THE arm-chair farmer writes knowingly of the amount of money the farmer is making. The city man works seven or eight hours a day—or thinks he does—goes home and eats his seven o'clock dinner, and has a pipe dream how he'd work a farm on seven hours per day, and give the hired man alternate days to see his best girl.
NOT for many years in the history of Watford has there been so much timber brought to town as this winter. Owing to the large quantity of fallen timber from the big storms last year it became necessary to market the logs and the excellent sleighing that prevailed for several weeks gave the opportunity to do so. The G. T. R. yard and Saunders & Son's premises have been full of logs all winter.
LADIES', our spring suits and coats are here, grand display.—SWIFTS'.

THE Tobacco manufacturer is getting the people both going and coming. "A popular smoking tobacco has been sold for years at 10c a package—1-10th of a pound. According to the Act this must be on each package. The packages now on sale are marked 1-10th. This is a cool take-off of ten cents on each pound. They get the grower when he sells and the consumer when he buys.
A SIGNAL CORPS, consisting of twelve young men, has been organized here in connection with the 27th Regiment. Drill Sergeant May, of London, is here to instruct the corps and will remain for one month, giving instruction five nights in each week. A signal corps is an important part of the military tactics of the present day, and when the regiment goes to camp next summer the boys will no doubt give a good account of themselves. Lieut. Fred Brown is in command.
OWING to their being several mild cases of scarlet fever in town, Medical Health officer Dr. Kelly, deemed it wise to give the public school children a holiday for a few days in order to allow the thorough fumigation of the school buildings. The fever patients have been isolated and the type, being light, there is thought to be little danger of the disease spreading. Dr. Kelly made a personal examination of all public school children and found no symptoms whatever of the disease among them. With the strict precautions that are being taken the trouble will soon die out. The patients are progressing favourably.
THE Armory Progress Club passed an enjoyable and interesting evening in one of their well-appointed rooms on Monday last listening to a debate by members of the club on the subject, "Resolved, that Wellington was a greater man than Napoleon Bonaparte." The affirmative was argued by T. L. Swift and F. K. Matthews and the negative by Clarence Brown and R. H. Stapleford. The judges were Rev. S. P. Irwin, Mr. W. H. Shrapnell, and Col. Kenward and they found the arguments presented by the speakers particularly well taken and decision hard to make. Summing up they found in favor of the affirmative by one point.

Daughters of the Empire

Tecumseh Chapter held a very interesting meeting, March 3rd, at Rose Lawn, home of Mrs. E. D. Swift. The house was decorated with the green and the shamrock. Everything bore evidence of the Emerald Isle and in honor of St. Patrick. The Regent presided. Roll call was responded to by quotations from Sir Thomas Moore, the Irish poet. After general business, the following excellent programme was well rendered: Assistant hostess, Mrs. Thomson, read the paper of the day, "What is the meaning of the word Home?" An Irish selection on the gramophone; Japanese Home Life by Mrs. Connolly; Japanese song by Miss Mary Connolly; Reading, Ireland, by Mrs. Swift; Piano selection, Miss Vera Swift; Mr. T. Swift and Miss Vera, instrumental, and to an encore very graciously responded. A dainty luncheon was served and the singing of the National Anthem brought a very pleasant meeting to a close. Next place of meeting, Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald. Mrs. Lowry assisting hostess. The following officers are elected for the year:—Regent, Mrs. Bennett; 1st Vice, Mrs. A. G. Brown; 2nd Vice, Mrs. de Gex; Secretary, Mrs. W. E. Fitzgerald; Treasurer, Mrs. Tye; Standard Bearer, Mrs. Vance; Delegate for Convention held in Toronto in May, Mrs. Lawrence.

The members and friends of the Uttoxeter Methodist Church gathered at the Parsonage, Warwick Village, on Friday evening last and gave their pastor and his wife, Rev. and Mrs. H. F. Kennedy, a great surprise. Not only did they bring their provision baskets, (and these along with their presence and good cheer made an evening very pleasantly spent) but there also came two large loads of grain, which made a very acceptable gift at this time of the year. A very enjoyable evening was spent in music, conversation and refreshments. Rev. Mr. Kennedy made a short address in which he expressed his gratefulness for the pleasant surprise and gift they had given to him and referred to the joy and pleasure it was to Mrs. Kennedy and himself to know that the most kindly and friendly relationship existed between pastor and people.

BROOKE

On account of the storm there was no service in St. James Church last Sunday afternoon.

William H. Hicks, died rather suddenly on Monday morning. He was nicely recovering from an operation for hernia, when he took a sudden change for the worse and passed away as stated. The funeral will be held this (Friday) afternoon, at 2 o'clock, from the family residence, lot 23, con. 11, to the Alvinston cemetery.

Mrs. James Parker passed away on Saturday last in her 49th year. She had been undergoing treatment in London for over 20 years. The remains were brought here for interment and the funeral took place on Tuesday from the home of her brother, Jacob Saunders, 12th line, to the family burying ground on 9 sideroad. Besides a husband she leaves three boys, Absolom, Frank and Arthur (the latter now visiting here) and one daughter, Mary, all of whom live at Morden, Man. She is also survived by six brothers and two sisters, namely, Abraham, of Lacombe, Alta.; Isaac, of Morden, Man.; Jacob, Brooke; Thos., Warwick; Daniel and John, of Brooke; Mrs. Edie and Mrs. Wm. Reid, of London. Rev. S. V. R. Pentland, of the Brooke Methodist circuit, conducted the funeral, which was well attended, considering the unfavorable weather.

