There are many foolish things done in this world, and one of the most foolish (and we may add wicked) things is to neglect a Cough or Cold. Now we know that Coughs, Colds, Bronchitis, Catarrh, and all Chest, Throat, and Lung Troubles, if neglected, are sure to end in Consumption and Death.

It is UNNECESSARY TO ASK whether WHEELER'S PHOSPHATE AND CALSAYA may be used safely in your special case.

Tacks. A tack is a simple, unpretending sort of a young nag, noted for its keen repartee when pressed for a reply, and possessing the peculiar power, when standing on its head, of causing the cold shivers to run down the back of a man in mere anticipation of what might be.

Tacks are in season all the year round, but the early spring is usually the time selected by them for a grand combined effort, and then they flourish everywhere for at least a month.

The future of the tacks gives great promise of more extended usefulness and unlimited possibilities, as several of our most eminent college professors, having carefully studied the effect of a sharp tack of reasoned length placed properly in a chair or under a coat, are about to introduce tacks and do away with springboards in our college gymnasiums.

A Big Investment. G. M. Everest, of Forest, states that Haysard's Pectoral Balm still holds its own amongst the many cough medicines in the market.

Why go on day after day suffering with splitting headaches when a bottle of Dr. Austin's Phosphate will cure you? If you do not believe it ask your druggist for a circular—and read what those who have used it say about it.

THE LITTLE MATCH-GIRL.

A Christmas Story. BY THE DANISH POET, HANS CHRISTIAN ANDERSEN.

It was so terribly cold—it snowed, and the evening began to be dark; it was also the last evening in the year—New Year's Eve. On this cold, dark evening a poor little girl with bare head and naked feet. It is true she had shoes on when she went for home, but of what use were they? They were very large shoes; her mother had last worn them; they were too large; and the little one lost them in hurrying over the street as two carriages passed quickly by. One shoe was not to be found, and the other a boy ran away with, saying that he could use it for a cradle when he got children himself. The little girl now went on her small, naked feet, which were red and blue with cold—she carried a number of matches in an old apron, and held one bundle in her hand. No one had bought of her the whole day, no one had given her a farthing. Poor thing! she was hungry and benumbed with cold, and looked so downcast! The snowflakes fell on her yellow hair, which curled so prettily round her neck, but she did not heed that.

The lights shone out from all the windows, and there was such a delicious smell of roast beef in the street—it was New Year's Eve, and she thought of that! She sat down in a corner between two houses—the one stood a little more forward in the street than the other—and drew her legs up under her to warm herself, but she was still colder, and she durst not go home; she had not sold any matches or got a single farthing! Her father would beat her—and it was also cold at home, and there the wind whistled in, although straw and rags were stuffed in the largest crevices.

Her little hands were almost benumbed with cold. Ah! a little match might do some good, durst she only draw one out of the bundle, strike it on the wall and warm her fingers. She drew one out, rich! how it burnt! it was a warm clear flame like that of a candle, when she held her hand round it—it was a strange light!

The little girl thought she sat by a large iron stove with brass balls on the top, and the fire burned so nicely and warmed so well! Nay, what was that? The little girl stretched out her feet to warm them, too; when the flame went out the stove vanished—she sat with a stump of burned match in her hand. Another was struck; it burnt, it shone; and where the light shone on the wall it became as transparent as crystal; she looked directly into the room where the roasted goose stuffed with apples and prunes steamed so charmingly on the table, which was laid out, and covered with a shining white cloth and fine porcelain service. What was still more splendid, the goose sprang off the dish, and waddled along the floor with knife and fork in its back; it came directly up to the poor girl. Then the match went out, and there was only the thick, cold wall to be seen.

She struck another match. Then she sat under the most charming Christmas tree—it was still larger and more ornamental than she had seen through the rich merchant's last Christmas. A thousand candles burnt on the green branches; and motley pictures, like those which ornamented the shop windows, looked down at her. The little girl lifted up both her hands—then the match was extinguished—the Christmas candles rose higher and higher; she saw that they were bright stars—one of them fell and made a fiery strip in the sky. "Now one dies!" said the poor girl, for old grandmother, who alone had been kind to her, but who was now dead, had told her that when a star falls a soul goes up to God.

