Ruled Destiny!

CHAPTER IX.
IN THE GLOW OF LOVE.

"Oh, hush!" she said, trembling, a great wave of tenderness and pity sweeping over her heart for the handsome, true-hearted boy. "Don't say any more, Lord Clifford. You—you—mistake! It is I who would be unworthy of you."

"Floris!" reproachfully, passionately.

"Yes, yes! Who am I that you should so humble yourself? Oh, do not say any more! I am sorry—very, very sorry!"

"Then—then—" he faltered, looking down at her.

"Indeed I am very sorry!" she repeated; "but I did not know, indeed I did not!"

"No, or you would have treated me coldly and kept me away!" he said, sorrowfully.

Then with a wild hope that was almost despair, he took her hand in his own and pressed it fiercely.

"Floris, is it, must it be 'No'? Will you not give me some little hope? I will be patient! I will not plague you! You shall see how patient I can be!"

"Oh, hush! hush!" she said. "Do not say another word, Lord Clifford. It must be 'No'! I—I cannot love you. I am very, very grateful for the honor you have done me, and I know how great an honor it is! I wish—yes, I will say it—I wish that I could have answered differently, but I cannot."

She let her hand rest in his while she spoke, then she drew it gently away.

He let it go, slowly, reluctantly, and his lips parted with a long sigh, as if something had gone from his life; then with a brave effort he forced a smile.

"You have been very good to me, Miss Carlisle," he said, and his voice rang with the pain that tortured him. "You have been more patient than I deserve. I will say 'Good-by,' now."

"There shall be no word of 'goodness' or 'patience' between us, Lord Clifford," she said, "and if I cannot—if I cannot be to you all that you wish, at least we can be friends still."

Poor Bertie smiled sadly and shook his head.

"How little you understand!" he murmured. "I know what you think, Miss Carlisle. You have heard, you know, that I do not bear the highest character for wisdom, and you think that because my past has been frivolous and foolish, that I shall get over this and forget it. Ah, you do not understand how deeply I love you! All my life will be changed from this hour."

"Oh, Lord Clifford!"

"Yes, Floris; I shall not get over this so easily; I shall not try to forget it. If I cannot have your love, I can at least endeavor to be less unworthy of it. You ask me to remain your friend! Floris, all my life I shall think tenderly of you, and of myself as your lover. Do you think I could bear to see you day after day, knowing that there can be no hope for me; that I could endure to meet you as an ordinary friend when all the time my heart was burning in the desire to make you my wife! Not! I must go away. Good-by. Some day—who knows—I may be able to meet you without the pang of misery and disappointment which I feel now. Good-by."

His voice, the boyish voice which only this morning had rang out merrily, the musical voice which to Floris' ears had always something of laughter in it, was very grave and sad, and his eyes resting on her face were full of a great despair.

She put out her hand in silence, feeling that any word from her would be worse than useless.

He took her hand, held it for a moment, then raised it toward his lips.

"May I?" he asked, simply, too noble and chivalrous to snatch a kiss by stealth.

She did not speak, but her eyes, in which the tears were standing, answered for her.

Poor Bertie kissed her hand twice, then turned and hurried away.

Floris sat under the stately palms sad and troubled.

No girl who is worth anything refuses an offer from an honorable man without being sad and sorrowful, especially if she really likes the man, and only just stops short of loving him, and Floris really did like Bertie.

His merry, boyish laugh, his frank brotherly way had been very pleasant to her; she only just discovered how pleasant now that she had lost them—perhaps forever.

Another girl might also have remembered and regretted that she had refused a viscount—but Floris gave no thought to Bertie's rank.

It was of himself she thought, as she sat with downcast face, and hands listlessly in her lap.

Why had she sent him away? Why had she not tried to love him? At any rate, why had she not asked for time? She asked herself these questions, and did not dare to answer them.

There are times when we shrink from examining our own hearts, lest we should discover the truth, and Floris shrank from examining hers, lest she should find an answer there which would fill her with shame and confusion.

With a sigh she rose, then suddenly remembering that she was alone, and that she could not very well enter the ballroom unattended, she resumed her seat, quite contented to remain in the quiet and cool for a time.

Presently the band, which had been playing a square dance, ceased, and the couples began to find their way into the conservatory.

Unwilling to be discovered, Floris rose and retreated still further into the dim region of palms and ferns, and found another seat still more secluded than the last. It was so far removed from the ballroom, that but for the sound of voices, and reflection of the lights on the fountains, she might have fancied herself in the recesses of some tropical forest.

While she was sitting there, a gardener passed by, and half startled by the apparition of a beautiful lady in a white dress, touched his hat respectfully and apologetically, and turned off through a door partly concealed by creeping plants.

Floris was just thinking that if she chose she might remain undiscovered till the ball broke up, when she heard the rustle of a woman's dress, and a man's voice close behind her.

At the sound of the voice Floris started. Although it had only uttered one word, she recognized it.

It was Lord Norman! She looked around anxiously, and saw, through the fern leaves, Lord Norman and Lady Blanche sauntering down the narrow path.

Lady Blanche was magnificently dressed in an Indian silk of the thinnest fiber, and of the palest pink. It was studded with pearls in the oriental fashion, and fitted her to perfection. Nestling in her golden hair were flowers of diamonds, that sparkled and gleamed like fire-flies in the still light.

The beautiful face, usually so cold and impassive, wore a faint, soft smile, that played about the perfect lips and shone in the velvety eyes.

As they approached, Floris saw that she had clasped Lord Norman's arm, and that her face was turned up to his with a happy, childlike smile.

Then Floris looked at him. Surely there would be an answering smile on his face? No man could resist the entreaty in those dark, velvety eyes! But there was no responsive happiness on his face; grave, almost grim, it seemed by contrast with hers, and Floris saw that, though he was presumably listening to her, his attention was straying, and that he was thinking of something else than the beautiful woman clinging so lovingly, so appealingly, to his arm.

"I am so glad you have come, Bruce!" Floris heard her murmur. "You said you did not intend to, and I was looking forward to a blank evening."

"I changed my mind," he said, if not coldly, carelessly.

"That is a woman's privilege, and one they do not extend to men, Bruce," she retorted, with a smile that seemed significant to Floris.

"Oh, men have all your weaknesses as well as their own, Blanche," he said.

Floris looked around for some means of escape.

To be found by them, playing, as it would seem, at eavesdropping! The idea was terrible! But there was no exit save by a narrow path in which they stood, and hoping that they would turn back, Floris drew still closer into her leafy shelter and tried not to listen.

"Forgive me, Blanche. But Hawkinsley! Why, great heavens, he is as old as Methusalem! Why, he was an old man when I was a boy! He must be eighty—more!"

"And you laugh!" murmured Lady Blanche between her closed lips.

"I beg your pardon! But could you help it? Hawkinsley! Why, he has more than one leg in the grave, and is as false as one of the models at Madam Tussaud's! His wig and teeth and enameled complexion used to be the joke when I first came to town! And he proposed to you! Of course you gave him a speedy answer, Blanche?"

She opened her fan and looked at it.

"No, Bruce. I—Lord Hawkinsley is an old friend of my father's."

"He might have been of your grandfather's," retorted Lord Norman.

"And—"

Fashion Plates

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Patterns. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A COMFORTABLE WORK DRESS.

2477—For this serviceable model one could use galatea, khaki, drill, linen, percale, gingham or chambray. The fullness of the fronts forms a panel plait at the centre, under which the belt is fastened. The belt confines the fullness over sides and back. The sleeve may be finished in wrist length, or in loose style, at elbow length.

The Pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 4 1/2 yards of 36-inch material. The dress measures about 2 1/2 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A PRETTY CALLING GOWN.

2480—This model is very attractive for foulard, crepe, satin, tulle, gingham, organdy, linen or shantung. The fronts close at the left side of the insert, under the collar. The sleeve is pretty in wrist-length, and equally desirable in elbow length.

This Pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 38 requires 6 yards of 36-inch material. The skirt measures a little more than 2 yards at the foot.

A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

WAR SUMMARY.