One by one the old settlers of the township are passing away. This week we are called upon to record the death of another in the person of Mrs. Robert Crau, who was called to her reward on Monday last, March 2nd, at the advanced age of 81 years. During her long life she enjoyed the best of health until some few months ago when the increasing years began to tell on her, but she remained in fair health until about ten days before her death. She was a native of Aberdeen, Scotland. Her maiden name was Jane McRoberts and she was married in the old land. She came to Canada with her husband over fifty years ago, and settled in Brooke about forty years ago. Her husband predeceased her about sixteen years ago. She was a consistent member of the Presbyterian Church, an exemplary Christian, a good neighbor and a staunch friend. She leaves to mourn her loss three sons, Alexander, Peter and John, of Brooke, and three daughters, Mrs. Davidson, of Dawn, Mrs. Foster, of Brooke, and Mrs. Campbell, of Ekfrid, also fifteen grandchildren. The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon from the residence of her son John, con. 14, where she resided at the time of her death. The Rev. J. C. Foster conducted the service and many neighbors and friends of the family showed their sympathy by attending the last sad rites.

LA GRIPPE'S VICTIMS.

You Can Only Recover From Its After Effects by Enriching the Blood.

Few diseases so shatter the health as la grippe, or influenza. Its victims all tell the same story. They are left despondent, tired, weak and wretched in every way. They have no appetite, ambition or strength; cannot sleep and suffer from headaches, backaches and nervousness. In this weakened condition lies the real danger. The body falls an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia, and even to consumption. Nearly every form of nervous trouble has been known to follow an attack of la grippe. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills give the quickest and most thorough relief from the after effects of this trouble. They build up and purify the blood, drive the poisons out of the system and give strength and tone to the whole body. The following is an example of their power in cases of this kind. Mr. R. A. McLean, Wentworth Station, N. S., says: "Two years ago Herbert E. Freeman, a young boy living with us, was attacked with la grippe. At the time he did not have a strong constitution, and we feared the trouble was settling on his lungs. He was not able to walk fifty yards without being out of breath, and his general vitality was very low. For months he continued in this position, notwithstanding all we did for him. By the time he had used three boxes there was a noticeable improvement, and this was followed by his being able to do light work, and later he had all the strength of a growing boy. His cure was looked upon as remarkable by all who knew him, and I am giving the result in the hope that it may be of benefit to someone else."
Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all medicine dealers or sent by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 by The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

preserving process, but will expose his hard, stony heart. Husbands grown in the tropics of pleasure look very fine, but are usually insipid. The home grown are the best. Select your husband, if possible, from a family tree growing on the sunny side of a church. You will be sure then that he is sound at heart. Unsound husbands like unsound peaches, often have to be sorrowfully cast away.

When the editor of a Missouri newspaper was asked for the reasons for the high cost of living, he wrote the following:—"A gentleman requested that we publish the cause of the high cost of living. Our views in a condensed form are that we've left a lot of timber go to waste and get lumber from foreign countries; we throw away our grease and ashes and buy our soap; we raise too many dogs and buy too many hogs; we raise too many weeds and buy too many vegetables; we catch a five-cent fish with a $4 rod; we build a schoolhouse and send our children off to be educated; we send our boys out with a $40 gun and a $10 dog to hunt five-cent rabbits and ten-cent birds, and lastly we mortgage our homes to buy four-priced automobiles that we don't know how to operate or keep up. It is the cost of "high living," and not the high cost of living that ails this country."

The Beauty of a Clear Skin.—The condition of the liver regulates the condition of the blood. A disordered liver causes impurities in the blood and these show themselves in blemishes on the skin. Farmlee's Vegetable Pills in acting upon the liver act upon the blood and a clear, healthy skin will follow intelligent use of this standard medicine. Ladies, who will fully appreciate this prime quality of these pills, can use them with the certainty that the effect will be most gratifying.

The Living Room

The living room is the one room in the house which, above all others, should be bright and cheerful. If any room must be neglected, let it not be the living room. Have here refined pictures, plenty of books and current literature. This is the place for the piano, the most comfortable chair and cosy corners. Within the precincts of such a room one may shut out the world and forget that there are any troubles to bear. The character of a room depends upon its wall decoration, its carpet, its pictures and its curtains. We should be careful to have these of the right kind as all others are mere accessories. "We could not afford expensive things," said a newly-married couple, "so we chose the comfortable ones," and this idea "comfort" is the secret of all room furnishing.

In New Zealand the servant maid's union demands the establishment of a 64-hour week.

The Canadian Climate

The climate of a country does, to a considerable extent, determine the character of its people. In a warm climate the people are apt to be indolent and lazy, but an atmosphere such as a Canadian winter is not one that offers inducements to the habitual street corner loafer. Zero weather is a far better test of character than any immigration department regulation that was ever invented, and a guarantee that for all time we will be a people of courage, hardihood, manliness and endurance. From the early days our snows have kept away from this country the weaklings, the poor of spirit, the lovers of luxury and ease. The courtiers of France, and the English and Spanish aristocrats rather than face a Canadian winter sailed for the subtropical parts of the American continent and there strove to set up a civilization based upon the enslaved labor of the negro and the Indian.

