The Trail of 'No Man's Land'
 (November 11th, 1924)

Today the world remembers
 The deeds that they have done,
 We tell in song and story
 Of glories they have won.
 The roll of honor bears the names,
 We read them there with pride,
 Of lads we know and love,
 Who went to fight and died.
 Today hearts are sad and low,
 While saddened memories waken
 Where crimson poppies blow.
 And to their far-off resting-place
 Our tender thoughts will reach,
 Borne on the wings of silence
 More eloquent than speech.
 Today, as twilight deepens
 And dusky shadows fall,
 We remember those who found the Trail—
 The last great Trail of all.
 And I think a few lone voices
 From "No Man's Land" are blown,
 To tell us when we find that Trail
 We will not go alone.

They, who have died for Justice,
 For Truth and Liberty,
 Counting their lives no dear to them
 That others might be free,
 Will take our hands and lead us
 By paths which they have trod,
 Up to the Love eternal—
 Into the Land of God.

Lieut. R. J. Mercer of Bay Roberts Company has been detailed for special duty to make up the individual records of the 170 lads that were on their roll. A mighty fine set of records are useful.
 Grand Falls have nominated Rev.
 E. Loder and Major Windeler as their representatives to the Board of Management for Newfoundland and Portugal Cove Company have elected Rev. A. T. Tulk, B.A. and Captain Sheppard. The Governing Body will be elected and a constitution drawn up for Newfoundland and the Brigade incorporated.

Tuesday's attendance was slack only 104 ranks on duty. Shops were closed so lads working have no excuse. The Colonel, Adjutant, Brigade Major, Captains Stick, P. B.
 Rendell, F. Burden, C. M.C. Lieut.
 Mott and Eric Jerrett with Regt.
 Sergt-Major John Andrews were at their posts. Unless the attendance improves there is bound to be trouble.
 A Company's Ambulance Department is making good progress in their studies and Dr. Burden, C.M.O. has one more lecture to give when their first course will be finished.
 The Athletic Association have postponed their annual anniversary week's Boxing Tournament, as owing to the stores having been opened the lads had no time for their training.

 the Girl Guides. This annual remembrance of the men who lost their lives in the Great War takes place on

The Guides have been informed that they are to be honored by a visit from His Excellency the Governor purposes on Saturday, November 15.

 Inspection to take place at Cable Hall. The Boy Scouts, who will also be inspected, will be met for the first time by Sir William Allardice.

 first visit of His Excellency one long to be remembered.

HOUSE OF ASSEMBLY PROCEEDINGS

OFFICIAL SYNOPSIS

MR. WARREN said he proposed not to vote upon the resolutions. He said also he was at a loss to know how there could be a deficit of $1,000,000 from 1923-24 when as a matter of fact it could not be above $1,000,000 or thereabout. It is merely a matter of bookkeeping. He would hesitate to acquiesce in the building of a coal depot. He would also object to granting the government two million dollars to put in the railroad and other transportation facilities unless he knew the government had some settled definite policy with respect to the railroad, and suggested waiting a year or so till they had developed some scheme for the future of the road. In respect to the tourist traffic the Independent Party took an entirely different view of it from the official Opposition party. He was in favour of the Government policy as to this business, but could not vote for the resolutions and there had been robbed of their one chance of communication. He pointed with pride to the prosperity of Fortune Bay where it was necessary to spend not more than two thousand dollars in relief work. He said also that the people are very thrifty and in nearly every home was a linen closet. If his constituents were present they would not support the resolutions and therefore he would withhold his vote.

