Sir W. H. Holland's View-Australia's Expectations Regarding Chamberlain's Policy-Opinions of Mr. Bengough.

London, Oct. 30. - Sir W. H. Holland, the Liberal M.P. for Rotterdam, at the meeting of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce pointed out that Manchester free traders in commercial congress in Canada were not likely to find themselves in a majority. The Canadian delegates could hardly have been expected to object to having a substantial preference given their wares in the British market if preference was offered. If they had chosen to bring forward a resolution stipulating for such treatment they could easily have carried it. If the Manchester delegates had proposed the resolution of the Manchester chamber they would have been hopelessly beaten. They, therefore, tried to get the sense of the resolution embodied in the words of the resolution carried by the Congress and they succeeded, which, he thought, secured this city's industry. This district should be safeguarded as regards the taxation of our raw material. Sir W. H. Holland declared that he had returned from Canada with the clear conviction of, mind that no preference was desired by the Canadians if it could be shown that the giving of preference would in any degree injure the mother country. It was clear the Canadian manufacturers meant to protect their own market for the howe products. given their wares in the British marwas clear the Canadian manufacturers meant to protect their own market for the home producer. The preferences already given were chiefly valuable as a proof of Canadian good-will towards the mother country, and on that ground they are to be neither underrated nor despised.

Australia anticipates that if Mr.

Australia anticipates that if Mr. Chamberlain is successful in his campaign he will submit definite proposals to the colonies in regard to particular classes of goods exported from Britain on which preference is desired. The Commonwealth Government believes that Chamberlain's policy is a good one for Australia, and that it will attract needed white population and increase production a thousandfold.

CYCLE & MOTOR TROUBLES.

Court Intervenes to Prevent Reorganization.

Toronto, Oct. 30. - When the shareholders of the Canada Cycle & Motor Co. met to hold their annual meeting at the offices of the company yesterday afternoon they found that there was no business before them. An injunction granted by the courts prevented a plan for the reorganization of the company being dealt with, and, as this plan was incorporated in the annual report, the latter document was not submitted for latter document was not submitted for the consideration of the shareholders at all. Instead, the meeting adjourned for six weeks, when the directors hoped the legal difficulties in the way of the reorganization will have been got rid of. Mr. J. W. Paris, Oct. 29. - A serious riot oc curred this afternoon in front of the Bourse de Travail (Labor Exchange), in the workingmen's district, in which many policemen and rioters were more or less seriously wounded. The trouble followed a meeting of 6,000 persons, who protested against the establishment of municipal employment bureaus. Mr. Stephens Sets Forth The Work of Mr. Wilson and Himse f in the City's Interest.

lad Opposition Both at Home and Abroad-What these Gentlemen Accomplished at Ottawa.

Geo. Stephens, M. P., in an interiew with The Planet yesterday, stated that in view of the settlement just made of the Erie & Huron carshops matter, a large share of the credit is due to M. Wilson, K. C., and himself, for their services in Ottawa in May, 1902, in securing the passage of section 3 of chapter 69, statute amalgamating the E. & H. R. R. with the L. E. & D. R. R.

R. R. with the L. E. & D. R. R.

Mr. Stephens says that, while they were struggling with the question at Ottawa, a committee composed of John Piggott, N. H. Stevens and others, went to Walkerville and from there telegraphed to Mr. Wilson at Ottawa their they had concluded after conference with the Walkers that the proposition of Mr. Lash, solicitor of the L. E. & D. R. R., was satisfactory. Messrs Stephens and Wilson wired Piggott as follows:

Apral 29, 1902.

John Piggott:

Mr. Piggott's reply to this was; To Messrs Stephens and Wilson, Russell House, Ottawa: The committee unanimously think the memo prepared by Lash at Rossin House, Toronto, and submitted to Mr. Wilson amply covers everything we are entitled to.

JOHN PIGGOTT,

Chairman Committee.

Mr. Wilson then wrote the Mayor and threatened to return home and wired Mayor as follows:

Geo. W. Sulman: Get letter mailed here last night See Piggott and wire me to-day.

Mayor replied:

Mayor replied:

G. W. SULIMAIN,
Mayor.

On May 1st Sulman wired again to Wilson at Ottawa as follows: "Piggott's telegram was unanthorized, unwarranted and unsatisauthorized, unwarranted and unsatus-factory to the people of Chatham. The Council and citizens are a unit for the demands expressed by Step-hens and yourself, and we are ex-pecting good results from the Railpecting good results from the sway committee; $15,000 would be satisfactory to us but matter is left entirely with Stephens and yourself. Show Stephens this telegram.

G. W. SULMAN,

Maror."

The matter was then fought out before the Railway committee by Messrs. Wilson and Stephens and the Minister of Railways, Mr. Blair, in the end gave Lash the option of accepting Mr. Wilson's clause in his amalgamation act or of paying the city $15,000.

Mr. Lash chose the clause instead of the payment and the city now gets $15,000 with another $1,000, which represents the interest.

Mr. Stephens thinks he and Mr. Wilson are entitled to some share of the credit.

A representative of The Planet saw

A representative of The Planet saw Mr. Wilson, who confirms the telegraphic messages and says that when he (Mr. Wilson) threatened to come home Mr. Stephens even offered, if the Mayor refused, to back Mr. Wilson up in the matter, and pay the expenses. The Mayor, however, wired as above.

