The congress began its work by discussing the reports of the various nations represented.

The Queen's Health.

CHICAGO, May 15 .- A cablegram received in this city, signed by Sir Henry Ponsonby, Mr. McCallum Again the Choice of private secretary to Queen Victoria, dated from Windsor and addressed to Henry M. Hunt, makes a denial to statements that have been circulated throughout Great Britain for a few days, and which have been cabled to this country, to the effect that the Queen's health is becoming precarious, that she shows weakening of faculties because of increasing age, and that Sir Henry Ponsonby had announced that she would be unable to officiate at the official opening of the Manchester Canal on May 21.

Sir Henry Ponsonby says that the statements are devoid of truth, that the health of the Queen is perfect, and that she will fulfill all the state and public engagements at which she is designated to be present in person during the summer. "Any statements to the contrary circulated across the wounded bull and so badly injured that he Atlantic," says Sir Henry Ponsonby, "may be regarded as the veriest nonsense.'

A BIG ENGLISH EVENT. LONDON, May 16 .- At the Lingfield pring meeting to-day the Inauguration Plate of 1,000 sovereigns for 2-year-olds, was won by Mr. W. Low's Braw Lass, filly; Mr. Douglass Baird's Chasseur, second; and the Prince of Wales' Hamil-Mint ran a dead heat for third.

THE KENTUCKY DERBY. LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 15 .- The twentieth Kentucky Derby was run in the mud to-day. The 55 entries simmered down to 5 when they went to the post and Leigh & Rose's colt Chant won; pulled up in a great big gallop, ten lengths ahead of Cearlsong who was fifteen lengths ahead of Bashford, Manors and Sigurd. Time 2:41. AQUATIC.

CANADIAN OARSMEN IN TEXAS. Austin, Tex., May 15 .- A large crowd witnessed the events on the opening day of the great international regatta. Gaudaur and Paterson were favorites in betting for the professional races. The second race was the professional single triangle, threemile heats. The starters were: J. G. Gaudaur, of Orillia: E. Durnan, of Toronto: Ed Rogers, of Saratoga; J. J. Rice, of Toronto, and Harry Parker, of St. Louis. Gaudaur won by a scant length; Durnan second, Rogers third. Time, 21:18.

The third race was the second professional, a triange at three mile trial heats. Henry Peterson (San Francisco), John Teemer (St. Louis), Geo. Hosmer (Boston) and Fred Plaisted (Winnipeg), were the starters. Peterson ran away from his companions and won by a quarter of a mile; Teemer second and Hosmer third. Time. 22:58

The meeting of the city league called for to-night will be held to-morrow evening

Johnson, of London, played a great game for the Buffalos yesterday at short. He made three base hits, including a twobagger, and had one put out, three assists and no errors. In addition he participated THE TURF.

It is the general opinion that the Woodbine is faster this year than ever, and if the weather is favorable during race week, new track records should be established.

Fleeing From "Baroness" Blanc. OTTAWA, May 16 .- Andrew Onderdonk, of Chicago, the well-known contractor, who built the British Columbia section of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is in the city, accompanied by his son, Shirley Onderdonk, or "Shirley the Lamb," as he is

It appears that young Onderdonk, who is about 20 years old, has fallen in love with Baroness Blanc-it is even said that he has married her-and the understanding is that Shirley's father has brought the lad to Canada to get him away from the "Baroness."

Lambton P. P. A.'s-Political Notes.

Breckville Patrons Decide Not to Nominate a Candidate.

WEST WELLINGTON TORIES. DRAYTON, Ont., May 15 .- The Conervative Association of West Wellington met here to-day to nominate a candidate for the Legislative Assembly and elect officers, but after considerable discussion it was decided to leave the nomination of a candidate in abeyance.

TORONTO, May 15. - Mr. Charles Moss, Q.C., was to-night unanimously nominated as the candidate of the Reform party for South Toronto for the Legislature. No other name went to the convention. BROCKVILLE PATRONS.

LYN, Ont., May 15 .- A convention of the Patrons of Industry for the Brockville riding was held here to-day to consider the advisability of placing a candidate in the field for the Local Legislature. About 50 delegates were present. It was decided by a large majority that it would be unwise at in their interest.

LANARK LIBERALS. LANARK, May 15 .- A large and representative convention of Reform delegates | ments would be exempt, and with this an met in the town hall here to-day to choose the Liberal candidate for the Provincial election. A number of prominent Liberals were nominated, and after making short but enthusiastic speeches retired in favor of the present member, Mr. W. C. Caldwell. Mr. Caldwell's nomination was then made unanimous.

A Briber at Work in the United States Senate to Prevent the Tariff Bill from Passing.

NEW YORK, May 16 .- A Washington special to the Sun says: A sensation was created in the Senate cloak rooms yesterday by an authorized announcement that an attempt was recently made to bribe Senator Hunton, of Virginia, and Senator Kyle, of South Dakota, to vote against the pending tariff bill. The man who offered the bribe is well known and is remembered in South Carolina as a member of the "Carpet Bag Government" prior to 1876. He has for several years resided in Dakota. Since the tariff fight began in the Senate he has been in Washington frequently and says he represents certain usiness interests in New York, and that $1,000,000 if necessary will be spent by those whom he represents to prevent the passage of the tariff bill.

RECIPROCITY IN COAL.

Proposed Provision by the House-Transatlantic Steamship Tenders.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.] OTTAWA, May 16.—There was a quiet conference vesterday of Government supporters from the Maritime Provinces and Ontario over the question of the duty on bituminous coal, which will likely come up in the House to-morrow. The old tariff on coal, 60 cents a ton, has not been disturbed. The United States duty on coal was first | don. fixed at 40 cents a ton, though it is now proposed by the Senate committee to raise known by some of his familier friends in it to 50 cents. At yeste lay's conference it was proposed that a reciprocity item dus ry. should be added giving to the Governor-General in council power to remit so much of the duty as would bring it down to the level of whatever it is finally in the Wilson Bill. This is now under consideration.

Referring to a recent dispatch from New York, stating that the agent of the Campagnie General Transatlantic Company, controlling the French line, had intimated that his company had been asked to tender for a service of steamers between Canadian ports and France but had declined, the company had not been asked to tender as slander. stated, "These, like many other companies and persons, have had correspondence with the Government on the subject of trade with France and other countries, and all have been asked to make their propositions have the body of her husband buried at and they would be considered. In the agricultural committee on Tuesday, a proposition was submitted that the Government should make a loan of $25,000 to the farmers of the Northwest to enable ern provinces, the loan to be repayable in three equal annual installments. The committee did not express any opinion. I'rof. Robertson, dairy commissioner, stated that | Catholic missions. he had concluded arrangements with the C. P. R. for the establishment of dairy stations at different points in Manitoba and the Northwest.

WOULD IT BE BENEFICIAL?

The Single Tax Question at the London West R. E. O. P. A .- Strong Remarks in Favor of It. That profound and interesting topic which has been given considerable attention at the Labor Hall of late-the single taxwas discussed by the London West real estate owners last night. It was introduced in a lengthy paper by Mr. W. L. Brown, who strongly favored the system. Mr. Brown reviewed the many phases of the question, and said that in New Zealand everything was booming under single tax. It worked against the land speculators and would abolish all custom houses, as taxes would fall entirely upon land. In a nutshell Mr. Brown's opinion was that under such a system it would be very expensive to hold land out of use, but so profitable to build on it that land would come into the market in such quantities as to make its value so low that there would be no lack of opportunities for work, while men hungered for what they are capable of producing. If the tax did not take the whole annual value of land it would approximate it so closely that the substantial facts would be secured from the beginning, and when the principle was once recognized and established, the expense of making and maintaining better public improvements would soon leave but little surplus to the possessors who would feel pleased to call themselves the "owners" of valuable land. Messrs. Ellis and Stinchcombe opposed the theory strongly.

Deputy Reeve Scarrow made a rattling address in favor of the single tax system. One advantage would be that it would bear equally on all, and another that it would make taxes more easily collected. Again, the present time to bring out a candidate there would be less tyranny upon the part of the assessor, who was very liable to show favoritism. One fact strongly brought out was that any improveimpetus would be given to extensions. Buildings generally would be erected, and the workingmen would be afforded more employment. Then again many things could be said against the tax, but personally he was in favor of the introduction of the scheme, if only as an experiment. In France, for instance, the great revolution was caused by the land being controlled by a few, but under the Napoleonic rule every man was result! That it was one of the foremost countries of the world to-day, despite the financial crisis through which it had passed. Only for that plan being in vogue France would indemnity demanded by Germany after the war. Any other country would have been crippled under the circumstances. Messrs. F. A. Jones and M. Armstrong moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Brown for Information regarding the dispute over he treasurership was asked for by Mr F. A. Jones. He wanted to know if the reeve had gone to the meeting of the council with a bylaw already prepared for the appointment of a new treasurer. Mr. Scarrow said that it was true that the bylaw was typewritten. Mr. Jones disapproved of the action of the council in the matter, and it was decided to discuss the matter at the next

A CRIMINAL CHARGE.

Alaa Everitt and His Wite Arrested Here for an Alleged Attempt to Procure an Abortion-A Thamesville Girl the Complainant.

