UNSUCCESSFUL ATTEMPT BY PERET TO CREATE CABINET

BRITISH AUTHORITIES UNCOVER SUSPECTED PLOT OF SINN FEINERS

COLLEGIATE QUESTION WILL BE SETTLED THIS EVENING

FIFTEEN MORE POLICEMEN, SUBSTATION AND MOTOR CYCLES FOR POLICE DEPT.

Chief of Police Robert Birrell Tells Police Commissioners the Department Is Undermanned—Sergt. Thomas Lucas Now Acting Inspector.

Fifteen additional policemen, a substation in East London and three motorcycles are what Chief of Police Robert Birrell asked the police commission for yesterday afternoon. These are necessary to give London adequate protection, he stated.

In asking for twelve or fifteen men, he stated that they were necessary, as the department was undermanned in proportion to the population here. The Carling street station, he added, was not large enough to meet the present needs. This was his reason for asking for the substation. He advised that it be in the vicinity of the fair grounds, as this district was growing both in the residential and industrial sections.

Three motorcycles were needed to carry out the provisions of the motor vehicles act more thoroughly.

Silent policemen at various street intersections were asked for.

It was announced that Sergt. Thomas Lucas is now acting inspector. P. C. Louis McCaughey, who resigned from the force several months ago, has again been engaged.

Figures of the cost of the extra men and equipment were given to Mayor E. S. Little, chairman of the commission, but they are not for publication at present, as they will probably vary a little due to the fluctuation in the cost of materials for uniforms, etc.

If fifteen men are added to the force its total strength will be 63.

SELF-EXPRESSION OF CHILDREN AFFECTED BY MOVING PICTURES

In Opinion of Prof. John Dearness of Normal School.

LITERARY TASTE

Is Also Affected by Colored Supplements—"Canned" Music Condemned.

That the self-expression of the children and young people of today, as well as the extent of their reading, as affected by the "movies" and the "colored supplement," was the opinion expressed by Professor Dearness of the Normal School in reply to two questions submitted to him today by an Advertiser reporter.

The questions were as follows: "Do young people today, with their movies and automobiles, read as much as the children of the last generation?" "Are the phonograph, the player-piano, the motion picture and the automobile killing self-expression?"

Replying to the first, Professor Dearness remarked that it was double-barreled in that it asked for an opinion and at the same time intimated a cause or possibility of such a condition existing. "The question," he said, "is one on which to arrive at a satisfactory solution the opinion of the whole student body should be gathered.

"Personally I think that the effect of the movies is on the whole bad. I do not think that there is less reading being done, but rather that the taste is being affected by the movies and colored supplements, which are tending to a desire for the sensational. The result is that the child, unless urged by pressure from behind, is not inclined to concentrate on subjects and study worth while."

In answer to the second question, Professor Dearness said: "I cannot quite see how the automobile is concerned in the matter of self-expression, unless the suggestion is that autodriving has a tendency to occupy time that might better be employed in study. It would seem to be a question of values —the setting of the good gained by the enjoyment of the pleasures of country scenery and fresh air against the invasion of leisure time.

"With regard to the phonograph and player-piano, artificial means of music, I am of the opinion that these forms of 'canned music' are destroying initiative in music rather than developing a desire to undertake the tiresome

She was born at Flesherton, Ont., the daughter of J. M. K. Richardson, ex-M.P. for South Grey, and for some 20 years had been a familiar figure in Toronto society.

Besides her husband, the immediate surviving relatives are two sons, I. B. Lucas, Jun., formerly a naval officer, and now a student in the city, and Kendall Lucas, an ex-officer of the Royal Flying Corps, now on his way home from England. Two brothers and two sisters also reside in Toronto, Dr. E. K. Richardson, George Richardson, Mrs. (Dr.) A. E. Webster, and Miss Maud Richardson. Mrs. Frank Tate of Grand Valley is another sister.

WILL WORK SHORT TIME

St. Paul, Minn., Jan. 15.—Rather than have a tenth of their number thrown out of work, the entire shop force of the Northern Pacific Railway in the St. Paul district has agreed to go on a four-day basis, it became known here today. VALUABLE PARLIAMENTARY RECORDS AND MACHINERY TOSSED INTO JUNK PILE

Evidence Taken at Investigation Into the Printing Bureau Methods Reported to Have Shown a Great Waste of Material—Judge Snyder of Hamilton Is in Charge of Inquiry.

Ottawa, Jan. 15.—Canadian Press.—The investigation conducted by Judge Colin G. Snyder of Wentworth County into the particulars of all material and equipment purchased, sold or otherwise disposed of, in or from the printing bureau since January 1, 1919, opened yesterday. The official notice of the extension of the inquiry to the above scope is published in the current issue of Canada Gazette. Judge Snyder opened his investigation in the offices of Col. O. M. Biggar, government counsel, with Col. Biggar conducting the examination of witnesses under the decision of the commissioner.

Witnesses will be heard again today, and the hearing will then adjourn until January 24, as Judge Snyder has to return to Hamilton on official business.

Evidence was given yesterday by Fred Cook, chairman of the editorial board, and M. Normandin as to the quantity of records which has disappeared. There were stated to be about 150 tons of valuable parliamentary records which had been disposed of as junk. C. J. Baldwin, chief mechanic at the bureau, was examined with regard to machinery which had been scrapped or replaced within the period stated. The commissioner ordered the preparation of a complete list of all papers destroyed and the mechanical equipment disposed of or purchased within the period.

COMMUNISM IS LIKELY TO SPLIT SOCIALIST PARTY

Predictions of Break in the Italian Organization.

CONGRESS AT LEGHORN

City Is in Centre of Industrial Area Where Unrest Prevails.

Leghorn, Italy, Jan. 15.—Socialist leaders from all Italy gathered here today at the opening session of the congress of the Socialist party. Foreshadowings of a break in the organization were found in the situation before the Congress opened and it seemed probable the gathering would be fully as interesting as the congress of French Socialists held two weeks ago at Tours.

Leghorn, situated in the midst of the industrial region of Italy, which includes the city of Milan, Turin and Genoa, has long been the scene of radical Socialist agitation.

Communism brought about a break in the French Socialist party at Tours and the same movement has already made its appearance here. Signor Bombacci, one of the leaders of the communist section of the Socialist party of Italy, threatens to withdraw, with his followers, from the organization and plans have been formulated by which he and his adherents will found a new political party. A theatre has been rented for the purpose of holding meetings when the expected break occurs. Signor Bombacci, who is a member of the Italian Chamber of Deputies, confesses that a schism exists, and that he and his supporters advocate gaining control of the Government by revolutionary means and organizing a soviet army. Opposing him are Deputies Treves and Modigliare, who, with Deputy Turati, leader of the conservative wing, controls the centre of the party, there being no right wing. The centre is satisfied the Socialist movement will be able to place the Government in the hands of the Socialists by following ordinary parliamentary procedure.

Kills Cat, Shoots Wife, Ends Life

Muskegon, Mich., Jan. 15.—Irvin Morton 26, early Friday entered his wife's bedroom and announcing: "I've just killed the cat and you are next," fired twelve bullets into Mrs. Morton's body as she lay abed. The thirteenth bullet he turned on himself, killing himself almost instantly.

Still alive, Mrs. Morton crawled through the snow to a neighbor's home, where she told her story.

Mrs. Morton told physicians she pleaded for 30 minutes with her husband to spare her life, but was answered with abuse.

Doctors attending her believe she will live.

REDS WILL FIRE ON ALLIED SHIPS IN BLACK SEA

Warships That Approach Within Twelve Miles of the Coast To Be Attacked.

Constantinople, Jan. 15.—All vessels flying Allied flags which approach within twelve miles of the Russian Black Sea coast will be fired on by land batteries and be subject to attack by submarines, it is indicated in a message received here from Moscow.

WARNING THAT CUSTOMS HOUSE TO BE BOMBED

New York Police Throw Heavy Guard Around Building.

New York, Jan. 15.—An anonymous telephone message received at the custom house last night that the building, one of the most imposing federal properties in the city, would be blown up by a bomb at midnight, stirred the police and federal authorities to unusual precautionary vigilance, but nothing developed at the scheduled hour.

The message was taken by a cleaner, who quickly communicated with police headquarters. Immediately scores of detectives were rushed to the building, which is in the extreme down town end of Manhattan, and guards were thrown about it. A systematic search of the building then was made for possible planted infernal machines. Nothing of a suspicious nature, however, was discovered.

CITY COUNCIL WILL INDORSE LONDON BILL MONDAY NIGHT

New Clause Will Ask That the Municipal Election Date Be Changed From New Year's Day to Last Monday in November—Large Money Appropriations.

Final indorsation of the London bill will be given by the city council Monday night. The following day it will be sent to the Legislature. Even this prompt action will not prevent it being one day late. The Legislature opens during the last week of January, and requires that all private bills be in by January 17.

Although this is much earlier than in past years, London has been able to prepare its requests almost within the time limit. This was possible because the bill contained very few items, and was taken up by the 1920 council. It only remained for the 1921 council to indorse it.

One new clause is being inserted by the present council as a result of a suggestion in Mayor Little's inaugural address. This provides for a new form of civic government, and for holding the election at an earlier date. Clauses of a somewhat similar nature were included in the 1920 bill, and were turned down by the Legislature. The London council intends to stay with the matter and to keep urging these changes until some results are obtained. Other municipalities also will ask a change in municipal election dates, it is understood, and it is hoped that concerted action of this kind will influence the Government to authorize the change.

The bill will ask that the election date be changed from January 1 to the last Monday in November. Election of the council at that time will give the new members an opportunity to have the business thoroughly in hand when the new year commences. The new plan of government suggested in the mayor's address was "that the council should be elected from the city at large, not to represent the four wards. If this were done, continuity of work might be secured through the election of six members of the council each year, to serve for two years." If the Legislature approves this a vote of the people will be taken before it is put into effect.

Other clauses in the bill will ratify the bylaws passed by the electors, granting $50,000 to the Children's Hospital, granting $50,000 to the Children's Hospitals. A third clause will ask authority to issue $175,000 debentures for storm sewers, and two more will seek authorization of a $125,000 debenture issue for waterworks extensions, and a $135,000 issue for electrical extensions. The largest clause asks approval of a $257,000 bond issue for the London and Port Stanley Railway.

Official advertisements of the bill last year included clauses for building a dam at Springbank and general river improvement. This has been eliminated from the bill because no vote of the people has been taken.

BEWARE YAWN OR HICCOUGH; YOU MAY GET ENCEPHALITIS

Paris, Jan. 14.—If your subway neighbor yawns or hiccoughs it might be a good idea to leave the train as a safety precaution. The French Academy of Medicine has decided that either symptom is contagious, and may spread the epidemic of a disease known as encephalitis lethargica, which has appeared all over Europe. Thousands of victims of sleeping sickness have been reported here since the disease first appeared last February, but the majority of cases are mild. Fewer than a score have developed fatal complications.

With the arrival of cold weather the prevalence of hiccoughs was noted, and was ascribed unhesitatingly to encephalitis by such scientists as Georges Guillain and Dr. Le Chelle. In a report to the academy last week it was asserted that the disease can be transmitted by the breath, clothing or bed covers.

The press is full of suggestions for curing the initial stages of hiccoughs, and as a result it is no uncommon sight to see portly subway voyagers standing on tiptoe flapping their arms while they hold their breath for seventeen seconds, this being the remedy considered effective by French physicians.

BOARD OF EDUCATION TO HOLD SPECIAL MEETING TONIGHT TO SETTLE ON COLLEGIATE PLAN

Trustees Interviewed "Mum" On Subject—Separate School Representatives Not Likely to Vote On Question.

Notices calling for a special meeting of the board of education, to be held at 7:30 o'clock tonight, have been issued on the instructions of the chairman for the purpose of considering the notice of motion presented at the inaugural meeting by Trustee Hayman, that the board reconsider its action of December 10, 1920, when by a vote of 11 to 3 the trustees reconsidered their previous action of October 5, and voted in favor of the unit system for the Collegiate Institute.

At the October meeting the board went on record in favor of building a 26-room building on the old site, but as the result of consultation with educational experts of known and tried experience, the majority of the trustees became convinced that the needs of London could be better met by placing high school units in three places central to the most thickly-populated parts of the city. This scheme was strongly opposed by the minority of the trustees under the leadership of Trustee Ed Smith, and following the action of the board in approving the unit system on December 10, the matter was made a political issue at the municipal elections on January 1.

The claims of the single high school supporters was made principally on the grounds that the city already owns the site and that the building of one central school would be cheaper than of three separate units. To this the supporters of the unit system, by which it is proposed to proceed immediately with the building of a 16-room school in South London on land owned by the board, and to purchase a site in North London and construct a 10-room school, and later on to build a six-room school in East London on a site to be chosen.

Trustees favoring the unit system claim that owing to the elimination of the costly auditorium proposed in the central building and other construction facts well known to builders, the three units could be constructed at the same cost, and possibly even less, than the one building. They also point out that in the event of the construction of the central school being approved it will under the requirements of the department of education be necessary to purchase additional land at a tremendous cost to say nothing of the costs incurred in the clearing of high-priced houses upon it.

But the great advantage that the unit system supporters claim for their scheme is the bringing of the high school facilities nearer to the homes of the people for whom the educational advantages are provided.

Reasons for Unit System.

Summarized, the advantages of the unit system as outlined by its supporters after careful study of the matter and consultation with the best known and most experienced educationalists in the province, are as follows:

It was the unanimous experience of provincial high school inspectors that the best work was done in collegiates of about sixteen rooms.

That cities with a large central collegiate such as Ottawa, recognize that a "supreme mistake" had been made, which is now very costly to rectify. London should avoid making such a mistake.

That cities such as Toronto are adopting the small unit system in extending their collegiate education.

That in large schools the personal influence and contact of principal and teachers on the student body is largely lost and the principal of a large collegiate becomes "a policeman and a judge" rather than an educator.

That in a large school the principal has no time for teaching, and so the influence of the highest paid and best qualified teacher is lost to the students.

That large schools become factories rather than educational institutions.

That the unit system of collegiates creates healthy rivalry among the unit schools.

The unit system provides the best

PERET DECLINES TO FORM NEW FRENCH CABINET

Informs Millerand of Inability to Establish Ministry.

MANY DIFFICULTIES

Former High Officials Demanded Full Authority in Offices.

Paris, Jan. 15.—Raoul Peret, who was asked yesterday to head a new ministry of France in succession to the one which resigned on Wednesday, appeared before President Millerand today and declined to form the cabinet.

M. Peret's failure to create a ministry was due largely to the refusal of Former President Poincare to enter the combination except under conditions that made it difficult for M. Peret to carry out his program. M Poincare, it is believed, it was understood, desired the foreign ministry, but ex-Premier Briand was the man that M. Peret had picked for the foreign office because of his qualities as a negotiator and his strength with the European chancelleries.

POSSIBLE CABINET MINISTERS.

Paris, Jan. 14.—Raoul Peret, president of the Chamber of Deputies, who has been chosen by President Millerand to select a new cabinet, was not able to name his ministers tonight. After leaving the Elysee Palace, he told the Associated Press that he had the support of former Premier Briand, who was slated for the ministry of foreign affairs. Former President Poincare, he said, had receded from his position of unwillingness to enter the cabinet, and was willing to accept the finance portfolio, providing he was left a free hand to deal with reparations questions.

Whatever is the result of M. Peret's consultations up to noon tomorrow, at which time he declared he would be ready to present the names of his ministers to President Millerand, it is generally believed that the four most important porfolios in the cabinet will be held by men known abroad: M. Briand, ministry of foreign affairs; M. Poincare, finance, and former Premier Barthou, the ministry of war. M. Peret, it is understood, will assume charge of the ministry of the interior.

"France must place at the head of its high offices personalities whose uncontested esteem is understood abroad," declared M. Peret, after he left M. Millerand tonight. "In the present circumstances I can only try to form a great ministry which would be for national union, and this is the reason why I cannot give out this evening the names of my collaborators."

Mme. Galli Curci Marries Pianist

St. Louis Park, Minn., Jan. 15.—Mme. Amelita Galli Curci, prima donna, was married here shortly after noon today to Homer Samuels, her piano accompanist. The wedding ceremony, at the home of Mr. Samuels's parents here, was marked by simplicity, and only a favored few were invited, in order to make the affair as quiet as possible.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuels will leave tonight for Indianapolis, where Mrs. Samuels will sing on Monday night.

PARIS RINK IS DESTROYED, LOSS WILL BE $20,000

Burning Cigar Stub Believed Responsible for Blaze.

Brantford, Jan. 15—A cigar stub smoldering since last night's Brantford hockey game is believed to have been responsible for the total destruction of the Paris rink, which occurred at 5 a.m. today. By 7 o'clock not a timber was left standing. The loss will be about $20,000, with only part insurance. Smoke was seen arising during the game last night and snow was thrown down, and it was thought that the fire had been quenched, but apparently it was still smoldering when the crowd left.

RUSHING AID TO ICE-BOUND SHIP

Japanese Sending Warship and Several Aeroplanes.

Tokio, Jan. 15.—A warship and several aeroplanes have been dispatched to the relief of the ice-breaker Baikal, which broke its moorings at Alexandrovsk, Siberia, during a storm on January 9. The ship was driven out of the harbor and surrounded by floating ice, and is reported to be frozen in the midst of an immense floe.

Sixty persons, including the crew and several passengers, are believed to be facing death from cold and starvation on board the ship, and the last radio message received from the ship stated that the people on board had abandoned hope.

ALLEGED SINN FEIN PLOT TO DESTROY PROPERTY IN LONDON IS DISCOVERED

Patrick Kenny, an Irish-American, Charged in British Court With Being Concerned in Attempt to Murder Policemen and Fire Huge Oil Plant—Elaborate Preparations Had Been Made to Start Conflagration.

London, Jan. 15.—What is believed to be another big Sinn Fein plot to destroy property in London was uncovered in court this morning when Patrick Kenny, an Irish-American, was charged with being concerned, with other men not yet arrested, in attempting to murder two policemen and trying to set afire barrels of oil in the premises of the Vacuum Oil Company.

The company's plant is at Wandsworth, Southwest London, and 60,000 barrels, containing 2,500,000 gallons of oil are stored there.

At 1 o'clock this morning three policemen discovered fifteen men lurking near the Vacuum Company's premises, some of them apparently having just come from the yards. The police charged the group and a fierce fight followed, in which, it is alleged, several shots were fired by the civilians. Kenny was arrested, but the others escaped. The police state they discovered that elaborate preparations had been made within the Vacuum Company's yards for firing the oil.

Kenny declined to talk of the charges against him. The court remanded him for a week.

ZEPPELIN FACTORIES ARE MANUFACTURING MOTOR ACCESSORIES

London, Jan. 15.—Negotiations are proceeding between the zeppelin plants at Friedrichshafen and Argentina and Chile for supplying those countries with airships, says a Berlin dispatch to the London Times, but there is no immediate prospect of delivery owing to the restrictions imposed by the Allies. In the meantime the plants are being kept busy with the manufacture of automobile accessories.

OBJECTS TO U. S. DOMINATION IN SOUTH AMERICA

Much Dissatisfaction Over the American Policy.

Mexico City, Jan. 15.—An outstanding feature of the congress of the Pan-American Federation of Labor, which will conclude its deliberations tonight, was the revelation of strong opposition to the domination of South American countries by the United States. According to the statement of several leading South American delegates, there is much dissatisfaction with Uncle Sam's policy in these matters.

Unvarnished assertions were made by Salvadorean, San Domingan and Colombian delegates that the United States was pursuing an imperialistic policy in its dealings with San Domingo and Nicaragua. This sentiment found voice in a long resolution introduced by Jose Kunhardt, a San Domingan delegate, which recited reasons for that nation's protests against United States occupation. The resolution declared the presence of the United States forces on the island had abridged civil, industrial and political rights of San Domingans, and cited specific instances of alleged military misrule. It asserted that the right of workers to strike had been denied, and that unjust sentences to prison had been imposed.

The resolution concluded by directing the president of the Pan-American Federation to send immediately a telegram to President Wilson, the president of the United States Senate, and speaker of the House of Representatives, "demanding immediate relief for the people of San Domingo." Mr. Gompers announced to the convention he was studying the wording of such a telegram and would probably forward it some time today.

Liquor Vendors Not Responsible Affixing Stamps

Montreal, Jan. 15.—"Liquor vendors are not responsible for the sale or affixing of stamps on the bottles of liquor they sell," was the ruling of Judge Cusson yesterday after a hotly contested legal argument in the case of A. O. Pigeon, authorized vendor, who is accused of theft from the government of $2,000 represented by the value of stamps which he is alleged to have neglected to affix to bottles of liquor sold in his store. In the course of his ruling Judge Cusson referred to the present prohibition law of Quebec as "absurd, badly made and impossible."

MINISTER OF JUSTICE RETURNS.

New York, Jan. 15.—(Canadian Press.)—Hon. Charles J. Doherty, minister of justice, and a member of the Canadian delegation to the assembly of the league of nations at Geneva, returned on the British steamship Adriatic, which arrived at Quarantine this morning.

General Sir Sam Hughes, K. C. B., and Dr. Carl P. Huebscher, Swiss consul general to Canada, were also on board the Adriatic.

CANADA SIXTH IN STANDING AMONGST SHIPPING CENTRES

Ships for the Allies During the Great War.

BUILDING WORLD TRADE

Dominion's Shipping Tonnage Today Is More Than 1,498,000 Tons.

Interesting figures of Canada's great part on the seas during the war were quoted today by Capt. (Rev.) F. Boal, who is visiting the city in the interest of the Navy League, in an interview with The Advertiser. "During the period of the war," said Capt. Boal, "Canada contributed to the ships, by building them in her own shipbuilding yards, of the Allies no less than 864 vessels of various kinds, as follows:

"Submarines—Great Britain 20, Russia 12, Italy 6. Armed trawlers—Great Britain 50, France 6. Armed drifters—Great Britain 100. Coastal motorboats—Great Britain 550, France 36. Steel freighters—Great Britain 24. Wooden ships—France 50. Total 864.

Employs 8,573 Ships.

"Today Canada's shipping trade employs 8,573 vessels of Canadian register and with a gross tonnage of 1,498,000 tons. Surely this is an evidence of the great things that Canada can do when she exerts her inherent powers of development. These ships are sailing between the ports of Liverpool, London, Glasgow, Cardiff, Bristol and Manchester, Kingston, Jamaica and Havana.

"New routes to the trade of the world are continually opening up for Canadian produce and merchandise. The Government's shipbuilding program called for 63 ships. Of these 40 have already been launched and 23 are to be completed by the builders, and as fast as they are delivered they will be added to the steamship routes, which will further extend Canadian trade through Canadian ports.

Canada Stands Sixth.

"Seventy-five years ago Canada's principal industries were fishing and shipbuilding. Today she ranks as sixth among the shipping centres of the world. Eighty per cent of the freight carried by these ships is of Canadian manufacture. Some of the officers of the boats are British, but practically the whole of the crews are Canadians.

"The average cost of working a British ship is $8,645; American, $6,711; Canadian, $2,303; Japanese, $1,124, for similar tonnage and crew required. So that it may easily be seen that it is to the advantage of Canada to encourage her shipbuilding and mercantile marine and thereby bring prosperity to the Dominion."

Capt. Boal will address a meeting in the Allen Theatre on Sunday night after church hours and will show the official film of the surrender of the German fleet and the secret of Canada's prosperity. He will also speak during Sunday in two or three of the city churches. He is not unknown in London, having been in the city in 1917 recruiting for the royal navy and the naval air force.

WANT MAINTENANCE OF ALL HIGH SCHOOLS BORNE BY PROVINCE

Brandon, Jan. 15.—The United Farmers of Manitoba executive was asked by the annual convention last night to inquire as to the use to which money held in unclaimed wheat certificates is being put. A resolution asked that the maintenance of all high schools be borne by the province. Delegates held that taxation in small urban districts for high schools has become unduly appressive, and that these institutions serve the rural districts as well as the urban districts. It was referred to the district locals for discussion.

LONDON PEONY CITY OF CANADA IS AIM OF HORTICULTURISTS

W. E. Saunders Re-elected President, Says American Convention Coming in 1922.

The annual meeting of the London Horticultural Society held in the public library on Friday evening was enthusiastic and largely attended. There was much discussion as to premiums to be given this year, but as the meeting was not representative enough of the society, it was not decided what should be given as a premium. Some of the members advocated a choice of premiums and other were of the opinion that gladioli or peonies would be good premiums.

10,000 Roots Planted.

The society intends this year to make London the peony centre for Canada. According to the number of peonies distributed by the London Horticultural Society, over 10,000 poeny roots have been planted in London, and since the peony was named as the city's civic flower, a large number of roots have been purchased independently by the citizens.

W. E. Saunders, who was again elected president of the association said that without doubt, London would be chosen as the city for the American Peony Association to visit in 1922. The American Association recently expressed the desire to meet in some Canadian city, and efforts were made to induce the association to come to London. A brother of Mr. Saunders is secretary of the association.

The American Gladioli Association has arranged to come to St. Thomas this year, and Mr. Saunders urged Londoners to grow specimens for this exhibit. A very encouraging financial report was given by the secretary, Edward Wyatt. A bank balance of over $400 remained to start the work of this year, and over $3,000 had been received and disbursed during the past year.

The association is endeavoring to procure only the best grade bulbs for its members from Holland and France and deems it much more advisable to give one good bulb or plant than several inferior ones.

New Officers Elected.

Officers elected for the coming year are: President, W. E. Saunders; first vice-president, Edgar Jeffery; second vice-president, T. G. Fleming; secretary, Ed. Wyatt; board of directors, C. W. Baker, M. W. Althouse, K. Casselman, J. M. McLeod and W. McNaughton.

Dr. S. P. Reynolds, who has been a member of the board of directors for the past five years, tendered his resignation, which was accepted with regret. The delegates appointed to attend the Ontario Horticultural Association were W. A. Hayden and W. E. Saunders; Western Fair delegates, S. F. Wood, and W. T. Lawrence.

YOUR GROCER IS NOT A PROFITEER

Have a heart!

Your grocer is not a profiteer!

He is passing along to you reduced prices, as fast or faster than they come to him. Just because prices on many good things are still high, don't blame him. It is usually the poorest quality of everything that shows the greatest decline.

If he is as good a man as the age, your grocer is still ... utmost to give you the ... your money. But don't ... hard. He is only ...

You don't know ... is recommending ... less profit than ... brands which he might ... his customers to take if he ... do so.

We know this because he pays us more for Red Rose Tea and sells it at less profit than other teas, so when he recommends you to buy Red Rose Tea, you will know it is because he believes it the best and is willing to take a little less profit for the sake of giving you the best value he can.

We are publishing this because we believe the more our people know of the true facts concerning the profits made by those they deal with, the more generous they will be in their judgments.—T. H. Estabrooks Co., Ltd., Toronto, Ont. b

ECONOMY AND MERIT

Combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla, the Blood Medicine.

In spite of the increased costs and great scarcity of important roots, herbs, etc., the standard of quality and the quantity of Hood's Sarsaparilla have been faithfully maintained, and are today the same as when this medicine was first perfected and offered to the public.

A bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla will average to last three or four weeks, while others last but a week or two, and some even less time.

Hood's Sarsaparilla is effective as a blood purifying and tonic medicine and also after the Flu, Grip, Fevers and other debilitating, blood-poisoning diseases. It purifies the blood, creates an appetite, and makes food taste good.

NINETEENTH CENTURY INDUSTRIAL HISTORY WAS MADE BY COAL

Prof. L. A. Wood in Labor Temple Traces Rise of Factory System.

"The industrial history of the nineteenth century," was the subject of a lecture delivered at the Labor Temple last evening by Prof. L. A. Wood under the auspices of the Workers' Educational Association. Frank McKay acted as chairman.

"Coal was the king of the nineteenth century," declared the speaker, who indicated the manner in which the industrial revolution to the factory system was accompanied more especially in Great Britain by the use of coal to supply motive power, the smelting of iron, and the important inventions that occurred in the textile industries. While the population of Great Britain has quadrupled in a century, the production of coal has increased twenty-fold. The way in which the industrial population has shifted from the south and east of England to the north and west, and the manufacture of cotton has driven the wool industry into the background, was traced by the speaker.

