Suffers from Chills, from Sleeping on a Cold Floor—Germany Not Likely to Hinder France

PARIS Sept. 7.—The Petit Republicain declares today it has learned from Premier Clemenceau that the government is indifferent as to who gets the arms and ammunition at Mazagan, so long as it is satisfied that they will not be used against French troops.

PARIS Sept. 7.—Recent letters received here from Lord Sir Harry MacLean, the Englishman who for many years has been in the service of the Sultan of Morocco, and who was captured early in June by the bandit Rainsui, complains that the cold is suffering from chills as a result of sleeping on the floor with only a carpet for a covering.

BROOCH FOUND BY LISLE MCGOWAN COMES BACK TO ITS OWNER AFTER WANDERING FOR A YEAR—A PECULIAR STORY

Found During Exhibition, Time, 1906 brooch. Owner can have same by proving property at the parcel post office and paying expenses.

After having been held for about a year and having met many owners, the brooch mentioned above is again restored to the owner, or will be in a few days, when its ownership is proved beyond a doubt.

The pin was found during the exhibition last year, on Sydney street by Lisle McGowan. He took the brooch home and showed it to a chum. They did not think the trinket was especially valuable and were somewhat careless in handling it.

The girl, however, kept it and left for Boston the same evening, having in the meantime ascertained from a jeweler that the brooch was valued at $30.

JAPAN SEIZES PRATAS ISLAND

Some Little Excitement Over a Pacific Incident.

Coral Reef and Harbor Near Philippines; Of Great Value as Base for a Hostile Fleet

The New York Herald prints the following from Washington: The Herald's cable from Yokohama saying that Japanese "explorers" had occupied and hoisted the national flag over the island of Pratas, near the Philippines, attracted much attention here, because by this act has been added to Japanese territory an island with 120 miles of the Philippines, which would furnish an admirable naval base.

Japanese possessions are brought almost within the archipelago, because Pratas island is less than 50 miles north of the 9th parallel, which was the northern boundary of the former Spanish domains as defined by the treaty of Paris.

The bureau of insular affairs is supplied with a great deal of information about Pratas island and Pratas reef, of which the island is the visible part.

The war and navy department officials say that they have no official information about this new acquisition of the Japanese nation, and that the cable from Yokohama was the first intimation they had of the hoisting of the Japanese flag on the island of Pratas.

Pratas island is composed of sand. It has been generally visited by Chinese fishermen in the early part of the year, and these fishermen have a good haven with the horseshoe of the island.

In no way could the island be of value to any one except for brushy growth. It is barren, except for brushy growth, the shrubbery of which rises about ten feet above the sand.

ANTI-CLERICALS ARRESTED

Cardinal Merry del Val Insulted by Anarchists, Cheered by the People.

CASTEL GANDOLFO, Sept. 6.—While Cardinal Merry del Val, the papal secretary of state, was driving to this place from Rome last evening several men on a passing tramcar hooted him and shouted: "Death to the Pope!"

The police who were escorting the Cardinal's carriage stopped the tramcar and arrested the offenders, but only after a long and exciting struggle, as their friends attempted to prevent the arrest.

The inhabitants of Castel Gandolfo applauded the action of the police in arresting the men who had insulted Cardinal Merry del Val, and afterwards paraded the town carrying lighted torches and led by a band playing the papal hymn.

They stopped before the Cardinal's residence, and Cardinal Merry del Val appeared upon a balcony and was received with enthusiastic cheers.

The death occurred this morning of Walter Baltus, of 17 St. Paul street, deceased was thirty-five years of age and was an employee of the Hygienic bakery. He is survived by a widow.

SPORTING MATTERS MISS THOMSON WAS THE WINNER

WINDSOR, N. S., Sept. 6.—The contest for the ladies' golf championship of the Maritime Provinces this afternoon resulted in a victory for Miss Mabel G. Thomson of St. John by 6 up and 5 to play. In the contest between the New Brunswick and Nova Scotia teams the result was in doubt to the last, but New Brunswick won by three points. The following is the score: New Brunswick. Nova Scotia. Miss Thomson. 4. Mrs. Handsomebody. 0. Miss Barker. 0. Miss Unlacked. 0. Miss Stetson. 0. Miss Dinglew. 0. Mrs. E. A. Smith. 3. Miss G. Bullock. 0. Miss W. Barker. 0. Miss G. Siroon. 0. Mrs. Chandler. 0. Mrs. Phillips. 0. Mrs. Edwards. 0. Mrs. E. Bauld. 0. Mrs. Schafeld. 0. Miss Bullock. 0. Miss McGivern. 2. Mrs. Handall. 0. Miss Green. 0. Mrs. Crawford. 0. New Brunswick made thirteen points, Nova Scotia ten. The prizes were presented to the winners in front of the old fort by Dr. W. J. Willett, president of the Windsor Golf Club, in a few felicitous words, in which he expressed the wish that Miss Thomson might be as successful at the great golf meet at Ottawa as she had been in Windsor. Mrs. E. A. Smith of St. John in an eloquent speech moved a vote of thanks to the ladies of the Windsor Golf Club for the splendid manner in which they had entertained the visitors. This was seconded by Mrs. Givern. The ladies cheered Raymond Smith and Mr. Handsomebody. Mrs. Handsomebody and Mrs. Byers and the Windsor ladies responded by cheering Miss Thomson and her visitors, and so the meet ended in the most cordial way.