She again struck a match against the wall, it shone all around, and her old grandmother stood in the luster, so shining, so mild and blissful. "Grandmother!" exclaimed the little girl, "oh, take me with you! I know you will go away when the match goes out—like the warm stove, the delicious roast goose, and the delightful Christmas tree!" And she struck in haste the whole remainder of matches that was in the bundle; she would not lose sight of grandmother, and the matches shone with such brilliancy that it was clearer than in broad daylight. Grandmother had never looked so pretty, so great; she lifted the poor little girl up in her arms and they flew so high, in splendor and joy, there was no cold, no hunger, no anxiety—they were with God.

But the little girl sat in the corner by the house, in the cold morning hour, with red cheeks, and with a smile round her mouth—dead—frozen to death, the last evening of the old year.

New Year's morning rose over the little corpse as it sat with the matches, of which, a bundle was burnt. She had been trying to warm herself, said they! But no one knew what beautiful things she had seen—in what splendor and gladness she had entered with her old grandmother into New Year's Joy.

COMPASS AND SQUARE.

The Festival of St. John and its Celebration by Goderich Masons.

As noted under the usual heading, the officers of Goderich and Maitland Lodges were duly installed last Wednesday, the former at 4 p. m. and the latter in the evening. The brethren of Maitland took this occasion to testify their appreciation of the services of the L. P. M. R. W. Bro. Radcliffe, and for that purpose secured a handsome Past Master's jewel, which was suitably inscribed by Prof. C. J. Newman, of St. George's Church. After the installation ceremony, R. W. Bro. I. F. Toms read the following address, and made the presentation:

ADDRESS. To R. W. Bro. Richard Radcliffe, of Maitland Lodge No. 115, Goderich. Right Worshipful Sir and Bro.—It is with feelings of the greatest pleasure that the officers and members approach you on the present occasion to ask your acceptance of this Past Master's jewel as a small token of the respect which is entertained for you as a Mason and a man.

Ever since your connection with this Lodge, and more particularly during the years in which you occupied the office of Worshipful Master, your zeal, energy and diligence in advancing the interests of the Order in Goderich, and this Lodge in particular, have won for you the admiration and respect of all the brethren of this Lodge; while your courtesy and fraternal kindness have won the hearts and affections of all with whom you came in contact.

This small token of respect which we now present to you in the name of the officers and members of this Lodge is given not only as a token of our recognition of the valuable services which you have from time to time rendered, but also as a mark of the very great personal estimation in which you are held by the brethren.

That you may long live to be an ornament to the Masonic Order, and that the Great Architect of the Universe may watch over you and protect you and yours, is the earnest prayer of the brethren of Maitland Lodge.

Bro Radcliffe responded substantially as follows: R. W. Sir and Brethren—I rise to thank you for your kind and complimentary remarks and this beautiful gift under considerable emotions. There are such a variety of ideas forcing themselves upon my mind that it is difficult for me to arrange them. I therefore hope that if I should break down it may be attributed to the extreme sensibility by which I am agitated, for I earnestly assure you I feel sensibly your kindness.

There are certain occasions in the life of nearly every man when he cannot find words to adequately express their feelings, and were I even a much better speaker than I am, it would be impossible for me on this occasion to speak what I feel.

To be thought well of by one's fellow men, especially those with whom one is brought in such close communion as I have been with all of you, those who have an opportunity of judging of one's character by his every-day life and conduct, must be very gratifying, and, as actions speak plainer than words, I must perform conduct that I have been thought well of by you.