Not alone are the Italians, British and French comrades-in-arms holding the greater part of a 100 mile front from the region southeast of Treviso to the Adriatic, but they themselves have turned aggressors on some of the more important sectors in the mountain regions. Counter attacks of the hilly country on the north at several points have resulted in the occupation by the Allies of ground south of them in the initial onslaught while a stiffening of the front at the Piave River has rendered impossible for the time being, at least, their fording of the stream by the enemy. Hard fighting still is in progress with the Austrians, who are bringing the strongest kind of pressure to bear against the Allied armies on the north and east parts of the front, an endeavor to reach the lines of gain across the Zonson loop, the strokes of the enemy are violent in the Montello Plateau, the highest of ground along the middle reaches of the Piave, the capture of which would give him command of the roads leading through Treviso to Venice and fairway west through to the province of Treviso. The Italians are inflicting heavy casualties on the troops of Emperor Charles which crossed the river at this point. South from the Andrea to Mossalata, the northern and southern flanks of the famous Zonson loop, where last year the Austrians effected a crossing of the Piave, only later to be driven back with sanguinary losses, and from Poshalata to San Donn Di Piave, the fighting is of a violent character, with the Italians holding the line. Between Candiano and Zonson loop where the Austrians crossed the Piave on Saturday, the Italians have driven them back to the river bank and are endeavoring to push them across the stream. This far the Italians, British and French troops have made prisoners of more than 4,000 Austrians, while the Austrian war office asserts that 12,000 prisoners have been taken by the Austrians. Although fighting has died down considerably in the mountain region, it is expected soon again to be resumed with increased violence. Emperor Charles is reported to be at the front with his army, and thousands of reinforcements for the armies are said to be moving southward. The Allied Commanders are anticipating violent fighting, believing, owing to the tactical and political aspect in the dual monarchy, that the Austrians must make a good showing in order to temper the feeling against the war at home. There still has been no return to the heavy fighting of last week on the fronts in France. Several engagements of greater import that the usual raiding operations have taken place. Counter attacks against the French in newly-won positions between the Oise and the Aisne were delivered by the enemy on Monday, but were repulsed. The French captured 370 men and 25 machine guns in the fighting northeast of Chateau Thierry. In the Belleau Wood the Germans are treating the Americans to large waves of gas and shells, but their efforts have gone unavailing so far as breaking the line is concerned. American patrols to the left of Chateau Thierry again have crossed the Marne, attacked the German and returned to their base.

Austrians Continue to Swarm,

But Allies Check Advance. Italians Capture More Prisoners. No Decision Can Yet be Made. Battle Assuming Gigantic Proportions.

WAR SUMMARY.

Not alone are the Italians, British and French comrades-in-arms holding in check the Austrian offensive along the greater part of a 100 mile front from the region southeast of Trent to the Adriatic, but they themselves have turned aggressors on some of the more important sectors in the mountain regions. Counter attacks in the hilly country on the north at several points have resulted in the occupation by the Allies of ground won from them in the initial onslaught and the rectification of their line, while a stiffening of the front along the Piave River has rendered impossible for the time being, at least, further fording of the stream by the enemy. Hard fighting still is in progress with the Austrians, who are bringing the strongest kind of pressure to bear against the Allied armies on both north and east parts of the front, in an endeavor to reach the lines and gain access in force to the plains. The strokes of the enemy are violent on the Montello Plateau, the highest bit of ground along the middle reaches of the Piave, the capture of which would give him command of the roads leading through Treviso to Venice and a fairway west through to the province of Treviso. The Italians are inflicting heavy casualties on the troops of Emperor Charles which crossed the river at this point. South from St. Andrea to Mossalata, the northern and southern flanks of the famous Zenson loop, where last year the Austrians effected a crossing of the Piave, only later to be driven back with sanguinary losses, and from Peshalata to San Donn Di Piave, the fighting is of a violent character, with the Italians holding the line. Between Candelo and Zenson loop, where the Austrians crossed the Piave on Saturday, the Italians have driven them back to the river bank, and are endeavoring to push them across the stream. This far the Italians, British and French troops have made prisoners of more than 4,500 Austrians, while the Austrian war office asserts that 12,000 prisoners have been taken by the Austrians. Although fighting has died down considerably in the mountain region, it is expected soon again to be resumed with increased violence. Emperor Charles is reported to be at the front with his army, and thousands of reinforcements for the armies are said to be moving southward. The Allied Commanders are anticipating vicious fighting, believing, owing to the turmoil and political unrest in the dual monarchy, that the Austrians must make a good showing in order to temper the feeling against the war at home. There still has been no return to the heavy fighting of last week on the fronts in France. Several engagements of greater import than the usual raiding operations have taken place. Counter attacks against the French in newly won positions between the Oise and the Aisne were delivered by the enemy on Monday, but were repulsed. The French captured 370 men and 25 machine guns in the fighting northeast of Chateau Thierry. In the Belleau Wood the Germans are treating the Americans to large waves of gas and shells, but their efforts have gone unrewarded so far as breaking the line is concerned. American patrols to the left of Chateau Thierry again have crossed the Marne, attacked the Germans and returned to their base.

THE KAISER'S BOAST.
AMSTERDAM, June 17. Prussian militarism will bring victory to Germany, says Emperor William in reply to a telegram of congratulations on the thirtieth anniversary of his accession, from Chancellor Von Hertling. The Emperor declares that he leads the most capable people on earth and expresses the hope that the German people will have strength to bear their suffering.

ATTEMPTED AIR RAID.

LONDON, June 17. A German airplane crossed the Kentish coast of England soon after noon to-day. It was chased back to the sea by the British anti-aircraft guns.

DEVLIN AND SINN FEIN.

DUBLIN, June 17. Joseph Devlin, member of Parliament and Deputy leader of the Irish Nationalist party, addressing a meeting at the village of Virginia, Co. Wick, in support of the candidacy of Hanlan for Parliament for East Cavan, yesterday, said the Parliamentary policy was one of the principal factors in the upholding of Ireland's interests. He said the Irish party was not going to throw away the weapon. The Sinn Fein is not a new doctrine or a new policy. He said it had been before the country for twenty years, but the Irish people have paid no attention to it because it is too grotesque, and during this period of twenty years it has not reached a labourer's cottage or helped to brighten or beautify a single woman's home. The Irish party did not enter into this contest light-heartedly, and if the contest could have been avoided it would have been. When it was declared by the Sinn Fein that there is no room for men like John Dillon in Irish politics, then the supporters of the constitutional movement accepted the challenge. There are now two policies before the people in this election: one will result in assured success and the other in certain failure. The promise of an Irish Republic in fifty years or fifty centuries is no compensation to the men and women living in this day and generation.

AUSTRALIA'S POSITION.

LONDON, June 17. (Via Reuter's Ottawa Agency)—Premier Hughes of Australia in a further interview here says Australia has paid and is paying the price of liberty. She will not falter, but is in the war to the end. "We have suffered in Australia as elsewhere from an insidious German propaganda," the Premier stated; it has manifested itself as pacifism and otherwise. We have men whose hatred of England blinds them to all else and who care nothing for Australia's liberty, so long as they can strike a blow at the heart of England. These are in the minority. As regards New Guinea and other islands in the vicinity, he continued, it was essential that Australia control them, or that they be in the hands of a friendly civilized nation as they stood in the same relation to Australia as Amiens to Paris or Calais to England. Although not wanting to extend her sphere of territorial authority Australia was determined that what she had she would hold and therefore she stood committed to the policy of the Munroe doctrine for the Pacific.

ENEMY STRONGLY HELD.

ROME, June 17. Vittorio Orlando, the Italian Premier, in an interview, said that the Italian troops were tenaciously resisting the Austro-Hungarian troops in their new offensive in Northern Italy, and by repeated counter attacks were strongly holding the enemy. The struggle, he added, was most bitter on the eastern slopes of Montello and to the west of Andona di Piave.

AUSTRIANS DRIVEN BACK.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, June 16. (By the Associated Press.)—Austrian troops which forced the Piave River have been driven back. The fighting along the river is most intense. One of the most brilliant of the Italian's actions was the defence of Monte Moschin salient, protecting the important Eredia positions. Here the Austrians suffered heavy losses and many of their machine guns were captured. The prisoners are ragged and ill-fed, many of them are under-sized soldiers. One of them remarked to the correspondent that he had no interest in the war. The feeling of the Italians is buoyant.

WILL LAST SEVERAL DAYS.

WASHINGTON, June 17. An official despatch from Rome, dated 11:55 o'clock last night, says the battle on the Italian front will assume gigantic proportions, the Austrians attempting to break down Italian defences by a great pincher movement. It adds that the battle will last several days before a decision is reached.

BIG NUMBER OF PRISONERS TAKEN.

ROME, June 17. The official statement says: The enemy disregarding their losses continued their endeavours to cross the Piave, but the Italians are bravely holding their positions. More than 4,500 Austrians have been captured by the Italians, British and French.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.

LONDON, June 17. (Official.)—There is little change on the British front in Italy. The artillery battle has died down and the enemy is reorganizing after his severe defeat. Captured maps show his objectives were very ambitious, they include the capture of Hau and Cima di Ponte. The number of prisoners has increased in 716 including 12 officers. The total amount of captured material actually brought in was four mountain guns, 45 machine guns and 7 flammen werfers. Considering the severity of the bombardment and intensity of fighting, our casualties were light. On June 15 and 16 the royal air forces dropped over 300 bombs and fired over 25,000 rounds of machine gun ammunition on troops and transports attempting to cross the Piave.

LONDON, June 17. (Official.)—

We carried out a successful raid last night east of Arras and captured a few prisoners. A raid attempted yesterday morning by the enemy in the neighborhood of Givency was repulsed. For a short period during the night the enemy's artillery heavily bombarded positions northwest of Albert. Elsewhere only normal activity was reported.

DESPERATE FOOD CONDITIONS IN AUSTRIA.