Alva Everitt, of Thamesville, a stonecutter by trade and about 35 years old, together with his wife Eliza Ann, were arrested in this city late yesterday afternoon by High Constable Schram, of South London, and County Constable Stewart, of Chatham. Sarah Jane Dove, a young girl 17 or 18 years old, living in Howard township is the complainant. She alleges that in July of last year, she was seduced by Everitt, and gave birth to a child some time ago. The girl further alleges that Everitt and his wife attempted to procure an abortion and that, after failing, they decamped. The Kent county officers have been looking for Everitt for some time and he was finally located in this city by High Constable Schram. Yesterday Constable Stewart arrived in town, armed with two warrants, and after a considerable chase had Everitt and his wife in custody. Everitt was found working at Peel's marble works on Richmond street and Mrs. Everitt at a relative's house at 7 Oxford street. Both prisoners were taken back to Thamesville, where they will be charged before Squire Syer with attempting to procure an abortion. The complainant is a daughter of a well-to-do farmer,

CEN. ECOTH'S JUBILEE.

Epitome of the Canadian Programme.

A New Scheme for Each of the Fifty Years-London Included in the List. The friends and soldiers of the Salvation Army throughout the world are celebrating 1894 as a Jubilee Year. Fifty years ago Gen. Booth commenced his life-work for God andhumanity. As usual, the organization is practical. The War Cry of May 19 contains a huge programme of new schemes drawn up by Commandant Booth, totalling 50 in all. Scheme No. 1 proposes "the biggest series of meetings ever held in the history of the Army in Canada," to take place in Toronto on Wednesday, June 13, to Thursday, June 21. Almost all the staff officers of the Dominion will be present. A prominent feature will be the concluding "Mammoth Musical Festival" in the new Massey

Schemes 3 and 4 relate to a development in the social work of the Army at Vancouver and Winnipeg. Restaurants and homes of a superior character are to be established. They are to provide clean, comfortable, healthy lodgings, and substantial board at low rates. Each inmate will have a recess to himself, with trunks for his clothes and lock-ups for his valuables. He will thus be installed in his Rue de la Paix, Liege, on the night of May own castle and have a spot in the world he can call his own. Bath rooms, reading 3, has confessed that he alone placed the room, etc., will be available also. Many a youth will thus be saved from evil influences. New barracks are being, or are to be, erected at Nanaimo, Vancouver, Toronto, Windsor, Orillia, Cornwall, Brockville, Bonavista, Heart's Content, Calgary, Portage la Prairie, St. John, N. B., Woodstock, N. B. Renovations are to be effected in the halls the army already has at Hamilton, Kingston, Montreal, Ottawa and Quebec. Scheme No. 7 .- A Shelter for Women at Toronto, started this year, is already doing an excellent work. In three months this neat home has afforded a shelter to the tune of 895 lodgings. In scheme 10, the Social Farm, just taken near Toronto, is described. Its purposes

1. To find honest employment for any willing labor. 2. To find a healthy spot for officers resting.

3. To supply the army in the city with farm produce. 4. To make a profit that will help to support the army's social institutions. Scheme 11 describes a new Food and Shelter for Men at Halifax, which is to be in full swing within a month. In his remarks respecting this scheme, Commandant pletely and with amazing speed. Booth states: "Geographically, Canada, and not the United States, is the key to the new world. It is only a question of steam power and twin propellers. Given the same pital. The loss is conservatively estimated facilities between Halifax and Liverpool, that now exist between Liverpool and New York, and it will be on the soil of Nova Scotia, rather than in the ports of New England that the North Atlantic voyager will plant his foot on terra firma. On this account, the Halifax Shelter, which is close to the docks, will be very convenient for the many thousands of emigrants who land at Halifax every summer. Schemes 12, 13, 28, 29, 30, speak of new rescue homes for fallen women, at Halifax, . Johns, Newfoundland, St. John, N. B.

Hamilton, Ottawa. There is also to be, as scheme 14 indicates, a Food and Shelter and Sailors' Home in St. Johns, Newfoundland, which will provide a comfortable, clean, Christian, Salvation home for any sailor spending a few days in the capital of Newfoundland; cheap sleeping accommodation for any poor, hard-pressed man in the city, and cheap meals for the poor, especially in winter.

London, as scheme 15 states, gets a citadel for the army soldiers to worship in, a Food and Shelter for poor men, and a Prison Gate Home and wood yard, where those who have no money can earn enough to procure food and lodging. Mr. Thomas McCormick subscribes $500 towards the outfit of the place.

Scheme 33 is the newest from a Salvation Army standpoint: "A Salvation Timber Limit." The army will procure a timber limit, and find employment for the unemployed on their limit, providing them with a light, bright, sweet hotel at the same time, where there will be clean beds, a pleasant reading room, good books and newspapers and attractive army services. The beautiful work amongst the waifs and strays, so successfully carried on in the Children's Shelter, Toronto, is also a very deserving branch of the jubilee work. For gathering the children in and getting them in due course adopted the army has unique facilities. This branch of work is to be developed. Scheme 37 speaks of a Salvation Army Co-operative Store, recently instituted in Toronto, and so far, working successfully.

There is also a Navy to be floated. The remaining schemes that go to complete the 50 are all of an interesting nature. the final one being a call for 300 new officers. The whole of the schemes represent $130,000, of which $45,000 is to be raised at once. In concluding, Commandant Booth remarks: "Frankly, I confess to you, as your constituted director, my heart is in this, and that is because I carnestly believe this thing is for the driving ahead of the Kingdom of God. Canada is a great country, but she is greater by far in her prospects than she is in the present tense. So sure as we live, we shall see the tides of immigration turn our way and greater floods of human beings will pour through our land. Let us be ready for them when they come. Nay, let us be equal to those already with us. We have great and grand opportunities."

We heartily wish the Army success in their great spiritual and humanitarian work.

Bride with Groom in a Push Cart. Westminister Gazette: A remarkably droll wedding, at the registrar's office, Bristol, attracted an immense crowd yesterday. The bride, a prim spinster, fair and 40, pushed into the office of the astonished registrar a family perambulator, in which was the bridegroom, a man of 45, so crippled in both legs that from birth he had not been able to walk. He was permitted to remain in the perambulator during the customary declarations of the civil contract, and when the bride again appeared, pushing the perambulator containing her husband, the crowd wished them joy and gave them plenty of rice.

Nothing Hunts Out Corns

Like tight boots. Corns are very small affairs, but apply to them a pair of tight boots and all other concerns of life sink into insignificance. Tight boots and Putnam's Corn Extractor (the great and only sure cure for corns) may go together, and comfort will be their partner; but don't fail to use Putnam's Corn Extractor. Disastrous Fire Started Under the Boston Baseball "Bleachers."

Some Twelve Acres Eurned Over-The Ball Grounds Swept Clean by the Flames-Scores of Buildings Destroyed and Hundreds of People Homeless-Conflagrations Elsewhere,

Boston, Mass., May 15 .- The baseball game between Boston and Baltimore was called in the second inning on account of a fire near the grounds. The fire started under the bleachers at the center field, and with great rapidity spread to the other bleachers, and then to the dwellings surrounding the big fence. Many of these dwellings have been destroyed, and it is feared there are bodies in the ruins. The blaze still rages fiercely, and is spreading toward the West End car stables near Lenox. The cause of the fire is unknown. 7 p.m. - The fire which broke out in the "bleacher" seats on the baseball grounds this afternoon consumed all the buildings on the baseball grounds, including the grand stand and some 100 buildings, mostly small wooded dwellings. From ten to twenty persons were injured. The fire crossed Tremont street to the east, and is spreading. At least 200 families were rendered homeless. Some small Roxbury boys set themselves up as rivals to Mrs. O'Leary's cow on the Boston baseball grounds this evening, and as a result in less than three hours some twelve acres were burned over the baseball grandstand and bleachers, a large school house and engine house, 164 wooden buildings, and 13 brick buildings were destroved, and several hundred families rendered homeless.

The boys started the fire under the bleachers, and getting scared ran away, and the flames got a good start. The occupants of the bleachers feeling the warmth under them jumped from their seats and tried to extinguish the flames by tearing the rubbish and acattering it as best they could, but the blaze gathered headway. The fire department was slow in getting to work, and the flames did their work com-

A number of the firemen were slightly injured, and Chief Webber, who was very badly injured, was taken to the city hosat from $300,000 to $500,000, although one authority puts it at $1,000,000. When the houses began to go before the flames the scene there beggared description. Children were crying for their mothers and mothers wailing for their offspring, and it was greatly feared that some of the youngsters were lost in the flames. A number of women fell in the street from exhaustion, and had to be carried into the various houses in the vicinity.

Before 6 o'clock help had been summoned from all cities and towns within a radius of ten miles of Boston. Five small children were in one of the burning buildings, and they were rescued by Charles W. Eaton and a Mr. Gusick, of Brookline.

COLLINGWOOD, May 15. - The cottage of Mr. Lindley was burned to-day. The wife and children of Mr. Dewsbury, the tenant hardly had time to escape. Loss ever $1,000. HAMILTON, May 15.—Early this morning a fire broke out in H. C. Chappell's hardware and general variety store, 286 James insured. The building is owned by Ald. Field and insured. Damage to bullding, about $400. CHERRYFIELD, Me., May 15 .- One of the most destructive fires ever known in this section is raging in timber land on the west street north. Loss about $2,000 on stock;

side of the Narraguagis river. The loss may amount to $100,000.

COXEY AND THE COURTS. No New Trial for the Industrict Leaders.

The Bar Room Loadstone Proves Subversive of Discipline.