Similarly the development of industrial activity in United States and Canada, beginning in 1850, was outlined. The inter-relationship of coal and iron in Pennsylvania and the adjoining states had brought the great industries of the country into that neighborhood.

Revolution in Organization.

During the last forty years another revolution has occurred in business organization and control. This has been due to the growth of business combinations and concentration of capital. The rise of trusts was discussed by Prof. Wood and their subsequent dissolution. The organization of holding companies are exemplified by the United States Steel Corporation, the Pennsylvania Railway and the General Electric Company. The formation of the American Tobacco Company was described as an amalgamation, and the great Du Pont Powder Company as a typical merger. The latest form of control was the inter-cartel, of which 114 were known to exist prior to the war. Answering a question, Prof. Wood pointed out the likelihood that the International Labor Office would be called upon to consider the status of these cartels, which oftentimes had been known to limit production.

In conclusion, Prof. Wood gave a short account of the rise of combinations of industrial workers since 1800, stating that the trade union act of 1875 had been the magna charta of the labor movement.

The third lecture in the series, for which the Workers' Educational Association has provided, will be given on January 21 by Dr. F. W. Luney on the subject "Bacteriology."

COUNTY AND CITY ARBITRATORS END EVIDENCE-TAKING

Will Announce Finding in Courthouse Maintenance Dispute Later.

Hearing of the evidence and the arguments by the arbitration committee appointed to settle the dispute between the county of Middlesex and the city of London as to jail and courthouse maintenance was concluded late Friday afternoon. When the committee reaches a decision it will give both parties a copy of it and make an announcement.

J. C. Elliott, county solicitor, stated that in June, 1906, an agreement was drawn up whereby the city paid 65 per cent of the cost of maintaining the courthouse and jail and the county paid 35 per cent of it. In 1915 a meeting of city and county representatives decided that each should pay half of the cost. A motion to this effect was made by ex-Mayor C. M. R. Graham and seconded by ex-Warden Hodgins, he said.

982 City Writs.

In support of his argument that the city used the buildings more than the county, Mr. Elliott said that 982 city people were parties in writs and 402 county people were parties last year. In jury trials during the year 68 Londoners were parties and 42 county residents. In non-jury cases the numbers were 147 and 102. In these three instances the proportions were 71 to 29; 61 to 39, and 59 to 41. He thought that 65 and 35 would be a fair basis of payment. In the past three years, for non-indictable offences, 9,371 days were spent in the county jail by city prisoners and 1,022 by county prisoners. Worked out to a proportion, this was as 95.9 to 4.1. In the three years there was an average of 11.8 city prisoners in jail and only .5 county prisoners each day. In other words, there were 22 times as many city prisoners.

In its coming to a finding, Mr. Elliott suggested that the committee place the building at a certain capital; take a percentage of it for upkeep, and decide how much each party should pay.

In the sheriff's office 168 executions were in behalf of Londoners and 70 in behalf of county residents.

In the past three years there were 175 court days.

T. G. Meredith, city solicitor, said: "We paid a just proportion while in the county prior to 1857. The city had also paid 50 per cent of the cost for some time."

He said that the county authorities were always "out for all they can get."

Not Worth $500.

There was nothing, he contended, to justify a finding other than that "we have paid for our 50-50 interest in it." For the jail itself, he said, he would not give $500.

Responsibility for the courts, the jail and providing offices was cast upon the county, whether they were used one day or 365 days a year, it was argued. "They have to foot the expenses. We are not responsible for the county attorney, the sheriff or other offices."

The basis of population, Mr. Meredith claimed, was a fair and just one. In Mr. Elliott's statement as to the prisoners, he thought that these charged with indictable offences should not be eliminated. The Government paid for them, but the city's proportion should not be of a total not including the indictable offences.

The only fair basis, he concluded, was that of population.

The committee consisted of Judge Wallace of Woodstock, chairman; C. St. Clair Leitch, St. Thomas, and K. W. McKay, Elgin County clerk and editor of the Municipal World.

PRESERVE THE BEATTIE ESTATE, SUGGESTION OF BRYDEN N. CAMPBELL

Claims House of Historic Interest Could Be Used as a Museum.

Preservation of the Beattie estate in South London as a public park was the plan advanced by Bryden N. Campbell today. He will take it up with local organizations to see if funds can be raised for the purpose.

The house on the property is one of the oldest in the city, and he points out that there would be much historic intefest in it. One plan might be to turn it into a museum, where articles connected with the city's history could be kept. There is no public park in South London at present, with the exception of the Thames playground.

"MAYO SPRINGTIME" BEAUTIFUL, MUSICAL

Shure an' it was a bonnie "Springtime in Mayo," which the well-known and popular actor-singer, Fiske O'Hara, presented to a full house at the Grand last night. Deservedly called a melody-drama, it was full of the sparkling of the waters of Lake Killarney, the blue eyes, dancing feet and merry laughter of Irish colleens, while in the background ever showed the spirit of Pat, the true, wholehearted, soul-free Pat, the bulwark in peace and war of the freedom of humanity.

Beautifully staged throughout the second act, a corner of the Walsh's garden, was a marvel of stagecraft which, as the curtain lifter, caused a gasp of astonishment by its hint of fairyland such as only the Emerald Isle can reproduce in actual fact. Yet even all its beauties had to give place to the allurements of life, youth, song, romance, love and mirth as unfolded by Fiske O'Hara in the role of Terence McWarren and an excellent supporting company. Acts one and three were set in the lodgings of Lord Roger McWarren.

Delightful as the acting and the setting, is the tender (tender and sweet as an Irish rose and true as the green of the shamrock), little love story around which Anna Duffy has woven the action of the play which is all springtime in every sense of the word.

The delightful lilt of the songs rendered in excellent tone and range by Mr. O'Hara's splendid tenor voice caught and held his audience, and it would be difficult to select from the half dozen or so of last night's songs any one and say, Behold this was best, though to pass without mention over his rendering of "Springtime in Mayo," or that delightful little piece of childish song, "The Lilac Tree," would be to show lack of appreciation for music which carried the thoughts and hearts away over the seas to many a little flower-embowered cottage where the heart strings still are anchored.

Patricia Clary, as Betty Walsh, whose father has arranged her marriage to the impecunious brother of Terence for the sake of a title, plays up splendidly to her part as the impulsive, sweet, coy, blarney-loving Irish colleen who falls in love with the brother of the nobleman she was to marry at sight. Except for a slight showing of nervousness in the first act, Miss Clary's acting was excellent and her presence the embodiment of her role.

Frederick Pymm, as Lord Roger Warren, gives a fine impersonation of the self-entered nobleman who is willing to drop his engagement with Lady Olga in order to get Betty's dower. Miss Nan Bernard, as Lady Olga, and Mary L. Malloy, as Hannah Walsh, Betty's aunt, both give excellent portrayals of their respective parts. George Sharp, as Jacques Ranie, the French-Canadian friend of the hero; W. T. Sheehan, as Shamus, the old family servant; J. P. Sullivan, as Silas Walsh, Betty's father, and J. E. Miller, as Mr. Mcawber, the family lawyer, give splendid support to the leading characters.

Delightful musical numbers were the 'cello solo by George Bornhaupt; the violin solo by Milton A. Risck, and the piano solo by Paul Yartin given as interludes during the changing of the scenery.

Altogether the play was one that by its own magnetic attraction will undoubtedly assure Mr. O'Hara and his company full houses and a splendid reception at the matinee and night performances today.

At The Theaters

AT THE ALLEN.

With all the power and rugged strength of the novel left intact, Zane Grey's great story of the arid west "Desert Gold," has been translated from the narrative English to the silent language of the screen. This vivid portrayal of life in the wilderness, bearing the same name as the book, is being shown at the Allen Theatre the last of this week. Zane Grey has been so widely read that through the medium of his books a large percentage of the reading public has become familiar with the wonderful desert country which he loved so well. In their imagination the readers have felt the pulse of adventurous life, lived among the sands, the sage bush and the cactus. None of this has been lost to the pictured story. It is, in fact, even more vividly portrayed, for the very scenes which the author wrote about have been introduced into the film.

From beginning to end the picture is filled with tense dramatic incidents and breathless adventures. The opening scenes are deeply stirring, for they are taken amid a death-dealing sandstorm, which is pictured in all its terrible reality. The romance is enacted by a splendid caste, including E. K. Lincoln, Marjorie Wilson, Edward Coxen and Eileen Percy.

Another of Booth Tarkington's delightful boy stories won the hearts of the spectators last night. "Edgar Takes the Cake" is the name of it. The two reels gave in picture form one of Booth Tarkington's appealing portrayals of boy life which he so sympathetically understands.

With a wonderfully rich voice, Bert Caldwell treated the audience to a novel entertainment by presenting "A Voice in the Organ." Hidden from the sight of those who listened, he sang beautifully several numbers. The songs are illustrated in colors on the screen.

A really funny Mutt and Jeff cartoon and a Pathe Weekly completes a bill which will be repeated today.

LAMBETH CHURCH HAD A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

LAMBETH, Jan. 14.—At the annual vestry meeting in Trinity Church many reports were presented. The first was the financial statement for the year presented by the rector's warden, E. Routledge, which showed a flourishing condition of affairs. A discussion took place in regard to the laymen's action at the last session of the synod, when it was decided to raise the clergymen's stipends to $1,300 and a house. The congregation, in order to do their share, decided to add $100 to their clergyman's stipend.

The Woman's Auxiliary report was next given, showing that $97.52 had been collected by these active workers.

The Sunday school statement gave a very substantial balance also.

The rector, in his closing remarks, offered congratulations and showed his appreciation of the work done by the different organizations and individuals, especially the untiring efforts of the warden, Mr. Routledge, who has been chiefly instrumental in bringing the finances up to their present state of efficiency.

What the team prizes will be has not been decided.

Besides the appointment of a couple of more officers the commission will consider at its next meeting the installation of an electrical box call system, and in the meanwhile will get an estimate of the cost

Phony Checks Circulated.

Kite flying has been reported from several banks in the city today, but so far only a couple of the agencies have been touched. One of the forged checks was for $72 and the other $20.

The east end branch of the Molsons Bank was tendered a "kite" for $50 yesterday, purported to be signed by a well known resident, but its genuineness was suspected, and on going into particulars the holder broke away and was lost outside.

PHILIP BASSETT TO BE BAILIFF

Labor Man Will Receive Elgin Appointment From the Government.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 14.—The appointment of bailiff of the third division court, St. Thomas, to succeed the late G. W. Smiley, has, it is understood, been given to Philip Bassett of the Wright Shoe Company, a prominent local labor man, and he will take charge as soon as the term of the temporary bailiff expires in a week or so. Peter Cameron, M.P.P., West Elgin, has had a conference during the week with his U. F. O. and labor friends in the city, and the nomination of a labor man was favored. The temporary bailiff, H. Smiley, who was named to officiate during the illness of his brother, was an applicant, and he was advised yesterday that the appointment had been made.

URGING REMOVAL OF THE GAS WORKS

Many Citizens Would Place It Far From Business District.

ST. THOMAS, Jan. 14.—An agitation is on foot to have the gas works removed to a location far from the business centre, or, like that of the waterworks, have the utility placed outside the corporation. When the works were built away back in the seventies the site was beyond the residential and business area. The land covered by the department has been suggested as suitable for a central market, and as convenient to all parts of the corporation. The works has lowered the value of real estate in their locality and at times are an expensive nuisance to householders in their immediate neighborhood. The city as a whole would not object to the removal of the buildings and appointments of the utility beyond the boundaries of the residential centres.

FARMERS ARE GIVING LAND FOR HIGHWAY

Burford Road Will Be Widened To Fifty-Six Feet.

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14.—Brantford's separate school board is planning to erect a new school and provide for a school dental nurse. At present there is a dental committee which arranges for dental attention inspection.

Burford road, a provincial county highway, will be widened to 56 feet. Members of the suburban roads commission visited farmers all along the road today and discussed the purchase of land. Considerable property will have to be purchased to widen the road before putting down the concrete paving next summer. Some of the farmers are moving back their fences and giving strips of their property freely to the county.

The board of works will rush construction work in this city in order that the several hundred unemployed may be provided with meal tickets. The recently annexed property in Belleview will be improved during the winter months.

SALARY INCREASE FOR LISTOWEL TEACHERS

LISTOWEL, Jan. 14.—Increases in salary were given this week to all the public school teachers. Principal E. G. McDonald's salary was raised from $1,680 to $1,750 without his asking for it, as his work is highly appreciated. The lady teachers asked for $1,200 as a minimum, as this is according to the Teachers' Federation schedule. The board, while admitting that the lady teachers give satisfaction, criticized the federation for its methods and demands. A compromise was offered that the $900 salary be increased to $1,000, the minimum to be $800, with a yearly increase of $50; a first-class certificate to count as two years' experience and two years' rural teaching experience as one year in the town.

STUFFY HEAD CLEARED OF CATARRH GERMS BY "CATARRHOZONE"

To catarrh victims we have just one word of advice—relieve it now. The remedy is "Catarrhozone." That it will relieve permanently you cannot doubt. Catarrhozone has relieved thousands; it will relieve you, too.

It acts in two ways: First, it destroys the germ—that checks the progress of the disease. Its second action is to heal the sore places the germs caused. Nice to think of breathing little drops of healing to every part of the lungs, bronchial tubes and nasal passages. It is such absolute thoroughness that makes Catarrhozone so effective in grippe, catarrh and colds. Then by its sedative influence upon the mucous surface it clears away the cough and throat tenderness very quickly. We owe something to a science that has given us Catarrhozone—that wonderful remedy which so surely enables us to permanently relieve disease of the breathing apparatus. We all know that stomach dosing is useless, and this departure in the mode of treatment is an advance in medical science that everybody can appreciate and value. Complete outfit of Catarrhozone, which is guaranteed to relieve any case of catarrh, asthma, bronchial or throat troubles, lasts three months, price, $1; smaller size, 50c; trial size, 25c; sold everywhere.

C. DEELEY PRESIDENT OF THE LONDON HIGH SCHOOL BOYS' CLUB

Students Elect Officers For Year—Meet Every Friday Night.

The Y. M. C. A. was the scene of a jolly gathering on Friday evening, when over fifty boys from the second year, middle and upper schools gathered to form a High School Boys' Club. Supper was served at 6 o'clock, followed by a short sing-song led by L. M. Houlding of the Y. M. C. A.

A slate of nominations, which had been prepared beforehand, was presented, and the following officers elected: President, C. Deeley; vice-president, R. Cleghorn; secretary, W. Skinner; treasurer, J. Hambly. Short speeches were given by the officers-elect and by Principal W. T. Mooney, W. A. Adams, J. A. Drekin, E. A. Miller and J. G. McEachern. The latter two will act as advisers to the boys' executive. Mr. Houlding welcomed the students to the "Y," and prophesied a great future for them.

Each of the speakers laid special stress upon the need for a boys' club, and the great opportunity they would have of helping the boys of the collegiate to live in closer contact with their fellows.

The meeting closed with a cheer for Mr. Houlding for his kindness in allowing the boys the use of the Y. M. C. A. Building. The boys plan to meet every Friday evening at the same hour.

ONTARIO CIVIC BODIES TO DISCUSS TOWN PLANNING AT TORONTO CONFERENCE

All Phases of Subject Will Be Reviewed by Delegates.

A town-planning conference will take place in Toronto about the middle of February, at which representatives are expected to be present from London City Council, London Chamber of Commerce, and other civic bodies from all over the province. The proceedings, which will last two days, will be opened by the lieutenant-governor, and amongst the speakers will be Premier Drury, Sir Adam Beck, Archbishop McNeill, and other prominent public men, including representatives from the various cities, who will submit reports as to local conditions.

Among the subjects to be discussed on the opening day are included recent town-planning progress in England, operations under the Ontario law, and where responsibility for town-planning rests.

The second day's program will embrace housing, town-planning and the solution of the housing problem.

The financial aspect of the matter will be dealt with in an address on what has been done in Ontario under provincial and federal loans, and how housing is to be financed.

At the conclusion of the conference a public meeting will be held, at which eminent speakers will be present.

How to Make Pine Cough Syrup at Home

Has no equal for prompt results. Takes but a moment to prepare, and saves you about $2.

You know that pine is used in nearly all prescriptions and remedies for coughs. The reason is that pine contains several peculiar elements that have a remarkable effect in soothing and healing the membranes of the throat and chest.

Pine cough syrups are combinations of pine and syrup. The "syrup" part is usually plain sugar syrup.

To make the best pine cough remedy that money can buy, put 2½ ounces of Pinex in a 16-oz. bottle, and fill up with home-made sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you make 16 ounces—more than you can buy ready-made for $2.50. It is pure, good and pleasant—children like it.

You can feel this take hold of a cough or cold in a way that means business. The cough may be dry, hoarse and tight, or may be persistently loose from the formation of phlegm. The cause is the same—inflamed membranes—and this Pinex and Syrup combination will stop it—usually in 24 hours or less. Splendid, too, for bronchial asthma, hoarseness, or any ordinary throat ailment.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is famous the world over for its prompt effect upon coughs.

Beware of substitutes. Ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

Formation of a Trout Club was one of the items of business up for discussion at the annual meeting of the Ontario Forest, Fish and Game Association at the court house Friday evening. CANNOT SECURE ICE FOR RINKS.—So far all efforts of the gangs employed by the parks department of the P. U. While the snaps of frost have been so comparatively mild and intermittent that sufficient ice to provide a skating surface has not been secured despite all efforts.

"If the lots are sold, they will be disposed of at the price which was set on them when the survey was subdivided. If $1,800 was paid for them I think it would be a fair price."

THEY LOOKED SUSPICIOUS

So Provincial Constable Put Strathroy Man and Friend Under Arrest.

Strathroy was possessed with excitement on Thursday last, when two men were arrested there by Provincial Constable Palmer of Middlesex, who believed that they had the earmarks of the bandits who have been terrorizing Western Ontario for the past few weeks. When one of the men was identified by Magistrate Trueman of that town, as a man who came from a respectable family living in the neighborhood, the two were allowed to go.

It happened thusly. After a strenuous day, the constable went to a restaurant and ordered lunch. While waiting, two men, strangers to him, came bustling in and hurriedly ordered something to eat. When one leaned over, and in a low tone said something about having a coat, the constable became suspicious. He watched the pair.

Soon he saw one of the men pass some rounds of ammunition to the other. Later when they left the eating place the constable followed closely.

The men hurried to a car parked near by. As soon as the officer saw that the car bore an American marker, and that it had the appearance of having been driven some distance, he believed his suspicions to be confirmed. Before the men could get away he stopped them. A thorough search of the persons and of the car, however, failed to reveal a gun or any other suspicious circumstances.

The constable still believed that the hurried actions of the men, the ammunition which proved to be for a 32-calibre revolver, and the American car, were too much circumstantial evidence to be passed up lightly, so he took them before the magistrate.

After the magistrate had identified one of them, the man explained that the other was a friend from Detroit, who had come to visit him. The ammunition, he said, was for a gun which he had on his farm.

MADE HER ESCAPE OVER THE ROOFS

KITCHENER, Jan. 14.—Chased by police early today, a Kitchener girl who was frequenting a room occupied by two young men, climbed over the roofs of two business blocks on King street and got away. She entered the sleeping room occupied by a janitor and his wife, and worked her way through a building to King street, making good her escape after a sensational flight. The girl met the nightman in the building which she so spectacularly entered and convinced him that she was being chased by white slavers. The man, pitying her, let her out to the street where she quickly disappeared. The girl's identity is not known, but the police have a good description of her.

MACBRIDE AGAIN ATTACKS RANEY

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14.—A direct attack on Attorney-General Raney was made by M. M. MacBride, M.P.P., in Victoria Hall tonight, when he declared that Raney "passed the buck" as far as the enforcement of the law was concerned, when he and other labor men suggested the enforcement of the law prohibiting the employment of white girls in Chinese restaurants. He also made several wild statements regarding the liquor traffic.

Her Friends Said She Was Going to Die

WHY MRS. MARKLAND PRAISES DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She suffered terribly and lost sixty pounds, but Dodd's Kidney Pills started her on the road to health.

Picton, Ont., Jan. 14.—(Special.)—Enthusiastic in her praises of Dodd's Kidney Pills is Mrs. Finlay Markland, a well-known and highly-respected resident here. And Mrs. Markland is always willing to tell why she pins her faith to the great Canadian Kidney remedy.

"Two years ago I had a bad attack of flu and pneumonia," she states, "and the poison in my system all went to my Kidneys and gave me diabetes. I had it for nearly a year before I knew it, but last fall I broke out all over with boils.

"I suffered something terrible. I went down in flesh till I lost 60 pounds. The doctor put me on starvation diet. I could not even put my shoes on. My husband and all my friends thought I was going to die.

"Reading of what Dodd's Kidney Pills had done for another woman with Kidney trouble led my husband to get some for me. After I had taken two boxes I began to feel better. I have taken 21 boxes and feel splendid. I can do my work and eat almost anything. I have gained 20 pounds. I tell all my friends what grand pills Dodd's Kidney Pills are."

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills are not the best remedy for sick Kidneys.

NEEDED DOCTOR, NOT POLICE ASSISTANCE

Baby in Convulsions Caused Alarm To Be Sent to Wrong Place.

An amusing comedy-drama, based on the hold-up panic which has seized a few citizens, and in which two local families and members of the city police force played stellar roles, was staged here this week. The scene of the affair was a double house on Dundas street hursday evening, when a young housewife paid a friendly visit to the family next door. After a social chat the young wife returned to her home, and almost immediately her hosts were startled by piercing screams emanating from the recent visitor.

Fearing the presence of burglars during the caller's absence, interrupted by the unexpected return, the man and wife upon whom the frantic one had called rushed upstairs and into the other house via a back veranda. During this rush of reinforcements a female member of the family next door hurriedly called the police department, and informed the sergeant on duty that burglars were ransacking her neighbor's domicile.

Within a very brief time the 'wagon" and three constables arrived on the scene in a hurry, only to be informed by the woman who screamed that it was a false alarm, and that her fear was due to the discovery on returning home that her baby was in the throes of a convulsion. The bluecoats were not exactly pleased at this information, and as they filed out to the police auto one constable remarked, "It is a doctor you want, not a policeman." And just before the final curtain a physician put in an appearance and concluded the drama by administering to the needs of the infant.

SELF-EXPRESSION

practice and study necessary to becoming a good musician."

Fred Landon, M.A., public librarian, was of the opinion that if the children of today read less than formerly it is not for lack of opportunity. "There are greater opportunities for reading today than ever before," said Mr. Landon, "and it would be strange if as your question suggests there should be less reading done now than formerly. Every public library has its children's department under the care of specialists who make a close and careful study of children's needs and the best kind of books for them. This did not exist a generation ago. Dr. G. H. Locke of Toronto recently expressed the opinion that the children's department of the public library is the most important of all its departments in that it directs the reading of the children along the best lines.

Principal H. B. Beal of the Technical School claimed that the greatly increased attendance at the evening classes refutes the idea that the young people of today are not anxious to improve themselves. "Last year," said Mr. Beal, "we made a survey of the books being read by the students of the Technical School, asking them to make a list of the books which they had read during recent months, and we were delightfully surprised to find that the choice of books, apart from those of a technical nature had been fairly good.

"There is a library connected with the school and the books in it are in constant demand. The books in the library are not confined solely to technical subjects."

LEADING BROKER SHOT TO DEATH

William Holland Killed in Montreal Financial District—Major R. M. Griffith, Well-Known in Social and Financial Circles, Gives Himself Up to Police—Eccentric Officer Was Patient At Guelph Institution Recently.

Montreal, Jan. 15.—Confirmation of the story that Major R. Griffiths, who yesterday shot and killed W. A. Holland, a stock broker, in the latter's office believing that Mr. Holland had mesmerized him, was supplied today by Rev. Father Holland, Quebec, brother of the dead man. Major Griffith wrote to Father Holland complaining of the "hold" his brother had on him. Major Griffith contended that Mr. Holland mesmerized him at an amateur theatrical performance given last year at Ste. Agathe. Father Holland never heard, he said, that his brother practices mesmerism. He wrote to his brother about it and received a letter advising him to ignore the major who was either crazy or drunk.

Both Major Griffith and Mr. Holland were members of the same council in the Knights of Columbus.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—At 3:40 this afternoon William Holland, 49, formerly secretary of the Montreal stock exchange clearing house, and for the last two years manager for MacDougall Brothers, well-known stock brokers of this city, was shot through the heart and died in a few minutes in the stock brokerage offices of Gordon, Strathy & Company, into which he had staggered groaning "I'm shot, I'm shot!"

At 4:45 in the afternoon Major R. M. Griffith, well known in social, military and financial circles here, accompanied by his brother, Dr. G. T. Griffith, and his brother-in-law, Dr. J. J. McGovern, entered the headquarters police station of this city and gave himself up for the shooting of Holland.

It is conjectured that Griffith, who was known to have sustained heavy losses on the stock exchange in recent months, may have conceived a personal enmity for Holland, and it is stated that the latter had received threatening letters from Griffith.

Was At Guelph.

Major Griffith is stated to have heard "voices" when on a short visit to a mountain resort near here recently and was sent to the Homewood Sanatorium near Guelph, Ont. While on his way there he broke away from his escort, but later gave himself up. Subsequently he was released and returned to Montreal, where he was engaged in selling bonds.

Mr. Holland leaves a family of ten children and a widow.

In surrendering at the police headquarters, Major Griffith said: "I shot Billy Holland. What are the formalities that I must go through?"

An Amateur Athlete.

Major R. N. Griffith, familiarly known as "Bob," came here from Sherbrooke some years ago in the service of the Eastern Townships Bank, afterwards striking out for himself in the insurance business. He was a well-known amateur athlete, at one time playing with the Shamrock hockey club. Always keenly interested in military matters, he received an appointment to the Grenadier Guards, afterwards attaining his majority in that regiment.

Major Griffith was well known about town for his curious habit of wandering around town at night and sleeping during the day. When questioned as to why he did this he used to reply that he was under a hypnotic spell of a man whom he feared. He had only one way to break the spell, he said, and that was to break down the other man's health. "He cannot sleep while I am awake and in this way I will break down his health. Some day he may make me kill a man, and then I'll get into trouble."

PRESBYTERY TO MEET TUESDAY TO DISCUSS IMPORTANT MATTERS

Method of Stationing Ministers Will Be Dealt With.

At the monthly meeting of the London Presbytery, to be held in the First Presbyterian Church on Tuesday, consideration of a different method than now employed in stationing Presbyterian ministers will be one of the chief points of discussion. The London Presbytery is not taking up this discussion of its own accord, but has been asked by the general assembly to have a full discussion on the subject, and report the decision of the presbytery to headquarters. At the present time a minister, once he takes a charge, may remain in it for a lifetime unless the congregation becomes dissatisfied or the minister accepts a call from another church.

A new moderator will be chosen at Tuesday's meeting to succeed Rev. W. J. Knox, who has been in office for the past six months. A report will also be received from Knollwood Park Church.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

means of utilizing the services of and developing the members of the staff.

That adequate recreation grounds are essential to the modern urban collegiates. The great war has taught more than anything else the need of physical training.

That under the unit system most of the students can go home to lunch, which is desirable from a health standpoint.

That the unit system creates community centres and increases real estate value in each centre of population.

That one central collegiate, no matter how large, will not accommodate the city when the adolescent attendance act comes into force.

Reasons Against the Old Site.

That in order to use the old collegiate site even for a sixteen-room unit school additional property would have to be purchased as the department of education insists that large recreation grounds be provided. This would add greatly to the cost.

That when the unit plan was completed a school on the old site would not be in the centre of any of the three centres of high school population.

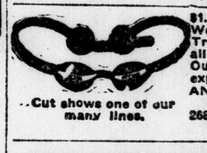

As a result of the January elections supporters of the central school plan claim that the ratepayers favor that scheme, and in order to clear the air and give the 1921 trustees a free hand Trustee Hayman has submitted his motion, which, however, will require to be approved by a two-thirds vote of the members of the board.

So far as the public school trustees, as now constituted, are concerned, the board appears to be equally divided, and it will require the switching of at least two votes to one or the other of the proposed schemes before any change in the action of the board in December can be made. This is a matter on which the separate school representatives have a right to vote, and their prerogative would give them the balance of power, but it is stated in school board circles that these gentlemen have been instructed to refrain from voting under the circumstances which have arisen, thereby leaving the final decision absolutely in the hands of the public school trustees.

