GERMANS CHECKED AT SOISSONS; ALLIES MAKE GAINS RUSSIANS ARE FIGHTING THE GERMANS TO A STANDSTILL BRITISH AVIATORS RAID GERMAN BASE AT OSTEND

FOE'S ADVANCE NEAR SOISSONS ENDS ABRUPTLY

French Rally Swiftly After Being Forced to Fall Back.
WINNING ALONG COAST
Germans Driven From Trenches—Kaiser Has Decorated Two Generals.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—The aggressive
activities of Germans near Soissons, the centre of the long battle line, have been brought to a sudden standstill by an almost instantaneous rally of the French forces following their retirement to the south bank of the Marne. At other points the British and French troops have inflicted severe defeats on the German forces.
Following the fierce battle near the Belgian coast, the French forces have driven the Kaiser's troops from their trenches along the "great dune" and have destroyed Sedan to the north.
The Germans along this portion of the fighting line have been heavily bombarded to a point extending beyond the Town of St. Georges.

Frequent cannon duels near Troyes and on Lens-La-Savoie front have taken place between the German and allies' artillery.
The temporary defeat suffered by the French at Soissons, northern France, was almost immediately offset by a spirited counter attack. A foundry sold by the enemy was retaken and the French lines held intact.

Other German attacks were successfully repulsed near Troyes and in the forest of Le Fresnoy, where the west of Pont-a-Mousson. Snow is again falling in Vosges Mountains preventing any movements of consequence.

KAISER DECORATES GENERALS.
Canadian Press Despatch.
AMSTERDAM, via London, Jan. 17, 9:05 p.m.—Emperor William of Germany has decorated the British and French officers who commanded the victorious troops. On Gen. Von Lochow
he bestowed the order of merit and upon Lieut. Gen. Wisnura a com-mandership of the order of the house of Hohenzollern.

According to the German accounts of the fighting the French had during the past month occupied in the region of Soissons a net work of trenches on the right bank of the Aisne which extended away to the north. On Jan. 7 the French commenced a heavy bombardment in which the Germans suffered severely.
Some of their trenches being wrecked
and their machine guns buried.

tacked and penetrated into the German trenches, from which they could

CANADIANS SOON

Earl Grey Makes Announcement at Review of Brigade
at Salisbury Plain.
Canadian Press Despatch.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—Earl Grey, former governor-general of Canada, in reviewing a brigade of the Canadian contingent today, told them they would soon be sent to the front.

SALISBURY CONDITIONS POOR.
PORT ARTHUR, Ont., Jan. 17.—
Addressing the Canadian Club here, Major-Gen. Hughes said the Canadian troops, on account of the weather and other conditions at Salisbury, were not fit to go to the front now as when they sailed from Valcartier.

BRITISH AVIATORS RAID GERMAN OSTEND POSITION

Nine Aeroplanes Made Successful Attack, Dropped Bombs on Barracks and Railway Station and Did Considerable Damage.
Direct Copyrighted Cable to The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—A successful raid on the German military position at Ostend has been carried out by British aviators. Many bombs were dropped on the barracks and railway station, and considerable damage done. Nine aeroplanes took part in the attack.

RUSSIANS IN CAUCASUS DESTROY TURKISH CORPS

All Artillery Captured and Few Survivors Are Fleeing
in Disorder—More Than Five Thousand Turks Taken Prisoners at Kara-Urgan.
Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
PETROGRAD, Jan. 17.—The following report has been received from Tiflis:
"The army of the Caucasus has covered its flags with glory by a fresh heroic exploit, having completely annihilated the 11th Turkish corps, with the exception of several insignificant elements, which are fleeing in disorder. We have captured all the artillery of this corps."
The following official communication from the army of the Caucasus was issued tonight:
"In the region of Kara-Urgan the fighting is developing, with the advantage resting with our troops. By a bayonet attack we annihilated the 11th Turkish corps, the survivors of which, including the commander and several officers, were made prisoners."
"In one direction, where we were pursuing the defeated Turkish troops, we took more than 5000 prisoners, 14 cannons, an enormous quantity of supplies, and nearly 10,000 head of cattle."

FLOODS FORCED FRENCH RETREAT

Withdrawal Near Soissons
Not Reverse of Serious
Kind.
NO REINFORCEMENTS
Rising of Aisne Prevented Relief Reaching Three French Brigades.

Canadian Press Despatch.
WASHINGTON, Jan. 17.—Foreign office despatches to the French embassy here tonight discounted the importance of the recent German advance at Soissons, declaring that the French troops still covered the town and had merely withdrawn to the left bank of the river because the rising of the stream had made it impossible for reinforcements to come up.
The retreat was said to cover only some 1800 metres. The cablegram said:
"The recent German communique throws into relief the attack which they delivered last week to the north of Soissons. The French troops engaged about Soissons did not reach the number of three brigades and they had been withdrawn to the left bank of the River Aisne because of the flood which had broken several bridges. We thus no longer had the means of sending them reinforcements, and they withdrew without being pursued, continuing to cover the town. This is the truth of the affair. As far as the situation of the French army, it is a question of a retreat of some 1800
metres on a front of five kilometres, caused by the floods of a river."

DISSATISFACTION WITH THE YOUNG TURK PARTY

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—According to Constantinople information, dissatisfaction with Young Turks, especially with Enver Pasha, has rapidly increased since the recent disasters in the Caucasus. A widespread conspiracy has been discovered, led by a relative of Prince Sabaheddin, who has succeeded in escaping. Numerous arrests have been made.

The Misleading Lady Tonight.
This farce-comedy, which will be seen in Canada for the first time tonight at the Princess Theatre with Lewis S. Stone and the original New York company, is said to be one of the funniest comedies ever produced. The play comes here after successful runs in New York, Boston and Chicago.