WASHINGTON, May 15 .- Judge Miller has denied the motion for a new trial in the case of Coxey, Browne and Jones, the commonwealers, and has ordered the defendants to appear Thursday for sentence. The Coxey tramps are still coralled in the inn yard at Bladensburg, but the loadstone of the adjacent bar room is proving too strong an attraction for the maintenance of discipline, and arrests of stragglers and deserters for drunkenness are growing common. It seems that the army will disappear in a few more days, if let alone. OTTUMWA, Ia., Feb. 15.—Kelly's com-monwealers started in their boats for Eldon early this morning. Омана, May 14.—Gen. Kelsey's industrial army, including the Duff army from Lincoln, started to-day to march to Washington or somewhere, camping tonight near Council Bluffs. It comprises 105 men. A TRIO OF TRAGEDIES.

Three Boating Disasters in Which Fourteen Lives Were Lost, PORT TOWNSEND, Wash., May 15.— Sergts. Henderson and Weidlick, and Privates Renquest, Keating and Ross, of

Company 7, Fourteenth Infantry, U.S.A., while sailing near Admiralty Head Sunday night, were capsized, and all were drowned except Keating. FOUR MORE. BOSTON, Mass., May 15.—It is feared that on Sunday four Harvard students met their death as a result of capsizing in the harbor. Last night Supt. Bradley, of Thompson's island, found floating near the island a pair of oars, the crotchet tow boom and two coats. He took the property ashore and this forenoon turned it over to Capt. Bragdon, of the harbor police, who is now conducting an investigation. Two of the students are supposed to have been John Farnham Brown and Wm. C. Truesdale, the latter belonging in Newark, N. J. The other men in the party were Bach, of New York, and Whiteall, of Philadelphia. Two bodies came ashore on the island this afternoon, and Harvard men have gone from Cambridge to identify them if possible.

LONDON, May 15 .- A party of eleven Whitsundy excursionists started from from Ipsivich yesterday for a boat trip on the River Orwell. Through mismanagement the boat was capsized, and six of the party were drowned.

STRUCK A SHER. Largest Gas Well on th in the Ohio

Field Tolebo, May 15 .-- Theest gas well in the Ohio or Indiana fields drilled on the Wallace farm, three milest of Fostoria, yesterday. The lease is 6d by the Chicago Oil Company, and thell was started last week in territory whitas considered worthless. It came in at'clock yesterday afternoon, and whene tools were thrown out the workmend to run for their lives. The drill stemd rope were blown fully 500 feet. The lisestimated at 50,000,000 feet of gas peny, the largest well on earth. The gas ight fire from the forge and the derrick hasen burned to the ground. The voods o blazing in many places and flames can been shooting up 100 feet above the tretops. One curious feature is that in mo than 100 places water is spouting through the ground to a height of 10 to 20 teet.

SEVENTEEN-YEAR LOCUSTS ONING. Millions of the Cicadas I ittle Cmneys

Are in the Fire-Swept Woo MILLVILLE, N. Y., May 15.—The eturn of the seventeen-year locust has been discovered by Dr. J. Howard Will, s, of Port Elizabeth. While travelingover territory that had recently been devasted by forest fires between Milleville and and Esteville, he found countless cont or "chimneys," ranging in height from ne to three inches. Upon making a cler investigation, he found the locusts eighten inches under these cones. The hot fins sweeping over the woodlands had causel them to appear prematurely.

Dr. Willitts notified Prof. John B. Smith, State entomologist, at New Brunswick, and yesterday he received a letter from Prof. Smith stating that his suspicions that the cones were the work of the 17-year locusts, or "periodical Cicada," are correct. Dr. Willitts to-day dug up a sod containing several "chimneys" and sent it to Prof. Smith. He says the locusts are within five inches of the surface, and there are millions of them.

These "chimneys" are only a few inches apart and are scattered over miles of territory. Dr. Willits says the 1st of June will see locusts swarming all over South Jersey, and the damage to growing timber will be great.

A Single High-Priced Tender for City Electric Lighting.

Company Cwn the Town ?- The Hawk- the work so far has been attended with ers' License Bylaw a Boomerang-Streets Must be Watered Differently or Contracts For eited.

Last night it fell to No. 3 committee to open tenders for the electric lighting. Tenders had been advertised for in several electrical and other newspapers, and the engineer sent out specifications to the Reliance Company, the Royal Company, the Fort Wayne Company, and the Siemens-

The Fort Wayne Company replied that they would not tender after the way they had been treated by London last winter. The other companies evidently took the same view, and when Chairman Parnell mentioned the fact that tenders were due he held up one single tender.

The committee was surprised and passed several remarks reflecting on the briskness of the electric lighting business. There was some discussion as to whether the lone tender should be opened or the matter readvertized. The tender was opened, and when the figures were read the committee immediately asked the price of gas lamps. The Canadian General Electrical Company owned the tender. They would suppair, Wi's price $2, $2 50 ply lights for one year at 35 cents each per night; a three-year contract at 29 cents a light; five-year contract at 27½ cents a light; five-year contract at 25 cents at 25 light, and an eight-year contract at 25 cents. They would make all extensions at 15 cents a foot, and inclosed a certified check for $5,000.

The city pays now 29½ and 29¾ cents a light per night, costing about $21,000 a year for 216 lights.

At least 250 lights are required and at the prices offered would make the cost from $19,000 to $27,000 a year according to the result of granting favors to any single company. For his part he would sconer go back to the old gas lamp than submit to any such monopoly. In the discussion that followed it was shown that the lowest contract price would more than buy a plant in a short time. The city could supply 1,000 gas lamps for the price the Canadian General Company wanted for 250 lights.

The talk finally resulted in the following motion of Mayor Essery and Ald. Nutkins: That the committee recommend the council to take no action upon the present tender, and that the council endeavor to find out what the city could be properly lighted by

The resolution carried unanimously. Arscott Isaac, inspector of street waterng, reported as to how the watering was being done this year by the contractors. On the whole Mr. Hartley's beat was fairly well done. Mr. Baldwin's beat had not been done as well as it should be. There had been more complaints this spring than during all last year put together. George Smart's section had been well watered at times, and at other times badly done. Mr. Isaac submitted a table showing that 131 miles of watering had to be done in the different sections. If this is watered only three times a day it makes 401 miles daily to be looked after.

Engineer Graydon stated that he had written Mr. Baldwin several times, notifying him that fines would be deducted out of his pay at the end of the month. Ald. O'Meara said that fines would not water the streets. He was inclined to caution the contractors to live up to the specifications and see that they were carried out.

The inspector was requested to look up and report on a couple of old carts that were stored in Queen's Park last year. Mr. Baldwin will have to use both his carts. If the specifications are not carried out the contracts will be forfeited.

John D. Ronald, Brussels, wrote a letter on March 26, asking that the committee send a man to look at a $2,000 chemical fire engine. Mr. Ronald offered to pay the hotel bill, and, if an engine was purchased. the whole expenses. Filed for reference. Chief Roe reported that the new hose had been tested, and with the exception of one length was found satisfactory. The company will be asked to replace the defective coupling. The city solicitor stated that as the distinction between residents and non-residents had been eliminated from the statute. he did not think that a distinction could be made in the proposed hawkers' license bylaw. As the bylaw was meant to reach nonresidents solely, the committee will report back to the council with the information that the bylaw cannot be carried out according to the request of the petitioners. Progress will be reported on several applications for electric lights. The members present: Ald. Parnell (chairman), Mayor Essery, Ald. Nutkins, O'Meara, John Heaman, Scarrow, Secretary Bell, Engineer Graydon, Inspector Bell, Inspector Isaacs and Market Clerk

> Mr. Millar was at Attercliffe Station factory on May 3 to 5; North Brant, May 7 to 9, and Birr, May 10 to 12. The following factories were represented at these places: Forkes Road, Bismarck, Canboro, Caistorville, Paris, Melrose, Lucan, Proof Line and Cedar Vale. It is gratifying to note that a number of patrons take advantage of the presence of Mr. Millar by vis: ing these factories while he is giving i struction. This shows a keener interest n the part of the patrons to acquire me e knowledge of the business, and means the & the insight they get into the process or making cheese and the methods of testing milk will make them more ready to make that branch of the work more effective in maintaining the success of the concern.

The annual report of the association which includes the reports of the Eastern Pairymen's and Creameries Associations as well, is now out and being mailed to the members. It contains 240 pages of good solid reading matter, filled with facts and experiences of special value to everyone engaged in the business of dairying. Any member for 1894 not receiving the reports will confer a favor by notifying the secre tary so that the matter may be set right Every dairyman who is not a member and desires a report should join at once and have one sent to his address. The annual fee is only 50 cents.

During the last month a number of inquiries have been received at the association's offices asking for information about the Babcock tester and the methods of paying for milk by the percentage of butter fat, thus showing that there will be quite an increase in the number of factories paying by that method this season. We are indebted to the Department of Agriculture for New South Wales for a neatly bound volume entitled, "Practical Dairying for Australia." It is somewhat flattering to learn from it that the Canadian system of making cheese is being copied in that country, but at the same time it should not escape our notice that in doing so the Australian dairymen are putting themselves in a position, in the near future, to become our competitors in the home markets.

Hon. Thos. Ballantyne, Stratford, and Mr. John Geary, London, who were appointed by the board of directors to interview the dairy department of the Western Fair in reference to rearranging the prize list for dairy products, will do so this week.