At the very top of the mast is a pulley, and from this Neil Currie a pulley, and from this Neil Currie was suspended in the air, 60 feet above the deck of the steamer and 85 feet above the water line. He signalled to his three shipmates on the deck that he was all right, and they put a strain on the rope to pull him up a few feet higher. The topmast snapped, and with a cry of horror, the young man fell to the deck, striking one of the seats with such force that one of the legs was driven through the cabin roof, splitting one of the supports. The broken section of mast fell and broke through the deck also. Currie's head was crushed to a pulp, his side was crushed in and a number of fractures were sustained. Death was instantaneous.

The Firemen's Benefit-the Colonial Moving Picture entertainment-was given at the Grand last night to a crowded house. The performance was an excellent one and well merited the enthusiastic reception tendered it. A matinee was held in the afternoon for the school children, who were granted a half holiday in order to attend, and the regular entertainment was given in the evening. Both performances were of a very high character and well attended and received.

The firemen have made well out or their benefit and will have a sufficient sum to meet the premiums on their accident insurance policies, for which Chief Pritchard and his men are indeed thankful to their

The Colonial Moving Picture Company is without doubt the best company of its kind travelling to-day, and the firemen were exceedingly fortunate in securing them for their travelling to-day, and the firemen were exceedingly fortunate in securing them for their travelling to the second travelling travelling the second travelling the second travelling the second travelling travelling to the second travelling travelling travelling the second travelling trave benefit concert. They give moving pictures as near perfection as it is possible to give them, and they have a splendid and assorted array of pictures. One could easily imagine that the events portrayed are actually transpiring on the stage. The pictures are clear and distinct, which adds much to the enjoyment of the entertainment.

DISCHARGE OF DUTY.

The Toronto Mail and Empire said editorially yesterday:

"In seven minutes a jury at Chatham found a verdiet for the defendant in the libel action brought against The Chatham Planet. The case arose out of a report of a meet ling of the officers of the 24th Regiment, at which the conduct of the exbandmaster was adversely criticized The meeting was not a public one in the ordinary sense, but the ques-tion was one of public interest, while the report was accurate and without malice. These facts weighed with the jury, which promptly agreed that there had been no libel. It is well that juries are learning to protect newspapers in the conscientious and faithful discharge of their duty.'

A GOOD SETTLEMENT.

Two months or so ago-when The Planet first submitted the suggestion that a strong and representative committee of citizens should visit General Manager Carpenter and the officials of the Pere Marquette Railroad and hold a personal, definite conference upon the car-shop problem-this journal predicted that the results would prove eminently satisfactory to the ratepayers and the city at large.

The Planet's suggestion was energetically taken up by the Mayor and acted upon by the Council. A splendid deputation of citizens was se cured, headed by Major G. P. Scholfield and ex-Mayor Hugh Malcolmson, and the results were made known yesterday.

Chatham is to get the car-shop within two years or receive in lieu therefor the sum of sixteen thousand dollars. In addition, Chatham preserves the respect and friendship of the Railroad Company and there is no bitter aftermath of a long, tedious and costfly litigation.

There are many citizens entitled to much credit for this fortunate outcome-and every one of them should be accorded their full share Particularly, however, are the citizens indebted to Mayor McKeough, Major G. P. Scholfield and ex-Mayor Hugh Malcolmson. The Mayor has energetically promoted and brought about the conference, while to Messrs. Scholffield and Malcolmson apparently fell the major portion of the work of negotiation.

Both of these gentlemen are strong flar-sighted and olear-headed business men-they are men who are esteemed in the community, who enjoy the confidence of the people. They gave their time and their efforts freely and generously to the cause of the public weal and the result was such as might have been-and was-anticipated.

Mr. Carpenter and the officers of the Railroad Company met them in a fair and friendly matter and an agreement, satisfactory to both parties, was arrived att. Chatham is nearer the car-shops to-day, as Mr. Scholfield said, than she ever was before; and, in any event, she receives a satisfactory and adequate compensation for the old Erie & Huron Railroad agreement.

DISSOLVE THE LEGISLATURE.

The seriousness of the Ontario sitphasized by the friends of the government, points out the Toronto World. The Globe appealed to Muskoka and the Sault to "strengthen the government" in order that it might be able to administer the affairs of the province. They have not responded to the appeal. They leave the government with exactly the same majority in the legislature as before. But this is not all. The loss of Muskoka is far more significant than the loss of Sault Ste. Marie would have been. Local issues were raised in the Sault, and the government took un scrupulous advantage of its action in coming to the aid of the workmen. In Muskoka the issue was of provincial importance. When Gamey appears in a constituency and attacks the findings of the judges, he raises the whole question of administration of the affairs of the province. The government and the Globe recognized this fact, and trained their heaviest guns upon the man from Manitoulin. Mr. Crossin was induced to make a declaration which re-opened the case that the judges were supposed to have finally settled months ago. The Globe said that the defeat of the government in Muskoka would be a Gamey victory, with all the evil conquences that such a victory would involve. That which it feared has come to pass. The defeat in Muskoka is most disastrous; and if Gamey were as bad as the Globe paints him, so much the worse for the government. We could only say in that cass that the people had regarded Gamey as the less of two evils.

