Most Enjoyable Tea Meeting Held in the Church Last Evening

Services on Sunday Very Much Enjoyed-Choice Program rendered Last Evening.

The anniversary tea-meeting held in the Park St. Methodist Church last evening, was pronounced the most satisfactory and successful one ever held by this active and thriving religious organization. The crowds were large, the menu excellent and the program of music and speeches very choice and enjoyable.

The doors were thrown open at six o'clock and the ladies who presided at the tables were kept busy until after eight o'clock, providing suppers for the vast assemblage. The tables were arranged in the Sunday School room and time and again they were filled and re-filled. The Ladies' Aid of the church, who had the manage-ment of the tea in hand, have every reason to feel satisfied with the success of their efforts.

The tea was given as a fitting close to a most encouraging church anniversary. On Sunday the pulpit was occupied by Rev. Dr. Carman, of Toronto, General Superintendent of the Methodist Church, who gave two ex-cellent anniversary sermons, which were greatly appreciated by large oongregations.

The following was the program rendered at the conclusion of the supper last evening. Chairman's Address — Rev. Mr.

To Vote For E. J. B. Pense, Liberal Member For Kingston.

One Charge Considered Not Proven er, However, Stands - Witnesses Swore Money Was Paid Them by Liberal Chairman of Subdivision No. 11, Frontenac Ward.

Kingston, Oct. 31.-The trial of the election protest against the return of E. J. B. Pense, Liberal M. P. P., began at 2.30 yesterday afternoon in a crowded court room before Judges Street and Teetzel. John McIntyre, K. C., and W. F. Nickle appeared for the petitioner, Donald McIntyre, while J. P. Mabee, K. C., of Toronto and J. McDonald Mowat were present for the respondent. When court had adjourned at 6.30 only two charges out of 176 had been taken up. One was allowed to stand and the second dismissed. Two witnesses testified to getting $5 each in a room of the Beaupre House on election day.

It was also brought out that important witnesses the second of t tant witnesses are missing, as well as the books of the Reform Association. The first charge taken up was that S. S. Corbett, Leslie Hughes and Har-ty Thompson bribed Alfred Dugall. Dugall did not want to take the oath and refused until the judges threater ed to send him to jali. Dugall testified that S. S. Corbett, an undertaker, met him the afternoon of the election.

"He asked me to vote, and I told him "He asked me to vote, and I told him I wouldn't vote unless I got paid for it," Dugall swore, "He said that would be all right, but I said I would not vote till I saw the money. We then went into a room in the Beaupre Hotel. Two other men were there, Les lle Hughes and Harty Thompson. Cor-bett gave me $4, and I said I would not do it unless I got the rest. Some one then pulled out another dollar."

Didn't Keep It All.

Didn't Keep It All.

"Then I went into the polling booth.
They asked me to swear, and I refused.
Then I went back to the hotel. Corbett and Hughes called me into a room and told me I had to pay back the money for not voting. Hughes said if I did not he'd take it out of my hide. Then I gave them back $2.50 and kept the same amount for myself." S. S. Corbett was called and swore that he did not remember seeing Dug-all on election day. He had met Hughes and Thompson at the Beaupre House, but had not paid out one cent for corrupt purposes that day and did not know of anyone else who did. He afterwards remembered that Dugall had spoken to him that day and Judge Street remarked: "You are beginning to remember now."

The petitioner then tried to prove that Cochett we are over the Parse.

that Corbett was an agent of Pense, and it was proved that he was chairman of subdivision No. 11, Frontenac Ward.

J. McDonald Mowat, president of the Reform Association, was examined by Mr. McIntyre at great length as to the Liberal organization. He did not know who the chairmen of subdivisions were, Mr. Mowat stated that the wards were not organized for election purposes, but for the distribution of patronage, and this was the object of the Reform Association also.

The names of Leslie Hughes and Harty Thompson were called, but there was no response

There are nearly a dozen Liberals who are absent from the city.
R. H. Taye, secretary of the Reform Association up to Jan. 10 last, was also called. He did not know except from newspaper report who the ward chair-men were. The minute books he had left in the association rooms, locked the door, handed the key to Mr. Mowat and never saw them again. Mowat also disclaimed all knowledge of them. Mr. Pense's contribution to the funds was $400. This charge the judges allowed to stand without giving any decision.

