AIR ADDS THE LATEST TO DISASTERS OF OCTOBER

The Zeppelin Dirigible
Aflame in Mid Air

TWENTY-SIX KILLED

Huge Blazing Airship Falls 900
Feet, and Only One Aboard is Saved—Long List of Fatalities in German Conquest of Air

(Canadian Press)

Began, Oct. 17.—A disaster in the air involving the destruction of another Zeppelin dirigible and the loss of the lives of twenty-six out of the twenty-seven on board, occurred this morning near the Johannishall aerodrome, when the new dirigible "L-11" was making its trial trip before acceptance as a main unit of the aerial fleet attached to the German navy.

An admiral board consisting of several officers, including Lieut. Commander Behnisch, and Senior Lieut. Freyer of the German naval corps, was on board. The pilot was Captain Giese. A veteran seaman of the crew of Captain Zeppelin and Lieutenant Von Bleut of the Queen Augusta Grenadiers Guards was making the trip as a guest and was the only survivor of the wreck. He was injured very seriously, and in a dangerous condition.

Most of the bodies of the members of the crew were burned to such an extent that they were unrecognizable.

Coming so soon after the destruction of the "L-1," in a hurricane in the North Sea, on Sept. 9, when fifteen men lost their lives, the disaster gave rise to a feeling of consternation in Berlin, whose public had within a week been dined by the loss of many German passengers on board the burned and sank Volturno and by the accounts of the terrible mining catastrophe in.

of Disasters

The Zeppelin airships have been singularly unfortunate ever since their invention by the soldier-son. Fewer than seven of them have been destroyed by accident, and V.A.I. met with disaster in this way, also the Deutschland I, II, III, and now the L-I and L-II, the first airships attached to the German navy, have gone the same way.

Many minor accidents have happened to other vessels of the same system and several soldiers have been killed or injured.

On the occasion of the last catastrophe, on Sept. 9, the German Emperor is said to have kept his head in the sand. He had been in command of the naval manoeuvres during the day, and the dirigible, the L-I, considered the pride of the German navy, had been engaged in reconnaissance work in the evening when it was blown away to sea by a violent gale and when she struck the water broke in halves. Many of the members of the crew were inside her cabins.

900 Feet Above Earth.

An airship exploded today at 10:15 o'clock this morning, while it was over the outskirts of Johannishall, sailing at a height of about 900 feet. The craft fell on the main highway leading into Johannishall, its blackened wreck of twisted aluminum framework blocking the road.

The exact cause of the accident is unknown. The dirigible had just left its shed, and had traversed barely a quarter of a mile in the direction of Berlin.

Spectators suddenly saw a bright pillar of flame shoot from the middle of the balloon and the next instant the craft was a mass of flame, plunging to earth, burying those aboard beneath its wreckage.

"L-11" was the latest and largest of the air crafts designed for the Great German navy, and was about 800 feet long.

Hundreds of people witnessed the accident and were appalled when they saw the great structure burst into a glaring mass of fire, and then fall from a height of 900 feet, a mass of blazing canvas and molten aluminum, across the public highway.

It was impossible for some time to approach the flaming dirigible, because the members of the crew had all been killed.

MINE DEATH LIST IS 436

All Hope of Saving Any More From Welsh Colliery Has Been Abandoned—King Gives to Relief Fund

(Canadian Press.)

London, Oct. 17.—There is no hope of bringing any more men alive out of the mine pit at Senghenydd, South Wales. As much as can be now estimated, 436 men are entombed. This morning, with fifty bodies brought up, and with four deaths supervening after rescue, and with the banksmen and another rescuer killed, brings the total of victims to 486, an unparalleled number in this country.

A relief fund has been opened by the ward mayor at the Mansion House, at the request of the executive of the South Wales Miners' Federation, and a fund also has been started by the lord mayor of Cardiff. Splendid donations have already been received. The king has sent £500 to the Cardiff fund.

There are some heart-rending cases of distress, and the need for immediate assistance is urgent.

HUERTA TO MAKE A STATEMENT TOMORROW

Plans to Assemble Foreign Diplomats in Mexico City—London Opinion

RAILWAYS DISCONTINUE THE CARGO AGREEMENT

Announcement in Montreal After Meeting With Board of Trade Committee

Washington, Oct. 17.—Governor Huerta plans to assemble the foreign diplomats in Mexico City today or tomorrow, according to latest state department advice, and to make a statement on the present situation. No inkling of Huerta's purpose was contained in the despatches. Administration officials doubt if his statement will alter the situation.

Those closest to the administration policy believe the dealings with Huerta are practically ended and that peaceful measures to compose the situation will next be exerted in other directions.

Speculation on the possibility and extent of the rights with the constitutional head has not yet reached the present situation, but brings no definite statement from official quarters.

The railway representatives at the meeting were: C. P. R. Machines and Assistant Manager W. R. MacLean and Assistant Manager J. W. K. Ross, Canadian National; Grand Trunk, Freight Traffic Manager, C. E. Dewey; Canadian Northern, General Traffic Manager G. H. Shaw.

MORE CATTLE TO STATES

Alberta Sends Across 400 Head
Valued at $40,000

North Portal, Sask., Oct. 17.—The new United States tariff admitting Canadian cattle free is affecting the cattle trade of western Canada. Last night a stock ship carrying 400 head of steers from the McClay round, ready for the Atlantic market, was passed over the bound-ary destined for Chicago. The shipment of twenty cars is expected.

United States import and customs officer's word is that Regina and the stock train was detained but a few minutes at the boundary. United States customs officials here are besieged with inquiries regarding the new tariff as it affects cattle and grain.