It is almost phenomenal how suddenly these snows enrich our life. Of a sudden our streets are converted from an ordinary unattractive appearance to a scene of gaiety and healthy outdoor life that cannot be rivalled anywhere else in the world. What sports are there for full-blooded men and women comparable with those of a Canadian city under two feet of snow.

What climate is there anywhere which can bring out the beauty of really healthy and vigorous young womanhood, the flush of color and brightness of eye that bespeaks, the supreme relish of life, as do our keen breezes, our dazzling winter sunshine, the sparkling drifts of our fairy snow?

Every year we are learning better and better the values of this unrivalled climate and the proper way to treat it. Every year we get more and more into the open air and spend less time in our close and overheated rooms; we have discovered that active circulation of the blood is a much better way to secure circulation of the blood than hot air.

The immense economic value of snow—the best possible form of soil preservative, invigorator and stimulant for the productive work of spring and summer—has been too little explained to the public mind.

Take it all in all, we have few things to which we should be more grateful than to the glittering crystals that make our winter a thing of beauty, health and utility.

J. H. Burnham, of Peterboro', has given notice of the following resolution: "That in the opinion of this House, it is desirable that manufactured goods and natural products coming into Canada from any other country where the rate of wages of those employed in the making or raising of the same is below that prevailing in Canada, be subjected to a tariff sufficient to preserve the standard or rate of wages of those in Canada in making or producing like goods and products."

WIRELESS WAVES.

Puzzling Problems With Which Scientists Have to Contend.

What we don't know about wireless telegraphy is still by far the larger part of that science. Practical efforts to use this means of communication are constantly hampered by difficulties that cannot be overcome or only partially overcome by clumsy makeshifts
 because they are not understood.

For example, the characterization of the waves used in wireless telegraphy as artificial is justified because the ether is in a state of constant pulsa-tion with waves of enormous length about whose origin we know nothing or next to nothing. Some of them are due undoubtedly to lightning, but they are continuously rolling in on antennas properly tuned when there is no thunderstorm within thousands of miles.
 It has been suggested that they are of extra terrestrial origin, perhaps the result of electrical disturbances in the sun. Some ingenious speculators have even attributed them to the Martians or some other of our planetary neighbors.

But the fact is that we don't know where they come from or how they are generated. They manifest themselves in the shape of troublesome noises in the telephone receivers at wireless telegraph stations. Another puzzling question, perhaps of more practical importance to the wireless worker, is the action of the weather on his trains of waves. When these signals have long distances to travel the weather
 often plays havoc with them in ways
 as yet not well understood. The different carrying capacity of the ether
 in the daytime and at night is another practical problem still awaiting definite solution.—New York Post.

FLYING BULLETS.

Going Very Fast, They Leave Air Waves and Eddies Behind Them.

If a photograph of a speeding bullet could be taken the print would probably show a space like a body of water marked by what looked like speeding water bugs, each leaving a ripple in its wake. Photographs of projectiles have been snapped in time of peace,
 but it is doubtful if the camera ever caught one as it sped on its mission of death. A bullet speeding at the rate of 3,000 feet a second, which is more than 2,000 miles an hour, makes a great disturbance in the atmosphere and creates air waves, which, of course, are invisible to the naked eye.

If you draw a stick through the water it causes little eddies and waves to trail behind it. The faster you draw the stick the more waves and the wider the angle will it leave. The slower the stick is drawn the fewer waves. Just so the bullet. If it is traveling slowly no waves can be photographed, as apparently there are none. It is only objects traveling at a terrific speed that create any appreciable air waves.

Photographs of a bullet going at a rate of speed less than 1,200 feet a second show no air waves at all. This is an interesting scientific discovery. But anything cutting through the air at a greater rate than this disturbs the atmosphere to such great extent that air waves are formed and can be photographed.—New York Sun.

A Wonderful Bird.

One day a wonderful bird (wife of the famous arctic explorer) home at Christiania. Instantly the window was opened, and in another moment she covered the little messenger with kisses and caresses. The carrier pigeon had been away from the cottage thirty long months, but it had not forgotten the way home. It brought a note from Nansen, stating that all was going well with him and his expedition in the polar region. Nansen had fastened a message to the bird and turned it loose. The frail courier darted out into the blizzard air. It flew like an arrow over a thousand miles of frozen waste and then sped forward over another thousand miles of ocean and plains and forests and one morning entered the window of the waiting mistress and delivered the message
 which she had been awaiting so anxiously.

Caught It.

A man with a very red face met a friend on the street and the following conversation took place:
 "You look warm."
 "Yes; been chasing a hat."
 "Did your hat blow off?"
 "It wasn't my hat! It belonged to someone else—there was a pretty girl
 under it."
 "Did you catch it?"
 "I should say I did. My wife saw me chasing it!"—New York American.

The Poets.

"Poets are born and not made."
 "But they ain't born tagged," opined
 a rural philosopher. "Their fathers, consequently haffer go ahead and eddicate 'em, jest as if they was going to be good for something."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

MURDER TRIALS.

Holland Has a System of Its Own For Dispensing Justice.

A learned and capable jurist has asserted that the French method of legal procedure, which, contrary to our own, presumes an indicted person guilty until he is proved innocent, comes nearer dispensing actual justice than our own system.