THE COLONIAL SECRETARY said there was nothing in the asking for six millions to alarm any one. The government had a definite plan in view and it was in pursuit of a definite policy of advancement the money was to be spent. Governments have come and gone while nothing was done to turn to account our great natural attractions, but now at last something was being attempted. There must be something more for the tourist than an opportunity to sit in a hotel and drink beer. He must have something more than that. We have all that goes to make a country attractive in a natural way. We have magnificent scenery and fine hunting but unless these are made accessible by good roads they are valueless. We must then have roads. We have indeed a paradise for the dweller in the big city, let us realize this and go forward. If we go ahead in confidence we will surprise ourselves in the result. The tourist traffic will help the fisherman for by the aid of the increased wealth we shall derive from the tourist we will be able to reduce taxation. It was the one great opportunity for the country which the government was determined to grasp. He thought it highly essential in the interest of safety that the railroad and dry dock be put in good repair. We must in fact attend to it.

THE LOAN RESOLUTIONS
HON. MR. SULLIVAN said the Opposition members had nothing to

Stall's Books

Rev. T. Albert Moore, D. D., General Secretary of the Dept. of Social Service and Evangelism of the Meth. Church of Canada, who visited Newfoundland do, so they criticize. The government is denounced by them because with vision they are moving ahead to better times.

In regard to tourist traffic he said we had wonderful natural attractions which too long we have neglected. The benefits we can derive from tourist traffic are not confined to the money they spend for pleasure. Many of those who will come will be interested in our latent natural resources. Some of them will be interested in our mineral deposits and we have abundant minerals. They will put their money into mining ventures and other industries and this help promote prosperity. Every district will gain advantage from the traffic wherever there are attractions. It will be built.

MR. BROWNE said he did not think the loan would be accepted by the country generally. Instead of carrying out a policy of economy the government has entered upon a scheme of extravagance. The Colonial Secretary thinks the scheme offers a good investment and is worth taking a chance on. Well, he would say it was the gambler's chance. He pointed out what was being done by Norway to promote the interests of their fishermen and by way of contrast pointed out the results of our neglect of the herring fishery. He thought the tourist scheme airy and visionary, and hoped the government would turn a serious thought to the fishery.

MR. BROWNE said he thought if Mr. Hibbs were in the House the Independent Party would have an acquisition to its ranks as the author of the Road Bill could not vote with his colleagues who were opposing a policy of good roads. If we are to develop a tourist traffic we must have good roads.

MR. HICKMAN said he would move an amendment as follows: That in view of the grave financial condition of the affairs of the Colony the Loan be reduced from six million to three million dollars.

He said we should advertise our loan and that we could easily get this at par. He thought we could raise the loan in Canada. The Opposition could not agree to a raising of the loan privately, neither could they vote for a six million loan which they considered unnecessary.

THE PRIME MINISTER asked how the leader of the Opposition would earmark the three million loan to which Mr. Hickman replied it was not for him to say, but he thought his remarks of the afternoon would indicate what he thought.

THE MINISTER OF JUSTICE thought Mr. Hickman was not sincere. It was just spin-flam and was not doing justice to the ability which he knew the leader of the Opposition possessed.

He says we can raise three millions and out of this pay our debts and provide against unemployment.

If this country has got to the position where we can raise three millions then he could have little faith in the policy the government had embarked on. With our present facilities for tourist traffic we cannot get any influx of visitors.

The highest form of economy is the economy that provides for the tapping of the wealth of other people. The gentlemen opposite know that the policy they would adopt is the very policy this government has adopted. This expenditure is relief of the unemployed, but it is providing employment in a profitable way.

MR. HICKMAN knew the country could not afford this six million loan and it would take time to meet at 2 on Tuesday afternoon.

TUESDAY, August 19th.
The House met at 3:45 o'clock. Petitions were presented by Messrs. Woodford, Walsh and Sullivan. MR. SCAMMELL called the attention of the House to the very unsatisfactory way in which the speeches during the session were reported by the officials for printing into Hansard. In most cases members had to re-write their speeches. He thought this was most unfair as members had quite enough to take up their duties with watching legislation etc., without having the task put upon them also of having to re-write their speeches. He wondered if it were not possible to get competent reporters out of all the applicants for these positions that are applying for the posts.

The Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod then appeared and summoned the members to the Council Chamber where his Excellency the Governor read the closing speech from the throne. The President of the Council then announced the prorogation.

ADDENDUM.

REPORT OF THE COMMISSION OF 1921.

To His Excellency Sir Charles Alexander Harris, Knight Commander of the Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and Saint George, Companion of the Honourable Order of the Bath, Commander of the Royal Victorian Order, Governor and Commander-in-Chief in and over the Island of Newfoundland and its Dependencies.

Your Excellency.—The members of the Royal Commission have the honour to return the Commission and to submit herewith a statement of their findings and a list of their recommendations.

Its member held very many sessions in St. John's and also a number of sessions at Port Union during which they took very considerable evidence in the form of sworn testimony, answer to interrogatories and police records. They have enquired into and considered the Prohibition Plebiscite Act 1915 and the Amendments thereto; (1) the object, scope and defects thereof; (2) the Administration of the said Acts, and (3) the evils which have arisen since the said Acts became law.

The Commission itself sets out the representations contained in two petitions presented to the House of Assembly in the session of 1920; one petition praying for greater stringency in the enforcement of the said Act; and the other praying for the providing of facilities of obtaining alcoholic liquors as beverages under a system of control.

Your commissioners observe that both petitions point out the existence of certain abuses which have developed under the Prohibition Act.

- (1) Sale of "Dope"
- (2) Abuse of prescriptions
- (3) Manufacture of "Moonshine"
- (4) Increase in smuggling of liquors.

The enquiry has satisfied Your Commissioners of the existence of evils which call for adequate remedies.

One of the first evils which grew to considerable dimensions under the prohibition Act was the use of essences commonly called "Dope" for beverage purposes. The evil, which as apparently inappreciable before prohibition, gradually grew in spite of partial blacklisting of particular essences until last summer, when earnest steps were taken to suppress it.

Up to that time most of the convictions on the charge of being drunk and "disorderly" arose from the drinking of "dope". This is borne out by the police records of arrests of "drunks" and "drunks and disorderlies". The numbers are as follows:—

Hard Work Means Success

There never was a goal worth getting but you must work to attain
You must suffer and bleed for it, cling to your creed for it.
Fail and go at it again.

Success is no whim of the moment, no crown for the indolent brow
You must battle and try for it, offer to die for it;
Lose it yet win it somehow.

The Pathway to glory is rugged, and many the heart-aches you'll know
He who seeks to be master must rise from disaster,
Must take as he giveth the blow.

There's no royal highway to splendour, no short cut to fortune or fame
You must fearlessly fight for it, dare to be right for it, Failing, yet playing the game.

The test of man's merit is trouble, the proof of his work a distress
Much as you long for it, man must be strong for it,
Work is the door to success.

HEALTH Is the greatest blessing in the world

RULES FOR Making Cod Liver Oil For the Guidance of Manufacturers

- 1st. The manager in charge of factory must see that the livers are fresh; that all brown or poor livers are thrown out; that there is no gall bladder attached to any livers. 2nd. The good livers must then be washed in a tub of clean fresh water. 3rd. The pan in which the livers are boiled must be perfectly clean inside, before any livers are placed in it. 4th. Before you start to boil any livers, you must have sufficient steam. 5th. Turn on the steam, and use as much as you need to have the quantity of livers you have in your pan. Boil until the white scum floats off (which will take about thirty minutes). Don't forget to stir the livers, and see that those in the bottom and those around the sides are brought into direct contact with the steam all the time. 6th. Turn the steam off, and allow all to settle, not exceeding five minutes, according to capacity of liver boiler. 7th. Then you dip all the oil you can get, which is the finest white oil. Put this oil in a cooling tank made of galvanized iron, and let the oil remain there till next morning. Don't forget to put a straining cloth over the cooling tank before you put any oil in, so that it will catch any bits of blubber; allow to remain 12 or 14 hours or longer if possible, then dip from cooling tank and strain through double calico bag, inside bag to be one inch smaller all around; then strain into a tin skute under the bags, the cask to be at the end of the skute with a funnel, to lead oil into casks, which funnel to be covered with cheese cloth. 8th. When you have dipped the finest oil from the top of the liver boiler pan, take all the blubber from the pan while it is warm. The oil from this blubber is not fit for medicinal purposes. 9th. Then clean your liver pan with warm water and washing powder. Have it bright and clean for the next boiling. 10th. Every bag, cloth, tank, funnel and pan, must be washed only with warm water, soap and water. Soda must not be used. The best results for medicinal oil can only be obtained by the use of tin barrels. Wooden packages generally make the oil dark, and destroy its fine flavor. Keep all oil in barrels in a cool place, and covered from the sun.

