[No. 16—1899.]

REPORT
OF THE
SECRETARY OF STATE OF CANADA

YEAR ENDED 31st DECEMBER, 1898.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir Gilbert John Elliot Murray-Kynynmond, Earl of Minto, G.C.M.G., &c., &c., &c., Governor General of Canada.

MY LORD,—I have the honour to lay before Your Excellency a statement showing the operations of the Department of the Secretary of State for the year ended 31st December, 1898.

Accompanying this report are the following appendices :—

A. Report of the Deputy Registrar General of Canada, comprising a summary of the work done in the Registry branch of my department ; a list of commissions issued to public officers, and a statement showing the companies incorporated by letters patent under "The Companies Act," during the year, with the powers, capital stock, &c., of each company.

B. A list of consular appointments in the Dominion recorded in the department during the year.

C. Schedules of returns to addresses and orders passed by the Senate and House of Commons of Canada during the session of 1898, received and prepared by the department and presented through the Secretary of State.

D. Summary report of the work done in the Records branch of my department.

E. List of persons to whom passports have been issued during the past year.

F. List of the officers, clerks and servants of the department with date of appointment, rank and salary in each case.

The report of the Board of Civil Service Examiners for the year 1898, required by section 58 of the Civil Service Act, has been prepared and will be submitted as a separate report.

The Civil Service List of Canada, for the year 1898, showing the names, dates of appointments and promotions, ages, and salaries of all persons employed in the several departments of the service, and in the two Houses of Parliament, as the same stood upon the 1st July last, has been published and distributed.

The following is a statement of fees received during the financial year ended 30th June, 1898 :

Charters and supplementary charters	$14,045 00
Commissions	795 89
Passports	300 00
Copies	84 00
Certified copies	61 30
Certificates of deposit	112 00
Certificates of incorporation of boards of trade	65 00
Certificates of legalization	30 00
Searches	11 70
	$15,504 89

The revenue of the department which, as shown in the above statement, is derived from fees upon Letters Patent of incorporation issued under the Companies Act, commissions to public officers, passports and sundry certificates and copies of documents, whilst necessarily small in the aggregate, shows a gratifying increase over that of the previous year, the total being $15,504.89, as compared with $9,963.05 in 1897. These figures are for the fiscal year ended on the 30th June last. If those for the calendar year covered by the rest of this report be taken, the totals are slightly larger, that for 1898 being $16,572.59 as against $11,298.73 in the preceding year. There has in fact been a steady gain in this revenue for some years past, the total in 1896 having been $9,417.40, whilst in 1895 it was only $6,696.70, the increase over that year, in the twelve months under report, being $9,875.89.

On the other hand, although the work of the department has grown very considerably in the same period, a large decrease has been effected in its cost, the expenditure for salaries and contingencies of the office in the several years having been as follows :— 1895, $47,913.73 ; 1896, $44,172.87 ; 1897, $42,934.60, and 1898, $40,908.79, the amount expended in the last year having been thus $7,004.94 less than in 1895.

I am pleased to add that the staff of the department have continued to discharge their duties to my entire satisfaction.

I have the honour to be,

My Lord,

Your Excellency's obedient servant,

R. W. SCOTT,
Secretary of State.

Department of the Secretary of State.

APPENDIX D.

RECORD OFFICE, CANADA.

To the Honourable
The Secretary of State.

SIR,—I have the honour to lay before you the following statement showing the work done in the Record branch of your department during the year 1898.

On the 6th day of August five cases of books, containing four hundred and fifteen volumes in all, were received from the Colonial Office, being the Journals of the House of Assembly and Legislative Council of Canada, the different provinces and Newfoundland. Although far from being a complete collection, they form a valuable addition to the printed documents of the same nature already in the office.

The receipt of this large number of books rendered it necessary to rearrange and classify all the printed documents in room 4, after which the catalogue and index had to be revised or, more properly, the catalogue and index of the contents of that room had to be made anew.

A calendar has been made of the collection of school papers mentioned in last year's report, which necessitated the examining and perusing of two thousand two hundred and fifty (2,250) files.

Among the undertakings which have not been enumerated in previous reports on account of their not being quite completed, one is so far advanced that it may properly be now mentioned. This is a list of all the members elected to the different Legislatures of old Canada from 1792 to 1854. It will not take long now to complete the list up to the end of the Union, and it will form an interesting and unique reference book.

In section B. the requisitions received numbered two hundred and thirty-eight (238), the searches made, in consequence, one thousand and fifty-five (1,055), sub-divided into: successful searches, nine hundred and twenty-nine (929), unsuccessful, one hundred and twenty-six (126); productions, files and manuscripts, seven hundred and sixty-four (764); printed documents, one hundred and sixty-five (165).

In section C. the classification was continued as assiduously as possible. Five thousand one hundred and nineteen documents were indexed, &c., forming one thousand seven hundred and eighty-six files (1,786).

The whole respectfully submitted.

A. AUDET,
Keeper of the Records.

APPENDIX No. I.

CHAPTER 17.

(Revised Statutes of Canada.)

An Act respecting the Civil Service of Canada.

A. D. 1886

(As amended by 51 V., c. 12; 52 V., c. 12; 55-56 V., c. 14; 57-58 V., c. 18; 58-59 V., cc. 14 and 15; and 60-61 V., c. 14.)

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:—

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Civil Service Act." Short title. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 1.

INTERPRETATION.

2. In this Act unless the context otherwise requires,—

(a.) The expression "Head of a Department" means the Minister of the Crown for the time being presiding over such department; Interpretation.
"Head of a Department."

(b.) The expression "Deputy," "Deputy Head," or "Deputy Head of the Department," means the Deputy of the Minister of the Crown presiding over such department, and also includes the "Auditor-General," in all cases in which such meaning is not inconsistent with his powers and duties under "The Consolidated Revenue and Audit Act." 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 2. "Deputy Head."

CONSTITUTION OF THE CIVIL SERVICE.

3. The Civil Service, for the purposes of this Act, includes and consists of all classes of employees, elsewhere than in the North-west Territories, in or under the several departments of the executive government of Canada and in the office of the Auditor-General, included in the schedules A and B to this Act, appointed by the Governor in Council or other competent authority before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, or thereafter appointed in the manner provided by the Civil Service Act for the time being in force, and such officers and employees in the North-west Territories holding positions, which, if held in other parts of Canada, would bring them under the provisions of this Act, as the Governor in Council brings under the provisions hereof. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 3. Of whom the Civil Service shall consist.

As to North-west Territories.

Two divisions.

Inside division

Outside division.

Regulations to be made by Order in Council.

Governor in Council to determine number of employees.

If the actual number exceeds that allowed.

4. The service shall be divided into two divisions :—

The first or inside departmental division shall comprise employees of those classes mentioned in schedule A, employed on the several departmental staffs at Ottawa, and in the office of the Auditor-General :

The second or outside departmental division shall comprise employees of those classes mentioned in schedule B, and who are employed otherwise than on the departmental staffs at Ottawa. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 4.

5. The Governor in Council may, from time to time, make general rules and regulations, not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, respecting the appointments and promotions of the officers in the Civil Service and all other matters pertaining thereto. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 5.

6. The Governor in Council shall, from time to time, determine the number of officers, chief clerks, clerks, messengers and other employees that are required for the working of the several departments in each division of the Civil Service, but the collective amount of the salaries of each department shall, in no case, exceed that provided for by vote of Parliament for that purpose :

2. If the number of employees then attached to any department in either division thereof is greater than the number allowed to the department, as herein provided, the Governor in Council shall name the persons to fill the several offices ; and the remainder shall be supernumerary clerks, without being eligible for increase of salary, of that class respectively in which they rank, and shall so remain until promoted in the manner herein provided or until severed from the service. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 6.

7. Repealed by 51 V., c. 12, s. 1.

BOARD OF EXAMINERS.

Board of examiners of candidates for the service ;
their appointment and duties.

8. A board of examiners shall, from time to time, be appointed by the Governor in Council, who, for the purposes of this Act, shall be known and are hereinafter referred to as "The Board," consisting of three members ; and they shall examine all candidates for admission to the Civil Service, and give certificates of qualification to such persons as are found qualified, according to such regulations as are authorized by the Governor in Council for the guidance of the board : 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 8.

clerk.

2. The Governor in Council may appoint a person who shall be clerk to the board, at a salary not exceeding seven hundred dollars per annum :

And of members of board.

3. Each member of the board shall receive such salary, not exceeding four hundred dollars per annum, as is fixed by the Governor in Council. 52 V., c. 12, s. 1.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

4. The members of the board, while engaged in their work, shall be paid such travelling expenses as are determined by the Governor in Council: Travelling expenses.

5. Such persons as are selected by the board to assist them in the conduct of examinations shall receive such sum, not exceeding five dollars a day, as is fixed by the Governor in Council: Assistants.

6. The meetings of the board shall be held at such times, and the proceedings thereof shall be governed by such rules and regulations as the Governor in Council, from time to time, determines: Meetings.

7. The board shall be supervised by the Secretary of State 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 8. Supervision of board.

9. The board may obtain the assistance of persons who have had experience in the education of the youth of Canada, and with such assistance shall hold, or cause to be held, periodical examinations for admission to the Civil Service, in the cities of Halifax, St. John, N. B., Charlottetown, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Victoria and such other places as are determined by the Governor in Council; it shall not be necessary to hold such examinations in all the said places, but the times and places at which the examinations shall be held shall be determined, from time to time, by the Governor in Council; examinations shall, as far as possible, be in writing, and the cost thereof shall be defrayed out of moneys previously voted by Parliament for that purpose. Who may be appointed as assistants.