Montreal, Oct. 17.—Following a meeting of a committee of the Montreal Board of Trade and representatives of the railways entering Montreal, it was decided to cancel the 32 agreements between the railways and cartage companies for the handling of freight will be cancelled. Under no circumstances, the railways declare, will the agreement be continued after the first of the year.

NOVA SCOTIAN FINED IN CHARLOTTETOWN FOR THEFT OF TICKETS

Regina, Sask., Oct. 17.—After an investigation extending over many months, during which visits were made to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police to obtain official information, members of a royal commission on farm credits have attached their names to a unanimous finding and presented it to the premier. It is known that the report is absolutely favorable to the establishment of a system such as exists in Germany.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., Oct. 17.—Chester D. Stanhope of Guyshoro county, N. S., sometimes known as Mason, was convicted of stealing three railway tickets from Charlottetown to Winnipeg and was given a three months' imprisonment.

The ticket was sold to a man in Germany, and the proceeds of the sale were used to pay off debts.

Stanhope had surrendered two of the tickets when arrested. The third of them was produced by the prisoner today. He found inside the torn lining of his overcoat.

THE IDLE CAR WORKS

Halifax Echo: — There is a rumor abroad in the North End that the Nova Scotia Car Works will be opened up again at the end of the month or early next month. The news, if true, will be welcomed by a large number of the employees who have taken temporary jobs in the city. A large proportion, however, have left the city for New Glasgow, Amherst and Boston.

MR. HAZEN'S ACHIEVEMENTS

With fatuous persistency the Standard ard continues to invite public attention to the achievements of Mr. Hazen in the matter of the withdrawal of the mail steamships from the port of St. John, at the expense of the I. C. R. for the benefit of the C. P. R. and the city of Halifax, represented by Mr. Borden. The Standard, however, does not set forth the achievements of Mr. Hazen with sufficient clearness, and with a neighborly desire to be helpful the Times herewith appends a list:

(1) Mr. Hazen remained in blissful ignorance of what had been going on at Ottawa to the injury of his constituency until apprised of it by angry telegrams from local leaders of his own party.

(2) He then disclaimed all responsibility on the part of the government.

(3) He wired later to Sir Thomas Shaughnessy for some information of no value whatever.

(4) He made an appointment for the St. John delegation to meet Mr. Borden.

(5) He gave the St. John delegates a banquet.

(6) He came to Montreal to knock humbly at the door of that prospective party if not present maker and master of cabines, Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

(7) Having accomplished absolutely nothing he returned to Ottawa.

(8) Mr. Gutelius and Mr. Brady of the I. C. R., formerly of the C. P. R., were so little impressed by the activities of Mr. Hazen in the interests of St. John, and had so poor an estimate of the extent of his influence in the government, that they proceeded to Halifax to select the berths for the mail steamships, perfectly assured in their own minds that Mr. Hazen would never get them back to St. John.

That's all.

MORE NAVY TALK

The special correspondent of the Montreal Star cables from London that the Quarterly Review publishes what he describes as an authoritative appeal for the earliest possible naval conference, preferably at Vancouver, to discuss "the grave new situation threatening the security of every British state and the conditions of Empire partnership." The unhappy gentleman who contributes the article to the Quarterly Review is Mr. Archibald Hurd, of whom we do not appear to have heard in any authoritative capacity until he is thus exalted by the correspondent of the Montreal Star. Mr. Hurd is grieved over the confusion the Canadian service's action has introduced into "the relations between the Imperial government and the governments of the dominions generally."

Mr. Hurd is wrong. It was the Borden government in Canada which introduced the confusion, when it abandoned the naval policy entered into in 1899 in common with Australia, and with the approval and at the suggestion of the British Admiralty. But for Mr. Borden, Canada would now have vessels of its navy under construction, provided for by the naval act introduced by the government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. In Australia the other day, Lord Denman, the Governor-General of that Commonwealth, speaking on the occasion of the arrival of the Australian warships at Sydney, set forth the Australian policy as follows:

"For Australia a local navy is a sound and right policy. The contribution system is out of the question for Australia for the present time and for all time. Australia now takes a foremost place among the dominions of the Empire in regard to naval defence. She has risen to the full height of her Imperial responsibilities, and makes a really splendid contribution to the naval strength of the Empire."

The Australian policy was the Canadian policy, and was heartily supported by Mr. Borden until it became necessary for him to make his peace with the Nationalists of Quebec. Then it was that confusion was introduced into the relations between the governments of the Dominions and the Imperial government with respect to the navy.

The unhappy Mr. Hurd sees steadily increasing danger for Britain, not only in European waters, but on the Pacific. It is very apparent from the review of his article, which the Montreal Star correspondent has cabled across, that he is particularly anxious to have, not only Canada, but all the over-sea dominions make substantial contributions to relieve the British tax-payer. Whenever this suggestion of a contribution is made, which also involves the suggestion that Canada cannot provide a navy of her own, we are reminded of the statement of Mr. Arthur Hawkes, the "British born" advocate of a Canadian navy. In a recent address, Mr. Hawkes said:

"I cannot tell you what I feel when I read and hear contemptuous references by men and newspapers to the position of Canada. Mr. Foster, minister of trade and commerce, was of sound instinct when he told the House of Commons that he wanted Canadian bone and Canadian blood and Canadian sinew to go into the naval defence of Canada. On that vital aspect of defence too many of our patriots have become dumb since

"Ain't I shaved?" asked Atkins, in apparent surprise.

"No, you're not," insisted the sergeant; "and I want to know why."

The Good Time Coming
There's a better day a-comin', so these optimists declare;

"Ain't there a splendid time approachin', when the days will all be fair, when there won't be any cheatin' and the honest men will thrive;

"There's a better day a-comin', and I wish it would come here."

There will be a time when no one will get rich by doing wrong.

