BULLER'S "BOLT"

That Startled Old London---The Message to White---Suggested That It Might Be Necessary to Surrender---Advised What to Do in That Event.

London, Oct. 11.—Speaking after a luncheon given in his honor by the King's Royal Rifles yesterday, Gen. Sir Redvers Buller, whose recent appointment as commander of an army corps had been much criticised, expressed his condemnation of the newspaper criticisms of men who were doing their best and risking their lives for their country. He asserted that nobody junior to him was fitter to command an army corps, and he challenged the critics to name one.

Gen. Buller said he had been attacked on account of a telegram which it was said he had sent ordering Gen. White to surrender Ladysmith after his (Buller's) attack on Colenso on Dec. 15, 1899, had resulted unsuccessfully. Gen. Buller described at length his own and General White's difficulties at that time. He said that at that time he had prepared a message telling Gen. White that his (Buller's) attack had failed, and he could not make another attempt to relieve him within a month in the then slow fighting.

"A MEAN THING TO SEND A FELLOW."

Gen. Buller said he read this telegram over several times, saying to himself, "That's a mean thing to send a fellow," but he knew the responsibility was his, and that Gen. White could say, if he surrendered, that Gen. Buller had advised it.

The same telegram suggested that it might be necessary to surrender, and in that case Gen. Buller made some suggestions as to what Gen. White should do and how he should do it, thinking that it would be cover for a man whom he believed to be in greater difficulties than his own.

Gen. Buller declared that he wanted to bring the man who said he had counseled Gen. White to surrender into the ring. Therefore he challenged him to produce the telegram, which, he said, he knew was in the hands of the editor of a magazine, and must have been stolen, because it was in cipher addressed to Gen. White, and was perfectly private.

The speech created a great sensation among those present.

GRAND REVIEW!

Flower of Canada's Militia and Many Veterans of the Imperial Army Marched Past the Duke and Duchess---Some 12,000 Troops in Line.

Toronto, Ont., Oct. 11.—The great review on the Garrison Commons this morning, at which some 12,000 men, including the flower of the militia of Ontario and hundreds of the veterans of the imperial army of the campaigns of 1866, 1885 and South Africa, marched past the duke and duchess in the presence of 50,000 spectators, was one of the most stirring spectacles seen by the royal couple since the shores of the Isle of Wight faded from their view in May last.

THE MUSTER

was very complete, the various brigades having their ambulance waggons and all the accessories save transports. The staff officers and order of the march past were as follows:

Major-Gen. O'Grady Haly's staff.

CITY WILL BE VERY CROWDED

Thousands of Strangers Pouring in From All Quarters.

Beds in Local Hotels Are at a Premium and All the Railroads Are Rushed.

"Between 400 and 500 people from Strathroy will be in London on Saturday, if the weather is favorable," writes a Strathroy correspondent.

This is but an indication of the vast crowd of people who will crush into London tomorrow to see the future monarch of Britain and his royal wife, and the interesting ceremonies connected with his reception. London is the pivotal point of Western Ontario and as such is easy of access by rail. As early as yesterday traffic became heavy on the various lines entering the city and today every train is pouring out masses of people. Beds in the hotels are at a premium, and it is altogether probable that the crowd of strangers in London tomorrow will be the largest in its history.

THE VISITING JOURNALISTS

Distinguished Newspaper Men With Royal Party.

Will Be Cordially Received by a Special Committee of Local Journalists.

It is intended to meet the visiting English and other journalists, who accompany the royal party, at the Grand Trunk depot tomorrow and to convey them to and from Victoria Park in carriages. They will be presented with press badges and the English journalists will each be given a copy of "Illustrated London." Everything possible will be done to enable them to see the reception ceremonies properly and comfortably.

The committee which, in conjunction with Mr. Adam Beck—who has been asked to arrange for the carriages—will receive the visiting journalists is composed of Mr. John Cameron (convener), Mr. M. G. Bremner and Mr. Thomas Coffey.

PRESENTING THE COLORS

Impressive Ceremony to Take Place in Victoria Park.

Form of Service for Consecration Received by Chaplain of 7th Regiment.

The presentation of the new colors to the 7th Regiment at the hands of the Duke and Duchess of York tomorrow afternoon, will be a most impressive ceremony. Archdeacon Davis, chaplain of the regiment, has received a copy of the form of service for the consecration of colors, which will be used tomorrow. It came from the chaplain-general of the British army. Owing to the short time allowed for the ceremony it will have to be curtailed somewhat.

The chaplain has invited the Bishop of Huron to assist him in the service.

EQUIPAGES FOR ROYALTY.

Horses, Carriages and Servants Brought From Toronto.

London Liveries Will Supply Conveyances for Suite and Visiting Journalists.

The carriages in which their royal highnesses will ride tomorrow are the royal carriages which have been used by the party in Toronto, Montreal and Ottawa. The carriages were built in Montreal, and the horses were also procured there. The outfit, including vehicles, horses, coachmen, footmen, grooms and postilions, will reach the city tonight, and Mr. Adam Beck has kindly thrown open his own stables for their accommodation. Mr. Beck has procured three carriages for the balance of the suite, one each coming from Hueston's Stroyan's and Hunter's liveries. Carriages will also be furnished for the visiting newspaper men.

FLOWERS FROM LONDON WOMEN

Will Be Placed in Royal Car Before Its Departure.

Telegram Containing Permission Received From Major Denison, A.D.C., by the Ladies.

There was a good attendance at the meeting of ladies, held in Cronyn Hall, to consider the plan of a floral offering in the royal car before its departure from London tomorrow. Before the close, a telegram from Major Denison, A.D.C., was handed to Mrs. Boomer, giving the necessary permission for two ladies to enter the car for the purpose. A committee of arrangements have the matter in hand, and Mrs. Baldwin and Mrs. Boomer were asked to undertake the placing of the flowers.

ON THE GALLOWS

George Dolinski Pays the Death Penalty for Murder—Was Twice Reprieved.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—George Dolinski, the murderer of Anton Lizi, was hanged in the north corridor of the county jail at noon today. The supreme court at Springfield denied his motion for a writ of supersedeas and decided that the verdict of the lower court, condemning him to death, must stand.

Dolinski had made a hard fight to stay his execution. Twice his friends succeeded in convincing Governor Yates that more time should be allowed the convicted man, and he was granted reprieves while within the shadow of the gallows. The last time Governor Yates refused to defer the execution longer than Friday, Oct. 11.

The murder of which Dolinski was convicted is considered one of the most brutal in the annals of the county. For some months he lived with Lizi and his wife. He became enamored of Lizi's wife, and openly showed his affection for her. Lizi resented this, and the two quarreled several times.

Last spring Dolinski was ordered from the house by Lizi and forbidden to enter it again. He declared his affection for Mrs. Lizi and left, muttering that he would be avenged upon his former friend.

Soon after Lizi failed to return home from his work. The police were notified and an investigation started. Three days after his disappearance his mangled body was found in a clump of bushes. His throat was cut from ear to ear. His fingers were in shreds, showing the slashes of a knife which he attempted to ward off with his naked hand.

Suspicion fell on Dolinski, owing to his love for Mrs. Lizi and his fight with Lizi a few days before. Dolinski strenuously denied the charge until he was put on trial, then he confessed that he killed Lizi. He said the latter attacked him and he killed him in self-defense.

A PATHETIC FEATURE.

There is a pathetic feature in the case which was brought out after the man's conviction. He had a wife and four little children, who went back to Poland shortly before the killing. His wife heard that he was charged with murdering her, and with her children started back to work to free her husband. When she arrived in New York one of her children was stricken with scarlet fever and died. Undaunted, she came to Chicago, where she learned the truth of the charge—that he murdered a man for the love of another woman. She did not desert him, however, but visited him regularly in the county jail.

MR. CECIL RHODES AND THE LIBERALS

Sensational Correspondence Made Public by the London Spectator—The Diamond King's Conditional Donation of $25,000 to the Party.

London, Oct. 11.—The Spectator tomorrow will print letters from Cecil Rhodes and the late Francis Schnadhorst (who from 1885 to 1892 was the chief organizer and adviser of the Liberal party), sustaining the sensational allegations made some months ago that Mr. Rhodes, in 1891 gave £5,000 to the Liberal party on condition that Mr. Gladstone would not bring about the evacuation of Egypt by the British troops. Both Sir William Vernon Harcourt and Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman (the Liberal leaders) have publicly declared this to be false. In a letter covering this correspondence, Mr. Rhodes sums up as follows:

"I met Mr. Schnadhorst in London, and he asked whether I was willing to subscribe to the party funds. I said I was prepared to do so, provided the policy was not to scuttle out of Egypt, and that in the event of a home rule bill being brought forward provision should be made for the retention of the Irish members at Westminster. I understood from Mr. Schnadhorst that he would consult Mr. Gladstone, which quite satisfied me, as I looked upon Mr. Gladstone as the Liberal party. Mr. Schnadhorst accepted the contribution upon the conditions defined in the letter appended."

In this letter Mr. Rhodes demanded that his contribution be kept secret, and that the check be returned if the Irish were not represented at Westminster. But he added a postcript, saying: "I am horrified at Mr. Morley's speech on Egypt. If you think your party hopeless, keep the money, but give it to some charity. It would be an awful thing to give my money to breaking up the empire."

In 1892 Mr. Rhodes again wrote to Mr. Schnadhorst, drawing attention to a speech of Mr. Gladstone, foreshadowing a scuttle out of Egypt, and expressing the hope that Mr. Schnadhorst would do his best to check the mad step. But, he said, if "your respected leader remains obdurate, I shall certainly call upon you to devote my subscription to some public charity."

In Mr. Schnadhorst's reply he says Mr. Rhodes' money had already been spent, as he believed it had been given mainly to help the home rule struggle. Mr. Schnadhorst, however assured Mr. Rhodes that Mr. Gladstone's utterances were only an expression of previous opinion, that Sir William Vernon-Harcourt was also annoyed at them, and that no scuttle out of Egypt was likely, as he had seen Lord Rosebery, then slated for foreign minister, who would not permit it, being a strong man, "who will take his own course, very different from the pliant, supple Granville."

"On the reception of this," says Mr. Rhodes, "I bothered no more, as upon Lord Rosebery's appointment I knew that Egypt was saved. I leave your readers to decide how far Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman is justified in characterizing the original statements as a lie from beginning to end. According to their statements, neither Sir Henry Campbell-Bannerman nor Sir William Harcourt are acquainted with the facts, but I naturally assumed that Mr. Schnadhorst was speaking with authority."

CARRIE IN COURT.

Wheeling, W. Va., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Carrie Nation, who was arrested here on Monday night for leading a crowd of 400 women into a saloon, and fined $20, which she refused to pay, has given bond to keep the peace and appealed the case. She left the city yesterday.

AGED 121 YEARS.

Sharon, Pa., Oct. 11.—Mrs. Helen George, of Irwin township, claims to be the oldest woman in America, and probably is, if her age is properly stated. Mrs. George held a birthday anniversary Tuesday, and those present say that she was 121 years old. Of her nine children three survive. The oldest, Mrs. Helen Jennings, is 99 years old; William George, of Emlington, Pa., 80, and Henry George, of Plumer, 74. Mrs. George says she was born in England in 1780.

TRAVELING LIBRARIES.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The minister of education is busy getting the traveling libraries in shape to be sent out. There is quite a demand for the libraries. One was sent out yesterday to Cartier, while only last Saturday plenty of reading matter was sent up to the settlers at Cache Bay. Recently traveling libraries have been shipped to Michipicoten Bay and River Gertrude mines and Victory mines, while applications are on file from Webb Wood, Cordova mines and Barwick.

NORTH PERTH FAIR.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 11.—The annual exhibition of the North Perth Agricultural Society was held on Monday and Tuesday. Despite the unsettled state of the weather, the attendance was very fair. The show of live stock was an excellent one, all departments being well represented. The inside exhibits showed a considerable falling off, and were less interesting than at former fairs.

THE FIGHT WITH GEN. DELAREY'S FORCE.

Graphic Details of One of the Greatest Battles of the South African Campaign.

Pretoria, Oct. 10.—Details of the fight between the British troops under Col. Kekewich and 1,500 Boers under Commandants Delarey and Kemp, near Selous River, have just arrived. The British camp had evidently been carefully chosen. It lay in a triangle formed by the river on the west, a donga on the east, and the Zeerust-Rustenberg road on the south. The donga joins the river and forms the northern apex of the triangle. The banks of the river are deep and precipitous, and the country road is bushy.

During the night the Boers crept noiselessly up the river bed, and by making a debouchment of the donga, obtained a partial command of the apex of the triangle and the western side.

A patrol of Yeomanry, which was sent to reconnoiter to the west, crossed the drift, but were driven back by the Boers, who were between them and the British camp. After going through the Yeomanry, the Boers attacked the pickets who were holding the river.

A British officer of the name of Chase was the first man killed. The men made a heroic and costly resistance.

The next picket to the south was defended by some of the Derbyshires, who held out until all were killed or wounded. The Scottish Horse picket, under Col. Dick-Cunningham, which was within the apex of the river and donga, fought magnificently and held their own.

All the men, the Scottish Horse and Derbyshires, Yeomanry and artillery unhesitatingly sprang into action, formed a firing line facing west, and checked the Boers, who were nearly into the British lines.

TURNED THE BOER FLANK.

A portion of the Derbyshires was then sent from the south to repel an attack which was anticipated from the east. They wheeled right around the camp, and arrived without much opposition northeast of the point where the donga joins the river. Here they formed in line with the Scottish Horse and thus outflanked the Boers' left. Then the Scottish Horse and these Derbyshires charged the river and donga with fixed bayonets, and with an irriesistible rush cleared the Boers out.

Meanwhile the remaining Derbyshires on the British left and the Yeomanry made a similar rush on the river by the drift, and sent the Boers fleeing to the left of the river.

At the beginning of the fight the firing was so hot that it was impossible to use the British artillery, but when the Boers began to retreat the guns rendered effective work. A Maxim gun was served fearlessly by nine of the Derbyshires, all of whom were killed or wounded. All the men fought as they had been instructed and directed.

There were numerous instances of heroism on the part of the British officers and men. After Col. Kekewich had been hit he got up and stood by the guns, refusing to take cover, and encouraged and directed all his men. The flank movement of the Derbyshires showed the remarkably cool direction of the fight.

The Boers lost heavily especially in the final charges. They asked permission to remove their dead, and a lull ensued while both sides were engaged in this work. The Boers carried numbers of their dead off in nets between their horses. It is estimated that fully 300 of the enemy were slain.

It is said that the Boers were greatly disheartened at the outcome of the attack, as they expected to obtain supplies and ammunition instead of being repulsed. Boer prisoners say they expected more from this battle than from years of guerilla fighting.

SMALLPOX IN OTTAWA

It May Be Found Necessary to Close All the Schools.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—The Ottawa schools may be closed until the smallpox is stamped out. Dr. Law, acting medical health officer, stated yesterday that the schools should be closed for two or three weeks, until all the children are vaccinated.

Inspector Glasham, of the public school board, says it would be a great mistake to do this, as it would increase the danger of a contagion.

Sir James Grant, the dean of the medical faculty in Ottawa, says there is no cause for fear, and that the disease is so mild it is no worse than chickenpox.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—Dr. Bryce states that in the first nine months of the year 1,054 cases of smallpox have been reported in Ontario. Of these 40 are not yet convalescent, chiefly in Northern Ontario and Oxford county. Dr. Bryce urged that the Dominion Government establish an institute of scientific research that would assist in discovering means of combating the disease. The doctor pointed out that smallpox in the states is increasing in virulence, and that Ontario will have to watch carefully, and to go in largely for compulsory vaccination.