The net result is that we have government with a majority of four in the legislature; with a popular majority against it; with the tide of public feeling running against it; and with a constituency vacant for seventeen months, in flagrant violation of the spirit of the law, because the government fears another defeat. Can the affairs of the province be well and honestly managed under such circumstances? To what sort of campaign are we to look forward in the by-elections, every one of which will be a matter of life or death for the government?

The best solution we can see is to take a fresh appeal to the people: One general election would be preferable to a series of by-elections, held with every temptation to fraud and corruption.

If Mr. Ross thinks the people are with him there is his chance to obtain a working majority. Let him trust the people. If either party obtains a decisive majority, the province will have a rest from politics for four years. If the result is another deadlock, an effort must be made to find a government that would be acceptable to all parties. But we believe that there is a strong and growing feeling in favor of change. The parasites that fasten weak government will be shaken off, and the province will have new chance of vigorous life and

ONLY A SUGGESTION.

But It Has Proven of Interest and Value to Thousands.

Common sense would suggest that if one wishes to become fleshy and plump it can only result from the food we eat and digest and that food ald be albuminous or flesh form-food, like leggs, beefsteak, and reals; in other words the kinds food that make flesh are the foods which form the greater part of our daily bills of fare.

But the trouble is that while we eat enough and generally too much, the stomach, from abuse and overwork, does not properly digest and assimilate it, which is the reason so many people remain thin and under weight; the digestive organs do not completely digest the food forming beefsteak and eggs and milar wholesome food: There are thousands of such who are really confirmed dyspeptics, al-though they may have no particular pain or inconvenience from their pain or inconvenience from their stomachs.

If such persons would lay their prejudices aside and make a regular practice of taking, after each meal one or two of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets the food would be quickly and thoroughly digested, because these tablets contain the natural peptones and diatase which every weak stomach its and by supplying this want the stomach is soon enabled to reach its natural tone and vigor.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets digest every form of flesh forming food, meat, eggs, bread and potatoes, and this is the reason they so quickly build up, strengthen and invigorate thin, dyspeptic men, women and children.

Invalids and children, even the most delicate, use them with marked benefit as they contain no strong, irritating drugs, no cathartic nor any harmful ingredient.

stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets is the most successful and most widely known of any remedy for stomach troubles because it is the most reasonable and scientific of modern medicines. Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are sold by every druggist in the United States and Canada as well as in Great Britain, at 50 cents for complete treatment.

Nothing further is required to cure

There would now appear to be prospect that the "dime novel" which sells at five cents, and which has so long flourished even as the green bay sells at two cents, and which has so long fleurished even as the green bay tree, is to be an institution unknown to the coming generation. At Ottawa recently Mr. Scott of Regina placed several questions on the order paper of the House that bore a very apparent menace to the "Jesse James," "Diamonde Dick" and other literature of that ilk.

Mr. Scott, hailing as he does from the "wild and woolly west" has probably had the experience out there of coming across runaway youngsters from the east, whose imaginations were fired by the perusal of the exploits of Diamond Dick, to the point of a burning desire to emulate him and who left their homes with the idea of bossing the prairie and cleaning up all the redskins in sight. Possibly this explains why the first guain a legislative warfare against the idols of juvenile fancy should be fired by a member who does not claim the effete east as his place of living idols of juvenile fancy should be fired by a member who does not claim the effete east as his place of living.

"Pernicious literature placed in the hands of the young" has long then a ripe theme for pulpit oratory, along with gambling and the baleful cigarette. It is to be feared, however, that the "back to the Sunday school" injunction in so far as his literature goes has been a wasted one on the small boy, who has gone on on the small boy, who has gone on revelling in "Sombrero Sam," or the "Outlaws of the Foothills," while "Jasper's Sacrifice, or the Triumph of Doing Right," has been allowed to accumulate dust on the shelf of the Sunday school library. Tens of thousands of dime novels have been confiscated by wrathy parents and put in the fire, but sphinx-like, there have arisen from the ashes fresh ones, and the injured small boy has consol-ed his feelings with the next weekly number of his favorite library, seek-ing solitary and secluded enjoyment in the exploits of his heroes.

It is an inexpensive pastime, too, and therefore suited to the limited resources of the average youngster. Let him purchase one copy and he is sure of reading from three or four to a dozen other different numbers, just as his circle of acquaintances exttnds. There is a swapping sys-tem in vogue among boys that might be styled a community of interest, whereby each is the gainer and the good of each the good of all.

Chicago has no great reputation for moral vigilance. The Windy City is competitive of a branching of the community of the competitive of the community of the co is something of a byword, in fact. Yet the police authorities there have just got busy and taken 29 booksellers into custody for selling dime nevels. The action was taken at the instigation of the Citizens' Mutual Alliance and warrant was found for the step in a statute prohibiting any person "exhibiting or selling en the highway or at a place of business, books, pamphlets, magazines, or printed papers containing accounts and stories of criminal deeds, pic-tures, and deeds of bloodshed and

The preacher and the detective strike hands on the question of the evil influence of the blood and thun-der literature. The former sees in such reading spiritual danger, the der literature. The former sees in such reading spiritual danger, the latter sees common sense knocked out of the 'youth, with the dime novel mania, and in spirit fired to reckless smulation, good and bad. The detective force in New York is being continually trowbled by would-be sleuths, who have stored their craniums with Old Cap Collier lore and think they see in themselves the sub-tims with Old Cap Collier fore and think they see in themselves the subtle gift of the human bloodhound.