48-49 V., c. 46, s. 9. Places and times of examinations.

2. Whenever the board are satisfied that any irregularity or fraudulent practice has obtained at any examination held by them or by any person deputed by them to hold the same, they may summon before them by an instrument signed by the chairman or acting chairman of the board, and may examine under oath or affirmation, any person who, in their opinion, is in a position to give evidence in relation to any such irregularity or fraudulent practice: Expenses, how paid.

(a) If the person so summoned does not appear at the time and place appointed by such instrument, the chairman or acting chairman of the board shall be vested with all the powers conferred upon a justice of the peace by section five hundred and eighty-two of The Criminal Code, 1892, in case a person to whom a summons has been directed does not appear in obedience thereto: Inquiry as to irregularities at examinations.

(b.) Whenever any person appearing in obedience to any such instrument, or by virtue of a warrant issued under paragraph (a) of this section, refuses to be sworn, or having been sworn refuses to answer such questions as are put to him, or refuses or neglects to produce any documents which he is required to produce, without in any such case offering Summoning and examining of witnesses.

Powers to compel appearance.

Powers to compel giving of sworn testimony and production of documents.

any just excuse for such refusal or neglect, the chairman or acting chairman of the board shall be vested with all the powers conferred in like cases upon a justice of the peace by section five hundred and eighty-five of The Criminal Code, 1892; and, if upon being brought up upon an adjourned hearing such person again refuses to do what is required of him, the chairman or acting chairman shall have the same powers as a justice of the peace has under said section five hundred and eighty-five in the like case, and so again from time to time until such person consents to do what is required of him :

Administration of oath.

3. Every oath or affirmation required for the purposes of such examination may be administered by any member of the Board :

Name of person implicated to be removed from list.

4. If any person is proved by such inquiry to have been concerned in any fraudulent practice or to have been guilty of any breach of the regulations made in virtue of section thirty-one of this Act, the Board shall report the same to the Secretary of State, who may thereupon cause such person's name to be removed from the list of persons who are found qualified :

Penalty for personation.

5. Every person who, at any examination held under this Act, personates any candidate or employs, induces or allows any person to personate him, is guilty of an offence against this Act, and is liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, and, if he is employed in the Civil Service, to be dismissed therefrom :

Penalty for wrongfully receiving or furnishing ex-
papers.

6. Every person who surreptitiously procures from any printer or other person, and every person who, without authority, furnishes to any other person any examination question paper or any other paper relating to any such examination as aforesaid, is guilty of an offence against this Act, and liable, on summary conviction, to imprisonment, with or without hard labour, for a term not exceeding six months, or to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, and if he is employed in the Civil Service, to be dismissed therefrom; and no such person shall be allowed to present himself at any subsequent examination. 51 V., c. 12, s. 2; 58-59 V., c. 14, s. 1.

23. Repealed by 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 2.

Initial salary. 24. The salary of a clerk on appointment or promotion to any class shall begin at the minimum of such class. 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 3.

Salaries to be regulated as per schedule B. 25. The officers, clerks and employees mentioned in schedule B to this Act shall be paid according to the scale thereby established, and the salaries of officers, clerks and employees in the second or outside division of departments other than the Customs, Inland Revenue and Post Office Departments shall, subject to the provisions of any Act relating thereto, be fixed in each case by the Governor in Council. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 25.

Conditions of increase. 26. No officer, clerk or employee shall receive any increase of salary except by Order in Council passed on the report of the Deputy Head, concurred in by the Head of the department, stating that such officer, clerk or employee is deserving of such increase :

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

2. The increase of salary of any officer, clerk or employee authorized under this Act for the then current year may be suspended by the Head of the department for neglect of duty or misconduct, and may be subsequently restored by such Head, but without arrears. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 26. May be suspended for neglect.

27. The increase of salary shall be payable from the first day of the official quarter next succeeding the date on which, from his length of service, any clerk or employee for whom such increase is recommended is eligible for such increase : From what time payable.

2. In case of promotion, the increase of salary shall become payable from the day on which such promotion takes place. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 27. In case of promotion.

28. No salary shall be paid to any member of the Civil Service whose appointment or promotion, or whose increase of salary after the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, has not been made in the manner provided by the Civil Service Act in force at the time of such appointment, promotion or increase. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 28. Appointment must have been according to law.

EXAMINATIONS.

29. Except as herein otherwise provided, no appointment shall be made to either division of the Civil Service unless the person appointed has passed an examination, which shall be of two kinds— No appointment without examination.

The first or "preliminary" examination to qualify for the following appointments :— Preliminary, for what appointments.

Messengers,

Third-class clerkships, railway and marine mail clerkships, and the offices in the second division for Post Office service :

Candidates may pass both examinations voluntarily.

But nothing in this section shall be construed to prevent candidates passing both examinations, at their option. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 29; 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 4.

Conditions for preliminary or qualifying examination.

30. No person shall be admitted either to the preliminary or qualifying examination until he has satisfied the board—

(a.) That at the time appointed for such examination he will, if the examination is for an appointment which the passing of the preliminary examination is sufficient to qualify for, be of the full age of fifteen years, and in other cases be of the full age of eighteen years, and if for the inside departmental division, that his age will not then be more than thirty-five years;

(b.) That he is free from any physical defect or disease which would be likely to interfere with the proper discharge of his duties;

(c.) That his character is such as to qualify him for employment in the service. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 30; 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 5.

Holding of examination

31. The preliminary and qualifying examinations shall be held only once a year and during the month of November, under such regulations, not inconsistent with this Act, as are, from time to time, made by the Governor in Council and published in the English and French languages in the Canada Gazette:

Exemption.

2. Graduates of the Royal Military College, and of any University in Canada, shall be exempt from the qualifying examination. 51 V., c. 12, s. 5.

To whom examinations shall be open.

32. The examinations shall be open to all persons who comply with the requirements of this Act as to proof of age, health and character, and conform to the regulations made as herein provided, upon payment of such fees as are determined by the Governor in Council; and all examinations under this Act shall be held in the English or French language, at the option of the candidate. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 32. Amended by 51 V., c. 12, s. 6

Fees.

Lists of persons found qualified to be made.

34. Immediately after each examination a list of the persons who are found qualified shall be made out, and published in the Canada Gazette. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 34.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

NEW APPOINTMENTS.

35. Whenever it becomes necessary to make any appointment to any of the classes to which it is herein provided that first appointments shall only be made after qualifying examination, such necessity shall be reported to the Head of the department by his Deputy; and upon such report being approved by the Head of the department, and after the salary to be paid has been voted by Parliament, the Head of the department shall select and submit to the Governor in Council for probation, from the lists of qualified candidates made by the board, a person fitted for the vacant place:

Proceedings when new appointments are required.

Selection of candidates.

2. The person so selected shall not receive a permanent appointment until he has served a probationary term of at least six months:

Probation.

3. The Head of the department or the Deputy Head may, at any time during the period of probation, reject any clerk or employee appointed to his department. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 35.

Rejection during probation.

36. No probationary clerk shall remain in any department more than one year, unless, at or before the end of that time the Deputy Head signifies to the Head of the department in writing that the clerk is considered by him competent for the duties of the department:

Report of Deputy Head as to competency.

2. If he is rejected, the Head of the Department shall report to the Governor in Council the reasons for rejecting him, and another clerk shall thereupon be selected in like manner in his stead; and the Head of the department shall decide whether the name of the person rejected shall be struck off the list as unfit for the service generally, or whether he shall be allowed another trial. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 36.

Provision in case of rejection.

37. When the Deputy Head of a department in which a vacancy occurs reports, for reasons set forth in such report, --

As to offices requiring special qualifications.

(a.) That the qualifications requisite for such office or employment are wholly or in part professional or technical;

(b.) That the requisite qualifications are not possessed by any person then in the service of that department; and—

(c.) That it would be for the public interest that the examination herein provided for should, as regards such vacancy, be wholly or partially dispensed with;

The Governor in Council may, without reference to the age of the person, if the Head of the department concurs in such report, select and appoint such person as is deemed best fitted to fill the vacancy, subject to such examination as is suggested in the report; and such appointment shall be made from the Civil Service, if any person employed therein is found available: 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 37.

2. City postmasters and Post Office inspectors; inspectors, collectors and preventive officers in the Customs Department; inspectors of weights and measures; and deputy collectors and preventive officers in the Inland Revenue Department, may be appointed without examination and without reference to the rules for promotion herein prescribed. 52 V., c. 12, s. 2; 57-58 V., c. 15, s. 6

3. Repealed. 58-59 V. c. 15, s. 6.

Vacancy in Auditor-General's office.

38. If a vacancy occurs in the office of the Auditor-General, the report required as to such vacancy shall be made to the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 38.

PROMOTIONS.

Promotion to be by examination under regulations.

Subjects for examination.

39. No promotion in either division of the Civil Service shall take place without special examination, under regulations made by the Governor in Council: 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 39.

2. Except as herein otherwise provided, such examination shall be held only once a year in the month of May, and in such subjects as are determined from time to time for each department by the Governor in Council, and in such subjects as, by report of the Deputy Head of the department in which the promotion is to be made, concurred in by the Head of the department, are submitted to the board as best adapted to test the fitness of the candidates for the vacant office. 51 V., c. 12, s. 8.

In inside division.

3. When the vacancy to be filled by promotion exists in the inside division, the examination shall not be open to persons employed in the outside division who, at the date of their first appointment, were of a greater age than thirty-five years: 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 39.

Examination may be dispensed with in certain cases.

