Condition, However, Holds Serious Possibilities and Surgeons Will Today Have a Consultation With a View to Removing the Bullets.

New York, Aug. 10.—A consultation of physicians over Mayor Wm. J. Gaynor, who was shot by a discharged employee of the city yesterday, was held this morning after the ten o'clock bulletin was issued.

The mayor's condition is improving. It is the unanimous opinion of the surgeons that no operation is necessary at this time.

Dr. John Wagner, who visited St. Mary's Hospital this morning, said that he had learned that Mayor Gaynor's temperature during the night was 102, and that at 6 o'clock it was 100 1-5.

New York, Aug. 10.—Mayor Gaynor was resting comfortably at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon, and there was no appreciable change in his condition. His physicians hope that an operation may not be necessary. Dr. Parrish, the family physician, is constantly in attendance.

FLIES ACROSS THE IRISH SEA ACTOR LORRAINE'S GREAT FLIGHT

Sails From Blackpool to a Point On the North Coast of Wales a Distance of Fifty Miles.

[Associated Press Cable.]
London, Aug. 10.—Robert Lorraine, the actor, quitted as a star aviator today by making a splendid flight across the Irish Sea, a distance of more than fifty miles, from Blackpool, Eng., to Llandudno on the coast of North Wales.

Lorraine had already attracted some attention by daring exploits in the air and last spring at Pau fell from a height of thirty feet and was painfully out of a hitch.

POLICE NOW HAVE A REAL CLUE AS TO ESCAPED PRISONERS

It is understood that Sheriff Cameron, through the city police, has been given a clue to the whereabouts of Jack Roberts, who escaped with Joseph Steadman by climbing over a twenty-five-foot wall around the exercise yard at the county jail a week ago.

ABEL WAS ACQUITTED OF STEALING BICYCLE

Proved That He Purchased Bike in Good Faith From a Boy.

Ethelbert Abel, a young man charged some days ago with the theft of a bicycle belonging to Mr. A. Tillmann, was acquitted this morning when he appeared before Magistrate Love. Abel said that he purchased the bicycle about three weeks ago from a youth whom he only knew by the name of "Jack." He had seen "Jack" a number of times about the streets, and on the night he bought the wheel met him coming out of the Tracton Company's station, and he wanted to buy a wheel, and sold it to him for $8. He said he was going to Detroit and did not need it any more.

This story was corroborated by W. Carrothers, a friend of Abel's, who was with him at the time the deal took place.

The wheel was changed considerably since it was taken from Mr. Tillmann, and had new pedals, a new saddle and the nickel steel rims had been painted blue. It was, however, positively identified as Mr. Tillmann's wheel.

POWER LINES FOR THE MANUFACTURERS

City's Electrical Department Will Soon Begin Construction.

Power lines for manufacturers will be laid in a short time.

This morning Engineer Roberts, Manager Dark and Superintendent Alfred took a walk about the manufacturing part of the city to discover the best routes, and a report will be prepared to be submitted to the water commissioners at as early a date as possible.

"Everything is going ahead splendidly," said Manager Dark. "We have not heard when the Hydro-Electric Commission will start the high tension line to Springbank, but it will probably be within a short time. Our construction work is proceeding rapidly."

BIG BUFFALO BLAZE.
Buffalo, Aug. 10.—The burning of the Globe Elevator Company's buildings, near the Buffalo waterfront, today, caused a loss of about $125,000, and gave the fire department several hours of strenuous work. The company's 200,000 bushel elevator, valued at about $40,000, completely wrecked, was uninsured. The loss on grain in storage is partly covered by insurance.

FAUGH-A-BALLAGH FOR THE IRISHMEN

All Is Ready for the Big Picnic Which Will Be Held at Port Stanley Tomorrow.

FOUR BANDS ENGAGED

There Will Be Music Galore and Good Time for Everybody—Prices for All.

Everything is in readiness for the big Irishmen's picnic on Thursday.

At a meeting of the society held last night in the board of trade rooms, the reports of the different committees were received, and from present indications the affair will be the best ever. There will be four bands at the picnic, the Seventh Regiment, the 26th Regiment, the bugle band and Day's string band.

If that array will not provide plenty of music everybody will be greatly surprised.

Chairman John M. Daly, of the music committee, presented a programme that will be hard to duplicate.

The Seventh band will go down on the 9:30 train, and will play at St. Thomas, going later to Port Stanley. The 26th Regiment band and the bugle band will leave at 1:20 p. m. on the Pere Marquette.

All members of the society are expected to meet at the corner of Wellington and Dundas at 9 o'clock and march to the station.

HEAVY GALE ON LAKE

Craft Have Great Trouble Reaching Wharf at Kingston.

[G. N. W. Dispatch.]
Kingston, Aug. 10.—Heavy gales swept the lake last night, but so far no damage is reported. It was a hard work to make Kingston wharves as the southwest was sweeping across the water. When the steamer Toronto reached its berth it had hard work to get out of the wind hugging it hard against the wharf.

MALLEN LEAVES LONDON

Raymond Mallen, the crack rover of last year's intermediate hockey team, has left the city for his home in Prescott, and will not return. A week or so ago he left on his holidays. He expected that he would return, but word was received that he would not be back this year. He will play hockey somewhere in the east, but it is not known where.

This will seriously cripple the hockey team this winter. Both Rodgers and Mallen, two of the mainstays of the forward line, have left, and no first players have come to take their places.

JOHN R. MINHINNICK NAMED AS MANAGER OF THE GRAND

Former Chief Accountant of the Carling B. and M. Company and a Well-Known London Boy Will Direct the Affairs of the Popular Playhouse.

Mr. John R. Minhinnick will be the manager of the Grand Opera House.

Some time ago it was announced that Mr. George Moorhead, of New York, a former Londoner, was offered the place, but that gentleman decided to remain in New York. Since then Mr. Minhinnick has been prominently mentioned as the man for the position, and it was announced today that he would take over the house at the opening of the season.

His resignation as chief accountant for the Carling Brewing and Malting Company has been received and accepted.

Mr. Minhinnick will be the first London man to be manager of the new Grand Opera House. This in itself is a tribute to the worth of Mr. Minhinnick.

Close to Mr. Small.
For many years he has taken a deep interest in theatricals. He has been confidential agent for Mr. Small for many years, and is in close touch with the business. The friends of the new manager are confident that he will fill the position most satisfactorily. He has many wishes who will take a deep interest in his progress in the theatrical profession.

ASSESSMENT INCREASE WILL BE OVER A MILLION DOLLARS

Three Wards Show a Jump of $887,000 for the Year—Figures Given Out by Assessment Commissioner Grant.

With three of the four wards completed, the increase in assessment for the city of London for 1911 amounts to $887,192. When all are completed it will run quite a bit more than a million dollars.

Assessment Commissioner Grant and his staff have just completed ward No. 2, the total increase amounts to $360,913, the most of which is in increase value of houses and land.

The land in this ward is assessed at $159,552 more than last year. The total reaches $2,411,469, as compared with $2,251,617 last year.

There is an increase in buildings amounting to $169,160. The assessment for the three wards, No. 4, No. 3 and No. 2, amounts to $887,192, a good increase. The income tax shows a falling off because of the increase in the exemption for householders from $1,000 to $1,200.

$57 on the previous assessment, an increase of $329,012.

The business values seem to be growing also. For next year the rate will be struck on an assessment of $88,138, as compared with $84,095 last year, an increase of $3,043.

There is a falling off in income assessments. This year taxes were paid on the sum of $456,169, but next year the taxes will be paid on $450,977, a decrease of $5,192.

"We are well satisfied with the returns," said Assessment Commissioner Grant. "We have had a reserve for some years, and we could increase rather than reduce. The total income for the three wards, No. 4, No. 3 and No. 2, amounts to $887,192, a good increase. The income tax shows a falling off because of the increase in the exemption for householders from $1,000 to $1,200."

MALICIOUS ATTEMPT WAS MADE TO WRECK AUTO AT LAMBETH

Car Carrying Mr. S. Stevely and Party Crashed Over Obstruction in the Dark—Passengers Escaped But Machine Suffered Damage.

Mrs. Samuel Stevely, Miss Florence Stevely and Mr. Harry E. Buttery, of London, had a narrow escape from a serious accident near Lambeth last evening, and it would appear as if some evil-minded person or persons made a deliberate attempt to wreck automobiles and perhaps kill autoists.

The party were enjoying a run to Lambeth and when nearing the corner at the mill the automobile was slowed down to 8 or 10 miles an hour turning the corner.

Just as they reached the turn Mrs. Stevely spoke to the chauffeur. He turned to answer, and as he did so the machine crashed over a telegraph pole.

The party were almost thrown out of the car by the sudden stop, and the machine stuck fast for the time on the telegraph pole.

They jumped out, and on examination found that a telegraph pole had been placed across the road by some person.

