KILLS FRIEND TO FOIL ARREST AS ARMY DESERTER

Felix Rufa of Detroit Confesses Crime After Grilling.

WIDOW IS LIBERATED

Tells Dramatic Tale of Circumstances Preceding Crime.

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 20.—Shortly before daybreak, when confronted by a blood-stained coat and the statement of Mrs. Philip Nagay of 2936 Lehman avenue, that he had threatened to "fix" her husband, Felix Rufa broke down under constant grilling at police headquarters and admitted he had killed Nagay with a coupling pin while the latter slept because his victim had threatened to expose him as an army deserter.

Rufa, who was arrested a few hours after the crime was committed Saturday morning, waived examination on a charge of murder before Justice L. Eugene Sharp and was taken before Judge John H. Goff and remanded for sentence.

The confessed slayer was held as a suspect for three days with Mrs. Annie Nagay his aunt and widow of the murdered man, and Casimir Kulik, a former boarder in the Rufa household. Mrs. Nagay and Kulik were exonerated by Rufa's confession and released immediately by the police.

Tells Dramatic Story.

Rufa's confession was dramatic. When the war started, he was residing with the Nagays. He was called to Camp Merritt in the first draft. He said his uncle had visited him at camp and urged him to desert. Later he was transferred to Camp Waco. When his outfit reached the embarkation point at Hoboken he obtained a day's leave and went to his uncle's home. His uncle gave him lodging and buried his army uniform in the backyard, providing him with a new suit of civilian clothes.

Before he went into the army Rufa had loaned Nagay $500 to be used in "fixing up the house." After the war nothing was said about returning the loan, until Rufa, who is 29, recently began to feel the pinch of hard times and asked for the money. Nagay refused to pay it, and threatened to turn him over to the federal authorities if he insisted on payment.

When Rufa was ordered out of the house Mrs. Nagay believed it was because her husband objected to her keeping boarders. She knew nothing about the argument over the loan or her husband's threat to reveal Rufa's desertion.

Relates Visit to Home.

Rufa visited the Nagay house the Sunday before the murder and found he was locked out. He had a key, but did not attempt to open the door, leaving the premises muttering threats against his uncle. Two days later he came back for his clothing, and although he saw Mrs. Nagay, he did not return the key. He continued to brood over the threat of exposure and the loss of his $500.

He related a walk in the railroad yards Thursday, where he picked up the coupling pin. He took it home with him. Saturday morning he opened the door of the Nagay house with his key and quietly entered his uncle's room. Mrs. Nagay and children were sleeping in another room. He struck the sleeping man squarely between the eyes and fled.

Police discovered the coupling pin in the alley. They arrested Rufa when they learned he had been ordered out of the house, and found a blood-stained coat among his possessions. He told a weird story of a fight with several men eight or nine weeks ago. However, chemical analysis showed that the stains were not more than a few days old. He said that upon entering his new rooming house at 11 o'clock on the night of the murder he heard the landlord and his wife talking in their bedroom. They denied being awake when he came in.

EDUCATION BOARD'S MOVE DISSATISFIES S. F. GLASS

Reject Conservative's Request for Use of Schools.

S. F. Glass, the late member for East Middlesex, is displeased with the action of the committee of the board of education in refusing the Conservatives of that riding the privilege of using Ealing School for political meetings, and it is likely that an appeal against the committee's decision will be carried to the meeting of the board.

The next meeting of the board of education will be held on November 1, or a couple of days after the Conservative convention in East Middlesex.

Secretary Tanner of the board of education stated that the members of the committee of the board, who rejected Mr. Glass' request took the stand that the schools were non-political, and it was therefore not right that they should be the place of political meetings.

LONDONER IS FRIST TO RECEIVE NEW DEGREE

T. W. Oates of the staff of the London Technical High School received the degree of "Bachelor of Commerce," from Queen's University Wednesday.

This is the first time that this degree has been conferred in Canada, Mr. Oates and W. E. Black, B.A., of Westmount, Quebec, a former Londoner, being the only two on whom the degree was conferred. Other Canadian universities, however, have also instituted similar courses.

OFFICIALS SEEK TO KEEP MAIL SERVICE INTACT

Advertise For Operators To Run Milk and Passenger Trains.

PREPARE FOR EMERGENCY

Letters Sent to Employees Warning Them Against Sacrificing Positions.

BULLETIN.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—The prospective strike cannot be postponed but it can be settled. This was the opinion of the four big brotherhood chiefs after a conference this morning.

New York, Oct. 20.—Advertisements calling for men to take the places of possible strikers have been prepared by all the railroads centering here, and the Pennsylvania and Erie Railways published them in today's papers. The Pennsylvania sought applications to fill places made vacant by such men as may leave the service.

The Erie specified such places as may be vacant Nov. 1, and offered permanent positions at standard wages.

Several of the railroads have sent out circulars to their employees, urging the men to think carefully before they join the proposed strike, and not "be misled in this matter." One of these letters, after reciting the advantages of employment on that line, inquired: "Are you going to give up all this, your record and seniority, at the behest of men who are going to be unable to find you another job to take the place of the one you now have? Remember, they can order you out—but can they order you back?"

Strike Is Against Board.

The letter concluded with an argument that the strike was not against the railroads, but against the Government as represented by the railroad labor board.

Plans to operate passenger, mail and milk trains were being pushed by railroads executives in Chicago, in event the strike takes place, while resumption of freight traffic will be made as fast as men can be secured. From the ranks of men recently laid off, pensioners, loyal veterans and others with railroad experience, railroad officials today declared they could recruit nearly half a million men. Roads entering Chicago are expected to advertise for men to fill positions which may be vacated, following the example of the railroads entering this city.

Between August, 1920, and June, 1921, the number of railroad employees decreased by 611,675, according to figures of the interstate commerce commission, and more than 60,000 of these were train service men.

Proceed With Plans.

Proceeding as if they expected failure of the railroad labor board in its efforts to prevent the threatened railroad strike by a conference in Chicago today with Big Four brotherhood chiefs, members of the eastern presidents' conference met here today to lay plans for meeting the strike on eastern and New England roads.

Although they professed to see some hope of peace through the labor board's efforts, the railroad heads declared that with strike orders already issued they could not afford to delay their plans to see what the Chicago conference would bring forth.

HONOR MEMORY OF MACSWINEY

London, Oct. 20.—Arrangements have been completed for a demonstration to be held on Sunday, the first anniversary of the death of Terence MacSwiney, former lord mayor of Cork, who died in Brixton Prison last October, following a hunger strike of more than 70 days.

The demonstration will be held in Trafalgar Square, and on Wednesday next there will be a commemorative meeting at Albert Hall.

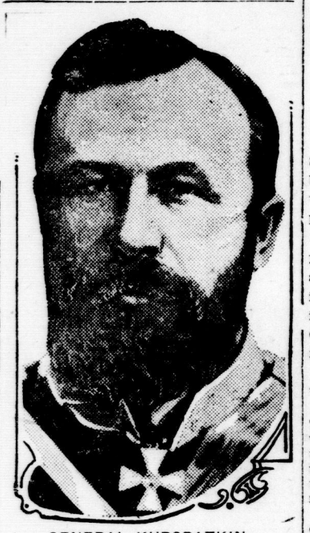

Yea! Yea! Verily, Wisdom of Solomon Displayed by Lloyd George

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Oct. 20.—Controversy over the religious affiliations of Premier Lloyd George, who has been claimed here by both Disciples of Christ and Baptists, was settled today by Lloyd George himself, after the manner of a Solomon, choosing neither the one nor the other, but claiming both.

In a letter responding to the query, the sagacious Welshman wrote that he "is a member of the Disciples of Christ, but attends the Baptist chapel." The controversy started several months ago, when Springfield Baptists demurred at what they called presumption of the Disciples of Christ, in claiming Lloyd George as a member of that denomination.

HERRICK UNAFFECTED BY BOMB EXPLOSION

Prefect of Paris Police Takes Charge of Case.

Paris, Oct. 20.—Myron T. Herrick, the United States ambassador, went to his office in the embassy as usual this morning, little affected by his narrow escape yesterday evening, when a bomb exploded in a room of his home in Avenue De Messine.

At the embassy Mr. Herrick found scores of telegrams and letters of congratulation from officials and friends all over Europe. The first thing he did was to issue instructions that anyone desiring to give him a present must bring it opened to the embassy. All packages brought to the embassy will be under suspicion, and will be opened under water in the presence of police.

The entire detective force of Paris and all available policemen, under the personal direction of the prefect of police, were working throughout the night in efforts to trace the makers of the bomb. No arrests had been announced by the police up to noon today, but it was said a number of persons were under surveillance, and that two clues formed the basis for further investigations. The postman who delivered the package at the embassy yesterday morning and the district office from which it was registered also figured today in the investigation. A record is kept of all packages registered, and it was hoped that the woman who registered the package in the postoffice would be able to recall the person who registered it.

The embassy was carefully guarded today by policemen and detectives, and a stronger guard will be thrown around the building tomorrow, the day set by the communist press for a big demonstration in front of the embassy.

Experts of the city laboratory had completed examinations of fragmenes of the bomb, and confirmed earlier reports that it was of British make of reversible type.

A couple of hundred threatening letters which had been received at the embassy, and which have been turned over to the police, now are undergoing expert scrutiny by officials, who hoped they might furnish a clue. Greater hope was entertained in the search of the domiciles of known communists.

STATES OPPOSITION TO POCOCK NOT JUSTIFIED

Manager Buchanan Claims Commission Spreads Information.

General Manager Buchanan of the utilities commission laughed this morning when told that Philip Pocock, one of the commissioners, was being cited as the stumbling block to the securing of detailed information in regard to the commissions workings, and for this reason was to be opposed strongly if he stands for re-electon.

"There is no other municipal enterprise in the province that makes public more information about its activities than does the commission," he said. He pointed to the annual report, which gives a wealth of detail of the year's work.

Then, too, a publication, "The Live Wire," is issued monthly, and it even gives the reports of the different departmental superintendents.

Two of the members of the commission, Messrs. Pocock and Vining, must stand for re-election this year, their terms having expired.

CLAIMS 300 WIVES ARE RICHES RARE, IN AFRICA

Rev. A. I. Good, Missionary, in Address Before the Detroit Presbyterian Ministers, Says Child Marriage Is One of Greatest Evils There.

Detroit, Oct. 20.—"A man's wealth in South Africa is estimated by the number of wives he has. I know one man who has 250 wives and another who has 300."

This startling statement was made yesterday by Rev. A. I. Good, a missionary from Cameroon, West Africa, in an address before Presbyterian ministers here at the Second Presbyterian Church, Taylor and Westminster avenues.

"How do the natives support all those wives?" one of his auditors asked.

"They don't have to support them. The women support the men. The women make the gardens, keep down the weeds, bring in the water and bury the children that die. All a man has to do is to look out that they don't run off and leave him.

"Besides polygamy, a great evil is child marriage. It is inevitable that a girl be married before she is 14. The greed of the father makes him sell his daughter at an early age, sometimes as young as 4 years. She becomes a little slave in the home of her husband until such time as she is old enough to become his wife in reality.

"Former cannibals have been converted and joined our churches. One of my communion points was a place where six months before they had killed and eaten a man, driving our mission workers away temporarily. Men who have eaten human flesh will wear their teeth filed to a point, as a sign of this act."

The missionary said that very strict requirements are made for those who join the church, and at least three years is required before they are fully admitted. He told of the fetiches and "medicine" by which the Africans practice witchcraft. A particular case had been that of a convert who had put away all of his ten wives, except the one that he wished to keep, and who discarded many items of voodoo faith, but could not be induced to give up his "skulls." It was stated that these skulls of some remote ancestor are held as the most fearsome and sacred thing. They are kept secretly, in a small basket, and their presence will make the holder invincible, it is believed. The condition made with this man was that he publicly throw these skulls in the river. He turned pale with terror and fled from the missionary.

AUTOISTS MUST HAVE REAL ALIBI

If the lights on your auto are extinguished while your car is parked outside the theatre, and you are summoned to court, don't give any excuses unless they are bona fide or original.

This is the advice which Deputy Magistrate P. H. Bartlett handed down in police court Thursday morning.

He declared that every man must be responsible for the keeping of his car lights burning, and that no excuses to the effect that they were turned off or went out while he was attending the movies will be accepted. Something has to be radically wrong with the lighting system to open a way for escape from the nominal fine of a few dollars.

Carries Babe's Body 4 Miles Through Mud To Reach Tiny Grave

NORTH Bay, Oct. 20.—With the body of a tiny babe in her arms, which had died in a rude home of the northland, Mrs. A. H. Willett, of Cochrane, a community worker, recently struggled four miles over a trail, deep with clinging mud, to reach a tiny grave, dug with her own hands. The baby was the child of a hardy settler, who was endeavoring to hew a home in the wilderness of rocks and trees.

The tale of heroism was related during the last session of the Women's Institutes of the north, which brought the convention to a close here yesterday, by a woman worker who interrupted a plea for aid made by Mrs. Willett on behalf of the pioneers.

A. J. BLAIKIE WILL APPLY FOR SHERIFF'S POSITION

Appointment Is Not Expected Before November 1.

A. J. Blakie, formerly warden of the county of Middlesex, and ex-reeve of Westminster Township, intends to apply for the position of sheriff of the county of Middlesex, to be left vacant by the resignation of Donald M. Cameron, The Advertiser learned from an authoritative source Thursday.

Mr. Blakie has been in Middlesex municipal and political life for a number of years. It has been stated that several other applications are expected to be made by residents of this district for the office.

County officials do not believe that the vacancy which will be created on Nov. 1, when Sheriff Cameron's resignation takes effect, will be filled until after the election, although the office is controlled by the provincial authorities.

French "Sample" Train in City; Proves Industrial Art Abroad

The French "sample" train, which is on exhibition in this city on the L. and P. S. R. tracks between Wellington and Waterloo streets all day Thursday, proved when inspected to be just what has often been claimed for it, "a thing of beauty and a joy forever."

The samples of French industry and works of art shown in the seven C. P. R. cars under the direction of Comte Raoul d'Arnaud could hardly be well described in a newspaper way without the services of a score of reporters and unlimited space.

While a number of the exhibits, such as lace, and dress goods of all descriptions primarily proved to be of great attraction to the women, yet many mere men were heard to remark on the wonderful color schemes introduced by the French as shown in the exhibits.

Visited by Officials.

Acting Mayor Frank Harley, Honorary President George Reid of the Chamber of Commerce, Major Hume Cronyn, M. P., Dr. Hugh Stevenson, M. L. A., Mrs. C. R. Somerville, president of the Alliance Francaise, members of the city council, Chamber of Commerce, and the Alliance Francaise visited the train in a body Thursday morning, after meeting in the Chamber of Commerce.

They were met by Senator C. P. Beaubien of Montrealand Count d'Arnaud, and informal introductions took place. The party was then conducted through the train, and it surprised many when it was discovered that the trip through the cars occupied more than an hour and a half.

"Then I didn't see everything I wanted to; I am going to see it all over again this afternoon, and take my time," said one woman visitor, and that seemed to be the attitude of practically every member of the party. They all wanted to take another look.

Car number one contains the sword presented to Marshal Foch by the city of Liege, and several works of art, famous in every corner of France, as well as figures in porcelain, beautifully executed.

Pictures Exhibited.

In the second car was to be found many pictures, views of such cities as Metz, Rheims Cathedral and views taken in many of the French colonies. Aeroplanes and French steamship lines were also advertised in this and car three.

One could almost guess what was in the next car by the exclamations of the women who had gone before. Sure enough it was just as expected. Pictures of the latest Paris styles were there in profusion, and the reporter noted in passing, that skirts were at last becoming longer. Beaded work, described by one woman as the most wonderful ever seen in London was on exhibition in this car, as well as lingerie, fans, hats, shoes, kerchiefs, silks, gloves, artificial flowers, ribbons, etc.

Car number five was devoted to a display of leather goods, perfumes and soaps. Gelatines and bandages were also shown.

In the next car were brushes of all descriptions and confections that would delight the heart even of o dyspeptic, including gluten bread of the kind that would bring smiles to the lips of returned men.

Jewelry Shown.

The work of French goldsmiths and jewelers was found in the next car. "When a workman finishes one of these pieces, he doesn't want to part with it," said Senator Beaubien, while showing a group of women some carving done in ivory.

"You have a most wonderful country," said Comte d'Arnaud, in conversation with The Advertiser. "I am delighted with it, and with the sympathy and love shown my own dear country. It is wonderful. Before the war, you did not know us very well, but now it is so different. We know you better, too.

"From a commercial standpoint our trip has been a great success. We have taken a great many orders for goods, and received a number of inquiries that undoubtedly will lead to orders."

Scholars from the Technical School were shown through the cars earlier in the morning, and were more than pleased with their trip.

AGREE TO USE 1921 CITY LIST AT ELECTION

London Political Leaders Accept Suggestion of Canadian Govt. Officials.

REGISTRATION OCT. 31

Six Revising Clerks Will Consider Applications To Be Filed by Voters.

The 1921 municipal voters' list, Parts 1 and 3, are to be used as a basis for the lists for London voters in the coming federal election. Part 2 of the municipal lists, includes the names of persons eligible to vote only in municipal elections.

Local political leaders took the matter up at Ottawa. The advice they received was that they should use the latest available list, that all could agree upon.

Acting on this suggestion, Edgar Jeffrey, representing the Liberals, and J. M. Moore, the Conservatives, got in touch with the labor leaders and the returning officer, W. C. Fitzgerald, and it is certain that the decision will be to use these lists.

The 1921 municipal lists will be of assistance both in the city riding and East Middlesex. The list shows 20,461 residents of the city make up Part 1 of the list. They are those who are entitled to vote at municipal and legislative assembly elections. Not all of those, however, will be entitled to vote in the city riding in the federal contest, as many of them are residents of the annex to the eastern part of the city, and that section is a part of the East Middlesex riding.

Leaders Are Relieved.

Part 3 of the municipal list will always be prepared in the future, but the notice to do so this year did not reach all centers in time, and so it is only here and there that it was prepared. London is one of the cities that has the list ready. It was compiled by City Clerk Baker from the assessors' reports, and contains 16,054 names.

But in this list also are the names of those residing in the six sub-divisions of the annex, who are entitled to vote at parliamentary elections, and they also will vote in East Middlesex.

The local political leaders of both parties are considerably relieved over the decision to use the 1921 list. It will do away with the possibility of a great rush at the time of registration and will give all parties a chance to get all their voters registered.

On the last day of this month the registration will commence in the city. Those who are not on Part 1 or Part 3 of the municipal list will be able to appear before one of the six revising clerks that will sit in the city and have his or her name put on.

May Remove Names.

