SUFFRAGETTES PLAN A CAREER OF VIOLENCE

Week of Peace Expected to Result in More Destruction

USE OF BOMB MIGHT HAVE KILLED MANY

Male Supporter of Women Suffrage, Sets Fire to Big Railway Station and is Sentenced to Long Prison Term.

London, March 8.—Hugh A. Franklin was sentenced today in the Middlesex sessions to nine months' imprisonment for setting fire to a railway carriage. He informed the court that he did this as a protest against the government's treatment of the suffragettes. He declared that he would go on a "hunger strike."

Franklin, in December, 1910, was sentenced to six weeks' imprisonment for an assault, committed on Winston Spencer Churchill, who was at that time home secretary. He is a nephew of Postmaster General Samuel.

The militant suffragettes, who have given the British Isles a week of representative calm, have succeeded in keeping the police, as well as the leading statesmen and other officials on the tip-toe of anticipation. It is thought that perhaps the calm was merely the prelude to another stormy outburst. The public recreation ground at Nottingham Forest was despoiled by women this morning, many of whom were smashing and ransacking and benches broken.

The Telegraph Wires.

A large number of telegraph and telephone lines, in the neighborhood of Glasgow, were cut late on Friday night and cards bearing the familiar "Votes for Women" were left on the poles.

At an "anti-sweating" meeting in London late on Friday night there was a scene of disturbance although the gathering had been brought together for the poor sewing societies. Several prominent women occupied the platform.

Will Crooks, the labor member of parliament, was the principal object of the suffragette interruptions. The labor members are among the chief supporters of the cause for the women, but the militants accused them of chicken-heartedness and proposed to them by their adoption of militant methods in the House of Commons to secure the vote.

Winston Spencer Churchill, the First Lord of the Admiralty and his wife arrived at Dover today from a continental trip. It was thought necessary to guard their passage from the steamship to the train by a special force of police and detectives.

All the other members of the cabinet continue to suppress announcements of their engagements and to surround their movements with all possible mystery.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant leader, has made one public appearance since she was released from prison on her promise to refrain from incitements to violence. Her speech on that occasion is criticized in many quarters as a violation of her promise, but her supporters defend it with the argument that it was merely a justification of past deeds and not an incitement to new ones.

News-papers Score Suffragettes

There appears to be no doubt that the militant section of the suffragettes has lost ground during the past month. Henry Massingham, and two of the influential Liberal London daily newspapers, have turned against them since the explosion of the bomb which caused extensive damage to Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd-George's country cottage, and which might have killed several workmen if the plans of the women had worked properly.

A second bomb had been placed, which was timed to explode at an hour, when there would have been a dozen workmen there, but the wind extinguished the fuse.

Although women property holders and householders have the right to vote at municipal elections in the British Isles, female voters at the county council elections this week were few, and only two out of a dozen women candidates were elected.

Members of the suffragettes have attempted any public demonstration, recently they have been hooded and pushed about often by members of their own party. Until lately such treatment when it was attempted had excited strong protests in the newspapers of all parties, but now it arouses little resentment outside militant circles.

While some of the legislators who have nothing to do in the matter favor the suffrage to be done in the latter part of the suffrage cause, others argue that the vote of a small number of the women should not be allowed to kill a worthy movement.

QUEBEC PLAYED RINGS AROUND SYDNEY TEAM

Of Seventeen Tallies Cape Breton Boys Netted Three—Not in Same Class With the Stanley Cup Holders.

Quebec, Mar. 9.—The style of hockey played here on Saturday night, by the Sydney team, champions of the Maritime Province League, and challengers for the Stanley Cup, does not place them by a big margin in the same class as the teams of the National Hockey Association League.

The score piled up by the Quebec boys, Stanley Cup holders, represents about the difference in play between the two teams. When a team leaves the ice with only three goals scored out of seventeen played, it looks to the ordinary spectator as if it was an aggregation that had no chance of being challenging for championship honors.

There was a large number of spectators present, all anxious to see the Sydney team cross sticks with the Stanley Cup holders. As such they went onto the ice they were warmly applauded.

Had Splendid Ice.

The ice was in splendid condition. The game opened rather slow, with the rubber going toward Sydney's end. It was not until the center where Malone captured it and skating on the Sydney goal tallied the first score for Quebec. Sydney now commenced to work hard and only Hill and Smith apparently making any exertion for Quebec.

This continued for some time, when Tremouth shot the puck past Moran giving Sydney its first goal.

Quebec did not wake up but played in the same tired looking manner, which Sydney took advantage of, and Randall put his team in the lead by scoring another goal for it.

A hot Sydney supporter shouted to a friend: "What will they say in Sydney when they hear this?" His joy was short lived, however, for Tommy Smith tied the score in about a minute and still a minute later Mummy started down from cover point, and through Sydney's whole defence and scoring gave Quebec the lead, while carried to the end Sydney was playing its fastest hockey. Quebec, by acting on the defensive, Malone, getting tired of this, broke away and scored the fourth goal for Quebec, this ended the period.

THREE LOST IN GREAT STORM

Special to The Standard.

Halifax, March 9.—Three out of the crew of six on the schooner A. V. Conrad were lost overnight on Friday morning, when they were on a voyage to the north.

The vessel was bound from Turku Island with six crew members, where she arrived this afternoon.

Bernard Corum, eldest son of the master of the schooner; Walter Eubank, the mate, and Harris Daughness, a seaman, were the victims. The schooner was not damaged.