RUSSIANS GAIN HUGE SUCCESS IN CARPATHIANS

While Warsaw Army Fights
Von Hindenburg to Standstill, Others Press On.
GERMAN ATTACKS FAIL
Kaiser's Russian New Year
Demonstrations Checked—
Austrians in Predicament.
Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
PETROGRAD, Jan. 17.—Field
Marshal von Hindenburg has not succeeded in making any headway in his attacks on the Russians holding the road to Warsaw despite his vigorous attacks. To the north the Russians have reached points where they are seriously menacing the Germans attacking on the Bzura front. With the freezing of the lower Vistula, the foe will afford an easy passage across the river to Von Hindenburg's rear.
The Germans are using heavy artillery to a great extent to hammer
the Russian lines, especially on the front before Warsaw. Further to the south the Austrians are also depending on their artillery to hold the Russians in check. The Austrians have been heavy on the Donau River, where, if the Austrians fail to hold their present lines, an advance by the Russians will again threaten Cracow. The new Austro-German forces are reported to have been organized to repel the Russian invasion of Hungary, but Russians hold the Carpathian passes and have placed artillery there on crests commanding the passages. Any Austro-German force advancing in Hungary will be caught between the Russians operating south from Galicia and those which have swept thru Bu-kovina.

LEAVE FOR FRANCE WITHIN 3 WEEKS

Official Announcement Made
at Salisbury Camp by Gen. Alderson.
MORE TRAINING THERE
No Further Transfers to Kitchener's Army Will Be Allowed.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
SALISBURY, Eng., Jan. 17.—During his inspection tour thru the camp
Saturday afternoon, General Alderson visited the sergeants' mess of the 4th Highlanders and congratulated
the men on their splendid work.
When he made the announcement that he expected they would leave for France within three weeks he was vigorously cheered. The impression prevails that the division will go to southern France for sound training which has been greatly hampered here.

SOCIALIST CONFERENCE IS POORLY ATTENDED

Neither United States Nor Switzerland Has Sent Delegates to Copenhagen.
COPENHAGEN, via London, Jan. 17, 10 p.m.—The conference of Socialists of neutral countries, which opened here today, was very slimly attended.
Denmark, Norway, Sweden and Holland were represented by four delegates, each and Italy by one. Neither the United States nor Switzerland sent delegates.

HYDRO AEROPLANE ERNA FOUND WASHED ASHORE

Four Grenades Found on Board and Aviators Are Presumed to Have Been Drowned.
Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
COPENHAGEN, Jan. 17.—The German hydro aeroplane, Erna 34, has been washed ashore at Manon, on the west coast of Jutland. The aviators are presumed to have been drowned.
On board were found four grenades.
It is stated the hydro aeroplane was built in November, 1914.

STARVING PEOPLE CRY "DOWN WITH THE WAR"

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
ROME, Jan. 17.—Popular demonstrations have been held in Vienna against continuing the war. Starving demonstrators marched to the municipal offices crying "Down with war."
and tried to erect barricades till they were dispersed by cavalry.

ALLIES GAINED REAL SUCCESS AT HAUBORDIN

German Losses Near Lille Must Have Been Simply Enormous.
ALBERT IS BOMBARDED
Church Has Become Target
for German Aviators
Smoke Bombs.

Special Direct Copyrighted Cable to
The Toronto World.
LONDON, Jan. 17.—A Morning
Chronicle despatch from Abbeville,
Saturday, says:
News which is just published with regard to the British offensive at Haubordin only confirms that which has been circulating for some time in circles well informed, as to the course of operations to the south west of Lille. It can affirm from a reliable source that the allies have won considerable advantages by artillery work at Loos, to the southwest of Lille and at Haubordin. These two places, which may be described as suburbs of Lille, have been recently bombarded and the German losses must be enormous.
Now I learn that two days ago we secured a real success at Soissons and reduced the enemy's guns to silence in this region. Nevertheless, let us not be under any illusion. Lille has in fact been transformed into a terrific German fortress. Not only have they repaired completely the forts which formed stars round the city, but all the streets of Lille have been cut up into trenches. As is always the case when the Germans suffer a slight check, theyavenge themselves as best they can at another point of the lines. They are venting their rage at present upon the unhappy town of Albertchurch of which has become a mark of the armistice
smoke bombs.

GENERAL GARZA NOW MEXICO'S PRESIDENT

Convention at Capital Nominates
Him to Succeed
Gutierrez.
Canadian Press Despatch.
MEXICO CITY, Jan. 17.—Gen. Roque
Gonzales Garza was last night made provisional president of Mexico by the convention in session here over which he has presided. The former provincial president, Gen. Eulalio Gutier-rez, together with Generals Blanco, Robles and Jose Vasconcelos, left Mexico City this morning at 4 o'clock for Pachuca.
Martial law has been declared by Gen. Garza and the city is being patrolled by mounted police.
In electing Garza, the convention declared itself to be supreme and until a new president is elected, has assumed all the legislative, executive and judicial powers.

ATTENTION OF DRIVERS.

With the worst part of the winter still to come, drivers of cars will be interested in the extraordinary clearing prices quoted at D in sen's,
140 Yonge
St. r. e. t.
There is every kind of fur garment for every purpose, at prices that are quite incomparable. An example is given below: Astrachan caps, wedge shape, worth $150, clearing at $125;
astrachan gaitlets, worth $75, clearing at $25; con coats, worth $48, clearing at $29.25. These and countless other goods, capes, collars, gaitlets and caps, are bargains that simply cannot be duplicated in Canada. Decide to see them before they are cleared up.

armies now are putting his theories to the supreme test with little suc-

THE CRUX OF THE QUESTION

MONTRÉAL NEWS (Jan. 14): So far, so good, is the official information from Ottawa that the nickel shipments from the United States, made from Canadian ore, are safeguarded in such a manner that they will not benefit Germany.

Women's Canadian Club Hears Dr. Brown-Landone on France's Needs.

NOT A KAISER WAR

A Campaign of Conquest, Devastation and Depopulation, Says Speaker.

War was most graphically described by Dr. Brown-Landone before the Women's Canadian Club on Saturday afternoon when the Y.W.C.A. Hall on McGill street was packed by hundreds of the women of Toronto.

Difficulties which could never present themselves to those who live 3000 miles from the fighting line were brought forcibly home thru Dr. Brown-Landone's address. The ardor of the French soldiers to go to the front and the obstacles met with were illustrated when the speaker told of men having to wait some time six weeks for the uniform because none could be made without instructions from the government for fear of the enemy by chance getting possession of one. Nevertheless, the men of France were practically all at the front, and as they had appeared at the different stations the little lads of the country would crowd about them to kiss them farewell.