When the weak will have a reason to be fearful of the strong,

When they'll judge a man by nothin' but the good he does each day;

There's a splendid time a-comin', but it's comin' on.

There will be a time when boosters will be judged for what they're worth.

When the bullies and the rowdies won't have any place on earth,

When there won't be no backbitin' and the gossipin' will be dumb;

There's a better day a-comin', and I wish that it would come here."

KIRMESS PROVES GREAT SUCCESS

A Delightful and Spectacular Entertainment

SETS A NEW STANDARD

Many Taking Part; Costumes Handsome and Stage Pictures Beautiful—Large Audience Enthused Over Performance

The opening of the Kirmess in the Keith Theatre last evening set a new standard for amateur productions in St. John. It is seldom that a spectacle of such proportions has been attempted and seldom that such a production has been so uniformly successful in every detail.

The first impression is one of magnificence, as scores after scores and hundreds after hundred of girls and boys, young men and young ladies, file upon the stage in the opening number, one wonders that a company of such numbers could be assembled and trained so thoroughly and convincingly short space of time. Viewed with the imagination of the production is the effect of the beautiful stage picture formed by the massing of the brilliant costumes of bright colors blended together, that the effect of the intricate march in the first scene.

As the programme was continued and feature followed feature, the enthusiasm and feature followed feature, the enthusiasm of the audience which well filled the building, rose to a high pitch and general applause and demands for encores followed. Only infinite patience, careful training and the heartiest co-operation between the directors and those taking part could have results attained. Every member of the great company seemed equally familiar with his work and every performance was a success. Perhaps the most noticeable results were in the various ballets which were given with the precision and the finished technique of a professional cast.

The Kirmess originated as a church festival and afterwards developed into a celebration typical of the various countries and communities in which it was held. In its present adaptation for spectacular purposes it gives splendid opportunity for the introduction of the dances and songs of various peoples in one magnificent international spectacle.

Following the introductory number, in which every member took part, the Fete in Fairland and the Pyramidal Ballet were presented. The costumes of the children and their graceful dancing making the scene a charming one.

Then came A Night in Koko's Garden, a scene from the Mikado, in which the rich oriental costumes made a brilliant effect. The costume of the Mikado was heard in the solo My Object All Sunshine, and Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood in the duet If I Should, with chorus, followed by the dance of Oriental Beauties and the amusing antics of the Phoenix and Peacock. Phoebe, a group of small boys in crimson costumes.

This was followed by the Spanish ballet effectively rendered with a charming solo dance by Miss Constance Campbell.

The Highland Fling by Miss Dolly McAllister, and the accompanying number of the bagpipes, which was the next number, was heartily received, and encores were insisted upon.

The Bohemian scene following was one of the brightest and most attractive of the programme. Miss Dorothy Estey, with delightful solos by Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood and the Tyrolean dance by Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood and Eugene Tudor. An ambitious presentation of a scene from Carmen was the next number, and performed by Miss Dorothy Estey. Dorothy Creighton made a charming and vivacious Carmen, and her graceful dancing and sweet voice in the solo number were accorded enthusiastic applause. Eddie McAlister was as successful in his role. Michaela, Barton Wetmore made a splendid Don Jose. Mr. Lynwood sang the Torador role most effectively. This was followed by the Sailor's Hornpipe skilfully executed.

The next feature was a chorus by the Sunbeam Girls and Boys and several encores showed the appreciation of the audience.

The Romanian scene, with Mrs. Lynwood's solo, Villa from the Merry Widow, accompanied by the Romanian chorus, was another feature which won hearty applause.

The closing number was the national dance of Marsovia, in which Mr. and Mrs. Lynwood again took the leading parts and shared with the well-trained ballet which successfully performed some intricate dances, the ovation which it elicited.

The receipts were increased substantially by the sale of programmes and of flowers, and the total amount of a sum booth fitted up in the lobby being the headquarters for the latter department.

Another scheme which resulted in contributions of more than $80 was the voting booth, the proceeds of which were turned over to the playgrounds, and the success of the voting contest was due largely to the energetic way in which it was handled by Mr. Lynwood.

The Spanish dancers started with 873 votes and the Bohemians started with 470. The contest will be continued each evening until the close of the Kirmess but will have the privilege of choosing the king and queen for the King and Queen.

The whole affair opened most successfully, and it is probable that the capacity of the theatre will be tested at every performance, although there are still many good seats left. Too much cannot be said for the efforts of Mrs. L. Wettmore, who deserves a special credit for the success of the affair, as far as the directors to whom the credit for actual production must be given.

The Kirmess will be repeated tonight, twice on Saturday and at a special performance on Monday evening.

UTILITY OF MUNICIPAL FARM FOR DELINQUENTS

Valuable Paper Read by County Secretary J. King Kelley, K. C., at Municipalities Convention in Moncton

Moncton, Oct. 16.—The convention of the Union of New Brunswick Municipalities closed here at noon today.

At the session held this morning it was resolved that the section of the acts of assembly which exempts all railroad property from taxation should be repealed and the railroad properties of this province taxed as in other parts of Canada and in the United States.

A resolution was also adopted opposing the custom of dealing with the dependent poor in any county by letting them out by tender or by auction.

J. King Kelley, K. C.

J. King Kelley, county secretary for St. John, in his paper, "The Utility of a Municipal Farm for Delinquents," said:

"The prison farm is nothing but a dream of sentimental reformers."

The prison farm is nothing, if not intensely a method of unparalleled real worth in the enforcement of the criminal law. It is a method of offenders against municipal order. In the care of the dependent and defective farms are also operated with success.

Those communities which have established the municipal farm would not return to the old order of things if they could.

