Do Not Misquote Figures.

Some advertisers are using the Inland Revenue Department's recent official report upon baking powders to show the comparative strength and qualities of these articles as they are sold in the Dominion. It is not fair, however, either to the Analysts or to the public in making this use of the official figures that they should be misquoted, as it is alleged has been done in some instances.

The following figures are copied from the official report printed by the Canadian Government and show correctly, as per that document, the relative strength value of the baking powders named. The analyses in all cases were made by the Government Analysts:—

	Per cent. of available leavening gas
"Royal" (average of three highest tests).....	13.4
"Cleveland's" (average of two highest tests).....	13.
"Dearborn's" (average of two highest tests).....	11.7
"Imperial" (average of two highest tests).....	9.9
"Magic" (contains alum), (average of three highest tests).....	7.7

The Government and the People.

As intimated in a recent issue, the Farquharson Government in question had no existence except in imagination. This is how matters stood, according to the public accounts, on December 31st last. On the 22nd day of May, 1900, a statement was submitted to the Legislature by the Government, showing that the amount due the banks on that date was $22,808.23 over what the public accounts showed to be due on December 31st, 1899. This would bring the debt up to $539,829.89 at that date, admitting that the loans account and debenture account remained the same as they were on December 31, 1899. This is the last statement the public has had from the Government regarding the finances of the Province. At the last session of the Legislature, the Government passed an act empowering them to issue debentures to the amount of $48,750.00. If these debentures have been sold the debt of the Province has been increased by that amount, bringing it up to $588,579.89. Should it so happen that they have not been sold, we may be sure the deficit on the year's transactions equals the amount of the debentures and more. Whether the debentures have been sold or not, we may take it for granted that the Government, in accordance with their past record, have this year added to the Provincial debt considerably more than these debentures amount to. Placing the quarter salary due the teachers on December 31st at $26,000, and the half-year's interest on the public debt falling due on the same date, and adding these two items to the above figures we shall have in round numbers the sum of $624,000.00, which we may be sure is a moderate estimate of the debt of this Province at the present time, or in a few weeks hence when the year closes.

Headaches—"I was completely run down and was troubled with headaches and dizziness and pains in my back. I took Hood's Sarsaparilla which in a short time entirely cured me." Mrs. J. Winterton, Orangeville, Ontario.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
NEVER DISAPPOINT

Are the intelligent electors of this Province prepared to accord their support to a Government that insults them in this fashion? In the absence of any official statement of the Government's transactions for the current year, now almost closed, we must only refer to their past record as the next best evidence of what they have been doing for the last twelve months. There is every reason to believe that whatever worse than the record the year coming to a close has been, it has not been any better. We must, therefore, conclude, that the financial affairs of the Province are in a very bad position. Here is the record: On the 31st day of December last, according to the statement of the Provincial Auditor, the debt of the Province was as follows: Balance against the Province..... $136,756.77 Due on debentures..... 220,000.00 Provincial loans..... 160,464.89 $517,221.66

Regarding the debenture debt, the Public Accounts contain two items amounting to $16,532.80, which are credited to debenture account under the head of sinking fund; but according to a statement of the Provincial Auditor, submitted to the Legislature on the 23rd of May, 1900, the sum of $11,030.30 of this amount has no existence as a sinking fund. The amount was said to be on call in the bank; but it is well known the Government's account was at that time overdrawn at the bank; therefore the amount in question had no existence except in imagination. This is how matters stood, according to the public accounts, on December 31st last. On the 22nd day of May, 1900, a statement was submitted to the Legislature by the Government, showing that the amount due the banks on that date was $22,808.23 over what the public accounts showed to be due on December 31st, 1899. This would bring the debt up to $539,829.89 at that date, admitting that the loans account and debenture account remained the same as they were on December 31, 1899. This is the last statement the public has had from the Government regarding the finances of the Province. At the last session of the Legislature, the Government passed an act empowering them to issue debentures to the amount of $48,750.00. If these debentures have been sold the debt of the Province has been increased by that amount, bringing it up to $588,579.89. Should it so happen that they have not been sold, we may be sure the deficit on the year's transactions equals the amount of the debentures and more.

Whether the debentures have been sold or not, we may take it for granted that the Government, in accordance with their past record, have this year added to the Provincial debt considerably more than these debentures amount to. Placing the quarter salary due the teachers on December 31st at $26,000, and the half-year's interest on the public debt falling due on the same date, and adding these two items to the above figures we shall have in round numbers the sum of $624,000.00, which we may be sure is a moderate estimate of the debt of this Province at the present time, or in a few weeks hence when the year closes.