The auto was quite badly wrecked. One of the wheels was considerably smashed and the frame was twisted. "It was a narrow escape," said Mr. Buttery. "We were going quite slowly at the time, or we would have been smashed up. We were very fortunate to get away as we did."

The case has been reported to the police.

SIX MONTHS SENTENCE FOR ALEXANDER McLEOD

Convicted of Robbing a London Township Farmer Some Days Ago.

Alexander McLeod, who was yesterday convicted before Judge Elliot at the court house of stealing $25 worth of clothing and other articles from a London Township man, was sentenced this morning to serve a six months' term in the Central Prison.

McLeod acknowledged that he had just finished a term in the prison at Ionia, Mich., in September last for a similar offence. He was born in Scotland, and has resided for a number of years in Canada and the States, and unless the government authorities take the matter up he will not be deported.

He said that he was never naturalized in the States, but that he voted there as his father was a civil war veteran.

Judge Elliot, in sentencing him, warned him that if he ever appears again he will go down for a term of years. The prisoner pleaded that the theft was committed on the impulse of the moment, and that he thought to even up with his employer, who he claimed refused to pay him for work he had done.

BISHOP FALLON ADDRESSES CONVENTION

Annual Gathering of C. M. B. A. Opened Today at Ottawa.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Ottawa, Aug. 10.—The Grand Council of the C. M. B. A. of Canada opened at Ottawa this morning with almost a thousand delegates in attendance from all parts of Canada, and at nine o'clock formed a procession headed by two bands, and marched to the Basilica, where mass was celebrated by Archbishop Gauthier, of Kingston. The English sermon was preached by Bishop Fallon, of London, and the French sermon by Father Albert, of Ottawa. The convention was afterwards formally opened in the Russell Theatre, an address of welcome to Ottawa being made by Controller Hinchey. Reports will be made this afternoon. The convention will continue three days.

FIRE DISCOVERED IN GASOLINE LAUNCH

Occupants Dumped the Boat and Soon Extinguished the Flames.

While Chancey Smith, Jun., and a party of friends were enjoying a ride in their gasoline launch on the Thames on Monday night last, fire was discovered among the cushions and sides of the boat when opposite P. J. Webb's residence.

The craft was in shallow water there, and the boys jumped out and upsetting the boat were able to put the fire out. She was then righted and towed to the dock.

The damage was not serious. The origin of the fire is not known, although it is supposed to have started from a match.

CONSTABLES FINED FOR BLACKMAILING

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Toronto, Aug. 10.—Francis Walters and Albert Tomley, two C. P. R. constables, arrested a man named H. R. Webb, and accused him of assault and trespass. They said they heard a woman scream, and Webb was near her at the time, so they took him into custody as he was on or near the C. P. R. property. Webb denied the allegation. He declared it was a case of blackmail, and that as he had refused to settle with the constables he was badly beaten up by them and arrested. The magistrate believed him and dismissed the case. Then Webb laid a charge against the constables, who were convicted and fined. Walters $5 and costs, and Tomley $10 and costs, or thirty days.

NEW WOODSTOCK CONCERN.

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Woodstock, Aug. 10.—Yet another industry has been secured for Woodstock by the Industrial committee, headed by the Canadian Lumber Machine Company of Muskegon, Michigan, with capital of a hundred and fifty thousand dollars. The company will manufacture portable glue and jointing machine for making boards out of scraps, etc., which have formerly been burned. This is the third industry secured within two weeks.

LIGHTNING BOLT HIT HOUSE CHIMNEY WAS DEMOLISHED

Inmates of the Home of Mr. George Dowling, 583 Central Avenue, Had a Narrow Escape From Death in the Storm.

The family of C. P. R. Engineer George Dowling, of 583 Central Avenue, had a terrifying experience during the heavy electrical storm that raged over the city at midnight last night.

They were sitting in the house when there was a terrific crash, and a bolt of lightning came down the chimney and went through several of the rooms, tearing things about generally, and scattering things about generally.

A large mantle in one room was torn out and hurled across the room. Miss Kerr, a sister of Mrs. Dowling, was in a room upstairs, and the bolt came down the side of the wall and threw a number of pictures to the floor.

It was discovered afterwards that the chimney was shattered, and a big hole torn in the roof. Citizens throughout the neighborhood were startled by the crash.

Felt the Shock.
At the home of Mrs. Dunlevy, a few doors away, the effects were felt. Mrs. Dunlevy was just turning out the electric lights, and when the bolt struck she sustained a severe shock from which she has not yet recovered fully. Her arm remained numb for some hours, and she was unable to use it. Electric light wires and telephones throughout the vicinity were burned out.

WATER COMMISSIONERS WILL STAND PAT ON APPOINTMENT

Hydro-Electric Commission Appears To Be Equally as Firm—The Beginning of the Battle.

The water commissioners will, it is understood, stand pat on the appointment of Assistant Engineer McCormick, who was placed in charge of the Horton street plant at a recent meeting of the board.

The hydro-electric commission, if reports are to be relied on, is just as certain that Mr. McCormick will be removed. So there the situation stands.

Neither party will discuss the matter, each waiting for the other to make a definite move.

"The appointment is a great mistake," said one of the engineers of the hydro-electric commission. "You do not think for a minute that the commission will allow an inexperienced man to take charge of such a large amount of machinery as will be placed in the Horton street plant? The act passed last session had this in mind when it was promulgated. The commission is determined that the enterprise will not be prejudiced by bad management. That is the reason it has exercised a supervision over practically every detail of local construction and management. It certainly will not stand for this appointment."

Question of Salaries.
On the other hand, the commissioners claim that the city cannot pay big salaries to many men.

"I think the commissioners made a good appointment," said Manager Dark. "In Detroit and other cities where I have been I did not see $2,000 a year men in charge of their stations. They were paid considerably less than that, and they were not any more experienced in the beginning than Mr. McCormick will be."

Acting Chairman Philip Pocock would not discuss the question.

OFFICERS RE-ELECTED FOR RIFLE ASSOCIATION

Sir John Carling Is Again Named Honorary President.

Last night at their annual meeting the Seventh Regiment Rifle Association re-elected the following officers for another year: Honorary presidents, Sir John Carling, Col. Smith and Col. Little; president, Lieut.-Col. Campbell; vice-president, Lieut. McCrimmon; treasurer, Captain Bentley; secretary, Lieut. Ware. The executive committee includes Captain Murphy, Captain Taylor, Q. M.-Sergeant Insley and Sergeant Butler. After other routine business was gone through it was decided to hold a regimental prize meet on Labor Day at the Cove ranges, the executive committee being entrusted with the preparation of the prize list and a programme of events. After some discussion for and against it was decided that no form of rear apertures was to be allowed at the meet, in order to be fair to those who may not possess them.

SEWER CAVE-IN ON MAIN STREET

A Hole Twenty Feet Square Resulted From the Flood.

The box drain connection from Graham Bros.' store on Richmond street caved in during the night, and an excavation twenty feet square was washed away.

A hole of considerable size was broken in the pavement, and street cars have to go rather gingerly over the spot.

Workmen have been put on the job, and the drain will be repaired at the earliest possible moment.

"An old box drain connecting with the main sewer collapsed," said Engineer Wright. "We have had several of them of late, the one on Ridout street being the worst. I had in hand a report to the board of works on these box sewers as a result of my inspection some days ago, and I recommended to the board that these box drains, of which there are many down town, be either plugged up or replaced with tile sewers. They will collapse from time to time, and the cost of replacing them will be greater than if it were done now, and not nearly so dangerous."

The sewer system, as a whole, is working splendidly, and is carrying off the water in good style.

THOS. MURRAY ARRESTED

Failed to Pay a Fine Imposed for Non-Support.

Thomas Murray, of Pottersburg, who was given until Saturday last to pay a fine when convicted of non-support, defaulted and was arrested last night and will appear at the next twenty-one days in Castle Car' r. The charge was laid by his wife some time ago, and Murray was allowed time to pay the fine by Squire Chittick.

ARRESTED VAGRANT HE THOUGHT STEADMAN

Woodstock, Aug. 10.—An Ottawa constable brought a man supposed to be Steadman, the escaped convict, into the city today and lodged him in jail. The man is now declared not to be Steadman, but a common vagrant.

POLES ARE IN PLACE FOR SPRINGBANK LINE

High Tension Wires for Pumping Station Will Soon Be Strung.

The poles for the high tension Niagara power line from the Horton street plant to Springbank have been practically all set up.

For some days Manager Dark has had a large force of men at work, and they have made rapid progress. As a result, a few days more work will complete the line.

The cost is well within the estimates, and it is expected that the line complete will cost less than the $10,000 estimated.

The hydro-electric commission will string the wire, and place the cross arms. The gang who will do this work will be in the city shortly, and they will hurry the work through.

According to local opinion, the local distribution line from end to end will be complete before the power gets to London.