So much has been published by the Canadian press in praise of the prison farms at Guelph, Fort William and in the city of Toronto that the expression "prison without bars" being applied one imagines a line of hives fastening on the bounty of the Ontario government and by magical words a wizard's wand transformed into model government.

Too long, however, has it been since the pride of Ontario's success in prison reform; but the real downright merit of the scheme is not that it is a prison without bars, for such will not be the case when the buildings are completed; but that it is an evolution of old methods of punishment combined with the moral awakening in just proportions, reestablishes reason and eases the emotions in proper relations.

The prison farm where in operation now is two years old, and it is a system which elevates not brutalizes, educates not depraves. Starvation, the dungeon, the treadmill, the official bully, have been eliminated and nourishing food, sunlight, intense work, and the enlightened and sympathetic instructor and guard have been substituted.

In this system, the standard of another chance, a standard of manhood has been established, and the weakness is persistently urged and assisted in his attempt to reach the standard of manhood, proves insubordinate. Dr. J. T. Gilmore, warden of the prison farm in Ontario, provides a prescription that seldom fails and a renewal of the prescription is not often required for the same patients. A little older than the experience of the central prison, Toronto, has done much to assist the offender in submission to the rigid discipline of the prison farm.

Many a young man in the presence of an attentive audience of fellow prisoners has been converted to a standard of paratively harmless spanking, such as his father or mother should have given him when a boy, but a substantial leather strap is applied in place of the puny hand. When the command and lesson are reached only through the skin, and in such cases it is unjust to the offender if this method is not employed.

The Design.

The design of the prison farm, as an eminent writer states, is an effort to approach all three classes, the dependent, the delinquent and the defective, from the point of view of the physician. Their bodies must be kept in the best condition and their minds and mental attributes trained and strengthened." The criminal is an undeveloped man,

And is Depended On to Right Stomach and Liver Disorders.

Once Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are introduced into the family and their efficiency in curing kidney diseases are usually too valuable to be overlooked. For everyday ills arising from liver and bowel disorders they bring relief promptly and when complicated diseases of the kidneys and liver develop they often prove a successful cure after doctors have failed. An illustration, you may read the following, which was received a few days ago:

Mr. John Wright, 55 McGee street, Toronto, Ont., states: "We have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills for ten years and would be without them. My husband suffered from kidney trouble, and after taking treatment from several doctors without receiving any benefit, tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pill, and worked a complete cure. Since that time we have used them for all stomach and liver disorders."

In many prisons in the United States corresponding to our goals manufacturing is conducted with a profit to the community and the prisoner, notably the Detroit House of Correction where for the year ending 1910 $9,670.88 was disbursed to the prisoners as compensation for their labor, or $45.00 per week to each inmate of the city of Detroit. The average daily population of that prison was seven and eight times greater than the St. John county goal.

Such a strong sentiment in Canada exists that the prison labor, especially of a犯人, is not acceptable as a means of employing the whole time of the prisoners in the county goals, but the answer to that question is that the county goals, as a whole, have not been made good.

The problem cannot be side-tracked in the provinces. This might meet with strenuous opposition of those in power in the county goals, but the answer to that question is that the county goals, as a whole, have not been made good.

The responsible farmer in St. John county can be easily induced to give some substantial benefit for his labor if prisoners were turned over to him and compelled to work on his farm.

Sentiment and reason would strongly oppose selling prison labor.

Objection is raised, that we magnify the importance of the goal, and send the cases could not make up their minds what to do with them. The politicians who are serving in and out of our country's criminal and reformatory institutions, or the states the should only preserve those who are safe.

If one farmer can support himself and his family in an ordinary farm, it is only reasonable that one hundred men could support themselves and produce something to the good.

Should be Self-Supporting.

A farm should be self-supporting, but even if not self-supporting, the money paid for care and maintenance of prisoners in the county goals would more than balance any deficit in one or separate prison farms.

The amount of work to be done upon the farm, which he makes, fall necessarily would depend on the management of a municipal farm. A sensible warden would develop lines of industry just as an intelligent farmer and his family find no useful employment at home on the farm during the severe winter months?

As a great deal depends upon the farmer, and the also the situation of the farm, which he makes, fall necessarily would depend on the management of a municipal farm. A sensible warden would develop lines of industry just as an intelligent farmer and his family find no useful employment at home on the farm during the severe winter months?

The Slim Woman Is Winning

Should Not Be Trusted.

As the County of St. John conditions existing there should not longer be tolerated. That county not long ago finding its goal newly constructed and modernized now both new and the old goal are taxed beyond their capacity with no prospect of abatement. If that county is to maintain the standards of Christian civilization more accommodation is absolutely necessary. At the last session of the provincial legislature St. John presented a bill to establish a prison farm of its own. The bill was voted down with consent of the premier of New Brunswick; therefore, for the present at least the brutalizing and demoralizing goal methods go on against the standards of society and every member of the municipal council. The reference to the county goals is not a criticism on the sheriffs who, as a rule, are good men shockingly underpaid struggling against their surroundings and the scruples of their county councils. One could say in this province the sheriff informed me that a moment of unparalleled impulse of generosity he was voted 17 cents per diem for each prisoner detained in his goal.

How Any Woman Can Remove Fuzzy Growths

(The Modern Beauty.) Many beauty shops have a delatone paste for removing hair from the face, neck or arms, as it is more satisfactory in every way than the electric needle. Enough of the powdery delatone and water is mixed into paste, and spread on the skin surface for 2 minutes, then removed and with a soft tissue every bit of hair. After the skin is washed it will be firm and free from blemish. To insure best results, buy the delatone from your druggist in an original package.