We have heard of many instances ir our locality, says the Liverpool, N. S., Tines, where much benefit has followed the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and lately one of our citizens, Mr. J. F. Jayne, has beer so much benefited that his case is worthy of Has no Equal special mention. To the editor Times Mr. Jayne said that he had suffered very much and frequently felt like giving up. His whole system was badly run down; his blood thin and watery, and the least exertion completely used him up. His appetite failed him, and a feeling of almost continual drowsiness troubled lim. He tried several remedies said to be good in such cases, but without any benefcial results. Hearing of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, he procured a couple of boxes, and before the second was gone he felt the beneficial efects. He continued their use until he had taken seven boxes, by wlich time he felt better than he had been in years. To use Mr. Jayne's own words he said:

"The result following the use of Pink Pills was really wonderful. I feel better than I have in years, my appetite has returned, the drowsiness and lassitude which formerly made me miserable have disap. peared, and I feel as though new bliod were coursing through my veins. I think Dr. Williams' Pink Pills should be kep in every family, and having felt their remarkable virtue in my own case, I cannot too highly recommend them." An impoverished condition of the bood or a disordered condition of the nerves are the fruitful sources of most ills that afect mankind, and to any thus affected Dr. Williams' Pink Pills offer a speedy and a eertain cure. No other remedy has ever met with such great and continued success, which is one of the strongest proofs that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills accomplish all that is claimed for them. ELECTION DAY FIXED.

The Ontario Legislature having been dissolved, writs have been issued for a new election, which will take place on Tuesday, June 26; nominations will be held one week

This is a convenient election season. The great church gatherings take place during the first half of June and early in July the summer work of the farmers becomes envene between now and polling day will be fully taken advantage of, by the legion of friends of the best Government that this country has ever seen, to get into a complete state of preparedness. The strength of Sir Oliver and his able Cabinet should not be under-estimated; the carefulness with which the Grand Old Man of Ontario has managed the rescurces of this fine Provinco will doubtless have a powerful effect in bringing to him the support of the large majority of the electors. What his friends have to guard against is over-confidence. They have a crafty opponent to deal with, and they must take nothing for granted. The organization should be perfected at every point; where a candidate has not been chosen he should be placed in the field at once, and no matter how hopeless has been the condition of the constituency. from a Liberal point of view, in past contests, a sturdy battle for the right should be fought. It is by just such determination as this that the political complexion of constituencies is changed.

Sir Oliver Mowat comes before the electors as a defender of their territory against the machinations of the boodle element at Ottawa, whose attempts to take from this Province one-half of her rightful territory were connived at by the leader of the Ontario Opposition. Sir Oliver and his colleagues have built up a record of careful administration of Provincial affairs that has challenged the admiration of independent observers in every part of the British Empire. Sir Oliver and his associates have courted investigation of their record, and to produce a magnetic storm of no very even Quebec Conservative newspapers have borne testimony to the fact that scandalhunting in the Ontario Legislature has been a failure, and that Sir Oliver has conducted the Government with honesty and ability. Shall such men be replaced by the shivery-shakey ever-shifting politicians who have for 22 years tried every expedient that they could devise-from "Facts for the Irish Electors" to entirely opposite contentions on the subject, and from opposition to the ballot to the ballot whether the people want it or not-to get possession | magnetic action of the sun; or to any kind of the treasury benches? The Ontario electorate are not fools. They know that Sir Oliver has given them a Government which has done squarely by all classes in the community, which has been shown to be free from scandal after the most searching inq uiry, and which knows the wants of the people, and adopts the best means offering to advance the public interests.

The electors of the Province must unite against the men who were contented that she should be despoiled to benefit needy hangers on at Ottawa and in favor of the statesman who is the tried and the true friend of his native Province. He has a record of which every patriotic citizen of form in the ensuing campaign.

THE INQUISITION REMAINS.

Sir John Thompson, in reply to a question Commons that the Dominion voters' list revision will take place this summer, and that it will be conducted in the old way. The inquisition will be resumed all along the line, then. Young men who want votes had better begin to keep tally of how much their washing costs, what is their food bill, how many days they may be out of work, and so on. When they want a vote under the Conservative system they will have to answer all this. Under the Ontario law all they have to do is to register their name, age and length of residence, and stand up Men and Voters as good as the best of us.

Is it not about time that Sir John Thompson and his allies ceased their harassment of the young men?

-The Winnipeg Tribune contends that if Lisgar, Man., is opened by the selection of A. W. Ross, M.P., as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba, the people will rather elect a rag doll than vote for an exponent of the protection robbery policy." Electors will have no need to do that. They will certainly have a straight supporter of Hon. Wilfrid Laurier seeking their suffrages. Because of this prospect we do not believe that the constituency will be opened at this time. Sir John Thompson has been steadily losing supporters since he became Premier and is not going to take chances. Remember the Cardwell county fiasco.

THE MAY GOLD WAVES. We have been passing through the first cold wave of May, which ordinarily reaches Ontario about the 12th and passes away about the 15th. In some districts there has been frost, and fears are entertained that it may have done damage to the fruit crops, now in a condition to be easily affected by chilly weather. Another cold wave is due this month, which is usually preceded by a warm wave. It starts on the Atlantic coast about the 22nd, and lasts two or three days. Generally speaking, this cold wave is more dangerous to growing plants than the earlier visitation, and fruit growers and others are wise if they take every precaution to avoid harm by it. According to an expert in the New York Sun, the ultimate cause of these and other temperature waves still remains unexplained. Prof. F. H. Bigelow has recently completed a mathematical investigation, based upon certain assumptions as to the magnetic radiation of the sun, which seems to him to justify the statement that "the direct action of the solar polar magnetic field is No doubt the bare six weeks that inter- responsible for the temperature waves which build up the cyclonic and anticyclonic system of pressures and winds in the United States." He also says that on the sun the physical manifestations of the polar magnetic field are found "in a heterogeneous distribution of the magnetism. having positive and negative poles, with meridians of greater and less intensity which control to some extent the location of the sun spots, the output seen as the corona, and possibly the facbulæ and the prominences. At the earth the polar radiation of the sun is perceived in the spasmodic magnetic storms, the outbursts of auroras, and in certain meteorological

As one result of his studies Prof. Bige. low concludes that the sun rotates in 26.68 days synodically. As the sun thus turns on its axis its variable magnetic field turns with it, and the earth, being situated within that field, experiences the effects of the variations; "in other words," to quote Prof. Bigelow, "the earth passes through a series of hotter and colder regions as the sun turns on its axis."

These investigations relate directly to the more of less regular sequence of weather conditions passing from west to east across the country, but, if they are well founded, they should also throw light on the peculiar succession of cold and warm waves which is characteristic of the month of May, and in which the atmospheric readjustment consequent on the advance of the sun north of the equator is evidently a

Yet, while Prof. Bigelow's studies seem to promise so much light on the mysterious subject of the sun's influence over the weather, a very discouraging statement comes from one of the most famous men of science now living-Lord Kelvin, whose old and best-known title is Sir William Thompson. Calculating the amount of work that must be done on the sun in order great severity on the earth, such as that of June 25, 1885, for instance, Lord Kelvin finds that it amounts to 160 million million million million horse power! This is 364 times the total horse power of the solar radiation, "Thus," he says, "in this eight hours of a not very severe magnetic storm as much work must have been done by the sun in sending magnetic waves out in all directions through space as he actually does in four months of his regular heat and light. This result it seems to me, is absolutely conclusive against the supposition that terrestrial magnetic storms are due to of dynamical action taking place within the sun, or in connection with hurricanes in his atmosphere, or anywhere near the sun outside. It seems as if we may also be forced to conclude that the supposed connection between magnetic storms and sun spots is unreal, and that the seeming agreement between the periods has been a mere

Perhaps science will some day explain all; at present, the cause of eccentricity of weather is still an unsettled problem.

All over the Province the ablest men of rom Mr. Laurier, assured the House of Ontario are enlisting under the banner of the ever-victorious Grand Old Man. Last night South Toronto gave an indication of the faith which the leaders of the people have in Sir Oliver, when Mr. Charles Moss, one of the front rank Queen's counsel in Canada, accepted the unanimous nomination of the Liberals. It is conceded on all hands that the nomination of Mr. Moss means his election. And there is reason to believe that not only Mr. Moss, but Messrs. > > BOGUS REVISION.

Intelligent Canadians must in recent weeks have observed how illusory were the promises of tariff reform made by Sir John Thompson and his colleagues at Ottawa. When the budget was brought in a great flourish was made about the reduction of taxes affected by the wholesale juggling with the many articles therein taxed. But almost every day since then Minister Foster has been in conference with tariff beneficiaries, and he has had long and earnest interviews with members of combines and heavy contributors to the party election funds. The fruit of these manipulations is now apparent. Almost all the taxes are slipping back to their former height. Axes, for example, used by every man in the tural regions, were taxed 30 per cent-almost a third of their value. But this did not satisfy the axe man, and Mr. Foster capitulated. He raised the tax to 35 per cent—the old rate. Challenged to justify the increase, where a reduction would have been warranted, Mr. Foster made the excuse that it was to make up for the tax on the raw material. It was promptly shown that the raw material was made in Canada, and one more of Mr. Foster's "moments of weakness" was exposed. How could there be a tax on the raw material if the "protectionist" contention that no taxes are paid on products obtained here is true? The deception is exposed. What say the independent electors about it?

A MYSTERY IN BRANT.

A Well Known Resident of New Durham Dies-Symptoms of Poisoning.

BRANTFORD, May 16 -The little village New Durham is in a great state of excitement. Mr. C. Hartley, a well known resident there, who was 46 years of age, was taken ill on Friday and died on Sunday night. The circumstances of the demise were such that the two doctors in attendance decided to demand an investigation. Coroner Kerr, of this city, went out yesterday and opened an inquest, and a postmortem examination resulted in the disclosure of a perfectly healthy body, which exhibited some syniptoms which might have been the result of poisoning. The contents of the stomach have been sent to Toronto for analysis and the inquiry remains adjourned in the meantime. Deceased was insured for $6,000, three weeks ago securing a policy for $4,000 of that amount. All sorts of wild stories are in circulation among the villagers, in which little credence can be placed.

