W. Thomson Smith, of This City, Associated With High Commissioner During Stirring Days That Marked the Conquest of the Northwest.

There is one man in London who the service of the company at Fort knew Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, through association with him and Fort Francis, and had another when the latter was plain Donald A. meeting with Donald Smith in 1872, Smith, of the Hudson Bay Company's and has been associated with him at service and that man bears the same name as the young Scotsman who rose from the ranks to be Canada's High Commissioner in London and a millionaire many times over. That Londoner is W. Thomson Smith, of 286 Dufferin Avenue, also a former Hudson Bay Company employee, later a bank manager at Strathroy and now living retired here.

W. Thomson Smith was born St. - Andrews, Scotland, nearly years ago, and in 1859 signed his articles of apprenticeship with the Hudson Bay Company and came to this He sailed into Hudson Bay on one of the company's ships, the "Prince of Wales," Capt., Heard, and ada. landed at York Factory. Remaining there for several weeks, he started up the Red River for what was then Fort Garry and is now the City of Winnipeg, and the s-all inland steamer upon which he sailed took a full month to make the journey.

Frontier Life With Strathcona. At Fort Garry, Mr. Smith worked as a clerk in the company's offices and stores, and with Strathcona, saw much frontier life in his dealings with the Indians, half-breeds and prairle

It was in 1870 that W. Thomson Smith met his illustrious namesake, The latter was Donald A. Smith. born in 1820 and entered the Hudson Bay Company's service as a clerk in the thirties. He was stationed for several years on the Labrador Coast and was sent up to Fort Garry by the Canadian Government as a special commissioner to meet Louis Riel and settle the first rebellion, in which assignment he was successful. It was there that the two Smiths met, Don-Smith being at the time about forty-nine years old and W. Thomson Smith about seventeen years young-W. Magistrate Judd Has to Decide What Really Constitutes a Grocery Store As Result of New Bylaw.

The grocers early closing is giving Magistrate J. C. Judd, a fine point of law to settle for he has the problem to solve of what a grocery store really is. In police court this morning, A. E. Ginsberg, Mrs. C. Bird, George Henley and Mrs. E. Gilder appeared, charged with a breach of a new by-law. Their defence was that they were not grocery stores, but general merchants and were therefore within their rights in keeping their stores open after the hours set for the closing of groceries. The sale of fruits, candy and tobacco, made them general merchants, they contended. After hearing the evidence, the cases, save that of Mrs. Gilder, were adjourned again until Monday. It is understood that the immense holdings of the late high commissioner will fall under the succession law of Quebec, and calculations are easily made that the revenue from the estate will amount up to millions dollars.

> It is said it was anticipated that the value of the holdings was about $80,-000,000, and if so the succession dues at eight per cent., would amount to $6,400,000. This amount will very likely be modified when the value of the estate in Quebec is known, as this very point has arisen over the judgment of the privy council in the Cot-ton case. SEVERE NEURALGIA

CURED THROUGH THE USE OF DR. WILLIAMS' PINK PILLS.

There is an excellent reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have cured the most severe cases of neuralgia, sciatica and other complaints in the group known as disorders of the nerves. This group also includes St. Vitus dance, partial paralysis and the common state of extreme nervousness and excitability. Each of these complaints exists because there is something the matter with the nervous system. If the nerves have tone and are strong and healthy you will not have any of these complaints. The reason why Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders is, that they restore weak run-down nerves to their proper state of tone. They act both directly upon the blood supply and the nerves. The highest medical authorities have noted that nervous troubles generally attack people who are bloodless, and that the nerves are toned when the blood is renewed. It is thus seen that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills cure nervous disorders by curing the cause of the trouble. The following is an instance Miss Annie Jones, London, Ont., says "For over a year I was an intense sufferer from neuralgia, which located in my face and head. The pain at ed in my face and head. The pain at issued from the Herald building, and will times was so intense that I could be Liberal in politics, with Hon. W. The result of this treatment was that I am now enjoying such comfort as I had WINNIPEG COMPANIES not known for years, and only those who have suffered from neuralgic pains can realize what a blessing the Pills have been to me."

They were trying to manufacture good times when they should be economizing. The country would have to pay a heavy bill for this policy of borrowing at high rates and spoiling the London market of Canadian countries.

Problem to Correct Itself.

Mr. White defended, and explained from history and by prophecy. Free food meant free trade, and he deprecated agi-tation to depart from a policy under Canada had prospered for twenty years. He said that tariff changes, any, would be announced in the budge speech. To clinch this, he said that there was no general sentiment in favor of the revision of the tariff downward. As an inducement for the exercise of patience, he prophesied that the problem of cost of living would correct itself by a natural fall of prices. To prophecy, Mr. White added a paradox, and declared that if Canada had built three Dreadnoughts it would have materially Dreadnoughts it would have materially aided in the reduction of armaments, but that the naval aid bill would not be introduced to again meet its fate in the Senate. Discriminatory Clause to Dealt With In Court of Customs Appeal.