4. In the case of barristers, attorneys, military or civil engineers, officers of the artillery in the Militia Department, and architects, draughtsmen and land surveyors, when employed or when seeking promotion in the line of their profession, and in the case of special class excisemen seeking promotion in the Department of Inland Revenue, the examination may be dispensed with on a report from the Deputy Head, concurred in by the Head of the department, that such examination is not necessary. 51 V., c. 12, s. 8.

Special case of excisemen

5. No such examination shall be required for the re-employment or promotion of excisemen who passed the departmental examinations for the special class in the excise service before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 39.

Estimates to be prepared

40. Once in each year, and not later than the fifteenth day of March, the Deputy Head of each department shall make and lay before the Board, through the Department of the Secretary of State, an estimate of the number of vacancies likely to occur therein during the ensuing year, in the first division, in the classes of—

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

- (a.) Chief clerks ;
- (b.) First-class clerks ;
- (c.) Second-class clerks. 51 V., c. 12, s. 9.

2. To the number so estimated shall be added such further number as the Deputy Head of the department deems necessary to compensate for any death, failure of health, or other contingency: Additions.

3. A similar estimate shall be made at the same time of the number of vacancies likely to occur in the second division, to which promotions can be made: In second division.

4. The numbers so estimated shall be those with reference to which the examinations for promotion shall be held, as herein provided. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 40. Use of estimate.

41. Notice of each examination for promotion in the service shall be published in the English and French languages in the Canada Gazette at least one month before the examination is to be held ; and such notice shall state the number of promotions expected in each class in each division. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 41. Notices of examinations.

42. Except as herein otherwise provided, when any vacancy occurs in one of the higher classes, in either division, the Head of the department shall select from the list of successful candidates for promotion, the person whom he considers best fitted for the office, having due reference to any special duties incident to such office, to the qualification and fitness shown by the candidates respectively, during their examination, and to the record of their previous conduct in the service. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 42. Selection for vacancies in higher classes.
Amended by 51 V., c. 12, s. 10.

43. Every promotion so made shall be subject to a probation of not less than six months ; but at any time during the first year the Head of the department may reject the person promoted, or he may be definitely accepted at any time during the second period of six months after his promotion : Promotion subject to probation.

2. If the person so selected is rejected he shall then return to the performance of the duties in which he was previously engaged. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 43. If rejected.

44. When any clerk who is promoted on probation is rejected, the Head of the department shall select another in his stead from the candidates whose names still remain on the lists of qualified persons, made by the board. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 44. Further selection.

His former duties, by whom performed.

45. During the period for which a clerk is promoted on probation the duties of the office previously held by him shall if necessary, be performed by a person selected for that purpose by the Head of the department. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 45.

Exchange of positions by out examination.

46. An exchange of positions between two officers serving in different departments, or in different divisions of the same department, and the filling of a vacancy in one department by a transfer from another division of the same department or from another department, may be authorized by the Governor in Council, to be made without examination of either officer ; but such exchange or transfer shall be made without increase of salary of either of the persons exchanging or transferred ; and no person shall be transferred from an outside to an inside division, whose age at the date of his first appointment exceeded thirty-five years. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 46.

Condition.

SUPERNUMERARY AND TEMPORARY CLERKS.

Employment of assistance in cases of temporary pressure.

47. When, from a temporary pressure of work or from any other cause extra assistance is required in any branch of either the first or second division, the Governor in Council may, on the report of the Deputy Head of the department, concurred in by the Head of the department, that such extra assistance is required, authorize the employment of such number of temporary clerks, writers, messengers, porters, packers, or sorters, as are required to carry on the work of the department. 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 7.

Examination required by temporary employees hereafter appointed.

47a. Temporary clerks now employed may be continued in such temporary employment, notwithstanding their not having passed any examination, at such rate of pay, not exceeding their present rate of pay, as is fixed by the Governor in Council ; but, except as aforesaid, no person shall be eligible to be employed as a temporary clerk or writer unless he has passed the qualifying examination required by "The Civil Service Act," and no person shall be eligible to be employed as a temporary messenger, porter, packer or sorter, unless he has passed the preliminary examination required by the said Act. 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 8.

47b. Any person so employed may be continued in such employment by Order in Council passed on the report of the Deputy Head, concurred in by the Head of the department, that his continued employment is necessary, but no temporary employment shall give to any person so employed any claim to permanent appointment or to continued or further temporary employment. 57-58 V., c. 15, s. 9.

Remuneration.

47c. The remuneration for temporary assistance shall be as follows :—

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

(a.) in the case of a temporary clerk or writer, at the rate, to begin with, of not more than four hundred dollars a year, and, in addition thereto, at the rate of twenty-five dollars a year for each optional subject, not exceeding two, in which he passed prior to such employment.—the optional subjects, for the purposes of this section, being book-keeping, shorthand and type-writing; and

Of temporary clerk or writer.

(b.) In the case of a temporary messenger, porter, packer or sorter, at the rate, to begin with, of not more than three hundred dollars a year:

Of temporary messenger, &c.

Provided always, that where the employment is continuous the rate of remuneration may be increased from time to time, by amounts not exceeding thirty dollars in any one year, to a maximum of six hundred dollars in the case of a temporary clerk or writer, and to a maximum of five hundred dollars in the case of a messenger, porter, packer or sorter,—such increase to be granted only upon an Order in Council passed on the report of the Deputy Head of the department, concurred in by the Head of the department, that the person recommended therefor is eligible for such increase and is deserving thereof. 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 10.

Provido, as to increases where employment is continuous.

47d. The persons employed under the four next preceding sections shall be paid only out of moneys specially voted by Parliament for the purpose. 58-59 V., c. 15, s. 11.

Moneys to be specially voted.

PRIVATE SECRETARIES.

48. Any member of the Civil Service may be appointed private secretary to the Head of a department, and may be paid an additional salary not exceeding six hundred dollars a year whilst so acting:

Private secretaries of Ministers.

2. No salary shall be payable to any private secretary unless the amount has been voted by Parliament. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 48.

GENERAL PROVISIONS.

49. The Head of a department, and in his absence the Deputy Head of such department, may grant to each officer, chief clerk, clerk or other employee, leave of absence for purposes of recreation for a period not exceeding three weeks in each year; and every such officer, clerk or employee, whether in the first or second division, shall take the leave so granted at such time during each year as the Head or Deputy Head of the department determines:

As to leave of absence.

2. In case of illness, or for any other reason which to him seems sufficient, the Governor in Council may grant to any officer, chief clerk, clerk or other employee, leave of absence for a period not exceeding twelve months. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 49.

In case of illness, &c.

Suspension of officers for cause.
In what cases.

50. The Head of a department, and in his absence the Deputy Head of such department, may,—

(a.) Suspend from the performance of his duty or from the receipt of his salary any officer or employee guilty of misconduct or negligence in the performance of his duties ;

Removal of suspension.

(b.) Remove such suspension ; but no person shall receive any salary or pay for the time during which he was under suspension :

Report in such cases.

2. All cases of suspension by the Deputy Head of the department shall be reported by him to the Head of the department. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 50.

No extra remuneration.

51. No extra salary or additional remuneration of any kind whatsoever shall be paid to any Deputy Head, officer or employee in the Civil Service of Canada, or to any other person permanently employed in the public service. 51 V., c. 12, s. 12.

2. Repealed by 51 V., c. 12, s. 13.

Deduction from pay for
absence.

3. When the absence of any officer is not occasioned by his employment on other duties by the Government, by leave of absence, or on account of illness certified by an authorized medical practitioner, appointed by the Governor in Council for that purpose, his salary for each day of such absence, shall be deducted from his monthly salary. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 51.

Certain payments to be made only under Order
in Council.

52. All payments of money to permanent employees, other than salaries, to be made under the provisions of this Act, and specifically stated in the estimates submitted to Parliament, shall be made only under the authority of the Governor in Council. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 52.

As to officers having resigned and wishing to re-
enter service.

53. Any officer, clerk or employee who has resigned, shall be eligible, without examination, under the authority of an Order in Council, to re-enter the service, at the same salary in the class in which he was serving at the time of such resignation, provided that funds are available for the payment of his salary. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 53.

Act not to
tain officers.

54. Nothing contained in this Act shall prejudicially affect the salary or emoluments of any Deputy Head, officer, clerk or employee in the Civil Service of Canada, appointed on or before the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and eighty-two, so long as he is continued in office, nor shall anything herein contained affect any salary or emolument granted and fixed by any Act in force on the day in this section before mentioned. 48-49 V., c. 46, s. 54.

Governor in Council not impaired.

55. No provision herein contained shall impair the power of the Governor in Council to remove or dismiss any Deputy Head, officer, clerk or employee, but no such Deputy

APPENDIX No. 2.

CHAPTER 18.

(Revised Statutes.)

(As amended by 56 V., c. 12.)

An Act respecting the Superannuation of persons employed in the Civil Service of Canada. em- A.D. 1886

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows :—

SHORT TITLE.

1. This Act may be cited as "The Civil Service Superannuation Act." 46 V., c. 8, s. 18. Short title.

APPLICATION OF ACT.