Radway Wins

In the Contest for the City Cycling Road Championship.

Dr. Rice First in the $25,000 Brooklyn Handicap.

The Beston-Baltimore Baseball Match Called on Account of Fire-How the Buffalo Express Roasts the Home Baseball Team-General Sporting News.

THE WHEEL. THE CITY CHAMPIONSHIP.

Hisname is Radway. He has been out from England only a few weeks, and seems to have taken to Canadian cycling conditions quite readily. Few in the city heard of him until last night, but now he is the champion ten mile rider of London. He broke the record on the first trial. Bully for Radway! There were nine starters in last eight's handicap run to St. Johns and return. Bryant and Elson were given 8 minutes' start; Brown, Jenkins and Sweeney, 5 minutes; Holt, 4 minutes; Wade, 3 minutes, and Radway and Manville were scratched, leaving the "Guns" at 7 o'clock. A big crowd saw them go and return. Manville took a header at the C. P. R. track on the way out and his arm was badly bruised. He remounted at once, but lost valuable time. The riders returned in the following order:

The best record for this ten miles was held by Manville-32 minutes 34 seconds. Radway lowered it one second according fat jobs carrying hods somewhere. to Dr. Balfour's gold-plated, guaranteed, stem winder stop watch. Young Sweeney's performance was very creditable. As the road was somewhat heavy after the rain, it is probable that better time may yet be made. The contestants were all members of the London Bicycle Club except Jenkins. Bryant and Elson will get trophies for making first and second places; Radway will get the time prize. Mr. James Mc-Cormick was the starter and Dr. Balfour the time-keeper. An attempt will be made later on to lower Manville's St. Thomas

Ald. W. C. Coo has just purchased from Messrs. Carroll, McKenzie & Co., a very beautiful "Quadrant" tandem bicycle, enameled in white, which is by competent authorities considered to be one of the finest tandem machines ever brought into Canada. He can be seen daily in the park with two other branches of the family upon it, an example that might be emulated by many other family men, so say Messrs. C., McK. & Co.

FAST WHEELS. LAST NIGHT'S RACE.

All last season Brantford machines under Mr. Clay Manville, did most of the winning of races. Mr. Manville does not now ride a Brantford, but the Brantford machines under other riders still continue to win. We do not like to advertise our wheels in connection with races, but prefer to sell them on their own merits. But when our competitors make such a blow about "nothing," as they did after the last race, we think we ought to let the public know what kind of wheels we are selling, even if we do use the results of a race to do it. We do not employ men to do our racing. Others do. Mr. Frank Bryant, on his Brantford, was an easy winner. He never rode except in one race before, and then he came in last. Last night he reversed the order. Besides winning the race, our wheels under Messrs. Sweeney, Holt, Bryant and Wade made second, third, fourth and fifth best time, all beating and making better time than the rider who was advertised as doing so wonderfully well in the last race. Had the riders of our competitors' machines made the showing which the above riders did, we venture to say that the ADVERTISER would have to have been enlarged to hold all they would have had to say about it. W. MANN & Co., 397 Clarence street.

RADWAY LOWERED THE RECORD. In the road race to St. Johns and return last evening Frank F. Radway on a "Quadrant" lowered the record held by Clay D. Manville some few seconds, his time for the 101 miles being 32:29. Manville whilst crossing the tracks at the foot of the Mount Hope hill, or it is safe to say he would also have been within record time. These were the only two "Quadrant" men in the race, and they both started from the scratch mark. The way Manville's wheel came through the ordeal is a glowing tribute to the excellence of these machines. At the time of the fall he was going at full racing speed and it is safe to say any ordinary machine of its weight (22 pounds) would have been wrecked, but the little "Quadrant" had not even a broken spoke or loose bearing.

ROUGH ON BUFFALO'S NINE. The Binghamton baseball team played in Buffalo on Sunday, winning easily. Buffalo's score was 17 runs, 14 hits, 15 errors, while Binghamton had 30 runs, 20 hits and I error. And this is how the Buffalo Express "goes for" the home team:

"The distinguished Mr. Chapman, in the perfection of his baseball wisdom, has succeeded in getting together an aggregation of butter-fingered, white-livered, awkward and bow-legged young and old men who play as if they were each aged 102 years and had never seen a contest at One Old Cat or Handy Andy Over, to say nothing of a professional game. They cannot hit and they cannot field. Some of them might be useful for passing water, but the major portion of them ought to have good

"When the club from a measly little town like Binghamton beats the Buffalo club as the Binghamtons beat the Buffalos yesterday and the day before, it is time to vell murder. This playing ball on suspicion will not do. Excuses have been made until everybody is sick of them. The owner of the Buffalo club made money out of it last year. He should not be so chary about spending a little of that money now. It is bad enough for a firstclass city to be in a second-class league, but to be represented by such a conglomeration of misfits in such a league is scandalous. "One or two new players will not fill the bill. There are not more than four men on the team who ought to play ball anywhere outside of Podunk, and they would run a good chance of getting chased off the field even there. Reorganization is needed, and homeopathic doses of it will not suffice. It must come in large and jagged chunks. The genial and distinguished Mr. Chapman cannot hold Buffalo up any longer. The imitation of the national game which his club is now giving is not satisfactory. He and his boss, the alderman from the 20th ward, have got to get a ball club, and get it right away or they must go out of the busi-

THE GREAT HANDICAP. New York, May 15.—The Brooklyn handicap, the first big turf event of the season, was won by Dr. Rice in the fast time of 2:071 to-day. Over 40,000 people saw the race. It was an ideal day for the race. The track was in perfect condition, and there was every prospect of the record of 2:07 flat made by Dry Monopole getting lowered. The inclosure was uncomfortably crowded. All the transportation much as a person's life was worth to Steinitz 4, drawn 3. attempt to make a wager. It needed the services of a rusher from a football team to place a bet. The weather was fine and every one was happy. The big event was the fourth race on the card. It was scheduled to take place at 4 o'clock, but it was nearly 5:48 when the flag fell. The horses were at the post nearly 40 minutes. Break after break occurred, but not one was even enough to warrant their getting the word. It was finally decided to open the turn which had been temporarily closed and make the start there. This was done. A start was finally effected. It looked to be a fair one for all but Lowlander. Martin, however, did not think it was a start and Clifford was left standing still. Thompson also began to pull up Sport, just as they got the flag. McDermott made no effort to join the field with Lowlander. He simply cantered back to the paddock. Clifford and Sport went after the others but gave up the unequal struggle very soon. Copyright was the pacemaker to the first turn. He set a clinking pace. Bergen made an effort to draw away from his field as they neared the far turn but failed to do so. Henry of Navarre who had been his nearest attendant all the way moved up to him. had the misfortune to fall from his machine bruising race. The pace and distance whilst crossing the tracks at the foot of the began to tell on him. He faltered at the critical juncture. The cry that the favorite wins rent the air when Doggett made his effort with the courageous little fellow. It was premature, as Sir Walter was all out, and really had nothing left with which to finish. Bassetlaw, the imported horse, made a creditable showing. He was one of the last to leave the post, and trailed until they began to negotiate the turn for home. Then he began to crawl up on the leaders. He threaded his way through the field at a great rate, and finished fourth full of running. His finish was the strongest of the lot, as none of the others had anything The Alleged Revision of the Voters' Lists to spare.

Comanche took it into his head to run when it was too late. Ajax was never once dangerous or prominent. This also applies to Banquet, Blitzen, Diablo, and Herald. Fred Foster, the owner of Dr. Rice, backed the horse heavily on the Winter books. His winnings aggregate $50,000, in addition to the stake, which is worth $25,000, of which $18,000 goes to Dr. Rice. A number of persons backed the horse on Snedeker's book. When they went to cash

THE MANAGERS ARRESTED. The pool room men who are determined to enforce the lottery law, as interpreted by Judge Pryor, caused the arrest of President P. J. Dwyer and the judges during the afternoon. The arrest, as far as Mr. Dwyer was concerned, was a farce. A man from Police Justice Walsh's court told him that he was under arrest and asked him to appear before Justice Walsh to-

All went well until the third race. Just as the horses were going to the post Sheriff Buttling and several deputies quietly took up a stand in the judge's inclosure. They told the judges that they were under arrest. As soon as the race was run Judges Simmons, McDowell and Smith were taken before Judge Watson, who was holding court in Gravesend town hall. They were admitted to bail in $1,000 each. It is said that over 60 warrants have been issued and wholesale arrests will follow. It is the ultimate intention of De Lacey to seize the race horses as gambling paraphernalia. The race track people make light of the affair and say it will all end in smoke.

The pool men and their lawyers insist that Judge Pryor's decision in the Irving-Britton case, in which he declared the Ives Bill unconstitutional, has rendered the bill null and void, and that the officers of the Brooklyn Jockey Club are violating the lottery law, and are liable to a penalty of two years' imprisonment or a fine of $1,000 for each offense. Howe & Hummell, the counselors for the pool room men, say they will see that the laws are enforced. THE PLATERS.

TORONTO PRESBYTERIANS

Refuse to Meddle with the "Confession of Faith." TORONTO, May 15 .- The Toronto Presbytery held a special meeting to consider overtures laid before it at the last regular meeting. One was in regard to the aug. mentation fund. It came from Knox Church, Scarboro, and suggested that the minimum salary of unmarried ministers in the country should be $600 instead of $750 as at present. It was decided to forward the overture to the augmentation committee.