Not Proven. The second charge was also against S. S. Corbett of bribing Wallace Harbeen taken to the polls by W. D. Carey been taken to the polls by W. D. Carey of the Albion Hotel, where he boarded, and afterwards brought over to the Beaupre House by a man introduced as Corbett. Witness and he had a drink of whiskey and then he was taken into a room where a young man said: "I suppose it's a V?" Witness was given $5 and left the hotel with Corbett. Did not know he was really Corbett, nor would he be able to identify him if he saw him again. Carev tify him if he saw him again. Carey swore he knew nothing of the transaction, and the judges held the charge was not proven.

Court adjourned at 6.30, to meet again at 9.30 Tuesday morning.

Of the difficulties in the language of Persia a traveler writes:, "The words one uses in a letter are almost entire-ly different from those used conversa-tionally, and those in an ordinary prese history are again different. Then it is almost impossible to distinguish the tenses, and, lastly, the adjective is generally indistinguishable from the substantive, and the link between an adjective and the term which it qualifies is the same as the sign of the pos sessive. For instance, the text, 'This is my beloved son,' may be read in the Persian Bible "This is the son of my beloved,' without the slightest violen to the grammar."

In another year this serious defect in the transportation facilities will no doubt he removed. be removed At present the field acquired by the At present the field acquired by the Government is six miles long by about two miles wide. It is apparently the intention of the authorities to secure additional ground and make the field ten miles wide and approximately ten miles long. The C. P. R. runs through this territory about one and a half miles from the Ottawa River. All the land bounded by the Petawawa and Chalk Rivers on the northeast and south, the Ottawa River on the east, and the C. P. R. on the west, may be allotted exclusively to the extillery, while the country on the west side of the C. P. R. is splendidly ada; ted for infantry, cavalry and engineers. There reason why ten thousand mer might not be trained on these grounds at one time. The officers and men would learn more regarding drill, scout-ing, marching, military engineering,

The cq intry has been swept by fire at intervals for years, and is sufficient-ly open to allow troops to move in any direction. ly open to allow troops to move in any direction. The soil is practically pure sand with a light covering of vegetable matter. The country is rolling, with here and there a cluster of small pine trees. There is enough wood on the ground to last for twenty years and, if judiciously cut, it will yield a profit to the Government. But clearing should be done with a definite object in view. The scenery along the Ottawa River is unequalled elsewhere in southern Canada. There is excellent sport, interesting boat trips and everything to make Petawawa a delightful and healthy spot for military instruction and pleasure.

The grounds at Petawawa, if properiy handled, have almost unlimited pos-sibilities and from a military point of view are probably unequalled by any other training grounds in the world.

Electric Shocks From False Teeth. "False teeth have been known to generate electricity in the mouth and generate electricity in the mouth and shock their wearer painfully," said a physician. "Only last week a gentleman came to me and said he feared he was getting a cancer on his tongue. 'Such severe shooting pains attack me,' he said 'that often I utter loud oaths in the most unseemly places—at teas, before the minister, and so on. It is like knife thrusts. Do you think I am going to lose my tongue?" I found that two different metals had been used in fixing the poor man's false teeth. These metals, combining with the saliva, had formed a small battery. Electricity generated in the battery continually, and shock after shock was administered to the tongue. I painted the metals with an insulating varnish. Thereafter the man had no more trouble."

Thinking of Business, "Can you float alone?" asked the athletic girl as they paddled out to sea.
"I don't know," murmured the young financier absently. "How large a loan do you mean?"

ABSOLUTE new camp at Petawawa. It is the first time the garrison companies and field batteries have been able to conduct their shell practice under service conditions. The targets are hidden and the ranges are ample, says a Globe correspondent. For the heavy artillery, namely, 4.7 guns, the target was placed on a rise of ground over six thousand yards from the gun positions. In the case of the field guns the infantry target varies from two thousand to twenty-five hundred yards distance:

Slips of Artists.

It is a part of the seeming ill luck belonging to circumstance that an artist may spend time and genius on a piece of work and then fail con-

a piece of work and then fail con-spicuously in some detail.

There is a story that one royal academician gave a hand five fingers and a thumb and that another painted and a thinn and that another painted a live lobster bright red. The clever Goodall had been engaged in painting a number of laborers drag-ging a huge stone across the desert, and a man of science, entering the studio, said to him:

"I say, Goodall, if you want those fellows to pull that stone you must double their number. It would take just twice as many."