2. The Civil Service, for the purposes of this Act includes and consists of—
- (a.) All officers, clerks and employees in or under the several departments of the Executive Government who are paid a yearly salary, and to whom "The Civil Service Act" applies ;
 - (b.) All such officers, clerks and employees of the second or outside division of the Civil Service, as the Governor in Council, from time to time, designates, and to whom "The Civil Service Act" does not apply, and who are paid a yearly salary and employed in an established capacity ;
 - (c.) The permanent officers and servants of the Senate and House of Commons, and the permanent officers and servants employed in the Library of Parliament, who, for the purposes of this Act, shall be deemed to be in the Civil Service, saving all rights and privileges of either House in respect to the appointment or removal of its officers and servants ;
 - (d.) All persons now contributing to the superannuation fund ;
 - (e.) All persons to whom this Act is by some other Act declared to apply. 46 V., c. 8, s. 1.
 - (f.) Notwithstanding anything therein or in any other Act contained, the provisions of The Civil Service Superannuation Act, chapter eighteen of the Revised Statutes, shall not apply to any person who is appointed to any branch of the Civil Service of Canada after the passing of this Act, and whose age at the time of such appointment exceeds forty-five years. 56 V., c. 12, s. 2.
- Who shall be deemed civil servants.
Persons under Civil Service Act.
Certain persons in the outside service.
Officers and servants of Senate and Commons.
Present contributors to the fund.
Certain others.
R.S.C., c. 18, not to apply to future appointees over forty-five years of age.

SUPERANNUATION.

3. The Governor in Council may grant to any person who has served in an established capacity in the Civil Service for ten years or upwards, and who has attained the age of sixty years, or is incapacitated by bodily infirmity from properly performing his duties, a superannuation allowance calculated on his average yearly salary during the then last three years, and not exceeding the following rates, that is to say :—

Rates of allowance. (a.) If he has served for ten years, but less than eleven years, an annual allowance of ten fiftieths of such average salary, and if for eleven years and under twelve years, an annual allowance of eleven fiftieths thereof, and in like manner a further addition of one fiftieth of such average salary for each additional year of service up to thirty-five years, when an annual allowance of thirty-five fiftieths may be granted; but no addition shall be made for any service beyond thirty-five years;

Maximum rate for 35 years. (b.) If the service has not been continuous, the period or periods during which such service has been interrupted shall not be counted, and the Order in Council made in any such case shall be laid before Parliament at its then current or next ensuing session. 46 V., c. 8, s. 2.

Breaks in service not to be counted.

4. The Governor in Council may, in the case of any person who entered the Civil Service after the age of thirty years, as being possessed of some peculiar professional or other qualifications or attainments required for the office to which he was appointed, and not ordinarily to be acquired in the public service, add to the actual number of years' service of such person, such further number of years not exceeding ten, as is considered equitable, for reasons stated in the Order in Council made in the case; and such additional number of years shall be taken as part of the term of service on which the superannuation allowance of such person shall be computed; and the Order in Council in any such case shall be laid before Parliament at its then current or next ensuing session. 46 V., c. 8, s. 3.

Governor in Council may add to service of persons appointed on account of special qualifications.

5. The superannuation of every civil servant shall be preceded by an inquiry by the Treasury Board—

(a.) Whether the person it is proposed to superannuate is eligible within the meaning of this Act; and—

(b.) Whether his superannuation will result in benefit to the service, and is therefore in the public interest; or—

(c.) Whether it has become necessary in consequence of his mental or physical infirmity:

Preliminary inquiry by Treasury Board.

2. No civil servant shall be superannuated unless the Treasury Board reports that the eligible within the meaning of this Act and that such superannuation will be in the public interest. 46 V., c. 8, s. 4.

Report of Board.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

6.* A deduction towards making good the superannuation allowances hereinbefore mentioned, shall be made from the salary of every person in the Civil Service to whom this Act applies, at the rate of three and one-half per cent per annum on such salary, if it is six hundred dollars or upwards, and of three per cent per annum thereon, if it is less than six hundred dollars, such deduction to be carried to the credit of a fund called the Civil Service Superannuation Fund, No. 2, to which shall be added by the Government annually such a sum as may be sufficient to make the amount thereof equal to the value of the prospective annuities payable therefrom, as hereinafter mentioned, to the several contributors thereto, upon an estimate or valuation thereof based upon the H. M. Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain and a rate of interest of six per cent per annum; but such deduction shall be made only during the first thirty-five years of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 5 and 56 V., c. 12, s. 3.

Deductions from salaries.
Special fund.
Proviso

7. The full superannuation allowance shall only be granted to persons who have been subject to the said deduction during ten years or upwards,—the superannuation allowance of any person who has not paid it, or has paid it for a less period, being subject to a diminution of one per centum for every year less than ten during which he has not paid it; except that the superannuation allowance of any person hereafter retiring, shall not be subject to any such diminution by reason of his not having paid the abatement hereinbefore mentioned, during any year or years after his first thirty-five years of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 6.

Ten years' contribution requisite for full allowance.
Diminution for less period of contribution.
Exception.

8. Retirement shall be compulsory on every person to whom the superannuation allowance hereinbefore mentioned is offered, and such offer shall not be considered as implying any censure upon the person to whom it is made; nor shall any person be considered as having any absolute right to such allowance, but it shall be granted only in consideration of good and faithful service during the time upon which it is calculated:

Compulsory retirement.
Allowance conditional on good service.

2. Nothing herein contained shall be understood as impairing or affecting the right of the Governor in Council to dismiss or remove any person from the Civil Service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 7.

Right of dismissal not impaired.

9. If the Head of a department reports with respect to any person employed in his department, and about to be superannuated, from any cause other than that of ill-health or age, that the service of such person has not been satisfac-

Diminution when Head of Department reports unsatisfactory service.

* The rates herein mentioned apply only to persons appointed after the 1st April 1893, when this Act, as amended, came into force. Those appointed prior to that date pay 2 per cent and 1½ per cent respectively.

tory, the Governor in Council may, as to him seems fit, grant such person a superannuation allowance less than that to which he would have otherwise been entitled. 46 V., c. 8, s. 8.

Gratuity when yearly allowance not earned.

10. If any person to whom this Act applies, is constrained, from any infirmity of mind or body, to quit the Civil Service before the period at which a superannuation allowance might be granted him, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding one month's pay for each year of his service; and if any such person is so constrained to quit the service before such period, by reason of severe bodily injury, received without his own fault, in the discharge of his public duty, the Governor in Council may allow him a gratuity not exceeding three month's pay for every two years' service, or a superannuation allowance not exceeding one-fifth of his average salary during the then last three years. 46 V., c. 8, s. 9.

Gratuity in case of bodily injury on duty.

Provision for abolition of office, reduction of staff, &c.

11. If any person to whom this Act applies is removed from office in consequence of the abolition of his office for the purpose of improving the organization of the department to which he belongs, or is removed, or retired from office to promote efficiency or economy in the Civil Service, the Governor in Council may grant him such gratuity or superannuation allowance as will fairly compensate him for his loss of office, not exceeding such as he would have been entitled to if he had retired in consequence of permanent infirmity of body or mind, after adding ten years to his actual term of service. 46 V., c. 8, s. 10.

Pensioners under sixty liable to serve if required, under penalty of loss of allowance.

12. Every person who receives a superannuation allowance, and is under the age of sixty years, and is not disabled by bodily or mental infirmity, may be called upon to fill, in any part of Canada, any public office or situation for which his previous services render him eligible, and which is not lower in rank or emolument than that from which he retired; and, if he refuses or neglects so to do, he shall forfeit his said allowance. 46 V., c. 8, s. 11.

Service before Confederation to be counted.

13. Service in an established capacity in any of the departments of the Executive Government or offices of the Legislature of any of the Provinces now included in the Dominion of Canada, before such Province became a portion thereof, by any person who has thereafter entered the Civil Service, shall be reckoned in computing his period of service for the purposes of this Act. 46 V., c. 8, s. 12.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

14. In any case of doubt the Governor in Council may, by general or special regulations, determine to what persons the provisions of this Act do or do not apply, and the conditions on which, and the manner in which, they shall apply in any case or class of cases. 46 V., c. 8, s. 13. Discretionary power of Governor in Council.

15. The superannuation allowance to which all persons to whom this Act is applicable become entitled shall be chargeable upon and payable out of the said fund. 56 V., c. 12, s. 4. Payment of allowances.

REPORT OF SUPERANNUATIONS.

16. The Minister of Finance and Receiver General shall lay before Parliament, within fifteen days after the commencement of each session thereof, a statement of all superannuations and retiring allowances in the Civil Service within the year, giving the name and rank of each person superannuated or retired, his salary, age and length of service, the allowance granted to him on retirement, the cause of his superannuation and whether the vacancy has been subsequently filled, and if so, whether by promotion or by a new appointment, and the salary of the new appointee, and also a statement showing the condition of the said fund, at the thirtieth day of June previous. 46 V., c. 8, s. 15 and 56 V., c. 12, s. 5. Annual return to be made to Parliament.

60-61 VICTORIA.

CHAP. 15.

An Act further to amend the Civil Service Superannuation Act.

[Assented to 29th June, 1897.]

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:—

Deductions for superannuation fund may be repaid to dismissed public servant.

1. The Governor in Council may, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, pay to any person dismissed from the public service of Canada, who at the time of such dismissal was contributing to any civil service superannuation fund under the provisions of The Civil Service Superannuation Act, or any Act in amendment thereof, the whole, or such portion as the Governor in Council deems expedient, of the amount so contributed by such person to such fund; and the Governor in Council may also, on the recommendation of the Treasury Board, in addition pay to such person interest to the date of such dismissal on the contributions so repaid, or any portion thereof, at such rate of interest, not exceeding five per cent per annum, and calculated in such manner, as the Governor in Council deems advisable.

With interest.

Retroaction.

2. This Act applies to any person heretofore or hereafter dismissed from the public service.

Payment in discretion of Governor in Council.

3. Nothing herein shall be construed to confer upon any person any right to demand or enforce the repayment of any amount contributed by him to any such fund, or any interest thereon, and all payments made under this Act shall be wholly in the discretion of the Governor in Council.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

APPENDIX No. 3.

