THE NEWFOUNDLAND FISHERIES AND THE PEOPLE WHO SUBSIST BY THEM.

The St. John's, (N. F.) Mercury published lately a letter in which the writer dwelt upon the increasing poverty of a large number of the people, who subsist from fishing along the coast of Newfoundland. He states that the increase of population is very marked, while there has been little or no increase in the catch of fish. Owing to the want of soil along that part of the coast, the people cannot add to their resources...

THE LATE KING ALFONSO.

The telegraph announces the death of Alfonso X. King of Spain, who was born Nov. 28, 1857. The disease which he contracted in 1883, he contracted in Paris, where he resided with her for some time, but subsequently he went to Madrid, in order to prosecute his studies. On June 25, 1870, Queen Isabella formerly abdicated her right to the throne of Spain in favor of her son, but no open steps were taken at that time to secure for him the position which this abdication left open to him. His pretensions were, however, opposed by his cousin, the eldest son of the Duke of Montpensier, and his aunt the Infanta Isabella, but as so many pretenders were called to complicate matters, the claim of Louis Philippe was supported by the majority in favor of the heir of Isabella. Early in 1874 the Prince of Asturias, as he was styled, visited Rome, and was received as a student at the military college at Sandhurst, and witnessed the autumn maneuvers at Aldershot, Dartmouth, and other places in the fall of the year. On Dec. 29, 1874, General Martinez Campos proclaimed the late King Alfonso as King, and a few days later Alfonso left France for Spain, arriving at Madrid Jan. 1, 1875. On Dec. 29, 1875, King Alfonso was crowned at the cathedral of Burgos, and on the 20th of the following month he returned in triumph to the capital at the age of 17. The Original "W." Returns to the Charge.

TO THE EDITOR.—In this province any one who is honest enough to speak or write with tolerable freedom, is sure to create an uproar as Discard was when she threw the apple among the crowd of gossips. I have had a good deal of abuse and abuse about the Chinese has the same effect on the anti-Chinese faction that having a flag bet on a herd of Mexican oxen. But neither the arguments nor the vituperation of my opponents has the slightest degree tended to modify the opinions I expressed in my former letter. I hold that I have taken a correct and unbiased view of the question, and the calm and dispassionate tone of my communication is a striking contrast with the rantings of my opponents. In the first place, I would observe that a great deal of anarchy has been utterly caused, because I am not the person they take me to be—I have no connection whatever with the government. It was accidental that the communication was sent to The Colonist; what determined me to do so was my desire to see the matter put before the public. I have no other motive for expressing my opinions in this journal than the desire to see the matter put before the public. It is unnecessary for me to defend that part of my letter in which I alluded to the existence of a "W." as a class of six or seven persons who were engaged in a conspiracy to get an anti-Chinese bill passed, because I see that others have done it for me. I have no objection to the fact that the prosecution was never carried out, but I do not think it fair to say that the fact of the matter is, that the Chinese were not allowed to give evidence before the Chinese Consul, without the requisites books and papers to refer to. But I will not notice any more the "W." as a class of persons, (nearly) that no member of the government gave evidence before the Chinese Consul, without the requisites books and papers to refer to. "MACHINE" SCHOOL METHODS.

New Individuality of Character May Sometimes Be Destroyed. (Chicago Times.) The people of England are apparently becoming dissatisfied with the graded system in schools which appears to have been imported from this country from Germany and the United States. Mr. M. D. Green has insisted upon his vacating premises being made for him, not because of sympathy, but because he had a right to it. Mr. D. THE WAR.

Widow Bombarded.—Bulgarians Occupy Tarribrod. Continuation of the Bulgarian Success.—The Servians in Full Retreat. BELGRADE, Nov. 23.—Official reports say that King Milan has brought his main force into operation with the Drina and Morava divisions, and that a decisive attack on Silivritza is imminent. It is also stated that King Milan is victorious here, and will agree to an armistice so as to allow a conference of the powers. The bombardment of Widin continued for an hour, without any decisive result. The Bulgarians replied vigorously to the Servian fire. BELGRADE, Nov. 23.—Prince Alexander has sent a dispatch to his father, saying: "We fought all Sunday and spent the night on Dragoman heights, which were carried by storm. The fighting continued to-day in the direction of Tarribrod." BELGRADE, Nov. 23.—Prince Alexander has sent a dispatch to his father, saying: "We fought all Sunday and spent the night on Dragoman heights, which were carried by storm. The fighting continued to-day in the direction of Tarribrod."

THE BALKAN WAR.

COMPLETE COLLAPSE OF THE SERVIANS. Suicide of Their Commander. And Abdication of Their King. Austria Preparing to Take a Hand. BELGRADE, Nov. 24.—General Jovanovic, late commander of the Danubian division, who was dismissed from his command for disobeying orders, committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. The recent disaster to the Servian army, from the defeat before Silivritza down to the occupation of Tarribrod by the Bulgarians, are attributed to his failure to carry out the orders given him. The Servians are continuing their retreat and the main army is now in Servian territory. The troops seem to be demoralized and since the recapture of Tarribrod by the Bulgarians, they have fallen back without offering any resistance to the victorious Prince Alexander. The Bulgarians have occupied all the positions recently held by the Servians in Bulgaria and are now advancing to the frontier. The Servian headquarters are now at Piro. The first class of the landstrum has been summoned for active duty. After completing the muster, the army of King Milan will head a final attack on the Bulgarians. The Russian government has sent a severe note to the Bulgarian government, the status quo ante being restored. The Consuls of the powers at Belgrade held a meeting at Semli to consider the situation of the Balkan territory, a resolution will break out and that King Milan will be deposed. SOFIA, Nov. 24.—The city is wild with excitement over the news from the front stating that Prince Alexander, at the head of the Bulgarian troops, has followed up his victory and is driving the Servians slowly but surely from Bulgarian territory. The latest dispatch says that Prince Alexander stopped the heights of Tarribrod and occupied the city last evening. The Bulgarians made a triumphant entry into the city and was received with enthusiasm by the populace. The Servians attacked the Bulgarians on the morning of the 23rd afternoon. They were repulsed and retired in disorder, crossing the frontier at 5 o'clock near Tarribrod. The Servians are now retiring from their positions at Trn. The Bulgarians have advanced to the frontier. Widin is being shelled by the Servians but has not been set on fire. The Bulgarians continue their advance, prohibiting the passage of eight Austrian troops. BELGRADE, Nov. 25.—A dispatch from Piro, the Servian headquarters, says that the Servians are retreating in great disorder, and are trying to make their way across the frontier wherever they can. The demoralization of the men, it is reported, is such that they are ready to retreat in any direction. The Bulgarians have advanced to the frontier. Widin is being shelled by the Servians but has not been set on fire. The Bulgarians continue their advance, prohibiting the passage of eight Austrian troops.

TOBACCO, Nov. 19.—At Osgoode's yesterday afternoon, a judgment was given for the plaintiff in Schoder & Co. v. Lillis. Seven Hamilton cigar manufacturers entered into a formal agreement not to employ union men or to use union brand or label under a penalty of five hundred dollars. Lillis brought the agreement and was used for penalty of five hundred dollars. The judge held the agreement valid.

Small Debit Court.

TO THE EDITOR.—In reference to the communications that have appeared in The Colonist upon this subject it appears to me that what is wanting is a small debit court, say for sums under $100, which should be held twice a month. If conducted at the city hall under the police magistrate it would meet an urgent requirement. BONAUS.