As a matter of fact, it is thought that there will be no power distributed in the city before the end of the year.

MEN DENY STORY OF PENSION FUND

G. T. R. Strikers Say They Are Not Worrying About Loss of Old Pensions.

So far only five of the old passengers men on the G. T. R. are back at work, but some of the men state that inside of 30 days they expect to be all re-employed. The reason they give is that the company made 30-day contracts with a number of the strikers, and as soon as these expire they will be let out, and the old men re-engaged.

"In the meantime we are not worrying," said one man. "We are getting strike pay of $35 a month, and are having a nice little holiday, too."

Report Denied.
A report that the men were going to start a pension fund of their own is denied by officers of the Brotherhood.

"There is nothing in that story," said an officer to The Advertiser this afternoon. "If we get the increase that is scheduled, we will make more in five years than we would get out of the entire pension."

"How about the old men though who will be retired before five years, and who went out?" was asked.

"They get benefits from the brotherhood," was the answer. "and it is likely that in most cases if it is really needed, the company will see that the men are looked after."

Officials, however, say that the men, who are entirely merely by going out on strike.

GOVT. DOCK FOR WINDSOR

Major Lamb's Plans to Be Considered by Public Works Minister.

Windsor, Aug. 10.—Following a short visit which Wm. Pugsley, Dominion minister of public works paid to Windsor on his way up the lakes, there probably will be a renewal of the agitation for a government dock here.

The minister, on looking over the river front, admitted the need of a public dock. Plans prepared by Major Lamb, of London, Government engineer of the western district, will be discussed on the trip up the lakes.

ALL WORLD WATCHING CANADA'S NAVY

Rear-Admiral Lyons Says Its Success Depends Upon the People.

Victoria, B. C., Aug. 10.—"The success or otherwise of the Canadian navy depends wholly upon the Canadian people. If they set out to make a navy they can do it, but if they are half-hearted the plan will not amount to anything. The movement of Canada in this respect is being watched by the whole world."

This was the statement made by Rear-Admiral Lyons, of the Royal Navy, who is returning from China, where he has command of the China station. Discussing the Canadian action further, Admiral Lyons said the navy did not depend upon legislation, but upon the men and brains that were put into it. With times so good as they were in Canada at the present time he felt that it would be difficult to get young men to enter the navy as a profession. Admiral Lyons said he was glad to know that Canadians are interested in naval affairs, but he was afraid that those on the coast were speaking only for themselves and not for the farmers of the interior.

SOME BOY SCOUTS TO SEE REAL INDIANS

Fourteen London Lads On Camping and Canoe Trip of Realistic Features in Canada.

London, Aug. 10.—Scouting in real earnest—camping, canoeing, fishing, and tracking in the land of Fenimore Cooper and Capt. Mayne Reid, in the company of live red Indians and weather-beaten trappers—is the latest move on the part of the boy scouts of London. This is to be the lot of fourteen lucky boy scouts who left on July 29 en route for Canada and the "wild west."

The expedition, of which Scout Masters E. G. S. Walker and Capt. Wade are in charge, will land at Quebec, proceed thence by the Canadian Pacific Railway to Alberta, and, with the exception of a few brief visits to some of the large cities, will keep strictly to prairie, mountain and forest.

"We want to give the boys a taste of the real thing," said Mr. Walker to a correspondent. "We want them to have experience of woodcraft and camp life in a land where such things really count. We shall first camp near a ranch in Alberta. Here the boys will be able to see what real cowboys are like, what they have to do, how the cattle are looked after—in fact, everything pertaining to the management of a ranch."

"Near here we are going to enlist the services of some Redskins, either Creeks or Blackfeet, who will give us hints in the art of tracking. We shall send a boy scout forward for a couple of miles or so, and then, with the aid of the red Indians, track him down and come up with him again. We shall also get trappers to show us how to recognize the tracks of different animals and how best to follow them. We shall live in the open all the time. In which all our baggage, including cooking utensils, etc., will be stored, and which we shall drag ourselves. We are not an armed party and shall boast only one small rifle, with which the boys will be taught to shoot."

CURLS AND COILS IN NEW COIFFURE

London Women Also Find the Gigantic Hat On the Wane and Manager Explains Reason.

London, Aug. 10.—Even to mere man, unobservant of details, of women's fashions, the disappearance of the chignon is obvious, and the style beloved by early Victorian dames has given place to elaborate clusters of curls swathed in coils.

The change does not appear, however, to be agreeable to many women, since a tremendous quantity of hair is necessary for the successful achievement of this head dress. The demand for artificial tresses accordingly has never been greater than it is today, and the result is that hair is selling at a premium.

Switches which could have been purchased for 45 last season are now unobtainable at less than 75c a time. That amount, women and their husbands grumble that the attainment of a fashionable coiffure is becoming almost as expensive as the purchase of a fashionable hat.

There are also signs of another change in that the day of the gigantic hat is on the wane, and experts say that smaller hats will be fashionable the coming fall. The manager of one of the leading millinery establishments in the city today, a very good reason for the arrival of the smaller hat.

"When wintry weather arrives," he says, "women want to ride in closed automobiles and taxicabs, and they find that there is not sufficient room for themselves and the giant hats. Hats are always inclined to shrink to smaller proportions directly the summer is over, but anyone who imagines that we are going back to the tiny hats is much mistaken."

"Matinee toques are the nearest approach to the 'little hat,' and we have just brought out a pretty fashion. It consists of little gold or silver net not caps trimmed with tiny wreaths of wild flowers, which are worn under the large picture hats. At a matinee the large hat can be lifted off, and the little cap not only makes a pretty head-dress, but keeps the hair tidy."

The Price of Butter.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: In reply to a statement made in the London market report that this present generation were not making as good butter as used to be brought to the market, I beg to differ from that man. When a farmer's wife goes into the market with a dozen butter deals, her flock around her rig and offer her about three cents cheaper than the market price. If she takes it he might know he is not getting first-class butter. If a farmer's wife hangs out for the top price when she knows she has good butter, it is an insult to offer her soap grease price. If you want good butter pay a good price and encourage the butter makers.

THE STAGE NEWS OF OLD LONDON

What Is Going On in Dramatic World of English Metropolis.

London, Aug. 10.—Here's still another proposition for London. They are popping up like mushrooms this year. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Manners propose founding a limited company with a capital of £12,500 to give grand opera at popular prices for a period of three years. The idea is to educate the public, and the people who subscribe to the shares do so with the understanding that the contemplated profits are not to be devoted to paying dividends.

That's frank, anyway, and on that basis the company hopes to redeem the shares at par at the end of three years. If not—well, then, charge it up to art. Mr. and Mrs. Manners propose to give their services absolutely free. It is now up to the Covent Garden Royal Opera Company or the Beecham Opera Company or the Hammerstein Opera Company to make the move.

Mr. Herbert Sleath is now playing the leading role in "A White Man," which is the English title for "The Squaw Man," at the Lyceum Theatre. According to the Stage, he was almost induced to play also two performances of a night of one-act sketches at the same time at the Camberwell Empire. It was proposed that he open the bill for the "first house" at the Empire at 6 o'clock with his sketch, then go to the Lyceum, play "The Squaw Man," and return to the Empire at 11:30 to finish the bill of the "last house" with the sketch. Who says actors are loafers?

Mr. Frank Mayo's Part. Speaking of "A White Man," as it is now being revived here, Americans will be interested to know that the actor who plays Cash Hawkins so well famous. Frank Mayo, grandson of that famous actor, is also the nephew of Mr. Manife Johnstone, who originated the part.

After all, Mr. Seymour Hicks is not going to give us that much-talked-of grand opera of "Richard III." That is, not all at once, for the Pelican says that in October he will appear in the battle scene of the great play at the Coliseum and present it in an elaborate fashion. That's one way to make a Shakespearean play at a time—and perhaps a good way. It sort of breaks the trouble gently, as on the installment plan, and gets the public so used to it that in about a year the whole play can be given without a quiver.

The announcement is made that Mr. Max Beerbohm is writing a play for Mr. George Alexander, and somehow the dramatic papers seem to consider it very important.

Another novelist is lined up with the playwrights in the person of Mr. Robert Hitchens, who is adapting his story, "The Garden of Allah," for the stage.

In commenting on Mr. Robert Lorraine's recent flying feats, London Opinion says: "They tell me that he did an exceptionally fine flight the other day, remaining aloft between four and five hours. Seems to me that if he really is doing these wonderful stunts he is either doing them in some strangely unfrequented spot or he is flying about the place under an assumed name."

It so happens that he did fly under the assumed name of Jones, which, probably, everybody in London knew except the editor of Public Opinion.

Miss Loftus' Plans. Miss Cecilia Loftus is going back to the legitimate stage again after her triumphs in the music halls, and will appear with Mr. Robert Lorraine in "The Man From the Sea" when it is produced by Mr. J. E. Vedrenne at the Queen's Theatre in October.