The Government say they are not responsible for all the debt; that there was a Provincial debt when they assumed the reins of power. Well, we do not wish to accuse the Government of any political crimes of which they are not guilty, and will admit that they inherited some debt from their predecessors in office. During the discussion of the budget in the Legislature last session, the Premier placed the debt assumed by the Liberal Government, from their predecessors at $128,429

We are not disposed to controvert these figures; but will assume they are correct. When the Conservative Government came into power they, too, inherited from their predecessors, in office a debt of $51,740. Subtracting this amount from $128,429, we have $76,689 as the correct amount of debt chargeable to the Conservative Government. If we divide this by the twelve years they held office, we shall find that they increased the debt at the average yearly rate of $6,390. Let us now see at what rate our Liberal friends increased the Provincial debt. Subtracting the $128,000, assumed by them, from the present debt of $624,000, we see that the Liberals increased the Provincial debt to the amount of $496,000, or a yearly average increase for their nine years of office of $55,112. This, in brief, is the statement of the public debt and the amount of it, for which the Liberal Government are responsible, as well as the rate per year at which they increased it. When the Liberals assumed power they proclaimed it as part of their policy to make revenue and expenditure meet. The figures of the enormous public debt under which we are now groaning as shown above, exemplify the Government's method of carrying out this part of their policy, and the sacredness with which they regard their promises to the people in this particular. The following list of deficits will afford our readers some idea of the facility with which the Liberal Government have rolled up our Provincial debt:

Deficit, 1891.....	$ 30,439.20
Deficit, 1892.....	37,651.29
Deficit, 1893.....	119,942.33
Deficit, 1894.....	20,164.21
Deficit, 1895.....	32,862.80
Deficit, 1896.....	14,135.32
Deficit, 1897.....	88,201.65
Deficit, 1898.....	25,576.77
Deficit, 1899.....	36,915.08
Total.....	$355,888.60

making an average annual deficit of $39,548.16.

While they were rolling up the debt at such a rapid rate, they were also diving deep into the people's pockets and extracting therefrom an average yearly taxation of $48,108.17, as the following table shows:

Taxes imposed 1894.....	$45,182.81
Taxes imposed 1895.....	47,661.00
Taxes imposed 1896.....	48,468.10
Taxes imposed 1897.....	46,674.50
Taxes imposed 1898.....	44,995.97
Taxes imposed 1899.....	55,668.68

Taxes imposed in six years..... $288,649.06

All will surely admit that this is a considerable amount of tax to be extracted from the people of this Province by a Government that declared on their advent to power, that the day of taxation was far off; by a Government that declared they would not resort to direct taxation without first consulting the people.

A debt is fairly measured by the amount of interest paid upon it; therefore the magnitude of our Provincial debt may be approximately gauged by the interest charge upon the same. The extraordinary growth of this interest since the Liberals came into power will be shown by comparing the interest charge for 1890, the last year for which the Conservatives are responsible with that of 1899 the last year for which we have the public accounts. In 1890 the interest paid by the Government, as shown in the public accounts, amounted to $2,697.44. From this modest sum paid by the Conservatives in 1890 the interest charges against the Province have gone on increasing under Liberal rule until the enormous amount of $19,075.51, was reached in 1899. At this rate of increase we may be very sure the interest paid this year will be considerably over $20,000.00. In connection with this interest, the Liberals say they are paying a lesser rate than was paid by the Conservatives. If that be the case it only shows that they have accumulated a larger debt than is apparent to the public. Surely this question of interest is sufficient of itself to condemn, most emphatically, the Government that preached economy and promised to make revenue and expenditure meet. Their actions have most glaringly belied their words; and its by their actions they must be judged.

Having scandalously deceived the people and falsified all the promises of economy made in 1893, the Government found it necessary to invent a new shibboleth when they again appealed to the electors in 1897. This time the people were told the matter of our claims against the Federal Government were to be submitted to arbitration, with the confident expectation that our Provincial treasury would benefit thereby, to the extent of a million dollars or two, in actual cash. This, the people were told would be the means of obviating direct taxation for all time. Events have proved that these roscate statements had no foundation in fact, and that they were simply made for the purpose of deceiving the electorate; for the then Premier, who embodied this alluring language in his election address, knew he would be starting for British Columbia as soon as the election should be over. The trick accomplished all that was intended; the people were deceived; but from that day to this we have heard nothing about arbitration. No money has been recouped to the Provincial treasury in virtue of our claims at Ottawa; the deficits have gone on as usual, the taxes have been extracted from the pockets of the people and the Provincial debt has been piled higher and higher. The people now have an opportunity of resenting all this falsehood and deception. Will they avail themselves of the opportunity; or will they condone all this wrong-doing and allow the Government to deceive them once more?