When first you elected me to the honorable position of W. Master of Maitland Lodge I felt that it was an honor, and I appreciated it as such—for I consider that to be the Master of any Masonic Lodge, but especially such a lodge as Maitland—which is composed of men of intelligence and respectability, not but that the members of other lodges are intelligent and respectable, and that Masons should be both; but in comparing the members of Maitland with those of other lodges, I am forced to the conclusion that they not only compare favorably with any, but are superior to many—a lodge which has had for its Masters on former occasions men of the highest social standing and of the highest intellectual attainments. I say to be Master of such a lodge is an honor that any man, no matter what his position in life may be, might well be proud of.

When on several subsequent occasions you repeated this honor, I could not but feel that you felt that the trust and confidence then reposed in me had not been misplaced, and I trust you may never have occasion to think otherwise. But, brethren, you have this evening performed the crowning act by your presentation, and, as I said before, if I were a much better speaker than I am—if I were a very Demosthenes—I could not give utterance to my feelings.

But there are other things besides this valuable and beautiful gift for which I must thank you—that which I prize more highly, the uniform courtesy and kindness which you have on all occasions shown to me, whether in the lodge or out of it. I would be indeed ungrateful were I to let this opportunity pass without acknowledging the many obligations I have been under to my esteemed friend, R. W. Bro. Toms, for his ever ready and willing counsel and advice, which his long experience in Masonry and his otherwise legal training so well fitted him to give.

In conclusion I will say that I never make rash promises, but this I will promise—that I will try, with the assistance of the G. G. O. T. U., to put this tool to its proper use, and trust that, with the same assistance, I may always be enabled to square my actions by the square of Virtue and keep within due bounds with all mankind, and may the Most High prosper my endeavors.

The lodge being closed, all adjourned to the annual supper at the Albion Hotel, where the host, Brother John McBride, had prepared a spread, as one member expressed it, "equal to any similar occasion in the Masonic history of Goderich." R. W. Bro. Radcliffe occupied the chair, with V. W. Bro. Joseph Beck as vice, R. W. Bro. Toms and Bro. Rev. J. Hill, of Seaford, sat to the right and left of the chairman.

SALT AND ASHES FOR ANIMALS.

This subject has been frequently discussed hitherto, especially the use of salt for farm stock. That all domestic animals do better where they are constantly supplied with salt I am perfectly satisfied from experience and long observation. The only case where salt seems to do injury is where cattle have been long without it, and then giving to them all they are inclined to consume. I am willing to own that it is temporarily injurious, not because the article itself is bad, but because of taking too much at one dose. The proper way to feed salt is to place it where the stock can get it when they please and take what they are inclined to eat. Never mix it with food, as that they are compelled to take it or not. More and better butter can be made from the milk of a cow when she has her free supply of salt than from one entirely deprived of it, or having an irregular supply of it, and also takes less time to churn the cream. Nature requires salt as an aid in preserving health. It assists in digestion as well as in many other ways which I need not here mention. For cattle at pasture there is no need to salt them, as there is no need to salt a place where a board can be fixed to shelter from the rain and still allow the stock free access. At the barn the lumps can be placed under the shed or in some other convenient spot. But sometimes stock seem to require an alkali as well, and that is most conveniently supplied to them in wool ashes, which horses, cattle, sheep and swine will greedily devour when they have an opportunity. These should also be supplied where the stock can have access to them as desired. The ashes should be from good sound wood, and kept dry.

When desirable to keep cattle at pasture, and there is no room for them above between it and the roof to allow of free access to the salt or ashes. This answers for all stock except sheep and swine, which can have the troughs lower. I believe that if a constant supply of salt and ashes is provided where all kinds of stock can have access to them, very much less disease would be known among farm stock; I have never known bots, colic or worms in horses where ashes and salt were thus furnished.—Cor. Country Gentlemen.

Somebody is likely to get hurt."

DOMINION COUGH BALSAM. The great lung remedy is also a valuable antidote to Croup. Mrs. Quinn, Wellington-st., Bradford, says: "One of my children was seized with an alarming attack of Croup, as the child got black in the face I was frightened and ran for my neighbor, Mrs. English, who handed me a bottle of Dominion Cough Balsam, which she had used with success for sore lungs. The first dose gave complete relief, I soon gave another, and very shortly the child was all right and at play; I sent for a bottle to keep in the house as I believe it was the means of saving my child's life."