EXCITING CONTESTS AT JAMESTOWN MEET

NORFOLK, Va., Sept. 6.—The features today of the Jamestown Exposition athletic meet were the breaking of the junior record for throwing the fifty-six pound weight by P. McDonald of the Irish-American Club; the lowering of the half-mile running record three seconds, by F. C. Sheehan of Boston and the pole vaulting of A. T. Cook, Irish-American A. C., who came within four inches of the world's record. The events were closely contested and spectacular, the Irish-American team winning the day's honors on points. The 100 yard dash was a neck and neck run between Gerhardt and Keating. Sullivan's finish in the race after the handicap of a bad start, taking the lead in a final sprint, electrified the big crowd present. In the five mile running event, A. R. Walton of Lawrence Y. M. C. A., Boston, took the championship from William Nelson, Pastime A. C., whose record was 27 minutes 15 seconds. The American record is 25 minutes 23.5 seconds, made by E. C. Carter, New York A. C., September 17, 1887. Summaries: Amateur Athletic Union of America championships. The important event of the year in local rowing circles will take place on Saturday afternoon, the 14th inst., when the annual amateur single scull race for the championship of the harbor will be held under the auspices of the Neptune Rowing Club. Arrangements to this end were completed last evening at a meeting of the club. That Ross, Nic and Coates will participate is practically assured, and considering the records of these oarsmen, the race will no doubt be looked forward to with the keenest interest and expectation. It is also probable that some of the younger oarsmen will take part, as the recent events in this line have shown that some of them would put up a good race even in fast company. It will be generally regretted that Silton, Edyes, who won the event in 1906, will not be able to compete, as he is still under suspension by the M. P. A. A. Entries may be placed with Heber Vroom, president of the club, at his office, Prince Win. street, on or before Wednesday, the 11th inst. In addition to the championship event several races scheduled to take place in the recent past at Lily Lake but left unfinished, will be rowed, as will also a disputed race between Garnett and Doberty.

THE question among the baseball fans today, and in fact, all the past week, has been who will win the game this afternoon? Both teams are out to win, and the St. Joseph's team claim that they can shut their rivals out. However that remains to be seen for the Marathons have been underestimated and last Saturday's game showed the sporting public that they can put up a fight. As will be seen by the line up, the Marathons will present their same team. This is done at the request of a large number of their followers. They will, however, have on hand the reliable Ed. Moorey, who will ready to go between the points should Gilmour weaken. Following is the line up of the two teams: St. Joseph's. Rootes. Mills. Gilmour. McGuigan. Stubbs. Simpson. Dr. Malcom. Cregan. Bradbury. Conboy. Copeland. Long. Tolson. Harris. J. Malcom. McDonald. Clawson. Breen.

MOROCCO IN A STATE OF ALMOST HOPELESS ANARCHY

France's Action is Limited to Maintaining Order in the Treaty Ports—Atrocities Perpetrated by the Moors on Women and Children.

TANGIER, Sept. 7.—The tangled reports from the interior reflect very fairly the hopeless chaos into which the country has drifted. The truth seems to be that the interior is in a state of anarchy, and that genuine Moors do not reach the coast towns freely or quickly. The numerous fierce tribes who divide Morocco are independent, not merely by force of arms, but also by many private feuds and grievances, of which foreigners can know little or nothing. It is clear that this tribal anarchy, which constitutes the real difficulty in Morocco, will only be ended by a strong hand.

France, which has achieved wonders in making Algeria a peaceful and prosperous country, seems destined to do the work. But the time for this has not yet come, since international susceptibilities forbid it. All that is possible at the present moment is to establish order on the ports and to reach the inland tribes, if necessary, by sharp lessons such as they have received at Casa Blanca, that they must respect the new state of things. It is idle to expect any help from the Sultan and his ministers, who are themselves impotent. The Moors must protect their own interests. If France and Spain will now carry out the task assigned to them at Algiers, and by giving an efficient police for the coast towns, the immediate dangers of the situation will be averted. It is doubly wise to understand why this doubly necessary measure has been delayed so long.

The Jehid, or holy war, is still a living fact among the Moors, and to its call Mohammedans all the world over are in some degree sensitive. France has in hand a business to which no nation can be insensitive. Millions of men and commerce worth a hundred millions are vitally concerned. The situation has been long gathering. Since his accession in 1894 the Sultan, like all his predecessors, has had the slightest hold on his subjects, and has ruled, not as he has ruled, with an iron hand, but as a despot. The rising by Moorish tribesmen in Spanish Morocco and the landing of Spanish troops landed to keep order, made necessary immediate bombardments with all the terrible results. But the French army have neither forced a definite policy nor settled the immediate crisis, as the British, Caza Blanca is but one of the eight treaty ports which, as a result of the Anglo-French agreement and the Algeiras Conference, now, both as a police protection at the treaty ports, and on the mountains that make Morocco veritable, the tribes are yearly with a new fervor. The responsibility rests, in which it is hoped they will have the backing of Europe and America. There is, of course, no question of conquest or permanent occupation of any large extent of Moorish territory. The act of Algiers still officially rules the policy of France in the country. But public opinion is gradually and steadily asserting itself against a method of half-measures, and diplomatic statements will have to increase, though no doubt with all circumspection, the scope of its operations in Morocco. It seems certain now that reinforcements must be despatched to Casa Blanca without delay. The general view is that the question of policy is a plain dilemma. Either the tribesmen at Casa Blanca will threaten, or they will be scattered and definitely covered, or the scope of French operations is to be confined to the town only. In the former event, General Druce must be able to pursue the enemy at least fifty or sixty miles with success. For that he needs strong reinforcements in men and guns. For the latter event he is, sufficiently, I think, to say that he is now against assassins without any reinforcements, but he is not strong enough to deal any decisive blow at the enemy at any useful distance from his headquarters.

The question, therefore, is upon which of the courses the government will decide? If the latter, will the same prove to be worth the enormous increases among the various tribes of the interior. The chief enemies of the French are the Beni Mzab and the Beni Mokrani. The Medounas who plundered Casa Blanca have fallen out with other tribes, having wanted to keep their booty to themselves. They were attacked, and in their turn were Riot and Bloodshed in the Streets—Great Excitement When the Troops Fired on the Mob—An Eye Witness Describes the Scenes.

BELFAST, Sept. 7.—Belfast loves a fight, but it does not like the "about to kill" method of settling a crime, and when the military, goaded to desperation by the striking curriers and dock strikers, and the rioting mobs, killed three in the crowd, the rioting was quickly stopped. The labor trouble here began as a fact back at June 24th, when the dockers, the employ of four of the shipping firms came out on strike. The next day their example was followed by the carters, and labor was imported from England under a police protection.