LONDON, June 17. Red Cross nurses attached to the hospital at Kirchendoff have informed the Austrian military authorities that the hospital would be closed unless the nurses are given adequate food, according to reports printed in Austrian newspapers and forwarded from Amsterdam by the Exchange Telegraph Co. The nurses, it is added, have been obliged to steal the rations intended for their patients in order to live. Some of them were caught and imprisoned for these thefts. The military authorities have promised relief.

A HAIG REPORT.

LONDON, June 17. Field Marshal Haig's report from British headquarters in France tonight says: The enemy raided east of Hebuterne. One man is missing. Another hostile raiding party attacked our line north of the Somme early today, but was repulsed. Beyond the usual artillery activity on both sides there is nothing to report.

EX-SECRETARY ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, June 17. Arrested in Bethlehem, Penna., last Saturday on a charge of violating the Trading with the Enemy Act by conspiring to smuggle a mysterious message into Denmark, Chas. Emil Shangoland, widely known political economist and until recently second secretary of the American embassy in London, was held here to-day on $10,000 bail by the Federal authorities.

TURKS CAPTURE TABRIZ.

LONDON, June 17. Turkish troops have occupied Tabriz next to Teheran, the largest city in Persia, according to a Turkish official statement dated June 14th. The text reads: We have occupied both shores of Lake Urumiah and the town of Tabriz (in northwestern Persia), in order to protect the wing of our army on the Caucasian front.

SHIPWRECKED MEN ARRIVE.

LOWES, June 17. Twenty of the crew of the Norwegian bark Kringsjaa were picked up at sea and landed here this afternoon. The men left on a late afternoon train presumably for New York. No details could be obtained from the survivors who were hurriedly placed on a train. The Kringsjaa was sunk by a German U-boat about 90 miles off the Virginia coast.

HELPING POOR FAMILIES.

PARIS, June 17. Measures have been taken by the Ministry of Public Works to facilitate the departure of poor families from Paris. This step is not taken because it is considered imminent danger is threatening Paris, but from the wish to aid the people of modest means to avoid the difficulties due to the crowded condition at the railway stations recently.

A Sad Case.

A Newfoundland who was a petty officer in the Canadian Patrol Service, recently became insane while on duty, and subsequently was discharged from service, reached the city by yesterday's express. During the run across country the unfortunate man acted so strangely that the train officials found it necessary to confine him to the baggage coach, but on reaching the station he broke loose, with the result that he had to be taken in charge by the police and later taken to the Asylum. The poor fellow was an inmate of the same institution some years ago, but was released from there apparently recovered.

Information About Victory Bonds.

Under the Victory Loan two distinct kinds of Bonds will be issued, and subscribers will have their choice as to which one to choose. The Bearer Bond is by far the simpler Bond, and is that selected by the majority of buyers. The Bond itself, together with the attached interest coupons, is payable to the holder of the Bond when the interest or principal comes due. It is similar to a Bank Note as the money is payable to the bearer or holder of the Bond. In other words, should the holder of the Bond desire to sell, this form of Bond may be transferred without any formality by simply handing it to the purchaser. The Registered Bond. This Bond is similar in form to the "Bearer Bond," but has the owner's name on it, and a corresponding record is kept in the Treasury Department. Such Bonds are not transferable without the written consent of the party whose name appears on the Bonds, and the transfer is made on a form supplied by the department. The coupons are, however, payable to the bearer, and may be cashed in the usual way by presenting at a Bank when due.

A Minister's Evidence.

That Piles or Hemorrhoids, Can be Quickly Cured—A Justice of the Peace Cured Many Years Ago. There has come to us recently these two letters from prominent men who bear unquestionable testimony in regard to Dr. Chase's Ointment as a prompt and lasting cure for piles. Their evidence freely because they know what it means to suffer from the tortures of piles and then be cured. They feel it a duty and a pleasure to let others know how they, too, may be cured. Rev. Frank N. Bowes, Methodist Minister, Pricville, Ont., writes: "In the winter of 1912 I was stationed in Cobalt. I went for a snowshoe tramp one day, and sat for only a few minutes on a cold stump waiting for some comrades to catch up to me. From sitting on the damp stump I contracted piles, and suffered so severely that it caused me great pain to walk. A friend recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment, and I immediately purchased a small box, which very rapidly effected a cure. I always keep a box on hand and find it excellent for any kind of wound or sore." Mr. W. B. Thorne, J.P., Alderside, Alta., writes: "I was twenty-eight years ago that I became acquainted with the merits of Dr. Chase's Ointment and would not be without it on any account, as it never fails to do its work. I was first induced to try it for piles. Less than one box cured me, and I have never been troubled since. That was twenty-eight years ago, so I think the cure is permanent. It is good for sore lips and hands, chafing and, in fact, all sorts of sores. You are at liberty to use this statement for the benefit of others." You can put Dr. Chase's Ointment to the test in any case of piles with the utmost assurance that you will obtain relief from suffering and ultimately lasting cure. 60 cents a box, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Haces & Co., Limited, Toronto. Look for the portrait and signature of A. W. Chase, M.D., the famous Receipt Book author, on the box you buy.

Anglo-Saxon Unity.

(Buffalo Commercial.)

"To command you is an honor, to work with you is a pleasure, to know you is to know the best traits of the Anglo-Saxon race," says Admiral Bayly, Commander-in-Chief of naval forces on the Irish coast. His message is addressed to American naval officers and men, who for a year have been engaged in the waters where the U-boats operate. We are glad to feel that there is more than courteous friendship behind the graceful acknowledgment.

No Cause for Alarm!

The Austrian offensive against the Italians for which every preparation had been made and to engage in which troops had been brought from every available source, began on Saturday last, and so far from reaching the objective which had been anticipated by the Austrian high command, the enemy has had to content himself with mere minor successes, of no material advantage, and purchased by terrible loss of life. It will be perfectly easy for any person with a map of the theatre at hand, to follow the course of the advance, along the line engaged, which extends from the Asiago plateau to the Adriatic Sea, in a region of mountain fastnesses and water sheds. The intention of the enemy is by sheer weight in superiority of men and metal to break his way through all resistance and debouch on the Venetian plains, where he will have more room for manoeuvring, and with his advantage in troops and guns will be in a better position to offer decisive engagement to the opposing Allies. So far, however, his movement has not been crowned with any particular measure of gain. True, at the initial outset, he captured several positions held by British soldiers, but these were re-captured by violent counter attacks, and the end of yesterday's fighting may be summed up in the words, "No progress. At the same time the persistent repetition of the Vienna-Berlin reports that were taken since the advance began, may mean that the success of the enemy is greater than the cabled dispatches admit. But as both Vienna and Berlin are not shouting stentoriously, as is usual," this reported capture should not be taken too seriously. On the other hand the mention that the Italians have made prisoners of 3,000 Austrian soldiers, including 85 officers, may be regarded as correct, and it might be suggested that such a bag is a greater evidence of the Italian success in resisting and checking the offensive than the enemy's claim of captives numbering more than three times those figures. "Virtually the result of the operations may be reckoned as being "as you were," with the advantage, if any, in favor of the Italians, as they continue to hold the enemy by their tenacious resistance. Later reports declare that the Austrians who had forced the passage of the Piave River were driven back with loss, and the fighting continues along the river with the greatest intensity. What to-day's news will bring forth will prove whether or not the Italians have made good, and we may feel no alarm over the situation as it is presented in the recent bulletins. The Italians are not only battling for "Italia Irredenta," but against Teutonic domination and no person need doubt the issue in such a struggle.

Germans Prepare

FOR HUGH NAVAL STRIKE.
Milan, Italy, June 9.—Reports are in circulation that the German Admiralty is preparing a huge, naval strike against the Allies. Orders are said to have been given the high seas fleet to be in instant readiness to move. Numerous high German naval officers have been recalled from Switzerland, and all leaves are said to have been suspended.

Welcome to Mr. "Willie" C. Job.

We extend you welcome once again Unto our own dear shore,
The friends you know send this refrain—
Including rich and poor—
You're welcome to our sea-girl Isle
Which we love best on earth,
The land on which to-day you smile,
The land that gave you birth.
Four old companions one and all
Are glad to meet you here,
With no distinction, one and all,
You're wished by them good cheer;
Your many deeds of bygone days
They never can forget,
For which their love, like bright green bays,
Lies clinging round you yet.
The pleasure of the long ago
Brings to their hearts a thrill;
The races where your "sport" you'd show,
Or down at Pleasantville
In New York has deterred purchasers
From taking in supplies, and even now there is but a limited movement in Newfoundland. The situation with regard to cold storage has improved somewhat, however, and there is hope expressed that there will be facilities available before the middle of June to accommodate at least a supply sufficient to meet the requirements of the trade during the summer months. But even with this improvement, operations are certain to be curtailed during the remainder of the summer. There has been little trading since last reports and some merchants and importers are not offering at all. This condition is largely due to the fact that there is only a trifling demand, the summer consumption of pickled herring not having begun. Prices remain unchanged at this time, but there have been some sales at less than the quotations. Prices in Newfoundland hold firm, according to reports, packers being unwilling to sell at anything less than the quotations they made when their stocks were first offered. It is probable that New York importers will hesitate to pay $18 per barrel for Scotch pack herring when the market is in so uncertain a condition. As a matter of fact the entire situation depends largely upon cold storage. If there is no more room for herring after June 15 than there will be a slump in Newfoundland herring and a clean up of stocks on the spot. New York importers are making plans to purchase Newfoundland herring, and several are now in St. John's for that purpose. The purchasing, however, will probably depend upon advice they receive from New York as to the conditions here when the demand is again resumed.—New York Fishing Gazette, June 8th.

