ELECTIONS EXPECTED BEFORE CHRISTMAS

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—The impression still prevails in Government circles that the general election will not be delayed longer than the month of December. No definite decision will be reached in regard to the dissolution of Parliament or the fixing of the date of the election until after Sir Robert Borden returns to the capital early next week, but official opinion, still inclines to the view that an effort will be made to have the vote taken before the Christmas holidays season.

Owing to counting of the soldiers' vote in England and France a month will elayse before final results are known in all constituencies. This is believed here to be what Sir George Foster meant when, speaking in Toronto last night, he said that it would take four and perhaps five months, to prepare for and decide the election.

The work of preparing for the revision of the election lists as provided for by the war times elections act will be commenced as soon as Hon, Arthur Meighen, secretary of state, returns to the capital.

'KNIGHTED PROFITEERS' AND 'FOOD PIRATES,

Govt. Called Upon To Prevent Cornering — Committee Will See Hanna.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—There was no two-sided opinion as to how the Canadian food controller stands in the opinion of the gathering at St. Joseph's School, St. Martin street, last night, at another of ex-Ald. Dan Gallery's "Down With the Food Trust" meetings. The clergy was represented by Rev. Father Donnelly, parish priest of St. Annes, and the Rev. W. W. MacCuaig. "Food pirates" and "Knighted profiteers," were common expressions that were heartily cheered. Mr. Gallery, after reviewing the rise in prices of some food necessities since 1810 and referring to the "melons" which food companies have been cutting of late, believed that there should be a federal law to prevent the buying of crops in advance. Agents of the food monopolists went through the country buying the eggs before they were laid, and so on, and consequently when eggs should be cheap they were very high instead, as they were all "cornered." It was for this reason that men became rich and woke up to find themselves knighted for patriotism. One of the results was the infant mortality rate. A food controller was not needed to tell ilts was the infant mortality rate food controller was not needed to tell the people to eat less, the prices took care of that. A committee was appointed to interview Hon. Mr. Hanna.

GREAT FLIGHT OF ITALIAN AIRMAN

London, Sept. 25. — Capt. Laureati, one of the most daring Italian aviators, who has twice been decorated with military medals for valor, accompanied by an observer, made the first Italy-to-England flight today, repeating the feat in 1910 of the late George Chavez in crossing the Alps. Capt. Laureati covered 700 English miles in 722 minutes. His machine, which is of a new type, started from Turin this morning. Capt. Laureati flew at a height of 10,500 feet. He encountered high winds, fog banks, rainstorms, and clouds on the route which lay over Modane and Culoz in Southeastern France, thence over the French battle lines in Northern France to Cape Griznez and thence across the English Channel. He brought mail to the American ambassador. On May, 80 last a British bi-plane, with five persons on board, arrived in Rome direct from Lon-don, having stopped only at Paris, Turin and Pisa on the way.

Argentine War Party Has Thirty Majority

Indications Point to a Break With Central Powers.

Buenos Ayres, Sept. 25. — The Conservatives, who control the Chamber of Deputies, have agreed to vote tonight on a rupture with Germany. From all indications they will have a majority of 30 votes, virtually forcing the Government to cease relations with Germany. The Government desires to postpone formulation of its policy until it receives from Ambassador Naon at Washington translations of the 415 telegrams received or sent by the Swedish legation here. These measages were telegraphed to Dr. Naon with instructions to send translations. Strikers have cut the telegraph line to Valparaiso, Chile, paralyzing direct cable service to the United States.

BERNSTORFF

Had His Embassy Staff Spying in Garb of Waiters.

[BY CARL D. GROAT.]

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Washington, Sept. 25.—Society women were German Ambassador von Bernstorff's unconscious aides in gathering "inside information" about American affairs.

This fact will be developed if any Congressional inquiry of his propaganda operations and his Congressional slush fund are undertaken. Moreover, it would be revealed that employees of the German embassy in the day time were waiter spies at night for the count.

were waiter spies at night for the count.

A Social Lion.

Bernstorff, tall, handsome and gracious, was a social lion here and in New York in the days before the war end before his nefarious labors had come to light. It was no uncommon occurrence for social leaders to call him on the 'phone afternoons and chat at length with him. Bernstorff never made any secret of these calls. Aside from his opportunities for gathering "diplomatic gossip" here, he was an almost constant visitor to New York.

Mysterious Conferences.

During his visits to New York he held many mysterious conferences, and it is assumed that he frequently met men who were aiding in his anti-American propaganda. Incidentally his New York trips recalled today the fact that numerous reports at the time of the so-called "leak" investigation link-ed Bernstorff's name with stock deals. It is believed quite generally here that, between information he copid gather as to the moves of both his own and the American Government, Bernstorff was in a position to make heavy clean-ups in the market.

Bernstorff had a retinue of servants in the big embassy building who were in reality spies. At night they had employment at big social affairs where the count himself was frequently a guest. Then when the war made him persona non grata, Bernstorff could still get a considerable stock of information from these waiters. The United States secret service was aware of this phase of Bernstorff's work and kept close tab on it.

All Tribunals Expected To Be Completed by End of Month.

Ottawa, Sept. 25.—Details in connection with the calling out of the first class of men under the military service act are under discussion at a conference today between the military service council, the general officers commanding eastern military districts and manding eastern military districts and registrars for the eastern provinces. The purpose of the conferences is to reach a uniform understanding as to the operation of the act.

The board of selection established to appoint one member of each local tribunal under the acr will probably not complete its work for a few days. Under the strict terms of the order-in-council, the appointment of all local tribunals should be completed today. Otherwise the minister of justice is empowered to fill the vacancies. While, however, no official announcement is made, it is nucleasted that the board will be given till the end of the month to complete, its selections. It is anticipated that with very few exceptions, the tribunals will be completed by that date.

Heavy Attack Made By Germans In the Night Was Repulsed With Heavy Losses Despite Use of Liquid Fire.