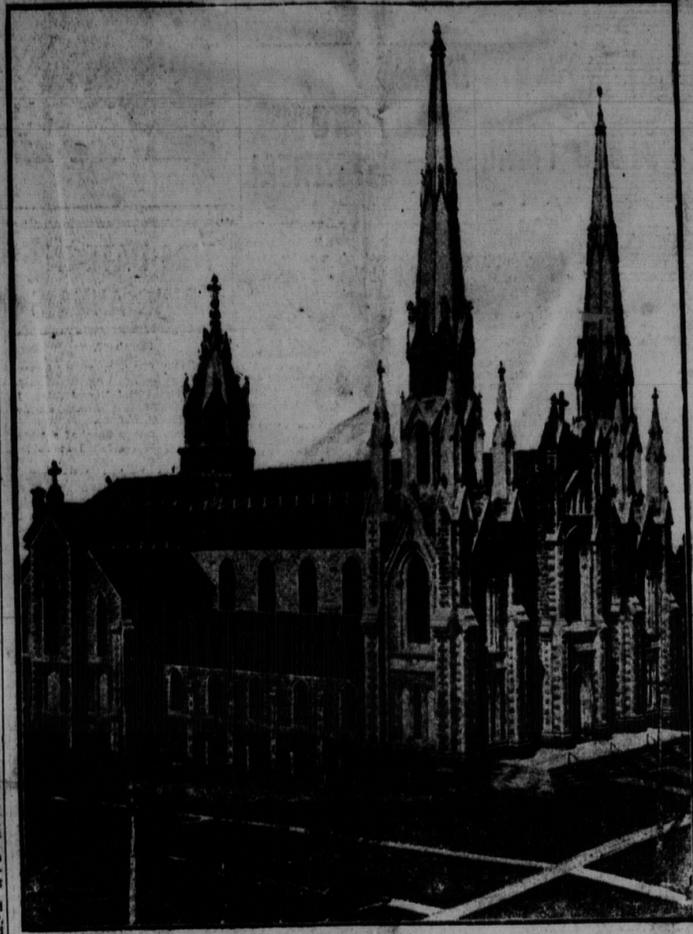

still more disorderly. Miss Brackenbury announced her intention to speak for an hour. This she succeeded in doing by the help of a large force of police to control the crowds, but her discourse was inaudible. The din of comic song and the shouts and laughter of the disturbers could be heard a mile distant. Eggs were thrown at the speakers and the meeting finally broke up in the greatest confusion. Many suggestions were made to duck the speakers in a pond.

PAULINE JOHNSON, INDIAN POETESS, IS DEAD.

Vancouver, B. C., March 8.—Pauline Johnson, Indian poetess, died at 11:30 yesterday. She had been sick a year.

Miss Emily Pauline Johnson, ("Tekahoriwake") was the daughter of the head chief of the Six Nation Indians. Her mother was Emily Lewis, a native of Bristol, England. She was born on the Reserve in Brant county, Ont. As a poet and entertainer Miss Johnson was known in every part of Canada.

Charlottetown's Fine Cathedral Now Bare Skeleton of Stone

ST. DUNSTAN'S CATHEDRAL, WHICH WAS DESTROYED BY FIRE SATURDAY MORNING.

Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 9.—The loss in the St. Dunstan's cathedral fire is $250,000 with insurance of $100,000. One of the stately twin spires is standing; the rest of the building is a skeleton of stone. The fire, which broke out at 12:15 a. m., is supposed to be due to an electric light wire, it started in the rear of the main altar. Fire Chief Romagosa was overcome with smoke, but recovered and directed the fighting operations.

The seating capacity was more than 2,000. It was started in 1896 and finished in 1907. Services today were held in the convent chapel. A subscription list has been started and is headed by a Protestant dry goods firm, Prowse Bros., with $5,000. The new bishop, Dr. O'Leary, was to have dedicated the cathedral on May 18. The cathedral vault contains the remains of the late Bishop McDonald and several clergymen.

This Week Will See Great Change in Capital—Opposition Will Be Silenced and Bill Will Go Through.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, March 9.—The Liberals continue their obstruction of the Naval Aid Bill tomorrow, as they promise to do, they will not be able to travel the wide field of history and fiction left to them during the week that has just passed. They will have to confine their speeches to the clause under discussion, which they made no attempt to do last week.

Subject to this restriction, which is applied under the standing rules of the House, they will not be interfered with, for a few days at least. They will be allowed time enough to show the country exactly what sort of a game they are playing. After this they will, unless their attitude changes be brought to time by a change of rules. This change, while hardly amounting to a closure, will suffice to prevent any minority, now or hereafter, abusing its privilege and blocking popular and necessary legislation. It is not expected that this change will be brought about by means of a bill, but rather by a resolution upon which discussion would, in the nature of things be limited. There would be no committee consideration of a resolution of this kind. It would be debated in the House with the speaker in the chair.

The final touches to the programme of the week will be given at a ministerial caucus to be held tomorrow, and shown in the behavior of the oppo-

THE SONG OF THE BLOCKERS

("The Liberals are still keeping the Union Jack flying over the Parliament Buildings.")—Ottawa Free Press; (Lib.)

Keeping the old flag flying over the rock ribbed hill, Floating the grand old bunting, to show we are British still; Shouting out Rule Britannia, till the very rafters ring, But never a dollar for England—that is the song we sing.

What care we for our Mother, we've grown since we left her side?

The poor old tired Mother, who reared us with such pride, Never a dollar for England, so long as we have our way; What care we for our Mother; haven't we Laurier?

Fly the flag from the turret, but never a ship to float, Bunting and speech are always cheap, we're loyal down to our throat.

Fling forth our world-wide message, come let the nations gaze—

What care we for our Mother, as long as our Mother pays? —Ottawa Citizen.

which will be succeeded by an important cabinet council.

The failure of the past week and the certain prospect of a second failure this week is giving the opposition considerable concern, was evident today. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his advisers, including some of the outsiders who inspired the blockade, held a Sunday afternoon council in the house office of the opposition leader. In addition to a number of the more active blockaders who have seats in the house there were present Sir George Ross, Sir Frederick Borden, Sydney Fisher and others. The members of this council drifted in by tens and threes, apparently with the idea of attracting as little attention as possible.

The result of the gathering will be shown in the behavior of the oppo-

FRENCH ARMY TERM POPULAR WITH PEOPLE

All Ranks of Life Enthusiastic to Fulfill Conditions — Announcement Greeted with Cheers by Students.

Paris, March 8.—The willingness of the young men of France to join the army, in what is considered a national crisis, has been indicated by the thousands of volunteers who have applied at the recruiting offices in every part of the country, to serve a term of years.

Eugene Etienne, the minister of war, commenting on this fact, says the offers have come from every class of society. Every pupil in the upper classes of the high school at Avignon has sent a letter to M. Etienne, assuring the minister of his readiness to stay in the ranks for three years.

The recruits at Pontoise cheered loudly when the prefect of the department referred during a speech to the three years' service.

Deputy Paul Faugeron brought forward a proposition in the Chamber of Deputies to raise the $100,000,000 asked for by the government, for additions to the French armaments, by imposing an extra tax on incomes. Those above $2,000, he said, should be taxed heavily, when there were no children in the family, while where there were children the tax should be decreased in proportion to their number.

Deputy Paul Faugeron brought forward an amendment to the bill proposed to levy a tax of $25 on every foreigner working in France.

GERMAN LOAN IS A FAILURE

Berlin, March 8.—The failure of the Prussian government to float the $100,000,000 Prussian short term four per cent. treasury notes, marking the first occasion on which a government loan here has not been fully subscribed, appears to have been greater than anticipated yesterday.

