A Los Angeles paper reports that a new industry has been created out of Spanish moss grown on the coast of the Gulf of Mexico. It has been demonstrated that this vegetable hair serves as well as wool or feathers for stuffing mattresses, pillows, cushions, dolls chairs and so on. SUCCESSFUL MISSIONARY BANQUET

In spite of the unfavorable condition of the weather and the roads on Thursday evening last, there was a splendid representation of men of the missionary committees of Group 3, of Lambton Presbytery, at the missionary banquet in St. Andrew's schoolroom. Rev. H. V. Workman, convener of the group was in charge of the program, the main features of which were the speeches of Rev. G. N. Hazen, D.D., London, and Rev. J. H. McVicar, D.D., lately returned from Honan, China. Dr. Hazen presented in a very lucid and forcible address, the missionary situation of the United Church of Canada, at the present time. He explained what was meant by the Maintenance and Extension Fund of the Church, emphasizing the fact that it was the budget which would cover the Home and Foreign Mission work and the general financial obligation of the church at large. He expressed a desire to see every member and adherent of the church take a fair share in extending the work of the Kingdom.

Dr. McVicar gave an instructive and inspiring address, showing how the current of life in the Christian religion is flowing into the lives of men in Canada and in other lands. He could speak from actual experience. Even though he had stood under the brandished swords of heathen men he had also the joy of seeing men give evidence of having received the current of life that is flowing from the Saviour. He made a strong appeal for help to spread Christianity from pole to pole.

During the summer, while the London road was being paved, the trucks carrying the materials for the work drove through the Mandamin side road. In consequence it was badly torn up. The road is now closed for repairs.

French Fascists Organized

French Fascism declared itself openly in Paris at a huge Sunday gathering of delegations from all parts of France. Thousands rallied to the call of the president of the "Young Patriots" for the ceremony of presentation of the colors.

As an organized national political force this was the Fascists' first public manifestation. It was made the occasion for a solemn announcement of their program, "War on Communism."

The French "Blue Shirts" or "Troops of Order" as they call themselves, declared through their spokesman, for "authority and discipline" and swore an oath of allegiance, promising to follow to the death the leaders of order in the fight against what they consider forces of disorder.

Antonio Redier declared all the Nationalists leagues are united in a common cause and are ready at any given moment to strike together and fight shoulder to shoulder. Cries of "Dictator, Dictator" punctuated his speech.

Deer Hunting Fatalities

Within 36 hours three hunters were killed in the neighborhood of Renfrew, Ontario. These were William Sly, Martin Dahi, and A. Ehminsky, the latter having been accidentally killed by his son. The father was mistaken for a deer and shot through the knee, bleeding to death before assistance could be procured.

A Railway Strike Possible

The growing resentment, especially in London, among the members of the National Union of Railwaymen against non-unionists has culminated in the adoption of a resolution by the Metropolitan delegates by which they decided to ask their branches for consent to an unofficial strike early in December. It is admitted that 5,000 new members were secured recently in London alone.

Representatives of the railway companies are pressing for a reduction in wages in London and other industrial areas of 4 shillings, and in rural areas of 6 shillings. The men propose increases, etc., which, it is asserted, would add £45,000,000 to the cost of the companies.

The first issue of the paper, a mimeographed sheet entitled "Our Dawn," makes brief announcements as to the activities of pioneer "patrols" which are evidently organized along the same lines as the Boy Scouts, and makes an attack upon the British Empire Steel Corporation of Nova Scotia, calling upon the miners of Canada and the United States to unite to do battle with "the octopus."

Brunt, and after singing a hymn, Rev. R. A. Brook led in prayer. The scripture lesson was read responsively. The secretary, Mrs. J. H. Richardson, read the minutes of last meeting. Mrs. Chas. Johnson read an interesting clipping on the French work, and Miss Mildred Richardson favored with a violin solo. Mrs. Edgar gave a reading "When we kept Thanksgiving"; this was followed by a solo by Rev. R. A. Brook entitled "I'll go where you want to me go, dear Lord." Mrs. Watson gave a short reading on the Japan work and this was followed by an address on Missions by Rev. R. A. Brook; Mrs. R. Galbraith gave a recitation "Tenement Row," which was well given. After the singing of a hymn the meeting closed to meet in December with Mrs. Seymour Langford. A delicious luncheon was then served by the hostess and committee in charge.

In spite of the bad weather on Saturday afternoon a good number of little kiddies gathered in the Anglican Hall for an indoor picnic. A splendid program was given: a duet by Kathleen Bourne and Helen Glover; solos by Beryl and Edla Tedball and Joan Bourne; Miss Isabel Chittick gave an instrumental solo; Rev. Mr. Deihl an interesting talk, and after singing some children's hymns, games were indulged in. Lunch followed the afternoon's fun. All went home to wait patiently for next year's indoor picnic.