But it is not modern painters alone who slip up on points of accuracy. Even Albert Durer, in a scene representing Peter denying Christ, painted one of the Roman soldiers in the act of smoking. Turner put a rainbow beside the sun, and in another picture he got woefully tangled in the ship's Incident of the Reign of Terror. A dramatic incident of the reign of terror in France was the saying of her father's life from the guillotine by Mile, de Sombreuil. M. de Sombreuil and his daughter were condemned to death at the time of the September massacres and were waiting in the cart, surrounded by the mob, for their turn to mount the scaffold. Mile, de Sombreuil turned to the crowd and asked what harm a weak old man like her father could do to the nation. Some of the men answered that if she would drink a glass of blood to the nation they would let him go and passed up a glass. She drank it down immediat The crowd took her and her father from the cart. They escaped and made their way to England. She thought at the time she drank blood, but after ward she concluded that it was red wine, for she saw no one stoop to fill the glass. To her death she was never able, however, to see red wine in glass without a shudder.

A Pillar In Venice.

At a corner of St. Mark's church in Venice, the one nearest the ducal palace, there has been standing since the eleventh century a pillar of red por-phyry carved with the portraitures of four noble gentlemen of Albania. In fact they were brothers who went to Venice in a ship laden with vast wealth. One couple plotted against the other to secure all the treasure and at a feast each duo of plotters poisoned the other. The signory of Venice seized upon their goods. In commemoration of so unbrotherly a conspiracy and as a warning against avarice the unique and exquisitely carved pillar was erected.

The Sudanese Baby.

A Sudanese baby when dressed up in its best clothes is probably the most uncomfortable infant in the world. The coat or outer garment which fashion dictates should be worn reaches to the very heels. It is of heavy velve ing in many folds. This, in turn, is adorned with countless buttons and bangles of brass, considerably adding to its weight. Its cap, in turn, is of the same material, similarly decorated and doubtless equally uncomfortable.

Many pagan people regard the co-coanut as of divine origin because it is so useful. It supplies almost all their needs. With its trunk they build houses, with its leaves they thatch their roofs, the fiber of its shell they weave into clothes, the hard wood of the nuts they cut into bowls and sau-cers, its rind is their food, its milk is their drink, and its narcotic root they dry and smoke.

Sport In Ancient Rome. In the palmy days of Rome the num-ber of lions brought from Africa averaged 400 per year for nine years, and with these were leopards, tigers, hyenas, elephants, buffaloes and serpents almost without number. For several years there were 8,000 men employed in Africa in trapping wild animals to make sport for the people of Rome.

The fourteen-year-old son of a respectable Jew in Warsaw hanged himself the other day. He left a note, saying: "I have hanged myself out of mere curiosity. I could not help myself. I had to find out what they were doing in the other world."

Canada's aggregate trade for the fiscal year ending June 30th last amounted to $470,151,289, being $2,581,749 less than for the previous fiscal year. The imports totalled $266,834,417, an increase of $7,622,614 over the preceding twelve months. The exports amounted to $203,316,872, a decrease of over $10,-000,000 in domestic and foreign goods combined and of $7,559,493 in domestic products only. Of dutlable goods there combined and of $7,559,493 in domestic products only. Of cutiable goods there were imported $157,164,975, a gain of $1,056,522, and of free goods $199,669,442, an improvement of $6,556,092 ever the previous year. The latter item is most satisfactory, indicating as it does increasing importation of raw materials for manufacturing purposes. An examination of the returns in detail shows that Canadian imports from British possessions decreased by $13,-121, while our exports to British possessions lessened by over $15,000,000, sessions lessened by over $15,000,000, On the other hand, we bought nearly $8,000,000 more from foreign countries and augmented our exports to foreign countries by $5,491,083. From Great Britain we imported $50,538,811 worth of goods, and sent that country $101,958,771 worth, debreases of $1,422,098 and $15,632,605; respectively. Two Farmers in Chatham Tewnship Come to Blows Over the Location

A yery interesting fracas occurred in Ohatham Township this morning, as a result of which C. W. Haviland, a well known farmer in that Township, is now nursing a number of severe and painful wounds.

The rwy occurred over the location The row occurred over the location of a ditch between Mr. Haviland's farm and the property of Mr. Per-rin on the 2nd concession. A man named Steen was employed to build the ditch and Mr. Hairland claimed the ditch and Mr. Hairland claimed he was digging it too much on his (Haviland's) property. Land in Chatham Township is very valuable and Mr. Haviland objected strongly to losing so much of his farm. He stated his objections to Mr. Steen, who in his turn thought he was putting the ditch where it ought to go. A warm debate followed, with the result that each of the speakers became thoroughly aroused and excited. The arfair ended in a fight in which Mr. Haviland was a decided loser. He received several nasty bruises and was thoroughly shaken up.