The above enumeration of facts does not by any means embrace the full catalogue of the Government's political crimes. They have set at naught the provisions of the constitution and have trampled under foot the principles of responsible government, by retaining in the office of Attorney-General, for the space of about a year, a man who had been rejected by the electorate when he appealed to them for confirmation of his office. During all the years they have been in office they have squandered the public revenues and continue to squander them in the matter of our roads and bridges. Necessary repairs on our roads are not let to public competition; nor is the work done on the roads at a season of the year when it would be most beneficial, from the view-point of convenience or economy. The public are allowed to suffer during the season that the road work should be done, and whatever money is expended is paid out on the approach of an election, not for the benefit of the public; but with the object of securing votes for the Government. The consequence is that the money is wasted in attempts to debauch the electorate, the roads are left as bad as, or worse than, before and the travelling public are obliged to suffer all this inconvenience without any means of redress.

There are several other counts in the indictment against the Government; but space does not permit us, at the present writing, to enunciate any more. We think we have said enough however, to prove beyond the possibility of doubt, that they have forfeited the confidence of a free and independent electorate. We have shown from their own official statements that, although they took from the pockets of the people, in the shape of taxes, the sum of $288,649.06; they have accumulated deficits amounting to $355,888.60; they have increased the debt of the Province by nearly $600,000; they have increased the interest charge against the Province to the extent of $16,378.07, or nearly twice as much as the revenue derived from the land office last year. All this they have done in the face of their promises to economize and to make revenue and expenditure meet. These heinous Grit sinners; these political scape goats now come before the people and seek a renewal of power. Once more we ask, are the electors of this Province prepared to condone all their falsehood and deception and give them another lease of office?

Strike Down the Enemy.

The address of the Leader of the Opposition, Hon. D. Gordon, published in this issue, briefly and tersely sets forth some of the many reasons why the present Provincial Government should be removed from power on the 12th of December. As is plainly evident from the evidence furnished by their own official reports, the Government have broken their pledges, falsified their promises and have consequently, forfeited the confidence of the electorate of this Province. They promised to reduce public expenditure; but the record shows they have largely increased it. In the strongest language possible they condemned a Provincial debt, yet in nine years they have added about $500,000 to the debt of the Province. They solemnly declared when they took office the day of taxation was far off, and have since then assured the electors they would receive an amount of money from Ottawa that would remove taxation for all time. In all these declarations they have most outrageously deceived the electorate; for in their lectured from the people $288,649 in taxes. This is what the people have for placing in power the present Government and keeping them there. They promised to make revenue and expenditure meet; but the public accounts show that the average annual deficit, since they assumed power, has been $39,543. When in opposition they never ceased to proclaim that there was no necessity for a Commissioner of Public Works and that the Land Office should be closed. But, in the face of this, they have continued that office with its expenditures, although they have been in office over nine years. The financial policy of the Government has been simply ruinous, as any one can see by giving the matter a little thought. Although they extracted, in the shape of taxes, the sum of $288,649 from the pockets of the people, they ran behind in their accounts during their time in office, as we have already shown, to the tune of $355,888. Adding together these deficits and taxes we have the enormous sum of $644,537. This is the way the Government have carried out their promises and have made revenue and expenditure meet. In return for all this expenditure and taxation the people have received no substantial benefit. Our public road system, as carried on by the Government is simply a public scandal; a sink for absorbing the people's money, without any returns in the shape of improved highways. The interest paid on the public debt, has been increased by the present Government to the extent of $18,378.07. This in itself should be enough to cause the people to set their face against the present Government and to send them about their business on the 12th of December. Our Province is without sources of public revenues, such as the valuable mineral and lumber areas of the other Provinces of the Dominion, and if the policy of going in debt is to be permitted much longer, the Island will be irrevocably mortgaged to the money lenders. This is no imaginary picture of our financial condition; but is such as any one can see who will take the trouble to give the matter serious consideration. Is it not, therefore, time to call a halt; to rouse ourselves from our lethargy and make an effort to preserve our heritage, by removing the present Government from power on the 12th of December?

Premier Farquharson and His "Mission."

The Patriot of the 20th contains the following note: "Premier Farquharson returned last evening from Ottawa. He expresses himself as being well pleased with his reception and with the results of his mission. In a short time he will lay before the public a statement showing what has been accomplished." In this connection it is well to consider the following facts. The Patriot of the 19th contained the following telegraphic news: OTTAWA, Nov. 19.—Sir Louis Davies and Hon. Mr. Fielding arrived here on Saturday, along with them was Premier Farquharson. Sir Wilfrid Laurier is taking a few days quiet at Arthabaska-ville, therefore Mr. Farquharson did not see him. It will therefore be interesting to know who encouraged him in his "mission" and on what date the "mission" was "accomplished."

The Public Debt.

July 9, 1891—Amount due banks - - - $53,442.21
June 2, 1900—Amount due banks and for debentures and loans—$531,801.40
These are the amounts set forth in official statements, issued on the dates given, over the signature of Arthur Newbery, Deputy Provincial Secretary and Treasurer.