Paris, Sept. 25.—Liquid fire was used by the Germans in an attack on the French lines in the Beaumont region north of Verdun last night. The French have repulsed the assault with heavy losses to the Germans, the war office announced today.

The bombardment that has been in progress on the east bank of the Meuse, in the neighborhood of Chaume Wood, was kept up by the German guns during the night. The statement follows:

"There was active artillery fighting on the Aisne front, in the sectors of Hurtebise and to the south of Juvincourt. We checked surprise attacks on our advanced posts east of Teton and north of Hill 304. On the right bank of the Meuse (Verdun front) the enemy continued the bombardment in the region north of Chaume Wood, and renewed his attacks on our trenches near Beaumont. notwithstanding the intensive employment of flame throwers, he was repulsed with heavy losses without obtaining any advantage

"In the Vosges there was reconnoiting patrols. "Three German aeroplanes were brought down yesterday by our pilots."

The occupations for which a returned man may train consist of drafting, machine work of all types, auto mechanics and many others. Academic work and bookkeeping are favorite classes with the returned boys. The occupation of a man before enlisting is the standard by which his capabilities are judged. A college student enlisting while attending university in many cases is allowed to finish his course after he returns to Canada free of charge.

Last month a man was sent to the Allis-Chambers Company of Toronto, and reports received from his employer denote that the training which he received here has been of inestimable value to him and his firm.

A large number of men has been handled by the school during the last month. A contract has been let for the erection of an additional building behind Victoria School. Mr. Beal states that the space now in use will shortly be inadequate for the increase of men, and it is with a view of making possible the tuition of twice the number now enrolled that the present space will be augmented.

EXAMINED MONDAY

C. E. F. or Home Service Units.

Orders cancelling proposed medical boards in the district have diverted all prospective recruits in the district to the standing boards. Line-ups at the Armories again today testify effectively to the fact.

Fifty-two men were examined on Monday, ten of them becoming members of the C. E. F. and home service units. Of the thirty-two men who applied for the purpose of discovering their "fitness" for the army, twenty two qualified in Class A 2, which signifies that they are medically fit. To serve overseas with combatant units. Two proved fit for service overseas with combatant units. Two proved fit for service overseas with non-combatant units. Two proved fit for service overseas with ombatant units and one was fit for service in Canada. Seventeen were exted.

Twenty-eight of the applicants were condeners. The remainder came from outside points, such as Dorchester, Goderich Tillsonburg Ingersoil, Dashwood and Strathroye.

All of the ten men who signed attestation papers were Londoners, and all but one were born in Canada. Glilladed. Accompanying Mr. D'Arcy will be W. G. ing is local manufacturers hight. In which London manufacturers have been invited to co-operate by sending samples of their products for free distribution to the ladies of London, who will be present in force. Each club member or friend will bring along a lady to receive the various samples, of which a whole bagful will be given every lady present at the close of the evening. It is rumored that the "mere men" will be permitted to carry the samples home, there to be tested and approved of by the discriminating housewife at her leisure.

Music will be provided by the Harmonic Male Quartet and chorus singing by the whole assembly will be a feature. The local clib has the reputation of being the livest advertising club in Canada, and each member is out to sustain that record. Business houses are emphatic in their approval of the manner in which the London Advertising Club is helping to create more of the "get-together" spirit in the city, and by its consistent city-boosting politic of a bigger and a better London.

GENUINE FRENCH HANDMADE DELIGHTFUL PIECES AT POPULAR PRICES

Stocks of Cluny are in many cases exhausted, and with deliveries practically nil, you are well advised to look far ahead, more particularly this year for your Christmas gifts. Cluny holds the supreme position in decorative linens and cannot be substituted; France holds the key to the situation entirely and at this time has curtailed the importing of these goods, devoting their energies more particularly to the production of necessities or more staple lines.

We are showing some delightful pieces, all guaranteed genuine French hand-made, at remarkable prices, too. Our stock is only limited, with no guarantee of future shipment, so recommend early selection. SEE WINDOW DISPLAY.

SENSIBLE ECONOMY

The worst policy we can pursue at this time is the hoarding of incomes. Nothing will so quickly depress trade, discourage enterprise and curtail business.

A free flowing stream can turn a thousand wheels in its course. Wealth increases with use. It's the active money of the country that keeps it prosperous.

Support the retailer and his orders will keep the factorits busy, which in turn will engage the dependents of soldiers' families, the question of whose support is holding an enormous number of their earners from enlist-

The responsibility of furnishing the laborer with adequate opportunities rests with the consumer of his wares, and a regularly received wage envelope is the biggest factor in steadying the receipts of butcher, baker, grocer, doctor, lawyer and landlord.

Normal buying protects everybody's interests and promotes the welfare of every community.

War preparations of such magnitude as the present are certain to be attended with prosperity on every hand. Both commonsense and history remove every doubt on that point.

LONDON CONFERENCE AIM FOR MISSIONS $115,000 THIS YEAR

Afternoon Tea Specials.

Special Anniversary Day To Be Observed Dec. 2.

The district meeting of the Methodis Church of Goderich was held in Wesley Methodist Church, with Rev. J. A. Agnew, chairman of the district, presiding. Rev. W. E. Darling of Bayfield was ap-pointed statistical secretary. The morning session had to do with

The morning session had to do with matters of business concerning the district. Rev. Capt. Caswell, the newly-appointed Bursar of Victoria University, was present and set forth the claims of the educational work in a very forceful way. He showed how the financial condition of the college was weak, owing to the fact that over 500 of the students were in Flanders fighting for the Kips. It was arranged that October 21 be set apart as educational field day for Goderich district, when representatives from the college would fill the various pulpits of the district.

The afternoon meeting was largely devoted to missionary problems, but before the subject was discussed Capt. Caswell gave an address, telling of his experiences overseas. He was largely influential in recruiting the 203rd Battallon in Winnipeg. He said the church in the old land needed to attain to a more aggressive leadership. He said Britain is doing nobly and is saving Canada.