56 VICTORIA.

CHAP. 13.

An Act respecting Government Civil Service Insurance.

[Assented to 1st April, 1898.]

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows:—

1. This Act may be cited as The Civil Service Insurance Act. Short title.
2. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires, the expression "Minister" means the Minister of Finance and Receiver-General. defined.
3. The Minister may contract with any person to whom The Civil Service Superannuation Act applies, or who may be hereafter appointed to a permanent position in any branch of the Public Service of Canada, for the payment of a certain sum of money to be made upon the death of such person. Insurance contracts authorized.
2. Any such contract is hereinafter called the "insurance contract"; the person so contracting with the Minister is hereinafter called the "insured"; and the amount so contracted to be paid is hereinafter called "insurance money." Interpretation.
4. When the insured is a married man or a widower with children, the insurance contract shall be for the benefit of his wife, or of his wife and children, or of his wife and some one or more of his children, or of his children only, or of some one or more of them; and when the insurance contract is effected for the benefit of more than one, the insured may apportion the insurance money among them as he deems proper. Apportioning of insurance in case of married man or widower with children.

Apportionment in case of unmarried man.

5. When the insured is an unmarried man, the insurance contract shall be for the benefit of his future wife, or of his future wife and children, and the insured may apportion the insurance money among them in such manner as he sees fit; but if, at the maturity of the contract, he is still unmarried, or is a widower without children, the insurance money shall fall into and become part of his estate.

Form of apportionment.

6. Any apportionment under the next two preceding sections may be made in the insurance contract, or by a declaration endorsed thereon or annexed thereto and signed by the insured.

"Children" defined.

7. When it is stated in the insurance contract, or in a declaration endorsed thereon or attached thereto, that the insurance contract is for the benefit of the wife and children generally, or of the children generally, of the insured, without specifying their names, then the word "children" shall mean all the children of the insured living at the time of his death whether by the same wife or by different wives.

Share of person dying before the insured.

8. Where an apportionment has been made as hereinbefore provided and one or more of the persons in whose favour the apportionment has been made die in the lifetime of the insured, the insured may, by an instrument in writing endorsed on or attached to the insurance contract, declare that the shares formerly apportioned to the persons so dying shall be for the benefit of the wife and children of the insured, or of one or more of them, as he sees fit; and in default of such declaration, the shares of the persons so dying shall be for the benefit of the survivor, or of the survivors of such persons in equal shares if more than one; and if all the persons so entitled die in the lifetime of the insured, the insurance money shall fall into and become part of the estate of the insured.

If there is no apportionment.

9. When no apportionment is made of the insurance money as hereinbefore provided, all persons interested shall be held to share equally therein.

Minister may decline to contract.

10. The Minister may decline to enter into an insurance contract in any case where there are, in his opinion, sufficient grounds for his declining to do so.

Tables to be prepared.

11. The Minister shall cause tables to be constructed fixing the premiums to be paid by the insured to the Minister as the consideration for such insurance contracts, and also all other tables necessary for the carrying out of the provisions of this Act.

Basis of tables.

2. All such tables shall be based on the H. M. Mortality Table of the Institute of Actuaries of Great Britain, and on a rate of interest of six per cent per annum, no allowance being made for expenses.

3. Such tables shall be framed so that the premium to obtain an insurance contract may be paid in one sum, or in annual, semi-annual, quarterly, or monthly instalments, and either during the life of the insured or during a limited period.

Premium, how payable.

12. The minimum and maximum amounts payable at death which may be contracted for under this Act shall be one thousand dollars and two thousand dollars respectively.

Amount of insurance limited.

13. Every applicant for insurance shall furnish with his application a medical certificate in such form as is prescribed by the Minister.

Medical certificate.

14. The Governor in Council may from time to time make regulations for the following purposes under this Act :

Regulations
by Governor
in Council.

(a.) For regulating the mode and form of making contracts ;

(b.) For prescribing the mode of proving the age and identity and the existence or death of persons ;

(c.) For prescribing the mode of paying sums of money in connection with insurance contracts ;

(d.) For dispensing with the production of probate of a will or letters of administration, either generally or in any particular class of cases ;

(e.) For prescribing the accounts to be kept and their management ;

(f.) For determining beforehand the cases or classes of cases in which insurance contracts may be surrendered and a cash surrender value paid therefor, or a free or paid-up insurance contract issued instead thereof, and for prescribing the manner in which such cash surrender value or amount of paid-up insurance shall be determined ;

(g.) For any other purpose for which it is deemed expedient to make regulations in order to carry this Act into effect.

15. In the event of any person to whom *The Civil Service Superannuation Act now applies taking advantage of the provisions of this Act, a deduction at the rate of three per cent per annum shall be made from the salary of such person towards making good the superannuation allowance provided for by the said Act, such deduction to be instead of the deduction now payable under section six of the said Act.

Additional payment if insured now comes under
R.S.C., c. 18

16. The provisions of this Act shall be carried out by the staff of the Finance Department, under the direction and supervision of the Superintendent of Insurance.

Superintendent of insurance

* As the Act stood before amended by 56 V., chap. 12.

Annual
report

17. The said superintendent shall, within three months after the thirtieth day of June in each year, prepare for the Minister a statement showing the amount received for premiums during the twelve months ending on the said thirtieth day of June for all insurance contracts entered into previous to the said date, and the amount of all sums paid in connection therewith during the said period, the number of new contracts entered into since the previous statement and the gross amount thereof, with such further details and particulars as are deemed advisable.

To be laid
ment.

2. The Minister shall lay the said statement before Parliament within thirty days after the commencement of the session thereof next after the date of the said statement.

Secretary of State—Civil Service List.

APPENDIX No. 4.

61 VICTORIA.

CHAP. 17.

An Act to provide for the abolition of the Civil Service Superannuation Act and for the retirement of members of the Civil Service,

[Assented to 13th June, 1898.]

HER Majesty, by and with the advice and consent of the Senate and House of Commons of Canada, enacts as follows :—

1. This Act may be cited as The Civil Service Retirement Act, 1898. Short title.
2. This Act shall apply, instead of The Civil Service Superannuation Act,— To whom Act shall apply.
 - (a.) to every person hereafter appointed to the Civil Service ;
 - (b.) to every person now in the Civil Service who before the first day of January, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-nine, with the consent of the Governor in Council, elects to accept the provisions of this Act in lieu of those of The Civil Service Superannuation Act.
3. The Civil Service for the purposes of this Act shall include all officers, clerks, employees and other persons mentioned or referred to in section 2 of The Civil Service Superannuation Act. Who shall be deemed civil servants.
4. A fund, to be called the "retirement fund," shall be formed for the retirement of the persons to whom this Act applies, subject to the conditions and qualifications hereinafter contained. Retirement fund.
5. The said fund shall be created by the reservation out of the salary of each person of five per cent of his salary ; in addition to which, in the case of any person now in the service who has been subject to any such deduction, and who, Formation fund.

with the consent of the Governor in Council, elects to accept the provisions of this Act in lieu of those of The Civil Service Superannuation Act, there shall be transferred to his credit and form part of the said fund, a sum equal to the amount of all such deductions from his salary, and interest, compounded half-yearly, at the rate of four per cent per annum.

Separate account for each person.

6. The amount reserved, in the case of each person, together with any sum transferred to his credit as in the next preceding section mentioned, shall be entered in a separate account; and interest at the rate of four per cent per annum shall be computed on the first days of January and July in each year on all sums, whether of principal or interest, to the credit of the retirement fund, and such interest shall be credited thereto and form part thereof.

Interest.

No claim
while in service.

7. No person shall, during his continuance in office, have any claim or right to any part of the retirement fund.

Payment on retirement or dismissal.

8. On the retirement or dismissal of any person, the amount to his credit in the retirement fund shall be payable to him: Provided always, that if he is, in the opinion of the Governor in Council, unfit to manage his own affairs, such amount may be dealt with for the benefit of such person, or of his wife or children or other next of kin, in such manner as the Governor in Council determines.

If person is
infirm.

death.

9. If a person dies while in the Civil Service, the amount to his credit in the retirement fund shall be paid to his legal representatives.

Commencement of Act.

10. This Act shall come into force on the first day of July, one thousand eight hundred and ninety-eight.

To His Excellency the Right Honourable Sir Gilbert John Elliot Murray-Kynynmond, Earl of Minto and Viscount Melgund of Melgund, County of Forfar, in the Peerage of the United Kingdom, Baron Minto of Minto, County of Roxburgh, in the Peerage of Great Britain, Baronet of Nova Scotia, Knight Grand Cross of Our Most Distinguished Order of St. Michael and St. George, &c., &c., Governor General of Canada.

MAY IT PLEASE YOUR EXCELLENCY:

The undersigned has the honour to present to Your Excellency the Annual Report of the Department of Public Printing and Stationery for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1898.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

R. W. SCOTT,
Secretary of State.

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC PRINTING AND STATIONERY,
OFFICE OF THE QUEEN'S PRINTER
AND CONTROLLER OF STATIONERY,
OTTAWA, 23rd January, 1899.

The Honourable

R. W. SCOTT, Q.C., LL.D.,
Secretary of State.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith a report upon the operations of this Department for the year ending 30th June, 1898. It has hitherto been the custom to extend the report on distribution and advertising to the end of the calendar year. This has always delayed the publication and it has been thought better to close up everything at the end of the fiscal year. This is now done for the first time.