NOTED TORONTO ACTRESS DEAD

Was Manager of First Grand Opera House at Queen City.

Toronto, Aug. 10.—Forty years ago the actress who most delighted the citizens of Toronto was Mrs. Charlotte Morrison, who earned her first success on the stage as Miss Charlotte Nickinson. Yesterday she died at her residence, 90 St. Joseph street, Toronto, after having been in feeble health for some time. Two daughters, Mrs. E. B. Brown, 113 St. Clair avenue, and Mrs. Raynald Gamble, also a son, Mr. Stuart Morrison, survive.

Her Stage Career. The late Mrs. Morrison was manager of the Grand Opera House where it was first built in 1874 on the site of the present Grand Opera House on Adelaide street. The first Grand Opera House was burned down in 1879.

Born in Quebec in 1822, Mrs. Morrison came of a family well known in the theatrical world. Her father, John Nickinson, was a successful actor well known throughout Canada, having toured the country with a stock company. He had also leased a Toronto theatre in 1858. All the members of his family were successful performers. His daughters, Eliza and Virginia, married actors, Eliza becoming Mrs. Charles Peters, and Virginia marrying Mr. Owen Marlowe. Another daughter, Isabel, married Mr. C. M. Walcott, Jun., and Charlotte married the late Mr. Daniel Morrison, who, when he died in 1870, was editor of the Daily Telegraph.

At that time Toronto's leading theatre stood on King street, between Bay and York streets, where there is now a brick arch. It was called The Royal.

First Grand Opera House. The new Grand Opera House, built in 1874, and managed by Mrs. Charlotte Morrison, became at once the leading playhouse. First-rate plays were staged by Mrs. Morrison and her stock company, and some of the most noted actors of the day visited the opera house with plays by the leading dramatists, Adelaide Neilson, J. L. Toole, Edwin Booth, Wilson Barrett and other noted players appeared under Mrs. Morrison's management, and Mrs. Morrison herself was a most popular actress with the Theatre.

The first Grand Opera House was destroyed by fire in 1879 during the engagement of Mr. and Mrs. Bandmann. Later on it was purchased by the late Alexander Manning, and Mr. Augustus Pitou, at present of New York, took the management after Mrs. Morrison. His place was taken later by Mr. O. B. Sheppard, who is now lessee of the Princess Theatre.

A FALLS FISH STORY. Niagara Falls, N.Y., Aug. 10.—One of the oddest and most sensational accidents that has ever happened on the upper river occurred last night at 10 o'clock, off La Salle, two miles above the Falls, when a 150-pound sturgeon leaped into a small motor boat, striking one of the occupants in the back and struggling so violently that it put the engine out of commission and set the boat drifting for the cataract.

Sebastian Smith, owner of the boat, put out from La Salle about 9 o'clock with Miss Nellie Johnson and Frank Lonsdale, of this city. The craft had a powerful searchlight in the bow and as the boat was returning down stream, the sturgeon, which measured seven feet in length, leaped for the light and in its jump struck Miss Johnson full on the back, seriously injuring her.

The engine was soon stopped by the fish and the men had to fight it with oars and knives for twenty minutes before it was subdued. George Allen, of La Salle, heard their cries of distress as they rushed towards the fall and put out to them and towed them ashore with his motor boat. Miss Johnson's condition is critical.

SUNKEN WRECK PERIL. Amherstburg, Aug. 9.—During the investigation as to whether the barge Grace Whitney sank in Canadian or American waters, vessel masters are subjected to constant danger. Capt. Chas. Hackett, who has charge of the placing of lights on the wreck each evening, reports today that during the night another vessel had struck the spar which is protruding above water. Others struck it last week. The wreck lies in 30 feet of water, directly in the path of vessels, in the centre of the 200-foot channel at Bar Point. The wreck is especially dangerous in misty weather. Mr. Stoken of Marine City, owner of the barge, has been quoted as saying he will not remove the wreck. He charges that the Ogdensburg, of the Rutland transit company, was entirely responsible for the collision between it and the barge, which makes its owners responsible for the removal of the remains.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, AUG. 10.

BADEN-POWELL AND THE BOY SCOUTS.

The visit to Canada of Lieut.-General Sir R. S. Baden-Powell, the hero of Mafeking, may be expected to give strong impulse in this country to the boy-scout movement, of which he is the originator. Gen. Baden-Powell, on arrival, proceeded at once to Vancouver, and intends to tour the Dominion, visiting the chief cities to explain the meaning of the organization which has taken so strong a hold in the mother country and has spread to other British dominions and the United States. He has been invited to visit the latter country also.

The fundamental object of the boy-scout movement is not, as some may suppose, to instill a spirit of militarism into the youthful mind; were it so, it might be open to criticism. It has a moral purpose—to inculcate the virtues of discipline, obedience and self-reliance, honesty, humility, thoughtfulness for others. It is only three years since the movement was inaugurated in England, but already the boy scout is numbered by scores of thousands. In Canada, too, the idea has taken hold, and it also appeals strongly to the youth of the United States, where it has the indorsement of the press. Even the Anglophobe New York American approves of it. That journal sees in it a glowing idea that promises to outlive in the effect upon the mind and heart of the rising generation any like moral enterprise of our time. A power of social regeneration lies waiting to be evoked from the enthusiasm of boyhood. In England the movement has subjected hundreds of thousands of youngsters to its chivalric discipline; snobs, cads, shirks and mollycoddles are said to feel an uncongenial change in the climate of the country. The poor, the weak, and the unfortunate meet with unaccustomed consideration. There is a band of young knights in every village, aching to stop a fire or a bolting horse, to thrash a bully, or help an old woman with a burden on her back.

As the American says, Baden-Powell is not a sociologist or a professional publicist, but he has made a tremendous contribution to the solution of social problems.

A BRITISH LABOR LEADER.

John Wilson, M. P. of Durham, Eng., has published his autobiography under the title, "Memories of a Labor Leader." In sketching his own stirring career he has given us a portrait of the labor group in the British House of Commons. His life has been their life. They are few exceptions singularly able men. In this country the barriers of class are not formidable and are easily overleaped, but a British workman who can become a public figure and command the ear of the cultured and critical House of Commons, must have uncommon qualities.

John Wilson was born in poverty. His mother died when he was under five, and his sole guardian for eight years was his father, a wild and passionate man, who had no settled abode but dragged his child with him all over the country from one navy job to another, till an attack of cholera carried him off in his son's thirteenth year. From thirteen to nineteen Mr. Wilson worked in coalpits; from then till twenty-three he was a sailor before the mast, going long and adventurous voyages: to India, round the Cape (five months and a week out), and elsewhere. Then he settled down again as a Durham collier and married, but in 1864 he went with his wife to a coal field in the United States, where men were scarce and wages high owing to the Civil War. After three years there he returned to his Durham pit; and then (when he was about thirty-one) occurred his "conversion."

This was the turning-point in his life. In his retrospect "conversion" divides his career sharply in two. Before it he had no purpose; he drank, gambled, lived from day to day, like other reckless and full-blooded colliers. His conversion ended the drink and gambling, and inspired a strong purpose of self-improvement. "I began," he says, "seriously to consider how I could be useful in life." He sketched out, and worked daily on, an educational programme, the main subjects being "grammar, logic, history, shorthand, and the dictionary, which I regularly, marking the words I had converted with." Soon he added poetry and theology. In 1869 he passed through a qualifying him as an "approved preacher" in the Primitive Methodist connexion. About the same time he became actively interested in the formation of the Durham Miners' Association. In 1875 he became secretary of the Durham Miners' Political Reform Association, which was started to win the franchise for miners. In 1885 (the miners having obtained the vote by the act of 1884), he was returned to parliament for the Houghton-le-Spring division, for which he has sat, with one interval (1886-92), ever since. The rest of his life has been lived primarily as a public man. His hold on his constituency has been so secure for many years that in 1906 he was unopposed, and in January last had a majority of over 4,000.

Mr. Wilson is a type of the leadership which British workmen have evolved. The majority of the Labor members have derived much of their education, especially in public speaking, from the chapel and the temperance society. The leaders of the old parties unite in paying tribute to the ability, the reasonableness, and the decorum of the newcomers. The intrusion of the Labor group has not, as many feared it would, lowered the tone of the House of Commons. The popular chamber has gained by its presence. It has lost some of its exclusiveness and aristocratic temper, but it has become more representative and more in touch with the real life of the people.

THE LAW'S DELAYS.