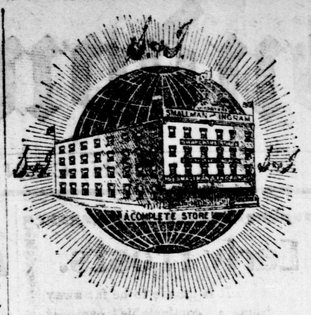

MORMON LEADER DEAD.

Salt Lake, Utah, Oct. 11.—Lorenzo Snow, fifth president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, better known as the Mormon Church, died unexpectedly at his private residence, the historic Bee Hive House, yesterday afternoon, after an illness that had been serious only since Wednesday. The immediate cause of his death was hypostatic congestion, superinduced by aggravated bronchitis.

President Snow's death dissolves the first presidency, of which he was the head, his two counselors being Joseph Smith and Rudger Clawson. Until his successor shall be chosen, which may not be until the annual conference next April, the leadership of the church will devolve upon the council of twelve apostles, of which body Mr. Smith is the recognized head. Unless death should come to him in the meantime, Mr. Smith will be the next president of the church. Lorenzo Snow was 87 years of age.

To make a dessert that will be easily digested by the weakest stomach, take a teaspoonful of Dr. Price's Rennet Wine to a pint of warm, fresh milk, set aside to cool, and you have a delicious curd which can be eaten plain or with cream or jelly. You can get it at Scandrett Bros., grocers. Directions in detail both for making and serving on each bottle. 25 cents.

DO NOT DELAY.—Do not let a cold or a cough fasten upon you, as it will if neglected. Dr. Thomas' Eclectric Oil will break up a cold and cure a cough, and should be resorted to at once when the first symptoms appear. It can be disguised so that any unpleasant taste it may have will be imperceptible to the delicate. Try it and be convinced.

THE WEATHER TODAY—Moderately warm; showery.

There was a time when people used to buy up to midnight any night. Happily that time has passed. People have learned that it pays to buy during the day. This store closes at 6 o'clock every night, thus keeping abreast of the times.

A Fair Exchange Is No Robbery.

We have some of the nicest goods you have ever seen, ready to exchange for your dollars, and it won't take so many of your dollars either if you trade at.....

..OAK HALL..

You will need a nice, nifty Suit or a stylish Overcoat for fall. We have them (good ones) to exchange for $5 if you like; but you ought to see them at $8 and $10, and we have them at $12, $14, $16 and $18. But you certainly should see that special line of Overcoats (Oxfords) we are selling at $10, they are good value at $13, and our customers express their surprise as to how we can sell such an up-to-date coat at such a low figure; but being the largest clothing manufacturers in Canada is the answer to the question. We have also the latest New York styles for the little fellows. Ask to see those Boys' Overcoats in fawn, Venetian finish, or dark gray Oxford, box back, full facings, the very newest.

DON'T FORGET WE ARE NOW CARRYING A FULL LINE OF GENTS' FURNISHINGS.

The verdict of the public is that we certainly have great values in Furnishings. Our Collars 15c, two for 25c, any shape; same collar sold by many for 20c. Boys' Sweaters, navy and cardinal, at 50c; sold everywhere at 75c. The best Men's Working Shirt in the market, reinforced back and front, good value at 75c, our price 60c. Ties 15c, worth 25c. Special feature of this department is our Underwear—don't fail to see our 25c, 35c, 50c and 75c lines. No such values offered in the city heretofore.

Honor to Canadian Artist.

Strathroy Age: We notice in the Toronto papers that while her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York, was enjoying a vacation at Banff, and being charmed with its beautiful surrounding and scenery, that Lady Mary Lygon presented F. M. Bell-Smith, our well-known R. C. A., who has spent the whole summer in the mountains, to her royal highness, who very kindly and graciously inspected his sketches, and selected four of them to adorn the walls of her pretty home in England. The views she chose were sketches of Vancouver Harbor, the Great Glacier, Fraser Canyon, and that lovely sheet of water, Lake Louise, with all of which the princess is charmed, and values very highly as souvenirs of her visit to the Rocky Mountains. This is not the first time that members of our royal family have secured sketches of the Rocky Mountains from Bell-Smith. Some years ago, when sketching in the Selkirks, he was commissioned by the Earl of Latham, the Countess of Kintore, Lord Elphinstone and other tourists to paint their favorite views in the Rockies, which charming sketches adorn their stately homes in the old land. Bell-Smith is a thorough Canadian artist, and many of his fine painting are in Strathroy homes. His handsome water-colors, "Ross' Head," "The Falls of the Illecillewaet," owned by Dr. Thompson, and "On the Fraser River," in the possession of Dr. Henderson, were very much admired when first exhibited in Toronto, and are an education and pleasure to all who see them. Bell-Smith had the distinguished honor of having our late beloved Queen Victoria sit to him for her portrait, when he painted his well-know picture "Her Majesty Queen Victoria placing the wreath on the coffin of Sir John Thompson at Windsor Castle." It is an honor to Bell-Smith to have his paintings appreciated by such distinguished personages and good judges of art.

UNCLE SAM'S CROPS.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 10.—The average conditions of corn is 82.1; oats, 25.1; barley, 24.7. Wheat will be issued, pending receipt of annual returns.

Molten wood is reported as a new invention discovered by M. De Gall, inspector of forests at Lemur, France. By means of dry distillation and high pressure the escape of developing gases is prevented, thereby reducing the wood to a molten condition. After cooling off, the mass assumes the character of coal, yet without showing a trace of the organic structure of that material. This new body is hard, but can be shaped and polished at will; is impervious to water and acids and is a perfect electrical non-conductor.

EASY.

Applicant—Don't I have to state a cause for asking a divorce out here in Dakota?

Lawyer—Oh, yes; just say you couldn't get one east.

The United States bought $126,075 41 worth of sardines from France during the quarter ending March 31 of this year.

THEY CAME AND CONQUERED!

Duke and Duchess of York Took the City of Toronto by Storm---Splendid Reception and Marvelous Demonstration---Enthusiasm Which a Pouring Rain Could Not Quench.

Toronto, Oct. 10.—The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York captured the hearts of Torontonians and their thousands of guests today. The welcome prepared for the heir to the British throne and the duchess was magnificent, but it was not one whit more lavish than a loyal people delighted to give their royal visitors. Despite the rain, their royal highnesses declined to have the top of their carriage raised. The duchess held an umbrella above her head as the procession moved along the decorated streets crowded with cheering people. The duke had not even the protection of an umbrella. Very heartily did he acknowledge the ovations given.

The afternoon was a busy one for the many troops gathered here for the review tomorrow. They were marched up from the exhibition grounds, with bands playing, to form a guard along the entire route of the royal parade from the city hall to government house.

A DRENCHING RAIN.

The rain fell heavily enough to drench the soldiers, but officers and men appeared to good advantage, notwithstanding. The Indian companies of the 26th (Middlesex) Regiment were received with deafening cheers at many points along the route. The novelty of the red men in the King's uniform excited immense enthusiasm.

The 7th Regiment was admired upon all sides. The soldierly bearing of the regiment made it stand out in favorable comparison with the crack Toronto regiments.

The wisdom of taking along the London regiment's old uniforms was shown, when, on returning to headquarters the men were afforded a complete change of clothing.

The illuminations are upon a scale never before attempted in a Canadian city, and rival in many instances the famed electrical display at the Pan-American. To cap it all ten powerful searchlights are playing over the city from the tower of the city hall.

MARVELOUS DEMONSTRATION.

If the Duke of Cornwall and York and his Princess are given to philosophy, they have had an opportunity today for its exercise. It would be difficult, save for a philosopher, to give adequate reason for the marvelous demonstration of loyalty to the throne and of personal affection for Great Britain's heir that has been crowded into the past few hours. To the people of Ontario, until the present royal progress, the duke was but a name, for his visit in 1883 was that of a lad who attracted little attention.

One thing, however, is certain, their ancestors must have brought over the seas passionate devoted loyalty to the British throne, and this it was that was so wonderfully expressed today, expressed in such fashion that the veteran journalists who have gone round the world with the royal party say nothing like it has been seen.

THE ROYAL PARTY'S ARRIVAL.

When the royal party landed at 2 o'clock at the temporary station, fashioned for their reception, and were greeted with the royal salute, fired by the Toronto Field Battery, they found awaiting them in a dreary, drizzling rain, the governor-general and Lady Minto, Sir Wilfrid and Lady Laurier, the headquarters staff of the Canadian militia in gorgeous uniform, the premier of Ontario and his cabinet, who bade them welcome. But that was to be expected. The unexpected was a great amphi theater, on which over 6,000 children, the chorus of the public and other schools, greeted them with a perfect cyclone of cheering, and then sang "God Save the King," "Rule Britannia," "The Maple Leaf" and George of Wales," a song especially composed for the occasion, in such fashion that the duchess fell in love with the youngsters and declared that in all the tours since the shores of England had been left behind she had not heard such an outburst of song.

THE PROCESSION.

Following upon this the royal progress was made through four miles of streets, densly packed with people, and splendidly decorated, to the city hall.

The streets were lined with 11,000 men, comprising the finest regiments in the Canadian militia, and yet so great was the crowd that the 11,000 men, when scattered along the route, disappeared almost as by enchantment, leaving as the only evidence of their presence a group of mounted men here and there, and the glitter of bayonet tips among the dense mass of umbrella-covered people who lined the streets. How these people cheered as the prince and princess passed along! Hats were off, and there was one continuous cheer—the peculiar cheer of Canada that unfriendly critics assert is more like the yell of an Iroquois Indian than the round, rolling cheer of the Englishman. But the cheer, or yell, whichever it may be, that the duke and duchess today heard, was one that was four miles long and of a corresponding breadth.

THE DECORATIONS.

The decorations were of a most elaborate character. The citizens' committee had been at work for weeks, and had lined the entire route with Venetian masts festooned with electric lights. Private effort had spent thousands of dollars in supplementing these decorations, and several life-size statues of members of the royal family had been affixed to the fronts of posts. The effect, even when clouded by tens of thousands of umbrellas and overcast by the gloomy day, was brilliant in the extreme.

THE FORESTERS' ARCH.

But one arch was passed through today on the route of the royal procession — that of the Independent Order of Foresters. It was a magnificent structure, fronted and surmounted by a Tudor crown of enormous proportions, so illuminated at night as to make it appear to be covered with huge pearls, rubies and emeralds. Tomorrow the royal party will pass under the manufacturers' arch, with its attendant scheme of decoration at the cost of almost $10,000, en route to the parliament buildings, which were not visited today. The central feature of the programme was the

RECEPTION AT THE CITY HALL.

Here again song was the vehicle used to convey the popular welcome. Mr. Torrington and a choir of 1,200 voices sang the National Anthem, "The Maple Leaf," "Hail to Our Prince," a song especially adapted by the conductor, accompanied by the bands of the 13th Battalion of Hamilton and the Royal Grenadiers. The effect was very fine, particularly in the action parts in the chorus of "The Maple Leaf." As the members sang "The Maple Leaf Forever" each chorister waved aloft a small spray of maple leaves, the effect being to suggest a shimmering of foliage touched with tints of autumn.

THE DUKE'S REPLY.

In his reply to the address of welcome read by Mayor Howland, the duke expressed the warm thanks of the duchess and himself for the heartiness of the reception at this historical capital of Upper Canada. He praised the municipal institutions of Ontario, and continuing, said: "The deeds of your fellow-countrymen during the war in South Africa have indeed testified not only to the strength of your loyalty, but to the strong military instinct and capacity inherent in the sons of the Dominion. They have fully maintained the noble traditions of your forefathers, who fought for hearth and home under the leadership of the heroic Brock. I am glad that during our tour I have an opportunity of taking part in a review, and thereby adding to the experience I have already acquired of his majesty's splendid forces in this portion of the empire. I have received with pleasure the address from the German residents of Toronto, in which they testify to their appreciation of the advantages of British citizenship. Throughout our long journey I have been interested to find that German immigrants are held as useful and industrious members of the community in the country of their adoption. We have been looking forward with keen pleasure to our visit in your city. Perhaps I may be allowed to claim some special association with it in the fact that the name which it bore for forty years was identical with the first title conferred upon me by my dear grandmother."

Many other addresses were presented to the duke.

The route to Government House, after the civil reception, was even more crowded than the earlier stages, and the people waited without incident for hours to get a sight of the duke and duchess.

PRESENTATION TO THE DUCHESS

At Government House there was still another incident, the presentation by a committee of ladies of Toronto of a beautiful writing portfolio, pens and inkstand made of Canadian gold, wrought in maple leaves with beavers in relief, and ornamented with Canadian amethysts and pearls. The duchess expressed her delight at the beauty of the gift, which cost $1,400.

A few hours of rest and the royal party proceeded through the ranks of the students who lined the route to the Massey Hall, where a great concert was given by the Metropolitan Opera Company, of New York, Calve being the chief singer. The hall seats almost 5,000 people, and all fashionable Toronto was there, with hundreds from out of town.

THE ILLUMINATIONS.

En route to the hall the royal party had an opportunity of seeing some of the magnificent electric illuminations that turned night into day in the downtown quarters. Most noticeable of these was the Foresters' arch and building, on the ten stories of which 12,000 lights were used. The parliament buildings, which were outlined, and loomed up in an enormous mass; Osgoode Hall, as chaste as a Corinthian temple; the postoffice; the Bank of Commerce; Dominion Bank; National Club and half a hundred stores and warehouses. From the city hall tower, all evening at intervals, ten searchlights flashed the messages "God Save Our King" and "Long Live Our King."

It was long after midnight before the revels ended and the town sank to slumber.

COMING TO SEE THE DUKE.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 10.—The Pan-American executive commissioners, representing the various states and republics, will go to Toronto tomorrow as guests of the city. The commissioners will remain in Toronto tomorrow evening to attend the reception to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, returning to Buffalo Saturday morning.

CHICAGO'S BIG FIRE.

Chicago, Oct. 10.—The anniversary of the beginning of the great Chicago fire 30 years ago was commemorated at a banquet given by the Marquette Club at the Auditorium last night.

GOOD TIMES IN MANITOBA.

Detroit, Oct. 11.—H. T. W. Ellis has returned after a month's sojourn with his brother, W. F. Ellis, of Manitou, Manitoba. He brought back with him half a dozen prairie chickens, bagged on the last day of a series of field trials at which he participated. Mr. Ellis reports that the farmers of the Northwest are enjoying unprecedented prosperity. Crops are good and prices fair. Realty has gone up in price. Land which brought but $2 50 per acre eight years ago is now changing owners at $20.

For the Children

To Keep Their Digestion Perfect Nothing Is So Safe and Pleasant as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Thousands of men and women have found Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the safest and most reliable preparation for any form of indigestion or stomach trouble.

Thousands of people who are not sick, but are well and wish to keep well take Stuart's Tablets after every meal to insure perfect digestion and avoid trouble.

But it is not generally known that the Tablets are just as good and wholesome for little folks as for their elders.

Little children who are pale, thin and have no appetite, or do not grow or thrive, should use the tablets after eating and will derive great benefit from them.

Mrs. G. H. Crotsley, 538 Washington street, Hoboken, New Jersey, writes: "Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets just fill the bill for children as well as for older folks. I've had the best of luck with them. My 3-year-old girl takes them as readily as candy. I have only to say 'tablets' and she drops everything else and runs for them."

