Lloyd George Sends an Invitation to Sinn Fein Leaders.

Proposes Conference in London on October 11th---Ceylon Association Distrustful of Churchill--- Our Athletes Coming Home.

TEXT OF THE FINAL NOTE.
 GAIRLOCH, Sept. 29.
 The text of Premier Lloyd George's reply to the latest note from Eamon De Valera follows:—Sir, His Majesty's Government have given close and earnest consideration to the correspondence which has passed between us since their invitation to you to send delegates to a conference at Inverness. In spite of their sincere desire for peace and in spite of the more conciliatory tone of your latest communication, they cannot enter into a conference upon the basis of this correspondence. Notwithstanding your personal assurance to the contrary, which they much appreciate, it might be argued in the future that the acceptance of conference on this basis had involved their recognition which no British Government can accord. On this position they must guard themselves against any possible doubt. There is no purpose to be served by any further interchange of explanatory—and argumentative communications upon this subject.
 The position taken by His Majesty's Government is fundamental to the existence of the British Empire and they cannot alter it. My colleagues and I, however, remain keenly anxious to make, in co-operation with your delegates, another determined effort to explore every possibility of settlement by personal discussion.

 The proposals we have already made have been taken by the world as proof that our endeavours for reconciliation and settlement are by no means exhausted, and we feel that, considering the correspondence, the most practical and peaceful way to an understanding such as we ardently desire to achieve. We, therefore, send you herewith, a fresh invitation to a conference in London on October 11th, where we can meet your delegates,
 as spokesmen of the people whom you represent, with a view to ascertaining how association of Ireland with the community of nations known as the British Empire may best be reconciled with Irish National aspirations. I am, yours faithfully, D.
 Lloyd George.

DISLIKE WINSTON'S POLICY.
 LONDON, Sept. 29.
 The Ceylon Association in London has passed a resolution denouncing against the appointment of Sir Masterton Smith as Permanent Colonial Under Secretary. It is stated his experience has not made him conversant with colonial affairs. The Association distrusts the proposal of Colonial

MESSAGE WELCOME.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.
 The reply of Premier Lloyd George to Eamon De Valera was received by De Valera and Arthur Griffith, Minister, in the Dail Eireann Cabinet, at the Mansion House to-day. Sinn Fein members were agreeably surprised by the wording of Lloyd George's message.

IRISH WORLD CONFERENCE.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.
 What is termed a World Conference of the Irish Race will be held in Paris on January 22nd next, the anniversary of the first session of Dail Eireann, was announced by Sinn Fein headquarters here to-day.

TO CLOSE COAL MINES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 29.
 Five large collieries in Northern England have given notices that their mines will close in the near future, according to a London cable. It is reported that there are more than fifty thousand unemployed miners in the district already. The action of the mine owners is attributed to the chaotic conditions of the markets.

U.S. PEACE TREATY RATIFIED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29.
 The Foreign Affairs Commission of the Reichstag to-day gave its approval of ratification of the Peace Treaty with the United States.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

HALIFAX, Sept. 29.
 Fred Phelan, Harvey Skirving, Tom
 Butler and Ernest Goodland, members of the Newfoundland Athletic Association Track Team, who recently upset the dope by taking places in several events at the Halifax Wanderers Sports, left Halifax this morning for Truro, enroute for home. They expect to sail on the S.S. Kyle from North Sydney on Saturday. Premier R. A.
 Squires, of Newfoundland, wired from Montreal, yesterday, that he hoped to meet his fellow countrymen at Truro or Halifax to-day. John Bell, New-foundland's long distance runner, who captured the five miles event at the Wanderers Sports, is now training near Truro for the Halifax Herald road race.

FISHING A SECONDARY CONSIDERATION.

MONTREAL, Sept. 29.
 The Canadian fisherman editorially agrees with the action of the Halifax Committee in barring the Mayflower from the International Cup Races.
 The fisherman says she was undoubtedly built to defend the cup, and fishing was a secondary consideration.

AT NEWMARKET.

LONDON, Sept. 29.
 Jockey Club stakes of twenty thousand dollars run to-day at Newmarket, was won by James A. DeRothschild's three-year-old grey colt Milenko, who was well backed at four to one against.

Windfall for a Red Indian Tribe.

Which is the richest nation in the world, reckoning the income per head of the population?
 Whatever nation it may have been in the past, there is no doubt that in the near future the Osage Indians, numbering two hundred and living on the Red Indian Reservation in Oklahoma, will be the richest people in the world.

Oil has been found in their territory, and with the permission of the United States Government they are selling their lands near Tulsa to an oil company for nearly a million pounds down and a sixth of the profits on all the oil produced there.

Altogether two thousand tribesmen will participate in this deal, and it is estimated that each will receive an annual income of about £2,000. This will give the Osage nation a greater average income than any other people on the face of the earth.

Protecting the Red Man.
 The Red Indians of America are a dying race, but the United States Government looks after their interests and welfare with paternal care. They have a territory of about thirty thousand square miles in the very heart of the United States, and there they are able to live as natural a life as is possible in the modern world.

No white man may settle on their land or buy it from them without the permission of the Government, and the present sale has been permitted only because it is in the interests of the Red Men themselves.

The Indians have very little business knowledge, and in the early days of the nineteenth century they were exploited cruelly by the whites and half-breeds, who, under the pretence of buying their land, acquired the best territory for far less than its value.

Then the Government stepped in and made itself responsible for the interests of the Red Men. Now it is not possible for them to be dealt with unfairly, as any business transaction in regard to their land must receive official approval before it is rendered legal.

Many of the Indians are well educated, and it is hoped that this windfall will become a real blessing and benefit to the Osage tribesmen.

Dug Out of the Sands.

HEROD'S COURT DISCOVERED.
The old court of Herod the Great has recently been dug out of the sands of the early two thousand years. Here was decried the massacre of the innocents back in the days before the New Testament was written. Here was the famous dance of Salome performed and the head of John the Baptist produced on a silver. At this court was reported the discovery of the wise men and from it emanated the murderous search for the infant Christ. For nearly two thousand years, while the Hun swept out the civilization of Rome, while the picturesque chivalry of crusading days gave place to the intrigues of the middle ages and they in turn retired before the polished dandyism of two centuries back, while Napoleon swept the world and fell, while Wilhelm of Germany essayed his dream of conquest and failed—while all this colorful panorama flickered across the scenes of time, only the dim, empty sands drifted deeper and deeper over Herod's Court. Truly if there be sermons in stones the ancient pillars of Herod's palace should speak significantly to the world of disarmament problems and Irish problems and international black-erings-to-day.—Sydney Record.

Thursday's parade was satisfactory. Col. R. F. Goodridge, O.C., Rev. Captain Clayton, Captain H. A. Outerbridge, Alex. Morris, Frank Miles and Norman Henry (in mutli) Lieutenants Mott, Harold and Lance Hayward, Fred Reid, A. B. Parlin, Geo. Hunt and E. G. Ash, with Major Williams being on duty. All ranks were glad to see the newly appointed Adjutant, Major R. H. Tait, M.C., on parade in his C.L.B. uniform. Major Tait took charge of the Battalion and the lads showed up quite smartly under his command. The Battalion was put through the physical and manual also under the command of the Colonel to the musical strains of Bandmaster Morris's veterans.

Repairs have already started on the Armoury Building. Sergt. Pottier of the Band being Architect and the Clerk of the Ranks with Old Comrade James King as foreman carpenter and Sergt-Major Hennebury as his assistant. The scaffolding has been erected on the West side and clapboard is being repaired. The roof and western front need a thorough overhauling to make the building comfortable and weather proof. Contractor Burridge has been given the contract for building the chimney, one to heat the Quartermaster's office, Officers Mess and West End of Gymnasium, whilst a smaller one will heat the A. and F. Company rooms where the lads congregate and use as a club room. The building needs painting but finances are slim and this will have to remain over till next year.

The Brigade needs funds badly to meet the expense of repairs and a special committee is meeting to arrange a series of Brigade Sports, Concerts, etc., on anniversary week in November. It is hoped to have a Brigade affair every night for the week in aid of funds. The Officers do not like asking for financial help in the way of subscriptions, but would welcome any voluntary assistance. The C.L.B. Ladies' Auxiliary under their President, Mrs. W. B. Fraser, are also showing great signs of activity and promise to be of great financial assistance in their effort to raise the funds needed. "Duty is strength," shall be the motto until an objective is accomplished. They will shortly hold a Brigade drive. Brigade week opens up on St. Martin's Day, November eleventh, (the Brigades thirtieth birthday) with a big torch light parade, followed at 8 a.m. by a special service of Holy Communion in St. Mary's Church, Southside, on Sunday, and a Church Parade to St. Thomas's Church in the afternoon. On Monday, November fourteenth, a grand dance. On Tuesday, a Mammoth Gymnastic display, with music. On Wednesday, a Card Tournament, on Thursday, a Spectation and Drill Exhibition. Friday night a big Band Concert, by Captain Morris's musical artists. On Saturday an "At Home" with a short lecture on the "History of the Brigade in Newfoundland." On Sunday, November twentieth, a special thanksgiving service in the Cathedral.

The Officers' Mess had a short meet-last night, the Colonel presided. A few matters were decided in reference to the Brigade finances and the arrangements for Brigade Week in November. Major Williams on behalf of all ranks of the Battalion, warmly welcomed Major R. H. Tait, M.C., as a new member and Adjutant of the Battalion. Major Tait's experience overseas will be invaluable to the Executive and to Brigade discipline generally, and the C.L.B. is delighted to have the benefit of his services. The Major replied in a neat speech and promised to "do his bit" as far as he could to help maintain the standard of efficiency.

Colonel has announced that he hopes to visit Heart's Content and Bay Roberts Companies in January and hold an official inspection of these units. President Eric Chate, the "Big Chief" of the Old Comrades Lodge presided over a well attended meeting of his department last night in the "Old Comrades Room." The department has taken on a new lease of life and things there are "on the boom." The "Old Boys" are like Johnny Walker, still going strong!

TO THE NATIONAL SPORTS CENTER

"Our boys have done what you expected of them—their very best, and the results must indeed be gratifying. It was a splendid showing, and the five mile team made the big success all the brighter coming when it did as a most fitting conclusion to a magnificent effort."