Nfld. Scotch Cured Herring.

Although the season when New York receives its large supply of Newfoundland herring is already well advanced, there has been only a meagre supply of fall fish received in this market during the past month. The uncertainty of cold storage space in New York has deterred purchasers from taking in supplies, and even now there is but a limited movement in Newfoundland. The situation with regard to cold storage has improved somewhat, however, and there is hope expressed that there will be facilities available before the middle of June to accommodate at least a supply sufficient to meet the requirements of the trade during the summer months. German Threat Against the Dutch.

Amsterdam, June 10.—The Dutch public to-day was bitterly discussing the latest reported German threat against its neutrality. From a reliable source it was learned that a high German official connected with the Administration of Belgium, speaking to a neutral diplomat, said: "We admit that Ostend and Zeebrugge are temporarily useless as submarine bases. In the event they are permanently useless, we will make use of the Scheldt as a base, despite the cost. We have got to have a base near England, even should it add another country to those arrayed against us." The Scheldt River flows into the North Sea through Holland.

Botulism Inquiry.

Botulism, the disease which is believed to have caused several recent deaths in London, is being investigated by scientists appointed by the Medical Research Committee, a body which is spending £50,000 a year in investigating new diseases and the treatment of war wounds. Neither money nor time is to be spared in the task of discovering its cause and cure. Help will be given by the Local Government Board and the London County Council Public Health Department. The latter is collecting material and food for investigation and asking medical men to report suspicious cases.
With the customary caution of scientific investigators, Sir Walter Fletcher, Secretary of the Medical Research Committee, said yesterday: "We have no clear evidence yet that the disease is botulism or that it is caused by food.
A number of children in various parts of London have lately been stricken with a disease similar to polio-encephalitis, a brain disease which was epidemic in New York last year and is very similar to botulism. After investigating a large number of cases the New York doctors were not able to trace the disease definitely to food or give any very satisfactory explanation of its cause. Dr. F. E. Batten, physician to the Hospital for Sick Children, in an article in the Lancet, applies the name "epidemic stupor" to the children's disease. It is a new disease, Dr. Batten says, but that it is not essentially dependant upon eating ham, sausages, or tinned foods is proved by the fact that it has occurred in breast-fed infants.—The Times.

Invention Protects Radio When Ship is Torpedoed.

When a ship is torpedoed the radio antenna is frequently snapped by the springing of the masts. This cuts off the vessel's only means of communication and prevents it from calling for help. To overcome the condition, an inventor has developed a new system of suspending aerials, which is shown in July Popular Mechanics Magazine. Coil springs are interposed between the opposite ends of the antenna and its masts so that in case the latter are sprung the aerial is automatically lengthened, even as much as 100 ft. if needs be, instead of being broken.

I Told You So.

By RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON

There is a tradition, is there not that, "I told you so" is a very objectionable thing to say or to infer. There is also a tradition that women are more apt to be guilty thereof than men. I have acquired an idea recently when and why those traditions arose.

A group of us were talking the other day on the all absorbing subject of domestic help. Four women had told of their difficulties and the difficulties of neighbors and friends in getting the same, and the large wages they had had to pay. She Didn't Dare To Tell Him Herself.

"Well," sighed one woman who had been listening to this testimony, "I'd like my husband to hear all that why we were speaking about maids the other day and he said this talk about their getting such high wages, was all nonsense. I'd give anything if he could have been here."

"Why don't you tell him?" asked someone. "Oh, I couldn't do that. He'd say I was trying to say 'I told you so,'" said the other woman. In other words, if a man pooh hoos a woman's opinions, and then a woman gets proof that her opinions are right, she mustn't bring that proof to him because that is saying, "I told you so."

He Objected To Her Proving Her Point.

All of which reminds me of a little experience I had last summer. A man and a woman had an argument about a story which both had seen in a newspaper a few days before. She declared that it said one thing, he another. Finally she procured a copy, substantiating her claim and showed it to him. After she had gone out of the room he turned to some other people. "I told you so," he said sarcastically.

Some weeks later, by some odd accident, he came across another edition of the paper. And it recurred that the story in that edition had been written quite differently and substantiated his claim. The woman was away on a visit. "I'm going to send it to her," he said triumphantly.

Sauce for the Gander but not for the Goose.

Plainly, if a woman insists on bringing forward proof that her husband (or any man) was not justified in pooh hoohing her arguments or her point of view, that is saying "I told you so" and is a most disagreeable thing to do.

But if a man brings up an argument or adduces a fact to prove he was right, that is mere masculine justice.

Plainly it all depends on the point of view.

MINARD'S LINIMENT is the only Liniment asked for at my store and the only one people use it.

ALL THE PEOPLE USE IT.

PLEASANT BAY, C. B.

Your Boys and Girls.

The greatest need is that mothers should have the whole confidence of their children. At school the child, in due time, should learn the fundamental facts of life from elementary biology and at home the mother should on suitable occasions, frankly explain to her child its relationship to its parents, and she should surround that explanation with the strongest sentiment of love and respect.

Surely parents cannot believe that their children learn nothing of these things on the street, and among their schoolmates. It cannot be said too frequently that the only way to ensure a clean and healthy mind in a child is, through the complete frankness of the mother.

Milady's Boudoir.

CANDLELIGHT TOILET HINTS. The bedtime toilet of Milady's pink fingers is an important duty that no one, and especially Milady who works, should ever neglect. For it is with those ten rosy fingers that she matches her skill against the bread-winning world.

There is little time, however, in the hurry scurry of the morning hours which can be devoted to this fastidious task. The bedtime toilet, therefore, should be a thorough one and should be made in a kimono or a loose dressing gown, seated before a dressing table in a low rocker.

When the nails receive a little attention each day, from five to ten minutes are sufficient, a visit to the professional manicurist, is only necessary once a month. After the nails have attained a certain degree of comeliness, less time is required to keep them in this condition. They are always cleaned with an orange stick. The nail brush is also brought into play and some women prefer it.

Where the nails are stained a wisp of absorbent cotton is twisted around the flat side of the stick, dipped in a bicch and pressed under the nail and over it.

The cuticle is always pressed back to show the delicate half-moon. Where it is inclined to be sensitive, a little dab of cold cream will soften the skin and keep it from being irritated by the pressure, which should always be gentle. Where the tiny frame of skin is broken, hair-nails are encouraged and this is most unsightly.

As a rule it is not necessary to use the buffer more than three times a week. Too high a luster on the nails is not in good taste. Where it is necessary to employ a little nail paste to impart a delicate color, be sure not to make them too red, for this is at once in accordance with theatrical make up and therefore tabooed.

Everyday Etiquette.

"How long should you remain when making a call?" When someone else calls and the hostess rises to greet her, should you also rise? questioned Mary.

"When making a formal call you should stay fifteen minutes or twenty, not longer than a half hour. An informal call may be prolonged at the invitation of the hostess. If you are calling on a woman much older than you are it would be courteous to rise when she does, but under other circumstances you should remain seated. When another caller rises to leave, it is sufficient for you to bow and smile without rising," helped her teacher.

Special Notice.

At the end of this year we will give 5 cts. for every 12 Outside Green Wrappers obtained from STAFFORD'S LINIMENT. We will also give $10.00 to the person forwarding us the largest number and $5.00 to the 2nd largest. We will keep a record of every person forwarding us these wrappers from time to time and at the end of the year we will publish the names of the winners.

STAFFORD'S LINIMENT is the Strongest and most penetrating Liniment for sale in Newfoundland and is sold in over 500 stores. It is the best Liniment you can use for RHEUMATISM, LUMBAGO, NEURALGIA and all ACHES and PAINS. Owing to the cost of Bottles and Ingredients used in the manufacturing of this Liniment, we have had to advance the price a little. But the bottle still remains the same size.

MINARD'S LINIMENT USED BY PHYSICIANS.

DIGGING UP.

WINT MASON

Oh, chee, it is a splendid thing to see our hard-earned scads take wing! We're called on, every week or four, to dig up coin, and then some more, to buy some bonds, or help Red Cross, and joyfully we dig the cross.

With other causes growing lax, we're asked to pony up a tax, or help the Belgians or the Serbs, or buy the starving Russ some herbs. We used to snarl like Thomas Cat, when some one came and passed the hat; we'd frown and make a nasty speech about the daughter of the leech. But now we spring no snarls or groans when we are asked to shed the bones. We dig up all the plunks on hand, and say, "The cause is truly grand, and we most bitterly regret we can't do more, already yet."