A second overture was from Rev. D. J. Macdonnell, and urged the General Assembly to revise the regulations relating to the call of Presbyterian ministers. It will be forwarded to the Assembly.

A third overture, also from Mr. Macdonnell called for various modifications in the Confession of Faith with a view to greater unity on the part of various branches of the Christian Church. Mr. Macdonnell's resolution proposed "the shortening and simplifying of the Westminster Confession of Faith or substitution of a shorter and simpler creed for the said Westminster Confession of Faith so far as its use as a test of admission to office is concerned."

Mr. Macdonnell was almost alone in his advocacy of the overture, though a number of members supported different clauses of the preamble.

Finally an amendment which was a direct negative to the motion to forward the overture was offered on motion of Prof. Greig and carried by 15 to 18.

Several Government Bills Read a First Time.

Investigation Called for in the Case of the Member for Mont= morency. to Proceed Under the Present Sys. tem-Government Increasing

Tariff Burdens Instead of Reducing Them.

[Special to the ADVERTISER.] OTTAWA, May 15 .- In the House to-day the following Government bills from the Senate were read the first time: A bill to amend the Insurance Act; a bill respecting the arrest, trial and punishment of youthful offenders. The Insurance Bill is to be referred to the committee on banking and commerce.

Mr. Bruneau, rising to a question of privilege, proceeded to charge Mr. Turcotte, the member for Montmorency, with having violated the Independence of Parliament Act by supplying goods under contract to the Government of Canada. He moved that the matter be referred to the committee on privileges and elections in order to ascertain if Mr. Turcotte had not vacated his seat. It was agreed to allow the motion to stand until Thursday, when it will be taken up.

Mr. Laurier pointed out that it was now within fifteen days of the time winen the law required that the work of revising the electoral lists should commence, but no instructions had yet been issued to revising officers. What, he asked, were the Government's intentions?

Sir John Thompson replied that the revision would proceed under the existing system, and would commence according to law. The bill amending the Franchise Act would not alter the existing system. Some time was spent in committee on Mr. Daly's bill to extend the ballot to the Northwest Territories. Several amendments were made to the bill, including one providing that application may be made to any Supreme Court judge for a recount of votes cast at any election in the Northwest.

When the bill was about to be reported from committee, Mr. Martin referred to the last occasion when the bill was discussed, and rebuked Mr. Daly for what he called the bumptious and offensive manner in which the Minister of the Interior had endeavored to meet his criticism. On that occasion Mr. Daly had asserted that the present law required that elections in territories be held three weeks later than elsewhere, whereas he (Mr. Martin) stated at the time that the provision in question had been repealed and he had since found that his statement was true. He was glad to find that Mr. Daly's manner towards members of the House appeared to be improving.

Mr. Daly rose to reply, but Sir John Thompson motioned him to sit down, and said he did not think Mr. Martin's language justifiable or that Mr. Daly's conduct on the former occasion should be described as bumptions or offensive.

Mr. Martin pointed out that the Speaker had since ruled Mr. Daiy out of order for In committee on the tariff resolutions.

Mr. Foster moved to increase the duty on axes and other edged tools from 30 to 35 Messrs. Cartwright, Charlton and other Opposition members protested against this increase as unjustifiable, and said the duty should be reduced rather than increased. It seemed that Mr. Foster had been holding Star Chamber conferences with the manufacturers since the tariff resolutions were laid before the House, and the result of these conferences was now being made apparent. Mr. Foster said the increase was necessary because of the high duties upon iron and steel. He had received additional information since his resolutions were first proposed. In answer to Sir Richard Cartwright, Mr. Foster said that the raw material used in making edged tools was made in this country.

Mr. Paterson pointed out that if Sir John Thompson's reasoning in other cases was correct, tool manufacturers would pay no duty upon their raw material at all. At all events the duty upon the raw material required by tool makers would not be more than 6 per cent, leaving them 29 per cent protection. Other Liberal members spoke against the proposed duty, pointing out that the duty paid on axes imported last year was 30 per cent, so that Mr. Foster was increasing taxes under the pretense of reducing them. The business of making tools was prosperous in Canada long before the protective tariff was introduced.

The discussion was continued for several hours, the Opposition pointing out that every alteration made by the Government in their tariff resolutions was in the direction of increased taxation upon the people for the benefit of the manufacturers. who were selling goods in foreign countries at lower prices than those charged to Canadian consumers. The item passed. The duty on shovels, spades and iron and steel cut to shapes was increased from 35 per cent, as first proposed, to 50 cents per dozen and 25 per cent. Iron wire, when imported by makers of barbed wire, was rated at 15 per cent. The duty on rolled iron and steel angle beams and sections was made 121 per cent, and the duty on stereotype plates was reduced from three-fourths to three-eighths of a cent per square inch. Mr. Somerville thought the duty still excessive, and Messrs. Mills, Cartwright and Grieve argued for further reduction, but the Government would not yield. The duty on cases for watches and jewelry was made 5 cents each and 30 per On cane or rattan split or otherwise manufactured 171 per cent-an increase of 3 cents over what was first suggested. On sugar and glucose the duty was made I cent a pound, which means 100 or more per cent, which Mr. Casey considered a tremendous duty. The item passed. There was a long discussion on the question of an export duty on logs, but as the Government has not proposed such a duty the utility of the discussion was not apparent. The House adjourned.

Frost Around Hamilton.

Hamilton, May 15 .- About two degrees of frost registered on the thermometer in this vicinity last night, and farmers and fruit growers are anxious about their crops. If no further frost appears it is unlikely the fruit will be much injured.

NIAGARA, Ont., May 15 .- This section of the country was visited last night by a heavy frost, which almost entirely destroved the early strawberry crop, and it is feared the apple and late peach crop will be also greatly lessened.

Frank Brown Says Dodd's Ridney Pills Give Universal Satisfaction-The Reason is They Never Fail to Cure.

SHELBURNE, May 14 .- Frank Brown, the well-known druggist here, says: "In the past eighteen months I have sold 119 dozen of Dodd's Kidney Pills. Considering the quantity I have sold, I have had an opportunity of ascertaining whether the pills give satisfaction or not. I can say that during my fifteen years' experience in the drug business I never sold a medicine that gives the universal satisfaction that Dodd's Kidney Pills do. I am satisfied any persor suffering with kidney trouble only requires to give Dodd's Kidney Pills a fair trial, and he will be convinced of their wonderful

UNITED STATES Consul Germain, at Zurich, has transmitted to the department of state a report of certain experiments made in Switzerland to demonstrate that the chimney and knocking it all to pieces, the bee has other uses than as a honey producer. To ascertain whether the bees injure fruit and vegetable flowers by extracting their honey, the experimenters covered part of the branches of cherry and pear trees and fruit bushes with fine netting to exclude the bees. Nearly all of the flowers dropped off the protected branches and there was no fruit on them, while the uncovered branches bore luxuriously. The deduction is that the bees' visits are Local Market.

Reported by A.M Hamilton & Son.

Wednesday, May 16. WEEKLY REVIEW.

There has been but little life in trade on this

There has been but little life in trade on this market during the week just closed, and what little there was affected but few lines. Receipts of grain were light and much smaller than was anticipated. No impression was made on prices though. In wheat we see no change; the value of wheat was the same as a week ago-95c for red, $1 for white. There were the usual fluctuations in oats, affected entirely by the local demand, prices here being too high to compete for outside trade. The range for the week was $1.04 to $1.08, with the bulk of sales made from $1.05 to $1.06.

Barley was scarce. The price of colored barley was $5c to $6c per 100 lbs. No bright Peas and beans were several the Peas and beans were scarcer than usual.

The former sold from 90c to $1 12 per 100 lbs, and the latter 75c to 90c for prime, $1 for extra Quality. No ryc or buckwheat offered.

The provisions market shows a few important declines, the chief being a drop of 1c per lb all around in butter; the close for the same being 15c to 17c for pound rolls in basket lots;

Lard firm at 11c to 12ic per lb.

Eggs closed at 9c to 10c by the basket.

Trade in chickens light; sales from 40c to 60c per pair.
Meats were again more plentiful than is usual, and too heavy for the supply. Veal sold very low at 40 and 5c per pound. Beef at 4c to 6c. Lamb scarce at 7c to 8c.

No dressed hogs offered on the open market.

A few were delivered on contract at $550 A few were denvered to $6.

Hides, skins and tallow steady; demand firm.

No change in prices.
Wool quiet at 17c per lb.
Seasonable fresh vegetables plentiful and in good demand. Prices ruled about the same as last week. Potatoes easier at 70c to 90c. according to kind and quality.

Hay was easily affected by the supply.

Values ranged from $7 to $8 50, closing at $8 or good quality.

steady and firm at yesterday's quotations with a good demand.

Hogs-Not much life to trade, notwithstanding there was a very light supply. Only 5 cars of the late receipts since last night were consigned for sale, and about 12 cars held over from the receipts of yesterday. The York men were light buyers and took only a few loads, selecting what they wanted at $5 25 to $5 27½; a few good weights went to outside buyers at selecting what they wanted at $5 25 to $5 27½; a few good weights went to outside buyers at $5 30. The city packers took the bulk of the hogs on sale, mostly at $5 30, getting good lots of mixed Yorkers and medium weights at that price; four decks of choice smooth Illinois hogs averaging 220 to 250 lbs sold at $5.25 that needed very little sorting to make every one of them a good one.