Before giving a brief review of our showing, I wish to say that Bell and I arrived down from Truro the day previous to the Sports. We secured reservations at the Y.M.C.A. where we found Skirving, Butler and Phelan comfortably stowed away under the wing of Ernie Goodland. We were also very glad to greet Claude Hall and Alf Moakler who had arrived in Halifax that morning. About noon we all took a stroll up to the Wanderers' grounds to give the track the once-over. On arrival we were informed that the grounds would be closed at 2 o'clock in order to prepare them for the events of the following day. This was greatly disappointing, as I had my mind set on giving Bell a good loosening up in the late afternoon. As we had only an hour or so to spare we decided to forego dinner for the time being and Bell got in his running togs. We did about two miles just to stretch our muscles from limbering up. After we had a brisk walk, some tea, visited the "Strand" for the first show and had a few minutes' visit to our good friend Andrew McKay. Gave Bell a good hot shower on our return to the Y.M.C.A. followed by a brisk massage, and had him stowed in the blankets and blankets by 10.30. By this time Goodland had his charges in clover, and doubtless they were dreaming of how they would do Newfoundland credit in the gruelling events of the next day. They retired all confident of success and in a very happy frame of mind. Neither Goodland nor I retired before we had our muscles getting our liniments and embrocation ready for the following day. Saturday morning was most pleasant, a little cool, but as the day grew older it got much warmer, but by lunch hour it was just perfect—a regular July afternoon. We had our charges out on Harrington Street all morning keeping their legs moving. Bell had for dinner a small well-done steak, sliced tomatoes, and a glass of milk. Afterwards we both retired to our room where I gave him his final massage and once-over. The rest of the team had already gone to the Sports' ground, as their first event was beginning at 2.30, but I purposely kept Bell away from the Sports' grounds out of the heat and away from the excitement. When we did arrive in ample time for our event we were surprised at the large attendance, and the Wanderers' grounds presented a pretty sight. "Freddie Phelan" was the second heat of the hundred yards in 10 3-5 seconds, while Butler had a good second place in the third heat. They both came through the semi-finals, and got in the finals with Smith and Naylor, of Halifax, much to the surprise, I imagine, of our Canadian Cousins, as there was a large card. Phelan made a very bad start and just about two yards which he was not able to pick up against that great sprinter Erin Smith, who breathed the tape in 10 2-5. Tommy Butler was not very much behind. Phelan was the white-headed boy, and several good pictures were taken of the event which I presume will be published.

"The 220 was also very good. Smith took the lead, Tommy second, a Halifax chap third, and Phelan fourth, and this was their position for the first 40 yards. Suddenly like an arrow, Freddie shoots into second position and ran a very close second to Smith. The quarter mile was the next event, and here's where our two boys showed their grit and pluck. With scarcely a breathing space between the two events, they started off with Holmes (a fresh man) first, Phelan second, with two Halifax boys and Butler bunched behind. For the first 220 yards Phelan was close on Holmes' heels, but coming up the last 100 yards of the stretch Holmes drew away from him and beat him by four yards, with Butler twelve feet behind. Their pluck in entering the event without a breathing spell moved the crowd and they got a great ovation.

"Then our youngster, Skirving, ran the mile against a field of ten starters. LaPierre, the favorite, dashed away at the crack of the pistol for about three-quarters of a lap. Skirving running second about 25 yards behind and not breaking his stride. There was no change in these positions to the finish only that the balance of the starters trailed a good distance behind our boy. After half the distance had been covered LaPierre slowed up, but Skirving was still grinding out his regular pace with the result that he caught him on the third lap. LaPierre, however, had not exhausted all his strength, but reserved his extra ounce or two for the finish nosing out Skirving by about 15 feet. Our youngster is a game little lad and ran a great race. LaPierre is a giant and actually towered over him. He forced LaPierre to the limit and made him do it in the remarkably quick time of 4.46 and it was only a forced sprint at the finish that won it.

"Then came the item of the Sports, including Alfie Rodgers and his running mate, Jimmy Martin. Rodgers was the favorite, with Mosher, the Indian, and Mattie Power strong contenders. Before the start of the race I was close to Bell who took No. 1 position. They all lined up in turn. Rodgers was there waiting to have his name called before stepping into line. I caught him shooting a glance at me and suddenly he turned away when I caught his eye. I watched him cautiously and saw him size up the backs of Bell's legs for an instant or two. Then they got away. Bell had a good position for a splendid getaway but chose to run second at the start for the first 225 yards when he slipped in front. When Rodgers saw this he came up from behind very quickly and ran close to Bell's heels. Power was just in the rear with Martin and Mosher, while the balance of the field was trailing along behind. Bell set a furious pace after the first half mile was covered, but Rodgers was holding on grimly, though forced to make two paces to Bell's one. In the third lap Rodgers was trying to run up Bell's back, and deliberately trod on Bell's heel sending him sprawling on the turf inside the track. There was a cry from the spectators! Bell jumped to his feet instantly and resuming found Rodgers and Martin side by side blocking the way and talking at intervals. From the time he fell and got up again he had not gone 50 yards but when Bell got on the track again he found that he was "pocketed" with Martin and Rodgers presenting a solid front ahead, and Mosher and Power close behind him, almost on his heels. I had "tipped" Bell off to anything like this, and when he saw his opportunity on the second turn he sprinted and secured the lead again. He set up a terrific pace for half a lap which caused Martin to fall out but Rodgers was not easily shaken and hung on like grim death. In the second mile Rodgers fouled Bell a second time but it did not result in anything beyond causing Bell to speak to him. "You must know that the cinder track makes the turf give a border of about six inches high. Rodgers was running not quite on the outside of Bell, but just enough to keep him pinned to this six inch edge, and the least touch would cause him to stumble again. Bell kept the lead, however, into the third mile with no apparent change in the condition of the three men. Coming up on the stretch on the grandstand side of the track, after about 14 minutes' running, Rodgers made an effort to "get" him. Bell slowed up and remonstrated with him, but in doing so almost tripped in the edge of the turf. Rodgers just grinned maliciously. When I saw what was happening and when Rodgers passed me, I shouted to him "to play the game." I immediately protested to the judges of the way our man was being knocked but they evidently did not care to interfere as excitement among the crowd was intense. They had not made another lap when he tried to do Bell for the fourth time in exactly the same place as he did the first. Bell, who ordinarily is exceedingly mild mannered, here decided to stop this treatment once and for all, as patience had now ceased to be a virtue. We had often discussed together just a similar situation, should it ever arise, and Bell was fully prepared to cope with it. Bell just glanced over his shoulder, let Rodgers come close up, and then his right-foot going back caught Rodgers on the knee, causing him to founder and down he went sprawling on his stomach. The judges pulled him in off the track. He could very easily have gotten up and carried on just as Bell had done previously, but he evidently knew he was a beaten man as he was laboring heavily when this happened. When Rodgers dropped out, Power took his place and trailed Bell along about six feet behind for seven gruelling laps, with Dunbrook third, and the rest of the competitors in a bunch, many of whom had been lapped by both Bell and Power. Bell led the way into the fourth mile amidst great excitement, with Power just jogging along close behind. At each lap the grandstand would give a great ovation to Power, who in turn would wave his hand to his supporters, presumably having in mind that he could quite easily nose out Bell in a snappy sprint to the tape at the finish. But he did not know his man. With another two and a half laps to go Bell was just beginning to increase his lead on Power and had about twenty feet on him at the completion of the 18th lap. Then the judges' bell rang for the final lap. Everyone thought it was only the 19th, and so did Bell, for I had been keeping him informed all through. "I shouted to him to go to it, and 'go to it' he did in splendid fashion. It was really surprising, and never have I seen him give such a magnificent burst of speed. Bell turned into the home stretch at a mad gallop, and ran the last 100 yards like a man in the 220, with his head in the air, crossing the tape an easy first in 25 minutes, 51 seconds for 4 1/2 miles. Power was fully 150 yards behind though he finished pretty strong.

"There was great excitement, and the Newfoundlanders present broke through the lines and gave Bell a great ovation, carrying him off the field. It was indeed a great finish to the gallant work of our lads earlier in the afternoon. Bell finished as fresh as a daisy and not a feather out of him. He certainly ran the race of his career, and the home folks may well feel proud of him. We were entertained by Mr. W. H. Cave, Minister of Shipping, and right royally entertained at that. We also had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Ashford and the daughter of Mayor Morris and were the guest of the former to a very pleasant few hours at their home. Frank Rice was also very good to us and took us touring on Sunday afternoon for thirty miles around the country. Sir Edgar Bowring and Mrs. Munn congratulated the whole team also, on the arrival of the Rosalind, and we had a great shake hands from Ernie Goodland and Eric Jarrett. All the team is going up to Truro with us the day before they leave, as the guest of my brother, so that we shall have a real old-time Newfoundland reunion. "Our thanks to all friends who sent us congratulatory messages! They were so numerous to Goodland and me that we could not begin to acknowledge them individually, but please announce to the folks that they were indeed greatly appreciated by all the boys. "We will do our utmost to clinch the classic event of Eastern Canada on the morning of October 15th. The Halifax boys admit having had a bad scare thrown into their camp by Bell's entry, and when "The Day" comes I will have to exercise the greatest care to see that everything is above board so far as road action is concerned, and in this I feel confident I will have the support of all the officials connected with the race who are most kind to us, as have been the Wanderers' Committee who conducted the Sports." ALL OF A HIGH ORDER.

(Halifax Echo, Sept. 28.)

The fine weather brought out thousands of fans Saturday to see the annual sports held on the Wanderers' grounds, and the number of those entering the gates must have been somewhere in the neighborhood of three thousand. The stands were full and the north side ropes where the dashes were run off were lined with enthusiastic spectators. The events followed one another in quick succession and the programme never dragged nor did the audience evince any lack of interest throughout the whole afternoon. The admission was only a quarter and the crowd certainly got its money's worth. This year Col. Stan Bauld succeeded in keeping the courses clear of the usual swarm of fans, everybody except officials and press representatives being strictly kept outside of the ropes. The result was that all the spectators had a splendid view of every event, no matter in what part of the grounds it took place. The competitors in events other than those being staged at the time were kept in a specially roped off enclosure and were always on hand so that the races started almost as soon as they were announced. The events were all of a high order, fast time being made in the dashes while in the high jump, which was perhaps the most spectacular, the bar rose to within three inches of the Maritime record. Unfortunately Fritz Schaefer, the veteran sprinter who had equalled the Maritime record by running the 100 yards dash in 10 seconds in 1908, sprained his leg and was forced to drop out after the first heat.

The 100 yards dash was run off in four heats. There were two semi-finals, which were won by Erin Smith (Crescents A.A.A.), and Fred Phelan (Nfld. A.A.A.). C. Smith won his first two heats by long leads and his long stride in the final made him cover the 100 yards in 10 2-5 seconds, crossing the line just ahead of Phelan, Newfoundland.

Holmes and LaPierre ran very pretty races, while Bell from Newfoundland, made a wonderful finish in the five mile run. Unfortunately the crowd imagined that the 17th lap in this race was the last and could not be restrained from breaking through the ropes. This confused the officials who were counting the laps and made them slip one, so that the race was really only four and three quarter miles in length. Nevertheless Bell, the leading man, was making such gains in the last lap that it is generally conceded that he would have been the winner, even if the full five miles had been run.

WE HAVE THE WALKER.

Looking over the time made at the Halifax Sports we note that the one mile walk was won by Harper, of the Wanderers, in 8 mins., 21 1/2 secs. This was on a cinder path where walking is delightful and free from anything but natural strain. In the A.A.A. Sports on St. George's Field, our local champion, Steele, paced it off in 8-26 1/2, or only 5 seconds slower on sodden muddy turf. His friends are determined that next year he must compete on Canadian soil where there is every chance he may establish a new amateur record.

THRILLING CONTESTS AT WANDERERS' TRACK MEET.

(Halifax Herald.)

Ten star athletes carrying the colors of the Crescents Club, carried off the lion's share of the honors at the Wanderers' 36th annual track and field meet Saturday, before 3,500 spectators. It was an ideal day for track and field events, with a burning sun and a windless day providing perfect conditions. The athletes had everything in their favor, especially those in the track events, the paths being in excellent shape. Many outside athletes competed, which added interest to the meet.

Halifax athletes did well, but the showing of the Newfoundlanders was particularly pleasing. The four starless representing the old colony scored between them 19 points and defeated some of the best men in the province.