That the United States is a century behind England in methods of criminal procedure is the firm belief of Prof. James D. Lawson, dean of the law school of Missouri University, and Prof. Edwin Keedy, of the Northwestern University, Chicago. These gentlemen, as representatives of the United States Government, the American Bar Association, and the Institute of Criminal Law and Criminology, have been in England for some time investigating in person how the courts there manage to dispatch criminal business so expeditiously. They have had unexcelled opportunity of seeing the administration of criminal law in England. They have been in every criminal court from police court to court of criminal appeal, and also have been on the circuit with two judges of the high court, and their conclusions are that in the way of technicalities England is far in advance of the United States. "In all the terrible technicalities which spell delay and cause calendars to be far behind," says Prof. Lawson, "we have much to learn from England."

Two things with which the professors were most struck were the quickness with which a jury is selected and the short time elapsing between sentence and final judgment of appeal. English justice seems more business-like, and despite the fact that outwardly there is more show with wigs, etc., the actual work is far less formal.

To show the thoroughness with which the investigation was conducted, Messrs. Lawson and Keedy interested themselves in cases from the outset, being present at police court, then at the trial in the high court, and finally attending argument in the appeal court. By this means they found that not more than six weeks elapsed from the time of the arrest of a prisoner to the final disposal of the case by the appeal court—something unheard of in the United States. During their time in England they met representatives of the German and Danish Governments on the same mission, spending a week with them and comparing notes. The American investigators are now preparing a report to President Taft, in which, it is expected, they will make some important recommendations.

Sentimental women are writing letters of sympathy to Dr. Crippen. They entirely forget the late Mrs. Crippen.

If Mayor Gaynor recovers he will find himself famous as the reward of his good works. The pistol shot was heard round the world.

Lord Northcliffe will be the guest of honor, on press day at the Toronto Exhibition. This is more a compliment to Lord Northcliffe than to the press.

Western Canadian farmers are being showered with advice and remonstrances by the British tariff reformers. The western farmers are at least minding their own business.

Five English visitors, including three lords, met at Winnipeg this week and decided to start an agitation for an imperial parliament. Will the numerous individuals who are prescribing remedies for the empire indicate what its diseases are?

The figures of the Manitoba election shows 35,428 votes cast for Conservatives, 34,494 for Liberals, and 1,834 for Independents. If the parties were represented in the Legislature in the ratio of the popular vote, the Government would not have a working majority. It is a notable proof that a strict system of proportional representation would not be practicable in this country. It is just as well that the party with a popular majority, however small, should be able to give effect to its views. But it is idle to pretend that the result in Manitoba was a triumph for the Government.

The raising of the C. P. R. dividend to eight per cent will be a pleasant surprise to the shareholders. From 1891 to 1894 the company paid five per cent. It passed the dividend in 1895, when its stock fell to 34, and paid only 2 1/2 per cent in 1896 and 1897. Four and a half per cent was paid in 1898, four per cent in 1899, five per cent in 1900, 1901 and 1902, five and a half per cent in 1903, six per cent in 1904, 1905 and 1906, seven per cent in 1907, 1908 and 1909.

WHY IT SUITED.

[Washington Star.]
"Your thermometer is wholly incorrect. It registers ten degrees less than the actual temperature."
"That's why I like it. I dread these fearfully candid friends."

NERVE.

[Buffalo Express.]
"Brassie has an awful nerve."
"What did he do?"
"Waited in an umbrella store till the rain was over."

BEST PLAN.

[Boston Transcript.]
"How did Tom manage to get so much of his uncle's estate?"
"He married his lawyer's only daughter."

TRUE LOVE.

[Washington Herald.]
"Ferdie loves me desperately, that's clear."
"How now?"
"He lets father win from him at poker and mother trim him shamefully at bridge."

MAKING IT WORTH WHILE.

[Everybody's.]
A passerby was amazed at seeing an Irishman poking a dollar bill through a crack in a board walk.
"What under the sun are ye doing that for?" he asked.
"Why, ye see, sir," replied the Irishman, without looking up from his work, "a minute ago Oi dropped a nickel through this crack, an' now Oi'm puttin' a dollar through so's to make it worth me while to pull up th' walk an' get th' nickel."

USEFUL.

[Washington Star.]
"The great poets have done so much to make life easier," said the earnest young woman.
"That's right," replied Mr. Cumrox. "If it weren't for the great poets we'd be stumped many a time for something to write in an autograph album."

DESCRIPTIVE.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]
Passenger—What would you call that girl in the car who is too light for a brunette and too dark for a blonde?
Conductor—Half-fair.

STUDYING THE LAW.

[Kansas City Journal.]
In the old days, when oral examinations were still the thing, an examining board was pummeling an applicant with questions from Blackstone, Kent and other famous legal lights.
"I didn't study anything about those fellows," complained the applicant.
"What did you study?" asked one of the judges.
"I studied the statutes of the state," he replied.
"I studied them hard. Ask me a question about them and I'll show you. That is where I got my legal knowledge."
"My young friend," said one austere judge on the examining board, "you had better be very careful, for some day the Legislature might meet and repeal everything you know."

OBSOLETE.

[Detroit Free Press.]
"Has he asked your parents for your hand yet?"
"No, no. That's an old-fashioned custom that's no longer observed. My father may consider himself lucky if we decide to send him an invitation to our wedding."

COUNTING THE HOURS.

[Washington Star.]
"Those people in the next flat seem to have a regular programme of popular songs every evening," said the visitor.
"Yes," replied the man who is gradually getting a tremble and a vacant stare. "By the way, what time is it?"
"Let me see. It was half-past 'She's My Daisy' a little while ago; it must be nearly a quarter to 'Put on Your Old Grey Bonnet.' Don't hurry. It'll be at least an hour before the piano strikes 'Farewell, Farewell, My Own True Love.'"

TRYING TO BE AN OPTIMIST.

[Washington Star.]
"Don't you think the hats women wear are outlandish?"
"I don't care anything about their outlandishness," said Mr. Meekton. "They can be as big and curious as they like so long as they don't have to be buttoned up the back."

FOREHANDS.

[Story Stories.]
"Mr. Grimes," said the rector to the vestryman, "we had better take up the collection before the sermon this morning."
"Indeed?"
"Yes. I am going to preach on the subject of economy."

MERE MEN.

[Life.]
He—I dreamt last night that your mother was ill.
She—But! I heard you laugh in your sleep!

MINOR PREMISES.

[Tit-Bits.]
A minister being sent to officiate one Sunday at a country parish was accommodated at night in the manse in a very diminutive apartment. Instead of the usual best bedroom appropriated to strangers.
"Is this the bedroom?" he said, starting back in amazement.
"Deed, aye, sir; this is the prophet's chamber."
"It must be for the minor prophets, then," said the discomfited parson.

HIS VIEWPOINT.

[Cleveland Plaindealer.]
Men take their hats off when women get in th' elevator. Why don't they get out so's th' wimmen can squeeze in with their own hats on?

DESCENDING.

[Beaumont Enterprise.]
The new hobble skirt merely means that the waist line has at last reached the ankles.

HER FORTUNE.

[Baltimore American.]
"May I ask what is the nature of your fortune, madam?"
"My face is my fortune, sir?"
"Sorry, madam, but your investment has some very bad features."

GOING TO THE THEATRE.

[Judge.]
Patience—Do you enjoy going to the theatre?
Patience—No, I can't say that I do; the cars are so frightfully crowded, don't you know. But I always enjoy it after I get there.

CONSISTENCY.

[Judge.]
Counsel (to female witness)—What's your age?
Witness—Twenty-nine, sir.
Judge (looking up from his paper)—Did you not appear before me some ten years ago?

Witness—I did, my lord.
Judge—And was not your age on that occasion also twenty-nine?
Witness—It was, your lordship; but what I says I sticks to. I'm not one of them persons who says one thing today an' another tomorrow.

Mr. Ben Noble declared that the dancing would be very fine, as there were many number of fine prizes this year, more, perhaps, than ever before in the history of the society.

As for babies, Chairman J. H. Fowler, of the baby show committee, reported that there would not be any difficulty in securing scores of youngsters to be judged.

Mr. H. P. Ranshan, of the printing committee, Mr. Philip Pocock, of the railway committee, and President Stevely, for the refreshment and invitation committees, reported that the work assigned to them had been properly done.

The Judges.

"From present indications we will have the finest picnic ever held," said President Samuel Stevely. "All we need is good weather. I can assure you we have prepared a great programme." The meeting last night was one of the largest ever held, and great enthusiasm prevailed.

KINGSMILL'S

How does your furnace stand the summer?

That's the real test for durability

When your furnace is not in use, the cool, damp air in the cellar, coming into contact with the steel or iron dome and radiator, causes the metal to "sweat." This "sweat," or moisture, attacks the metal and quickly makes it rust. It's an actual fact that most furnaces would give TWICE as many years of service if they did not have their long summer vacations but were in use continually.

However, the Sunshine furnace is now equipped with a Nickelled Steel Dome and Radiator. Nickelled Steel is an exclusive McClary invention. It has been subjected to the most severe tests and has demonstrated it is absolutely rust-proof. It does not gather rust during the "idle" summer. The Sunshine is built to give you lasting service.

