There were to be a general throwing open of the vessel there would easily be over-crowding and people would see little. With the aid of the local police, there will be regulation of the numbers, so many on board at once and then another contingent, and so on. It is Captain Kennedy's wish to give all who wish a chance to inspect the vessel but her size makes these regulations necessary.

Schooner Is Wrecked Off Lunenburg; Master Lost

The Charles A. Ritecy, a Three Master

Rest of Crew Get Ashore by Breeches Buoy—Ship Went Down Before Captain Could Get Away.

Halifax, N. S., Sept. 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Striking a reef off Rose Point while endeavoring to enter Lunenburg harbor early this morning, the three-masted schooner Charles A. Ritecy was totally wrecked and her master, Captain O. Acker, of Mahone, was drowned. The remaining six members of the crew succeeded in getting ashore by means of a breeches buoy.

The Ritecy approached the coast in the wake of one of the most violent storms experienced this year. There was considerable mist and the first intimation the crew had of the nearness of land came with the roaring of the breakers on Rose reef. Immediately after that the ship piled on the rocks.

Owing to the high seas running it was impossible to launch boats or to approach the schooner from the land but the crew succeeded in getting a line ashore and rigging a breeches buoy, by means of which they hauled themselves ashore.

Captain Acker was the last man on the ship and before he could get ashore the Ritecy broke away from the reef and sank in deep water, carrying the life-line and Captain Acker with her.

ROUGH TIME ON MANITOBA TRIP

M. L. A.'s and Others on Stranded Steamer for Nearly Day—Relief Ship Breaks Down.

(Canadian Press.)
The Pas, Man., Sept. 15.—Adventures, which included the stranding of their steamer for twenty hours on a mud bank near a party of fifty men from Winnipeg and The Pas, including many members of the Manitoba legislature on their way back to The Pas after visiting the Flin Flon mine north of here.

The party crossed Goose Lake in canoes in a gale and driving rain. The steamer scheduled to meet them at St. George Landing was twenty-four hours late. After embarking on Sunday morning the steamer went aground and stayed for twenty-four hours. Finally, on Monday morning, the party embarked in canoes and set out for the foot of Big Stone Rapids, where a small steamer and barge awaited them. All were soaking wet. They reached the barge and set up tents on it. Thirty miles down, the propeller shaft of the steamer snapped and the tug, wet and cold and hungry, at midnight sent volunteers to The Pas for assistance. A third steamer was sent and landed the party safely at The Pas yesterday. On Monday the visitors subsisted on hard-tack and tea.

A BIT BETTER

Tendency to Decline in Living Cost Maintained in August.

Ottawa, Sept. 15.—Bread winners, who have been keenly aware of the steady diminution of the purchasing power of the dollar, will be glad to learn that a tendency towards a decline in prices of necessities, disclosed early in the summer, was maintained and was even more marked in August than in the preceding months.

Records of the department of labor show that the index number of wholesale prices, which stood at 356.6 in May, fell to 342.2 in June, to 346.5 in July and to 360.2 in August. The decrease from the July to the August figure was the largest noted in any like period since the winter months. It represents a decline of approximately five per cent in wholesale prices.

The decrease was due chiefly to low levels in the fruit and vegetable groups occasioned by the abundant crop, also to decreases in prices of grains, cattle, sheep, textiles, hides and leather, in some metals, raw fur and to slight decreases in other groups.

STARRED UP OVER THE ELECTION IN COLCHESTER

Expectation There is for a Small Majority, Whichever Man Wins.

(Canadian Press.)
Truro, N. S., Sept. 15.—With the opening of the polls only five days away, interest in the Colchester by-election, in which Hon. F. B. McCurdy, minister of public works, is seeking re-election in opposition to Captain Hugh Dickson, farmer-labor candidate, is approaching fever heat here. Both sides are thoroughly well organized, are conducting a most comprehensive campaign and concede that the result will be exceedingly close.

Political students in Colchester believe that the minister will receive the greater portion of his support in the county and that the town of Truro, which contributes approximately fifty per cent of the names to the voting list as a whole will prove the storm center. The woman who is being thoroughly canvassed by both sides in Truro and throughout the county and those who are following the campaign closely base their estimates of a small majority, whichever way the die is cast, on the fact that it is somewhat of an unknown quantity. Labor has been active throughout the campaign in support of Captain Dickson.

IN WALL STREET.

New York, Sept. 15, 10.30 a. m.—Much of the firmness manifested at the opening of today's stock market was due to the further strength of rails. Gains of the previous day were irregularly repeated. Delaware, Lackawanna and Western added 2 1/2 points to yesterday's substantial advance. Oils were next in favor pan-American and Mexican Petroleum rising 1 1/2 and 2 points respectively. Shipments also recorded further improvement under lead of Atlantic Gulf and specialties were featured by Retail Stores, Sumatra Tobacco and Corn Products. Among steels and equipments, Crucible, Great Northern Ore, Vanadium and U. S. Steel, also American Locomotive and Pullman, rose 1 to 1 1/2. Tobacco scored further gains and shipments and coppers strengthened. United Railways preferred, National Coal and Suit were strongest of the obscure specialties. American Woollen, Industrial Alcohol, and Republic Motors were reactionary. The new French 8's rose to the high record of 102 1/4, but reacted on profit taking. Report at 1.30 p. m.

Metals were conspicuously strong at midday. American Smelting and United States Smelting showing gains of 2 points and Utah and Anaconda Coppers 1 point. Mexican Oils also increased their lead but Denver and Rio Grande preferred sustained a further loss on reports of an adverse court decision.

DROP 45 OF THE ELECTION CHARGES

Prescott, Ont., Sept. 15.—(By Canadian Press).—A wholesale dropping of charges against Hon. G. H. Ferguson on lack of support in the evidence adduced and a motion for non-suit by W. N. Milley, K. C., chief of counsel for Ferguson, featured yesterday's hearing of the appeal against the election of Hon. Mr. Ferguson in South Grenville last October. Gordon Waldron, counsel for G. Arthur Payne, defeated U. F. O. candidate who was dropping for lack of evidence. This left about fifteen charges yet to be disposed of. These, Mr. Tilley contended, had not been proven.

G. Arthur Payne's claim to the seat of Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, as member of the Ontario legislature for South Grenville has been abandoned by his counsel.

News Notes About Prominent Baptists

(Maritime Baptist). The Olivet church, Marysville, is rejoicing in the return of its pastor, Rev. J. Barras, after an enforced absence of several months due to ill-health. On September 5 he began his sixth year as pastor of the church. As an evidence of the esteem in which he is held, the church voted to add $200 to his salary. Rev. J. E. Gosline has received a unanimous and urgent call to become pastor of the Cromocho field. He has accepted and will begin there early in October. Among the many New England ministers who spent the holiday season in the provinces was Rev. Byron U. Hatfield, who recently assumed the pastorate of the first Baptist church of Westerly, Rhode Island. He is a native of the Maritime Provinces, and his aged mother and other relatives still live here. Rev. Christopher Burnett is just completing an eight years' pastorate with the Maranatha Baptist church of Detroit. He has tendered his resignation to accept a call extended to him by the Crescent Heights church, of Calgary. He will begin his work there on October 10th. Among us he is remembered by his pastorate of the Leinster street church, St. John, from 1902 to 1906.

We are sorry to learn that the health of Rev. W. H. Robinson is still far from satisfactory. Of the new pastor at Paradise he writes: "Rev. W. S. Smith is now settled with us. He is a man of excellent spirit, a good preacher, and is gladly getting a firm hold of the hearts of the people. We believe we have been divinely guided in our choice."

