

Local stock brokers today report that the brokerage business is much brighter than would be expected under the circumstances in connection with the stringency in the money market.

With the exception of the fall of ten points in C. P. R. stock yesterday there has been no serious break in stocks.

Yesterday, in order to prevent, so far as possible, the shipment of gold to the United States Bank of England advanced its rate 7 per cent.

The reason given for the slip in C. P. R. stock yesterday was liquidation. The break was more than half-way today.

Business brokers look for better times in the stock world shortly. Money is still very tight, but business is brisk.

NO CLASH OF IMMIGRATION AGENTS

Ottawa, Nov. 7.—Hon. Nelson Monteth, Ontario minister of agriculture, and Mr. C. C. James, his deputy, and Thomas Southworth, superintendent of colonization for Ontario, waited upon the Minister of the Interior today to discuss matters connected with the distribution of immigrants arriving in Ontario.

Both the provincial and the federal authorities maintain agents throughout the Province to take care of the distribution of the newcomers among the farmers who may want them. It has been claimed by the provincial authorities that this resulted in overlapping and clashing between the officials. The Minister of the Interior's information, however, went to show that whatever clashes had occurred between individual officials did not amount to much, and Mr. Oliver seemingly succeeded in convincing Mr. Monteth that things had better be left as they are for the present, until at least there were more coming in than the present organizations can find employment for.

Middlesex Wants Good Road Grant

At the last June sessions of the county council, a committee was appointed, consisting of T. G. Turnbull, chairman; S. Frank Glass, secretary; Councilors J. C. Knapton, of Parkhill; and D. D. Graham, of Glenora, and County Commissioner Talbot, to draft a bylaw to be submitted at the December sessions of the council for the assuming by the county council of certain roads to be designated and approved by the county, and to be improved and maintained by the county under the provisions of the county roads' act of the Province of Ontario, whereby the county would receive from the Government a grant of one-third of the total amount so spent.

The county of Wentworth adopted a bylaw of a similar nature in the year 1902, and up to the end of December last, had received from the Government the sum of $86,800.24. The great improvement in the roads of the county is felt amongst the farming community, as it is quite easy to draw a load of five tons or more over the roads that have been so improved.

The object of the good roads' system which the Government is encouraging is to have a system of roads throughout the county leading to the principal market centers of the county so designated and improved so as to afford the farmers better facilities for marketing their produce. Larger loads can be carried, and an enormous amount of expense saved in haulage.

The county of Middlesex feels that it should not be behind in this matter, and that it should take such action as may be necessary to share in the provision which the Government has made for encouraging these improvements.

The committee appointed visited the county of Wentworth last July, and was courteously received by Warden Vansickle, and Road Superintendent James L. Taylor. The committee were taken over a great part of the good roads system of that county, and were more favorably impressed with the benefits to the county in adopting this system of improving highways.

The committee met at the county buildings this morning, and adjourned to meet this afternoon, when Deputy Minister of Public Works A. W. Campbell, who arrived in the city this morning, will meet the committee and give them such assistance and advice as may be necessary in drafting the bylaw and otherwise.

SWEPT AWAY BY GALE.
St. John, N. B., Nov. 7.—A terrific easterly gale raged along the Bay of Fundy last night, the wind reaching a velocity of from 60 to 70 miles per hour. A large section of the C. P. R. track at Notre St. Andrews was washed away.

NO CHANCE OF WAR SAYS HAYASHI
Mikado's Minister of Foreign Affairs Discusses "Japanese" Situation.

Tokio, Nov. 7.—The official silence so long consistently maintained by Japan on the subject of the relations of the United States and Japan in connection with the persistent reports of friction was broken today by an Associated Press interview with Minister of Foreign Affairs Hayashi.

He prefaced his statements by expressing the hope that a sincere pronouncement by the foreign minister of Japan and its publication through the Associated Press would prevent further misrepresentation and result in discrediting those who are constantly circulating false and harmful reports. He spoke not only as foreign minister, but as representing the sentiment of the entire cabinet and the public. Minister Hayashi then said that the relations between Japan and America were as smooth and cordial as ever, and the cause of the civilization as well as community of interest demanded their lasting peace and friendship.

Minister Hayashi admitted that the immigration question, the most serious, was uppermost in the public mind, but feels positive it will be settled without friction. Already it has probably been decided. The Japanese Government proposes to control emigration in such a manner as to benefit Japan, and at the same time conform to the wishes of the American Government, and is taking most active steps in this direction.

SWAMP YORK LOAN ASSETS
Half-Million Dollars in Nova Scotia Claims, Say Liquidators.

Toronto, Ont., Nov. 7.—The York Loan Company's liquidators and the Nova Scotia shareholders of the late concern continued their battle of rights before Referee Kappela at 3 o'clock this afternoon. When this case came up some days ago it was argued that the company had no right to sell shares in Nova Scotia, and that this made the claimants creditors, and not holders of stock. If this is the case, they can claim a share of whatever is paid the regular creditors, and they will also be immune from standing as members of the company in the liquidation proceedings.

"I understand," said Mr. Masten, for the shareholders, that the liquidators have evidence that there was money paid, and also some transaction of business with the provincial secretary of Nova Scotia.

"Yes," explained Mr. Douglas, "and we also have a letter from our Nova Scotia agents, saying that we were ready for business there."

"I think it is to our interest to work together in this, to get the true facts of the case," said Mr. Masten. "I agree," said Mr. Douglas, "but remember there are half a million dollars involved; enough to swamp our assets, so it is my duty to let nothing pass, unless I am absolutely sure of it."

Stanfield's Underwear

(Chapter 3)

When wool reaches the Stanfield mills from farmers, who have sent us their best wool for years, it is thoroughly washed. Then it is rendered absolutely unshrinkable.

Then it is COMBED. This process consists in passing the wool through a machine that combs out all the short lengths, weak threads and snarled strands of wool—something like one combs the hair.

After the wool has been combed, all the fibres are the same length and strength. The Stanfield Combing Machines are mighty particular, too. They comb only WOOL—and they comb out everything but the longest, strongest strands.

Most Underwear is made of CARDED wool. Now, carding consists in tearing the fibres into short lengths. Mills, using carding machines, put the whole wool through—short wool, weak fibres, even cotton and shoddy—the carding machines make no distinctions.

The "cream" of the best wool—rendered absolutely unshrinkable by the Stanfield process instead of being "eaten" with lime—combed instead of carded—knitted with a lock stitch that prevents raveling—is it any wonder that Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear wears so well, and is so thoroughly satisfactory?

All sizes from 22 to 70 inch chest measure. 3 weights—RED label for light weight—BLUE label for medium—BLACK label for heavy weight.

Your dealer has all sizes and weights, or can easily get them for you.