REGULATIONS For Salting Scotch Pack Herring

One barrel salt to five and a half barrels herring—Large Fulls. One barrel salt to six barrels herring—Medium Fulls. One barrel salt to six and a half barrels herring—Matt Fulls. This amount of salt is for dredging and laying on rows only. It does not take into account that put on the herring before gibbing. All salt falling off herring in rousing tubs is put on rows as you pack, unless very dirty or scaly; in that case, you have to make good the same amount, or otherwise you could not have any fixed rule on salt. Matt Fulls..... 10 1/2 inches long..... Milt or roe Medium Fulls..... 11 1/2 inches long..... Milt or roe Large Fulls..... 12 1/2 inches long and upwards. Milt or roe Medium Filling... 11 1/2 inches long and upward Large Filling.... 12 1/2 inches long and upwards Filling Fish may be branded as Scotch Cure without the Crown Brand No drowned, stale, or scaleless herring can be used as Scotch Pack, nor herring in half frozen state. The root cause of light salting is to come as near as possible to the pleasing of the palate of the consumer; and if we bear in mind that over three-fourths of all Scotch-Pack Herring are consumed as a toadie before the mid-day meal, just as they come out of the barrel, without any fire cooking, we can see the reason at a glance for the right salting. The herring is dressed by the head and the tail being cut off, the main bone taken out. It is then cut into squares of about six inches, and is served with vinegar and other condiments. This gives power to the stomach to digest the following meal and keeps the consumer in the best of health. People with bad stomachs please note that the art of cooking and eating right is just as essential as the art of curing; and based on the best medical directions, and with the chemical analysis of the constituent parts of herring as a food ever kept before the consumer, we need not be surprised that the people who eat most herring are the most healthy and efficient.

While Your Commissioners are loth to attempt to suggest "regulations" which would unduly interfere with the exercise of the discretion of a medical practitioner who honestly prescribes "Liquors" for medicinal purposes, they find there is need of a strong check to stop the loose giving out of prescriptions. They consider it is the duty to make the form of a refusal...

OUT OF THE BAG.

A Scotchman with a heavy bag slung over his shoulder boarded a tram. He laid his burden carefully in a corner and presently the conductor came along and asked for his fare. He offered the usual penny. "The bundle is threepence," said the conductor. "Threepence for the bag?" "Yes." "Come on out, Jimmy," said the Scotchman; "it's cheaper to ride on a seat." And Jimmy came out of the bag.

Capt. Boucher, until recently first mate of the S.S. Clyde, assumes the position of captain of that boat, replacing Capt. Job Kneec, deceased. Capt. Boucher is in every way capable of filling this position.

HON. MR. MILLEY.—Mr. President, I rise to oppose the second reading of this Bill, and in doing so it is not my intention to delay you with any lengthy remarks. I wish first of all to state that I have not been waited upon by any individuals, clerical or lay, asking that I take this stand, I am acting entirely upon my own convictions in this matter. I have no desire at this time to discuss the law now upon our Statute Books, or the one which is now before us, all I ask is that time be given so that all who wish may have an opportunity to give their views either for or against, or in favour of some other legislation, so that with all opinions before us we may be better able to bring into force an act which will, as far as possible, harmonize the many conflicting opinions which we are now up against.