Our dollars are no longer gods; we find it great to slip our wards. Of course some tightwads still survive, but they're ashamed that they're alive. No longer do they strut in pride because they've fortunes multiplied; they see in every glance disdain, and every hour brings them a pain. Their ranks grow smaller every day; they learn to shoo the wealth away. Great James! It is a noble thing, to see the treasured scads take wing, to have them vanish from our view, and think of all the good they'll do!

In the course of an article on the U-boat in the Deutsche Revue for March, Vice-Admiral Hermann Kirchhoff writes that Germans understand by "Freedom of the Seas" nothing less than a complete breaking of the hitherto unlimited British domination of the sea, a break-up of the British world domination—in short, the overthrow of Germany's mortal enemy, the Power which is harmful to the whole world. To this end England must be got out of Calais-Boulogne (and be prevented from making the Channel Tunnel), out of Lemnos, Egypt, etc.; Germany must retain the Flanders coast, the Suez Canal must be internationalized, the German fleet abroad must be strengthened, and war harbours, etc. must be built in the German colonies. No Mercy.

(New York Times.) A story is told of a major in a Highland regiment, who was unpopular with his men because he worked them too hard on fatigue duty. One afternoon a German sniper fired at the major and did not hit him. After a few shots some of the men made a detour and captured the sniper red-handed. The boche threw up both hands and yelled "Mercy! Mercy! Kamrade!" as he saw the grim-visaged killed soldiers approach. "Ye'll get no mercy here," said one of the Scotchmen, "ye've missed him eight times already."

Victory Loan Talk.

EASY MONEY. As money-makers, Victory Loan Bonds at 6 1/2 per cent are the best ever. Brokers would charge you a commission to pick you out safe and reliable investments of this nature. You know get the opportunity free. And, don't forget, every cent you contribute helps to shorten the War and save thousands of lives.

$100 BRINGS $165. Invest $100 in a Victory Bond, and at the end of the ten-year period you draw out your $100 and will have received $65 in interest. Not counting the service you will have rendered your country and humanity generally by assisting in the great crusade against Prussianism and tyranny.

YOU ARE NOT OVER AGE to subscribe for a Victory Bond. There is no age-limit imposed on purchasers. If you are too old to fight you are not too old to make your money fight for you. Remember, money will win this war as well as men. Get your dollars in the ranks. They're mighty good fighters, too!

A PRESENT FOR YOU. With every Victory Bond you buy you get a present of 6 1/2 per cent interest. It's your duty to buy Bonds, but as an inducement you are offered this high rate of percentage. With the double incentive of duty and self-interest, is it any wonder that Victory Bonds are the best sellers on the market?

HAVE YOU KILLED A GERMAN? You'll never do it with your mouth, but it's surprising how many Hunz a little Victory Bond can account for. Buy Bonds and help equip our soldiers to settle accounts with the baby-killers.

FIRE! THIEVES! Don't leave your money at the mercy of fire or thieves. Make it earn more money for you. Put it in a Victory Bond, and help yourself and your country at the same time.

SAFE AS THE BANK. Victory Bonds are safe as the Bank. Your security is Newfoundland itself, its resources, its revenue, its people.

ANSWER THE KNOCK OF OPPORTUNITY. Avail of this chance that comes but once in a life-time. Invest your money in absolutely safe Victory Loan Bonds, guaranteed by the credit of Newfoundland. Get your share of this magnificent interest rate of 6 1/2 per cent. Do it now, before it is too late.

BONDS AS PRESENTS. Victory War Bonds are seasonable presents at all times and for all times and for all occasions. None more suitable for Wedding or Birthday gifts. Buy yours to-day.

BACK UP YOUR SOLDIER BOY with a Victory Bond. Make him feel that you are doing your part as well as he.

THE KAISER LOVES A TIGHT-WAD when it comes to investing money in Victory Bonds. It's up to you to fool him. Come across with a Bond, and allow our soldiers to take another step towards Berlin.

VICTORY BONDS ARE SAFE, SURE AND RELIABLE. Why? Because you are lending your money to your country, and at a magnificent rate of interest besides. Every Bond you buy is a dagger in the heart of the Kaiser.

STOP KILLING THE KAISER with your mouth. Money talks. Let your money do the talking. Invest in the Victory Loan.

What are you doing to help win the war? Have you ENLISTED YOUR DOLLARS in the Victory War Loan?

What would your money be worth if the Germans won this war? Why not make it work for you to help finish the struggle.

Soldiers are daily GIVING their lives in YOUR service. You are merely asked to LEND your money at a remarkably high rate of interest to back up the efforts of the SAILORS and SOLDIERS overseas. Steer yourself up against a Victory Bond.

Insure your safety from German aggression by buying a Victory Loan Bond. Money will win this War. It is your duty to contribute your money, just as much as it is that of the Volunteer to fight for you.

Make yourself worthy of the magnificent record of our SAILORS and SOLDIERS by backing up their work with the purchase of Victory Bonds. Show that you appreciate their noble sacrifices.

Wouldn't you like to be in a position to help win this war? Of course you would. Well, one way in which you can be of great assistance is by purchasing Victory Loan Bonds. And incidentally you are making one of the best investments in the world, from a financial standpoint.

When you want Steaks, Chops, Cutlets and Collops, try ELLIS.

Thoughts Upon the Times

(By PATRIOT.)

There is an old saw which is often quoted to prove that the established laws of society, like those of nature, are inexorable and who tramples upon them must sooner or later pay the penalty. "The mills of the gods grind slowly yet they grind exceeding small." The Good Book also says: "As a man sows so shall he reap."

For the past ten years Mr. Coaker has been sowing the seeds of discontent and distrust among the people. There are now unmistakable signs that Mr. Coaker is reaping what he has sown. The sturdy fisherman—the most independent and hardy type of man in the world—who is daily breathing in health and strength under the open sky, surrounded by Nature's wonders, has for years been taught to believe that he was being deprived from enjoying the fruits of his labors and cheated out of his just earnings. Led on by an unscrupulous demagogue, who depicted them as "downtrodden underdogs," always at the mercy of the "graball" mercantiles or politicians, the fishermen have allowed themselves to be exploited, and their numerical strength organized, to place in power one of the most incompetent and unscrupulous sets of politicians that ever had control of the government of this country. The exigencies of the war have been used, not only in this country, but in all countries, to expedite deeds which in ordinary times would not be permitted to bear the light of day. Hence the present conglomeration of incompetent and needy politicians now in possession of the government, find themselves there, not by the will of the people, but through the ambitious and greedy designs of the late Premier—Sir Edward Morris—and the Reid Nfd. Co.

The question as to whether these men who fill our public offices are in all respects, fit and competent to assume the duties and responsibilities as our rulers, is none of our concern. It is entirely the business of the Reid Newfoundland Co. to say who shall or shall not be our rulers. They make their own laws and set at naught the laws made by the former Newfoundland Governments. Witness their recent increase in rates on their trains and steamers. Witness their defiance of our quarantine and vaccination regulations in North Sydney, as outlined by Mr. Morine in the House of Assembly on May 6th, last.

Mr. Morine:—"In the North Sydney papers an order appeared, apparently telegraphed from the Department of the Colonial Secretary, signed by the Colonial Secretary to the effect that no person resident in the Provinces of Nova Scotia or New Brunswick would be allowed to come to Newfoundland unless he had been vaccinated within seventeen years and more than fourteen days. . . . Then I went back to the Reid Nfd. Co. people and asked them if they had seen this order. They said no; that as far as they were concerned they were acting upon orders received from Head Office, and they would not recognize any other."

The so-called fishermen's Government, led by Mr. Coaker, have to all intents and purposes, handed the country and everything in it over to the Reid Nfd. Co. The people are only now beginning to realize what has happened, and judging by the feeling abroad, there are anxious days ahead for Mr. Coaker and his associates in the Government, in the immediate future. No wonder he is anxious to make new friends. No wonder he appears willing to let by-gones be by-gones. The people are now beginning to find out the kind of man he really is, and Mr. Coaker himself is beginning to learn that after all the Wise Man was right when he said, "As a man sows so shall he reap."

Mr. Coaker has been for ten years poisoning the waters at the fountain head. He need not be surprised, therefore, if he finds that the waters of the stream cannot be sweet. But that is not all. The country will have to suffer for many years to come for Mr. Coaker's teaching and his final betrayal of the country to the Reids. When the glamour of the war is over we will realize it in all its hideous details. If the difficulties are to be met and overcome whom have we in public life capable of taking hold of public affairs and bringing order out of chaos? There is only one man in the country who would have the confidence of the people, and that man is the Right Hon. Sir Robert Bond.

Let the people at once from all parts of the country rally to Sir Robert Bond's banner, the good old Liberal Standard that never brought disgrace upon Newfoundland. Let the country from one end of it to the other demand from His Excellency the Governor a General Election next fall. The Extension Bill was not carried through with the consent of the people. Everywhere there is political unrest; everywhere there is a clamour for a cleaner and more direct control of the Government by the people. It is "up to" the people themselves to act.

Fads and Fashions.