The copy for the departmental Blue-books has been coming in unusually late and there was, about Christmas week, considerable difficulty in keeping the compositors employed. On the other hand the press-room and bindery have been compelled to work much extra time and even then without overtaking the demands made upon them. It has hitherto been the custom to get out during the recess any extra numbers of agricultural or other reports ordered for general distribution. These were in former years largely held over and delivered to members during the recess or at the following session, and in that way the work was spread over the slack season. This year request was made to have them all delivered shortly after Parliament rose, but as the press facilities of the Bureau had not been calculated for such a task the request could not be complied with. Until a fast press, printing from the web on both sides and folding the sheets, be provided, these long numbers of reports cannot be got out faster than in former years. The bindery being also overtaxed, assistance was procured, as in similar emergencies in 1892 and 1893, and a large number were bound in an outside office.

On 30th June, 1898, the first decade of the existence of the Government Printing Bureau closed, and it is appropriate to pass in review the whole work of the institution during that period. The subject is very little understood and it is hoped that the summary of ten years' experience, which immediately follows, will be carefully and generally read. Much of the information contained therein has been already given in previous annual reports, but if they have been read at all by the public it would seem that the statements they contain have not been remembered. An attempt has now been made to lay open the whole working of the institution so that the untechnical reader may understand it. For this reason the subject has been subdivided into heads. The reader may, by means of the table of contents, refer quickly to any portion of it in which he is most interested, and a synopsis of the general conclusions is prefixed for the convenience of those who have not time to read the report.

The branch instituted last year for stamping paper and envelopes and for manufacturing the postal envelopes as well as embossing the stamp has been working in a satisfactory manner. It is sincerely hoped that a comparison may be made by the public between the postal envelopes formerly supplied and those made at the Bureau.

It will be seen by the tables submitted herewith that the volume of work is steadily increasing as also is the consumption of paper and stationery. The vote under the head of Miscellaneous Printing has been exceeded for two successive years, and it will be necessary to increase it by two thousand dollars.

The reports appended of the Accountant and the Superintendents of Printing and Stationery will show the details of the business of their respective departments. It will be seen that the Canada Gazette shows a profit of $296.73. While the revenue of this publication is tolerably steady the expenditure is very uncertain as it depends on the varying quantity of matter requiring publication.

The statement of advertising audited is, under the new arrangement, made up only for the half year ending 30th June, and shows very little change from the previous year.

The stock on hand in the Stationery Department has increased more than was anticipated. A careful analysis shows that the excess is in printing paper and flat papers and envelopes in constant use. So long as this is the case it will call for no special remark as the excess is readily available for the following year. The chief thing to guard against is keeping in stock goods which are not staples in constant demand and for which requisitions are uncertain.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your most obedient servant,

S. E. DAWSON,

Queen's Printer and Controller of Stationery.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

SYNOPSIS OF THE FOLLOWING DECENNIAL REPORT.

It is necessary in a review of the first ten years of a new institution to touch upon many subjects of minor practical importance relating to its inception, history, and management and to put upon record facts which might otherwise be forgotten. While the table of contents will enable a hurried reader to skip these and to dwell upon those paragraphs which may appear to him to be of greater practical importance, a synopsis of conclusions will be useful to one more hurried still.

The following pages will show that when it was established in 1888, the Printing Bureau was abreast of the then existing improvements in the printer's art and that, in 1892, the introduction of linotype machines for book printing put it ahead of every office, not only in Canada, but everywhere else. The rapidly increasing requirements of the public service could therefore be adequately met so far as composition was concerned. But inasmuch as ten years is generally acknowledged to be the limit of duration of type it is evident that the founts must be renewed by large purchases or more machines must be provided. In any case the work is increasing and the office requires to be kept up to its relatively high standard.

It will also appear that in the very first year of active operation it was recognized that the press room and bindery were too small and were inadequate to cope with the whole work of the Government. That work, it is shown, was by no means all done by the late contractors. A large part of it was scattered over the country at high local rates and the contractors recovered damages with costs and interest upon all they could trace of it. The amount paid for public printing was therefore the amount paid under the contract, plus the amounts paid for all the outside printing, plus the profit over again upon the latter amount; which profit alone was, without costs and interest, nearly two hundred thousand dollars. It is not therefore surprising that when the whole work was concentrated in one building the provision made for it was in some important respects inadequate. It is not moreover surprising that the increasing demands of a rapidly advancing country should strain the resources of the Bureau to the utmost and that, at last, a limit should be reached beyond which further demands become impossible to satisfy.

The details given in the following pages will demonstrate that the volume of work has increased seventy-five per cent at the very lowest estimate. That enormously increased mass of work is shown to have been performed at a less aggregate cost than was paid for the smaller volume; and the reduction in cost upon the former contract price is demonstrated to be at the lowest calculation twenty-five per cent.

There has been therefore a large annual saving more than sufficient to cover every charge upon the public funds. The work has been done in far better style and quality and with less delay than ever before. Quantities of standing matter, undreamed of in the time of the contract, are now carried as a matter of course and without charge. The time for doing the work is shortened, as is manifest in the report work, and the efforts of the printing office to meet demands said to be urgent, pressing and immediate have had the effect of diminishing in the departments the foresight and system necessary for carrying on the public service smoothly. These efforts on the part of the Bureau are accepted as a matter of course and make precedents for increasing demands and for increasing delays in preparing copy.

Requests to supply, in the early part of the year and therefore while Parliament may be in session, the large number of Farm and Dairy reports required for public distribution, hitherto with difficulty overtaken in the whole period of the recess, have rendered it necessary to call attention again to what the former and the present Queen's Printers have been incessantly urging in their reports, to wit, the necessity of enlarging the building and of adding new and improved machinery to bring the office up to the latest advances of the printer's art and put it in a position to supply the present requirements. It is also important to endow it with a reserve of resource so that every demand however unusual could be met. The improvements recommended are the following:—

1. A fast perfecting press, feeding from the web and folding its own work, capable of turning out from 18,000 to 24,000 sheets of 16 pages per hour.
2. The addition of four linotype machines and the exchange of two of those now in the office for others of the latest improved make.
3. The extension to the rear of the western wing to provide increased space for the bindery and for the press room.

The outlay on these improvements would very quickly be recouped in actual money saved. A perusal of the following pages will it is hoped establish the above conclusions and will also explain, in an untechnical manner, many other matters important to be understood relative to the smooth and prompt working of the machinery of Government, both legislative and administrative.

DECENNIAL REPORT.

A.—Different Systems of Government Printing.

I.—THE FIRST DECADE OF GOVERNMENT PRINTING.

Although the Department of Public Printing and Stationery was organized in the year 1886, under the Act 49 Vic. Chap. 22, (Revised Statutes of Canada, Chap. 27) and the Queen's Printer placed over it with the rank of Deputy Head, it was not until July 1st, 1888, that the Department began actual practical work as a manufacturing institution; and, inasmuch as the first decade of its existence under the popular appellation of "Government Printing Bureau" closed with the last financial year (June 30, 1898), it is opportune and proper, in the present Report, to enter more fully than usual into detail and to review the whole history of the Department with a view to inquire into its success or failure in achieving the object of its institution.

The terms of the then existing contracts did not end until October and December, 1888; but an arrangement was made by which the work was taken over on July 1st, 1888. The new building not being ready, the premises and plant of the contractors were leased, and the working staff was transferred as it existed. Attention is particularly called to that fact for it is important and will be reverted to later on. Another building was also leased for setting up the Voters' Lists, and the work was thus carried on until towards the end of the year 1889, when the gradual assembling of the staff was complete in the new building and under present conditions. The office of the Queen's Printer and his immediate staff of clerks remained for a time, however, in the East Block. The present Queen's Printer, shortly after his appointment, removed to the Bureau building in order to keep in close touch with the staff of operatives.

It is, moreover, especially necessary at this time to review in detail all matters concerning the "Printing Bureau," because the work has steadily increased, and, in two or three important branches, the present building is inadequate to the needs of the public service. The demands upon it grow, year by year, as the administration of government extends in new directions and over larger areas. There are not press facilities for turning out in the time required the quantity of work thrown on the Bureau, and there is not room to handle the mass of sheets now passing through the bindery. There should, moreover, be some provision for the increased requirements of a rapidly growing country like Canada, and the Bureau should be kept at least abreast of the general advance of the printer's art. Since the office was fitted up immense improvements have been made, not only in composing machines, but in presses. The Bureau led the whole Dominion in the employment of typesetting machines, not only by using them for the narrow columns of the English Hansard, but in setting, as far back as February, 1892, an ordinary book in wide columns. Yet in facilities for press work it is now behind other establishments of less rank and importance.

While these things require to be pointed out the opportunity offers itself to correct some misconceptions concerning the working of the Bureau which evidently exist in the minds of many. These misconceptions have a tendency to obstruct any attempt to procure the increased and improved appliances required to keep pace with the needs of the country; and, as the officials who had actual experience of the inconveniences of the former system pass away, its many drawbacks are lost sight of in the mist which quickly gathers round the events of past years.

II.—THE CONTRACT SYSTEM.