In the districts that had been scathed by the war the speaker had seen hundreds of mothers going about for hours and days, wandering aimlessly, and there were none who could help them or offer them consolation in any way. The attitude of the French people was strongly depicted by the statement that they received the ultimate declaration of war with dignity and with the conviction that the world has to face the situation as the it were judgment day itself.

This is not a Kaiser war, continued the lecturer, but an absolutely formed campaign of conquest, devastation and depopulation, a war of every man in Germany in order that their country may conquer and be dominant above every other.

Lack of transportation facilities was one of the chief needs deplored by the speaker. In the north of France, where the soldiers are lying in the villages and hospitals, there is often not a single auto, wagon or other conveyance for the wounded, everything of that nature being used for carrying food. Autos of any kind were appealed for by the speaker. Hundreds of men are in hospitals with not a single nurse and only an old woman to cook whatever food was available. There are no bandages, no antiseptics, no blankets, no material for slings to hold up wounded arms, and clothing altogether insufficient.

Dr. Brown-Landone gave great credit to the people of Toronto for what they had done and for their hospitality towards himself. His plea was for the places out by the exigencies of war and not for the cities, which are being reached by the Red Cross and other organizations. He made the generous offer of one month of personal service without remuneration to the Red Cross of Canada provided they cared to accept his offer.

Mrs. Meyers, president of the Canadian Club, presided, and among others on the platform were Mrs. Hendrie, Mrs. L. A. Hamilton, Mrs. Warren, Mrs. Merrill, Mrs. Dignam and Mrs. Gooderham.

PRETTY NEW FEATURES ADOPTED IN VEILING

Dainty Borders of Ribbon and Fur on Plain Meshes Adorn Flowing Veils.

The flowing veil is here again introducing some pretty new features that will ensure its popularity for a few weeks at least. The meshes are mostly very fine and plain, but on the border the decorations make up for the lack of ornamentation in the section covering the face. Dainty little chenille borders are often chosen; and again the crepe or ribbon border is very becoming. Fur borders of course are the most novel, but are not as widely worn as those exhibiting a neat little leaf pattern, or conventional dotted effects. Recently a large square veil appeared with the corners rounded off so that they could be thrown back over the small tulle hat with which it was worn and fell in soft ripples over the shoulders. The edges are over-bound with moire ribbon that incrosses the ripple in the folds.

Very charming white veils have delicate border traceries in black. These are worn so that the border crosses the face just above the mouth or at the chin.

Dinner rings of very antique designs and weird eastern settings are being worn again.

A reducing vanity mirror is made of silver and possesses a slim little handle by which it is attached to a slender chain worn about the neck. The mirror itself is surrounded with precious work.

NEW NURSES' HOME EQUIPPED THROUGH

Addition to Parkdale Hospital Opened, Marks New Era in Progressive Institution.

The occasion of the opening of the Nurses' Home, 187 Cowan avenue, in connection with the Parkdale Hospital, Saturday afternoon marked a progressive step in the history of the institution founded less than six years ago by Miss Walkden, who has been the matron and manager of the hospital during that time. There are twelve nurses under the matron and their new home, which was opened Saturday, next door to the hospital, has been daintily furnished throughout. Miss Walkden received her guests in the drawing room, including many prominent physicians of the city and their wives, after which Mrs. J. R. L. Starr pronounced the home opened, and in acknowledgment received a bouquet. Miss Church, representing the mayor, received congratulations. Short addresses were made by Dr. Hart and Rev. Mr. Armstrong. Tea was served in the dining-room, where red roses and carnations decorated the prettily lighted tables, and a program arranged by Stuart Barker and contributed by pupils of the Hamburg Conservatory of Music was enjoyed during the afternoon.

CALL TO STUDENTS FOR MISSION WORK

Campbell White Tells of Present Need in Foreign Fields.

INDIA IS READY NOW

Widespread Turning Can Be Plainly Seen — Many Helpers Wanted.

Seating accommodation in Convocation Hall, Toronto University, was taxed almost to capacity last night when Campbell White, the well-known mission worker, delivered an inspiring address on "The Needless Field for Mission Workers." He mentioned, India, Mexico, South America, China and Egypt to any of which, he stated, the term might be applied. He declared that more than half of the 70,000,000 population of South America were born out of wedlock. The English mission sent a scant number of workers to that field, so that the Christians of these people depended largely on the efforts of the churches of North America. Mexico was one of the neediest fields of mission workers as most of the population was composed of atheists and agnostics.

Great difficulties had been experienced in Egypt, where, he said, if a preacher had endeavored, five years ago, to preach Christianity in the streets of Cairo, it would have raised a riot amongst the inhabitants. A great change had taken place in the Moslem world and today Moslem students were eager to hear of the Christian doctrine. An effort was being made by the Moslems to convert the pagans of Egypt to their religion, and he ventured to say that if the Christians did not stop the propaganda, it would be made very difficult to christianize those people.

India Ripe Harvest.

Mr. White said that India was the ripest harvest for Christian missions as there was a widespread turning of the low castes towards the word of Christ. Last year the Methodist Church of America baptized over 40,000 people and had to refuse baptism to 153,899 because there were not enough teachers to carry on the work. He stated that if the church could come forward with workers tens of millions could be converted to the Christian faith.

"If there had been a vital Christian movement at the time of Mohammed," declared Mr. White, "there never would have been a Mohammedan religion."

Big Hippodrome Bill

Eva Fay, who comes as the headline attraction at the Hippodrome this week, undertakes to answer all kinds of puzzling questions. Aiken, Figg and Duffy are clever singers with some new songs and original melodies, while Mildred and Ruth, two charming comedienne, offer some dainty songs. ## WILL CANADIAN CHURCH GO ON WAR FOOTING?

Question Asked by Rev. J. Campbell White at Convocation Hall Yesterday.

"Will the Church in Canada now undertake to go on a war footing?" was the question which Rev. J. Campbell White asked in his sermon yesterday morning in Convocation Hall before an audience of 1600, composed mostly of students.

"No church in the world has done this so far, and I am wondering which will be the first. With the war costing every day more than Christendom is spending in a year to christianize humanity, we are able to see the sense of value possessed by the nations.

