MRS. J. HOWARD BARSS

The news of the sudden death at Ann Arbor, Michigan, on Thursday of Nowian took place at Westwood Hospital last week, of Elizabeth J., wife of Rev. J. Howard Barss, of this town, was received with deep sorrow by a host of friends. A month ago, accompanied by her husband, Mrs. Barss went to Ann Arbor for medical treatment, and recent advices stated that she was progressing

Mrs. Barss was a lady highly esteemed and her decease is keenly felt and sincere sympathy for the sorrowing husband and son is heard on every hand.

The late Mrs. Barss was born in England and was the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Townsend, who, while she was very young, removed to Rochester, U. S. A. Soon after her marriage to the Rev. J. Howard Barss, about 29 years ago, she went with her husband to India, where he was in charge of a mission but owing to the injurious effect of the climate upon her health, they came to Wolfville, where they have made their home for 26 years

The remains accompanied by Rev. in Wolfville on Monday afternoon and the funeral took place at once from the Baptist Church. Rev. Dr. MacDonald conducted the service and he was assisted by Rev. Dr. Chute, who read the scripture esson and offered a feeling prayer. Mrs. F. W. Barteaux sang "The City Four Square" with pleasing effect. The address by Rev. Dr. MacDonald was a fine tribute to the splendid qualities of the departed and was in part as follows:

Mrs. Barss possessed those qualities of winsome womanhood which appealed to the best within us—the qualities which made her a distinct asset to Church and community life. She was a woman of sunshine. She radiated sunshine a sur shine that warms hearts and change be a sunshine that gives the dark cloud

GOOD NEWS FROM ONTARIO

The following quotation from the Toronto Star and the comments thereon are taken from the Halifax Morning Chronicle

The Toronto Star states that one of a multitude of indications that the Ontario Temperance Act and other prohibitory laws are working to the advantage of Canada is shown by the statistics of crime In 1920 the convictions for drunkennes throughout the Dominion were only 39,769, as against 60,975 in 1913. In other words, notwithstanding an appre ciable increase of population during the last eight years, drunkenness has decreased by nearly 35 per cent. This record is the more remarkable because conditions in Quebec and one or two other Provinces foster the consumption of liquor.

"Figures obtainable from Toronto and other parts of the Province," says the Star, "discredit the propaganda of the wets about the amount of bootlegging homebrewing and secret drinking. O. T. A. is a good law, well worded and in the main well enforced. But it would be idle pretence to say that the evils of alcohol have disappeared, and that the fight for sobriety has been victoriously ended. The liquor traffic in Ontario i like a conflagration that has been subdued but that still smolders. It will burst out anew unless good citizens remain or

This statement of the case as regard Ontario might, in the main, be adopted as summarising the situation in his Province. The benefits of the prohibitive law are widely acknowledged and almost universally welcome. Indeed there are few who would deny that there has been decided improvement in conditions and given proper respect for law enforcement, which all good citizens should encourage with all their influence, there is every reason to hope that improvemen will be more marked in the future At all events there will be no retro gression from a great economic as as moral reform.

This is salesmanship. Any one can sell a pound of sugar to a child who has been sent to the store to purchas just that quantity, but to sell to your customer an article which they had not realized they required, is an entirely different matter. The news paper offers the best possible opportunity for this process of suggestion. Try the effect of show ing your customers, through the medium of the paper, that you have something a little better or a little cheaper than your competitor and you will find that the re-

Another important feature of news aper advertising is space. When you are ddressing a large audience it is customary to refrain from talking in a whisper. When you address the large number of people who read the weekly newspaper, it is foolish to tuck your ad. away in a one nch space in a corner. TAKING CAR OUT OF STORAGE

A car that has been in storage with parts properly protected will need per-baps no more attention than lubrication, and giving the battery and tires a good ing; but the car that has been operated through the winter will, in the major ity of cases, need a light overhaul. This work will cover a variety of operations, but usually the following work will be included:

1-Take up on main and connecting rod bearings.

2-Remove carbon and grind valves. 3-Clean gasoline tank, line, and vac-

4-Clean and adjust ignition, inspect 5-Inspect generator and starting tor and wiring.

6-Clean cooling system, supply new nnections and belt if necessary.

7-Tune and test motor.

-Clean and adjust clutch. 9-Adjust all brakes.

10-Remove wheels, inspect and adjust. 11-Inspect steering, remove excess play from post and knuckles,

12-Tighten body bolts, fenders, re move rattles. -Tighten spring shackles.

14—Inspect driving pinion shaft and propeller shaft for play.

15-Change engine oil, transi and rear axle oil.