Rev. J. H. Puddington has resigned the pastorate of the Springfield, N. S., group of churches. He has been with them for more than three years. He accepted a call extended to him by the Kingston-Melvern Square field, and will enter upon his duties there about the middle of September.

The church at Brown's Flat recently granted a license to Brother Alfred Salmon, who purposes devoting his life to the work of the gospel ministry.

Rev. George G. Kincaid recently began his second year as pastor of the Baptist church at Gardiner, Me.

Rev. C. F. Clark, after enjoying a month's holidays by the shores of the Bay of Fundy, is once more at work on the Pokiook-Southampton field.

Last Thursday there appeared before the committee on pastoral supply and resignation, Arthur Wallace, who recently arrived in St. John from Scotland. His credentials showed that he and his wife are members of the Baptist church at Rothsay, near Glasgow, Scotland. He is a graduate of the Bible Training Institute of Glasgow, and both he and Mrs. Wallace have had experience in city mission work in that city. Early in the war he enlisted in the British Expeditionary Force, and his war service included a term of imprisonment in Germany. He comes to us with good recommendations, and gives promise of much usefulness in the ministry of the Word.

More than three thousand dwellings have been erected in Canada this year under the dominion and provincial housing schemes.

BIGGEST CIRCULAR SAW

The largest circular saw in the world have just been made to fill a special order from a Pacific coast lumber mill. Each saw is 108 inches in diameter, weighs approximately 795 pounds, and includes 190 feet. The latter are inserted in the rim and can be replaced if broken. Two steel ingots, each weighing 1140 pounds, were the raw material from which the great disks were made. The saws will be used for cutting big logs into lengths suitable for the production of shingles.

WASTE OF FUNDS IN BRITAIN CHARGED

(A. P. Correspondence). London, Aug. 28.—British papers are printing almost daily examples of what they term the waste of public funds. A report just issued by the Committee of Public Accounts sheds fresh light on the subject. Nearly 88,500,000 was involved.

It appears in the government's plan to finance the Russian General Alexieff just before the Bolshevik revolution brought about his collapse. Part of the plan was to set up a Cossack State Bank in Siberia, and for that purpose $2,500,000 was loaned to a Russian financier. But the bank was never set up and the committee wants to know what became of the money.

The Ministry of Munitions paid $12,250,000 for a plant begun in 1917 and which, when the war ended, was only half completed. For this outlay, the committee points out, the country received no benefit whatever except through the "stimulus to the steel trade."

Estimated yields per acre for the whole province, according to correspondents are: Wheat, seventeen bushels; oats, thirty-seven; barley, twenty-four; flax, eleven; rye, seventeen; though department chiefs think that the estimate is high on oats and flax and low on barley.

To the Electors of St. John-Albert

Ladies and Gentlemen:

At the request of the Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, leader of the opposition and the Liberal Party of Canada, the by-election in this constituency is to be contested. In accordance with that mandate which was given in the interests of the country as a whole and for the preservation and advancement of the great principles of the Liberal Party I was asked and consented to offer myself as the Standard Bearer of the party.

I am a firm believer in our party principles, which stand for democratic rule and responsible government, for the preservation of British institutions and "for government by the people, of the people and for the people." I am absolutely opposed to autocratic rule and class legislation favoring trusts and combines. I believe that the party of which Hon. Arthur Meighen is the head, is controlled by profiteers and unscrupulous politicians and that the luxury taxes which are burdening the masses and the laborer, clerk and salaried man and woman today are caused by the extravagance, unfair and dishonest methods of those in charge of the treasury of our country.

I further wish to impress upon every elector that election by acclamation is a most vicious practice and is not part of democratic government. The humblest elector has a right to a voice in the government of the country.

In addition to what I have already pointed out we must all admit that my opponent in this election has done nothing for the Port of Saint John while at Ottawa, although millions were spent at Halifax (N.S.) With that experience the electorate must realize that his record up to present is ample justification for his silence as to what he will accomplish should he be elected. Truly did he express his own powers in the government and what he will accomplish when he said at the Union Club banquet, "If I don't get something for St. John there will be something doing at Ottawa."

I believe in our harbor being nationalized and I am opposed to our heritage being handed over to the government of this country as proposed by "The Wigmore Act," in which practically no provision whatever was made for permanent connection between East and West Saint John, in addition to its objectionable features in general. No more vicious legislation could be enacted against those residing on the West side of the harbor.

I am of the opinion that a government which found millions for the development of Halifax should have found an equal apportionment for Saint John, and not having given our constituency any consideration cannot hope to receive the support of its electorate. No person should have become a member of the government unless it was agreed that more wharves were to be built at West Saint John, the breakwater to be built forthwith, and appropriations necessary for the proper handling of the incoming and outgoing trade of this port. That my honored leader will be a true friend of Saint John is evidenced by the speech he made in the House of Commons after his last trip to this city, and while he pleaded the cause of our city my present opponent must have remained silent for Hansard does not record anything that he said in support of Saint John's claims on that occasion.

On account of the dying days of the present government it is not difficult to see that very little, if anything, can be accomplished by Hon. Mr. Wigmore for Saint John should he be elected; and his defeat will hurry the day when a government will come into office which will mean the return of good times in Canada and a happy and contented people.

In conclusion, ladies and gentlemen, I ask the support of all people no matter what their political beliefs have been heretofore. This is the peoples' fight, the driving from power of a number of men whose selfish motives are ruining the credit and the standing of our common country.

Sincerely yours,
ALBAN F. EMERY, M. D.

THE MAINE RESULT.

The Republicans are naturally elated over the result of the Maine state elections. Such a sweeping victory in a campaign in which national issues were very generally discussed would seem to indicate that Maine, in the coming presidential elections, will be more Republican than usual. Of course that does not necessarily follow, nor will other states of necessity follow Maine's example; but the experience of past presidential elections has given rise to a tradition that as Maine goes in a presidential year the rest of the country is likely to go in the later campaign. If, however, the west is rallying to Gov. Cox as his newspaper supporters claim it has been doing, the Maine indication may this year be at fault. It had been generally remarked that this would be a Republican year, but that was before the candidates for the presidency were nominated and the League of Nations issue as sharply defined as it has been of late. We may be sure that the supporters of Harding and Coolidge will make the most of the Maine result. It must be said for the Democratic candidate for the presidency, however, that he is conducting a campaign remarkable for vigor and plainness of speech.

TRIBUTES TO CANADA.