Canada has been asked to spare 1600 men to perform her part, in the conversion of the forty million people allotted to her. Yet this country signified gladly her willingness to send out hundreds of times that number to fight the battles of her earthly king and empire.

"One of the most powerful signs of the times is that in the last six years the missionary output of Canada has been doubled. The number of workers increased from under 400 to over 700."

There's No North or South, East or West in the U. S. A.

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1916, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

OUCH! What a rap over the knuckles! Or was it just a slap on the wrist? "Maryland," whichever it is, it made me wince, just for an instant, and all about an old song at that.

"I had mentioned an old song and somebody didn't like it. And so the somebody writes to tell me that I really ought to be ashamed of myself, fostering hatreds and stirring up bitterness by the mere mention of such a song."

Here's a part of the letter, and a nice, well meaning letter it seems to be in the main:

"You quoted from 'Marching Through Georgia.' Do you really like that song? This is the first term my children are in school, and the first song they learn to 'sing at' is 'Marching Through Georgia.' When I went to school we sang it too. Are we forever to crow about our victory? It is taught in the same school to be a sport, and not to brag, or torment a vanquished enemy, or brother!"

The War Long Over.

"None of my family were in the war. Therefore, it doesn't hurt me personally. But my husband is a southerner, whose two grandfathers and four uncles fought and lost their all for the Confederacy. He remembers the sufferings of his relatives in the field and at Fort Anderson, and he saw the desolation and ruin left by the army 'marching through Georgia,' even up in his Virginia home. Can you imagine his feelings when his own children come home singing 'Marching Through Georgia!'"

"Marching Through Georgia!" Dear me, I never realized what a wicked, dreadful song it was before.

Let's see! I learned it at school, too, the same week I learned "Dixie," and just about a month before they taught us "Maryland, My Maryland."

We never could sing the "Star Spangled Banner" at our school. It went too high in the chorus, but we did shout out "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean." And sometimes we marched to "Maryland, My Maryland." And we stepped with quite as much martial vigor then, too.

Why, my dear little correspondent, don't you know that the war is over? It has been over for nearly half a century. The songs they sang when they marched through Georgia and when they fired on Sumter are just a part of history now. How can you believe that any modern child is going to be either triumphant or defeated by any of them?

Tell your husband that his children are Americans, just plain Americans, and every song which is a part of American history, they ought to sing and to sing with pride.

Have you ever seen that old flag of ours in a foreign land? Teach that husband of yours Eugene Field's poem, "John Smith, U. S. A." It's worth learning, and worth reciting, too.

He saw the name on a hotel register in London, and he wrote a poem to the man who signed the name.

We Are Americans All.

Was he John Smith of Colorado, with a mine someplace up in the peaks? Was he Judge Smith of Boston, with a house on Commonwealth avenue, and a library with an autographed copy of "The Autocrat of the Breakfast Table"? Or was he Col. Smith from Virginia, with his mother's portrait in an old-fashioned silver case—she was one of the Virginia Pages, sir, and a famous belle—carried around his neck?

But anyway, whoever he was and wherever he came from: "Here's loyalty at you—John Smith, U. S. A." A plain American with good fighting blood of a glorious record in his veins, no matter whether he was born in the cotton belt or up where the wooden nutmeg grow.

No, I will not use my influence, no matter how weak it is, to have anybody forget "Marching Through Georgia," or "Dixie," or "My Maryland," or "Rally 'Round the Flag, Boys," or any other song that was ever sung by brave Americans on either side of the Mason and Dixon line, and that are as much a part of the history of our country as the old flag our fathers fought under, and fought under like men.

Hurray! Hurray! Let's sound the jubilee! The jubilee song of the great day when all past quarrels are forgotten!

"Maryland, My Maryland!" What a brave old song it was and what a noble sweep it swings to! Forget that! Teach my children not to know the music of their own country, even though it was first sung in sobe and accompanied in groans? Never, so long as I am proud that I am—Mrs. John Smith, U. S. A.!

Three Minute Journeys

By Temple Manning

WHERE HAMMOCKS ARE MOSQUITO-PROOF CRADLES.

ALTHOUGH New Guinea is the third largest island in the world very little is known about the interior or its inhabitants. On many maps it is a black spot, as all of Africa used to be, and the only reason for its being on a map is that it was discovered by a black explorer named James Cook. It is a very mysterious island, and many a black explorer gazed at it with adventurous eyes.

As an article serving its purpose perfectly, I know nothing I would so willingly recommend as this cradle. A child cannot possibly fall out, it is absolutely safe from mosquitoes and flies, and the baby I saw was every bit as comfortable as any I have seen in much more pretentious cradles.

The Rock-a-bye Net.

In the interior of all sorts of odd and strange things that the natives of the coast settlements will tell you about with every embroidery of magic their imaginations can devise. Although I know practically nothing of the magic interior, I found many quaint customs on the coast that served to amuse as well as interest me. And not the least of all these strange things I saw was the ingenious cradle in which one young Papuan mother swung her black baby to sleep.

IT is a terrible thing, beyond a doubt, to be battered by a bomb in war, and to be reduced to the need for even the most gracious and skilful first aid. But there are other wounds quite as painful as those of shell or shrapnel. They have been known to be inflicted by a pair of eyes, and the most beautiful lips in the world are capable of a dire and dreadful delivery. In such a crisis there is only ONE first aid that counts. Love, if he is on the job, can work soothing wonders—can stethoscope the heart and apply the prompt bandages to the sore places in the system. Men have even been glad they were wounded when Cupid was doctor.

DO EXPENSIVE TOOLS MAKE HOUSEWORK EASIER?

I HAD a lovely, gossipy lunch with Helen Underwood in town yesterday. Poor Helen gasped when I told her that I've grown to love housework.

"My dear, wait until you've done it for a year in your own home, and you'll be sick and tired of it. I work from morning till night, I'm never able to keep a decent maid for more than a month, and although I must say that my house is spotless, it takes every minute of my time to keep it so. I'm so worn out that I never want to do anything at all night except rest. No, not even a dance or theatre."