The detective creation of the dime novel has a capacity for disguise of voice and appearance that would make his fortune as a vaudevillian. All nationalities look alike to him and he is never phased when called and he is never phased when called upon to make a lightning change in upon to make a lightning change in the pursuit of the unfortunate villain. This is his great asset and he needs no other beyond the nerve of a Kitchener and the capacity for saying "precisely" and "just so" in the right places.

There is a terse style about the dime nevel writer that makes itself felt. It is clear cut and inclsive. Here is a specimea:

"The night was dark.
Diamond Dick, mounted en his mustang, rode briskly.
"Save me!" rang out upon the air.
The cry was a woman's.
He recognized the voice.
"No one can ever say I refused aid to a woman," he muttered as he set spurs to his mustang.

spurs to his mustang.

spires to his mustang.

Zip!

A bullet whizzed past his ear."

And so on and so on. If you read further you would be thrilled by his shout, "Surrender, Black Mike! The game's up." Every sentence is its own paragraph, and the author gives you "local color" and heaps of it.

The Spanish-American war brought out its crop of dime novel literature.

It is a good sign that the "detective" liction is being supplanted by the adventures at home and abroad of this style of hero. The "sleuths," young and eld, "Old King Brady" and "Nick Carter" and the wildly contrived exploits of the James Boys are no longer the boys' best favorites. Still, the cheap, guady and often illiterate style of the five cent novel are not best calculated to improve the aims and ideals of the rising generation or cultivate in him a love for good reading. The novels are the products of writers who turn them out by machine methods and for a week-ducts of writers who turn them out by machine methods and for a weekly salary, They do credit to the fertility of their imagination, but little else. But he is on no worse plane than the writer of cheap melodramas, the portrayal of which on the stage with life and realism create a deeper and more lasting impression with the boys in the gods than do the alluring colored-covered misnamed "dime" novels.

While local newsdealers say there is quite a demand for this class of literature, yet the public libraries are doing a lot to wean the boys from their taste for the cheap New York output.

Busted Relies of Olden Days.

In Toronto there was recently dis-played a curious relic of the olden time, the flint lock of a gun of long ago, when French and British fought for the possession of the fur trade of for the possession of the fur trade of what was then the Far West, and when the white man struggled with the redskin for the supremacy. The lint-lock, for nothing is left but the lock, was presented to Mr. George McMurrich, of 105 Madison avenue, president of the De Grassi Point Syndicate, by Bill Esquib, a Chippewa Indian, who found it the other day on the bench at Sooth Bay. TO FEEL JUST RIGHT the Stomach Must be Right—Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets make the Stomach Right. Testimony of H. Hutchison, of Chatham.

The stomach must be right or the man or woman cannot be right.

The stomach's work is to provide the different parts of the body with the food and heat they need. If this is not done the body becomes starved and cold and weak.

Consequently if you are feeling useless you know that your stomach reads help.

useless you know that your stomach needs help.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets give the stomach the right kind of help. They digest the food and the stomach rights itself naturally. Then the body gets the food it needs, and energy and vigor return. H. Hutchison, of Chatham, Ont., is one of the thousands who have proved that Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets will cure Stomach Trouble of any stage. He says:

says:

"I had suffered for a long period from Dyspepsia until a short time ago a friend brought me a box of Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets and from the very first I got relief.

"I keep them by me, and any time I feel my food is likely to disagree with me I just take one or two of them and feel no more effects of Indigestion."

Powell, America's greatest magician, who will appear at the Grand on Saturday night, with his marvellous illusions and brilliant feats of dexterity direct from his most successful tour of Australia and the Orient, brings with him this season two of the greatest masters of their respective arts, Zazell and Vernon, direct from European triumphs, in their characteristic pantomine pro-duction, 'Robert Macaire,' with new costumes, trick seenery, ludicrous sitnations, and is one of the strongest acts to be seen on the American stage to day. Dick and Dick, grotesque gymnasts, keep the audience in one continual round of laughter, and the audience should come prepared to be amsued as well as mystified.

One of Jacob Riis' great public benetactions, the most costly to New York, was a newspaper "beat" typical of the shrewdness and intelligence of the man. Riis picked up in the health department one day the weekly analysis of the Croton water and read "a trace of nitrites." "What are nitrites?" he of nitrites." asked. Getting an evasive answer, he went off and found out what nitrites were and published the news, explaining that they meant sewage contamination and advising the people to boil the water. Then while the other papers were poohpoohing the news he went up through the Croton watershed with a camera and took pictures of towns sew ering into the streams, public dumps on their banks, people and animals washing in the water. He made good his case. The other papers belittled the conditions, saying running water purifies itself. But Riis inquired how long it took the water to come down from the worst town, sixty miles away. The answer was four days. He asked the experts how long a cholera germ might live in running water. "Seven days," was the answer. New York had to buy up that watershed, and the cost ran into the millions. But Riis had his "beat," and New York has pure water. _J. L. Steffens in McClure's.