A Buffalo mother, a short time ago, who despaired of the life of her babe, was so delighted with the results from giving the child these tablets that she went before the notary public of Erie county, N. Y., and made the following affidavit:

Gentlemen,—Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets were recommended to me for my 2-months-old baby, who was sick and puny and the doctors said was suffering from indigestion. I took the child to the hospital, but there found no relief. A friend mentioned the Stuart Tablets and I procured a box from my druggist and used only the large sweet lozenges in the box and was delighted to find they were just the thing for my baby. I feel justified in saying that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets saved my child's life.

Mrs. W. T. Dethlope,

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of April, 1897.

Henry Karls,

Notary Public in and for Erie Co., N. Y.

For babies, no matter how young or delicate, the tablets will accomplish wonders in increasing flesh, appetite and growth. Use only the large sweet tablets in every box. Full sized boxes are sold by all druggists for 50 cents, and no parent should neglect the use of this safe remedy for all stomach and bowel troubles if the child is ailing in any way regarding its food or assimilation.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets have been known for years as the best preparation for all stomach troubles whether in adults or infants.

Letters to the Editor

REV. JAMES LITTLE ON THE INDIVIDUAL COMMUNION CUPS.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Your selection of an item from another journal on the individual cup in the Sacrament, has led me to throw the following thoughts into shape, and to ask for room for publication. These are my reasons for not being able to accept of the individual cup:

1. Because of its defective symbolism. The free, full, present, gracious and everlasting salvation that is in Christ Jesus is symbolically set forth in the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper. Each believer receives the salvation at the hands of his fellow-man, puts his personal love for his fellow-man into it, and passes it as heaven's greatest boon to his fellow-man. In passing it he instrumentally (not meritoriously, nor officially, nor efficiently) pardons his fellow-creature, who is instructed to pass it to the next: "Whosoever's sins ye remit they are remitted." "Freely ye have received, freely give." Parents give the gospel to their children; one generation gives it to another. Old Ontario must give it to New Ontario, and do it out of love to God and love to man. A religion that has not love in it is no good.

Now, the Sacrament, as instituted by the Saviour, beautifully sets all this forth. The bread is received, broken and passed. It is taken out of the hand of one, passed into the hand of another. The cup is taken out of the hand of one, passed into the hand of another. Both the bread and the cup pass over the bosom of the worshiper, symbolizing his love going with it, and in it is the bond that unites all the hearts of the one family in heaven and on earth. Now, the cube of bread and the individual communion cup do not do this. They are symbolic of selfishness, and whatever is selfish is satanic, not Christian. There is no human agency symbolical in the remission of sin. Every member of Christ's mystical body should be taught his or her responsibility in carrying the gospel to the "uttermost parts of the earth."

2. The Second Commandment requires the receiving and keeping pure and entire all such religious worship and ordinances as God has appointed in his word.

3. Every Presbyterian minister at his ordination promises to practice the mode of worship presently practiced by the church. No general assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada has ever put its imprimatur on the individual cup. I belong to a church, not a "club." Every part of the church in Canada should be subject to the decision of the whole.

4. Because there is inconsistency in the only argument advanced in favor of the individual cup—sanitary. Carry it out, and we cannot meet in the same church or in the same hall for a political or social meeting, or in the same street. God has not given each his own cubic section of air. We have to breathe the air that has been in the lungs and mouths and nostrils of others before it comes to us. When an argument proves too much it must be set aside as useless. Yours respectfully.

JAMES LITTLE.

KEEPS EIGHT ON $2 50 A WEEK.

New York, Oct. 11.—Sadie Adelson, aged 15, has been supporting a family of eight on $2 50 per week. She lives in Harlem, and walks down town to her work and back every day. The sum earned suffices to feed the family, but neighbors and charitable associations have undertaken to pay the family's rent to prevent them being put out on the street.

STANDARD OIL AT $695.

New York, Oct. 11.—On the sale of about 100 shares the price of Standard Oil stock broke under $700 a share in the Broad street curb market. The opening sale was at $715, which was the top price of the day, and the final sale at $695, which was the bottom price. This is a decline of about $65 a share since Sept. 20, the day that the Amalgamated Copper Company, in which Standard Oil men are heavily interested, failed to declare its usual "extra" dividend. Standard Oil stock has sold in the curb market as high as $825.

That Spot.

Did you ever have that little tickling spot in your throat? Felt as if you could almost touch it with your finger, didn't it? How hard you tried to reach it, but couldn't! The Royal Visit to London Tomorrow.

A word or two of final suggestion in connection with the visit of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York tomorrow, may be in order.

(1) Let every place of business and every private residence be, as far as possible, decorated. A good deal is being done by the city, but it will be impossible to make the right impression in the matter of decorations unless the citizens co-operate in their private capacity.

(2) Think out your place of observation. You know the route: Up Richmond, east on Dundas, up Wellington, thence around Collegiate Institute block to Victoria Park by way of Princess avenue. (Around the Collegiate Institute is reserved for the school children). Out of park by First Methodist part of exit, west along Dufferin to Richmond, down Richmond to G. T. R. station.

(3) Be early or you may find yourself too late. After 9 or 10 o'clock, for instance, it may be difficult to get through or across the route of procession.

(4) It will be wise to content yourself with one view of the royal procession. To rush after the procession would probably be futile, and would only add to dangerous confusion of vast numbers.

(5) Bicycles, baby carriages and babies will be better and safer at home.

(6) Lock your houses securely, particularly the back doors.

(7) Let the royal party hear what real cheering is like! And do it promptly, because the procession goes rapidly past. You can look and cheer at the same time.

The Ontario Agricultural College.

The Agricultural College at Guelph is again about to extend its usefulness in the matter of supplying a short course in stock judging. The course will begin on Jan. 8, and continue for two weeks. The school day is to be spent somewhat as follows: From 9 to 10 a.m. of each day will be spent in judging grain and other classes of farm seeds, and the identification of weed seeds. From 10 a.m. until noon, and from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. will be devoted to practical work in judging horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, sheep and swine. Lectures on breeding, feeding and management of live stock are to be given each day by members of the college staff.

No fees are to be charged, the only expenses being practically the cost of board and of car fare to and from Guelph.

No entrance examination is required, and any farmer or farmer's son may enter for this two weeks' course. It is a matter of interest, not only to the class mentioned, but also to live stock buyers. It is in the farmer's capacity as merchant, that he will be chiefly benefited by such a course. The ability to buy and sell properly, is a prime requisite of successful husbandry, and now that the opportunity is offered at a time of the year that farmers are in a position to avail themselves of it, no doubt the venture will be highly appreciated by the agriculturists of the Province.

Sir Louis Davies having taken a seat on the Supreme Court Bench, the Liberals of West Queen's, which he so well represented, are leaving no unnecessary time to elapse in selecting his successor. A convention of the party will meet on the 29th inst. to put a man in the field. Judging by the result in Nova Scotia last week, there is no doubt of the outcome in Prince Edward Island.

"Five Fingers" are the principal obstruction on the long stretch of water between White Horse and Dawson City, Yukon. It is now suggested that if some of the "five fingers" were blown up with dynamite, the passage would be rendered comparatively safe. This is the opinion of Sir Mackenzie Bowell and other recent travelers in the Yukon. The work could be undertaken during the winter with comparative ease. Here is another opportunity for the Minister of Public Works to distinguish himself. His officers have already provided the territory with first-class telegraphic service, connecting it with the outside world. Now let Hon. Mr. Tarte help along the system of inland navigation.

A Remarkable Break-Up.

The death of Hon. Clarke Wallace, the leader of the Conservatives from Ontario in the Dominion House of Commons, recalls the extraordinary character of the break-up that has been caused in the ranks of that party since the death of Sir John Thompson. Of the Thompson Ministry, only two members are now in the House of Commons supporting the Opposition leader. They are Sir C. H. Tupper and Hon. John Haggart. Of the seventeen members of that Ministry, Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir John Carling remain in the Senate, while Messrs. Ouimet and Curran were appointed judges, and Hon. John Costigan has for some time been a supporter of the present Government. Sir Adolphe Caron, Hon. Geo. E. Foster, Hon. T. M. Daly and Hon. A. R. Angers, having been defeated in the appeal to the country, are now in private life. Hon. J. C. Patterson was not a candidate at the general election, and so avoided the risk of going down with his fellow Ministers.

The death list is a sadly long one, and embraces Sir John Thompson, the able Prime Minister of that day, Hon. W. B. Ives, Hon. Sir Frank Smith, Hon. J. F. Wood, and now Hon. Clarke Wallace. Hon. A. R. Dickey and Hon. J. J. Ross, who were respectively members of the short-lived Ministries of Sir Mackenzie Bowell and Sir Charles Tupper, have also passed away. Indeed, almost all the politicians who consented to take portfolios in the Government of Sir Charles Tupper, are out of Parliament today. It is noteworthy, too, that with the exception of Sir Frank Smith and Hon. Mr. Ross, all the statesmen who have passed away were in the prime of life, illustrating once again, in a striking manner, the evanescent character of all things earthly.

The Detroit News has rightly reached the conclusion that, while the Canadian courts rule as they have been doing, it will be impossible for the republic to work up any considerable export trade in divorces.

We have been asked who is the proper person in London to apply to for information with regard to the number of balls to be worn on coronets, the ermine that is to be donned, the length and breadth of the kow-towing, etc. Until the arrival of Major Maude, the custodian of information on the proprieties, we presume that it will be the chairman of the reception committee.

Must the broom go? In Tunis, we learn from a French hygienic journal, the mortality from tuberculosis is 11.3 per 1,000 among the Arabs, and only 0.75 per 1.000 among the Jews, who lead pretty much the same life as the Arabs, except that they daily clean all their furniture with moist cloths, and never stir up the germ-infested dust with brooms. To kick up a dust may be a worse offense against one's neighbor than many people have been accustomed to believe.

There is joy in Victoria, B. C. The contract for the construction of a new residence for the Lieutenant-Governor has been given out by the Government of the Province, the cost being $50,000. This is another peg driven to keep the capital on Vancouver Island. The Victorians have been afraid that some day they might wake up and find a diabolical plot hatched to retransfer the capital to the mainland, with Vancouver city, instead of New Westminster, as the provincial headquarters. Every provincial structure put up is so much more of a pull for Victoria.

The Real Thing.

[From the Catholic Standard and Times.]

"Pardon me, sir," began the peddler of supplies, "but may I ask what is the style of your typewriter?"

"Right up to date," replied the businessman, enthusiastically. "Elbow sleeves, lace insertion shirt waist and all that sort of thing."

Official Regulations.

[Carman Standard.]

Major Maude, who has charge of the royal procession, states that three mounted policemen must precede two tropers by 25 yards, and that 50 yards must be the interval between the two troopers and one sergeant, who will be 50 yards in advance of 16 troopers and so on. A variation of a sixteenth of an inch from these intervals might rip Magna Charta into fragments and send the duke home on the next ship.

Advertising Canada.

[Ottawa Journal.]

The royal progress through Canada has a side that may be lost sight of; that is the good the visit is likely to do Canada by way of advertisement. The visit has taken place during a very favorable time of the year and the weather has been uniformly good. The royal party and the European newspaper and special artists with them have seen the country at the most beautiful time of the year and under circumstances which must go a long way to remove "Lady of the Snow's" prejudices. As the newspaper men who are in the party all represent papers of wide circulation and influence, Canada is bound to get a lot of free and valuable advertising.

Can Spoke the Gaelic.

[St. Thomas Times.]

Angus McCrimmon, who was yesterday at Dutton nominated to contest the west riding of Elgin for the Legislature in the interests of the Reform party, was born in the township of Lochiel, in the county of Glengarry, and is a typical specimen of the Glengarry manhood. He received his common school education in one of the old log school houses of his native township, subsequently attending the Cornwall High School and the Toronto Normal School. He was head master of the St Matthew's School, Montreal, and for two years at Durham, in the county of Grey, and wound up his teaching career by two years as head master of the public schools in this city. Though in every sense a Canadian, his maternal ancestors having settled in Glengarry in 1783, and paternal ancestors in 1817, yet "Mac" can "spoke the Gaelic" with the ease of Lochaber-no-more. He studied law in the office of Edward Horton, and is a member of the firm of McCrimmon & Wilson. Dr. McCrimmon, of Ripley, well known in Western Ontario, is a brother.

Suppressing the Goldman Woman.

[Chicago Tribune.]

Emma Goldman's impudent article in a local anarchist paper in which she lauds Czolgosz and indulges in maudlin sympathy for the assassin, again raises in concrete form the important question whether or not such incendiary utterances should be permitted to circulate through the mails. The Chicago postoffice authorities have done well to exclude the paper from the mails until the matter has been passed upon at Washington. Merely on the common law principle of self-protection it would seem that the government should have the power to refuse to carry utterances aiming at its own annihilation. If the federal statutes are deficient on this point congress should attend to the matter at its next session. The subject is one requiring extreme care, but there should be as valid grounds for excluding anarchistic literature from the mails as for placing a similar ban on obscene and immoral matter.

The attempt of anarchists to use the present sad occasion for advertising themselves and for money-making purposes is a disgusting spectacle. Mayor Harrison acted wisely in forbidding the Goldman woman to repeat publicly in this city the speech which Czolgosz said inspired him to commit the murder in Buffalo. Such action can be justified on the grounds of preventing a breach of the peace, if on no other. It is difficult to see why the same kind of murderous rant in the form of a printed article should not be suppressed on similar grounds. Speaking of Czolgosz, Miss Goldman writes: "I cannot help but bow in reverenced silence before the power of such a soul." Such an utterance under the circumstances is not merely nauseating, it is a glorification of murder and an incentive to weak and criminal dupes to attempt to emulate the example of Czolgosz. If there is no way of barring such stuff from the mails there ought to be.

The desire of anarchists to use the government mails for spreading their attacks on all governments is on a par with the inconsistency of all their actions. If Miss Goldman is in favor of "removing" an executive or official who represents the law because she is opposed to all law, why should she object to her own "removal" by anyone who is opposed to her doctrines or teachings? If she is opposed to the law, why should she expect the protection of the law? Yet she would be one of the first to cry out if actual anarchy were to be let loose for half an hour around her and the blatant group with which she trains. The law is too sacred to permit of such an experiment, but the hypocrisy of appealing to law only to abuse its privileges is none the less contemptible.

POISON IN THE TOBACCO

Peter Seguin Chewed It and Death Followed.

Nitro-Glycerine Wrecks a Building and Kills Two People—Other Casualties.

ACID-SOAKED TOBACCO.

Windsor, Oct. 11.—Peter Seguin, jun., of Elmstead, Sandwich East, aged 36, carried a small bottle of carbolic acid and two plugs of chewing tobacco in his hip pocket. The acid was designed to cleanse a cut in his hand. The bottle was broken and the tobacco absorbed the acid. Despite the tobacco's peculiar flavor, he chewed the two plugs in two days, and for ten days tried to slake his parching thirst with whisky and water. Then two physicians tried in vain for two weeks to cure him, being puzzled at first to know the cause of his illness. Seguin's throat swelled to several times its normal size, and the flesh became almost black. He suffered excruciating pain, as his mouth, throat and stomach were burned raw. The abscess which formed on his lungs broke and brought death Wednesday morning.

DEADLY EXPLOSION.

Oil City, Pa., Oct. 11.—Harper's nitro-glycerine factory at Ridge Farm, four miles from this city, was blown up yesterday. The cause of the explosion will never be known, as the only persons about the place at the time were instantly killed. They were: Clarence Ward, aged 33, the manufacturer, and his assistant, Frank Gross, aged 25. Ward's body was blown to atoms and Gross was decapitated. Windows were shattered for a radius of two or three miles.

BROTHERS BURNED TO DEATH.