Poor Helen was the gayest of the say before her marriage, and her remarks certainly set me thinking seriously for a minute, in spite of my firmly ingrained conviction that I do like housework and always will.

"Of course," continued Helen, "at your Aunt Juliette's it is all nice and easy, because she has so many of these modern labor-savers. But if you didn't have a 'freeless' and had to watch a hot stove all afternoon, or if you really had to delve into a laundry tub instead of dropping clothes into a washing machine, you certainly wouldn't be quite so enamored."

Helen spoke rather bitterly. But I couldn't help asking why she didn't buy some labor-savers herself. "Can't afford 'em, my dear," she returned briefly. I looked at her expensive new fur coat and her $5 boots, and a few other costly items she wore, but I said nothing. Helen caught the look, however, and flared up. "You don't suppose I can afford like a tramp and spend the money on kitchen things," she burst out angrily. "Not if you don't want to, dear me, no!" I said quite calmly. You can buy fine hats and velvets and ruin your complexion in a hot kitchen. You can stoop your back bending down to uncomfortable heights if you like to save your money that way. You can tire your feet until you can't get shoes to fit just because you won't indulge yourself in a kitchen's cabin. But I think you're wrong, Helen. You'll have your looks and health and it's cheaper in the long run to get things that save you time and health.

"Besides, if you want to know, Aunt Juliette has less equipment in her kitchen than you have. Positively. She hasn't one-half the pots and pans and egg-beaters and knives and mixers you own. But whatever she has is the right tool, and it's in the right place.

"And if you'll talk to Aunt Juliette, she'll tell you that it isn't tools but methods that make your housework easier. Aunt has a schedule showing just what cooking and cleaning and washing and mending is to be done every day. There's a schedule in her kitchen showing just what work is to be done every hour of the day, and she hasn't planned any more than really can be done. Also she allows for two or three hours of absolute rest every day. I'll wager that's more than you ever get."

"Two hours!" exclaimed Helen. "I'd be grateful for 30 minutes intermission!" "It's no wonder!" I gathered material for argument as I went along. "You get out more lovely linen and dollies and towels and things for daily use than Aunt would consume in three days. Why don't you put away all your useless draperies and dollies and your half-used laundry? Use casseroles or paper bags or get a steam cooker, and you won't have so many pots and dishes to wash. Plan your meals a few days or a week ahead and try to cook for several meals at once."

"That will do for the first lesson, you saucy little brat," said Helen, but I knew that she'd been a bit infected by my enthusiasm. "If your aunt will let me, I'd like immensely to come and let her help me make a schedule for my daily work that will let me have an hour's rest some time. It might let my husband meet a less tired housekeeper at night."

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

DEAR ANNIE LAURIE: We have a young gentleman staying at our home of whom I think a lot, but cannot say whether he cares for me or not, but would like very much with him, and also out walking with him and other places, and when I was away he came to spend the day with me.

Others have told me that he thinks a lot of me, and he has spoken of me, so, as though he thought something of me. It seems to like my company, and is a very nice young man. Now could you tell me if he likes me or not, and what I should do? Some one said I was keeping company with him, and when he heard about it he said, "Well, don't you leave not told him my answer yet. I am 17 years old."

No. 28. Women and Morals.

OUR crowd filtered back to the table and read again to dance. Read and I were once more alone.

"A while ago," I reminded, "you said something about a man drinking more than I do."

"That's a fair question," he said. "If you dance in New York you're expected to buy, and as you can't stifle yourself with food all evening, you drink you dance and drink and dance and drink, and while there may be less drunkenness there's more drinking among girls and men alike."

"Why less drunkenness?" "New-Fashioned New York."

"Partly, I imagine," he said, "because you dance it off. Four or five years ago New York would have held up hands of horror at lots of the stuff it allows now. Look at the songs. Would you read one to your dear, old granddaddy in a lace cap and mitts? Not on your life! Yet girls like Joan and Ruth buy their own dresses, and they don't only remember some line of a popular song to hum in between a girl's whims over her hat and notion. And the plays and the books and even the newspapers—everything, everybody prints stuff that wouldn't have been tolerated a decade ago. Didn't I take Joan to see a play the other night that absolutely made me uncomfortable? It was so badly indecent in spots, and she never winked an eyelash! Thought it was wonderful. And when the least decent of two men won back a girl with no thought of marrying her, Joan's sympathies were wanted to hear the wedding bells ring. It was more romantic, she said, and besides the good fellow was a stick. What do you think of that?"

"It's in the air," I said. "There's a tawdry glitter about your great metropolis that upsets values, blurs ideals, and amputates old-fashioned notions of right and wrong."

"Anything old-fashioned gets the laugh in New York," said Read. "We're getting more luxurious and more Bohemian every day. We're frivolously indifferent to most responsibilities save the big one of making money, and we make a spirit to let a whole sentence by a single expression—Gay."

"Elegance is something more than snuff. It is more than a freedom from awkwardness or restraint. It implies, I conceive, a precision, a polish, a sparkling, spritely, yet delicate—'ladylike'—and a man may do very well with a sound little knowledge, and scarce be found out in mixed company; everybody is so content more ready to produce his own than to call for a display of your acumen. ## You, Yourself, Are Made of Many Selves

By DR. L. K. HIRSHBERG,

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

DO you know who you are? To be sure, you know you are alive, despite such doubts.

Thomasas such as Des Cartes and other philosophers. Notwithstanding this, you may not be wholly aware that you are actually alive and in the flesh differently from merely living.

The vitality in "you," the personality which makes you, you instead of him, her, or me, is the intangible substance which associates itself with every fibre of your physiology. You may observe it do not say associate with your body or anatomy, but with your physiology.

The explanation of this is simple. Physiology is something which is vital, active, alive. Anatomies and bodies need not necessarily be alive.

Your Many Selves. With quiet soundings and thinking cymbals you may call your "self" by any other name, yet it will be as sweet or bitter as you make it. It is a strange creation without parts, and it has at least a threefold power. Prof. Freud, Henri Bergson and the Imperial German militarists maintain that your "personality" or "self"—call it soul or vital agency if you prefer—is not a unity, not a single thing, but that each person has many selves. In other words, they give the lie to thought and language, and say one person is many persons.

