One would have

that this was the fact. One would have thought a newspaper that had so vigor-ously denounced this profiteering that existed in armaments would jump on the one company in America that held the whole situation for the other companies, and especially a company that seemed to be under the special protection of two Canadian governments. Now has The Canadian governments. Nor has The Globe ever concerned itself about the payment of the royalties which provincial law had imposed on the International Nickel Co., and which that company had evaded.

In due time all the facts about this nickel scandal will be presented to the people of Canada, and they will be presented to the people of Canada in any by-elections that may happen along either in federal or provincial politics; and in the legislature and parliament when they happen to meet. We imagine, however, that some very radical change will take place immediately, arising out of this nickel scandal, and we would not be surprised to hear that Hon. Frank Cochrane had decided to withdraw from the responsibility of office, partly by reason of his loss of health, which everybody deplores; partly by reason of the position into which he has anded the Hearst and Borden governments in connection with nickel.

We also imagine that it will not be long before the government at Ottawa and the government at Toronto will be turning handsprings in order to recover the ground they have lost, and that the Inernational Nickel Co. will be no longer able not only to control the production of nickel outside of Canada, but no longer be able to head off any rival concern ever getting into the business. This is one feature of the story that has yet to be presented : How they have been masters of the situation, and how they have forced everybody from whom they bought nickel claims to sell them on the terms that this company dictatedone of the bitter experiences of a great many claim-owners who are residents and citizens of Canada.

the advance of the allies. Then the Russians probably went to the sector where the German strength was weakest.

Altho 600,000 German bayonets, the equivalent of 50 divisions, now confront the British army in Flanders, according to the estimates of French military experts, unofficial advices from general headquarters record that the department of health tonight. General Sir Douglas Haig is steadily pushing forward his lines on the Somme front towards the crest of the ridge commanding the wide plateau When the advancing troops control that ridge they will be able with their guns to dominate the important centres, whence radiate U.S. IS NOT LIKELY German lines of communication. Fifty divisions represent, at full strength, 1,000,080 effectives of all ranks and services, as opposed to the British * * * * * * Stubbornly keeping up their offensive before Verdun yesterday the Germans, throwing six regiments into the fighting, gained a little ground, in the vicinity of Sainte Fine chapel, at the intersection of the Fleury and Vaux roads. The objective of their attack, which was carried out in massed formation, was to gain ground in the direction of Fort Souville The six regiments used comprised effectives of about 18,000 rifles, with a corresponding artillery support, and the front that they attacked was "relatively" narrow.

It is not improbable that the German scheme, in case they have to give ground in Gelgium and northern France, is to try and extend their lines. outhward and beyond Verdun in order to obtain a good position for their flank. It is not definitely known what points the enemy has chosen for the drawing of his second great lines of defence, but those lines may extend from a point somewhere about Verdun to Antwerp. . . . . .

The Russians report that persistent fighting continues on the Stokhod front. The Germans crossed to the right bank of the river near Grouchieka Village, but later they were ejected from that bank by a Russian counterattack. The Russians made prisoner 24 officers and 745 German and Austrian soldiers on July 10. Intermittent rifle and artillery fire was exhanged on the whole fron. from Riga to Poliessie.

By the prompt throwing of many more men into the flery furnace German and Austrian high command apparently has succeeded in delaying the progress of the Russians at points about a day's march east of Kovel. The first army that the Teutons collected on this front was severely beaten the other day and it was only by the bringing up of a new army from somewhere that the enemy was sile to make a further stand. Or the Stokhod front, as a whole, the Russians have lately made substantial progress. In this war, when threats are made against vital points in the German lines of communication the advances seem cnly to be achieved by fits and starts. In the meantime the casualties of the enemy continue to mount up and Austria-Hungary in particular has begun to feel the want

The Russians claim the winning of a considerable advantage in the fighting with the Turks in the Caucasus. Their centre west of Erzerum has just captured a new line of fortified Turkish positions after making good progress westward. Between July 2 and 8 they took prisoner 107 officers and 1684 men and they captured three guns, ten machine guns marine other than formal suggestions and four bomb throwers. The Turks, in retreating, are abandoning much arms and war material.

It would not be surprising if the Germans, in their need for men, had called home the bulk of the troops recently sent to aid the Turks and had also borrowed contingents of Turkish troops as well. If this is so, the Russian army in the Caucasus may be able to score some important gains in Asia Minor in the immediate future.