An event long to be remembered by the Mission Circle was the social evening held Wednesday, Nov. 11th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Ball. A splendid program was rendered as follows: piano duet by Helen Glover and Kathleen Bourne; solo by Miss Beatrice Foster; violin duet by Stanley and Fred Johnson; a reading by Mrs. John Johnson on "What you think you are"; a vocal duet by Miss Eva Wright and Irene Eastbrook. Rev. R. A. Brook gave an inspiring talk on "The importance of a margin." After singing a hymn all divided into groups called by the names of flowers. The contest were well represented by each group, some worthy of mention were the Sunflower race for boys, also the Lily race for girls. The group scoring the highest number of points were the Tulip, they received a lovely box of candy which was enjoyed by all. A box was then packed with clothing and Christmas cheer valued at $20.00 to be sent to a school at Pt. Arthur. A bounteous lunch served by the hostess and committee in charge then brought this delightful evening to a close.

The year 1924 has been the most encouraging for Canadian flax growers since 1920. The growing and reaping conditions in western Ontario, were practically all the Canadian flax is at present produced, were very favorable, with the result that an exceptionally high yield of fibre and seed has been obtained. Some commercial areas have produced as high as 339 pounds of fibre and 16 bushels of mill-run seed per acre.

A great part of the potato crop in the nearby region was in the ground under frost and snow during the recent severe weather, but reports during the last few days affirm them firm and untouched by frost and all being rapidly gathered into the pits and cellars. On many farms are seen whole orchards just laden with most bountiful crop of fine apples, but all perfectly useless owing to the several severe frosts. A great many farmers did not harvest sufficient for their own use.

Before county judge Albert Taylor on Monday afternoon, George Lee, Wyoming garage man, elected speedy trial and entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of perjury, Wednesday, November 15, was fixed as the date of trial. The charge resulted from a recent police court hearing at Petrolia in which George Sowa, Sarnia township, was charged with uttering a forged promissory note. The name of Lee appeared on the note as a security endorsement, but Lee denied that it was his signature. Subsequent to that he is said to have admitted that he did sign the note. His case was sent up for trial following a preliminary hearing in Sarnia last week.

To awaken in the night and find her month-old infant daughter dead in bed beside her was the horrifying experience of a mother near Owen Sound this week. The baby had been accidentally suffocated by being smothered by the bed clothes or having the mother lie too close to it. The Coroner decided no inquest was necessary, but issued a warning to parents of the danger of having young babies sleeping with them. Children of all ages should not habitually sleep with adults, but should have their own beds. Babies should never under any circumstances be taken into bed by the parents. Even a clothes basket makes an admirable bed for the infant, and should be placed either near the bed or in the next room.

READ, MARK, LEARN

"Blessed is he that understandeth, for he that wondereth shall have power."—A saying of Christ's from a papyrus fragment recently found in Egypt.

The increase in parcel post rates, recently noted in these columns is considerable. The old rate for parcels for delivery within the twenty mile limit was five cents for the first pound. It will now be 10. Inside the province the rate will be 15 cents for the first pound instead of ten. The rates to other provinces have been increased 8 to 13 cents. There are increases also for the additional pounds. But while the rates for smaller parcels have been increased the higher rates are in some cases not as high. It used to cost 22c to send an 11-lb parcel in the 20 mile area. The price for 15 lbs. will be 30 cents. In Ontario an 11-lb. parcel cost 50 cents; a 15-lb. parcel was now sent for 55 cents. There is also a reduction on large parcels to Manitoba and Saskatchewan and Quebec and the Maritimes. There's an increase to Alberta and B. C.

Wild Ducks Perish of Cold

A tragedy of the marshes of Manitoba was revealed by hunters returning from their favorite shooting haunts. As a result of the unreasonable weather which has prevailed throughout the Province thousands of ducks and other game birds died from the cold. The birds, mostly young, are said to have frozen in the waters of the marshes, when their ice-covered wings prevented them from flying to shelter.

Protection Sans Obstruction

An old farmer attended a big picnic and stayed over to watch the dancing at night. He had been in the world much, and he was deep impressed with the girls' clothes at that dance.

"Some of the ladies' clothes here put me in mind of Regency," he said.

Somebody asked him why.

"Well," said he, "it's this: they appear to protect the private without obstructing the view."