Also for the purpose of the coming election, any who are improperly on the list, may be stricken off on the application of proper persons who can give a good and sufficient reason.

Wednesday night the Liberal executive of the city held a meeting at Hyman Hall to launch the organization for the campaign of C. R. Somerville. Good progress was made.

W. Forester, Mitchell, the Liberal candidate in South Perth, was a visitor to the city Wednesday. He states that he is getting his organization well under way. He will face a three-cornered fight, there being farmer and Conservative candidates in the field.

Preparing the List.

Thursday afternoon City Clerk Baker started an army of stenographers at work to make copies of Part 3 of the Voters List so as to have them ready for the federal election officials as soon as possible. To expedite the work, he marshaled all the girls possible from the various city hall, utilities commission and board of education offices.

ICE CRUSHER TO BE MOTOR DRIVEN

New York, Oct. 20.—An ice-smashing ferryboat, propelled by electrical machinery, and without smokestacks, will be the newest addition to the Cross-River fleet on the Hudson.

An all-winter service is planned, as the vessel is designed to break through the thickest river ice.

London Liberals Express Sympathy To Sir Adam Beck

AT a meeting of the executive of the London Liberal Association Wednesday night the secretary was instructed to convey the following resolution to Sir Adam Beck:

"The executive of the London Liberal Association desires to convey to you and to your daughter, Miss Marion, on behalf of all the members of the association, its heartfelt sympathy in your sore and grevious loss.

"We would ask you to accept our sincere tribute to the worth of the lovely and loveable lady, whom all citizens of London honored in life, and whose death all deeply mourn. We sorrow with you and with Miss Beck."

OTTAWA THEATRE IS DESTROYED BY FIRE

Blaze of Unknown Origin Causes Loss Exceeding $125,000.

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—The Dominion Theatre here was completely destroyed by fire this morning. Only the four walls remain. The loss will be between $125,000 and $150,000. The building was insured.

Capt. H. P. McConnell of the fire department was seriously injured by falling three stories through a skylight in the Cecil Hotel, adjoining the theatre.

The conflagration was completely under control at 9 o'clock, although flames continued to break out of the heap of debris in what was the main seating section of the theatre. The building was owned by the Cecil Realty Company, although a heavy interest was held by Grant Davidson, from whom it was recently purchased. The theatre was a raging inferno of flames when the fire was first discovered at 6 a.m., and for a short period it was feared that it would spread to the Journal newspaper building and to the Cecil Hotel. The heat of the flames cracked many of the windows in the Journal building, but beyond this, the newspaper plant was not damaged. The employees on the afternoon edition were working in rooms filled with smoke.

LONDON CLUBS EXTEND GREETING TO FRENCH

Comte D'Arnaud and Associates Entertained at Luncheon.

The Tecumseh House dining-room was not nearly large enough to accommodate the members of the Lions Club and the Chamber of Commerce when they turned out to a noon luncheon Thursday to welcome the guest of honor, Comte Raoul d'Arnaud, president of the French mission to Canada, and who is in charge of the French "sample train" at present in London.

Senator C. P. Beaubien of the Province of Quebec, who is to have charge of the Canadian "sample train" which will tour France next year to advertise Canadian industries, spoke at some length on Canada's opportunities in the trade line as far as France was concerned.

Comte d'Arnaud thanked the city council, the Lions' Club, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Alliance Francaise for their kind reception. He asserted that France had passed through a most terrible ordeal, but was making wonderful progress in new developments. His country wanted to develop trade with the Allies and her friends, and Canada was one of the first to receive attention along these lines.

"You came to the rescue of my country, and my country will never forget it," he declared. "We will come together, intellectually and commercially. Almost anything you produce here we need, and it is quite possible that you need some of our productions."

"We know our visit will have practical results, and we invite you to come to France."

Ald. John Bridge, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Dr. Arthur A. Rankin of the Lions Club, and Ald. F. Harley, representing the city, delivered short addresses of welcome, while Prof. Ellis of the Western University, and Mr. Gillies, on behalf af the Alliance Francaise, welcomed the visitors in their own language.

LABOR FORUM WILL BE OPENED NEXT SUNDAY

J. A. Thomson reports that the labor forum will be opened on Sunday next in the Labor Temple. The speaker promised is A. L. Hodgins, U. F. O. candidate for East Middlesex.

Many other prominent speakers will occupy the platform during the next few weeks, and following the addresses there will be an open discussion.

MRS. W. PUGSLEY WINS HONOR AT CITY GATHERING

Unanimously Elected President of Provincial Body to Succeed Mrs. H. Stevens.

RESOLUTIONS AMENDED

County and Local Officers To Retire After Three Years' Service.

Mrs. W. Pugsley of Toronto, was unanimously elected president of the Ontario Woman's Christian Temperance Union at Wednesday morning's session of the annual convention. She succeeds Mrs. Hattie Stevens of Toronto, who has been president for nine years. The new president stands for an aggressive policy in regard to rigid law enforcement in regard to the liquor traffic and all other W. C. T. U. aims.

Mrs. W. T. G. Brown of Ottawa was elected as vice-president.

At this afternoon's meeting resolutions will be considered, including several from the Dominion executive. It understood that they will deal to some extent with regulation of the liquor traffic, the fight for Dominion-wide prohibition and law enforcement.

Resolutions Amended.

At this morning's session the principal discussion was over a change in the constitution. Last year notice of motion was given of an amendment regarding the holding of office. The idea was to give the younger women a chance to do more active work and also relieve veteran officers who have been carrying onerous burdens for many years.

The resolution, when introduced on Thursday, was considered too drastic, and a phrase was added making it read, "that if practicable, local and county officers should not hold office for more than three years, and provincial officers for not more than five years."

A strong appeal for appointing young women to office was made by the honorary president, Mrs. McKee of North Bay. This was needed, she said, in order to keep the work to the mark.

"Too many young women who come to the meetings are not allowed to take any part, and eventually lose interest," she continued.

Must Train Officers.

Mrs. Maxwell of Windsor urged the importance of training new officers to carry on the work when the old officers are removed.

Mrs. Blakely of Chatham declared it would be a calamity, with the federal election coming on, to remove the old officers. She would like to get a grant for them from the Government for their good work if it were possible.

Mrs. S. G. E. McKee of North Bay and Mrs. Hattie Stevens of Toronto were elected as honorary presidents, and Mrs. May R. Thornley of London as advisory president.

Report of Flower Mission.

A report of the work of the flower mission, in charge of Mrs. Egerton R. Young of Islington, was read by the secretary.

Mrs. E. Wiley of Ottawa reported on the good results that have followed parlor meetings. She recommended that every union that has not taken up the work do so.

A report of the work being done for the Canadian marine was presented by the secretary, Miss Maud McKee.

Wednesday afternoon the delegates were taken for a ride around the city as guests of the Chamber of Commerce.

At the noon luncheon Col. W. J. Brown of the Western University, on behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, officially welcomed the delegates.

"Don't tell your little children lies. No one understands so quickly that mother is telling something untrue as a little child, and on no one does it have so much effect. Mothers must obtain their hold on their children when they are little, if they are to teach them obedience. Selfish disobedience is the great thing that is hurting our nation today, and the fault is not with the little children, but with the parents."

Dr. Ellen Burt Sherratt of Toronto spoke as above at the annual meeting

MAGISTRATE SCORES DEFENCE WITNESSES

Serious Moral Depravity Revealed by Evidence in Court.

WINDSOR, Oct. 19. — Magistrate Gundy severely scored five witnesses for the defence at the close of the hearing of the charge laid against Steven Lesterance, aged 40, garage owner of committing a serious statutory offence against a fourteen-year-old girl.

The hearing of evidence in the matter began at 2 p.m. and lasted till 11:30 p.m. During cross-examination each of the five witnesses called by the defense admitted that he had been guilty of similar offenses, while the evidence of one witness, Louis Gillmin, 42, a farmer of West Sandwich, was of such a nature as to cause the magistrate to declare, "it is the worst story of moral depravity that I have ever heard. Conditions revealed by the evidence is almost past belief."

Lesterance, who is a married man, was remanded till Saturday for sentence. The court refused to grant a renewal of the $10,000 bail.

Headache

Recurring headaches usually come from an exhaustion of the nervous system, and they do not disappear until the vigor of the nerve cells is restored by such upbuilding treatment as Dr. Chase's Nerve Food.

Temporary relief by use of powders is often obtained at an enormous expense to the nervous system and the general health.

Get the nerves right and the headaches will not return.

Mrs. W. J. Pearse, Nunn St., Cobourg, Ont., writes:

"My system became run-down and I suffered greatly with pain in my head. This was so severe that I would have to bind a cloth tightly about my head so that I could get my work done. A friend advised the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and after taking the first box I found quite an improvement in my condition. I continued using them until I had taken about seven boxes, and they strengthened and built up my system splendidly, completely relieving the pain in my head."

Marie Lohr Triumphant In Fedora, Master Tragedy

[By Helen McMillan.]

"Fedora," as played by Marie Lohr at the Grand Theatre last evening, is a master tragedy. Running the gamut of human passions, the plot winds up and unrolls again in the simplest manner possible, but yet with deadly precision, as consequence follows quick upon the heels of consequence, precipitating a climax in the third act, when Fedora commands the love of the man she has been seeking to destroy, and bringing about the final tragic denouement which cannot be satisfied without Fedora's death by her own hand.

Written by Victorien Sardou expressly to display Sara Bernhardt's dramatic art, "Fedora," has been attempted by few actresses. And this alone makes Marie Lohr's success in the role the more amazing.

A sweet face and quiet dignity, which are hers, carry behind them a personality capable of expressing the passions, the love, hate and jealousy of a primitive soul. She is truly a great artist, and the flowers, which were thrown upon the stage last night, were but a silent tribute to her genius.

Playing the role of a Russian princess, who becomes enmeshed in the net of her own revenge, Marie Lohr has a splendid vehicle for the display of her dramatic powers.

The drama opens with a death-scene—the death scene of her fiance. And the drama concludes with a death-scene—her own suicide, which comes as a direct result of her determination to avenge the death of her fiance.

A strong impression of the actress' bigness in a tragic role is given at the very beginning of the play, and that impression only grows with each act. Absolutely abandoning herself to her character, Miss Lohr lives it through until the last curtain, only exhibiting enough restraint to lift her acting from any suggestion of ranting.

The lesson of the play might be summed up in Fedora's own tragic utterance: "Revenge is an accursed thing, which turns back upon the avenger to destroy him."

The plot is built with all the nicety and regularity of a classic drama, and is only saved from stiffness by the ability of the actress who portrays Fedora.

The work of Herbert Marshall as Count Ipanoff, lover of Fedora, is very fine, indeed. His manner and his voice are characteristic of the perfect lover, and in highly dramatic scenes with Fedora his acting rises to something far beyond the mediocre.

The play is not all tragedy, however. Indeed, it is quite plentifully sprinkled with rich bits of comedy, provided by Miss Helen Haye as the "Countess Olga," and by Herbert Ross as "Jean de Siriex," both of whom are exceptional actors. Their humorous flirtation gives the relief necessary to so heavy a drama, and helps to intensify the final tragic scene. The beauty of the gowns worn, and the elaborate stage settings also help to relieve the tragic tone of the play. The minor parts were well cast.

The only adverse criticism which might be made of the play is that its subtleties are probably above the heads of a popular audience. But that does not make it the less appreciated. The primitive instincts on which it is built up, and which are embodied in Fedora, carry the audience along in the sweep of their passionate flood until the final curtain falls.

ANNIVERSARY SERVICES AT MOORLINE CHURCH

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—The annual anniversary service of the Mooreline Presbyterian Church was held on Sunday, Oct. 16. An unusually large number of people were present, and some were unable to get into the building. The front of the church was suitably decorated with dahlias, ferns and foliage plants.

Rev. Mr. Mons of the Presbyterian Church, Petrolea, preached at both services. Splendid music was provided by the local choir. At the morning service Mrs. Arthur Elliott of Mooreline sang a solo entitled "There Were Ninety and Nine," and at the evening service Miss McPhedran of Wanstead sang "Abide With Me."

On the following evening large crowds gathered in the church, where a chicken supper was served. Miss Bisson and Miss Nickolls, the former a gifted pianist, the latter a skillful elocutionist of Detroit, rendered a very pleasing musical program. The soloist of the evening was Mrs. McDougall of Enniskillen Township, Lambton County. She was accompanied by Mrs. Henry Elliott of Mooreline Church. Rev. J. C. Forster presided. The net receipts were about $300.

MAYOR M. G. DEAN ACCEPTS NOMINATION IN S. OXFORD

Liberals Convinced He Will Redeem Riding From Tories

TILLSONBURG, Oct. 19.—Mayor M. G. Dean today announced his decision to stand as the Liberal standard-bearer in South Oxford, and the news comes as a boomerang to the Conservative party who for days past have actually counted Mayor Dean out of the field.

Mr. Dean, who, although only 37 years of age, has an enviable municipal record, having served the town as mayor twice, a councillor two years, hydro commissioner, and on several other public utilities. This is the first opportunity ever accorded Tillsonburg citizens to vote for a local man for the federal house and there is little doubt the town will pile up a huge majority for him regardless of party politics.

The candidate has always been a strong advocate of temperance, and it was mainly through the support promised from the temperance workers in South Oxford that Mayor Dean decided to enter the field. He is the proprietor of the local Ford garage, and a widely-known auctioneer.

The citizens of Ingersoll have promised some surprising support, and with an excellent Liberal organization in the riding there is no doubt but that Mayor Dean is the real contender in the race, and that South Oxford will again be redeemed to the Liberal party.

WILL USE CITY VOTERS' LIST FOR THE ELECTION

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—To expedite the compilation of the voters' lists for the coming election the chief election officer, with the consent of all parties concerned, has directed that the municipal lists be used as a basis where the provincial lists are not available. It has been found that in some urban districts it would have been impossible to register the voters within the time limit set by the act. The cities are divided into districts of 4,000, or as near that as conditions will permit. But the registrars have discovered that if the procedure directed by the act be strictly followed there would be an incomplete registration in some of the divisions.

WELLINGTON HAY TO BE LEADER PRO TEM

Chosen by Ontario Liberals To Temporarily Succeed Dewart.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Wellington Hay, member for the North Perth constituency and Liberal whip, was appointed leader pro tem. of the Liberal forces in Ontario following the resignation of H. Hartley Dewart, K.C., today owing to ill-health.

The Liberal members of the Legislature met in caucus this afternoon and the resignation of Mr. Dewart was laid before them. The caucus expressed appreciation of the sacrifices of Mr. Dewart for the party and a committee was appointed to arrange for a suitable recognition thereof.

J. W. Curry, K.C., who left the Liberal "wing" last season, attended the caucus and, it is understood, will return to the fold now that Mr. Dewart has withdrawn from the leadership.

In his letter of resignation Mr. Dewart said in part:

"I must confess that I keenly felt the open attacks and the more veiled, but equally appreciable, disloyalty of others.

"I have almost impoverished myself to try and save the good name of the party and yet I am daily harassed by financial demands that were not of my making.

"I am not merely refrring to members of the House, but to the utter lack of appreciation of their duty by the rank and file of the Liberal party generally.

"It has been constantly urged upon me that I should give the agrarian outfit a chance. Heaven knows I went the limit. Despite all our criticism and help, the financial condition of the province is in a sad way, which is not due to hydro obligations, but to gross mismanagement, absolute incompetency and extravagance or worse.

"Now the same outfit wants to try their 'prentice hand on the Dominion. God forbid.

"There should be no alliance or understanding, expressed or implied, between Liberalism and Crerarism. Perhaps it is better that I should drop out until we resume the consideration of provincial issues and leave those to 'soft pedal' who will, reserving my own attitude of independence."

DETROITER COVERS 229 MILES IN 4 HOURS

Recent Claim of Wabash Railroaders Brings Quick Reply.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—The Wabash fast train, recently reported to have covered the distance, 229 miles, between Windsor and Bridgeburg, in five hours and fifteen minutes, a claim which has created much discussion in local railway circles, apparently has a serious rival in the celebrated M. C. R. flyer, "The Detroiter."

M. C. R. officials declare that "The Detroiter" is doing the distance every day in four hours and nine minutes and not saying a word about it. They also assert that sometimes when "The Detroiter" is behind time she does it in less than four hours. This remarkable traveling may be verified, they point out, at any time by application to Chief Dispatcher George Gott.

Domestic Quarrel.

Alleged to have failed to carry out his part of the agreement with his wife from whom he is separated, Harold Buston, taxi driver, was before Magistrate Maxwell this morning. Alleged Balky Horse.

A horse sold on the 48-hour guarantee, but, notwithstanding the assurance given of its condition, alleged to have been faulty, was the cause of an action brought by H. B. Power against Charles Branston, Jr., Payne's Mills, to recover the sum of a note given in part payment for the animal. There was much contradictory swearing, Mr. Branston claimed that the horse was balky. Mr. Flood, a London teamster who owned the horse at one time, thought the contrariness of the animal was due to a faulty collar. Judgment was reserved.

Liberal Women Laugh At Tory Blue Ruin Cry

BRANTFORD, Oct. 19.—In spite of a heavy downpour of rain a very large number of ladies, thoroughly representative of the community, attended the meeting at the Liberal headquarters today for the purpose of organizing for the coming election.

The meeting was called to order by Mrs. Frank Leeming, and addresses were delivered by Mrs. John Hodge, Mrs. Harry Carpenter of Hamilton, president of the Ontario Women's Liberal Association, and the candidate, W. G. Raymond.

Mrs. Hodge satirically reviewed some of the blue ruin prophecies that were made of the evils that would befall Brantford if the Government candidate was not returned; the grass growing in the streets, etc, etc., as prophesied by W. F. Cockshutt; and said that a review of the city would show conclusively that its best and soundest growth was between 1896 and 1911 when the Liberal Administration was in power at Ottawa. She spoke of the candidature of Mr. W. G. Raymond, saying that in him the women of Brantford had a candidate of whom they need not be ashamed.

Mrs. Harry Carpenter opened with some very complimentary references to the candidate, whom she had known for some time, saying that the large number of ladies present under such extremely unfavorable circumstances was certainly a very strong tribute to his standing with the women of the constituency. She continued by referring to the fact that this election would be the first time that all women had a vote and that they should appreciate the value of it; that they should study politics and understand what was best for the country and above all keep politics clean. She made a very eloquent and effective address.

Officers of the club and chairmen for the various wards and districts were elected.

The meeting demonstrated the earnestness of the women of Brantford in behalf of Mr. W. G. Raymond, the Liberal candidate, and augured well for his success on election day.

LADIES! DARKEN YOUR GREY HAIR

Use Grandma's Sage Tea and Sulphur Recipe and Nobody Will Know.