PAINS OF RHEUMATISM ARE ENDRED BY ZAM-BUK

When you have any deep-seated pain in the joints, the back, the wrists or elsewhere, place a liberal supply of Zam-Buk on the fingers or on the palm of the hand and rub it in. The penetrating power of this "embrocation balm" is very great. It kills pain and removes stiffness.

Wyatt, of 25 Guy avenue, Montreal, says: "I have

Zam-Buk most soothing and valuable in a very bad case of rheumatism, and also for stiffness of joints and muscles. I suffered long and acutely from rheumatism and tried one liniment after another, but to no avail. Then I turned to Zam-Buk to effect a cure. I began applying this balm when I felt the aches and pains of rheumatism coming on, or felt any stiffness. The result was truly wonderful. I had seemed to penetrate them completely out, and I am now quite cured."

If rubbed on to the chest and between the shoulders in case of cold, Zam-Buk is speedily relief.

Apart from its use as an embrocation, Zam-Buk is a cure for eczema, rashes, ringworm, cold sores, ulcers, abscesses, chapped hands, piles, varicose veins, cuts, burns, bruises, etc. All ingredients are 50c. per box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. Refuse harmful imitations.

AN AMERICAN PLOT TO INJURE CANADIAN PORTS?

Montreal, Oct. 16.—A despatch received from Ottawa contains official announcement that the shipping interests, including the port of St. John, hav-est applied to the minister of commerce and labor for a board of arbitration under the Industrial Dispute Act of 1907 with reference to a dispute between them and the longshoremen of St. John. The application is being considered.

It is understood here that if the demands of the men are conceded, the rates for stevedore service at St. John would be the highest on the continent.

Shipping men feel the movement has been backed by the American International Union, whose headquarters are in the United States, they believe no doubt with a view to handicapping Canadian ports. The connection some interesting disclosures are likely to be made.

Shippers declare that they would have no objection to recognizing a local committee but they see no reason why an Americian union should interfere and attempt to dictate.

In view of these facts it is felt that attention should be given to the port of St. John to offer reasonable accommodations to owners to use that port should be made possible.

The Volturno on Fire In Mid Ocean

Drawn from graphic wireless description of the great sea disaster. An actual photograph of the liner was used as the basis of this effective impression.

New York Oct. 16.—Francis Inch, the pistol-looking Briton who commanded the burned steamer Volturno, came into court tonight, bringing with him eighty-seven survivors, passengers and crew, of his ill-starred vessel. His story of the disaster, in which 186 lives were lost had seemed dim by wireless but a clear one to the Kronprinz, which brought him here. Inch told his tale in simply-phrased and modestly-spoken detail that described more vividly than the wireless could picture the panoramas of the Volturno's loss and the rescue of more than 500 of those she had on board.

Cowardice there was none on the Volturno, either among officers or crew, Inch said. There was no rush of somersaults by which made it necessary for him to have them back with his revolver. His ties of any of the boats that stood by,

THE LANCASTER ELECTIONS

A Letter Which Will Be Read With a Good Deal of Interest

To the Editor of the Times and Star Sir.—At an after election speech delivered two years ago, by the councillors elect of the Parish of Lancaster, they promised to serve the people of the parish faithfully and to the best of their ability. A large number of their supporters are now asking—not have they tried to do so?

Some months ago, the commissioners of the city of St. John decided to increase the water rates in the parish. One would have thought this would have aroused our lethargic council to action—not so, however, was left to private residents of the parish, viz.: James G. Walker, George E. Foster, and others whose names I cannot now recall, to take action and prevent an injustice being done to the people of the parish; while our councillors made no protest, so far as is known, and were only conspicuous by their silence on this matter.

Another matter of importance not only to the people of Lancaster but also to those of Simonds, St. Martins, and Musquash—I refer to the sale of the Municipal Home.

It is unusual for ten men to vote on a question without giving it due consideration, but it is unusual to see the same number of men reverse that vote, under the same conditions, without making some defense for their first vote. It did clearly prove they had no idea of personal responsibility, their second as clearly proved they had no idea of consistency.

I have heard that one of our councillors in making an explanation to one of his supporters said, "I voted that way because the other did." Such an answer to an intelligent man seems almost beneath criticism.

Another matter of perhaps greater importance was the awarding of the sewerage contract. There were some protests, but the others did not make an attempt to intelligently stand up for the tenderers.

In this case the tenders were to be sent or delivered to William Golding.

The custom has been that the county secretary should receive all tenders; why this was not done is not clear.

Indeed this matter had all been pre-arranged that this contract should be given to the son of one of the councillors at $100 above the lowest tender.

The only explanation, apology, excuse or whatever it may be called, was made through one of the morning papers shortly after the contract was signed, saying that the transaction would soon be forgotten by the people. This is clearly an acknowledgment that it was not a fair transaction. Who was the wish implied that the people would forget?

A man who would hand out such a statement as that must be deficient in common honesty as he is in common sense, but he is certainly not deficient in avarice.

Alcira stops the craving for drink, builds up the system, steadies the nerves,

Can be had at our store only $1.00 per box. Ask for free booklet about Alcira.

We know something was done in that case by the public grantees added his due share to the place where the suit took place.

Some of the interested taxpayers of the parish are examining the auditor's reports as they have never examined them before and will, no doubt, be well rewarded for their trouble. As some of them are, it is the opinion of the parish that is in a desirable condition.

In one of the evening papers of the 16th inst., there appeared an account from the auditor's report, giving the names of those who had received public money for the highway act during the year 1910.

The next morning meeting two of the men mentioned in that list, one of them told me, he had not received the amount stated, a comparatively small sum. The other was for a respectable sum of $150, which he had never received this for 1912. As the latter gentleman is investigating the matter on his own account, I do not feel at liberty to give his name. As this investigation has merely begun, we may properly assume that there will be time to follow.