The Taseblatt says that only $42,500,000 of the notes were taken up and that these were divided into $15,000,000 of new subscriptions and $27,500,000 of old treasury notes presented for prolongation.

The Prussian State Bank hopes that the latter figures may be increased to $37,500,000, before the maturity of the old notes on April 1st.

Banking circles had hoped to interest foreigners, particularly Americans, in the issues of the treasury notes, which are unpopular here, but the foreign subscriptions turned out to be very scanty.

NEW YORK GIANTS WIN A PRACTICE GAME

Dallas, Texas, March 8.—New York National League team from its training camp at Marlin today and defeated the Dallas team of the Texas League, 7 to 0.

Christy Mathewson allowed only two singles, one of them a scratch, and showed better form, baseball men say, than ever at this period of his training season. McGraw placed Thorpe, the Indian athlete, in centre field. With that exception the regulars were used in the New York line-up.

his, and it is not a responsibility which he is very anxious to assume.

It is not too much to say that the Conservatives at Ottawa were never more united than they are in the determination to resist the attempt of the Liberals to seize an authority which the Canadian people refused to place in their hands.

An indication of the Liberal anxiety to keep aloof by straws of imaginary comfort was given on Saturday. Sir James Whitney arrived in Ottawa. He came on the invitation of H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, to be invested with the insignia of Knight-Commander of St. Michael and St. George. His arrival convinced the opposition that the Borden government was in dire straits and had summoned Sir James in consultation.

BIG BLAZE GUTS OTTAWA FACTORY.

Ottawa, March 9.—Damage to the extent of $70,000 was caused by fire which broke out in the Chamberlain Avenue woodworking plant of the McLaughlin-Davis Lumber Company, Saturday afternoon. The building was completely gutted and flames destroyed much valuable machinery.

ADJOURNMENT FINDS BORDEN'S PARTY FIRM

Determined that Canada Should do the Decent Thing by the Empire Despite all Wiles of Unpatriotic Opposition.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, March 9.—"Yes, Mr. Speaker, as soon as government orders are reached we shall proceed with this bill."

The last Liberal hope that the government might withdraw the Naval Aid Bill vanished before this statement, made with some emphasis, by right Hon. R. L. Borden at midnight Saturday in reply to a question from Sir Wilfrid Laurier.

The Prime Minister's announcement was received with a tempest of cheers from his followers, a roar of enthusiasm that showed the party to have come out of the first week of the struggle more than ever determined that Canada shall do the decent thing by the Empire.

The hundred and twenty-nine hours ended in a scene which has never been equaled in the House, probably nothing exactly like it will ever come again.

The midnight adjournment, after a whole week of continuous sitting, was witnessed by a great throng of sightseers who filled all the galleries of the chamber to overflowing, and looked down with eager interest at the scene which was being enacted on the floor of the green chamber. A large number of ladies in evening dress occupied the speaker's and senate and ladies' galleries, and, at the close of the sitting, they were serenaded by the jubilant Conservative members.

Mr. Carvell As Usual.

Frank B. Carvell, one of the most prominent of the Liberal obstructionists, had held the floor for an hour before the hands of the clock reached the arrival of Borden. He was going over the old ground of alleged discrepancies between the sets of figures given to the House on the cost of fleet building. He was the target for frequent interruptions of a good natured sort, and his conclusions as to the accuracy of the figures supplied by the Admiralty elicited exclamations of deep and profound surprise, such as "Wouldn't that bump you?" He was also requested by Conservative members to "break it easy."

At twelve o'clock Premier Borden, who had been given an ovation on entering the chamber, asked Mr. Carvell if he wanted to continue after midnight. "No," said Mr. Carvell.

"Then," said the Prime Minister, "I will move that the committee rise and report progress, and ask leave to sit again."

The Speaker then made the formal announcement that the committee had reported "some progress," at which there was a laugh, the opposition having obstructed all progress on the bill.

Mr. Borden moved the adjournment of the House.

The motion was carried at once and the tension broke. Both sides of the trench began to cheer. The Liberals attempted to sing "God Save the King," but the attempt was a dismal failure, ending in a sound like the last cheerful wailing note of a banshee. The Conservative members, however, in striking up the National Anthem made a complete success of the undertaking. Thereupon the Liberals sang "O Canada," the strains of which were speedily lost in those of "The Red White and Blue" begun simultaneously by the Conservatives. Massed at the back of the chamber the Conservative choir sang "Good Night Ladies" and afterwards "Rule Britannia."

Talked All Day.

The Liberal wild jammers kept up all through Saturday morning their continuous performance. From three a. m. the successive speakers were Bourassa of Levis, Malloy of Provencher, Warnock of MacLeod, Verreille of Haines-senouve and Nesbitt of Oxford, the last mentioned finished at ten, and then for an hour Mr. Pugsley jumped into the trench. White of Victoria, Alberta, followed and created a special interest by a fling at the United Empire Loyalties "many of them," he said, "are what we in the west would call short horns. When they scented trouble they went back to the woods. It was not that they wished to come to Canada, but rather that they desired to get away from the smell of powder some stayed to defend their homes."

"The most of them slunk away to safety, even leaving their cattle behind."

POPE PIUS WITH GRIPPE

His Holiness Although Not Confined to Bed Suffers from Severe Indisposition—Audiences Suspended.

Rome, March 9.—A marked improvement was noticed today in the condition of Pope Pius X., both the inflammation of the throat and the hoarseness being considerably diminished.

The Pope himself said he felt much relieved and hoped that his "travants" would allow him to resume at an early date the ordinary course of life.

The attending physicians, however, insist that he continue to rest.

Rome, March 8.—The Vatican announces that the indisposition from which Pope Pius is suffering is insignificant.

The Vatican organ, publishes the following official announcement:

"The Holy Father being indisposed at a slight attack of grippe and catarrh, the usual audiences have been suspended."

The Pope has been somewhat depressed since the death of his sister about a month ago, and tried to distract his mind from his sorrow by extraordinary activity.

A few days since he began to show the effects of over exertion, but continued to work until he was obliged to retire at night.

Although he is expected that his indisposition will interfere to some extent with the Easter celebrations, at which time it is customary to admit a certain number of children to receive the first communion from the hands of the pontiff.

QUEBEC PLAYED RINGS AROUND SYDNEY TEAM

Quebec Outplayed Sydney.

The opening of the second period was in a far different manner than that of the first. Quebec had evidently been saying things together and they started with a rush that drove Sydney back upon their goal.

Here they held them until Malone again scored with the Easter celebration, at which time it is customary to admit a certain number of children to receive the first communion from the hands of the pontiff.

During the latter part of Mr. Emmerson's speech the premier had entered and been received with a prolonged ovation.