Several of the trustees were still out of the city this morning attending the urban trustees' convention in Hamilton, and those available preferred to make no statement for publication prior to the meeting. Indications of possible changes in their former standing on the matter could not be secured, but it is certain that neither scheme will be carried out without a prolonged and probably acrimonious debate.

MODERN PUBLIC HEALTH

WHAT IS WRONG WITH OUR FOOD?

Man has been eating since the first day he appeared on the globe—eating other living things, and also trying to keep other living things from eating him! He has succeeded moderately well in both efforts as a species, although a great many individuals have succumbed to ill-success in one or the other of these two great lines of endeavor. But man has succeeded even as a species only moderately well—enough to survive, to spread all over the world, and to be the lord of creation, it is true; but when we come down to individuals, the individual success either in eating other things or in escaping from being eaten is far from complete. Most of us know the difficulties of getting good food for ourselves only too well—and most of us have been eaten more or less completely from time to time by various germs, at least, if not by cooties, mosquitoes, or even larger "animals."

SCIENTIFIC FOOD.

Science, after furnishing food for thought for several generations, is now furnishing food for the stomach. True, we "got along" somehow on rules-of-thumb regarding food for quite a few thousand years, just as we got along on counting fingers and toes instead of mathematics, scratching the ground with sticks instead of gasoline tractors, and many other rule-of-thumb procedures, carried out on experience and tradition, instead of after careful experiment and investigation. Painfully, and after many mistakes, scientific investigation of foods and feeding has been developed for domestic animals very extensively in agricultural experiment stations, and by the more advanced farmers. But a long time elapsed before we had the courage to try such experiments on the human. However, the results on animals were so remarkable that at last the human family has received and is now receiving quite a good deal of attention—for it.

WHAT FOOD IS FOR.

Food as we eat it does two things that we know of in our bodies. First, it forms the body itself; second, it furnishes fuel for our bodies to burn. The new-born babe weighs, say, nine pounds. Fifteen years later he weighs, say, 159 pounds. Where did that 150 pounds come from? Of what does it consist? He has grown; he is much longer and thicker and wider than he was when first born. He weighs over seventeen times as much as he did on that auspicious occasion. How did this growth occur? Well, evidently he has added to himself, has made over into his own substance 150 pounds of beef, potatoes, bread, milk, water, etc., etc., etc. He has been pouring through his system about 1,000 pounds of food on the average per year, besides about another 1,000 pounds or so of liquid, and some of it "stuck"—some of it went to form the 150 pounds of human meat and bones and blood and so on that makes our big boy out of our little nine-pound baby.

WHAT OF THE REST?

What became of the rest of the seven and a half tons he ate during those fifteen years? About one-half to two-thirds of that total was water in the food itself. The boy himself is about 70 per cent water; he is about 50 pounds of real meat, bone and nerve and gland mixed in with eleven gallons of water. Leaving out of account the water in the food he has eaten say 2½ tons or 4,500 pounds of solid matter in those fifteen years. Yet only 50 pounds really stayed with him. What did he do with all the rest? Burned it up—used it as fuel. That is the fate of a very large proportion of our food—indeed—only a little goes into making us.

The burning up is of course a parable? No, not at all. Just as literally as coal is burned in a furnace, so our baby boy has burned up 2½ tons of solid matter in fifteen years. Of course there was no actual flame visible at any time—the burning was slow and invisible; but all those tons burned up just as coal does, altogether much more slowly. They united with oxygen just as coal does; turned into carbon dioxide and water, just as coal does; supplied heat and energy just as coal does.

THE BOY IS A FURNACE.

Truly he is a furnace. Now, a regular furnace burns up its coal but also burns up some of itself—very slowly as a rule. "Burned out" we say of the grate or firepot. but burned up would be equally correct. So the body burns up its fuel (food), but also burns out or burns up part of itself—its own proper substance. Now when an ordinary iron-house furnace or locomotive boiler burns out some of itself, we have to repair it with similar material—iron not coal. But the human body, being made of fuel itself—of food—repairs its own burned-out substance with food also—uses its fuel not only as fuel but (part of it) as repair material as well. If we could mix iron with coal in our ordinary furnaces, so that while the coal gave only heat, the iron gave heat and also welded itself (some of it) to the worn-out iron parts of the furnace, thus replacing the burned-out parts, then our real furnaces would act with such fuel as the body does with its food.

In the human body we really have two kinds of fuel. Fats and oils, sugars and starches form one kind—the kind that is fuel only, no good for growth or repairs. Such foods are like ordinary coal. Proteins (the substance of meat, fish, white of egg, etc.) form the other kind of food—the kind that can be and is used both as fuel and for growth and repairs. Proteins therefore, are like our hypothetical iron in our hypothetical furnace fuel.

WHAT DO WE NEED IN FOOD?

Food isn't any old thing we can swallow—nor any old thing that we choose to call food. Food is—proteins, fats, starches, salts (and water) or it is nothing—nothing worth mentioning at least. That is, so far as fuel value and repair value go. The other things we usually think of as foods—flavors, spices, condiments of all kinds—are nix as fuel repair material, although they add greatly to enjoyment of food, encourage appetite (sometimes too much) and furnish a good many people with their chief pleasure in life—gormandizing. When it comes down to real food value, however, they haven't any.

HOW MUCH SHOULD WE EAT?

This is indeed a vexed question: and after all must ultimately be decided by each person for himself on the basis of what suits him, not the man who writes the dietlists. Nevertheless, experience and experiment make it seem likely, that we adults working reasonably hard should eat daily about two ounces of fat, about four ounces of protein and somewhat over a pound of starch and sugar (mostly starch, not much sugar). Heavy manual labor, sweeping, dusting, digging drains, carrying babies about heaving coal, etc., calls for more. Light dainty occupations, mental work and such like, call for less. But in a general way a pound and a half altogether of these things will do us very well.

But don't expect to get them so easily as all this. If you ordered from your grocer an ounce of fat or oil, he would want to know what kind you wanted—butter, lard, olive oil, cottonseed or suet. If you ordered starch, he would offer you many kinds; even of sugar there are several—brown, maple, cane, glucose, to begin with only four. What a nice meal you could make of a pound of starch, two ounces of suet and a quarter of a pound of protein. Where would you get the last? Perhaps if the grocer were also a nutritonal expert he would get you some, and it would prove to be a tasteless whitish substance that you would sniff at and use, if at all, for face powder.

Yet the grocer sells you proteins, and fats every day—in every pound of fish, flesh, fowl, or good red herring that you buy; and these, together with carbohydrates (starch and sugar) in every pound of bread, biscuit, fruit, cereal, tuber, root or leaf he sells you. He sells you a lot of water with them too, for all meat, vegetables, bread, etc., run a large per cent of water—from one-third to two-thirds of most of these things are water.

HOW TO KNOW.

How are you ever going to know whether you have bought enough protein, too much fat, carbohydrates, to go round, if you can't weigh them out separately and see? Ah, there is the rub. The only way at present to do this at all accurately is to get a set of tables and find from them how much protein, fat and carbohydrates each pound you buy contains; and then figure what combinations these will make. But how can you expect to get a meal at all if you have to sit down and do a stunt in algebra before you can even begin to cook? Fortunately most books on dietetics give menus all figured out, acceptable and fit. Substitutions are readily made once you get the swing of it. The latest of these books lists two complete meals for every day in the year, January 1st to December 31st, all arranged to suit the season.

Then why bother about figuring at all? Why not just adopt that list or some other and stick to it. Well every housekeeper knows that you can't always get what you want when you want it—that people don't eat just exactly what you put on the table, but want more of this, less of that; and thus your menus are upset. That is where your other scientific tables come in—you know how to patch the damaged menu to perfection and make it come out right after all. A book of this kind should go with your cook book if you want to do things quite right.

SOME "REALLY PRACTICAL" POINTS.

Even those who 'don't understand mathematics" and won't take the trouble to eat scientifically exact combinations will be interested in the following general points which investigations of the last few years have brought out. The first is that vegetable proteins, even those of the much lauded pea and bean are not, ounce for ounce or pound for pound, anything like as valuable to the body as the proteins of milk, meat, fish etc.—the animal proteins. Why are peas and beans so good for hunters and campers then? Not because of their proteins; they are not good building material; but because of their carbohydrates; they are good fuel; and relatively concentrated too—far more so than most other vegetables, which most of them are so largely water. Fuel is just what a camper or a hunter wants—he puts out a lot of heat and energy all the time as a rule and needs fuel to keep him going.

Another practical point concerns using more of the liver, kidney and sweetbreads of animals, less of the steaks and chops and roasts. Both have proteins and fats in them, but the former have certain other things, called vitamines, that need a whole article to themselves later.

CANADIAN LABOR WILL DEMAND SOMETHING MORE DEFINITE THAN GOVT.'S "SERIOUS CONSIDERATION"

By Mrs. George Hambleton.

[By Mrs. George Hambleton, M. A.]

In one of the old and rather dingy rooms of the east block of the Parliament Buildings, where many-pointed windows give a view of the broad sweep of the Ottawa two hundred feet below, and Laurentian Mountains beyond, there will take place in a few weeks a meeting which will be something of a contest. There, the council of the Trades and Labor Congress will present to the Government organized labor's program for the year. The meeting is timed to take place opportunely—a week or two before Parliament opens. The labor leaders will aim to have part at least of the workers' program covered by Government legislation introduced at the coming session.

The Usual Promise.

Members of the cabinet responsible to the parliament of the nation, when dealing with the council of the workers' parliament at this their annual encounter, will have a strategic advantage. They are at home—on their own ground. Almost every morning delegates gather in rooms at the hotel over the canal, uncertain what the day may bring forth. Almost every day, some member of the cabinet receives one or more deputations and promises that the Government "will give its most serious consideration"—the reply which has become the Bridge of Sighs to the initiated in the ways of Ottawa. The Labor deputation has until lately played a somewhat modest part in its annual pilgrimage. It has risen in the morning, glanced at the picturesque buildings crowning Parliament Hill, crossed the bridge, and, after a weary day, returned with a promise of "serious consideration."

Want Something Definite.

This year, so the rumor has gone forth, those who place before the Government the demands of organized workers will not be content with this answer. They are determined to exact, if they can, some definite promise, some definite indication of what the Government's attitude is to be. Afterwards will come the longer fight in the House of Commons itself, the battle ground of legislation, where many a bill and a pious promise falls by the wayside.

Two dangers particularly threaten the workers' program. In the first place, members of the cabinet may say: "This is too far-reaching. The demands are too many. They are impracticable." There is some ground for this claim. The workers' program is a memorandum compiled by the executive of the Trades and Labor Congress based on resolutions adopted at the annual convention of workers. Here were convened printers, bakers, railroadmen, blacksmiths, barbers, brewers, machinists, firemen, men and women of many trades, a workers' parliament inideed. Its resolutions reflect various and at times contradictory aspirations. When the demands which can be carried out by the Dominion Government are separated from those which are properly subjects for consideration by the provincial governments or by trade union organizations only, the list is still large; it covers such diverse subjects as the use of spraying machines for painting Government property and Government ships; labelling of cigars for protection of the smoker; sanitation of railroad cars—questions touching on the common realities of everyday life jostle with wider questions of trade policy (such as paper or coal export), or again with such high issues as the nationalization of all mines and railroads.

Must Take Demands Seriously.

About half-past 3 or 4 o'clock in the afternoon, grey shadows slip over the hills across the Ottawa. The light dims. A kind of chill falls on the audience room in the East Block. This is the hour when the sentence "The Government will give the matter its most serious consideration" is likely to fall on the ear of the petitioners. Enshrouding darkness makes the gallant figure of Samuel de Chaplain, cast sharply in relief on Nepean Point, perhaps the most encouraging statute in all Canada. Its challenging silhouette catches the eye and quickens the courage. Other years the workers' delegation has needed that encouragement.

But the cabinet cannot this year dismiss the labor petition lightly. Three questions of great importance will be raised therein; the putting into effect of the International Labor Charter to which Canada assented in the treaty of Versailles and which the Dominion Parliament has approved; the consideration of some permanent form of unemployment insurance and the submission to Parliament of the Seamen's Charter adopted by the international labor conference called to consider the matter last June.

In the discussion of these latter problems with the federal cabinet, labor representatives will encounter their second danger: the question of federal or provincial jurisdiction. The ruling of the justice department, which declared that all the important conventions adopted by the international labor conference at Washington were matters for provincial consideration, will of necessity have to be accepted by the Trades and Labor Congress. Workers' representatives are at present pressing each of the provincial governments to put into effect the 8-hour day convention along with other conventions regarding child and women labor. But the road of provincial legislation is slow and uneven. It is more than likely that the executive of the Trades and Labor Congress will this year urge such amendment of the British North America act as will give the Dominion Parliament power to put into effect all international labor conventions to which Canada, as a member of the League of Nations, is a party.

Would Amend B. N. A. Act.

But proposals to amend the B. N. A. act again raise difficulties. Parliament will examine with a very critical eye all suggestions of amendment to the constitution. A constitutional amendment to give the Dominion Parliament authority to enact a national 8-hour day would undoubtedly meet with opposition from Quebec members. But the pressure in favor of national action in labor questions is becoming increasingly strong. Improvements in our legislative machinery must necessarily come.

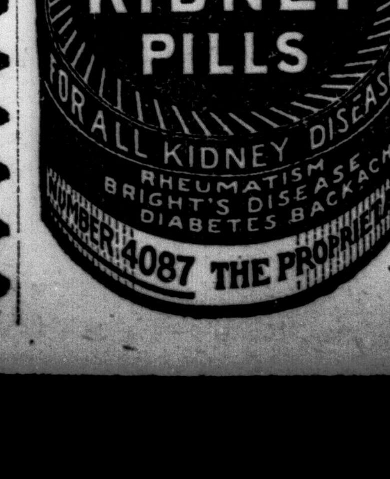

The Railwaymen's Demand.

The demand of railwaymen marks a high ambition. Through the Trades and Labor Congress or through the brotherhoods not affiliated with the congress, they are asking for representation on the board of management of the Government railways. The late Borden Government promised such representation. The critical time for giving effect to that promise is now approaching. In comparison, there are to be considered the needs of the most poorly organized of workers. They are reflected in a request that the industrial disputes investigation act may be invoked in case of dispute in any industry and not merely in industries classed as public utilities. The original resolution came from workers in some of the smaller towns of Ontario and Quebec. Behind the resolution, there were tales of the persecution of striking employees, of their being turned out of town.

No Class Hatred.

There is moderation in the labor program to be presented on Parliament Hill this year. It is unmarked by any indication of class hatred or strife. The legislation asked for is such as any self-respecting citizen might demand for himself were he required to work in factory, shop or mine, legislation in the absence of which he would feel most anxious were his youthful son or daughter to enter mine or factory to earn a living. The chimerical hopes of new Utopias, which sprang into such sudden life in many of the industrial centres in Europe—finding an echo in Canada—have died away here as completely as those dreams of early explorers of the lovely Ottawa. In the mind's eye, the latter saw a western gateway through which rich galleons of trade would pass to the empires of the east. Yet now, as then, reality gives promise of greater possibilities than the dream. The task, heavy, onerous, disappointing as it is of democratizing industry through constitutional channels, is a better accomplishment than the sudden overthrow of one order for the sake of another that is nothing more than a vision.

What's In a Book?

By Kathleen K. Bowker.

There is a fascination about the World that wore leg-o'-mutton sleeves, drove in Victorias, and considered that a cigarette Ab-SO(LUTELY branded a woman in the Smoking of it!

Edith Wharton in "The Age of Innocence" (George Macleod & Co., Toronto), has told a thoughtful story, balancing the values of intensive innocence, and fearless frankness; and Dallas Archer's comment to his Dad on the old love affair "Isn't she the woman you would have chucked everything for—only you didn't?" —is a less-emphasized version of Suzanne Gay-Dembey's comment on her Grandmother's emotions—

And it brings home the truth that in our day and generation, nothing (and nobody) is necessarily "down and out" for all time—never absolutely finished. If individuals can pursue the even (or uneven) tenor of their way, with unflinching self-confidence, through good report and ill, they may be sure of ultimate arrival, regardless of delays at the Way-stations—

Which is re-assuring or not, just as you happen to look at it.

Newland Archer, a Young Man About Town, the Glass of Fashion, and the Mold of Form, having wearied of the Sowing of Semi-wild oats; having come to the "settling down" age, and begun to look about him for a fitting altar whereon to shrine his aging aspirations, decides upon the heart and person of May Welland—a lily-of-the-Valley girl (with all the sturdy root and germinating power of that lovely plant.)

May had been brought up in that school of curiously opaque openess, that not only persisted in calling the most useful of garden instruments "an implement of excavation"—but that encouraged two persons of the opposite sex, to use it for its legitimate purpose, while pretending that they were playing a minuet upon it.

That, I think, was the supreme social achievement of the "Eighties and Nineties."

And then comes Ellen Mingott, Countess Olenska, in among the leg-o'-mutton ladies, with their twenty-inch waists, and billowy hips; with all the glamour of her Continental experiences and unhappiness, wreathed about her, like some sinister, sinuous Persian garment— —

With touching simplicity, she ALMOST stumbles through the opaque glass shade, behind which May sits enshrined; but not quite—then, like the Wise Woman who has known life, and who understands that Romance and Reality cannot live together in lawful wedlock—Ellen vanishes—and stays vanished.

It is the touching and powerful story, of two strong women; lightened by the touches of whimsical cynicism that always color Mrs. Wharton's writing—the philosophical fatalism of the person who actually ACCEPTS the fact that one cannot eat one's cake, and have it. And so lingers over it, savoring the last crumb— —

Don't miss it; this is a book that repays reading.

"'Er Name's 'Doreen!'"

And really—like the Immortal "Yorker"—there does not seem to be anything else that one could call her.

Edgar A. Guest—and Walt Mason—in their different ways, have a fingertip-full of that touch that makes the whole world kin; and so has "The Sentimental Bloke"—whose given name is C. J. Dennis.

Perhaps you don't care for Poetry? Let not that affright you! I presume that you care for The Real Thing—in whatever guise it comes. Every pair of Lovers knows that quarrel—

"Me? JEALOUS uv a knock-kneed coon like that!
'Im! Wiv 'is cute stror 'at and pretty ways— —
I'm Glad I am! —glad 'cos I know I'm free—
There ain't no call to tork o' Jealousy!—'

And the reconciliation—the marriage—

The astounding force of this overseas slang (it comes from Australia). makes it worth deciphering. I recommend "Doreen" and "Mar"—the Pilot Cove," "Uncle Jim" and "The Kid" to your better acquaintance. It has been published in an attractive dress, by S. B. Gundy, Toronto.

"Kathleen" is a delightfully whimsical, jolly little tale of five Oxford Undergrads; who fell in love with a Lady of Their Imagination—and started out to make her come true. How they made herself—and her family—out of the Smallest Shred of Cloth—and wound themselves up in the folds of the garment that grew out of it—has been made into a pleasant lip curving story by Christopher Morley, and published by Doubleday, Page & Co.

Nothing Like Internal Bathing For Constipation.

If people only knew what internal Bathing is doing for thousands of others there would be fewer pills and laxatives swallowed, and very much less suffering from Constipation and the accompanying Stomach and Nervous Troubles resulting from it.

J. A. Darrach, Copper Cliff, Ont., writes: "I have been using your J. B. L. Cascade for the past three months, and am convinced that it is the most modern and scientific method of dealing with Constipation that has ever been devised, and I will lose no opportunity to promote its use among my friends, as I can speak truthfully and enthusiastically as to its merits."

By the proper application of Nature's cure, warm water, by means of the J. B. L. Cascade, the lower intestines are kept free from all poisonous waste. Drugs force nature. Internal Bathing assists her.

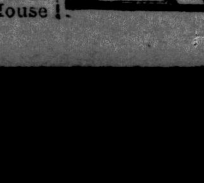

Dr. Charles A. Tyrrell of New York, a specialist on Internal Bathing, invented and perfected the J. B. L. Cascade, which has done more during the past 20 years in restoring health and lessening disease than all other means combined.

Ask Standard Drug Company, London, for booklet, "Why Man of Today Is Only 50 Per Cent Efficient." They will also be pleased to show and explain the J. B. L. Cascade to you, or write to Tyrrell's Hygienic Institute, 163 College street, Toronto.

FARMERS ENTER POLITICAL ARENA

Manitoba Organization Definitely Decides On Political Action.

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 14.—(By the Canadian Press.)—Concluding sessions of the convention of the United Farmers of Manitoba, held here today, were featured by the definite entrance of the organization into provincial politics and the passing of scores of resolutions setting forth the desires of the delegates on matters of public interest.

The convention unanimously favored the political action outlined in a resolution from the board of directors which provides for the drawing up of a platform and the organization of political machinery. Discussion revealed that the delegates would not be rushed into the matter, but wanted time to consider the provincial political situation in detail before drawing up a platform.

Has No Effect.

It was also definitely pointed out that the platform drawn up by the independent members of the Provincial House is to have no effect on the organization's stand. A request for the co-operation of the farmers' organizations in the grain-growing provinces in the formation of a successful scheme for the co-operative marketing of wheat was indorsed. The necessity of the provinces standing together in this matter was emphasized.

Indorsation of the proportional representation principle, and that it be amended to include the single transferrable vote where single member constituencies are retained, as recommended in a resolution passed.

Naturalization Changes.

A resolution from the women's section was passed, asking changes in the naturalization act to give the wives of British subjects the right to take out personal naturalization papers, to allow women marrying aliens to retain their nationality, and to allow of the wife of an alien being naturalized, the same as though unmarried.

Emphatic protest against the order preventing employees of the Canadian National Railways taking part in politics will be sent to the premier and the minister of railways.

SAYS MATERIAL COSTS DROPPING

Hydro Official Sees Lower Price For Telephone Equipment.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—(By Canadian Press).—At 5 o'clock this afternoon the hearing of the Bell Telephone rates case, which has been progressing steadily for five days before the board of railway commissioners, was adjourned until Wednesday, January 19. Toronto's case against the application was, it was understood, not concluded and evidence will probably be brought forward by other municipalities next week, after which argument by counsel will be heard. It will probably take several days to bring the hearing to a conclusion.

Lockhart Gordon of Clarkson, Gordon & Dilworth, Toronto, accountants, was the chief witness produced by G. R. Geary, K.C., on behalf of the city of Toronto. He presented an elaborate analysis of the Bell Telephone Company's cost accounts on a cash basis, designed to show that the company is in a better condition than its management is willing to admit.

Cost Going Down.

C. E. O. Salter, head of the purchasing department of the hydro-electric, gave evidence to the effect that the cost of materials and manufactured goods is going down.

More expert testimony was given for Toronto by R. T. Jeffrey, head of the municipal department of the hydro-electric commission of Ontario. Mr. Jeffrey stated that the depreciation account established by the hydro-electric was primarily based on the experience of other companies, but it was later modified on the basis of experience gained to meet its own requirements.

The hydro-electric had been unable, so far, to establish the probable life of plant and pole lines, but they had one line that has been in use for ten years and it was good for some years yet.

Life At Ten Years.

The Bell Telephone Company officials, in their evidence, put the average life of plant at ten years.

Asked if the hydro-electric has such an experience as to form a basis for a revision of rates, Mr. Jeffrey intimated that some consideration was now being given to the question of rates.

"Are you beginning to require a little money?" queried Mr. Osler.

"Our trouble is," replied Mr. Jeffrey, "that we have so much money we don't know what to do with it."

The reply caused general laughter, and Mr. Jeffrey explained that he was referring to the municipalities and not to the hydro-electric power commission.

WILL RUSH WORK ON NEW HIGHWAY

Construction of Roads in Kent To Start Soon As Possible.

CHATHAM, Jan. 14.—At a special meeting of the council this afternoon a communication was read from Hon. F. C. Biggs, stating that construction work would start on the provincial road here as soon as possible. The letter also stated that the highways department is making arrangements for the establishments of sidings east and west of the city for unloading supplies for the work.

City workmen, assisted by men out of work, will commence to cut down a number of unsafe trees in the city tomorrow. These trees will be cut up into firewood and stored for relief purposes.

TO CO-OPERATE WITH FARMERS.

WINDSOR, Jan. 14.—An agricultural section of the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce will soon be established, according to F. MacLure Sclanders, commissioner. The purpose is to bring the farmer into closer relationship with the businessmen. Next Wednesday night a supper will be held in the chamber of commerce rooms, to which all the farmers in the county are invited.

TOO MUCH SEDIMENT IN MILK.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 14.—At a meeting of the board of health some time ago a resolution was passed that dairymen supplying milk in the city would be barred when the milk registered .3 sediment. Today the board enforced the rule when they placed the ban on three farmers supplying milk here. The board also appointed F. L. Pearson chairman for the ensuing year.

FINED $200 FOR O. T. A. BREACH.

CHATHAM, Jan. 14.—Milford, Harold and William Dingman and James Morris, residents of South Buxton, appeared in the county police court today and were each fined $200 and costs for distilling liquor contrary to the Ontario revenue act.

PLEADS GUILTY TO THEFT.

WOODSTOCK, Jan. 14. — Harold Swazey pleaded guilty today when charged with theft. The young man, in company with another Brantford boy, visited this city Sunday night, and while on their way to the station about midnight Swazey broke the window in Paxton's jewelry store and stole some wrist watches. The magistrate will give his decision tomorrow.

A Message to Skin Sufferers

For years perhaps you have had to endure discomfort, disfigurement, humiliation, or even daily torture and sleepless nights, because of some skin disease. Times without number you have followed some hopeful advice and each time you have met only disappointment and despair.

"Who knows?" you ask, "Whose advice may I follow?"

Here is a frank and honest answer:

Reputable physicians admit they can only guess at the true cause of skin disease. Some say it is a blood disease—to be treated through the blood. Others say it is a skin disease—to be treated through the skin. But they are not sure and we would be foolish to try to tell you what even science does not know.

We can tell you, however, about a doctor's prescription for skin disease that has been successfully used for 25 years, and we merely ask you to read letters from those who have used it.

A Doctor's Prescription

D.D.D. is the prescription of a physician, Dr. D. D. Dennis, who first prescribed it to his neighborhood patients 25 years ago. Today its sale is enormous. Even so, we do not shout from the housetops that D. D. D. is a miracle. It is just a commonsense lotion compounded of well known healing and soothing ingredients, such as thymol, oil of wintergreen, etc. We make no extravagant claims. We say only this: That for 25 years, day after day, letters have simply poured in—without our suggestion or solicitation—telling us gratefully of restored health and happiness

If you ask us what is the secret of D. D. D.'s success, we can only answer: "Read the following letters and judge for yourself":

First Doctors—Then a Skin Specialist—Then a Bottle of D. D. D.

I was a sufferer for two years with eczema on the legs and ankles. I tried four different doctors and none of them did me any good. I then went to a skin specialist but he was no better.

At last I secured a trial bottle of D. D. D. and it did me so much good that I sent for a dollar bottle, also a cake of soap. That is all I used, and I am perfectly well.

33 Melbourne Ave., Toronto, Ont., Can. J. W. CORNS.

Salt Rheum Covered Her Face Every Winter

I used one sample bottle of D. D. D. and one dollar bottle and it healed my face of Salt Rheum. I spent a good many dollars with doctors and other medicines. I was bothered every winter and last winter I had no trouble. My skin was perfectly free from any spot, thanks to D.D.D.

Brookvale, N. B. Canada. MRS. JAMES H. RYDER.

Terrible Weeping Eczema

I suffered with weeping eczema on my hands. I was obliged to give up my work. I was told to try D. D. D. Prescription, also soap. When I had used but half a dollar bottle my hands were healed.

22 Sunset St., Hamilton, Ont. MRS. E. HAYES.

Some of these letters may seem too enthusiastic, but remember, they were written in ecstacy of relief from years of suffering. What wouldn't you give to be able to write us in the same spirit of happiness? We will not say these grateful correspondents are healed—we will simply say there are HAPPY AGAIN—after years of pain and suffering. We make no sweeping claims. You can draw greater comfort and confidence from what D. D. D. has done for 25 years than from anything we can say.

D.D.D. Prescription will be found effective in cases of Eczema, Psoriasis, Ringworm, Barber's Itch, Hives, Rash, Acne, Dandruff. Pimples often yield to treatment over night. In all cases, D. D. D. gives relief from itching upon the first application.

New York Firm Issues What Are Practically Government Securities.