Montreal, Oct. 11.—Fire took place last night in a small house on St. Germain street, and three young boys—Albert Chapleau, aged 6 years; Lespor Chapleau, aged 4 years, and Arthur Chapleau, aged 18 months—were burned to death. The children were alone in the house, their parents being out, and a lamp which had been left lit exploded, setting fire to the place. The children were burned to death before they could be rescued.

SIX KILLED.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—A Daily News special from Lombard, Ill., says six men lost their lives in the collision between two freight trains on the Chicago Great Western. Added to the list of four already reported killed were two unknown men.

The dead as far as reported are Engineer Charles Andrews, Fireman Houren, Fireman J. Mayher and Brakeman Wm. Glenn.

KILLED IN AN ELEVATOR.

Syracuse, N. Y., Oct., 11.—John Stall, 17 years old, employed as a porter at the Hotel Mowry, had his brains crushed out in the hotel elevator yesterday afternoon. He was in the basement and started to get in the freight department of the elevator as it was ascending. He got part way in, and then tried to drop out. As he did so his head was caught between the elevator platform and the top of the basement door. There he hung while his life was being crushed out. When released Stall was dead.

LOST BOTH LEGS.

Kingston, Ont., Oct. 11.—Yesterday afternoon a drayman named Villneau, while driving from one of the wharves leading on to St. Andrew street, was run into by a C. P. R. shunting engine, and was thrown from his vehicle. Both legs were cut completely off, and the man is otherwise injured. He is not likely to recover.

BELIEVES IT IS HIS DAUGHTER

Lizzie Jeffreys' Father Viewed the Remains of the Murdered Girl.

She Formerly Lived in St. Thomas—A Telegram From Appin, Ont., However, Says Lizzie Is Alive and in Detroit.

St. Thomas, Ont., Oct. 11. — There seems to be no doubt but that the body of the young woman found dead in the woods near Royal Oak, Mich., is that of Miss Lizzie Jeffries, formerly of this city. Thomas Trigger, blacksmith, Hiawatha street, uncle of the murdered woman, was shown a photogravure picture of the deceased, and at once said it was an excellent picture of his niece, Lizzie Jeffries.

The murdered woman was 25 years of age, and a daughter of John Jeffries, farmer, who lives three miles southwest of Melbourne. She worked for eighteen months for Thomas Coffey, then proprietor of the International Hotel. About etor ofg the International Hotel. About two years ago she left here for Detroit, working in a restaurant there for a time. She afterwards went to Birmingham, a suburb of Detroit, and then to Pontiac, Mich. Until a few months ago Miss Jeffries corresponded regularly with Mr. Coffey's family, and they were fully apprised of her movements. Thomas Trigger, Hiawatha street; James Trigger, West Lorne; Robert Jeffries, Yarmouth, are uncles of the deceased; and Mrs. Hiram Buck, city, and Mrs. Samuel Buck, Yarmouth, are aunts.

A MYSTERY.

A Royal Oak, Mich., dispatch to the Detroit News says: The mystery surrounding the woman whose body was found in the woods a mile back from this town are still as deep as ever. There are many theories as to how the unfortunate woman met her death, but the sheriff's force at Pontiac have found no clues of any importance from the fragments of clothing found on the body. All of the clothing that was found buried with the remains were small pieces of black and red goods which had evidently been parts of the skirts the woman wore. Justice Wheeler today adjourned the inquest, which was set for two o'clock this afternoon, to one week from today, and at the same time he instructed Undertaker Baum to bury the remains, as they are worthless for identification purposes.

[Detroit News, Oct. 10.]

Orders were sent to Royal Oak to have the body, which was buried yesterday, taken up again.

This morning Sheriff Brewster, Undersheriff Richmond, Mr. Jeffries and his son, accompanied by a News reporter, went from Pontiac to Royal Oak.

Mr. Jeffries walked into the shed of Undertaker Baum and stood at the head of the coffin when the lid was removed. Without waiting for the undertaker the old man himself removed a white cloth that covered the remains. Then he gazed in astonishment.

"Terrible," he muttered.

He hesitated a moment, and then took up the dead woman's skull in his hands and examined it.

"It looks like the shape of her head," he said. Then he dug further into the remains, and pulled pieces of the cloth, which had been part of the dress of the dead woman, from the body.

The son also leaned over the coffin, and tried to find some little thing that might give an indication of the identity of the person.

SHE IS ALIVE.

As the father and brother of Lizzie Jeffreys were making this examination, watched by several dozen curious residents of Royal Oak, Sheriff Brewster received from his office at Pontiac a copy of a telegram that had been received at the office after he had left for Royal Oak. It was from George Jeffreys, another brother of the missing girl, living in Appin, Canada.

The telegram stated that after the father of Miss Jeffreys left home yesterday afternoon a letter was received stating that she is alive and well in Detroit, and could be found by inquiring at the general delivery, general postoffice.

"It looks as if your daughter is alive," remarked Undersheriff Richmond.

"I don't believe it," promptly replied the old man. "But I do believe that this is my daughter's body. This woman is just the same build as my daughter, the hair is exactly the same and I think that this is my girl.

"We have not heard from Lizzie since she disappeared from Birmingham."

The father and son were induced to come to Detroit, and they are now trying to locate Lizzie. Inquiry at the postoffice revealed very little.

The body of the murdered woman will not be buried again until after the inquest at Royal Oak next week. In the meantime officers are working on other clues trying to solve the mystery.

Undersheriff Richmond thinks that perhaps the letter received at Appin by George Jeffreys is a hoax and that somebody may be trying to throw the officers off the scent. The letter has been sent for.

Canada's Trade With Australia—Suggestions and Pointers From Commercial Agent Larke.

Ottawa, Oct. 11.—A report from J. S. Larke, commercial agent of Canada at Sydney, New South Wales, and dated Sept. 11, has been received at the department of trade and commerce. It says that in anticipation of the new tariff imports are pouring into Sydney. No travelers from Canada had recently arrived there, but two or three had returned to Canada, all reporting an excellent business, and two of them are expected to come back to open branch houses. He had received an increased number of requests from Canadian manufacturers to secure agents and openings, but more are awaiting the commonwealth tariff in order to better judge of prospects under the new duties.

In some cases it is advisable to delay, but in the large majority of lines Mr. Larke says, in which Canada is doing a trade, the tariff is unlikely to make much change.

The output of gold was decreasing in nearly all the states, labor finding more profitable employment in other directions.

In Queensland the effect of the drought had been seen, for the exports, which had fallen away nearly two and a half millions, found comparison with 1899. It led to a serious immigration from the state, a loss of one-third of its sheep and one-fourth of its cattle. The trade with Canada, though small, was steadily increasing. Complaints are made of errors and imperfect modes of shipment of Canadian goods.

Diminished Vitality.

Some people talk very flippantly about diminished vitality.

They don't stop to think that vitality is the principle of life—that it is that little understood something on which every function of their bodies depends.

Diminished vitality is early indicated by loss of appetite, strength and endurance, and Hood's Sarsaparilla is the greatest vitalizer. b

GOLD IN POLAR REGIONS.

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 11.—Dr. Stein, the Arctic explorer, has left Louisburg, C. B., for Washington. He denies that Dr. Deidrich is insane, and says that probably Peary and the doctor are both to blame for the disagreement. Dr. Stein does not know that Peary discovered gold in the north, but believes gold is there in plenty.

NEW USE FOR MOSQUITOES.

Port Jervis, N. Y., Oct. 11.—While getting railroad ties back of the summit Abe Morehouse was bitten in the leg by a rattlesnake. A doctor was at once sent for. When he arrived the bandages were taken off, and as soon as the leg was bared a swarm of mosquitoes alighted on it. In a few minutes the ground was covered with dead and dying mosquitoes. They had sucked the poison of the wound, and saved Morehouse's life.

THE DEMON, DYSPEPSIA.—In olden time it was a popular belief that demons moved invisibly through the ambient air, seeking to enter into men and trouble them. At the present day the demon, dyspepsia, is at large in the same way, seeking habitation in those who by careless or unwise living invite him. And once he enters a man it is difficult to dislodge him. He that flings himself so possessed should know that a valiant friend to do battle for him with the unseen foe is Parmelee's Vegetable Pills, which are ever ready for the trial.

SUICIDE OF A $250,000 DEFAULTER

Cleveland, Oct. 11.—According to Secretary J. B. Livingston, of the Guarantee Savings and Loan Company, the shortage of Treasurer J. A. Blodt, who committed suicide a week ago, will be over $200,000. It was found that in addition to Blodt being $50,000 short, he had made pretended loans on vacant lots which were represented as having houses on them, aggregating $200,000. Blodt's plan was to pay the dues on these loans himself, so that his fraud would not be discovered.

BAYLEY'S.

The guard of honor at the depot and at Victoria Park will consist of about 200 men each.

The royal salute will be fired by a battery of the Cobourg Garrison Artillery, which will be stationed at the Chapter House grounds. The instant the royal train shows up at the depot the big guns will boom out.

At the Park.

When their royal highnesses reach the special stand in Victoria Park, they will be met by the general reception committee and the invited guests who will occupy spaces in the stand. The formal address of welcome from the corporation will then be delivered by his worship Mayor Rumball, who will be accompanied by Ald. Jolly, Ald. Winnett, Col. Gartshore, J. R. Minhinnick, the chairmen of the four sub-committees. In the event of Mr. Minhinnick's absence, Mr. Thos. Coffey will take his place.

Following the presentation of the address, the duchess will be handed two baskets of beautiful flowers by little Misses Rowena Burns and Stella Winnett.

The Seventh Regiment Band, in proper formation, will be posted north of the stand and will render appropriate music.

The most interesting ceremony, the presentation of the Seventh's new colors by their royal highnesses, will follow, and upon its conclusion the royal party will proceed at once to the depot and at 1:30 p.m. will leave the city.

The Seventh Regiment will probably reach the city from Toronto about midnight or earlier. The other regiments will likely not arrive until tomorrow morning. During their brief stay in the city they will be quartered in the special trains bearing them.

THE ROYAL VISIT!

Programme of Tomorrow's Reception to Duke and Duchess.

Three Regiments of Infantry, One of Cavalry and a Battery of Artillery Will Take Part--- The Royal Procession.

With the exception of minor details everything is now in readiness for the reception of their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York tomorrow.

The royal train will reach the Grand Trunk depot tomorrow at 12:15 p.m. The station has been beautifully decorated for the occasion. The railing surrounding the lawn has been removed, and a temporary walk constructed in a straight line from the train to Richmond street opposite the Tecumseh House. Along this platform, which will be carpeted, the royal party will proceed to the carriage in waiting. When the train draws up at the depot they will be met and formally received by Sir John Carling, Hon. David Mills, Mr. Charles S. Hyman, M.P., Col. P. E. Leys, M.P.P., Hon. Mr. Justice Meredith, Judge William Elliot, Judge Edward Elliott, Cheriff Cameron, Police Magistrate Love, County Crown Attorney Magee, K.C., and Mr. R. K. Cowan, master-in-chancery, all of whom will be presented to their royal highnesses. Four members of the general reception committee will also be present at the depot to guard against any hitch in the programme.

Their royal highnesses, having reached their carriages, the procession will proceed to Victoria Park, where the reception proper will take place. The route will be as follows:

The Route.

G. T. R. depot to Richmond street.

North on Richmond street to Dundas street.

East on Dundas to Wellington street.

North on Wellington to Dufferin avenue.

East on Dufferin avenue to Waterloo street.

North on Waterloo to Princess avenue.

West on Princess avenue to the royal stand in Victoria Park.

Returning to Wellington street, after the ceremony, the procession will move south to Dufferin avenue, west on Dufferin avenue to Richmond street, and south on Richmond to the depot, where the royal party will entrain again at 1:30 p.m.

The Procession.

Major Forrester will reach London from Toronto today, but until his arrival the exact order of the royal procession and the disposition of the troops will not be made known. The order will be about as follows, however:

Three Mounted Police.
(25 yards.)
Two Troopers.
(50 yards.)
One Sergeant.
(50 yards.)
A Staff Officer.
No. 1 Troop of Escort.
(50 yards.)
Carriages of Royal Suite.
No. 2 Troop of Escort.
(50 yards.)
Royal Carriage.

Lieut. the Duke of Roxburghe | Duke and Duchess and Aide. | Capt. the Viscount Crichton

O. 2nd in Command of the Escort. | O.C. The Escort Trumpeter.

No. 3 Troop of Escort.
(50 yards.)
No. 4 Troop of Escort.
(50 yards.)
One Sergeant.
(50 yards.)
Two Troopers.
(25 yards.)
Three Mounted Police.

The Military.

Three infantry regiments, a cavalry regiment and a battery of artillery will assist in the reception. London's own regiment, the 7th Fusiliers, will provide the guard of honor at the royal stand in Victoria Park, and the regiment proper will be drawn up about the stand where the ceremony of presenting colors will take place.

The 26th Regiment of Middlesex Light Infantry will provide the guard of honor at the Grand Trunk depot.

The 27th Regiment, St. Clair Borderers, will, in conjunction with the remainder of the 26th Regiment, line both sides of the streets along which the royal party is to proceed, 15 or 20 soldiers being placed at each street intersection. The redcoats will be in such force that it will be absolutely impossible for an obstruction along the route.

The cavalry regiment, the First Hussars, will be broken up for escort parties and mounted police duty. In addition to these, the procession will be preceded by Police Officers Rowell, Robinson and Dalgleish, mounted.

40 VESSELS LOST!

And Many Persons Perished During the Recent Storms on the North Sea---The Search for Miss Stone.

London, Oct. 11.—Thus far reports have been received of the loss of some 40 vessels in the North Sea during the recent storms. Many lives have been lost.

VANISHES IN SEVEN MINUTES.

The submarine boat Triton had a trial in the open sea off Cherbourg, which proved very successful. She was under the water for an hour and a half and those aboard of her suffered no inconvenience. She takes less than seven minutes to plunge out of sight.

FINNS APPEAL TO THE CZAR.

A dispatch from Helsingfords to the Times says a new monster petition to the czar in regard to the military edicts has been signed by 470,000 persons.

BITTEN BY A MAD CAT.

Mrs. Humphrey Ward, whose "Robert Elsmere" made her famous, is a tient in the Pasteur Institute at Paris. While playing with a pet cat at her home in England, it bit her, and later the cat had to be killed, rabies having developed. The Pasteur physicians decline to tell anything about the case.

EMBARGO ON CANADIAN CATTLE.

The emphatic "No" of President Hanbury, of the board of agriculture, to the Scottish graziers' request for the removal of the embargo on Canadian cattle, again proves the omnipotence and power of the permanent official. Mr. Hanbury is himself convinced from statistics that Canada is free from disease, but in the face of his officials and the British farmer, he dare not admit that the disease may not arise. He also used the argument that Canadians themselves are not unanimous on the subject. Moreover, he could not annul the act of parliament. "So long," he said at Edinburgh yesterday, "as I am minister I will not yield to the graziers' demand."

VENEZUELA'S POSITION.

Caracas, Vengzuela, Oct. 10. — The idea of a peaceful, friendly, satisfactory and conclusive arrangement between Venezuela and Colombia of the existing trouble is not repulsive nor foreign to Venezuela, it being always understood that Venezuela's national honor will in no way suffer thereby. Meantime Venezuela is confident that she can successfully hold her present position against a possible invasion.

TROUBLE AT LAGUAIRA, VENEZUELA.