FEDERALS ARE VICTORIOUS

Mexican Government Troops Defeat Carranzistas With Loss of Twenty-six Killed—Rebels Offer Resistance.

Mexico City, Mar. 8.—The first serious clash between the federales and Carranzistas is reported today, to have occurred at Reata, in the State of Coahuila, about midway between Monterrey and Monclova.

The Carranzistas, the rebels offering a stubborn resistance.

The losses, as reported from government sources, included twenty-six federales killed and eleven wounded, and thirty-three rebels killed.

The rebels have fallen back on Hajan, thirty miles to the north.

Another engagement is looked for soon as the federales are advancing and endeavoring to follow up their advantage.

Only the most meagre details of the battle have been received.

The Chamber of Deputies passed the administration amnesty measure without important amendments tonight.

General Rascon, former minister of war, has been named military governor of Coahuila.

Mr. Huxley, of Prince Edward Island; Duncan Ross, of Middlesex, and C. A. Wilson, of Laval, talked.

William German, of Welland, attacked the idea of an Imperial Parliament.

Canada could not maintain her tariff against Great Britain if she were of an Imperial federation.

Mr. Bureau said that M. Seviery on a recent night "before the cock had clucked one denied that he ever was a Nationalist."

A number on the other side wanted to know why Mr. Bureau didn't open his riding of Three Rivers.

"I can't," he said, "I am protested."

"What was your majority?"

"It was two, but thank God, I was elected on the representation I made to the electors," he replied.

Mr. Saviery—Judge Tourigny, your former partner.

A Fallacy in Argument.

M. Pardee quoted "One Andrew McPhail" and went on to say that sending away thirty-five millions would be detrimental to the manufacturers and wage earners of Canada.

He found it impossible to believe that a Canadian representative on the Imperial defence committee would have any weight whatever.

Great Britain would always govern and rule the Empire in peace and war.

At 9:27 the chief Liberal whip surrendered the floor to a mighty talker, Hon. H. R. Emmerson who has been heard before since Monday dawned.

HON. GEORGE H. PERLEY SAYS THERE WILL BE NO ELECTION

Montreal, March 9.—Hon. George H. Perley, minister without portfolio, declared at the Liberal-Conservative dinner here Saturday night that "some day" by their tactics the Liberals will force an election; but that this is not so. They will never force an election on that question.

Perley characterized the Liberal obstruction as without parallel, having no precedent on any ground whatever.

Among the other speakers was Col. Hugh Clark.

Referring to what he termed the rather curious situation in Ottawa at present, Mr. Perley called attention to the manner in which the Verillie opposition had fallen from his once high estate.

"Sir Wilfrid Laurier," he said, "is showing the most marvellous inconsistency. He is taking all sides, but during the last week Laurier has voted that there should not be an appeal and that there should be an appeal."

"He accepted that part of the naval bill calling for a contribution of thirty-five million dollars. He is in favor of the money being granted, but wants it spent in a different way. Although agreeing to the grant without an appeal to the country, the leader of the opposition voted for the Verillie amendment which provided for an appeal."

"The speed of the players at the start of the match aroused great enthusiasm among the spectators, both teams sharing in the generous applause although the Cleghorn brothers and Art Ross got the gold hand score often than any of the others, as they counted many friends here from old association."

Boabert, by clever ducking managed to get the puck where he wanted it after nine minutes' play, and slipped it down to Lowery, whose accurate shot did the business.

The Montreal men tried hard to even up but Lesueur was proof against shots from all angles until Art Ross came down almost the full length of the rink and drove one from the side which got the goal.

The second period saw the contest grow more intense than ever. Ronan and Ode Cleghorn at one period collected the puck and while both kept on, Ronan had to have stitches taken in a wound over his eye during the intermission.

A Kings puck also rendered Caron, one of the goalkeepers, unconscious for a few seconds. One of the two goals of the match came in the period when Spore went off for a two minute rest. Within half a minute of the end Lowery again managed to place his team in the lead.

Hyland squirmed, and dodged down soon after the third period opened and evened the score, coming from behind the net.

As he tried the same trick again he was so heavily checked that he had to stop for a while. Ross, less than five minutes later, started the full length of the rink and scored his team in the lead. Both goals had to withstand terrific onslaughts for the rest of the playing time, but no more scoring was done, and the Wanderers kept the edge on the series.

BLIND SINGER STOPS PANG OTTAWA LOST TO MONTREAL

Worcester, Mass., March 8.—The blindness of Edward I. Boyle, a blind singer, in keeping on with his song, while the fire spread rapidly in the balcony of F. W. Lynch's Pleasance street theatre, tonight, prevented a panic among the 500 persons in attendance, all of whom fled out to safety.

When the last of the audience reached the door, Joseph L. Rogers, the pianist, who had played Boyle's accompaniment throughout the evening, was ordered to stop the piano.

The flames spread with such swift force that a general evacuation of the theatre was ordered.

The loss is estimated at $35,000.

Soon after the outbreak of the fire, the opposition entered and the Liberals responded with cheers proportioned to their numbers.

Arain, later, returned to the stage and his return was the signal for renewed cheering.

The Liberals answered by applauding the coming of Hon. C. P. Graydon and in turn the Conservatives cheered the entrance of every member who came into the chamber.

In closing his argument, Mr. Carvell called on the government to withdraw, which had been prepared for Mr. Borden as the product of a vivid imagination after a champagne supper.

Mr. Carvell solemnly got out the rule book of the house and appealed to the chairman for protection against the incessant interruptions of the Conservatives.

Then he suggested that he was willing to go on but did not desire to prolong the debate on Sunday.

Mr. Borden moved the adjournment accordingly.

"Am I to understand that this bill will be taken up again on Monday?" asked Sir Wilfrid.

"Yes," replied the premier, with determination, "if so soon as the government orders are received, we shall proceed with this bill."

"Progress" was then reported amid much laughter at the official fiction and the house adjourned.

SPORTOGRAPHY "GRAVY" Twenty-fifth Anniversary of the Mitchell-Sullivan Battle. Just a quarter of a century ago to-day, March 10, 1888, the eyes of the sporting world were fixed on the little city of Chantilly, France, for it was on that date that Charley Mitchell, the English boxer, fought his immortal battle with the Old Roman of the prize ring—we refer, ladies and gents, to John L. Sullivan. Chantilly may have other claims to fame, but in the minds of fight fans it is forever associated with Mitchell and John L. Sullivan and Mitchell first met in the ring thirty years ago and John L. won in three rounds. During the next five years the Englishman vastly improved in speed and ring generalship, and he had many admirers on both sides of the pond who believed that he could hold his own with the big champion. Their faith was partially justified, for after thirty-nine rounds of fighting, lasting three hours and eleven minutes, the bout ended in a draw. Considering the great difference in weight, Mitchell made far better showing. It was his fast foot-

MR. HAZEN'S REPLY TO MR. PUGSLEY.