[Canadian Press.]

New York, N.Y., Jan. 21.-It was stated yesterday that, owing to the importance of the question, the test case to determine the legality of the five per cent. discriminatory clause in the new tariff law favoring imports brought to this country in vessels of American registery will be heard by the United States court of customs appeals February 10. The department of justice filed a brief yesterday with the board of general appraisers, and a decision is expected in about a fortnight.

As the interpretation of the clause involves the treaty rights of twentythree nations, having commercial conventions with the United States, the issue is likely to be determined finally by the supreme court, provided congress enacts a bill to confer jurisdiction in court tariff issues, raising the point of constitutionality.

The subject of meat inspection is probably the most important that has engaged the interest of the local civic authorities in many years. It is a matter that brooks no delay, for it deals with the health and well-being of the people, and these are of insurmountable and immediate importance.

Senator Derbyshire, of Brockville, Ont., writes:

To the Proprieters of Peps,

A friend offered me a box of Peps and I tried them. I was very much pleased with their almost instant action. They seemed to go direct to the sore places, stopped the coughing, and made my breathing easier. I continued their use for a short time, and they completely cured my cold. Since then, on one or two occasions, when I have contracted a bad cold, I have used them, and each time the result has been equally eatisfactory.

My wife has had an experience somewhat similar, and although neither of us believes in very much medicine-taking, we regard Peps in a class by themselves, and such a handy effective remedy, that we always keep a supply in Peps are small pastilles containing certain medicinal ingredients, which when placed upon the tongue immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey they soothe the in-flamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the capillaries and tiny air sacs in the lungs.

Germs in Beef.

In another room the party saw many fine carcasses of beef. All but two bore the stamp of Government inspection. The unstamped pair appeared no different from the others; but an examination of inner portions of the anatomy showed a mass of tubercular germs. These could have been trimmed out and the meat disposed of in the usual way and at the usual price were it not for Government inspection.

Where the Loss Comes in.
When the animals condemned by the Inspector are unceremoniously dumped into one of the large cookers and reduced to fertilizer they net the company about 75 cents apiece. The abattoir people buy the hogs and cattle which to all intents and purposes are clean and sound. Bu it is only after the killing and the inside portions are available for examina-tion that symptoms of disease may be discovered The whole loss is borne by the company

In the case of the five condemned hogs yesterday, Manager Rechnitzer was able to definitely know where they were pur-chased. The killing, as it happened, was light, and all sixteen hogs came from one farmer. When Manager Rechnitzer, af-ter Dr. Bell had pronounced five of the animals unfit for human consumption, apprised the farmer of the fact by telephone, and he was surprised. All sixteen animals had appeared to be in grand condition, and there was no outside indication that five of them were affected

An Ingersoll Example. In Ingersoll last week, 250 hogs were killed at the packing house, and of this number 80 were held as being infected with tubercular germs The discovery at the abattoir yesterday of five diseased hogs out of sixteen is but another piece of evidence in favor of municipal meat inspection. Every week scores of animals are sold to the people of London that are subjected to absolutely no inspection. Householders, who naturally are not all veterinary surwho naturally are not all veterinary surgeons, have no way of pronouncing upon the purity of meats handed out to them over the butcher shop counters or on the market. Often the meat that appears most inviting may be most highly infected with the germs of tuberculosis. The tuberculosis germs circulate in the blood, and while the butcher's dressing process may remove them from the state. process may remove them from the sight of the casual observer, they are not eradicated, but may be found in more or less number throughout the entire carcass

Board to Push Project.

"The board of health this year," said the chairman, Dr. F. L. Burdon, "will push ahead with the subject of meat inspection, particularly as it applies to cattle, hogs and poultry. Poultry is the worst of all for diseased conditions. We will also try to secure purer milk and ice for the citizens of London."

All the members of the council and board of control who visited the abattoir and saw the actual conditions that board of control who visited the abattolr and saw the actual conditions that prevail were impressed; they could not help but be so, and the practical demonstration of the methods by which the danger may be removed will undoubtedly have their effect in hastening the council to action on the recommendation of the board of health. It was an awakening to some members of the party.

It has been suggested that the city should erect a large slaughter house and engage competent men to do the killing, charging the butchers a fee for the work, and thus making the estaplishment self-

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JAN. 21.

LORD STRATHCONA.

Canada's High Commissioner is dead This country has lost one of its most sturdy founders, and one of its most notable products.