A Wonderful Invention

A young St. Marys inventor (Tommy) Thomson has just patented a device which when used in connection with an internal combustion engine has the wonderful quality of making known to the operator the exact condition of the valves, piston and cylinders of the car, which is being examined. The invention is very compact and can be carried upon the person with ease. It is a wonderfully efficient machine and in use has been the means of saving much time and labor in Mr. Thomson's garage as a test with this gadget quickly determines the cause of the trouble in dismantling the mechanism in many cases.

Rural Mail Carriers

Instructions have been issued by the Postmaster General that provided the patrons do not object, Rural Mail Delivery Contractors are to be allowed the following holidays:—New Year's Day, Good Friday, Victoria Day, Dominion Day, Labor Day, Thanksgiving Day. This includes Rural Mail Contractors who serve intermediate Post Offices enroute, but Rural Mail Contractors who serve contracts include, in addition to rural delivery, the side services between Post Offices and Railway Stations, must provide for the service between the Post Offices and the Stations. It does not, however, apply to contractors for routes on which there is no rural delivery service which are known as stage routes, nor does it apply to Contractors for services between Post Offices and Railway Stations, known as side services. Such services must be performed as usual on the days mentioned.

READING ALOUD

The season of the shortest days and the longest evenings has come, and the leisure hours which are always given so largely to outdoor recreation during the summer will now be devoted more to indoor reading. The occasion seems a fitting one to say a word on behalf of a practise never so popular as it ought to be, and perhaps somewhat less followed now than in former times; the practise of reading aloud. The habit, like mercy, blesses him that gives and him that takes. To read to one's self is often to be satisfied with a knowledge of words as they sound. There is nothing which will so surely correct mispronunciation. Nearly every reader will recall words which he has never known by sight, but with which he has never taken the trouble to acquire a speaking acquaintance. While he reads only to himself he can slur them over or give them some makeshift pronunciation, which serve to identify them and saves the trouble of consulting a dictionary. But let him adapt the practise of reading aloud, and sooner or later some of these old verbal acquaintances will meet him face to face, to reproach him with his neglect and shame him with his ignorance of the names. In the cultivation of the voice lies a further recommendation. The practise of reading aloud will bring increased vocal power, and tends to establish the habit of an agreeable inflection and a distinct enunciation. Lastly, it makes the other members of the family partners in the pleasure of mental stimulus. It is not alone the reader who is enriched. The tired mother, busy with her mending, is borne into far, strange lands. The stirring scenes of history or fiction march before her, and while she works she is also uplifted and refreshed.

It Pays to Advertise

(Brian Howe, in the London Journal)

Advertising, ably handled, always reduces all other costs, and in so doing virtually ceases to be a cost so that the advertiser is not instead of taking money out of the pockets of the public, and not doing anything for what he takes, in effect puts money into the purse of the public. It is thus totally misleading to broadcast the news that the public pays for advertising. You will often be told so in shops that dislike advertising; but your purchase will suffer something in quality, or uniformity, or convenience or real cheapness if you deal in such shops.

Grind This Through Your Larynx Without Stuttering

YOUTH'S Companion: Always speak and write simply, clearly, naturally and to the point. So, in a recent issue of the Engineer, in language excellently suited to emphasize its good advice: "In promulgating your estoteric cogitations or in articulating superficial sentimentalities and philippical or psychological observations, beware of platitudinous ponderosity. Let your conversation possess clarified conciseness, compacted comprehensiveness, coalescent consistency and concatenated cogency. Eschew all conglomerations, flatulent garbality, jejune babblement and asinine affectations. Let your extemporaneous declamations, and unpremeditated expatiations have intelligibility without rhodomontade or thrasonical bombast. Sedulously avoid all polysyllabic, profoundly pompous prolixity and ventriloquial verbosity. In other words, speak truthfully, naturally, clearly, purely. Don't use big words."

of 1641, Malouin party of forty men arrived at Quebec. Winter and it was decided to at Quebec until spring. On 1642, the party embarked for Montreal, the little flotilla consisting of a pinnace, a sabbottomed boat mired by sails, and two rowboats.

On May 18, they landed on the island of Montreal at the spot which Champlain had pointed out thirty-one years before as a fine site for a settlement.

On the morrow, the men set to work to begin their encampment. Malouinville fell the first tree. Soon the encampment was enclosed with a palisade and a little later tents were replaced by structures of wood. Such was the founding of Montreal, which at first and for many years was called Ville Marie.

In the following year a hospital was built, and to protect it against the Indians it was surrounded by a palisade. According to the archives of the Seminary of Ville Marie, the hospital was sixty feet in length and twenty-four in width, with a kitchen, a chamber for Mlle. Mance, others for servants, and two large apartments for the patients.