You pay no more for the durable Sunshine than for an ordinary furnace. Besides, the Sunshine is guaranteed by us. Phone or call on our agent in your locality and get further interesting information.

THE WOMAN'S CORNER

What to do with the Tomato

By Cynthia Grey.

The meek and lowly but ripe and succulent tomato is in our midst—or ought to be! Originally a "love apple" to our forefathers for ornament and not for use—it has long since come into its own as one of the edible and nourishing vegetables the garden produces.

Here are a few hints to the housewife who would prepare them, either for present or winter use.

If one supplies oneself with good, wide-mouthed glass jars, new rubber rings each year, and perfect tops, one may can tomatoes without fear of time wasted.

Cut the tomatoes in pieces after the skins have been removed, and cook only until thoroughly scalded, skimming often. Can and seal at once.

Preserved—Remove skins from one pound of small yellow tomatoes, add one pound of sugar and let stand overnight. Next morning pour off syrup, and boil until thick. Skin and add tomatoes, two ounces of preserved ginger and two seedless lemons. Cook until clear.

Uncooked Pickle.—Peel and chop three ripe tomatoes, add one cup chopped celery, four tablespoons chopped red peppers, four tablespoons chopped onion, four tablespoons salt, six cups of sugar and mustard seed, one-half teaspoon each cloves and cinnamon, one teaspoon grated nutmeg, and two cups vinegar, in order named. Put in stone jar and cover. Will keep a year.

Stuffed.—Cut thin slices from stem end of sufficient tomatoes to serve, take out pulp, sprinkle with salt and invert for half an hour. Cook a few minutes in a teaspoon finely chopped onion in two tablespoons butter, add one-half cup soft bread crumbs, the tomato pulp, and season to taste. Cook, and add an egg, heat again and fill tomatoes with mixture. Bake in buttered pan 20 minutes.

Fritters.—Cook six peeled tomatoes, six cloves, one-third cup sugar and one small onion sliced, for 15 minutes, then rub through a sieve. Season, melt one-fourth cup butter, add one-half cup cornstarch and stir until smooth. Add tomato pulp gradually, cook up, then add one slightly beaten egg. Pour into buttered dish and cool. Cut into squares, dip in flour, egg, and then in cracker crumbs and fry in deep fat. Drain and serve.

Aspic.—Soak one-half box gelatin in one-half pint water an hour. Cook six tomatoes with one small onion, sliced, two teaspoons sugar, a bay leaf and a teaspoon mixed parsley, with pepper and salt to taste. Drain, add gelatin, stir until dissolved, and strain through coarse cloth into small molds. Put in ice chest and when cold serve on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Cream Toast.—Toast, brown, small squares of bread, make sauce by adding to three tablespoons melted butter, the same amount of flour, one-half teaspoon salt, one and a half cups of steamed and strained tomato to which one-fourth teaspoon soda has been added, and one-half cup scalded cream. Pour over toast and serve.

of all, and yet it hardly seemed he would come so openly if he meant me harm. Then as I saw his tall, handsome figure coming forward, I rose slowly and stood waiting for him at the top of the steps. He came on, looking out over the lake as he walked forward, and only turned to me as he suddenly paused at the bottom of the steps. Then with a surprised look on his face, as if he had just noticed my presence, he doffed his hat with an elaborate bow of mock courtesy.

"I crave a word with Mr. Meddler," "Then pray come forward," "The Meddler is well guarded," he said, not moving from where he was. "Did you come to pick a quarrel?" I asked, for if you did you had best go. I'm not ready to fight you yet."

"Yes," he answered, "the Meddler. You certainly are one are you not?"

"It would occur to me that I was the one that had the cause," he said. "It really matters little," I answered, "as long as there is cause."

"You had better lay in a goodly supply," I counselled, "for the injuries may even the present one." "Oh, no! oh no!" he laughed gaily, "it will be otherwise." He shot a glance at me from out his handsome eyes.

"I laughed with him, for his way was such you could but like him, no matter what he said."

"Come," I finally suggested, "you did not call simply to tell me we were liable to quarrel?" "Hardly," he answered. "I never make unnecessary assertions."

"Then may I inquire?" I began.

"Certainly," he interrupted. "If you'll take your hand off that pistol I'll come up."

"I think then you'll stay where you are," he shrugged his shoulders. "I'd rather you'd take your hand away, for a nervous man may make a mistake."

"It might not be such a calamity," "Well, I'll come up and take the chance, if only honest men will be present."

"It's a bit cold, and my hand is warmer where it is," I answered.

"I laughed with him, for his way was such you could but like him, no matter what he said," "Certainly you're cool enough," I suggested.

"Oh, always, though you did give me a start the other night. Now I'll come up, but do so carefully."

"He mounted the steps slowly and I nodded to a chair across the table. Then I rang with my left hand, and in an instant the waiter appeared."

"Whiskey and soda?" I asked. "Yes," he nodded. "I feel better," he said.

"When the waiters were placed on the table and he had lighted a cigarette, I took my hand out of my pocket."

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

"I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said. "I feel better," he said.

HILMA

William Tillinghast Eldridge.

Then, too, his last move to place matters where the princess could not ascend the throne, no matter what transpired, showed clearly he had grave doubts of the ultimate outcome.

We two were placed where, as the time grew shorter, action was demanded. The securing of the documents would alone guarantee the successful outcome of our plans. If the princess had to go before the grand dukes and present her claim, without any evidence of Joachim's birth, it would, at best, be a doubtful undertaking, the success of which would depend solely upon the strength of Zergard and the following Alvernun secured.

It was thus, on the first day of July, four days before the coronation, that events began to move rapidly toward a climax.

That morning, about ten o'clock I was sitting on the little balcony off my rooms at the inn. Karl had just left me, and we had just finished our daily bout with the foils. The need for a strong wrist was likely to occur at any moment, and so we had each day crossed blades, until I prided myself on my newly acquired skill.

For some time after Karl's departure I sat watching the lake, of which I seemed never to tire, and studying the grey towers of the old castles on the farther side, when suddenly I turned my head and saw one of my guards coming forward from under the trees. Personally I felt there was little need of such protection, but Kurimurt had insisted that I shifted my pistol to my coat pocket and waited, my finger resting lightly on the trigger, for while it might be a peaceful errand, there was also a chance that he meant no good. I trusted Heinrich least of all.

"Well, show him up."

HE "SAILOR" LAWYER DIES IN LONDON

Alexander A. Miller Famed for His Knowledge of Maritime Law.

London, Aug. 9. — The death of Mr. Alexander Allan Miller, more widely known as the "sailor lawyer," has just taken place. He will be remembered as the man who, on behalf of the Imperial Merchant Service Guild, brought the famous "color vision" case of Mate Trattles to a successful issue, the result of which was that the Board of Trade returned the certificate to the officer concerned. As the outcome of this case the important question of vision is claiming special attention, the Board of Trade having nominated a special committee to deal with the color vision tests of the British mercantile marine.

Born in Liverpool, Mr. Miller, after leaving school, had eight years of seafaring life, a knowledge of which stood him in good stead in a succession of cases which he subsequently adopted, especially in that branch of it relating to nautical matters.

His chief business was that of looking after the legal interests of masters, officers and men connected with the sea. He was, in fact, about the only "sailor lawyer" in the United Kingdom, and in that capacity won a national reputation, not only by his expert knowledge of the nature of the cases, but by his invariable success.

As solicitor to both the Imperial Merchant Service Guild and to the Mercantile Marine Service Association he was able to render great service to officers, and the interests of those organizations and their members were always safe in his hands.

FLY TO PARIS TO ENTER BIG RACE

Latham and Weymann Arrive at Course Via Air Route.

Paris, Aug. 9. — Several of the aviators who participated in the big "cross-country" circuit aeroplane race of 455 miles, chose a route through the air to reach Paris for the start, their flights across country furnishing an interesting preliminary to the big race. The most important flight was that of Hubert Latham, who flew from Châlons-sur-Marne to Paris in his Antoinette monoplane, a distance of 87 miles, making two stops en route. He made a beautiful flight over the city, entering Paris at an altitude of 1,850 feet, and circling twice around the Eiffel Tower before landing.

The enthusiasm occasioned by Latham's flight had scarcely waned when the whirl of another propeller above Paris attracted the attention of all. It was the biplane of Weymann, an American aviator, who left Châlons shortly after Latham. Both landed in the race field at Issy les Moulineaux, and were given an ovation by 20,000 spectators.

Latham, during the course of his trip, stopped at Noidel to visit a friend. When he reascended he had difficulty with the fog, heading in the direction of Rheims. He soon discovered his error, and after making another landing to secure fuel, proceeded to Paris.

Weymann stopped at Beauval for a brief period, travelling from that point to Paris at a height of about 600 feet.