Port of Spain, Trinidad, Oct. 10.—The British royal mail steamer Eden arrived here today from Laguaira, Venezuela, and brings the following reliable story: Last Sunday night about 50 sailors from the German cruiser Vineta became engaged in a street row at Porto Cabello with the local populace. Police in civilian clothes interfered, siding with the inhabitants, and the fight became general, the Germans making their way towards the wharf, where they boarded the German steamer Valesia, moored at that place. The mob, numbering about 1,200 persons, made an attempt to board the German vessel, but dispersed on seeing preparations being made to fire on them.

HYPNOTIC DOCTOR THRASHED.

Paris, Oct. 11.—Dr. Vial has been indicted upon the singular charge of mesmerizing a Miss Thorne, an Austrian girl, who was sitting opposite him in an omnibus. The defendant admits his guilt, but pleads scientific interest as his excuse. He says that while he was riding in the omnibus with another physician their conversation turned to hypnotism as a means of controlling innocent people for the perpetrating of criminal acts. In order to convince his doubting friend Dr. Vial, having noticed the nervous disposition of a girl opposite him, wagered that he would put her in a trance and cause her to follow them without speaking to her. The experiment succeeded. Miss Thorne went home dazed and afterward became very ill. She told her brother what happened, and he, after thrashing the doctor, sued for damages. The court has postponed giving judgment in the case.

FOR MISS STONE!

Bulgarian Soldiers Conducting a Vigorous Search—Some Brigands Captured.

New York, Oct. 11.—Three battalions of 6th Bulgarian Infantry Regiment marched through the country between Dubnitza and Samakov and searched the villages of the Rilokiosters district, in one of which it was reported the brigands had concealed Miss Stone. says a Sofia correspondent. A searching party, composed of 300 Bulgarian infantry and 500 dragoons is scouring the ranges of Dospat and Rhodopegelbirgen.

The American consul-general at Constantinople has arrived at Sofia with an evangelical paster from Philippopolis as dragoman, and both are taking energetic steps with the Bulgarian Government to effect Miss Stone's release.

The reputed leader of the gang who killed Stambuloff has met his fate. Suspected of being associated in the capture of Miss Stone, he was shot dead on the frontier near Kostendit. Though £1,000 reward had been placed on his head for the murder of Stambuloff, Hallo, the name under which he was known, was too influential a ruffian for the Bulgarian police to arrest.

Four additional brigands have been captured near Tschepino, and a band of 20, fully armed, were discovered near Dubnitza, and driven into the mountains again.

BRODRICK WILL TAKE NO BLAME

The Secretary of War Says Kitchener Has a Free Hand---Criticism Continues---Thirteen British Scouts Gobbled---Buller's "Bad Break."

London, Oct. 11.—The secretary of war, Mr. Brodrick, replying to Sir Chas. Howard Vincent's offer to raise fresh troops or do anything else to assist the government, declines the proposal and, in doing so, lengthily reviews the British position in South Africa, obviously in answer to the persistent and searching criticisms of the ministerial journals and members of parliament, that the government is languidly content to let the war drag on.

Mr. Brodrick says, to begin with, that nothing Lord Kitchener has asked for has not been promptly met. He adds:

PLENTY OF TROOPS.

"We have, roughly, 200,000 men and 450 guns in South Africa, and over 100,000 men are under training at home. We have no difficulty, therefore, in keeping the field army up to its requisite strength, by drafts, and if a further call be made we are in a position to meet it with the utmost promptitude. Notwithstanding this, there seems to be an impression abroad that the close of the war is retarded by a scarcity of troops, or the want of mobility of our columns." This impression Mr. Brodrick combats by reciting what the war office is doing: Providing supplies for 314,000 persons, directly or indirectly connected with the war, feeding 248,000 horses, and mules, and maintaining four months' reserves of food for men and animals. Sixty-nine mobile columns, perfectly equipped are now in the field, and 10,000 remounts are being landed monthly, besides those captured.

Mr. Brodrick says the anxiety can be set at rest at home. The government has never interfered with Lord Kitchener, in whose vigorous prosecution of the war they have entire confidence. He points again to the vast extent of the country.

Alluding to Lord Kitchener's sending back poorly trained Yeomanry, Mr. Brodrick replies that they would have been trained earlier but for the opinion of military advisers in South Africa and at home, up to November, 1900, that no fresh troops were needed.

"When Lord Kitchener asked for 9,000 more," says the war secretary, "the government sent out to him 31,000 fresh troops during the first six months of 1901, besides arms for 20,000 local levies."

NEXT MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.

The chancellor of the exchequer, Sir Michael Hicks-Beach, speaking at Oldham, said he believed parliament would be summoned earlier than usual, but would not be called to attend an autumn session, contending that organized resistance in South Africa really ended a year ago and that only guerillas were now in the field. He said the British Government of the Orange River Colony had raised nearly as much revenue as was raised before the war.

CRITICISM CONTINUES.

The opening of the third year of the war in South Africa today is the subject of editorials in the morning papers reviewing the campaign. Although it is admitted that the reply of Mr. Brodrick to the critics of the war office puts a better face upon the situation, the critics are not satisfied.

"It is useless to talk about the great force employed and the money expended," says the Standard, "unless the government is able to expedite the winding-up operations."

The Times says: "The tone of both Mr. Brodrick and Sir Michael Hicks-Beach is excellent, but the official defense of the faults and omissions of the past is lame and impotent, while the official promises for the future are too vague to be very reassuring."

BRITISH SCOUTS CAPTURED.

Heilbron, Orange River Colony, Oct. 7.—Thirteen of Kitchener's scouts have been captured in Boer ambush.

THE BOERS FALL BACK.

London, Oct. 10.—Lord Kitchener reports to the war office that his brother, Gen. F. W. Kitchener, engaged Commander-in-Chief Botha's main body of Boers twenty miles northeast of Vryheid, on the Natal border, last Sunday.

The Boers retired to the north. Gen. Kitchener is keeping in touch with them. The British had a lieutenant and two sergeants killed and ten men wounded. Other Boers, who are without wagons, are reported near Nparankulu, and a British southern column is approaching that point.

GEN. BULLER RAISES A BREEZE.

London, Oct. 11.—The storm raised by General Buller's outburst yesterday afternoon on the South African situation continues to grow. The speech is the one topic of discussion, and there is general anticipation that disciplinary measures will follow unless General Buller himself takes the advice of such a conservative supporter of the government as the Standard, and resigns. The tone of the press is generally one of surprised amazement at his indiscretions. The people of England have generally stuck to him throughout, and his wife's social influence has been most powerful and has even reached the court. It had been decided that he would be elevated to the peerage on the next honor list, but it is doubtful now, after yesterday's confession, that he advised the surrender of Ladysmith, "a humiliation compared with which," as the Standard says, "all other reverses of the war would have been trivial."

GIFTS FOR KRUGER.

Hilversum, The Netherlands, Oct. 11.—Mr. Kruger was the recipient today of many gifts and addresses upon the occasion of the second anniversary of the declaration of war in South Africa. Among his visitors were the burgomaster of Hilversum and other officials.

TO SOLVE THE QUESTION OF LABOR

Bishop Potter Speaks on the Matter—Laborer and Employer Must Be Brought Closer Together.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Bishop Potter, of New York, was the principal speaker at a meeting of the Church Association for the Advancement of Labor, held at the Alhambra Theater, last night. Bishop Potter said in part: "We shall never solve the question of labor until the organizing minds, the guiding hands and employing managers are identified with the unions with which the employes are identified. There should be a mutual understanding between employers and their help, and both should be animated by a common tie of brotherhood and fealty."

Bishop Potter spoke of the operations of the board of mediation and conciliation of New York, of which he is president. The board had been in existence some ten years, and had settled a number of momentous labor disturbances. The operations of the board were conducted on the principle that nothing tangible could be accomplished if correct social contact was ignored.

MUST COME CLOSER TOGETHER.

In conclusion he said:

"The laborer and employer must be brought closer together. You may legislate as you please, impose taxation as you please, or by any other process readjust the conflicting elements of modern society, but if you have not your heart in the work you will fail utterly. The solution of the labor problem consists in the awakening of the heart of the employer to deep concern for the welfare of those who are in his employ. Their aims and hopes should not be antagonistic. They should mingle the greater, and observe the laws of socal contact. Their aims being identical, their methods should be harmonious if those aims are to be subserved."

NEWFOUNDLAND AGREES

At One With Canada in Its Opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Fortune Harbor, Nfld., Oct. 7.—(Special).—However this Island and the Dominion stand on political questions, there is one theme on which they are unanimous, and that is in their opinion of Dodd's Kidney Pills. In Newfoundland Dodd's Kidney Pills have duplicated their Canadian reputation. On all sides they are spoken of as a really wonderful medicine by those who have tried them, whose number increases every day.

Richard Quirk, of this place, writes about Dodd's Kidney Pills in the universal terms of high praise.

"No tongue can tell," he says, "the pleasure I feel in being able to say that I am indeed permanently cured of my backache by Dodd's Kidney Pills. I never imagined that any medicine could cure me of so old a complaint, and am high in the praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills to everybody who comes my way."

A new form of benefaction to a New England town is that taken in the gift of Francis Schell, of New York, who has given Northfield, Mass., a $22,000 bridge.

Recipe for Making a Tomato Catsup That Looks Nice and Will Not Spoil.

Instead of using spices and darkening the catsup, as well as driving off the fine flavor when stewing, you add, last of all, when the catsup is made, a 25 cent bottle of Parke's Catsup Flavor to a bushel of tomatoes. Full directions on each bottle. See sample of catsup. Sold by all grocers and druggists.

"TASTY TABLET DOSES"

An eminent physician, whose schooling has always been along the line of "strong tonics and bitters" for stomach troubles, now prescribes what he calls tasty tablet doses—Dr. Von Stan's Pineapple Tablets.

And he is only one of thousands of the medical profession who are "getting out of the rut" and taking the common-sense view of things, and instead of strong doses are prescribing for stomach troubles and the ills that are akin, this pleasant and never failing treatment. Every day sees the walls of prejudice crumbling, and nature getting the recognition she merits—for nature's cures are surest. Sixty tablets, 35 cents. 10

SHARP FIGHTING IN THE PHILIPPINES

Uncle Sam's Forces Meet Stubborn Resistance—Entire Police Force of a Town Captured.

Manila, Oct. 11.—A detachment of the 21st Company of Macabebes today encountered a large force of insurgents near Lipa, Province of Batangas. Lieut. Beau, of the Macabebes, was killed, and one of the force was wounded. The enemy was strongly entrenched. After two hours' fighting the Americans retreated to await reinforcements. The insurgents numbered over 300, were armed with Remington and Mauser rifles and apparently had plenty of ammunition.

Martin, a teacher at Mauban, was captured by the insurgents while visiting a neighboring town under an escort of native police. The next day his captors, relenting, tied him in a hammock and carried him to a point within a mile of the town, and released him, saying he was a non-combatant.

The entire police force of Catang, Province of Tayabas, numbering eleven, have been carried off by insurgents, armed only with bolos. Presumably the police made no resistance, as they were well armed with carbines and revolvers.

MODERN WRECKERS

The Immense Sums of Money Invested and Scientific Methods Used.

[Pearson's Magazine.]

Although the work of destroying derelicts at sea falls upon government shoulders, it is not a little remarkable that the work of salvage—the work of raising wrecks and of rescuing derelicts, when possible, from destruction—is entirely in the hands of private corporations.

It is an interesting experience to spend the morning in the offices of one of the great salvage or "wrecking" companies, which have now became so essential for the welfare of a maritime nation, not only because they save the majority of fine vessels that are driven into positions of peril, but because they keep clean channels in all the world's ports.

On one of the walls a large slate will be noticed which tells the exact position of every ship that has recently been disabled. If the day happens to be stormy, with great seas rolling outside the harbor, the telephone and telegraph wires are kept busy reporting accidents along different sections of the coast.

Instructions flash over the wires; specially constructed boats, fitted with every necessity, from divers to derricks, are dispatched with all haste to the scene of the accident; officials hurry to the fatal spot, while the company's photographer puts his traps together to be able to provide pictoral reports of the work as it progresses.

From rendering assistance to harbor tugs which have run aground—a task which occupies only a few hours—the work ranges to saving great liners or disabled ships of war, involving operations on gigantic scales, not likely to be completed within weeks, or even months.

The old-time word "wreckers" has today lost its original meaning and fascination. The wreckers of romance and history lived by plundering wrecks, for which they themselves were responsible as often as not. The wreckers of today live by an honorable calling, for the wrecking of a ship now means the saving of ship and cargo for the benefit of her lawful owners.

—The custom house will be closed at 10:30 a.m. tomorrow for the balance of the day.

NORMAL SCHOOL TO PARTICIPATE.

It has been arranged that the pupils from the Normal school will assemble at the Collegiate Institute with the other pupils of the city.

AT ST. ANDREW'S TONIGHT.

Mr. R. A. Little, B. A., will lecture at St. Andrew's Church tonight, the subject being "Abraham Lincoln." The lecture is under the auspices of the Outlook Mission Band. A programme of music will be rendered by Miss Kate Fraser, Miss Ethel Gunn, Miss Constance Fraser and the quartet.

SENT TO REFORMATORY.

Charles Miller, the Grigg House bell boy who last week pleaded guilty to stealing a watch from Richard Eager, a fellow-employe, was this morning sentenced by Police Magistrate Love to a term of one year and a further indefinite period not to exceed five years in the Penetanguishene Reformatory.

Advice to the People.

Don't crowd.
Don't hurry.
Go early.
Keep cool.
Keep your money in your inside pocket.
Leave the baby carriage and the bike at home.
If you drive keep moving, and always keep to the right.
Don't forget to lock the back door.

Amusements.

"DOLLY VARDEN" TONIGHT.

Canadians have the honor of first setting the stamp of approval on the new comic opera, "Dolly Varden." When a manager launches an expensive venture like the Lulu Glaser Opera Company, it is not altogether the plaudits of the audience that he counts, but he turns to his box office receipts to see if he is liable to be compensated for his investment. In both of these respects have Toronto and Montreal more than reassured Mr. F. C. Whitney, the manager. The attendance at the opening was unusually large for an untried attraction, and the most gratifying feature of it all, from a business standpoint, was that night by night the box office receipts grew. The company, which is a very strong one, arrived this morning at 11 o'clock. In spite of the enormous rush for seats there are a number of good ones left.

AT THE LONDON TONIGHT.

Tonight at the London Opera House the Burrill Company will produce the long-looked-for versiou of Joe Jefferson's success, "Rip Van Winkle." The piece will be mounted and staked with special scenery and handsome costumes for the great demon scene in the third act, and the production is promised to be given second to none, and should be greeted by a large house. At the close of tonight's performance another amateur contest will be held, and those whose names had to be struck off on account of the large number will be given first chance. The contest is for $5, offered by the management, and doubtless the same large list of entries will be booked for it. The performance will be given at 8 o'clock sharp on account of the amateur contest. Tomorrow night, Duke of York day, a souvenir matinee will be given for the children of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," presenting every ticket holder with a beautiful four-colored photo of their royal highnesses, and at night a farewell performance of "Ten Nights in a Barroom," by special request.

"ROBIN HOOD" NEXT WEEK.

Lovers of music who enjoy high-class presentations of comic opera by the greatest opera company in America, will be delighted to learn that the long-looked-for engagement of the Bostonians here is announced at the New Grand next Wednesday, Oct. 16. This company needs no second introduction to theater-goers, as it is pre-eminent in the lyric field. The organization numbers nearly 100 people, including a large chorus of fresh young voices and a trained orchestra of selected musicians. The singers this year in the ranks of The Bostonians include those prime favorities and famous artists Henry Clay Barnabee, W. H. MacDonald, Francis Miller, Albert Parr, Allen Hinckley, George Frothingham, Adele Rafter, Josephine Bartlett, W. H. Fitzgerald, MacDonald Dorrington, Gertrude Zimmer, Charles J. Swikard and S. L. Studley, musical director. For the engagement here it has been arranged to give that favorite comic opera "Robin Hood."