To the Electors of Prince Edward Island.

As the Government have issued their mandate for a general election on the 12th of December and you will be called upon to choose representatives to manage your affairs in the next parliament of this Province, it is fit and proper that a retrospect be taken and a true estimate formed of our position and financial standing as a Province.

In South Africa!

A message from Lord Roberts states that his horse fell on Sunday last week, and that he was somewhat shaken, but sustained no serious injury. The accident did not interfere with his duties in the least. A despatch from Kronspruit Orange River Colony, dated Thursday, says: General Bruce Hamilton's column arrived here yesterday after scouring the Lindley and Heilbron districts. The troops brought in a number of prisoners. The latter relate the remarkable manner they received a fortnight ago. Dewet, they said, urged the burghers to hold out till December 10, when "all the British were going home." He added that the British had the permission of Russia to fight for a year only. Queen Victoria was in Cape Town, while she had fled to escape the Chinese, who had captured half of England. General Botha had driven the British from the Transvaal and had taken Pietermaritzburg. Dewet was fighting in Cape Colony, burning farms. A despatch from Middleburg, Transvaal, states that an outpost of the "Buff" (3rd Infantry) were surprised southwest of Balmoral, Nov. 10. The Buffs lost 60 men killed and wounded. The burghers, the despatch adds, simultaneously attacked a garrison of "Buff" lines on Witje River, but were beaten off, with the loss of 120 killed and wounded.

FOREIGN INTELLIGENCE.

According to a recent Constantinople despatch a difficulty has arisen between Germany and Turkey. The Ottoman government objects to Germany taking Passad Island in the Red Sea as a coaling station and wishes to establish their depot there accessible to all the powers. Germany, however, insists that she will not abandon the Island. The Chesapeake and Ohio train while crossing Green Bridge in Ohio, broke through the bridge which had been damaged by floods. There were two hundred people on the train and it is believed that they were all killed. All wires are down at and near the vicinity of the disaster. It is not known how much truth there is in the story.

failure of the government to give proper encouragement to agriculture and fruit-growing. They insist that no public money shall be expended in excess of the votes of the legislature, unless in case of urgent necessity. Provision will be made for a quarterly publication of revenue and expenditure. A radical change will be made in the administration of the Public Works Department so that the money now misapplied, shall be used for the purpose intended, and not for the benefit of private individuals as is now the custom. Economy will be carried out in every department. Taxation will be arranged upon a more equitable basis and kept down to the lowest limit consistent with the needs of the public service. The resources of the Province will be safeguarded and husbanded by every legitimate means that can be devised. With these assurances and holding those views, the Liberal-Conservative party appeal to you, the electorate of the whole Province for your approval and support, firmly believing that your consideration a right conclusion will be arrived at, and that the present Government will meet, as it deserves, your condemnation at the polls on the 12th day of December. I have the honor to be, Gentlemen, your obedient servant, D. GORDON, Georgetown, Nov. 23, 1900.

The schooner Minnie Belle, of Rustico is ashore at East Point. She was loaded with coal and lies in a bad position.

A DESPATCH from Major Weeks announces that he has recovered from the fever, and will shortly sail for home.

A CANADIAN baking powder combine is being formed in Toronto to combat the American combine, which is said to be invading the Canadian market.

An Ottawa despatch of Saturday says: The Government expects to meet the House toward the latter part of January or early in February. The session will probably be a short one.

At the Liberal-Conservative Convention held in Alberton, on Saturday, Mr. J. E. Birch of Alberton and Mr. F. J. Boone, editor of L'Impartial, Tignish, were chosen as candidates in the coming election.

The famous horse Lina Belle which was poisoned recently is in the hands of a skilled taxidermist who has undertaken the task of mounting her so that she will appear as natural as when alive, with every muscle showing.

The arrival of ex-President Kruger at Marseilles, France, is announced. He received a warm welcome according to the despatches, being "greeted with the drums and great cheering." He is not likely to get anything more than this. His description of the British soldier as the most barbarous in the world, has been the occasion of much merriment in England. He left for Paris Friday morning.

The schooner Santa Maria sailed for Bermuda from this port on Thursday last with the following cargo, shipped by A. Horne & Co.: 24 horses; 4 head of cattle; 30 sheep; 26 live hogs; 100 geese; 50 ducks; 50 fowl; 50 turkeys; 200 bags oats; 1100 bbls. potatoes; 200 bushels turnips; 50 tons coal; 5 tons hay; 24 drums codfish; 3 cases harness; 15 ladders; 35 boat masts and 10 tubs of butter.