He came to Canada when eighteen years of age, while the country was rent with internal strife. No individual citizen did more for peace when the Northwest rebellion and the South African war offered opportunity.

When he came to Canada, the country's imports were twenty million dollars a year and the exports five millions. He saw them grow to nearly hundred millions and four hundred millions respectively. No other Canadian was as responsible as he for this development. Large gifts to education and charity honor his name. He has left behind him a lasting monument in his service to the country of his adoption.

A WESTERN ONTARIO PROBLEM.

According to information alleged to have been received through the underground source by a Conservative paper, the Government will not deviate from its plan to establish provincial parcel post zones, except to give a special rate to each city and town within a radius of twenty miles.

If this concession is granted and the local rate shows sufficient reduction, it may aid the merchants in the smaller towns to some extent in their disheartening contest with the mail order houses, but it does not touch upon the principle for which Western Ontario is contending. It is manifestly absurd to place Fort William and Port Arthur me zone as Windsor and Sarnia. When the people of Kenora want to order a pair of shoes post haste they are not likely to send to Toronto, but to Winnipeg. The Thunder Bay and Rainy River districts should be permitted to purchase nearer home without the handicap of increased postal rates.

Western Ontario is like Northern Ontario inasmuch as it is a section of the country by itself, but it differs in that it is thickly populated, has a network of railways and is soon to have radial service to all parts. It is becoming more and more a country of intensive farming, with consequent smaller farms and increased population. It is the most fertile, most prosperous and most aggressive part of the Province. Its development should not be arrested by any move on the part of the postoffice department that will transfer its trade to Central Ontario. The department cannot even urge that the purchaser will benefit without arguing that the merchants of London, for instance, cannot buy and sell as cheaply as those of other cen-

The London Board of Trade has decided to take the matter up at the next meeting of the associated boards of trade. It would be better if the London board called a meeting of all Western Ontario to take action. It is peculiarly a Western Ontario problem, and the associated boards of trade, representing the entire Province, have many other questions to consider.

TO DO, OR NOT TO DO.

Under a system of parliamentary government, where there are two leading parties, it is assumed that the duty of the Government is to have a well-defined policy, which it is prepared to carry out, or surrender power. The Opposition, on the other hand, may or may not have a definite policy; but its chief duty is to secure a full and free discussion of all cabinet measures, to endeavor to obtain proper amendments to those which are good in principle, if imperfect in details, but to fight to the last extremity those they consider prejudicial to the

This year in Canada it would seem some extent. The Speech from the Throne, and the debate on the address, reveal an obstructionist Government and a constructive Opposition. On the most important matters that can come up for discussion the Government is not prepared to do anything. But the Opposition is prompt with its policy to meet the conditions that require improvement. It is now the Opposition that is ready to do; while the Government will not do.

One leading question which has been before the country for some few years is as to the best way of aiding the naval defence of the empire. Sir Wilfrid Laurier wants Canada to meet the situation by dring something that will lessen the burdens of the empire, by relieving Brita'n from a share of its advance Canadian interests. Mr. Borden tells us he has not yet been able to devise any permanent policy; all he can think of is to send some money to Britain as a temporary measure; and as the Senate insists that such a proposition shall be first voted on by the people, he cannot do anything, but must wait till a sufficient number of Liberal senators die. All parties admit that something should be done for the benefit of the farmers. Sir Wilfrid wants to remove same of the burdens of taxation under which they struggle; and spend some money for the improvement of highways. But Mr. Borden has some interested friends who will not let him reduce the taxes on the goods the farmer buys; so he remains discretely silent. And as to money for nighways, he is willing to grant some money provided he can spend it as he and his colleagues see fit. But as the Senate says he must hand the money over to the people who know their own needs, and know how to spend the money to their own advantage, he cannot do anything. But while naval measures, redistrioution, highways improvements, and matters of that kind, are of great importance, no one of them comes home to the average man and woman like the high cost of living. This is the most serious problem for every Canadian, except only the wealthy. Sir Wilfrid wants to do something for the common people. He calls for their relief from the customs tax now imposed on their food; he wants legislation that will curb the trusts and combines that flourish under a high tariff and make living more expensive. Mr. Borden has nothing to offer-except a commission to inquire about it. It is the Opposition now that prepared to do. It is the Government that cannot or will not do.

RURAL EDUCATION.

One way of retaining the farm population on the farm would be, doubtless, to devise a scheme of education that would develop in the rural schoolboy a love and appreciation of country life and work. As things now are, the entrance examination leads to high school in the town, and hands that get soft wish to remain so. It is not only that high school studies lead to professional or business careers, but town associations twine their tendrils round the robust lad at his impressionable age. More than that, so iong as he has lived at home while going to school, it was not the studies, no matter how diligently pursued, or his "homework" of lessons, but his homework on the farm, the "chores" assigned to a boy, that molded him most and directed his bent. Translated to the town to translate Virgil, he gets out of touch with the chores, goes back to them perhaps with a grudge, in the summer holidays, and developing hands ever sufter as the high school course draws to its end, he is weaned away from that alma mater of strong men,

Is there any remedy for this state of affairs in Ontario? Must the exodus from the fields go on until economic stress turns the tide?