Before they left Canada the members of the Imperial Press Conference from overseas gave individually to the Montreal Star a brief statement of their impressions. First of these was an impression of the vastness of Canada, and its immense possibilities of development. Second was an impression of the broad intelligence, the confidence and the energy of the people, and the great things they have already accomplished. One member frankly said that he did not expect to see anything like the number of large and highly organized communities which actually exist, and which moved him to wonder and admiration. Still another impression was that of the devotion of Canadians to the Empire, as gathered from conversations with people from coast to coast. One observer was much impressed by evidence of the community spirit which has given rise to Canadian Clubs, Rotary Clubs and others which inspire a man to give his services to his city and his country. One member said: "The people are as wonderful as the country. Their courtesy, their ingenuity, their respect for religion, their enthusiasm for education, and their love for all varieties of manly sport, ensure for them a glorious future." Another said he had realized the vastness of the Dominion, but not its marvellous progress. One was impressed by the lack of such poverty as is found in some English cities. "This," said another, "is the land for the working man." Of the many glowing tributes we may quote that of Mr. Valerius Knapp, president of the Newspaper Society of England:—"Canada, the heir to all the ages, stands at the threshold of destiny. Strong and lusty, it stands possessed in its soil, its forests, its mines, its water-power, of physical advantages illimitable; in extent unparalleled in the Old World, unmatched in the New. Its manhood newly tried in the Great War is conscious of its power, and, as a young giant, looks steadily and unflinchingly towards the future. Phenomenal as has been Canada's progress during the years of its national youth, greater still must be its educational and industrial progress during adolescence, and of the greatness of its attainment when grown to the fulness of its stature—when the greatest development of its at-present-untouched resources shall have been realized—of today can only prophesy. It is the future that will know. Of Canada's hospitality we may say, it is like her lakes and prairies, immeasurable. Equally of our gratitude, may we say, it flows like her torrents." Canadians, in turn, are able to pay the highest compliment to the members of the Imperial Press Conference. They announced at the outset they had come to learn, and students they remained to the end. All who came into personal contact with them realized that here were alert minds seeking knowledge, and having no desire to impress their own views and personality upon those they met. Their visit should be of vast benefit to Canada, for already British publications are publishing enthusiastic articles about Canada and her people, contributed by members of the conference.

Without full and exact information the matter which has led to the resignation of Hon. E. A. Smith from the provincial government cannot profitably be discussed. Regret may be expressed, however, that conditions should arise which would bring that result. Hon. Mr. Smith has been an excellent administrator and has made a fine record in office. In matters of general policy he does not differ from his colleagues, and this makes it more regrettable that conflicting views regarding one matter should lead to his withdrawal. The name of his successor, the premier says, will be announced in a few days. The Standard's deep concern over the sad state of the government may easily be traced to a desire for the restoration to office of the gentleman who exploited the crown lands, the Valley Railway, the patriotic potatoes—and everything else in sight.

LORD BEAVERBROOK.

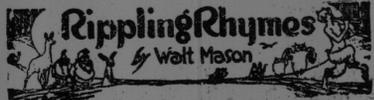

In his address at the Union Club yesterday Lord Beaverbrook greatly pleased his hearers by giving a comprehensive review of Imperial and world conditions, as these affect the empire; and it was a rare opportunity thus to listen to a man who has been at the heart of things and possesses universal knowledge concerning movements on the political chess-board in Europe. His lordship set forth clearly the difficulties confronting the British government at the present time, the gravest of which is that presented by labor, but which he is confident will be overcome by the usual British triumph of common sense. Lord Beaverbrook also talked interestingly of the future relation of Canada to the foreign policy of the Empire, and gave his hearers food for earnest thought in that regard. He speaks but modestly about his own achievements, though these have been brilliant, and pays a great tribute to Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, that great son of New Brunswick who has been so strong and so steadfast a figure in British and world politics since long before the war. It would be indeed a pleasure and a privilege to welcome him to his native province, as was suggested yesterday by Lord Beaverbrook. The latter placed his hearers of yesterday under an obligation by his intimate talk on Imperial questions that are much in the public mind at the present moment.

JUVENILE COURTS.

If the recommendation of the Bureau of Municipal Research is carried out, the city of Toronto will take a great forward step in regard to its juveniles. This subject is of sufficient interest in St. John, where efforts to secure a juvenile court have thus far failed, to warrant consideration of the Toronto proposal. In that city for several years there has been a demand for a real detention home in connection with the juvenile court. The Bureau of Municipal Research declares that as soon as the financial condition of the city permits it should provide a new building to house all departments of the juvenile court including accommodation for boys and girls, adequate day quarters and playground facilities, study rooms, and facilities for segregating the various types of children, particularly the feeble-minded. The Bureau would go further and drop the name "Detention Home," using "Juvenile Hall" or some other not suggestive of imprisonment. Not only so, but it would have the closest co-operation of various other departments and welfare organizations with the juvenile court. A chart of suggested organization for the Toronto court, submitted by the Bureau shows first the judge connected with the department of the attorney-general and with the city council, and under him would be:—

- (1) Delinquent child department, with chief and four assistant (one female) probation officers, and linked with city police, board of education, through its truant officer and teachers; big brothers and big sisters and kindred associations, the industrial schools, and the Boys' Home at Barrie.
 - (2) Detention home, with its superintendent, teacher and boys' and girls' section with day and night attendants.
 - (3) Secretarial division, with clerks and assistants and receiving clerk.
 - (4) Medical division with its psychiatrist and medical officer, nurse and social worker and linked up with the provincial department of public health, Toronto General Hospital and Toronto University. The judge is linked with the advisory committee of the city council and the council is linked with the Social Service Committee and the provincial health department.
- In other words the work of the juvenile court is regarded as of the highest importance and worthy of the fullest sympathy and co-operation. It is that proper detention homes are a feature of the system in Montreal, Calgary, Winnipeg, Vancouver and a list of American cities, and it is felt the time has come when Toronto should have a suitable building to house all departments of the court.

The Bureau of Municipal Research takes the ground also that jurisdiction of the juvenile court should be raised to include children up to eighteen years of age, and that the provincial government should deal in an adequate manner with the question of proper care of the feeble-minded. The matter of a juvenile court for St. John should now be taken up again; and the municipal council urged at its January session to provide for the necessary expenditure. This city does not require the large staff and accommodation called for in Toronto, but it does need a judge and probation officer as officers. Should a detention home be needed as the city grows, an excellent site is available and owned by the municipality. The condemnation by one of their own leaders of the British miners demand for a reduction in the price of coal, coupled with the official figures regarding reduced profits, should have some effect upon the organization. Riots in Petrograd show that the Bolshevik regime has not yet brought an approach to the millennium.

ORGANIZATION.

The merchant princes, nowadays, keep tab on all the N. G. Jays. There comes to Princeville-in-the-Vale a stranger, J. Adolphus Kale. He's no apologetic runt; he puts up quite a gorgeous front; he talks as though he owned a mine that turned out gold or rubies fine. In olden times this sort of bluff was really quite artistic stuff. But now when J. Adolphus goes to stores that deal in furbelows, and says, "I've come to settle down in this, your enterprising town, and need three miles of barb wire fence, which I will pay for three weeks hence," the dealer sighs and says, "By Jones, I fear you'll have to show the bones before you pack that wire away—you're not renewed as first class pay." Then J. Adolphus leaves the store and kicks himself until he's sore. The Princeville merchants, when they found the guy Adolphus on the ground, inquired of Muddown-on-the-Pike, what this Adolphus gent was like, and Mudtown said, "If he's your guest, nail down all things and guard the rest." Thus, nowadays, our records go from town to town, and all men know if they are classed as "good as wheat," or listed "neath the head of 'Best'."

CANADA—EAST AND WEST.

Dominion Happenings of Other Days

THE BUFFALO.