A PORTION of the wall of the Theatre Francaise, Montreal in course of construction, collapsed in the gale last Wednesday afternoon, and in its fall demolished a small house occupied by two small Italian families. Anzetto Castello, who boarded with one of these families, was lying ill in bed. An overturned stove set fire to the ruins, and before the firemen could reach him he was so badly burned that he died on the way to the hospital. Four others were slightly injured.

ANOTHER very sudden death which took place during the past week was that of Mr. Peter McDougall, of Wellington. He had been engaged in shingling the roof of Mr. John T. Cogrove's house, and his dead body was found beneath the ladder by Mrs. Cogrove who had gone out to bring in some firewood. It is supposed that he must have become dizzy, as he was in poor health and fell to the ground a distance of about eight feet. He was in his 45th year.

Mr. John Clay, of Summerside died very suddenly, while engaged in surveying the field of Mr. Bernard Trowdale at Conway, last Thursday. Mr. Clay sat down on a stump in the woods while the surveying line was carried into the adjoining field by two other men who were working with him. After staking off, they waited for Mr. Clay to join them. As he did not appear, one of the men went back to where they had left him. They found him lying a corpse. The cause of his death was due to heart disease. The deceased was 72 years of age and leaves a family.

The steamer St. Olaf, running between Quebec and north shore ports in the St. Lawrence, and which for several years ran between Georgetown, Souris, Plover and the Magdalen, was wrecked off Bonle Islands during a gale and snowstorm last Wednesday night. It is believed that the crew and passengers, numbering twenty-six altogether have perished. Everything indicates they succeeded in landing but perished afterwards of cold and hunger. The St. Olaf was valued at $60,000 and insured for $20,000. Many men are digging in the snow for bodies, but so far only one has been found.

The steamer Numidian arrived in Portland, Me., on Friday, and reports that she was in collision with the schooner Allis, of Lockport, N. S., on Wednesday, after towing her till Thursday the line snapped and the schooner dropped astern. Owing to the heavy seas it was impossible for the steamer to get near the schooner again. She held her in sight for four hours and then the thick weather shut her from view. The schooner carried a crew of seven, and two of the Numidian's men were placed on board to assist at the pumps as the schooner was leaking badly. It is supposed that the schooner must have went down.

The death occurred very suddenly on Thursday last of Mr. George Munn of Summerside. He had apparently been in good health all along till that morning. After getting out of bed shortly before eight o'clock, he walked down stairs where while leaning his boots he complained of pain in his head. He then laid down and a physician was summoned, who pronounced his case as hemorrhage of the brain, and beyond hope of recovery. He died about noon. He was for many years the owner and captain of speedy horses and during the last few years he was well known through the province as the proprietor of the renowned steam merry-go-round.

The dead body of Ernest Munn, of Wood Islands was discovered lying on the track in the railway yard at Plover N. S. at midnight on Tuesday last week. The body was out entirely in two, which made it appear as if the unfortunate man had met his death by being struck by a train. There is strong suspicion however that he met with foul play and that his body was afterwards placed across the track. An inquest was held in Plover and some evidence was taken, but before it was concluded, the body was transferred to the steamer Electra and brought home. The deceased was only nineteen years of age, and a son of Mr. Neil Munn of Wood Islands. He was known to be a popular and steady young man of good character. He had left Wood Islands on the Friday previous to this on a small schooner of Capt. A. J. Taylor's. It is said that on the night of the tragedy he was seen with several men who were drinking, and that Munn's life was threatened. A pool of blood which was discovered some distance from the track makes the matter look very suspicious. (The inquest is still in progress.)

The new steamer Fife, one of Mr. Reid's fleet of eight mail boats running in coastal service, was lost in the Straits of Belle Isle Sunday during a dense fog. The vessel was worth $100,000, and it is believed that she was not insured. No lives were lost. The crew of thirty men took to the upper and went out the back of the house, killed a pig which was in a sty near the barn. Miss Holland was paralyzed for three days.

Miss Holland, of Portuguese Cove, N. S., was struck by lightning a few days ago. While sitting by the stove the lightning entered through the front door, struck her arm, tore her clothing, ripped the sole of one of her shoes and scorched the upper and went out the back of the house, killed a pig which was in a sty near the barn. Miss Holland was paralyzed for three days.

A few days ago Mr. Wm. Trainor, of Johnstown, Plover, with a serious and very painful accident. He was threshing, and by some means got one foot caught in the machinery. The leg was broken above the ankle, and the foot badly cut and bruised, but he is doing well, and it is hoped that amputation will not be necessary.

The enquiry into the Monticello disaster was closed Saturday morning. Mr. D. L. Hutchinson, of St. John's Meteorological Observatory, testified to the fury of the storm, the sea at the breakwater being the worst he had ever seen here. He thought it would have been prudent for the captain of the Monticello to have made enquiries of witnesses regarding the weather the day he sailed.