MARIE CORELLI'S "THELMA."

On Wednesday, Oct. 16, matinee and night, Mr. Aiden Benedict will present at the London Opera House Mr. Chas. W. Chase's version of Marie Corelli's "Thelma." The action of the play is laid in Norway and England, and is a most refreshing dramatic novelty. The snow-storm is a very realistic scene, and the death of the Viking on the burning ship will bring tears in every-one's eyes. The company is an excellent one, the leading members having been associated with the best managers.

TWO YEARS FOR STEALING $150

Hotel-Keeper Fined for Selling Liquor on Sunday.

Wanderer Promised To Go To Hamilton, But Couldn't Face the Dread Prospect.

At police court this morning Robert Irwin, an ex-employe of Wood's Fair, was sentenced to two years in Kingston for robbing Mr. J. C. Wood of six $20 gold pieces, three $10 bills and many articles of merchandise.

Frank Patton, of the Grand Central Hotel, was fined $20 and $1 85 costs for breach of the liquor license act.

William Watson, a wooden-legged man, made his third appearance within four days. Yesterday William was let go on his solemn promise that he would go to Hamilton. The prospect was too awful for William to face, and he tried to drown the dreadful thought in drink. He went to jail in default of a $5 fine.

MILITIA ARE CONSTABLES

Act of Parliament Invests Them With Police Powers.

The Public Must Observe Their Orders or Arrest and Punishment May Follow.

Chief Williams desires to call the attention of the public to the provisions of an act passed in 1881, which enacts that when militia are called on to assist the civil authorities they become for the time being constables, and are vested with the same powers as the city policemen. The public will therefore do well to remember that members of the militia can place them under arrest for any disobedience of orders or any obstruction to the performance of duty, and this may be followed by the same penalties as though the arrests were made by the police themselves.

MILES OF ROPE FOR STREETS AND PARK

Vandals Last Night Slashed the Rope, Making Extra Work.

Ropes are being strung along Richmond and Dundas streets today. The rope is of ⅞-inch thickness, and 17,000 feet are being used o the streets, while 30,000 feet more is in place in the park. The rope costs a cent per foot, or $200 in all. Some vandals last night slashed the strung ropes in Victoria Park and on Dufferin avenue, severing them in many places. The breaks will be spliced.

In and Out of Town.

Sheriff Cameron is in Toronto.

Mrs. James Arthur, Lorne avenue, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Ed Addison, Buffalo.

Mr. Fenton Fitzgerald and wife, of Fanshawe, have returned home after spending a pleasant holiday at Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

Mrs. George Leadbitter, of William street, accompanied by Mrs. Harry McKenna, are visiting in Toronto during the civic reception and royal review.

PERAMBULATORS ARE DANGEROUS

They Should Not Be Taken on the Streets During Royal Procession.

Babies' conveyances should be left at home tomorrow, together with the babies. In Toronto Wednesday night they created a deal of trouble in an unexpected crush in front of the city hall. Says the Star: "Several perambulators were, with their precious burdens, caught in the unexpected jam in front of the city hall last night. The kind Providence which usually attends children in moments of peril was evidently in the crowd, for nothing less than a miracle brought the babies through that terrific crush with safety.

KIND WORDS FROM OPPONENT.

Windsor, Oct. 10.—P. M. Keogh, a prominent Windsor Catholic, and an officer of the C. M. B. A. lodge, said yesterday:

"Clarke Wallace has much more of the milk of human kindness than he has generally been credited with. Although I differed widely on his anti-Catholic views, I admired him personally. We were friends from boyhood. In parliament, as a representative, he was a man of no mean ability."

CLARKE WALLACE'S FUNERAL.

Woodbridge, Oct. 11.—The funeral of Hon. N. Clarke Wallace, M.P., worshipful grand master of British America, will take place from his late residence at Woodbridge on Saturday, at 2 o'clock p.m., to Christ's Church, Woodbridge.

BOTH ASPHYXIATED.

Philadelphia, Oct. 11.—Michael F. Creman, aged 36 years, and his son Joseph, aged 10 years, were asphyxiated by illuminating gas during last night, at the home of Mr. Creman's brother, where the victims boarded. It is believed the electrical attachment to the gas fixture became disarranged, permitting the gas to escape. Mr. Creman was manager of a publishing house and a singer of some note.

SUICIDE OF A GRAIN BROKER.

Chicago, Oct. 11.—George Rankin, a prominent board of trade member, and a partner in the commission firm of John Rankin & Company, committed suicide in Oak Park today. Mr. Rankin mourned deeply over the death of his wife, three years ago, and members of his family attribute his act to this sorrow.

THE PARADE STATE.

The parade state will not be made up till evening, but it was something over 11,000 men.

His royal highness rode on to the grounds shortly after 11 o'clock, accompanied by Lord Minto, and attended by a glittering suite, in which the Duke of Roxburghe and Lord Crichton (in the cuirassiers of the Horse Guards' blue) were the most conspicuous figures.

THE DUKE IN THE SEVENTH'S UNIFORM.

The duke wore the uniform of the 7th Fusiliers, with a huge bearskin hat.

The duchess had arrived some time in advance, and with a party of her ladies sat in the royal stand.

The morning had been so misty as to almost obscure the movements of the troops, but it soon began to clear and the march past was seen by the spectators to advantage.

His royal highness, on his arrival, was received by a guard of honor, composed of Upper Canada College Cadets, and the band of the St. Catharines 19th Battalion. At a signal the long line of troops, with the colors of over twenty regiments showing, and cavalry and artillery massed behind gave the royal salute. The glittering staff then passed the lines on a general inspection, the massed bands of over 500 pieces playing "O Canada."

PRESENTED THE V. C.

Returning to the saluting base, where the royal standard was flying, and immediately in front of the portion of the grand stand, where Sir Wilfrid Laurier, Hon. George W. Ross, and the members of the Dominion and Provincial Governments sat, the duke presented Major H. Z. C. Cockburn, of this city, with the Victoria Cross, and also a sword of honor from the people of Toronto.

MEDALS FOR THE VETERANS.

Then followed the presentation of over 500 South African war medals to Ontario soldiers. This was very quickly done, each recipient saluting as he came forward in line and received his medal from the duke's own hand.

Questions Answered.

BELMONT.—A had property upon which there is a mortgage for $300, part due. He died and left it to his widow as long as she lives; at her death it goes to his three children. The widow wants to sell property or let the mortgage be closed. One of the children does not want to sign off. What can the man do that holds the mortgage? Can he compel him to sign off or can he foreclose mortgage, and give a clear deed of it without all signing off? What claim would B get, or could he hold against property by not signing off or could he get anything out of property by not signing off? Ans.—The holder of the mortgage can sell the property under the power of sale in the mortgage if the children are of age, and if not, he can do so by order of the court without any signing off by the widow or the children, who will have a right to the surplus price of the property after payment of the mortgage money, interest and costs in the same proportions as if the property remained unsold. After sale they have no claim or interest in the property itself. If all parties consent to sale the expenses will be greatly lessened.

Happenings of the Hour.

The election of Mr. Thomas Gifford, of New Westminster, is to be protested.

The public school building at Carman, Man., was destroyed by fire. The loss is $12,000.

Brockville's offer for certain islands in the St. Lawrence, near the town has been accepted by the Dominion Government.

It is said that cattle are dying in Binbrook township from pasturing on Alsace clover, but the actual cause has not been learned.

The Association of Protestant Teachers of Quebec have appointed a committee to consider the best means of securing a minimum salary of $20 a month for female teachers throughout the province.

IF YOUR CHILDREN moan and are restless during sleep, coupled when awake with a loss of appetite, pale countenance, picking of the nose, etc., you may depend upon it that the primary cause of the trouble is worms. Mother Graves' Worm Exterminator effectually removes these pests, at once relieving the little sufferers.

THREE JOHNS OF JOHNVILLE.

A Modern Fable by George Ade.

[Copyright, 1901, by Robert Howard Russell.]

John the First was living on the Fringe of civilization, but he wanted to get away from it altogether. So he paced his whole Kit and Caboodle into a Prairie Schooner that had a Jug of Apple Jack hidden in the Straw.

This was in the Good Old Days when we had no Dog Parties at Newport and the Millionnaire was a Rare Bird.

John the First was a Poor White, but that Fact never depressed him as long as the Plug Tobacco held out. He kept his face toward the Setting Sun for many Days. Now and then the Sharp Crack of a Rifle would ring out on the Frosty Air, and another Red-Skin would bite the Dust. John was 1,500 miles from a Shower Bath, and didn't give a Continental. His home-spun Suit fitted him too soon, and the dust of the Trail was in his Whiskers; but in those Days a Pioneer didn't travel on his Looks. John was a rootin'-tootin', fightin' and shootin' Border Ruffian from the remote Head Waters of Bitter Crick. He didn't own such a thing as a Boiled Shirt, and little did he suspect that some day his Posterity would be playing Golf.

John was an Empire Builder, but he did not know it. He headed for the Boundless West, so that he could find plenty of Big Game and put in about 2 acres of Corn and not have to work.

At last he squatted on the Banks of a Stream where Fishing was good. He put up a log Shack and proposed to a broad faced Squaw, who gently but firmly gave him the Mitten. Bearing up under this Disappointment, he continued to pitch Horse-Shoes, hooray for Andrew Jackson and take Ague Medicine.

One day he snaked a Piece of Calico off of a passing Emigrant Wagon. When they were spliced by a Horse Doctor they could not foresee that this was the beginning of the House of John.

Soon after this he traded a Gallon of 40-Rod for 600 acres of Land, such as it was. The Steamboats came up the River and stopped at John's Landing. It was called John's Landing, not because of any desire to do honor to the low-down Trash, but because John was the whole Settlement. By and bye there was a Row of Log Houses called Main Street. Also a General Store. Then John's old Adversary, the Chills-and-Fever, got a jim-tree Coil on him and he cashed in.

John the Second fell into the 600 Acres of Scrub Timber because no one had been foolish enough to buy it from the Old Man. The Railroad came along and cut through it and then John's subdivision swang in with the Real Estate Boom. John the Second began to wear a Paper Collar on Sundays and he lived in a House that had a Bay Window on one side. His Family wore boughten Clothes and played Croquet. About this time it was discovered that John the First had possessed wonderful Fore-Sight. The Land he bought was now sprinkled with Frame Houses, Lutheran Churches, Saloons and Drug Stores and was selling at so much a front Foot. John the Second was known as a Prominent Citizen and became Director in a Bank. He put his Napkin around his neck at the Table and got balled up on his Grammar, but he was there with the Dough, so a good many Allowances were made. When the Governor of State came swinging around the Circle he put up at John's House and after that he was addressed as Hon. John, and at times his Wife compelled him to wear a Necktie. He switched from Cheroots to 10 cent Cigars, and had a second Bay Window put on the House, and it was whispered around that John was throwing on a Heap of Dog.

When he finally shuffled he had over two miles of Buggies and Carriages follow him to the Grave-Yard. The Bereaved Family put up a Marble Shaft as tall as a Smoke-Stack.

John the Third received a Collegiate Education and discovered a Family Crest. He learned that his Ancestors had fought with the Stuarts. But he didn't say anything about his Grandfather fighting with the Mosquitoes. He had his Clothes made in New York and used a Quart of Florida Water every day. He sprinkled the Rugs with it, being a Gentleman in every sense of the word. After building a House that cost ever so much, he spent most of his time at the Waldorf-Astoria. The reason was that the Family could not find suitable Society in Johnville. And where they went they did not find anything else.

The ordinary Plugs had to put on Smoked Glasses when they loked at the members of the John Family. Any one in Johnville who was invited to Dine at the Big House was given such a Lift that he didn't touch anything but the High Spots for a week afterward.

One Day a Stranger in town saw all the People falling off the Sidewalk and groveling in the Dust before the August Presence of John the Third.

"Why does every one Kow-Tow to the Gentleman with the Aristocratic Features?" he asked.

"Sh-h-!" said his Friend. "He comes of a very Old Family."

MORAL—Truth is stranger than Fiction, especially in a Democracy.

METHODIST MISSION BOARD.

St. Marys, Oct. 11.—The annual meeting of the general board of missions of the Methodist Church of Canada was opened here yesterday. Only routine business was done during the afternoon. In the evening the anniversary was held. After religious service Dr. A. E. Mallory, of Colborne, was appointed chairman. Rev. James Henderson, D.D., associate secretary, presented an abstract statement of the annual report of the missionary society, and Rev. A. Sutherland, D.D., the general secretary, presented the financial report. Addresses were delivered by Rev. R. Whittington, D.D., of Vancouver, on "Indian Missions;" Rev. V. C. Hart, D.D., of Burlington, on "Foreign Missions," and Rev. J. Livingstone, of Windsor, on the missionary cause in general.

EDISON'S INVENTIONS

In His Own Opinion Incandescent Lights Are Best—Viewing His Old Home—Sold Papers and Peanuts.

"Thirty years ago I was peddling peanuts and newspapers on that road over there, that runs from Port Huron to Detroit." The speaker was standing on the captain's bridge on the North Land, as the big boat was steaming down the Detroit River, on the dustless highway that leads from Lake Erie to the City of the Straits. The greatest electrician of the age, who hung the industrial firmament of the closing century with millions of incandescent lamps, was directing the attention of his wife, Capt. Brown, and others, who were about him to the scene of his early struggles.

Pleasent indeed must have been the recollection of these events which a kindly fate threw around the genius of a boy to produce the matchless Edison. There was lustre in his eye as he swept up and down the country across the channel, where once the "fast express" from Detroit to Port Huron carried the youngster who was destined to light up the continents with the lanterns of his genius.

There are many who do not hesitate to pronounce Thomas A. Edison the greatest man the century has produced. If we measure greatness by achievement, how can we compare Edison, the man who has kept the patent office busy for a quarter of a century, with other men? Surely you cannot compare a genius of such mental candle-power with politicians or so-called "statesmen." No politician ever hung the highways of human endeavor with lamps to guide the feet of men. A string of words, skillfully chosen, is a beautiful thing, and sometimes moves men to think, but you can't light a town with it at night. There have been other inventors, too, who have revolutionized certain departments of human industry, but the fame of each rests upon but a single invention.

I asked Mr. Edison: "What do you regard as your most important contribution to mankind?"

"The incandescent electric lighting system," he promptly answered. "I not only invented the incandescent light, but I was compelled to work out all the complicated details of the machinery that is necessary to produce that light and distribute it in cities, towns and mercantile establishments."

All this by way of preface to some observations concerning what may yet become Mr. Edison's most important contribution to the arts and industries of man. A few days ago he was granted a patent on his storage battery, upon which he has been working for years.

"I knew this battery had to come," said Mr. Edison, "so I made up my mind I might as well be the one to work out the problem."

It is not too much to say that the industrial world has been waiting for this storage battery. The batteries heretofore in use have been costly, bulky and short-lived. Batteries costing $250 have been known to wear out in twelve months. The electric automobile has been beyond the people of ordinary means. The traction interests of the country have had vast projects under suspension, waiting for some genius to supply a cheap, practicable, dependable storage battery.

Without going into technical details it may be said that Edison has discarded lead in the construction of the storage battery—a metal heretofore regarded as indispensable in these batteries—and has made use of iron and nickel. So incredulous were the electrical engineers over the announced results of Mr. Edison's experiments with these metals that the expert examiner in the patent office who first passed upon his application for a patent made the report: "Impossible, or at least improbable."