Britain is doing nobly and is saving Canada.

"She is doing the biggest thing God ever gave men to do," he said, "and he she has her last dollar and last man in the basket. We in Canada must realize this is our war."

The missionary problems were discussed by Rev. Dr. McCamus of Blenn heim, ex-president of the London conference. Rev. John Saunby, missionary from Japan, and Rev. J. H. Arnup, missionary secretary. Revs. McCamus and Arnup urged upon the delegates the importance of increasing missionary enthusiasm. The aim for missions this dyear in the Methodist Church in Canada is $800,000. For London conference $115,000, and for Goderich district about $3,000—this being an advance of 20 per cent over last year. December 2 was day.

Rev. Mr. Saunby gave a splendid address concerning his work in Japan, describing conditions at the present time and in relation to the war. The meeting was one of the most enthusiastic and most largely attended ever held in the district.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

"MADE IN GERMANY." To the Editor of The Advertiser: A few days ago a quantity

enameledware was purchased for the use of the Convalescent Hospital from a prominent firm, and were taken into use as bona fide Canadian manufacture. This belief was strengthened by the presence of a plentiful supply of labels, stuck to the underside of each of the articles, proclaiming positively that they were "Made in Canada." All very fine and everyone satisfied, but "truth will out" in spite of lying labels. Soon afterwards the "labels began to peel off—as might be expected—and underneath glaring like a Death's Head were the words we supposed banished along with "kultur" and "higher philosophy," Made in Germany that we object the words we supposed banished along with "kultur" and "higher philosophy," Made in Germany that we object to will admit the possibility, the ustice very will admit the possibility, the ustice view of the course of them since. But what, in the name of a long-suffering and patriotic people, is the reason other than profiteering, for labeling these goods made by the murderers of our kin with a statement that they were "Made in Canada" and sold at unfair rates considering their foul grigin.

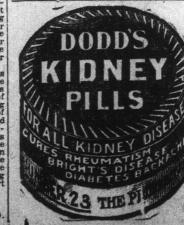

Ever so often we hear of religious bodies making protests against the vices and near-vices of the solders and earnestness. In good works—is perpeturated a thing that has all the elements of crime, deception, unfair profits made through that deception at a time when the earnings and savings of the pospile are called for as never before in the history of the Dominion, besides giving directly or indirectly aid and comfort to our enemies.

Very truly yours.

UNABLE TO GET SUFFICIENT CASH TO RETURN HOME

London Soldier, Whose Wife Was Killed, So Declares.

CANNOT GET HIS PAY

Lance-Corp. Weston Again Explains His Unexpected Stay in England.

Unless Corporal John Weston, whose wife was killed by a train in the eastend G. T. R. yard more than two months ago, has received transportation since September 9 he is still in England, and according to his latest letter is not likely to see Canada in spite of the fact that his two children are practically orphaned and are relyare practically orphaned and are relying on the generosity of their grandmother to keep them from starvation.

Officials of the Soldiers' Ald Comission state that they wired the Pay I Records Office in old London on ust 31 and it is possible that Wester writing on September 9 had not then been notified. They think it likely that Weston is with a party of soldiers which just arrived at Quebec and is reported to contain a large number of furlough men. They have received no notification of his salling. In his letter Corporal Weston says: Tam so pleased to know that Dorothy and Johnny are well. I have been nearly out of my mind for I have not had a line from anybody and I did not even know until last week what happened to Marcy and then Aunt Nell sent me the slips of paper and the letter that you's sent her. The reason I didn't write as soon as all left France was because I thought I would be home as soon as any letters would reach you. On July 10 I received a telegram from the Soldiers' Ald telling me that May was killed and the next day there was a cablegram from Ottawa recalling me to Canada. I was sent from here (Shornecliffe) to Buxton. When I sot there but I was there for a month and as I couldn't stand the food there. I bought all my meals, so you can imagine that money didn't last long.

"When I came over from France I went to the pay office in London to ask them to advance me some money, telling them I needed it to buy some things with and not knowing at the time that I had to pay my own fare. They didn't last long.

"When I went to France I was getting $1.60 a day but if December, 1915, they cut all our money down to the fovernment $100, or rather they say I do, but they owe me $270 on my working pay. I guess May told you all about that, but I will explain it to you. When I went to France I was getting $1.60 a day but if December, 1915, they cut all our money down to carry on' for that we could have our discharge. Well as May kept pleading for me to come home I asked for my discharge and my name was sent

THE WORLD SERIES ROUND-UP.

We realize the fact that a baseball proposition developed on copy doesn't necessarily work out on the ball field.

You might prove or show on copy paper that two plus two equals four. But you might prove or show on copy paper that two plus two might equal to the uncertainties of field action, two plus two might equal to the uncertainties of field action, two plus two might equal to the uncertainties of field action, two plus two might equal to the uncertainties of field action.

But in the main, figures plus the dope have a way of working out in proper The club picked by the figures and the majority of experts to win generally so the purpose of this serial narrative is to offer an dvance opinion on the matter of the New York Giants and the Chicago White Sox, who are being primed to meet head-on in one of the greatest world series collisions of recent

BURNS VS. JACKSON.

There was a day when Joe Jackson's place was up with Cobb and Speaker. Then it was Ty, Tris and Joe.

But that day belonged to the era when Jackson was batting around .380. At the outfielding art alone he was merely fair.

George Burns, of the Giants, on the opposite bank, while never a massive defensive work has been always brilliant, for in addition to a wide range back and forward, he had the knack of starting quickly and arriving on time. And and forward, he had the knack of starting quickly and arriving on time. And very few have had a finer arm for service. But Burns this season has even passed Jackson in offensive strength. He has made more hits, scored more runs and stolen three times as many bases.

passed Jackson in offensive strength, He has made more and stolen three times as many bases.

On the season's complete returns Burns has undoubtedly done the better work, both at bat and in the field.