But in Holland the courts have, in some respects, a better system than that of the French. The accused in every case has the benefit of the doubt,
 and circumstantial evidence as the only foundation for a plea of conviction is in disfavor.

The Dutch do not have juries, and there is no battle of wits among counsel. All questions, whether by the prosecution or the attorney for the accused, are put to the witness through the judge after he has weighed the justice of the interrogation.

This feature of their system has some pronounced advantages over our own. It eliminates the practice of confusing the witness or the accused by misleading questions. It renders impossible the abominable practice in our courts known as the "browbeating" of witnesses, which unfortunately is permitted to an extent that causes the intelligent observer's blood to boil at times because of its unfairness and cruelty. It makes the solemn business of dispensing justice a common trade
 instead of a heavenly vocation.—Sioux City Tribune.

VENUS HOT AND COLD.

One Half the Planet Burns, While the Other Half Always Freezes.

Venus, the "evening star" of the poets, the most brilliant object in our western sky, that planet which revolves around the sun in a path inside ours, must if inhabited have beings of a very different type from ourselves,
 for Venus has always had one hemisphere turned toward the sun and one turned away from it. Consequently it is always daytime and summer on one-half of Venus, always night and winter on the other half.

As Venus is more than 23,000,000
 miles nearer the sun than we are, it must be twice as hot on her day side as it ever is at our equator. And on her night side, where a ray of sunlight has never shone, it must be so cold that the air is liquefied, if not solidified. There must be a constant uprush of hot air from the scorched surface and a corresponding inrush of icy air from the frigid side. Along the boundary between the two hemispheres this must cause a violent and perhaps almost perpetual rainfall.

Seen through a small telescope or field glass Venus often appears like a crescent. Then are visible the projections that can be nothing but mountains of great height.—New York World.

Scared Out of the Duel.

One day M. Edmond About called upon Grisier, the most celebrated fence-ing master of his day. "I am in a quandary," said About. "I allowed myself yesterday the pleasure of a joke in bad taste, and a duel is to be the result. I know nothing whatever about fencing, and, as you can see, I am fat. Will you give me a lesson, so that I may not make myself too ridiculous?" The lesson was given, but About proved a very poor pupil. On his way out he saw a photograph of Grisier. "I suppose," he said, "I must not ask you for one of these?" "With the greatest pleasure," said the fence-ing master. And, with a chuckle, Grisier wrote across the photograph, "To M. Edmond About, the best pupil I have ever had." A few hours afterward the seconds of About's adversary called on the writer, saw the photograph on the mantelpiece and, fearing for their friend at the hands of so redoubtable a swordsman, arranged the affair without any duel.

Birds as Large Eaters.

It may not be thought that of all animals birds are among the largest eaters. This means, of course, in proportion to their weight. Some birds are known to consume two and one-half times their weight of food in twenty-four hours. The heron, which has a light weight of four pounds in spite of its size, is a striking example. One was lately caught which had just swallowed two trout of one and one-half and two pounds. Wild pigeons are among the foremost eaters, and they make a most copious repast whenever an abundance of food is found. Thus a single pigeon picked up a thousand grains of wheat in one day.—Scientific American.

Peevish, pale, restless, and sickly children owe their condition to worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator will relieve them and restore health.

PERILOUS HUGGING.

The Embrace of a Kangaroo Does Not Leave Pleasant Memories.

Notwithstanding the kangaroo's popular reputation for speed, he is easily overtaken in the bush by a good horse (they say) within half a mile. A capable kangaroo dog—a lean, swift beast, a cross between a greyhound and a mastiff, bred to course and kill—soon runs him to bay. Without dogs
 it is the custom to kill with a cudgel.
 This is often accomplished by the sportsman from the back of his horse.
 Dismounted, however, with the kangaroo waiting alertly for attack, it is sometimes a perilous venture to come to close quarters. A slip, and the sportsman finds himself at once in a desperate situation.

One of the lumberjacks with whom we rested in the shade of the blackbutt showed us the scars of an encounter.
 He had ridden the kangaroo down,
 said he, and, being in haste to make an end of the sport, he had caught up the first likely stick he could discover and he had stepped quickly and confidently in, and he had struck hard and accurately. And the next instant, caught off the ground, he was struggling breast to breast in the hug of the creature, frantically aware that he must escape before the deadly hind foot had devastated him.

"My club broke," he exclaimed, "and the boomer got me!"

There were long scars on his back and shoulders, the which we were not very sorry to see, for we could not make out why any man should wish to kill a kangaroo for sport.—Norman Duncan in Harper's.

A Spoiled Scene.

E. H. Sothern once found his wit fall him in time of need. It was in the fourth act of "The Lady of Lyons." Sothern played Claude Melnotte, and Virginia Harned was cast as Pauline Beausant, the villain, was pursuing Pauline, and she cried loudly for help.
 Claude is supposed to dash to her rescue and catch the fainting Pauline in his arms. Sothern dashed on to the stage, but slipped and slid, sitting down near the footlights. Losing his presence of mind, he declaimed the line: "Look up, Pauline. There is no danger." As Virginia Harned was standing, this was, of course, an impossibility. By this time the audience was in an uproar, and when Arthur Lawrence, who played Beausant scornfully said, "You are beneath me,"
 the amusement of the audience knew no bounds.