It was only after the government expert had made a visit to the Edison laboratory and witnessed the operation of the battery that a patent was granted.

Some idea of the revolution that will be wrought in modern forms of conveyance may be gained from the fact that a battery large enough to propel a "runabout" automobile 100 miles without recharging, can be sold for $25.

CARS AND 120 SHEEP WENT DOWN

Halifax, Oct. 11.—One hundred and twenty sheep are now at the bottom of the Strait of Canso, as a result of the upsetting of a raft off Mulgrave Wednesday afternoon. A flock of 127 sheep were on their way to Sydney from the mainland. At Mulgrave, where the sheep were being conveyed, they were placed on a raft to be towed to Point Tupper. When near the middle of the strait the raft upset, and cars and sheep were consigned to the water. Out of the number seven only were saved.

Coughs, colds, hoarseness, and other throat ailments are quickly relieved by Vapo-Cresolene tablets, ten cents per box. All druggists.

ELSIE.

Lord Hammond now only muttered "the dickens" when Elsie's name was mentioned, and Lady Chase looked sad and sighed. Better than all this, Lord Hammond had returned to his allegiance to Pauline; in fact, he was more devoted to her than he had ever been. Her acting quite fascinated him; he had engaged her for four waltzes at the charity ball; nay, they had a little plan for a secret stroll together in the hotel gardens if the moon shone as it had been shining the last few nights.

The coronet, or at least the title which led to it, seemed very near indeed to Miss Bracegirdle that evening.

"I shall accomplish it," she said to herself, "if only I can hurry matters on and make him understand what a splendid lark it will be to steal a march upon these absurd relations of his, who wish to make him marry Lady Mary Montague. He feels that the world expects him to marry; but when he has married me he will only have himself to please, as I tell him, and I shall please myself, and become one of the most admirable women under the sun. I am sure it must be easy to practice all the virtues if one has an income of several thousands a year; and Arthur has already six thousand a year of his own, and a pretty house at Kensington. I should live there, and fill it with lovely things, and I would soon set the fashion in toilets to—yes, to Europe," she added, with a sudden inspiration of ambitious vanity. He must give me six hundred a year as pin money. I should drive prettier ponies than Morjorie's, even if they cost five hundred pounds the pair. When I drive them in the park, and wear a fantastic costume of pale blue velvet and richest dark fur that I will design myself, and can see now in my mind's eye, all London will worship me. Strangers will ask who I am. Just at first excellent patterns of mothers of grown-up daughters, stout, stupid country squiresses up for the season in town, will wonder whether I am quite respectable; they will consider my style loud; they will think I am an italian countess or a superb Russian of mysterious antecedents. Then they will be told that my home is a handsome mansion at Kensington, standing in its own grounds, and called Hammond House; that it is the suburban residence of Arthur, Lord Hammond, direct heir to the Earldom of Chase, and a rent roll of one hundred thousand a year; they will hear that I am Lady Arthur Hammond, future Countess of Chase; that the Chase diamonds are as large as the Queen's; that the Chase rubies are the most splendid in Europe; that my husband is the handsomest man in England, and the best rider, oh, and the most devoted husband, for he will be devoted—he shall be devoted—when I am his wife. I should be as savage as a tigress if—if he flirted. I should never flirt, or if I did, only to pique him, only to drive him back to me if he thought more of horses, of betting, or cards, or anything than of me. I love him. Yes; I didn't think that it was in me to love a human creature; but I love him more than my life."

Pauline had been chattering volubly to herself all this time, but she was not speaking English; she was talking in a patois of Breton French that she had learned in her childhood. Thus she was not afraid to raise her voice, and she walked rapidly about her pretty and luxurious sleeping-room.

Since Elsie's departure the slumbers of Miss Bracegirdle had been more placid; her mind was easier; she felt sure of securing Lord Hammond now. There were flowers in various vases, placed here and there, in this young lady's room. She was about to make a bouquet for herself. She would have to dress for dinner and the ball at the same time, but the finishing touches would be put to her toilet and her bouquet arranged after dinner.

"I will be the belle tonight," she said to herself, with a complacent smile. "That Marjorie's good looks are the good looks of a dairymaid, earl's proud daughter though she be, and though she would turn into marble, become a stone goddess, I suppose, if I married her brother. I hate her; I don't hate the old woman; she is weak and kind, and one can mold her so, like a pancake or a tart," and Pauline made grotesque gestures with her white hands. "All right," she said; presently. "Now I must dress for dinner."

And when Pauline had bathed her face in some cosmetic wash, and put some real lilies and blue wistaria in her flaxen hair, she attired herself in her glorious new ball dress. It was of ivory satin, embroidered with blue forget-me-nots; it was like the robe of a bride. This was the 'gift' of her father, Captain Bracegirdle, who, notwithstanding the fact that his circumstances were often desperate, and that his wife wore boots of which any woman of refinement would have been ashamed, yet contrived to pay Monsieur Worth a sum exceeding fifty pounds for this costume for his beloved Pauline.

"So I shall be the belle—the very belle—of the ball," said Miss Bracegirdle, when the dress was on. She always dispensed with the assistance of English lady's-maids. "Ah! how brilliant my complexion is when I have put on just that faint touch of rouge! how black my eyebrows! how long and thick my eyelashes! how glorious my wonderful flaxen hair. Ah! I am lovely—lovely—the loveliest woman in England—who can deny it!"

Indeed, Pauline resembled Queen Elizabeth in being at once a very clever and yet a very vain woman. When dinner was announced she went in smiling. She wore the wonderful pearl necklace with the diamond clasp, and certainly she was a handsome, brilliant, distinguished-looking young woman.

Lady Marjorie was absolutely simple-minded and innocent of guile. When she saw the brilliant Pauline, she said to her neighbor at the dinner table:

"Monsieur Lafonte will be proud of Miss Bracegirdle tonight. She is splendid, and she seems devoted to him. How very happy they are! I hope they will marry soon."

Paul Lafonte did not feel at all happy. His love for Pauline was of that absorbing and jealous kind which only a few concentrated and impassioned natures feel; his southern blood boiled in his veins at the mere thought that her smiles were really given to anybody else. Pauline was so deeply cunning that as yet no suspecion of her secret flirtation with Lord Hammond had entered anyone's head; only instinct whispered something—he hardly knew what—in Lafonte's ear.

Pauline sat next him, talked to him, smiled into his eyes, pulled a bonbon-cracker with him when the dessert was on the table. She hardly gave a glance to Lord Hammond, who was delighting one of the Misses Littlewood by paying her spasmodic attentions; and yet Lafonte felt uneasy. Something woke up in him that evening—something told him to watch; something told him that if he did he would find out a secret.

Lafonte was handsome in a dark, somber, Spanish fashion, with clear, olive coloring; straight, rather long nose; narrow, shining, dark eyes, and closely-cut, glossy, raven hair. He was polite, and his manners had the softness and grace of the south; and Basil Byrne, watching him, decided that he would be dangerous, even deadly, if roused. There was a sullen fire in his dark eyes when he found other men attracting Pauline's attentions, which seemed as if it could easily flash out into flame.

And so the dinner ended. The finishing touches were put to all the ladies' toilets. Pauline, wrapped in a fur-lined cloak, was given a seat in a carriage which held only four; and the countess, anxious that the lovers should be able to converse in some foreign tongue without any embarrassment, sent with them only two children who were to be taken to the ball—Miss Conny Ferrers and her brother, a year older than herself.

Away rolled the carriage. The little people chattered together. Lafonte and Pauline spoke rapidly in Italian.

"Pauline, you have my heart," said the young secretary. "Last night I dreamed that I discovered that you were playing with it."

"Do you not know," said Pauline, "that dreams go by the rule of contrary? They have a proverb to that effect in all languages."

"I know that my dream was fearfully realistic," said Lafonte. "More than that, there is a fatal gift in our family—it is that when we dream, as I dreamt last night, it is nearly certain that the dream will be realized."

Pauline laughed an uneasy laugh.

"Pray, what did you dream?" she asked.

"I dreamt that there was a man whom you loved, and that man was not myself. I dreamed that I was in a room hiding behind a curtain, and I heard you tell a man that you loved him, and he said 'Let us wed tomorrow.' I thought that I had no knife in my hand, or that if I had had one I should have thrust it—" Lafonte paused.

"Into the man's heart?"

Pauline was still laughing her forced laugh.

"Into his heart, or into yours, it would not matter which, and then afterwards," said Paul, speaking slowly, "into my own!"

"Silly, silly boy!" said Pauline, "when I love you far more than you deserve—when I have been your betrothed for two years—when we only wait for my debut to become man and wife."

"We need not wait!" said Lafonte. "We can live—you still have rich gifts from your father—I have three hundred a year."

"Paul, would I marry you and go about in this woman's train as your wife? No, I have too much pride! Gifts from my father? That is true, but you know how that money is gained—you know that an atmosphere of ruin, despair and death, surrounds my so-called home—it is the fatal atmosphere of Monte Carlo — you know that, and you would hurry me into marriage before our future is secure! Ah! Paul, your love for me is not true and patient as mine is for you. Women learn to wait and to weep, and to sacrifice self!"

Pauline began to weep. She had conquered for the time; Paul lifted her gloved hands and kissed them fervently.

A NEW RECORD!

Daring Frenchman Rides Automobile a Mile in 1.06 4-5.

Second Day's Scores at the St. Thomas Gun Club's Tournament---Bracebridge Wins the Junior Lacrosse Series From Elora.

AUTO RACING.

WORLD'S RECORD BROKEN.

New York, Oct. 11.—World's records for the automobile from one to six miles, inclusive, were literally blown out of sight at the Empire City track by Henry Fournier, the French chaffeur, accompanied by W. K. Vanderbilt, jun. The fastest mile of the six was made in 1:06⅘, compared with Fournier's world's record of 1:13⅘, made recently on the Fort Erie track.

Miles.	Fournier.	Former World's Record.
1	1:06⅘	1:13⅘
2	2:15⅗	2:28⅘
3	3:22⅘	3:52⅘
4	4:30⅘	5:08⅘
5	5:38⅘	6:24⅘
6	6:47	7:39⅘

After the test Fournier expressed the belief that he could make the mile in an even minute. He will make the attempt some day next week on the Empire City track.

THE RIFLE.

THE ST. THOMAS SHOOT.

St. Thomas, Oct. 11.—The second day of the shooting tournament was characterized by fine weather and good shooting. The main event upon the card yesterday was the Canadian handicap; this contest being open to Canadians only, brought out a big field of competitors. John Stroud, of Hamilton, Ont., captured first money and a handsome trophy, killing 20 birds without a miss. Howard Bates, of Ridgetown, got second, with 19 to his credit. Third money was divided between Scane, Mitchell, White, Cantelon, George and Tyro. The biggest event of the tournament, the Gillman & Barnes trophy, valued at $150, will be contested for today. Howard Bates, of Ridgetown, has twice won this trophy, and Bob Emslie once. It is necessary to win it three times to become the owner.

Event No. 1, 7 live birds; entrance $5—Elliott 7, Crosby 6, Heikes 7, Fanning 6, Fort 4, H. Bates 6, Westbrook 6, Norton 6, J. Parker 7, J. Stroud 5, Wiley 5, McKay 7, Scane 7.

Event No. 2, Canadian handicap, 20 live birds, entrance $10—G. Stroud 15, J. Stroud 20, C. Scane 18, M. Ritchie 17, White 18, Tyro 18, Westbrook 17, Emslie 17, H. Bates 19, D. Bates 17, McMahon 17, Short 17, Donley 16, Hollingshead 18, Mitchell 18, Cantelon 18, George 18.

Target events, No.1, 15 targets; entrance $1.50—Crosby 14, Fanning 15, Fort 13, Courtney 15, Westbrook 12, Wiley 9, H. Bates 12, Emslie 12, Dr. Dollie 12, McKay 11, Gibson 10, Scane 11, White 14.

Event No. 2, 20 targets; entrance $2—Elliott 16, Heikes 17, Crosby 15, Fanning 17, Fort 16, Courtney 18, Westbrook 17, Wiley 13, H. Bates 16, Emslie 13, Mitchell 17, Scane 15, Cantelon 17, Dr. Dollie 16, Hudson 16, Tyro 17.

Event No. 3, 20 targets; entrance $2; $25 guaranteed—Elliott 18, Heikes 20, Crosby 20, Fanning 17, Fort 15, Courtney 17, Westbrook 18, Wiley 14, H. Bates 18, Emslie, 14, White 18, Mitchell 19, Gibson 15.

LACROSSE.

IROQUOIS WINS CHAMPIONSHIP.

Stratford, Ont., Oct. 11.—The Iroquois team, of Stratford, landed the intermediate championship in the C. L. A. series yesterday afternoon by beating Port Hope in the final of home-and-home games by a score of 10 to 2. Last week Port Hope beat Stratford at Port Hope by 6 to 2. The Iroquois thus win the round by 12 to 8.

THE JUNIOR FINAL.

Toronto, Oct. 11.—The final match for the championship of the junior series of the Canadian Lacrosse Association was played yesterday at Rosedale. The competing clubs were Bracebridge and Elora. The former scored four games in the first ten minutes, which took all the starch out of the Elora team. Their play fell far below their usual form. Bracebridge won the match by 13 to 0.

YACHTING.

CANADA'S MANIFEST DESTINY.

New York, Oct. 11.—The impression deepens that Canada will make the next try for the America's cup. A special to the Tribune quotes the Ottawa Citizen in these words: "Canada's manifest destiny is to send over a yacht to lift that America's cup. Canadian yachtsmen can beat Americans on the rivers and great lakes. Why should they not beat them on the ocean? It is worth trying for, and we believe the money could be easily raised to put a Canadian yacht in the race for the America's cup.

FOOTBALL.

LONDON JUNIORS.

Following are the players from which the team to represent the London juniors against the Hamilton juniors in Saturday's match, which begins at 3:30 o'clock, will be selected: Regan, Power, Dowell, McMahen, Ingram, Butler, Adams, Hodges, Mattinson, Johnston, Edmunds, Coughlin, Sippi, Mara, Lee, Maguire, Wilson and Wells. A full practice is requested for tonight.

FISTIC.

FOUGHT A DRAW.

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 11.—Joe Bernstein and Bill Coursey fought a 20-round draw here Wednesday night. They mixed it from the start to the finish, and at times the in-fighting resembled a rough-and-tumble affair. De Coursey was a little fresher at the finish, but Bernstein did a trifle more damage.

A SIX-ROUND GO.

Kansas City, Oct. 11.—George Greene, of San Francisco, got the decision over Tommy Ryan in the sixth round of a bout here last night.

GOLF.

THE WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP.

New York, Oct. 11.—Play yesterday for the women's golf championship and consolation cups was confined to 18 holes match play, eight players having thus far earned the right to compete for the championship. Miss Margaret Curtis and Miss Anthony played a very close game, finishing even up on the home hole in 102. They played an extra hole, which Miss Curtis won in 5 to the western champion's 7. Neither played up to her form. Miss Lucy Hockin, of Cincinnati, beat Mrs. N. P. Rogers, Baltimorol, by 1 up.

Genevieve Hecker, of Essex county, N.J., after giving an exhibition of alternately good and bad golf, beat Miss G. M. Bishop, of Brooklawn, Conn., 1 up on 19 holes. Mrs. E. A. Manice, of Lenox, Mass., beat Miss Mollie Adams, of Wollaston, Mass., by 2 up and 1 to play.

TURF.

TROTTING AT LEXINGTON.