Totem Poles.

The figurines or ministure totem oles made by various Indian tribes The figurines or miniature totem poles made by various Indian tribes are among the most curious of Indian relics. In reality the totem, or figurine, is to the Indian what our crest or symbol of ancestry is to us, and there are few Indians who do not have some tradition as to the origin of their families. The general belief is that the tribe is the miraculous outcome of the tribe is the miraculous outcome of the intercourse of some god with some animal, bird or fish. Good tea must be grown under proper conditions

LOW, damp or swampy lands in a warm, humid climate produce tea of rank, rapid growth, coarse in texture, woody fibred, rudely flavoredmakes a cup heavy, murky in color, rough-tasting -it is poor tea.

But the Indian and Ceylon teas used to make the Red Rose brand are grown on the high lands of India and the mountain sides of Ceylon.

These teas are grown in clear dry sunshine, they mature slowly, the leaves of the Ceylon teas are tender, delicate, finely flavored, but not strong.

The Indian teas thus grown are full bodied, richly flavored, smooth in texture, strong.

Such Indian and Ceylon teas combined in Red Rose Tea produce a cup of a rich rosy brown, strong and smooth-all the richness and strength of Indian, all the delicacy and fragrance of Ceylon teas-that "rich, fruity flavor" which belongs alone to Red Tea-more qualities of tea excellence than any Indian or brand of Ceylon alone can possess.

You surely won't stop at a dollar bill to cure that horrid, sniffeling cold? Go to any druggist and get "Catarrhozone" and your cold will be a thing of the past. There is almost witchery in the swift way Catarrhozone kills colds. But when you consider the penetrating, healing and antiseptic qualities of Catarrhozone perhaps it's not so wonderful. Certainly there is no remedy half so prompt for colds and catarrh as Catarrhozone. Refuse a substitute and insist on having only "Catarrhozone."

Dame Fashion is strenuously urging simpler mode just now-at least in exclusive circles. That the world of iress in general will not fall in with this simpler phase is quite probable for it means an irreproachable cut and finish that exact too much from the average "little dressmaker" and do not please the women with whom quantity weighs more than quality. "Au reste," this simple gown does not represent economy, a fact which se cures its position in the circle of very chic dressers.

OLD AGE.

Old age as it comes in the orderly process of Nature is a beautiful and majestic thing. The very shadow of celipse which threatens it, makes it the more prized. It stands for ex-perience, knowledge, wisdom and counsel. That is old age as it should be. But old age as it so often is means nothing but a second childhood of mind and body. What makes the difference? Very largely the care of the stomach. In youth and the full strength of manhood it does not seem to matter how we treat the stomach. We abuse it, overwork it. injure it. We don't suffer from it much. But when age comes the sto-mach is worn out. It can't prepare and distribute the needed nourishment to the body, and the body, un-nourished, falls into senile decay. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is a wonderful medicine for old people whose stomachs are weak, and who digestions are poor. Its invigorat-ing effects are felt by mind as well as body. It takes the sting from old age, and makes old people strong.

Old Age and Matrimony.

When he was considered quite an old man James, Lord Balcarres, went to stay with old Lady Keith. There were a number of young ladies in the house and, before he arrived, Lady Keith said to them: "Now, there is this old gentleman coming to stay, and I particularly wish that you should all endeavor to make yourselves as pleasant o him as you can. They all agreed to do so, but a Miss Dalrymple said: "You may all do what you like, but I'll bet you anything that you please that I'll make the old gentleman like me best of us all." And so she did. She made him perfectly devoted to her all the time he was there, yet when he asked her to marry him she laughed in his face. Lord Balcarres was extremely crestfallen, but when he went away he made a will settling everything he could upon Miss Dalrymple. Somehow she heard of this, and said: "Then, after all, he must really care for me, and I will marry him." she did. He was fifty-eight then, but they had ten children.

Imperial Manifesto Which Ends the Absolute Monarchy.

Nicholas the Second. Emperor and Autocrat of All the Russias, Will Hereafter Rule in Co-ordination With the Representatives of the People Ruled-Lays Down the Principles Which Underlie the Later Imperial Directions-Asks People's Co-operation.