Performances by Erin Smith in the sprints, Archie Beaton and A. J. Miller in the field events, Grant Holmes in the middle distance events, John Bell in the five mile run, McCullion in the jumps and Phelan in the sprints, were the outstanding features of the sports.

John Bell, the much lauded St. John's marathoner, lived up to his reputation when he defeated 18 of the best distance runners in Nova Scotia, in the premier event of the day, the five mile run. In this event, Bell had only one rival and that was Matt Power, the Herring Cove runner, now wearing Crescents colors. On the bend of the first mile, complaints were made to the judges that Alf Rodgers was crowding Bell into the corners. Going into the ninth lap, Bell fell heavily over Rodgers, but he sprang to his feet and was again in the lead.

Erin Smith showed that he had real class when he won both the 100 and 220 yards with pinety to spare. His time of 10 2-5 in the century was the fastest time made at the local track for several years. Smith's closest rival in the sprints was Fred Phelan, Newfoundland. Phelan won the preliminary and semi-final heats in his events by wide margins. Phelan's team-mate, Tom Butler, was nosed out by only a few inches in the hundred and two-twenty. Smith gave another good exhibition when he won the 220. Phelan also took second in this event.

Grant Holmes, Halifax's best middle distance runner, carried off both the 440 and 880. Holmes' victories were clean-cut, by being pushed in the 440 only, which event he won by several yards over Phelan.

Harvey Skirving, the distinctive Newfoundland runner, chased Harold LaPierre, the Crescents star, for two-thirds of the distance in the one mile run. LaPierre could not shake Skirving off until the final 220 was reached.

Reporters' Courtesy.

Newspaper reporters, as a rule, are noted for their courtesy. It is an accomplishment that they are, early in their career, taught to cultivate, for courtesy will unlock the portals of information a deal more quickly than exhibitions of bullshiness, and it pays the wielder of the pencil more and greater literary dividends in the long run, beside earning for him a reputation of quality. The first business of a reporter is to get news for his paper. News is his fetish, and to obtain it at first hand he takes many chances. He knows that excuses to his editor are of little avail, when he comes in off the street without any copy. The editorial command is "get news." So from morn till night the reporter is here, there and everywhere delving into this, that and the other thing, visiting shipping offices and public departments, interviewing acquaintances and stranger alike, haunting railway stations and steamship docks, in obedience to the dictum of the man higher up, and in order that the reading public may not be deprived of the very latest tit-bit of news. In the varied daily experience of a reporter, he naturally runs across some peculiar things and people, many of the latter fancying him to be more machine than man, and expecting, and sometimes demanding, that notwithstanding that he is ubiquitous—he be in two places at the same time. Should he miss a "personal" the disappointed contributor believes that he is animated by prejudices. Should he fail to report some function, to which the promoters did not send him an invitation, he is hauled over the coals and generally roasted by the organisers. But he looks upon all this as being part of the day's work, and withal preserves those aspects of cheerfulness, consideration and courtesy which are the open sesame to otherwise closed doors.

But there is one feature of reporting, which to the average scribe is obviously distasteful. And that is to be given a news item, and then requested to say nothing about it to-day, for fear of alarming parties interested, only to read the same item, with elaborations in a contemporary newspaper the next day. Put on his honor, there is no man so punctilious as the newspaper reporter, and his promise made is backed up by his editor. Yet when both find that their repression of certain news matters has not been conformed to by others, they grow resentful and are apt to cast blame—not upon their rivals—but upon the individuals from whom originally the to-be-suppressed information emanated. Loss of a news scoop to a reporter means more metaphorically, than the withholding of his weekly pay envelope. He is invariably zealous in his work for his paper, and jealous of his copy. Therefore he does not want to be taken in by misplaced sympathy or studied cajolery. He is out for news. It is up to himself whether he turns in certain "copy" or not. But in all cases he explains the circumstances to the editor. There is news and news. The ordinary everyday items that come within the purview of all reporters are common property. The inside commercial and shipping news, reports of extra marine disasters, fatal local accidents and financial collapses are to the man who gets on the trail first. Plenty of items can be gathered from observation. Others have to be sought after from business men and heads of departments. The reporter is only doing his duty when he gets after these, and if there should be a desire on the part of many to keep certain matters out of print for the time being, take the reporter into your confidence. Treat him as a human being who can keep a secret if required, but do not receive him as though he were a pest and a fatal one at that. If you do not give him a clear statement, he is almost sure to discover where the discrepancy is, and if a garbled account of any happening is reported by him, the fault is not his. Courtesy begets courtesy and the men who are out in all kinds of weather hunting news for their papers will repay in kind.

Novel Scheme Started.

A novel scheme has been initiated by Miss May Furlong and Mrs. Janet Ayre for the purpose of raising funds to purchase Christmas Comforts for sick sailors and soldiers. A certain number of motor owners have been asked to go out for a couple of hours on one day and drive around their friends or others and allow the money received, thereby to go towards buying comforts for sick sailors and soldiers and a large number have already signified their intention of aiding.

C. C. C.

The C.C.C., 376 strong, were on parade at the Armory last night. After the regular routine, the Battalion with Brass Band and Bugle Band held a route march through the city, under Lieut. N. A. Galgay. The line of march was LeMarchant Road, Patrick St., Water St., McBride's Hill, Duckworth St., Long's Hill to the Armory. Hundreds of citizens along the line of march witnessed the biggest turnout of the Corps since 1914. The Brigade is rapidly coming back to pre-war strength and many recruits joined up after the parade last night. The uniforms for the Senior Company are now being made, and as soon as these are finished there will be a Church Parade. The Junior Company will have their kit issued next week. On next Tuesday night the Senior Company are holding a card Tournament in the Armory in aid of Brigade funds.

Coal for Newfoundland.

The coal trade between Sydney and Newfoundland ports is expected to pick up from now on, says the Sydney Post. The Dominion Company has about 35,000 tons of coal to deliver to the Reid Nfld. Railway this fall, and besides this a considerable trade will be done in the supplying of coal to schooners which each fall carry winter supplies to the various ports on the Newfoundland coast. At present there are over a dozen schooners in port awaiting coal cargoes which they will take across to the colony.

Flagship Here.

ADMIRAL WILL INSPECT STATION.
H.M.S. Raleigh, flying the flag of Vice Admiral Sir William C. Pakenham, K.C.B., K.C.M.G., K.C.V.O., Commander-in-Chief of the North American and West Indies Station, arrived in port shortly before noon to-day from Quebec via Forteau, Labrador. The ship is here on the first of what will be in future, an annual tour of inspection of this station. The inspection includes H.M.S. Briton and the Naval Wireless Telegraph Station at Mount Pearl. The Raleigh will remain here for about a week. The ship is one of the newest in the Navy, having been commissioned for the first time in March of the present year. Her commander is Captain Arthur Bromley, C.M.G.

H.M.S. Raleigh is a light cruiser of 3,750 tons displacement and has a crew of 760 men. She is 304 feet long, 85 feet broad, and has a draught of 17 feet 3 inches. Her armament consists of seven 7.5 inch and six 3 inch guns, and four 3 inch anti-aircraft guns. She is capable of a very high speed.

Two dances will be given at Government House during next week in honor of the ship's visit. A football game between the Raleigh's team and one from the Royal Newfoundland Regiment will be played to-morrow afternoon.

Army vs. Navy.

The football game which will be played at 5 p.m. to-morrow on St. George's Field between teams from the Royal Newfoundland Regiment and H.M.S. Raleigh, promises to be a most interesting one. The Raleigh's team is captained by her Lieutenant Commander, and is reported to be pretty hot stuff. The team which will represent the Regiment is captained by Major R. H. Tait, M.C., and is as follows:—Goal, Noseworthy; backs, Tait, M. Churchill; halves, R. Martin, Galgay, Constantine; forwards, Young, Adams, Macklin, N. Hunt, W. Callahan.

Canadian Methodism.

MAY CUT BOND WITH REMAINDER OF CHURCH.
TORONTO, Sept. 26.—Canadian Methodism may have played its last part in the Ecumenical Conference of World Wide Methodism, from which Rev. Dr. S. D. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist Church of Canada, returned yesterday. Dr. Chown said the Canadian Methodist Church would part from the rest of Methodism throughout the world with extreme regret, but it duty called them to go forward to an amalgamation with other Canadian churches which would mean their severance from the Ecumenical Conference.

If it is something for use after shaving that is wanted by our men friends, we stand behind our Ideal after Shave as about the best of them. Price 45c. cents a bottle.

C. C. C. Promenade Band Concert To-Night.

To-night will be the sixth Promenade Band Concert given by the C.C.C. Band in the Prince's Rink, and on each occasion they have had a considerable increase in the attendance, the average being over 1,000 people nightly and the order maintained for such a number of people has been remarkable. The thanks of the public are due the Inspector General for placing at the disposal of the Committee in charge a police sergeant and two officers who see to it that order is kept, and so far they have been successful in their mission. Girls and boys are not admitted to these concerts, and it is useless for them to go to the rink seeking admission. The rink management have during the last three days gone over the floor and washed it with a liquid thoroughly cleaning it, so that it will be in perfect condition for the dance numbers to-night. Those who have not yet attended these concerts should do so and see for themselves that it is the biggest entertainment in the city to-day, hearing all the best concert selections and the latest dance numbers by a popular brass and reed band of 25 instruments all for 20c. Two hours real pleasure 8.30 to 10.30.

AT THE BALCONY.—The following are guests at the Balcony: Mr. J. A. H. Hutton, Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. A. Maddock and child, Carleton; Mr. J. Dixie, Harbor Buffett; Mr. C. G. Skyrme, London; Mr. Thomas Perkins, London; Mr. and Mrs. Tuckfield, Bishop Falls; Mr. Stewart, Montreal.

Nystrand at Patras.

This morning we were shown a message dated Sept. 28th, received from Patras by a well known business firm which reads as follows: "Patras, Sept. 28.—Steamer 'Nystrand' arrived here and is discharging her cargo of 2,000 casks codfish; not suitable for the market." The Marine and Fisheries Department had not received any word of the ship's arrival up to this forenoon, so we were informed by those in charge there.

LOBELIA for Labrador.

The Lobelia, flagship of Newfoundland's Navy, hauled from her anchorage in the stream this morning, and moored at Bowring's coastal wharf where she will take supplies, and bunker coal before proceeding to Labrador. Many people visited the ship this forenoon, but inspection was not very satisfactory as workmen were everywhere getting the ship in readiness. She has been fitted with accommodation for 600 passengers, most of the bunks being in the Warrant and Petty Officers' quarters. There are, however, some 20 bunks under the bulk deck, but they are built in to protect the occupants from the weather. The officers' quarters are luxurious, and no doubt the accommodation is everything that could be desired on a ship. The crew will consist of 35 men and the officers are Capt. C. F. Taylor, 1st mate Frank Hall, 2nd mate Willie Ivany, D.S.M., Bosun A. Pomeroy; chief steward H. Parsons, chief engineer Jas. Whitley. The ship will likely be in readiness to leave by the 10th of October, and will go direct to Holton, picking up crew on return. One hot boiler will be used going down, and it is expected to get a speed of 10 or 12 knots. The other boiler will be used on the return trip. The ship still carries some of her guns.

Sachem's Passengers.