Following up their victory over the Turkish forces the Russians gave them vigorous pursuit, repulsed a counter-attack and carried the Town of Mamakhatum by assault. This point is 50 miles west of Erzerum and it is situated on the Tuzlub River. The town was set on fire by the retreating enemy. This incendiarism shows that the Turks do not expect to in this town. The success here may enable the Russians to turn the Turks out of Baiburt and Erzinjan, and, perhaps, Diarbekr. * * *

In a few words the Italian official communication may be summarized. Adige Valley was the most notable scene of their progress. There they tered gains north of the Serra Valley and in the region of Malga ma. They also partially reoccupied the positions lost to the enemy on nte Carno on the slopes north of the Pasubio. In the Aslago basin they mbarded with great severity the Austrian positions and provoked a avy reply from guns of all calibre. Artillery fighting continues to be the feature on the Isonzo front.

The Way to Do It

You can't eat your cake and have it. You can't sell a valuable possession to every Tom, Dick and Harry and still possess a monopoly. The best way to keep nickel from going outside of the empire is too keep it inside of the empire. That will be better than all the comptrollers, chartered accountants and secret service men that could be turned loose in the United States.

But we are told that the British Admiralty for some reason wants our Canadian nickel ore to be refined in New Jersey, as apparently we have no so-called leaders of public opinion. facilities for refining in Canada and insufficient facilities exist in Britain. Why the Mond Company could not have put up a refinery in the last two years no one has been good enough to explain; why the Canadian Government or the British Admiralty has not put up a refinery during the same time the taking of both Containaison and the Mametz Wood. The final taking of Con-taimaison was accomplished with few casualties and the victorious troops when seen today were in triumphant spirits. The Germans faced their machine guns as if expecting the attack from the south, but, keeping close under protect-ing curtains of five, the British waves swept across a thousand yards, reached the ruins of the village, and, taking the guns and gunners from the rear, forced then to surrender. The Mametz wood was rushed from the side where the Germans were unprepared in the same way. This wood is some-thing over two hundred acres in area, and had not been cleared lately, and the undergrowth was so thick before the bat-tle the men had to force a passage thru it by pulling the branches to one side. The explosion of shells in this, as in the Trones and other woods, which have been so fircely contested, caused showers of fragments or limbs to fall on the troops. Machine gun bullets passed thru trees of small diameter. Posted Snipers in Trees. The last 40 yards of the Mametz Wood were the hardest to take because of the fallen trunks and limbs of trees, which formed a natural barricade. In some cases snipers posted in a tree were brought down when a big shell filled the tree. Some of the German wounded were pinned to the ground under the fallen trunks of trees and were removed with difficulty. The forest ruins are worse than the ruins of villages. "The orders were to go thru the Mametz Wood," officers said, "and we went thru, dug in on the other edge as told and stuck." # Against Enlistment

NEW HAVEN, Conn., July 12 .- Cupid Black, captain of the Yale football team, is pretty sore at Uncle Sam for trying to break up his fall practice. Yesterday he sent out an appeal to members of the eleven not to enlist in the Yale Battery. He fears if they do they may not be in college in the fall. And that, of course, means that the foot-ball team would suffer. Take men, members of the battery and a football season, have been severe in their criticism of Black. Two or three sayers are already members of the Na-tional Guard. Thus Sheldon, who played left tackle hast year, is in the battalion. Jim Bra-den, who played at Washington and Jef-fest year, is in the battalion. in the conversation. "How many brothers and sisters have you. Roger. and what are their names?" the neighbor woman inquired. "Four." the lad quickly replied.

"Willard, Curtis, Joe and Mabel." "How old are you?" the woman ask-ed. "Five," he replied. "And who is next to you?" she ask-ed. expecting him to reply with either a brother or a sister's name.

"Why, nobody right now. They've moved away."

BASEBALL AND GAMBLING.