It seems just possible that if Hon James Duff could turn a stream of fresh ideas on the subject of rural education, some improvement at least might be attained. Would a consolidation of rural schools, permitting of more extended studies without the boys and girls being sent off to town, be preparatory to the O. A. C., at village with her switch lying on the bureau centres? Perhaps some other minister of agriculture than Mr. Duff might think of something better than this.

IS POLITICS IN THIS, TOO? It is to be hoped that the royal commission investigating the sensational escape of the desperado Krafchenko at Winnipeg will probe the matter to the bottom regardless of who may be involved. Two constables have been placed under arrest, and Krafchenko's counsel is also being held by the police, an offer of $20,000 ball being rejected. About the whole business there are indications of somebody, or persons, higher up being interested. Krafchenko's name has been linked with those of some "practical" politicians. Apparently there was unlimited cash at the disposal of those seeking to free the alleged murderer. Where did the money come from? Who are Krafchenko's friends? In a sense, the affair is Manitoba's, but in another sense it is distinctly an affair that touches the entire country. The general purity of our courts of justice and officials has long been a boast of Canadians, and frequently a certain looseness across the line has been held up to scorn. The punishment of the guilty persons in connection with the Winnipeg escape should that this process is to be reversed to be sufficiently severe to prevent a recurrence in any part of the Dominion.

ON "KNOCKING."

Many men seem to preach the "antimocker" doctrine, but to practice the reverse. Did you ever stop to think that even calling a man a "knocker" is 'knocking" him? Into almost every conversation the personal standing of ome member or members of the community, is introduced, and it is seldom that some disparaging remark is not passed. Yet the same concrete eighthour-a-day hammer workers regard the abstract knocker with contempt. Knocking seems to be the conversational line of least resistance. The man to be most admired is he who can speak of the good characteristics of his opponents, or enemies, and make his friends feel that he is beyond nartice, and he raises himself to the plane of a lord of creation.

Duty-bound conviction to do one's detractors justice is no more generous, however, than to give ringing value rises when the wheat has been praise to your own close friends. They milled, and how much the retailer reare inspired by a touch of apprecia- ceives for his labor, how much the tion from you, just as you warm to their good words. The simple phrase, whom it was spoken, has been as a trickling spring to a desert wanderer. If within a man's heart he can have "sweetness and light" and the self-effacing virtue that fills his heart with a deep affection, even a gentle reverence, toward his fellow men, then he is as splendid as any in the land.

That $5,000 flea will be demanding a swell dog to live on.

Salt on the tongue is now being used to stop a cough. This may stop a lot of fresh talk. A flea has been sold for $5,000. At

REDUCING COST OF LIVING. [Stratford Beacon.]

Why should not the Canadian consumer try to reduce the high cost of living by eating more cheese and less neat and eggs? Professor R. Harcourt, of the Ontario Agricultural College, stated at the meeting of the Eastern Ontario Dairymen's Association that one pound of cheese was equal in value as food to two pounds of beef, or fifteen eggs, or three pounds of fish, or one gallon of milk.

BORDEN'S EXCUSE.

[Brantford Expositor.] The excuse given by the Borden Government for not proceeding with the naval bill during the present session of Parliament is that the certainty of Senate rejection makes such a course unwise. But if the Government believes that the Empire is in an emergency, which calls for immediate help from Canada it is guilty of cowardice in not trying to force its policy through the Upper House. The exact truth is that it now recognizes as the entire country recognizes, that there is no such worry about the British naval position as to prevent Canada adopting a well-considered and permanent policy with regard to Safety First.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: A train about three-quarters of a mile long blocked the Grand Trunk about half-past six this morning. People were delayed from their work, and several young men, disregarding the principle of "safety first," scrambled over the slippery cars as they were running, in danger of life and limb. Now a footbridge at each crossing would be more like "safety first," so obligingly taught by the Grand Trunk. The brakeman do not seem to believe in the principle of safety first" as they jump off onto the lippery ice and take a dangerous chance. ARGUS. London, Jan. 20, 1914.

High Cost of Living.