"Cacothec loquendi" was the accurate and concise diagnosis given by Mr. Hazen in the House of Commons the other day of a complaint from which Mr. Pugsley is suffering. In plain English the symptoms of this disease may be briefly described as an inordinate or insane desire for making speeches. It is extremely catching, and, in fact, every member of the Opposition at Ottawa is suffering from it. But Mr. Hazen on the occasion under notice, devoted his particular attention to Mr. Pugsley's case, because, as the Minister of Marine and Fisheries justly said: "The Honorable gentleman's friends are beginning to entertain serious alarm for, as he grows older, the disease seems to become more acute." Mr. Hazen administered the most effective remedy possible by analyzing many of Mr. Pugsley's recent statements and by showing that they were fallacious and in many cases absolutely inaccurate.

In search of campaign material Mr. Pugsley some time ago visited the Fore River Shipbuilding Company in the United States and has since endeavored to persuade the House of Commons on many occasions that battleships could be built in the Republic at prices almost, if not quite, as low as in the United Kingdom. Mr. Hazen refuted this statement by quoting from a memorandum prepared by Admiral Kingsmill which showed conclusively that the cost per ton for a battleship in Great Britain of 26,350 tons displacement is $433.40 as compared with $550 a ton for a 28,000 tons vessel in the United States. It was made clear from the official report which Mr. Hazen submitted, that Mr. Pugsley, as a result of his pilgrimage, had not acquired any reliable information on the cost of battleship building.

A ridiculous and unfounded charge which Mr. Pugsley never wears of making against Mr. Hazen is to the effect that the Minister of Marine on taking office was derelict in his duty in not getting his colleagues to sign a contract with Cammell Laird and Company for the construction of the ships of the "Laurier navy" at St. John. Mr. Hazen went fully into the history of the transaction. The tenders were called for early in the year 1911, and were received in Ottawa on May 1 of that year. The General Election was held on September 21, four months and three weeks after the tenders were received and opened by the late Government. Ample opportunity was afforded in four months and three weeks as Mr. Hazen contended, for Mr. Pugsley and his colleagues in the Cabinet to award the contract, but they did nothing.

"My Honorable friend," added Mr. Hazen, "went out of office without having entered into a contract for the work to be done in that portion of the harbor of St. John known as Courtenay Bay. It is well known that my Hon. friend was intensely anxious, for his own political benefit, to have the contract for that work in Courtenay Bay entered into before the general election took place, so that he might announce to his constituents, with a great flourish of trumpets, that the contract was let and that the work would proceed. And why was his contract not entered into? The only inference to be drawn is that my Hon. friend did not possess sufficient influence with his colleagues to induce them to sign the contract."

A further reason why the contract was not signed, as Mr. Hazen pointed out, lay in the fact that Liberal members would not have been able to go to Sydney, Halifax, Quebec and Montreal, and dangle this contract before the eyes of the electors, under the pretense that the ships would be built at each of those different ports.

Having neglected his duty as a representative of St. John in not having urged the signing of the contract before September 21, it is now an easy matter for Mr. Pugsley to suggest that the incoming Government should have had the contract signed after they came into power. But why, as Mr. Hazen pointed out, did not Mr. Pugsley have that contract signed before September 21st? Was he playing the game of deceiving the people of Sydney, Halifax, St. John, Quebec and Montreal, all of whom had dangled before their eyes the vision of the ships being constructed in those ports if the Government of Sir Wilfrid Laurier were sustained on September 21st? There can be no two answers to that question.

Mr. Hazen further clinched his argument showing Mr. Pugsley's insincerity and double-dealing by quoting the positive statement of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, made recently in the course of debate that the ships mentioned in the Cammell-Laird tender would now be in course of construction in the City of Montreal if the late Government had gone on and awarded the contract. How can Mr. Pugsley

WHY FRANCE PREPARES FOR WAR.

The theory that the best means of preserving the peace is to be prepared for war, which is the reason given by the nations for increasing their naval and military armaments, was given official expression by President Poincaré of France, in his first message to the Senate and Chamber of Deputies. Said he: "Peace is not decreed by the will of one power. It is impossible for any nation to be effectively pacific unless it is always ready for war."

This utterance is regarded as especially significant, not so much as a declaration in the interest of international harmony as it is in emphasis of France's purpose of readiness for war. The policy of Germany under the laws of 1911 and 1912 for the augmentation of the military strength of the Empire on a peace footing is looked upon suspiciously in France, and the French Government has determined to spend $120,000,000 for military enlargement to counter the extensive additions made to the German military establishment.

The fortifications of France are to be improved and strengthened, and the army is to be increased by a return to the three years' service and the enlistment of African natives in the colonial corps to release more French regulars for home duty. President Poincaré's military spirit gives general satisfaction in France.

A GOOD SUGGESTION.

A new Arkansas law regulates the newspapers of the State and specifies the news which they shall print. There will be very general agreement with a suggestion in the Toronto News that were such a measure conceivable in Canada, it should include a clause compelling those Liberal newspapers which are so fond of romancing to furnish their subscribers with an occasional clue to the real character of the debates in Parliament, as to the actual nature of Mr. Borden's naval policy, and as to the true inwardness of the political situation at Ottawa. The subscribers would suffer a shock, but the cause of truth, fair play and national honor would gain.

Good Old Winter-time.

The Swiss regard their winter as one of their greatest assets and advertise its attractions far and wide. We, in Canada, keep our winter as much as possible in the background. Our governmental and transportation agencies no doubt know their business in pushing forward our sunshine and keeping silent about our snows, ice-carnivals and winter games. But in the anxiety to attract settlers, are we not frightening ourselves from our own enjoyment of a Canadian winter?

DIARY OF EVENTS

THE PASSING DAY.

QUEEN ALEXANDRA'S WEDDING DAY.

This is a day of sad and glad memories for Her Majesty Queen Alexandra, widow of King Edward VII, for it marks the semi-centennial, the golden anniversary of her wedding. It was on March 10, 1863, that the Danish princess, then in her nineteenth year, became the bride of the late King Edward, then Prince of Wales. The ceremony took place at St. George's Chapel, Windsor, and was marked by great popular rejoicing. In a little while the Princess had gained such a place in the affections of the British people that it was said that she had as many suitors as there were men in the Empire, and as many admirers as there were women.