Calico dresses are a war-time fad. Millinery still clings to sailor lines. Silverstone velour is again in evidence. Bathing suits are adorned with saashes. Sweaters are often of the bloused variety. Tricotine dresses are being made for fall. Percals and pique make a good combination.

Old Ships Bring Fortune.

The story of how two small steamers which were laid up for 20 years because no purchasers could be found at any price have just been sold for $1,200,000 became known last week, and the case is said to be the most remarkable on record as showing the extraordinary advance in the value of vessel property. The two freighters, Port Caroline and Port Denison, were already old when at the end of the Boer war the owners decided to lay them up. They were out of commission until 1915. Then they were re-cased and offered for sale. Nobody would buy them. Now word has reached Boston that their lucky owners have disposed of them for more than a million and a quarter in cash.

The Hardest Worked Man.

In the "Nineteenth Century" there is a most interesting article on "The King and the War," in which the writer, Mr. Sydney Brooks, observes, "What Mr. Lloyd George said of him at Glasgow some nine months ago was, and is, literally true; there is one man who is working as hard as the hardest-worked man in this country, and that is the Sovereign of this realm. And with it all the King keeps up his established habits of always beginning the day by reading the Bible, of never omitting to attend church on Sunday, of reading all his letters that are addressed to him, and of writing up his private diary day by day."

The adjourned special meeting of the Parishioners of the Cathedral Parish will be held in the Parish Room, Synod Building, on Tuesday evening, 18th inst., at 8 o'clock.—June 17, 21

AERIAL OPERATIONS.

LONDON, June 17. (Via Reuters' Ottawa Agency.)—An official statement announces that the following bombing operations into Germany were carried out by the Royal Air Force from June 6th to 11th inclusive. The railway station and sidings at Thionville were attacked four times: several direct hits were observed on the station and an explosion was seen to occur. Near the Carthulte works at Metz Sablon, which was twice attacked, a train received a direct hit. Attacks were also directed against railway sidings at Karthaus and railways and munition factories at Hagendingen and Dillingen. Some three and one half tons of bombs were dropped with good results. From these expeditions all our machines returned safely.

LOOKING FOR EVIDENCE.

THE HAGUE, June 17. (Via Reuters' Ottawa Agency.)—The tugboat Zealand will leave tomorrow to examine the wreck of the hospital ship Konigen Regentes, with a British Naval Commander and a German Lieutenant Commander on board. The examination proper has been entrusted to Lieut. Vink, of the Dutch Navy.

ALLIED COUNTER OFFENSIVE.

ROME, To-day. Italian troops, in conjunction with French and British Allies, yesterday began a counter offensive against the Austrian forces, which had launched an attack on the Italian mountain frontier. The Allied troops, according to an official statement issued to-day, were able to gain successes, and to rectify their lines at many points along the front.

BONUS FOR SEAMEN.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Because of German submarine activity off the American coast, the Shipping Board to-day ordered a bonus of 25 per cent. of their monthly wages paid to all licensed officers, employed on American merchant ships in the coastwise West Indian and South and Central American trade.

NOON.

PROMINENT NATIONALIST GIVES ADVICE.

LONDON, To-day. J. J. Kennedy, a prominent Nationalist, five times Chairman of the Kingston (Ireland) Urban Council, speaking from the chair yesterday, and imprisoned in many parts of the country. One of the charges is that they have been drilling. I should like to see all my fellow countrymen well drilled but that the authorities have prohibited drilling I consider it very foolish to persist. They also are being arrested on a charge of raiding for arms. That is against the common law and also against the law of God. No man may injure his neighbors property and they are foolish to persist in such a practice. I should recommend them to accept the advice of Cardinal Logue and give up the practice. Irishmen who do these things are not the friends and supporters of their country's interests. They are bringing reproach upon innocent people not concerned. If my voice could reach the four corners of Ireland, and if I had the power I would win force and energy prohibit these practices.

AUSTRIANS STOPPED EVERYWHERE.

ROME, To-day. In their attacks between Zenson and Fossalta, along the Piave, the Austrians have been stopped everywhere, says an official statement issued last night by the war office. In the mountain region and around Montello there have been no infantry attacks by the enemy. The Allied troops have taken several hundred additional prisoners and some machine guns. The statement reads: "On the mountainous front and around Montello the enemy renewed his infantry attack. During the day a successful thrust was carried out by our troops. We occupied several positions, captured machine guns and some hundreds of prisoners." Important actions developed south of Montello and along the Piave in the zone between Zenson and Fossalta, but the enemy everywhere was stopped by our counter attacks. Several hundred prisoners were left in our hands. Enemy attempts to cross the river between Muserado and Candolin, northwest of Treviso, were bloodily repulsed. On the lower Piave other offensive actions, in the course of development, resulted advantageously for us.

FRENCH TROOPS DOING MAGNIFICENT WORK ON ITALIAN FRONT.

PARIS, To-day. French troops have played a magnificent part in stemming the Austrian offensive, according to the Supreme Command, says a Havas despatch from Rome. Despite heavy attacks the French lost but four men while they accomplished numerous unusual feats, including the capture of 183 Austrians by twelve Grenadiers. That the French are holding new positions is indicated, the despatch adds, by the statement that their artillery on the Asiago Plateau was master of the Austrian batteries and decimated the Austrian infantry when it attacked.

A FEELING OF DEPRESSION IN GERMANY.

GENEVA, To-day. The enthusiasm, created by the first German offensive, has passed and a feeling of profound depression reigns among the German people, according to an interview with a neutral diplomat, who has just arrived in Geneva from Berlin, in La Suisse. The people at home expected a quick victory from the early reports in the official bulletin and the principal question asked in Berlin last week was, "Have we entered Paris?" The situation in the interior of Germany, the diplomat declared, is becoming more and more serious. Germans, both military and civilian, now realize and virtually admit that the constant arrivals of fresh American troops will turn the tide of the war. The diplomat concluded his interview with a statement that during a recent secret sitting of the Reichstag the question of autonomy for Alsace-Lorraine was discussed officially for the first time since the beginning of the war.

SOCIALIST LEADERS TO MEET.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. Philipp Scheidemann, leader of the Dutch Socialist Party, according to Dutch newspapers, has arrived at Leuwarden to meet Pieter Treelstra, the Dutch Socialist leader who is going to England shortly to attend the annual conference of the British Labor Congress.

AUSTRIAN OFFENSIVE HAS FAILED.

PARIS, To-day. The Havas Agency—The Austrians after three days of furious fighting have not gained any really important success, confirms the newspapers in their opinion that the offensive has failed.

GERMAN TROOPS BEGIN AN OFFENSIVE.

LONDON, To-day. German troops in Southern Russia began an offensive eastward on the Veresh front on June 15th, says a Russian Government wireless message. The Germans are advancing in the Vernjaki, Rostov and Vatulak regions, and Foreign Minister Tchitcherin has informed Ambassador Joffe at Berlin of the latest developments. The Ambassador also was advised that the German commander on the Veresh front had proposed a new boundary line to the Russian command. The Bolshevik War Department has ordered the mobilization of all workmen and peasants born from 1893 to 1897 in a large number of provinces. The men are called for six months' active service and those refusing to serve will be punished severely by revolutionary tribunals.

FRENCH TAKE PRISONERS.

PARIS, To-day. In a local operation south of the Aisne last night the French took 100 prisoners, it is announced officially. Between the Ourcq and the Marne prisoners were taken in patrol encounters.

GERMAN ARTILLERY ACTIVE.

LONDON (Bulletin) To-day. The German artillery was more active than usual last night along the Ancre River south of Albert and west of Serre, according to the statement issued by the war office to-day. The statement follows: A hostile raiding party was repulsed by us last night southeast of Villers-Bretonneux. We secured a few prisoners. Other prisoners and a machine gun were taken by us in successful raids southwest of Albert in the neighborhood of Noyon-Commercy and in patrol encounters. East of the Nieppe forest (on the western side of the Flanders battle area) the hostile artillery was more active than usual in the Ancre River and south of Albert; it also showed some activity west of Serre.

A MILLION MEN ENGAGED.

PARIS, To-day. Ninety-two Austrian divisions consisting of 80 divisions of infantry and twelve of cavalry have been hurled into the greatest battle that Italy has yet fought according to an official announcement at Rome received here through the Havas Agency, seventy-one of these divisions have already been identified. The forces engaged comprise three-fourths of the whole Austrian Army and the choicest troops under the command of Field Marshal Boroevic. The number of men in an Austrian division is not exactly known but the number of divisions engaged would indicate that approximately one million Austrian soldiers have been thrown into the battle; papers found on officers show that after forcing the passage of the Piave the first day's objective was the Thiviers Monte Beluna Railway. In two days of fighting the enemy columns had succeeded only in realising the minimum assigned for the first day according to the official note issued at Rome, but one single Allied aviator has been lost during the Austrian offensive, while forty-four enemy machines have been brought down.

A STRUGGLE OF TWO WORLD VIEWS.