On account of the unusual interest taken by certain parties in this contest, there are those who believe that there are schemers on foot which if carried out, would bring conditions even more deplorable than they are at present.

Thanking you for your interest and asking you to insert this at your earliest convenience, as it is not yet too late to explain at least some of those charges, if that is possible, before the issue is joined on Tuesday next. I am

Yours truly,

JOHN SIME.

ELECTION CARDS

To the Electors of the Parish of Lancaster:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN.—At the request of a large number of the rate-payers of the parish (irrespective of party), who are thoroughly dissatisfied with the present condition of affairs, I have decided to offer myself as a candidate for councillor of the parish.

As it will be impossible for me to see many of you personally before the 21st inst., I take this method of asking for your support.

I do not flatter myself that, if elected, I will be able to please all, or that I would escape criticism, but I do flatter myself that whatever is done will be in the best interests of the parish (to the best of my judgment openly and above board). My administration will be wide and that the people will be taken into the confidence of the council in all matters that effect their interests.

I sincerely hope that no party or parties interested in this election will adopt the unmanly and cowardly tactics of springing false and misleading statements at the "eleventh hour," thereby preventing those statements being fairly met.

The full list of candidates will be in the hands of Mr. Gault, the Parish clerk, at 6 o'clock Monday, 18th inst., which will give ample time before the day of election in which to dispose of all side issues. The record of the present council, which is the record of the present council, to be decided by the votes of the people.

Again asking for your support I have the honor to be

Your obedient servant,

THE FLAG FLAPPERS

Woodstock Sentinel.—Whenever the honest and "disloyal" girls may do surely we may take it for granted that no Flag-Flapper will be guilty of shipping his products to the United States under the new tariff. They will never forget the warning uttered by Hon. George Eulas Foster that by trading north and south "the well-filled arteries of interprovincial trade will be drained."

SAD HOMECOMING FOR THE FRAZER CLAN

A NEAT LITTLE ILLUSION, OFF STAGE,
COST VOYAGER HIS SAVINGS

POOLED MONEY WITH STRANGER

FOUND "WAD" WAS NEWSPAPER AND NOT BILLS, WHEN SHIP WAS SAILING
AND WM. FRAZER IS VERY SAD

(Montreal Telegraph)
William Fraser, of Regina, has sailed on the Allan Line S. S. "Tunisian," for Liverpool, a sad, very sad man.

It seems the gentleman from the west arrived in town a day or two before the sailing of the "Tunisian" and his time was chiefly occupied by seeing the sights. Monday, however, he was on hand when the big boat was ready to sail, and after inspecting his cabin and assuring himself that it was well he decided to take a little stroll around the dock and the sheds. This is where the trouble began. Going ashore to experience once more the sensation of having his feet firmly placed on terra firma before embarking, he wandered around the southern end of the big liner to survey the scene of his arrival. At this point he was politely accosted by a well dressed man who seemed desirous of entering into conversation with him.

Fraser being a man of few words did not take kindly at first to the friendly manner of the stranger and other things signified his willingness to let the stranger take charge of their united fortunes. Accordingly an envelope was produced and Fraser placed $138 of his hard-earned savings in the envelope and the stranger also placed a little amount in the envelope. A string was purchased and a neat little parcel was made up, which it was agreed Fraser should give to the purser on his return to the ship. After this however the black art of ledgerman was introduced in the little tragedy, as Fraser discovered later. When the parcel had been completed, a few more drinks were ordered, and finally the two stroked back to the ship. Fraser felt secure in the fact that one of his friends had a large amount of money, but it was a source of considerable satisfaction to know that he was handling the cash. The idea that his newly found friend might be trying some game to "bunko steer" him was preposterous. Perish the thought, for hadn't he the money in his pocket, not only his own, but also that of his friend, which perhaps the Scot may have misconstrued into a compliment for his easily approachable honesty.

Just before reaching the Allan line dock, however, the stranger suddenly remembered that he had an errand that he must do before going aboard, but, of course, he would rejoin his friend, and they would settle down for a restful seven days, which, no doubt, they would spend largely in one another's society.

Some unthinking person, however, very rightly detected the stranger, for he noticed the man in the excursion boat to the sailing of the great ship. Fraser forgot the money, and not until he had retired did he think of it. Switching on the electric light he arose just to make sure everything was all right, and at the same time determined to get that he would deposit the money with the purser, next morning. He slipped his hand into his trouser pockets and there was the parcel, so whatever vague misgivings had begun to be outlined in his mind disappeared like snow before an April sun.

Just before jumping into his berth, however, he would just take a peep at the money.

His feelings were such that when he folded the parcel on the deck he was welcomed by the sound of a dumbfounded Scot. Today there reposed in the Allan Line office a neat little package, which should be framed and displayed to all passengers who have a few hours to wonder about the dock before the ship sailed.

No doubt that somewhere around the Newfoundland coast, at this very minute, a Fraser of the proud clan of Fraser may be found a sadder, but a wiser man.

RAISED SWEET POTATOES

Yarmouth Times.—Messrs Trask and Shand have this season successfully experimented with raised grown sweet potatoes at Yarmouth, on the Yarmouth street. The experiment was tried on the recommendation of Rev. J. P. Stephens, who told Mr. Trask of his experience in the growing of sweet potatoes in the States. Many intelligent people told him they would never grow.

Mr. Trask and Shand are delighted with the experiment and will give information to any person who would like to try sweet potato growing next season. They will endeavor to interest the Yarmouth Agricultural Society and have prizes offered at next exhibition for such potatoes.

No Man Is So Particular About His Suit Or Overcoat As We Are

He can't afford to be so particular. He can't afford to spend the hours and days and years in studying styles—selecting patterns—choosing buttons and linings.