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Twelve million dollars worth of 6½ per cent Grand Trunk serial equipment bonds have been issued by Reed & Co. in New York today. These bonds are to all intents and purposes Federal Government securities and are redeemable in a period of ten years. The flotation was provided for last session when $4,000,000 in additions were voted for equipment purposes.

There have been several railway stock issues in New York in recent months, but these have been in the nature of renewals.

LITTLE UNEMPLOYMENT REPORTED AT CHATHAM

CHATHAM, Jan. 14.—The city council this afternoon appointed a special committee, consisting of Captain Squarebriggs of the Salvation Army (chairman), Mrs. R. V. Bray, Wm. Murdock and George W. Wands, for the purpose of relieving the unemployment, in accordance with instructions received from Ottawa. While there are a certain number of men out of work, there is no cause for alarm in this city. Very few cases of stress have been reported, and of actual hardship none.

There was a splendid attendance at the meeting of the Chamber of Commerce forum to discuss tentative plans for the construction of municipal playgrounds for children. The matter will be brought up at the next meeting of the city council.

Home Treatment for Catarrh

Thirty-five years ago, a young surgeon in the British Royal Mail Naval Service astonished his friends by suddenly leaving and entering on private practice. That surgeon is now known as Catarrh Specialist Sproule. His keen brain had seen in the then new disease, Catarrh, a subject worthy of study. He and his assistants have studied the nature of Catarrh and its treatment these many years.

As Specialist Sproule had foreseen, Catarrh spread with rapidity. Forty years ago Catarrh was almost unknown. Now no age or sex is exempt from it. No climate or locality is free from it.

Catarrh Specialist Sproule, one of the first to make Catarrh a specialty, has a scientific Home Method which consists of an individual constitutional treatment, together with careful personal advice, for healthful living. The results have been such that many hundreds of Canadian people throughout the provinces bless the day they heard of this Method through a friend or the newspapers, fifteen, twenty or thirty years ago.

Catarrh is a disease of the mucous membranes, and should be treated through the blood and by remedies prepared for each case. Specialist Sproule's Method of Treatment is designed to clear the head, stop the hawking and spitting, sweeten the breath, and restore the hearing.

It purifies and enriches the blood. It invigorates and tones up the entire system. It gives new life and energy and ambition. The hardships of life seem easier to bear. Work becomes a pleasure. The man or woman feels as if made over. Catarrh Specialist Sproule's name is revered as that of a benefactor in numberless homes in Canada and the United States. CANADA LIFE MAKES BIG STRIDES IN 1920

RECORD UNSURPASSED IN SEVENTY-FOUR YEARS

CANADA LIFE policyholders are scattered far and wide, and it is with the desire of reaching them in the quickest and most readable form that this report is being published in the newspapers by the Company. A booklet containing even more complete particulars will be mailed upon request.

CANADA LIFE BUSINESS IN 1920

President Reviews Financial Statement

The unusual demand for life assurance which developed in the previous year continued without abatement almost throughout 1920 and our own institution was enabled to issue $63,500,000, thereby making a new high record for any one year and bringing our total assurance in force up to $277,000,000. These results are brought about by a growing and stronger and better equipped field organization, concentrating more forcefully upon a better informed public, who are more and more coming to buy life assurance upon a reasoned business basis. One insures his house and furniture against fire, his motor against theft or liability, himself against accident or sickness, not because he cannot bear such loss personally should it occur, but because he realizes there is no necessity of his doing so and he is at last beginning to see that the same reason exists but in stronger measure why his estate or family should not bear alone a loss occasioned by his death.

This more intelligent appreciation of the uses of life assurance will have a salutary influence in preventing the lapse and surrender of policies at the first approach of a money scarcity such as is now widely felt. In the past there has been a too prevalent tendency when in temporary financial need to cancel life assurance as more or less of a luxury which can be dispensed with, or to borrow upon it to tide over some unimportant difficulty. At the risk of being thought as harping upon an abused and threadbare subject often considered by the assured to be his personal concern only, one must here repeat the warning so frequently given against a too ready and thoughtless disturbance of a protection valuable alike to those of ordinary or extraordinary means. The first step toward the ultimate cancellation of a policy is the borrowing upon its security, because the repayment of such borrowing is unfortunately the exception rather than the rule, and in time the assured wearies of paying premium plus interest upon a decreased assurance. Many companies carry on continuous propaganda aimed at the policy loan, its prevention or repayment as a part of their conservative effort, but there is room for vastly greater activity in this direction.

Business in Great Britain.

The general improvement in our branch organizations continues and each has had its full share in the expansion of the year. Opportunity was taken to visit with the General Superintendent many of our offices and a most encouraging optimism and activity was found to exist everywhere. I spent some months in Great Britain, accompanied by the Treasurer, and made an exhaustive study of the conditions affecting our business on that side of the Atlantic. As some of you know, we have a very attractive and convenient building of our own, all of which we occupy, in London, with offices in England and Wales, Scotland and Ireland, which have this year paid for $8,500,000, or over twice as much as in 1919. Various forces have contributed to this phenomenal success, the most outstanding being an effective agency plant and the great appeal this company is able to make to the British public through its liberal policy contract and its bonuses to the assured. Ours is one of the very few life corporations that have been able to carry on during the war period and after without reducing or passing altogether the usual bonuses to their members. This is a great source of strength to us, and as our advantage is likely to continue through a high earning capacity and a low death loss we anticipate with much confidence a very large accession of new business in Great Britain. We shall look to that country, next to Canada, for an important share of our total expansion and will gradually and advisedly enlarge our facilities to that end. Advantage was taken of a favorable opportunity to enter Hawaii under most promising conditions, and we have received from that agency since September first over $750,000.

Improved Service.

In the effort to give our representatives a more thorough equipment and foundation for their contact with prospective holders of policies we evolved a few years ago a course of instruction by correspondence and have more recently added a series of classes which are carried on in the home office. The opportunity thus offered has been seized with avidity and those who have undertaken the courses have shown an immediate and marked increase in selling ability, and have left upon their clients impressions which are full of interest and suggestion to the management. Our ultimate aim is that this company shall be represented in the field only by those who are giving it their entire service and who have armed themselves with the knowledge to be obtained through this course of study. We believe that to-day life insurance should be sold only by experts.

A Thorough Examination.

In addition to the regular annual inspection by the Canadian insurance department the company has recently been submitted to a most thorough and exhaustive examination at the hands of the Insurance Commissioners of Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Minnesota, whose representatives jointly and concurrently spent several weeks in the home office. Every possible facility was afforded them and a minute inspection was made of all books and records, of all assets, and of all office systems. The result was altogether satisfying to the commissioners and gratifying to your officers, and is summed up in the final paragraph of their report, as follows:

"We find that the Canada Life Assurance Company is in excellent financial condition, and that its affairs are being managed economically and efficiently.

"To deal with the many different branches of the work there are special departments conducted by responsible officers and men.

"All evidence goes to show that the investments of the company are carefully selected. The foregoing report shows that the investments have been distributed over a wide range of suitable securities.

"We have had the co-operation of the officers of the company and all information asked for and data required have been promptly furnished. In fact, every assistance has been rendered to make the examination thorough and complete."

Surplus Earnings.

As the last of our war claims was provided for in the previous year, and as we have in the past twelve months been free from epidemic, there has been no unusual factor affecting the death ratio adversely, so that we have returned to a normal, or more properly a subnormal, loss, as the actual deaths have been only 55 per cent. of those expected. The saving from this source again shows a very material increase and has an important part in the creation of net surplus earnings of $2,163,000 for the year. This sum again constitutes the largest earning in the history of the institution, and enables us to continue without hesitation the present rate of distribution to our policyholders, and to pursue the active program which is bringing us such a gratifying influx of new members. This inherent strength, the result of successive executives following a clearly defined course for nearly three-quarters of a century, adds unique stability to our policy contracts, at the same time giving more than usual courage to those who sell them, and much confidence to those who buy.

The Interest Rate.

One of the chief contributors to surplus is, of course, the interest income, and you will be gratified to learn that we have again been able to increase the average rate upon your investments to 6.10 per cent. Throughout the year it has been possible to acquire securities of undoubted value at prices to yield uncommonly high rates. We availed ourselves of the opportunity to buy $2,000,000 of very excellent mortgages on a basis to yield approximately 8 per cent. net. The security was all thoroughly inspected by our own officers and found to be ample and attractive. There has been a renewed demand for mortgage loans, a very considerable number of which are required to cover accumulated borrowings from bankers. To the extent that this is the case, those lending upon mortgage are relieving the demand upon our banks. Interest payments reflect to some extent another crop failure in certain sections which have suffered similarly before, and the actual price of wheat, which is so much below that anticipated. Our borrowers, however, have on the whole met their obligations as promptly as could be fairly expected of them, and, as usual, we have not included in the asset described as "interest outstanding" any sums in arrear which appear doubtful of collection. While the overdue interest is somewhat larger than a year ago, it is reassuring to know that a large portion of it became due only in December; in fact, 47 per cent. of the total arrears pertain to the last six months.

To avoid the loss incident to the transfer of our funds from Great Britain under present exchange conditions, advantage has been taken of the favorable market there and short-term securities with an average yield of 6.45 per cent. to the amount of $1,870,000 have been purchased in London. Forty-one per cent. of these are obligations of the British Government.

The increase in ledger assets is significant, having in mind the heavy payments, $2,723,000, involved in another quinquennial distribution of profits to policyholders. Usually these periods of division have left little margin of income for investment, but although the disbursements on this account during the year were greater than ever before, we have concurrently been able to make the largest addition to assets in our history. The explanation lies in the increased income from all sources.

Your assets have again been valued most conservatively. True, there are some items included on the price basis authorized by the Minister of Finance having in mind their permanency and the security behind them, but any temporary difference between this book value and the present market quotation is covered several times over by the special contingent funds which you have set up during recent years to meet just such a situation. In addition to these funds there is in other of your assets a favorable margin of approximately half a million dollars as between their value in our books and their market value. You will remember that, except in the instance above mentioned, it has been our practise to record any downward movement in our investment values, but we do not take advantage of a rising market to write them up.

The continuous growth of your company has made it necessary for us to absorb practically all of the space in this building and to give careful consideration to its future housing. You will remember that some years ago, with this thought in mind even then, your Directors acquired the adjoining corner of King and Bay streets, and early last year they authorized the purchase of two parcels immediately to the north of our Bay street frontage, which, I am sure, will carry your approval. The company, therefore, now owns a rectangular block with a frontage of 166 feet on King street and 234 feet on Bay street, upon which, as the demand arises, ample provision may be made upon a fitting scale for the requirements of this great institution.

During the year great distress came to us in the death of our very dear friend and colleague, Mr. Alexander Bruce. Mr. Bruce had been for nearly sixty-four years associated with this company in its legal department, of which he was for so long the honored head, and as a Director. He gave always to your service from the fullness of an excellent and well-stored mind, and had for the institution a never-failing fidelity and affection. Your Directors were fortunate in securing in his stead the co-operation of Sir Thomas White, who has become during recent years such an international figure. Sir Thomas joins the Board as a representative of the policyholders.

The greatly increased business which the statement indicates made heavy demands upon the energy and initiative of all branches of the service, and your Directors desire to make expression of their appreciation of the splendid spirit and facility with which they were met.

It is again a pleasure to acknowledge my personal obligation to my colleagues upon the Directorate, to our boards in Great Britain, to the officials, the medical directors, the solicitor, the agency and the loan managers, and each individual unit of the staff in the Home Office and in the Field for the consideration and support they have given so ungrudgingly and which enable us to submit to you such an excellent record of the year's operations.

MANY PROOFS OF SUCCESS

The unusual demand for life insurance continued without abatement throughout 1920.

General improvement in branch organization continues, especially in Great Britain.

Advantage was taken of a favorable opportunity to enter Hawaii, under most promising conditions, and with immediate success.

In addition to the regular annual inspection by the Canadian Insurance Department, the Company has recently been submitted to a most thorough and exhaustive examination at the hands of the Insurance Commissioners of Michigan, Illinois, Pennsylvania and Minnesota, the result being very satisfying to all concerned.

There has been no unusual factor affecting the death rate adversely.

The net Surplus Earnings for the year amount to $2,163,000, the greatest in the history of the Company.

Interest earnings are one of the chief contributors to the surplus, and the average rate of interest has been again increased to 6.10% per annum.

Dividends paid to policyholders were exceptionally large in 1920, being $2,723,000.

THE PRESIDENT'S ADDRESS

Mr. HERBERT C. COX REVIEWS BUSINESS OF 1920 CANADIAN CONDITIONS FAVORABLE FOR FUTURE

In the early part of the year general business conditions continued much as they had been in the previous twelve months. Bank deposits were growing; commercial credits were increasing, although under keen scrutiny; manufacturers were placing enlarged orders for raw materials; wholesalers and retailers were straining to implement their stocks; labor, through the strike or less forcible means, was demanding and receiving higher wages; the cost of all commodities—necessities as well as luxuries—was still holding at high level. In short, Governments and the public were still greatly spending while all the time protesting against the prices they were called upon to pay. In the early summer the realization seemed suddenly to come that the way to secure reduced prices was to cease buying. The thought quickly crystallized into action, and one commodity after another has felt the full force of public disapproval. As a result we were immediately plunged into that readjustment which we had contemplated but had looked for somewhat later. The reaction was felt first perhaps in the motor trade, followed by leathers and textiles, and later others. As public buying ceased, cancellations—against which there appears to be no adequate protection—poured in upon the manufacturer, who, in turn, where possible, passed them on to the producer of raw materials or ingredients. The stock markets, already affected, reflected the aggravated conditions, and the course of securities in general was markedly downward. The usual preparation for the moving of immense grain crops entails a reduction in ordinary credits, but in the early fall other factors entered into the situation, bringing a more severe curtailment of facilities and a widespread decrease in activity. The inevitable laying off of labor commenced. For a time those so released entered other industries which had not yet felt the pinch, but latterly such re-employment has been more difficult and many skilled workmen find themselves partially or wholly out of work.

Business is Recovering.

This process of recovery from what was an artificial set of conditions induced by the extraordinary circumstances attending the war, though distasteful, is necessary if we are to return to a sound and sane basis of commerce and finance. It is unavoidable that in the operation there will be hurt alike those who have benefited and those to whom only disadvantage has come through the disappearing conditions, but the silver lining of the cloud must at last become apparent, and good will accrue through the resumption of a normal viewpoint and a normal standard of living and working. Already there is evident a greater appreciation of values and a greater inclination to give and to demand a fair exchange, whether of commodity or labor. The view is gaining that the man in the shop is entitled to a reasonable share of the profit which he assists in producing if he is giving that assistance to the full extent of his knowledge and efficiency, and while it would seem that, in sympathy with a general decline in public purchasing power and in profit to his employer, either his wages must also decrease or his output increase, it is altogether probable that the many profit-sharing plans which have been evolved for his advantage will continue.

The Exchange Rate.

The exchange situation and the causes leading up to it are so familiar to all that lengthy comment is undesirable, but it may be said in passing that the obvious remedy for Canada lies in the decrease of our purchases and the increase of our shipments abroad. It is unfortunate that the capacity of Great Britain has recently not been such as to enable her to take her rightful share of the business offering from this country, as both would have benefited had it been possible for her to do so.

Effect Upon Loan Business.

One effect of the adverse exchange and the high interest rates prevailing in Great Britain which will be increasingly felt in Canada is the difficulty, amounting almost to impossibility, of retaining British monies borrowed by our loan companies upon their debentures for investment in mortgage loans in this country. The margin between the rates demanded in England and those obtainable on proper security here is so narrow as to render the profit on such transactions extremely small and unattractive. As a consequence the loan and other companies depending upon borrowed funds for their investment resources must look in much greater measure to the increasing of their deposits and to the sale of their debentures at home, but in the latter direction they will still be seriously handicapped for some years by the competition of long-term Government and municipal securities, which can now be obtained at unusually high yield rates. Without disparagement of these institutions, which are bearing the burden of a condition for which they are in no way responsible, it is fair to assume that they will not be able to keep up as they have done with the demands of a rapidly expanding country for mortgage loans for farm development. The other great source of supply for this purpose—the life assurance companies—will therefore have to be prepared to undertake a larger share of this mortgage investment which is so essential to our national growth. It is perhaps not realized that these companies have already loaned most importantly in this way, but their steady influx of funds requiring safe and remunerative investment will enable them to proceed more actively with profit to the country and to themselves. Some of them already have ample organizations and facilities established for the prosecution of such business.

Health Conservation.

There have been held in Canada during the past year many important conventions and conferences, some of them looking to a greater development of trade within the Empire and kindred subjects, while others have had as their objective the betterment of the public health. The latter is of moment to the life assurance companies, as anything which tends to raise the standard of health and morals bears directly upon their success. The companies themselves exert an influence for good upon the national health through their medical examinations, which embrace a growing percentage of the population each year, and include in several instances free re-examination annually upon intimation of the assured's desire. Many impairments, greater or lesser, disclosed by these examinations are brought under proper medical care and removed. Several companies now maintain their own qualified nurses and place their services at the disposal of their members without charge. All efforts bearing upon improved health, whether made by permanent health officials or other agencies, are followed with keen interest by insurance executives. Fresh air, properly directed exercise, and mental recreation are excellent aids in this direction which have been made available to greater numbers through the medium of our military regiments and their prototypes in other countries. It is very desirable, apart altogether from the military viewpoint of preparedness, that every possible encouragement and support should be given by our Government to these regiments, even though such support may and does entail a considerable charge upon the country. Sums wisely spent upon national health are well spent.

Housing Problems.

Intimately associated with this question are the problems of proper housing facilities in town and country for ever-increasing populations. Their solution is being sought by Legislatures, City Councils and Housing Commissions. In the meantime the life assurance companies are rendering actual assistance in numerous individual cases by loans which enable the building of the home.

Immigration Policy.

Proper scrutiny and careful selection in the admission of immigrants are safeguards which are too often overlooked in the desire for increased population. It is better policy and cheaper to turn away from the border would-be citizens of unfavorable physique and morals, or, better still, to sift them out before they leave their country of origin, than to nurse them here and perhaps allow them to inoculate an entire district with some objectionable infection. Granted that the urgent need of young countries such as ours is population in larger volume and more quickly than natural increase can provide, and it is gratifying that the past twelve months have shown an important accretion in this direction, but care must be had, just as in a business undertaking, not to sacrifice quality to quantity or soundness to size.

The visits of the representatives of the British Press Association and the British Chambers of Commerce were history-making events in relation to our future. Both bodies made extended tours from coast to coast and every facility was placed at their disposal to enable them to learn at first hand not only of our natural resources and potential wealth, but of our manufacturing successes, of our banking and financial system, of our social and educational institutions, of our home life and our recreations. In fact they returned to Great Britain with an intimate knowledge of Canada and her people, of her aims and possibilities which, as it is disseminated there by such keen and thoughtful observers, cannot fail to broaden the sympathy between the two countries and result in a wider interchange of opinions and commodities to the great advantage of both.

Soldiers' Insurance.

The resettlement of soldier citizens is generally progressing, and in Canada the headway made appears to be satisfactory. Many have resumed their former affiliations or occupations, while many others, approximating 20,000, have taken up farming without aid, through the means afforded by the Government or with the assistance of their friends. To provide life assurance for them at a minimum cost, and more particularly for those with impairments which make them ineligible for coverage by the companies under standard policies, a scheme has been evolved under which the Government insures without medical examination those applying to it. As the Government assumes all administration expense, and as the element of profit is eliminated, these policies are procurable at a rate somewhat less than required by the companies. Policies so issued become co-related to the soldier's pension, since at his death the amount of the insurance is to be reduced by the commuted value of the pension normally payable to his dependents. It is conceivable that in many instances this commuted value will exceed the insurance, and to meet this contingency provision is made for the return of all or a portion of the premium paid. The scheme became operative September 1 last, and 1,015 policies for $3,282,000 have been issued.

The Western Crops.

Weather conditions as they affected crops were generally favorable in Manitoba, although the area under cultivation was somewhat smaller than in 1919. Fall rains assured ample pasturage and stock went into winter quarters in excellent shape.

A very late spring delayed seeding in Saskatchewan until April, and while soil conditions were favorably influenced by the moisture of the previous autumn, high winds in May caused considerable drifting and damage on light land. The rainfall was very unevenly distributed and the intense heat of the summer, while overcoming the disadvantage of late seeding, also, unfortunately, tended to prevent grain from filling, which not only decreased the yield, but in many districts resulted in an inferior sample. On the other hand, while the winter of 1919-20 was extremely severe on stock, the reports this year indicate unlimited pasturage and hay, and while there is a reduction in the number of hogs, there is an appreciable increase in sheep.

Although seeding was late in Alberta, the results have been on the whole agreeable. In the northern districts a better than average crop was harvested. The Province had under cultivation approximately 11,000,000 acres, and ideal harvest conditions prevailed. Hail losses were extremely small, but in the south some 40,000 acres suffered through high winds. Last winter much stock was lost through the severity of the weather and lack of feed, and there is now in the Province a less number than a year ago, but it is hoped that this condition will soon right itself. The dairy products of Alberta, for which she has become noted, will reach a value of $35,000,000 for the year.

Municipal Finances.

Last year reference was made to the financial difficulties of some of the Western municipalities. It is pleasing to note that the Provincial authorities of Alberta have, through their Municipal Finances Commission, a non-political body, come to the aid of several of their struggling municipalities, and it would appear that they are rendering valuable assistance to them in the adjustment of their affairs. It is hoped that Saskatchewan will soon follow this example, as some of the smaller municipalities in that Province are much in need of relief.

There are comparatively few Western municipalities in the aggregate which have been unable to meet their debenture payments promptly, but it is most desirable that their affairs should be quickly put in shape, otherwise their dilemma will reflect injuriously upon the credit not only of their neighbor municipalities, but upon that of the Provinces as a whole.

The Insurance Act.

It is understood to be the intention of the Government to introduce at the approaching session of Parliament a number of amendments to the Insurance Act which will make that already excellent instrument still more comprehensive. It has been suggested that one of the chief additions to its provisions should be the granting of power to the companies to transact more than one class of insurance so that each of them under certain conditions will be able to undertake the various branches of life, fire, accident, health, etc. This combination is quite common and successful in Great Britain and might eventually make for economy in the conduct of the business through concentration of management, supervision and other items.

Taxation of Premiums.

While referring to legislation I venture to return to a suggestion many times repeated in the past, that some portion of the individual income should be free from tax if devoted to the purchase of life insurance. In Great Britain this consideration takes the form of an abatement from the income tax of 15 per cent. of all premiums not exceeding one-sixth of the income. Such exemption is legitimate and logical and tends to encourage saving and provision for the future, which must necessarily be of benefit to the State. At this time when the Canadian people are laboring as cheerfully as may be under heavy taxation in various forms in the knowledge that they are helping to bear the burden thrust upon our country by war, a measure of relief of this nature would be most gratifying and a great stimulus in the direction of national thrift.

Some years ago attention was directed to the taxes imposed by the various Provinces upon premium incomes of the life insurance companies within the respective Provinces. Continuous effort has been made looking to the elimination or reduction of these charges on the ground that they are being levied upon the savings of the individual holders of policies in the companies, and Ontario has been the first, as usual, to take action in the matter. Somewhat over a year ago the then Government lent sympathetic consideration to our representations, pointing to early relief, and, happily, their successors, the present Government, have taken the same broad-minded view of the situation and have reduced the tax by ½% to 1¼%. This is now the lowest rate demanded by any of the Provinces, and it is felt this action will be of material assistance in securing similar consideration from the other Legislatures. This reduction is much appreciated by all whom it affects, but it is hoped that all the Provinces will yet go much farther in the direction of relief.

The Association of Provincial Insurance Superintendents held its third annual conference in Winnipeg in October last, and invited the companies to join in their discussions. There is evident amongst the Superintendents a desire to be fully seized of all facts and suggestions bearing upon the business coming within their jurisdiction, and also a wish for uniform insurance legislation in all the Provinces, so far as that may be feasible. The indications are most encouraging, and it is felt that much good may and will accrue to both the Provinces and the companies from such reasoned and combined action.

Institutional Advertising.

For more than ten years unceasing attempts have been carried on by a few whose belief in Institutional Advertising gave them the courage to persist to persuade all the life companies active in Canada to share in a combined campaign of publicity through the medium of the daily Press, having as its purpose the better informing of the public mind as to the principles and practise of life insurance, the place it occupies in our national economy and its relation to the individual and the home. Happily, agreement has at last been reached between the British and Canadian companies and one United States company, a feasible channel for conducting the experiment has been arranged and it will be immediately inaugurated in full confidence that the people of Canada will appreciate the desire to have them become wholly conversant with an undertaking which is of such urgent value and importance to them.

This is another link in the growing chain of co-operation between the companies comprising already associations of Presidents, of Managers, of Actuaries, of Medical Directors, to which has recently been added that of agency officials, which has in four years come to include over one hundred companies in Canada and the United States. This last-named organization has already been most useful in bringing the agency departments of the member companies together on a friendly and constructive basis.

An event of importance was the withdrawal a few months ago of the Equitable Life Assurance Society of New York from business in Canada. The Society has been for many years an active and honorable competitor and always a ready participant in any progressive movement. It is understood that its retirement from Canada, which is to be regretted, is made not through any disappointment arising from its experience here, but in pursuance of a well-defined policy of restricting its operations to the United States.

OF INTEREST TO POLICYHOLDERS

Notwithstanding payments to policyholders during the year amounting to $8,254,883, the assets were increased by $6,756,668.

The assets of your Company are in the very best class of investments. For instance, bonds of the Dominion and Provincial Governments now represent 22 per cent. of the total assets, having been increased by three million dollars during 1920.

Mortgage loans, another very high class of investments, were also increased by three million dollars, and represent 33 per cent. of the assets.

A particularly good feature of the year was a decrease in the percentage of loans on policies from 14.02 to 13.60 of the assets. While, of course, this is a perfectly good security, it is a satisfaction to note that policyholders appreciate the advisability of paying off their loans.

Frequently a policyholder will pay off a little at a time, thus gradually reducing the indebtedness, and the Company is always ready to assist by accepting these small payments whenever convenient. In the meantime, while the loan exists, there is an easy and convenient way, open to most policyholders in good health, to "insure" the loan, so that it will not be deducted from the face of the policy, if death occurs within a certain time, and while the loan is being paid off. A letter to the Home Office at Toronto will bring particulars as to this.

GROUP INSURANCE

Employees of Many Firms Now Insured in the Canada Life

During the past year a large number of Companies have secured Group Insurance protection for their employees. Toward the end of 1920 the applications for Group Insurance were coming in at an increasing rate which bids fair for a steadily-increasing volume for 1921.

The Group Policyholders of the Canada Life now include many varied branches of trade and industry, such as—Printing Plants, Lithographing, Leather Making, Furniture Manufacturing, Iron and Steel Foundries, Machinery, Jewellery, Rubber, Oils, Dry Goods, Boots and Shoes, and other lines of business: also special groups, such as Civic Employees, Club Employees, etc.

Nearly all employers have shown great interest in Group Insurance from the time this plan came to their attention. Many have welcomed the Group plan as a much-needed service for employees and their dependents. There are many employees unable to get personal insurance themselves. Many others are not insured because they do not fully realize their responsibilities to their dependents. The Group plan presents an opportunity to the employer to place them all in the insurable and insured class, as every worker and producer ought to be. It also serves as a reward for service and an incentive toward greater co-operation and better stability in employment.

Group Insurance is appreciated by employees, particularly by the better and steadier class of workers, which is a class every employer wants to secure and to hold. Their appreciation grows when deaths occur and they see the funds paid to the widows and mothers, or other beneficiaries, who are generally in great need of the ready cash.

The Group contract of the Company has been drawn up to include every up-to-date feature that is of value to employer and employee. It is one of the most liberal contracts on the market. The premium rates are very low—the year's premium usually amounting to an average of 2 or 3 cents a day per employee for each $1,000 insurance. There are no lower rates obtainable anywhere. When deaths occur the claims are paid promptly so that the fund becomes quickly available at a time when most appreciated. All employers who have placed their Group Insurance with the Canada Life are entirely satisfied with the service that the Company is in a position to give.