16-Lubricate chassis 17-Recharge hattery

The top, if of imitation leather, will need a coat of linseed oil. It surely needs a cleaning on the inside with soap and water to remove spots. The upholstery may require repairing in spots and treatment with neatsfoot oil if of leather. If imitation leather a light rub with olive oil will do. The side curtains will probably need new windows, and a few fasterners may need to be replaced. The front of the radiator may be brightened by spray-ing it with a mixture of kerosene and lampblack; nickelled parts will need brightening, and black parts with chipped paint will need a light coat of enamel.

Intentional slipping is also disastrous if continued. It is usually due to a dis-inclination to shift gears. The car is approaching a block in the traffic, which will probably open if we do not arrive too soon, so we slow down slightly.

We have choice of several methods. If we throttle down too far the engine will stall. If we shift to second speed it may delay us, and then many drivers dislike to shift gears, apparently for no other reason than that they dislike it, forgetting that gears were placed on the cars for just such occasions.

A third method is to allow the car to coast by throwing out the clutch and then engaging it again. This gives an intermittent motion to the car to which they object, but it is nevertheless superior to the following method (and the last one that should be employed): This consists in slipping the clutch, driving the car at a speed intermediate between high and This should never be done;

To the Prospective Purchaser:

Dear Sir:-

It is part of our business to know motor car values. We believe we know such vlaues as well and as intimately as any other men in this vicinity.

In the light of this knowledge, we are going to make a statement in this letter which will either damage our reputation as sincere, straight-forward business men, or increase it greatly.

That statement is simply this:

The Maxwell car at $1350.00 delivered, is the greatest value in its class.

If we couldn't back that statement up by proving it to you so clearly and forcibly as to have no room for doubt, it would act as a business boom-

We can prove Maxwell's superior value - overwhelmingly, to you or any other member of your family, or any engineer or mechanic in whom you have confidence, and who is thoroughly familiar with automobile mechanics. And we stand ready to prove it, any time you may desire to come in and

SPRAYING NOTES

(Experimental Farms Note.)

With the prospect of the new Fruit Marks Act regulations coming into effect this season the question of finish and quality in fruit is one which should more than ever attract the attention of growers The new regulations which are much more specific in their statement of what constitutes blemishes for the higher grades than the act now in force, make it extremely desirable that the sprays to be used should be carefully selected.

The wholesale use of Bordeaux mix ture, accompanied as it generally is by lack of finish and often by an actual russeting of the fruit, should be practised with extreme caution. Russeting may now be responsible for as high a percentage of loss in the highest grade (extra fancy) as a moderate infestation of scab. Whereas Bordeaux is responsible for much russeting to the fruit, it is likewise admitted that lime sulphur is capable of actually improving the finish of the product and is in addition an efficient fungicide.

As the russeting is naturally caused by those sprays given after the bloom has fallen, the use of Bordeaux previous to that stage may be advocated where deemed advisable. Undoubtedly the old 4-4-40 Bordeaux is the greater sinner in respect to russet injury than the newe recommendations of 3-10-40, 4-8-40, etc, and the later formulae should be used in preference to the older one. Taking into consideration control of scab, finish of fruit and quality; in short, the pack out the following recommendations for orchard use would seem to be the most com-

1st spray—either Bordeaux or lime sulphur

2nd spray-either Bordeaux or lime sulphur

3rd spray-lime sulphur

4th spray—lime sulphur
The absolute necessity of applying three or more sprays should be understood. Trees not sprayed, or poorly sprayed, will not only produce poor quality of fruit and less of it, but, on account of foliage injury brought on by fungous diseases as well as insect pests, are in no condition to form a crop of fruit buds for the succeeding year.

In order to determine possible reduce tion of crop by the use of spray mixtures and actual count of some thousands of bloom was made last season at the Central Experimental Farm and the following results noted:

Where lime sulphur, specific gravity .007, was used 17.4% of the blooms set fruit. Where Bordeaux 3-10-40 formula was used, 17.7% of the blooms set fruit. There was practically no difference in the et of the two plots due to the spray used.

These results do not indicate a loss ue to the use of lime sulphur as a spray for orchard use in the Province of Ontario, Calcium Arsenate for Potatoes With the advent of calcium arsenate as an insecticide it should, on account of its cheapness and insecticide properties, displace the use of Paris green on potatoes, which is always liable to be attended by foliage injury. For the control of fungo diseases of potatoes Bordeaux mixture of the 4-4-40 formula is to be highly commended. Lime sulphur should be avoided. As an insecticide, to be combined with the Bordeaux, use one to one and onehalf pounds dry arsenate of lime to every forty gallons of the spray mixture. This nation has proved on the Experi