Some of the atrocities committed by the tribesmen while they were looting Casa Blanca can be gathered from the following cases. Eight young children of a Jewish family were deliberately murdered, one after the other, in the presence of their mother, another Jewish woman, who has reached Tangier and is being looked after by English missionaries, and her two sons killed by tribesmen, who then carried off her three young daughters. A Spanish baker was found, after quiet had been restored, roasted in his own oven. These facts are typical of a hundred others. Now are the Jews safe, for a large number of the Moors were married and the wives and daughters of many important Moorish residents were outraged and carried away by their tribes.

THE JAPANESE QUESTION IN BRITISH COLUMBIA

Vancouver, B. C., Aug. 30th, 1907. Editor, St. John Star, St. John, N. B.—Dear Sir: I am a constant reader of your paper, I notice your editorial a few days since on the Japanese question, which had been answered to my surprise to me. I must say that I take exception to your statements. I cannot understand why you are in favor of the importation of Japanese, and the throwing out of employment of white men, because this is simply what it amounts to. There are large industrial concerns in B. C. and in this very city of Vancouver (which by the way is now a Japanese town) who are refusing to employ white labor, giving the preference to Japs, who work for about 50 per cent. less than a white man. These Japs are no benefit to the community, as they will not trade with the whites. They live in some of the most miserable, unsanitary hovels imaginable. I have been there and know whereof I speak. Why not import a few in St. John, and have a few more North streets-York Point hotels? Why you favor the importation is more than I can understand. Yours respectfully, a subscriber, W. A. BAILEY, 354 Harris Street. No such opinion as is credited in the above letter could be taken from the paragraph which appeared in the Star. Without a comprehensive understanding of the actual conditions and the sentiments of the people in British Columbia, no opinion can be qualified to express a decided opinion one way or the other on a subject of such importance.—Ed. Star.

PLGRIMAGES POSTPONED BECAUSE OF DISCONTENT

Anti-Church Feeling in Italy Gives Rise to Serious Conditions—Thousands are Planning to go to Rome—France Said to be Acting Against the Pope.

ROME, Sept. 7.—"Priest Hunting in Rome" is the daily heading in a Roman newspaper under which the series of insults and outrages to the priests in the streets of Rome are related. The recrudescence of anti-clericalism, which began immediately after the recent municipal elections showed a majority of Socialist voters, has assumed the character of what is described as "a furious anti-clerical campaign." At those elections either through negligence or timidity, the Catholics in Rome were badly defeated, and since then a sort of anarchy has prevailed in the municipal council, and a vigorous campaign of false charges against Catholic institutions and their inmates has been carried on in the thousand organs of the press. Then the subversive elements of the population—the rowdies, and the discontented, the young men who have grown up without the influence of the church, and those who are the product of the non-Christian schools—rose up in protest against monks and nuns, against priests and the Pope and the prime minister of Italy, Signor Giolitti, whom they accuse of furthering Catholic interests.

It is not possible to quote all the cases of this nature which have occurred in these few weeks. Cardinal Casazza and other ecclesiastical dignitaries, passing in their carriages to and from the Vatican, were made the object of the vilest language of the gutter. Monsignor Dandini was attacked with a stone on the ear. Monsignor Sanfermo just narrowly escaped a large stone which grazed the back of his head. Monsignor Lorenzo Perosi, the perpetual director of the Sistine Chapel choir, arriving in Rome from Præchia, was greeted by a blackguard who attempted to spit in his face; and so on, the story continues from day to day. The public authorities are certainly weak in the suppression of these acts, and the government is accused of neglect or tacit connivance.

The rumor that the Pope would suspend projected pilgrimages to Rome, in consequence of the disturbed condition of minds in the city has become a certainty. His holiness, according to the "Osservatore Romano," taking account of the present very sad conditions made it impossible to carry out the safety of his children who should desire to come to him, would not be sufficiently guaranteed. He has come to the determination to suspend, in the meantime, the pilgrimages appointed up to the end of September. They are as follows: The pilgrimage of Treviso—the diocese in which the Pope was born—was appointed to take place from the 1st to 6th September; the pilgrimage directed by Monsignor Delamare, between the 9th and 21st September; the National French pilgrimage, directed by Monsignor Amette, coadjutor of the archbishop of Paris, arranged for the 29th, and, finally, the pilgrimage from the Diocese of Ferrara, which should be in Rome for the end of September.

Many other pilgrimages are already announced, beginning with the first days of October, among them being one from Palermo, one from the Archdiocese of Westminster, and a number of others. For these, and for many others already announced and to be announced later, to deliberate according to the conditions above, and according to the circumstances of the time. Setting aside the moral consequences of the outcry raised against the priests and institutions of education, and the Catholic Church, which are likely to be deplorable, there are serious economic questions involved in this anti-clerical campaign. Italy for several years past has derived a very considerable share of her ready money from tourists and pilgrims. The latter come in thousands during the years that are especially marked out. They save money on their way, and the greatest harvest is reaped at Rome, where anti-clericalism flourishes unchecked.

From precise calculations made, the "Corriere d'Italia" has reason to state that the number registered to make the pilgrimage to Rome up to the present time is 54,000. Now, since the pilgrimages, as is well-known, ordinarily last eight days, it is a question there of 432,000 days' nourishment. Now, taking also into account that a part of these (nearly one-third) are received in refuges depending on the Vatican, the expenses of these at three francs a day—the economic benefit which they derived from the pilgrimages—will be a total loss for the shop-keepers and working classes of Rome of 2,312,000 francs, or 362,400. That is a high price to pay for the dubious delight of hunting a few churchmen.

According to the Journal "La Correspondance Romane" the political consequences of the movement are similar to ures. This Journal declares that the present anti-clerical campaign in Italy is sustained with money from France. The Italian newspapers may well claim the distinction of having done their worst to produce a religious war in this land. Columns upon columns of vile stories are published which have absolutely no foundation except in the minds of the anti-clericals.