The business of providing Group Insurance for employees is likely to continue until all industries of any account are covered. It is being rapidly extended to include Government and civic employees in various parts of the country. Notwithstanding the present period of readjustment in values and the temporary depression in some lines of trade, it is constantly increasing in volume and amount. The new spirit of responsibility in industry to some extent accounts for this. There is abundant evidence of its appreciation by employees, and the verdict of most employers is that it has proven to be an important factor in stabilizing employment and improving relations between employer and employees.

START IT AT ONCE.

A decision to proceed at once with the building of an office structure to house city departments, on lines similar to the Public Utilities Building, will, we believe, receive the general approval of citizens. It is not an abandoning of the Federal Square plan, because the Federal Square needs artistic buildings on all sides of it to be worth anything architecturally itself. The Public Utilities Commission have a home that is simple in its lines and efficient in its planning. A continuation of those same general lines on the site of the present city hall will produce a building that will add to the general good effect, and that will meet immediately pressing needs.

Continuing to use the old ramshackle affair that for some years past has done duty as a city hall would be poor business. The effect of the old place upon people from outside who have business with city departments must be to our detriment, but is there not a sense in which the building has lowered in every citizen's mind his estimate of the importance of his city government? How could civic dignity be maintained in a place that no reputable business house in London would occupy for a month? It was an impossibility, and the sooner London gets rid of its present city hall the better.

There are other civic buildings to go up in the next few years that should have a place on the Federal Square, and that would, with the present Utilities Building and the new City Offices, make a harmonious group. A memorial hall has been felt a necessity for some time past, and a new Public Library, when it is built, should assuredly go on the Federal Square. An art gallery must come in London sooner or later, and it, too, should have a place there. The result would be a group of public buildings that would represent the larger life of the city along business, social, educational and artistic lines.

A SUPPRESSED BOOK.

An article in the Manchester Guardian gives the gist of the third yet unpublished volume of Bismarck's autobiography. It tells the story of his quarrel with the late kaiser, his dismissal by him, and an incisive estimate of Wilhelm's character.

Bismarck is well known to have been tricky and none too strict an observer of truth. Annoyed by the new kaiser's arrogance and pretensions during the first two years of his reign (1888-1890), Bismarck goaded and tricked him into an anti-Russian attitude, though he himself believed firmly in a pro-Russian policy and had followed it steadily for 30 years, just so that he might make a fool of Wilhelm, check and be checked by him. For he saw that sooner or later he and the emperor must part, and he was resolved not to resign but to be dismissed.

One subject on which the young emperor and the old chancellor could not agree was labor legislation. Here the kaiser showed to better advantage, Bismarck thinking that the workingmen should be kept down and opposing fixed hours on the ground that if a man wanted to work he should not be compelled to rest. Perhaps some of the kaiser's friends who prevented the publication of the volume thought that Wilhelm showed up poorly in this respect also! But there can be no question of Bismarck's good sense, from the German viewpoint, in seeking to block the kaiser's intention of subjecting more thoroughly all the other princes of Germany to his paramount control, and in opposing any steps that might lead to a breach with Russia. That breach, when it came in 1914, spelled the overthrow of Hohenzollern, and both in Germany and in Russia of that military autocracy which Bismarck had spent his life in building up.

Very amusing is Bismarck's analysis of Wilhelm's character. He makes him out to inherit all the weaknesses of his various ancestors and none of their virtues. He had Frederick I.'s love of pomp and splendor, Frederick William I.'s weakness for tall soldiers, Frederick William IV.'s romantic sentiment, Frederick the Great's excessive ambition, and Frederick III.'s excessive vanity. "The Kaiser's grandfather," says Bismarck, "Wilhelm I. had a really fine character — the only ancestor from whom Wilhelm II. does not seem to have inherited anything."

This analysis may have been the cause why the ex-kaiser joined his friends is vetoing the publication of Bismarck's final volume. The woodcutter of Amerongen would call it blasphemy, as bad as Fitzgerald or Samuel Butler criticizing God. The main reason why Wilhelm is so devoted to his Bible is that he feels that he and it are two infallibles, his own greatness and perfection sanctioned by it.

Bismarck closed his forbidden volume with a prophetic warning in regard to the anti-Russian trend of Wilhelm II.'s policy. His almost uncanny political instinct had prevision of the shipwreck of imperialism, militarism and oligarchy that must come, over all central and eastern Europe, if German and Russian czarism did not hold together. "I see dangers arising from these circumstances, dangers not only to Germany but to all Europe—the later the catastrophe comes the more terrible it will be." Bismarck felt Bolshevism loom up as the outcome of a clash between Potsdam and Petrograd. He had once "gone to Canossa," almost, rather than let red socialism get a start, preferring even to join with the Catholic Centre rather than give anarchy an inch. But in war with Russia he foresaw dimly the work of Lenine.

TORONTO BENEFITS.

One thing that has been clearly revealed by the hearings of the Ontario Commission investigating university finances is that the city of Toronto is getting a tremendous benefit along all lines from the University of Toronto, and that it is paying nothing for those benefits. The cost is falling largely upon the rest of the province. Recently the statement was sent broadcast that Toronto as a city was doing a big thing for the university when it remitted all taxation on the university property. When it is pointed out that the city cannot tax the university, even if it wanted to do so the absurdity of such a claim is manifest. The city of London remits taxation on Western University in just the same way, but it goes farther, last year contributing $55,000 to the annual upkeep. Toronto's actual cash contribution to its university did not amount to one five-cent piece.

NO FROZEN FLOWERS HERE!

In his recent inaugural address, Albert C. Burrage, newly-elected president of the Massachusetts State Horticultural Society, expatiated upon the rich and varied flora of the vast commonwealth extending from tropical Mexico to "frozen Canada." This playful description of the Dominion expresses a notion that a lot of otherwise enlightened Americans still entertain, but a Bostonian is near enough to know better, and doubtless does. Those present at the meeting in question could not labor under any such delusion, for they had the presence of no less an enthusiast upon horticulture in Canada than Dr. Frank E. Bennett, president of the St. Thomas (Ont.) Society, who has made the "Railway City" famous through its improvement in floriculture. He gave an address indicating how the St. Thomas society has accomplished its most praiseworthy work. Occasional visits to our splendid floral shows and horticultural exhibitions ought to satisfy people across the line that Canada enjoys a glorious climate and a luxuriant profusion of the "flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la!"

EDITORIAL NOTES.

This American balloonists' controversy seems to be a case of much ado about nothing.

A correspondent suggests that if local gunmen can in some way be made to carry a "bottle" their capture would quickly follow.

The Government will have to steer a varied course if it is going to guide its candidate to victory through the present crowded field in West Peterboro.

The opening of the Quebec Legislature this week is marked by the absence from the premier's chair of Sir Lomer Gouin, who for so long has been the leader of government in that province.

OTHERS' VIEWS

WARNING UP.
[Brantford Expositor.]

There are three by-elections for the House of Commons now pending, namely, West Peterboro, Ont.; Yamaska, P. Q., and York, N. B. The Meighen Government feels confident of carrying West Peterboro and York, but in Yamaska it has not even a fighting chance. However, all three contests will serve to heat up the political atmosphere prior to the meeting of the Dominion Parliament.

STILL UNTAMED.
[Charleston News-Courier.]

Most of the jingoes in the world today seem to be living in Japan and the United States. Perhaps the reason is that these two countries did not get as large a dose of war's misery as some of the others.

STRUCK BY GOING TO WORK.
[London Morning Post.]

The lamps in a certain Bavarian town have not been lit for a whole year now, to save coal. The lamplighters, however, have been kept at their old wage. But, following the fashion, they struck the other day for higher pay, and on the futility of striking work when they had no work to do being pointed out to them they consulted together and resolved to begin lighting the lamps. That would cost money, they argued.

A PARALLEL CASE.
[Portland Press.]

How do you think Americans would feel if a self-appointed commission of Englishmen should take it upon themselves to secure evidence as to the way the negroes are being treated in the south? That is exactly what a commission composed of Americans is doing with relation to England's treatment of the Irish.

NOR ADVERTISING.
[Dallas News.]

So little is heard of Belgium these days it may signify that the Belgians have no political geniuses who have found a better way to restore prosperity than by working.

MESOPOTAMIA.
[Manchester Guardian.]

Mesopotamia is now well embarked on the second stage of its history under British supervision. We began by being a little forgetful both of our mission and of our resources, fitting Mesopotamia out with so much of a British administration and garrison that eventually it broke into revolt, just to remind us—or so we took the moral—that the Arabs had claims of their own which it would be both juster and more cheap to recognize. Sir Percy Cox's report, now published, announces the steps which have followed on our recognition. A council of native ministers, advised by British officials, is at work, and local native forces are being formed for the purpose of maintaining order and protecting the frontiers, while a commission of inquiry, which includes tribal chiefs, is traveling in the areas which were recently disturbed. Conciliation and a fair chance for the native inhabitants are the word, and a very sound word, too, considering our duties and our needs.

THE CHILD PHENOMENON.
[New York Herald.]

How can we explain the extraordinary ability of the eight-year-old chess player? Is it an instinct and does he perform in the same mechanical way that a spider does when it weaves a web, or as a little insect does when it sets a trap for an unsuspecting enemy? Surely the child hasn't acquired his ability through experience. How, then, can inexperience conquer experience? Wherein lies the source of his gift? Is it generated by the brain, and are we to seek an answer in the construction and grouping of the brain cells actuated by the blood supply? Or does he possess a "soul" or "ego" or "psychic" superior to yours or mine that gives him such extraordinary perception? Does he know anything but chess? Is he generally intellectual or is he ordinary in most respects? The theosophists will tell us that it is a case of reincarnation; the spirits will tell us that the child is a medium controlled by Zipto of the planet Mars; but what has the student of mental phenomena to say?

BRACE UP!
[Guelph Herald.]

Only a pessimist of the first water imagines that the present industrial depression is anything but temporary. A halting time had to come in order to permit of stock-taking and readjustment; it is taking place now. When, however, it is recollected that the building trade of this continent is estimated to be five years behind the demand, that one million and a half homes are said to be required for the present accommodation of the people, it can be seen that only unreasonable costs and the necessity for readjustment are delaying the onward march to prosperity and activity of at least the essential industries.

THE INCOMPLETE GHOST.
[Manchester Guardian.]

This has been an ill season for the traditions. To a green Christmas succeeds a commonplace ghost. Its appearance is reported from Essex, and, as drawn by the news paragraph with a grave simplicity that is worthy of a better subject, "it was that of a strange man wearing only a shirt, trousers and braces." Let there be no mistake—we do not complain of the inadequacy of the costume. It suffices for decency; but where is that larger investiture of awe? There is, or used to be, a propriety in these affairs. By such conventions the absence of a head is less shocking than the presence of short sleeves; chains are more acceptable than braces that buttoned (presumably) fore and aft on the pendent partners of their shame. Can it be that modern "research" has broken too thoroughly upon the privacy that once protected the ghostly world? It has accustomed some of us to the notion of whiskies and sodas, hot baths and motor cars that are futurist in the strictest sense. Marie Bashkirtseff, observed Gladstone on reading the famous diary, appeared to take God very much as she took her grandfather—decidedly en egal. Some modern inquirers have approached the other world in the same spirit—is it possible that the other world is returning the compliment? However great the provocation, such a reprisal is to be regretted. We are all for a little art in these appearances; better a mere scullion with his head under his arm and a dagger between his ribs than Sir Hubert in carpet slippers and a calabash. As for the Essex apparition, he sounds more like the arrival of a belated plumber summoned at the last frost. However, he seems to have served one purpose, for on the strength of his visitation the bench granted an "order for possession" of a different house to the tenant who had complained of the ghost's appearance. It serves him right. A wraith of that kind deserves to be laid by a rent restrictions act.

RADICALS SUPPRESS RADICALS.
[New York Times.]

At the recent conference of the Labor party in London an attempt was made to capture the meeting. A man who declared that he represented 250,000 unemployed workingmen rushed to the platform to offer a motion and to make a speech. The chairman at once ordered him to sit down, and that great champion of free speech, Mr. Arthur Henderson, "put his arms round him and pushed him back into his seat." The intruder retired to the gallery, whence he shouted as the conference adjourned: "You are nothing but a crowd of lazy fakirs!"

This is one more proof how hard it is for extremists to put up with extremists. They rage at being held within limits themselves, but turn into vigorous suppressers as soon as men more violent than they seek to usurp their power.

EVERYTHING

LEAVE IT TO THE BRIDE.
[Toronto Star.]

Some outsider threw a bomb which shattered every window in the home of a newly-wedded couple at Guelph, a highly irregular proceeding. The usual custom is, we believe, to leave it to the bride. When, with the waning of the honeymoon it appears that hubby needs a good blowing up, the bride, who only a few weeks ago, or maybe months before, looked as if she wouldn't be so cruel as to even blow up a soap bubble, is generally not only ready, but also quite able to give it to him.

THE VALLEY MISTS ARE CURLING.
[George Meredith.]

Now from the meadow floods the wild duck clamors,
Now the wood pigeon wings a rapid flight,
Now the homeward rookery follows up its vanguard,
And the valley mists are curling up the hills.

Three short songs gives the clear-voiced throctle,
Sweetening the twilight ere he fills the nest;
While the little bird on the leafless branches
Tweets to its mate a tiny loving note.

Deeper the stillness hangs on every motion;
Calmer the silence follows every call;
Now all is quiet save the roosting pheasant,
The bell-wether's tinkle and the watch-dog's bark.

ROYAL MARRIAGE TALK.
[Philadelphia Public Ledger.]

The arrival in London of the King and Queen of Denmark, accompanied by Prince Waldemar, the king's uncle, and his daughter, the Princess Margaret of Denmark, started gossip that this visit might be preparatory to a marriage between the young princess and the Prince of Wales. The busybodies forgot or perhaps did not know, that to such an alliance there exists an almost insurmountable obstacle, namely a religious one. Princess Margaret is the only member of the Danish royal family who professes the Roman Catholic faith, and, according to the reports of those who know her well, she is a very devout Catholic.

Few people are aware of the circumstances attending the marriage of her parents. When Prince Waldemar won for his wife the talented and most charming Princess Marie of Orleans, one of the conditions upon which the latter's parents, the Duke and Duchess of Chartres, insisted was that in the case she had children the girls would be brought up in their mother's faith, while the boys would be reared as Protestants. At the time this caused much talk, and both the Danish religious authorities and the Roman Catholic ones made any amount of difficulties to this arrangement, which, nevertheless, was carried through, thanks to the diplomacy of old Queen Louise of Denmark. The first three born were boys, so it seemed as if the Danish dynasty would be spared the scandal, for such it was considered by some persons of seeing one of its members christened in another faith than its own; and then the Princess Margaret was born and privately baptized, when she was three months old, in the chapel of the Castle of St. Firmin, near Chantilly, the residence of her grandparents, the Duke and Duchess de Chartres. But considering all these circumstances, it is almost impossible that the English royal family would ever contemplate the thought of marrying the future King of England with a princess who would not be willing to change her religion, and, indeed, this would not be possible in view of the act of parliament forbidding a sovereign from wedding a girl professing another faith than the Protestant one.

THE DIFFICULTIES.

"How is the shooting in this region?" inquired a motorist who had halted his car in the big road.

"Only just tollable," replied Gap Johnson of Rumpus Ridge, Arkansas. "Old Ding Slappitt and old Ranzy Rippy are still keepin' up their feud, but they've growed so rickety that nary one of 'em can hit a flock of barns. The revenue officers are middlin' active and the moonshiners are on the dodge, so the shootin' on both sides don't amount to much. The fellers that drink the infernal stuff are seein' double till they're as li'ble to shoot at the one that hain't there as the one that is. Since the ladies have took the ballot they are shootin' at their husbands about like they've always done, but with no better aim. And the cuss that takes a shot at me from the brush now and ag'n, for suthin' or nuther hain't been able to cipher out what—hain't hit me yet. Eh-vah! The shootin' yurabouts hain't noth'n to—p'tu!—brag of, podner."

A SONG OF THE HOMELAND.
[F. O. Call.]

I'll sing you a song of the Homeland,
Though the strains be of little worth,
A song of our own loved Homeland,
Of the noblest land upon earth;
Where the tide of the sea from oceans three Beats high in its triple might,
Where the winds are born in a southern morn
And die in the polar night.

I'll sing you a song of the Eastland,
Of the land where our fathers died,
Where Saxon and Frank, their feuds long dead,
Are sleeping side by side;
Where their sons still toil on the hardwon soil
Of the mighty river plain,
Where the censer swings and the Angelus rings,
And the old faith lives again.

I'll sing you a song of the Westland,
Where the magic cities rise,
And the prairies clothed in their golden grain
Stretch under the azure skies;
Where the mountains grim in the clouds grow dim
Far north, in the Arctic land.
And the northern light in its mystic flight
Flares over the golden strand.

And I'll sing of the men of the Homeland,
From the North, and the East and the West,
The men who went to the Homeland's call,
(Ah, God, we have given our best),
But not in vain are heroes slain
If under the darkened skies,
All hand, in hand from strand to strand
A sin-purged nation rise.

PAGE OF INTEREST TO WOMEN

IN SOCIETY

Miss Ethel Coleman of Detroit is the guest of Mrs. Alfred Fraser, Elmwood avenue.

The Ven. Archdeacon Mackay was in the city this week, paying a visit at Huron College.

Miss Winifred Pearson has been recently appointed to the library staff at Western University.

Miss Myrtle Rowntree has returned to Johnson, Vermont, where she is a member of the high school teaching staff.

Arrangements are under way for a St. Valentine's dance at Western University, but who are to be the hosts is yet a question.

The Western "U" Sports Club is holding another enjoyable cross-country hike this afternoon, ending up with a tea-dance in the university "gym."

Mr. Devereux and Miss Gray of the Devereux players visited the Western University on Thursday morning last and entertained the arts students by giving selections from Sir Peter and Lady Teazle in "The School for Scandal."

Londoners will be interested to know of a recent publication by Dr. Ray Palmer Baker, a 1906 graduate from Western University. The new book is entitled "The History of Canadian Literature to the Confederation Period," and is by far the most comprehensive study that has been made of early Canadian literature. Dr. Palmer is now head of the English department in the Rensellaer Polytechnic Institute, Troy, N. Y. Recent attempts have been made to bring him back to Canada.

One of the loveliest of post-nuptial receptions was that held yesterday afternoon by Mrs. Ross Johnston, formerly Miss Florence Burdon, at her home on Waterloo street. Crimson roses glowed richly in the living-room, where the young bride received her guests, wearing a beautiful gown of peach-colored georgette, embroidered in jet and crystal, and wearing a corsage of sweet peas and Sunset roses. Mrs. (Dr.) Babb received with her, prettily gowned in black and silver cloth, while Mrs. George Fraser, in a smart frock of black panne velvet and large black hat, ushered to the tea-room.

Here, Mrs. Victor Blackwell and Mrs. Clifford Gray presided over the teacups, the tea-table handsomely carried with a cluny cloth and vases of Ophelia roses. Mrs. Blackwell wore a gown of silver lace and black hat, while Mrs. Gray was frocked in mauve and silver taffeta and wore a mauve georgette hat. They were assisted by Miss Hilda Keene, Mrs. Leslie Hawkes, Mrs. Ora Newton, Miss M. Mara and Miss Gertrude Anderson.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

Mr. and Mrs. William H. Wells of Princeton celebrated their golden wedding on Tuesday last, their marriage having taken place at Dundas on January 11, 1871. The officiating clergyman was the Rev. John MacColl, and the ceremony was performed at the home of Mr. A. Ogg, whose daughter, Miss Mary Ogg, acted as bridesmaid.

The house was beautifully decorated for the occasion, among the decorations being seen sprays of orange blossoms sent from California by Mrs. Mary Slingsby, sister-in-law of Mrs. Wells. Vases of marguerites and pink carnations were also used effectively as decorations.

After a sumptuous dinner, presentations were made to Mr. and Mrs. Wells, among the gifts being a purse of gold and an armchair and rocking-chair. Those present for the occasion included Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Wells, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wells and Mr. and Mrs. G. Maycock of Princeton, Mr. and Mrs. C. Knill of Canning and eight grandchildren. Other relatives were present from Toronto, Dunnville, Canning, Burford and Brantford. This was the fourth golden wedding celebration in the Wells-Slingsby families.

WHYTE—TAYLOR.

A very pretty wedding took place recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neil MacDonald of Kintail, when Mrs. MacDonald's sister, Miss Ethel Taylor, was united in marriage to Mr. Donald Whyte of Ripley, the Rev. J. S. Hardie officiating. The bride, charmingly gowned in taffeta, wearing a bridal veil with a bandeau of pearls, and carrying a bouquet of pink and white carnations, entered the room on the arm of her brother-in-law, Mr. Roderick McKenzie, to the strains of the wedding march from "Lohengrin," played by Miss Irene MacDonald, niece of the bride. Preceding the bride was her small niece carrying the ring in a basket of flowers, decorated with pink and white ribbons.

After the wedding dinner a committee representing the members of Ashfield Presbyterian Church, of which the bride was organist, unexpectedly arrived and presented her with an address and a purse of money. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome seal scarf, and to the pianist a wrist watch. The young couple left on a honeymoon trip, the bride traveling in a navy blue suit with a black hat trimmed with old rose. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Whyte will reside in Ripley.

WOMEN'S CANADIAN CLUB HEARS TRAVEL TALK BY TREASURER

Mrs. A. T. Edwards Shows Views of Sir Walter Scott's Country.

Mrs. A. T. Edwards gave a most interesting illustrated account of her trip through England and Scotland before the Women's Canadian Club yesterday afternoon in the Talbot Street Baptist Church. The talk itself was delightful, the speaker giving the hearers a detailed and storied account of the famous old castles and cities of the old land, dealing most particularly with the Lady of the Lake County and Shakespeare's birthplace. The pictures shown were magnificently colored and gave a splendid idea of the country.

Mrs. Frank Leonard, the president, was in the chair, and previous to the illustrated talk reports of the club's work to date were read, thus giving the standing of the club at the present time. Mrs. Harry Coleman, the club secretary, referred to the splendid speakers who had addressed the club during the autumn and winter. The treasurer's report read by Mrs. A. T. Edwards showed the financial standing of the club to be not so good as might be expected. Four hundred and seventy-nine dollars had been taken in in fees, since the spring, and $269.77 expended, $81.60 of this amount going for speakers' expenses. At the present time there was $238 in the bank.

Speakers in prospect are Bliss Carmen, early in February, General Arthur Currie, Mr. Sandwell of the "Bookman," Montreal, and Jean Blewett. Mrs. F. P. Betts has been appointed one of the club's vice-presidents on the resignation of Mrs. T. H. Carling. Another vice-president welcomed back to the club is Mrs. William Sanders.

From 4 until 4:30 yesterday afternoon, tea was served and a social time spent.

THE MARRIAGE OF ANNE

BY MAY CHRISTIE

(Copyright, 1920, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

CVIII.—A Mistake.

"You haven't got a bathing-cap," said my companion suddenly, when we were half way back to the hotel. "Now, isn't that a pity?"

She halted for a moment, as though suggesting that we should turn back to the region of the shops. Then:

"Oh, I forgot—I can lend you one. I'm afraid it isn't very smart—just a waterproof cap that I sometimes wear when I'm having a Turkish bath—but you're welcome to it."

There was nothing for it but to accept her offer.

As we walked along the boardwalk we encountered one or two of Margery's beaux. Tanned young men who doffed their caps to her. But I didn't notice any particular enthusiasm in the matter of stopping to speak with her.

Once Margery halted, and presented me to a chinless youth who was obviously suffering from adenoids. She addressed him intimately as Reggie, and asked him to tea at the hotel that afternoon.

"Or maybe you could take me out to lunch?" she added, eagerly.

Reggie, however, apparently lacked either the inclination or the cash. (No doubt Margery was expensive.)

"Infernally sorry, but I've got to lunch with mater. She's coming down at twelve today." He was apologetic.

"What about tea, then?" She was still hopeful. She would show the recalcitrant Courtney that there were other rivals in the field.

"I'm booked at four o'clock to attend a wretched tea-fight given by half a dozen females," said Reggie, gallantly, making a face. "So you'll have to excuse me, Miss Langhorne."

He made no suggestion as to a future date. And Margery, feeling that the interview had not only been unproductive but rather undignified, as well, bore me off towards the hotel, gloom on her brow.

We found Neil in the lounge. There was no sign of Mr. Courtney anywhere.

Margery flung herself into a chair, crossed her legs so as to display a surplus of dainty be-laced petticoat, and lit a cigarette. She flung a plaintive glance at Neil.

"I'm quite worn out. But we got Anne's bathing-suit. A sweet, simple little thing, just her style!"

(My style, indeed! How plain and unattractive I must be, to match the humble six dollar garment!)

"It was kind of you to take her, Margery," responded my husband, briskly. "Let me order you a lemonade or something. You look quite fagged."

"And hideous, I suppose?"

She moved her chair a fraction nearer Neil's, and smiled coquettishly upon him.

"Upon the contrary! I say you always manage to look as though you'd stepped straight out of a band-box! Doesn't she, Anne?"

I nodded, a chill at my heart. Were Neil and I never to be left alone? Would this flirtatious young woman never cease the role of gooseberry? But she wasn't "gooseberry"—oh, no! She generally saw to it that she played the central role.

The lemonade was brought for Margery. I wasn't thirsty, so declined one.

Pretty soon we made a move for the pier-end and the sea.

The morning had turned out very warm. The water looked entrancing.

But—at the pier-end it seemed quite deep. Yes, thirty feet!

"Haven't got 'cold feet,' Anne surely?" laughed our companion. A slight breeze had whipped a lovely color into her cheeks. She looked radiant. (I told myself, rather drearily, that anyone would prefer Margery's looks to my own.)

It was on the pier that we encountered an old friend of Neil's. A cordial greeting took place between the two men.

"Saunders, old man, heartiest congratulations! I've just heard that you're married! My wife saw it in the papers." He slapped Neil on the back, and without waiting for further introductions, turned to Margery. "So this is the blushing bride, eh? You're doubly to be congratulated, Saunders, winning such a lovely girl! But stop a minute"—he looked hard at Margery—"I remember now. You were Miss Langhorne, a very special friend of Neil's. Year before last, lots of people thought—"

But we were destined not to hear that little tid-bit. For my husband interrupted the jovial flow with:

"You're under a misapprehension, Miss Langhorne is not my wife, but this young lady is." He thrust me forward. "Anne, may I present an old friend to you?"

I murmured some conventional greeting. But a big ache was at my heart. The old friend had had sufficient perspicuity to pick Margery out as a fitting mate for Neil, and had ignored my insignificant self. Apologies and laughter couldn't set the matter right. The ache persisted.

Fifteen minutes later Neil stood waiting for Margery and me to emerge from our bathhouses.

When we did so, there was another painful little stab! For Margery's "simple little costume" which she had "run up" herself proved to be a first-class "dazzle" suit in black and orange silk, that made her look like a gorgeous tropic flower, while I—in my humble two-piece stockingette of wretched cut and material—looked, beside glowing Margery, like a common kitchen weed!

Monday—Neil's Kiss.

LOBO W. I.

The regular meeting of the Lobo Woman's Institute will be held on Wednesday afternoon, January 19, at the home of Mrs. John W. Graham. A report of Toronto convention will be given by Mrs. G. F. Edwards, and roll-call to be responded to by a new year's thought.

SALEM W. I.

On Wednesday evening the Salem Women's Institute and their families met at the home of Mrs. D. Currie. The evening was spent at progressive euchre, Mrs. C. Shiels and Mr. T. Jenken being the prize-winners. At 12 o'clock the company proceeded to the beautifully decorated dining-room, where an oyster supper was served. At the close of the evening a hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Currie for their kind hospitality.

MOORE CENTRE W. I.