Jackson's slugging value at bat is not to be understimated. He is always a dangerous citizen with the big mace poised for action. But he is up against a rival who can easily outfield him and who all the year has been just a trifle

The decision goes to Burns.

KAUFF VS. FELSCH.

On the figures alone Benny Kauff, the Glant centre fielder, and Hap Felsch, who operates the same department for the White Sox, would be ranked as closely together as John W. Nip and Henry V. Tuck, the well-known fifty-fifties. Kauff is a fast, hard hitting outfielder, always aggressive and on the job, a greatly improved player over last year.

But in Felsch he is up against one of the leading stars of the American League, another fast, sure outfielder who can hit and who is always highly dangerous in a pinch.

This Kauff-Felsch clash should be one of the most interesting duels of the coming carnival. But while Kauff is very good, Felsch is a trifle steadler in the outfield, just as brilliant, and a trifle more dangerous at bat.

In the American League he ranks third to Cobb and Speaker, who run 1-2. He has been a great run-making factor all the year, and no one south side star has contributed more to the cause.

has been a great run-making factor all the year, and no one south side star has contributed more to the cause.

Kauff is also a long distance hitter, but between the two we feel that Chlcago has the shade with Felsch.

ROBERTSON VS. LIEBOLD.

In right field the Giants will offer Dave Robertson against Nemo Liebold, who with Shano Collins has done most of the work. Neither ball club is as who with Shano Collins has done most of the work. Neither ball club is as strongly intrenched in right field as it happens to be in the other two sections.

Last season Dave Robertson gave every evidence of being a Mr. Cobb. Uptrough July he batted over .350. Then he began to fade out and has never been near .300 since.

n near 300 since. Robertson is a spectacular outfielder with fine speed and a great arm. But he is none too steady and is erratic in handling ground balls. He isn't as consistent a fielder as Liebold is, but more sensational. His superiority over Liebold at bat is pronounced. He has not only made more hits, but for longer distances.

Liebold is a .240 batsman, who will be near that mark in the coming series.

Robertson may bat .340 or .119. He is none too good against left-handers, but again a hight-hander is likely to peel the cover off the ball at any given As one or two long blows may turn a world series upside down, Robertson undoubtedly carries greater value for a six or seven-game affair. He has the

Via the figures and the dope, the Giants in Burns, Kauff and Robertson have a slightly stronger outfield than the White Sox have in Jackson, Felsch

The Sox have two dangerous hatsmen. The Giants have three. The three Giants combined are stronger in attack and no weaker in a defensive way.

The two outfields are among the best who have met in any world series clash. Neither is as good as the Red Sox combination of 1912, with Speaker,

But no two outfields since have presented more high-class talent. And when the final returns are in it isn't probable that any part of the defeat can be charged to weakness upon either club in the general outfield play. (Wednesday-The Two Infields.)

FERDINAND SCHUPP.

(New York Giants.)

The world's record for effective pitching is held by a lefthander who looks like a prep school kid and acts like a seasoned vetergn in the pincipes. He has one of the best fast balls that ever busted over the plate, superbountor, which it took three years to acquire, and a record of allowing only 90 earned runs in 140 innings of big league pitching.

His name is Schupp.

He was a big factor in winning the pennant for the Giants this year and a great aid in their world's record of 26 straight wins. If past performances or dope indicate anything at all,, this nervy sensational lefthander of McGraw's ought to make World's Series history when the Giants and White Sox tear into each other in the Big Scrap.

Schupp is a good example of what persistency will do for a player. Up to two vears ago his big fault was wild-Schupp is the more brilliant and Cicotte the more experienced. Schupp has as much "stuff" as any pitcher in the game. Cicotte is one of the foxiest, cagiest boxmen who ever worked.

Chicago White Sox.)

Thirteen years ago an undersized twenty-year-old kid pitched his first game of professional ball for Calumet, Mich. He had unlimited nerve a bushile eague wind-up and a freak delivery. He copped this first start, aniowing six hits and fanning eleven batters.

This youngster was Eddie Clootte and the freak delivery was the afterward famous knuckle-ball.

Today, thirteen years later, this same righthander is the most discussed twirter in the game. He is still using a freak delivery but the scribes and bugs call it the "shine" ball and the "sallor. Eddie is the ace of the Chicago White Sox hurling staff and the hope of the south side fans on the brink of what promises to be the most hectic world's series ever staged.

There is little in the line of baseball achievement that Evers can wish for. For many years he was regarded as the greatest second baseman in the game. Now Evers wants to retire from baseball as the oldest player in point of service in the major leagues.

This spring, when the retirement of Honus Wagner was announced, he thought he had realized his ambition, for Wagner is the only man in baseball who has been "up there" longer than Pepper John.

Then Wagner came back. Right now he is playing great baseball and it will be surprising if he is not in the game next year.

be surprising if he is not in the game next year.

Johnny, in the meanwhile, is going back. Illness and his fiery, nervous make-up have combined to undermine his constitution. That he will finish this season is not to be doubted, but whether he will be able to weather another stormy year is questionable.

This year he has not been able to play regularly. His recent transfer to Philadelphia may lengthen his days in the game, for he will be able to get along with easy-going Pat Moran, while every day was a tempest with the guick-tempered George Stallings at the helm.

Sunday night when an oil stove exploded.

Mrs. Mooney was washing her daughter's head, using coal oil in the water, according to members of the family, when some of the oil spilled near the stove. Immediately the girl, who was seated near the stove, was enveloped in flames, which spread to the clothing of Mrs. Mooney. Both ran into the yard, after a younger daughter had attempted to extinguish the flames by throwing water on them. Their cries attracted the husband, who wrapped them in wet blankets. They received medical attention, but both were so badly burned that recovery was impossible. Mrs. Mooney is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Mooney is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Jerry O'Connell and Miss Mary Quinlan; three brothers, Phillip, James and Joseph Quinlan, all living at Maidstone.

Small Arms Turn Scale.