CHOOSING ONE'S COAT SUIT—By Anne Rittenhouse

We are still wearing our Autumn clothes but we are taking notice of the Winter styles.

It is strange that women in the country and in the city have to buy differently. The air of the city with its close houses and radiating heat never seems to get cold as the open country where so many women spend their Winters.

The real touch of smartness on such a suit is a vivid green or bright yellow collar edged with soutache braid. All broadcloth gowns allow of more trimming than the rougher materials so a thing in cheviot or tweed. It carries a touch of color always; especially the new combination of yellow and red velvet used as a piping on the collars.

It makes a prettier suit for those who prefer somber colors than the plain black they have worn so long, even if they discard any color on it and trim it with only a collar of gray or black velvet.

Those who live in the country with a few trips to a large city. For these are the tweed, the old-fashioned broadcloth with warmth and the camel's hair cheviot. For these also are the stylish top wraps of checked cloths that were never prettier than now. They reach to the knee, are quite loose, have many pockets, and a velvet collar. If you have a separate skirt in a solid color choose the top coat to correspond to the shade in one of the checks.

This will make you a good business or street suit without having to look any further. You can even buy another skirt in the same color as it is now the fashion to stick to one color for your street gowns.

It must be admitted however, that this top coat is the only stylish long one in the Winter fashions. But as I said before, it is not necessary for a woman to have every one of her suits in the very last style. If your long coat is good style and fit don't tinker with it. Wear it as it is. Keep it for cold days and rainy weather.

Unusually the points of shabbiness are the collar and cuffs. These need altering more than any part of a garment at all times. Velvet is again the chief fabric for these, but if you find a bit of old blue Chinese embroidery on linen, or any material in fact, use it to replace the old velvet which has been on a coat. Embroidered white linen will not be popular for Winter as trimming. These are new collar and cuffs that are very prettily made of linen and embroidered, but the color is a deep cate au lait and the work is done with three-colored floss. Persian tones are used.

Young girls can wear more vivid colors than their mothers in Winter and for these come the Scotch plaid and skirts with short coats of plain material. These coats are not long like those of last Summer, but they are made into Norfolk shape with narrow belt. The belted coat is to be very much in style for everyone. Many of them are made with a coat full or skirt as it is called, attached at the waist line. This is circular and does not meet in front. It is slightly rounded there and the edges are trimmed with braid or bias bands of the cloth. It fits snugly in the back although very slender women will find it more graceful if they plait it there. Not every woman can stand the plain habit back. If she does not curve out from the waist line she should always wear plaits or a slight padding.

Correct Way to Make A Petticoat—By Ella Stan

IT IS ESSENTIAL that the petticoat or drop skirt shall sit well, or the effect of the skirt will be spoiled.

Five to eight yards of muslin, longcloth, cambric, or nainsook, and ten to twelve yards of silk. Five yards of mohair will be sufficient.

It is important that a good pattern be secured. A seven gored one is the best and should be ordered by the waist measure. A good plain skirt pattern can be used. If it is to be lengthened or shortened it must be done at the bottom of the skirt, never alter the length of the skirt at the top. Few amateur dressmakers know how to cut a skirt properly, but if these directions are followed a skirt will be made well.

Take the front gore on a lengthwise fold of the material so as to bring the raw end of the material. This will leave a V shaped piece of the material along the side of the pattern. Take No. 2 gore and lay so as to bring the top of the gore as far up on the V-shaped piece of material as possible. Lay this gore so as to bring the edge that is to be sewed to the front gore on the selvage edge of the material.

Arrange all the gores one after the other, so as to always bring a bias and selvage edge together. This prevents the skirt from sagging. Arrange the gores in cutting so that a gore ties on the material left at the top of the last gore, and it will require much less material. The seam in the back will be on the bias. If the material is not sufficiently wide to cut any of the gores, piece them on the bias edge at the bottom.

Take two straight pieces of the material, ten inches long and two inches wide, and pink one edge of each piece. Lay the straight edge of each of these pieces on the bias edge of the two back gores at the top, commencing at the waist line. Place these pieces so that the seams will come on the wrong side of the skirt and stitch a seam three-eighths of an inch wide to within one inch of the bottom of the strap. Place the two back gores firmly together, commencing at the end of the stitching of the strap.

Take a piece of narrow black tape and baste along the seam from where the stitching ends to the bottom, and then stitch the seam up through the center of tape. Hold the two facings at the top of the seam together and put two rows of stitching, about one-eighth of an inch apart, commencing where the tape stops on the seam, and running obliquely across the facing to the front edge. This makes a neat finish, and gives a placket that is almost impossible to tear.

On the right side of the back turn the facing back on the wrong side of the gore, and baste along the seam to hold it, until it is pressed. On the left side allow the facing to extend so that when the skirt is fastened the right side will lap over on this extension.

Mark the other gores to the back gores in the order that they should be placed. Lay the plaits in the back as the pattern calls for, and do not increase or diminish them. Fit the skirt over the hips, and around the waist by taking in the seams, or letting them out, as is found necessary. If the skirt appears to span across the hips this will be remedied by pulling the skirt slightly up in the back, and cutting away any of the material that comes back (without plaits), it may be fitted in the same way. Find the exact length required for a belt, allow for a turn-in on each end, and for the width of the extension on the left side. After turning in on each end this piece intended for a belt, measure the width of the extension from one end, and put a pin in it. Take the other end of the belt, and place it where the pin is; hold the belt together, and the crease in the front will be where the middle of the front gore of the skirt will come; put a pin here.

Pin the side on which the extension is allowed on the left side of the skirt, and pin the edge of the extension to the end of the belt. Pin the right side of the skirt at the back to the other end of the belt, and the center of the front gore to the center of the belt. If there should be a slight fullness arrange it so that it will come in the back gores. Finish the belt and sew on hooks and eyes.

Try the skirt on, and get it even around the bottom. After it is perfectly even it may be shortened as much as desired, by cutting an inch or more off all the way around the bottom.