BASEBALL AND GAMBLING. Detroit Journal: The closing of the Davenport, Iowa, minor league baseball park because its former etxensive patron-age was downtown betting in poolrooms, draws attention to the growth of an evil. In Boston a shooting scandal took place in the grand stand over betting on the game, and in New York the baseball own-ers are cognizant of the growth of the baseball gambling menace. In Detroit baseball gambling handbooks are made in the downtown saloons. Such is the prosperity of the city that bets as high as $500 and $1000 are made. In fact, it has quite usurped the pony handbooks in the local effections. Such a thing could be possible, of course, only under a favorable police regime. The same forces that kill play-grounds and schools are at work debasing baseball. Horseracing was sustained as a sport until the bookmakers destroyed the sport-ing element and the race track was prac-tically abandoned for the pool room. We believe it quite impossible that any such sweeping effect could be hade on base-ball. Nevertheless, baseball gambling is a menace. The actual organization of baseball is At Philadelphia—St. Louis won both sames here, the first 8 to 3 and the other in ten innings, 2 to 1. The visitors hit the deliveries of Hasselbacher and Wil-liams hard in the first game, while Plank kept Philadelphia's hits scattered. In the second contest Johnson tied the score in the ninth on his triple and Sis-ler's sacrifice fly, and the visitors won in the tenth on Marsan's safe bunt, My-ers' wild throw and a wild throw by Witt on Severoid's grounder. bail. Nevertheless, basebail gambing is a menace. The actual organization of baseball is as clean as a whistle, and will doubtless remain so. But playing baseball with bets in pool rooms is the poorest imaginable substitute for the great American recrea-tion. And, besides, it is strictly against the law, if any policeman should ask you.

At Boston-The Red Sox won another double-header from Chicago yesterday, the scores being 2 to 1 and 3 to 1. In the eighth innings of the opening game, errors by Terry, who went to short when Weaver was put off the field by Umpire Evans, gave Boston the winning run. One division of the Bulgarians had passed over the Timok, when a terrific storm washed away the bridge, and the surrounding country was flooded many feet deep. It was neces-sary to forward a very important com-munication to General Bosadschijew. Fetko Iwanow volunteered to deliver the message. He placed the communi-cation in his cap, mounted his horse without a saddle and plunged into the lorge dahead over the flooded mead-ows, reaching General Bosadschijew's hadquarters that night. After a short rest he started on the return journey, riding all night. He reached his divi-sion again next morning, but rider and horse were almost exhausted. The whole Bulgarian nation resounded with the praises of Petko Iwanow, and a fund has been created so that he and his horse can live in comparative case after the war.

Shareholders of Murray-Kay, Limited, have received their rights, entitling them to subscribe for the new first preterence stock, but these rights have not found any market here, and it appears to be difficult to get any bid for them. Under the reorganization plan the $1.500,000 of old preference stock is to be exchang-ed into second preferred, and a new is-sue of first preferred is to be sold to pro-vide new capital. The old preferred paid 7 per cent. in 1914, 1 per cent. on Feb-ruary 1. 1915, but nothing since. There has been no quotation on the stock here for a long time. Jeaf rimisk. Wettlaufer Effective at 9 o'clock a.m., July 11, the list price of St. Lawrence Beaver granu-lated and Atlantic Blue Star sugar was changed to $8.05 for hundred-pound begs. Previous prices were $8.26 for St. Law-rence and Atlantic Blue Star and $8.21 for Beaver.

"Mining costs at Cobalt all show in-creases, and this may be illustrated by the selection of an individual case. At this mine the actual cost of underground drifts and crosscuts has in-creased 39c per ton over the cost be-fore the war. Of this amount 12c has fore the war. Of this amount 12c has been caused in the rise in price of ex-plosives and 7c has been caused by the rise in price of fuse, caps and steel. In the shaft work the in-creased cost is 32c per ton. Stoping cost has increased from 10c to 15c per ton, depending on the width of stope, hardness of rock and so forth. "At Porcupine the price of explo-

war. Lack of Power.

"Froduction was curtailed in the early part of the year, due to low water resulting in a shortage of power for operating the mines, and this con-dition was not relieved until the second week in April. Most of the mines have made provision for this contin-gency by installing auxiliary steam plants, and these now amount to about 2500 h.p. In order to meet the rapidly increasing domand for power in the Porcupine camp the Northern Canada Power Co. is installing at Sandy Falls a 2500 h.p. Canadian General Electric generator, direct, to connect to an I.P. Morris water wheel, with surge tank and wooden stave penstock and con-trolling valves. This company also proposes to install during 1916 a 4009 h.p. unit at Wawaitin. These addi-tions when completed will give the Wawaitin power plant a capacity of 11,000 h.p., and the plant at Sandy Falls a capacity of 5000 h.p. Conservation dams to prevent a shortage of water are also being constructed." CANADIAN RAILROADS

Some Firm Stocks, But Many Issues Showed Tendency to Weaken.