AMSTERDAM, To-day. The war is not a matter of a strategic campaign but a struggle of two world views warring with one another, Emperor William declared on Saturday at the celebration of the anniversary of his accession at German main headquarters. "Either German principle of right, freedom, honor and morality must be upheld," he added, "or Anglo-Saxon principles with their ideology of mammon must be victorious."

The Anglo-Saxons, he asserted, aimed at making the peoples of the world work as slaves for the Anglo-Saxon ruling race, and such a matter could not be decided in days or weeks, or even in a year. The Emperor emphasized the fact that from the first he had realized that the trials of war would be great. The first outbreak of enthusiasm had not deceived him. Great Britain's intervention had meant a world struggle, whether he desired it or not. He said he was thankful that Field Marshal Von Hindenburg and General Ludendorff had been placed at his side as counsellors.

The Victory Loan

ENDORSED BY BOARD OF TRADE.

At noon to-day the members of the Board of Trade met at their rooms for the purpose of hearing the Minister of Finance, Hon. M. P. Cashin, and Mr. Stevens, the financial expert of the Bank of Montreal Head Office, outline the purpose and object of the Victory Loan. Mr. Gordon Winter presided and following his introductory remarks, called on Mr. Cashin, who gave in detail the many reasons why Newfoundland should begin to be dependent upon herself in the matter of raising money to finance obligations consequent upon the war and for other purposes. All the countries in which hitherto we had raised loans were now doing their own business, and the suggestion had been made by leading bankers that Newfoundland with much money on deposit should consider seriously the financial situation outside and endeavour to do her share. For this reason and for others which had already been heard, the Minister of Finance declared that the Government had authorized the raising of a local loan. The ways and means to be adopted would be placed before the people and he had no doubt that with the co-operation of the gentlemen present, the people would cheerfully subscribe and make Newfoundland's first internal loan a brilliant success.

Mr. Stevens, who spoke next, explained the Canadian's campaign in their first and second Victory Loan, and pointed out that to make ours popular, many means of educating the people were necessary. Publicity and advertisement were the chief factors, but in order to gain the confidence of the masses a campaign of push must be adopted in order that the loan would not offer any difficulties or that the failure of the first would tend to shorten subscriptions. For this reason the sum of $2,000,000 only was being placed in Newfoundland, as it was thought better to begin in a small way and make a success of it than to commence too largely and produce failure.

Following Mr. Stevens' address a general discussion took place in which Hon. J. Harvey, Mr. H. R. Brooks, Hon. S. Milley, Mr. Harold Mitchell, Sir P. T. McGrath, Mr. H. E. Cowan and Hon. Jno. Anderson engaged.

The following resolution was proposed by Mr. Gosling, seconded by Hon. Jno. Anderson and carried unanimously: "That the members of the Board of Trade heartily endorse the action of the Government in offering a loan of two million dollars in Newfoundland, and do hereby pledge ourselves to do all that is possible to ensure its success."

At this stage it was moved by Mr. B. Job, seconded by Sir Joseph Outbridge and resolved that a vote of thanks from the meeting be given Hon. M. P. Cashin and Mr. Stevens for their very clear and explicit elucidation of the various matters in connection with the raising of the loan. The vote having passed by acclamation was tendered by the President, Mr. Gordon Winter, and the proceedings brought to a close.

MILITARY SERVICE ACT, 1918.

EVERY MAN in Class 1, that is all unmarried men between the ages of 19 and 25 inclusive, must report to the Registrar at the Militia Building, St. John's, on forms provided, before the 24th day of May, 1918, or send an application for exemption.

Report and Application can be sent through the Post Office or may be made personally at the Militia Building to the Registrar.

Claims for exemption must be made on the following grounds:

(a) That it is expedient in the national interest that the applicant should, instead of being employed in military service, be engaged otherwise.

(b) That he has one or two brothers and one of them is serving, or has served, in His Majesty's Naval or Military Forces during the present war.

(c) That he has three or more brothers and two of them are serving or have served in His Majesty's Naval or Military Forces during the war.

(d) That he has persons mainly dependent upon him for support, such as parents, brothers or sisters and

(e) Ill health or infirmity.

EXEMPTION APPLICATIONS may be made to the Tribunal in St. John's through the Registrar and outside St. John's direct to the Commissioners (magistrates) appointed by the Tribunal. Commissioners have power to grant exemptions subject to confirmation by the Tribunal on grounds (b), (c), (d), and in cases where a man is so obviously infirm as to be unfit for military service. Applications for exemption may be made by the

Our American Letter.

BOSTON, June 10. The arrival of several German submarines off the Atlantic Coast and the subsequent sinking of a dozen large merchant vessels by these under-mermen, has made many lethargic Americans realize, for the first time, the seriousness of the struggle they are waging against the enemies of civilization.

If Germany, however, carried out the raids on American shipping, with the intention of frightening the citizens of the eastern cities, she must be grievously disappointed. Americans refuse to be scared. Not even the knowledge that William the Conqueror himself was in command of the U-boat fleet would have any other effect than to make Americans more firmly determined that the Kaiser's brand of devils must be driven back into the hell from which they came, and that the cause of civilization must triumph, let the cost be what it may.

An unusual feature in connection with the visit of the Hun was the address and consideration shown by the German crews to their victims. Through these bloody demons who will grow through the ages steeped in glory for their atrocious murders of helpless women and children, were seen a part goes without saying. Their purpose was to create a habit in the minds of Americans as the truth of the atrocities committed in European waters and as less in some degree American's determination to push the war to a finish. Again they were disappointed, for the men were not easily hoodwinked. The memory of the Lusitania is fresh in the minds of Americans. The shelling of defenceless lifeboats at the murder of Capt. Fryatt are not easily forgotten. We know that Satan can, for a purpose, assume pleasing shape, and the Germans are no exception. They are not men of ministering angels with hands glowing with the blood of murdered innocents. This insidious form of human propaganda which smokes of evil will fall as all evil must fall, and the forces of honour, truth and justice are arrayed against it. These demons of hell will find it so. The light of black and the sweet air of God is still in his heaven and the sun appears upon the horizon. A man who has seen the world and his legions will fall humbled in the dust before the sign of the world's redemption. Mankind will enjoy a purer peace than was ever known before.

There are certain suspicions held by some here that Mexico may be supplying bases for the U-boats. It is a known fact that Carranza, the so-called President of Mexico, is in sympathy with German aims and would aid German activities as far as possible.

The United States "gets something" on Mexico that is real and serious. Carranza and his deluded followers will be made to feel the full weight of America's hand. That the light is not far distant when American troops will be marching into Mexico with a grim and determined front, doubted by few. Great Britain and the

Our American Letter.

BOSTON, June 10. The arrival of several German submarines off the Atlantic Coast and the subsequent sinking of a dozen or more merchant vessels by these under pirates have made many lethargic Americans realize, for the first time, the seriousness of the struggle they are waging against the enemies of civilization. If Germany, however, is kept out of the ranks of American fighting, with the intention of frightening the citizens of the eastern cities, they must be grievously disappointed. Americans refuse to be scared. Not only do they know that the Kaiser's own knowledge that William has himself in command of the U-boat fleet would have any other result than to make Americans more determined than the Kaiser to bring his brand of devils must be driven back into the hell from which they came, and that the cause of civilization must triumph, let the cost be what it may.

As unusual feature in connection with the visit of the Hun was the earnestness and consideration shown by the German crews to their victims. These bloody demons who will go down through the ages steeped in infamy for their atrocious murders of helpless women and children, were a part goes without saying. Their purpose was to create a panic in the minds of Americans as the truth of the atrocities committed by them in European waters and to lessen in some degree America's determination to push the war to a finish. Again they were disappointed, Americans are not so easily hoodwinked. The memory of the Lusitania with its drowned women and babes, the shelling of defenceless lifeboats at the murder of Capt. Frynt, are not easily forgotten. We know that Satan can, for a purpose, assume pleasing shape, and the Germans are his faithful followers can when occasion requires, act the part of ministering angels, with hands dripping with the blood of murdered innocents. This insidious form of human propaganda which smells of hell will fall as all evil must fall when the forces of honour, truth and justice are arrayed against it. These devils of hell will find it so. The light is black and the sweet air is poisoned with the breath of vultures. God is still in his heaven and the sun appears upon the horizon. A while and Satan and his legions will fall humbled in the dust before the sign of the world's redemption mankind will enjoy a purer peace than was ever known before.

There are certain suspicions held by those here that Mexico may be supplying bases for the U-boats. It is a well known fact that Carranza, the so-called President of Mexico, is in sympathy with German aims and would aid German activities as far as he could. The United States "gets something" out of Mexico that is real and tangible. Carranza and his detested henchmen will be made to feel the full weight of America's hand. That the light is not far distant when American troops will be marching into Mexico is a grim and determined errand doubted by few. Great Britain and France would welcome American intervention in the Southern Republic. It would result in safeguarding the indispensable oil well in Tampico and break up the nest of German spies who under neutral protection are doing untold damage to the Allies cause. Lloyd George's warm praise of American troops is much appreciated here. The taking of Cantigny must have been an eye-opener to the Germans. That the flower of the German army could not stand up against Yankee soldiers with but a few months' training must have filled Bloody William with chagrin if not despair. Lloyd George says the hope of the Allies is in America. That hope will not prove a vain one when the lusty giants of the New World begin to strike in earnest. In three weeks there will be 1,000,000 American soldiers in France, and 2,000,000 before the year closes. These forces will be supported by artillery of the most powerful make, and a veritable cloud of aircraft. Germany cooked her goose when she let the American goliath out of the jar.