REGINA.

The Queen City of the Plains, the Capital of the Province of Assiniboia.

To the Editor of The Huron Signal.

SIR,—Having been written to by numbers of your readers and subscribers for information respecting the capital of the Province of Assiniboia, and thinking a letter published in the columns of THE SIGNAL would reach many who would be glad to receive information respecting the new Province and its capital, I write you a few facts concerning its growth and the general impression of its future greatness.

Regina is about 370 miles west of Winnipeg, on the main line of the C. P. R., and will be the half-way point between the gateway of the North-west and the Rocky Mountains, and the one great rival of Winnipeg along the main line of the C. P. R.

The city is the creation of three powerful interests: the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Duke of Manchester's Syndicate and Dominion Government who faith is pledged to building it up.

The Merchants Bank have opened their branch, and the Bank of Montreal building is up, and will be occupied in a week's time. A private bank is also about starting, and the Imperial Bank is to follow.

The Methodist and Presbyterian bodies have erected churches. The Church of England services are being held in a building rented for the meantime until the congregation can erect a suitable building.

Regina has been permanently made the end of the railway division, and this of itself means the employment of between 300 and 400 men with their families a population of 1,000 souls.

Mr. W. McQueen, of the 2d con., has sold his farm consisting of 100 acres, to Mr. John Gilman, (his neighbor) for $6,000. Mr. McQueen has land in Michigan, to which place he intends removing in the spring.

A BAD ACCIDENT.—The many friends of Mr. John L. Anderson, eldest son of Mr. George Anderson, will regret to learn that he met with a most unfortunate accident a short time ago, by which he has lost his left foot. Mr. Anderson has been in Dakota for several years. He was engaged in threshing at his brother's place, and a spark from the engine lit upon the straw stack. Mr. Anderson, who was feeding the machine, jumped upon the table to get at the stack. In doing so he stepped on some loose straw, causing him to slip, and his foot got into the cylinder of the machine, mangle it so severely that it had to be amputated above the ankle. At last accounts he was doing well.

Port Albert.

A few evenings ago our village narrowly escaped being the scene of an awful massacre. A young man lately returned from the classic regions of the Lake Superior copper mines, carrying with him the culture and refinement acquired in those parts, famed for their high standard of morality, gave a free exhibition of his beautiful and commanding voice on the bridge crossing the river in this village. Some folks might say the language was more forcible than polite, but it is not been for some of the villagers, holding him back forcibly, death and destruction would have marked his career, mangled corpses would have strewn his path, and there would have been scarcely enough villagers left alive to bury the dead. At least a stranger would infer from his language that this would have been the result. Now, Mr. Editor, I wonder if other villages and neighborhoods in this fair Province ever experienced one of these edifying scenes. Are our young men who are brought up with all the quiet family circle, with the advantages of the various churches suitable to all creeds, with our boasted public schools, and our excellent Sabbath schools, are they in despite of all these influences drifting into rowdies and ignorant ruffians, particularly if they visit the lumbering districts of the mining regions? Well, if moral suasion is a failure, why not invite them into a sanctuary where the benediction is in the following terse but plain language. "Five dollars and costs or twenty days." If all our constables did their duty these rowdy street scenes would soon disappear. —(ORDER.)

SPECIAL ANNOUNCEMENT.

In addition, we will send free to every person who takes both papers, a Magnificent Plate engraving of Dupre's last great painting, "IN THE MEADOW," now on exhibition in New York, and offered for sale at $5,000.

The eminent Artist, F. S. Church, writing to a friend in the country last October, thus alludes to this Picture: "I was delighted this morning to see offered as a Premium a reproduction of a very beautiful Picture, 'IN THE MEADOW,' by Dupre. This Picture is an Education."

This superb engraving (17 by 12 inches, exclusive of wide border) is worth more than the cost of both journals. It is mounted on heavy Plate Paper, and sent securely packed in Tubes made expressly for the purpose. When to be mailed, 10 cents extra is required for Packing, Postage, &c.