In order to avoid repetition and ensure a clear apprehension of the facts bearing on the subject, it will be convenient to consider separately the question of the comparative cost of the two systems. This will be done under a distinct heading. (Letter C. Sections 18-24.) In the meantime it is unquestioned that the printing of the Dominion is now more than up to the level of other national printing offices. It is superior—greatly superior—to what it was under the old system, in every quality essential to a book or form—the paper is better, the type is better, the press work is better, the style is better, the doing up is better, not in a slight degree, but in a very great degree. It requires no technical skill to see that. The most cursory comparison of the work of 1885 or 1886 with that of 1895 or 1896 will show it plainly, and the reason is evident; it is because no one is directly interested in doing anything to lower the standard of the work. In the year 1885, the late Queen's Printer (Col. Chamberlin), stated that "the fact is undeniable that the work sent out is not creditable to the Government or the people of the Dominion." In the same year Mr. Josiah Blackburn, of London, Ont., called in as an expert, reported that "it is notorious that the parliamentary and departmental printing of Canada is of a very inferior kind." The late Queen's Printer accounted for it to some extent, as follows:—

"Upon the failure of a contractor for parliamentary printing some years before Confederation and the assumption by others (under what was deemed almost desperate circumstances) of the responsibility of carrying the contract through, it was deemed fair, nay, perhaps necessary in order to prevent an entire collapse, that the standard of work should be lowered. It has never since been raised so as to render it first-class. When, after the destruction of Mr. Desbarats' establishment here, a change to the contract system was made in respect of the

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

“departmental work, and the two contracts fell into the same hands (which has ever since been the case) the parliamentary standard came gradually—almost inevitably—to be applied to both. To raise it again is a most difficult matter, except under some decided change of system; either through such a revision of contracts as will give the contractors greater interest in doing their best, or their abandonment in favour of a Government establishment.”

He then went on to show the way in which the system worked out:

“The rejection of work turned out by one contractor, such as has been accepted from his predecessor, or under one contract such as would be accepted under another, would, in any case give rise to a charge of favouritism, injurious to any official attempting it. Perchance his decision would be overruled; persisted in, it is not unlikely to result in the abandonment of a contract, with subsequent trouble to everybody, extra cost to the Government, and chaos in the departmental or parliamentary work. Of course work is, from time to time, rejected; but for the most part it is just good enough to secure acceptance, or is wanted in such haste that, bad or good, the article must be had and used.”

The conclusion of Mr. Blackburn is summed up thus:

“If the general public wish to see the public printing incident to Canada present an appearance equally good to that shown in the work issuing from the Government printing offices of Washington, and of Victoria, Australia, it will only be by a resort to the same methods. For so long as contractors have their own interests at stake instead of those of the country, so long may we look for a resort to those expedients the effect of which is stamped in so unmistakable a manner on the parliamentary and departmental printing that is now in use in this country.”

Among those opposed to a Government Printing Bureau there are some in the printing trade who think that Government work should be distributed as patronage among the offices favourable to the Administration reigning at the time. Such a procedure would require a larger staff of clerks than at present to carry it out. It is not necessary, however, to dwell upon this method, for such a change could not be made without serious embarrassment to the administration of government. The extent of the Dominion precludes it; for government supporters on the Atlantic and the Pacific are as much entitled to favours as those on the St. Lawrence or Ottawa, and such a system would make as many enemies as friends. No third alternative is possible. Either the work must be given as a whole to a contractor or it must be done in a government establishment.

It is evident that no one would ever undertake the government work if the profitable part of it could be distributed as patronage and the unprofitable part—the husk—be left to the contractor. A contract must cover everything; for the contractor would be compelled to provide premises, plant, and staff at Ottawa sufficient for every requirement. That being the case, the outside printing offices would be no better off by a change of system. One firm alone of all their number would hold the contract and would obtain the profit. There can be no room for illusion on this point. The judge who gave the decision of the Supreme Court in the case of MacLean and the Queen put the matter beyond doubt. He said:

“That no business man could for a moment suppose that he was not to have the whole work, but that, on the contrary, while he should be at all times ready and bound to do all he should be required to do, at the same time no obligation existed on the part of the Crown to give him anything whatever to do.” “That they (the contractors) must keep up such a large establishment of expensive machinery and skilled workmen and be compelled to stand by and see their neighbour employed, without tender, to do the very work for which their tender had been accepted; no such utterly absurd state of things could possibly have been present in the minds of the parties to the contract.”

The local printers would be worse off if a contract existed than they are with the Bureau, for the contractors, having always a large establishment at their command and a large staff to keep in employment, would enter into competition with outside offices for local or general work, while the Government Printing Bureau is forbidden by law to do any private work whatever. It is no doubt true, that in spite of the contract, work was given out in former years as patronage to other offices, but for that the Dominion of Canada had eventually to pay nearly two hundred and fifty thousand dollars damages and costs awarded by the courts to the contractors for profit lost on work they did not do. It is not probable that there will be any repetition of that system. There is no power, however, in the Government Printing Bureau to prevent work being given to outside firms. It is only the law which stands in the way. Parliament has enacted a statute to prevent it, but there is no one now to complain or to recover damages for breach of contract.

III.—GOVERNMENT PRINTING OFFICES ELSEWHERE.

There is nothing unusual or exceptional in the fact that the Canadian Government has a printing office for doing its own work. Government printing offices exist, and have existed, for a long series of years in nearly every country in Europe. In England the office of Royal Printer is one of great antiquity. About the year 1500 (some few years earlier probably, for the original papers have been lost) Richard Pynson (an apprentice of Caxton) was appointed Regius Impressor to Henry VII., and in a statute of the 19th year of that king, William Faques is associated in the imprint as Royal Typographer. From that time down to the present the office has continuously existed by Royal Patent. A small annual fee was paid but the Royal Printers were remunerated by profits on the work. Their prices, however, were subject to reduction by the Lords of the Treasury if found unreasonable. The two Houses of Parliament each appointed its own printer, and the Hansards were printers to the House of Commons for a period of a hundred years. In 1851 the Government having experienced inconvenience in the execution of its printing put considerable pressure upon the Queen's printers, Messrs. Eyre and Spottiswoode, to undertake all the public printing. From 1851 to 1877 they performed all the work, and practically that system was not changed until 1887. The result was that during that period the Queen's printers met every requirement of Government, no matter how onerous, and accumulated a plant of unparalleled magnitude. It is in evidence that their type for government book-work alone exceeds 1,000 tons in weight. There always existed in the great cities, which are seats of Government in Europe, establishments capable of dealing with work of any magnitude. In 1887 a large portion of the printing was put under contract, but the Journals, Votes and Proceedings, and Minutes of the Houses of Parliament are not put out to tender, nor are the statutes; and confidential printing of the Foreign Office, War Office, and of other departments is still performed under agreements with firms which have had it for a series of years at schedule rates. In Canada, however, as in the United States, the seat of Government was fixed at small towns where no commercial need existed to create competitive establishments. The loss and inconvenience of doing the departmental work away from the supervision of the officials responsible for it was too great to be risked, and in any case all the routine work of Parliament of necessity had to be done at the Capital; therefore, an extensive plant had always to be brought specially to meet the requirements of Government.

In the other countries of Europe the printing of the State did not centre around privileged persons as in England, but in establishments created by the State and solely for public objects. Besides the routine printing for the administrative services, works of great scientific and historical value are undertaken in these great establishments which private enterprise would shrink from. From time to time inquiries have been made into the usefulness of these institutions, but they have vindicated themselves successfully from all attacks made upon them.

The great self-governing colonies of Great Britain all have Government printing establishments of the same type as the Dominion Printing Bureau. At Sydney, New South Wales, at Melbourne, Victoria, at Adelaide, South Australia, at Brisbane, Queensland, at Wellington, New Zealand, there are government establishments doing not only the printing of books and forms, but of stamps, railway tickets, voters' lists and engraved and lithographed work as well. At Calcutta is a very large establishment, and in the Crown Colonies there are usually Queen's Printers under Letters Patent as in the British American Colonies before Confederation.

In the United States the intolerable abuses arising under previous methods caused the establishment of the Government Bureau at Washington. The building and practical staff date from 1861, but in 1867 and 1874 progressive changes were made by which this colossal organization was controlled and developed in proportion to the growth of the nation. It would be difficult to compress into suitable compass any remarks upon the antecedent methods. They are summarized in a paper by the late Librarian of Congress as a continuous shifting "from letting by contract to the lowest bidder, with constant appeals from losing "or bankrupt contractors to be reimbursed by Congress, to the election by the "Senate or the House, or by both combined, of a printer to serve for a single "Congress." The following extract from the report of a Senate Committee in 1892 will give an idea of the latest phases of the system, antecedent to the Bureau, as it reached its height at Washington:—

“Consequently in 1852, after much debate, an Act was passed providing for the appointment of a Superintendent of Public Printing, who should supervise the work to be done by printers to be elected by the Senate and by the House, and designated by the President. The work done under the arrangement was better, though at greater cost. Politicians who had no practical knowledge of printing succeeded in securing the place of printer and farmed out the work to practical printers at a percentage. The dominant party elected the printer, with a positive understanding that he would devote specified sums of his profits for election purposes. The record shows that much of the printing of the Executive Department was given out secretly and at extravagant figures. In some cases six times a fair rate was paid for certain jobs, and the plunder thus secured was systematically distributed for partisan purposes.

“Cornelius Wendell who executed much of the public printing for years, contributed $100,000 for political purposes in four years. Besides this he paid to the elected printers of the Senate and House, whose contracts were sub-let to him by those officers, $200,000, and he loaned to political friends on insufficient security $150,000 within that time. He finally rebelled against the newspaper subsidies which he regarded as not only burdensome but as money actually thrown away. In 1852 a master printer contracted to do the post office printing for 93 per cent off the old price allowed the printer, or 7 cents on the dollar as compensation. This seems hardly credible, yet the evidence fully substantiates the statement.”