Where thousands of farmers have been cutting the wheat of the western prairies lately one roamed countless numbers of buffaloes. When the Canadian Pacific Railway was being built across the continent the enormous number of these animals was the amazement of the workers. But that day is gone and now the grain fields have taken the place of the grass covered prairie where the animals fed in millions. A few of the wood variety may still exist in the far north, but the buffalo as known in the pioneer day is virtually extinct except for the herds in confinement at the government parks in the west. The Walworth herd dates back to 1908 when the federal government purchased a herd of 600 animals from a rancher in Montana for $250 each. At that time the idea of the government entertained was to prevent the extinction of the great animals but so well have they thrived in captivity that now the herd numbers about 5,000 head and there are 1,000 bulls that can be sold or slaughtered without endangering the future of the family. Skins of the bison have become very valuable and at a recent sale in Montreal several heads of the lordly animals were sold at huge prices to furriers. It is estimated by the government that in a very short time the herd will become more than self supporting, and able for sale each year will bring sufficient to maintain the rest of the drove. An attempt has been made with considerable success to cross the buffalo with Canadian cattle to produce an animal with a great shaggy skin for robes. The product is hardly any larger and bears the name of cattalo. It is being raised on several experimental farms.

Dartmouth Student in Whose Case Appears Rum Running Story.

Woodville, N. H., Sept. 15.—The Grafton County grand jury yesterday returned an indictment of murder in the first degree against Robert T. Meads of Lagrange, Ill., who shot and killed Henry Maroney of Dartmouth, Mass., on the eve of commencement exercises at Dartmouth College last June. His trial was set for next Monday. Meads was alleged to have been connected with a "rum running" system between points on the other side of the international boundary and Hanover, N. H., by students of Dartmouth, according to evidence and a dispute over liquor was supposed to have resulted in Maroney's death.

General Pétain Takes as Bride One He Admired From Childhood.

Paris, Sept. 15.—Marshal Henri Philippe Pétain, commander-in-chief of French armies in France during the latter years of the great war, and the French general whose work at Verdun made him a national figure, was married to Madame Hardon at the city hall of the seventh ward of Paris on Tuesday morning, says the Petit Parisien. The marriage is a realization of a lifelong dream of the marshal, who knew the bride when she was a very young girl, long before her first marriage. He always cherished a tender memory of her and hoped that, some day, circumstances would enable him to marry her. The bride, according to the Excelsior, is very wealthy.

HOW IT WAS DONE.

Private Sparks, on guard, probably wasn't looking when the general passed nearby; anyway, he failed to salute. Something terrible was due to happen to Private Sparks. "Colonel," the general said, "the man on No. 7, failed to salute me. See that he is severely reprimanded!" "Yes sir!" replied the colonel, and then he chanced upon the captain and said: "The man on No. 7 failed to salute the general this morning. See that he is severely reprimanded!" "Lieutenant," the captain said, some time later, "Private Sparks failed to salute the general today. See that he is severely reprimanded!" "Yes, sir!" responded the lieutenant, and when he encountered the first sergeant that evening told him: "Private Sparks failed to salute the general this morning. You will severely reprimand him!" "Yes, sir!" responded the sergeant, and when he came across Private Sparks he said: "Look here, you lie-faced mutt, you let Old Ironback go by without throwing him a kiss, and it near broke his little heart. Let me catch you doing anything like that again and I'll make you wash back of your ears and take away your chewing gum!"

PLAN FOR WORLD'S GREATEST STADIUM

Stupendous Project at Ohio
State University

Cost Estimated at $1,000,000
— A "U" Shaped Structure
Accommodating 63,000
Persons in Two Tiers.

(Lawrence Perry in New York Evening Post and Sun)

I am permitted to announce a project shortly to be launched which, if successful—and as to this there seems little doubt—will see the erection at Ohio State University of the world's greatest stadium. The stadium will cost 1,000,000. It will dominate a ninety-two-acre plot of land along the eastern banks of the Olentangy River, given to the university by its board of trustees a few years ago for development as a recreational and athletic field. The structure, which will be named for the State of Ohio, will be U-shaped in design, and, unlike any previously constructed amphitheatre of the sort, it will have two seating levels in elevation. It will be 107 feet high, accommodating 63,000 persons; 42,000 will be seated in the lower tier and 21,000 in the upper tier. Boxes alone will accommodate 1,700 persons.

Architectural Arrangements.

To give the big arena architectural emphasis in a way that will not interfere with the seating of spectators, there will be 87 arches, 18 feet wide by 58 feet high around the outside, and on one 70 feet wide by 86 feet high forming the main entrance. For handling crowds, 86 stairways will feed 112 aisles, all having a circulation capacity sufficient to empty the stadium in seven minutes without crowding. Spectators will be admitted through from one to eighty-three entrances. The arena will cover 150,000 square feet, an area equal to the ground area of ten of the university's recent buildings. In the construction of the stadium there will be required 40,000 cubic yards of concrete and 4,000 tons of steel. The north or closed end of the structure will have incorporated a moveable stage that can be used for various kinds of outdoor exhibitions, produced on a large scale, with 20,000 people can comfortably enjoy. Under the seating the space has been designed to provide a large gymnasium and place for holding indoor track meets, indoor horse shows, industrial exhibitions, and automobile shows. In other words, the stadium will be something more than a place merely for football games.

A Great Play Field.

The ends of the horseshoe will be embellished by towers and will open out into America's largest college playground, to be called the New Ohio Field. This field will include twenty baseball diamonds, five football gridirons, scores of tennis courts, and an artillery parade ground. Engineers have begun work on the new field and are now staking off the stadium location. The $1,000,000 required to build the stadium and develop the field will be secured by the Ohio Stadium Committee next month through a popular subscription that will be taken up among Columbus business men and the alumni, former students, undergraduates, and friends of the university throughout Ohio and outside States. It is intended to make the structure a gift to the university in honor of its golden jubilee, which will be celebrated next month. The stadium will be ready for the opening game of the 1922 football season.

President Thompson's Views.

President William Oxley Thompson, endorsing the project, declares that "no one is able to forecast the many uses that will be made of the stadium aside from the facilities afforded for football. It is clear," he adds, "that the future carries with it more outdoor life than we have ever before realized."

More than one-half of Ohio State University's undergraduate body of 7,200 participated in various forms of competitive sports last year. During seven years of play among the "Big Ten of the West," as the Western Conference teams are popularly referred to, Ohio State's varsity teams have won five championships—two in football, two in baseball, and one in tennis. Athletic authorities at the institution, in an intensive effort to encourage physical education in the undergraduate body, have adopted various measures to give their project practical value. Through the New Ohio Field and the Ohio Stadium it is expected to provide competitive sports for an undergraduate body of 10,000.

A talk on STYLES:

Paris Transplanted

FOR centuries "Paris" and "style" have been synonymous. The world over fashion designers seek their inspiration from the French capital. Our designers spend much time each year in "Gay Paree" and Parisian correspondents unceasingly keep us posted with the latest creations.

Many of these fashions of France's bright capital need much adaptation to suit Canadian ideas, customs and climate. This is where our staff of designers, trained in Paris, but thoroughly conversant with the ideas and preferences of Canadian women enable us to offer you a unique service.

Our fur garments are spoken of all over the Continent as the acme of exquisite style and unsurpassed workmanship. There is a style which will appeal to you.

Last call

DO not miss your chance to preserve these last sun-ripened gifts of summertime. How your folks will enjoy them, and how pleased you will be to serve them when canned goods made with top-priced sugar are out of reach. The time for preserving foresight is when the fruit is still in season.

Lantic is your best friend in retaining the rare bouquet of luscious plums and peaches, of delicately-flavoured pears. Its tiny, snow-white crystals of purest cane dissolve so quickly into syrup of concentrated sweetness, that you can smile at the old-time caution "Let it simmer until the sugar is all dissolved"—because it's FINE.

Fruit will retain its natural form and colour because over-cooking is unnecessary. Lantic WILL go further, and so costs less.