By casual observation, we find all speculators have a clear head and watch the ups and downs of property, thus making large fortunes. But the whole secret is, they keep the system in a healthy condition by the use of THE PRINCE OF THE VALLEY MEDICINE.

We can safely say that hundreds come to us for the great lung and blood purifier before being west. Read the following statement. We could give thousands of the same kind if it were necessary.

"I certify that I was troubled with Catarrh in the head, gathering of phlegm in the throat, choking and coughing at night for years, so I could not sleep, often troubled with dull, lifeless feelings, pains in the chest and back. After giving hundreds of dollars to doctors, and giving up all hopes, I tried THE PRINCE OF THE VALLEY, and am now able to do my work after seven years' sickness."

Household Hints.

A pretty idea for dinner table decoration is a tray of sand filled with grass, among which daisies and poppies seem to be growing.

Lime water and milk is used in cases of fever, and also for children when the limbs are weak. It is also useful in cases of acidity of the stomach.

In making potato soup put as much cold water as you think necessary in your pot, along with a little nice dripping, a few onions, pepper and salt; let all come to a boil; then put in the potatoes, and let them boil down, then serve.

NICE BUNS.—One pint of flour, one pint of sugar one cup of butter, one cup of sweet milk, one tablespoonful of cloves, one of cinnamon, four eggs, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Bake in square tins and frost, or you may omit the spice, and bake in bread tins.

POTTED CHICKEN.—This is an agreeable relish, and makes a pleasant luncheon when travelling. Take a roast chicken and carve off all the meat. Take two slices of cold ham and chop it with the chicken. And to this one-fourth pound of the best butter; add salt and pepper to taste; pound this altogether to a paste, put the mixture in a jam-pot, and cover closely. It will keep in a cool place ten days.

VINEGAR CAKE.—One pound of flour, a teaspoonful of carbonate of soda well rubbed into it, a quarter of a pound of lard, half a pound of currants, and half a pound of moist sugar. Put two tablespoonfuls of vinegar into a half-pint cup, and fill it up with milk, mix the cake well with it, and if not moist enough, add a little more milk, put it into a plain tin, well greased, and bake it the usual time.

SPONGE PUDGING.—Six ounces of flour, half a teaspoonful of baking powder, a little salt and four ounces of suet to be well rubbed into the flour. Mix up the pudding with three ounces of golden syrup, and three ounces of soft sugar, two tablespoonfuls of milk, and one egg well beaten. Put it all into a buttered basin, tie it over with a cloth, and boil it three hours, not less. Serve with plain melted butter.

How to PRESERVE BOOTS AND SHOES.—When boots and shoes not in use are deposited in a damp place they become covered ordinarily with mould which attacks the leather; when deposited in a dry place they become hard and wrinkled—a fact well known to all, although the remedy may not be. This double disadvantage may be avoided if the articles are first rubbed with a rag on which a few drops of oil of turpentine have been sprinkled. The oil of turpentine acts favorably as a preservative to the leather, and it is a deterrent to rats and mice, whose depositions are often as injurious as those of temperature.

THE VERY NEWEST THING IN LADIES' DRESSES.—The newest, the very newest, thing in ladies' dresses is a hybrid garment into which the wearer insinuates her limbs as into a pair of trousers. I have not yet seen one of these robes, but I am assured that they are going to become the rage. I believe that the secret remains with a famous Bond street dressmaker, who is already making capital out of it. Ladies who have heard of the style are said to be enchanted with it, for it is claimed as a special advantage that it admits perfect freedom to the limbs. The male eye will detect no outward difference between the new and ordinary style, for the mysteries of the costume are known only to the wearer. [Sheffield Telegraph.]