A PASSENGER fire occurred at Canning, N. S., on Thursday morning. R. W. Kingman & Co's great barns were burned with all their contents which included nearly one hundred head of cattle, twelve horses, 350 tons of hay, and two thousand dollars worth of farm machinery. The steamer cost $7,000. The stock consisted of fifty head animals. The insurance it is said covers $10,000, which does not meet half the loss. Hon. Mr. Borden is a heavy stock-holder.

The schooner Mary Eleanor of New Brunswick, bound from Miramichi to Charlottetown and between day but is supposed to be lost with all on board. She was loaded with lumber for Fole & Co. A schooner is reported sunk twelve miles from Miramichi. Her spars and a quantity of lumber were washed ashore, but there was no sign of the crew. Whether this is the missing schooner or not is yet to be determined, as there was nothing to establish her identity.

If You Want to Get Fleeced.

Come to Paton & Co. Not many stores will come out in plain print and say they'll fleece you—but many of them will do so and not say a word—let you find it out for yourself. There are more ways than one to fleece a man, however—one way you lose—our way you win. We'll fleece you with genuine heavy weight, fleeced lined underwear for 50c, a garment—$1.00 a suit. Nobody else sells this quality for less than 60c, a garment, $1.20 a suit and then they don't fleece you out of a cent in money—they simply charge you what these goods are worth. There ARE stores in this city that charge 75c a garment—5c more for one garment than we charge for a whole suit—for no better quality—and they FLEECE you in every sense and cents of the word. We carry many kinds of fleeced underwear—up to pink and blue with fleeces lining, and heavy weight lamb's wool underwear, which we sell for 90c. and $1.00 a garment, fully a third under the next lowest price in the city. If you want to get fleeced—come here—or if you don't want fleeced—we carry every sort of good underwear that a good store ought to carry.

If You Want to Get Skinned

Go Elsewhere!

Some Stores Skin You - -

We skin our customers with the Best Astrican Skins made up into Ladies Black Fur Coats. Some stores skin you with high prices on an Astrican Jacket with a tag to its name. Watch you don't get skinned, we mean your "purse" by paying $50.50 for a Fur Jacket that ought to be sold and sold well at $29.50, but then it has a tag to its tail and the only Fur shop on this little Island claims it as its "own little child."

You should keep before the people, For they are very apt, you know, To forget you are in business, If you cease to tell them so.

There's Tons of Truth

In the above lines. Although it is hardly necessary for us to keep it before the public that we are in business, because the public all know so well that we are; yet we believe it's good policy to keep on saying so anyway, as it shows that our assertions are grounded on a good foundation.

PEOPLE WILL TALK

You may go through the world, but 'twill be very slow, If you listen to all that is said as you go: You'll be worried and fretted and kept in a stew. For meddlesome tongues will have something to do— For people WILL TALK.

If quiet and modest you'll have it presumed, That your humble position is only assumed; You're a wolf in sheep's clothing, or else you're a fool, But don't get excited, keep perfectly cool, For people WILL TALK.

If generous and noble, they'll vent out their spleen, You'll hear some loud hints that you're selfish and mean; If upright, honest and fair as the day, They will call you a rogue in a sneering way. For people WILL TALK.

And then if you show the least boldness of heart, Or a slight inclination to take your own part, They'll call you an upstart, conceited and vain; But keep straight ahead, don't stop to explain. For people WILL TALK.

If threadbare your dress or old-fashioned your hat, Someone will surely take notice of that, And hint rather strong that you can't pay your way, But don't get excited whatever they say, For people WILL TALK.

If you dress in the fashion, don't think to escape, For they criticize then in a different shape; Your ahead of your means, or your tailor's unpaid, But mind your own business, there's naught to be made, For people WILL TALK.

Now the best way to do is to trot as you please, For your mind, if you have one, will then be at ease; Of course you will meet with all kinds of abuse, But don't think to stop when it is of no use. For people WILL TALK.

Treasure Island

BY ROBERT LOUIS STEVENSON. PART II. THE SEA COOK.

WHAT I HEARD IN THE APPLE BARREL. "So?" says Silver. "Well, and where are they now? Pew was that sort, and he died a beggar-man. Flint was, and he died of rum at Savannah. Ah, they was a sweet crew, they was on'y, where are they?"

"But," asked Dick, "when we do lay 'em ashore, what are we to do with 'em, anyhow?"

"There's the man for me!" cried the cook, admiringly. "That's what I call business. Well, what would you think? Put 'em ashore like maroons? That would have been England's way. Or cut 'em down like that much pork? That would have been Flint's or Billy Bones's."

"Billy was the man for that," said Israel. "Dead men don't bite," says he. Well, he's dead now himself; he knows the long and short on it now; and if ever a rough hand come to port, it was Billy."