"COLONY" AND "DOMINION"

Whether or not there is anything in a name depends altogether on circumstances. It is now pretty generally admitted that a rose by any other name would smell as sweet, but the designation of a nation is in a different category. There is our own country, Canada. In the past it has been known as a colony, a term which, as sometimes used by American and British writers, is none too pleasing to Canadians. "Canada is only a colony," foreigners are wont to say, "and as such has no diplomatic status. It is with the mother country we must deal when matters affecting that colony come up." Britishers themselves are apt to adopt a patronizing attitude toward colonies and colonialists, scarcely less offensive than that of foreigners.This is to be all changed. In Lord Elgin, the colonial office has at its head a man capable of appreciating the situation. And with the view of letting the world know the difference between the self-governing countries of the empire and the colonies, he has caused it to be made known that Canada, Australia, New Zealand, Cape Colony, Natal, Newfoundland, and the Transvaal are dominions, while the colonies are Orange River Colony (for the present, at least), India, the minor African possessions, the West Indies, British Guiana, and the smaller "red spots" on the map of the world. The two terms indicate the distinction between the self-governing countries and countries under immediate control of the crown, with no representative institutions or parliamentary governments.The term "dominion" was selected for Canada at the time of Confederation; still we have ever since been known as a colony. Sir John Macdonald sought to have the designation
"Kingdom of Canada," a proposition which the Imperial Government overruled. That Sir John never became quite reconciled to the name chosen is shown by the fact that as late as 1889 he informed Lord Knutsford, then colonial secretary, that a mistake was made, and a great opportunity lost, when his choice of name was rejected.The change in official nomenclature, even though it does not extend our treaty-making powers or improve our status diplomatically, will be welcomed by Canadians as a recognition that Canada's standing is not inferior to that of England, Ireland or Scotland as a self-governing country of the greatest empire the world knows.

BRAG AND BLUSTER.

Yankee brag is proverbial, but perhaps we Canadians would have been as open to reproach on this score if we had had the same record of material progress behind us. Until recent years we have not had much excuse for "blowing our own horn," but the eastern Canadian hears a good deal of this tooting in the western provinces.
It is supposed to be a national weakness in lusty young countries. Newcomers from the old land complain that in even these parts of Canada they are given to understand that they are unfortunate in having been born and reared in a country so behind the times as Great Britain. An English correspondent, Harold Begbie, who has been touring the country, appears to have been riled by a pert young man in Calgary, who boasted of his Cana-dianism and confessed that the mother country inspired in him no particular sentiment or enthusiasm. Mr. Begbie says he rebuked the youth in language something like this:"The health of the people of the old country, their share in the refinements of civilization, their wealth, their strength, and their learning, continues to increase. Our men of science, our theologians, our publicists and newspapers illumine the world. Our politicians are long-headed, honorable men. Our banking system and our insurance business inhabit the lofty place of security. There is nothing in all the world like the Manchester ship canal and the dockyard at Portsmouth.
We have a perfect postoffice. We have judges beyond the reach of bribe, newspapers beyond the reach of corruption, politicians who cannot be got at. Our hospitals are the wonder of the world. Our charity is prodigious. The kindness and sweetness of our home life is not to be matched. We are civilized. We work, and we also live. We are rich, but we are also human. Listen, I pray you. This Great Britain of ours, young gentleman, is hopeful about its colonies, and is proud of its colonies; but a hen, even when her chickens have learned to peck for themselves, can still lay eggs.
Pray do not think that Britannia is doddering. Britannia is no fool. Britannia is quite well, I thank you. If you prefer American customs and manners, if you would desire the American spiritand not the British spirit to inspire your politics, your home life, your administrations, the law, your literature and your art —go before an audience of old-timers and propose an application to Washington for painless absorption. But whatever line you follow, be so good as to remember when you speak of the old country, that Great Britain protects you, that Great Britain is flourishing in the van of the nations. And whenever you hear the name of Great Britain, if you cannot go so far as to take off your hat, at least refrain from—The spittoon, I observe, is prolific in your country."A Jefferson Brick or any Fourth of July spouter could scarcely get off anything more offensive than this purple patch of Mr. Begbie's. If he was guilty of such bluster he certainly went the fresh Canadian youth "one better." This assumption of superiority by a class of Englishmen is resented by Canadians, and is responsible for the failure of some of these newcomers to get along as they expected to in this country, but Canadians should also be on their guard against adopting a similar attitude toward old country people. The eastern Canadian, who has encountered western blowhards and listened to disparaging words of everything and everybody east of Lake Superior, knows how the average Briton feels in the presence of Canadian bumpi-tousness.

THOSE INSPECTORSHIPS.

"It perhaps ought to be mentioned here that the appointment of Fred Kellond to a factory inspectorship will be highly approved by every Conservative in the city. It is understood that when the appointment of factory inspectors was first decided upon, Toronto, always on the lookout for appointments, had the whole business arranged in a very short time, and to the entire satisfaction of Toronto.
"But the Toronto plan was defective, inasmuch as it failed to recognize the existence of a most important and progressive manufacturing town called Hamilton. And we think it will be discovered that the upstaging of the Toronto programme was entirely due to the watchfulness and good work of the representative of West Hamilton."Hamilton Spectator.
These paragraphs will be read with melancholy interest by certain individuals in London. The factory inspectorships in the gift of the Ontario Government have been doing duty in more than one riding. There was a scramble in this city for one of the jobs, and the local member of the Legislature has been perplexed in the extreme. One of the applicants says he got a distinct promise, which has not been fulfilled. He is correspondingly sore, and the local member is far from comfortable. Evidently there is some reason for the Spectator's tribute to the Hendrie pull.Leader MacKay is throwing splendid energy into his work.The Lusitania has now nothing to do except break her own record.The rush of Detroiters to deposit money in Windsor banks shows that a good name is among the assets of Canadian financial institutions.Our local contemporary argues that Mr. Aylesworth, being a man of conscience and finer feelings, is impelled to resign from the Laurier Government. As Mr. Aylesworth says that he has no intention of resigning, our contemporary will be obliged to paint another picture of him.

A POINTER FOR LONDON.

[Hamilton Herald.]
Mr. James A. Blair, of London, has offered that city $20,000 on condition that it go towards the building of a tuberculosis hospital for that city. We think London would be wise to accept the offer.
Philanthropists in Hamilton receive little encouragement to do anything for the poor and sick of the city, owing to the many obstacles thrown in the way of accepting such gifts.

PRODUCER GAS.

[Hamilton Times.]
Producer gas at $7.50 a horsepower, plus interest on an $8,000 investment, is the experience of one London firm. Evidently the hydro-electric scheme will have competitors.

IS LONDON EASY?