The use of Sage and Sulphur for restoring faded, grey hair to its natural color dates back to grandmother's time. She used it to keep her hair beautifully dark, glossy and attractive. Whenever her hair took on that dull, faded or streaked appearance, this simple mixture was applied with wonderful effect.

But brewing at home is mussy and out-of-date. Nowadays, by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," you get this famous old preparation, improved by the addition of other ingredients, which can be depended upon to restore natural color and beauty to the hair.

A well-known downtown druggist says it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one strand at a time. By morning the grey hair disappears, and after another application or two, it becomes beautifully dark and glossy.

MEAT CAUSE OF KIDNEY TROUBLE

Take Salts To Flush Kidneys if Back Hurts or Bladder Bothers.

If you must have your meat every day, eat it, but flush your kidneys with salts occasionally, says a noted authority who tells us that meat forms uric acid which almost paralyzes the kidneys in their efforts to expel it from the blood. They become sluggish and weaken, then you suffer with a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headaches, dizziness, your stomach sours, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine gets cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get sore and irritated, obliging you to seek relief two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids, to cleanse the kidneys and flush off the body's urinous waste get four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy here; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate sluggish kidneys, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer irritates, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink.

ONTARIO WILL COMB BRITAIN FOR FARMERS

To Campaign For Settlers With Capital This Winter.

Toronto, Oct. 20.—An intensified campaign by the Ontario Government to secure farmers from the British Isles with capital as settlers for this province is to be pushed in England and Scotland throughout the winter, Hon. Manning Doherty, minister of agriculture, announced today. Of these new immigrants, 1,000 in number, or more, are to be ready to come to Ontario in the spring.

The campaign as planned by the minister of agriculture's department, is to be principally a lecture campaign. Thousands of dollars have been spent by the Government, Mr. Doherty said, in providing moving pictures of various phases of fruit, dairy, mixed and live stock in the province. Various lecturers will be chosen. "If I could spare the time, I should like to spend two weeks lecturing myself," Mr. Doherty said.

In connection with the new campaign a new branch office is being established by Mr. Doherty at Perth, Scotland, with Mr. Percival, former assistant commissioner at London in charge.

"There never was a more opportune time to get expert farmers with plenty of capital in England than at the present moment," Mr. Doherty believes. "Many farmers have been forced to sell out or buy their farms. On account of the high taxes, the landlords are being forced to get rid of their land. There are lots of farmers in England today with plenty of capital contemplating going to one of the dominions.

"I can say that the type of men we are getting will look after themselves. Bringing in these desirable men, only farmers, mind you, with plenty of capital, is the only way of paying our war debt and of getting the wheels of industry moving again."

MRS. PUGSLEY HEADS ONTARIO W. C. T. U.

of the Ontario Women's Temperance Union yesterday afternoon in leading a discussion on "Babyhood."

One of the delegates had asked if "white lies are a necessity when children beging asking questions about the origin of life.

"Tell them the truth," said Dr. Sherrat. "There is nothing to be ashamed of. It is only wickedness that distrusts the truth. Tell them about the flowers, the fish and the birds and yourself. It is a beautiful and wonderful story. Mothers must keep their children in touch with themselves, and they should start training their babies when they are six months old, if they are going to get the results they desire in later life.

"We should train our young men and women, too, in regard to matrimony and its high purpose. My heart goes out to boys; they are often so ignorant of life. Woman all over Canada are awakening, and they want instruction. The W. C. T. U. can do a great work among the mothers. Give them all the instruction you can, good common-sense instruction, and you will not have any trouble in keeping them interested. They will come to meetings. They want to know all about the things that will make for better conditions for themselves and their children."

Dr. Sherratt advised securing the Government publications dealing with various important matters.

How About Santa Claus?

"Would you advise telling the little ones about Santa Claus?" asked a mother.

"By all means," said the vice-president, Mrs. W. Pugsley of Toronto. "You will kill your child if you try to destroy its imagination. Santa Claus comes to my house every year."

"I think the plan they follow in Holland of telling about the Christ Child is excellent," said Dr. Sherratt. "We have been carrying Christmas too far sometimes. There is nothing of Christ in giving a gift to someone, because you are going to get a better one back."

A feature of the afternoon session was the address of the President, Mrs. Hattie Stevens of Toronto. She urged the importance of thrift during the reconstruction period, of buying "made-in-Canada" goods, of assimilating and educating the large foreign population in the Dominion, and called upon the women of the W. C. T. U. to continue with unabated efforts their fight for Dominion-wide prohibition.

Sees Foreigners as "Menace."

"Not using enough Canadian-made goods," she said, "means a shrinkage of the Canadian dollar, and if we continue only national bankruptcy can result."

Regarding the foreign population, she claimed that the referendum and other figures show that the foreigner is the real menace to Canada.

"The native-born Canadian has shown time and again by his vote that he is against the liquor traffic. The foreigner can be reached through the children, and the children can be reached through the public schools," said Mrs. Stevens.

Presented With Bouquet.

During the afternoon Mrs. Stevens, the president, was presented with a handsome bouquet of crysanthemums by Mrs. Hubert Ashplant, president of the London W. C. T. U. Speeches of appreciation of Mrs. Stevens' good work were made by the Dominion president, Mrs. Gordon Wright; Mrs. May R. Tornley, Mrs. Bigelow of Cornwall, and Mrs. Britton of Gananoque.

A duet by Miss Rennie and Mrs. Highrock of Zurich was much enjoyed.

Reports regarding the work of the association paper "The Tidings" were given by the editor, Mrs. McAllister of Exeter, Mrs. McKee, honorary president; Mrs. May R. Tornley, and the business manager, Mrs. Kelly.

Mrs. McAllister regretted that some unions are disbanding because of the erroneous belief that prohibition has been secured.

"Don't let us take down the scaffold before our walls are complete," she said, "or the first thing we know it will be down around our ears. This story about us having secured prohibition is being spread all over, and it is doing harm. We in Ontario are sending out far more liquor than missionaries. We must impress upon our women that we have not got prohibition. It looks to me as if we are going to have group government. We must make sure that the men for whom we cast our ballots are strong supporters of prohibition.

W. C. T. U. SIDELIGHTS

THE most picturesque figure at the annual convention of the W. C. T. U. is Mrs. S. G. E. McKee of North Bay, formerly of the County of Simcoe. Mrs. McKee is 81 years old and doesn't mind it a bit when you call her a motherly old lady, for that is exactly what she is.

Everybody at the convention seems to know and love her. They might well know her for she has been an outstanding figure in the temperance movement since she was a girl of 16, and they might well love her for she possesses that infinite something that enables one to know at first glance that in her he or she has found a real and a true friend.

"Come along with me and we will pick out a quiet corner for a little chat," said Mrs. McKee to a lonely male reporter who had found his way into the gathering of 400 women. "I used to have a boy like you," she continued, as she took the scribe by the arm and let him escort her to a chair. "I'll tell you anything I can, but I will have to do it in a very short time.

"I have been in temperance work since I was 16," continued Mrs. McKee, "and have been in W.C.T.U. work for 32 years, 25 of them being county president of Simcoe. We moved to North Bay eight years ago and I have been president there till this year. I am honorary president of the Ontario convention and am also an official of the World and Dominion W. C. T. U.

Recalls Early Sentiment.

"There was a growing sentiment for temperance when I was but a girl," declared Mrs. McKee, "and when I was 16 I went as a delegate to the national convention of the 'Sons of Temperance' in Hamilton.

"So much for my history. Now what would you like to know?"

"Do you think that they will ever legislate tobacco out of existence, or even get as far with it as they have with intoxicants?" inquired the reporter.

"I most certainly do," was the emphatic rejoinder. "You can't regulate it, you've got to stop it, and this is possible by education. Just wait till the women get smoking in great numbers, the men will be forced to legislate it out of existence as a measure of self defence. Their children will be weak and puny and their wives careless about home duties. The nation will be bound to stop it.

"Many women are going crazy about tobacco, and that applies all the way from school girls to those who should know better. However, let's talk about something else."

Mrs. McKee spoke of the W. C. T. U. as being a strong temperance force, the leading feature being spiritual teaching.

"The ballot will help us along in our work. We have a lot of power in the province now and the women's vote is large enough to almost control an election," she continued. "There are party women in our ranks, but I do not think they would let party politics interfere with their principle."

* * *

"WE don't see a man around very much these days. Come on and sit down here beside me," said Mrs. W. J. Johnston of Toronto. "You are a newspaper man? Well, I will be glad to tell you anything I can, just ask me."

The above conversation is quoted to show the spirit of the convention. A helping hand and information to all, that's what every member is there for.

Every woman in St. Andrew's Hall seemed to have a notebook and pencil on hand. The addresses were listened to with keen interest and every vital point was jotted down for future reference, as these 400 women are but the representatives of their own particular branch and will give reports on their return home.

* * *

THE idea that many individuals have of the W. C. T. U. is that it is strictly a temperance organization. This is not so. The discussion Wednesday afternoon embraced a variety of subjects and took in everything from child welfare to the telling of important truths to children to temperance and a discussion on Santa Claus.

* * *

AT most conventions, the back seats are filled up first. Not so with the W. C. T. U. The women arriving first Wednesday afternoon took the front seats and left the poorer ones to the late comers, of whom there were not a few.

* * *

"THE W. C. T. U. is sometimes looked upon as being a drastic and extreme organization," confided the reporter to Mrs. W. J. Johnston. "What is the reason?"

"Drastic moves have been needed," was the reply. "We younger members have gained inspiration from such pioneers as Mrs. McKee, Mrs. Thornley, Mrs. Pugsley, Mrs. Stevens and many others. It is out of the motherhood of their hearts that they have appeared drastic. The whole point has been how best to protect our children from evil influences."

* * *

MRS. Hattie A. Stevens of Toronto, provincial president of the W. C. T. U., gave the most comprehensive address of the afternoon. Her grasp of temperance conditions in all parts of the world were a revelation to her hearers. The address must surely have taken weeks of preparation and was undoubtedly the feature of the afternoon session.

CHRISTIANITY ONE OF 3 STATE FAITHS IN JAPAN

At the closing of the joint meeting of the Rural Deaneries of East and West Middlesex, in all Saints' Church, Bishop Hamilton of Mid-Japan addressed the members on "The Church in the Foreign Field."

He stated that in his district there are 145 Japanese clergymen in the Anglican Church. In his Sunday schools there are about 2,000 in regular attendance.

Christianity in Japan is now recognized by the government as one of the three national religions, the others being Buddhism and Shintoism.

Archdeacon Graham of Nelson, B. C., spoke on "The Church in the West."

ENIES NAVAL BASES FOR THE BERMUDAS

British Admiralty Official Says Reports Are Unwarranted.

London, Oct. 20.—The reports that Great Britain was planning the establishment of naval bases in the Bermudas, at Singapore, or elsewhere were termed "pure imagination" today by an admiralty official, who declared he was unable to understand what Premier Hughes of Australia was referring to in his recent speech on the subject.

A Melbourne dispatch Wednesday reported Premier Hughes as declaring in a speech in the House of Representatives there that the question of a British naval base in the Pacific was discussed at the recent imperial conference in London, and that a decision regarding it had been reached, but that the base would not be at Singapore.

"We are spending no money on Singapore," was the admiralty comment. "There are no items in the admiralty appropriation for such purpose. Certainly nothing in that line will be contemplated, in the Pacific or elsewhere, at least not until after the Washington conference."

The Daily Herald, the Labor organ, says today that the admiralty told representatives of that newspaper that it had no plans for action in the event of a breakdown of the Washington conference.

"We are not sending any more ships to China except the ordinary replacements after the ship has been a long time abroad," the newspaper quotes the admiralty as declaring in this connection.

HAYES IN CHARGE OF BIGGEST SHIP

New York, Oct. 20.—Sir Bertram Hayes, captain of the White Star liner Olympic, has been selected to command the Majestic, the world's largest ship, which will enter the company's transatlantic service early next year. He has followed the sea 41 years, and was knighted for his services in commanding the Olympic as a troop transport in the war. He formerly commanded the Adriatic.

Capt. A. E. Shambleton, now commanding the Adriatic, will succeed Sir Bertram on the Olympic. Capt. F. P. Howarth of the Baltic, also has been promoted to command the line's new 25,000-ton liner Homeric, nearing completion.

EMBARGO REPORT HAS NOT BEEN CONSIDERED

London, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable).—The Daily Telegraph understands that the cabinet has had no time to give consideration to the Finlay committee's report on the cattle embargo.

It is a certainty, however, that no action can be taken before 1922, as any change must be authorized by legislation and the remainder of the session will be devoted solely to unemployment legislation.

"PETER IBBETSON" IS SCREEN'S BEST PHOTOGRAPHED PLAY

[BY JAMES W. DEAN.]

(Copyright by N. E. A. Service.)

New York, Oct. 20.—The star of the film version of "Peter Ibbetson" is Arthur Miller, the cameraman. This photoplay is photographically the best that has yet graced the silver screen. George Fitzmaurice, director, probably should share in the credit for that.

This film contains more double exposures than any other ever exhibited, but interest in that is lost in the sheer beauty of the exteriors. Their photographic composition gives them the quality of fine steel etchings.

"Peter Ibbetson" is Wallace Reid's most pretentious attempt at romantic acting. He measures up to the requirements of all his scenes except the close-up. In that he relies upon his chief stock in trade for facial expression—the arched eyebrow.

Elsie Ferguson, his co-star, completely subordinates her own personality to that of the character of Mimsi. Thus one would hardly think of the character as being Elsie Ferguson were she not billed on the program. Praise be to her, for this is the first photoplay in which she has accomplished that.

However, histrionic honors go to George Fawcett in the role of Major Dequenois. He makes that lovable old character stand out on the screen as a living, breathing entity of his picture.

This film, like almost all films of extra footage, contains a lot of extraneous matter and scenes that detract from the story interest. However, the photography is such an artistic treat that one is quite willing that the fade-out be delayed.

This is George Fitzmaurice's best directed picture. It is Elsie Ferguson's best screen performance. I believe it is an unfortunate casting for Wallace Reid, but, all in all, he does unusually well. The supporting cast is entirely adequate. The photography is of superlative quality. Thus "Peter Ibbetson" takes rank with the best photoplays of the year.

The reader may conjecture on what basis a critic judges an element of the photoplay. The basis of all criticism of screen or stage productions is the possibilities for development of the play in each of its features, as indicated by the accomplishments in the same features of other plays. Thus criticism is largely a matter of comparison.

Wallace Reid with his hair marcelled for the title role in "Peter Ibbetson," and Elsie Ferguson as the Duchess of Towers.

When I said "Peter Ibbetson" contained the best photography of any play yet screened, I based that judgment on comparison to all other pictures I have seen.

I believe that "The Three Musketeers" ranks next to "Peter Ibbetson" for artistic photography. And next to that "For the Soul of Raphael," produced almost two years ago.

* * *

What does one mean by "bunk" in a photoplay? Well, Wally Reid climbs into a fighting arena at the Duck Waloipers' Sporting Club in "Peter Ibbetson," and knocks out a professional boxer twice his size. (And Wally is supposed to turn sick at the sight of blood.) And in "Cappy Ricks" Tom Meighan knocked out a professional prize fighter hired to stage a scrap with him. And, returning to "Peter Ibbetson," Reid overcomes five stage hands. If all of that isn't bunk, what is?

CRITICIZE PROPOSALS OF BRITAIN'S PREMIER

Newspapers Say Unemployment Plans Are "Bluff."

London, Oct. 20.—(Canadian Press Cable).—Premier Lloyd George's speech in the House of Commons yesterday, when he outlined the Government's policy with regard to trade and unemployment, has called forth from the newspapers a measure of praise on his presentation of what is admittedly a difficult case, but the actual proposals are the subject of criticism.

The Times comments upon the extension of the export credit scheme to the Empire, and expresses the view that the most serious defect in the scheme is that it tends to increase taxation without offering the country any prospect of immediate relief being obtained from the crushing fiscal burdens.

The Morning Post says that Premier Lloyd George proposed to remedy the evil of unemployment by continuing, in principle, the very policy which has largely produced unemployment.

The Daily Mail regards the scheme as palliative, but no cure.

The Daily News thinks the scheme is not inspired by any broad policy, but is merely a limited attempt to evade the coming storm.

The Herald bluntly describes the proposals as "bluff," and adds: "You cannot feed the unemployed on bluff."

The Chronicle and Telegraph support the scheme.

BENNETT CLAIMS TARIFF CANADA'S ONLY WEAPON

Edmonton Speech of Minister of Justice Takes Patriotic Trend.

Edmonton, Oct. 20.—Patriotic in the general composition of his address, Hon. R. B. Bennett, minister of justice, made an appeal "for the continuance of a policy of government that would permit Canada to be a land for Canadians," at a meeting here last night under the auspices of the National Liberal-Conservative Party.

The tariff, he declared, was the only weapon that would permit this Dominion to develop her opportunities and her resources. Without a tariff of protection, Canada's industries would become idle, and unemployment would be a menace to the land. Goods that could and would be manufactured in Canada would be made outside by the removal of the tariff.

The fight began on Monday, lasted two days, the enemy hurling savage attacks against the Greek positions over a wide front.

Following the repulse of these attacks, the Greeks are said to have passed to the offensive, and to have pursued the Nationalists toward the east and southeast.

PEACE TALK INTERESTS LONDON'S CELESTIALS

London's Chinese citizens are interested in the disarmament conference scheduled to be held in Washington in November, for a letter expressing the hope that the parley will be a success has been forwarded to Washington by their representatives. The letter was drafted in Detroit last week, when 300 Chinamen from various parts of Canada, the United States, Mexico and Cuba met in convention.

William Lee and Sun Wong, a high school boy, were the delegates from London. Chinese Free Masons, members of Chinese Nationalist Associations, and of other Chinese organizations in America were in attendance, the Londoners stated. Mr. Lee also stated that while in session the convention made plans to help relieve the famine in China.

CLAIMS UPWARD BUSINESS SWING THROUGHOUT U. S.

Vice-President Coolidge Believes Better Conditions Coming.

Boston, Oct. 20. — There is an definite turning of the tide in the business nd industrial activities of the United States, Vice-President Calvin Coolidge said in a message to the Boston Chamber of Commerce, read at its opening assembly luncheon today.

"This upward swing of the business pendulum is clearly defined to those who can read the economic signs of the times," his message said. "It is the bank, the railroad, the postoffice, the mill and the field, and it calls for a spirit of optimism and an attitude of self-reliant, forward-looking confidence on the part of the businessmen of the country.

"To no section of the country is this of more importance than to New England. It is at once the duty and the opportunity of the businessmen of New England to crystallize this spirit of business optimism into the conduct of their affairs to the end that the entire economic life of the nation may be speedily returned to its rightful condition of prosperity."