Marksmen and Rifles.

No marksman ever holds a rifle "as solidly as a rock." He may think he does, but Arms and the Man insists that the best shot gives merely the "necessary impulse to the trigger
 while the rifle is moving in the right direction"—that is, when he takes deliberate aim. The snap shooter works apparently by a sort of instinct. Firing successfully at a running deer
 through the woods and over broken ground implies a knack like that of thrusting one's finger toward an indicated object.—New York Times.

Natural Inference.

A schoolteacher was reading a story to a class of very small folks and paused at the words "lay brother," to explain their meaning. "Does any one know what 'lay brother' means?" she asked.
 For a moment a row of perplexed little faces looked up at her. Then one face brightened suddenly, and a small voice piped, "Yes, ma'am, it's a rooster!"—Youth's Companion.

WISBEACH

Miss Ethel M. Bolton spent the weekend at her home, Strathroy.

On account of the blizzard on Monday there was no school in S. S. No. 10, Warwick.

Mr. Fred Eastman, Arkona, made a business trip to Kerwood on Saturday and on his way home called on his aunt, Mrs. John Watson.

A sleigh load from the Main Road and a few folks from 2nd line, N.E.R., spent a very pleasant evening at Mr. David Wilson's, Adelaide.

We are sorry to hear of the accident that Mr. Will Watson, jr., met with on Saturday. While skidding logs at the mill in Arkona, one of the logs slipped, injuring his leg.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Marshall, 2nd line north, entertained about forty young people last week, very pleasantly, in honor of their cousins, who leave for their home in Michigan shortly.

About twenty young people from Arkona, and a few from this vicinity spent a very sociable evening at Mr. Geo. Conkey's on Friday last, with music and dancing. After lunch, games, and a merry little hop they all returned home in the wee sma' hours of the morning.

A very enjoyable evening was spent on Wednesday, Feb. 25th, when the friends of Mr. W. Eastman, Arkona, gathered at his home to celebrate his 57th birthday. Precisely at seven o'clock the guests sat down to a dainty fowl supper.

The table was beautifully decorated with carnations and smilax. Mr. Eastman was the recipient of many beautiful presents, among which was a valuable fur coat, presented to him by three children, Mrs. L. Miner and Ernest, of Sarnia, and Fred of Arkona. The remainder of the evening was enjoyably spent in singing, music and games, after which the guests departed, wishing Mr. Eastman many happy returns of the day.

When Lines Get Mixed and Letters Blur You Need Glasses

PUTTING off getting Glasses when you need them only makes matters worse. Nature sounds a warning when letters blur and lines get mixed. It is better, far better, to attend to it then and there than to let it go and strain the eyes. All the skill we possess is yours. We take pains with every case, such pains as you will appreciate. It is the kind of work that will give you satisfaction. Come any time.

Concrete Roads Exceed Farmer's Expectations

THIS LETTER FROM MR. GEO. W. BURT, of Redford, Wayne County, Michigan, shows how well satisfied the farmers of that section are with concrete roads. Nearly one hundred miles have been built in Wayne County.

"Mr. Edward N. Hines, Board of County Road Commissioners, Wayne County, Detroit, Mich.

Dear Sir:—Our concrete roads are far ahead of the expectations of the majority of us farmers. Where we used to be two days marketing fifty bushels of produce, we now market twice as much in one day, and can go to the city anytime we want to. We do not have to wait till the roads are good so we can go. Also, our horses and waggons will last twice as long.

Hoping you will keep right on building these roads, and that the county will stand back of this movement, I remain, Yours truly, (Sgd.) Geo. W. Burt Redford, Wayne County, Mich.

Concrete Roads are the best, cheapest and most satisfactory roads that can be built. Best, because they permit bigger loads, increase land values and improve conditions generally. Cheapest, because they are permanent and require practically no repairs, which permits road taxes to be spent in building more good roads. Most satisfactory, because they are open to traffic every day in the year, lower cost of marketing and cost of living and increase the farmer's profits.

Good Roads literature telling all about concrete roads will be sent, free to

SEVERE BRONCHIAL COUGH

Doctors Feared Lung Trouble, Restored to Health by Vinol.

The medical profession does not believe that lung troubles are inherited, but a person may inherit a weakness or tendency to them.

Mrs. Kate Heckman, Springfield, Ohio, says: "A few years ago I was in a very bad run-down condition, and the physician told me I had consumption. I tried another physician, and he told me I had ulcers on my right lung. I quit the physicians and started on 'Vinol.' Today I am perfectly healthy, and that is why I recommend 'Vinol.'"

Vinol soothes and heals the inflamed surfaces and always the cough, Vinol creates an appetite, strengthens the digestive organs and gives the patient strength to throw off incipient pulmonary diseases.

Try a bottle of Vinol with the understanding that your money will be returned if it does not help you.

A Ring and A Letter

The Latter Was More Valuable Than the Former

By DWIGHT NORWOOD

Going to my room at my hotel one morning after breakfast, I was surprised to see a young lady coming out. I glanced at the number on the door, wondering if I were not about to make a mistake. No; there were the figures 24, and No. 24 was my room.

"Where are you going, sir?" she asked laughingly.

"Into my room."

"Your room?"

"Yes, my room."

"I beg your pardon, this is my room."

"I beg to differ with you."