It was the intention of the founders of Ville Marie to establish an Indian settlement in the neighborhood, and to teach the Redmen to till the soil. Some little progress was made in preparing a way to carry out the plan, and it might have succeeded had it not been for that pest of the wilderness, the Iroquois. Almost a year passed after the founding of the colony before the Iroquois became aware of its existence. In their prowling, a band of Iroquois came upon ten Algonquins. The latter, who were friends of the French, knew of the existence of Ville Marie, which, being not distant from their encounter with the Iroquois, they fled to for safety.

The pursuing Iroquois, to their astonishment, came upon the new fort. They reconnoitred the place, and then went back to their cantonments in the country south of Lake Ontario with the unwelcome news. From that time forth the colonists at Ville Marie had no peace; no more excursions for fishing and hunting; no more Sunday strolls in the woods and meadows. The men went armed to their work, and returned at the sound of a bell, prepared for an attack. Through the summer months and often in the winter too the Iroquois lurked about Ville Marie, killing by stealth when it was possible, and when not, attacking openly. Mlle. Mance's hospital did not lack for patients now.

During these years of struggles and danger Jeanne Mance remained at her post administering the affairs of her hospital, and with her associates nursing the sick and wounded and caring for the needy and homeless. And so passed the life of this heroine of the early years of Montreal, and it is because of that work that in the group of statuary that forms the monument commemorating the founding of the city, a place has been given to the figure representing the first nurse in Montreal, and the founder of its first hospital. That hospital—the Hotel Dieu—stood at the corner of St. Paul and St. Sulpice streets, and when Jeanne Mance died on June 13, 1673, her remains were ingred in the chapel of the Hotel Dieu hospital, which then served as a parish church. At the time of Mance's death Montreal did not contain more than nine hundred souls.

NEW PASTOR INDUCTED INTO WARWICK PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

Rev. A. E. Hannabson installed as Pastor of Knox, Arkona and West Adelaide Churches

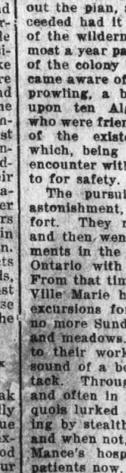

The Rev. A. E. Hannabson was duly inducted into his new charge of West Adelaide, Arkona, and Knox churches, Warwick, on Friday last, Nov. 13th, a very large number of people gathered to welcome him. Mr. Hannabson is not a stranger to the people of that district, as he, formerly pastor of Arkona and West Adelaide for many years. It speaks well for Mr. Hannabson's ability and personal character, to be asked to go back to them again. The induction which was very impressive, was conducted by Rev. Mr. Monks, of Petrolia, Moderator of the Presbytery. The Rev. J. R. Hemphill conducted public worship, the Rev. Mr. Monks addressed the minister, and the Rev. A. G. Sinclair of Alvinston, addressed the people. A very sumptuous repast was served at the close of the service.

A MAN'S PRAYER

Teach me that 60 minutes make an hour, 16 ounces one pound, and 100 cents one dollar. Help me so to live that I may lay down at night with a clear conscience, without a gun under my pillow, and untroubled with the faces of those to whom I have brought pain. Grant that I may earn my meal tickets on the square, and in earning it, I may do unto others as I would have them do unto me. Deafen me to the jingling of tainted money. Blind me to the faults of the other fellow, but reveal to me my own. Guide me, so that when I look across the dinner table at my wife, who has been a blessing to me, I will have nothing to conceal. Keep me young enough to laugh with little children, and sympathetic enough to be considerate of old age, and when comes the day of darkened shades and the smell of flowers, the tread of soft footsteps, and the crunching of wheel in the yard—make the ceremony short and the epitaph simply—"Here Lies a Man."

How Prizes Will Be Awarded

The "C-WORD" Picture Puzzle Game is a campaign to increase the popularity of The Mail and Empire. It costs nothing to take part, and you do not have to send in a subscription to win a prize. If your list of "C-Words" is awarded First Prize by the Judges you will win $30.00; but if you would like to win more than $30, we are making the following special offer whereby you can win greater cash prizes by sending in ONE, or TWO, or THREE yearly subscriptions to The Mail and Empire.

HERE'S HOW THE BIG PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED.

$500.00 Instead of $30 will be awarded to the answer winning First Prize if ONE yearly subscription to The Mail and Empire at $5.00 by mail has been sent in. Second Prize, $400.00; Third Prize, $300.00, and so forth. (See second column of figures in prize list.)

$1000.00 Instead of $30 will be awarded to the answer winning First Prize if TWO (new or renewal) yearly subscriptions to The Mail and Empire are sent in. Second Prize, $800.00; Third Prize, $600.00, and so forth. (See third column of figures in prize list.)