S.S. Sachem sails for Halifax and Boston about daylight to-morrow morning taking the following passengers:—Miss M. Howlett, Miss Ryan, Miss N. Gosse, Miss A. Howlett, Mrs. Dr. Meagher, infant and three children, Miss E. Mooney, Miss I. Squires, Miss P. Miller, Miss P. Greene, Miss R. Bond, Miss B. McGrath, Mrs. M. Moulton, Mrs. R. Prunty, Miss M. Shea, Mrs. E. L. Oke and child, Miss Sweeney, Miss M. Murphy, Mrs. Steenman, Miss F. Tobin, Miss M. Egan, Miss B. Chance, Miss E. M. Bishop, Miss E. O'Brien, Miss O'Driscoll, Bro. Hennessy, L. Munn, D. Paterson, Miss F. Lee, Miss Laveriere, E. R. Mahn, Rev. W. W. Braubury, L. Macpherson, D. M. Clouston, F. Hamlyn, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hanlin.

Personal.

Capt. E. Tavernor of the Reid Nfld. Company's steamship service, who recently underwent an operation at Hamilton Hospital, North Sydney, for varicose veins, crossed to Port aux Basques by S.S. Kyle yesterday, and is, we are pleased to say, well on the road to recovery. Capt. Tavernor speaks in the highest terms of the treatment accorded him by the hospital staff.

Mr. Wilson Vardy of Channah, accompanied by Mrs. Vardy, took passage by S.S. Portia for home this morning. It is interesting to note that one of the officers on H.M.S. Raleigh, a son of Admiral Curzon Howe, was born on Rennie's Mill Road. His father it will be remembered was at one time in control of the protective war ships on this station.

Mr. I. J. Jackman left by yesterday's express to resume his fourth year studies in medicine at McGill University. Miss Laura Ryan who was spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. W. Billingsly, Bell Island leaves by S.S. Sachem for Boston, and is accompanied by Miss N. Gosse, who will in future reside in the land of Uncle Sam.

Sent to Home.

An unfortunate girl who was recently released from the penitentiary where she had been serving a sentence of 28 days for vagrancy, again appeared before the Magistrate to-day. She had been found on Church Hill at 4 a.m. by a constable of the night watch. The girl is living at home with a drunken father and will not remain there. His Honor ordered her to be sent to the Industrial Home if room could be found there for her.

BORN.

On Sept. 13th, at Bay Roberts, a daughter to Mr. and Mrs. Hayward Parsons.

MARRIED.

At Trinity Church, Hollis, New York, on Thursday afternoon, Leonard C. Mews of St. John's, Nfld., to Miss Elizabeth Standerman of Hollis, N.Y. City.

Liberal Leader.

OPENS ELECTION CAMPAIGN.

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the Canadian Liberal Party, successor to the Grand Old Chief Sir Wilfrid Laurier, opened the general election campaign in Sydney, Cape Breton, on Monday night last. Premier Murray of Nova Scotia was a speaker at the great gathering which assembled at the Sydney Curling Rink to acclaim their chosen leader. It is estimated that over six thousand people were present inside and outside the building, and the Liberal leader and his party had to literally fight their way through the crowd, which surrounded the rink and blocked George Street for a considerable distance. The greatest of enthusiasm prevailed, and the welcome accorded the Liberal leader by Cape Breton is said to be without parallel in the political history of the country. Mr. William Duff, M.P. for Lunenburg—a Carboniferous boy—accompanied the party and received a tremendous ovation.

New Pastor Welcomed.

COCHRANE STREET CHOIR RE-UNION.

A very hearty welcome was extended to Rev. C. H. Johnson, their new pastor, at the reunion of Cochrane Street, Centennial Church Choir, held in the school room last evening. This was the first re-union which the Choir has held since the summer vacation and it was very largely attended. The proceedings opened with a sumptuous repast, supplied by the ladies of the parish, at which, when all had been seated, Mr. A. Mow, C.M.G. on behalf of the Choir extended a hearty welcome to the new Pastor, and assured him of the co-operation of the Choir in his work. Mr. Johnson thanked the members for the great interest they have shown at all times, in the work of the Church and he felt they would be always closely associated with one another, and be ever prepared to carry on the good work. After tea had been served, a concert was held, at which vocal and instrumental numbers were rendered by Misses Whelan, Maender, Mews and Messrs. Clouston, Chown, Lee, Stone, Bowden and Hatcher. Before the gathering dispersed, a hearty vote of thanks was accorded, Miss MacKay, and the other ladies, who provided the good things, and who managed in a small manner to make the affair, such a splendid success.

Wedding Bells.

STANDERMAN NEWS.

Mr. Leonard Mews, Buyer for Ayre & Sons, Ltd., was married in Trinity Church, Hollis, New York, on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock, to Miss Elizabeth Standerman of Hollis, N.Y. The bride was attended by Miss May MacKnight, while Mr. Jack Cowan performed the duties of best man. The bride and groom left by the Rosalind for St. John's. The Telegram wishes Mr. and Mrs. Mews every happiness for their future wedded life.

CLOUSTON-SCOTT.

The wedding took place on Thursday, Sept. 1st, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. James Clouston, 11 Irene Ave., Toronto, Ont. (formerly of St. John's, Nfld.) of their youngest daughter, Isabel, to Mr. Clarence A. Scott, only son of Mrs. C. and the late Alfred Scott, the Rev. Dr. Wallace officiating. The bride, who was unattended, was given away by her father, wore a shell pink crepe meteor frock, trimmed with Honiton lace and white ribbon, and carried a shower bouquet of Columbia roses. After the nuptials, which was served on small tables, decorated with autumn flowers, the happy couple left for Atlantic City and Philadelphia, the bride's destination. She is wearing a blue canton beaded gown of heavy blue canton crepe, made of green feather hat and embroidered travelling coat. The presents were numerous and beautiful, and included several cheques. The bride's sister, Mrs. W. T. Stewart, wore an imported gown of Taupo Georgette and lace overdress with hat to match with ostrich trimming, and her twin daughters looked lovely in dresses of embroidered organdie. Mrs. Clouston, mother of the bride, wore a gown of mauve crepe de chine, and Mrs. Scott was attired in navy blue, charmeuse with feather hat. Mrs. Wm. Clouston wore black satin and little Miss Clouston white organdie. Among the many guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clouston, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Wright, Master Wright, Mrs. Tratts, the Misses Hilda Bohman, Gertrude Calder, Dorothy Calder, Miss Hazel Adair of Montreal; Mrs. Calder and Mr. W. T. Stewart, Mrs. J. L. Clouston and Miss Winslade.

Manoa's Passengers.

S.S. Manoa, Capt. Waterlow, reached port at 10 o'clock last night, being somewhat delayed on account of fog on the coast. The ship brought the following passengers:—Sir W. F. Lloyd, J. C. and Mrs. Kelley, Jean LeBarrow, H. and Mrs. Coffin, J. Newton Scott, E. D. Bate, Miss Mildred Thomas, T. B. and Mrs. Woodman, Dr. Wm. and Mrs. Tompkins and children, Miss Elsie Neal, H. Brown, E. M. Peters, Y. A. Barrow, Miss Hilda Mack, Mrs. T. A. Brown, H. Payne and Mrs. W. G. Mitchell.

The Biggest Ever.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—The editorial of this Morning's News contrasts the homecoming of the boys who fought with that of the boys who ran. It throws a little cold water on our demonstration because there was practically no demonstration for our returned heroes. It does not say that there should not have been a demonstration, but suggests that because there was not one then, there should not be one now. My contention is that there should have been one then. There will be one now. We know our business. The citizens appreciate what our athletes have done and wild horses will not prevent them from showing that appreciation.

At the luncheon at Donovan's, Monday, there will be present the Premier, the Mayor, the Leader of the Opposition, the Minister of Shipping, the City Members, the Commissioners, the Officers and representatives of the Newfoundland Amateur Athletic Association, the National Sports Committee, the Heads of the Brigades, the Presidents of the City Athletic Associations besides other guests. At seven thirty the boys will come to town, and believe me, they will be accorded a welcome such as Newfoundland has never seen before and will only see again when Jack Bell arrives. Talk of lighting up their houses, why, there are some, who to show their appreciation would willingly burn them down. (Metaphorically of course.—Editor Telegram.)

Yours sincerely,
 GEO. W. B. AYRE.

Daylight Saving.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir.—I observe from this morning's editorial notes of the Daily News, that my old friend is having his usual six months attack of literary ecstacy on the Daylight Saving Act, which comes to a close on Sunday night, 2nd October, at 11 o'clock. Great Britain, the British Isles and Newfoundland, about fifty million people, have enjoyed the blessings of the extra hour of daylight during the summer months. On Sunday, Great Britain and Newfoundland will put back the time, in the words of my friend the News, and in accordance with the rulings of Nature, Truth and Common Sense.

Yours truly,
 JOHN ANDERSON.

Stowaway on the Seal.

Shortly after the steamer Seal sailing from St. John's on Saturday morning says the North Sydney Herald of Tuesday last, her commander discovered he had on board as a crew one more than was registered on the ship's papers. He was a young man of 19 years who was anxious to get some work, and as there is none to be had in the ancient colony, he decided to steal his way on board the Seal in the hope that he would get work in the coal fields in Cape Breton. Immigration officer J. J. Dooley was not long in rounding up the young fellow after the Seal docked at her berth last night. He was placed in the detention shed, and is now in the local jail awaiting the departure of the Seal for St. John's, when he will be given a free passage to the land of his birth.

Halifax Shiplaunching.

As a marine spectacle the launching of the "Canadian Constructor" on Saturday could not have been surpassed. The fine ship glided off the ways in perfect order and the time-honored ceremony of "christening" was most auspiciously and happily performed. The "Canadian Constructor" is the last of the quartette of steel steamers built at the Halifax Shipyard, and, equally with her predecessors, is a credit to her builders. She is essentially a product of Nova Scotia, and, in the opinion of experts, is equal to the product of the best shipyards in the world. That is a fine tribute to the Halifax Shipyard and alike to the management and the workmen who have established their capacity to build ships in Nova Scotia. Let us hope that the successor of the "Canadian Constructor" will soon be on the stocks.—Morning Chronicle, Sept. 27.

The Mizart's Linniment People.
 Sirs,—I feel that I should be doing a wrong if I neglected to write you. I have had four tumors growing on my head for years. I had them cut off by a surgeon about fifteen years ago but they grew again till about three months ago I had one as large and shaped like a lady's chimney, on the very place where my hair should be parted, and it was getting so embarrassing in public that it was a constant worry to me. About three months ago I got a bottle of your linniment for another purpose and saw on the label good for tumors. Well I tried it and kept at it for exactly two months, with the result that it has entirely removed all traces of the tumor, and were it not that they had been cut fifteen years ago, no mark would be seen. I have not been asked for this testimonial and you can use it as you see fit.

(Signed) FRED C. ROBINSON.
 P.E.—I am a farmer and intend using Mizart's Linniment on a mare for a strained tendon, and am hoping for some results. FRED C. R.

The Horseless Carriage.

(A weekly column conducted in the interests of the Motoring Public.)

Mr. Dunlop avails of this, the first opportunity, to tender his heartiest congratulations to our athletes in Halifax on the excellent manner in which they have kept up the Newfoundland reputation "better than the best."

Notwithstanding our remarks last week on the plan of campaign we had laid down for this column, we are sorry, Dave, the "powers that be" have issued an ultimatum that we must cut out the "raw stuff." Two or three members of the Motor Association Executive claim that we have been corrupting the younger generation with one or two of the items that have appeared. Personally, we have never met a twentieth century juvenile who couldn't cap any yarn we have told in this column with "a better one," but we are always prepared to bow to superior judgment, and now believe that there are some youngsters who have got "pop" bluffed to a standstill that they don't know anything that isn't taught in Sunday School!