The young lady was becoming angry. Her cheeks flushed, and her eyes flashed. At that period of my life a pretty girl showing fight was an attractive object to me. Now, an elderly woman under the same circumstances is just the reverse. I was amused at this young lady's heat, especially since I knew she was wrong.

"What is the number of your room?" I asked her.

"No. 24."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, of course I'm sure. Don't you suppose I know the number of my room?"

What should I do? I couldn't very well go into the room with the lady to investigate matters. Noticing a speaking tube for the use of the employees of the hotel, I said to the girl:

"Suppose you ask the clerk to give you the number of your room."

"I'll do no such thing. Do you suppose I'm going to let him think I've lost my senses?"

"Perhaps I am the one that is mistaken. I'll ask him myself."

I stepped to the tube, whistled, and, receiving attention, said:

"Give me the number of my room, Eldridge."

The young lady was not so far from the tube but that she could hear the reply:

"No. 24, Mr. Eldridge."

The young girl's look of astonishment was very amusing. She came for the tube like a whirlwind, scarcely giving me time to get out of her way.

"What's the number of Miss Chalmers' room?" she asked.

"What name?"

"Chalmers—Marian Chalmers."

"One moment, please."

"She is evidently consulting the records. Presently the reply came:

"Miss Chalmers' room is 34."

I have never seen a madder girl. Without a word to me she strode to a staircase and disappeared. I went into my room. There was nothing of mine in it except a suit case, and that was where it would not be noticed. On the porcelain washstand was a ring and beside it a letter addressed in a feminine hand to Charles P. Atwood, U. S. A. It was sealed and stamped, ready for the post. I was not willing to trust my reputation in the hands of so impetuous a person, so, catching up both ring and letter, I hurried downstairs and gave them to the clerk for safe keeping. I told him the circumstance connected with my turning them in and asked him not to notify Miss Chalmers of their receipt till I asked him to do so.

"When the young lady misses them I think we shall have a cyclone," I remarked.

"Quite probably," he said, with a smile.

I returned to my room and had not been ten minutes when I received a message from the clerk that Miss Chalmers would like to meet me in the public parlor at once. I gave her a little time to cool, then went to the parlor.

"Through my mistake," she said, "I left a letter and a ring in your room. Will you kindly give them to me?"

"Here is the key to the room. You may go or send there to recover your property."

"Please do give me the letter," she said in a pleading tone. "You may keep the ring."

This was adding insult to injury, but I did not refuse. I handed her the letter, and she turned on her heel and left him. But I was becoming every moment charmed with this wayward creature.

"You are inclined to be complimentary," I replied.

There was something connected with the letter that deprived Miss Chalmers of any reasonableness she may have possessed in her calmer moments. She plunged deeper into the quicksand.

"Do tell me if you have posted my letter."

"I assure you that I have not done anything of the kind."

This seemed to give her some relief. "I'll do this for you," I said. "I'll go to my room and if I find anything there belonging to you I'll bring it to you."

"Will you? Oh, how kind! I knew you for a gentleman the moment I laid eyes on you."

"Indeed!" I replied with difficulty, restraining a smile.

In order to preserve the letter if not the spirit of truth, I went to my room, then to the hotel office and asked the clerk to give me the ring. He did so, and I returned with it to the young lady, who was impatiently waiting for me.

"Here is your ring," I said, handing it to her.

"The letter?"

"It is not there."

"Oh, heavens!" she moaned.

I don't pretend to excuse myself for my action on this occasion, except on the ground that "all's fair in love and war." And this excuse may be far-fetched. From the lady's action, I fancied that this Mr. Atwood was an object of interest to Miss Chalmers, and my own interest in her was developing with lightning rapidity.

"Are you quite sure," I asked, "that you did not post it?"

"No, I did not, thank goodness, but I nearly did. I put it into a letter box, but I held on to one corner and didn't drop it."

"Are you fearful of its reaching the wrong person?" I asked, throwing sympathy into my voice.

"I'm fearful of its reaching the right person."

"Can't you write a letter recalling it?"

"The person for whom it was intended starts for the Philippines tomorrow morning. But that isn't the chief difficulty in the way. To recall it would expose a contemptible weakness."

"A lady is always privileged to change her mind, you know."

"If she says 'No' a change may be excusable, but if she says 'Yes' it's a very different matter."

My conscience, which should have restrained me in holding this advantage over the girl and permitting her to tell her affairs to a stranger, was really growing weaker all the while under the excuse I have offered. For I was becoming very anxious to discover whether all was fixed between my charmer and this army man. Her last statement was a dead giveaway. It was now plain to me that the letter in question was an acceptance and that that acceptance was regretted. Such being the case, the pleasure I had taken in tormenting her ceased, and I began to plan how I could return her property without humiliating myself.

"I have an idea," I said, pretending to think very hard.

"About what?" she asked eagerly.

"What has become of your letter?"

"Do tell me."

"No; should I be mistaken you will meet with a disappointment. Remain here for a few minutes while I make an investigation."

She followed me eagerly with her eyes as I left the room. I went to the clerk of the hotel and asked him to take the letter I had given him to Miss Chalmers' room and leave it on the dresser. He assented, and on his return I asked him to send a maid to the room and bring it to me. When the maid did so I took her with me to the parlor and told her to give it to Miss Chalmers.