To the Editor of the Advertiser: The Government, having announced its intention of inquiry by commission into the high cost of living, I have felt constrained to put down a few points on a subject that concerns all of us, more especially the house-

among other matters take into consideration, the high cost of the staff of life. It will be very interesting to learn how much the farmer re-ceives for his labor, how much the consumer, who has no say in the matter of price, but has only to pay up. We are told, as a fact, that cannot "He's a decent fellow," or "He's be denied, that the law of supply and white!" coming to the man's ears of demand, regulates all that enters into our material life. It fixes the conditions of exchange, it determines to what degree, and to what price the surplus shall supply the deficiency, broadly, this is true, but in the working out of a large generalization, how many undercurrents may be operative, how subtilely may the human equation be expressed. The comconditions. describe mission can though it may be beyond its power

They may, perhaps, be able to find out the reason of the product of the Canadian prairies, being sold cheaper in London and Liverpool than in Winnipeg or Montreal. turns show that top grade flour which costs $5.00 per barrel in Winin Montreal, $6.50 nipeg, $5.10 in Halifax, N.S., and $5.50 in St. Johns, Nfld., sells at $4.18 in London, that patent which sells in Winnipeg at $4.80 per barrel, and in Montreal at $4.90, sells in London at $4.06. Baker's, which sells in Winnipeg at $4.00 per barrel, and in Montreal at $4.10, sells in London at $3.60. will be interesting to learn why flour produced in Canada, and transported across a continent and an ocean, can e sold much cheaper in London and Liverpool than in Canada. It must be sold at a profit over there, or the flour millers here must be philanthropists of a very high order, who out of sympathy with our already overburdened British brethren, adopt this delicate method of assisting them | be able to find out, some at least, to bear their onerous burdens, in sustaining the vast fabric of empire, at a juncture which calls for the supsuch be the case, Canadians might will doubtless be enlightened as to port of the overseas Dominions. grin and bear it, although that would the causes of the high cost of, among have little effect, in filling a void in

There is, however, another aspect of the case to which no doubt, the commission will give its attention, although it is obvious in this one particular, that the finger can be put upon a contributory cause of the high cost of living, which has become so acute in our centres of industry, as to alarm the mass of the workers. I allude to the earning of the milling companies, as can be seen from the published reports of their annual Many people will be surmeetings. prised to learn that companies like the Lake of the Woods, Ogilvies and others have been earning 30 per cent I the mind and body.

Dear Miss Grey: I hope you are not too busy to answer the following: 1. What is the birthstone for Octo ber. What is the lucky day? Is it considered lucky to be born on the first and on a Sunday? A most interesting talk on missions in Honan, China, was given at a business meeting of the Golden Link Circle, King's Daughters, of St. George's Parish, Monday night by Miss Gower, Dorcas secretary of the Women's Auxiliary in Huron Diocese. Miss Gower told of the establishing of Honan Diocese in Western China in the year 1907, and of the progress since that

The church now owns property to the extent of some twenty acres, situated just outside the walled city of Kai-feng, the capital city of the province. Bishop White, a Canadian, was in charge, assisted by his wife, and fifteen Canadian missionarles, besides several from England Amongst the former were Dr. Neville Ward and Miss Marjory Nash, of this city. Miss Nash is assisting in the orphanage, "The Door of Hope," besides spending much of the time in learning the language. EVENING WRAPS. A new development in evening garments is the cape. It has been many a season since the sleeveless mantle was considered smart, though the more conservative women have always persisted in wearing it. There is very little in common, however, between the shapeless Quakerlike cape of the past and the charming draped garment of today. One side of the cape may hang straight, but the other falls in an effective rippling line that is unmistakably new. And the touch of fur is not forgotten, for though there are no sleeves to cuff, a scarf is to be twisted around the neck with long ends to hang quite to the bottom of the garment.

The fur cloak is always in good taste as a theater wrap and the new-est models show the flare in the skirt

Linneborn Expected to Sign. The London club now has a pitcher, catcher and first baseman signed up. The contracts have all been sent out and some more signatures should be received in a few days. It is believed that Eddle Linneborn will sign up shortly. It was reported some time ago that Linneborn had an offer from the Buffalo Federal League club, but it is not likely that he will jump. Manager Reisling went to Buffalo from London over a week ago to meet Linneborn, but missed him owing to the fact that his train was an hour late. President Stevely has just returned from Buffalo and although he has nothing to give out, it is expected that the fast little second baseman will be here when the season opens.

That Spring Trip.

Manager Reisling is at present making preparations for the club's spring training trip in Ohio. He has practically closed with one of the big colleges in that state for the use of its grounds during the preliminary workouts, and a series of games will be played with the college team. Mordecai Brown Signs Tiger Pitcher For His St. Louis Federal League Baseball Club.