Men who keep posted on SUIT VALUES and styles

$35, $40 and $45 are vouched for as non-extravagant suits or overcoats for men.

The government says so.

And the same authority is responsible for the deduction that a $45 Semi-ready Suit is the equal of any retail tailor's $60 value. That is expressed in the new tax law.

The price label in the pocket of every Semi-ready Suit is based on the cost of the cloth in the garment.

The styles offer both variety and expression.

active blue—many airplanes and above, all a very troubled but beautifully painted sky. The panorama is an invaluable guide to anyone starting on a tour of the battlefields. It quickly gives a vision of Northern France that topographical maps never quite suggest.

Roosevelt has a prominent place in the American group, standing on a lower step and in an attitude of aggressive appeal. Wilson stands in front of a bust of Washington with the cabinet all about him. Hoover, Pershing, Sims, Gerard, Taft, House all there—and Mrs. Vanderbilt again and other American women nursing soldiers and washing and dressing little children. Among the non-descript figures are a cowboy, an office man and a farmer.

Hals is the centre of the British group, with the king on his right giving up to the Prince of Wales (in full kit) for service in France. Lloyd George occupies the same forward place, the second step, as Roosevelt in the American group.

Heroes of the War. "Heroes," in the French section, shows thousands of individual fighters which the crowd is ever studying, trying to find a friend or relative to recognize. But best of all are the spectators' comments on the national groups, the figures being generally mistaken for statues. "I wonder how they keep those steps so spotlessly white; should think dust would settle on them," declared one American woman. A few that are spectral descend from the pedestal to a circular enclosure beneath it, where visitors are invited to study the national groups on the level. There is a great craning of necks and squinting of eyes here until the fact that every figure, every object, even the steps, are all achievements in paint laid on flat canvas is without question.

The French heroes are supposed to stand on the steps of the Temple of Glory, beside which is the Monument of (Aberdeen Free Press.) The Corporation of Glasgow are among the largest farmers in the country. They possess a total agricultural land, owned and leased, of 1,618 acres, the working of which, instead of being a burden upon the ratepayers, produces a substantial revenue surplus. Last year the cropping accounts showed a balance of $47,470. Of course these farms have enjoyed the general prosperity of the farming community, the reflection of high prices, but taking the average result over the past four years there has been a clear revenue of over $20,000 each year.

GLASGOW CITY FARM

The land which produces such results was originally acquired to provide an outlet for the city refuse which could not otherwise be readily disposed of, and under skilful development it now not only furnishes food and fodder for the stud of horses owned by the Cleansing Department, but supplies crops which gives a handsome return towards keeping down the cost of the department to the community. Last year the principal crops grown were, hay, 856 tons; grass, 124 tons; turnips, 512 tons; potatoes, 350 tons; straw, 418 tons; oats, 7,000 bushels; wheat, 1,500 bushels, and barley, 600 bushels.

GREAT PAINTING OF WORLD WAR

Panoramic Masterpiece in Paris Compared to Eiffel Tower in Fame.

Paris, (by mail)—The idea of two well known Paris artists, Pierre Carrier-Belleuse and Auguste-Francois Gorguet, conceived in 1914 and at once put into effect, has resulted in a gallery of battle panoramas and war portraits which, though a private enterprise, is likely to become as famous to tourists as the Eiffel Tower.

Portraits are still being added, but the present collection of six thousand in the foyer is said to fill the original plan. The gallery is called the Pantheon de la Guerre. It occupies a special building, which was begun in 1914. The building is octagonal, but looks like nothing so much as a great oil tank covered with stucco and having a square foyer in front with a classic entrance portico supported by Greek pillars. It stands near the Esplanade of the Invalides, on the rue de l'Universite.

In The Entrance.

In the foyer is the great collection of war portraits, all of uniform size and a bit monotonous, although the predominance of the French horizon blue and the splashes of khaki make a pleasing mass color effect. These portraits include all of the French generals, admirals, heroes like Guyonemer, statesmen, allied kings and queens (excepting the British, who have not yet been able to pose in Paris), the allied ambassadors and General Pershing. Most of the American portraits here are of women relief workers, but they are not identifiable excepting by acquaintances as the catalogue gives only the last names.

These portraits are to the right of the entrance. On the left is a group of preliminary sketches of the great panorama which one must climb dark steps to see. There is also an entrance to a little studio with a sign informing visitors to enter and make appointment for portrait painting by M. Gorguet. By the way, seventeen other French artists helped the two founders to complete the institution. It has been described by Rene Basin of the French academy as a prodigious work of art, well composed, well painted, and destined to last.

Deceives the Eye.

After stumbling up the dark steps you find yourself on a sort of pedestal in the centre of the circular building with 875 feet of canvas, fifty feet high, stretched all around. A wire fence keeps you on the pedestal and here you are the victim of an illusion. Such is the triumph of realism of the artists that every figure, every object stands out as if modeled in material.

The foreground is worked out in minute detail; this is a sort of marble platform with steps leading up to it, and all the allied leaders and their flags painted most photographically on the platform or on the steps, with a wall as a background. Then beyond this wall is the great continuous field of battle, from the Yser and Ypres to Alsace, said to be geographically correct. To an eye taking in mass color, there is an embroidery of horizon blue on every section of the front.

Quickly, at first sight, you see Rhine cathedrals burning, and the wreckage of Verdun which is above the American group. You see mountains and rivers, clumsy tanks in fields, motor lorries, and long winding roads lined with am- allied kings and queens (excepting the British, who have not yet been able to the Dead, a very solemn and impressive design. Five steps lead up to it from all sides. In the front a large wreath lies on the steps to the right. The base is like a plain centopath, in front of which the black-robed figure of a woman kneels. Above are bronze pedis supporting a coffin draped with a French flag, including standard. The figures hold the coffin high, at arm's length.

CONSTANTINOPLE AS IT IS.

Constantinople now combines all the frenzy of a new mining camp and a world seaport. It's "the end of the trail" for all the Balkan States and everything west of Suez on the Mediterranean. Caucasian oil men, Donetz Basin miners, Anatolian sheep and cattle kings, Greek war millionaires and Syrian merchants rush to Constantinople to pop champagne in proof of their success.

Under allied occupation the city has become a wilder place than it was under the Turks. There are no civil courts. None of the Allies desires to assume responsibility for reforms other than are necessary to safeguard life. Italian, French and British troops co-operate with the Turkish gendarmerie in keeping order. But everybody's job is nobody's job. Consequently Constantinople is a very wide-open town. Midnight closing is enforced pretty generally, but until that hour there is little interference with dance halls, gambling dives and red light districts unless murder is committed.

Half a dozen Summer gardens offer vaudeville programmes which attract thousands of persons every night who seem to have far more interest in the drinks and restless crowds than in the Russian prima donnas and bare-legged dancers, whose art is usually as meagre as their attire. Turks, Arabs, Bedouins, Egyptians and Assyrians, gorgeously clad in native costumes, elbow their way among Cossacks and Georgians whose uniforms are far more brilliant than their recent military achievements.

Coal-black French Colonials, resplendent in red fezzes and green khaki, mingle with Sikhs and Punjabi, whose long hair and many-colored head-dresses are wrapped in sombre brown. Civilians, soldiers and sailors from all parts of the world are hopelessly jumped together in Constantinople.