"Wall papers are unhealthy," said a physician. "They destroy the porous-ness of walls. If I had my way nothing but whitewash would be used all over the world. Wall paper closes our walls' pores and thus to a certain ex-tent does us harm. Walls, you see, should be porous, like our clothes, like our skin. Clog up the pores of our skin, and we die. Close up the pores of our clothes, and we would soon dis card them, for they would be insufferable. But we are used to the clogging of our walls' pores, and therefore we no longer notice the inconvenience of it. Some people argue that wall papers are porous. My answer is that they may be porous when they are new, but as soon as they get damp the pores fill up, and, once filled, there is no way to open them again. Have porous walls, I say, and to have them su wall gaper whitewash."

Vicious Stowaways.

Some remarkable stowaways are found on ships of the merchant marine. An official of the London zoological gardens had a call one day from a sailor who wanted to know if he was open to buy a "sarpint." He said, "Yes." "There's a beauty for you," said the man, opening a little rice sack he carried in his hand. An Indian cobra, with hood expanded and deadly fangs ready to strike, lay in the bottom of the frail bag. In this case the creature had probably been brought aboard in timber or in a package of fruit. Vipers, deadly spiders and other undesirable immigrants are constantly found in the holds of ships that have arrived from tropical ports. A Liverpool fruiterer recently had a narrow escape from being bitten by a viper which arrived in a case of Spanish melons.

What a blessing it is to be able to obtain such a remedy when so many doctors fail to help you. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is better than any doctor or medicine I ever had. Very truly yours, Miss Easy Whittaker, 604 39th St., W. Savannah, Ga."

No physician in the world has had such a training or such an amount of information at hand to assist in the treatment of all kinds of female ills as Mrs. Pinkham. In her office at Lynn, Mass, she is able to do more for the ailing women of America than the family physician. Any woman, therefore, is responsible for her own trouble who will not take the pains to write to Mrs. Pinkham for advice. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free.

A letter from another woman showing what was accomplished in her case by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM: I am so grateful to you for the help Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has given me that I deem it but a small return to write you an expression of my experience.

"Many years suffering with weakness, inflammation, and a broken down system, made me more anxious to die than live, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound soon restored my lost strength. Taking the medicine only two weeks produced a radical change, and two months restored me to perfect health. I am now a changed woman, and my friends wonder at the change, it is so marvellous. Sincerely yours, Miss MATTIE HENHY, 429 Green St., Danville, Va."

The testimonials which we are constantly publishing from grateful women prove beyond a doubt the power of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to conquer female diseases.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT

The love that only realizes the value of loved ones when they are dead is only mockery.

Surface Judging Unitue.

You cannot judge a man solely by his acts. You must probe deeper; you must determine the spirit which actuates him and ascertain its ori-Primal Principle of Christianity.

Honesty is one of the first principles of Christianity. It lies at the base and also at the apex of Christian character. It must be the dominant force in all traffic.

Business and religion.

When men attempt to divorce business life from religious life it is a criminal attempt. They cannot be divorced. They are really, as far as the world is concerned, Siamese

After all, the pathway to personal knowledge of Christ is the pathway of obedience to his known commands as recorded in these gospels and epistles, and his religion has to do with our ordinary daily lives.

There is in every man a smaller and larger self. The supreme ques-tion is which shall gain the mas-tery. No sane man will deny the law tery. No sane man will deny the law of hereditary. Inherited taints are found as thorn roots in the soil of the soul. There are birthmarks in the soul as well as on the body.

The Inspiration of Love.

The history of human ambition and enterprise is largely what man has done under the inspiration of love for sweetheart, wife or mother. Without this motive the fields of art and literature would be barren deed. Woman and her interests provided for as generously as barbarous knowledge of her needs will permit.

Special Temptations.

If man would succeed and would sit down with his God he must first accept the teachiags of God. He must observe his specific temptations. The rock on which my neighbor has struck, the rock where my friend lies stranded, may not affect me, because I am steering my course in another

Cannot Be Taken Away.

You determine within you that your life will be lived high, holy and noble. As a business man, you purpose to be honest true and incorruptible. On this high plane you go through the world. That life no man can take from you. Men may lie about you, they may slander you and persecute you, but they cannot take the Christlike traits from you that are yours as long as you choose to maintain them.

Bearing Other's Burdens.

"No man liveth with himself." No man has a right to live for himself. He has his own burden to bear, but He has his own burden to bear, but he must also bear the burdens of others. It is my duty to take a part of the burden of every other man and help him to bear it. It is every other man's duty to help me bear my burden. No man has a burden so heavy but that he may help some other man. God never puts upon one of his children a burden heavier than he can bear. God enables us to bear our burdens by putting it into the our burdens by putting it into the hearts of others to help us.

THE BRITISH COLONY.

Sive Hundred Actual Settlers in the Barre

Mr. A. J. Gay arrived in Edmonton on Monday from Lloydminster, Britannia. Mr. Gay and his partner, Mr. A. Still, have been granted the contract for grading twenty-five miles for the Canadian Northern through the British colony. They have also secured an option on fifty additional miles of grading if they can handle it. In Mr. Gay's opinion the Canadian Northern should be complimented on granting this contract, which dian Northerin Stotte Contract, which will provide ample work for both men and teams this fall. The railway starts in the colony, going twenty-five miles east towards Battleford five miles east towards Battleford from the fourth meridian. Mr Gay is confident that the Canadian Northorn will have their line graded through to Edmonton by next midsummer. The rails will be laid as far as the British colony by August, 1904, and on through to Edmonton before the snow files.