St. Petersburg, Oct. 21.—The following is the text of the Imperial manifesto, which will forever end the rule of absolutism exercised by him and his Romanoff ancestors for 300 years:

"We, Nicholas the Second, by the grace of God, Emperor and autocrat of all the Russias, Grand Duke of Finiand, etc., declare to all our faithful subjects that the troubles and agitation in our capitals and in numerous other places fill our heart with excessive pain and sorrow.

"The happiness of the Russian Sovereign is indissolubly bound up with the Rappiness of our people and the sorrow of our perple is the sorrow of the Sovereign.

"From the present disorders may arise great national disruption. They

The supreme duty imposed upon us efface ourself and to use all the force and reason at our command to hasten in securing the unity and co-ordination of the power of the central Government, and to assure the success of the measures for pacification in all circles of public life, which are essential to the well being of our people. Imperial Directions.

"We therefore direct our Govern-ment to carry out our inflexible will in the following manner:

in the following manner:

"First—To extend to the population the immutable foundations of civic liberty, based on the real inviolability of person, freedom of conscience, speech, union and association.

"Second—Without suspending the already ordered elections to the State Douma, to invite to participation in the Douma, so far as the limited time before the convocation of the Douma will permit, those classes of the population now completely deprived of electoral rights, leaving the ultimate development of the principle of electoral right in general to the newly "Third—To establish as an undehangeable rule that no law shall be enforceable without the approval of the State Douma, and that it shall be possible for the elected of the i-copie to exercise real participation in the supervision of the legality of the acts of the authorities appointed by us.

"The Government should abstain from any interference with elections to the Douma and keep in view my sincere desire for the realization of my ukase of Dec. 25, 1904. It must maintain the prestige of the Douma and confidence in its labors, and in no way resist its decisions so long as they are not inconsistent with Russia's historic greatness.

"It is necessary to respect the ideals of the great majority of society and not the schoes of noisy groups and factions, too often unstable. It is especially important to secure the reform of the Council of the Empire on an electoral principle.

"We appeal to all faithful sons of Russia to remember their dury towards the fatherland to aid in terminating these unprecedented troubles and to apply all their forces, in co-operation with us, to the restoration of calm and peace upon our native soil.

"Given at Peterhoff, Oct. 30, in the eleventh year of our reign. (Signed) Nicholas."

Czar Yields Everything. Czar Yields Everything.
A simple perusal of the manifesto shows how complete is the Emperor's abdication of his autoeratic powers. It shows that the Emperor at last has irrevocably bowed to the inevitable. He does not even conceal the fact that the discontent and agitation of his subjects has driven him to take the step, and practically yields everything—civil liberty, the inviolability of person, and liberty of conscience, speech and assembly.

Revolutionists Still Belligerent.
The news spread like whidtre throughout the city. The revolutionists and active agitators generally declared loudly that the Governments promises would no longer suffice, and that the strike must be continued. In fact, an hour after the news became known the revolutionists took occasion to throw the first bomb in St. Petersburg used since the strike began. The incident occurred near the Polytechnic School, but there was no fatality. Practically all classes, except the Socialists and the extreme Radicals, however, read the document with delight and amazement, declaring that it Revolutionists Still Belligerent.

Your Doctor

We wish you would ask your doctor what he thinks of Vapo-Cresolene. He will say "It's certainly the best way of reaching the throat and lungs, this inhaling method." You see, it brings the medicine right in contact with the weak places.

The Irony of Fate.

Arrangements, however, have been made to placard the manifesto on every dead wall in the city, and the text will be telegraphed to-day to every city, town and hamlet with which there is telegraphic communication. It has also been ordered read in all the churches of the Empire.

The Crowds Cheer.

Late last night, after the news got broad, crowds began marching up and down the Nevsky Prospect, singing the National Anthem and hurrahing for liberty. At all the fashionable restaurants champagne was drunk in toasts to lib-erty and the constitution.

The Municipal Council at its sitting last night, after reading the Imperial manifesto, decided to send the following telegram to the Emperor:

"The council welcomes with delight the long-desired tidings of freedom, firmly relying on a bright future for our dear fatherland. Hurrah for the

Emperor of a free people.

No Mutiny.

There appears to be no foundation for the rumors of mutiny on the vessels of the Black Sea fleet, which are in circulation in Odessa, and which have been industriously propagated by the strikers here for several days. A meeting of the strike committee was held last night, after the promulgation of the Emperor's manifesto was known. The question of calling the known. The question of calling the strike off was the discussion, but a de-cision postponed until to-day. "We Have Liberty!"