[Hamilton Times.]
London's distribution plant is estimated to cost $25,000, or about $60,000 more than ours. But perhaps London is sized up as being easier to convince without data than Hamilton.

MERELY WAITING.

[S. E. Kiser.]
I have a fleet of ships at sea,
That sailed away long, long ago,
And when they shall return to me
I shall have favors to bestow.Rich cargoes I shall proudly claim,
And men who frown on me today
Shall give me praise and cease to blame
When my fair fleet comes up the bay.Ah, say not that he hopes in vain
Who merely stands beside the shore,
And looks away across the main,
Where head winds blow and breakers roar.

CONSIDERATE.

[Life.]
"Sa, Pa, won't you buy me a drum?"
"No, I'm afraid you'll disturb me with the noise."
"No, I won't, Pa; I'll only drum when you're asleep."

ODD STREET NAMES.

[London Chronicle.]
Edinburgh has some queerly named streets, among which are Jacob's Ladder, Gabriel's Ladder, Coffin Lane and Cuddy Lane. It is, however, in the "close" thatthis ancient city figures best. There are,
for instance, Hole in the Wall Close, Little Jack and Big Jack Close, Lady Stairs, Heave-Away and Long Closes. The last is one of the shortest of these, and in that resembles Crooked and Turning-In Lanes in London, the former being as narrow as a die, and the latter so narrow that a vehicle in it cannot possibly turn again.

TO A LADY MUMMY.

[T. P.'s Weekly.]
When you wear that garment blue,
Walking on the banks of Nile,
Did your friends admire the hue
When you wore that garment blue?
The color suited you?
Said they, "Hain't she a style?"
When you wore that garment blue,
Walking on the banks of Nile.Did your dress do up behind,
When you lived beside the Nile?
I should be most pleased to find
That your dress did up behind;
Clear would the centuries bind
The Lion and the Crocodile,
If your dress did up behind,
When you lived beside the Nile.

A REASONABLE REQUEST.

[Life.]
Vicar's Wife—No; the vicar is not in just now. Is there any message you would like me to give him when he returns?
Old Woman (cheerfully)—Please, mum, Martha Higgins would like to be buried at two o'clock tomorrow afternoon.

A COMMON COMPLAINT.

[Puck.]
"How's your wife?"
"She's having constant trouble with her head."
"Can't the doctor help her?"
"No—nobody but the milliner."

THE MUSIC HABIT.

[Nation.]
Here we have the billiard habit and the bridge habit at night, but not the music habit. It has not yet dawned on the average Englishman that he could be just as happy an evening listening to a fine opera or a grand orchestra as he now is under the infliction of a business musical comedy or pantomime.

SHE LIKED HIS VOICE.

[London Tit-Bits.]
At the close of a grand ball a celebrated actor of the Court Theatre in Berlin was standing in the passage waiting for friends. A beautiful woman approached him. "I beg your pardon," she said. "Have I the honor of addressing the famous Herr Donnestimme, whose powerful and sonorous voice I admired last night in 'Macbeth'?" "May I ask you to do me a favor?"
"I am at your service, madam."
"Then will you be good enough to call in your loudest tones for the carriage of Baroness Schwartz?"

AN EMPTY DREAM.

[Toronto Star.]
One of the dreams of the Conservative politicians is that an immense Conservative majority in Ontario may offset the Liberal majority in the Dominion. The fact is that the Conservatives are scarcely ing their own in the Ontario by-elections.
No one regards London as anything but an exceptional case. London in a party contest would be what it always has been, a close and doubtful constituency. North Wellington and East Northumberland have increased their Liberal vote, and the Conservative vote has been reduced. The other by-elections held since the general election of 1904 have been favorable to the Government. There is not the slightest evidence of any desire on the part of the people of Ontario to offset the great Liberal majority in Quebec with a great Conservative majority in Ontario.

WHAT THE DOCTORS NEED.

[Toronto Star.]
The doctors are said to be debating whether or not an art degree would improve their standing. We think not. What a doctor needs to inspire confidence is an impressive bedside manner, and the pale cast of thought mingled with the right kind of whiskers.

HIGH GROUND.

[Catholic Standard.]
The moral ground some men are found
To take is high enough;
But, after all, the highest ground
Is frequently a bluff.

OFFICIAL IMPUDENCE.

[Toronto Star.]
Some restraint is imposed upon Dominion and Provincial officials, but the liberties that are taken by officials of the city of Toronto are simply indecent. It looks as if they presume upon the fact that the city is Conservative, and believe that the Conservative electors of Toronto will support them to any length that they choose to go.It's Nutritious

DESIGNED BY MARTHA DEAR.

A MODISH AFTERNOON TOILETTE
6040-6041.

A popular example of the jaunty little wraps that are now having such a vogue in Paris for afternoon dress is here sketched, (No. 6040) in combination with the newest 9-gored skirt (No. 6041). Chiffon velvet of the admired Laurier green was used for making the jacket, with chiffon broadcloth of the same color for the skirt, fancy silk braid of a darker shade being chosen for trimming both. The jacket is constructed in Japanese style, and is cut in one with the kimono sleeve, the only seams being those under the arm. It is becomingly fitted at the waistline in the back, while in front its shaping adjusts it to the figure. The skirt is made quite without fullness at the hips except at the center back, where there is an inverted pleat; but at the hem it widens out into a modish flare. Both garments shown in this costume are suitable for making in the modish fabric, including velvet, corduroy and the novelty woolsens. 2 yards 44 inches wide (or 4 yards 22 inches wide) being needed for the jacket and 5 1/2 yards of material 44 inches wide for the skirt, both in the medium size. Two patterns—6040—Six sizes, 32 to 42 inches bust. 6041—Six sizes, 22 to 32 inches waist. The price of these patterns is 70c, but either will be sent upon the receipt of 10c.

etinct which underlies all motherhood, the fierce, savage impulse to protect or avenge its young. Had ever woman been so foully, so cruelly despoiled and deceived, and now there stood her dead child's supplanter, who to her disordered fancy seemed to have robbed her Isobel of her very form and place, as well as her name and place and the love which should have been hers. How could her own mother-heart, her mother instinct have been so cozened as to accept so blindly this brilliant counterfeit of the gentle dead? Isobel felt upon her knee and stretched out imploring hands across the silent figure which lay between. It had come at last—that which she had been dreading during the long hours of Lady Stormont's absence behind that locked door, and when no summons had come to her to join her mother in their common sorrow. It was the lost Isobel's mother burning with grief and outrage who faced her now—her mother no longer.