Thousands bear witness to the positive curative powers of the GREAT GERMAN INVIGORATOR, the only remedy that has proved itself a specific for general debility, seminal weakness, impotency, etc., and all diseases that arise from self-abuse or overtaxed brain, finally ending in consumption, insanity and a premature grave. Sold by all druggists, and will be sent free on receipt of $1.00 per box, or six boxes for $5. Address F. J. CHENEY, Toledo, Ohio, sole agent for the United States. Send for circular and testimonials of genuine cures. Geo. Rhynas, Goderich. 3m

Onion Eating.

"I know this: An onion is the most wifed and worst traduced esculent there is, and yet it is one of the most delicious to some persons that the earth produces. There is one thing that it lacks and that is popularity. I know men who, if they experience the slightest whiff of an onion, become so sick that they are in the deepest imaginable misery for hours thereafter. What I say is no exaggeration in the least. As a physician, my Attorney Hooper is afflicted in a way. On the other hand there are those who are so passionately fond of onions that they would rather eat a mess of onions than to sit down to the finest banquet in the land. General Samuel F. Hunt is one of them. General Hunt is an enthusiast on the subject of onions. He could eat once that every time he visits the residence of a friend of his, who makes a specialty of raising a particularly fine species of onions, he eats so many that he is astonished of himself. Many a time he slips off to a restaurant and enjoys a feast of his favorites in several courses. He says that those are the happiest moments of his life. To the travelling man, the onion is the best friend in the world. You can't think of any shape that an onion is not good. Boiled, stewed, fried, baked, fricasseed, escalloped, roasted, pickled or raw, they are palatable and delicious. Cooked with potatoes, beefsteak, turkey or duck they are exceedingly savory. Just let a fellow bang around the country, disgusted with the fare he receives at out-of-the-way hotels or boarding houses, eat a raw onion and see how it will brace him up. If you have taken too much tea of an evening, and feel the worst for your bout the next morning, manage to get outside of an onion or two, and see how it will help you. Onions are excellent cures for heavy colds, as every body knows. Then when a fellow becomes wakeful, just let him fill up on nice sliced onions. Gracious goodness, what a comfortable drowsiness will come over him. He forgets all care, and sinks into a regular old-fashioned, forty-knot snooze that does him a power of good. I tell you."

Worthy of Praise. As a rule we do not recommend Patent Medicines, but when we know of one that is a public benefactor, and does positively cure, then we consider it our duty impart that information to all. Electric Bitters are truly a most valuable medicine, and will surely cure Biliousness, Fever and Ague, Stomach, Liver and Kidney Complaints, even where all other remedies fail. We know know whereof we speak, and can freely recommend them to all.—Exch.—Sold fifty cents a bottle by J. Wilson. [6]

CRINGLES.—A name well known in connection with the Hair Renewer, which restores grey hair to its natural color by a few weeks use. Sold at 50 cents per bottle by James Wilson. 2m

A Secret. The secret of beauty lies in pure blood and good health, without the one the other is impossible. Burdock Blood Bitters is the grand key that unlocks all the secretions, and opens the avenue to health by purifying and regulating all the organs to a proper action. It cures all Scrofulous Diseases, acts on the Blood Liver, Kidneys, Skin and Bowels, and brings the bloom of health to the pallid cheek.

Undoubtedly the best medicine to keep on hand for Colds, for Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, and Pulmonary troubles generally, is Haggard's Pectoral Balsam. It will not cure Consumption, but it will cure those troublesome conditions leading thereto.

A REWARD.—Of one dozen "TEABERRY" to any one sending the best four line rhyme on "TEABERRY," the remarkable little gem for the Teeth and Breath. Ask your druggist or address.

Do not take Pills or Powders containing Calomel, for at this time of the year, the results may be serious. If you require a dose of physic take Dr. Carson's Stomach and Constipation Bitters; it acts gently on the Bowels, purifies the Blood, improves the circulation, stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and speedily cures "Biliousness, Headache, Dyspepsia, Indigestion. Search the Drug Stores from one end of Canada to the other, and you cannot find a remedy equal to it. Try it and use it in your families. Sold everywhere in large bottles at 50 cents. For sale by Geo. Rhynas.