The battle of the Menin road—one of the greatest British successes of the war—in which the rifle and bayonet figured so largely, is a marked demonstration of the wisdom of this policy. In these days it is minor tactics that success depends upon to a great extent. It is small arms—after the artillery has done its work—that turn the scale. It may be a hard thing for many to contemplate, but this war is being won by killing men, and the rifle and steel are accomplishing this. "Kill" is the word that every soldier must learn and heed. Often it is that Tommy does not like this business of killing.

INVESTORS-You know what industries have done for London, Hamilton, Brantford, Sarnia and Windsor.

INVESTORS—You know it takes capital to organize and develop an industry, and this must be sought from the investors of a community.

INVESTORS-You know the Middlesex Mills, Limited, is London's latest industry; that it is the only one of its kind in London. It is not, however, an experimental business, but, rather, a basic one. Our laws and temperature compel everyone to wear clothes. This business is engaged in the preparation of fabrics for clothing.

INVESTORS—Let us tell you something about it that will interest you. Its business has already outgrown its capacity, although it was only February last when operations were begun in the line which is now keeping the plant fully occupied. Last week's shipments reached 28,560 yards. The floors of the warehouse are covered with thousands of yards of material waiting attention.

The business is a profitable one and will continue to grow as our population grows.

Already present output is earning more than sufficient to meet twice over all charges on capital invested. The success of any business is very largely contingent upon the experience and ability of its management.

The Middlesex Mills, Limited, is peculiarly fortunate in having at its head as president Mr. Albert Mitchell, born at Bolton, Lancashire, in the very heart of the weaving district of England, brought up to the weaving industry under his father. Mr. David Mitchell, inventor of weaving improvements, and highly regarded for his efficiency by one of the old guilds of England, "The Most Worshipful Makers of Cloth." Mr. Mitchell has many samples of his handiwork with the loom which promise for practical supervision and insursatisfactory product. Later year's experience gathered in Philadelphia and other cities well fits Mr. Mitchell for his present undertaking, and promises great success and profit for the shareholders.

Mr. Lyster, secretary-treasurer, was for over twenty years in the employ of the Bank of Nova Scotia, and left the position of manager of the London branch of that bank to join Mr. Mitchell in building up the company because he was satisfied Mr. Mitchell is thoroughly proficient in the building up of such an industry as the Middlesex Mills, Limited, has now reached.

War Conditions Create Cloth-Making Industry

Cloths From the Fleece to the Piece Now Made on a Big Scale in Canada for the First Time -Many Difficulties Had To Be Overcome.

INDUSTRIES DEVELOPED IN CANADA

AS A RESULT OF THE WAR Many big developments have taken place in the Canadian textile trades as a result of the war. The heavy demands for all kinds of woolens and other naterials have meant the inauguration of factories that cover the whole gamut materials have meant the inauguration of factories that cover the whole gamut of the cloth-making industry, from fleece to the finished product. Materials that were wholly imported before the war are now, for the first time, made in Canada on a large scale. Many varieties and colors were exhibited at the Canadian National Exhibition, and experts declared that they reach the qualities heretofore exported by some of the best British and foreign houses.

The inauguration of these new industries does not necessarily mean a loss of trade to the enemy, as such importations did not hitherto come here from the Central European powers; the vast majority came from Britain. But no deliberate effort has been made to deprive British firms of their Canadian connections; while these concerns are distracted by the war, or otherwise-precluded from attending to the needs of their Canadian customers while the war lasts. rom attending to the needs of their Canadian customers while the war lasts. ALLIED GOVERNMENTS ENCOURAGED INDUSTRY.

The growth of the Canadian cloth-weaving industry is the net result The growth of the Canadian cloth-weaving industry is the net result of the encouragement indirectly given the Canadian firms by the allied governments in the shape of war contracts. For many months after war broke out, on into the winter of 1914 and 1915, there was a big shortage of army blankets, and later of the khaki necessary for clothing Kitchener's army, which was then in the process of formation. The Canadian textile men were urged to make new departures, and install new machinery, looms, etc., in their cloth-weaving departments. The permanent establishment of cloth-making in this country is

But this new development did not take place in a day. The very nature of the cloth-making trade demands expensive and laborious experiments. Im<sup>2</sup> mense looms had to be assembled, expert labor had to be obtained, then the proper materials had to be forthcoming, and later the dyes.

BIG DEPENDENCE ON OVERSEAS HOUSES. of the alleged unfortunate features of the textile trade generally in Canada has been, and is now, to a very large extent, the virtual dependence

Canada has been, and is now, to a very large extent, the virtual dependence upon overseas wool houses for the different varieties of wool, such as worsted tops, etc., chiefly because the grades of wood desired in this country are not grown by the sheepmen. Also the factories lacked proper combing facilities, others could only do certain classes of work, and then their supplies ran short, and they could not get more from Britain, they were forced to cease operations. This did happen at one time during the war period, and a commission had to be formed to negotiate the bringing of more supplies to Canada.

All these experiences have taught the Canadian textile men the futility of placing too great a reliance upon overseas markets for many of their important materials, and they have each set about the task of minimizing their dependence upon others, and making their factories complete in every regard, while they specialize on certain finished products. Today some firms have installed combs, so that they can handle all kinds of wool, while at least one concern has commenced building looms for the textile trade. One of the largest looms in the world was shown at the Canadian National Exhibition. It is the product of a Toronto factory.

TYPICAL EXAMPLE OF NEW DEVELOPMENT.

TYPICAL EXAMPLE OF NEW DEVELOPMENT.

A typical example of what has taken place in the Canadian textile industry during the past two and a haif years is given in the history of the development, of the Barrymore Cloth Company, Limited, recently incorporated under, a Dominion charter to aid in the filling of the demand of the French Government for army blankets. In 1914, shortly after the war started, Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce, called a meeting of the woolen manufacturers of Canada and explained to them that the French Government had applied to this country for blankets in large quantities. As the available looms were not this country for blankets in large quantities. As the available looms were not sufficient to meet this demand, the manufacturers took special efforts to increase their capacity. After the initial French order was complete, similar orders were handled for the Italian and Canadian governments. Then Sir Edward Kemp asked the company to undertake the manufacture of large quantities of khaki serge, for tunics and trousers of the Canadian army uniforms. ARMY CLOTHES NOW MADE HERE.