"Right you are," said Silver. "rough and ready. But mark you here; I'm as easy man—I'm quite the gentleman, says you; but this time it's serious, Dooty is dooty, mates. I give my vote death. When I'm in Parlyment, and riding in my coach, I don't want none of these sea-lawyers in the cabin scolding home, unlooked for, like the devil at prayers. Wait is what I say; but when the time comes, why let her rip!"

"John," cries the cockswain, "you're a man!"

"You'll say so, Israel, when you see," said Silver. "Only one thing I claim—I claim Trelawney. I'll wring his calf's head off his body with these hands. Dick!" he added, breaking off, "you must jump up, like a sweet lad, and get me an apple, to wet my pipe like."

"You may fancy the terror I was in! I should have leaped out and run for it, if I had found the strength; but my limbs and heart alike misgave me. I heard Dick begin to rise, and then some one seemingly stopped him, and the voice of Hands exclaimed: "Oh, stow that! Don't you get sucking of that big, John. Let's have a go of the rum."

"Dick," said Silver, "I trust you. I've a gage on the leg, mind. There's the key; you fill a pannikin and bring it up."

Terrified as I was, I could not help thinking to myself that this must have been how Mr. Arrow got the strong waters that destroyed him. Dick was gone but a little while, and during his absence Israel spoke straight on in the cook's ear. It was but a word or two that I could catch, and yet I gathered some important news; for, besides other scraps that tended to the same purpose, this wretched clause was audible; "not another man of them'll jine." Hence there was still faithful men on board.

When Dick returned, one after another of the trio took the pannikin and drank—one "To luck," another with a "Here's to old Flint," and Silver himself saying, in a kind of song, "Here's to ourselves, and hold your luff, plenty of prizes and plenty of dust."

Just then a sort of brightness fell upon me in the barrel, and, looking up, I found the moon had risen, and was silencing the mizzzen-top and shrouing white on the luff of the fore-sail; and almost at the same time the voice on the lookout shouted, "Land ho!"

CHAPTER XII. COUNCIL OF WAR. There was a great rush of feet across the deck. I could hear people tumbling up from the cabin and the 'k'le; and, slipping in an instant outside my barrel, I dived behind the foremast, made a double toward the stern, and came out upon the open deck in time to join Hunter and Dr. Livesey in the rush for the weather bow.

There all hands were already congregated. A belt of fog had lifted almost simultaneously with the appearance of the moon. Away to the south-west of us we saw two low hills, about a couple of miles apart, and rising behind one of them a third and higher hill, whose peak was still buried in the fog. All three seemed sharp and conical in figure.

So much I saw almost in a dream, for I had not yet recovered from my horrid fear of a minute or two before. And then I heard the voice of Captain Smollett issuing orders. The "Hispaniola" was laid a couple of points nearer the wind, and now sailed a course that would just clear the island on the east.

"And now, men," said the captain, when all was sheeted home, "has any one of you ever seen that land ahead?"

"I have, sir," said Silver. "I've watered there with a trader I was, ock in."

"The anchorage is on the south, behind an islet, I fancy?" asked the captain.

"Yes, sir; Skeleton Island they calls it. It were a main place for pirates once, and a hand we had on board knowed all their names for it. That hill to the northward they calls the Foremast Hill; there are three hills in a row running southward—fore, main and mizzzen, sir. But the main—that's the big 'un, with the cloud on it—they usually calls the Spy-glass, by reason of a look-out they kept when they was in the anchorage cleaning; for it's there they cleaned their ships, sir, asking your pardon."

"I have a chart here," says Captain Smollett. "See if that's the place."

Long John's eyes burned in his head as he took the chart; but, by the fresh look of the paper, I knew he was doomed to disappointment. This was not the map we found in Billy Bones's chest, but an accurate copy, complete in all things—names and heights, and soundings—with the single exception of the red crosses and the written notes. Sharp as must have been his annoyance, Silver had the strength of mind to hide it.

"Yes, sir," said he, "this is the spot, to be sure; and very prettily"

The cheer followed—but that was a matter of course; but it rang out so full and hearty, that I confess I could hardly believe these same men were plotting for our blood.

"One more cheer for Cap'n Smollett," cried Long John, when the first had subsided.

And this also was given with a will.

On the top of that the three gentlemen went below, and not long after word was sent forward that Jim Hawkins was wanted in the cabin.

I found them all three seated round the table, a bottle of Spanish wine and some raisins before them, and the doctor smoking away, with his wig on his lap, and that, I knew, was a sign that he was agitated. The stern window was open, for it was a warm night, and you could see the moon shining behind on the ship's wake.

"Now, Hawkins," said the equire, "you says something to say. Speak up."

I did as I was bid, and, as short as I could make it, told the whole details of Silver's conversation. Nobody interrupted me till I was done, nor did any one of the three of them make so much as a movement, but they kept their eyes upon my face from first to last.