When our silly contemporaries want to be funny here's the way they go at it. First, we will give you an extract from London "Punch":

"By the way, Mr. Henry Ford, says a New York message, is rapidly becoming the richest man in the world. We have felt for some time that he had some motive for making those cars and that he was not doing it for love."

And, now a selection from New York "Life":

EVER HEAR ANYBODY SAY THIS!
(1) "I was to blame entirely, Officer. I was driving thirty-five miles an hour and that car couldn't possibly have avoided me."

(2) "My car isn't worth nine hundred dollars, but I'd like to have you hit it at that figure because, otherwise, I won't be able to finance my wife's trip to the seashore."

And thirdly and lastly we will give you a bright little poem cut from last week's "Comic Weekly":

ACCELERATE OR—
When first I bought a motor car,
My mental status stood at par,
I had a sane, unquenching thirst
For axioms of Safety First;
No mad impulse arose to plead
That I indulge in bursts of speed
But leisurely I journeyed then,
Exhaling peace, good will to men.

And when, behind me, siren shrieks
Announced accelerating freaks,
I modestly gave way until
They passed and vanished o'er the hill.
Sardonic grins, their gibes and jeers
Met shielded eyes and cottoned ears.
The while I slowly shook my head
And ruminated on the dead.

But scarce a month had spent its range
Ere I had undergone a change:
My reason faded, phantomlike
And I was burning up the pike.
No placid gait consoles me now,
No docile rate the laws allow,
And when some driver tries to pass
I open up and give her gas!

A deep respect for Safety First Attends the miles in haste traversed,
But while my folly I deplore
I know slow jaunts will serve no more.
So every motorist betrays
The sanity of early days.
The speed hog bites him on the pate
And he must needs accelerate.

We have culled the two following "hints" from The "Motor" and hope they will be of practical interest to our readers:—

TO FACILITATE TIRE REMOVAL.

Although tire removal is one of the most common occurrences of motoring life, comparatively few owners know of a little trick which not only saves time and motions, but actually facilitates the job of taking the rim off the felloe. This consists in loosening without removing the two lugs nearest the valve stem. After shaking the tire to and fro slightly it will lift off very easily. When putting on the spare tire, the valve stem is rotated around to the bottom, the weight of the car is allowed to rest on the tire, and it will be found that the rim is in the best position with respect to the felloe for inserting and tightening the other lugs. The rim being held free from the felloe at the upper end of the wheel due to the weight at the bottom, the lugs can be inserted and screwed up with the minimum of effort.

A TIRE TUBE TOOL KIT.

A Tube that has outlived its usefulness as an air container can be reincarnated as a tool case in which to carry all small tool equipment, such as wrenches, screwdrivers, pliers, files, etc. From an old tube a piece is cut of sufficient length to serve the purpose, and after being split lengthwise, is split along the center to make loops for holding the tools. The sides of the rubber case will curl up over the tools and the whole can be rolled into a neat bundle, which can be held securely by wide rubber bands cut from sections of the tube.

The Naval gentleman who navigated the "Hesperus" on the Prince of Wales' wonderful trip around the world, has been summering in St. John's and has been amusing himself with a small "Buick" car. The only fault he has to find with the Newfoundland roads is that "they are not as wide as the Atlantic ocean for passing things on!"

Thanks to carefulness on the part of the compositor this column has been singularly free of misprints during the past few weeks. However, last week, he did make us say that the motor designer was going to be an awfully good "effort" when the word we used was "affair." Puts us in mind of a good many years ago when some of us used to take swimming lessons from an elderly gentleman who has been for some years now on the East End Cab stand but who, at that time, was caretaker of the City Boat Club. The modus operandi of the swimming lesson was that a rope was tied round one's middle and one was pitched overboard where one either sunk or swam—it didn't matter much which to the old fellow who sat in the boat with the other end of the rope in his hand, and who shouted encouragingly as one floundered in the water. "That's a good effort—that's a good effort" meaning otherwise "That's a good effort!"

However, reverting to the dinner, everyone of the Executive of the Motor Association is certainly making a good effort to make the dinner a real good affair. Mr. Gordon Christian will be in charge of the piano, and the musical programme is in the hands of Mr. J. A. MacKenzie, who is being ably assisted by Mr. Ern Fox so that end of it will be alright. All speeches are to be limited to ten minutes, and the Secretary has received warning that any remarks from him are to be strictly censored and before the toast list commences, everybody present will be presented with a bottle of two per cent. beer.

Talking of "near beer," we must say that we have been decidedly taken with the advertisement in late English papers of a thing—we don't know quite what to call it—which goes by the name of "Ner-a-Car." It claims to be a cross between a motor cycle and a small car possessing all the advantages and none of the disadvantages of both. Runs seventy miles to the gallon, and costs in our money at the present rate of exchange, something under $200. With the new fancy duties (when the deuce, by the way, is the Government going to start a school to give instructions in the correct way of making out a "For Duty" entry under the new fangled regulations?) this outfit would cost landed somewhere around $500, and for the man who cannot afford a "Rolls Royce" or a "Tin Elizabeth," this "mongrel" vehicle looks like something he might have a lot of run-out of during the summer months. (No, we are not agent for this outfit. Our only reason for giving it a boost is our fellow feeling for the man who would be a motorist if his pocket would allow him!)

We welcome to the noble army of motorists Mr. John Fenelon, who we hear, has recently purchased an "Overland." Mr. Fenelon was an ardent motor cyclist in the palm days of the Motor Cycle Club, and we are always glad to see the boys grow up and graduate from the motor cycle class into the motor car class, even if it should be only a "tin Lizzie," which in this instance, it is not.

A mighty good yarn comes from the recent opening of a new Masonic Lodge at Heart's Content. The number of the new Lodge we will say for the sake of the story was 1282. (Twelve fifty-two was not the actual number, but the number of the Lodge was somewhere in the one thousandths.) A worthy brother, in proposing a toast to the new Lodge, remarked that he was not likely to forget its number as it was the same number as was on the license plate of his car. This evoked much applause and everyone was struck with the coincidence until a member of the Road Commission happened to be present. He remarked: "But, it looks to me, brother, as if you have not paid your license for 1921!" (As everybody knows the numbers of the current year's licenses begin at 2000.)

The wise people say that there is a reason for everything the Almighty creates. We have at last found the use of the small dogs that we got into hot water over a few weeks ago with some of the ladies, for describing as "a cross between a squirrel and a lady's muff." In a motor smash last week a lady was sitting in the front of the car holding one of those "little pets" in her lap. When the crash came the dog and the lady's head were thrown against the windshield. The dog went first, however, and as the lady's head brought up against the dog she was saved a very nasty bump. After this, we shall buy one of these dogs for our wife.

We took a run over the road Tuesday evening as far as Manuels. After Monday night's rain, the fact that the Road Commission were obliged to stop work half way through the season, was strongly emphasized. The road in many places was full of holes, and it looks as if the present road repairing done by the Road Commission on Topsall Hill will be for naught, unless sufficient funds can be raised by the Government for the road repairs continue their good work till the end of the season. And, talking of Manuels, we think we have mentioned previously that it would be desirable if the Board of Works would give some immediate attention to Manuel's Bridge. If we haven't referred to this matter before, we certainly intend to.

Hawaiian Aeroplanes.

Before aviation was in vogue, the cliffs of Hawaii were covered by Hawaiians, according to the story, by natives of to-day, who got their excitement by jumping off cliffs into the ocean in primitive planes. They made a variety of them, known as "lele" or "jungle" from the cliff. It was supposed to be a hundred years or so ago by natives who lived near groves of loulu palms near high cliffs overlooking the ocean. The natives were equipped with huge contrivances built of light but stout sticks and covered with loulu palm leaves. Several of these affairs were made ready, the Hawaiian "aviators" took their seats and were pushed over towering cliffs at the same time. The adventurer who remained longest in the air was the winner. Often through carelessness or excitement a "plane" would execute a nose dive similar to those of twentieth century aeroplanes. The only damage was the loss of the game. Old Hawaiians say that their flying men were exceptionally skillful. The only means they had of guiding their crude appliances was to shift their weight to maintain balance as they zig-zagged down toward the sea. Exceptionally daring Hawaiians often hopped on thousand-foot cliffs on the mainland, it is said.

With the Gun.

(Western Star.)
Hunters returning from the Gas Topsall country report partridge and other small game numerous. Allan Bartlett, who recently returned from a trip up country, informed us that he saw signs of moose in the vicinity of Kitty's brook. C. A. White, of Rothesay, Bay St. George, returned Monday from a hunting trip up country. He had some good sport at small game. M. E. Boland and T. Power went up country on Sunday evening on a hunting trip. They will hunt caribou in the vicinity of Sandy Lake. Dr. Smith, of Ohio, is hunting caribou up Robinson's River, and has secured one good head to date. Caribou are plentiful in that section of the country but mostly young and maids. Towns Destroyed by Flood.

Many hundreds of lives were lost by the bursting of a dam at Austin, Pennsylvania, on Saturday, September 26, 1911. Austin Valley is about 20 miles from the border of New York State. At the head of the valley was a dam, the property of the Baylis Paper Company, above which was a lake containing a great quantity of logs, which are said to have caused the dam to burst. Many of the inhabitants fled to the hills, but the dam being so close to the town, there was no time to give warning, so that the torrent rushed down almost like a wall and with a roar resembling thunder. This was the only notice anyone had, and all who were caught in the streets or in the houses of Austin and Costello had not the slightest chance of escape. Many who were working outside and in the fields or in factories somewhat removed from the centre of the valley saved their lives. The thousands of logs acted like battering rams, and did much damage that the flood would have spared. They were also responsible for great loss of life. In one case fifty people seeking to escape to the hills were held up by a barbed wire fence, and before they could disentangle themselves from it they were overtaken by an immense mass of logs borne by the flood and battered to pieces. So great was the force of the water that after the destruction of Austin had been completed, Costello, about three miles beyond in the valley, met its fate, and in the same manner. In both towns the damage was the greater because the majority of the buildings were on a long single street owing to the narrowness of the valley. Telegraph and telephone wires were destroyed and the railway was flooded and damaged. Hardly had the waters subsided when fire started from the broken gas-mains, and what the flood had left was destroyed by the flames. The wreckage burned fiercely despite the wet, and the bodies of many victims plinked in the debris were incinerated. The dam had been in bad condition for more than a year. The first alarm in the town itself was given by the whistle at the mills, but the result was disastrous, for many people, hinking that this was a fire alarm, hastened to the main street, where they were directly in the path of the waters. The flood swept a clean cut trench four feet deep through this street, and this broke many of the gas pipes. More than a hundred persons met their death at the railway workshops and a lumber establishment, while 50 girls were drowned or otherwise killed at the paper mills. Although Costello was wiped out, only three lives were lost there, as the inhabitants were warned by a motorist, who risked his life driving before the flood, and shouting as he went, "Flee to the hills."

SHOPKEEPERS—Stop Losing Money by Retailing Sugar out of a Barrel. Bags, Twine, Loss of Weight, etc., Cost You 1 Cent Per Lb.

Tell your customers Lantic in dust-proof yellow packages is guaranteed full weight and that Lantic costs them no more than sugar out of a barrel.