Chicago, Ill., Jan. 21.-While representatives of organized ball are predicting its early demise, the Federal League continues collecting major league ball players, signing three pitchers yesterday, as well as completing a quartette of umpires. The pitchers signed are Russell Ford, of the New York Americans, who will be with the Chicago Federals: Howard Camnitz, of the Philadelphia Nationals, who will go either to Indianapolis or Pittsburg, and Edgar Willett, the Detroit pitcher, who was signed by Mordecai Brown, manager of the St. Louis team of the new league.

The effort to gain possession of the north side plot on which the new league is to play ball here was won by the Federals yesterday, according to President Gilmore and Charles Weegh-man, head of the local club, when the latter delivered a large amount of cash to the holder of a lease on a strip of land which, if held by an enemy, would have made ball playing impossible in

Ban Johnson, however, said that opposition of nearby property-owners might prevent the opening of the Fedseason here, and at the same time said he hoped for the "good of baseball" that the Federals would begin their season, though he pronounced absurd any hope that the league would Victoria, B. The final score was 7 to 6, and it was "Cyclone" Taylor hero in many games on the coast this season, who scored the winning goal for Vancouver. Vancouver was leading until within a few seconds of the Duchess of Connaught, who is the close of the third period, when Kerr tied up the count with a beautiful shot. In all cases of headache the treatment should be directed to remove the cause, or with the cause removed the headache vanishes for all time. Headache powders just relieve for the time being, but what is necessary for a permanent cure is something that will go right to the seat of the trouble. For this purpose It is impossible to find a better remedy for headaches of all descriptions than Burdock Blood Bitters, acting as it does on every organ of the body to strengthen, purify and regulate the whole system.

Mrs. Althea Bowman, Hamilton, Ont., writes:-"I have suffered terribly with my head for weeks at a time till I thought I would go mad. A friend advised me to give Burdock Blood Bitters a trial, so I got a bottle and found relief. I have used four bottles in al I am glad to say that I have h

One player steps out of bonds with the ball about midway between the goals and endeavors to pass the ball to one of his own men, all of whom are guarded by opponents. After the first scoring the ball goes to the opposing side which puts it into play in the same manner, but from the opposite side of the court. The right to put the ball in play then alternates. This prevents the team with the tallest, or highest jumping centre, gaining an advantage.

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

Nine-tenths of All Stomach Trouble Sald to Be Due to Acidity.

A Physician's Advice on Cause and Cure A famous physician whose successful researches into the cause and cure of stomach and intestinal diseases have earned for him an international reputation, said in the course of a recent lec-ture that nearly all intestinal troubles, as well as many diseases of the vital organs, were directly traceable to a deranged condition of the stomach which in turn was due, nine times out of ten, to excessive acidity, commonly termed sour stom ach or heartburn, which not only irritated and inflamed the delicate lining of the stomach but also set up gastritis and stomach ulcers. It is interesting to note that he condemns the use of patent medi-cines as well as of medical treatment for the stomach, stating that he and his colleagues have secured remarkable results by the use of ordinary bisurated magnesia, which, by neutralizing the acidity of the food, removes the source of the trouble. He contends that it is as foolish to treat the stomach itself as it would be for a man who sterred on a tack to be for a man who stepped on a tack to rub limiment on the foot without first removing the tack. Remove the tack and the foot will heal itself—neutralize the acid and stomach troubles will disappear. Irritating medicines and medical treatments are useless, so long as the contents of the stomach remain acid; remove the acidity, and there will be no need for medicine—the inflamed lining of need for medicine—the inflamed lining of the stomach will then heal itself. Sufferers from acidity sour stomach or heartburn should get a small bottle of bisurated magnesia from their druggist, and take a teaspoonful in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after meals, repeating in fifteen minutes, if necessary, this being the dose which the doctor has found most efficacious in all cases. THE HOLLOW OF HER HAND

By GEORGE BARR McCUTCHEON

It was nearly three o'clock when she, brought the car to a stop in front of a small, exclusive hotel not far from Central Park. The street was dark and the vestibule was but dimly lighted. No attendant was in sight.
"Slip into this," commanded Mrs. Wran-dall, beginning to divest herself of her own fur coat. "It will cover your muddy garments. I am quite warmly dressed. Don't worry. Be quick. For the time being you are my guest here. You will not be questioned. No one need know look distressed. Four have just heard of the dreadful thing that happened to me. the arms of the chair. "A member of my family has died.

They know it in the hotel by this time.
I was called to the death bed—tonight. That is all you will have to know. "Oh, I am sorry-

"Come, let us go in. When we reach my rooms, you may order food and drink. You must do it, not I. Please try to remember that it is I who am suf-fering, not you."

A sleepy night watchman took them up in the elevator. He was not even interested. Mrs. Wrandall did not speak, but leaned rather heavily on the arm of her companion. The door had no sooner closed behind them when the girl collapsed. She sank to the floor in a heap. "Get up!" commanded her hostess sharply. This was not the time for soft, persuasive words. "Get up at once. You are young and strong. You must show the stuff you are made of now if you ever mean to show it. I cannot help you if you quail."