The look of relief on the lady's face was a sight to behold.

"Where did you find it?" she asked the maid.

"On the dresser in room 34, miss."

"Are you sure?"

"Yes, miss."

"I can explain it," I said, continuing my Ananias performance. "When you met me this morning you were very much rattled. Indeed, you said some very unkind things to me."

"Forgive me."

"You must have thought you left the letter in my room, whereas it was all the while on your dresser."

"I wonder if I did."

"I am certainly very happy to be the instrument for the return of that which you seem to prize so highly."

"I wish I could reward you for your kindness and make up for my horrid treatment of you."

"You can."

"How?"

"By permitting this episode to result in a permanent acquaintance."

"I live in Chicago, and if you are ever in that city I should be happy to have you call on me."

"I go there frequently."

I had never been there in my life, but this was the only truth I told on that eventful day, for during the next four months I did go there frequently for no other purpose than to court Miss Chalmers.

After our wedding I made a confession to my wife. I have said that she was mad when she disputed with me about the room in the hotel, but that mad was not a circumstance to the mad she developed at my confession.

THE HANGMAN'S ROBE.

Dennis Didn't Like It, So He Sold It to "Old Cain."

James Berry was not so well paid for his services as his French confrere, M. Antoine Delbler, who draws $500 a year, while his four assistants have a similar amount to divide between them. Sanson, the first executioner to wield the guillotine, was originally paid $1,500 a year, but when executioners were appointed in each department this was reduced to $800.

Before the revolution the legal tariff in France was 25 shillings for a beheading, 10s. 8d. for a burning at the stake, and the same amount for a hanging, with allowances for the erection of a scaffold or the provision of fuel.

One of James Berry's predecessors for a brief period, donned a uniform when at work. In 1785, according to a contemporary chronicler, the sheriff of London were "so pleased with the excellent mode in which Edward Dennis, their hangman, performed his duties that they presented him with a very elegant official robe—a kiltcoat, in fact, as eastern potentates term a similar garb of honor. Dennis found this inconvenient when at work on the scaffold and sold it to a well known character of those days, 'Old Cain, who, having set up as a fortune teller wanted a robe to complete the costume in which he received dupes.'"—London Chronicle.

Effects of Time.

Mr. Evans entered a New York restaurant and saw a friend seated at one of the tables.

"Hello, Lovell," he said, "how are you?"

"Oh, pretty well," replied Lovell.

"What are you doing now?" inquired Evans.

"Well, when I came in here," said Lovell, "about two hours ago I was not in business, but I've changed since then. I'm a waiter now."—Pulitzer's Magazine.

Cheese Aged by Electricity

A Dutch electrician in Rotterdam has hit upon a unique way of aging cheese. If you are going to have a party, for instance, and you do want some nice old cheese, go right ahead and make it fresh, and then apply electricity.

It seems that if currents are passed through a fresh cheese for twenty-four hours, that the cheese at the end of that time is just as good as old.

Later on much is expected from this in the way of being able through electricity to give any cheese any age or any taste that is required.

Henry Ford, the Detroit multi-millionaire automobile manufacturer, purposes distributing $10,000,000 among his employees. Mr. Ford is true to his name. In the dictionary, ford means "to come across."

Jackrabbits appear on the menu cards of New York cafes as short grass deer. The flavor is much the same, but you would scarcely recognize the price.

From Old Subscribers.

Daniel Rundle, Shebo, Sask., writes:—"Please find enclosed $1.00 for a year's subscription to the Guide-Advocate. It is as good as a weekly letter, I believe better, for a person gets the news from the whole district when the paper reaches here. I wish you a prosperous year."

James McClure, Hartshorn, Alta., Feb. 17th.—"Please find enclosed one dollar ($1.00) for renewal of the Guide. The weather here is pleasant although for the past two weeks it has been 40 below zero. I see by the Guide, Watford is improving fast and I wish you and the town prosperity, in the passing year."

Because a 17-year-old girl at Trivoli-Italy, went to the movies to see the tango after her mother—consequent upon Papal edict—had forbidden her to go, the mother beat her so severely that she died.

Joseph Hagan, one of the staff of the Parkhill Gazette, had his right hand severely burned Wednesday. In drawing a can of gasoline from a steel barrel, a quantity of the gasoline saturated his clothes on his right side. While in the kitchen of N. E. McKinnon's restaurant, in sport, one of his chums lighted a match, the fumes of gasoline caught on fire in a flash and he was in flames. The flames mounted two or three feet in the air. Ready hands grabbed him and forced him out of doors where they rolled him in the snow and swept snow over him, which quenched the flames. The palm and back of his right hand was badly burned. His face fortunately escaped injury. He will likely be laid up several weeks.

Millers Worm Powders are par excellence the medicine for children who are found suffering from the ravages of worms. They immediately alter the stomachic conditions under which the worms subsist and drive them from the system, and, at the same time, they are tonic in their effect upon the digestive organs, restoring them to healthful operation and ensuring immunity from further disorders from such a cause.

Making Home Happy

The husband has something to do to make his home a happy one, as well as the wife. When she tries to please the one she loves best of all in the wide world—the one she clings to, though she must leave father, brothers and sisters, and many loving friends for his sake, and perhaps endure hardships never before thought of—what harm will it do him if he sometimes gives her proper need of praise? A married woman loves the attention of her husband just as well as the young lady does her lover; and if she is a true wife she certainly is just as deserving of it. And if all wives received this kindly sympathy, which is truly their right, there would be fewer sorrowing hearts and sad faces in the world than there are now.