A fitted facing seven inches deep and a skirt braid will make the skirt wear much longer. If a wash skirt, the facing should not be more than three inches wide, and omit the braid. Now we have a foundation, and the ways of trimming are innumerable. Suppose we make a silk, a mohair, a wash skirt, and a real silk.

For the wash skirt, embroidery always wears well. Four and a half or five yards will be sufficient for a founce. Good embroidery may be had from forty cents to $1.25 a yard. The founce should be twelve or fifteen inches wide. If the embroidery is wider a few tucks may be put in, if one wishes.

Where the ruffle joins the skirt, three yards of heading one inch wide will be needed, and three and a half yards of ribbon. If the material of the skirt is not cut from under the heading, it will wear much better, and with the ribbon run through the heading, it does not show whether the material is cut away or not.

There are pretty founces already apt to run in the laundry. A ruffle may be made of groups of five or eight tucks, running either vertically or horizontally with strips of one inch Val. In section between the groups of tucks, and the ruffle finished on the edge with a full ruffle of two inches wide Val. edging to match the insertion. For the founce nainsook at thirty-five cents a yard, or a lawn at twenty-five cents a yard should be used.

Mohair is particularly desirable for general wear and will give better service than any other material. Any quality or color may be used. Five yards will be required and it may be had from 75 cents to $1.50 a yard. From this material a circular founce, composed of three graduated circular founces, will be found most suitable. A pattern for this may be had at almost any pattern house.

The top ruffle is very scant, and the other two grow gradually fuller until at the bottom there is quite a flare. Each founce is about seven inches wide, where they are joined to each other, and where the top one is joined to the skirt, a band of light weight braid, about one-half inch wide, is stitched flat on both edges. This gives a neat, pretty finish and wears well.

A pretty silk may be made in any color to match the gown, and trim with five two-inch bias ruffles, one above the other, and each ruffle finished at the top with a narrow bias band of the material, or it may be made with a bias ruffle eight inches wide, and a narrow ruffle four inches wide, joined to the top with a narrow bias band of the material, to be decidedly fuller than the wide one. The narrow ruffle can be straight with groups of tucks.

A plain silk skirt can be made with a knife-plaited ruffle, ten inches deep, and on the lower edge sew a full bias ruffle, three inches wide, and trim the narrow ruffle with three rows of baby ribbon to match the silk. Where the two ruffles join, and where the founce joins the skirt, two rows of baby ribbon should be stitched on as a finish.

For a more elaborate skirt we could use Val. insertion, and edge, or silk lace. If Val. is used, three pieces of insertion at $1.50 a piece will be required, and one piece of the edging at $1.15 a piece. It should be one inch wide. Three pieces of ribbon, one inch wide, will be required, and should match in color the silk in the skirt.

Take a piece of ribbon four yards long and to the edge of this full the top of the insertion and to the edge of the insertion full another strip of the ribbon, and continue in this way until the ruffle is the desired depth. Make the insertion full another strip of the ribbon, and continue in this way until the ruffle is the desired depth. Make the

 "On behalf of the St. John firemen, I return their heartfelt thanks to the various merchants, bankers and citizens and to the gentlemen and corporations residing and carrying on business in other parts of Canada, as well as in the United States, who so generously responded to my request for financial assistance towards the tournament fund. To the various visiting fire department contingents who favored us with their presence and took part in the parade, tournament and excursion, hearty thanks are extended. To all those citizens who in any manner assisted the firemen in making their demonstration a success I can only say, their kindness will be long forgotten, and as for the gentlemen connected with the press, we feel under the deepest obligation, and regret that it is not in our power ever sufficiently to repay them for all they have done for us.

SOME RESULTS OF THE CONFERENCE
Lord Elgin Announces the Reorganization of Colonial Offices

Function Will be to Deal With Self-Governing Dominions—Crown Colonies Another Dept.
 An announcement was made by Lord Elgin recently in the House of Lords which is of considerable importance as a sequel to the Imperial Conference, reports the London Times. It relates to the promised reorganization of the Colonial Office and the establishment of a Secretariat to the Conference. With regard to the former point it will be remembered that in the course of the debates Lord Elgin pledged himself to try to separate the departments of the Colonial Office so that there should be in his own words, "a distinct division dealing with the affairs of the self-governing dominions." This undertaking he appears to have fulfilled. The Colonial Office at present divided into four departments each under an Assistant Secretary of State, henceforth to be divided into three; and the first of these is to be a "Dominion Department," dealing with the affairs of the self-governing dominions overseas. That will be its exclusive work, though its scope is very rightly stretched to include the protectorates and possessions which are geographically dependent on the great self-governing colonies. Next is to come the Colonial Department, dealing with the affairs of the Crown Colonies only; and the Secretary of State can easily be believed when he says that it will be the duty of the departmental changes is a full of meaning, in its way, as that which in the middle of last century severed the colonies from their incongruous association with the War Department.

The rest of the new arrangements, which are certainly not less important, Lord Elgin has not succeeded in making entirely clear. There is to be a third or "general" department, dealing with a legal, financial and other business and every one will be satisfied with the announcement that it is to be placed in the entirely control of Mr. Laurier. In this department, we are told, there are to be standing committees to take a collective view of each matter as it comes before the department, and also of the question of patronage. It is no doubt very desirable that all the multifarious business of this kind should be brought into focus and dealt with on a common principle, though some of the precise duties of this department will be still more in explanation needed on the more important points. The position of the new Secretariat and its relation to the other departments. One thing is clear, that it will be distinct from the Colonial Office, and Lord Elgin has announced the name of the first secretary, it is to be Mr. J. J. Macdonald, an Assistant Secretary, in charge of the department comprising South Africa, and who accompanied Mr. Chamberlain on his South African tour.

But what is to be the status of the Secretariat? From Lord Elgin's statement it might almost appear that it is to be an appendage to the "general" department, or even an integral part of it. We can scarcely suppose, however, that it will be so, in the case, but it seems clear, at any rate, that it will be an integral part of the Colonial Office. It must be confessed that Lord Elgin's allusions to its status are not altogether reassuring. He says the post of secretary should be held by a man of a standing which would justify his access, whenever necessary, direct to the Secretary of State. Certainly it should be that of putting it very low when we remember that the original suggestion was for a Secretariat distinct from the Colonial Office, and responsible to the Conference alone.