As can readily be understood this departure would tax the abilities of any organization, as there was no precedent for the making of army cloths in Canada to guide the company past the many difficulties which, naturally, arose at first. These, however, were overcome by research, experiment and painstaking labor, until within a very short time the plant was running day and night, and producing large quantities of cloth to the Government standard specification. This continued over two years, until the militia stores had accumulated sufficient stock to enable them to reduce, and finally eliminate, their contracts.

In the meantime, the company had realized that under present circum-

In the meantime, the company had realized that under present circumstances, due largely to the difficulties of import, there was a tremendous demand for "Made-in-Canada" woolens for domestic clothing trade. While operating on war orders, a special organization was prepared to produce an adequate line of civilian materials which would assist in meeting the present demand, and be quite ready to cope with the large requirements of our soldiers, when they are reclothed into civilian garb.

NEWEST PATTERNS, LATEST STYLES.

Within a short time, an attractive range of velours, cassimeres, tweeds, etc., in plain colors, also newest pattern styles, had been developed and was ready for the market. The reception accorded it by the trade was even more encouraging than had been hoped for, and within a very short time the entire encouraging than had been hoped for, and within a very short time the child capacity of the plant, which had been more than trebled since the initial installation of looms, was severely taxed. Owing to the difficulty in securing weavers to cope with the orders, deliveries, for some time, were delayed, but now, these difficulties have been largely overcome, and for the future there promises to be no trouble of this nature.

TEXTILE SCHOOLS ARE SUGGESTED.

"To seize the present opportunity afforded Canadians to establish textile industries in Canada, the Federal and Provincial Governments, together with the cities and towns, should combine their efforts to establish textile schools in Canada, where the trade can be taught, from wool to finishing cloth, in all its different branches," declared an official of the concern. "Germany obtained its ense growth in textiles through its textile and research schools, which were financed on above plan, each party paying a third, and the manufacturers assisting by contributions of equipment, giving scholarships, etc."—The Toronto

TIME TO THINK.

It doesn't pay to be too busy. Unless a man has some time to think in a natural way about things in general he loses a great measure of mental growth. It is well to be active—a wholesome thing for every faculty of the mind. But as the trees and flowers need both periods of rain and periods of sunshine, so men need to be sometimes busy and sometimes able to stop and think. Quiet thought is refreshing to the busy man.

A great many men in business do not at all appreciate this fact—however commonplace it may seem. They drive themselves or let themselves be driven by their work all day long, day in and tlay out, year in and year out. What time they have away from their work is often spent in an endless round of social and pleasurable activities, leaving practically no half-hour without its impending purpose, no time to reflect or to let the mind act from impulses other than the purposes with which it is being driven continuously. Such a man's mind gets into a whirl, revolving in a very small orbit and making him oblivious to greater themes that ile wholly outside of the limited circle of his own strenuous activity.

WALL STREET CONDITIONS.

WALL STREET CONDITIONS.

The United States Government having fixed the price of copper at 23½c and steel at $58 to $65, will stabilize things considerably, and the outlook is not any too encouraging for the bears, who have for weeks been pounding the market with but little regard for the quality or status of the securities attacked. There have been, however, a goodly supply of bargain hunters on hand every day to pick up the more attractive things, as was evidenced on Saturday and Monday, when Canadian Pacific Railway stock touched 148 several times, and almost as frequently rebounded to 150½. As the result of the Government direction of traffic methods, doing away with the extravagant and senseless competition for certain tonnage for competitive points, the railroads are carrying heavier loads at the same overhead expense, and fortunately, owing to the war, there is greatly increased tonnage to carry, but we must not overlook the fact that these are abnormed times, and the railroads must do much better now, else what may be expected in the absence of war-made tonnage. The Government have passed the $11,000,000,000 credit and a new Liberty Loan will be brought out October 1. The banks are committed to a policy of helpful influence that will prevent apparently any serious unsettlement of prices for stable securities. It should be noted, however, that for several months there has been a large absorption of the better class of stocks among the small buyers, who are often called the "odd lot men," and a more noticeable thing about such purchases is the length of time they take ordinarily to come back into the market again. In fact it has been said by some of the odd traders that the market will never again present some of the hazardous features that have at odd times characterized its pyrotechnics, this because there is never a very formidable quantity of any stock, overhanging the market. The market is undoubtedly widening. The railway trains will continue running, the tonnage moving from point to point, and divid

As the best way to create an estate is by means of A LIFE INSURANCE POLICY, so the best executor is THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANY. The ordinary executor may discount the future by providing for his wards too lavishly for the present. He may speculate or waste the estate by unfortunate investment. He may even prove to be dishonest and rob the trusting heirs of their inheritance. There are today, as there always have been, thousands of gently bred women and children who were left amply provided for and whose estates have been thus lost. The executor at any rate must himself die and give place to another. So metimes also the losses occur through the mismanagement, misfortune or dishonesty of husbands, brothers of other relatives or trusted friends. A large policy to be paid in continued installments during life is the surest and best estate a man can leave. The insurance company will be an executor who will neither die nor prove recreant to it s trust.

URGE FOOD CONTROLLER TO FREE ALL GRAIN HELD BY BREWERIES

LUCKNOW, Sept. 24.—At a mass meeting of citizens held in the interests of food conservation, the following resolution was unanimously passed, with instructions that copies be sent to Premier Borden, Food Controller Hanna and the press:

Controller Hanna and the press:

"RESOLVED, that in view of the scarcity and high price of food, and the urgent need of conserving all food grains and grains which can be used in the production of meat, it is the opinion of this meeting that the food controller for Canada should, at the earliest possible date, prevent the further use of grain or foodstuffs of any kind in the manufacture of alcoholic beverages, for the duration of the war, and that all grain in distillery and brewery storehouses be liberated for food. Berne, Switzerland, Sept. 24.—President Schulthess said today in the National Council that 1,350,000 persons, more than one-third of the population of Switzerland, were receiving bread and other food at reduced prices, through the assistance of the authorities. Swiss exports are now restricted almost exclusively to tobacco and chocolate, all the country's food resources being required for home consumption.