"I know—I know," she cried in a voice that pierced, "the very sight of me must be terrible to you—that I should be alive—here—while she is not. I would give my life to bring her back, and it would be no great gift, for death could not be more dreadful than that moment when I learned who I was—and who I was not! I never knew what love was till I knew you, and when I found that I had no right to it—!" Her voice broke. "But I would not knowingly have taken what was her due—not one look—not one kiss—if—!" Her eyes fell upon the dead face, and it silenced her. "Can you forgive me that I did?" she pleaded humbly. "It is my one sin against you. No, I am not a sinner against you, my presence here is a wrong done to you. I should not have come, and yet—he is my father—and you have so filled my heart with love that it is hard to empty it all at once, and through this long, dreadful day—!" She stopped abruptly, looking timidly, yearningly into the face which had always brightened to her glance before. "I will go; but—oh, if you can forgive the dead—have mercy on the living, if you can forgive me."

She knelt a moment longer, her face a prayer more eloquent than the broken, pitiful words, while slowly, hardly, the storm in the mother's breast died down as across her dead she looked at her husband's child, and the last despairing appeal rang again in her ears—"If I cannot pray for myself, I can beg for pity for my child—she is innocent." Who had suffered the greater wrong herself or that poor young mother, driven to despair and death, or the child flung helpless on a cold, grudging world, and now so marvelously brought back to the place which was hers by right? Lady Stormont was a devout as well as a just woman, and as she looked toward the child, brought together at last, an awe fell upon her.

"My poor child, you have little need to beg for forgiveness," she said at last. "What you did was for my sake and faltering—I know it, I would have been hard for you to do otherwise. But you have been sorely sinned against—can you forgive that? He said you found it hard to forgive—can you forgive your father now? with a look toward the silent witness, who in the majesty of death seemed to belittle the brief strife of hot human hearts, so soon to be stilled even as his.

Isobel's tears came with a rush. "If you can forgive me," she whispered, "and with their dead between them the wife and the child drew together again. There was a long, sacred stillness, and at last Lady Stormont said, with faint smile:

"We shall learn to know each other anew, but I wish you to read this," drawing out Sir David's letter. "It will explain much, and it will help you to understand your father, as well as to forgive him."

To Be Continued.

RATIONAL SUNDAY LEAGUE ANSWERED

Rev. E. B. Lanceley Replies to Statements of Press Committee.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Some statements have been furnished the press lately, demanding a refutation.

1. The Methodist Conference has voted $10,000 to employ an expert Christian lobbyist to secure further restrictive Sunday laws.

The Methodist Conference has done no such thing, and I would respectfully ask date and occasion of such alleged appointment and name of appointee. My defective optics fail to discover such appointment in the documents of any annual or general conference of the Methodist Church.

2. Seven thousand wage-earners and thousands of others of the city of London have been refused their British right to vote on the question they are so much interested in. Seven thousand wage-earners have never asked to vote on the question. The petition to which it is alleged 6,000 names are attached asked the council to take immediate steps to secure Sunday cars for London and suburbs.

The city solicitor gave opinion that the council had no power under its bylaws to do any such thing. When it became known what the solicitor's opinion was, then three men (not 7,000 wage-earners), the press committee of the Rational Sunday League, addressed the council, asking for a plebiscite without the official endorsement of the petitioners. Seven aldermen voted in harmony, not only with the decision of the city solicitor, but with a petition of 11,000 residents, requesting the council to take no action, while the remaining five were the supporters of the proposal of these three men.

At a later meeting of the council another petition, bearing less than 175 names, was presented, requesting the council to reconsider its former action, and submit the question to popular vote.

OPERATION AVOIDED

EXPERIENCE OF MISS MERKLEY

She Was Told That an Operation Was Inevitable. How She Escaped It.

When a physician tells a woman suffering with serious feminine trouble that an operation is necessary, the very thought of the knife and the operating table strikes terror to her heart, and our hospitals are full of women coming for just such operations.

There are cases where an operation is the only resource, but when one considers the great number of cases of menacing female troubles cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound after physicians have advised operations, no woman should submit to one without first trying the Vegetable Compound and writing Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for advice, which is free. Street, Milwaukee, Wis., writes:

Dear Mrs. Pinkham: "Loss of strength, extreme nervousness, shooting pains through the pelvic organs, bearing-down pains and cramps compelled me to seek medical advice. The doctor, after making an examination said I had a female trouble and ulceration and advised an operation. To this I strongly objected and decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. The ulceration quickly healed, all the bad symptoms disappeared and I am once more strong, vigorous and well."

Trifles Make Perfection But Perfection Is No Trifle.

It is only by the most careful attention to every trifling detail in the milling of "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR that we have been able to bring this brand up to its present state of perfection, and are able to maintain it.

Every single bushel of grain which enters our mills, every single bag and barrel of flour which leaves them is tested and re-tested at every stage of the milling, in order to insure the absolute purity and uniformity for which "FIVE ROSES" FLOUR is noted the world over.

This attention to trifles is costly, but it enables us to maintain a reputation for perfection, which is no trifle, and users of "FIVE ROSES" can rely upon getting the "flour of perfect quality" for all household uses.

Gymnasium Last Night.

Two very interesting games of basketball were played last evening at the "Y" gymnasium. In the first contest the Wizards defeated the Meds, and in the second the Midgets sprang a huge surprise by trimming the fast Shamrocks.

The score of the first game was 40 to 28, and the second 27 to 10. The games were exceptionally well contested, and the only cause for complaint was lack of accommodation for spectators.

Mr. Brent refereed, and Mr. Wickett acted as umpire.

The lineups:

Wizards—Forwards, Tait, Crosbie; center, Strauch; defense, Stephenson and Ward.

Meds—Forwards, Ross, Polson; center, Moore; defense, Jepson and Follinsbee (Wilson).

Midgets—Forwards, Glen, Orr; center, Duffield; defense, MacRobert, Mel. Brock.

Shamrocks—Forwards, W. Brock, Deshaw; center, Harvey; defense, Martin and Smith.

SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

The action of the Western Fair board in recommending that steps be taken to arrange for a grand field day at the fair next year is one to be highly commended. One naturally wonders that such a step has never been thought of before.

Undoubtedly the move will prove a most popular one, and bring out a big attendance. It is proposed to devote one whole day of the fair to the athletic games, and it is hoped to obtain entries from all over Canada.

Certainly local sport could not be better boosted.

It was given out yesterday that there would positively be ice in the Princess Rink this winter, no matter who conducted the place. It now behooves the City League teams to get active in getting their teams together. It was rumored today that the Hermits have succeeded in getting the signature of a crack—a former out-of-town player. Tonight the Hermits will entertain a number of hockey players at the Hermitage. All who know the Hermits know that a royal good time will be spent.

By mistake it was stated in this column yesterday that wards number three and four would bowl at the Liberal Club last evening. The teams bowl tonight instead.

There is said to be a warm rivalry between Captains Murray and Fowler, and some fast bowling should result.