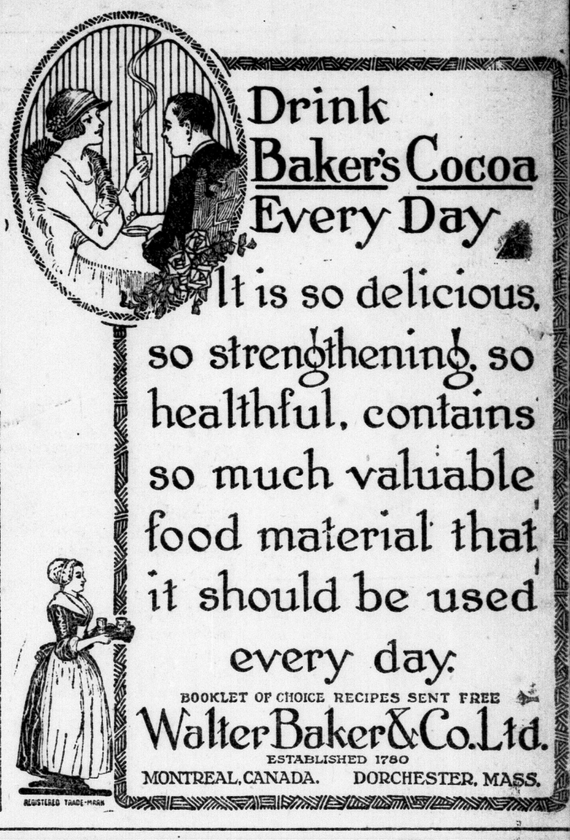

The Moore Centre Woman's Institute held a very successful meeting recently at the home of Mrs. A. Long. The meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Curran. A splendid address was given by Mrs. Wm. Anderson, on "Which Is Most Worth While, Making a Living or Living a Life," which was followed by an interesting discussion on the subject. An appeal for help towards the Y. W. C. A. building in Sarnia was also considered. A domestic science class will be started on Monday, January 17, and will be conducted by a woman demonstrator from Toronto. The course will consist of ten lessons and will be held at the home of Mrs. D. A. McDonald. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. A. McDonald on February 2.

EMBRO CHURCH SOCIETIES.

On Tuesday night, the Y. P. S. of Knox Church entertained the Y. P. S. of the Congregational and Methodist churches. The program, which was rendered by the visiting societies, was excellent. After the program a dainty lunch was served by the Young People of Knox Church.

The W. M. S of Knox Church, Embro, met recently, with a good attendance, the president, Miss Margaret Smith, in the chair. The international program for the woman's day of prayer was followed. Mrs. R. J. Sutherland, the secretary, and the president, Miss Smith, were appointed delegates to attend the annual presbyterial meeting, which is to be held on the 20th of January at Drumbo. The treasurer's report for 1920 stated they had raised $389, which was nearly $100 more than the year previous Mrs. Lane gave an excellent address.

The W. M. S. and the Ladies' Aid of the Congregational Church met at the home of Mrs. E. J. Cody recently. A short time was spent in talking over the $50 that was made at the recent bazaar, and it was decided to add $25 to this amount for missions. Miss May Cody gave an excellent paper on the Labrador Missions.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

Laughing Sally's Trouble.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am writing to you for the first time. I have been in a little trouble and thought I might get good advice from you, for I have been a reader of your page for some time and got all kinds of help, but never saw this question appear yet. Could you tell me whether it is right to go with a fellow, that you like very well, when your parents do not want you to go with him? If it is not, give a reason please. Should you have a fellow while going to high school? LAUGHING SALLY.

Ans.—(1) No, Laughing Sally, I would not go out with a boy whom my parents did not approve of. They are a great deal older and wiser than you and probably have a very good reason for not wanting you to go out with this particular boy; so if I were you I would find out from them why they do not like him and take their advice where he is concerned.

(2) It depends upon your age, but there is plenty of time after you leave school to have a fellow.

Laddie's Mother—Thank you for sending poem. We would be pleased to hear from you some time.

"Mitey Seedy."

Dear Friends—As a diversion from the more prosaic work of mending, knitting and sewing, I thought I would take a stroll down the avenues of the old Forest City and rest awhile by the fireside of our fair Cynthia's abode. I have noticed that the famous Literary Box has become "mitey seedy" of late, so perhaps I may be able to brush it up a bit. I only hope that I don't rub its bristles the wrong way. Have been wondering how in the world Miss Grey protects all that great seed collection from being grabbed up by the native birds and mice that infest the place; and from that saucy "fat, little mouse" that winked so coquettishly at her from the pigeon-hole of the desk.

How I would love to have peeped in at the window when the editors were hustling about with their unique weapons poised in an endeavor to slay the little beast. I'll bet a dollar Miss Grey found refuge on the top of the nearest chair.

I see where a number of the writers are taking great liberties with my offspring—pushing them into tiny envelopes and thrusting them into the Mail-Box for sale, or to be exchanged for some fancy article. However, I will be delighted if the proceeds only bring comfort to the occupants of the tiny white cots. I only wish that I had the touch of a Midas, in order to convert each seed into a tiny pellet of gold, and that the whole mass might be sufficient to restore as many of these dear little ones to perfect health and strength. Hundreds of little tots stepping out into the glorious fresh air and sunshine again, with roses painted on their cheeks. Wouldn't that be a heavenly harvest to reap from what has already been sown? Have been listening patiently, but in vain, for the soothing cadence of a certain wind—a musical wind, whose sweet strains float out to where the old pines and cedars whisper to each other in the twilight.

Hoping that it may soon rush out and never stop till it has filled the Mail-Box with a melodious message, is the wish of ROSE OF SHARON.

Am inclosing all that my purse will allow just now for the dear kiddies at the hospital.

Ans.—It was very good of you to brave the frosty blasts in order to visit the cosy corner and "brush it up a bit."

I would advise you to remain by the fireside, or do you think you would wither and die? That would never do, would it? Come again soon. Many thanks for hospital mite.

CAMPBELL BECHER CHAPTER.

The regular meeting of the Campbell Becher Chapter was held at the home of Mrs. W. D. MacGregor on Thursday, when arrangements were made for the chapter's tearoom at the big automobile show in the armories at the end of the month. Mrs. Bert Hookway and Mrs. Jack Murray were appointed conveners of the tearoom and three members appointed for each day of the show. They are now busy getting people to promise home-made cakes and rolls, so that everything in the tearoom will be of the best. Final arrangements were also made for the chapter's bridge and euchre to be held at "Prokos" on Tuesday next, Mrs. Thos. Rowe being the convener of this function.

The chapter's objective for the children's hospital is now $2,500, and of this amount they have been raised to date the sum of $1,350.

At the close of the meeting tea was served, Mrs. (Dr.) Tripp and Mrs. C. B. King acting as hostesses with Mrs. MacGregor.

Puppy Stories

(by Vincent G. Perry)

THE CURIOUS PUP.

Part Six.

Up, up, up! March Wind had carried Nibbles until the little dog's breath had been carried clear away. All at once March Wind took a downward sweep, and then, down, down, down, Nibbles felt himself going. Once March Wind let go of him altogether, but before Nibbles fell far March Wind caught him again, and piloted him safely along. There! Nibbles was placed down on a green, mossy bank, and March Wind departed. March Wind had thrown dust in Nibbles' eyes so that he could not see at first, but it was not long before his eyes opened wide, and the dust cleared up. What a strange place he was in, he thought. How near the sky seemed to the earth, and how tiny everything was. Suddenly Nibbles felt very sleepy, probably from his long journey with March Wind. He tried to keep awake, but his efforts were useless, and off to sleep he went.

Nibbles woke up without opening his eyes. Tiny voices were sounding in his ear, and he had the unpleasant feeling of a fly on his nose, and a whole swarm of flies walking over his back—or were they fleas? Nibbles hoped not, for his mother had warned him against playing with dogs that had fleas. But flies or fleas, they were very wonderful ones, for they were talking—the tiny voices were certainly coming from the tiny objects on his nose and back.

Nibbles opened his eyes and felt one of the tiny objects tumble from his eyelid and roll down his throat. What a cry arose in the tiny voices then—a very frightened cry, Nibbles thought. As soon as Nibbles looked about him he got the surprise of his life. The things he had mistaken for flies or fleas were people—the very tiniest people imaginable. Who would have thought that men and women could be as small as flies?

At first Nibbles had a notion to gobble one of them up, for he still regarded them as a certain kind of flea, but when he was quite sure they were really people, of course, he wouldn't do such a thing, for all people, big or small, so long as they were kind, nice people, were friends to dogs.

"What kind of an animal is it?" Nibbles heard one of the tiny voices ask.

"That's just what I am," Nibbles wished he could say, and no sooner had he wished that he could say it than his mouth opened, and the words came out. More wonder of wonders! Nibbles could talk in man's language.

At the sound of his voice a terrified shriek sounded from all the little people and they ran away from him at top speed. What a strange thing it all was.

"Come back! Come back!" Nibbles cried, for he was hungry, and he hoped these little people would have food for him, but his voice just seemed to terrify the tiny people the more, and farther away they ran from him.

Some Facts You Should Know About Bread

The wheat flour used in making Neal's Good White Bread puts into every pound of bread half a pound of carbohydrates (fuel and energy), and 1½ ounces of protein to build and repair the body machinery. The balance is made up of fat, sugar, mineral substances (phosphorus) to make bones and teeth, and a certain quantity of Vitamines.

All these things little folks need in growing, and grown-ups need to retain their energy and good health.

Next Game.
Monday, St. Thomas at London.

London intermediates made their bow before the homefolks last night and turned in a 6—2 win over the Tillsonburg Pan Drieds.

A rinkfull of fans saw hockey that showed a lack of practice on the part of both teams, but the locals showed flashes that made them a following immediately and group contenders as well.

The Pan Drieds will need a lot more drying from goal out, showing little of the cleverness that ought to be there to balance up their lack of ruggedness. Crossett, a junior last year, and Williams looked to be their best, but except in the last period the visitors made little effort to combine. Rev. J. Chapman, an old London favorite, was between the twine for the Pan Drieds, and he turned aside a regular fusillade coming his way all through the first two periods, picking pucks off his person when the goal judge should have been getting a cramp in his left hand.

Show Well.

The local outfit showed up remarkably well, considering their total lack of practice. Hynds had only two shots to save the first two sessions. Lochead and Kelly handled the mix-ups and mob attacks that came their way, and made some good rushes. Arthurs, Gillies and Burgess, with the first name "Garge" playing the best game on the ice, have the makings of a dangerous attack once they get going. Harry Mays looked good the few minutes he got, and will be valuable as a sub, but Dobbie, the man chosen as the other sub, is just as funny as he was last year, when he played with Glencoe. Burgess worked in well with Gillies and Arthurs, though chance after chance was passed up last night, the trio scored five goals, the sixth being scored by Lochead after a rush, on a carrom off "Chappie's" stick, which was sticking idly out in front of the nets.

Tillsonburg's first goal came near the last of the first period out of a mix-up, and with a few seconds to go in the last Carroll beat Hynds on a pass from the corner.

McCreath of Sarnia handled the game in a hazy way at times, but he was good natured about it.

The line-up:

Arthurs	L. Defence	Crossett

INGERSOLL TANKARD SPIEL POSTPONED

May Be Staged On Friday and Saturday.

The Ingersoll tankard games, which were to have been held last Monday and Tuesday, have been postponed at least until the week-end. The word received here said that the competition had been postponed until the call of the secretary, but as the big St. Thomas 'spiel is on all the week after next, practically, the Ingersoll curlers will likely decide to get their games over next week.

KITCHENER JUNIORS AT STRATFORD TONIGHT

STRATFORD, Jan. 14.—The Kitchener Juniors will play here Saturday night instead of Friday. Late this afternoon word was received from Kitchener agreeing to the change. In order to give people who work Saturday nights a chance to see the game, the face off will not be until 9 o'clock.

WINGHAM'S BIG JUNIORS BLANK TEESWATER 15--0

WINGHAM, Jan. 14. — Wingham junior hockey team administered the kalsomine liberally tonight to the Teeswater juniors at Stephenson's Rink, Wingham, in the first game of the series by defeating them 15 to 0. The Wingham goal-keeper was forced to don an extra sweater during the game. E. Murphy of Mount Forest proved an excellent referee and gave satisfaction to all by his fairness.

INGERSOLL HOME BREWS BLANK SAINTS

St. Thomas Unable To Penetrate Defence of Homesters.

INGERSOLL, Jan. 14.—By a score of 9 to 0 the intermediate homebrews tonight defeated St. Thomas in the opening game of the season. Although neither team was up to form the Saints were outclassed and were seldom able to break through the local defence for a clean shot on goal. The locals were faster and better shots. Richardson and Cline were strong and figured prominently in the scoring. The score by periods was 1 to 0, 6 to 0 and 9 to 0. The teams: St. Thomas—Goal, Lenahan; defence, Scott and Doan; centre, Baldwin; right wing, Tiffin; left wing, Burns; subs, Stoner, McLean and Hamilton. Ingersoll—Goal, Holland; defence, Cline and Richardson; centre, Waite; right wing, Mason, left wing; Petrie; subs, Daniels, Petrie. Referee—Harry King, Woodstock.

L.C.I. Crackers Give Shamrocks An Unexpected Game

Hold Them To 17 to 12 Victory—Crickets Easy Winners.

Two good games again featured the Ladies' Basketball League at the East End Community Hall last night. The L. C. I. Crackerjacks surprised the fans by holding the Shamrocks to a 17—12 victory, introducing the surprise element by leading at one period.

L. C. I. Crickets scored an easy victory over the Northern Lights, who were making their first appearance in the league. Seventeen to 5 was the score, but the losers with a little more experience will develop rapidly.

GRANITES FORCE AURA LEE TO THIRD DEFEAT

TORONTO, Jan. 14. — Aura Lee lost their third consecutive game here tonight to Granites by a 1 to 0 score. The play, as the score indicates, was very close. Romerill scored the only goal in the first period after 17 minutes of play had elapsed.

Roach, in goal for the winners, played exceptionally well, and shows signs of developing into one of the best goalers in the amateur ranks. He was accorded splendid support by Fox and Munro on the defence. Conacher, Burch and Hogarth appeared to best advantage for the Aura Lees. The game was rough at times, and several penalties were handed out.

LEONARD WINS IN SIXTH ROUND OVER RITCHIE MITCHELL

Westerner Knocks Champ Down in First Round.

MITCHELL WAS GAME

Lucky Punch To Eye, Which Blinded Him, Spoiled Great Battle.

MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York, Jan. 14.—In a spectacular bout, which was stopped by the referee in the sixth round, at the Madison Square Garden tonight, Benny Leonard, the world's lightweight champion, scored a technical knockout over Richie Mitchell of Milwaukee, who, despite his defeat, proved himself a worthy challenger.

The bout was the main attraction at a benefit given by the American Committee for Devastated France, and the contest was worthy of the occasion.

In the opening round Leonard knocked his opponent down three times, and injured Richie's right eye so badly that it was useless to the game western lad during the remainder of the bout. However, toward the end of the initial round Mitchell surprised the champion, and in fact the entire house, by hooking a terrific left to Leonard's jaw, which sent the champion down on his back. Leonard arose slowly and, remaining on one knee, waved his hand to his manager and seconds, indicating that his head was clear and he was uninjured. From this to the beginning of the sixth round Leonard had the advantage in every session, but many close observers believed that if Leonard had not virtually blinded Mitchell's eye in the opening round the Milwaukee lad would have given him the fight of his career. In the sixth round Richie came up as game as a pebble and tried his best to land a solid blow, but Leonard's blocking and footwork were almost perfect in defence. Leonard's attack in this round was fierce and he simply battered his opponent off his feet. He sent Richie to the floor three times, and was ready to put over a finishing punch when Referee Haukop interfered and saved Mitchell from further punishment. The men weighed in at 2 o'clock at 134 pounds, one pound under the stipulated weight. Both looked trained to the hour and each expressed his confidence while being prepared for the battle.

FIRST ROUND—After feinting and fiddling for a couple of seconds, Leonard hooked his left to the jaw for a count of three. Leonard stepped back smiling, and when Mitchell came up again Leonard sent him down with a right to the jaw, this time for a count of four. Then he knocked Mitchell down a third time with a left to the face and a right to the head. Mitchell stayed down for the full count of nine. When Richie got on his feet he rushed at Benny and hooked a left to the jaw, sending the champion down for a count of nine, Leonard staying on one knee and waving his hand to his seconds, indicating that he was all right. The house was in an uproar, as the sudden turn of affairs had taken everybody by surprise. Both sparred carefully until the sound of the gong.

SIXTH ROUND—Leonard crossed his right to the jaw, sending Mitchell down for a count of nine. Benny jabbed left to the face and body and crossed his right, sending Richie staggering into an outer corner. Then he hooked his right to the jaw and Mitchell took the count of nine.

Mitchell, when he got up, was very groggy and tried to grab one of the ropes, but Leonard crossed his right, sending him sprawling on the canvass for a count of nine. When Mitchell regained his feet Leonard stepped in to land another blow, but Referee Haukop jumped between them and stopped the fight, leading Mitchell to his corner. Leonard ran across the ring and shook hands with Mitchell as the defeated man sat in his corner receiving the attention of his two brothers and other handlers.

KITCHENER EX-CHAMPS ON TOP RUNG ON 3—0 WIN OVER BLUE AND WHITE

MONDAY NIGHT'S GAME WITH ST. THOMAS HERE IS NOW A CERTAINTY

The curlers gave up their usual Monday 'spiel to accommodate the team, which will not be at home for several weeks after this game.

After last night's exhibition on the part of the locals the rink should be packed to the roof for Monday night's clash. St. Thomas was beaten by Ingersoll last night, but has had no practice at all, and should give the locals a hard argument Monday.

Kitchener Defence Puzzle To Varsity—Box and Hillier Starred For Winners.

KITCHENER, Jan. 14. — Kitchener tonight assured the leadership in the senior O. H. A. race by defeating University of Toronto here in a rather listless game tonight, 3 to 0. The ice was slow, and this spoiled the combination play of the two teams, though occasionally a flash of it was noticeable. The Varsity team could not negotiate the Kitchener defence, while the local forwards were able to more than hold their own with the visitors. Box played a great game for the winners as did Hiller, the tricky Kitchener centre. Carson, the Toronto centre, worked hard, but he was not able to get very far, owing to the close checking.

The teams:

Varsity.		Kitchener.
Langtry	Goal	Hainsworth
Ramsay	Defence	Box
McIntyre	Defence	Merrick
Carson	Centre	Hiller
Wright	R. Wing	Parkes
Olson	L. Wing	Clarke
Sullivan	Sub	Hillman

OWEN SOUND LOSES FIRST AT HOME TO DURHAM BY 3 TO 2

OWEN SOUND, Jan. 14.—In the first hockey game of the season played on local ice the Durham intermediate O. H. A. team defeated Owen Sound in a fast game tonight by the score of 3 to 2. Al Saunders secured the winning counter in the last two minutes of play. By periods the score was 1 to 0 in favor of Owen Sound, 2 to 2 and 3 to 2 in favor of Durham. The edge was with the locals in the first and last periods, and it was only the hardest of luck that they did not tally in the last one. Otto Mitchell secured both of Owen Sound's goals and McLaughlan Durham's first two counters.

The line-ups were:

BRANTFORD BEAT PARIS KIDS IN OVERTIME 4--3

BRANTFORD, Jan. 14.—Playing 20 minutes' overtime in the Junior O. H. A. opener here tonight, Brantford defeated Paris by a score of 4 to 3. Both teams played excellent hockey, though the ice was soft. Carruth, the local captain and left wing, played a heady game, and Stafford featured in the scoring. The visitors showed speed throughout, though penalized time and again. The Moore brothers did all the scoring for Paris. The line-ups were:

Paris—Tucker, goal; Hugh Moore and Porter, defence; Gow, centre; English, Howard and Moore, wings; Fraser, Chasner and Govier, spares.

Referee—Ross Beckett, Brantford.

Seasonable Pointers For Farmers

NOW IS THE TIME TO CULL OUT POOR CHICKENS FROM FLOCK

Better To Produce Fewer Hatching Eggs of High Quality Than a Great Number That Will Not Hatch Or Produce Poor Chicks.

It is January! There is no better time in all the year to consider for a few moments some of the things that we, as poultry raisers, can inaugurate right now to bring about better prospects for 1921. The past year may have been a fairly good one for us, but can we not make this coming season even a better one? If there is any agricultural industry that should be "up and a-coming," it is the poultry. In poultry keeping we have many fowls that are utterly unfit for the production of hatching eggs, because they are birds the like of which we should not perpetuate in our flocks. It would be far better if the number of fowls down materially, greater stress being laid on quality than on number. It is better economy to produce fewer hatching eggs and better ones than a large number of eggs that will either not hatch or produce poor chicks.

RHODE ISLAND REDS.

The popularity of Rhode Island Reds has never been questioned from the first, says Willard C. Thompson, in the American Poultry Journal. Their future was a breeding problem, depending upon the breeder's ability to fix their predominating type and improve their color. This done, their succes was assured. There is probably no breed of fowls which has a more efficient body type than the Rhode Island Red. If there is such a thing as egg type the Reds have it. That long body, with full breast and abdomen, gives room for the digestive organs. A full breast means good heart girth, which means greater activity of the vital processes. The Reds have great length of back and breast, which again means room inside. They are well balanced, with no undue development required in any one section. These utilitarian points which they possess have put them as a breed among our best egg producers today. Their popularity has run riot during the past ten years. They are today rivaling, if not passing, the popularity of the Plymouth Rock as a farm fowl.

In size the Red is lighter than the Plymouth Rock by about one pound. The cock bird weighs eight and a half pounds, the hen six and a half, the cockerel seven and a half and the pullet five pounds. It is a very compact bird with a distinctly oblong shape. It is a bird of angles rather than curves. It might be defined as above medium size in all sections.

There are two varieties namely, Rose and Single Comb, the latter being more popular. For a general-purpose breed they are relatively close feathered.

They have never been abused through the breeding into them of any oddity or far-fetched idea of beauty. They are built for business, and business they have proved themselves capable of doing, both as to egg production and as to broiler and roaster production.

EGG-LAYING CONTEST.

The first egg-laying contest carried on by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture was concluded at the end of October. The contest included 30 entries of five birds each. The total number of eggs laid by the 150 hens was 22,881, an average of 152.54 eggs for the eleven months. Ten prizes were awarded for pens and ten for individual hens.

In the pens, the Rhode Island Reds won the first, second, ninth and tenth awards; the Barred Plymouth Rocks won the third, fourth and eighth awards; White Leghorns won the fifth and sixth awards; and the Anconas won the seventh award.

In the prize-winning pens the highest number of eggs laid was 994, and the lowest was 809. In the prize-winning hens the highest number of eggs laid in eleven months was 254, and the lowest 197. In the full year the highest scoring hen laid 277 eggs.

A number of pens in the contest laid more eggs than some of the prize-winners, but they failed to qualify for a prize, because their eggs fell below the Canadian egg standard of two ounces per egg. The second contest began on the first of November, and will continue for an eleven-month period.

The hens were kept in double colony houses. The feeding was in no way unusual. The morning meal was grain scattered in litter. In cold weather this was wheat and corn in equal parts, but at other seasons wheat was fed alone. In fall and winter dry mash was given in hoppers. This consisted of bran, middlings, cornmeal, ground oats and meat scrap in equal parts by weight. At noon each day a moist feed, that was consumed in ten minutes, was given. This consisted of boiled vegetables mixed with bran and middlings. Water was constantly available, as were also grit and oyster shells.

POULTRY PROFITS.

The Ontario ministry of agriculture reports that comparatively little disease has been reported among poultry, although some complain that turkeys have not done so well as the other fowl. Correspondents are greatly divided regarding the profits of poultry keeping. Some claim that most flocks are kept at a loss, while others hold equally as strongly that chickens and eggs pay as well as anything else on the farm, especially as they utilize so much waste stuff. One correspondent sums up the situation well when he says: "It all depends upon the skill and attention used in handling the flocks." Eggs are now touching their highest known price, and with grain cheaper than for years there is a nice profit for those who have good winter layers. Several correspondents credit the school fairs with helping to improve poultry and the methods of raising them.

Notes from poultry raisers in the County of Middlesex are issued by the department of agriculture as follows:

Delaware—A good flock of Langshan or Rock hens is quite an asset for the farmer. It is surprising how much food and money is realized from their keep if proper attention is given them, and a good-sized run.

Nissouri—A good deal of attention is being given to the two main breeds in hens—Single Comb White Leghorns and Barred Plymouth Rocks. Profits range from zero to $5 a bird. A large number of ducks and geese are raised where water is handy, and also many turkeys.

A Yarmouth (Elgin) correspondent states that poultry pays well where it is well attended to, but they must be well looked after, the same as anything else on the farm.

WHERE HENS HATCH FISH.

We have heard of the hen doing queer things. In China hens are called upon to take the place of a fish hatchery in a manner that is certainly unique, if not amazing. The contents of an egg are blown out through a small hole, after which fish spawn is collected and the shell is refilled with the eggs, each one holding thousands of what will be great and small fishes when they have undergone incubation. When the shell has been filled up the hole is carefully sealed and then it is put under a broody hen. The eggs are kept under the hen for a certain number of days, when they are taken out, the shells are cracked, and the spawn poured into water that has been warmed by the sun's rays. Very shortly the spawn hatches, after which the tiny fish are kept in pure fresh water, when they are sorted and put into greater ponds, finally to be released. The system, to say the least, is a successful one, and has been followed by the Chinese for a long time. The Chinese, it should be remembered, were the first to use incubators for the hatching of hens' eggs. —Robert Page Lincoln, in Rod and Gun in Canada.

ALFALFA IS A USEFUL CROP AND IS VERY EASILY GROWN

Gives Large Yield of Nutritious Food For Stock and Two To Three Crops Per Year Can Be Harvested in Ontario.

A USEFUL CROP—ALFALFA.

Alfalfa or Lucerne is a deep-rooted leguminous plant. It possesses a combination of characteristics which is not found in any other farm crop. The growth of alfalfa starts early in the spring and continues throughout the summer and even into the late autumn. Its large yields of nutritious feed for farm stock, its perennial habit of growth and its beneficial influence on the soil are all features which commend it highly. Its power of making use of the free nitrogen of the atmosphere and of the fertilizing elements of the subsoil is of great value. Alfalfa produces two or three crops per annum in Ontario and, under favorable conditions, thrives for several years, without the necessity of reseeding. The feed is relished by practically all kinds of farm stock. It can be used in the green or in the dry condition, or it can be converted into silage. In some localities of the province the second crop in the season is allowed to ripen for seed production to good advantage. Alfalfa is particularly suitable for use in a long rotation, and it leaves the soil in an excellent condition to be followed by other farm crops. In order to grow alfalfa successfully, however, it is necessary to understand the crop and to adopt the very best methods for its growth. Fortunate, indeed, is that country which can produce alfalfa satisfactorily as a regular farm crop.

Alfalfa is said to have been a native of Western Asia and its cultivation by Greeks and Romans goes back for upwards of two thousand years. It has been extensively grown in the regions of the Mediterranean Sea, and its cultivation has been extended to many of the other parts of the world. At the time of the Spanish invasion the common alfalfa was introduced into Mexico, and in 1854 into California. It is now grown very extensively in the Central Western States.

The number of species of alfalfa which have been brought into cultivation are indeed limited. Four different species have been under test in the trial grounds of the Ontario Agricultural College in each of the past eleven years. A brief description of each of these species is here presented.

Common or violet alfalfa (Medicago sativa) is the species which has been grown extensively for centuries in some of the comparatively warm countries of the world. It is this type of alfalfa which is grown almost entirely in Central America, and in Mexico and also in Texas, California, Utah, Colorado, Nebraska and Kansas, and in other southern and central states of the American Union. The plants of the common alfalfa have an upright growth and numerous stems which grow from the crowns of the roots. The flowers are violet in color, the coloring matter appearing in different degrees of density, extending from a comparatively deep to a very pale violet, the latter being almost white. The seed pods are coiled in two or three spirals, the seeds are kidney-shaped, and are about one-twelfth inch in length.

Variegated alfalfa (Medicago media) is supposed to be a natural cross between the Medicago sativa and the Medicago falcata. The plants are mostly upright, but some have a spreading habit of growth. The flowers are variegated in color, and besides the violet, include shades of blue, green and yellow, and various blends of these with each other, and with violet. The seed of the variegated closely resembles that of the common alfalfa.

Yellow lucerne (Medicago falcata) grows wild in some of the European and the Asiatic countries, and is considered to be very hardy. It generally has a spreading habit of growth, the stems being somewhat slender, and the leaves The flowers are yellow in color, the seed pods are sickle-shaped, and the seeds are somewhat smaller than those of the common alfalfa.

Hairy stemmed yellow lucerne (Medicago ruthenica) has a spreading habit of growth, and yellow flowers with seed pods which are flat and somewhat oval. The seed is brownish in color, distinctly lobed, and is considerably larger than that of the common alfalfa.