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 11.—After trying for seven years, Ed. Geers yesterday landed a Transylvania stake. Urging Onward Silver, tired from seven fast heats, to his top speed, following one of the most sensational drives through the stretch in the recollection of veterans, he captured the first money in the $6,000 rural. The last finish, as nearly all the previous ones had been, was thrilling, only a short neck measuring the victory. Summary:

WHITNEY'S LATEST PURCHASE.

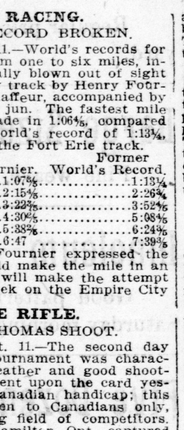

New York, Oct. 11.—William C. Whitney is now the owner of the great filly Endurance by Right. Yesterday the horse was sold by John W. Schorr to John E. Madden, and Madden at once sold her to Whitney. No terms were given out, but the prevailing opinion is that the price paid by Whitney was $20,000. The filly was insured for $26,000. The quick transference of Endurance by Right from Schorr to Madden and thence to Whitney is said to be that Schorr only sold his interest in the filly, which he held jointly with W. S. Barnes, but that the Whitney purchase from Madden included the Barnes interest also.

YOUNG ROCKEFELLER BARS WINE.

Providence, R. I., Oct. 11.—By request of the Baptist bridegroom, no wine was served at the Rockefeller-Aldrich wedding on Wednesday.

SNAKE CHARMING

Is not a popular occupation. Most women shrink from the sight of a snake and would faint at the touch of one. But these same women run greater risks than the snake charmer. How many women allow disease to fasten on them and slowly to crush out their strength.

Womanly diseases should never be allowed to undermine the health. Female weakness, bearing-down pains, inflammation, ulceration, backache, headache, nervousness, and other womanly ailments, curable by medicine, are promptly and permanently cured by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. It makes weak women strong and sick women well.

"I deem it my duty to express my deep, heartfelt gratitude to you for having been the means under providence of restoring me to health," writes Mrs. Oscar Brown, of Oxford, Granville Co., N.C. "For two years I suffered with female weakness, headache, neuralgia in various parts of the system, and after using four bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, three of his 'Golden Medical Discovery,' one vial of 'Pleasant Pellets,' also 'Lotion Tablets,' and one box of 'Antiseptic and Healing Suppositories,' I am cured."

If you are led to the purchase of "Favorite Prescription" because of its remarkable cures of other women, do not accept a substitute.

The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a book containing 1008 pages, is given away. Send 31 one-cent stamps the expense of customs and mailing only, for the book in paper covers, or 50 stamps for the volume bound in cloth. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ADOPTED DIVORCE CANON

Important Action Taken by Episcopalian Bishops.

The Vote on the Much Discussed Measure Was 37 to 21—Proposal to Change Name of Church.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—The action of greatest importance taken on Wednesday by the triennial Episcopal convention was the adoption by the house of bishops by a vote of 37 to 21, of canon 36, which relates to the solemnization of marriage. All of its provisions had previously been argued, except those contained in section 4, which forbade the marriage of persons divorced for any cause not existing before marriage.

"For any cause not existing before marriage" is understood to refer to such causes as insanity, inability to execute a contract, the existence of a living wife or husband, or like reasons which practically render the marriage null and void. This section has been a bone of contention, a strong element in the church holding that the remarriage of innocent party to a divorce, granted on the ground of infidelity, should not be forbidden. The bishops have refused to accept this view of the matter.

The question is by no means settled, as the whole subject is now to come up in the house of deputies, where it is expected to cause a protracted debate.

The bishops have yet to consider canon 37, providing for the discipline of persons marrying after having been divorced. This also will cause lively discussion.

Another important feature of the work of the house of bishops was the appointment of a committee of five to act with similar committees of priests and laymen, constituting a joint committee of fifteen, to consider the proposed change in the name of the church. The committee has no power to act, but is to report its findings at the next general convention, to be held in Boston in 1904.

The house of deputies adopted the report of the joint committee on marginal readings, after agreeing to an amendment eliminating those readings which are original with the committee. The report, as amended, will now go back to the house of bishops for action on the amendment. The house of deputies will take up the canon on marriage and divorce.

Both houses unanimously selected Boston as the place for holding the next triennial convention.

A correction of the vote by which the Episcopal house of deputies adopted the Huntingdon amendment to Article X. of the new constitution, providing for a modified form of worship, resulted in its defeat by one vote.

The report of Assessor Black fixes the total of the assessment of Windsor property at $3,487,250, an increase over last year of $190,000. The amount of exempted property is $875,000. The increase in the street railway property is from $26,000 to $88,000, due to the change in the law requiring the rails and wires to be assessed at something near their real value. Mr. Black gives the population of Windsor as 12,642, which is an increase over last year of 513.

Mrs. Albert McCann, of Joplin, Mo., is in Windsor for the purpose of trying to find some evidence to the effect that her father, John W. Sanford, was murdered in Windsor as far back as 1854. PROCLAMATION

To All Whom These Presents May Concern:

Whereas, their Royal Highnesses the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York have been graciously pleased to accept the invitation of the Municipal Council to visit this city during their itinerary in the Dominion of Canada;

And whereas, in consequence of the extremely limited time of their sojourn here, namely, between the hours of 12:15 and 1:30 o'clock p.m., on the 12th day of October instant, it is desirable that all citizens and others concerned should be afforded the most ample opportunity to see the Royal Party.

THESE ARE THEREFORE TO MAKE KNOWN;

That, by direction of the Municipal Council, I, Frederick George Rumball, Mayor, do hereby request all people desirous of witnessing the Royal Procession to observe as far as possible the following suggestions:

(a) Avoid assembling in great numbers at corners of the streets, as the crossings will be required by the military authorities.

(b) As the roadway will be occupied almost entirely by the Royal carriages and their military escort, the people are requested to occupy the sidewalks and adjoining spaces as evenly as possible along the streets traversed.

(c) It is most desirable, owing to the very short line of march, that there should be no attempt to either precede or follow the Royal procession, and all citizens and other concerned are requested to be satisfied with one view of same, and avoid rushing to any other place along the route, as it is greatly feared that such action would lead to injury, and possibly fatal accidents.

(d) From the hour of 11 o'clock till after the departure of the Royal Party, the streets selected for route of procession will be placed in charge of the military and police authorities, and all traffic thereon will be stopped, and all persons in charge of street cars, carriages, bicycles or vehicles of whatever kind are requested not to drive on or across any of the said streets; and otherwise, as far as possible, aid in keeping same open for the uninterrupted enjoyment of our Royal guests.

(e) It is requested that all citizens, especially those along the streets traversed by the Royal party, will decorate their residences and places of business on the said 12th day of October, and render such other assistance as may be in their power to the Council and committee of citizens which have the reception in charge.

(f) Citizens and others interested are requested to observe that the boulevards and sidewalks on Dufferin avenue, Waterloo street and Princess avenue, immediately adjoining the Collegiate Institute, are reserved exclusively for use of the school children of the city, and that all others will be prohibited from occupying any portion thereof.

(g) Manufacturers and others employing labor are requested to close their works, shops, offices or places of business at the hour of 10:30 a.m., and keep same closed until after the departure of the Royal Party; and I hereby proclaim Saturday, the 12th instant, between the hours above mentioned, a public holiday.

In witness whereof I have caused this Proclamation to be made public at London this 8th day of October, A.D. 1901.

F. G. RUMBALL,
Mayor of the City of London.

THANK OFFERING MEETING.

Last evening the annual thank-offering meeting of the W. F. M. S. of St. Andrew's Church was held, the attendance of members and visitors being large, The president, Mrs. (Rev.) Johnston, occupied the chair. After the routine business, the thank offering, which amounted to nearly $80, was received. Mrs. Gillespie and Mrs. Marr read the Scripture passages connected with the offering, and Mrs. Wm. Ross offered the dedicatory prayer. Rev. Dr. Johnston addressed the meeting briefly on the century's call to women. Miss Templeton and Miss Constance Fraser were present and sang sacred selections, Miss M. Gunn acting as organist. The annual meeting of the society will be held on Oct. 31.

THANKS OF HER ROYAL HIGHNESS.

The following is the gracious acknowledgment made by her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York to the address presented to her by her Excellency Lady Minto, on behalf of the National Council of Women: "I am deeply touched by the kindly and affectionate sentiments contained in the address presented to me by the National Council of Women of Canada. I heartily thank all those who from all parts of this vast country have associated themselves with this token of welcome and goodwill toward my dear husband and myself. The excellent object towards which the endeavors of your society are directed have my sincerest sympathy, and I pray that its work may be crowned with all possible success. (Signed) Victoria Mary."

CHARLTON—HODGSON.

A very interesting and enjoyable time was spent at the home of Mr. Isaac Hodgson, Denfield, Wednesday evening, it being the occasion of the marriage of his only daughter, Laura May, to Mr. Ernest Charlton, of Ilderton. At 8 o'clock, under a bower of ivy and asters, the ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Geddes, of Ailsa Craig. The bride was assisted by Misses Winnifred Ovens, Cynthia Hughes and Elizabeth Wilson, and Mr. Arthur Ovens supported the groom. The home was decorated in rich autumn tints, and the wedding breakfast was very sumptuous, the tables being laden with all the delicacies of the season.

The presents were numerous and very beautiful, showing the deep regard in which the young people are held by their friends and associates.

Among the guests, about seventy in number, were Mr and Mrs. Stuart Ovens and Mr. and Mrs. John Hughes, grandparents of the bride and groom, respectively.

The young couple left amid showers of rice and old shoes for a trip to Buffalo Exposition and other places, and on their return will settle in their beautiful home on the tenth concession of London township.

PREPARING TO RECEIVE ROYALTY!

General Reception Committee Completes Details.

Reports of Sub-Committees—Requests of Local Council of Women Refused—The Decorations.

The general committee of citizens for the reception of the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York met last night at the city hall, and with the exception of a few details to be arranged today, made final preparations for the reception of royalty.

Those present were: Mayor Rumball (in the chair), Sir John Carling, J. B. McKillop, O. E. Brener, Thomas Beattie, ex-M.P., Ald. Winnett, Thos. Gillean, James Magee, K. C., John Forrestal, Judge Edward Elliott, Dr. Moorhouse, Peter Birtwistle, Ald. Campbell, Moses Masuret, Isaac Waterman, Adam Beck, Ald. Cooper, John Labatt, Ald. Jolly, Ald. Gerry, Frank E. Leonard, Col. Young, Police Magistrate Love, Col. Leys, M. P. P., Dr. English, Ald. Stevely, R. K. Cowan, J. C. Duffield, City Engineer Graydon, Dr. J. D. Wilson, John Cameron, Dr. Eccles and Secretary Kingston.

Mrs. English, 300 Oxford street, wrote asking that Mrs. H. A. Boomer, representing the Local Council of Women, numbering 1,000 to 1,200, and embracing 16 or 17 societies, be tendered a seat on the platform.

P. M. Love, seconded by Ald. Cooper, moved that the request be granted. The motion lost on a division of 18 to 8.

Ald. Jolly read a letter from Mrs. Boomer. As the committee had not seen fit to allow a few minutes for the presentation of a bouquet of flowers from the ladies of London to the duchess, Mrs. Boomer requested that the committee consent to having the flowers sent to the car.

On motion of Mr. McKillop, it was decided that the ladies be notified that the committee had no power to give consent, but the committee would have no objection to the ladies doing so if they obtained permission from the proper parties in charge of the royal train.

Crown Attorney Magee spoke of the published item to the effect that the W. A. M. A. of Huron Diocese intended to present the duchess with flowers and a morocco-bound copy of the minutes of the association's last annual meeting. "This sort of thing should be sat upon," said Mr. Magee.

Ald. Jolly asked if the city was to pay $10 per pole for the street decorations as they then stood. A good deal of public complaint existed, he said.

Mr. Thomas Coffee, chairman of the decoration committee, assured the committee that the decorations as they stood would not be accepted by the city. Engineer Graydon had notified the contractor that he would not accept the decoration of the city hall.

Ald. Winnett explained that the scheme of street decoration included the embellishment of the telegraph as well as the trolley poles.

The reception sub-committee's report provoked considerable discussion. Some members wished a deputation of prominent citizens to receive the royal party at the train. The mayor favored the military authorities taking charge of the party and escorting them to Victoria Park, where the mayor and civic dignitaries would receive them. The matter was left in the hands of the mayor and the reception sub-committee.

The names of Police Magistrate Love, Crown Attorney Magee and Mr. R. K. Cowan, local master in chancery, were added to the list of persons to be presented to the duke and duchess.

The members of the committee will wear silk hats, dark coats and ties, and undressed kid dun or gray gloves.

Sir John Carling suggested that the citizens have impressed upon them the necessity for private effort in the decoration of stores, offices and dwellings. Members of the committee volunteered to call personally upon the citizens along the line of march.

Mr. John Cameron outlined the arrangements made for the reception of the visiting press men. They include the presentation of a copy of "Illustrated London" to each of the English journalists.

Mr. Adam Beck spoke of the presentation of the colors to the Seventh Regiment, and suggested that the ladies who subscribed select one of their number (suggesting Mrs. E. B. Smith, president) to step forward and request the duke to graciously present the colors.

Ald. Jolly announced that the ladies who had subscribed for the colors might obtain their tickets of admission to the roped-off space provided for them by calling at his store, 190 Dundas street. The tickets will admit only through the Princess avenue gate.

The committee adjourned at 9:50.

NEW YORK DAY

Broke All Gate Records at the Pan-American—Attendance Was 129,576, Despite Clouds and Showers.

Buffalo, Oct. 11.—New York State Day was the biggest state day of all and one of the greatest of the whole exposition. The railroad men predicted an attendance of from 150,000 to 200,000, and the result shows that had it not been for dark skies and fitful showers they would not have been far out of the way. At least 25,000 more Buffalo people would have attended had the weather been favorable.

Prof. Litchfield, of Boston, won the Stadium balloon race for $3,600 from Leo Stevens. The start was made at 4:11 p.m.

Both balloons started in a northerly direction, the Boston craft gradually rising higher than its competitor till it was 200 feet advantage. In about six minutes the aeronauts cut loose their parachutes and fell close together in a field near Kenmore Cemetery. They executed various feats on the trapeze bars as they sailed through space, and the flight was very spectacular.

A MAGIC PILL.—Dyspepsia is a foe with which men are constantly grappling, but cannot exterminate. Subdued, and to all appearances vanquished in one, it makes its appearance in another direction. In many the digestive apparatus is as delicate as the mechanism of a watch or scientific instrument, in which even a breath of air will make a variation. With such persons disorders of the stomach ensue from the most trivial causes and cause much suffering. To these Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are recommended as mild and sure.

BAD WRECK AT HARRISBURG

No. 2 Accommodation Crashed Into East-Bound Freight.

Engineer Robertson's Leg Was Broken, But London Crew Escaped Unhurt.

Engineer George Robertson, of Niagara Falls, had one of his legs broken near the ankle at Harrisburg, through a collision which occurred there between passenger and freight engines, yesterday afternoon.

No. 12 accommodation, with Engineer Robertson, leaving here at 2:10 o'clock for Niagara Falls, in stopping at the station at Harrisburg, struck engine No. 309, east-bound freight from London, standing on an adjoining track and not quite clear of the switch, owing to the air brake failing to hold the train, through the air pump giving out. Both engines were demolished.

Engine No. 309 was manned by Engineer Carson and Fireman Barnes, of this city. Robertson was the only person injured, all the members of both the other crews jumping in time. He was removed to a hospital at Hamilton.

The accommodation was delayed about 40 minutes awaiting another locomotive.