If you are desirous to obtain immediate relief from any kidney trouble, and thus prevent the fatal results that always attend the neglect of these distressing complaints (and who does not?) why take Dr. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE at once. It is safe, simple and effectual. Sold by J. Wilson Goderich. 2m

Ladies who suffer periodically from pains in the back will find immediate relief in a few doses of Dr. VAN BUREN'S KIDNEY CURE. It was never known to fail. Try it at once. Your Druggist keeps it. J. Wilson Goderich. 2m

Woman's True Friend. A friend in need is a friend indeed. This none can deny, especially when assistance is rendered when one is sorely afflicted with disease, more particularly those complaints and weaknesses so common to our female population. Every woman should know that Electric Bitters are woman's true friend, and will positively restore her to health, even when all other remedies fail. A single trial always proves our assertion. They are pleasant to the taste, and only cost fifty cents a bottle. Sold by James Wilson.

A Vexed Clergyman. Even the patience of Job would become exhausted were he a preacher and endeavoring to interest his audience while they were keeping up an incessant coughing, making it impossible for him to be heard. Yet, how very easy can this be avoided by simply using Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Trial Bottles given away at Wilson's drug store.

WELLAND, Ont., March 20, 1882. I have used "Hall's Catarrh Cure," and judge from the good results I derived from one bottle, believe it will cure the most stubborn case of Catarrh if its use is continued for a reasonable length of time. W. H. HELLEMS.

Benniller.

There is now plenty of water at Piper's mill, and things are booming. E. R. Watson, painter, of Goderich, is doing some fine specimens of graining at the house of John Stewart.

J. K. Durd and Wm. Madel took a trip to Stratford during the week. STOLEN.—Several valuable whips, bells, etc., were stolen from sleighs the night of the teaming. It is a great pity that the scoundrels could not be brought to justice.

TEAMING.—The teaming held here last week was a grand success. The night being favorable, the church was filled to its utmost capacity. James Gledhill acted as chairman. Eloquent addresses were delivered by Rev. Messrs. Sabine and Sanderson, John Fisher and A. Sheltar. Singing and recitations were given by the children. Mrs. J. Miller sang a couple of excellent solos, and was warmly received. Mrs. Sanderson presided at the organ for the children, who were admitted free. The proceeds amounted to $31.

Cazlow.

Sacrament will be dispensed in the Presbyterian church here next Sunday afternoon.

We regret to report the death of Mrs. John Buchanan. Early in the fall she had a severe attack of inflammation of the lungs, but for a time she rallied, and hopes were entertained of her recovery. However, about a week ago, she had a relapse, which ended in her death. She was one of the first settlers in Colborne, having emigrated from Scotland about thirty eight years ago. She leaves a large family and a wide circle of friends to mourn her loss. Deceased was sister-in-law of Mr. D. McKay, of Goderich.

Last Monday was a busy day with municipal elections around the village. The old councillors were all returned with one exception, Mr. Gledhill taking the place of Mr. Malloy. The Reeve, Mr. Wm. Young, is said to have polled the largest majority he ever did in the township. This must be gratifying to him after his thirty years' experience in council matters. Long may he honor the position, and long may the position honor him.

Dunlop.

PERSONAL.—Miss M. Ivers, of Wawanosh, spent last week with Mrs. Horton. Mr. R. B. H. Williams was the guest of Mrs. Morgan, of Clinton, last week.

CHRISTMAS GIFT.—Mr. Horton, at the Royal Exchange, received a novel Christmas gift from his brother, Mr. W. Horton, of Axe Lake, Muskoka, in the shape of a fine hide of a moose deer, which he had shot in that wild region.

COOKED HIS GOOSE.—Our jovial friend the engineer tried his hand at bachelor hall keeping last week, the rest of the folks being away. He declined numerous invitations to dinner on Christmas, but prepared a goose, and prepared and baked it with the skill of a housewife, and enjoyed his solitary meal. Some of the ladies who called upon him found that he understood the culinary art to perfection, and declare that no man in the county can hold a candle to him in the cooking line.

Leoburn.