We can. It is our business and our business life.

We create, criticize, compare, in order that our styles, our work and our values will be beyond the criticism of the most particular man.

Let us show you some of the Suits and Overcoats that are fully up to the criterion of the most particular man.

HUDSON BAY MEN HAVE A SAD STORY

How the Government Keeps Its Contracts—Lost Jobs and Were Required to Pay Way Home

(Halifax Chronicle)
Fifty-two mechanics and laborers who had been at Hudson Bay working on the railway terminals returned here on Saturday night, weary, dispirited and without treatment by the government and its officials at the Bay. The men signed an agreement here to go up to the Bay and work at $8.75 per day, and they went up in the Bolleventure in the spring. They looked forward to earning a year's pay and in addition to face the discomforts of climate, working conditions, etc. But they got more than they bargained for. As stated, their agreement called for them to work at a rate of $8.75 per day, when a month later the superintendent took charge. Inasmuch he insisted on their working at night instead of day and they firmly declined to do what their agreement did not call for. He intimated if they did not do what he informed them that they were ready to leave any time there was accommodation to bring them back to Halifax.

In the agreement above referred to providing for a year's work at as much per day as provided the men should have the benefit of transportation and from Halifax and they furnished transportation to Halifax immediately in view of the breach of contract by the employ officials. But that was where they made the mistake. They were通知ed that they must go to the port of embarkation on the Beaufort in Halifax and they did not get on board until 1 p. m. and were without food until 1 p. m. and though some of the men were working, some building materials and starch. In retail prices eggs, butter and coal were higher, but potatoes declined.

PRICES REMAIN HIGH

An Ottawa bulletin says: The Department of Labor's index number of wholesale prices stood at 186.0 for September, 1912. The slight fall was due to lower prices for fresh fruits, vegetables and canned salmon, but some important advances were in eggs, fish, sugar, cream of tartar, jute, silk, cotton and starch. In retail prices eggs, butter and coal were higher, but potatoes declined.

CAN OPERATE IN OTHER PROVINCES

Effect of Judgment in Companies
Case Delivered by Supreme Court—Will Take Case to The Privy Council

Ottawa, Oct. 16.—What stands out most conspicuously in the highly important judgment of the supreme court in the companies' case yesterday is the affirmation by a majority of the court of the principle that a provincially incorporated company is not limited in the conduct of its operations to the territorial boundaries of the province in which it is incorporated, but has the right to go to other provinces to carry on its business.

The power of the province to license and regulate such corporations from as located within its territory, is upheld so long as such regulation or licensing is not preventive to a federal charter.

The judgment, though tentative in its effect till the court of last session, is now being pursued upon the case, in a more important constitutional interpretation, broadly affecting both the federal and provincial authorities, their revenues from company incorporation, and touching the legal status of every corporation, after incorporation by one province, has extended its operations to others without recourse to a federal charter.

The right to do this being confirmed, there is consequently much less of a disturbing character in the judgments than would be the case if the finding were in favor of the dominion. As it stands, the legal status of such concerns is upheld.

The Hon. C. J. Doherty, minister of justice, is still in the west and the authorship of the department will not comment upon the results, at least not until they have been perused.

That an appeal to the privy council will be taken, however, may be predicted as a natural development, especially in view of the constitutional effect of the judgments upon the dominion and the provinces, and the fact that in its conclusion the court is by no means unanimous.

The issue of provincial rights and powers as applied to corporations and regulation has never been interpreted before, although for years it has been a cause of passive conflict between the powers exercising the divided jurisdiction. It was to settle this question that the case was originally brought, but the outcome is not of a character satisfactory to the federal government which conceived the idea of it, but had considerable difficulty in securing the consent of the provinces to this method of determining this issue.

In the natural order of things, like the findings on the marriage law case arising out of the ne temere, it must go to London for final adjudication.

AN EMPATHIC DENIAL

Woodstock, N. B., Oct. 16.—F. B. Carvell, M. P., is not going to the Canadian west as announced in the Fredericton Gleaner, as he has been here and continues to represent Carlton county in the federal parliament.

This announcement is made in the Tory press at regular intervals, and is a case of "the wish is father to the thought."

Mr. Carvell is recognized as one of the leading men in Canadian public life today, and his continually increasing prestige is a cause of great worry to the narrow minded Tory element in the country.

An interesting wedding of Wednesday was that of Edwards Bancroft of Newton, and Miss Marguerite Copp of Beachmont, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. William Henry Harrison Whitmore. Mr. Bancroft is a nephew of

The Poor Man's University

JONES knows more about motor cars than any other man I know," said a man to his friend. "He has obtained his knowledge chiefly from motor car advertisements, and the catalogues and booklets circulated through them."

"All I know about photography," declared a well-known amateur, "I have learned from the men who advertise cameras, plates, papers and films."

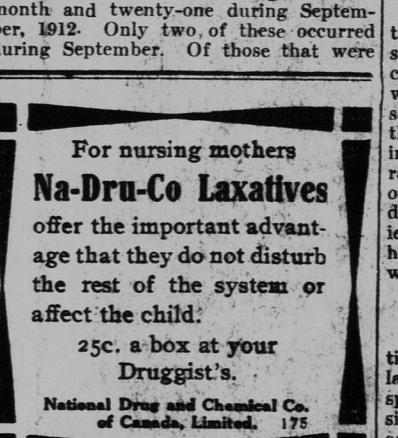

Advertisements have been well called "The Poor Man's University," but other than poor men have been schooled thereby.

Much of what the average individual knows concerning personal and domestic hygiene, modern office methods, books and authors, electricity, precious stones, investments, and almost everything else, he has learned from advertisements.