"Major-General" Sam Stewart will have charge of the fire line, and has issued a warning to spectators to stay behind the parapets while the battle is on.

Sam is thinking of having a movable alley made, so that when the balls go astray—as they will at times—the pins can be shifted, so as to come in front of them.

The boys of the Liberal Club go in to the game as if their very lives depend upon the results of the contest.

LONG TOUR BY BASKETBALL TEAM

From Nome, Alaska, Through Ontario and Every State in the American Union.

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 7.—Managers of the Nome Alaska basketball team, which starts on the most unique trip ever taken by an athletic organization, the first part of December, were in Vancouver last week, and as a result of their visit matches will be played in this city.

To advertise Alaska and the Pacific Northwest, the Arctic Brotherhood, and the managers of the Alaska-Tukon Exposition have raised a fund of $10,000 to pay the expenses of the basketball team on the long tour. The schedule now being arranged calls for from one to half-dozen games in the Province of Ontario and in every state in the Union. The team will be touring over four months.

Unlike most other athletic teams, this one will travel in style. A private car has been engaged, and in this the players will ride all over the United States. They will leave Seattle Dec. 1 and start through the south, returning through the middle west and northwest.

HITCH IN THE BOSTON DEAL
KELLEY HAS NOT SIGNEDBoston Doesn't Want to Give Him a 3-Year Con a 1—Is Still Toronto's Manager.

Toronto, Nov. 8.—A letter was received today from Joe Kelley, in which he discussed the situation in regard to the Boston National League Club.

Kelley states that he has not signed intended to remain in Toronto, as he that he will, President Dovey brought the matter to a head by announcing that he would stand by his constitutional rights and compel Kelley to abide by the terms of the contract intended to remain in Toronto as he believed he was protected from the draft by reason of his position as manager and his friendship for National League magnates from President Pulliam down.

However, the National commission intimated that Kelley would have to go to Boston whether he liked it or not, and he had better get in line and make the best terms he could with Mr. Dovey.

It is understood that Boston is willing to pay Kelley $7,000 for one season with a one-year contract only. Kelley says that it must be for three years or not at all.

In concluding his letter Kelley says: "And remember that I am still manager of the Toronto Ball Club." Kelley will come to Toronto in a week or two, and he and President J. J. McCaffery will attend the American and National League meetings, and close some deals for players that are now in prospect.

JABS AND JOLTS—RING GOSSIP

There is a great hullabaloo in press circles over Jim Flynn's defeat by Jack Johnson in 11 rounds. The busy Johnson boosters are seeing visions of James Cofferth, promoter, flying frantically to Los Angeles to drag Jim Jetties back into the ring. Cofferth is pictured on his knees begging James to accept a hundred thousand dollar purse to fight Johnson. Johnson is depicted in the act of haughtily demanding a fight with Jeffries, "winner take all."

"Which to the cool and collected outsider is a grand joke," remarks the New York World. "In the first place, who was Flynn? Only a railroad fireman who took an occasional bout when he was out of a job. He was tough enough to stay with Tommy Burns until knocked out in the fifteenth round, but there was nothing about Flynn to make his defeat sensational. When Tommy Burns whipped Flynn, Johnson's press agents roasted Burns for picking a lemon. It was a sure thing that big Johnson would knock Flynn out. The only surprising thing about the fight was that Flynn lasted 11 rounds. He in a hard fight, he isn't there." Jeff-weighed only 172 pounds while Johnson entered the ring well above 200.

And another curious thing about the affair is that Johnson's boosters, beside clamoring for a match between Jeffries and the darkey, are telling us that Jeffries is going to pieces from dissipation. They want to catch Jim and coming. If he sticks to his determination to stay on the retired list—which he has a perfect right to do—he will flood the country with tales of Jeff's dissipation giving out the impression that Jeffries is a has-been and doesn't count anyway. This been and of course, would tend to undermine Jeffries' reputation and make Johnson, as the biggest and heaviest of the heavyweights, more prominent in the pugilistic limelight.

Johnson is a clever, big fellow. He has everything that goes to make a champion but character. No crooked son's press agents roasted Burns for picking a lemon. It was a sure thing that big Johnson would knock Flynn out. The only surprising thing about the fight was that Flynn lasted 11 rounds. He in a hard fight, he isn't there." Jeff-fries would make him jump out of the ring or fall down to escape punishment.

The reports that Jeffries is dissipating are just plain lies.

If Jeffries takes a drink or smokes a cigar the rumor of it flies around the world.

Other great champions went the liquor route, and people have been waiting for the big Jim, the greatest champion that ever lived, to follow suit.

But Jeffries isn't built that way. He is a huge, healthy man, with plenty of character in his make-up. Jeffries has brains. He is proud of his strength and his reputation for square, honest fighting. He is married and has a fine home in Los Angeles, the finest in the United States. He is surrounded by old and tried friends. He has plenty of money and is making more every year than he ever made during his fighting days.

Jeffries lives a healthy life. All of his spare time is spent in the Oregon mountains hunting bear and deer and on the California marshes shooting or on the California marshes shooting or on the California marshes shooting.

A man doesn't live that way if he is dissipating. Dissipation and outdoor life don't go well together.

HAL CHASE SIGNS,
SETTLES RUMORS

Chicago, Nov. 7.—Hal Chase, the brilliant first baseman, signed a contract with the New York Highlanders yesterday for 1908, and thus set at rest the rumors that he would retire from the big leagues and go into business in California.

Chase is a great favorite with the home crowds in New York, and this probably helps to influence him to remain with the majors.

At New York baseball headquarters yesterday the opinion was expressed that Jack Doyle eventually would come to terms with the Highlanders, in which event he probably will be played in the outfield. With Niles, Stahl and Hemphill all playing on Griffith's team, and Glade pitching, the Yankees will look like a made-over team sure enough.

Ring Gossip

Tex Rickard, who promoted the Gans-Nelson fight at Goldfield, it is reported, wants to bring Jack Johnson and Jim Jeffries together, and will guarantee a $40,000 purse for the match. He would stage it in Nevada, but this is in the event Johnson defeats Tommy Burns. Rickard says he sees no reason why Jeffries should draw the color line, as he has fought colored men before.

The Nevada fight promoter evidently is under the impression that, should Johnson beat Burns, he will be matching the colored man against the champion, instead of the champion against Jeffries. The latter has no more claim on the heavyweight title than a man who has never fought for it at all, arguments to the contrary notwithstanding.

Big Jim retired more than three years ago, and repeatedly refused to consider big offers to fight. Shortly after he announced his retirement he refereed the advertised heavyweight championship battle between Marvin Hart and Jack Root, and in declaring Hart the winner he also declared himself champion. If the fight was not for the title, and he knew it was advertised as such, and after the battle declared it a battle for the title, he was guilty of misrepresentation. He also refereed two advertised heavyweight championship fights between Tommy Burns and Jack O'Brien, and the sporting public accepted them as such.