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you cannot find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair, and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous and just twice as abundant.

Association and the association of railway executives also were scheduled.

Chiefs of Four Unions Prepare To Meet Board

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Chiefs of the big four brotherhoods and the Switchmen's Union arrived this morning, and went into conference preparatory to their meeting this afternoon with the United States Railroad Labor Board.

Union headquarters was optimistic, and there was a strongly evident feeling that there would be no strike, unless something unexpected occurred to disrupt the conference this afternoon.

Present at the union conferences were Warren S. Stone, grand chief of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers; L. E. Sheppard, president of the Order of Railway Conductors; W. G. Lee, president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen; W. S. Carter, president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, and T. C. Cashen, president of the Switchmen's Union of North America.

Unions Mark Time.

The eleven "standard" unions marked time today, awaiting the outcome of the labor board meeting. While a few of their general chairmen met to discuss strike plans, the majority crowded the hearing rooms of the labor board to see the Pennsylvania Railroad cited for failure to obey the board's orders.

Leaders of the big five railroad brotherhoods meet today with the railroad labor board in a secret informal conference to air their grievances which led to the strike call for Oct. 30, while chairmen of most of the eleven other principal railroad unions were deciding whether they also would call a walkout, to complete the proposed transportation tie-up.

Labor board members were optimistic over prospects of an adjustment of the brotherhood members' complaints, but no plans had been announced for discussing the railroad executives, the board's program to avert the strike by temporarily maintaining the present wage level and reducing freight rates.

Prior to the conference with the brotherhoods, the board had scheduled a hearing with Pennsylvania Railroad representatives on charges of violation of a board decision, requiring a new election of shopcrafts representatives. This case is the first of its kind to come before the board, and is expected to establish the extent of the board's power in enforcing its decisions, under the transportation acts.

Operators Remain at Work.

O. H. Braez, vice-president of the American Train Dispatchers' Association, announced last night that the dispatchers would take no part in the proposed strike. The statement followed a conference with dispatchers of the eastern district at which Mr. Braez said the sentiment against a walkout was unanimous.

"There is no sign that we are condemning the attitude displayed by the other brotherhoods, however," he added.

CUBAN BILL WOULD ADMIT FREE SUGAR INTO STATES

Treaty Calls for Reciprocal Tariff Agreement.

Havana, Oct. 20.—Admission to the United States, duty free, of a maximum of 2,500,000 tons of Cuban sugar yearly for three years in return for the free entry into Cuba of "products of the soil and industry of the United States" is proposed in a joint resolution introduced today in the House of Representatives. Action on the resolution went over until next Monday.

If the commercial treaty under which this exchange of commodities would be permitted is not ratified within eight months after negotiations are begun, the resolution would authorize the executive department to initiate proceedings to denounce the existing reciprocity treaty between Cuba and the United States, which became egective in December, 1903.

LIQUOR RUNNERS FLOOD WEST WITH BOGUS MONEY

Canadian Merchants and Banks Heaviest Losers.

Seattle, Oct. 20.—Liquor runners, operating on a large scale, and bootleggers, in league with exceedingly clever counterfeiters, are flooding the northwest, especially Seattle, Tacoma and Spokane, with thousands of dollars in bogus $10 federal reserve notes, it was made known today through Capt. W. R. Jarrett of the United States secret service. Many transactions in illicit deals for large quantities of liquor make the passing of the counterfeit notes easy, Capt. Jarrett said, and virtually impossible to trace.

Merchants are often the ultimate losers, and not the bootleggers and liquor runners, the secret service finds. The money is passed along to stores by the persons who sell the liquor. The losses are said to be heavier to Canadian merchants and banks than to persons on this side of the international boundary.

Two men arrested at Fernie, B. C., trying to purchase liquor for the Seattle trade, it is alleged, had 150 of the bogus $10 notes.

MILNER CLAIMS TO BE AUTHOR OF MANDATES

London, Oct. 20. — Canadian Press Cable.—Lord Milner, speaking in London, claimed authorship of the original form of the mandates as now exercised by the British Empire. He declared there was nothing in the mandates, if drafted in accordance with the Versailles treaty and the covenant of the League of Nations, which differed from British tradition and practice, and as far as Great Britain was concerned. He thought publicity would insure the observance of the principles of the mandates.

MOSHER AGREES ON PAY REDUCTION TO AID ROADS

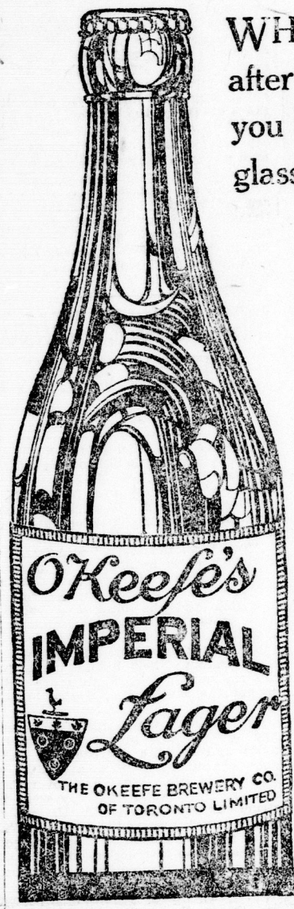

Ottawa, Oct. 20.—Canadian Press.—That his organization was willing to approve a reasonable reduction in pay in order to assist the railroads, although it was felt that the reduction was not warranted by conditions at this time, was the statement made here this morning by A. R. Mosher, president of the Canadian Brotherhood of Railway Employees, at the opening meeting of the board of arbitrators between the Canadian National Railways and their employees on the question of wages.

MEXICAN COURT ORDER AIDS BRITISH CONCERN

Mexico City, Oct. 20.—Officials of the State of Vera Cruz were enjoined from interfering with the operations of the Aguila Oil Company, a British concern, yesterday by the Mexican supreme court. The injunction stopped the officials from carrying out the provisions of recent acts of the state legislature, and declared that those acts were not retroactive, in that they had no effect upon title or transactions on record before the passage of legislation.

This decision by the supreme court was considered here as a mere formality, following its action last week in granting temporary relief to the Aguila company. Efforts by the corporation to have lifted the embargo which was recently imposed by Vera Cruz state authorities to insure the payment of back taxes were sustained by the court.

Leaves McMaster University Site in Abeyance For Year

Baptist Convention Hears Offers From Hamilton and Woodstock, But Defers Decision On Proposed Removal From Toronto Until Next Annual Convention.

[By William Sharman.]

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—With the adoption by the Baptist convention on Wednesday afternoon of the report of the senate and the board of governors of McMaster University, all question or discussion relating to the proposed removal of that institution from Toronto to Hamilton is now definitely eliminated from the gathering.

With the arrival during the morning session of deputations of representative residents of not only Hamilton, but Woodstock as well, the problem threatened to assume much greater proportions.

The entry of Woodstock into the contest for the future location of McMaster University was admittedly a surprise to the convention, and it was claimed, in a humorous vein, that the Woodstock delegation "had ridden in at the last moment on the Hamilton horse."

Moves Hamilton Resolution.

A first resolution to the effect that Hamilton be seriously considered as the location for McMaster University was moved by Rev. W. W. McMaster of Hamilton, son of J. Short McMaster, treasurer of the institution, and a nephew of its founder, the late Wm. McMaster. Edwin Grey, B.A., Toronto, seconded the motion.

"If Woodstock College offers better opportunities," declared Rev. Mr. McMaster, "I am in favor of Woodstock. I am not championing Hamilton because I live there. It is simply after a year's earnest consideration from every angle that I am absolutely convinced that there is no other city in the Dominion that offers such splendid opportunities for the best development of the Baptist faith."

Explaining that while he held no brief for Woodstock, Principal Thomas Wearing of Woodstock College, waved aside the suggestion that the supporters from the community had performed the "equestrian trick of riding in on the same horse as the Hamilton delegation."

Makes Plea For Woodstock.

"I do say this," he asserted, "there are scores of representative men of Woodstock surcharged with feelings of deep affection for McMaster in its earliest days. These people are not all of our denomination, and many of them made sacrifices in earlier years for the good of educational endeavor, as great or even greater than any sacrifices that have been made in Hamilton."

The morning session was extended in order that both visiting delegations be granted a hearing. The following comprised the Hamilton group: Lieut.-Col. B. O. Hooper, D.S.O., Controller Calvin Davis, W. J. Westoway, president of the Hamilton Rotary Club, and Messrs. Purney, Lansfield and Grey. John McNeil and John Morrison represented Woodstock.

Election of officers, the adoption of the report on McMaster, and spirited addresses by A. L. McCrimmon, M.A., LL.D., chancellor of the university, and Rev. O. C. S. Waallce, D.D., ex-chancellor, marked the afternoon session. Although Rev. Mr. McMaster was prepared to introduce a modified resolution, it was eventually withdrawn, when the chancellor explained that the governor's report, already on the floor of the convention, adequately covered the issue.

Will Consider New Sites.

Before the next annual convention, should the delegates desire, the board will investigate the overtures of all communities other than Toronto, and will report back to the convention what sites are available; upon what terms they may be obtained, and what financial assistance may be reasonably anticipated from the citizens of the respective cities.

"Do you realize," questioned Chancellor McCrimmon, during a powerful address Wednesday afternoon, when he dealt extensively with the future of the university, "that we spent in one year sixty million dollars on tobacco; another forty million on confectionery; were asked to raise thirty-three millions million on chewing gum, and a million and a half on face powder, to say nothing about automobiles?"

"The Methodists of the south who were asked to raise thirty-three millions for education, and who thought it too great a sum, had nothing to say when it was pointed out that their women of the south spend thirty millions a year in face powder and cosmetics.

"This is a critical time in the history of our denomination—a period when alumni, pastors and rank and file must rise to the occasion and put our educational institutions in condition to achieve the great work of this age. I maintain it is possible for us to provide the sum for our forward movement if there be first the willing mind.

"Make Democracy Safe."

"The cry today is to make democracy safe for the people, to save it from selfish monopoly and invisible interests on the one hand and from Red Bolshevism on the other. There is no doubt about the movement toward democracy, but I say Christianity alone can render it safe with a reverent recognition of 'Not kings and lords, but nations; not crowns and thrones, but men.'

"How democracy shall provide for the religious elements in the development of the nation, is the burning question. The National Educational Association of the United States has declared that the prerogative of religious instruction is in and must remain with the church. It is concluded that no matter how successful the public schools may be as instructors, the realization is manifested that knowledge alone does not insure morality, much less religion.

College Men in Sing Sing.

"That something additional to knowledge is absolutely necessary is evidenced by the report that one-third of those who ask for beds at the Bowery Mission, New York, are college men and there are 100 college graduates in Sing Sing. One often ponders over the statement that one-third of the German students drank themselves to death, one-third worked themselves to death, while the last third ruled the country. Would not Christian personal contact save those two-thirds in any country?

"We need efficient leadership and we need it badly. Do you really understand the importance of a college to the welfare of mankind- It has been declared that but two per cent of our young men go to college and that 90 per cent of our men of influence come from that two per cent. Today no man's son or daughter need go without a college education. He who invests in college work invests in the highest destiny of future generations."

Favors Canadian Publication.

"It has been my dream for years," declared Rev. J. R. Turnbull, St. Thomas, during the Wednesday discussion of the report of Sunday school activities, "that some day we would have Canadian Sunday school publications and literature. I do not believe that we should wait until all the Baptist work in Canada is unified. I believe that the brethren of Ontario and Quebec are financially able to furnish Canadian Sunday school supplies.

"As far as I can gather, we of this convention are spending in the United States about $80,000 in this manner. This is a moral and national reason why this money should be expended in our own country.

"While we agree, no doubt, that the American Baptist publications are well fitted to the genius of the American people, I do not believe that they really meet the need of the Canadian brethren. I do not believe that the Americans understand adequately the genius of the Canadians, and vice versa. I believe we are duty-bound to have Canadian literature."

"Although I believe that the literature published by the American society is the best available today," asserted Dr. George T. Webbe, "I sympathize heartily with the plea of Mr. Turnbull that as soon as practicable we should have supplies that are genuinely our own."

Urges Religious Training.

Dr. Webbe then delivered a strong appeal for the inauguration of religious training in the public schools. "No education is complete," he explained, "unless it includes adequate religious training, and if such is not to be accessible in the public schools it means that the home and the church have a greater task.

"If we say that the public school has no place in this undertaking, then we must assume the responsibilities. Our churches face this grave duty today of devising a way for the home and the church to co-operate and provide ample religious training for the boys and girls."

Rev. W. E. Hodgson, Toronto, urged that the delegates make some definite accomplishment with reference to the proposed exclusive use of Canadian text-books, etc.

Discusses Boy Welfare.

Following a vigorous address by O. H. MacDonald, Brampton, on boy welfare endeavor, the question was asked by Rev. W. H. Langton of Brantford whether or not the use of Baptist pastors as Boy Scout masters conflicted seriously with the church.

Dr. George Webbe replied that while he recognized the many valuable phases of the Boy Scout movement, it was not primarily a Christian enterprise.

"Our program is based," he pointed out, "on the thought that Jesus Christ is an example of true boyhood, and our program is built with a view to bring the boy to accept Him as his ideal and Saviour, and to develop his life accordingly. Understand, incidentally I am not condemning the Boy Scout movement."

The following were elected to the Board of governors for McMaster University: J. K. McDermid, London; Jas. Ryrie, Toronto; E. C. Fox, Toronto, and J. W. Gillies, Hamilton.

New Sunday School Board.

The new members to the Sunday school board, now known as the board of religious education of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist convention, are: Dr. C. A. Hardy, Toronto; Dr. A. H. Gordon, Montreal, and Rev. N. S. McKechnie, London.

Officers for the convention for 1921-22 were all elected by acclamation and with hearty enthusiasm: President, A. L. McCrimmon; first vice-president, S. J. Moore, Toronto (retiring president); second vice-president, Rev. W. T. Graham, D.D., Toronto; secretary-treasurer, Rev. C. E. MacLeod, Stouffville (re-elected).

Seen and Heard

Sidelights at St. Thomas Baptists' Convention Wednesday.

WHEN it comes to salesmanship, the laurels must be handed to Hamilton. The Ambitious City people want to secure McMaster University, and they went about it as though they meant business right from the start. They had a strong deputation there to present the claims on behalf of the city of Hamilton, a number of the civic officials making the trip for that purpose.

When the matter came up for discussion, whether by arrangement or accident, Hamilton had the edge of the debate all the way through. They promised a site with an outlook over the bay or lake, and it may be that they thought such a location would have an added appeal for the Baptist theologs. Then, too, there was the intimation that the doctors of Hamilton would start a medical school on the same premises.

The matter stands just where it was for another year, and before anything definite happens the convention will have a chance to pass on it. Recommendations will come from the board and senate of McMaster.

* * *

AND then came Woodstock with a bid for the big Baptist school. The Oxford County city has one good Baptist school, and would like another which, in many ways, is a continuation school of the one now in Woodstock. It is a favorite form to have a boy spend a few years at Woodstock and then go on to McMaster.

The Woodstock appeal came as somewhat of a surprise, as there had been little preparatory work in the way of propaganda. Woodstock bases its appeal on the original intentions of the founder of McMaster, and the appeal was made with the sanction of the Woodstock Board of Trade.

Then, as was to be expected, an urgent wire came from Toronto at the right moment asking for consideration of the claims of that center before anything final was done. So the "serious consideration" business can now be proceeded with.

* * *

THE discussion of the Sunday school reports brought out the fact that there is a growing interest in this work. The total enrollment showed an increase of 2,983, while the finances made it clear that there had been an increase in givings for all purposes amounting to $23,465.72 over the year 1920. "The Sunday school is the future church," seems to be the accepted attitude of the convention.

* * *

IF THERE were any doubt as to where McMaster University and its chancellor, Dr. McCrimmon, stood in the estimation of the denomination, it was forever put at rest on Wednesday afternoon, when, by the most hearty and unanimous vote, the doctor was elected as chairman of the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention.

Ex-Chancellor Wallace, now of Westmont, Montreal, moved the nomination, and it was so in keeping with the intent of the gathering that there was not another name mentioned.

By the way, Chancellor McCrimmon was the outstanding speaker of the afternoon, dealing with Christian education. He has a wonderful command of English, also a commendable preference for words of very few syllables, and reaches his audience at once, and never lets them go.

Prior to 1911, he was principal of Woodstock, but in that year went as chancellor of McMaster. Bearing the name Abraham Lincoln McCrimmon, he has many of the fine traits of character that made the United States leader famous, chief of them being his outspoken enunciation of rugged truths in such a way as to discount any suspicion that he might be tempted to give ground in his beliefs.

He holds that real men are the nation's greatest asset, and that it is the function and the duty of McMaster to provide these men.

* * *

REV. O. C. S. Wallace of Montreal, ex-chancellor of McMaster, and for many years pastor of Bloor Street Baptist Church in Toronto, made the nomination for the presidency of the convention. He also seconded the report on the university.

He did not mince matters in his message. The heads of the ex-chancellor and the present holder of that position have become grey together in the service, and when they speak the people are willing to pay attention. Here is the view of O. C. S. Wallace as a challenge to the Baptist people to go forward: "The time has come for many of our people to be what few of them have been in the past. . . . . I am persuaded we have come to the greatest chance in our career, and our aim must be that we shall follow men who are following the lead of God."

* * *

ONE of the speakers made a brief reference to the amount of money that was being spent by the Canadian people in a hundred and one trifling things. The figures were quoted to show that it would be possible for the denomination to raise large amounts of money for extension work were they to set themselves seriously to the task. "Why, the Canadian people spend $40,000,000 in confectionery. You spend $60,000,000 a year on tobacco—No, I don't mean the members of this gathering, of course. (Laughter). Then there is $3,500,000 spent on gum, and $7,000,000 on ice cream." I believe the figures were used by Chancellor McCrimmon, who wound up by the remark on raising money for extension work: "If we have the heart and mind it can be done."

* * *

A VENERABLE personage is Rev. Thomas Bingham, now in charge of the Baptist Church at Parkhill. If ever a man had reason for a little pardonable pride at the way his sons have followed in the footsteps of their father, Mr. Bingham might be excused if he leaned that way.

One son, Rev. A. C., is the pastor of Egerton Street Baptist Church in London; another, Rev. H. H., is doing a great work in Calgary, while another in California is doing the work of a medical missionary. Still another son passed away after serving some years in the ministry. The name of Bingham is a byword in Baptist circles.