OTTAWA Sept. 24.—An increase in pay is the only recommendation made by the board of concillation under the industrial disputes investigation act, which has completed an inquiry into the dispute between the Canadian Pacific Railway and its station agents, operators, train dispatchers, and linemen.

The board recommends an increase for station agents, operations relief agents and innemen of not less than 18 per cent upon their present monthly wages, and an increase for train dispatchers of not less than 12 per cent. The board further recommends that these increases in rates be distributed as requested by the employees, having regard to a reduction in the differentials between eastern and western, due to the difference in cost of living in the east and west. A number of the requests made by the employees are not recommended at the present time, but are reserved for future consideration between the parties.

Difference Not So Great.

The report notes that owing to the heretofore marked differences in living conditions east and west of Fort William; the employees on the western lines received increased recognition in wages over the employees east of that point, for the reason that living conditions were heretofore less expensive in the east.

This difference is not so pronounced conditions east and western liam; the employees on the western lines received increased recognition in wages over the employees east of that point, for the reason that living conditions were heretofore less expensive in the east.

This difference is not so pronounced at the present time, and a reduction in the differential is now justified, as living conditions in the east and west living conditions in the east and west living conditions in the east are now more nearly equal.

The finding of the board, while giving a considerable increase, does not meet the full deplands of the employees, who sought an increase qualing in aggregate to 25 per cent of their assailants.

The finding of the board will enter the full deplands of the employees, who sought an increase qualing in aggregate to 25 per cent of their dwages. In support of their demand wages. In support of their deplands of the produced data compiled by the department of labor from some sixty delegating for him the slightest advantage.

On the right bank the artillery actions took on a character of extreme intensity during the night in the neighborhood of the Bois-des-Fosses and the Bois-le-Chaume. Everywhere else the night was calm. SARNIA, Sept. 24.—The jury, which inder Coroner Hayes, tonight invesunder Coroner layes, tunder to the tigated the accident which on Friday last caused the death at Point Edward of James Dale, returned a verdict that the killing was entirely accidental, Dr. R. G. MacDonald, who conducted the post-mortem, stated that deceased had a cut three and a half inches long on his head, and a fractured skull. Death was due to the fracture. John Leathorn, signalman on the steamer, stated that the bucket had been lifted out of the boat and dumped its load, and was being returned when the piece of ore fell and struck Dale. Before hitting him it struck the boat, and then landed on Dale's head, It weighed about 95 pounds, and fell 40 feet.

weighed about 95 pounds, and fell 40 feet.

W. J. Constable, manager of the firm, stated that he was unable to explain how a lump of that size could stay in the bucket, owing to the smoothness of the sides.

Other witnesses were John Smith, William Smith and Harry Smith.

The jury was only out 40 minutes. It was composed of Robert Thomas, foreman; J. Warrener, G. Lackie, S. Simpson, J. Keys, D. McKenzie, T. Gates and W. Eddy.

Who is it knocks and does not boost it?

Sure, it is the man who has not used it, for William Lovelock, the well-known painter in St. Thomas, 14 Station street, for over twelve years, says; "I was all in with inflammatory rheumatism. I went to bed in September, 1911, and the first work I was able to do was on the 17th of March, 1912.

"I was swollen from head to foot; in fact, my limbs were twice the ordinary size, and I was in intense pain for three weeks. I was unable to feed myself, and was suffering more each day. My physicians teld me plainly to prepare for the worst, as about ten days was-my limit. A friend of mine, who was trying to cheer me up a bit, after the physician had left, remarked: "Why not try Parker's Oil?" I sent to Small's drug store and purchased a bottle, and, after the first application, received relief, and in three days, the pain was gone and swelling reduced greatty. I used seven bottles, and here I am today, willing to testify and give praise to Parker's Black Oil, the sure cure for rheumatism, as I found it.

This latest charge of attempted murder was made yesterday. Monette. is also accused of attempting to murder Conrad Therrien, a chauffetr, whose automobile Monette is said to have taken for the use of the dynamiter gang with which he was associated.

PEACE RUMORS FALSE, SAYS RUSS MINISTER

Washington, D. C., Sept. 25.—The federal trade commission decided today it would turn over to newspaper publishers for such use as they desire to make of it, all records and correspondence in the agreement of last March made with newsprint 'manufacturers, by which paper prices were to have been cut. Some of the manufacturers declined to carry out the agreement when the Government refused to halt grand jury proceedings against them in New York, charging violation of the anti-trust laws. Publishers who signed the agreement have made frequent inquiries of the commission as to what are their rights in the circumstances. The commission, giving no definite answer, will turn over the records and let the publishers themselves judge what they best can do.

Montreal, Sept. 25.—A special from London says:
The Tageblatt bitterly blames the Government for ignering the publishers' protests and allowing the collapse of the paper supply, following the recent suspension of the Saxon mills for one week. Among the things left out of the Sunday Berlin papers was a war loan advertisement.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

Owing to the poor attendance of the market and the consequent poor demand, slight declines in certain vegetables and fruits occurred. Potatoes sold at a slightly higher range of values notwithstanding the small attendance, however, and a few bushels brought $1.60, which is an advance of 10c over the prevailing prices of the last month. Monday it was reported that spuds sold as low as $1 a bushel, but only four or five bushels were found to have brought this low value. value.

Trading on the folder and grain markets continued slow and draggy. Local hay purchasers are nearly filled up with fodder, and the market is showing the effects of the poorer demand. The price of hay declined when all leads sold at $10 to $11.50 a ton. Oats remain unchanged, only a few loads coming in. The price of oats is expected to depreciate materially with the appearance of a normal supply, but as long as the present small offering continues, it is doubtful if any change for a lower value will take place.