Tell them Lantic in dust-proof yellow packages comes direct from the Refinery to their table unsoiled by contact with any person's dirty hands. They prefer clean sugar.

Tell them Lantic is FINER than sugar out of a barrel. Everybody knows that FINE sugar is, bulk for bulk, sweeter than coarse sugar.

BETTER STILL

Open a 2 pound or a 5 pound package of Lantic Sugar and let them see for themselves how good Lantic Sugar really is.

You'll find most of your customers know good sugar when they see it, and Lantic is extra good. Let them taste it.

Perhaps some of your customers would just as soon have sugar out of a barrel, which, if exposed in your shop, must contain dust, disease germs, manure, dried sputum, etc., which blows in from the street; but we believe most of them will prefer Lantic Sugar in dust-proof yellow packages.

Civic Commission.

WEEKLY MEETING. The Weekly Meeting of the Municipal Commission was held last evening at 4 o'clock. Mayor Morris presided, and Councillors Vialcombe, Peet, Jackson, Collier and Hallett were present.

After confirming the minutes of previous meetings, the following matters were disposed of: The Mayor referred to the death of the late John O'Reilly, Sanitary employee, who, for the past forty-five years, has been one of the City's most trustworthy officials, and whose passing was deeply regretted. The Council placed on record its appreciation of the long and faithful service rendered by the deceased.

E. T. English, Harbor Master, wrote that he had given the Newfoundland Coal and Trading Company permission to repair the wharf, late A. Goodridge & Sons' premises, but could not give permit for the extension of same, as it was contrary to the Regulations.

Communications were read from the Superintendent of the Electrical Department, Reid Newfoundland Co., stating that the lights on Lime Street and Angel Place would be attended to, and that the moving of poles back to new street lines, Golf Ave. and Power Street would be given immediate attention.

J. M. Carberry, wrote in reference to property belonging to the St. Michael's Church, Golf Avenue, which had been taken into the new street by the Council. The City Engineer is to report on this matter.

A petition was received, signed by a number of Medical Practitioners, asking that, in view of their having to keep a second car for emergencies in connection with their profession, they be relieved of the tax on said car. The Council has no power, under the Motor Car Act, to make concessions, as requested.

Mrs. Dillon, Southside, wrote regarding drainage. The matter was referred to the City Engineer.

Geo. Hamlyn applied for water service, Allandale Road. His request was acceded to.

Petitions were read from the residents of McKay Street, Shaw Street, Mundy Pond Road, asking that lights be installed in these localities. Their request was acceded to.

Rev. A. B. Stirling, St. Mary's Rectory, Southside, called attention to the need for more lights in this locality; and also referred to the "blind corner" at the junction of the Southside Road and the Long Bridge, which, he stated was a source of great danger. His former request was granted, while the latter is, at present, being taken up with the Minister of Public Works, with a view to having the obstructions removed.

The Furness Withy Company applied for permission to lay concrete pavement in front of their premises, Water Street, so that same might present a respectable appearance to the many strangers arriving in our City, and, at the same time, improve condition of this thoroughfare. The request was acceded to.

A communication was received from the Newfoundland Motor Association, calling attention to the sections of the Motor Car Act, in reference to Dealers' and Garage Licenses, and stating it had come to their notice that the tax in this respect was—in many cases—unpaid. The City Clerk was instructed to write the parties liable for this tax, calling their attention to the Regulations, and notifying them that, if they did not comply with same, prosecution would follow.

M. Carberry applied for the position on the Sanitary Staff, made vacant by the death of Mr. J. O'Reilly. His application was ordered filed.

The following plans were passed, subject to the City Engineer's approval:—Norman Pelley (extension to garage) Macklin Place; Presentation Convent (School building) Plank Road; P. J. Miller (dwelling) Freshwater R.

Plans submitted by Wm. Butt and Nathan Pond, Mundy Pond Road, and William Cummins, LelMarchant Road, Another Bear Story.

(Western Star) Wm. Ruth, of Summerside, tells of an experience he recently had with Bruin and one which he is not likely soon to forget. We met Mr. Ruth on Saturday week. He was walking quite lame, and we asked him what was the trouble with him. He replied that a couple of days previous he had a fight with a bear. He was with a party in berry picking, up Bell's Brook about two or three miles back of Curlew, when he suddenly came upon a bear. The animal attacked him, dug his claws into the back of his hands and into his shoulders and legs. He fought the bear first with his fists and later managed to grasp a stick with which he succeeded in beating Bruin off. In the tussle Mr. Ruth had his hands, shoulders and legs badly lacerated, and his clothing was torn from his body, so much so that he had to pin it together to enable him to return home. There were two cubs in company with the bear, and no doubt the elder bear's actions were those of a mother in protection of her offspring.

The inland fishing season closed on the 30th inst. There was good fishing right up to the end of the season. On the last day several fish were taken. Wm. Boland landed two weighing 15 and 18 pounds respectively, and M. E. Boland also landed two of similar size at Hard Scrabble. The fish were in the prime of condition being just from the salt water. Dr. Fisher had two big fish on, but broke his leader and lost both fish. B. D. Lilly caught several.—Western Star.

MOTOR CAR OWNERS—A few tires left, selling very cheap to get clear of them, 32 x 4, 33 x 4, 34 x 4. E. D. SPURRELL, 365 Water Street.

TEN YEARS AFTERWARD.

The other day I started to recommend a book to a friend and then hesitated. It was a book I had thought exceedingly witty and clever and interesting and my friend was one of those people on whom one can almost count to see things as one sees them oneself.

Why then did I hesitate. Simply because I remembered that it was ten years since I read that book, and that what I thought clever and witty and interesting in those days might not seem the same to-day.

Nothing, I think, shows how one changes like re-reading a book that one has not read for many years. The Old Emotions Refused to Come. I have had the experience several times lately of coming across a book I once thought most wonderful, glancing through it in the expectation of renewing the old emotions and discovering with disappointment that the old emotions refused to come.

Perhaps it was partly because it was a re-reading. It takes a real work of art to stand being read twice. Perhaps, too, it was because the glamour of memory made the book seem even more wonderful than I really found it the first time. Memory does play those tricks you know. But I am sure it was partly, too, because in those years between I had changed. They say the body changes every seven years, surely the mind with its constant experience of new impressions, new emotions, new contacts must change as often.

Must we like William Shakespeare, and because I had a different mind from the one I had then, or maybe because the book did not produce

Of course there are some books so rich that they give out vibrations that reach a great number of different conditions and types of mind. There are some books in which, each time we read them, we find new riches of suggestions. The riches were there before but we had not had all the experiences and the emotions which made us able to understand them.

Why I Like to Read With a Pencil. There are passages in the Bible to which one can go back many times and find something new.

There are passages in Shakespeare and George Eliot and Stevenson and Emerson and Carlyle, and many others like them, which have something to say to you every time you read them.

That is one reason why I love to read with a pencil (a certain type of booklover thinks this is sacrilege but I claim he is not the true lover, he loves the book, not the soul).

Each time I read I can see what meant the most to me before and mark new passages. Do you do that, Reader Friend, or do you call it sacrilege?

MY BUSY DAY. My motor purrs and the tank with gas is filled; the road is strewn with chickens and cats that I have killed; still faster, faster go!

And cattle that were lowing and roosters that were crowing are now forever stilled. I have no earthly reason for hitting such a clip; I have the whole blamed season in which to make the trip; but my old host's a dinger, it's dust and gravel ainger, and so I do not linger—just watch the old girl strip!

But, say, what ails my victim? I seem to be in bed! "You had a bad collision," just now the doctor said; "at high speed you were racing, all motorism disgracing, and now you see me placing this poultice on your head. Your car, that was a daisy, is wrecked beyond repair; the coroner is crazy, so many dead are there; when two fools get to driving, to break speed records striving, it's strange that one's surviving, as you are, I declare. The sad truth must be spoken, though it may seem a front; your collarbone is broken, and both your ears are lost; with blood your dome is crusted, your diaphragm is busted, your works must be adjusted, and that at frightful cost!"

And from my couch of sickness I watch the autos pass, and mark their pop and quickness when drivers give them gas; I may not drive such sprinters for many, many winters, for I am all in splinters, oh, waly and alas!

Why then did I hesitate. Simply because I remembered that it was ten years since I read that book, and that what I thought clever and witty and interesting in those days might not seem the same to-day.

Economic Conditions in Italy.

ROME, Sept. 7.—(Associated Press) While the United States seems to be in a crisis of unemployment with sporadic labor crisis in various parts of the country and, from time to time, amounting to millions, Italy, which is generally an overcrowded labor market, had but 388,744 this summer. At the same time, there are a great many

Mr. Speaker and the Clerk.

INTERESTING FACTS ABOUT TWO ANCIENT OFFICES.

The resignation of Mr. Lowther from the Speakership of the House of Commons, after sixteen years of office, and the resignation of Sir Courtenay Ilbert, the Clerk for the last nineteen years, has aroused much interest in these high offices. Mr. Arthur Irwin Dasset has briefly outlined the history of the Speakership in the current number of the Nineteenth Century.

There was no Speaker until 1377, when Sir Thomas Hungerford was appointed. It is probable that there was some sort of Speaker before, but Hungerford is the first name on the rolls. An intermediary.

Mr. Dasset writes that prior to this date there was a spokesman appointed to act as intermediary between the Crown and the representatives of the people. Yet there must have been, even from the earliest times, some intermediary between the Crown and the representatives of the people. These spokesmen were usually drawn from the ranks of the minor barons or lesser tenants in chief, deriving their Parliamentary existence mainly, if not wholly, from the principle of primogeniture. Monsieur Henri de Beaumont, who was summoned to Parliament from 1308-09 to 1332, acted in this capacity in 1332 and, a few years later, a Parliamentary leader who held a position not very dissimilar to that of Speaker is reached.

"The First Recorded Utterance." The record of Hungerford's appointment is given as at the Jubilee of King Edward III.—

At the Jubilee of Edward III. the House of Commons for the first time in its history had a presiding officer of its own choice. Sir Thomas Hungerford, described in the Norman-French rolls as the "Chivalier qui avoit les paroles pour les Communes d'Engleterre en cest Parlement," made a daring speech to the Throne at the close of the short session over which he presided. He called the King's attention to various grievances suffered by his people, and alleged infractions of the liberty of his subjects, both male and female. This, the first recorded utterance of the Commons to find expression through the mouth of its chosen spokesman, has been strangely overlooked by Parliamentary historians.

Chaucer's father was Speaker for five times, though the period did not exceed one year; the sessions of Parliament being so short in those days. The Speakership has sometimes been held almost entirely by one set of men:—

Towards the close of the reign of Charles II. it became the practice to appoint to the chair a member of the political party then in power—a system which has worked well on the whole. This does not, however, imply that the Crown did not still retain a voice in the selection of the Speaker. Sir Robert Walpole told Arthur Onslow, who had in early life, conceived a great desire to sit in the Chair, that "the way to that station lay through the gates of St. James's."

Charles Manners-Sutton is the only man who has ever been seven times Speaker, and he narrowly escaped being elected to the Chair for the eighth time. Mr. Swift MacNeill, a master of Constitutional history, has an interesting article on the office of Clerk in the Contemporary Review.