The committee, of which the Rev.

Mr. Lloyd is president, which took over the affairs of the Rev. Mr. Barr, have everything arranged most sat-isfactorily. There are five hundred actual settlers on their ewn land at the present time and all are greatly pleased with Western Canada. Through the instrumentality of the Rev. Mr. Lleyd six thousand addi-Rev. Mr. Lloyd six thousand additional settlers are expected to arrive in the colony from the Old Country next spring. The present extent of immigration is but a drop in the stream which will follow in due course. The business men of the colony are now making arrangements to get down $100,000 worth of supplies and provisions for winter consumption, before river navigation ments to get down $110,000 works of supplies and provisions for winter consumption, before river navigation closes. These goods will be stored at Fort Pitt this fall and teamed to the colony in the winter. This will give employment to many of the colonists during the winter months. All the railway supplies will be shipped down the river from Edmonton. Mr. Gay is at present waiting on a carload of serapers, which have been shipped from Winnipeg for Edmonton for over six weeks. The colonists are adapting themselves to their surroundings and are thrifty and industrious. Mr. Gay has lived west of Winnipeg since 1878 and he says that the land at the colony is excellent, particularly ground the east that the land at the colony is ex-cellent, particularly around the east of Birch Lake, where there are at present excellent opportunities for homesteaders. The land is well wat-ered, free from scrub, but with some fairly good timber.—Edmonton Bul-letin.

Corn and Codfish.

It is told of Lord Hawke's first eleven of English cricketers that, when dining at the Queen's during their visit te Toronto, some of them proceeded to eat corn on the cob. They saw the other guests ordering the vegetable, but the Englishmen attempted to eat the dainty cob and all! They announced that the meattempted to eat the dainty cob and all! They announced that the method of consuming it was unpleasant, and that corn was 'beastly,' anyhow, says Day by Day in Toronto News. And new our good Nova Scotia codiish is being denounced by the solidiery of England. With a view to helping Canada and varying the fare of Tommy, the commissariat of the army not long ago ordered a consignment of codiish. The new viand was first served to the East Surrey Regiment, in eamp at Aldershot, and The Daily Mail tells the mournful story of the effects of this attempt to consolidate the Empire. Twenty-five dried codiish were given to the cooks. "Light-brown, dirty looking things," the reporter insultingly calls them. They were boiled, curried, made into pie, but Thomas turned up his nose. He wouldn't eat them, although, as every Canadian knows, sait codiish is a mighty "good thing to eat," as the children say. Of course, the blame rests on those English army cooks. It is good betting that they didn't soak those fish in at least three waters. To try to eat sait codiish without soaking it is simply to spoil one of the Creator's good gifts. But, when soaked, the salt disappears, the fiesh freshens up, and the consumer rejoices. It is the old story of the freshens up, and the consumer re-joices. It is the old story of the English cook boiling the first consignment of tea leaves and serving Office had better import half-a-dozen Canadian cooks. Then the codfish will take a proud place on the army bill-of-fare.

A Brave Deed.

He was not much to look at. Just a rough lumberman wearing a rowdy hat on the back of his head, and clad in the ordinary camp costume, consisting of a heavy sweater, knee pants, coarse stocking and sheepock on his feet. But he proved he had a heart of gold, and was every inch a gentleman. As he stood on the corner a run-

As he stood on the corner a runaway horse came dashing up the street, and people scattered right and left for fear of being run over. In the cutter sat a young child clinging convulsively to the back of the seat, white to the lips with fear, and in danger every moment of being thrown out and killed. Taking in the situation at a glance, the lumberman rushed out, and seizing a rein as the frightened animal passed, he brought it to a standstill. Then lifting the frightened child from the rig as tenderly as a mother would, he drew a large cotton hand-kerchief from his hip pocket and carefully wiped away her tears.

When he had succeeded in calming the little one's agitation, he lifted her in his brawny arms, and strede away. And it was a sight worth seeing to look at the pair going down the street, the child perched on the broad shoulder, while her face was wreathed in smiles.—Rev. H. Harper, Ph.D., in Montreal Star.

Everywhere the people are coughing. The sudden changes of temperature at this season of the year give rise to coughs and colds which need only to be neglected to develop into Bronchitis or Pneumonia.

The mere mention of coughs and colds suggests to most minds the advisability of using Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine.

Not that this is the only treatment for such ailments, but because it has time and again proven its superiority by curing not only coughs and colds, but also bronchitis, croup, whooping cough, asthma, pneumonia and even consumption in its earlier stages, when other remedies seemed of no avail.

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine is a great favorite with mothers, both because of its extraordinary soothing and healing properties and because children like to take it.

Many a child has been saved from bronchitis and consumption; many a life has been spared by the timely use of this great medicine, and prudence suggests the wisdom of always keeping a bottle at hand in order to prevent serious and fatal developments of coughs and colds, and to quickly cure croup, which so frequently comes when least expected.

Like most preparations which have attained a world-wide reputation and enormous sales, Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine has many imitations.