There can be only one holder of a championship, and that honor belongs to Burns; therefore, should Johnson beat Tommy, Jeffries, should he enter the ring to fight the big black, will do so as an ex-champion, and not as champion.

HOCKEY NOTES

Woodstock Express: If Woodstock is to enter a team in the O. H. A. it is high time something was being done. The O. H. A. meeting is in the near future.

Stratford Beacon: An organization meeting of the Stratford Hockey Club will likely be held next week, and preparations made for the coming season. Hockey here, the city has risen 100 per cent, during the past few days, and indications point to a pair of fast teams this year.

The Stratford Herald asks: Who is to succeed D. L. Darroch as president of the O. H. A.? This is a question which has been frequently asked. Recently Mr. J. C. Makins, of Stratford, a former second vice-president of the association, and one of the best friends of amateur hockey in the ever had, has been mentioned as a probable candidate. This rumor has not been confirmed, but if Mr. Makins allows his name to go on the ballot paper he would have an excellent chance of election to the position.

"Hockey" long connected with sport in general, and hockey in particular, places him in the front rank of clean sport advocates, and his appointment to the office would certainly give the O. H. A. new life and energy.

Junior O. H. A. hockey received an encouraging impetus when a meeting of enthusiasts was held last evening in the Belmont parlors, Brantford, to discuss the local situation. It was decided to place a strong team in the junior series this year, and it is

Peanut Man Was Too Close to Mark Gave Geometrical Lecture in Court

Was Fined, However—A Case of a Guitar That Was Pawned.

Policeman Harry Greene made a decided hit at the police court this morning in a new role of interpreter.

Gus Lampotus, the peanut man, who has appeared so often in court that when he is not there he is conspicuous by his absence, was once more summoned for selling his goods too close to Dundas street, and also too close to Richmond street.

Lampotus has been in the habit of making the line where the pavement on Dundas street joins the pavement on Clarence street, his boundary, and the police stated that his cartwheel was so close to Dundas street that there was no room for anything else between.

When asked by the policeman to move he simply crossed to the other side of the street and proceeded to adjust his cart with the same nice precision as close to the pavement line as possible. As soon as the policeman had given his evidence Lampotus started in to enlighten the court on the subject of the lines, and his disquisition on the subject would make the ordinary student of geometry look like thirty cents.

P. C. Greene to the Rescue.

For about five minutes he poured forth an amusing mixture of Greek and broken English, illustrated with much waving of hands. The magistrate was at a loss to understand what it was all about until Policeman Greene came to his rescue and explained in excellent English that Mr. Lampotus wished to communicate the fact that if he were to move his cart away from that line he would be out of range of those citizens who wished to purchase peanuts, and if it were nighttime, he would be invisible, as he did not keep a light on his pushcart.

Mr. Lampotus was most happy to have Mr. Green explain things for him, but his smile died away when he was requested to hand Mr. Moule $1, and was warned that in future he must not go so close to Dundas street.

Lamp Was Broken.

Mr. J. E. Fawkes appeared to answer to a charge of breaking the motor-vehicle act by not having a light on the rear of his automobile.

Mr. Fawkes explained that during a trial in front of the court the lamp had become broken, and he had no means of procuring another.

The case was left over until tomorrow.

Pawnbrokers' Act.

A somewhat lengthy information was laid against Thomas Fox, charging him with breaking the pawnbrokers' act by "unlawfully stipulating for a higher rate than he is permitted to, and by refusing to deliver certain goods to Douglas Wheeler," who had pawned him the money for them, and also the pawn clock.

Mr. Wheeler pawned a guitar at Mr. Fox's place some time ago, and the evidence showed that while it was there it had become damaged by falling off a shelf. Mr. Fox gave it to someone to repair, but the party could do nothing with it and he wanted to give Mr. Wheeler another one.

Mr. Wheeler claims the one offered him was of a most inferior quality, and asks that he either be given his own instrument back in as good condition as it was when he gave it to Mr. Fox, or else that he be given the price of a new one corresponding to the broken one, which was an exceptionally fine instrument.

The case was adjourned a week to give the parties a chance to arrange the matter.

In the juvenile court a little boy was charged with throwing stones at a little girl. The case was adjourned for a week.

Thanksgiving Teameeting a Success

The Thanksgiving tea meeting held last evening in the Hill Street Methodist Church under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society was a great success. The spread was excellent and was enjoyed by a large crowd.

The programme was one of the strongest and best ever given in the church.

Miss Gertrude L. Hart, the talented elocutionist, of Hensall, charmed all with her excellent reading. Miss Halls, of Dundas Center Methodist Church, whose musical ability is well known in London, deeply interested the large audience with her well-rendered selection. The trio of male voices from Wellington Street Church delighted all listeners.

Miss Winnifred Harris and Mr. W. Provant, of Hill Street Church, two new voices in London, sang solos that drew forth enthusiastic and prolonged applause.

All the entertainers received hearty encores.

SUIT OVER HORSES' KEEP

Novel Case Settled in the Division
Court This Morning.

A rather novel case, involving a dispute as to the actual cost of keeping a horse, and the proper price of food at a hotel, came up before the division court in the division court this morning.

Mr. Arthur Thompson, proprietor of the Clyde Hotel, sued two horsemen, A. Goings and P. Goings, for $35.50, alleged to be due for board and the keeping of a number of horses.

The defendants disputed the account, and claimed to only owe a trifle over $30.

When the Goings first came to the Clyde House, Mr. Thompson agreed to feed their horses, some twelve in number, for 10 cents a day each. The board for the men was rated at $1 a week.

Later Mr. Thompson claimed that he raised the price of keeping the horses to 25 cents a day, and the board for the men to $4.50 a week.

Two weeks ago Mr. Thompson asked for his money, and in the dispute which arose over the amount owing he decided to place an attachment on the horses in his stable for the amount due.

He alleged that the horsemen had no money, but were depending each day on selling some horses. Sometimes they sold a horse, and again they did not, with the result that they gradually got into debt.

His honor ruled that as Mr. Thompson did not make plain at the time that he intended to raise his rates he had no right to seek payment beyond the former rate.

His honor also allowed several other items in dispute to go unpaid, and rendered a verdict for $22.10.

Mr. E. Flock acted for the plaintiff and Mr. J. M. Faudis for the defense.

APPOINT HAMILTON MAN

John Miller Joins Provincial Staff of Detectives.

Hamilton, Nov. 7.—John Miller, one of the city detectives, received official notification this morning of his appointment as provincial detective. Miller is well liked in this city. He rose from the blue-coated ranks, his detective abilities marking him as a promising man.