Live hogs remain firm at $17 a cwt., and dressed porkers sell at $22.

Dairy products are stationary and in brisk demand. Dairy men anticipate an increase in butter prices very shortly with the appearance of colder weather.

The demand for fowl is becoming larger daily. Poultry vendors state that housewives evidently prefer fowl to meat, because of the high price of the latter. They pointed out that on a basis of food value, poultry is distinctly cheaper than meat, and because of the fact many local housewives are buying an excessive amount of live and flead birds.

WALL STREET. New York, Sept. 25-Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Higher prices prevailed at the outset of today's trading, the war shares and related issues extending yester-day's gains by large fractions to a point. These were offset, however, by the neaviness of coppers, motors and tobacheaviness of coppers, motors and tobaccos. United States Steel also reflected pressure with Crucible, and rails were irregular within narrow limits. Most advances were surrendered before the end of the first hour on increased offerings.

Noon.—Persistent selling of United States Steel, which rallied to 11, only to recede to 111%, served to undermine the general list during the active first hour. Bethlehem Steel also displayed marked heaviness, falling 2% points, and Crucible lost 1%. Other backward features included leading coppers, the motors and tobaccos, Baldwin Locomotive and Wesetinghouse. The few strong issues were mainly represented by shippings, leathers and oils. Substantial recoveries set in before noon, rails leading the upward movement.

1:30 p.m.—The rise in rails, which ranged from 1 to 3 points in issues of importance, caused a hasty covering of shorts and stimulated by ing elsewhere. United States Stee. rose to 113%, and other leaders supplemented their advances of the noon hour.

Acording to Secretary Hearns of the Western Ontario Dairyman's Association, the output of cheese may be seriously lessened as the demand for control of the circus.

tion, the output of cheese may be seriously lessened as the demand for condensed milk increases. He stated that local cheese-producing firms cannot hope to pay the prices for milk that the condensed milk firms pay. The manufacturers of condensed milk are at present making money fast and can afford to give the highest prices for milk. Mr. Hearns said that the cheese situation was such that he could not discuss it minutely at present. The whole thing would be threshed out at whole thing would be threshed out at the convention during January when the 51st convention of the Western Ontario dairymen would be staged at

The story of "Polly," which has been given a tremendous production in its picturized form, is that of a motherless girl of the circus, and, of the part she plays in the drama of life in a small American village. It is a romance of the sawdust ring and has been termed "the classic of the Bip Tops."

Both of her parents are dead, and slim and Toby, circus hands, are her During the year of 1914 the entire production of cheese in Western On-tario amounted to 21,009,065 pounds and sold at an average price of 13 cents a pound. In 1916 the price of cheese in-creased substantially as did the pro-duction because of the large demand of the troops in training and overseas. The increase was about eight million pounds more and the cost advanced 5 cents per pound. This large increase in production will be lessened if the milk production is not extraordinarily heavy this year, because of the sudden popularity of condensed milks with the United States and the fighting

A program of training for teen age girls, along the lines of the Canadian standard efficiency tests for boys has been completed and will be introduced in a number of the city churches during the coming season. This will be known as the "Canadian girls in training" course, and aims at fourfold development of girls, as does the standard efficiency tests for their brothers. Plans have already been discussed for organizing a group of senior girls in the King Street Presbyterian Church. King Street Church has taken a leading part among churches in the city in young people's work, and has been especially successful in connection with the boys' work movement. tion. The character of Sylvia Standish, portrayed in this play by Miss Kane, was one of the most remarkable character studies in the history of the screen. It is a psychological lesson that reveals the ramifications of the human mind and the effect of such emotion as pride, jealousy, fear and love in an analysis of human motive. Miss Kane portrays a girl who fights Miss kane portrays a giri who lights through years of mental anguish to protect her family name, convinced that a crime has been perpetrated by a member of that family, only to discover at last that her fears were groundless.

Tributes to the memory of brave London boys who have made the supreme sacrifice for King and country are common, but one of the most touching which has yet reached the city is that to Mrs. Charles Phillips. 169 High street, from Lieut. George Spencer of the 18th Battalion Lieut. Spencer was the platoon commander of the late Allen "Tim" Phillips, who enlisted with the 142nd Battalion and who was killed on August 21 last while serving with the famous 18th. The young soldier was a member of the local staff of the Royal Bank and a popular young worker of the Adelaide Street Baptist Church. He was 20 years of age.

The letter follows:

Courage Was Marvelous.

Dear Mrs. Phillips,—I have a sad, but proud, task to tell you about the death of your gallant son. In my opinion the greatest heroes of this terrible war are the privates in the ranks, and the stretcher-bearers are higher than these. It is the highest test of a man's courage and faith to attend the wounded, when terrible shells are falling all around and well I remember your son doing this. He was at all times courteous and faithful and brave in doing his duty. He stuck to my side, and during the last attacks of this battalion upon the Hun line and ready to do any work upon which I might send him. I will not forget him binding up one of the men's wounds during one of Fritz's barrages on our front trench. I marveled at his wondrous courage at the time right in the middle of the trench. Shells were bursting all around.

courage at the time right in the middle of the trench. Shells were bursting all around.

To show you what I thought of him I will write what I had sent into headquarters the very night before your son was killed: "I have the honor to recommend the following for conspicuous service. During a heavy, shell fire he attended the wounded and removed them to shell holes, cheering all men near him by example and words, returning time after time to his task during the counter-attacks." With this recommendation I was trying to get your son awarded the Military Medal. So you see what I thought of him. He was faithful and trufe, a good soldier of the King, and as I see by his letters and papers which I send you from his pockets, he was a good soldier of our Lord. I have purposely cut the page from his diary, which I inclose, because I have shown it to my brother officers, who thought it splendid, and I have copied the words myself. Your soh was instantly killed by a shell which fell in the middle of