* * *

ONE sees a number of ministerial-looking parades on the streets of St. Thomas between sessions. There is a grand and impressive assortment of Sunday-preaching coats, and one might gather that it would be impossible to preach a good sermon without such a garment. Then the headgear of the men has a more or less churchy look. Oh, yes, you can tell them all right, as they wander in lots of from two to a dozen. The eating places are also gathering spots, where the discussions of the convention are warmed over to the aroma of St. Thomas soup and fish, and the accompaniment of Elgin County butter and potatoes.

* * *

JAMES Ryrie of Toronto is a much-elected man just now, and Wednesday saw him head the polls for the members to be elected this year to the board of governors of McMaster University. J. K. McDermid of London was on before, and he came back stronger than ever. Rev. C. E. Fox was re-elected, while a new face is C. W. Gillies of Hamilton. The way in which Mr. Ryrie was given his re-election had a very important, although rather indiscreet bearing on the much-discussed Jarvis Street affair, he being one of the members who is at present out of touch with that church, following the trouble in the congregation. That he is very much in touch with the denomination elsewhere was evident by the splendid reception tendered his nomination and subsequent return.

* * *

THE Baptists were busy patting their official backs over the showing that had been made when the Forward Movement money was all counted. They found they had taken in in cash a total of $509,260, and that the total expense in securing and collecting this money had been $17,741.

U. S. PRESIDENT HOPES TO AVERT RAIL STRIKE

PRESIDENT WARREN G. HARDING.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 19.—President Harding is still in daily conference with Government and labor department officials in an endeavor to prevent the threatened strike of railway employees. Following today's conference in the offices of the Interstate Commerce Commission, hope was expressed that a proposed reduction in freight rates by the railroads would induce the rail unions to moderate their demands.

WILL USE OX TEAM AND WOODEN PLOW

Novel Feature For Opening Day At Plowing Match.

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 19.—The big provincial plowing match and farm machinery demonstration got under way today under rather adverse weather conditions. The rain started early this morning and continued well on into afternoon. But despite it a steam of trucks and autos rolled to the grounds about one mile north of the city on the Ontario Asylum grounds and adjacent farms.

Preparations for the big event, for which the real opening takes place tomorrow morning, are complete in every detail, and Lockie Wilson said tonight that the number of entries received today for the different plowing events had boosted the total away above any previous match.

This afternoon the firms demonstrating tractors, plows, disc harrows, etc., gave their first exhibition, and there was a large crowd of farmers present despite the rain. The spectators followed with much interest the work of a dozen or more tractors with three and four furrow plows attached, and watched closely the quality of plowing done by these machines.

At 1:30 p.m. tomorrow his honor the lieutenant-governor, Harry Cockshutt, will start the plowing matches, and the thousands who are expected to attend will have the privilege of witnessing all classes and makes of plows at work. One of the features will be an exhibition by an Oxford County farmer, who will show with a team of oxen and a wooden plow one hundred years old, just how the pioneers tilled the soil.

TRIO OF JAIL-BREAKERS CAUGHT AT SPRINGFIELD, TENN

Escaped From Port Huron Jail Sixteen Days Ago.

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—Following their break from jail at Port Huron on Oct 3, after brutally assaulting a jailer and escape to this side of the St. Clair, Henry Smith, Kenneth Smith and Herman Esau were tonight arrested in Springfield, Tennessee, according to advices received by the local authorities.

The men were awaiting trial on a charge of alleged theft of large quantities of lumber from the Laidlaw and other lumber companies of Sarnia. Reports place the value of the lumber alleged to have been stolen at near $5,000.

The Springfield police say the captured jail-breakers may not be returned to face the charges laid by the Sarnia Lumber firms, as they are wanted in Tennessee for a number of alleged robberies. Sheriff Harrison Maines has left to interview the southern police officials.

WILL INVESTIGATE DEATH OF HOWARD McPHAIL

Inquest Opened at Kincardine and Adjourned Till Friday.

KINCARDINE, Oct. 19.—Following demands of local residents that the sudden death of Howard McPhail, who is alleged to have died shortly after imbibing freely of some so-called "swamp" whiskey, on Monday, should be investigated, an inquest has been ordered.

The following jury was summoned and held a preliminary session in the council chamber Tuesday night: Wm. Temple, foreman; D. R. McPhail, G. Johnston, D. Gledhill, T. Reed, R. Paterson, F. Colwell, W. Hobkirk, G. McCarty, E. Rinker and A. McIntyre. After viewing the body the inquest was adjourned till 8 p.m. Friday next.

It is stated that Dr. Ferguson has pronounced the remains of liquor in the bottle from which the dead man is alleged to have drank, "poisonous."

McPhail, who was quite a young man, is survived by his widow.

JAIL IS NOW EMPTY.

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—Again the "welcome" mat has been put out by Governor Luton at the front door of the county bastile. Every male guest of the governor has departed with a dim prospect of the cells being reoccupied during the Indian summer period. The last of the men left yesterday, and the governor will have to appeal to the magistrate to supply him with help to keep the jail in order.

FARMERS CONTENT WITH HOOKWAY'S NOMINATION

ST. THOMAS, Oct. 19.—There will be no farmers' convention called to indorse or recall the nomination of A. E. Hookway as candidate of the I. L. P.-U. F. O. party. Mr. Hookway today announced that the yeomen of the west riding are perfectly satisfied with the selection made at the meeting Saturday night, and as a mark of their interest in the coming campaign some of the leading parties were in the city yesterday, says Mr. Hookway, consulting him with regard to the part he was to take in the contest.

Mr. Hookway, accompanied by Robert Foster and W. Hancock, were in Simcoe yesterday, and spoke at a meeting held there in honor of P. D. Crerar, leader of the Progressive party. Mr. Crerar promised Mr. Hookway that he will include St. Thomas in his return to the southwest part of the province.

Princeton

PRINCETON, Oct. 19.—Some time since F. J. Daniels sold the general store and dwelling house to Mr. Blackmore and C. F. Cowan jointly. They have just resold it to Thomas Starr, whose son and partner, H. Buck, will conduct the business.

Some of the local women have formed themselves into an auxiliary committee to help in the furnishing of the new memorial library by buying blinds, curtains, chairs, etc. They intend holding monthly teas in the library building. The tea held on a recent Thursday was well patronized, and brought in over $16. The committee officers are: President, Mrs. J. O. Reid; vice-president, Mrs. Freeman; secretary, Mrs. E. Starr; treasurer, Mrs. McColl.

Farmers are busy with their apples. The quality is far below the average, small, hard and mis-shapen. Turnips also are below the average in quantity and quality.

Not "Big Business."

From many sources one hears the remark that this government or that "is catering to big business," or that it is a "big business" government.

When the Canadian ratepayer looks conditions straight in the face —when he realizes that this young nation is up against problems that are so serious as to cause deep concern to men who are well-informed —he will wish heartily that this country had a government that was capable of carrying it on as a "big business" concern.

Now, don't run away with the idea that "big business" means grafting on the public, plotting behind closed doors, or lobbying and bribing for things that could not be done out in the open.

The "big business" concerns of today are conspicuous for their efficiency, for their efforts to reward merit in their service, to promote their men according to their worth, to buy in the cheapest and best markets, to eliminate waste, to introduce the newest and most satisfactory methods of production.

Competition with the rest of the world makes all these things necessary. In short, any business that aims to grow and develop in a big way must follow these cardinal principles, and there is no way in which they can be avoided or dodged.

Why, then, should not the same methods be applied to Ottawa?

If there is any good reason, apart from vote-catching, then we would like to hear of it.

One department of the Canadian Government that should be organized and operated along purely business and commercial lines is that of trade and commerce.

It is not our suggestion that this department should go out and take orders, and otherwise function as a selling agency for any particular Canadian concern. Some Canadian companies have the mistaken idea that this should be the case, and have at various times sent men abroad to call on the foreign offices with the request, "Now, where shall we get orders?"

The department of trade and commerce should be free from political encumbrance, but it is not.

The Advertiser believes there were several times during the Borden regime at Ottawa when Lloyd Harris of Brantford would have been willing to take over the department on the distinct understanding that he be given a free hand in the matter of organization and conduct of that department. The fact that he never undertook the work under the auspices of the Borden administration can be accepted as proof that there were strings and conditions that Mr. Harris did not care to comply with, knowing that he would be hampered from the start.

The present administration at Ottawa is not a "big business" affair in the matter of organization, nor in the calibre of the men in the cabinet.

The cabinet as it stands today has not the confidence of the businessmen of the Dominion—it has not the confidence of the farming community—it has not the confidence of the labor man—it has not the confidence of the returned soldier, nor has it the confidence of the average citizen who cares to study its formation or inquire into its size and strength.

As it stands today, the Meighen cabinet is decidedly of the "Small Business" sort. There is nothing big about it.

The Steel Market.

Steel merchants in Canada report a slight increase in the tonnage they are handling. There are new orders coming in, but the good effect of these is somewhat offset by the curtailed buying of former large users, in a broad way, though, the steel trade believes there is more confidence in the market.

United States steel plants, corporation and independents alike, as well as Canadian mills, can hardly boast much over 40 per cent capacity yet. The whole business is operating in a difficult period.

The one thing that can bring down steel prices is business enough to drive the mills at capacity, and that one thing is still lacking.

A steel mill operating around 40 to 50 per cent is an expensive proposition, a high-cost undertaking, and at the same time it has to face a determined and insistent call from consumers for cheaper steel.

Unpaved Streets.

In view of the shocking condition into which some of our unpaved streets get at certain seasons, one wonders whether the present system, or lack of system, in dealing with these thoroughfares is the best. The usual procedure, when some of the unpaved streets are is a danger of horse, foot and vehicle being swallowed up in the mire mass, is for a few loads of gravel to be dumped into the yawning chasm, the surface of which is afterwards evened off by a more or less decrepit employee of the municipality armed with a shovel.

This is essentially a make-shift method, if method it can be called, and while affording temporary relief it does no permanent good. It is to a large extent a sheer waste of time and material. Would it not be better when streets are chronically in a dilapidated state, to pave them outright and have done with it, especially on streets on which the traffic is comparatively heavy?

One of the great drawbacks of unpaved streets, of which London has far too many, is that they cannot be kept clean, and are a continual menace to public health. This is especially so in the fall and in the spring when the sun, still warm, casts its rays on the impurities which have soaked into the rough and spongy roadway. This danger is particularly acute in the spring when the garbage, which the snow has mercifully covered up, is exposed in all its menacing hideousness. Owing to the roughness of the roadway the spring rains do not wash away the impurities, they merely wash them in.

The Hunting Season.

The hunting season in Maine was opened by a man being mistaken for a deer and shot.

It seems absolutely useless to warn the bush hounds on this score.

Every year sees men who know little or nothing of the bush or of hunting, taking a grand assortment of weapons and endangering the lives of all the other old-time hunters who know what to do and how to do it.

The hunting season has its casualty season just as sure as the swimming season is the sign for divers to start pulling dead people from the bottoms of lakes and rivers

Those Listowel Barbers.

Up Listowel way there's quite a rumpus on just now, and it is not easy to say just when or how it will end.

Now, you see, it all happened like this: One barber reduced the price of hair-cuts from 35 to 25 cents, and in the case of children he was prepared to go one better, and crop the wool off the wee things for 20 cents. Having thus decided, he put a sign in his window, "Back to Pre-War Prices."

You can't stump a barber, though —not for a minute. So another shop —or was it the other shop?—hoisted a sign, "Back to the Good Old Days," and he is whacking off hair for a dime and mowing whiskers for 5 cents.

The only drawback to a case like this is that the residents of the place can't lay in a stock of hair-cuts and shaves to last them through the winter months, and some day folks will see these barbers walking down street arm-in-arm, and thereafter they will pay regular rates for their sealskin hair-cuts and chin-scraping.

LITTLE 'TISERS

After looking over the new Meighen cabinet, one would just naturally conclude that we're being lawyered too much in this country.

Many a woman limps around now with corns and bunions because her husband's safety razor won't peel them off like the good old-fashioned kind used to.

We didn't think of this one first, but even with this great handicap it's pretty fair—there's quite a close connection between home brews and home bruise.

It's a safe bet that some of those Yankee jingoes who are hollering for war with Japan won't be the first to hoist a musket on their round shoulders if trouble does come.

A Princeton professor claims that his children, aged 10 and 16, should have an allowance of $42,000 to fill their expected station in life. The assessor hereabouts must be a low brow, as he writes them off at $200 per head in the tax-exemption claims.

Ottawa Citizen: Dog derby will be run in Manitoba from The Pas to Flin Flon and back. Stakes are $2,500. Messrs. Rogers and Meighen will run next December in Manitoba, too, for higher stakes; but the going to Flim Flam and back will be much harder than in the Reciprocity derby of 1911.

The Border City Star says: "The melancholy days are come. A country paper announces that it is now ready to receive advice on the best means of running the furnace without burning any coal." Let's see. Perhaps the Toronto Globe could dig back in its files and find the way to run a furnace on a mixture of ashes, salt, rainwater and faith.

The frequency of bank robberies leads to the suggestion that there should be some change in the construction of these places, or that the cages might be inclosed in a bullet-proof glass. It has surely been demonstrated enough times in Canada in recent months that a daring man or body of them can quite readily rob the average bank as it stands today.

At a Conservative rally in Toronto Sam McBride said:. "If the Conservatives of Toronto want a Conservative government at Ottawa and a Conservative government in Queen's Park, they should also have a Conservative city council." Why, sure, Sam, and Conservative milkmen, Conservative bakers, bankers, preachers, school teachers, grocers, and everything else. We surely don't favor half-hearted measures.

Census in Detroit shows that foreign-born children are better nourished than American. Figures in Toronto show that foreign-born children are reading more books than the Canadians, and it is also a fact that many foreign-born children are crowding the home-grown out of top places in our schools. The foreigner is quick to see the advantages of Canada, while natives of this country are satisfied to take things as they are and wonder why they are not better.

The Stratford Beacon says: "No one political party has a monopoly of the loyalty of Canada. The recent war gave opportunity for a practical test of patriotism, and all political parties were well represented in the conflict." Young man, haven't you been at any of these good blue-blood Tory meetings? If you can't sit through one of them and come away with the impression that there's a speck of loyalty in any other quarter—well, say, you've got wax in your ears, that's sure.

Of course, all good Conservative nominations are supposed to be made in free and open convention—simply the untrammeled will of the people, etc., etc. It works out like this: H. C. Hocken, member for West Toronto, spoke of H. C. Hocken, as follows: "I do not wish to unduly influence the convention, but I believe—in fact, I know—that Mr. Meighen would very much like to have me back in the House. I could have brought you a letter to that effect if I had desired to do so."

The Ottawa Journal says: "We are told by certain persons that so-and-so has been decided upon as candidate for this party or that. Who in blazes told them so? The delegates will attend to that." This childlike faith is a beautiful thing to behold, but the Ottawa Journal knows politics too well to believe its own writings. The average political convention has a pretty good idea of the lay of the land before the delegates begin to scrape off their boots in the front porch of the meeting-place.

AMERICAN PRESS CLAIMS STRIKE IS LAW DEFIANCE

[New York Times.]

"The strike, if it comes, will be on the single and naked issue of refusing to submit to a decision of the Railroad Labor Board. A year ago, in its decision No. 2, it ordered a substantial increase in the wages of the employees. The railroads submitted, though their labor costs had been increased 115 per cent at the same time that the higher rates granted by the Interstate Commerce Commission pushed up their gross revenues by only 54 per cent. But it was the law, and the railroads did not challenge it. This year the labor board, considering the same element that entered into the question of wages in 1920, and reasoning in exactly the same way as when it came to the conclusion that the men were entitled to higher pay, decided that they ought to accept a reduction averaging 12 per cent. It pointed out that conditions had markedly changed in the twelve months. From a period of inflation and high prices the country had passed into a time of severe liquidation.

This, then, is the decision which the railway unions have voted that they will not obey, even at the hazard of a general strike with its resultant immense loss and injury to the public. They are, therefore, resisting the law of the land. The railroads must submit, the people in general must submit, but the privileged class of railway workers are free to place themselves above the law. This needs only to be stated to be seen to be intolerable."

[Philadelphia Bulletin.]

It is an anomalous condition in a nation which boasts of its self-government and its maintenance of the institutions of law and order, when a board of strategy can sit down, with 2,000,000 men at its command, and decree that on such a day one section of the country shall be deprived of its ordinary means of supply for the necessities of business and industry, if not of actual living; that on a succeeding day another section shall be so fated, and so on until, at an appointed time, the entire country shall be in a state of internal blockade, so far as its principal means of transportation, either of freight or passenger, is concerned.

Such a program comes very near paralleling an act of war. It is a violation of the order of the nation, if not immediately a breach of the peace. It is a conspiracy which denies the rights of millions of persons, wholly without responsibility as to the alleged grievances on which the strike is based, and without direct power to remedy them, save as the public may thus be coerced into political action, and deprives them of what has been determined by law to be a necessary public service.

As an abstract proposition the right of the whole people to deny the right of any group to order and maintain a strike has long been a matter of discussion. Given concrete application in a form which shall be felt by the nation as a whole, there will be little room left for doubt or even argument. The right of the commonwealth must be maintained.

U. F. A. OFFICER DIFFERS SHARPLY WITH WOODS

Following is the full text of the letter of Joshua Fletcher, president of the local U. F. A. of Grande Prairie, and one of the leaders of the Farmers' movement, in which he tenders his resignation as a result of H. W. Wood's dictation in the field of federal politics:

Grande Prairie, Oct. 1, 1921.

To the Secretary and Board of Directors, Grande Prairie District Association, U. F. A.:

Dear Sirs,—Conditions now exist which render it advisable that I should not any longer continue chief executive officer of our district association, and I hereby offer you my resignation as president of our Grande Prairie District Association. I thank you for your hearty co-operation and support given to a good cause, during the four years I have occupied this office. I thank the members of our local unions, who have been the real life of our association for the sacrifices they have made to bring about better things and improve the conditions of the great mass of our industrial people. So successful have you been that President Wood, on a visit to our Grande Prairie convention, declared that he was astonished that our results here were on a par with the very best in the province.

While this is all practically true, I very much regret that during the past year or more there has appeared an element of deception, intrigue and falsehood. This has come to us from a long distance. It has slipped across the Athabasca River, life a thief by night, and entered this Grande Prairie and Peace River land districts, and now seeks to permeate the homes of our people in this great north land.

I should tell you that I deal with this matter as an all-Canadian. Indeed, I could not do otherwise, for I was born in the province of Quebec, spent my school days in Ontario, and lived for more than a dozen years in our fair city of Vancouver, where many of my friends and relatives now reside.

Deciding on an outdoor life, I moved to Ellerslie, Alta., in 1905. The following year we followed the suit of our two sister provinces, and started the Alberta Farmers' Association.