Lord Elgin paid a generous and very proper tribute to the members of the Colonial Office, which will be heartily endorsed by all who know their work. No slur on them is implied in the least degree by the criticism that the Secretariat ought to be dissociated as far as possible from the Colonial Office. No doubt its business will be excellently done by civil servants; no doubt, in the circumstances it is the easiest method of starting the new machinery. It means a definite step forward; and there is no reason why the Secretariat should not do, as we hope it will do, the work of high importance in collecting and circulating knowledge. But, for all that, a Secretariat to the Conference inside the Colonial Office is anomalous, and can only be a transition to a further stage of development. It is an anomaly because the Conference has now definitely placed the Imperial States on an equal footing with the home government, and the Secretariat can be ultimately responsible to no one less than the heads of these States, under the chairmanship of the British Prime Minister. It should bear, as a correspondent has just pointed out in our columns, the same relation to the Conference that the clerk of the house of commons bears to the house. Apart from constitutional forms, the need, always urgent, of keeping in the closest possible touch with colonial feeling suggests that the government ought to be ready to go outside the Colonial Office in appointing to this important post. These developments will come in time. In the meanwhile we have done something; we must presently do more.

INSURANCE MEN OPPOSED TO HIGH BUILDINGS

New York Underwriters Do Not Favor the Skyscraper Species of Architecture
 NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—Opposition to the building of skyscrapers was voiced vigorously at a public hearing before the committee on limitation of light and area of the building code revision committee yesterday. George W. Babby, President of the New York Board of Fire Underwriters, said his board was expecting a fire of unprecedented size at any time in the high buildings. He said it was the belief of fire underwriters that if a fire started on the upper floors of some of the highest buildings, it cannot be checked, as the water pressure is insufficient, and he feared it would spread to many other high buildings, causing an enormous loss. Calvin Tombs, President of the Municipal Art Society, was also in favor of limitations. He said he believed the time was coming when skyscrapers will be demolished to make room for buildings built by the block. He said the courts do not take proper cognizance of the assessment of light and area.

WOULD SEND ROOSEVELT TO THE PHILIPPINES

London Spectator Suggests that the Strenuous One Might Find Lots to do There
 LONDON, Sept. 7.—That Theodore Roosevelt should undertake the job of reorganizing the Philippines after the completion of his presidential term, is suggested by the Spectator. "Why should not Mr. Roosevelt be asked to undertake that vast possible and honorific task?" the paper asks. "In a little more than a year he will be free, and in a little more than two years he will be re-elected and have the months of 1916 and 45 per cent. at his disposal to devote his powers to a work on a wider import? At all events, until some solution is devised as to what is to be done, we, as ardent well-wishers of America, should not reconcile ourselves to the sale of the Philippines."

 NEW YORK, Sept. 7.—It is probable that our market today will be a continuation of yesterday's in firmness and activity. Yesterday was a day for rumors of favorable news and while none of them have been confirmed it would not be surprising that the rumor mongers will continue at their work. Late yesterday afternoon there was published the terms of the proxies that have been received by U. P. stockholders asking for their votes for Mr. Harriman and a couple of his associates for use at the company's annual meeting. According to the terms of this proxy those to whom it is given have power to vote specifically for the approval and ratification of all action of the board of directors and of the executive committee since the last annual meeting of the stockholders. This means that the stockholders are called upon to grant a full bill of health to the U. P. management to all their actions during the year and possibly to a greater variety of others, of which there has been as yet no public cognizance.

THORNTON WAS DISCHARGED

Hartland Arson Case Finished Yesterday.

Mr. Carvell for the Defense Scored Green, and Advised the People to Get Rid of Him

HARTLAND, N. B., Sept. 6.—The preliminary examination of W. F. Thornton was concluded today and the case dismissed by the presiding justice. The witnesses examined on the part of the defense were J. H. Stairs, Ina Thornton, Lorne McNally, Abraham Fife, Dudley Day, Solomon McFarlane, A. L. Baird, F. M. Boyd, Edith Couple, Elsie Downey, Gordon McAdam, George McLaughlin and the accused, W. F. Thornton.

Mr. Thornton denied all knowledge of the fire and claimed that he had about $2,500 worth of goods in the store at the time of the fire, covered by $1,425 insurance in the Traders' Insurance Company of Toronto, and contradicted the evidence of the prosecution on several points.

The defendant proved by William F. Henderson that he had entered into negotiations for the erection of a store and when that failed he procured a store from Dudley Day. He also proved by Gordon McAdam and George McLaughlin that the show cases had really been burned in the fire.

Mr. Carvell in his closing remarks was particularly severe on the witness Green and also on certain newspaper correspondents who have been reporting events from Hartland. He even went so far as to advise the people to get rid of the presence of Green as quickly as possible.

After the addresses of Mr. Carvell for the defendant and M. L. Hayward for the prosecution Judge Barrett delivered judgment, remarking that while certain threats had been made against him and his motive his conduct in certain parties he would deal with the case as he felt it to be his duty, regardless of overbearing cries. The crucial point in the case was as to the removal of the goods before the fire, and as the evidence failed to establish that fact to his satisfaction the information could not be sustained.

JURY DISBELIEVED RUNYAN'S STORY

Mrs. Laura M. Carter Charged With Receiving Bank Teller's Stolen Money Acquired

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Mrs. Laura M. Carter who has been on trial on a charge of receiving stolen money was acquitted by a jury late today. Mrs. Carter was accused of having received from Chester B. Ranney, the defuncting teller of the Windsor Trust Company, $5,000 of the amount he stole from the bank.

One of the jurors stated after the verdict had been returned that the jurors agreed that the testimony of Runyan was so incredible that they believed Mrs. Carter should be entirely acquitted as that of a self-confessed thief.