The Clerkship of the House of Commons was first originated 450 years ago. It is remarkable because since its inception it has altered extremely little. In fact, the various duties connected with the office are now the same as they were at the commencement; the only changes that have been made were those that were necessary in order to keep up with the passing of time. The Clerk to-day occupies the same seat relatively, near the chair of the Speaker, as did the Clerk, 50 years back.

The Clerk has countless duties to perform. Among others, he signs all the addresses, votes of thanks, and orders of the House; he endorses all Bills going to or coming from the House of Lords; also he has to read any part of these to the House, if it requests him. He has the charge of all records, and is responsible for the business of the House, undertaken by the official departments under his control. He also assists the Speaker, and advises members on points of order and procedure.

For many years the Clerk carried out his duties unassisted, but the task became too much for one man, and assistants were appointed. The Clerk now has two assistants—the Clerk Assistant and the Second Clerk Assistant.—John o' London's Weekly.

ment is given as at the Jubilee of King Edward III.—

At the Jubilee of Edward III. the House of Commons for the first time in its history had a presiding officer of its own choice. Sir Thomas Hungerford, described in the Norman-French rolls as the "Chivalier qui avoit les paroles pour les Communes d'Engleterre en cest Parlement," made a daring speech to the Throne at the close of the short session over which he presided. He called the King's attention to various grievances suffered by his people, and alleged infractions of the liberty of his subjects, both male and female. This, the first recorded utterance of the Commons to find expression through the mouth of its chosen spokesman, has been strangely overlooked by Parliamentary historians.

Chaucer's father was Speaker for five times, though the period did not exceed one year; the sessions of Parliament being so short in those days. The Speakership has sometimes been held almost entirely by one set of men:—

The Scene of Fieldish Atrocities.

Sivas, the city which was the scene of one of the most fateful acts that ever stained history's page, has taken its place in newspaper date-lines. Recently it was announced that the Angora Government of the Turkish Nationalists had shifted its capital from Angora to Sivas. The vicissitudes of the Greeks made this move necessary, and the affairs of the Nationalists are now administered from this city of antiquity, which is more than 200 miles east of Angora, the railhead of the only line which penetrates Northern Asia Minor.

Sivas was sacked by Timur-the-Lame in 1400 and he caused 1000 children to be trampled to death beneath the boots of his war horses; and then caused 4000 of the Armenian defenders to be buried alive. At that time the city had a population of about 100,000, and even during the time Rome dominated the world it was a city of great importance and, known as Sebastaria, was the source of quantities of copper. Its deposits in this and coal, iron and other valuable minerals are extensive; and if Turkey ever rises to the dignity of a commercial power Sivas will be its Silesia or Ruhr. Its population now does not exceed 60,000, and for almost isolated position has greatly diminished its importance as a rug-making centre, for which it was once famous.

Fashions and Fads.

A slipper of walnut-brown shade has six narrow black patent-leather straps. The straight chested, knee and redingote coat lines share equal popularity. A drape down front of blue-grey red is trimmed with brownish-red baby lamb. Interesting embroidered and fancy edged braids are used on the fall frocks.

A Hat is no Better than its Price

Fashioned by hat craftsmen with the delicate care the Swiss cutter bestows on a fine jewel, Borsalino Hats intended for those men who are willing to pay more in order to get more.

BORSALINO HATS

For Borsalino Hats never will be "cheap"—to reduce the beautiful hats to the level of any other hat, even in price would be a sacrilege.

Borsalino Hats will sell for $7.50 for but a short while longer—the new ones will be $10—a price that will be in keeping with the value they give.

Milley's

SWEET, PURE MILK—always on hand when you want it!

If you have never used Libby's Evaporated Milk, you will be amazed to find how good, how convenient and economical it is. Many women who first tried it in some emergency now use it always—they find it gives such satisfactory results.

There's no waiting for the milkman—you can always keep several cans on the shelf and in summer there's no bothering with ice, and in winter the milk wagon can get stuck in a heavy drift of snow as often as it wants to!

And there's less waste—a can of Libby's Evaporated Milk will keep indefinitely before being opened—and after you have opened a can you can use just what you need; the rest, put in a cool place, will keep several days.

Libby's Milk comes from the finest dairying section of America and is processed in our own sanitary condensaries—it is not the "distributed" product of an unknown and nameless plant.

Order a tin from your grocer to-day.

fty-Two Years in the Public ervice—The Evening Telegram.

The Spider is "Fly."

Have you ever seen a spider constructing his web? It is one of the most interesting and most beautiful sights in nature.

Having found a suitable place, he begins first to make the "spokes." The spokes are made of a different kind of material from the web proper—they are not sticky.

Now begins the real business of making the trap itself. Starting at one end of the spokes, the spider gums down a thread, and then moves in a spiral direction, paying out the thread as he goes. It is gummed firmly down to each spoke, and it is provided with thousands of tiny drops of gum in between the spokes.

This gum, secreted by a special gland in the spider, holds captive any fly that touches one of the spiral strands.

Round and round goes the spider weaving the sticky net and spacing its meshes so that no fly can pass between them.

As soon as the trap is perfect, the spider takes up his position at its centre, taylor back of his eight legs on one of the spokes. In this way he is able to feel at once the arrival of a fly in any part of the net. If he captures an insect too large to be dealt with summarily, he weaves a fine web round it, and does not come to close quarters until it is so securely bound that it cannot move a limb.

Neap and Spring Tides.

The tides are caused by the attraction which the moon exercises on the oceans.

The time of high water on any day is roughly fifty minutes later than it was on the day before.

Possibly, too, you have observed that, on some days the tide comes in much farther and recedes to a far greater distance than on others.

As a matter of fact, these big and small tides occur at quite regular intervals. Big tides are called springs, and small tides neaps, and they depend upon the changes of the moon.

One night we see in the sky a thin silvery crescent, which we call the new moon. On the following two or three days we shall have spring tides.

Seven days from the time when it is new the moon appears as a half. This is the reason of neap tides. A week later the full moon makes night almost day, and brings the second lot of spring tides.

Neap tides occur again as the full moon changes into the dying half moon. Thus there is a fortnight's interval between spring tide and spring tide and between neap and neap.

Sun's Curious Turning.

The sun does not turn all in one piece, as our globe does, but different parts of it turn in different times.

This was discovered through watching the progress of the sunspots across the disc. After making allowance for any motion which the spots have of their own, it was found that at the sun's equator the time of rotation is twenty-five days; one-third of the way towards either pole the time is twenty-seven days, and half-way to either pole twenty-nine days, whilst the polar regions themselves appear to take thirty-five days.

But this just shows how very far from being solid it is. One bit moving at one speed, another bit moving at another speed. What a topsy-turvy world ours would be if it acted in that way!

Fortunately, the earth is too firmly set to act in any such way. The sun is not "set," yet, in the sense that a housewife would regard, say, her newly-made jam or jelly as "set." It is simply a big globe of white-hot vapour.

Burmese Delighted.

Preparing for Reception of Prince. News of the coming visit of the Prince of Wales has caused the liveliest satisfaction to the various communities at Rangoon, where Burmese, Hindus, blue-robed Chinamen, and Paris are to welcome him. The Indian Marine steamer in which the journey will be made from Calcutta to the Pagoda City will anchor below the Hastings Road, in the Irrawaddy, so that the Prince's first glimpse of Rangoon will be the famous Shwa Dagon Pagoda with its heavily plated bulbous pinnacles glittering in the sun. The Prince will step ashore here at the Sule Pagoda Wharf, where a large pavilion will be erected for his reception. The chiefs of the Southern Shan States in their robes of brocade, gold will be there to welcome him, and the wives and daughters of leading Burmese and Chinese citizens, dressed in silken jackets and long rose-pink skirts, will, as is the custom, strew the Prince's path with flowers.

The enthusiasm of the committees here will also be shown by the erection of a number of pavilions, including a Burmese ornamental structure, like the roof of a pagoda specially erected for the reception of royalty. The Mohammedan pavilion will represent a mosque, the Hindu structure will resemble the golden temple, and the Chinese will erect an imitation of a halling-place for Chinese royalty. The Prince will drive under each of the pavilions in turn.

After three days in Rangoon the Public Shooting Grounds

WINNIPEG, Man., Sept.—(Canadian Press)—The danger of Manitoba sportsmen being deprived of suitable hunting grounds through settlement and the diversion of land into private hands, may be overcome by the setting apart of suitable Dominion lands for public shooting grounds. This will likely be recommended as the result of a recent conference held at the provincial parliament buildings here on the subject of conservation of bird life. In the northern part of the province the bird sanctuaries now existing will probably be enlarged. If the recommendations adopted as the unanimous opinion of those present at the conference are accepted by the Dominion government, Manitoba has thirteen game preserves, many of them of great extent, in which carrying firearms, hunting or trapping is prohibited. An enlargement of that known as the Cedar Lake preserve is suggested taking in, in all, an area of from 1,500 to 2,000 square miles. These sanctuaries or game preserves are set apart as breeding grounds. In time to come, whenever it may be found that they do not continue to serve their purpose as principal breeding grounds, they may be set apart as public hunting grounds.

Wedding Bells.

LONDON—TEMPLEMAN. A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, at George St. Methodist Church, by the Rev. R. E. Fairbairn, when Mr. Peter Blundon led to the altar Miss Francis Templeman of Bonavista. Miss Dora House was bridesmaid and Mr. Samuel Way assisted the groom. The bride's dress was of blue silk with orange blossoms well and carried a bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony the wedding party drove to the home of the groom, where supper was served and congratulations were extended. The presents received were many and the Telegram joins in wishing Mr. and Mrs. Blundon every happiness.

What is a Bal Girl?

SURPRISES OF THE CENSUS.

In the recent census paper in England the trade or profession of every worker had to be shown, and now that the papers are being examined some strange trades have come to light.

One man was returned as an eye-puncher, but this had nothing to do with prize-fighting. The man's work consisted of making the eyes in steel needles.

Ginger-bleacher was, of course, easy to understand; but what was a bal girl? Evidently some form of ballet-dancer, thought the census clerks, till they looked into the matter and discovered that it was a technical term for a minor who is employed in an open working.

A giver-in is engaged in a special branch of the textile industry, but a giver-out is in the hat trade, and so is a hardener. A heater-out is a puddle-furnace man, and a jacket-cleaner has nothing whatever to do with tailoring, but is a man employed in finishing the records for talking machines.

Pile of Filers.

A certain kind of insurance clerk described himself as an average-stater. But what is to be said of a man who describes himself as a pier? The census authorities on looking into the matter discovered that there are piers in starch factories, glass works, paper-staining establishments, patent-fuel factories, worsted-dye works, wool warehouses, chain-making works, soap factories, and at puddle furnaces.

A bill-sticker described himself as an advertising labourer, and a weaver of gold and silver brocade as an arris-weaver. An ager is a machine-winder, a cop-conditioner a man who regulates the ball of thread on the spindle in worsted-weaving, and a few-farmer is a farmer who holds his farm on feu—that is, on a perpetual lease at a certain fixed rental.—Tit Bits.

Celebrated Centenary.

Alexander, Man., Sept. (Canadian Press).—Still able to take long strolls along the country roads and to visit neighbors for little chats on old times, John McLeod, a resident of this town since 1905, celebrated his 100th birthday recently. Mr. McLeod was never seriously ill in his life and firmly believes that the open air existence he led since he was a child, greatly contributed to his health and consequent ripe and sound old age.

He was one of the very rare Canadian-born centenarians. Mr. McLeod

BRAND'S LIBERTY FOR DIS...