It is customary to refer to a princess as charming and beautiful, but in the case of Queen Alexandra the statement had the added merit of being true. The principal speakers were P. D. Swim, D. J. Buckley, J. W. Vanderbeck, W. J. Maloney, Thomas V. Flett, president, and T. W. Butler secretary. It was shown that of 16,134 square miles leased in the province 22 of the 167 lessees held 7,598 square miles, while the other 145 held only 2,536 miles. Of the 25 Miramichi mills, eight, valued at $353,000 had only 258 miles.

Mr. Buckley claimed that the present big leases should, on renewal, be cut down one half, and that half the remainder should be divided among holders of less than fifty miles each and the balance auctioned to small operators only.

Mr. Swim said no lumberman should hold more than three hundred miles. He feared that if the timber lands were auctioned on perpetual leases the big men would get all and shut out the others. And the successful big men might all be foreigners. Loggers who had no mills should be able to lease lands as there were mills without lands. It was suggested that 100 square miles should be the largest holding.

Messrs. Buckley, Maloney, Flett, Butler and Peter Young were appointed a committee to draft a strong resolution.

Special to The Standard.

Newcastle, Mar. 8.—Some fifteen Miramichi members of the Lumbermen's Protective Association of New Brunswick attended the meeting to consider the course to be taken by the small operators in re the move of the big lumbermen to have perpetual leases. The principal speakers were P. D. Swim, D. J. Buckley, J. W. Vanderbeck, W. J. Maloney, Thomas V. Flett, president, and T. W. Butler secretary. It was shown that of 16,134 square miles leased in the province 22 of the 167 lessees held 7,598 square miles, while the other 145 held only 2,536 miles. Of the 25 Miramichi mills, eight, valued at $353,000 had only 258 miles.

FIRST THINGS

THE FIRST AMERICAN CARDINAL.

The first cardinal in the United States was elevated to the sacred college thirty-eight years ago today. He was a native of Brooklyn, where he was born 162 years ago this month, and was educated at Mt. St. Mary's College in Maryland. He was ordained to the priesthood in 1834, and continued his education at the college of the Propaganda in Rome. Returning to New York he became president of St. John's College, Fordham. In 1847 he was placed in the see of Albany, and in 1864 became Archbishop of New York.

North America now has three representatives in the sacred college, and South America has two. The late bishop Farley of New York, Archbishop Gibbons of Baltimore, Archbishop O'Connell of Boston and Archbishop Diomedes of Washington, is also of American birth. The British Empire has but two wearers of the red hat—Cardinal Bourne, Archbishop of Westminster, and Cardinal Logue, Archbishop of Armagh, Ireland. Archbishops of Quebec and Sydney were formerly members of the college, but neither Canada nor Australia is now represented.

THE HUMAN PROCESSION

DR. MARY PATRICK.

Within the past decade the condition of women in Turkey and the Balkan states has been vastly improved, and no small part of the credit for this reform is due to Dr. Mary Mills Patrick, for over a score of years the president of the American College for Girls in Constantinople. Miss Patrick was born in New Hampshire sixty-three years ago today, March 10, 1850, and was educated at Lyons College, Iowa, the State University of Iowa, and at the European universities of Heidelberg, Zurich, Leipzig, Berlin and Bern. For a score of years she worked in the Turkish capital in 1890, and under her management the American College for Girls has exercised a profound influence in the near East. The institution now has a faculty of forty-five, about a third of whom are American women, and a student body of 250.

The college is a cosmopolis of nations, attracting girls from all over Turkey, Bulgaria, Serbia, Armenia, Greece, Persia, Hungary and Palestine. The young women live in modern dormitories built largely with American money, the contributors including the former Helen Gould, Mrs. Russell Sage and John D. Rockefeller.

ARCHER M. HUNTINGTON.

Spain has no more ardent admirer on this side of the Atlantic than Archer Milton Huntington, son of the late railroad magnate, Collis P. Huntington, and himself famous as an author and geographer. Mr. Huntington was born in New York forty-three years ago today. In his youth he made a tour of Greece, Egypt and Spain, and was so captivated with the latter country that he lingered long in the ancient land of the haughty dons. He became a student at the University of Salamanca, learned the Spanish language, and translated into English "The Legendary Tales of the Cid Rodrigo de Vivares" and other Spanish works.

When he returned to New York he was still full of enthusiasm for Spain, and founded the Hispanic Society of America, which has become a magnificent museum of Spanish art and literature. He won the friendship of King Alfonso, who conferred high honors on the young millionaire, and his talented wife, who was Helen Mackenzie Gates.

SMALL LUMBER OPERATORS OPPOSE PERPETUAL LEASES

Meeting Held in Newcastle at which Committee was Named to Draft Resolution Against Concession Asked by Big Lumbermen.

Special to The Standard.
 Newcastle, Mar. 8.—Some fifteen Miramichi members of the Lumbermen's Protective Association of New Brunswick attended the meeting to consider the course to be taken by the small operators in re the move of the big lumbermen to have perpetual leases. The principal speakers were P. D. Swim, D. J. Buckley, J. W. Vanderbeck, W. J. Maloney, Thomas V. Flett, president, and T. W. Butler secretary. It was shown that of 16,134 square miles leased in the province 22 of the 167 lessees held 7,598 square miles, while the other 145 held only 2,536 miles. Of the 25 Miramichi mills, eight, valued at $353,000 had only 258 miles.

Mr. Buckley claimed that the present big leases should, on renewal, be cut down one half, and that half the remainder should be divided among holders of less than fifty miles each and the balance auctioned to small operators only.

Mr. Swim said no lumberman should hold more than three hundred miles. He feared that if the timber lands were auctioned on perpetual leases the big men would get all and shut out the others. And the successful big men might all be foreigners. Loggers who had no mills should be able to lease lands as there were mills without lands. It was suggested that 100 square miles should be the largest holding.

Messrs. Buckley, Maloney, Flett, Butler and Peter Young were appointed a committee to draft a strong resolution.

It Will Cure Your Aching Back, Stop Your Suffering, Keep You Well.

Back Sufferers, Read Below.

"I am just so delighted with the comfort Nerviline brought me that I want to talk about it all the time," writes J. C. Caughlan, of Saskatoon. "For ages I have been subject to an aching, dragging feeling at the base of the spine. When attacks came on it made my whole body ache. It appeared as if it had taken hold and was getting worse all the time. I tried muscular system. When in Winnipeg one day a friend spoke to me of Nerviline, and I bought a 50c. bottle. After trying all other remedies, I tried Nerviline. I use it for everything now. It's fine for Rheumatism and Neuralgia and all sorts of muscular pain it cures quickly. But internal, if possible, Nerviline is even better. It cures a cramp in ten seconds, and, as for gas and upset, or sour stomach, nothing can equal Nerviline. I think it should be kept in every home as a protection against sudden illness, and also to cure ills that resist other medicines."