Like Robert Louis Stevenson's "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," the Freudians particularly hold that man is a multiple of many souls. They say first, there is the "self" you show to the world. This "self" is not a mere hypocrisy, it grows and becomes a courageous, strong, triumphant self.

There is, then, the "self" which you would like to show the world, the "self" of humility, self-deprecation and modesty.

Beside these are a legion of other "selves," each one reserved for a different friend, loved one or position in the world. Over and above these is the great inner self of vague wishes, ambitions, dreams, longings, desires, pains, conceits, vanities and whimsicalities. There is also an inherited "self," and a faintly glimpsed, potential "self" in you. This last one holds all the balance to which you may ascend, and the nine depths into which you may descend.

Sum It Up. The cue in the treatment of any worry, troublesome thought, in-thinking, fixed ideas, delusions, fears, anxieties and troubles of will power, intellect, imagination and memory, according to this method is to separate and dissociate each "self."

Your character is the sum total of all these "selves." If health is often a distortion or rebellion among them. The physician must exert himself to the utmost with time, patience, diligence and a stop-watch to analyze these "selves." Psycho-analysis thus brings forth the hidden disturber, routs that thought out, and restores the balance of power among the "selves."

Practically, psycho-analysis usually discloses the beligerent and obstructive wish or fear. Theoretically, the position of the Freudians is absurd. They mistake emotions, appetites, passions and the other phases of the one "self" for separate "selves."

Perhaps this may help you to get a glimmer of who you, your "self" are.

Answers to Health Questions

SUFFERER Q—I have pains in my right hip and across the back, and have been told they are caused from accumulation of gas. Would like to know how to get rid of it and prevent it from forming.

A—Eat less, drink two tumblers of water one-half hour before meals. Have the distended part massaged. Take a Bilex tablet after meals.

J. E. B.—Q—I have had what is called "rheumatic" sore throat, and have been bothered with it for more than two years. Will you kindly give me a remedy for this?

A—What you have are evidently infected tonsils and adenoids. These must come out.

J. C. M.—Q—Is there a permanent cure for "catarrh" of the nose and throat? 2—Is there such a thing as weak muscles around the heart, and is it dangerous?

1—There is no such thing as "catarrh." Irrigate the nose and throat with alkaline antiseptic fluid diluted three times in water, three times a day. 2—There is such a thing, and it is not dangerous.

C. S. H.—Q—Will you advise me what to do for gas in the stomach? 2—My hair is turning gray. Will you please prescribe?

A—This is probably due to some stomach disorder. Eat figs, apples, oatmeal, shredded wheat, drink olive oil and three glasses of water one-half hour before each meal, and take seven grains of oxide of manganese before meals and charcoal after.

2—Apply a proper oil to the hair twice a day, and resort to treatment to the scalp every other day. Sulphur and some iron solution or ointments half and half once a week. Take 25 drops of the tincture of iron in water three times a day through a tube.

What Are the Facts?

In commenting upon the last financial statement of the Dominion Government, we pointed out that national currency, or government paper money, had been issued to the amount of $55,000,000 in excess of the amount authorized by the Dominion Notes Act.

The Globe makes the specific charge that at least some of it was advanced to the Canadian Northern Railway, and we are told:

The company has been prevented by bank conditions from floating even securities guaranteed by the Dominion Government, save at a ruinous discount, and it is no longer a secret that the Dominion treasury has been called upon for millions of dollars in currency to carry on C.N.R. construction.

The Toronto Telegram commends the minister for thus coming to the relief of the Canadian Northern, but The Montreal Financial Times denounces Mr. White's issue of national currency as worse than that money, because based neither upon a gold reserve nor on any act of parliament.

The World is not in Mr. White's confidence, and his recent statement to the press contains itself with saying that if the law has been exceeded, confirmatory legislation will be sought and obtained from parliament.

We by no means condemn any action taken by the government which tends to tide over a difficult situation by using the credit of the nation to relieve the business of the country. What we commented upon was done by Lloyd George and by Secretary McCauley, and we will not condemn when done by our own able minister of finance.

But just what has he done? That seems to us to be the question of interest at the moment. When the minister stated that confirmatory legislation would be sought, should he not have gone further and stated what his action in connection with national currency actually has been which requires confirmation by parliament? Until that is done, we have only the statement of the Globe.

Are the People Unfit?

For some reason the party in opposition in this province differs from the opposition party as we find it nearly everywhere else. Almost always the party out of power is eager to find some reform to champion, or some progressive principle to put forward.

The Liberal party in western Canada advocates a good many progressive reforms, all in the direction of more democratic government. Direct nomination, direct legislation, many plans to place the real power of governing in the hands of the people and above them.

ator has ever been elected from Pennsylvania by the direct vote of the people. That election occurred only sixty days ago, and the successful candidate will probably not take his seat till December. How then could his election be under investigation? Has not The Globe got the wrong pig by the ear? And was not the election it is talking about one held under the old system when the people had no voice? Perhaps our neighbor will be good enough to tell us whether it is talking about an election that occurred last November or some other election. Unless it is discussing what occurred last fall it is talking at random.

Another thing, Senator Penrose at the last election had 550,000 majority. Does The Globe really think that even in these hard times a man with a million can buy up a commonwealth containing six million people? We fear after paying for brass bands, torchlight processions, automobiles and "violent and costly advertising" he would have less than a penny apiece to distribute among the electorate.

But admitting all that The Globe says or insinuates to be true, what is the moral to be deduced or the lesson to be learned? If it is a mistake to permit the people to choose senators by direct vote, is it not a mistake to permit them to elect members of the lower house? They will still be influenced by "violent and costly advertising" brass bands, automobile rides, overcoats, rubber boots and "canned tomatoes."

Germany and Civilization. No nation goes suddenly mad with lust for power and world dominion by sheer strength of brute force. Even with all the aptitude for abstract theories commonly ascribed to the German people, it may be doubted whether the teaching of Nietzsche, Bernhardi and the other exponents of the doctrine of force would have had any determining effect on the commercial, trading and industrial classes.

The second increase is in the duties from which increased revenue is desired and the third increase covers the increased protection to Australian industries promised prior to the recent general election. In the order named the principal articles are wool and agricultural implements, motorcars and vehicle parts, printing paper, lumber and fish in tins.