RAISING OF APPLES IS ON THE INCREASE

The Industry Growing Rapidly
Throughout This Province.

Toronto, Aug. 10. — Prof. Crow, of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, who was reported last week as having stated that the apple growing industry in Ontario was steadily declining, now claims that he was inadequately reported, and that an erroneous impression would be gathered from the report of his address before the meeting of the International Apple Shippers' Association of Detroit. The Ontario department of agriculture has issued a statement with figures to show conclusively that this important industry is growing rapidly.

According to reports received from nurserymen in the Province, the following number of fruit trees were sold this spring: Apples, 1,900,000; pears, 215,000; cherries, 275,000; plums, 268,000; peaches, 409,000; grapes, 115,000. Practically every tree fit for sale was disposed of for orchard planting, and in addition many thousands of trees were imported. As there are practically no apple orchards being cut down, there must, consequently, be a big increase in the number and size of orchards in Ontario.

An orchard survey of various counties in the Province is now being made by officers of the department, and these show a decided improvement in the care of trees and fruit in all the important apple growing sections along the great lakes. Spraying is becoming more general, and, with the organization of co-operative shipping association, better prices are being realized, which will stimulate further planting of trees. As to this year's crop, the department has not yet received final reports. The indications are that the crop in the western part of the Province will be very poor, but in the eastern sections will be up to the average. Hence the Province as a whole will compare favorably with other sections of the continent.

TORTOISES 300 YEARS OLD PLACED IN ZOO

Captives in London Were Alive in the Time of Shakespeare.

London, Aug. 9. — Two of the largest elephantine tortoises ever seen in England have arrived at the Zoological Gardens, with three smaller companions.

Their weight is measured in hundredweights, and their age in centuries. If the estimate of the 250 years which was allotted to the predecessor, "Methuselah," was correct, the giant brethren which have just been placed in the tortoise paddock must have been 300 summers at least.

Shakespeare and Sir Walter Raleigh were living when these two related broke their shells in Aldabra, the island in the Seychelles group of the Indian Ocean—from which they are now unwilling emigrants.

A feature of this wonderful pair is the perfection of their shells. Methuselah's carapace was rubbed almost smooth when he arrived, but the newcomers' embossed armor is in a beautiful state of preservation—the assumption being that their lives have been cast in more peaceful circumstances.

Thousands of visitors have paid court to the baby giraffe born recently. The mother, a true socialist, leaves the feeding of her infant to the state—represented by a keeper with a bottle of milk.

However, the six-foot infant gambols like a clumsy lamb, one of the quaintest sights imaginable.

THIS BATHING SUIT LIKE A BALL GOWN

It Glitters and Sparkles, But "Must Never Be Allowed to Get Wet," Says Its Creator.

London, Aug. 10. — Of women seabathers there are, of course, two classes. The first indulge in the exercise because they like it, the second make a show of indulging in it because it is recognized as the correct thing at fashionable seaside resorts.

To the latter class the dress designer loves to cater, expending as much labor, time and expense as upon a ball dress. This season it would seem that bathing dresses are more elaborate than ever, notwithstanding the wretchedly cold weather that has prevailed on the coast as well as everywhere else, the choicest of materials being employed in their composition. Sea green is the popular color, sand, dala, stockings and muslin sunbonnet in the same hue completely outfit. Others are designed in semi-mourning shades. One effective model of this description is the cream-colored serge, with black velvet edging the bodice and short skirt, the headgear being a Charlotte Corday cap of fine muslin. Another in heliotrope has an elaborate corsage of silver sequins, that, seen in the modiste's show room, glitter iridescent and sparkling under the electric light.

"But, of course," to quote its creator, "the bodice must never be allowed to get wet."

TATTOOING A FAD OF LONDON WOMEN

London, Aug. 10. — Among the society fads of recent years tattooing on an elaborate scale is one which has had its frequent spells of prosperity for the artist, while at other periods he or she will be almost starving for employment.

There is, however, a pretty steady demand among society women, especially among those who go in for swimming, for the services of the skillful tattooer. Beautiful little birds and butterflies are the favorite devices, but frequently a woman will be tattooed with a copy of her husband's regimental crest, and one woman, at least, is carrying about on her fair skin her husband's coat-of-arms. These are generally tattooed either on the shoulder or on the under side of the forearm, so that they are concealed by a shoulder strap or a glove, as the case may be.

Men, on the other hand, prefer gaudy designs, such as dragons and cobras. One of the most illustrious British royal personages has a fearsome dragon on his chest, and a popular actor, brother of a still more

Although the itinerary of the cruise will in the main be adhered to, no objection will be made should a general desire be expressed to visit any interesting island or place near which the ship may pass, provided the captain considers it permissible. When it is stated that the cost for each person will approach $3,500, exclusive of wines, it will be gathered that only "glided" travellers may enjoy the trip.

WEATHER FOR WHEAT

Cool, Moist Days Arrested the Too
Rapid Development in West.

Winnipeg, Man., Aug. 10. — Cooler and moist, the weather of the past ten days has been ideal for the too rapidly maturing grain of the west. Owing to the heat and lack of moisture, the grain was being unduly forced toward ripening, and had the weather continued the crop would not only have been light, but a number of small, undeveloped or imperfectly filled heads with small and shrunken grain, would have greatly diminished the crop and value. As it is, the weather has been cool and damp, checking the too rapid ripening, and the renewing of the vitality of the plants has kept them developing, and the almost assured result will be a good sample that should weigh well.

ONT. WINS AT PRIVY COUNCIL AGAINST DOMINION AND QUEBEC

Toronto, Aug. 10.—The decision of the privy council in sustaining Ontario's defence against the Dominion Government's claim for funds in connection with Indian treaty No. 3, in the Rainy River district, has relieved the province of a liability of over a million dollars. Col. Matheson, the provincial treasurer, estimates the sum at a million or a million and a half dollars.

The Dominion Government made claim in 1902, and at the trial the late Mr. Justice Burridge, in the exchequer court, decided against Ontario, but the supreme court reversed this decision, and now the privy council has confirmed the supreme court's action. The Dominion brought suit against the province to recover large sums paid by the Dominion to the Indians in the Rainy River district under the treaty known as No. 3.

Ontario is also relieved by the privy council of a liability of $300,000, claimed by Quebec as part of the old common school fund. The claim, with interest, is dated from 1873.

ALLEGED SLAYER OF JAKE ENOS HAS MADE A CLEAR GET-AWAY

[Special to The Advertiser.]
Chatham, Aug. 10.—James Johnson, colored, who is held as an accessory to the murder of Jake Enos on July 18, came up in the police court today for a preliminary hearing. He was again remanded until the police get some trace of Frank Jackson, charged with the murder.

No trace of Jackson has yet been found. Johnson claims to know nothing of his whereabouts. He has been questioned continually about where Jackson might be found, but he says he knows nothing about him. Yesterday, however, he gave the crown attorney the names of some resorts that Jackson was known to frequent. He will possibly have to wait in the county jail until Jackson is located.

Train Hits Auto, Killing Five

Cape May, N. J., Aug. 10.—Five persons were crushed to death here when an express train on the Pennsylvania Railroad dashed into an automobile at Mill Lane Crossing, on the West Jersey and Seashore Railroad. The dead are Frederick W. Feldner and wife, and Fritz Mergenthaler and wife, and their chauffeur, M. C. Jones, all of Baltimore. Mergenthaler was the son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Feldner. The party had been spending a few days in Atlantic City, and yesterday afternoon left for an automobile trip to Cape May.

As the car approached the tracks the fast running express was hidden from view by a corn field, and it was impossible for the chauffeur to see the train until he was within a few feet of the tracks.

STRATFORD MAN LOST HIS GRIPS IN HAMILTON

Lunched in a Cafe and Forgot the Articles—Also the Cafe Address.

Hamilton, Aug. 9.—Seeing the sights in a large city proved too much for W. Chellingsworth, of Stratford. On Friday Mr. Chellingsworth came to Hamilton with two valises in his possession and immediately on his arrival up town he made for a restaurant. After he had had his fill, however, he forgot that he had taken his grips with him and went away without them. It was while in a bank cashing a check that he remembered that he had left them some place, but where the restaurant was he could not tell. He walked up and down the streets for about four hours trying to locate the eating house, but without success, and then as the last resort he notified the police. They went around with him and visited the various restaurants but no trace of the missing valises could be found. They contained papers and other valuables worth a good bit to the owner, but as yet they have not been returned. Mr. Chellingsworth also advertised for the lost articles but evidently the finder did not see the ad.

BIG MONTREAL MERGER.

Montreal, Aug. 10.—Considerable progress is stated to have been made in connection with the proposed merger of the Montreal Street Railway and Canadian Power. The financiers at the back of the power company are stated to control 35,000 to 40,000 shares of stock, which virtually gives them control, and it is stated to be the plan to form a holding company to take over Street at 250 and Power at 150. The Montreal Steel Company is issuing $1,000,000 for extension purposes.