USES OF ALFALFA.

In the province of Ontario alfalfa may be used in a variety of ways, such as for the production of hay, green fodder, pasture, seed, green manure, silage or as a cover crop in orchards. Possibly its use in this province is in about the same order as here given. For the production of hay it is a most valuable crop. Under favorable conditions it produces large yields of hay of excellent quality. Very great care, however, should be taken to cut the alfalfa at the commencement of bloom or at the beginning of the second growth of stems at the crowns of the roots. Extensive experiments at the college show that alfalfa deteriorates very rapidly both in percentage quality, very and indigestibility after the early blossoming stage. Caution should also be exercised not to allow the alfalfa to lie very long in hot dry sunshine, as the leaves soon become crisp and are easily broken from the plants. As analyses show the leaves to be the richest part of the alfalfa, special care should be exercised to lose as few of them as possible. For best quality of hay it is considered wise to rake the alfalfa into windrows as soon as it is sufficiently wilted and, at the proper time, to place the materials in cocks where the curing process should be finished. The green fodder produced by alfalfa is both nourishing and appetizing. It is often an advantage to start to cut alfalfa for green fodder some time before it has started to bloom. That portion of the crop which cannot be used for this purpose before one-third of the blossoms have made their appearance should be cut and cured into hay. The fact that alfalfa is a perennial plant, and the fact that it produces two, three and four cuttings in the one season, makes it a very desirable crop to use for the production of green fodder for feeding to farm stock to supplement pastures in the dry hot summers.—C. A. Zavitz, B. S. A., D.Sc.

AGRICULTURAL AND EXPERIMENTAL UNION.

The 42nd annual meeting of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union will be held at the Agricultural College, Guelph, on the 11th and 12th of January. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone interested in agriculture. The program is of special interest this year, and includes discussions on seed growing, centres, seed-cleaning plants, sweet clover as a farm crop, the future of the dairy industry, results of experiments in feeding live stock, beautifying the country homestead, etc. The co-operative experimental work is in charge of eight district committees, four of which will report at the annual meeting.

PURE-BRED BEEF BULLS.

That the percentage of grade and scrub bulls in the beef herds in the Province of Ontario is so large as to demand the serious consideration of all beef producers, buyers of beef cattle, and all others interested in the welfare of the live stock industry of the province, is a fact admitted by all who have had their attention drawn to present-day conditions. According to the Dominion live stock commissioner the cattle going on the large markets of Canada in 1919 numbered 932,483 head. Of these, 525,649 graded "good," and 406,834, or 43 per cent, graded "common." It is conservatively estimated that each of these 406,834 butcher cattle could have carried an additional 200 pounds of flesh, bringing the average weight up to 1,000 pounds, and making in all a total additional weight of 81,366,800 pounds, which at 13½ cents per pound, the average price of cattle weighing 1,000 to 1,100 pounds, would have been worth $12,106,101. If, beside making additional gains, these cattle had graded good in quality, the original weight of the animal, which was 800 pounds, would have also been worth 13½ cents per pound, a total increase on the 406,834 cattle of $11,196,071, due entirely to quality. The total additional revenue from better weight and quality due to better feeding and breeding would have totaled $23,302,172. Anyone who is at all familiar with stockyard parlance knows that when the term "common" is used that it refers to an inferior class or type of cattle, which bring 3 to 5 cents less per pound than do "good" cattle. There were marketed on the Toronto market in 1919—and Toronto is Ontario's biggest market—194,335 "good" cattle, and 161,225 of the "common" kind. Allowing for the fact that a certain percentage of the stock graded "common" through lack of finish, the greatest contributing factor to the low grading was the scrub bull. Eliminate the scrub bull and you practically eliminate the "common" grade of cattle, and get from $30 to $50 more for every steer or heifer replacing the scrubs sold at a similar age at which these scrubs are now marketed.

LONDON TOWNSHIP FARMER'S EXPERIENCE.

The experience of a London Township farmer, with pure-bred and scrub bulls shows very closely the place of the scrub sire. Six years ago he had in his herd eight very even pure-bred cows that gave him eight bull calves from a pure-bred sire. These were made steers, and kept until 2½ years old, finished on grass, and when sold averaged $140 each. The next year the farmer was ailing, and was unable to take his cows a distance to a pure-bred sire. A neighbor offered him the use of his scrub sire. The progeny from this mating, from which five steers were kept, fed and marketed under the same conditions, brought $114 each, although there has been a slight rise in price during the year. This farmer stated that on the five steers he lost $120 in one year, and to the average farmer using a scrub sire on ten females the loss would be $260 from a beef standpoint alone. If the daughters of the scrub bull were kept in the herd this loss would show in their calves in lesser degree. This man claims that as soon as farmers keep an accurate profit and loss account the scrub bull will disappear.

CANADA'S BULL POPULATION.

In connection with the campaign, motion pictures are being prepared, showing our best herds in Ontario. These pictures will be used during the fall and winter throughout the province. This will illustrate the highest types of the various breeds, and should do much to boost better live stock in Ontario. Furthermore, material is being prepared for the making of lecture slides; these will also be used in lecture work during the fall and winter months. Gate signs are being made, and all pure-bred associations are co-operating to have owners of pure-bred sires of the various breeds display them on their gates. Each sign will have in the centre a picture of a bull's head representing the breed used.

There are approximately 298,000 bulls in Canada. Considering the cow population, there are approximately 100,000 bulls too many in Canada. There are annually approximately 19,000 bulls registered in Canada, made up as follows: Shorthorns 8,500, Holsteins 4,500, and other breeds 6,000. Owing to many causes, primarily, however, the poor methods of marketing, there are approximately 8,000 pure-bred bulls not registered annually, a large majority of which are sold for veal.

FARM CONDITIONS IN ONTARIO.

The following is a summary of reports made by the agricultural representatives to the Ontario Department of Agriculture:

The Brant representative states that but little heavy feeding of live stock has been done yet, except in a few cases where farmers bought short-keep cattle.

Peterboro reports a large number of feeding steers on hand and in fair condition. Orders are already booked for forwarding one hundred head through one shipper, and space is being sought for as many more.

Middlesex declares that farmers are seeing as never before the advantage of turning off only good beef animals, as stock of poor quality are now bringing very low prices, and adds that this is the best argument that could be given in favor of having good sires.

Lambton is of opinion that about the usual number of cattle are being fed, but that the low prices prevailing are slowing up sales of beef animals. However, a few more dairy cows are being kept than formerly.

The milk situation appears to be improving in Western Ontario, as the powdered milk factories are said to be again finding a steady demand for their products.

Waterloo reports a shortage of milk around Galt, but plenty in the neighborhood of Kitchener, with prices at about 35 to 36 cents a gallon, delivered at the dairy.

The marketing of hogs is much slower than usual. Brant reports that no little pigs have been offered on the market for two weeks.

Peterboro says. "At auction sales, farm stock and equipment are selling away below what was paid a short time ago. Sheep, especially, have been low in price—could hardly be given away. Good horses, however, are in demand at high prices, but the trouble is that very few good ones are to be found."

Brant reports that a considerable quantity of sweet clover seed is available, one farmer having threshed sixty bushels, but so far there has been little demand.

Middlesex states that threshers are still busy, and likely will be kept going for a week or two yet.

Fall wheat is still considered to be in good condition, having had a fair covering of snow.

More men are offering for farm work than has been the case in recent years. Several representatives speak of farmers requesting help on the basis of yearly contracts.

HARDINESS AND STRENGTH ARE ESSENTIAL IN FARM HORSES

Valuable Lessons Learned in the War Are Now Being Applied by Breeders—Cross Breds Have Not Proven Especially Good For Draught Purposes.

HORSES IN THE GREAT WAR.

The lessons of the war regarding horse breeding confirm the prediction of competent persons in recent years, namely, that very great importance should be attached to hardiness, strength and fitness, in breeding horses for cavalry and artillery as well as for agricultural and draught purposes. The English thorough-bred in spite of its great qualities possessed, as a war horse, grave defects of extreme nervousness and great requirements in the way of food and care, defects which had previously been deplored in the Crimean war. Anglo-Norman trotters, as several authorities had predicted, were neither suitable for cavalry nor artillery. The heavy Percheron and the Boulonnais have proved particular over food and little fitted for rough camp life; they lacked frugality, nerve, and hardiness. Breeding has deteriorated these breeds of large and stoutly built animals by reducing the arab blood in them and has transformed them into expensive and less efficient draught horses. The same is the case with heavy English breeds of horses.

The best riding horses, as numerous French horse breeders, among them the Comte de Comminges, had foreseen, were Anglo-Arabs of the south of France. The hardy Camargue horses have also rendered excellent service.

As light draught horses, the little Ardennes and especially the little Breton horses, trained in a hardy manner, that is to say as working horses, have given excellent results; all these enduring, hardy, courageous and docile horses have arab blood in them. The horses which have proved the best draught animals have been the small ones, measuring 4 feet 10 inches in height at the withers. Horses 4 feet 6 inches in height have also been excellent for draught purposes.

Breton cross-breds and all crosses with much thoroughbred blood have not distinguished themselves either as saddle or as draught horses. The qualities of small horses as draught animals are confirmed by the fact that the British Government has recently purchased in France medium-sized Percheron mares to give a new direction to the breeding of draught horses in England.

Information relating to Canadian and Argentine horses is contradictory. According to some people Canadian horses have good qualities, but are extremely nervous. Argentine horses have confirmed their fame for hardiness and American horses have turned out well.

Barbs and mules have rendered excellent services; numerous data proved that Spanish horses and Barbs form a single breed. Modern war has relegated the saddle horse to a secondary position; in France, for example, before the great war, cavalry took 70 per cent of the army horses; at the present time the proportion is 8 per cent, while 92 per cent are draught horses (artillery, staff, engineers, infantry; the latter requiring about 300 horses per regiment).

CONSUMPTION OF MEATS.

It is the belief of well-informed authorities on the live stock industry that consumption of meats is everywhere overtaking production. In other words, the increase in the meat-eating population of the world is either moving upwards faster than is the increase in live stock population or else the latter is on the decline. In some classes of stock we have been slaughtering without due regard to the future.

Whatever may be the nature of our opinion of the live stock industry as it localized itself under the abnormal conditions of the present, following a tremendous dislocation of trade relations, involving credits and exchange, we would do well to look ahead and abroad so that our live stock, indispensable to our agriculture under all and any conditions, may be able to respond to consumptive demand when normal trade movements are again established. The fact still remains that normally the world requires 60 million pounds of beef, mutton, pork and fats annually, that the exporting countries of the world must supply approximately four billions of an export surplus to meet import need and that in Argentina, Australia, United States, Denmark and Canada, four of the chief exporting countries, marketings have, during the past year at least, been beyond the point of judicious liquidation.

Exports of beef and beef products from Denmark dropped from an average of approximately 43,500,000 pounds per year from 1911 to 1913 to around 17,750,000 pounds during 1919.

An idea of the European demand for pork products can be gathered from the fact that Canada exported 299,950,760 pounds of pork products in 1919, as compared with a pre-war annual average of 54,155,542 pounds.

GRADING OF DAIRY PRODUCE.

There is at the present time a growing feeling that if Canada is to hold her own in competition with the world in dairy produce some steps should be taken with the near future to provide for the grading of all dairy produce intended for export. It will be seen from the reports which have appeared in our columns this week that this matter received considerable attention at the annual convention of the Western Ontario Dairymen's Association, and evoked a good deal of interest.

For the first time in organized milk production in Ontario dairymen shipping to city markets who received $3.51 per 100 pounds of milk delivered to the city are receiving prices approximately equal to the prices received by organized dairymen in the United States. The average December price received for milk at 1,183 local markets in the States of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania was $3.32 for 3.5 per cent milk.

FARMING IN MIDDLESEX.

The following notes on farming in the counties of Middlesex and Elgin have just been issued by the Ontario department of agriculture:

Nissouri—The cream truck seems to be supplanting the milk route system, but the latter is far from being run out yet. A slight "back to the farm" movement is in evidence and is likely to increase.

Delaware—Extensive drainage operations are going on in this section. The big power machine diggers are at work even yet, though the frost has been quite heavy. It is an interesting sight to see the digging going on down several feet, and to watch a man placing twelve-inch tiles on the bottom of the trench as he rides along on the machine.

McGillivray—Some make more money from hens than they do from their cows, but, of course, everyone cannot do this.

Elkrid—The growing of sugar beets contiguous to railway stations is becoming profitable, and a number of foreigners are being employed in the work.

Lobo—Sweet clover is coming into favor. It seems to make heavy land more friable and is certainly a good pasture crop.

Londesboro—A lot of flax has been grown this season, and it was good. Farmers were paid $30 per acre for the use of the land. They had to plow and harrow the ground, and the company did the rest of the work. The crop went about two and a half tons to the acre.

McGillivray—There was a lot of flax grown around here this year on account of a new flax mill being erected in Centralia. It was a good crop, but they were a little slow in getting the last of it pulled on account of the scarcity of pullers.

Aldborough—Tobacco has been successfully cultivated in this township, and sheds have been erected for curing it. However, I cannot yet say whether it can be sold at a satisfactory price to the grower.

Malahide—If sugar keeps up in price sorghum will be raised in this vicinity extensively, as the production is good, and the syrup made here equals the best refined syrup. The machinery does not cost much.

Yarmouth—Millet was sown to some extent to fill up the shortage of hay crop.

STOCK-RAISING IN ONTARIO.

In the reports on live stock issued by the Ontario department of agriculture it is stated that cattle, while on the whole thrifty, do not seem to be fattening as easily as usual. There are not so many well finished beeves available, most of them being butchers' animals and stockers. Milch cows have been selling at falling prices of late owing to the lower rates paid for milk, and in some cases to the closing of condenseries. Some cows of fair quality are said to have been disposed of at sales for $50, but good prices can yet be got for tried milkers. Good beef cattle range in price from 9 to 11 cents a pound, live weight; common cattle run around 6 cents, and canners have gone as low as 4½ cents.

When correspondents wrote, hogs were selling at from $15.50 to $16.50 in a falling market. Swine raisers were greatly discouraged, and a number of [illegible] of their brood so [illegible]. Some correspondents, however, maintain that with the low price of grain it will pay farmers to continue to raise swine. The number of hogs now on hand is much smaller than was reported a year ago. Small pigs, however, are selling at last year's prices.

THE NEW FALL WHEAT.

The acreage of fall wheat sown is about one-seventh less than that of last year, the falling off being chiefly in the larger wheat-growing counties of the Lake Erie district. On account of the dry condition of the soil at the usual time of seeding, and also to escape injury from the Hessian fly, a large area went in much later than usual. Sowing ranged from the last week of August to the first week of October, the bulk being got in between the 6th and the 20th of September. The early growth was rather checked by drought, but October weather brought it along with a bound, and on the whole the crop will enter the winter with a good top. Some early sown fields have been attacked by the fly. Dawson's Golden Chaff is the variety chiefly grown.

THE FRUIT SEASON.

This season has been a most unusual one in the more recent history of apple growing in Ontario, on account of the large quantity of that fruit that has been left unpicked or unpacked. More trees than usual were well laden, and windfalls and other dropped fruit was relatively less than usual, but pickers were hard to find, and there was so great a scarcity of barrels, boxes, baskets and other containers that thousands of bushels of good, marketable apples were left to rot on the trees or on the ground. In some instances more went to waste than were marketed. Apples of good quality were sold to the evaporators at fifty cents a cwt. Summer and fall apples were most plentiful, but such standard winter varieties as the Spy, the Greening and the Baldwin were also in larger quantities than in more recent years, and all have been unusually clean and presentable so far as both insect and fungous troubles were concerned, while most of the fruit had unusually good coloring. Several correspondents refer to old orchard trees still dying off as a result of the severe winter of 1917-18. Pears have given a fairly good yield, and the same may be said of plums and peaches. Growers of these fruits also lost money through not having a sufficient supply of containers. Small fruits gave satisfactory returns to those growers who had enough boxes or baskets for marketing their goods. Grapes were a good general crop, and with strong local co-operative organization profitable prices were realized in the Niagara district. Trees, vines and bushes are said to be in good general condition for wintering.

PREVENTION OF SPROUTING IN POTATOES.

The results of storage experiments with potatoes, including tests of storing tubers in the dark, in daylight, and under light of different colors such as red, blue, yellow and green are reported. The conclusion is drawn that the best lighting of potatoes in storage is subdued daylight, which may be secured by painting the windows with lime or covering them with white or grey paper. These lighting conditions, it is stated, will reduce the tendency to sprout and prevent greening. Yellow, blue, or red light was found as effective as subdued daylight, but dark green light did not give the desired effect. Storage in the absence of light, especially in spring and summer, aided the development of sprouts, and is, therefore, not recommended.

HEARTBURN LIVER TROUBLE

When the liver becomes torpid and inflamed, it cannot furnish sufficient bile to the bowels, thus causing them to become constipated.

The stomach is also affected. In the case of heartburn there is a gnawing and burning pain in the stomach, attended by disturbed appetite, caused by great acidity. Whenever too much food is taken, it is liable to ferment, and become extremely sour, vomiting often occurs; and what is thrown up, is sour and sometimes bitter.

Other liver trouble symptoms are pain under the right shoulder, yellowness of the skin and eyes, floating specks before the eyes, coated tongue, bad taste in the morning, foul breath, water brash, jaundice, constipation, etc.

Keep your liver active by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills and you will have no heartburn or other liver troubles. Being purely vegetable they do not gripe, weaken or sicken like the old-fashioned purgatives generally do.

Mrs. Mary Strome, Glasnevin, Sask., writes: "I have used Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills, and they have cleared me of heartburn and liver trouble. I don't think they can be beaten by any other medicine, and I can highly recommend them."

Miss Ella Johnson Tells How Cuticura Healed Pimples

"My trouble began as small, pimples and in a few months they got worse and my forehead was just a mass of large pimples. They were hard and red and caused me to scratch, and I was disfigured for the time. They made me embarrassed when out in company. I tried sassafras tea but it was of no help. I saw a Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertisement and sent for a free sample. After using them I bought more, and when I had used one cake of Cuticura Soap and one box of Cuticura Ointment for about a month I was completely healed." What the Press Agents Say About the Shows

AT THE GRAND

FISKE O'HARA AT THE GRAND TWICE TODAY, AT 2:15 AND 8:15.

The love theme of a play, or, as it is usually termed, "heart interest," is recognized as one of the prime factors in making the piece a success. A play without a love story might just as well go out of business, as an auto without gasoline. Anna Nichols Duffy, in writing "Springtime in Mayo," for Fiske O'Hara, America's favorite actor-singer, whom Augustus Pitou, Inc., presents at the Grand twice today, well determined that her work would not lack this important element of success, for she utilized the most novel and original love story in the weaving of the plot. "Springtime in Mayo," as will be observed from the title, has its scenes in Ireland. It is alive with real people, ripples through three acts of absorbing interest, and ends delightfully. It serves admirably as an instrument for the display of Mr. O'Hara's ingratiating manner and personality. As usual, he will be conspicuously successful with the new songs that have been provided for him

HUMOR AND PATHOS HAPPILY BLENDED IN "THE ROUND UP"—ROSCOE ARBUCKLE SEEN TO EXCELLENT ADVANTAGE IN HIS FIRST FEATURE PLAY.

Roscoe Arbuckle, long a favorite in short comedies, makes his bow as the star in feature pictures as "Slim Hoover," the fat sheriff, in George Melford's production of "The Round Up" for Paramount, which will be shown at the Grand Theatre next Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. In it he has a role which not only offers him every opportunity for the expression of his individual type of humor, but presents him as an actor of varied talents hitherto unsuspected by his admirers.

"The Round Up," written by Edmund Day, was produced in New York in August, 1907. A highly dramatic story of Indians and rough and ready plainsmen, the big scene of the stage play was a battle in a narrow Arizona canyon. In the screen version, this scene, staged in natural surroundings with hundreds of Indians, frontiersmen and soldiers, gains tremendously in its melodramatic appeal.

Supporting Mr. Arbuckle is an unusual cast which includes Tom Forman, who also wrote the scenario for "The Round Up," Mabel Julienne Scott, Irving Cummings, Wallace Beery, Jane Acker, Edward Sutherland, Guy Oliver, Lucien Littlefield and Jane Wolf.

Added Features.

A Burton Holmes Travelogue, a Paramount Magazine, and the big local comedy feature, "Betty's Romance," which was taken this week, with a big cast of local picture stars, will be among the many added features on this entertaining picture program for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next.

Are you one of those generous, tender-hearted, hospitable souls who issues standing invitations to all your friends? Hospitality, loosely offered, is a dangerous thing. Like a neglected gun—whang—it goes off unexpectedly, and most anything might happen.

The farcical plot of Blanche Sweet's newest Jesse D. Hampton-Pathe feature, "Her Unwilling Husband," coming to the Grand Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, hinges on a standing invitation. After a prolonged absence, John Jordan, a glad-of-it bachelor, decides to drop in on his old friend, Gilbert Lenox, for a visit.

Instead of his friend, he found in the house only two Chinese servants and a pretty girl. He thought the girl was his friend's wife. When a second man arrived, she introduced the bachelor as her husband. It was a decided shock! A shock to the bachelor because he didn't want to be anyone's husband, and a shock to the other man because he wanted to be her husband, and until a month previous had been her fiance.

The suspicions aroused by the predicament resulting from the girl's hasty and mysterious action, make an amusingly entertaining photoplay, and one particularly suited to the versatility of beautiful Blanche Sweet.

Added Features.

The many added features on the same bill include the ever-popular Pathe Topics of The Day, and another George McManus Cartoon Comedy with Johnny Ray as Jiggs, entitled "Jiggs and the Social Lion." This is said to be one of the funniest comedies that Ray has appeared in since his screen debut. As an added extra attraction, the big local comedy that was "shot" this week with local stars in the cast, titled "Joshua Comes to Town," will be screened, and if you want to see all your friends in the movies and how they look on the streets of the city, better take in the big time. Director Brownbridge states that the comedy has turned out fine and will be a riot when shown on the screen. Some of the would-be stars have shown some real film ability.

BIG DRURY LANE MELODRAMA, "THE WHIP," COMING TO GRAND WEEK OF JANUARY 24.

Centring around the racetrack, "The Whip," a photoplay, manages to inject enough thrills, love scenes and clever scenic effects to satisfy the most exacting "movie" enthusiast. "The Whip" is the name of a horse, as usual, the owner's hope in one of the classics of the turf. Through the plans of a foreign nobleman decadent and of the usual villainous type, attempts to glean secret information to help out a bookmaker who has him in his power through a shady deal in a card game. Also, a love affair between a young artist and sportsman and the daughter of the judge, who owns "The Whip," figure.

The baron makes attempts to cripple or destroy the horse when his trials indicate that he will win, but fails, and one of the best schemes in motion picture shows the wreck of the horse car after the latter has been taken from same. There is an automobile wreck with the young artist in it, caused by the baron tampering with the brakes of the machine, and a modern hunt, hounds and all, including the "kill," are capably shown on the screen. For a lover of thrills and really good screen acting "The Whip" is well worth seeing.

Added Features.

On the same bill with the big feature attraction, "The Whip," comes the million-dollar comedy king, Harold Lloyd, in his latest comedy scream, "Number, Please," will take care of the laugh end of the program, and, judging by his previous efforts in "Get Out and Get Under," his new vehicle should more than make good, as the big laughing fest of the season.

Bernard Sedman, Canada's famous baritone, will be an added vaudeville attraction, with a program of songs that will sure please Grand patrons. His selections will include some of the latest New York successes, and some of the old favorites.

Patrons are advised that this is a big three-hour program, and the matinees will commence at 2:15 sharp, and the evening performance at 7:30 p.m.

AT ALLEN'S

Generally conceded to be the most stupendous photoplay ever made, bar none, "Kismet," starring Otis Skinner, which opens its engagement at the Allen on Monday, is probably the most costly of productions. It is conservatively stated that "Kismet" cost as much as fifteen ordinary feature pictures, but every penny was well spent. The gorgeousness of the setting, the massiveness of the scenes, has never been surpassed. The ancient city of Bagdad was rebuilt with high technical skill, and the whole product is as near perfection as the most accomplished artists and experts could make it. "Kismet," as a stage production, was one of the greatest triumphs of the theatre. The screen version is truly "the miracle of the theatre's art."

"Kismet" has been called the one thousand and second story of the "Arabian Nights." It is the tale of the day of days in the life of Hajj the Beggar, who lived in the city of Bagdad when that city was at its height as the centre of art and wealth in the Orient. Interwoven is the story of Kut-ul-Kulub, the wife of wives of Mansur, Wazir of Police, who is seen in intriguing and alluring moments in the harem amid the voluptuous beauties whose chief occupation in life was to gladden the eyes of their lords.

A few of the scenes and settings: A harem interior that has never been equaled on stage or screen, taken from the plans of an Arab millionaire's new palace on the Nile; a mirror floor, of massy, flashing glasses, in intricate mosaic designs; weird Oriental dances, sensuously alluring; a story full to the brim of color, comedy, adventures, intrigue, fights, lovemaking, bewildering beauty and suspense; hundreds of gorgeous robes and costumes designed from the world's greatest artists; a royal wedding procession; palaces of marble, gold and ivory; hundreds of beautiful models, all noted for their symmetrical figures and wondrous beauty; single settings costing a hundred thousand dollars.

"Kismet," starring Otis Skinner, is absolutely the highest class production, a personally guaranteed Allen attraction, and we know there is not a man, woman or child who will not appreciate and enthuse over its magnificence, and the spectacular, thrillingly beautiful story.

MISS BILLY LEA TO PRESENT BRILLIANT PROLOGUE, "HINDUSTANEE DANCES," TO "KISMET," AT THE ALLEN.

Presented as a big special attraction with "Kismet" at the Allen next week will be a brilliant and spectacular prologue, "Hindustanee Dances," by Miss Billy Lea of the London Institute of Musical Art.

Miss Lea, who is a graduate of Miss Sternberg's school of dancing in Toronto, and who is also popular in London, through her connection with the London Institute of Musical Art, is admirably suited to preside over this artistic offering, and it is the ambition of both Miss Lea and the Allen management to spend every effort to make this the most artistic and attractive offering of its kind ever presented in the city.

Another touch of beauty will be added to the Allen Theatre for the presentation of the season's greatest attraction in a display of very costly Oriental antiques, rugs and hangings, which are to be hung in designs throughout the house.

So that the musical accompaniment to "Kismet," especially writen for the photoplay, will be given the utmost justice and perfection, the Allen's famous concert orchestra is to be augmented by several pieces, and Mr. Poure, the director, who is now holding rehearsals on this score, declares that if the picture lives up to the musical program it must indeed be the great attraction which it is claimed to be.

TOM MOORE'S BIG PICTURE AT THE ALLEN.

It is a long time since we have had the pleasure of watching Tom Moore's famous smile spread sunshine from the screen, but the time has been far from wasted. For many months past Tom Moore has been working on the big photoplay, "Hold Your Horses," said to be the best picture he has made since he entered the film profession. As his leading lady he has back with him beautiful Naomi Childers. The story is of a young Irishman who rises from the lowest ranks to the highest pinnacle of fame and fortune, besides winning the heart of the proudest girl in town. Thrills—he gives them to you fast and furious in "Hold Your Horses," which is coming to the Allen Friday and Saturday, next week.

AT LOEW'S

The new Robert Warwick picture,

"The Tree of Knowledge," which is coming to Loew's Theatre next Monday, for three days, is declared to have that rare combination of highly dramatic and entertaining story, talented star and fine supporting cast, and expert director, that results in the really unusual photoplay. The mention of such players as Wanda Hawley, Tom Forman and Irving Cummings establishes the cast as far above the ordinary. It is an absorbing story of the pernicious influence of a female flirt and her final vanishing by one of her many victims. There is a beautiful prelude, in which Theodore Kosloff, the Russian dancer, and Yvonne Gardelle enact in pantomime the ancient legend of Adam and his fabled first wife, Lilith.

A funny Sennett comic Loew's Pictorial, and Loew's concert orchestra and pipe organ are among the added features. The vaudeville includes the Aerial Macks, Gordon and Vail, and a brilliant one-act comedy playlet, "Straight," with an all-star cast of players. This should prove a mighty entertaining bill of diversion for Loew patrons for the first three days of the week.