A SON OF MARS

An interesting case is that of a member of the London Stock Exchange—a regular London dandy—who, when the war broke out, gained a lieutenant's commission in October, 1914, by virtue of his work with the Territorials. This man spent some time at the front in France, saw the Dardanelles through coming out of that show a captain. He then campaigned with Allenby's army from Cairo to Jerusalem. He was put on the retired list on being brought back to England, in March of this year, after over five years of war.

He then spent exactly five months on the Esplanade, and told his friends that the life was too slow. He asked the War Department to be placed on the active list again, and is now en route for Mesopotamia, where he hopes the Turks and Russians will make it lively enough to make life worth while.

PRINCE MAX OF BADEN SPEAKS OF CONDITIONS

Mannheim, Germany, Aug. 27.—The present military operations are only a very minor part of a world wide offensive which Soviet Russia is now setting in motion," declared Prince Max of Baden in the course of lengthy interview which appears today in the Baden State Gazette. Asked whether he saw a way out of the present dilemma for Germany, Prince Max, according to the report, said:
"There is only one very slender hope, it consists in an unconditional maintenance of our neutrality both to the east and the west, and one last desperate effort to effect a revision of the Versailles peace treaty."
Prince Max believes that what he calls the German resistance to the moral invasion of Bolshevism is bound to crum-ble down if the checking pressure from the west is kept up.
"It would bring scant justice to Lenine's uncanny personality," he continued, "if one were to believe that he is capable of keeping more than a sham peace with so-called capitalistic states. Lenine believes with religious fanaticism in the victorious march of his idea; the dictator-ship of the proletariat or of the commu-nistic portion of the proletariat. His plan would rather consist of provok-ing and fostering civil war in the bor-dering states so that, when the time was ripe for invasion, he would find an open door and a union of comrades."
Prince Max believes that the prospects of such a plan succeeding in Germany are not wholly unpromising, as the "moral invasion" he declares has already set in and news from East Prussia plainly in-dicates that the red propaganda among farm laborers there is already taking ef-fect.
"Europe today is aflame," he con-cludes, "and the task of extinguishing the conflagration cannot be postponed. The situation demands the restoration of President Wilson's 'fourteen points,' which constituted the basis for the Treaty, but which were wholly ignored at Versailles."
All artificial edifies erected there have already tumbled down or are threatened with imminent collapse. The fate of Poland is a horrible example. If the Polish state can only be revived, it is keeping with President Wilson's words it comprises an unchallengeable Polish population."
"It would be a charity if our surplus educated population was helped to emi-grate to South America or some coun-try where it could start life anew."

HUNGARY'S PLIGHT

Budapest, Aug. 25.—"No work and high prices are making Hungary a trouble center," said Count Etienne Crouy Chancel, who is the most legitimate can-didate for the throne of Hungary.
"We have here upwards of 100,000 workmen who are either without work or else have to work for 1,000 crowns a month, the price of a pair of shoes,"

LORD BEAVERBROOK ON PROBLEMS OF THE EMPIRE

At the civic luncheon tendered Lord Beaverbrook yesterday at the Union Club a warm welcome was given the guest of honor who in an eloquent speech discussed the most important questions of the day. Mayor Schofield presided and gave the address of welcome after which he called on Lieutenant-Governor Pugsley to propose the health of the guest which he did in a graceful manner paying a high tribute to Andrew Bonar Law, a native of New Brunswick, who is now one of the foremost statesmen in the British parliament. The Irish question was discussed as well as the Russian and Polish situation. He said England would presently be divided over the question of Mesopotamia. He continued by saying that the miners' strike would come perhaps about September 27, that the electrical workers would also go out and although England may see some of its people facing death by cold and starvation it would resist the action of unions and would beat the strike as it had beaten other strikes. In speaking of Canada Lord Beaverbrook said that it was time that the foreign office was re-organized so that the overseas dominions might have a share in the influence upon the foreign policy of the empire. He said he was sure Canada did not intend to stand aside and therefore there was need of a re-organization of the imperial machinery giving the dominion a voice in the affairs of the empire. His

FED SAWDUST TO THE COWS

Turned Stumps Into Fodder and Received Increased Milk Supply.

Chicago, Sept. 15.—When the dairy farmer of the future needs feed for his cows he may get a fresh supply by going out in his wood lot and reducing a few stumps to sawdust. By chemical treatment hydrolyzed sawdust may be converted into a nourishing cattle food.

This fact was brought out today at the sectional meeting of industrial and engineering chemists, American Chemical Society, at the University of Chicago. The process of preparing such animal food was described by E. C. Sherrill and G. W. Blanco.

While sawdust, finely ground, is treated under steam pressure with diluted sulphuric acid in a large boiler, known as a digester. This breaks up the fibre and extracts the sugar. To prevent injurious effects, the acid is neutralized by adding lime to produce chemical action. The liquid thus obtained, when boiled down, is rich in sugar, and when mixed with the fibre, produces a moist feed containing about 15 per cent of water, in which form it is fed to dairy cows.

At the Forest Products Laboratory, United States Department of Agriculture, Madison, Wis., experiments proved that three cows thrived on this sawdust ration, and not only gave more milk, but increased in weight.

The result was so satisfactory that the government has decided to take up the matter on a larger scale at the experimental stations throughout the country and furnish a detailed report on the value of hydrolyzed sawdust as cattle food.

HUNTING SEASON OPENS TODAY

The open season for shooting wild ducks, geese, brant, coots, gallinules, rails, woodcock and jack snipe begins today in this province and will continue until December 31, except in the case of woodcock and jack snipe, which cannot be legally shot after November 30.

The bag limits are twenty-five ducks, fifteen geese, fifteen brant, fifteen plovers, twenty-five jack snipe, and ten woodcocks per day. The use of powder, traps, snare traps, or any other means are forbidden and no shooting can be legally done at night. The big game season in the province also opens today.

NEW PROGRAMME AT OPERA HOUSE MAKES BIG HIT

Includes Novel Black-Faced Minstrel Offering, Clever Dancing, Comedy Gag and a Thrilling Athletic Performance.

The new programme at the Opera House last evening was witnessed by capacity houses and that all present thoroughly enjoyed the various vaudeville offerings was shown by their frequent appreciative applause. There was an abundance of comedy, exceptional good eccentric and step dancing, popular musical renditions and an athletic offering of merit.

One of the biggest hits on the new bill was that of McBride, Gazette and Shelley, who appeared in a novel comedy black face minstrel offering. They gave a pleasing performance which consists of comic songs, jokes and clever dancing. They were greeted by hearty applause and laughter.

Ben Merrif and Company won much popularity in a variety singing, dancing and musical number. The male member first gave impersonations, after which he played most acceptably on 'cello and brought his performance to a close with one of his best eccentric dances ever witnessed on a local stage.

Leah and Arthur Bell were also well received in a ventriloquist offering. The male member entertained all with his art, and that it was thoroughly enjoyed was evident for he was forced to respond to repeated encores. His partner also shared in the success achieved and her pleasing personality made a favorable impression.

The Franchini Bros. were given a hearty reception when they appeared in an athletic offering. They performed various feats, which called for exceptional strength and skill and won prolonged applause.

Mary Lee also entertained with songs. In addition to the vaudeville numbers there was another episode of the popular motion picture serial, 'The Silent Avenger,' featuring William Duncan. This performance will be repeated tonight and again on Thursday.

FOUND RIGHT MEDICINE AT LAST, SAYS ODD

Worn-out Feeling and Indigestion Gone and He Gets Up Every Morning Ready For Work Since Taking Tanlac.