CANADIANS PIERCED BY CUPID'S SHAFTS

Love-Making Letters by Girls Enliven Monotony of Salisbury Plain.

ROMANCES PULLED OFF. Dead Letter Section in Base Postoffice Filled With Preliminary Correspondence.

By John A. MacLaren, one of The World's Staff Correspondents with the Canadian Expeditionary Force.

SALISBURY, Eng., Dec. 16.—When a Toronto lieutenant married a charming young French girl in Plymouth within a week after the arrival of the Canadian contingent at that port, war was forgotten by the troops for a moment and tongues wagged about the romance. And when a story appeared in a London paper announcing the wedding of a British-born Canadian soldier to a Belgian refugee, who could not speak broken English, the eternal question of "When will we go to the front?" was discarded for a short space of time.

On visiting the dead letter department in the base postoffice, in charge of Sergeant Ross of London, the other day, it was found that the sergeant had this sort of thing get your goat? "The sergeant of a newly-arrived letter addressed to a Canadian soldier, 'I don't know what I am going to do with such a letter. We get lots just like this one.'"

"Dear Friend From—'Would any soldier of the Canadian contingent care to marry a widow with three small children? The writer is quite young, not ugly, but tired of her struggle against big odds, and has a little over a year's experience in the trenches. I would like to meet with a homey man who has no relations and about thirty years of age. Looks immaterial. I am a kindly nature and lonely. Meeting to be arranged by letter. No photographs, handy or I would send one. Answer 'Sincerely yours, 'Hannah'—Sticks Newington.'"

"Would Have to Be Hero. 'He would have to be a regular hero,' said the sergeant. 'Three small children and her name is Hannah. Main Gott.' 'I have written to her,' spoke up one of the sergeants. 'And I got a lovely reply. I think there are about half a dozen around here trying to break her heart.' 'Gave Letters in Swarms. Sergeant Ross explained every letter and package that arrived every day addressed to no one in particular. He merely gives the loving scrolls and 'warmers' to the post office and to do as they like. It seems that a great many English dandies are inured to traveling alone. For instance there are Phyllis and Dorothy, who are looking for bread winners. They even sent their picture along and offered to write letters to lonely boys. Altho they don't say definitely, they would probably not mind meeting a couple of them.'"

Girls Christmas Greeting. 'The following is their letter addressed "A Canadian Soldier," West-gate-on-Sea, December 20, Dear Canadian Soldier: "This is the only way we can come and wish you all a very happy Christmas. If there are any lonely ones among you who would like to receive letters we shall be delighted to write as we feel we should like to do our little best to welcome those of our brothers from across the sea. Give goodbyes and best wishes to all from your sincere Phyllis and Dorothy.'"

Found Girls Charming. 'We have heard that a certain couple of dashing young privates spent the Christmas holiday at the home of Phyllis and Dorothy and mother and sister, and approved upon them. When asked about their reception of the men put his thumbs up which is the English way of signifying that the girls were very charming. There are also a few Canadian girls who have taken pity on the soldiers on the plains and have made violent love by letter to men they have not met. Of course it is very shocking indeed. Khaki is now my lady's favorite color. "If that face is any indication Winnie is a very nice girl," said Sergeant Ross.

Epistle From Post. 'Another envelope came addressed to "A soldier, Canadian Overseas Expeditionary Force, Salisbury, England." A soldier read the following enclosure: "Who are the Tommy Atkins be? Who gets no mail today. Accept this little card from me. 'The I've not much to say. For I don't know you very well. So it would never do to let you know. My name is Bell—Now who do they call you? "Great poetry that," said Sergeant Ross. "I'm a great, keen admirer of good verse. The sender of this 'pome' is a Balm Beach girl. She enclosed her name and street address and perhaps she will receive a letter from England. There is a practical joker and heart breaker in the post office who makes it a point to reply to most of such

J. L. Garvin Says Princess Patricia Know Opportunity When It Comes. Canadian Associated Press Cable. LONDON, Jan. 17.—James L. Garvin of The Observer has the following to say today: "The public will be keenly interested to know the identity of the territorial battalions which have distinguished themselves and it is to be hoped that no military objections will be found to the disclosure. England and Canada alike will find deep gratification in the news that the Princess Patricia's regiment of light infantry has simultaneously had the opportunity of proving its mettle at a northerly point of the line. After stopping the German advance by trench, fire, the trench-battled men in khaki burst into the open and the enemy's flight was not stayed until it had measured a mile, and brought the remnants of the fugitives within the protection of their own guns. It seems almost incredible that the Canadian losses in an affair of this kind were, as alleged, only two killed and fourteen wounded, but the Princess Patricia's men are most of them business veterans and such a feat would be a signal proof that they can recognize an opportunity when they see it. Their achievement will be a spur of no ordinary kind to the enlistment of the Canadian contingent when the time comes for it to give a practical account of its patriotism, physique, and training."

Board of Trade and Lambton Mills Associations Defeated in Shooting. Shooting matches on an extensive scale were held at the armories on Saturday the Irish Rifle Club, under Lieut. Eno, proving victors in all. In a ten-men team match between that club and the Board of Trade Rifle Association, in charge of C. E. Goldman, the aggregate scores were: L.R.C. 23, B. of T.R.A. 20. The Board of Trade, changing their No. 22 rifles for the regulation rifles of the Irish club, a second match between five-men teams was held, the Irishmen scoring 115 to 145 against the 98 of the Board of Trade.

TORONTO TRIPLED SCORE ON QUEBEC

Clean Hockey Throut and Fast Only in Last Period—Great Work by Moran.