For many years he did regular plain clothes detective work, although entered on the books as a first-class policeman. About three years ago he was duly appointed a detective by the police commissioners.

He has sent in his resignation, and will enter the provincial work next month. Miller is 39 years of age.

Mr. Miller will start on salary of $1,500, being the junior man on the force. He has had about 14 years' experience on the police force, 11 in the capacity of detective, and is regarded a good man. He fills the vacancy caused by the death of the late John Murray.

MILLS DISSENTS

One Commissioner Thinks Millers Unfairly Treated by Railways.

Toronto, Nov. 7.—A statement was issued today by Dr. Mills, a member of the railway commission, dissenting from the judgment of the other members in the complaint of the Dominion Millers' Association. This judgment was to the effect that there had been no discrimination in the shipment of wheat ordered by it from the elevator in Owen Sound. Yesterday Dr. Mills expressed no opinion.

The shippers, Dr. Mills thinks, were "unjustly treated and discriminated against, not deliberately or intentionally, but because of the failure of the company to provide such freighted accommodation and keep its box cars in such a state of repair as would enable it to make a pro rata or equitable distribution of its cars, and ship wheat from its elevator with as much promptness as it shipped flour from its freight shed."

At today's meeting of the commission the plan for the new viaduct was launched. Upon the decision of the committee will depend whether the traffic to the waterfront shall be by way of bridges over the tracks, or whether, as the city is contending, the tracks shall be elevated and traffic be upon the level on the streets as they are today, but freed from the dangerous trucks. The board was in session for two hours.

BIG GOLD ROBBERY

Forty Thousand Dollars' Worth of the Metal Disappears.

Vancouver, Nov. 7.—A Dawson dispatch says: The first evidence in the case against Richard Hall, charged with stealing $40,000 in gold from Dawson, en route to Fairbanks on the steamer Seattle, was presented in the preliminary trial which began yesterday before E. C. Senkler, George Schoenbach, of Dawson, manager of the Canadian detective bureau, was the chief witness for the prosecution. He made public for the first time Hall's side of the story, saying that Hall explained that the gold, which he handled extensively, was bought from Mr. George Kincaid, now dead, who is supposed to have been the thief in the case.

Three large locked mail sacks and sixty smaller inner sacks were found under a school building. It is now believed that half of the gold will be recovered.

LONGUE POINTE CHURCH PREY TO THE FLAMES

Montreal, Nov. 7.—The Roman Catholic Church at Longue Pointe, on the eastern outskirts of Montreal, probably the oldest Roman Catholic church in the Province of Quebec, was completely destroyed by fire tonight, entailing a loss of $75,000.

The origin of the fire is a mystery. Shortly after seven o'clock the watchman made his rounds and found everything all right. Shortly afterwards flames broke forth from the church, and made rapid headway. The fire appliances of the local municipality were utterly inadequate, and the church fell an easy prey to the flames, with all its valuable contents.

The church was built in 1729, and was one of the oldest church edifices in America. It was a stone structure, of antique appearance. It contained many valuable articles, including a valuable silver sacramental service, which was brought over from France at the time the church was built.

Mr. C. Becker, stockbroker, received the following by private wire from Bartlett, Procter & Carrington today:

New York, Nov. 8.—Noon.—So far today's market has displayed considerable irregularity, but the undertone has been on the whole good. It was reported that those who were selling the Steel bonds were heavy buyers of Union Pacific, some 15,000 shares of that stock being bought by one broker. Steel, coming at first declined, through weakness in bonds, but plenty of support developed below 24, and the buying was considered of a good character. The rate for call money was high, opening quotations ranging from 18 to 20 per cent, but the supply was ample, so that for the time being the financial situ-

Vancouver, B. C., Nov. 7.—The Vancouver Board of Trade favors the establishment of an inter-imperial news agency as a means of discouraging the present use by newspapers of so much material emanating from American sources, tending to crowd out Canadian and imperial matter.

—Mr. Calvin S. Parker, of the Parker Heating System, has just returned from a business trip to New York and Boston.

—Mrs. N. S. Houghton, who has been visiting her mother, Mrs. West, Wellington road, has returned to her home in Halifax, N. S.

—No. 1 committee of the city council meets a deputation from the Western University at 5 o'clock today to discuss the proposed grant to the university.

—The Rev. W. Moffat delivered his popular lecture on "A Modern Babylon," illustrated with many stereoscopic views, in Maudslayi Presbyterian Church, on Tuesday, to a large and delighted audience.

—Roller skating in on the boom in East London. The Jubilee Rink is the rendezvous of good crowds nightly, who enjoy the exhilarating exercise. Manager Trafford has provided all conveniences for the skaters, besides laying a new floor. Saturday afternoon a matinee will be held, a band being present both afternoon and evening.

—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Peel and little daughter Marion, of Owen Sound, were the guests of their mother, Mrs. Hambley, "Sunnyside," Lobo, while attending the Graham-Zavitz nuptials at Fernhill, where little Miss Marion made a charming new flower girl.

—Dr. Moulton gives his opening lecture under the auspices of the London Froebel Society tonight, and this is counted one of the most brilliant recitals, the subject being "The Wandering Jew." The First Methodist lecture hall is used for the lectures, and the Sunday addresses he will give in that church.

The Baconian Club.
The meeting of the Baconian Club, which was to have been held on Saturday evening, has been postponed on account of Dr. Moulton's lecture.

Interesting Paper.
A most interesting paper on "Martin Luther" was read by Rev. J. G. Perdue, M.A., at the regular meeting of St. Paul's Young Men's Club last night. Mr. Perdue dealt particularly with the work of the great reformer and analyzed fully the conditions of the age in which his work was performed.

Presentation to Mr. Weir.
Mr. Bert Weir, who during the past five years has been organist of the Colborne Street Methodist Church, was pleasantly surprised by the members of the choir last night, when they gathered at his home on Colborne street, and after reading him an address, presented him with a beautiful diamond pin. Mr. Weir recently resigned his position as organist, and the members of the choir expressed their regret at his leaving them, and wished him every success in his work as a teacher.

McCreary—McNiff.
Miss Margaret McNiff, eldest daughter of Mrs. Patrick McNiff, was married on Wednesday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral to Mr. Samuel E. McCreary. The bride was assisted by her sister, Miss Agnes McNiff, while Mr. R. McNiff supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. McCreary, after a honeymoon trip to Windsor and other points west, will reside on Regina street.