At the end of the term of our first president I was elected provincial president in Calgary, an dthe next year re-elected in Edmonton. I had the honor of being chairman of all the important gatherings we held, which led to the amalgamation of the Alberta Farmers' Association and the Society of Equity, and my good old friend, Mr. Owens, then president of the Society of Equity, will remember how he nominated me and saw me elected chairman of that memorable joint convention that consummated the amalgamation of the two organizations, and called the United Farmers of Alberta into existence. Following this I had the distinctive honor of presiding over the first convention of the United Farmers of Alberta. I refused the offer of re-election by acclamation, believing, as I then stated, that it was not advisable for any set of men to hold office too long. Better make room for promotion.

For several years I have given this work of organization a true and faithful service, and I still think that there is hope for our people, but I am offering my resignation at this time as an emphatic protest against the administration of President H. W. Wood, and against the policy which he dictates.

At one time I was disposed to tender this resignation in the early summer, but preferred to see the provincial elections over, and later to see Mr. D. M. Kennedy safely elected. I have the utmost confidence in the personal qualities of Mr. Kennedy, so I also wished to see that place would be given him in Edmonton, before others taking the people's attention.

In our provincial matters I am sure it will prove deceptive, disapointing and costly, and in our federal or national affairs it would be one dangerous step toward national suicide.

Be kind enough to promptly accept this resignation, that I may be more free to discuss some of the problems which now confront our people and press for solution. Yours sincerely,

JOSHUA FLETCHER.

Read Your Character

[By Digby Phillips.]

NO. 13—EVASIVE EYES.

There's another classification of the eye for the purpose of reading character. It has nothing to do with the shape, color or dimensions of that organ, but rather with certain tricks and habits of using it.

You often hear the remark, "I don't like that man. He has a shifty eye." And the implication is that the man is dishonest. But you should be very careful about making rash judgment against the shifty eye.

It is quite true that a great many dishonest persons have this habit of avoiding your direct glance, but this little trait is only secondarily connected with their dishonesty, and does not by any means necessarily indicate dishonesty.

The explanation of the evasive eye is the simplest thing in the world. It indicates merely a timidity or desire to prevent the reading of thought. And there may be dozens of reasons for it, many of them perfectly innocent.

The person may be timid as a result of guilty conscience, it is true. But he or she may also be timid through mere habit of bashfulness. It may, you see, be a matter of nerves or nervous temperament as well as, or instead of, a consciousness of knowledge desired to be kept secret.

Nervous glances of wide eyes away from your own gaze are rather indicative of plain fright. The shifting of narrowed eyes denotes a nervous timidity of a naturally cautious or cunning individual. (And remember that the difference between caution and cunning is one of high and low mentality more often than of high and low morality.) The slow, downward glance of evasion may indicate either shyness, which is a placid rather than a hysterical emotion, or a conscious and self-controlled desire to "go slow."

Answer.—No.

THE JEST.

WHEN FATHER GREW UP.

Johnny had eaten the soft portions of his toast at breakfast and piled the crusts on his plate.

"When I was a little boy," remarked his father, "I always ate the crusts of my toast."

"Did you like them?" asked Johnny, cheerfully.

"Yes," replied his father.

"You may have these, then," said Johnny, pushing his plate across the table.

IT NEEDED REST.

"What did the doctor say?" asked her husband.

"Not much. He asked me to put out my tongue."

"Yes."

"And he said, 'Overworked.'"

"Ah! Then you'll have to give it a rest, my dear. The doctor knows his business."

A LITTLE DIFFERENCE.

Tourist—My deah young lady, I don't like to remark, but I object to your bathing suit.

Lady Bather—Oh! How you talk! They wouldn't allow me to bathe without it.

ROMANTICISM VS. REALISM.

She (wistfully)—I think this is the most beautiful month in the year. I wish it would last forever.

He—So do I. I have a note which falls due on the first.

AN APT PUPIL.

Old Mr. Fewlox—Don't you think in time you might learn to love me?

Young Miss Goldilox—Well, if I had a nice young tutor I might learn the theory of it.

THE SPORT'S LOGIC.

"I tihnk it's cruel to race the horses that way this hot weather," said the tender-hearted woman on the race course.

"Race 'em what way, mum?" asked the sport.

"Making them go so fast."

"Why, mum, the faster they go the quicker they get through. It's kindness, that's what it is."

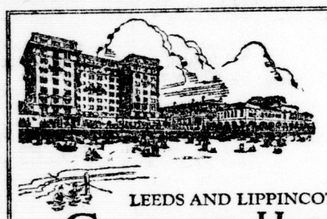

THE ONE THING NEEDFUL.

Mrs. Brown—I hear the vicar thinks your daughter has a real genius for reciting, Mrs. Smith.

Mrs. Smith—Yes. All she wants, he says to me, is a course of electrocution just to finish 'er off, like.

Health Service

By William Brady, M.D., Physician and Author.

Tuberculosis Can Be Arrested.

Tuberculosis is consumption and consumption is phthisis and phthisis is the disease which some of our ancestors and maybe some of their doctors tried to conceal by saying "going into decline." Pulmonary tuberculosis means tuberculosis of the lungs—consumption—phthisis—"going into decline"—but for heaven's sake I hope not "cold settled on the lungs," or "weak lungs," or "a little catarrhal trouble in one lung," any more.

Pulmonary tuberculosis is a chronic disease. That means a disease that runs a prolonged course. There are various more or less arbitrary stages. First, the beginning stage, or as doctors say, incipient tuberculosis; months after the second stage in which the affected part of the lung or lungs becomes more or less solid or infiltrated, like the hardened place around a boil; and third, the breaking down or ulceration of this hardened place to form a cavity. Now, in the benighted age of our grandfathers few doctors were sufficiently educated or equipped with the necessary instruments of precision to detect tuberculosis until the third or cavity stage had arrived, and naturally the chances for recovery after the disease had progressed so far were very small, considering the fear of fresh air which obsessed people in those days. Consequently, "consumption" came to have a bad reputation—and even today few senile individuals realize that the great majority of victims of pulmonary tuberculosis recover.

Here is a rather interesting sentence I take from a personal letter from a tuberculosis patient (not my patient) who has recovered at home:

"I wish there were some way that the general public could be informed about the real meaning of rest, and what can be accomplished in one's own home or locality."

Incidentally the home of the writer of the letter is in a large city in Michigan, not a fancy climate. He begins his letter thus:

"In 1917 I wrote you some of my experiences with T. B. You advised me to submit an article embodying my experiences to some magazine. In October, 1917, I wrote a short article which was published in The Journal of the Outdoor Life."

The article is the leading article of the issue for June, 1921, "How I Won the Battle With Tuberculosis in My Own Home," and a reading of it will repay every tuberculosis fighter who can get hold of the magazine.

Tuberculosis is arrested—with the accent on the REST. Rest is the important remedy—rest in bed, in the open air under the supervision of a physician whose judgment and skill are indispensable for success. This particular victor tells in his magazine article how his doctor approved, advised or counselled at every step from the beginning of the fight to recovery.

A great many victims of tuberculosis get the idea that they can do without expert, helpful care. That idea is a fatal one for hundreds of victims of this most curable of all chronic diseases.

The Cocoa Butter Myth.

I have a thin neck. Will cocoa butter massage help to correct this? C. C. P.

Answer—No. Cocoa butter is an inferior food. No food can be utilized to produce flesh or fat unless eaten and digested in the ordinary way. Massage does not alter the amount of local fat deposit as a rule. Fats or other nutritive substances are not absorbed through the skin, so it is absurd to think of anything of that sort serving as a "flesh food" or "skin food."

Dandruff.

Will cocoanut oil remove the dandruff from my scalp? MRS. S. E. B.

Answer—No. It requires washing to remove the dandruff, and daily self-treatment of the scalp for a period of a month about twice a year, since the condition is more or less infectious and so nearly universal that re-infection is almost impossible to avoid. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope and request special advice about dandruff and the care of the hair.

Heart Trouble.

Kindly answer through your column and give a relief for heart trouble. Do you know of a stimulant I can use? MRS. A. K.

Answer—In most cases of heart disease the use of a stimulant is unwise and sometimes dangerous. Your own physician alone should answer your query.

Cynthia Grey's Mail-Box

[BY CYNTHIA GREY.]

THERE are many ways when on street cars and trains that ladies, as well as gentlemen, can show considerable courtesy.

We have all noticed in crowded street cars or trains that when a lady gets on a gentleman usually offers his seat to her, but it is very unusual to see a young lady abandon hers for an old man, or, in fact, an old lady or cripple. It has been a rule of chivalry with gentlemen for years to give their seats to the female sex, but now men seemingly are becoming more and more reluctant in offering seats to the younger women.

But until the young girls show more consideration to old people and cripples, they cannot expect a different attitude on the part of the men.

There are times when two persons get on a train or car together that they are forced to sit in separate seats because there are no double ones vacant. While you are occupying one by yourself, why not in such cases show consideration by offering them your seat and then occupy a single one yourself?

WANTS RECITATIONS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I did not get any slips, but I guess it is too late to plant them now. Could I get a package of salpiglossis and phlox seeds? Would you also send me "Meddlesome Mattie" and some comic recitations? I would like to get the song called "Grandfather's Clock." I must say good-bye.

JUNE ROSE.

I am very sorry you did not get any slips. I will mail you some seeds, recitations and songs very soon.

To Make Jelly.

Dear Miss Grey,—Back again after some help. I intend having a little (either dinner or cold lunch), in anniversary of our wedding. Of course we are just young, but I've had one every year, and I couldn't miss this one, and I would like you to suggest a menu, if I have a hot dinner. I was having chicken and pie, so could you name something for in between, and if I have a cold lunch I thought of some nice salads. Of course, I'm making a cake. Now, Miss Grey, what can you do?

I guess I am too late to offer any nice pickle recipes, but has everyone made their jelly? I have made all of mine, and I learned a new way to save gas and time by it. To every cup of juice, put a cup of sugar, in a basin large enough to stir, put in hot oven until sugar is too hot for the hands, it has got to be stirred with a spoon. When it is good and hot pour it into the boiling liquid. This is supposed to jelly in ten minutes, but I cooked mine a few minutes longer. This is the way they do it in California I am told.

Must close, hoping you can help me a little. I will sign as before.

A BUSY YOUNG MOTHER.

I think, Busy Young Mother, that I would have the chicken dinner. If you wished you could start the dinner with grape fruit cut in half and served, or sliced in small dishes with orange. Then serve your chicken with mashed potatoes and a little vegetable. If you desired you could serve a little salad in between this and your pie. Ice cream with the pie would be very nice to finish a dinner of this sort.

WILL KNIT SWEATERS.

Dear Miss Grey and Mail-Box Friends.—Good morning. It is a little colder than usual and gives you a feeling as though you want to hug the stove when there is a fire in it. Well, our fairs are almost over for this fall, and Christmas will soon be here. I would give a few hints for Christmas presents, but I think there is not space in the Mail-Box. I see where Health was asking if any of your members knit sweaters. I do, and if Health wishes my address she can get it from the Mail-Box, and I can also give Huroki the information she asked for if she will write to me. Isn't it lovely to see the S. C. H. fund growing, although I have not done as much for it as I would like. Find inclosed a mite, with best wishes to kiddies and all Boxites. 1, 2, 3.

I will be very glad, 1, 2, 3, to receive any hints about Christmas presents that you are able to offer. Many thanks for your generous mite for our hospital fund.

MAKES GENEROUS BID.

Dear Mss Grey,—I noticed in our column that Huroki was asking for some information. Would you please forward the inclosed letter to her, if her address is on file? Am sending mite for S. C. H., and my son also wishes to make a bid of $25 on quilt. This may start others. AUNT MARIA.

Many thanks, Aunt Maria, for your hospital mite, and also to your kind son for his generous bid on quilt. I am mailing your letter to Huroki today.

WANTS SEEDS.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have never written your Mail-Box before, but I always read your Page. Would you please send me some seeds of phlox, pinks and salpiglossis if you have any on hand.

Inclosed find self-addressed envelope and S. C. H. mite. With best wishes to all.

SCOTCH THISTLE.

P. S.—Mother would like your stocking foot pattern and a yoke pattern.

I am mailing you the foot and yoke patterns, also thanks for hospital mite. Please return yoke pattern as soon as possible.

WANTS RECIPE.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am here to bother you. Could you, or any of the readers give me the recipe for lightning yeast, also the recipe for curing pork? I know that it takes salt, sugar, pepper and saltpetre, but I have forgotten the proportions it takes of each. I would like an answer soon. Inclosed find mite for the S. C. H.

A RATTLE SNAKE.

Many thanks for sending a mite to our hospital fund.

CROCHET PATTERNS.

Dear Cynthia,—Will you please send me the address of Health as I will be able to help her? I am sending a few more packages of seeds for the Mail-Box and will send a few crochet patterns the next time I write. I received the S. F. P., sashet directions, also the address and thank you for same. Will you please send me a few of the following seeds: Sweet williams, Salvia, phylox and pinks? Hoping I have not taken up too much room, with best wishes to all from,

YORKSHIRE GIRL.

Yorkshire Girl—You will notice that I have not published part of your letter as it is against the rules to print such matter. I am sending you the seeds you asked for, also thanks for mite.

DARING "SLIP-OFF" EVENING GOWNS

By Marian Hale.

[Copyright N. E. A. Service.]

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—We hear a lot about the slip-on dress—It has been a popular fashion for some time. Now comes the slip-off!

Evening gowns are showing a decided sliding effect when it comes to falling off the shoulder.

An attractive evening gown of flesh pussy willow and satin, richly embroidered in crystal beads, combines rare oriental suggestions with New York suggestiveness.

Of course, when one has beautiful shoulders nothing could be more commanding than this gown.

The skirt girdled with crystal beads is draped in graceful oriental folds.

The gown on the right leaves the shoulders exposed. It is of indestructible chiffon voile and velvet stripes. The sleeves are flowing and are caught merely at the shoulder and elbow.

KING'S DAUGHTERS MEET.

The King's Daughters met on Saturday afternoon at the home of the Misses Sarah and Edna McCorquodale, 22 members being present. The first part was spent in sewing. Then the president, Miss Sarah McCorquodale, presided. The meeting opened with a hymn, followed by a Bible reading by Miss Annie Matheson, after which Mrs. Lane led in prayer. Then Secretary Miss Jessie McCorquodale read the minutes of the last meeting, which were adopted. Misses Norma Ross and Jessie Martin gave two missionary papers, which were very good. A collection was taken which amounted to $2.45. Their next meeting is to be held at the home of Miss Margaret Smith, Embro, on Saturday, Oct. 29. Before dispersing a dainty lunch was served by the Misses McCorquodale, and a social half-hour was enjoyed by all.

COMPLETE PROTEINS.

Certain substances called amino-acids, which contain nitrogen, form in chemical combinations the various foods which are called proteins. Seventeen amino-acids are found in common proteins and the possible kinds of food made by the union of one or another of these seventeen with the various food substances run into amazing numbers—three hundred and fifty times a million, according to one estimate. Complete proteins contain all the substances necessary for building up the body. Milk, meet, fish, eggs and most whole cereal proteins are complete, but others, such as those of gelatine and certain vegetables are incomplete. Lacking certain amino-acids, they cannot give the body the right combinations to enable it to build tissue. They can help to maintain life, but do not promote growth. In an ordinary diet which includes vegetables, milk, eggs, fish and meat, one may be reasonably sure of being provided with plenty of complete protein, but vegetarians may find themselves short of it and should take care to have a good deal of milk, cheese and other complete proteins. In the deit of growing children, this matter of the right kind of proteins is important, and is one of the reasons for the constant and general use of milk.

Protein in food is measured in three ways: according to its weight in grams; according to its fuel value, in calories; or according to the amount of nitrogen which it contains. Thus a cup and an eighth of skim milk contains nine and three-tenths protein grams, thirty-seven protein calories, and one and forty-nine hundredths nitrogen grams.

Puppy Stories

By Vincent G. Perry.

ROBIN'S DILEMMA.

Robin wasn't really a naughty dog. He did not mean to run away at all, but it was such a nice spring day and the sidewalks were so nice and dry he could not help going off on a little trip of adventure. The farther he walked the farther he wanted to go until at last he was many blocks from home.

"My, what a pretty doggy?" cried a little girl. She was a nice little girl, and her little brother who played close by was a nice little boy, Robin knew at once, and because they smiled so pleasantly at him he trotted right over to them.

Mary and Willie, for those were the names of the children, had never had such a happy afternoon as that one. Up and down the street, across the road, through the mud, into the back gate and out by the front gate, they romped with the little dog. At last all three, Willie, Mary and Robin, sank down on the veranda exhausted. It was supper time and soon a voice cried from the house, "Willie, Mary!" It was their mother.

When Willie and Mary ran to the back door Robin was right at their heels, and he followed them into the house. How nice he was, thought the children's mother, and when they pleaded that the little dog might stay, she consented gladly.

So it was that poor Robin found himself in a bad fix. Here he was with a perfectly good home and a dear mistress and a kind master of his own, and now these sweet little children and their very nice mother wanted to adopt him. A dog can't have two homes, Robin knew. But how could he leave the children without making them feel sad? He would stay until morning anyway, and then see what happened.

In the morning paper the children's mother found a surprise.

"Why here is a little dog lost and he is just like our new dog. It must be he. We must take him back to his owners. They are sad without him, no doubt."

How the children did cry then. "He came to us, and we have a right to keep him," sobbed Mary. "Nobody dare take him away from us," wailed Willie.

"But he belongs to someone else, and it would be stealing to keep him," reasoned their mother, But Willie and Mary could not be reconciled.

How Robin wished he had stayed at home. If he had not run away he would not have brought unhappiness to little Mary and Willie. If he stayed there his master and mistress would be made unhappy. What was he to do? He knew his duty was to go home. But how about the children? Then Robin thought of an idea.

Willie and Mary were very sad, for Robin had been taken to his real home the night before. All at once there was a pitter-patter of feet close by, and when the children looked up who should they spy but a kindly-eyed little dog, wagging his tail and trying to make friends.

"It's a new dog!" cried Willie and Mary together, and they hurried into the house with him to show their mother.

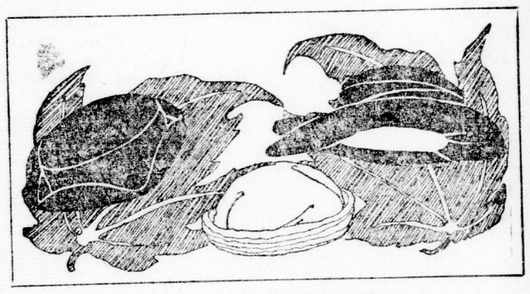

"Someone will claim him," said their mother, but somehow this little dog didn't look like one who would be claimed. And he never was, for he was Rags, the stray dog who lived in Robin's neighborhood and had no one to take care of him. How happy he became in his new home, and how happy Robin was that he had told this poor little dog of a nice place to go,—for you have guessed that it was Robin who had sent Rags to be a playmate for Willie and Mary.