Just one word here with regard to the act now in force, or to be more correct, that act not in force. The Prime Minister stated in the Lower House a day or two ago if he is rightly reported, that no helpful suggestions had been offered by those opposing the passing of this new act. Well, I'll give one for what it is worth. It is a fact well known to all that the Controller's department—which is the department which has the responsibility of carrying out the Act—has been staffed by individuals who are known to be opposed to the very principles of it. In saying this I do not blame or criticise these men because of their opinions, but I do blame successive Governments for allowing them to occupy positions in which they are asked to carry out a law in which they do not believe. One of these very individuals has done more during his tenure of office to bring this country into disrepute in the eyes of the outside world, than all the rest of our civil servants put together a dozen times over. His opposition to the principles of the Act were well known to everybody, and I have very little hesitation in saying that he was appointed to the position in order that the government of that day might "take the lid off" and go ahead with the open and gross violation of the law which they contemplated when they introduced the notorious estimate of over $300,000 for intoxicating liquors. Now what I am driving at? Just this, clean out the Controller's department, and put in charge a staff who are as notoriously in favor of the principles for which the Act stands, as the past staffs have been opposed, and see what the result will be. We are told that four ex-ministers of Justice have stated that the act could not be enforced, did it ever occur to them to put its carrying out into the hands of men who were anxious to do it? If it did, then they were never very anxious to find out whether the law could be enforced or not, for no attempt was ever made along these lines. Imagine a business man today employing in his office or premises any man who he knew was opposed to the very principles upon which his business was run. I have given this suggestion for what it is worth, it is put forward in answer to those who say that no alternative to the proposed legislation has been offered. I do not wish it to be understood that I am in favor of the present law, as it now stands, but I do think an honest attempt should be made to carry it out, with some amendments that do not conflict with its principles, which will make it a common sense law.

17. The onus of proof for offences under the Act to be on the accused.

18. Imprisonment without the option of a fine to be imposed for fourth and subsequent convictions from the date of new Act.

19. Special rewards to be offered to police officers and customs officers who show marked vigilance in enforcing the Act.

Just one word here with regard to in placing this country right in the eyes of the world. Some tourists come here expecting to find a few houses built upon a barren rock. We admit that the impression given the tourist upon arrival at Port aux Basques in the Spring, if it happens to be raining, is none too inviting. As the old proverb says "the proof of the pudding is in the eating" and the proof of the excellence of this country is a trip to the interior, and around the coast in the summer and fall. To sit underneath an arch of trees near the edge of a river and watch "speckled beauties" glide along through calm waters, is but one of the delights of life in this country.

For these haunts of nature the native of this land always yearns and to this they are coming back when the plans for Old Home Month are completed.

NOTE OF THANKS.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Batten, of Coley's Point, and family, (Rupert S. at Bell Island and Kenneth M. at Fogo), would like to convey their grateful thanks to all those friends at Coley's Point and elsewhere who were so kind and helpful at the time of their recent bereavement in the passing of their dear boy and brother, Harold Roy; also to thank those who sent wreaths, etc., to adorn the casket and to all who by letter, message, or otherwise, expressed sympathy. Many were so particularly helpful both before and after our bereavement that we find words altogether inadequate to express our deep appreciation.

REMEMBRANCE DAY

1924

(Published by request of the G.W.V.A.)

THE CALL.

IN FLANDERS FIELDS.

In Flanders fields the poppies blow

Between the crosses, row on row,

That mark our place; and in the sky

The larks, still bravely singing, fly

Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the dead. Short days ago

We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,

Loved and were loved, and now we lie

In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:

To you from falling hands we throw

The torch; be yours to hold it high;

If ye break faith with us who die,

We shall not sleep, though poppies grow

In Flanders fields.

JOHN McCRAE.