"Tanlac has simply made a new man of me," declared Frederick Lord, well-known fisherman, living at Navy Island, West St. John, N.B. "Last winter my digestion became so upset I couldn't eat a thing without having terrible pains in the pit of my stomach afterwards that fairly doubled me up. I bloated up with gas and I had to let out my belt several holes, and I had a bad taste in my mouth all the time. I got very little sleep at night and always got up in the morning feeling tired out. I was so weak I could hardly drag around and thought I would have to give up altogether.

"My brother-in-law was greatly helped by Tanlac, and when he saw what a weak condition I was in he advised me to try it, and I'm glad I did for it proved just the right medicine for me. The first few doses gave me an appetite and in a very short time I could eat like a horse and never suffer a particle from pain or gas afterwards. "I now sleep peacefully all night and get up in the morning feeling ready for work. I have gained several pounds in weight and in fact my whole system has been benefited and I feel just fine all the time. Tanlac certainly is one grand medicine and believe me there's nothing like it."

Tanlac is sold in St. John by the Ross Drug Company and F. W. Munro; by G. W. McKay, Beaver Harbor; Willard J. Colwell, Evans; C. V. Parsons, Highgate; John P. Meagher, Debec; O. D. Hanson, Lepreau; E. L. Conley, Clarendonville; N. H. Johnson, Clarendon Station, and by the leading druggists in every town.—(Adv.)

MILK QUESTION IS DISCUSSED

Dealers Confer with Board of Health — Situation to Be Investigated.

A conference between the milk dealers and the board of health was held yesterday afternoon in the board of trade rooms. As a result of this meeting, prosecution of some dealers may be withdrawn. The board decided that the facilities should be placed in the hands of the wholesale dealers, farmers and producers to materially reduce their risk. Close co-operation between the three was recommended.

Mrs. R. J. Hooper, Dr. L. M. Curran, W. H. Golding, Dr. William Warwick, and Dr. T. Fred Johnson were appointed a committee to investigate all phases of the milk situation and to make representations to the proper authorities in matters of necessary improvement in the milk supply.

On behalf of the milkmen their spokesman said that they had no way of knowing how much bacteria in cans contained; that they were just as anxious to sell clean milk as the public was to buy it. He contended that chance gatherings of store keepers and sub-vendors compromised the wholesaler unfairly.

Discussion ensued, in which Dr. Abramson, Dr. Warwick, and Chairman Kelly as well as some of the dealers took part. This discussion disclosed the fact that the cars supplied by the city and Apohaqui for storing milk, the one at the latter place had not been used. The milkmen severely criticized the treatment for the milk cans, which are caused to fall off, denting the receptacles and sometimes causing leaks. One dealer said he had had milk shipped from Kines county in a damaged can soldered with hard soap.

Dr. Abramson dwelt upon the necessity for having the milk supply perfectly clean. He felt that the intelligent action of the milkmen themselves would be much more effective than prosecution. Louis Eckebrecht of East St. John, submitted an agreement to the board to remove and bury all dead animals from the city of St. John, and to clean up the places where the heaviest suffering by the Roman Catholic church, at Liverpool, N. S., Harley Brougham was estimated at about $5,000. Partial insurance was mentioned.

The body of a man was picked up in the Bay of Fundy last week and taken into Freetown, S. N. S. It was weighed and again committed to the deep. Martin Daley, one of the best known conductors on the C. N. R. running out of Moncton, has resigned his position after about forty years' service. About 2,000 people visited the Woodstock fair yesterday. Wet weather has interfered with the attendance to quite an extent, but the attractions are excellent and it is hoped with good weather to go over the top in the matter of attendance.

The resignation of George R. Rideout as chief of police in Moncton was accepted at a meeting of the city council held last night. The resignation is effective October 8. The resignation of Sergeant Allard was also accepted. Col. S. Boyd Anderson was appointed city clerk succeeding J. S. Magee, who resigned. Col. Anderson was also appointed treasurer and receiver of taxes. W. A. McWilliam was appointed accountant and purchasing agent of the water and light department.

ST. JOHN PRESBYTERY. At the afternoon session of the St. John Presbytery yesterday a further college course for Mr. Penwarden was suggested, but the matter was referred to the Miramichi Presbytery. A. N. Gillis gave a report of the Sunday schools in the Upper St. John river district. Rev. A. MacKeigan gave a report for the Forward Movement showing that the Presbytery's allocation of $39,000 was exceeded by $2,500. The matter of a new minimum stipend of $1,800 was discussed but no action taken. Rev. Dr. J. A. Morison then moved a resolution of appreciation to Rev. Mr. Eisenhart. It was carried unanimously. The matter of the preparation of a basis of assessment was referred to the finance committee on motion of Mr. Sutherland, seconded by Judge Forbes, which was carried. Mr. Baird, the clerk was PLACED ON THE REGULAR ROLL OF CONSTITUENT MEMBERS OF THE PRESBYTERY.

The constituent committee recommended that the sum of $850 be granted to Norton each year and that arrears to the account of Rev. C. Y. Lewis totaling $200 be recommended to the Synod that the amount be paid. The meeting was adjourned to meet at the call of the moderator, Rev. A. J. W. Back of Milltown.

HAIR OFTEN RUINED BY CARELESS WASHING

If you want to keep your hair looking its best, be careful what you wash it with. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else that contains too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsified coconut oil (which is pure and excessive) and it cleanses the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsified coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.

TELLS DYSPEPTICS WHAT TO EAT

Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble, say medical authorities, are due nine times out of ten to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. "Chronic 'acid stomach'" is exceedingly dangerous and sufferers should do either one of two things.

Either they can go on a limited and often disagreeable diet, avoiding foods that disagree with them, that irritate the stomach and lead to excess acid secretion; or they can eat as they please in reason and make it a practice to counteract the effect of the harmful acid and prevent the formation of gas, sourness or premature fermentation by the use of a little Bismarck Magnesia at their meals.

There is probably no better, safer or more reliable stomach antacid than Bismarck Magnesia. It is widely used for this purpose. It has no direct action on the stomach and is not a digestant. But a teaspoonful of the powder or couple of five grain tablets taken in a little water with the food will neutralize the excess acidity which may be present and prevent its further formation. This removes the whole cause of the trouble and the meal digests naturally and healthfully without need of pepsin pills or artificial digestants.

Get a few ounces of Bismarck Magnesia from any reliable druggist. Ask for either powder or tablets. It never comes as a liquid alkali or citrate and in the bisulphated form is not a laxative. Try this plan and eat what you want at your next meal and see if this isn't the best advice you ever had on "what to eat."

COMMISSION GOVERNMENT DISCUSSED IN BRANTFORD

Brantford, Sept. 15.—J. C. Levitt addressed a largely attended meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here on the subject of the commission manager form of government. It was the first meeting of the campaign on which three municipal committees are at work in order to secure an improvement in the form of government. The speaker declared that the 187 municipalities in the United States which had adopted the commission form of government had found it to be more economic and efficient, and that he was not desirous to go back to the old form of management. Absence of partisanship and better value for money received in taxes were features which had resulted. W. S. Brewster, who was in charge of the travelling information in order that Brantford might solve the question in due time.

ALLIES TO GET TWO BIGGEST DIRIGIBLES

Britain and France Claim "Blimps" in Lieu of Severed Military Zeppelins Burned by Huns.

Paris, Sept. 15.—What are called the world's two most perfect dirigible balloons, the Nordstera and the Bodensee, built by German since the armistice, are to be turned over to England and France according to the latest decision.