Advertisements have stimulated our intelligence, added enormously to our knowledge, and given us aspirations which have raised us to higher levels of thinking and living. Advertising is indeed "The Poor Man's University."

TRADE DISPUTES DURING SEPTEMBER

According to the record maintained in the Department of Labor, in Ottawa, there was continued improvement in September. There was a still further reduction in the number of strikes and lock-outs in existence. There was a record shown when a comparison is made with the same month of last year. There were altogether eleven trade disputes in existence throughout the country, compared with eighteen last month and twenty-one during September, 1912. Only two of these occurred during September. In existence before that time, the only one of importance as affecting industrial disputes in any great extent was that of coal miners of Vancouver Island, which remained unsettled at the end of the month, although there were not many men out of work as a result of it as before. Upwards of 78,000 working days were lost through strike during September, as compared with a loss of 108,580 during the preceding month.

SOME GRAIN STILL OUT

Summerside. Farmer.—Unfortunately, there is a good deal of grain still out in the country, especially in the west of Prince Edward Island, and much damage has been wrought by the deluge of rain which set in on Sunday night and continued throughout Monday and Tuesday morning. The rainfall at Summerside from nine o'clock on Sunday night to ten o'clock on Tuesday morning was 4.21 inches—the heaviest yet recorded in a similar number of hours since the meteorological station was started here.

Another New Industry.

It is understood that plans are practically complete for the erection of a large modern laundry in the city next spring, supported by both local and outside capital. A former laundry manager's name is connected with the project.

FOXES AND LUMBER

Owing, it is said, to the number of new fox ranches and dwellings for the keepers, more lumber has been imported to P. E. Island this season than in any other recent year.

KNOCKOUT BROWN COMES BACK

FROM T. S. ANDREWS

Milwaukee, Oct. 15—Knockout Brown, the local boy who made such a hit two years ago, and another such fighter as Charley Henry, is back in the ring after a lay off of four months. Brown has been matched to fight Frankie Russell at New Orleans, October 14th, and from all accounts it should be a first-class scrap. Russell is going better than ever and is to be selected as his first opponent in the antipodes—Champion Mehegan—but the Yankee boy did not look for an easy start and accepted with the words that he has lost his appetite this part of the year. Pal may be matched with Owen Moran of England for Boxing Day, in which event he will be tackling another hard but near champion. Pal is a fine youngster and his many friends in the states will be glad to hear of his success.

I received a cablegram from Snowy Baker, of Sydney, Australia, giving details of Pal's victory over Hughey, Mehegan, champion of Australia, in twenty rounds at the famous Stadium. In his cable Mr. Baker said it was a magnificent contest and that Brown surprised everybody by his brilliant lightning-like work at the Australian lightweight limit and for the championship, so that the Minnesota boy can now lay claim to one title and get in line for another. Brown landed in Sydney only a few weeks ago, having arrived from America, and is in excellent condition. The selection of his first opponent—the hardest proposition in the antipodes—was made by the manager of the British Olympic and world's records for shot putting, died here today of typhoid fever after a brief illness.

MANY ASSEMBLE IN LAST TRIBUTE TO REV. L. G. MACNEILL

Funeral of Former Pastor of St. Andrew's Held This Afternoon
—St. Andrew's Society Resolution

A large number of people from all walks in life attended the funeral of Rev. G. L. MacNeill and paid their last tribute of respect to the departed minister this afternoon.

A short service was held at half past two at his home, 127 Duke street, after which the funeral procession was formed and the body taken to St. Andrew's church, of which Rev. Mr. MacNeill was for long the pastor. Many members of St. Andrew's Society attended the funeral in a body and marched near the head of the procession to the church.

At the church the prayer of invocation was said by Rev. G. A. McGregor, a portion of Scripture was read by Rev. James Ross and Rev. J. H. Anderson in prayer. An address was given by Rev. James H. MacVicar, who gave an account of the life work of the departed. He referred to the distinctions of his large career and gave particulars of his various pastures, first at Maitland, N. S., then at St. Andrew's church in this city, which position he held for nineteen years. Dr. MacVicar also paid a tribute to his career as a man and to his exceptional ability as a minister of the gospel.

During the service the hymns "Now the Laborer's Task Is Over" and "The Sons of Time Are Sinking Fast" were sung by the full choir.

The pall bearers were Hon. J. G. Forbes, D. P. R. Innes, W. C. Whittaker, A. L. Law, William Murdoch and B. Macaulay.

The floral offerings were very beautiful and numerous. Among them was a wreath from the trustees of St. Andrew's church and a cross of roses from the Ladies' Aid Society of the church. There was also a pillow of roses from the sons of the deceased. Interment was in Fernhill.

The services last evening, passed the following resolutions:

Whereas, the Reverend Leander G. MacNeill, for seventeen years the beloved pastor of St. Andrew's church in the city of St. John, in the service of New Brunswick, died on this date, the 14th day of October, the twenty-seventh anniversary of his induction into the pastorate of the said church, and

Whereas, during the many years of his pastorate, he had a high position among the people of his charge, his great efforts for the promotion of the cause of Christ in this community, and

Whereas, during his long pastorate, by his strong, manly and courageous character, his steady sympathy with those in distress, his faithful attention to the concerns of the church, his devotion to his family and his vigorous efforts for the cause of righteousness, in this city, he greatly endeared himself, not only to the members of his congregation, but also to the greater portion of the community at large.

Resolved, That we, the trustees of St. Andrew's church in this session assembled, do hereby record our sense of the great loss sustained, lost by St. Andrew's church, and the community of St. John, on the death of Mr. MacNeill, and extend to Mrs. MacNeill and the other members of his family our assurance of our deepest sympathy for them in this, the sad hour of their bereavement, and Further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent to his family and that they be placed on record in the Minute Book of this church.