$2000.00 Instead of $30 will be awarded to the answer winning First Prize provided THREE (new or renewal) yearly subscriptions to The Mail and Empire are sent in. Second Prize, $1,600.00; Third Prize, $1,200.00, and so forth. (See fourth column of figures in prize list.)

Isn't this the most remarkable and liberal offer you have ever had presented to you? And that's not all! We will give extra amounts on all prizes in the same manner. If your answer is qualified by THREE yearly subscriptions and you win fourth prize, you will receive $600.00, and so forth down the prize list. You are given an opportunity to participate in 100 Prizes totalling over $8,000, where the 100th prize with THREE subscriptions wins $15.00, so that you would get your own subscription money back, also the $10.00 you sent in for your two additional subscribers should you only win the 100th prize.

STANLEY TRENOUTH has been the running sensation of 1925. Goforth of McGill, three times champion, and the speedy Graham of Varsity, were among the "also rans" Trenouth won in spectacular style the 3 mile race at the Intercollegiate Meet last month. To crown this achievement Trenouth won the 5 1/2 mile Intercollegiate Harrier Race in Montreal last Saturday. He defeated handily the best runners of Varsity, McGill and R.M.C. His time, 32 min. 28 secs., was 18 seconds faster than the previous record for the course.

There are runners and runners—but few in this country are in the class of "Bobbie" Thompson and Stanley Trenouth. Predictions may go sadly amiss, 'tis true, but already we picture Thompson and Trenouth as members of Canada's Olympic Team, 1928!

Trenouth Wins Dr. Austen Cup for Meds.
Those who were fortunate enough to see the running of the annual Interfaculty Harrier race witnessed as pretty an exhibition of running as Kingston has been privileged to see in a long time, when Stanley Trenouth, 3-mile intercollegiate champion, sprinted to the tape a full two minutes ahead of his nearest opponent, covering the course which falls only 360 yards short of six miles, in the astonishingly fast time of 31:35.2. Through this achievement Trenouth firmly establishes himself as one of Canada's premier middle distance runners, and one to whom the Olympics should call in the

CHAS. M. FITZGERALD, WATFORD

COMRADES SING IN CHANT

It is needless for us to extol him to the skies, for actions speak louder than words and are likewise more convincing. This fall Stan easily took first place in every race which he contested. They are as follows:

1. Queen's Three Mile Interfaculty.
2. Intercollegiate Three Mile, held at Montreal.
3. Queen's Interfaculty Harrier.
4. Intercollegiate Harriers, held at Montreal.
5. Kingston V.M.C.A. Harrier.

In every case but the three-mile Interfaculty, Stan substantially reduced all the old records. In that race he lacked but six seconds of the record and competent authorities on the subject state that he could have knocked it for a row had he wished to extend himself. When you consider that the best men of Varsity, McGill and R.M.C. compete in these events, you have to admit that he has established an unbeatable record. No one but a super-runner could do it.

Nevertheless being such a marvel has its drawbacks! Stan is seriously worried as to the safety of his fast accumulating and valuable array of cups and medals beside which the hoards of King Midas would pale into insignificance. We, in turn, have grave fears for his health as every fellow he meets nearly shakes his arm off and unmercifully pounds his back, whilst showering him with congratulations. Worse still, Stan has terrible difficulty in avoiding the fair members of Levana, having nearly suffered suffocation during the over-enthusiastic embraces of the first couple of dozen. To say that he is suffering severely from the strain is putting it mildly? However, as he is perfectly fit, and we believe in "The Survival of the Fittest," we entertain hopes of him coming through the ordeal ok, to smash further records by the score. A few years hence when the kids around town go visiting they will stick out their chests and tell the world that they are from Watford, the home of the globe's greatest runner, the speedster who beat Nurni up.

In case you may think we are slightly given to exaggeration we are sending you two Queen's Journals, which corroborate every one of our statements. We hope that you will

We know that the majority of people will scoff and say, "All applesauce," but we maintain that we know what we are writing about. At least in this instance. First hand knowledge is the decisive factor in such circumstances and we have it. To Stan's honor is due the credit of having honestly earned it.

(From Aylmer Express)
Here's a pointer for our police to stop some of those reckless drivers who go through Aylmer at 40 miles and hour, notwithstanding the fact that prominent signboards say that the speed limit is 10 miles. Down in Turkey the police are supplied with planks of wood studded with nails, which they are authorized to throw down in front of a car exceeding the speed limit. They also use these studded planks to test the efficiency of drivers' brakes.