Poppy Day is drawing near and we turn aside for a moment to reflect seriously on the grave responsibility which we must accept and on the duty we owe to the dependents of our gallant boys who faced death for our protection. It is the day when the Call goes out to the public for assistance to relieve the distress

among those of our men who can no longer support their families and the newspapers present for general information the particulars of what has been accomplished as a result of the whole hearted response from a grateful public on Remembrance Day, 1923.

Now we are coming to another Remembrance Day and those who rest beneath the Poppies of Flanders are calling to us in spirit to keep faith with them. We have a pledge to keep—a solemn responsibility to assume—that of relieving our distressed comrades and in a practical way to radiate sunshine into sad hearts

where the bread winner is handicapped by ill health and where warmth and food is needed to nourish the frail bodies of children whose father sacrificed his health for King and Country. We feel that as Poppy Day approaches, the spirit which animated our people in the past, will again respond to the Call of those who gave up their opportunities, offered their lives on the altar of sacrifice in order that our Empire could be saved

our children and women-folk protected and the world be made safe for Democracy.

LET US NEVER FAIL IN OUR

DUTY TO HELP THOSE WHO

DID SO MUCH TO HELP US.

THE ANSWER.

THE VICTORY EMBLEM.

Oh! you who sleep in Flanders fields,

Sleep sweet—to rise anew;

We caught the torch you threw,

And holding high we kept

The faith with those who died.

We cherish, too, the poppy red,

That grows on fields where valor led.

It seems to signal to the skies,

That blood of heroes never dies,

But lends a cluster to the red

Of the flower that blooms above the dead

In Flanders fields.

And now the torch and poppy red

Wear in honour of our dead.

Fear not that ye have died for naught

We've learned the lesson that ye taught

In Flanders fields.

Cambridge Man
Writes on Old Home Visit

(Editor the Guardian.)

Dear Sir:—If you will allow me space in your paper, I would like to pass a few remarks about Old Home Month.

First I might say I have been receiving the Guardian for some time and I am sure it is a credit to Bay Roberts, and those who read it. I cannot tell you how much we missed it when it was not published.

I am another interested in Old Home Month because I am expecting to visit the home land in the near future.

It is very nice to have old friends and relations come to visit the old folks but it would be much better for them and the home land if they would come to stay. We would all much rather be at home.

I am living in Boston, and I would suggest that those living here in the U.S.A., would meet other home-going parties at Sydney, N.S., instead of going to Toronto, Can.

It would make the thing look good, if it would be possible for someone who is interested to get a number of small flags or badges, with "Old Home Month" or other suitable wording printed on them and sell them for an amount covering the cost. Whoever the organizer is he ought to be willing to do this, as it would make a good souvenir and pleasant reminder of the trip.

I would also suggest that anybody having a cornet or a mouth-organ—anything that would make a noise—to bring it along with them, and I am sure that we would never forget it, or those who gathered together to visit the home land in Old Home Month.

Just one more suggestion: Wouldn't it be getting more closer to the thing by calling it Old Home Week instead of Old Home Month?

I hope that I will hear from some other interested party before long, for it seems too good a thing to blow up and be forgotten.

Keep the ball rolling and it will surely be a success, and a good feed of corned beef and cabbage in the end. Hoping that I am not taking up too much space in your excellent paper. I remain,

Yours truly,

Touring Newfoundland

The editorial columns of the Newfoundland Weekly, a Newfoundland paper published in Boston, Mass., on Nov. 1st, deals with the project of an old home excursion next year. The Weekly has always advocated the splendor and beauty of this country which makes it a veritable "Sportsman's Paradise." We feel that a united effort on the part of all Newfoundland newspapers should result his "ain folk." A good thought suggested by our correspondent is that Excursionists from Canada meet at Toronto and those going from United States meet at Boston. Get together, Newfoundlanders, talk it up, boost it and make this Old Home Excursion the happiest event in your lives. We would welcome letters from any other interested reader of this paper.—Editor.