NORMA TALMADGE IN "THE BRANDED WOMAN," FEATURE FILM ATTRACTION AT LOEW'S NEXT THURSDAY, FRIDAY AND SATURDAY.

Norma Talmadge, her leading man, Percy Marmot, and the rest of her company, whilst engaged in filming "Branded Woman," Norma's latest First National picture, which will be shown at Loew's Theatre next Thursday, Friday and Saturday, spent an entire night working on board the ocean liner Kaiserin Augusta Victoria at its Hoboken pier. Another interesting trip took the star, Marmont, and Charles Lane down to Washington Square with Director Albert Parker and his staff to film a short series of shots of Greenwich Village. The picture which is adapted from Oliver D. Bailey's famous stage play, "Branded," has been produced on an elaborate scale, and is declared to be the most pretentious starring vehicle thus far given to Miss Talmadge. A Chester comic, Loew's pictorial and Loew's extraordinary vaudeville completes the program for the last half of next week.

MAJESTIC

ELEANOR PORTER'S FAMOUS GLAD PLAY, "POLLYANNA," AT THE MAJESTIC, ALL NEXT WEEK.

At a tremendous expense, William Grew of the Majestic Theatre has secured for presentation at the popular Majestic all next week, Eleanor Porter's famous glad play, "Pollyanna," and incidentally marks the first time this famous piece has been done in stock in Canada. The royalty on the piece was almost prohibitive, but Mr. Grew, appreciating the excellent patronage accorded the Majestic Players, and ever keen to provide the finest entertainment for Majestic patrons, secured the play at a great expense, and to those who have enjoyed the books and to those who have seen the darling of the screen, Mary Pickford, in the title role in the film version, the offering next week will be entirely novel, it marking the first time in stock. To those who have yet to enjoy the message of happiness, "Pollyanna" conveys, a trip to the Majestic all next week will prove one of the most delightful events in your theatrical experience.

Pollyanna, the glad girl, revolutionizes a staid old town of grouches, prim old maids, crabby old bachelors, into a heaven of happiness, with her cheerful gladness. Miss Bates, the charming, auburn-headed lead of the players, will enact the role of Pollyanna, the role made famous by Mary Pickford, and to those who have seen Miss Bates in past offerings, and to those who have not, her role next week should provide one of the most enjoyable seen on a local stage in perhaps the past season. All the members of the cast will be drawn into play, and many new faces will be seen in the line-up.

Patrons are again urged to make their reservations as early as possible, as many are being disappointed nightly. Seats can be secured one week in advance by 'phoning the box office. No 1706.

By Ernest J. Lanigan.

Hard, but not impossible, task, to find some way in which the Phillies surpassed the other seven National League clubs of 1920. The team Gavvy Cravath led, Mike Kelley refused to lead, and Bill Donovan will lead, managed to win more games with home run hits last year than any of its rivals, but it did not happen to have on its payroll the athlete who kicked in with the greatest number of timely four-baggers. That athlete was Austin B. McHenry of the Cardinals. He broke up three battles with belt line blows.

Forty-four National League games last year were decided by homers, with the Phillies capturing the most in this manner—nine—and the Braves and Giants losing the most—nine. The flag-winning Superbas got half a dozen decisions through hits for the full distance, and lost three verdicts in this way.

The scores of the games on the senior circuit decided by home runs in 1920 ranged all the way from 1 to 0 to 15 to 4. Incidentally, a homer made the Brooklyn National League champions. This honor wasn't manufactured by a Superba, but by a Brave—Norman D. Boeckel. Toney's rap in the ninth inning of the second game of the doubleheader with Giants, on September 27, off Bill Ryan, made it a mathematical impossibility for said Giants to overhaul the Superbas.

The pitchers losing 1 to 0 games on circuit drives were Eppa Rixey of Philadelphia, on June 17, to St. Louis, and Bill Doak of St. Louis, on June 18, to Philadelphia. Austin McHenry and Walter Tragesser shattering the two deadlocks.

Winning Games.

Pitchers winning games for their team with four baggers were Leon Cadore of Brooklyn, on September 11, against St. Louis, Lyons pitching; Grover Alexander of Chicago, on May 31, against Cincinnati, Kau Fisher pitching; Elwood Martin of Chicago, on September 18, against Philadelphia, Smith pitching; James Vaughn of Chicago, on July 19, against Boston, Rudolph pitching, and Charles Adams of Pittsburg, on August 12, against New York, Barnes pitching.

Barnes, by the way, lost four games through home run drives. Men who lost two were McQuillan, and Fillingim and Rudolph of Boston; Toney of New York; Smith of Philadelphia, and Doak of St. Louis.

This is a list of the National Leaguers of 1920, who won games with home runs:

STECHER PARALYZED AS RESULT OF LAST BOUT

Omaha, Neb., Jan. 14.—Joe Stecher, former heavyweight wrestling champion, who lost his title to Ed ("Strangler") Lewis a month ago, is suffering from a stroke of paralysis in his right arm and shoulder, according to an announcement today by Dr. Lee Edwards, an attending physician.

Stecher's illness at this time is attributed directly by Dr. Edwards to the punishment inflicted by Lewis.

According to the announcement of the physician, Stecher will be unable to re-enter the wrestling game for at least a year.

TIGERS BEAT ARGOS

Hamilton, Jan. 14.—Tigers scored a 6 to 3 victory over Argos here tonight in a game that lacked interest for more than half the journey. Tigers played poor hockey in the opening period, and were lucky to hold Argos to one counter, but in the second period they showed improved form and from then on until the end looked like much the better team.

The lineup:
Hamilton—Goal, Reaume; defence, Reise and "Ag" Smith; centre, Reid; wings, Cooper and M. Smith; subs, Naylor and Morgan.
Argonauts—Goal, Crooks; defence, Cain and Lount; centre, Meeking; wings, Ingoldsby and Hudson; subs, Mollenhauer, Sullivan and Schnarr.

BEWARE OF BRONCHITIS

Bronchitis is generally caused by neglecting a cold, or exposure to wet and inclement weather. It begins with a tightness across the chest, difficulty in breathing, and a wheezing sound comes from the lungs. There is a raising of phlegm, especially the first thing in the morning. This is at first white, but later becomes of a greenish or yellowish color, and is occasionally streaked with blood.

On the first sign of bronchitis you should check it immediately by using Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, thereby prevent it becoming chronic, and perhaps developing into some more serious lung trouble.

Mrs. Brice Culham, Sheffield, Ont., writes: "In December, 1919, I was very sick with bronchitis, and had to stay in the house all winter. One day I saw Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup advertised, so I got a small bottle which helped me very much; I then got a 60c size, and it completely relieved me. I cannot praise 'Dr. Wood's' enough for what it did. Two of my neighbors are now using it for colds."

Don't accept a substitute for Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup; the genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper; three pine trees the trade mark; price 35c and 60c; manufactured only by The T. Milburn Company, Limited, Toronto, Ont.

MYTHICAL DEMON WOULD EAT MOON IS HINDUS' BELIEF

Calcutta, Jan. 14.—The moon's release from the jaws of a mythical demon was anxiously watched and prayed for throughout India during a recent eclipse which was visible here. Hindus regard an eclipse as the act of a demon called Rahu, who is believed to swallow the moon and then disgorge it.

On the Howrah bridge across the Hooghly River crowds waited for the first glimpse of the veiled moon; then with one voice cried out: "Isko Chhordo; Chhordo!" "let it go, leave it." Before dusk, the river was thronged with bathers, as bathing during an eclipse is considered a soulsaving act.

Beggars swarmed through the city, and as it is a virtue to give freely on these occasions, they collected plenty of small coins.

EVERY INDUSTRY IN INDIA HIT BY WAVE OF GENERAL STRIKE

Calcutta, Jan. 14.—India information Bureau.—A general strike wave has been sweeping over the industrial sections of India, affecting every industry. The labor situation in Bombay city is reported to be growing more serious. The strike of the postal and telegraph workers of the street railwaymen and of the gas workers still continues. A summary of the situation shows that the postmen have been on strike for 60 days now, gas workers for 50 days and street railwaymen for 40, and that the condition of the strikers is serious. Recently a new strike of 2,000 milkmen was declared, and Bombay's milk supply cut off. The city's business interests continues to be disturbed.

In Madras a lockout of operatives of the Buckingham Mills has been in progress for four weeks. The mill owners have announced that 1,500 of the 5,000 strikers have been permanently dismissed. They offered to take back the other 3,500 at an increase of 50 to 75 per cent in wages, beginning with the new year. Latest reports indicate that the mill owners' offer has not been accepted.

In Calcutta, 5,000 coachmen have warned their employers that they will go on strike unless their salaries are increased. Men employed in the Rangoon arsenal are reported to be on a strike, demanding higher wages because of the high cost of living.

One strike, that of the stevedores, has come to an end, but it is reported that another of great magnitude has begun in the coal fields. This is regarded as the beginning of what may become a general strike in the collieries. India already is suffering from coal shortage.

COURT OF INQUIRY.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Convening of a naval court of inquiry at the Rockaway, L. I., air station next Monday to investigate the air flight and loss of the naval balloon in which Lieuts. Kloor, Hinton and Farrell were carried to the shores of Hudson Bay, was ordered tonight by Secretary Daniels. Directions for procedure as issued by the secretary provides also for inquiry "into the conduct" of the balloon's personnel while absent from the air station.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE.

New York, Jan. 15.—(Wall Street).—The stock market this week forfeited some of the advance registered in the first week of the new year, withdrawal of the short interest in some of the more volatile shares causing irregular reactions. Dealings were preponderantly professional in the further absence of public participation, save in the bond market, where liberty issues and the foreign war flotations were firm to strong with convertible railway certificates.

Industrial conditions, as outlined by competent authorities, dwelt on wage reductions and further curtailment of production, but the mercantile situation, especially at important centres of distribution, offered ground for encouragement. The most hopeful development was the pronounced relaxation manifested by the money market. Call loans dropped to six per cent in response to liberal out-of-town offerings at a figure considerably under the local rate and a fair supply of time funds for the shorter dates was obtainable at 6¼ to 6½ per cent. Foreign exchange cancelled some of its recent advance, which seemed to originate largely from an overextended speculative position, especially in British and French bills. Little additional gold was received, but advices from London suggest that last year's steady inflow is soon likely to be resumed.

POULTRY FEATURES SATURDAY MARKET

Poultry was the feature of a small local market today. However, the supplies did not exceed the demand, and the result was that prices were somewhat firmer. Chickens were offered in large quantities. Dressed chickens, retail, sold for 37c and 38c per pound, and wholesaled at 35c per pound. Live chickens, per pound, brought from 26c to 27c. Old fowl sold for 25c and 28c per pound. This class appeared to be in good demand, but supplies were small. Turkeys, geese and ducks were scarce.

Hinds of pork advanced to 25c per pound, but fronts remain at 23c per pound.

Potatoes and apples were a little more plentiful today than they have been for the past two months. Prices were unchanged, although the demand was active.

Officials say that the egg supply in the basement of the market house is the largest that there has been this year. The ruling prices were from 72c to 73c per dozen, wholesale, and from 82c to 83c per dozen retail. Butter remains firm.

WHEAT PRICES ARE LOWER IN CHICAGO

Slackening of Export Demand Causes Drop in Average.

CHICAGO, Jan. 14.—Wheat averaged lower in price today, largely as a result of slackening of export demand. The close was heavy at ¼c to 2c net decline, with March $1.77¾ to $1.77½ and May $1.70 to $1.70¼. Corn lost ⅝@½c, oats ⅛@¼c to ⅜c, and provisions 12@20c.

Although bulls in the wheat market made some headway for awhile, owing to news that rain was an urgent need for the crops of India, the strength which developed failed to prove lasting. Famine reports from some provinces of India were also without much permanent influence on the market, one reason being that, despite the famine India was credited with having shipped last week to other countries 500,000 bushels of wheat, mostly to Great Britain. On the other hand, the amount of export business noted in the United States today appeared to be far less than has been the rule of late, and it was said France and Germany had been buying Argentina to the extent of one million bushels. Gossip was current, too, that enlarged domestic flour trade was being taken care of chiefly from wheat already on hand at the mills.

Seaboard demand for corn helped to keep that cereal and oats relatively steady, notwithstanding that rural offerings of corn were liberal.

Weakness of the hog market had a depressing influence on provisions.

Flax—No. 1, $1.99@2.

MONTREAL, Jan. 14.—The trade in cash grain was quiet here today and there was no further development in the flour situation. The market for millfeed is steady, as is also that for rolled oats. An easier feeling developed in the baled hay market. There was no further change in the local egg market today. The market for potatoes is quiet and steady. The feature of the butter market was the stronger feeling that prevailed. The cheese market remains very firm.

Pale-Cheeked Women Told About Restoring A Rosy Complexion

A few years ago the girl with pale, drawn cheeks scarcely knew what to do in order to restore her fading appearance. At that time there was no blood-food medium made that really would put color and strength into systems that were more or less wornout.

Today it's different. The blood can be quickly nourished, can be made rich, red, and healthy. All you have to do is take two Ferrozone Tablets with a sip or two of water after meals. The effect is almost magical.

Mothers, look at your children. Are they ruddy and strong—do they eat and sleep well, or are they pale, weak, and anaemic?

FERROZONE will rebuild them. Take your own case—is your blood strong and rich? Have you that old-time strength and vigor, or are you somewhat under the weather?

FERROZONE will supply the strengthening elements you require. It is a blood-forming, nourishing tonic that makes every ailing person well.

FERROZONE is a marvellous remedy. It contains in concentrated form certain rare qualities that especially fit it in cases of anaemia, poor color, thin blood, tiredness, and loss of weight.

Every day you put off using FERROZONE you lose ground. Get it today, sold in 50-cent boxes by all dealers, or by mail from the Catarrhozone Company, Kingston, Ont.

URGES UNITED STATES TO ASSIST IRELAND

Lord Mayor O'Callaghan Completes Testimony At Washington.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 14.—Daniel J. O'Callaghan, lord mayor of Cork, who reached the United States last week as a stowaway and without a passport, completed his testimony this afternoon before the "Committee of One Hundred Investigating Irish Conditions," and thereby accomplished the announced purpose of his visit to the United States.

In completing his testimony, which was filled with wild charges against the British authorities, O'Callaghan presented a fervid appeal for support of the Sinn Fein cause. With this appeal he coupled the declaration that the United States and Great Britain alike entered the war pledged to the principle of self-determination for small nations. He declared that Britain had shown in her treatment of Ireland that pledge to be "a smoke-screen and a humbug," and the United States would be placed in the same category if she did not show more interest in Erin. "In any case," he said, "we will continue the fight."

YOUTH BLAMES DIME NOVELS FOR HIS CRIME

Farm Boy Who Held Up Woman Is Sent To Burwash.

GODERICH, Jan. 14.—Wilfred Albright, aged 20, who held up Mrs. A. Lyditt and stole some money, a rifle and 75 rounds of ammunition, appeared before Judge Dickson today and pleaded guilty to the robbery. He attributed his start on a criminal career to reading dime novels.

Judge Dickson addressed the prisoner at some length, stating that Albright had served a term at the industrial school for thieving and that it was hard to decide what would be the right punishment to give him in order that he might come out and start life over again in the right path that would make a man of him. His honor sentenced Albright to the Burwash Farm for at least six months and not more than two years less one day.

HELD FOR SHOOTING.

WINDSOR, Jan. 14.—Leo Paquin, 21 years old, Detroit, is held in Ford by Chief Harry Maisonville in connection with the shooting of Albert Rousseau, Sandwich East, on Saturday, when four men came to the latter's house and demanded that he sell them his liquor. Paquin was arrested by Detroit police Thursday night and waived extradition.

STILL AT LARGE.

SARNIA, Jan. 14.—The identity of the parties who attacked and shot Paul Denomy at his residence, Willow Grove, near Courtright, Monday night, is as yet unestablished. High Constable Coulter, who, with Provincial Constable C. F. Airey, was called to investigate the case, stated that there were no new developments today. Denomy was awakened by a knock at the door, and after he had dressed and descended to the yard, was struck by two men carrying revolvers. They ordered him to lie down, and when he attempted to escape he was shot in the shoulder. His assailants made their escape in a rowboat, heading for the American shore.

Pleading guilty to a charge of contravening section 4 of the Ontario temperance act by disposing of a bottle of liquor to W. Wiseman, city, William Miller, taxi driver, was fined $300 and $10.50 costs by Magistrate Henry Gorman in police court today.

MEIGHEN WANTS LLOYD HARRIS

Needs Trade Expert in Cabinet —Canada Unrepresented in United States.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Some significance is attached to the fact that on his recent visit to Montreal, Premier Meighen and Hon. C. C. Ballantyne conferred with Lloyd Harris, former head of the Canadian Trade Commission. Hopes of inducing Mr. Harris to join the cabinet have not by any means been abandoned, and there was never greater need for the services of a strong business man with a practical knowledge of trade affairs.

Hitherto Mr. Harris has been coy and has declined to be recruited. He may have changed his mind, though it is fairly obvious that he would like some assurance of the permanence of the present Government before joining it. Mr. Harris was formerly a Liberal.

Sir George Foster, minister of trade and commerce has for some time desired to go to London as high commissioner. He has, by his marriage to an accomplished lady, become better qualified for that position than he was when a widower, and there are those who believe that his wish to go to London may shortly be realized. Reorganization of Canadian trade service is long overdue. At a highly critical period in the trade relations between Canada and the United States, this country is still absolutely devoid of either trade or diplomatic representation in the republic.

In the first place no steps have yet been taken to implement the legislation of last session providing for the appointment of a minister plenipotentiary at Washington. In the second place, Canada is doing the bulk of her trade with the United States and yet has not a single trade commissioner in that country. The United States, on the other hand, has some 70 agents in Canada. The Dominion trade services are badly in need of reorganization.

KITCHENER MAY GET A NEW CITY HALL

Present Building Has Started To Settle, Says City Engineer.

KITCHENER, Jan. 14.—After being in use for half a century, Kitchener's antiquated city hall has a crack in its front wall, and the building has started to settle. City Engineer Michel admits the crack is the beginning of the end, but declared today there is no immediate danger of the building collapsing.

The board of works is considering erecting a public comfort station on King street. Mayor Greb is behind the movement, claiming that lack of such a necessity is a genuine hardship.

A young man named Lafiamme, who has been held by the police here since before Christmas on a charge of highway robbery, was given his liberty today when found not guilty by Magistrate Weir.

Mrs. Robert Felbaum died at her home today. She was 40 years old, and leaves besides her husband, six children.

TRYING TO QUASH WINDSOR DECISION

WINDSOR, Jan. 14.—Notice to quash has been served in the cases of Arsene Reaume and Hector Fields, found guilty in Magistrate Gundy's court of unlawfully disposing or selling liquor. It is understood application is being made to the attorney-general to have the men released until such time as the case can be disposed of. Application was made to Magistrate Gundy to have the matter dealt with locally, but he stated he knew of no statute giving him this authority.

On the evening of December 14, seventy-eight cases of liquor were taken from Reaume's house in Sandwich West, and on New Year's Day 197 cases were taken from Field's residence, also in Sandwich West. Magistrate Gundy found, in delivering sentence, that there had been collusion between the accused and others in the removal of the liquor.

SMALLPOX IS BEYOND CONTROL AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, Jan. 14.—Ottawa is in the grip of one of the most serious smallpox epidemic in its history, and the disease which all year has been confined to certain sections, is now prevalent all over the city. Dr. T. A. Lomer, M.O.H., states the outbreak is beyond control, and that drastic preventive steps must be taken to safeguard lives.

It is stated that nearly one hundred cases are being treated. The type is severe, but owing to prompt medical treatment not deadly. Only one case of "black pox" has been reported to the authorities, and the victim died.

PROMINENT BARRISTER DIES OF INJURIES

William McGrath, K.C., Succumbs in Dublin After Attack.

LONDON, Jan. 14.—William McGrath, King's counsel, attacked last night in his residence in Dublin, died today of his injuries, it was reported here.

McGrath was shot several times by unknown men.

DEFENDED PRISONERS.

LONDON, Jan 14.—A dispatch to the Evening Star from Dublin says Counsellor McGrath had defended Sinn Fein prisoners at court-martials and that as counsel for the Dublin corporation at a number of inquests on civilians shot by the military he had strongly condemned the action of the crown forces.

WAS NATIONALIST.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—King's Counsellor McGrath was a well-known Irish barrister. He had been a journalist on the staff of the Freeman's Journal, but became a King's counsellor last year and occasionally acted as a judge. Mr. McGrath was a strong supporter of the constitutional Nationalist, but was inactive politically. He was president of the "out of work committee on donations." Before he died he is quoted as having said:

"I had to turn down a good many claims, and if I should die those people will be responsible."

UNEARTH WAR MATERIALS.

CORK, Jan. 14.—The authorities attach great importance to the result of the raid on the alleged chief arsenal of the Cork first brigade of the republican army, of which the late Terence MacSwiney, lord mayor of Cork, was the commandant, according to Government officials. A Dublin dispatch Thursday said a woman crossing a field just outside Cork attracted the attention of the military, and that an investigation showed she had dropped a Lewis gun. It was added that a search of the field revealed dugouts which contained rifles and revolvers, a quantity of ammunition and other explosives, in addition to military equipment and certain papers.

The police and military, who are still searching the place, are said to have unearthed an extraordinary collection of war materials, including Lewis guns and ammunition for them, rifles, revolvers, bombs and "Irish republican army" uniforms; gelignite, gun cotton, megaphones, periscopes, gas masks and mail bags which had been missing as a result of raids, and also a large quantity of correspondence which it is anticipated will throw light on recent ambuscades and kidnappings.

The young woman who played such a daring part on the arrival of the police and military in attempting to save the Lewis gun was found to be wearing a steel body armor and to be carrying several loaded service revolvers, according to the police. She refused to give the slightest information to the authorities, and with four other persons, is now in the Cork jail.

These persons are said to have rendered themselves liable on conviction to the death penalty, as the area is under martial law. The woman resided with her mother in a cottage near the scene of the alleged discovery of the war stores, and the police in digging up the cabbage patch in her garden are declared to have found a considerable amount of gelignite hidden there.

OFFICIAL OUTRAGE LIST.

DUBLIN, Jan. 14.—Outrages committed in Ireland during the last week numbered 89, it was officially announced today. There were 22 casualties among the crown forces, two policemen being killed and nineteen policemen and one soldier wounded.

Raids on malls dropped from 43 the previous week to 29; raids for arms from 15 to 3. Seventy-six arrests were made in connection with the outrages and for political offences. Court-martials numbered 26, with 22 convictions and 107 internment orders were issued. The total number of persons now interned is 1,298.

CHURCH HAS BREAKDOWN.

TORONTO, Jan. 14.—Mayor T. L. Church is said to be suffering from a nervous breakdown. His physician has advised several weeks' rest.

PLACES HIGHER DUTY ON WHEAT

The Senate Committee Tacks Amendments On Fordney Tariff Bill.

WASHINGTON, D.C., Jan. 14.—Three amendments were tacked on the Fordney emergency tariff bill by the Senate finance committee today in its first day's consideration in executive session after the recent public hearings of the measure. After the committee had voted, 10 to 4, to open the bill to amendments, Senators Calder, Republican, New York, and Jones, Democrat, New Mexico, got provisions through which materially broadened the scope of the measure, and Senator McCumber, Republican, North Dakota, obtained acceptance of a higher import duty on wheat.

The McCumber amendment would fix a tariff on imported wheat of 40c a bushel instead of the 30c carried by the bill as it passed the House. Senator Calder's amendment would add dairy products to the list already protected, establishing a tariff of six cents a pound on butter and cheese and their substitutes, and two cents and five cents a gallon on fresh milk and cream respectively.

Duty on Hides.

Under the Jones amendment the import duty on hides carried on the Dingley tariff law would be restored as a part of the Fordney measure for the ten months of its life.

While the Senate committee was considering the emergency bill, indications developed in the House ways and means committee of a sentiment among members to a delay framing a new permanent tariff until international conditions become more stable.

Suggestion Made.

In this connection, the suggestion was made privately by several members of the House committee that a revival of either the Dingley or the Payne-Aldrich laws should be restored to as a stop-gap expedient. But there was also stray evidence that the majority of members will not support rates higher than and possibly not as high as the Payne-Aldrich tariff provided.

From questions propounded during the day the intimation was given that some committee members feel the present chaotic conditions of exchange and low production costs abroad may make inadvisable the drafting of a scientific tariff law at this time.

NOT FIT TO HAVE CHARGE OF CHILDREN

Magistrate Finds Windsor Mother Made Home Unfit For Them.

WINDSOR, Jan. 14.—Mrs. Mina Fredericks, whose husband killed himself three months ago, was brought into police court today charged by the Children's Aid Society with making her home unfit for her children. Magistrate W. E. Gundy awarded the custody of the two younger children, Delmar and Ray, seven and nine, to the Children's Aid.

Some of the trouble in the Fredericks family resulted, according to testimony today, from the father leaving his property, amounting to about $2,000, to a daughter, Violet, 15 years old. This child will be sent to a sister of Mrs. Fredericks in Detroit.

Magistrate Gundy told Mrs. Fredericks the evidence showed she was not fit to have charge of her children. She was ordered to pay the costs of the case and sell the home on Dougall avenue, after which she is to take up her residence with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Allen.

MADE CHIEF OF DETECTIVES.

WINDSOR, Jan. 14.—William Reid, veteran detective, has been made chief of detectives by the police commission. The appointment does not carry any increase in salary. A staff of five plain-clothes men will be provided for the new detective bureau.

TELLS OF GROWTH OF UNITED FARMERS

Keen Interest Taken in Reports Presented At Ilderton Meeting.

Ilderton, Jan 13.—The regular meeting of the Ilderton Farmers' Club was well attended and was one of the most interested yet held. The reports of the five delegates to the big convention were listened to with special interest. H. Scott in his report pointed to the remarkable growth of the U. F. O. movement. Seven years ago there were 44 clubs with a membership of 2,000 and a capital of about $3,000. Now there are 1,470 clubs with a membership of more than 40,000 and co-operative capital exceeding a million dollars. The turnover in 1920 exceeded $19,000,000.

E. Caverhill presented a report of the resolutions. R. Beamish and M. Chariton reported verbally H. Hedley criticized the conduct of the convention and suggested several changes and improvements. It was too easy he thought for anyone to get in and vote. He also thought each member should have a program of each day's business. A recommendation along this line will be made to the executive.

J. Freeborn, M. L. A., for East Middlesex spoke briefly of the road policy and other matters that are coming up for discussion at the coming session of the legislature.

On motion of E. T. Caverhill and R. S. Douglas the delegates were tendered the thanks of the club.

The question of electrifying the London, Huron and Bruce was explained by Mr Freborn and a general discussion followed in which a number of the members took part.

The annual meeting of the members of Ivan Presbyterian Church was well attended. Rev. N. A. Campbell presided and John McGugan was secretary. Reports from the various departments were most satisfactory and showed a most prosperous year. Eighteen were admitted to membership during the year. The financial report showed total receipts of $3,848, ordinary revenue $2,548, Forward Movement $1,300. The pastor reported total receipts from both congregations, Ivan and Vanneck of $7,362. Women's Missionary receipts totalled $188. The Sunday school report showed a membership of 100 with 13 teachers and officers. The cemetery report showed a balance on hand of $104.36.

Officers were elected as follows: board of management, D. Noble, G. E. Sinker and N. P. Campbell; secretary-treasurer, John McGugan; cemetery board, Hugh Henderson; auditors, Walter R. Campbell and James F. Campbell.

On motion by E. T. Caverhill and J. McLachlan the board was instructed to have the church building protected by lightning rods. A new roof will also be put on the sheds.

Facing The Future

LIKE the captain on the ocean liner looking through his binoculars to see what is ahead, financiers are peering eagerly into the future to divine the course of events during the year just opening.

No matter how far-seeing a man may be, he cannot foretell the course of life and death. Life is the greatest of all uncertainties.

In almost any business, policies of insurance are necessary on the lives of the principals. Captains of industry realize that policies of life insurance are "anchors to windward" that will hold the business safe when sudden contingencies caused by death might otherwise threaten its stability.

The head of every household should also be adequately insured. Other securities may fail the family in times of stress. The Mutual Life Policy cannot fail. During the past fifty years Mutual Life Policies have saved many thousands of families from the "Rocks of Misfortune."

Whatever the future has in store, a Mutual Life Policy will give you courage to face it with confidence.