Trading at the Toronto Stock Exchange was very restricted and no great demand for stocks was in evidence. There was a little more tivity than on the previous day, the price changes were irregular and on the whole trended lower, in spite of small rallies in Dominion Steel and Steel of Canada.

Steel of Canada. Smelters displayed considerable ac-tivity during the morning session, making a new low record for the new stock at 33 1-2. Later it recovered to 34, but in the afternoon the demand dried up and no transactions were put thru. There was news on the street to the effect that the company had suc ceeded in settling the labor troubles at its properties in British Columbia. Ames-Holden preferred was down four points at 65, while Canada Cement eased off from 63 1-2 to 63 1-2 and rallied again on the close to the opening

The unlisted group was very inactive. WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, July 12.—Winnipeg wheat was up 2½c for all months on the local grain market today. Oats were 1c higher for July, and %c higher for October. Flax gained 2c in July and December and 1%c in October. There was a big broad trade in all markets, mostly speculative. The feature of the market was the strength in oats. There was no apparent reason for this. A jump of 1%c in sym-pathy with wheat is unusual, and there was no exceptionally good buying. Flax was steady and firmed up towards the close.

In the cash market there was a big trade, and only heavy offerings kept the premiums unchanged. Exporters caused a very good demand.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL. July 12.—The feature of the grain trade today was the good de-mand from foreign buyers for oats and sales of over 300,000 bushels were made for future shipment. Cables on wheat were stronger at an advance of 9d per quarter, but owing to the further sharp rise in prices in the Winnipeg market, they were all out of line. Flour quiet and steady. Demand for millfeed slow. Butter and cheese quiet, with an easier undertone. Eggs fairly active.

clear drop of 35 points from the last previous transaction, about six weeks ago. More stock was offered at 40 at the close. Ames-Holden preferred sold off sharply to 62, a net loss of -9%, and closed weak, being offered at 61. The price was as high as 80 in May. No special reasons were advanced to account for the weakness in these fisues. Iron was the most active of the mu-nitions stocks and held fairly steady PRICE OF SILVER

FOR SALE

Three Gold Claims in Teck Townshi Strong veins. Will give liberal working terms to responsible people. For further particulars address Box 42. Toronto World.

Even when a company has plenty of money in its treasury it takes time to hire miners and to put the property in ship-shape for diamond drilling. Big strikes are not made daily on even the best of properties and rich veins can only be found by aggressive development, all o which takes time even when working three shifts a day.

The Newray has efficient mining men directing its affairs, consequently the development of the property is progressing in a businesslike way. The diamond drilling is being done by contractors who first submitted bids and who were allotted contracts because their price was the lowest.

There is nothing spectacular in this, but it is the most efficient way to develop a property and in the end the stockholders know exactly how every penny was expended.

The managers of Newray anticipate quick results from this dimond drilling, but quick results mean anywhere from 30 to 60 days.

On account of this some people may think they can wait and buy later on after a strike is made, but that is where so many get fooled, for when a big strike is made on a property like Newray the shares advance sometimes over night to double or triple their former quotations.

Whenever you purchase a stock on an exchange someone must sell, and after a big strike is made there are one hundred buyers to one seller and it is the bidding for stock that sends the price up.

The Newray company has sufficient funds in its treasury to insure about 20,000 feet of diamond drilling, which would mean 40 holes of 500 feet each, and even the layman can understand that this vast amount of work on a property with such rich surface showings as Newray, augurs well for a big advance in the price of the stock.

My sincere advice to my friends and clients is to buy Newray today, and after buying it to put it away in a safe place and to make up your mind to hold it until the company has had time to demonstrate its true value.

I have used Newray as an example simply because it is what call a mighty good stock to "hold on" to.

Of course, if you buy a stock for the sole purpose of making a market profit, Newray would only appeal to you as a good speculative stock that could be picked up today at around 40 cents and sold later on at a good profit, but, as I said before, the man who follows this plan is the man who winds up unsuccessful.

When you know a company has everything that is necessary or success in mining, you should buy some of its stock, and what's more, you should keep it, for if it is good enough to buy it is good enough to hold at least for a time.

Make your investigation before you make your purchase, no. afterwards, and after you are thoroly convinced that the company has the three necessary elements that are so essential to success, namely, a good property, honest and efficient management and ample capital, buy the stock and, at the same time, make up your mind to hold it until you have some good reason for selling.

The point I wish to impress on your mind is this. One good investment is worth a life-time of labor, but you nor anyone else can ever hope to make this one good investment unless you "hold on" to it after once making the purchase.