MONTREAL.

MONTREAL, May 15.—About 500 head of butchers' cattle, 450 calves and 150 sheep and lambs offered at the East End abattoir yesterday. Trade was fairly good, with no material change since Thursday in the price of good cattle, but thinnish stock, including milkmen's strippers, were somewhat higher. cattle, but thinnish stock, including milkmen's strippers, were somewhat higher. Prime beeves sold at from 4c to 4½c per lb; pretty good stocks at about 3½c, and haif-fatted beasts at from 3c to 3½c per lb. There seems to be considerable inquiry for thrifty, half-fatted young cattle for stockers to put on grass for two or three months, but very few of this sort are being offered. Bulls were rather plentiful, and some of them were very fine animals, while others were rather hard looking. Prices ranged from a little over 2½c per lb up to nearly 4c. There was a fair demand for calves at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each. Sheep that have been shorn sell at from 3c to 4½c rer at prices ranging from $2 to $8 each. Sheep that have been shorn sell at from 3c to 41c rer that have been snorn sell at from 3c to 4½c rer lb, and spring lambs at from $250 to $450 each. Fat hogs are rather scarce and higher in price, fed hogs selling at 5½c per lb, and those just come off the cars up to 5½c per lb.

-The Western Wheel Scraper Company, Aurora, Ill., had one of their graders on exhibition on Cathcart street this morning. About 30 persons were present, including city and township officials. Three teams were hitched to the machine, and the work was pronounced well done. The machine acts both as a grader and scraper. It costs about $300, and Engineer Graydon says it would be a good thing for the city.

-Mr. David Miliar, of New York, formerly of London, was in Talmage's Tabernacle directly before the fire. In a letter to a relative here he says that if it had broken out fifteen minutes earlier he, with hundreds of others, would have been killed. He was in the church looking at the organ when he saw the flames leap from behind it. By the time he had crossed the street the whole interior was a raging furnace.

-Mr. Joseph Hook, contractor, was driving a spirited horse along Dundas street yesterday afternoon and when a little east of Wellington street the animal made a sudden bolt. Mr. Hook was thrown heavily to the blocks and rolled under the wheels of the wagon, which passed over his back. Besides other injuries Mr. Hook received a severe blow on the back of the head. He will be laid up for a few days.

-The Conservative managers of the city solicitor of Toronto in this city have arranged that Mr. Meredith shall leave his duties in Toronto on Saturday and come here by the evening train. They will have a brass band, and, it is said, torchlight procession, waiting at London East station, and Mr. Meredith will be invited to leave the train there and take a seat in a carriage. Then at a given signal from one delegated with that authority the horses will be taken out, and a number of those inattendance will take the shafts, and haul the carriage through the city to the residence of a relative. -The Memorial Church school room was crowded to the doors last night on the occasion of a social "At Home" under the aurpices of the Y. P. S. O. E. The affair was one of the most successful in the history of the church. Mr. Harry Hambly presided, and on the platform with him were Rev. Canon Richardson, president of the Provincial Union, President Alf. Hannah, Ex President Wm. Doherty and R. S. Hannah. Mr. McDermid spoke briefly about the recent Cleveland convention and Mrs. Tilley made a pleasing address. The programme was exceptionally fine. Mr. W. A. Bleuthner presided at the organ and solos were rendered by Miss Lilywhite, Mr. Forsythe and Mr. Simpsou. Miss Alice Wright recited charmingly. Miss M. Taylor and E. Yates and the Misses A. and M. Taylor sang duets. An instrumental duet was also given by Miss M. Tayior (violin) and Mr. Bleuthner (organ). -"The uses and abuses of the tongue" were admirably treated by Rev. Dr. Antliff at the schoolroom of the Askin Street Methodist Church last evening. In speaking of the uses of the tongue he said that the greatest teachers ever in the world used the tongue and not the pen. The only words that Jesus Christ ever wrote were those he tossed on the ground: "Let him who is without sin cast the first stone." A man should use his tongue to communicate his knowledge, to be kindly and gracious to his fellow-men. Many people in the church service, who had the power to sing, would only stand and watch the other people praise God. The psalmist said, "Praise the Lord and make a joyful noise," so if a person was not able to sing he could make a noise. tions to deliver Mrs. Julia McDermid to profanity, falsehood, anger, complaining, her friends at Glencee, who have under- grumbling and slandering. Fifty years ago profanity was a great deal more common; now a person could walk the streets of London and Toronto and not hear a profane word, Falsehood and exaggeration were very common sins met with nowadays. People should always look out for all the good they could see in a person and not leave it till their death, when the tombstone would be engraved with their merits. Dr. Antliff interspersed his lecture with many humorous illustrations of the different ways of using the organ of speech. Ex-

LABOR NOTES.

VIENNA, May 16 .- Fifteen thousand masons and bricklayers and nearly all the carpenters in Vienna have resumed work, strike funds having been exhausted.

THE CABBIES' STRIKE. London, May 16 .- The strike of the cabmen, though it has caused some inconvenience to habitual cab riders, has had its compensating advantages in relieving the normal congestion of traffic in centers where cabs are in the greatest demand. About railway stations and other crowded localities the stands are almost deserted. A number of small cab owners have agreed to the men's demand and drivers show a card upon which the fare price is printed and above which they dare not go. Lord Shrewsbury, the largest of London cab owners, has also arranged terms with some of his cabmen, but all the other large owners and some of the small ones still resist the demands of the men. The owners have hitherto charged cabmen from 16 to 19 shillings per day for the use of their cabs according to the season. The cabmen claim that the maximum charge should not be above 15 shillings. At this rate they claim they can exist without being compelled to charge exorbitant rates of fare, but otherwise not. The Cabman's Union has been in existence only a few weeks and their funds are almost exhausted.

Shocking Treatment of a Russian Came Keeper-Tore His Tongue Out.

Moscow, May 16 .- Six peasants, living near the town of Ostrogoisk, have recently been engaged in wholesale thefts from the forest of Peskow, selling the wood and bribing the keeper of the forest with part of the proceeds. One of the keepers, a mnn named Goworoff, refused their bribes and threatened them with punishment if they continued their thefts. Goworoff informed the thieves whereupon they seized and bound him and subjected him to most horrible torture, tearing out his tongue, piercing his eyes with pins until his eyeballs were mere pulp, tearing off his finger and toe nails, and finally trampling upon his body until it was lifeless. Goworon's body was found in the woods a few days ago, presenting a most sickening spectacle. Search will be made for the murderers, but they have disappeared in the forest. A strong force of gendarmes was sent in pursuit of them, and another force of gendarmes and large parties of peasants and residents of Ostrogoisk are surrounding the forest to prevent their

There is an ominous lack of enthusiasm in the ranks of the Conservative Opposition all through Ontario. Some months ago the Conservatives believed that the Government was threatened on one side by the Patrons and on the other by the P. P. A., and hoped that the Liberal party would be weakened and demoralized by these movements. As a matter of fact the demoralization has taken place among Mr. Meredith's supporter.

The bids for the support of the new parties have injured the prestige of the Opposition without gaining it any new strength. Hitherto it could rely upon the support of the old-line Conservatives, the stalwarts who required only the waving of the party flag and a little Tory eloquence to induce them to throw all their strength into the party contests; but these men were perplexed and chargrined by Mr. Meredith's sudden right-about on the question of Government House, by the advocacy of the election of county judicial officers, by the importation of the American notion of biennial sessions. The dislike of American institutions into which they had been educated was often unreasoning; they were too ready to condemn a proposal, irrespective of its merits, simply because it savored of Americanism. But if Mr. Meredith intended to undo the education of a lifetime he ought not to have gone about the business so suddenly. Abolition of the Lieutenant-Governor's residence, election of county judicial officers, biennial sessions - the stalwarts were stunned by these surprises coming in quick succession. Then the proposal for biennial sessions was bad in every way. It alarmed the old-line Tories because it was American; it repelled the Radicals because it was reactionary, because it was a proposal to lessen the opportunities for discussion, to delay reforms, to weaken the control of the people over the executive. Worse still has been the indirect effect upon the Conservative party of dragging it around in the rear of this or that movement of popular feeling, instead of leading it in a way of its own, wearing its own uniform and carrying its own banners. No longer can the veteran with flashing eve and swelling chest declare that he is a Tory, as his father and grandfather were before him. He is a P. P. A. Tory or a Patron Tory, or a P. P. A. Tory Patron, or some other strange, new-fangled combination, calculated to make his honored grandfather turn in his grave and murmur,

"M. de Villequier," he answered readify.
"And here it is. Now, come, sir," he continued, "you are only making matters worse. Open to us,"

"Before I do so," I said drily, "I should like to know what part in the pageant my friend M. de Bruhl, whom I see on the stairs yonder, proposes to play. And there is my old friend Fresnoy." I added. "And I see one or two others whom I know, M. see one or two others whom I know, M. Provost. Before I surrender I must know among other things what M. de Bruhl's business is here."

"It is the business of every loyal man to execute the king's warrant," the Provost enswered evasively. "It is yours to surrender, and mine to lodge you in the Castle. But I am loth to have a disturbance. I will give you until that torch goes out, if you like, to make up your mind. At the end of that time, if you do not surrender, I shall batter down the door."

'You will give the torch fair play?" I said, noting its condition. He assented; and thanking him sternly for this indulgence, I closed the grille.