MEMORIAL TO Pagan

Interesting Story when St. Andrew's Society

An interesting story is told in the table of the members of St. Andrew's Society of their first president, Pagan was born in the Kingdom of Scotland and was sent to the University of Glasgow to study law. He was a member of the congregation of the St. Andrew's Church, Glasgow, and was elected president of the society in 1815. He was a man of great energy and ability, and his administration of the society was marked by his success in securing the building of a new church for the congregation. MEMORIAL TABLET UNVEILED TO ST. ANDREW'S FIRST HEAD

Interesting Sermon in St. Andrew's Church, Sunday Evening, when Tablet to Hon. William Pagan, First President of St. Andrew's Society, was Formally Unveiled.

An interesting ceremony took place in St. Andrew's church last evening when the tablet erected by the members of St. Andrew's Society, in honor of their first president, Hon. William Pagan, was formally unveiled and presented to the Kirk session. The ceremony was witnessed by a large number of members of the society, who attended the church in a body and a congregation which comfortably filled the edifice.

At half past six the members of St. Andrew's Society assembled at their hall on Union street and forming up in procession marched to the church, taking seats which had been reserved for them in the body of the church.

The chaplain of the society, Rev. Gordon Dickie, conducted the service at the church. After the usual devotional exercises the chaplain referred to the occasion of the gathering of the members of St. Andrew's Society. He remarked that a former tablet to the memory of Mr. Pagan had been destroyed when the old St. Andrew's church was destroyed in the great fire of June, 1877, and that the society had decided to observe the 15th anniversary of the founding of the organization in St. John by unveiling a new tablet in the restored church.

James Jack, president of the society, then removed the banner of Scotland from the face of the tablet, and, in a few words, presented it to the church. On behalf of the Kirk session, His Honor, Judge Forbes, made a brief speech, accepting the gift. He observed that the first president of St. Andrew's Society was a great man, and that because he was a good man, and that, in honoring his memory by the erection of the tablet, the society was providing a source of inspiration not only to the people of the present but to generations yet unborn. He assured the president and members of St. Andrew's Society that the elders and congregation accepted the gift with a full appreciation of the honor conferred upon the church.

Rev. Mr. Dickie's Sermon. Rev. Gordon Dickie spoke on the Living Past. He said in part: "As a rule people pay little attention to the past. They regard it as the desert place in their earthly pilgrimage. But we usually find that the past has its compensations. It is not wholly good, neither is it wholly bad and there is much about it to commend. "We cannot dissociate ourselves from the past any more than we can from the present. It is a false view of time which would measure it with the foot rule. Rather, might we compare it with the current of waters which flows on continuously. "If you stop to think a moment, you will see that there is good and bad, life and death, even in the best of earth's experiences. When the power of democracy was first beginning to be felt men believed that a new era was about to be established. Freedom would be supreme and every man would be happy. When William Pagan lived the people of the country did not enjoy the blessings of responsible government. He was the first representative of the County of St. John to be elected by the people to the House of Assembly in Fredericton. Since that time democracy has grown apace but it has not by any means done all that was expected of it. Its roots are struck in the dead as well as the living past. "The same fate has overtaken the religious life. Lord Morley says: 'Religion is not that power that it has been, nor that it will be again.' That is true. Religion has been helped as well as hindered by its past. Some times we are filled with pride as we consider the past history of the church. And again we blush and hang our heads with shame as we think of the living past both in the church and universe is that which prevails. It is that which is incorporated in the present and arises everywhere to a newer and fuller life. It is like the thread of gold which you can trace continuously through all the varied web of life. "Many people object to the formalism and the hypocrisy of the church today. This simply means that they are protesting against the dead past. These things ought to be dropped off. They are no part of our religious life. The sooner they die the better for saints as well as sinners. "How happy then is the issue of life. The bad things of life are gradually buried, while the good prevail. We have a better country, a better religion, a better city today than ever. The critics notwithstanding, in the nature of things this is what is bound to happen, the evil ceases and the good remains. We take heart as we study the facts of life. "The best is yet to be. "Let the dead past go. It cannot serve us. "But that which serves us now in working out our lives let us lay hold of and preserve to the life eternal."

A Beautiful Tablet. The tablet is a very beautiful one of white marble. About the inscription is a sculpture in relief of the Scottish thistle entwined, while on a medallion is the Cross of St. Andrew, the patron saint of Scotland. The whole is the work of James Seaton and will be a decided ornament on the walls of the church. The inscription is as follows: "In Memory of Hon. William Pagan, born at Glasgow, died at Fredericton, N. B. March 12, 1819. A supporter of the Crown and Eminent Loyalist. He removed from Falmouth to Parrtown at the close of the American Revolution. First President of St. Andrew's Society, St. John, 1798. And for ten subsequent years. Erected by the Society in place of former Memorial Destroyed by fire 1877. A. D. MCMXIII.

Hon. William Pagan was a native of Glasgow, Scotland. The war of the American revolution found him a prosperous merchant in New York, while his two brothers, Robert and Thomas, were also in business in other parts of the New England colonies. They all came to New Brunswick with the Loyalists, but William was the only one to settle in St. John. Robert settled in St. Andrews, where he took quite a prominent part in the organization of the community, while Thomas went to Richibucto. William resided on German street in that part which is called after him, Pagan Place. He was one of the founders and incorporators of St. Andrew's church. He was a member of H. M. Council and representative in the House of Assembly from St. John county till his death in 1819.

St. Andrew's Society. St. Andrew's Society was founded in this city at a meeting of citizens of Scottish birth or descent on March 8, 1798. The first officers elected were: William Pagan, President. William Campbell, Vice-President. Francis Gilbert, Treasurer. John Black, Secretary. Hon. Mr. Pagan filled the office of president for the first three years, again for seven years from 1806 to 1812, and again for one year in 1815. His accumulations from commercial ventures are supposed to have been considerable, but he died without having married. As far as known there is no picture of Hon. Mr. Pagan extant. He is one of three in the long list of presidents of St. Andrew's Society of which the same must be

CRITICISM PROVES THE BIBLE'S WORTH

Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, in St. David's Church, Preaches Second of Series of Sermons on Bible Criticism.