Ranyan confessed that he first met Mrs. Carter on the street and that she made an arrangement with her whereby she was to conceal him. He testified that he told her that he was then $15,000 short in his accounts and must hide for a while and that on her advice he returned to the bank and secured $5,000 in bills, all the money there was in his custody. He said he gave her $5,000 at once and that a day or two later she demanded $10,000 saying that if she did not get it she would betray him. This sum he said he also gave her. He claimed an additional $10,000 had disappeared from his room while he was in the flat. Mrs. Carter admitted getting $5,000 but said that she returned it to him and then betrayed him to the police. She denied absolutely that she ever advised him to steal or that she had demanded or received the additional $10,000 as Runyan testified. Immediately following the verdict Mrs. Carter was released from custody.

$300,000 FIRE AT NEW GLASGOW

Standard Brick and Tile Co's Plant Destroyed

Was One of the Town's Leading Industries, and Employed About One Hundred Men

NEW GLASGOW, Sept. 6.—The largest fire that has happened in New Glasgow for years took place tonight when the magnificent building, plant and machinery of the Standard Brick and Tile Company were burned to the ground and this great industry establishment which was today a busy hive is tonight nothing but a smouldering mass of ruins.

At 10 p. m. the big whistle of the pottery sounded an alarm followed soon by alarms from the electric light company and the town alarm. The brick and tile works are situated at Pipefown, about a mile and a half from the centre of the town and it was soon seen that the fire was there and that it was a large one for the town was bright as day, tar, oil and other combustibles around adding to the brightness and fury of the flames. It was seen at once that the whole magnificent plant was doomed and the efforts of the firemen were of no avail. In one short hour the vast mass of buildings fell. The buildings cost $150,000, and the plant and machinery is estimated at $150,000 more.

Several freight cars on the company's siding, which were also partially consumed, about 100 men were employed in the works, and the product turned out consisted of tiles and pipes of all kinds. The company started here a few years ago and was continually adding to their plant and equipment, and increasing their output.

TROUBLE IN STORE FOR TELEPHONE CO.

Hopewell People Very Indignant Over Alleged Attempt to Charge More Than Was Agreed on

HOPWELL CAPE, N. B., Sept. 6.—The telephone subscribers at the shiretown are somewhat incensed at the attempt by the telephone company to collect tolls for communication with points which the subscribers claim are within the limits, and also for demanding a 25-cent fee to Moncton, which should only be 15 cents, according to the agreement made with the company's special agent before the instruments were put in. This agreement gave the resident subscribers of the shiretown a 15-cent rate to Hopewell Hill, Riverside and Albert, and a 25-cent rate to Moncton. It also being understood that there was to be an exchange at Hopewell Cape. With this understanding, the subscribers were secured here, including the prominent officials and business men of the place, and they were not very well pleased to find that the central at Hillsboro, to which circuit the Cape has been attached, had instructions to check 15 cents against all persons talking to Hopewell Hill, Riverside or any place below, and to charge 25 cents to Moncton. A prominent merchant, who was charged this rate yesterday, promptly refused to pay it, and pretty emphatically expressed the contentment that the other subscribers are all of the same mind, and don't propose to be forced into paying for service with a village eight miles away, when their agreement gave them a district covering 25 or 30 miles, and one with a phone in his office and one at his farm at Riverside, ten miles away, is asked to pay a toll besides paying for two instruments, because this village is in the Hillsboro circuit and Riverside connected with Albert, and the residents of Hopewell Hill, Albert and Riverside, who are subscribers, are required to pay to speak to the registrar of deeds, county secretary or any of the officials at the shiretown, when it was distinctly understood that conversation over this territory was to be free to subscribers. At any rate the subscribers here don't intend to pay, and yesterday a meeting of those interested was held at the county secretary's office, when the matter was fully discussed, the subscribers being determined to stand together and get their rights. It is said a memorial is to be drafted and forwarded to the Telephone Company and also to the local government.

The new steel bridge at this place will be opened for traffic tomorrow.

TIME TO QUIT

A newly enlisted fireman of only average pluck was serving at his first fire, and the chief rushed up to him and shouted: "Shin up the ladder to the eighth story, crawl along the cornice to the fourth window, drop down three stories and catch that wooden sign you see smoking there, swing yourself along to the second window that the spot plane is coming from, break the glass and go in and rescue those three old ladies. Well, what the devil are you waiting for? Firemen said his, sir," said the new man. "I want to hand in my resignation."—Argonaut.

CHAINED WIFE TO BEPAST PRISONER FOR A MONTH

She Was Confirmed Drunkard He Says and This Was Only Way to Keep Her Sober.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—With a chain tightly wound about her waist, Mrs. Edward Quinn was taken in an intoxicated condition tonight to Cheminville street police station. It was not until the woman had been seven hours in the cells that the chain was discovered. So tightly was it wound around her waist, and so securely was it padlocked, that the police had to file it open. She told the police that she was married to Hamilton Quinn, an employee of the Bell Telephone Co., who boarded at 33 St. Alexander street. Her husband was jealous of her, she said, and had chained her up to the post for the last month to prevent her going out. She had two children; one was a nine-year-old boy, who was still at home, and the other a six-month-old baby, which had been suffering from hip disease ever since it was born, and was now being treated in an hospital.

ARTIST EARLE QUILTS HOOTING TOWN

He Will Live With Affinity in New York. Misguided Public Cannot Understand the Artistic Temperament and Ideals —Will Reside With Momma

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Ferdinand P. Earle, the artist, whose strange domestic arrangements have brought him much publicity, and whose wife sailed yesterday for France, where she is to secure a divorce in order that her husband may marry his "affinity," came down from his country home at Monroe, N. Y., today to make a settlement of part of his estate upon Mrs. Earle, who did not look as if he had been very roughly handled by the mob which made a demonstration of approval of his peculiar arrangements at Monroe last night, visited his attorney's office and executed papers necessary to the settlement of a certain amount was not stated by Earle or his counsel, but was reported to be about $50,000.