Be careful when buying. Refuse substitutes which do not possess sufficient merit to make a reputation for themselves. Insist on seeing the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase on the bottle you buy.

Mrs. J. W. Lloyd, Albien street, Belleville, Ont., states:—"In the beginning of last winter I took a very severe cold accompanied with a bad cough and was almost laid up for a time. I tried several remedies but with indifferent results. On the advice of a friend I got a bottle of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine and found that it relieved the cough at once. By the time I had taken the one bottle my cold was gone and I can truthfully recommend it as a splendid remedy for coughs and colds."

Mrs. J. Provost, Renfrew, Ont., writes:—"My boy, fourteen years of age, had a very serious cold on his chest last winter, and I was afraid he was going to die. He coughed nearly all the time and spit up blood. We had given up all hope of cure when we heard of Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine. After using one bottle he was greatly improved, and I can certify that two bottles completely cured him. I know of no medicine which acts so promptly and I gratefully recommend it to others."

Dr. Chase's Syrup of Linseed and Turpentine

Is sold by all dealers at the advertised price of 25 cents a bottle, family size, three times as much, 60 cents. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Toronto.

To protect you against imitations the portrait and signature of Dr. A. W. Chase, the famous Receipt Book author, are on every bottle of his remedies.

WARWICK CASTLE. One of the tately ... omes of England and Incidentally One of the Greatest Custles in the Land.

No county in England is more beautiful than Warwickshire, or con-tains more celebrated towns and castles. It is a splendid domain, lying in the heart of the land, and everywhere filled with great historic interest and association.

The country is very beautiful, with narrow lanes and low thatched cot-tages, and a green freshness, only to be seen in England, where the clim-ate, too moist perhaps for human ate, too moist perhaps for human beings, is capable of giving a won-derful luxuriance to trees and turf. As a favorite author has written: "Here is a soil so rich and pure that even in its idlest mood it lights it-self up with flowers."

Famous Warwick Castle.

George Stuart, the well-known Wol-cott Adventist, is dead. Mr. Stuart several times predicted the end of the world and each time had so much confidence in his prediction that he climbed a tall poplar tree near his home and there awaited the final smash-up.. In spite of such a succes-sion of alarms, Mr. Stuart seems to have looked forward to the end of things with equanimity. At least The road from Kenilworth to Warwick leads again theough avenues of trees and shady lanes, and it is not long before the towers of one of Eng-land's greatest castles appear above land's greatest castles appear above and through the trees. The struc-ture is built upon high rocks and looks down on the River Avon, wind-ing its peaceful way along through a green and fertile country. Over the river a picturesque bridge is thrown, from which a beautiful view of the imposing castle may be had. It is uncertain when the town of Warwick was founded but, referring Warwick has an interesting church and a quaint old market place, and there are many legends connected with the town. Guy of Warwick is with the town. Guy of Warwick is its most famous hero, and the old stories of his deeds are now considered history by the chroniclers. His battles were many and his prowess great, but after a time he returned to Warwick, where his wife, the daughter of the earl, had long been waiting for his coming. Undiscovered by her, he lived near by, at Guy's cliff, as a hermit, and, unknown to all, depended on her bounty. Finally, when about to die, he ty. Finally, when about to die, he sent their wedding rings to her, begging her to come to him, to say farewell.

Contents of the Castle. The Castle of Warwick is one of the finest in all England. The entrance is through beautifully wooded grounds, where stately trees, and turf like velvet, are seen on every side. From different points of view the castle shows its varied aspects, the castle shows its varied aspects, each one impressive in its own special way. There are several high, irregular towers, which add much to the beauty of the castle, and of these Caesar's tower, at the south, is very interesting. Near it is a reservoir of great size, used to store a water supply for the castle.

At certain hours of the day the massive doors of the great pile are open to the public, and only the living rooms of the family are closed. The broad hall, with its heavily carved chairs, and masses of ancient armor on the walls, is very hand-mome and impressive, and its many some and impressive, and its many doors lead to the great dining and drawing rooms, and other state apartments of the castle.

There are several celebrated paintings in these rooms, and the Warwick vase, of pure white marble, and large enough to hold 163 gallons, is carefully treasured within the building. The vase, which is an antique, was discovered at the bottom of a lake, near the village of Hadrian, in Tivoli. and sold to the

The grounds of the castle are very attractive, and fine views are seen on every hand. A number of beautiful proceeds are allowed to wanter about a certain part of the estate, where they spread their feathers and sometimes utter their harsh, discordant notes. Among these handsome birds a lovely white one is conspicuous, so tame that it will readily come to strangers to be fed.

The Castle of Warwick and the extensive grounds give an impression of dignity and repose which is almost unequalled, even in England, the land of history and calm, unbroken progress. And the whole the land of history and calm, un-broken progress. And the whole County of Warwick, with its stately trees and fields of brilliant flowers, its gardens and its well kept cot-tages, seems but a beautiful setting for the castles and historic places it

WORK OF PRAXITELES.

Is This Graceful Head by Sculptor of Fourth Century, B.C.—Some Argu-ments for Thinking So.