The Messrs. Helen and Louisa Hillier, of Goderich, were the guests of Mrs. John Horton, this week.

RETURNING TO STUDY.—This week Mr. W. Clifton returns to Woodstock to resume his college course. Mr. Harry Horton will put in another term at the Goderich seat of learning. We hope that each will ultimately be his B. A.

FURTHER IMPROVEMENT.—Mr. James Linklater has engaged a well-known Dunlop architect to build a verandah at the south end of the handsome house he has lately put up. There the bachelor friends of the original owner hope to spend many a happy evening in summer, until to voice of the mistress of the mansion is heard.

FAR AWAY.—Mr. George H. is visiting friends in Muskoka, and will probably that region. He was the guest of Mr. J. Rowe at Axe Lake. In a letter dated from the top of "P. Is. Scott," he says he is well and happy, and that times fancy he can hear the Goderich town clock striking the hour, but miss the merry laughter of his old Colborne chums. Methinks that George is also homesome because of "well, not the boys.

There was a large attendance at the Presbyterian church here on Sunday, when an appropriate sermon for the New Year season was preached by Rev. John A. Turnbull, B. A. A choir of ten voices sang with touching power "One more year's work for Jesus. One less of life for me.

During the year two who had been in the habit of attending this place of worship have been called home. One died full of years, but the other was taken suddenly away in the bloom of earliest manhood, while in a distant Province. He leaves behind him a memory fragrant and honored, as a friend and a neighbor.

Burned to Death on Horseback. LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 28.—Last night Patrick O'Neill, while lighting gasoline street lamps, overturned a lamp. The burning fluid poured down and completely saturated his clothes and covering the horse he was riding with a sheet of fire. The terrified animal ran down the street at the top of his speed, and, turning a sharp corner, threw his rider. O'Neill, in a perfect blaze, ran to the nearest house, but was fatally burned before the flames could be smothered. His entire body to the waist was burned to a crisp. The back of the horse was literally cooked.

Col. DeWinton has purchased a cattle ranch near Calgary, N. W. T., and it is his intention to remain in this country after the expiration of the Governor's term and manage the ranch.

The St. George's society, of Toronto, on Christmas day distributed among the poor and needy 1,000 pounds of beef, 1,000 loaves of bread, three barrels of sugar and three chests of tea.

A full meeting of the ministers and official laymen of the London district of the Methodist Church of Canada has declared the Union Committee has failed to cheer her husband when the cares of life press heavily upon him, and to be a very providence to her children. To know that her husband loves her, that even he faults are looked upon with tenderness; that her face to one at least is the fairest in the world; that the heart which is to her the greatest and noblest, holds her sacred in its utmost recesses above all other women, gives strength, and courage, and sweetness, and vivacity which all the wealth of the world could not bestow. Let a woman's life be pervaded with such an influence, and her heart will blossom and sweeten, and brighten in perpetual youth.

A Pittsburg gentleman will soon have patented a new process for manufacturing whiskey. The new apparatus will produce it in solidified form, and it can be carried in the pocket the same as plug tobacco, to which it bears a striking resemblance. It leaves no taint upon the breath. It will produce intoxication as quickly and as effectively as any other liquor. In short, it has all the good and bad qualities of whiskey produced by the ordinary process of distillation.

OUR LITTLE ONES AND THE NURSERY for January, 1883, is the Holiday Number of this charming Magazine, and is the most attractive one yet issued. It contains five full-page, and about twenty other, but not less beautiful illustrations, all drawn by eminent artists expressly for this work, and engraved in the highest style of art by Mr. George T. Andrew. These pictures are instructive and elevating to the taste, as well as exceedingly pleasing to the little ones. The poems, stories, and descriptive articles are all by the best writers, and all are such as will interest the pets of home, as well as improve their mind and hearts. The publishers announce that no cheap edition of the bound volume for the present year will be put upon the market through the book trade. All who desire the Magazine therefore, must subscribe or purchase the numbers. $1.50 a year; $1 for eight months. A specimen free. Russell Publishing Co., Boston, Mass.