The girl looked up piteously, and then struggled to her feet. She stood before her-protectress, waving like a frail reed in the wind, pallid to the lips.
"I beg your pardon," she murmured. "I will not give way like that again. I dare say I'm faint. I have had no food—parest but rover mind that now. Tell. no rest-but never mind that now.

about it as possible.' Moving as if in a dream, the girl did as she was told. Twenty minutes later there was a knock at the door. ' A waiter appeared with a tray and service table. He found Mrs. Wrandall lying back in a chair, attended by a slender young woman in a pink eider-down dressing-gown, who gave hesitating directions to him. Then he was dismissed with a handsome tip, produced by the same young woman.

"You are not to return for these things," she said as he went out.

In silence she ate and drank, her hostess looking on with gloomy interest. It was no shock to Mrs. Wrandall to find that the girl, who was no more than twenty-two or three, possessed unusual y. Her great eyes were blue—the Irish blue—her skin was fair and smooth, her features regular and of the delicate mold that defines the well-bred gentlewoman at a glance. Her hair, now in order, was dark and thick and lay softly about her small ears and neck. She was not surprised, I repeat, for she had never known Challis Wrandall to show interest in any but the most attractive of She found herself smiling bit-

But who may know the thoughts of the other occupant of that little sitting-room? Who can put herself in the place of that despairing, hunted creature wh knew that blood was on the hands with which she ate, and whose eyes were filled with visions of the death-chair

So great was her fatigue that long before she finished the meal her tired lids began to droop, her head to nod in spasmodic surrenders to an overpower-ing desire for sleep. Suddenly she dropped the fork from her fingers and not be questioned. No one need know who you are. It will not matter if you head resting against the soft, upholstered back. Then, even as she wondered at the act, she went over and took up one of the slim hands in her own. The hand of an aristocrat! It lay limp in hers, and helpless. Long, tapering fingers and delicately pink with the return of warmth. Rousing herself from the mute con-templation of her charge, she shook the girl's shoulder. Instantly she was awake and staring, alarm in her dazed, bewil-

ered eyes. "You must go to bed," said Mrs. Wrandall quietly. "Don't be afraid. No one will think of coming here." The girl arose. As she stood before her benefactress, she heard her murmur as if from afar-off: "Just about your size and figure," and wondered not a little.
"You may sleep late. I have many things to do and you will not be disturbed. Come, take off your clothes and et into bed. Tomorrow we will plan

"But, madam," cried the girl, "I cannot take your bed. Where are you to-"
"If I feel like lying down, I shall lie there beside you.

The girl stared. "Lie beside me?" Oh, I am not afraid of you child. You are not a monster. You are just a poor, tired—"
"Oh, please don't! Please!" cried the and covered it with kisses. Long after she went to sleep, Sara Vrandall stood beside the bed, looking own at the pain-stricken face, and tried

The new lampalled the nitra lamp-takes only onehalf watt per candle to operate as against three to three and a half watts with the carbon lamp, and one to one and a quarter watts with the tungsten

The new lamp is an importation from Europe, and has so far not been extensively manufactured. It is somewhat more expensive than the ordinary lamp, but the price, Manager Glaubitz states, will come down as the sales in-

The new lamp is made in strengths as high as 6,000-candlepower, and Manager Glaubitz will have a number of samples sent here for demonstration purposes. For street lighting the lamps are especially efficient, and they are also adaptable for theatre spotlights which heretofore have not been operated with electricity. Manager Glaubitz hopes ultimately to see the new lamps in general use on London streets.

Hydro Towers. Four large towers in the outskirts of the city, topped off with a blazing mass of hydro light, are possibilities for Lonon. In several American cities the idea has been tried out, and it has been suggested to Manager H. J. The idea is to have steel towers from 75 to 100 feet in height which could be seen for miles around. On top of the towers would be placed a huge cluster of electric lights, or possibly an enormous sign with the words, "London's All Right,"

A petition may be presented to the city council, asking that the Bell Telephone Company be requested to place the number of each 'phone on the instrument. At the present time, per-sons using telephones, other than their own, and not knowing the numbers, are often put to considerable trouble looking up the directory to ascertain the number, for return calls. Sir Felix Schuster Declares In Will Adopt Vigorous Program to Insure Better and Purer Food For Citizens.

The organization meeting of the board of health will be held on Tuesday next, when plans for the ensuing year will be outlined and the first steps taken in the renewed effort for purer food for the citizens of London. The chairman of last year's board, Dr. F. L. Burdon is to be re-elected to the position.

re-elected to the position.