ST. MARYS DEFEAT RIVERSIDES, BUT LOSE ROUND FOR SENIOR TITLE

ALERTS SECOND TEAM TO BEAT SENIOR CHAMPIONS

Beaches Only Others To Turn Trick—Stone Town Well Satisfied With Results—Hu ge Crowd Braved Rain To See Clash.

ST. MARYS, Oct. 19.—The St. Marys Alerts, intermediate lacrosse champs of Ontario, in a fast clean game played here this afternoon, defeated the much-touted Riversides of Toronto, senior champions, by a score of 8 to 6. The seniors only hold their title on the round by four goals. Today has brought to a climax the greatest lacrosse season in the history of the Stone Town, the locals never having lost a game at home and only losing three on a foreign field. Then there are other records in regard to the round with the Riversides for the senior title. In Toronto last week St. Marys scored five goals against the Queen City boys, more than any otherteam this year. Today the fast Alerts trimmed their opponents by two counters. Beaches come next for the season, having won a game by a one-goal margin, so that tonight the Stone Town lads feel prouder, for the fact that they have done something no other team can do, and they have brought honor and renown to St. Marys.

Game Speedy.

Today's game was speedy, and it must be admitted that the Riversides have a very fine team. The field was very wet, it having rained for the last twenty-four hours, but, in spite of this, a huge crowd came, expecting to see a wonderful game, and their wishes were fulfilled. St. Marys fans cheered as never before, when "Slewey" Stewart, by some spectacular playing, sent the first goal of the game past Sutherland. It was not long, however, until Littlefair came back with one, followed by Sullivan with two more before the end of the period, which ended 3 to 1 in favor of the Riversides.

"What had happened?" was the phrase on the lips of the spectators, but only a few minutes of the second quarter had gone when Yates made a lovely pass the whole length of the field to Lou Lavelle; a toss of a stick brought in another counter, and by half time Billy Lavelle had tied the score, 3 to 3.

Hopes High.

Hopes were now running high, the Stone Town lads were showing their mettle and outplaying the visitors. Only one counter was scored in the third and that by Sullivan. Three-quarter time, 4 to 3, Riversides.

The final period was a hummer, every man playing a whirlwind of a game, and the Saints simply walked all over their opponents, outclassing them at every turn. St. Marys started away with the ball, and Cowan tossed in a dandy which tied the score, and a few minutes later he landed another. The Riversides were still going strong, however, and brought in two more to their credit. This did not discourage the locals, for with four minutes to go they made two tallies which won the game. The final score, 8 to 6, for St. Marys.

There were several penalties on either side, but they were very evenly divided. Had the day been fine and a dry field to play on it would have been a different tale, for St. Marys would easily have overcome the six-goal lead and claimed the senior title. As it is they won the game clean, and all who saw it say that the better team won. There was some stiff body checking on both sides, but never once during the game were the Riversides able to break away, every man being closely held to his place.

The line-up:

St. Marys — Stevens, goal; Stewart, point; Yates, cover point; Wilson, first defence; Alberts, second defence; Tuer, centre; Lou Lavelle, second home; Smith, first home; Cowan, outside home; Bill Lavelle, inside home; Stryker, substitute; F. Wilson, substitute.

Riversides—Sutherland, goal; Sullivan, O'Rourke, Chandler, Bennett, Sullivan, McGregor, Keith, Littlefair, McLean, Robertson, Robinson.

Referee—A. Kinder, Preston.
Judge of play—C. Parkinson, Toronto.

McGILL AND MURRAY JOIN M. A. A. A. SQUAD

MONTREAL, Oct. 19.—Frank McGill and Tim Murray, former stars of the M. A. A. A. rugby squad, were out with the winged wheelers, and went through a strenuous practice in preparation for the remaining scheduled games of the team in the Interprovincial. The addition of the two players to the roster of the M. A. A. A. Club team will greatly bolster up the strength of the red and blue. Murray will start at inside on Saturday, when the team lines up against the Senators at Ottawa. It is hardly likely that McGill will figure in the Ottawa fixture, but the former quarter will be ready to don the uniform in the Tiger game here on Oct. 29.

Techs Present Stronger Team

Meet Woodstock College II.'s Today at Queen's Park.

London Technical squad meets Woodstock College II.'s at Queen's Park this afternoon at 3:30 in a Middlesex and Oxford Rugby Union game. This game was to have been played last Friday, but the Woodstock team was delayed on the road here, and it was found necessary to call it off. The London team could have won the game by default, but sportsmanship was shown, and it was arranged that Woodstock would be given another chance to appear here.

Captain Loveless of the Tecs has made a general shake-up. Barnard, a new man, who tips the scales at 200 pounds, will add considerable weight to the line, which heretofore hasn't been any too beefy. Loveless himself has gone to the back field, and Upthegrove will take his place in the line. These changes should add weight to the line and speed to the back field, and a big difference should be noticeable this afternoon in the style of play.

The Tec line-up will be:

Snap, Mills; quarter, Birch; ends, J. Kennedy, Upthegrove; guards, Northcott, Barnard; flying wing, Spence; halves, Appleford, Loveless; full back, E. Kennedy.

Bill Mace of Western U. will referee.

SHORT SHIPPERS AT DETROIT CALLED OFF

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich., Oct. 19.—Heavy rain this morning made it impossible to attempt racing here today and the "short ship" program was laid over until Thursday.

Three events are on the card, the 2:18 trot, which has ten entries; the 2:12 pace, which has eight, and the 2:24 trot, which has twelve. It is expected there will be three days more of racing.

Many of the horses will remain here for the winter meeting, Jan. 22-27. Manager Taylor says he is assured of more entries than for any previous winter meeting.

Because of the lateness of the season, the meeting at Dexter Park, Detroit, has been called off.

JUST BETWEEN US

(BY SEE S. GEE)

London needs two junior hockey teams about as much as a Russian needs two sets of whiskers, but if the present deadlock continues the situation may be inflicted part on London and part on St. Thomas. What London does need is good hockey sportsmanship, lots of co-operation on the part of all the hockey fans, and ambitious hockey impresarios, and then it will be plenty hard enough producing a real junior team.

George Maines forecasts what may happen to organized baseball as the result of Ruth's defiance of Judge Landis. One doesn't need a cauliflower ear to the ground to reason that George could practice a little of the forecast business with respect to his own circuit, the Mint. There are, however, many private doubts whether the Mint during the last year came under the head of organized ball.

The meeting of the O. H. A. will be the signal for one of those famed sputtering clean-up campaigns that sputters out once, two or three of the most aggravated cases are attended to. It's a hardy perennial, this clean-up, that worries the clubs even less than it does the official gardeners of hockey.

Peckinpaugh's error gave the Giants the series and the world's title. If it weren't for the men who make the errors in the game of life, guess everybody would be tied in the standing.

Buck Weaver has started suit against the White Sox for $20,000 back salary. Buck claims that the courts proved him not guilty, therefore his contract with Comiskey should be legal. The legal machinery will likely get most of the money, but Buck may get back into organized ball on the strength of a victory. The law didn't clear the rest of Weaver's teammates very far outside the courtroom.

Petrolea is hardly recovered from the nasty mauling handed them by the Blue and White Sarnians last Saturday. They take on Wallaceburg this week and rumors of discontent on the team will be proven then. Last Saturday's battle wasn't any love-fest, but great care was taken by the Sarnia officials to keep the crowds off the field. Last year's lesson has been learned well.

REID PUTS "U" THROUGH NEW FORMATIONS

First Appearance With Squad Since Return.

OPEN UP GAME

Western Likely To Change Tactics For Saturday.

Coach Buster Reid took charge of the Western U. squad yesterday afternoon for the first time, and took them hurriedly through some of the elementary things of the game before going into any special department.

Several new formations adaptable for the snap-back, and which gets the ball into play as near the offside borders as it is possible to get, were tried out and practiced. Passing also was emphasized in the workout, and the squad should play a more open game than they essayed their first appearance. The ends appear to have pretty sure hands, but the work will require some speeding up.

Varsity Line Heavy.

Varsity, which comes here Saturday, possesses just as much beef on the line as they were noted for last year. And it's not by any means all brawn they present either. Had "Red" Cowan been able to mix studies and rugby this year, Sarnia would have had three representatives on the Blue and White seconds, but he was forced to choose the glow of the candle. "Poke" McGibbon, captain and quarterback of last year's S. C. I. interscholastic champions, calls the signals, and Stewart Henderson, another border graduate, is on the half line.

Another workout is scheduled for this afternoon at the same time. The squad is anxious to get back the opening defeat, and figure if they can slip a beating to Varsity the rest won't be so hard.

THISTLE CLUB EUCHRE TOURNEY ON FRIDAY

The Thistle Club will stage another tourney next Friday evening in their club house, and bowlers and curlers are invited to turn out. Competition is getting keen now, and there is a good possibility of the leaders getting set back a few points Friday. The present leaders are: A. M. Trick, J. C. Ross and J. F. Bryant. Lone-hand artists are: I. Durken, J. F. Bryant and J. C. Ross.

DELIGHTFUL MEN'S BANQUET.

NEWBURY, Oct. 19.—Knox Church men's banquet was held last week in the Sunday school room. Supper was served by the Ladies' Aid. About 70 men sat down to tables bountifully laden and tastefully arranged. After supper William Atkinson of Wardsville sang a solo. The speaker of the evening, Rev. G. A. Woodside, of Zion Church, Brantford, gave an eloquent address on "The Essential Things That Characterize a Christian." Solos by Mrs. H. Galbraith of Appin and Mrs. Leekie were also greatly enjoyed.

L. C. I. JUMP INTO LEAD OF GROUP WITH 28--8 WIN

Woodstock Collegiate Easily Beaten Yesterday — Squad Looks Like New Team.

MIDDLESEX-OXFORD LEAGUE.

Standing.

London C. I.	2	0	53	8
Woodstock C.	1	0	11	1
Woodstock C. I.	0	1	8	28
London Tec	0	2	1	36

The London Collegiate rugby team, by virtue of their win over Woodstock Collegiate squad at Tecumseh Park on Wednesday afternoon by the score of 28 to 8, become leaders of the Middlesex-Oxford Rugby Union, with two wins and no losses.

Reg. Beard, Crittle and Sessions can be acclaimed as the players who put the L. C. I. team where they are today. Beard especially, as his playing yesterday was brilliant. He scored four touchdowns, and was responsible for some of the heavy tackling London administered to the visitors.

The L. C. I. team was an entirely different one to that which played the St. Thomas C. I. squad a week ago today. They tackled especially well. New signals were put in use yesterday, and they worked out much better.

Visitors Score First.

However, the visitors drew first blood yesterday, when they converted a touchdown. This was done after five minutes of play, but London bucked up after this and put the Woodstock crew on the defensive. Beard took a nice pass from Crittle 25 yards from the Woodstock goal, and went through for a touchdown. London failed to convert it, and the teams settled down to almost an even basis again. Beard got another touchdown after the kickoff. No more scoring took place during this quarter.

London got four points in the second quarter, on a field goal and a rouge. Crittle's tackling probably prevented Woodstock from scoring several times. Mountfield, King and Gardner showed up well for the visitors during this quarter.

Beard got his third touchdown after five minutes of the third quarter had elapsed. Woodstock came right back with a rouge, and then three minutes after they made their last point of the game on another rouge.

At the opening of the last quarter London pressed hard and succeeded in coming within 25 yards of the enemy's line. Signs of another touchdown looked bright, but the wires were crossed, and all the local students got was a rouge. Beard got his fourth touchdown and made London's score 26 on a good run immediately after. Two rouges followed quickly, and the game ended with London leading by 20 points.

Beard was carried off the field on the shoulders of his team-mates.

NATIVES OF LABRADOR ARE IN DESPERATE NEED

OTTAWA, Oct. 20.—(By Canadian Press.)—Capt. Alfred Living, in charge of the Dominion Government reindeer herd situated at Lobster Bay, Labrador, has completed his mission here, and is returning bearing supplies of food and clothes to tide the destitute natives over the winter.

An epidemic of influenza and pneumonia last spring, which has left the people in a weakened condition, has been followed by a season in which both fish and fur have failed them. Thus there are 400 to 500 families in Canadian Labrador who are without the absolute essentials of life. Even where a fair catch has been secured the price of only $2 per barrel was obtained, where normally $8 is paid by the trader. Thus the native has been unable to lay in his winter store of provisions from the outside. Many families which he has visited, says Capt. Living, are in a state of actual starvation. Indians, half-Eskimos and a sprinkling of white men married to natives constitute the population.

Bishop Appeals to Province.

During the influenza epidemic, says Capt. Living, he covered 150 miles of coast line, having to visit each family. Practically every family was affected, and in some cases he found every member prostrated and unable to do anything for each other.

The result of all this is that the colony is now utterly dependent upon some outside relief. Though Capt. Living would ordinarily not have to come out and lay the state of affairs before the authorities. After 120 miles travel down to Harrington, he caught a steamer for Quebec. Here he interviewed Premier L. A. Taschereau and other members of the Provincial Government. Realizing the emergency of the case, Premier Taschereau has placed at Capt. Living's disposal such quantities of flour, lard, molasses and tea, as will keep the natives alive until spring.

The co-operation of Bishop Williamson of Quebec was also secured, through whose mediation a general appeal for clothes was made throughout the province, a large number of the people being without warm things to cover them during the long, rigorous winter. A generous response has been met, with the result that Capt. Living is assured of taking back with him a large quantity of clothing suitable for men, women and children.

In addition to the supplies of food that have been forthcoming from Quebec, the Federal Government on its side has provided Capt. Living with a steamer to transport him and his supplies back to the Labrador coast. During many weeks after his arrival he will be entirely occupied in making the distribution of food and clothing by means of dog sleighs.

Natives Sincerely Religious.

The reindeer, says Capt. Living, constitutes the natives' continuing source of milk, butter, transportation and animal food. Although his work is officially that of reindeer conservation, he acts often enough as counsellor, and even in emergency as practising physician. In the remote scenes of his labors he has often found it necessary to perform surgical operations. He will return with a provision of first-aid remedies and simple medicines, prepared to meet a number of emergencies.

Capt. Living reports the natives as sincere in their beliefs and ready to make great sacrifices for them. Last spring, he says, a party brought the body of an Indian of 24 and a young squaw of 6 from 100 miles inland, where they had died, to the Christian settlement of St. Augustine, so that they might be buried there. They made the final days of the difficult and hazardous trip entirely without food.

The Indian in that country, says Capt. Living, almost universally wears a silver cross about his neck, and this has sometimes been put to a strange use. Where one of them became insane, as was not infrequent, the man was bound and his cross taken from him. This was melted into a silver bullet, with which the unfortunate man was shot to death. This is a practice, however, which the authorities have stamped out.

The Tell-Tale of Gray Hair

To be judged ten years older than you actually are, is the tell-tale of gray, streaked hair, which detracts from a youthful appearance as much as a wrinkled face does.

Women, everywhere, prefer the easy, harmless "Brownatone" method that tints gray, streaked, faded or bleached hair, instantly, to any shade of brown or black.

Without injury to hair or scalp, "Brownatone" imparts natural, lasting colors that defy detection. Does not rub or wash off; and requires just a few moments to apply.

Guaranteed absolutely harmless. Two sizes—50c and $1.50 with easy, complete directions. Two colors—shading from "Golden to Medium Brown" and "Dark Brown to Black."

"Brownatone" is sold and recommended in London by Cairncross & Lawrence, Taylor Drug Company, Standard Drug Company, Limited and other leading dealers.

Special Free Trial Offer.

For a free trial bottle of "Brownatone" send to The Kenton Pharmacal Company, 600 Coppin Bldg., Covington, Ky., enclosing 10c to pay postage and packing. b

DEMPSEY HAS TO SIGN UP YET

CHICAGO, Oct. 19.—"Tex" Rickard, boxing promoter, conferred with Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, heavyweight champion, here today in an effort to obtain Dempsey's signature to a contract for a championship match with Jess Willard next July. The men will confer again tomorrow, Rickard said.

Rickard will return to New York tomorrow night. Willard has already signed for the bout. No specific date has been proposed for the bout, and Rickard is undecided as to where it will be held. Willard has not boxed publicly since he lost the championship crown to Dempsey at Toledo, two years ago.

PORTUGUESE TROOPS CLASH WITH CITIZENS

Badajose, Spain, Oct. 20.—Serious disorders attended the military movement against the Portuguese Government which broke out in Lisbon on Wednesday, it is said in advices received here. The trouble began when the Cafe Brasiliera, a political rendezvous, was closed, citizens and the Republican Guard coming into collision.

In the ensuing demonstration there was considerable rifle and revolver firing, but the number of casualties is not known here. The police have placed numerous persons suspected of being involved in the disorders under arrest.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

HAY IN DEMAND, BUT SUPPLY INADEQUATE

Apples Plentiful On Market, But Quality Is Not Best.

There was a keen demand for hay on the local market Thursday, but very little was offered for sale. As high as $20 a ton is being paid.

In the last week there has been a good demand for eggs, but the supply has been light. A few farmers asked as high as 60 cents a dozen on Saturday's market.

Apples are plentiful, but those offered are not of the best quality. The city people, it is expected, will start to purchase in larger quantities for storing purposes in the course of a few weeks.

Pears sold for $1.50 a bushel on Thursday's market, but they were of an inferior quality and only good for immediate use.

Chicago, Oct. 20.—Wheat scored a moderate rally today, chiefly as a result of covering by shorts. Predictions in some quarters that a general railroad strike would yet be averted counted somewhat as a bullish factor. Besides, hope was expressed for a fair export business today. Opening prices, which varied from unchanged figures to 1½c higher, were followed by numerous changes within the initial range.

Corn and oats paralleled the action of wheat. Corn started ⅛c to ⅜c up, and then continued to harden.

Oats were ⅛c higher at the outset, and later scored additional gains.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Oct. 20.—Most of the activity in a quiet forenoon on the Toronto Stock Exchange was centered on investment issues. Bank stocks were in fair demand, although there was no important change in prices. Victories were firm, the 1922's selling up to 99.25. C. P. R. wavered between 122 and 122¾, with trading slight. Steamships preferred weakened to 53¾, and General Electric to 93.

PREDICTS TAXATION PLAN AIMED TO HIT INCOMES

B. C. Government Leader Makes Forecast in Moving Throne Speech.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 20.—J. B. Clearihue, government member for Victoria, moving the address in reply to the speech from the throne in the legislature today, forecasted a system of taxation which would reach all incomes and secure to the public treasury "a share of every dollar earned in the province."