The two nations claim the ships in lieu of the seven military Zeppelins, which were burned by the Germans since the armistice, instead of being turned over to the Allied Reparations Commission.

According to the latest available information, the Nordstera and the Bodensee embody all the latest devices perfected by German scientists during and since the war. Both ships are of the rigid type and are said to have a greater lifting capacity than any others in the world.

Not Aspirin at All without the "Bayer Cross" BAYER

The name "Bayer" is the thumb-print of genuine Aspirin. It positively identifies the only genuine Aspirin—the Aspirin prescribed by physicians for over nineteen years and now made in Canada. Tin boxes of 12 tablets cost but always buy an unbroken package of larger "Bayer" packages. There is only one Aspirin—Bayer. MOTHERS' ADVICE

The responsibility for a daughter's future largely rests with the mother. The right influence and the information which is of vital interest to the daughter imparted at the proper time has not only saved the life but insured the success of many a beautiful girl.

When a girl's thoughts become sluggish with headaches, dizziness, or a disposition to sleep, pains in back or lower limbs and a desire for solitude, her mother should come to her aid and remember that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, made from native roots and herbs, will at this time prepare the system for the coming change and start this trying period in a young girl's life without pain or irregularities. Thousands of women residing in every part of the United States bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtues of this medicine, and what it has done for their daughters.

Brooklyn, N. Y.—"I cannot praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound enough for what it has done for my daughter. She was 15 years of age, very sickly and pale and she had to stay home from school most of the time. She suffered agonies from backache and dizziness and was without appetite. For 3 months she was under the doctor's care and got no better, always complaining about her back and side aching so I did not know what to do. I read in the papers about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I made up my mind to try it. She has taken five bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and doesn't complain any more with her back and side aching. She has gained in weight and feels much better. I recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to all mothers and daughters."—Mrs. M. F. Jones, 615 Marcy Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y.

He Was in St. John on the Ariadne in 1904 — Speaks on Future of Canadian Navy — Praise for Navy League.

A graphic description of the work of his vessel and the cruiser squadron to which it is attached, pleasant reminiscences of his former visit to St. John in 1904, and the possibilities of the Canadian Navy, were amongst the matters spoken of by Captain E. C. Kennedy, R. N., in a highly interesting address to the members of the Canadian Club at luncheon in Bond's today at noon.

Horace A. Porter, vice president of the club, presided in the absence of A. M. Belding, the president. There was a good attendance.

Captain Kennedy said that he thought a few words on the work of the navy in the grand old days of the war. He passed around a chart literally covered with lines showing the various cruises made by the vessel.

Since the armistice the distribution of ships has included the placing of a light cruiser squadron in seven parts of the globe, the Constance being a member of one of these.

Was On Ariadne. In 1904, he said, he served in the last flagship in this station—the Ariadne, and had pleasant recollections of his visit to St. John in 1904 during the tercentenary of the landing of Champlain. Eighteen months ago he came back again in the Constance, the first ship to arrive in these waters after the redistribution.

Since coming the ship has been called upon to perform some extraordinary duties.

"We were cruising in Jamaican waters," he said, "and received a wireless call from Belize (British Honduras) saying that serious riots had broken out amongst the natives. We went there and stopped three months with troops ashore under arms to protect the 300 white inhabitants against the great hordes of blacks of every type who afterwards, a call from Spanish Honduras saying that rebel troops were marching on British towns. Leaving 100 men under arms at Belize, the Constance proceeded to Spanish Honduras and the presence of the ship was sufficient to restore order."

"Our next duty was to escort the Hawaiian with the prince on board to Halifax. Returning shortly afterwards to the West Indies. On one island a section of the police had struck for no apparent reason and the natives had all struck in sympathy. The situation was tense but again the presence of the vessel prevented an outbreak. Later the ship was called upon to deal with a mutiny on board a British ship carrying a valuable cargo which was rapidly depreciating. We managed to get the ship to its destination without further trouble."

"An extraordinary case of a British ship with a remarkable record then presented itself. She was commanded by a bold buccaner of the Captain Kidd type who had taken his ship into a French port outside of British jurisdiction and kept her there five months on various pretexts. She had a £1,000,000 cargo which was in danger of becoming bad and we were asked to go and seize the vessel. With the permission of the French authorities, at the dead of night we succeeded in seizing the ship and towing her 500 or 600 miles to a British port. After afterwards we learned that with a new captain and crew she had reached her destination, South Africa, and delivered her cargo to the South African government."

These cases I cite to show that our work here has not been wasted.

"We have made other cruises to our very outlying possessions, and in that part of the world, where we have always received a warm reception from the inhabitants. Some of these places are completely isolated from the outside world with no means whatever of communication."

Often times there is only one white man in one place the local administrator was carrying out the duties of postmaster, chief of police, chief justice and in addition looked after the people's spiritual and corporal welfare. There was no doctor, but he had a medicine chest from which he administered."

He asked the surgeon to come ashore to the sick. He did so, but before night the news had spread broadcast that there was a real doctor on the island and there was hardly an inhabitant who was not stricken with some ailment.

"It had been my wish to return and visit the Canadian ports where I was so well treated several years ago but have not been able to do so until now. This is our first visit and I regret to soon to take over a new crew at Halifax and go home."

The Canadian Navy. Speaking of the Canadian Navy and its possibilities, Capt. Kennedy referred to the recent West Indian conference and Canada. "Trade always follows the flag," he said, "and you will have no better ambassador than a warship. Being away from the main fleet, one naturally gets rusty in fleet work which is preparing for war. When the Canadian Navy comes and if they are used only in home ports, they cannot progress. If the policy will be to join up with the British cruiser squadrons, it will be of enormous benefit both to them and to us as we will be able to exchange ideas. We will watch the growth of the Canadian Navy with great interest. We are really all one, and if the time comes when the fleet is needed on active service, they will be all one."

"While we are in port here we have been received with much cordiality and we appreciate it, but our ship work has been at a standstill and if we remained here any length of time we would soon become rusty. The government told me yesterday of the work going on here which is of great interest to us."

"I should suggest going further and erecting oil tanks, particularly as I hear that oil is obtainable in the province."

Oil is undoubtedly the fuel of the future and this will be a greater attraction to the port in many ways.

Captain Kennedy paid a high tribute to the work of the Navy League who, he said, are endeavoring in every way to promote interest in the navy and their enormous good work in the past all over the world is well known. He wished them every success.

"BE MODERN—LET POWER DO YOUR WORK"

Introducing the "1900" Agitator Water Power Washer.

Power—electric, steam or water, plays an increasing part in the home work these days, and it is therefore in line for Everett to procure for his patrons the exclusive local agency for the famous 1900 Agitator Washer—the washer that operates from water power that flows from the common everyday kitchen faucet.

The 1900 Agitator Washer will quickly pay for itself in the saving of money actually paid out, besides reducing the work three-fifths. This latter item is a powerful point because of the saving on clothes, etc., made possible by the ease of operation. In fact, it has been proved that clothes will last from twice to four times as long as when the clothes are washed under the old conditions and methods.

There's no scrubbing—the soap and water are forced through the meshes of the cloth, bringing forth the article washed sweet and clean and at an imperceptible amount of wear on the goods.

The 1900 Agitator will wash anything from a handkerchief to a lace curtain or a carpet—just a turn of the faucet and the work does the work.

Possibly we can show you in a more detailed way just the working of the machine?