TO-DAY'S MESSAGES.

PRaises LLOYD GEORGE.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29. The Freeman's Journal cordially welcomes Premier Lloyd George's reply, which it says created a reasonable opportunity for Irish and British representatives to meet. It declares that the Premier's final paragraph leaves the delegates unfettered, and the paper sincerely hopes that the invitation will lead to a conference. "We are confident," it adds, "and people of both nations manifest the same confidence that such a conference will result in the great and beneficent measure of peace."

EXTREME GRATIFICATION.

LONDON, Sept. 29. "Wholly conciliatory," is the view expressed, both in London and Dublin, of Mr. Lloyd George's latest note to Eamon de Valera, in which the Prime Minister invites leaders of Sinn Fein to a conference in London on October 11, in an endeavor to settle the Irish controversy. It is understood that various members of the British Cabinet are of opinion that there is nothing in the communication to prevent the proposed conference. This certainly appears to be the belief of London public and press, and comments thus far received from Dublin speak of "the extreme gratification" the communication is causing there.

GETTING READY TO STRIKE.

CHICAGO, Sept. 29. Fifty-seven General Chairmen of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen left Chicago to-night carrying instructions from President W. G. Lee to call their grievance committee together and immediately obtain their sanction or disapproval of the strike vote of the organization, and report back to the President early next week. In the event that committee approve strike, and the General Chairman expect that they will, President Lee, it is understood, will authorize men to walk out whenever one or more of their unions quit work.

THE PENNANT WINNERS.

NEW YORK, Sept. 29. The New York Giants, though idle to-day, won the National League pennant race, by virtue of Pittsburgh's double defeat by the St. Louis Cardinals.

CIVILIAN KILLED.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29. A conflict between civilians and police in Tipperary, last night, resulted in the death of one of the civilians and the wounding of two others, and a policeman, it was announced to-day in an official report from Dublin Castle. Liaison officers are holding an inquiry into the incident.

A BELFAST OPINION.

BELFAST, Sept. 30. Fear that a solution of the Irish Controversy may not be reached at the London Conference on October 11, should the British Government's invitation be accepted by Sinn Fein, was expressed by the Northern Whig to-day. The Whig says Lloyd George has not permanently averted a grave crisis, and unless someone is prepared to make very big surrender, he has only postponed it.

LESS THAN LAST YEAR.

OTTAWA, Ont., Sept. 30. The total quantity of sea fish landed on both Atlantic and Pacific Coasts during August, this year, was seven hundred and seventy six thousand, six hundred and fifty five hundredweight, valued at three million, forty three thousand, four hundred and sixty one dollars. Last year one million five thousand eight hundred and eight four hundredweight, with a value of three million, six hundred and seventy four thousand, one hundred and thirty seven dollars were landed.

ANSWER READY TO-DAY.

DUBLIN, Sept. 29. Sinn Fein's answer to the British Government's invitation to a conference to be held in London, October 11, was expected to be ready for Daily Eireann Cabinet when it assembles to-day. Satisfaction with the tone of the Premier's communication, expressed by Sinn Fein leaders, yesterday, following its receipt, gave the public reason to believe the invitation would be accepted.

Return to Sun Time.

On Sunday, the Daylight Saving Bill which proved such a benefit during the summer months, comes to an end, and our clocks will have to be put ahead an hour. The gun on Signal Hill will be fired at 10 p.m., and that will be the signal that the hands of the clock must be advanced.

John Horwood Says Tanlac Surely Did Him World of Good

Newfoundland Man Eats, Sleeps And Works Better Than He Has in Years.

"Tanlac has simply done me a world of good and I'm strong for it," declared John Horwood, of Quidi Vidi, St. John's, N.F. "Indigestion had almost finished me, as I had it for two years as bad as any man ever did. I couldn't eat a thing without bloating up so tight that I was in misery for hours afterwards, and I had such awful headaches and dizzy spells that I was worried and miserable all the time. I got very little rest at night and got up in the morning feeling so tired and worn out that I wasn't fit for work. "This was the condition I was in when I started taking Tanlac, and I can say for this medicine it has made a new man of me. I eat, sleep, feel, and work better than I have in years. I'm willing to go on record as saying that I firmly believe Tanlac is the best medicine ever made. "Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.

To Encourage Trade Between Canada and N.F.

NEW U.S. TARIFF WILL HELP. (The Financial Post).

OTTAWA.—Officials of the Department of Trade and Commerce here point out that Newfoundland at present offers especially favourable opportunities to push Canadian trade. According to advices received here, the recent tariff enactment of the United States will react seriously on Newfoundland. Fish, formerly free, will be taxed from one cent to a cent and three-quarters a pound under the new tariff. About fifteen per cent of Newfoundland's exports which are nearly altogether fish, have been going to the United States, and this market will apparently vanish under the new tariff. Newfoundland's imports amount to over $40,000,000 a year, and Canada has been getting the lion's share of this business, or about $19,000,000. The proportion of the United States has been about $15,000,000, and the new American tariff is considered as likely to put Newfoundland in a mood to transfer some of this business to Canada.

The lines which it is thought our manufacturers and dealers could push in Newfoundland to the best advantage are the following: Condensed milk, groceries, pickled meat, granulated sugar, cornmeal, tobacco and cigarettes, cotton fabrics, boots and shoes, and India rubber footwear, hats and caps, millinery, paints and varnishes, and many kinds of hardware used in the fishing trade. There is also a considerable demand for motor engines for fishing boats, automobiles, sewing machines, electrical fixtures and specialties, tools and building materials. In many of the above lines we now do a certain amount of trade.

Cochrane St. Choir Are Given Banquet.

Last night in the Lecture Room of Cochrane St. Church, the Choir of the Church were given a dinner by many ladies of the Congregation, prominent among whom was Miss MacKay. The occasion was designed as a reunion of the Choir and an opportunity to meet their new Pastor, Rev. C. H. Johnson and his wife. At 7:30 p.m. the Choir and other guests sat down to a magnificent dinner, in the preparation of which the Methodist Ladies sustained, and even enhanced their reputation, and for an hour or so discussed the good things with which the tables were loaded down.

Then Miss Ettie Vincent, soprano soloist of the Choir, in a very graceful and easy manner, proposed on behalf of the Choir, a vote of thanks to the Ladies who had made the reunion possible and who had supplied the dinner with such bounteous hands. Miss Vincent also extended a hearty welcome to Rev. Mr. Johnson and his wife, and made special reference to the energy of Mr. A. H. Salter, who was always ready to see that the Choir got what they wanted. This was seconded by Mr. Charles Hatcher, Baritone Soloist of the Choir, and supported by Mr. Arthur Mews, C. M. G., Choirmaster. Mr. Mews added his appreciation of the good work of the Ladies in supplying such an excellent dinner, and spoke briefly on the great value of the Choir to the Church.

Rev. Mr. Johnson, before putting the motion, spoke interestingly on the relationships which existed between Pastor and Choir, and reminded the gathering of the definite plan upon which he usually selected his hymns for each service. The first was of Praise and Adoration to the Almighty, the second was of the Lord Jesus Christ, and the third in relation to the thought contained in the sermon. He welcomed this reunion and expected that the relationship between the Pastor and Choir would be one of Harmony and Good-will. The vote was enthusiastically supported by the gathering. Adjournment was then taken to another room and a short concert was given by the Choir members. Rev. Mr. Johnson helping out by two musical compositions.

The following was the programme: Instrumental Duets—Messrs. T. E. Cluett and B. Chown. Solo:—Miss Nellie Maundor. Solo:—Mr. Lee. Recitation:—Mr. Newbury. Ukulele Selections—Miss Marjorie Mews. Duets:—Misses Frances Stone and Winnie Bowden. Solo:—Mr. Charles Hatcher. Mr. A. H. Salter made a popular "starter" for the different items, and carried out his duties in first class style.

A presentation of a beautiful bouquet of flowers was made to Mrs. C. H. Johnson, and an illuminated address to the Pastor, by the Choir, the address being read by Miss Young. Mr. Johnson suitably responding to this graceful act.

A jolly hour was then spent when games of sundry kinds were enjoyed by the choir and their friends, all voting the affair one of the pleasantest in Cochrane history. At 11:30 Aunt Lang Gray and God Save the King were sung, and "May we have another soon," a song composed by the Choirmaster on the spur of the moment, was taken up enthusiastically by all.—COM.

Love Letters of Pompeii Girls.

Among the remarkable discoveries in the new excavations at Pompeii are several poetic love-letters of a patrician (well-born) girls to successful gladiators.

The letters are on ivory tablets, and one is addressed to a gladiator named Strax. The letter, translated, reads: "Art thou Phoebus Apollo in the body of Hercules? Indeed thou art a god to me. Thy beauty and strength have blotted from my eyes all other men. I am young, and the suitors I despise say that I am beautiful. I will await thee, beloved one, near the Temple of Isis."

Inscriptions on the walls under drawings of gladiators show that girls named Chloe, Lydia, and Comella were in love with them. Here is the ardent effusion of Marcus Crassus to a dancing girl: "Julia—from whom her Marcus has received fresh pledges of love—thou art fairer than Aurora, rosy in her robes of dawn. I love thee with a heart that can hold none other. "My litter-bearers stand before thy gate to bear thee whither thou wilt go in the Street of Abundance. Spare not the sesterces (coins) of thy Marcus, and when he shall sup with thee see that thy throat of want's down, thine arms of rose-tinted marble are decked with gems comporting with thy matchless charms."

Freak Legislators.

The law just passed by the Senate of Utah, limiting the height of woman's heels to a modest inch and a half, is matched by a recent law which makes it a misdemeanour for a Maryland woman to appear in a public place in a hat with a greater diameter than ten inches.

It is not long since an edict was published in Texas making tickling unlawful. published in Texas making tickling another person was made liable to a fine not exceeding $100.

Chicago has a law which forbids a man to slap his wife, under penalty of a fine ranging from one dollar for a smack with the left hand to five dollars for a slap while sitting down. A husband recently qualified for the whole series, and handed over his $11 "like a man," declaring that it "was cheap at the price."

But what are we to say to the edict that inflicts a heavy fine for a kiss, which may be as innocent as no doubt it is pleasant? Thus, at Rochester, New York, one Charles Drobble recently paid $400 for kissing Marshall Himpie, his clerk, once only, while Marshall McDaniels got off with a $150 fine for kissing Sallie Jones 150 times—a modest dollar for a kiss.

The bachelor is the unhappy butt of many of these freak laws. In Maine all unmarried men over thirty years of age are taxed ten dollars a year, the sum to be used as a pension fund for spinsters. And in Illinois a Bill recently was introduced to prohibit bachelors from being called "Mister," so that no one can be deceived."—22 222 222.

MARKET OPINION!

In our opinion there can be no time more opportune for profitable investment on margin than the immediate present. Practically the end of a long, long period of depression, with the highest class stocks and bonds selling at unheard of low prices, we strongly suggest instant consideration of the market; make your choice early and place immediate buying orders. We specialize on margin trading.

Fashions in Furniture.

Furniture fashions vary almost every season, there is always some newly-designed chair or lounge coming into vogue. The present trend is toward upholstered Furniture, a splendid selection of which we are now showing. Here — huge Cosy Chairs, Chesterfields and Lounges, over-stuffed and beautifully upholstered in Silk, Tapestry, Damask, etc. — gladden the eye, and there is no lack of smaller upholstered articles.