Several women are seen daily on the New York speedway driving fast trotting horses.

A Smile or Two

Friend—So your husband has been deceiving you, eh? Mrs. Henpeck—Yes, the wretch! I used to give him a dime for his car fare every day, and I find he's been walking to the office and spending the money.—Life.

They had broken a wishbone together. "What was it you wished?" laughed she. "I wished that you'd let me kiss you; Now what was your wish?" said he. Her eyes fell—she paused a moment, while her blushes deeper grew. "My wish was," she prettily stammered, "That what you wish'd would come true."

"What makes you so late?" asked his mother. "The teacher kept me in because I couldn't find Moscow on the map of Europe," replied Johnny. "And no wonder you couldn't find Moscow. It was burned down in 1812. It's an outrage to treat a child that way."

It was at the dinner table, and the hostess addressed her husband's brother: "Do have another piece of pie, William."

"Why, really, I've already had two; but it's so good, I believe I will have another."

"Ha, ha! Mother's a winner," said little Frank, excitedly. She said she'd bet you'd make a pig of yourself."

On a bright spring morning Adam and Eve were taking a stroll through the shady bowers of the Garden of Eden. "My dear," said Adam, continuing the discussion of the fashions likely to be in vogue for the following fall season, "what system of dressmaking do you favor?"

"Well," replied Eve, thoughtfully, "they all have their merits, but the latest system is good enough for me."—Proof.

This note was sent to a teacher by a mother to explain her son's absence from school: "Dear Mum: Please excuse Johnny today. He will not be at school. He is acting as time keeper for his father. Last night you gave him this iXmple. If a field is four miles square how long will it take a man walking three miles an hour to walk two and a half times around it? Johnny ain't no man, so we had to send his daddy. They left early this morning, and my husband said they ought to be back late to-night, 'tho it would be hard goin'." Dear Mum, please make the next problem about ladies, as my husband can't afford to lose the day's work. I don't have no time to loaf, but I can spare a day off occasionally better than my husband can.—Respy' yrs. "Mrs. Jones."

Dad's Dope

If a young man marries a slender girl and she develops into a heavy-weight in after years, he can see where he got more than he bargained for.

Speaking of eugenic marriages, a union between one of the girls on the magazine covers and the athletic youth who poses for the union underwear advertisements would come pretty close to physical perfection.

The Ottawa barbers' union has passed a resolution prohibiting any member from working at his trade while under the influence of liquor. This "safety first" movement will relieve customers from resorting to saloons next.

Texas dairy farmers have constructed a short railway to convey their products to market. The road is locally known as "The Milky Way."

The Late Mrs. James Harrower

(Winnipeg Free Press)

The death of Mrs. James Harrower, aged 70 years, occurred at 10 o'clock Sunday morning, after an illness of two weeks, from bronchitis. Mrs. Harrower was one of the early settlers on the west side of the Red river, in Kildonan. She was born in 1834 in the state of New Jersey, and moved with her parents and family to the then unsettled wilderness of Ontario, known as the County of Lambton, near the town of Watford. She was married there in 1854 to Mr. Harrower, and a few years later Mr. and Mrs. Harrower, with a few friends and relatives, packed their belongings and started for the west, making the whole of the long journey in wagons. They settled on a farm in the Red river district. From there they moved into Winnipeg and resided on Market street near King street, where the Steele-Briggs house now stands. Later they went to Shoal Lake, where they started ranching. Mr. Harrower died there 21 years ago, after serving a number of years as M. P. P. for that district. The widow remained on the ranch until last December, when she came to Winnipeg to spend the winter with her daughter, Mrs. P. R. Lamb, 284 Austin street. She contracted a cold two weeks ago and died Sunday of bronchitis. The deceased leaves a family of three sons and four daughters; J. D. Harrower,

Ford Motor Company Breaks Record.

Ford, Ont., Feb. 1914.—A. N. Lawrence, sales manager of the Ford Motor Company of Canada, Limited, reports that Tuesday, February 17, was a record day for the great automobile factory at Ford, Ontario. On that day the Ford plant built 105 cars and shipped 129. This is the largest production and the greatest activity for any one day in the history of the Canadian plant.

"This is naturally a great satisfaction in this achievement," says Mr. Lawrence, "for it shows the healthy state of our business and it illustrates our steady but rapid growth. However, I think it is of much greater significance, because it reflects something of the sound business conditions of the Dominion. It is enough to make any one feel optimistic about the future."

"In the States attention has been called recently to the large number of unemployed men in the industrial centers. That condition does not always necessarily indicate a wide-spreading business apathy. In a small way we have had somewhat the same experience as Detroit and for the same general reasons. Thousands of men have applied for work at the parent plant in Highland Park and at our own factory at Ford, Ontario. We sometimes have as many as 200 applicants in a day. But this is due to the extraordinary publicity given to the Ford business, its size and its prosperity. Detroit has been filled with workmen lured to the city by the nation-wide knowledge of its excellent industrial conditions due to the growth of the motor-car business. So, too, workmen have been drawn to us on the other side of the river. It is an indication of prosperity, at that point at least, and not of depression."