Altho the Toronto-Quebec pro. hockey did not promise very well in the first two periods the players woke up with a jolt in the final period and made the 2-0 goal game when the local team landed at the top of the heap by a 3 to 1 score. It was fine, clean hockey throut and fast for the last period. The Toronto struck their stride. Continued aggressive clean fast break-aways were responsible for the Toronto forging ahead in the final twenty minutes of play. The boys were clearly not in the hunt. But for the spectacular work put up by Paddy Moran, who guarded the net for the Quebecers, the score would have easily been about 13 to 1. Not that he showed any clear superior talent. However, the latter did not have much chance to show his mettle. The little that he was called upon to do was well done, but he was not subjected to the same kind of bombardment as the other net guardians. If they continue to play hockey like that, the Toronto will be real contenders in the last days of the race for the N.H.A. championship. They certainly proved that they had it over the Quebec till the provincial final. They showed nothing to boast of during the two initial periods; the boys were by getting warmed up. At the end of the first epoch the count stood 1 to 1 in favor of nobody. At the end of the second epoch the Toronto scoreboard looked like the same, altho it was seen that the Toronto were looking themselves in the mirror and were capable of cutting loose whenever they saw fit.

Varsity Juniors Win Championship

By defeating the T.R. & A.A. at the Arena on Saturday by 5 goals to 2, the Varsity Juniors made sure of the O.H.A. championship. A large number of spectators occupied the benches, and feeling was high, keeping Connie Smythe and his team continually on the move. The line-up:—

Referee—Dr. Jerry Laflamme.
T.R. & A.A. set to work immediately. After seven minutes of play Traupp scored. He bored right down and shot close in.

Varsity also started to work, but could not get their combination working just right. After seven minutes of play Traupp scored for the T.R. & A.A., carrying the puck right thru the Varsity defence and shooting close in.

This reverse set the students to work harder, and time after time they were nearly thru, but it was not until after ten minutes that the Varsity made a break-away and scored, bringing the tally even.

In the second period Varsity showed much more life. They broke away often and were continually menacing the T.R. & A.A. goal. After 17 minutes of play they scored, carrying the puck off Mitchell from a rebound, and sent it in for Varsity's second tally. This score was followed by a goal in the third period, when Gouinlock made a fine run and sent in a twister, which had Mitchell puzzled.

Varsity played the T.R. & A.A. carrying the puck right thru the Varsity defence and shooting close in.

Varsity had to go all the way to defeat the Yale hockey team at the arena on Saturday, and only finished with a lead of one goal over their last Yankee opponents. The play of our neighbors looked vastly different from what we have been used to, and the fact that there were two halves instead of three periods was quite a change to the Canadians.

CANADIENS HAVE UNBROKEN RECORD

Saturday's Defeat by Ontarios Their Seventh Straight—Nice Goal Keeping.

MONTREAL, Jan. 17.—Showing unmistakable signs of the growing battle which they went thru at Quebec last Wednesday, the Canadiens went down to their seventh consecutive defeat on Saturday night at the arena, at the hands of the Ontarios to the tune of 7 to 1.

In the fact that the Canadiens had yet to break into the win column of the N.H.A. table, a good sized crowd was present. The game was by no means a well played one, because of its one-sidedness, but was practically free from rough play. An occasional individual rush, or combination attack, the latter mostly by the Ontarios, livened up the play at times, while the blots of both Percy LeSueur and George Vezina in the respective nets was brilliant.

Teams and Summary.
Canadiens—Vezina, goal; Corbett, Gosselin, defence; T. Smith, winger; LaLonde, centre; Pitre, wfg.

Ontarios—LeSueur, goal; Howard McNamara, G. McNamara, defence; D. Smith, wfg; Bonan, centre; Skinner, wfg.

W. DONOVAN TALKS WITH JOE KELLEY

Dick Kinsella Out of the Way and Cannot Succeed Arthur Irwin.

NEW YORK, Jan. 17.—Dick Kinsella, the giant scout, will be back in Toronto all the time, he will jump to the Yankees. Kinsella signed a contract to explore the bush, including the most season for promising talent for the Polo grounds. The scout left for his home in Springfield, Mass., last night, and will stay there a few weeks before reporting at Marlborough, where he renders valuable services to the Yankees. Kinsella will be in the city for a few days, and will be in search of a training camp. Donovan favors Sale, but Kinsella is in the Providence Club in that city last spring and found the conditions there ideal.

Golf Pro From Abroad To Succeed Barrett?

The Lambton Golf Club will have a new golf professional this year unless Percy F. Barrett changes his mind. He has been asked to take up his work with some other club, and it is expected that he intends going to the States. Barrett has been one of the best golfers in the country, and in his long career at Lambton has had many friends. He is an admirable teacher and possesses something more than the average pro.

Thirteen years ago, after serving a long apprenticeship under the greatest pro of the era, Harry Vardon, Barrett came to this country from England and took the shop at Lambton. Since then he has steadily added to his fame and fortune. It is chiefly due to him that the Lambton course is in such great condition today. He has suggested improvements and reconstructed the course under the supervision of the late Harry Vardon and when in form can give a good account of himself in the best of company. Just how the successor will be, it is hard to say. The general opinion is that an old country man will be brought here to take up the job. Barrett is a Canadian pro in Toronto and other places who are expected to be in the market, but it is believed that the majority of the club members having had such satisfaction in their first English professional will try to secure another one. Barrett will leave Lambton on the first of April.

WRESTLING BOUTS AT THE WEST END Y

The W.E. Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club again held one of its interesting closed tournaments last night in the wrestling room before a very good-size crowd. The following is the summary:—
105 lbs.—J. E. Hughes, a new man at the club, got the decision over 2. McIntyre after going the full six minutes. This was certainly some bout, for both are very good wrestlers.
125 lbs.—R. Hinchay put G. McCallum to the mat in 2:10. Both of these are new to the club, but will show much better in the tournament.
135 lbs.—E. Grosse had to go the limit of five minutes before he was able to get the best of his opponent. The referee was on the fence for a time, for the men are very well matched.
145 lbs.—The bout between A. Graham and Spratt was one of the best of the evening. Spratt hurt his shoulder, but Graham, the home boy, was victorious. Graham, the home boy, was victorious. Graham, the home boy, was victorious.

INTERMEDIATE BASKETBALL

On Saturday night at the West End Y for All Saints, and Schmidt of the same team were probably the best of the victors.

In the preliminary game a team supported by Harbord College, but which was picked from the teams in the High School League, defeated a picked team from the West End Y school boys.

Campbell, formerly of the University of Toronto, displayed fine form at centre, Irwin, who played centre in the last half for All Saints, and Schmidt of the same team were probably the best of the victors.