"Jim," said Dr. Livesey, "take a seat."

And they made me sit down at table beside them, poured me out a glass of wine, filled my hands with raisins, and all three, one after the other, and each with a bow, drank my good health; and their service to me, for my luck and courage.

Consumption is destruction of lung by a growing germ, precisely as mouldy cheese is destruction of cheese by a growing germ. If you kill the germ, you stop the consumption. You can or can't, according to when you begin. Take Scott's Emulsion of Cod Liver Oil: take a little at first. It acts as a food; it is the easiest food. Seems not to be food; makes you hungry; eating is comfortable. You grow stronger. Take more; not too much; enough is as much as you like and agrees with you. Satisfy hunger with usual food; whatever you like and agrees with you. When you are strong again, have recovered your strength—the germs are dead; you have killed them. If you have not tried it, send for free sample, its agreeable taste will surprise you. SCOTT & BOWNE, Chemists, Toronto. 50c. and $1.00; all druggists.

drawed out. Who might have done that, I wonder? The pirates were too ignorant, I reckon. Ah, here it is: 'Captain Kidd's anchorage'—just the name my shipmate called it. There's a strong current runs along the south, and then nor'ard up the west coast. Right you was, sir," says he, "to haul your wind and keep the weather of the island. Leastways, if such was your intention as to enter and career, and there ain't no better place for that in these waters."

"Thank you, my man," says Captain Smollett. "I'll ask you, later on, to give us a help. You may go."

I was surprised at the coolness with which John avowed his knowledge of the island; and I own I was half-frightened when I saw him drawing near to myself. He did not know, to be sure, that I had overheard his council from the apple barrel, and yet I had, by this time, taken such a horror of his cruelty, duplicity and power, that I could scarce conceal a shudder when he laid his hand upon my arm.

"Ah," says he, "this here is a sweet spot, this island—a sweet spot for a lad to get ashore on. You'll bathe, and you'll climb trees, and you'll hunt goats, you will; and you'll get aloft on them hills like a goat yourself. Why, it makes me young again. I was going to forget my timber leg, I was. It's a pleasant thing to be young, and have ten toes, and you may lay to that. When you want to go a bit of exploring, you just ask old John, and he'll put up a snack for you to take along."

And clapping me in the friendliest way upon the shoulder, he bobbed off forward, and went below.

Captain Smollett, the equire, and Dr. Livesey, were talking together on the quarter-deck; and, anxious as I was to tell them my story, I durst not interrupt them openly. While I was still casting about in my thoughts to find some probable excuse, Dr. Livesey called me to his side. He had left his pipe below, and being a slave to tobacco, had meant that I should fetch it; but as soon as I was near enough to speak and not be overheard, I broke out immediately: "Doctor, let me speak. Get the captain and equire down to the cabin, and then make some pretence to send for me. I have terrible news."

The doctor-charged countenance a little, but next moment he was master of himself.

"Thank you, Jim," said he, quite loudly, "that was all I wanted to know," as if he had asked me a question.

And with that he turned on his heels and rejoined the other two. They spoke together for a little, and though none of them started or raised his voice, or so much as whistled, it was plain enough that Dr. Livesey had communicated his request; for the next thing that I heard was the captain giving an order to Job Anderson, and all hands were piped on deck.

"My lads," said Captain Smollett, "I've a word to say to you. This land that we have sighted is the place we have been sailing to. Mr. Trelawney, being a very open handed gentleman, as we all know, has just asked me a word or two, and as I was able to tell him that every man on board had done his duty, allow and aloft, as I never ask to see it done better, why, he and I and the doctor are going below to the cabin to drink your health and luck, and you'll have grog served out for you to drink our health and luck. I'll tell you what I think of this; I think it handsome. And if you think as I do, you'll give a good sea cheer for the gentleman that does it."

The cheer followed—but that was a matter of course; but it rang out so full and hearty, that I confess I could hardly believe these same men were plotting for our blood.

"One more cheer for Cap'n Smollett," cried Long John, when the first had subsided.

And this also was given with a will.

What Would You Give To be cured of Catarrh? If you or your friends have this disease, you know how disagreeable it is. Its symptoms are inflamed eyes, throbbing temples, ringing noises in the ears, headaches, capricious appetite, and constant discharge of mucus. Fortunately its cure is not a question of what you will give, but what you will take. If you will take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great constitutional remedy, which thoroughly purifies, enriches and vitalizes the blood, you may expect to be completely and permanently cured. The good blood which Hood's Sarsaparilla makes, reaching the delicate passages of the mucous membrane, soothes and rebuilds the tissues and ultimately cures all symptoms of catarrh.

THE GREAT REMEDY FOR WEAK NERVOUS WOMEN.