JOE GANS TAKES THE LAST COUNT

Former Lightweight Champion
Pugilist Falls Before Tuberculosis.

HE DIED IN BALTIMORE

Made His Way Back to Old Home
From Prescott, Arizona, where He Sought Health.

Baltimore, Aug. 10.—Joe Gans, the boxer, died here today. Gans died of consumption, which he contracted about a year ago. Late last spring he went to Arizona with the hope of restoring his health, but the disease had been too deeply seated, and he declined rapidly. He was brought here last week to die. He was 34 years old.

Joe Gans' true name was Gant, the name Gans having been fastened upon him early in his ring career by a mistake of a referee.

He began his ring career in 1894, but prior to that time he had made a name for himself as a fighter. His first fight for money was with Nelson, which he ever fought was $33,000 in his first bout with Nelson. On this fight he received $11,000, he having agreed to give Nelson the remainder, win, lose or draw.

Gans won the title of lightweight champion from Frank Erne, at Fort Erie, Ont., in one round in 1902, and "Battling" Nelson in 1908 in the seventeenth round.

DROPS FIVE FLOORS TO HIS DEATH

Toronto, Aug. 10.—Harry Warnes, a window cleaner, fell from a window on the fifth story of the Darling Building yesterday afternoon, and crashed down onto the concrete pavement, being instantly killed. Warnes, who was an Englishman, three years out from the old country, was 19 years of age and unmarried. He had ropes with him but was not using them, depending on holding onto the window sash. The window was loose and gave sufficiently to cause him to lose his balance.

CRIPPEN HAS CABLED DID NOT CONFESS

Sent a Message to Counsel Denying the Alleged Admission of Murder.

London, Aug. 10.—A specific and positive denial that he had made any sort of confession to Inspector Dew, or to any of the police authorities at Quebec, has been cabled by Dr. H. H. Crippen to Arthur Newton, Crippen's counsel, who made public the denial. "Not a word about the confession will come from Dr. Crippen," Newton said today, "until he reaches London, and has had a talk with me. I am satisfied that the authorities know no more about the crime now than they did before Crippen was arrested."

LATE GORDON LANE

The funeral of Gordon A. Lane, son of Reuben A. Lane, was held at Dorchester Station on Monday afternoon, and interment was made at the Union Cemetery. Mr. Lane was on a visit to friends in Hastings County, and on Thursday last went for a drive with a butcher who was on a buying trip. While at Ivanhoe, a small village, the Lane car was struck by a motor car, and crumpled too short, with the result that he was thrown out and fell under the horses' feet. The animals ran away, and he was dragged over the rough road for some distance, sustaining terrible injuries, from which he died on Thursday evening. For some time Mr. Lane had been suffering from St. Catherine's disease, taught school. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. H. Sutton. The pallbearers were Messrs. Samuel Demery, R. J. Kelly, W. Spence, A. Banks, Nelson Spence and J. McCallum. Besides his widowed mother, Mr. Lane leaves three brothers; Bert and Ray in British Columbia; Wellington of Saskatchewan, and one sister, Fanny, in Alberta.

CREOSOTE ABLAZE

Workmen at the Capital Were in Perilous Situation.

Ottawa, Aug. 9.—Creosote, such as is used in roofing, blazed up with a blinding flash today on Waverley street, between McDonald and Robert streets, and for a time endangered the lives of nearly a dozen workmen employed at the building, being rebuilt for a garage by J. B. Fraser. Several workmen were forced to jump out of a window that was about 15 feet from the ground to escape being burned by the fiercely burning creosote.

All their belongings, such as tools, clothing and valuables, were burned, and the cost of the building amounted to about $3,000.

THIRTY DAY SENTENCE

Archie Campbell, of Clandeboye, was brought to the county jail last night to serve a 30-day sentence on a charge of stealing a pair of shoes from Percy Windsor, a farmer who resides between Centerville and Clandeboye. Constable Patten lost track of his man while having the necessary papers made out, and had some trouble in locating Campbell later. He appeared before Magistrate Hawshawe, of Lucan, and was sentenced yesterday.

PASSES GOOD NIGHT

since yesterday shortly after he was first brought to the hospital.

One of the first announcements made by the physicians today was that there would be a cessation of all the medical men in attendance upon the mayor at 10:30 o'clock this forenoon, when it would be decided whether or not an operation to remove the bullet should be attempted in the immediate future. The X-ray examination last night showed that the bullet had been split shortly after it entered the head just below the right ear, one section apparently lying in the floor of the mouth near the left wing of the jawbone, while the other remains near the entrance point of the wound behind the ear. The mayor's physicians, however, by their course through the night that they considered him in no immediate danger. Those who spent the night near the mayor's bedside were Mrs. Gaynor and their son Rufus, Dr. Ernest J. Lederle, Dr. V. Arltz, Dr. Chas. N. Dowd and Secretary Adamson.

"Feeling Fine."

The mayor's condition seemed to the physicians so satisfactory that Dr. Dowd resigned early in the evening to his room, while Doctors Arltz and Lederle, after sitting up with Secretary Adamson until after midnight, also took occasion then to get some rest leaving the patient in the immediate care of the nurses. The physicians remained all through the latter part of the night within call, but there was no emergency which demanded their intervention. The mayor slept intermittently and whenever questioned as to his feelings declared that he was "feeling fine."

The mayor's sufferings thus far have been slight. He has not been unconscious at any time, and is allowed to talk all he cares to. He is not likely to overdo his privileges in this respect, however, for, according to the attendants, he realizes that he may have to put up a good fight for recovery, and is content to husband his resources.

In a talk with Dr. Arltz this morning, after a sound sleep of about four hours, Mr. Gaynor spoke of the many pleasant outings he had had in the Maine and Quebec woods, and said that his unexpected decision to go to Europe rather than to his old hunting grounds in the north this year had led to this trouble.

"I had anticipated much pleasure from this vacation," said the mayor. "This whole thing is all wrong. I've only tried to do my duty. This strife and responsibility were forced upon me, and this is what has come of it."

The fine condition of the mayor is expected to be of material aid to his recovery. The most optimistic words which these attending him utter are their hopes that the vigorous constitution which the mayor has retained by reason of his outdoor life and fondness for walking, will enable him to make a speedy convalescence.

"There must be a little time of waiting for developments," said Prof. Simon Baruch, of the College of Physicians and Surgeons. "Unless complications set in the mayor's chances of recovery are of course good. A rifle wound in the same place might have been a great deal more serious. The bullet is lodged in muscle structures, from which it ought to be possible to extract it with little danger."

The Hoboken chief of police today assigned a squad of patrolmen to duty at the hospital. Waverley street, where the hospital is located, and which the hospital is located, and no traffic will be allowed on it. All passersby must also undergo scrutiny, and only those having proper business at the hospital are granted leave to pass in through the police cordon.

Gallagher Guarded.

James J. Gallagher, the assassin, was carefully guarded in his cell in the Hoboken jail all night to prevent him from making any possible attempt at self-destruction. Gallagher shows no remorse for his attempt on the life of Mayor Gaynor, and in fact, the brutality he feels regarding himself as a hero. It is not unlikely that the grand jury of Hudson County may meet today and draw an indictment against Gallagher for atrocious assault. In the event of the indictment, the indictment would be changed to a charge of homicide. Prosecutor Garven, of Hudson County, N. J., began the preparation of his case against Gallagher today.

Mr. Garven said:

"The grand jury, fortunately, has not wound up its current session or I would have to wait until the last of September to ask for Gallagher's indictment. There will be no trouble indicting him, as we have plenty of witnesses and the man's own confession.

"Accordingly to my own hastily-formed plan now, Gallagher will be on trial not later than the first of next week. The trial will be open and the verdict will be reached by the jury in record time.

"Gallagher will probably be tried on a charge of assault with attempt to kill. Then penalty for this is a maximum of twenty years. Under our commutation rule, this practically means a sentence of twelve years."

"Of course, the condition of Mayor Gaynor may prevent too hasty action, but by the encouraging reports I have received, the mayor will be spared. There were reports about the hospital this morning that there was a slight possibility that no operation would be performed upon Mr. Gaynor, and that the two fragments of the bullet would be left in the mayor's flesh. The decision not to operate would probably not come definitely until it was seen there was absolutely no danger of infection.

"There are many men with bullets

Ways to Save

Be systematic if you are determined to develop the saving habit. Here are several plans which may help you to save money and get ahead financially:

Make an allowance for each class of expenses, and then plan to save something on each allowance. Make it a rule to set aside a certain per cent of your income on pay day. Consider that this per cent is insurance against the future. Look upon it as a debt which must be paid. As your income increases your savings will increase.

We pay 3% interest, compounded every six months.