At the service in St. David's Church last evening Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, pastor, was the preacher, and delivered the second of his series of sermons on the Bible and Higher Criticism. The congregation was a large one and the eloquent and scholarly sermon was followed with keen appreciation. In last night's sermon the speaker dealt with the gains which have accrued through biblical criticism, and the beneficial results that have followed in the way of giving a clearer conception of the truths revealed in Holy Writ. There has been, he said, much uneasiness in many minds because of modern scientific research. But while criticism of the Bible has been received with some hesitancy, the faith it really strengthened by proving the historical accuracy of the facts upon which Christian faith is founded. Rev. Mr. MacKeigan then reviewed the positive gains resulting to Christian faith because of modern scholarship. No longer does there exist the haunting fear of a conflict between science and religion, for the Bible is not a text book on science, but a record of the progressive revelation of God to man. We possess through this modern scholarship and research a more accurate knowledge of Christ and the circumstances of the authorship of the different books of the scriptures, and find therein a record of the development of the religious life of people with ever-heightening ideals of conduct, character and destiny. Modern scholarship, moreover, emphasizes the supremacy of Christ in the law, the law being a schoolmaster to bring the people to Christ. It emphasizes the continuity today of the divine spirit, which moves the workers and inspired the writers. The final and valid proof of the worth of the Bible is a community of men and women inspired by the truth and who, incarnate in all their dealings with their fellows, its worthiest precepts and loftiest ideals.

Livingstone Meeting. March is Livingstone month. Geographers and missionary societies the world over are planning to commemorate the life and work of the "Great Heart of Africa" in a fitting manner. St. John people will have an opportunity to join in the Livingstone celebration by attending the public meeting in German street Baptist Church next Friday evening. Dr. J. A. Morrison has kindly consented to deliver his lecture, "Dr. Livingstone and his brother John," at that meeting. No man in Canada is more well acquainted with the story of the Livingstone's life and work than Dr. Morrison. Most of the information he has obtained from John Livingstone, the eldest brother of David Livingstone, who was an elder in the Presbyterian church of Listowel, Ontario, where Dr. Morrison was pastor. Most of the stories he will tell have never been published; some are humorous, others will move tears. Admission to the lecture is free, but a special missionary offering will be taken.

Obituary. Mrs. James Falconer. Mrs. James Falconer died on Thursday evening after the decease of her husband over two years, from heart trouble. Death came suddenly from a complication of pleurisy and congestion. She was formerly Miss Nettie Caldwell, of Margate, P. E. I., and had been married nearly 44 years. Mrs. Falconer had for years been a most consistent and valued member of the W. C. T. U., and St. James' Presbyterian church, and she will be much missed in this town and county. Besides her husband, Mrs. Falconer, seven of the deceased's ten children survive, as follows: Ex-Ald. James Mitchell Falconer, late of Newcastle, now of Medicine Hat; His Daughter, the late News, Nelson, B. C.; Charles C., hardware merchant, Winnipeg; Miss Mary, trained nurse, Winnipeg; Mrs. I. P. Jones, Amherst, N. S.; Robert, of Alberta, and Miss Ethel, at home. Robert and Miss Mary have been visiting their parents for some time. The following sisters of the deceased also survive: Mrs. John Strang, Taunton, Mass.; Mrs. Wm. C. Green, Hamilton, N. D.; and Mrs. Davis, of Los Angeles, Cal. Among floral tributes, beautiful wreaths have been sent by the Nelson, B. C., I. O. O. F., and the Newcastle W. C. T. U.

Every Day Club Lecture. George T. Knight was the speaker before the Every Day Club last evening, when he delivered a strong address to the boys. A large number of the boys were present and were grouped on one side of the hall. Mr. Knight also rendered two solos. In his address Mr. Knight stated "that a man is a coward who is willing to pass on to the next generation problems that could be solved in this." He then went on to speak of the solution of the moral problem and the future of the boys of the city. He said that he disagreed with the statement that boys will be boys, and thought that boys must be boys. At the same time he pointed out that it should be impressed on them that they will be men. Continuing Mr. Knight dealt with the careers of several poor boys who had risen to high places, and spoke of the life of President Lincoln as an instance of what a poor boy could do.

CHATHAM DESIRES TO RETAIN NELSON TO BLACKVILLE RY.

Large Meeting of Board of Trade Protests Against, any Proposition to Abandon this Portion of Canada Eastern Railway.

Chatham, March 7.—A large and enthusiastic meeting of the members of the Board of Trade was held last evening to discuss the matter of the proposed abandoning of the Canada Eastern Railway from Nelson to Blackville. Delegates were present from up river points bringing largely signed petitions from residents at two points along the line, vigorously protesting against the change. Other meetings will be held up river this week and several more petitions will be handed in to the local board. These, with a memorial on the matter from the board itself, will be laid before the local government, and their assistance solicited, and also taken to the Federal house at Ottawa and brought to the attention of the Minister of Railways. The report from the committee of the board, which was read at the meeting, and on which the memorial will be based, showed, among other things, that this part of the railway provided last year over 370 cars of lumber alone. There are 1,400 people accommodated by this line and the strongest point of all is that when the line was built the Dominion government contributed not one cent to its construction, the cost being borne by the local government and the people, giving the right of way free. The people claim that the Dominion government in thus abandoning the line would be giving away something the people have a vested right in. Among the outside delegates present at last night's meeting were John A. Mersereau, Herman Attridge and Saunders Price of Donkton, all of whom joined the local board; James Harrison and George Harper, of Chelmsford; David Coughlan and James McDonald, of Coughlan's; Allan Saunders, of Kirkwood; Hon. John P. Burchill and T. W. Flett, of Nelson. Profane Nova Scotians. About 9:30 o'clock Saturday night Harry Rees and Robert Rees, two cut-ups from Nova Scotia, were given in charge of the police by John Whipple for creating a disturbance and using profane and obscene language in the Salvation Army barracks on Rodney street, West End.

SOCIALISTS HEAR OF CONDITIONS IN WEST

Address of Socialist Member, in Alberta Legislature, Points to Woeful Conditions in Western Canadian Cities.

That conditions in the boom towns of the West are not calculated to attract young people of the East was shown by a speech of Chas. M. O'Brien the Socialist member in the Alberta legislature, which was read before a meeting of local Socialists last evening. It was pointed out that the local council of women in Edmonton had applied to the city council of that place for a grant of $40,000 to build a cheap home for underpaid working girls, giving as their excuse for the application the statement that in their investigations into the condition of working girls they had found 136 young girls living with men unmarried. It was also pointed out that a Chicago detective had declared that in the western cities he visited conditions as regards the social evil were even worse comparatively than in Chicago, this being due apparently to the fact that the wages of girls, in view of the high cost of living, were woefully inadequate.