It is probable that the board this year will make a requisition to the city council to be supplied with an automobile to facilitate milk inspection. Good work has been accomplished in the past by the inspector in seeing that the premises of dealers supplying milk to London are kept clean, but with an automobile, it is expected that the official will be able to accomplish a great deal more. Members of the board of health feel that an absolutely pure supply will not be available until all dairymen are forced to adopt the tuberculin test.

POOL GAMES POPULAR

Every Available Table in Use When Reporter Makes Rounds of the Rooms.

That pool and billiards have become the most popular forms of amusement among the younger element of London was demonstrated last night in a manner that left no room for contradiction. An Advertiser reporter, visiting the numerous pool rooms of the city, found that every table, in all, a hundred or more, was in use. Further, there were rows of young men waiting the conclusion of games that they might monopolize the tables, in turn.

The games appear to be winning widespread favor in the city, the establishing of new parlors seemingly stimulating further interest in the sport.

Bowling also appeals to many of the "youngsters," and the alleys are also crowded nightly with the "ball rollers."

TO CURE CATARRHAL DEAFNESS AND

Persons suffering from catarrhal deafness and head noises will be glad to know that this distressing affliction can be successfully treated at home by an internal medicine that in many instances has effected a complete cure after all else has failed. Sufferers who could scarcely hear a watch tick have had their hearing restored to such an extent that the tick of a watch was plainly audible seven or eight inches away from either ear.

Therefore, if you know someone who is troubled with head noise or catarrh, or catarrhal deafness, cut out this formula and hand to them and you will have been the means of saving some poor sufferer perhaps from total deafness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength) about 75c worth.

ness. The prescription can be prepared at home and is made as follows:

Secure from your druggist 1 oz. Parmint (Double Strength), about 75c worth. Take this home, and add to it ½ pint of hot water and 4 oz. of moist or granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first dose promptly ends the most distressing head noises, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., while the hearing rapidly returns as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms that show the presence of catarrhal poison, and which are quickly overcome by this efficacious treatment. Nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh; therefore, there are but few people whose hearing cannot be restored by this simple home treatment. Every person who is troubled with head noises, catarrhal deafness, or catarrh in any form should give this prescription a trial. There is nothing better.

Important—In ordering Parmint always specify that you want Double Strength: your druggist has it or he can

"A SMALL AMOUNT." Another incident of how wealthy men make money is related by a gentleman who happened to be in the Nassau street office of J. J. Hill, of the Great Northern Railway, in New York, while the Canadian and American millionaires were closeted in an office.

Coming out of the rear office at th conclusion of their conference, Mr. Hill, addressing his secretary, said: "Colonel, is there not a small amount to his lordship's credit?" When the secretary looked up the item and replied that there was the sum of $1,250,000 to the credit of Lord Strathcona," the latter simply rubbed his hands and said: "Well, that was very kind of you, Mr. Hill," and probably both had forgotten the incident a few minutes later

A PAINFUL ORDEAL. The execution of Thomas Scott by orders of Louis Riel, while Donald A. Smith was near at hand (and although the head of the powerful Hudson Bay Company, he was practically a prisoner, and absolutely helpless to bring any relief to the doomed man) was perhaps the most painful ordeal ever pass ed through by the late Lord Strath. cona. Referring to this painful episode in Canadian history during one of his recent visits to Canada, his lordship said he was sitting in his office a day or two after Riel had taken possession of Fort Garry with his half-breed escort, when a Church of England clergyman named Young came to him in a terrible state of excitement, The rate of discount in the open mar-ke for Three Months' Bills is 31/2 to at the fort within an hour. Lord Strathcona related that when Receivers were named for the com-pany's stores both in New York and Riel's presence, the priest spoke in French, which Donald Smith understood, and said: "Riel, is there no means of saving this man?" Riel replied: "Father, You know there is no means of saving him."

shot, and Riel finished him with a re-

RETURN TO LONDON

Becoming Homesick in Detroit. They Ended Their Travels and Came Back Home.

Ross Grover, the 12-year-old son of A. Grover, 183 Sydenham street, and Chester Birrell, the 41-year-old son of Staff Ser-geant Robert iBrrel, of the police department, the two youths who ran away from their homes on Monday night, returned to the city this afternoon.

According to their story the boys went to the Canadian Pacific yards and climbed into an empty box car on a west-bound freight and went as far as Chatham, where they spent uTesday in looking over that city, going on to Windsor and crossing over to Detroit. From the City of the Straits a number of London friends re-ceived a quantity of postcards from the runaways. Becoming homesick the boys came back to Windsor and purchased tickets for London.

On leaving London the youths had in all about $18 between them, Grover drawing $12 out of a local savings bank, and