Amusement has been created here by the indignant protests of the Germans over the bombing of Cologne. The British airmen are referred to as "devils." This from the nation which turns its guns on fleeing Red Cross nurses, bombs hospitals and murders little children as they sleep, is most delicious indeed.

The Boston Herald-Journal the other day devoted considerable space to an editorial comment on the new dignity accorded Newfoundland and the suggestions of Lord Morris that the Dominion be made the chief station for trans-atlantic flyers.

W. M. DOOLEY.

The Mt. Allison Quartette.

To say that the concert, given last evening at the Methodist College Hall, was a great success, is to state a fact very mildly indeed. It was a veritable triumph for the quartette of talented artists, and a feast of good things that the large and appreciative audience really enjoyed. The programme consisted of music, instrumental and vocal, that was worthy of performance, and of readings by Mrs. Carruthers, which formed a very suitable contrast to the other numbers, when so excellently given. The pianist, Miss Kathleen Smith, showed a mastery of technique, a delicacy of expression, and an artistic method that altogether charmed the audience. Miss Smith seemed to forget herself and her audience in the rendition of her numbers. She opened with "Hungarian Polka" and "Caprice Espagnol," while later she played "Butterflies" by Liszt, and "Lightness" of which accentuated the strength of Liszt's "Hungarian Rhapsody, No. 6." Her complete command of the keyboard, her clean and liquid runs and her octave work, demonstrated her undoubted technical ability, while the interpretation of the Rhapsody showed the artistic temperament. Another feature worthy to be recorded was the musically manner in which she accompanied the vocalist and violinist. Sufficiently strong for support, but not so obtrusive as to dominate; bringing out the obligato where such was written, but moving always in sympathy with the performer, her accompaniments were ideal. The vocalist, Miss Winifred Stephens, possesses a mezzo-soprano voice, of good range and power. Her enunciation was very clear, so that even her operatic selection from "Carmen" could be easily understood. Her dramatic power was well displayed in this number. In her songs, her voice showed sympathy, control and great expression, her soft notes being full of resonance, and her louder tones being round and full. It was a pleasure to listen to her. Mrs. Carruthers' first reading was distinctly humorous and she cleverly brought out the salient features, so that she carried her audience along with her. She was loudly applauded and responded with one of Whitcombe Riley's productions, which always pleases when given in so artistic a manner as that of Mrs. Carruthers. Owing to a cold, she was forced to substitute for Kipling's "Ballad of the English Flag," two selections in lighter vein, which greatly pleased the audience. Mrs. Carruthers, in spite of her cold, used her voice well and showed great talent. The violinist, Miss Lenne Lusby, quite captivated the large audience by her playing. The tone she obtained was remarkable, sweet and clear and an excellent ear, and innate ability developed by good training. Her chords and her harmonies were evidence of her thorough study of the art, and her playing of the various numbers demonstrated her musical mind. Her Kreutzer selection, "Caprice Viennois," was splendidly played, and the audience showed their appreciation in a tremendous burst of applause. It is not often that in St. John's we have the privilege of listening to such a company of real artists, and a programme of such good music. At the very beginning of the concert, the quartette captured the sympathy of the assembled people, and as the programme proceeded the interest increased. On the evening of Tuesday, July 2nd, another Recital will be given. In the meantime the quartette will visit the outlying districts.

Local News from Abroad.

It was somewhat ridiculous for the Press Censor to refuse to allow anything whatever to be said concerning the loss of the Ascania last week, when the Telegraph Censor permitted the following press message, which we take from the Halifax Chronicle of Saturday to leave the country. There is apparently a lack of co-ordination between the Shipping and Telegraph Censors' departments, and this goes to show that either the one or the other, or perhaps both, may not be absolutely necessary. Nothing could show the foolishness of the restrictions imposed upon the Newfoundland Press more than the cable heretofore published, and one is tempted to apply Fock's expression to the officials of the Censor's department:

CUNARD LINER ASCANIA WILL LIKELY BE A TOTAL WRECK.

St. John's, Nfld., June 14.—The Cunard liner Ascania went ashore shortly after midnight while on a voyage from Liverpool to Montreal. She struck Caines Island near Rose Island about twenty-five miles east of Cape Ray, and will likely become a total wreck. All the crew and nine passengers landed safely this morning. The forehead is full of water. The latest report from the steamer to-night indicates that she is filling with water, and has been abandoned by her crew. Eighty of these arrived at Port aux Basques to-night and bring this news. They think that it is hopeless to try and refloat her. She lies right across the harbor of Rose Blanche, and blocks the channel. The crew are standing by the steamer, awaiting the arrival of salvage steamers, but they have little hope of saving her.

Boy Injured.

Yesterday morning the 11 year old son of Mr. R. Horwood of the White Hills was badly injured by falling from his father's cart, and as a result now lies at the General Hospital with both legs broken. It happened that the lad was sitting on the cart when the horse shied at the flapping ends of the canvas that covered the street roller that was docked near the King's Bridge and, losing his balance, he fell beneath the wheels, which passed over both legs, breaking the bones and bruising the flesh. The boy was picked up and taken to the hospital immediately.

SMALLPOX AT FERRYLAND.

A case of smallpox has broken out at Ferryland and the patient is being attended by Dr. Freebairn. Every precaution is being taken to prevent the spread of the disease.

An Appalling Crime.

HOW YOU CAN HELP TO AVENGE IT.

One of the series of five pictures painted for the French Government and depicting attested atrocities committed by the Germans is that which shows a fair young girl, bearing on her almost naked body the marks showing how she had been tortured by German soldiers, and FIXED TO THE WALL BY A BAYONET THRU THE THROUGH HER BREAST. And this is but one of the hundreds of similar, undisputed cases of fiendish and inhuman brutality which have been perpetrated by these monsters in human form. We have been shielded from such crimes only by the bravery of that thin line of heroes from northern France to the Alps, and by the British Fleet, as well as the Allies on the eastern front. Are we prepared to pay the price of that protection? Are we to prove ourselves worthy of those who are fighting for our safety? We can now do so by participating in the BIG DRIVE FOR VICTORY BONDS which has just started. Everyone can help to avenge the wrongs which Germany has inflicted upon helpless Belgium and other outraged countries, by contributing of their means to this Loan. In this great struggle for the principles that all hold dear, those who are not with us are against us. The man who will not help in this crisis is aiding and abetting the common enemy. We trust there are none such in Newfoundland. We do not think there are. We believe all are simply waiting the issue of this Loan to "eat it up" as the Americans say, and make it the splendid success it deserves to be.

Work or Fight.

Significant of the economic character of the war is the decision of the United States Government to compel every man of draft age either to enter the military forces or to engage in some useful occupation. By an amendment to the Selective Service regulations, registration boards are to take cognizance of any man of draft age, although he may be resident of another exemption board's district, and to induct him into the military service if he is not usefully employed. A long list of useless occupations has been made public by the Provost Marshal, including waiters, ushers, domestics, sales clerks, elevator operators, club, hotel and store attendants, and gamblers of all descriptions. General Crowder, the Provost Marshal, declares that if the habitual loafers and persons engaged in useless occupations are forced either to fight or to work there will be no occasion for an industrial draft.—Guaranty Trust Co. of N. Y.

Child Starts Street Car.

WOMAN INJURED. About 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when one of the belt line cars was docked at the junction of Water and Adelaide Streets prior to proceeding up Theatre Hill, the little son of Mrs. Margaret O'Leary, Bond St., meddled with the controlling gear and pushing around the lever set the car in motion. Going at a slow speed it started up Adelaide Street when the motorman, who with the conductor was standing on the sidewalk, jumped in and shut off the power. In the meantime Mrs. O'Leary became excited and grasping her little child in her arms she rushed for the door, but was intercepted on her way by Mrs. W. Smith, who advised her not to attempt to leave the car while it was moving. Forgetful of the risk she was running, Mrs. O'Leary stepped from the moving car, and in doing so lost her balance and was thrown to the ground, receiving a severe cut on the head. She was picked up in an unconscious condition and taken to a store, where she shortly after recovered. Besides those mentioned, Miss Forward and another lady were passengers on the car but did not attempt to leave while the car was in motion.

Highest Grade of Investment.

Because of their absolute safety and the high rate of interest which they yield, Government Bonds are largely purchased by Life Insurance Companies, Trust Corporations, Trustees and Executors for Estates, etc. A great advantage of this form of investment is the fact that no commission need be paid by the investor. He simply fills in the application form for the amount of the Victory Loan Bonds he requires, passes it in to any of the Post Offices named in the Prospectus, or to any Branch Bank, or the Bank of Montreal, or the Department of Finance, St. John's.