CHAPTER XXV. I still had my hand on the trap when a touch on the shoulder caused me to turn, and in a moment apprised me of the imminence of a new peril; a peril of such a kind that, summoning all my resolution, I could scarcely hope to cope with it. Henry was at my elbow. He had taken off his mask, and a single glance at his countenance warned me that that had happened of which I had already felt some fear. The glitter of intense excitement shone in his eyes. His face, darkly-flushed and wet with sweat, betrayed over-mastering emotion, while his teeth, tight clenched an the effort to restrain the fit of trembling which possessed him, showed between his lips like those of a corpse. The novelty of the danger which menaced him, the absence of his gentlemen, and of all the familiar faces and surroundings without which he never moved, the hour, the mean house, and his solation among strangers, had proved too much for nerves long weakened by his course of living, and for a courage, proved indeed in the field, but unequal to a sudden stress. Though he still strove to preserve his dignity, it was alarmingly plain to my yes that he was on the point of losing, he had not already lost, all selfcommand. "Open!" he muttered between he teeth, pointing impatiently to the trap with the hand with which he had already touched "Open, I say, sir!" stared at him, startled and confounded. "But your Majesty," I ventured to stammer, "forgets that I have not yet

"Open, I say !" he repeated passionately. "Do you hear me sir? I desire that this door be opened." His lean hand shook as with the palsy, so that the gems on it twinkled in the light and rattled as he

I looked helplessly from him to the women and back again, seeing in a flash all the dangers which might follow from the discovery of his presence there-dangers which I had not before formulated to myself, but which seemed in a moment to range themselves with the utmost clearness before my eyes. At the same time I saw what seemed to be a way of escape; and emboldened by the one and the other, I kept my hand on the trap and strove to parley

"Nay, but, sire," I said hurriedly, yet still with as much deference as I could command, "I beg you to permit me first to repeat what I have seen. M. de Bruhl is without, and I counted six men whom I believe to be his following. They are

But the opportunity was not given him, for while the blade yet quivered, and I stood motionless, controlling myself by an effort, my knee half bent and my eye on his. Mademoiselle de la Vire sprang forward at his back, and with a loud scream clutched his elbow. The king, surprised, and ignorant who held him, flung up his point wildly, and striking the lamp above his head with his blade, shattered it in an instant, bringing down the pottery with a grash and reducing the room to darkness; while the screams of the women, and the knowledge that we had a madman among us, peopled the blackness with a hundred

Fearing above all for mademoiselle, I made my way as soon as I could recover my wits to the embers of the fire, and regardless of the king's sword, which I had a vague idea was darting about in the darkness, I searched for and found a half-burnt stick, which I blew into a blaze. With this, still keeping my back to the room, I con-trived to light a taper that I had noticed standing by the hearth; and then, and then only, I turned to see what I had to con-

Mademoiselle de la Vire stood in a corner, half-fierce, half-terrified, and wholly flushed. She had her hand wrapped up in a kerchief already stained with blood; and from this I gathered that the king in his frenzy had wounded her slightly. Standing before her mistress, with her hair bristling, like a wild-cat's fur, and her arms akimbo, was Fanchette, her harsh face and square form instinct with fury and de-fiance. Madame de Bruhl and Simon cowered against the wall not far from them; and in a chair, into which he had king, huddled up and collapsed, the point and upholstered before the rush.

of his sword trailing on the floor beside him, and his nerveless hand scarce retain-please. Here, too. sire, are my weapons. am your prisoner, the Provost-Marshal is outside, and you can at a word deliver me to him. Only one thing I beg, sire." I continued earnestly, "that your Majesty will treat as a delusion the idea that I meditated for a moment disrespect or violence to your person!

He looked at me dully, his face pale, his eyes fish-like. "Sanctus, man!" he mut-tered, "Why did you raise your hand?" Only to implore your Majesty to pause a moment," I answered, watching the intelligence return slowly to his face. "If you will deign to listen I can explain in half a dozen words, sire. M. de Bruhl's men are six or seven, the Provost has eight or nine; out the former are the wilder blades, and if M. de Bruhl find your Majesty in my lodging, and infer his own defeat, he will be capable of any desperate stroke. Your person would hardly be safe in his company through the streets. And there is another consideration," I went on, observing with joy that the king listened, and was gradually regaining his composure. 'That is, the secrecy you desired to preserve, sire, until this matter should be well advanced. M. de Rosny laid the strictest injunctions on me in that respect, fearing an emute in Blois should your Majesty's plans become

"You speak fairly," the king answered with returning energy, though he avoided looking at the women. "Bruhl is likely enough to raise one. But how am I to get out, sir!" he continued, querulously. "I cannot remain here. I shall be missed, man!" I am not a hedge-captain, neither sought nor wanted !"

"If your Majesty would trust me?" I said slowly and with hesitation. "Trust you!" he retorted peevishly, holding up his hands and gazing intently at his nails, of the shape and whiteness of which he was prouder than any woman.

"Have I not trusted you? If I had not trusted you, should I have been here? But that you were a Huguenot-God forgive me for saying it !- I would have seen you in hell before I would have come here with (To be Continued.)

The Superiority Of Hood's Sarsaparilla is due to the tremendous amount of brain work and constant care used in its preparation. Try one bottle and you will be convinced of its superiority. It purifies the blood which, the source of health, cures dyspepsia, overcomes sick headaches and billousness. It is just the medicine for you.

ATLANTA. Ga., March 18, 1892. On Wednesday evening one of the heavy iron rods connected with a fan over the soda fountain stipped and fell, striking one of the attendants on the side of the head. At first we thought the trouble would be quite serious, but on examination only a scalp wound of about one and a half inches square was found. The young man's head was freely bathed in Pond's Extract, and the next morning he reported that it was all right. No soreness and no inconvenience. The effect of the Extract was so instantaneous and satisfactory we thought it due you to report this case. JACOB'S PHARMACY.

A Beautifu and Brilliant Girl. Beauty, robust health, social prominence and all that makes life bright was rapidly fading from the possession of the charming Miss K., of Beacon street. Her nearest friends could not imagine what caused the tokens of anguish that furrowed o'er the once smooth and roseate countenance. When almost in despair she happened to see one of those "horrid newspaper advertisements" of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, which said it was a remedy suitable to her case. Without consulting her physician or anybody else, she got the medicine of a druggist, took it, and in three months' time she was well of all her troubles. All pains had ceased; she was herself again, and shortly resumed her place as leader of her chosen circle. Her experience is that of thousands. Why may it not be yours?

Untold Misery-What a Well-Known Commercial Traveler Suffered, and How He Was Cured,-Gentlemen,-About five years ago I began to be troubled with dyspepsia, and for three years suffered untold misery, from this terrible complaint. I was at that time traveling for Messrs. Walter Woods & Co., Hamilton, and was treated by some of the best physicians in the country, but all to no purpose. I continued to grow worse, one day I was induced to try a bottle of Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, and to my great surprise and joy, I soon began to improve. I continued using this medicine, and when the third bottle was finished found I was entirely cured; and as a year has elapsed since then, I feel confident that the cure is complete and permanent. To all afflicted with this distressing complaint I heartily recommend Northrop & Lyman's VEGETABLE DISCOVERY, believing that the persistent use of it will cure any case of dyspepsia. (Signed.) T. S. -The steamer Thames will commence to run on Queen's Birthday. The boat has changed hands, Mr. Foster's son having purchased his father's interest in the steamer. A time-table has been issued for the opening day, which can be seen in the advertising columns of this paper. An inspector will visit London in a few days to

-A grand jubilee social will be held at the residence of Elder McMillan, Dunwich, to celebrate his 50th year as an officebearer in the Presbyterian Church on Wednesday, May 23. Friends and acquaintances are invited to take part in the celebration. Tables served at 4 p.m., programme to commence about 5 o'clock. -As Hobbs was never married and never knew what it was to be a father, the London Free Press argues that Hobbs is unfit to be member for London. Under these circumstances, Hobbs never knew what it was to have a fool for a son, and that is more than can be said for the father of the Free Press editor, who introduces the bachelor argument into a political campaign. - [Toronto Telegram. -The degree of Bachelor of Divinity has been conferred by Yale University on C. B. Keenleyside, B.A., of London, formerly of the ADVERTISER. He has also been awarded a scholarship valued at about $300, should he desire to return his studies farther. Mr. Keenleyside's many friends will be delighted to hear of his continued success. He is now in St. Catharines, and may be expected to wheel home in the next day or two. Tweedledom and Tweedledee.

The Empire must be growing nervous about Mr. Meredith's chances in London. It argues: "As a matter of fact Mr. Meredith is not the city solicitor of Toronto. He is corporation counsel." Will those who were turning toward Mr. Hobbs as a local man come back to the old allegiance on hearing the change in the title ?-

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 75c. bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered. For sale by W. S. Barkwell, city. Leading Editor's Opinions of Williams' Royal Crown Remedy.

TELEPHONE 881.

THERE is an exceedingly able woman in Boston who can report a speech delivered rapidly in German, she first translating the speech into English and then recording it in stenographic characters. Such celerity of thought is only approached by the tradition respecting Kossuth, who is said to have thought in Hungarian, translated into La tin and retranslated and uttered at a rapid rate the choicest English, born of a study of the Bible and Shakespeare. WHAT will not electricity be used for next? "Electricity in Jelly!" That is something the New York Times tells about and says: "What electricity is doing and will do for the table decorations is forshadowed in an account of a recent feast, where a dish of jelly was illuminated by an electric light shining through the mass. The effect of this dish, set in flowers and protected by a silver cover till the moment of exposure, is very striking and original. The use of minute electric batteries is making most startling effects possible.

Jewels, flowers and food can be lighted up I in remarkable and effective ways.