In Sir Frederick Cook's art collec-In Sir Frederick Cook's art collection, at Doughty House, Richmond, England, Dr. Charles Waldstein, a noted archaeologist, recently had occasion to observe the head of the statue here depicted, and was struck with its extraordinary likeness to the head of Praxiteles. Close study convinced him that the head, which had been fastened to a body reconstructed from fragments, must be the structed from fragments, must be the work of that period. In an interview on the subject Dr. Waldstein said: 'I venture to maintain that the work in existence, excepting the Hermes discovered at Olympia. The head is in excellent preservation, the only fractures having been on the top, the tip of the nose (the original tip, probably fixed on after fracture) and a few ends of the locks of hair.

"The chief characteristics of style and artistic feeling to be found in the Hermes of Olympia, the Eros of Centocelli in the Vatican and the Faun of the Capitol—works universally ascribed to Praxiteles—are most strikingly illustrated in this one head. Moreover, the exquisite model-ling of the locks (through which a wreath of diadem of metal was originally passed), the perfect moulding of the features and the refined finish of the marble work constrainingly point to the fourth century B. Grain From Ancient Pempell.

At Bosco Reae, a place not far from Pompeil, there were recently unearthed some jars of grain which are considered as among unearthed some jars of grain which are considered as among the most curious and interesting of the many thousands of antiquities exhamed. More than eighteen centuries, as all the world knows, have passed since unfortunate Pomperi and Herculaneum were overwhelmed and buried beneath ashes and lava from Vesuvius. During more than seventeen centuries the herdsmen vandered with their flocks above the buried cities which had disappeared from sight, and no one knew their exact locality until some statues were exhumed by accident in 1743. In 1755 the great amphitheatre was uncovered, and since then systematic exhumations have been carried on, revealing riches of which nobody had ever even dreamed. They are still going on, and not long ago a find of silverware and jewellery was purchased by Baron Rothschild for four hundred thousand francs and presented to the that the talent for talk developed young in the author and member of Parliament.

THREE CHILDREN PERISH.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY AT ST. PHILEMON, QUE

The House of Mr. and Mrs. Drebard Takes Fire in Their Absence-Heroic Rescue of the Baby.

Quebec, Oct. 30.—Mr. and Mrs. Francois Drehard of St. Philemon, Bellechasse county, left last evening to pay their respects to some neighbors, and during their absence people residing in the vicinity of their home were startled to perceive that the building was on fire. Many hurried to the scene, but ere their arrival the flames had increased to such an extent as to render the premises almost impossible of approach. Undaunted by this, one of approach. Undaunted by this, one heroic resident, whose name was not learned, braved the danger, and despite the entreaty of others rushed into the burning building and in a few minutes issued forth with a baby in his arms. He had snatched the child from the cradle where it lay, almost suffocated by the dense smoke. Both rescuer and rescued were severely burned, and it is feared the infant will not survive. One child was saved, but three others, the eldest five years, were cremated. The flames reduced the dwelling to a heap of ruins, and not even the charred remains of the dead children have been recovered. The sadly bereaved parents are prostrated with grief, and the whole community is distressed over the unfortunate affair.

Sir,-Premier McBride has just in formed me that he submitted my name to you this morning for a member of the Executive Council and that you objected to me becoming a member o his Government. If it is not asking too much, I would like to know if I have been told the truth. If it is the truth, then the people of the little city of Nelson have been slapped in the face, and I will be compelled to leave British Columbia, for if I am unworthy to administer a department of the Provincial Government I am equally unworthy of sitting as a member of the Legislature. The people of Nelson have honored me three times by electing me Mayor, and twice by electing me Mayor, and twice by electing me to the Legislature, but I am ashamed to-day to hold my head up in the street. C. Respectfully (Signed) John Houston.

Sir Henri Joly de Lotbiniere, Victoria Sir,—I have received your letter of yesterday inquiring if it is true that I have objected to your becoming a member of the Hon. Mr. McBride's Government. It is true. I objected on account of the unfortunate incident of last session, when you forgot what was due to the Legislative Assembly, as well as to yourself in your responsible position. There was no intention on my part to insult either you constituents or yourself, as, to judge by your letter, you appear to think I considered that I had a duty to perform, I may add a painful duty, and I performed it. I am your obedientser vant (Signed) Henri Joly de Lotbin iere.

"Get married or get fired" is an alternative that every unmarried employee will have to face before the snow files. Company officials have been so annoyed by complaints about conductors' attentions to women on their cars' that they have decided to weed out unmarried men now in their employ as well as to refuse to employ such men in the future.

Another reason for the new rule was cited by one of the officials. It is that the married men are more profitable to the company than the unmarried men.

it will not keep, upprincipled brewers use preservatives to prevent its getting wors and the consumer has to suffer for it.

In Munich, supposed to be the home of Lager Beer, glass-lined steel tanks are rapidly superceeding the wooden once. This is done because they are thoroughly convinced of the bad effects arising from the use of wooden fermentation tanks.

In olden times Lager Beer was fermented and stored in underground cellars and left in damp, mouldy cellars to acquire "ACE" but all the time it was gathering bacteria and other wild ferment. Now, in a modern brewery. Lager Beer is brewed in glass, in the light, remains above ground and is watched carefully from the moment it leaves the kettle until it reaches the consumer. Frequent analysis has proven its superiority over beer made in the old way, and any one with the least judgment can see that it must be purer and more wholesome.