Two Presentations.
Hamilton Spectator: Last night at the Hotel Royal there was a double presentation to J. L. Counsell, who is to be married in London on Saturday to Miss Gibbons, daughter of Mr. G. C. Gibbons, K. C. The first presentation was made by the members of the Hamilton Riding and Cross Country Club. On their behalf, George Hope, the master presented to Mr. Counsell a handsome and suitable picture. In doing so he expressed the high regard in which the members of the club held the recipient, and wished him a long and happy life. Mr. Counsell made a suitable reply. After the riding club presentation, Mr. Counsell was called into the red parlor, where about a dozen of his friends had gathered to do him honor, and a very handsome cut glass punch bowl with tray, cut glass cups and ladle, presented to him. The presentation was made by J. M. Harris, who told Jack how much the boys thought of him. After Jack had responded in suitable terms, all present were given a chance to tell him that they thought of him and their remarks were of the most flattering character.

MANY PLANS TO IMPROVE FAIR
Were Put Forth at the Meeting of the Directors Yesterday.

The total surplus this year for the Western Fair was $3,555 71, a surprisingly good one in the face of all the bad weather encountered during fair week.

The financial statement of the fair showed the receipts to be $32,444 11, as follows: Entries, including dog show, $2,307 85; gates, $20,584 55; grandstands, $1,634 35; dog show, $973; airship $15 80; tents, $452; booth privileges, $5,523 74; Government grant, $1,109; special prizes, $765, and interest, $214 74.

The expenditure amounted to $32,496 64, as follows: Prize money, $11,949; judges, $420 90; printing and advertising, $2,805 68; police, $309; office expenses, $2,096 59; general expenses on grounds and buildings, $7,035 21; permanent buildings, $3,580 92; the directors were very gratified at the splendid showing. There was a large representation of the directors at the meeting. Mr. W. J. Reid presided.

Mr. Geo. M. Reid resigned from the board of directors, and Mr. W. M. Spencer was appointed in his stead. It was decided to proceed at once with the alterations and improvements to the Administration building.

Secretary A. M. Hunt read his report on his visit to the Ottawa Fair. The directors of next year's work of the fair took place, and several changes will probably be made next year.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."
The allocation at the Grand tonight will be Downie's grand double spectacular "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This old and favorite play needs no press agent to exploit its many and varied features, for who has not laughed at the funny antics of Tom and Lawyer Marks, and cried with Little Eva and poor old Uncle Tom. Suffice it to say that Downie's company is one of the best and most complete productions carried.

Monday Evening's Attraction.
Arthur Deagan, the principal comedian with "The Time, the Place, and the Girl" Company, which is to appear here on Monday evening, tells the following:

While changing cars at a small crossroads station a short time ago, the connecting train being an hour late, Deagan scanned about the station platform for some time, he being the only person in sight, except one of the natives. Mr. Deagan started to pick a conversation with this stranger, and it happened something like this:

Deagan—Good-morning, sir.
Native—Good-morning.
Deagan—Say, stranger, what is the population of this town?

Native—The wot?
Deagan—The population—the inhabitants!

Native—Oh, wa'al, yes—lemme see. Wa'al, there is some tamack and brosh.

A GOOD HOME RECIPE
Says Any One Can Prepare It, and Knows Nothing Better.

Rheumatism is easier to avoid than to cure, states A. J. Well-known authority. Every man, woman and child here should dress as warmly as possible, and, above all else, keep the feet dry. Avoid colds and exposure, and don't become constipated.

Rheumatism is strictly a blood disease, caused by inactive kidneys, which, through cold or exposure or improper diet, fail in their duty of filtering the rheumatic poisons from the blood. This poisonous waste matter, uric acid, oxalate of lime, urea, etc., if not strained from the blood promptly, decomposes and settles about the joints and muscles, causing rheumatic disease.

In damp or chilly cold weather the kidneys are made to do double work. The pores of the skin all over the body do not assist in eliminating the poisons of the body, throwing this work to the kidneys, which become clogged and feeble, thus causing not only rheumatism, but all forms of kidney troubles, backache, weak bladder and urinary troubles, and sometimes terrible blood disorders.

At the first sign of any of these troubles the following simple prescription should be mixed and taken in tea-spoonful doses after each meal and at bedtime: Fluid Extract Dandelion, one-half ounce; Compound Kargon, one ounce; Compound Syrup Sarsaparilla, three ounces.

Any good pharmacy can supply these ingredients, and all the mixing required is to shake well in a bottle.

Street Railway May Use "T" Rails
No. 2 Committee Has No Objections

Engineer Graydon Doesn't Think Much of the Old Groove Rails.

No. 2 committee of the city council held its regular meeting last night, and it was decided to recommend favorably to the council the request of the street railway company that it be allowed to lay "T" rails on Dundas street, and that the bylaw be amended to permit such being done.

Messrs. Blight & Fielder, sewer contractors, appeared before the committee, and explained that they had struck a very bad piece of land in the construction of the north end sewer, and that they would lose a very great deal of money. The sort of soil had not been specified on the contract, they said. They recognized the fact that they had no legal claim on the city, but asked that the council make them a grant in excess of the contract, as they would lose a great deal of money.

They took the contract on the word of Mr. Victor Mitchell, of the engineer's department, that the soil was light sand, and gravel. They had found, however, that the soil was very bad, rocky and rough. Very slow progress could be made. A ditcher was brought from Montreal, but owing to the boulders and rocks it was impossible to operate it. They were willing to put the contract through, but they would lose a very great deal of money. The city was not legally bound to pay any more money for the job, but morally they (the contractors) were entitled to some more money.

Not as Bad as Ottawa Avenue.
"I saw the north end sewer," said Ald. Rose, "and it is much better than the sewer on Ottawa avenue, contracted for by Mr. C. W. Dill."

"The plans showed just what kind of soil he had to go through on Ottawa avenue," said Mr. Blight. "With the north end it was different."

"Mr. Dill thinks it was misrepresented, too," said Ald. Rose.

"Uncle Tom's Cabin."
The allocation at the Grand tonight will be Downie's grand double spectacular "Uncle Tom's Cabin." This old and favorite play needs no press agent to exploit its many and varied features, for who has not laughed at the funny antics of Tom and Lawyer Marks, and cried with Little Eva and poor old Uncle Tom. Suffice it to say that Downie's company is one of the best and most complete productions carried.

Monday Evening's Attraction.
Arthur Deagan, the principal comedian with "The Time, the Place, and the Girl" Company, which is to appear here on Monday evening, tells the following:

While changing cars at a small crossroads station a short time ago, the connecting train being an hour late, Deagan scanned about the station platform for some time, he being the only person in sight, except one of the natives. Mr. Deagan started to pick a conversation with this stranger, and it happened something like this:

Deagan—Good-morning, sir.
Native—Good-morning.
Deagan—Say, stranger, what is the population of this town?

Native—The wot?
Deagan—The population—the inhabitants!

Native—Oh, wa'al, yes—lemme see. Wa'al, there is some tamack and brosh.