Henry Wellington Weck, Earle's counsel gave out this statement today: "So far as Mrs. Earle's divorce plans in France are concerned, I have no knowledge of them or the ground upon which a divorce is to be founded. The separation of Mr. and Mrs. Earle is a matter of mutual desire, and was agreed upon before Mr. Earle met the woman who has been exploited as his next wife. So far as Mr. Earle's ideals and views of the domestic relations are concerned, I have, of course, nothing to say. I may say, however, that while my province in this affair has been to assist in arranging financial and property interests between himself and wife, I have observed nothing but gentlemanly conduct on the part of Mr. Earle, and that he has been very considerate to Mrs. Earle.

While Earle was waiting at his home at Monroe, N. Y., today for a train to take him to New York, he was hoisted and jeered at by a large crowd, but his reception was nothing to compare with that of Mr. Earle's part and entire satisfaction was struck with his own buggy whip, dumped out of his carriage in the mud, and otherwise was given an unpleasant welcome to his home village.

Earle announced today that he had accepted the requests of his family and would return to Moncton, N. B., but would reside with his mother in Harlem.

Regarding the agreement reached between himself and wife as to their separation, Earle said: "I lived seven months among the Arabs in Egypt, and I have learned to respect their domestic beliefs. You may say that that had something to do with my decision. I studied Mahomedanism. My present action inclines to the belief of that religion."

12 KILLED IN PASSENGER TRAIN WRECK

Freight Inmates—Twelve Others Injured

WATERLOO, Iowa, Sept. 6.—Twelve were killed and a dozen were injured today when a north bound Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific passenger train left the rails at North, Iowa and crashed into a southbound freight train standing on a siding. Four of the dead are unidentified. The express running at a terrific speed in an effort to make up time left the rails just as it was about to pass the freight locomotive, and crashed into it, wrecking both locomotives telescoping the baggage and mail cars and demolishing the smoking car. All the dead and injured were in this car, the passengers in the two rear coaches escaping with a violent shaking up.

MONTREAL, Sept. 6.—With a chain tightly wound about her waist, Mrs. Edward Quinn was taken in an intoxicated condition tonight to Cheminville street police station. It was not until the woman had been seven hours in the cells that the chain was discovered. So tightly was it wound around her waist, and so securely was it padlocked, that the police had to file it open. She told the police that she was married to Hamilton Quinn, an employee of the Bell Telephone Co., who boarded at 33 St. Alexander street. Her husband was jealous of her, she said, and had chained her up to the post for the last month to prevent her going out. She had two children; one was a nine-year-old boy, who was still at home, and the other a six-month-old baby, which had been suffering from hip disease ever since it was born, and was now being treated in an hospital.

"This morning," she continued, "while my husband was out at work I declared to myself that I would stand it no longer. I filed open the chain which kept me to the bed, and at first intended to go straight to a police station and report the case. But I thought that if it was known my husband would lose his job, and my children would have to be sent to an orphanage, so I started to drink. I never used to drink. Now I'm just as glad the whole thing has been found out."

The case was reported to Secretary Siroder of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Women and Children, and a warrant issued for Quinn's arrest. When he appeared he put new light on the story. His wife is a drunkard. He has had her committed to various institutions in hope of reforming her, but without success. "I have no doubt," he said, "that she would have done wrong, but what I did was done with good intentions. It may seem cruel to chain one's wife up, but I assure you there was no cruelty in it at all. The chain was about ten feet long, it was light, no heavier than an ordinary chain. She could move about the room as much as she liked."

"How was the chain fixed on Mrs. Quinn, was it above her clothes?" "It was above her night dress, and so slick that she could not get it off. It was a story about that when the chain was taken off in the police station. The police thought she was drunk, but they were not caught through my wife putting on tight corsets over the chain."

"And why did you put the chain on at all?" "I was drunk myself. We were married eight years ago, and for seven years she has been addicted to the chain."

GIBSON GLEANINGS

GIBSON, Sept. 6.—One of the best mix box openings ever held in connection with the W. M. S. Auxiliary here took place at the Methodist parlour, Gibson, on Tuesday evening, when a highly interesting and instructive programme was enjoyed by all present. A letter read from Miss Robertson of St. John, now a missionary in Kofu, Japan, was read by Mrs. Charles Simmons and was listened to with deep interest by all present. Mrs. Simmons also read a beautiful article on prayer in a very impressive manner. After the address on missions was given by W. E. Thompson, which was much appreciated by all. After the meeting was taken and with what the motto or "thank offering boxes" contained it was found that the auxiliary was in a very interesting financial way. The meeting closed with the Benediction by Mrs. J. J. Matthews. Much credit is due the vice-presidents, Mesdames Burpee and Matthews, for the manner in which they entertained and served refreshments.

The financial district meeting of the Fredericton District was held in the Methodist church at Boston on Tuesday last. Rev. C. Herrie presided.

FLYING KITES FOR LUCK.

On the ninth day of the ninth month, according to the Chinese calendar, all the Celestials, old and young alike, betake themselves to the hills behind their towns and amuse themselves by flying kites. But amusement is not the sole reason for this ceremony. It comes from an old Chinese legend, according to the Chinese calendar, for the remainder of his life in fear that misfortune would overtake his family. The legend runs that many years ago a certain Chinaman was warned in a dream that a misfortune would come to his home on a certain day. Accordingly on that day he repaired to an adjacent hill and amused himself and family by flying a kite while he was waiting for the disaster. In the evening, upon returning to the valley in which his house was situated, he found that it had fallen in and buried his pile beneath it. He and his neighbors joined in thanksgiving for his narrow escape, and in memory of the event every year see the flight of millions of kites in China.

The flowers were of all sorts, sometimes costly, sometimes simple, old-fashioned garden flowers. As a rule they were somewhat faded. One day the boy brought the teacher a great bouquet of mauve orchids. To be sure, they were much wilted, but none the less it could be seen that they had once cost a great deal of money. 'Oh, no, ma'am, the youngster answered; 'father's an orchid man.'"