Mr. Clearihue said that he had been informed by members of the British Columbia liquor control board that this winter they would be able to announce a very handsome dividend.

W. J. Bowser, Opposition leader, gave notice of motion for an inquiry into alleged wrongful acts of the government. He chiefly criticised the administration of the government liquor act.

It was learned today in the provincial capital that the province will resume payment of one-third of Vancouver's cost of unemployment relief, which will amount to $30,000 since last April, when the provincial government discontinued the allowance.

BOURASSA ILL; UNABLE TO BECOME CANDIDATE

Montreal, Oct. 20.—In the course of his speech delivered last night, Henri Bourassa announced he would not be a candidate in the federal elections.

"My physical forces are worn out; I can no longer bear the strain of carrying on an election campaign," he said.

INVESTMENT BANKERS

If You Have $300 or More Read This

IT is well to have money in a Savings Bank and get 3% or 4% on it. Nobody will find fault with your prudence.

But when you consider that Governments are borrowing money at 6% and higher and that there are enterprises in which you can invest with equal safety and get 8% on your money, surely it is the height of prudence to look into such investment offerings.

A case in point, and one worthy of your immediate attention, is the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, Montreal.

This enterprise is the largest of its kind in the British Empire. There is no city in Canada where the need of such an hotel is greater, and where the earning powers of the hotel is more certain than in Montreal.

Montreal is our greatest ocean port; it is our greatest transcontinental terminus and the centre of all Canadian tourist traffic from the Eastern and Southern United States. For these reasons, then, we recommend those who have the money to consider immediately the investment of a portion of it in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited.

By all the estimates which the United Hotels Company of America have prepared, the earnings will be not only ample to pay the interest on the Debentures, but there should be a very substantial margin available for dividends upon the Common Stock which is now given as a bonus. For, remember, King Edward Hotel Common Stock (another United Hotels enterprise) is now paying dividends at the rate of 10% per annum, although it, too, was also given away as a bonus three years ago.

In short, you may invest in the 8% Convertible Debentures of The Mount Royal Hotel Company, Limited, with the assurance that your money is safe—your 8% interest certain and your prospects good for a nice profit from your Common Stock Bonus.

The price of the Debentures is par, carrying a 30% Common Stock Bonus. Send your order now or write for full particulars. Address:

M. R. DUNCAN NOMINATED BY NORTH GREY TORIES

Enthusiastic Convention Held at Owen Sound Wednesday Afternoon.

OWEN SOUND, Oct. 19.—The National Liberal and Conservative convention held in the city hall this afternoon was one of the largest and most enthusiastic ever held here, in spite of heavy rain from early morning until after the time of the opening of the meeting. There were delegates from almost every poll in the riding, many driving over 40 miles to be present.

T. W. Thomson, president of the Conservative Association, acted as chairman.

W. T. Moore, Meaford, moved the suspension of the rules to permit of a unanimous renomination of the ex-member, W. S. Middlebro. C. S. Cameron seconded the motion, which was enthusiastically carried. Mr. Middlebro was visibly touched, and expressed himself as deeply gratified. He spoke briefly on the principal issues in the present election, and reviewed the work of the Government.

He spoke on what the Government had done for the soldiers, and of the unholy alliance that existed between labor and farmers. The tariff was the big issue, he declared, and outlined the effect on the cities, towns and on the farmers if this were removed. He told the meeting he was withdrawing from the field because of personal reasons, but thanked the convention for its expression of confidence in him. Three rousing cheers were given him, followed by the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Nominations were then called for, and the following names were placed before the convention: M. R. Duncan, C. S. Cameron, Dr. Howey, Matthew Kennedy, J. F. Thomson, Robert Ferguson and M. Suethinger. All but Mr. Duncan and Mr. Ferguson withdrew. The vote was 274 to 63 in favor of Mr. Duncan. The choice was made unanimous. Mr. Duncan asked a week in which to make up his mind, but on a general call of "Make it up now" he finally gave his decision in the affirmative.

The minister of labor, Hon. Gideon Robertson, spoke briefly, and treated the Liberal leader and his policy very briefly, but dealt with the policy as outlined by Mr. Crerar at some length. He denounced the alliance between labor and farmer, and went particularly into details of the consequences of free trade in Canada. In the evening Senator Robertson met the labormen in their hall, and spoke to them at some length.

WITNESSES INDUCED TO COMMIT PERJURY

Comment of Magistrate Livingstone After 3 Liquor Cases.

BRANTFORD, Oct. 19.—Because of the activities of what is alleged to be a clique which coerces crown witnesses in local liquor cases, three defendants in three distinct liquor cases were dismissed in the police court today. Magistrate Livingston permitted a complete hearing in each of the cases and declared that there was very strong evidence of inducement being offered crown witnesses to perjure themselves.

In the case against James Bullock and Joe Dutton, alleged to have been selling liquor, Bullock stated that J. H. Spence and Bob Lyle of the department of customs and inland revenue, had attempted to coerce them and had held them up with revolvers near McArthur's house.

Fred McArthur, crown witness, who confessed perjury, changed his story at a previous trial to the effect that money which he had given Bullock was for a loan, now said that it was for five gallons of Seagram's whiskey. Asked if he had been offered any inducement or had he been threatened, the witness admitted that Mr. Spence had told him that he would get six years on another charge if he did not testify against Bullock and Dutton.

Charges against John Gumenuk and Bruce Cameron, each of having illicit stills in their possession, were dismissed.

CRERAR MAKES PLEA FOR RIGID ECONOMY

Addresses Largest Audience of His Campaign At Woodstock

WOODSTOCK, Oct. 19.—(By Staff Correspondent Canadian Press.)—Hon. T. A. Crerar, leader of the National Progressives, tonight addressed the largest crowd of his campaign. From counties around the annual plowing match had attracted thousands, and the large skating rink in which Mr. Crerar spoke had no seats vacant.

Mr. Crerar left the more familiar ground of previous speeches to analyze the Dominion's financial situation. There was urgent need for economy. He stressed the point that before September, 1925, the Dominion would have $600,000,000 in maturing loans to refund. "We need," he said, "a sound financial policy, founded on the practice of the most rigid economy in every branch of public expenditure."

Mr. Crerar then took up some of the prime minister's charges against the Progressive party and against himself. Mr. Meighen, he said, had claimed that the Progressive party was a dangerous menace to Canada, as being composed of wreckers, allied with seditionists, who would pull down the existing institutions of the country and lay them in the dust.

"Most Unfair Criticism."

"That," commented Mr. Crerar, "was the most unfair criticism I think that has fallen at any time from any Canadian public man."

"Charges have been leveled against me," Mr. Crerar went on, "because of my connection with the Grain Growers' Grain Company (United Grain Growers). But what is the grain growers' organization? It is comprised of 35,000 shareholders, no one of whom is allowed to hold more than $1,500 worth of stock. It is a co-operative concern. Is it not a perfectly legitimate thing for farmers to get together and organize for the handling of their grain? If this is not a legitimate thing, why is it not? Why all this criticism against it? It is only to throw dust in the eyes of the public.

"Speaking at Brockville," proceeded Mr. Crerar, "Mr. Meighen accused me of being a Liberal, and said that the whole Progressive movement was a dilapidated annex of the Liberal party. Mr. Meighen is developing a very fervid imagination. There are not many Liberals throughout Canada who think that. I don't think Mr. King regards it as the case in North Essex today, and I don't think that the Liberal candidate in this constituency thinks we are a dilapidated annex of the Liberal party.

Spend Their Own Money.

"He also criticizes my election manifesto. He states that the grain growers of Western Canada have spent more on political propaganda than the Government has spent. That is not the case, and if the farmers of Western Canada have spent money in political propaganda it is their own money they have been spending, but where is the Government getting its campaign funds? I have already asked Mr. Meighen that question. I now ask it again."

As Mr. Crerar turned to the tariff issue he was submitted to a short, sharp fire of questions. Mr. Crerar was referring to the present-day condition in Old Ontario. He had been told, he said, that farms could be bought for little more than the cost of improvements; that the older parts of Ontario were producing less in agriculture than 30 years ago.

"Is the prosperity of the United States due to protection or free trade?" came a sharp interruption.

"The prosperity of the United States," Mr. Crerar replied, "is due to the fact that the United States is the greatest single free trade area in the whole world. The United States produces everything it needs."

"That is what we should do," another voice broke in. "That can only be done by a high tariff."

Oppose High Tariff.

Mr. Crerar, proceeding, claimed that leading financial channels in New York were opposed to the principle of high tariff. In his view, the United States would never again for any great length of time submit to a high tariff.

"They have a higher tariff than we have," again a voice interposed from the crowd.

Mr. Crerar differed. Boots and shoes and many other articles, he claimed, entered the United States on the free list.

While on the question of economy, Mr. Crerar referred to a statement attributed to a cabinet minister that a new dry-dock would be built in Vancouver, costing $2,500,000.

"I hope it is not true," said Mr. Crerar, "It may be only an election promise, but even at this time such a promise should not be made."

The $10,000,000 for government shipping, Mr. Crerar said, was passed under closure to finish ships now not worth more than two-thirds of what they cost, and, in some cases, to carry out contracts let only a month or two previously.

How to Rid the Arms of Objectionable Hairs

[Aids to Beauty.]

A simplified method is here given for the quick removal of hairy or fuzzy growths, and rarely is more than one treatment required: Mix a stiff paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface, and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin, and every hair has vanished. This simple treatment cannot cause injury, but care should be exercised to get real delatone.

Get Wincarnis To-day —and Feel Better To-morrow

—for WINCARNIS acts quickly—and its benefits are lasting

WINCARNIS is more than a passing stimulant—it is a Tonic, Restorative and Blood-maker. It contains the very elements of which our bodies are composed, so that when these enter the system in the form of WINCARNIS—they are bound to benefit you immediately.

Your body contains Iron and Manganese, Calcium, Potassium, Sodium, Phosphorus. So does WINCARNIS, and the wonderful part of the WINCARNIS formula is that it has all these mineral salts in scientific proportions, together with Beef and Malt Extracts.

When you are Ill and Run Down, your body lacks these elements. WINCARNIS gives them back to you—restores the richness of your blood—strengthens your nerves—creates energy—and gives you new life and health.

The Economy of Wincarnis

The ingredients in Wincarnis are highly concentrated. The prescribed dose is one to two tablespoonfuls, (not wineglassfuls as in the former preparation).

The new Wincarnis therefore, will go further, and be found more economical than other tonics, so-called, requiring a much larger dose.

Begin To-day to Get Well

WINCARNIS is the world's greatest tonic. Doctors recommend WINCARNIS, and thousands testify to its wonderful results.

YOU try it. Buy a bottle to-day. At all druggists. Price $1.50 for 16-oz. bottle.

MEIGHEN DENIES SAYING FARMERS ARE 'BOLSHEVIKS'

Tells Clinton Meeting He Resents "Imputation of Idiosyncrasy" Implied.

GUTHRIE FLAYS CRERAR

Minister of Militia Declares U. S. Immigrants Originated "Selfish Movement."

CLINTON, Ont., Oct. 19.—(Canadian Press Staff Correspondent.)—A large crowd gathered at the rink here this afternoon to hear Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, minister of militia, and local speakers discuss political issues. The chair was taken by C. C. Middleton, president of the South Huron Liberal-Conservative Association, while J. J. Merner, Government candidate in the riding, was on the platform.

Mr. Merner, the first speaker, referred to Mr. Meighen as the biggest man Canada had produced.

Mr. Meighen had, he said, been born just across the boundary of Huron, so they were justified in thinking of the premier as one of their own boys. Mr. Meighen was the most experienced of the three men who were seeking to lead the country, and this was a time when experience was necessary.

Hon. Hugh Guthrie said that the recent war was responsible for great political changes in Canada. Old affiliations had been broken and new and formidable political forces had arisen.

Blames U. S. Immigrants.

The political movement of Mr. Crerar, in the opinion of Mr. Guthrie, originated in the minds of immigrants from the United States. They were looking back home and trying to make a clear path between them and the land they had left. The Farmer movement was a class movement, and nothing else, said Mr. Guthrie.

"It is a selfish movement," he said. "It is a movement seeking support for farmers just because they are farmers. The principles which it seeks to enforce are not in the interests of the people of Canada."

George Spotten, Liberal-Conservative candidate in North Huron, said that while Sir Robert Borden and his colleagues were using all their strength to help the boys at the front, Premier Drury and J. J. Morrison, secretary of the United Farmers of Ontario, were at Ottawa trying to prevent the sending of help.

Premier Meighen said he was on the platform to stand for what he had done as a public man and to tell why he did it and also to discuss the issues which the people must decide. He said that he was accused of having usurped the office of prime minster because he had not been elected by the people of Canada to that office. He asked his hearers whether Premier Drury had ever been elected as prime minster of Ontario. He did not dispute the fact that Premier Drury was rightly holding the office, but he insisted that his right was just as good as Premier Drury's. There was nothing in all these cahrges of autocracy.

Resents Implied "Idiosyncrasy."

Mr. Meighen said that he had been charged with referring to Canadian farmers as Bolsheviks. He did not like to see an imputation of idiosyncrasy to him. This was the first time he had referred to this charge and he did it only because a minister of the Ontario Government had made reference to it. He had written to this minister asking him to present proof that the statement had been made and the minister, in a confidential letter had replied that he never made the reference attributed to him, and that he was satisfied that Mr. Meighen had never made such a statement.

What he said, declared the prime minister, was that though the Progressives themselves were wholly opposed to Bolsheviki principles, they had trailed behind the men of seditious and Bolshevistic tendencies. To this statement he adhered.

The premier again combatted allegations that the Government was working for the "big interests." He declared that a man who would make charges such as those which Mr. Crerar had advanced in his manifesto, without backing them up, lacked the courage necessary for the office of prime minister.

Voters Lists To Be Compiled From Latest Municipal Lists

OTTAWA, Oct. 19.—(By Canadian Press.)—The latest municipal lists will be used in Ontario for the compilation of the voters' lists for the coming federal election, it was announced today by Col. O. M. Biggar, chief electoral officer. The arrangement was made through agreement between the Government and the headquarters of the Liberal and Progressive parties, and on the suggestion of Colonel Biggar.

The result of this action will be that those whose names appear on the latest and most complete list in each municipality will not have to register, as their names will be placed on the Dominion lists without intervention.

Those whose names are not on the municipal lists will have to register. The procedure will, if it is considered necessary, be ratified at the next session of Parliament.

Goderich Extends Welcome To Premier.

GODERICH, Oct. 19.—H. J. A. McEwin of Goderich, secretary of the North Huron Liberal-Conservative Association, presided at the Conservative rally addressed here today by Premier Meighen, Hon. Hugh Guthrie, J. J. Merner, candidate in South Huron, and George Spotten of Wingham, candidate in the constituency of North Huron.

Mayor Wigle presented the premier with an address of welcome from the people of Goderich.

An address from the National Liberal and Conservative Association of North Huron was given to the premier by G. W. Scott, president of that organization.

Mr. Spotten said that this Govenment had made more enemies through passing and enforcing the military service act than any other way. He would not say that the United Farmers of Ontario was born in the cradle of conscription, he said, but he declared that the membership of that organization had doubled and trebled in the years following the passage of the bill. In Quebec the "solid bloc" was fighting the Government on an anti-conscription program.

FIND SEA TROUT IN LAKE HURON

WIARTON, Oct. 19.—Catching of sea trout in Lake Huron near here is becoming quite common just now. T. J. Walsh of Oliphant reports having caught two Monday, making the third, all about eight pounds in weight, in the last ten days. The fish are of the kind known as "Jumpers" or "Grilse."

ANOTHER BARN BURNED.

ST. MARYS, Oct. 19.—Fire of unknown origin totally destroyed the large barn owned by Earl Evans, four miles west of this town. The entire season's crops of grain and livestock in the barn were also destroyed. The damage is estimated at $5,000, partly covered by insurance.

READY IN TEN DAYS.

SARNIA, Oct. 19.—The new ferry-boat which is to run between Sarnia and Port Huron, and which is owned by the newly-organized International Ferry Company, Limited, is still at Quebec undergoing repairs, and will not arrive here for perhaps ten days.

Careless Shampooing Spoils the Hair
Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.
The best thing for steady use is Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than anything else you can use.
One or two teaspoonsful of Mulsified will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.
You can get Mulsified cocoanut oil shampoo at any pharmacy. It's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months. Be sure your druggist gives you Mulsified.

HOW TO GUARD AGAINST APPENDICITIS ATTACK
Appendicitis is an intestinal infection often due to old, retained waste matter. Even though bowels move daily, poisons may accumulate in the system for months. The intestinal antiseptic, Adler-i-ka, acts on BOTH upper and lower bowel and brings out matter which might start an appendicitis infection. EXCELLENT for gas on the stomach and chronic constipation. Adler-i-ka brings out matter which you never thought was in your system. Standard Drug Stores, London.

YES, 100 SEEK TO GET RID OF FAT

NEW YORK, Oct. 19.—The city of New York tackled a weighty problem today. It mobilized fifty fat men and fifty fat women in a reducing squad which hopes to lose 5,000 pounds or more by the middle of November, when Health Commissioner Copeland will present the heavyweights at the health exposition as an example of what stout persons can do in the way of becoming more beccming.

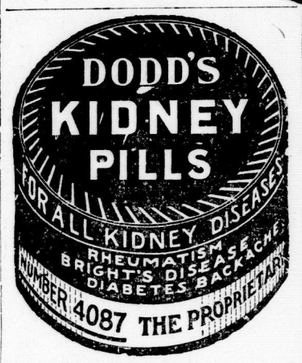

Everybody was told to start right in at breakfast tomorrow morning. Then the plump women are to get into bloomers and middy blouses for the first daily workout in the gymnasium at Madison Square Garden.

Bathing suits are barred.

Dr. Copeland counted excess chins today, while his assistants ran tape measures around adipose ankles. One man only five feet six punished the scales with nearly three hundred pounds and a woman four inches shorter sighed when the balance quivered at the 274-pound mark.

KILLED WHEN CAR TURNS OVER.

STRATFORD, Oct. 19.—W. R. Jackson, agent for Heintzman & Co., was killed on the new Sebringville highway today when his car overturned. Accompanied by William Kearney, deceased was returning from Milverton, and had just turned on to the pavement when the car skidded and overturned.

IRISH PARLEY FRIDAY.
LONDON, Oct. 19.—The next meeting of the Irish conference, it is announced, will be held Friday morning.

TORONTO, Oct. 19.—Colonel Harry Cockshutt, lieutenant-governor of Ontario, was fined $10 by a county magistrate yesterday for speeding his motorcar.