One would never venture to repeat such statements if it were not that the above is a verbatim extract from a report presented to the Senate in 1892 by the Senate Committee on Printing to which a special committee of the House of Representatives was added. Those who find fault with the Washington Printing Bureau should consider the system which it superseded. The Librarian of Congress states in the paper, previously referred to, that the Bureau “has proved, under all administrations a marked success, both in economy and efficiency as compared with former methods.” The following letter (taken from the Typographical Journal), in answer to an inquiry from the President of the American Federation of Labour, will be of interest in this connection:—

“SAMUEL GOMPERS, President A. F. of L.:

“DEAR SIR,—I am in receipt of your favour of November 22, asking for information concerning the advantages derived by the government from the fact that the public printing is executed in the government printing office instead of in private establishments. In answer I have to say that, while I have no data at hand from which a fair and just comparison can be made, it is my opinion that work is as economically done here as it would be if given out by contract, and that its standard of excellence is above that which could be obtained by any other method; besides, there can exist no incentive for furnishing poor material and workmanship. The main advantages, however, are the possession of facilities which enable congress and the several departments to have the work done as those in charge desire it, and at a time when they want it, uniformity of ma“terial, style, &c. That this office has such facilities was never more conclusively “proven than during the past summer. Although the demands made upon it in “consequence of the war with Spain were unlooked for and unprecedented, no “complaint has reached me that the operation of any department of the govern“ment was impeded or delayed one moment on account of any failure on the part “of the office to expeditiously execute all requisitions made upon it.

“Very respectfully,

“(Signed) F. W. PALMER,

“Public Printer.”

In 1895 the system of Civil Service examinations was applied by the President to the Washington Bureau. The Public Printer when he wants additional hands selects names from the top of a list made up by the Commissioners and the appointment is made after a satisfactory trial.

The contract system still prevails in the separate States, but the city of Boston on March 1, 1898, inaugurated an establishment of its own for doing the municipal printing, and its first report shows a profit upon the former contract prices and records great satisfaction with its working. The general drift of society is favourable to such institutions, and they will doubtless increase in number.

IV.—DRAWBACKS OF THE CONTRACT SYSTEM.

The former Queen's Printer (Col. Chamberlin) in his report of 1885, summed up the results of the contract system, as follows:—

“The evils which have made themselves apparent in the contract system for public printing in Canada (some or all of which crop up in the execution of the State printing among our neighbours) are:

“1. The tendering, under stress of competition, at prices not remunerative for really good work or material.”

“2. The consequent constant endeavour, almost always attended with some success, to secure the acceptance of inferior work.”

“3. The attempt, in order to execute the work cheaply, to do it with insufficient plant or labour or both, leading to delays in the public service.”

“4. The attempt by indirect methods, to make unprofitable work profitable; or to keep down or keep back portions of work which are unprofitable and secure a greater portion of that which is profitable.”

Continuing his remarks the late Queen's Printer quotes the words of “a zealous public officer that it is hopeless to look for the literal fulfilment or honest carrying out of any contract that can be written.”

This follows from the great diversity and complexity of much of the government work. All of the conditions cannot be provided for beforehand. No matter how detailed the contract may be there will be deviations, for the requisitions are made by many public officers who never have been and never will be controlled so as to bind their requirements within the strict limits of a specification. A notable instance occurred at the close of the last contract when the printing of the Revised Statutes was called for. The whole work had to be set up and kept standing for a long time. The Government had itself to buy type to the extent of $10,000, for no specification stipulated for such a quantity of standing matter. Sometimes unforeseen emergencies arise necessitating changes—sometimes work is hurried without regard to cost—sometimes masses of type are kept standing at a high monthly charge. Then the copy is frequently very imperfect, and alterations are made upon the margins of proofs, while proof after proof is asked for; thus affording continual opportunities for extra charges. It is by such extras and by means of repeating charges for formes of type kept standing, and used over and over again, that profit is made. No contract could by any technical ingenuity be devised to provide against these and similar expedients. The price of plain setting was always put lower than the bare wages paid to the compositor. A judge, in the trial in 1873, explained the method thus:

“In other words the plaintiff having printed the report for the Department, charged for the composition of it under the schedule of prices of the contract of the 1st of October, and being aware, as Parliamentary Printer, that he would be required to print the same report for the House of Parliament he did not distribute his type, and from the same formes struck off the number of copies required for the use of the Parliament, charging for composition under the contract of the 2nd July as if he had distributed the type and reset it, and so, being both Parliamentary and Departmental printer, he was entitled, under his contract, to charge for double composition and printing.” (House Journals, Vol. 6, 1873.)

It might be urged that if the price contracted for is too low the Government will gain by the contractor's loss; but such has not been the experience of Government. In 1872 the contract for paper was cancelled on the petition of the contractor, and in 1873, on the petition of another contractor, twenty-seven per cent was added to the whole schedule of printing prices for all the public printing, departmental and parliamentary, and only in that way a collapse during a session of Parliament was averted. On the other hand when the price of paper was steadily falling the Government was held by the contractors, and heavy damages were collected for all paper purchased outside. Under any circumstances means of escape from a bad bargain will be found, for to quote from a report made to Parliament by one of its committees:

“A Government printing contractor cannot have the interest of the Government at heart, but is working all his might and main in the contrary direction to make the most he can of his contract—knowing full well, he has, while his contract lasts to recoup himself for the large capital invested in his working plant, not being certain he will be awarded the next contract.”

This is evident from the fact that the plant required for government work is to a very large extent special and unsuited for general business. The founts of type are fewer in number, but must be of most unusual extent, and some way must be found to recoup the outlay during the term of the contract. When the Government owns its own plant that consideration is eliminated, and whatever is bought in the way of plant is good for the whole term of its natural life. It is vain to suppose that in some way or other the Government can escape under the contract system, the payment of full value for the work it receives; plus the profits of the contractors and plus the amount required to recoup the investment at the end of the term. It has been shown how when the contractor made a bad bargain he got 27 per cent added to his prices by Parliament and the Privy Council because the inconvenience of a breakdown outweighed every other consideration, and it has been shown how when the contractors made a good bargain they sued the Government for profits on all work given outside and recovered nearly a quarter of a million dollars damages. It is evident that the Government will not make any money either way the contract turns out.

V.—AFTERMATH OF THE CONTRACTS.

There was no desire on the part of the last contractors to cancel their contracts. The price of paper was steadily falling and the other contracts must have been profitable, and so the Government was held strictly to its bargain. It happened that during the last fifteen years of the contract system the Government had continually given out work to be done by printers in various parts of the Dominion. This work was given out in consequence of pressure exerted upon the different Ministers by outside printing firms, and the amount of work so done was very large.

When the contracts ended the contractors made claim on the Government for the profit of which they had been deprived in consequence of this work being given to others than to them. They pleaded that they had a large plant and a large staff, and that it was unjust and contrary to the terms of the contract that others should receive profitable work while much of that left for them to do was unprofitable, or showed a very narrow margin of profit.

The matter went to suit, and five suits went through all the courts, and on a final appeal damages to the following amounts were obtained:—

Barber Bros., for profit on paper.....	$45,153 11
MacLean & Roger, for printing—1st suit.....	72,375 80
do 2nd suit.....	29,949 28
Mortimer & Co., for binding.....	18,419 03
Woodburn, for binding	26,000 00

These amounts, together with interest and costs, were awarded against the Crown, and the aggregate amounted to close upon a quarter of a million of dollars. This very large amount must be added to the cost of the work done; and it must be remembered that the sum in question is only the profit on the work. The work itself had to be paid for to the different firms which performed it. And the above amount together with the original bills for the work with a very large allowance for law costs must be added to the cost of printing under the contract for those years.

B.—The working of the Dominion Government Printing Bureau.VI.—THE PRESENT BUILDING.

The present building was designed to accommodate the business of the Government as it existed in 1886. No reserve of space was provided to meet the increasing demands of a growing country. The officials of that day can hardly be blamed for this, because there is always pressure to prevent any expenditure beyond present needs, and because also the building was so designed that an extension may be readily made at any time by lengthening one or both wings towards the rear. The building was filled immediately after its erection. In the meantime the country has grown. The business of the Departments has greatly increased (to what extent will be shown later on), but the facilities provided at the Printing Bureau remain unchanged in some essential particulars. The space occupied is the same; the power of output of the press room is the same, and the facilities for handling large masses of sheet work, and of binding generally, are the same.

The late Queen's Printer had hardly commenced work in the Bureau when he found the space too cramped, and in 1889 and 1890 he so reported. The present Queen's Printer arrived in November, 1891, and in his report for that year he describes the state of matters thus:—

“The Printing Bureau is now occupied from attic to cellar, and the work has been overflowing the limits of the building. Upon my arrival I found that the long and arduous session of Parliament, which had just closed, had filled it to repletion with work. Unfolded sheets were piled up on every floor, delaying the work passing through by clogging up the space for moving round. The bindery was loaded down beyond all possibility of recovering itself unaided, and there was no space in which to put extra hands. As the meeting of Parliament approached, it became clear that some extraordinary means had to be adopted to clear off the accumulation of arrears. Arrangements were made with a firm in the city by which they undertook to fold and complete 267,500 pamphlet reports, and for six weeks there was an outside staff of sixty hands working on these. More recently, a lot of 50,000 pamphlets had, in like manner, to be put out for want of space. The portion of the building occupied as a pamphlet bindery is far too small for the quantity of work to be done. The departmental composing room is too crowded already, and the work done in it is increasing. Space is also required for the linotype machines which were ordered for delivery during the summer, and room for map-mounting is much needed. The need of more accommodation was pointed out last year by my predecessor, and it was suggested at that time that both wings of the building should be extended. The extension of one wing only would provide sufficient space for a long time to come for all possible need. The departmental composing room and the sheet and pamphlet bindery could then be extended. There would be room for a fast perfecting press, feeding from the web and able to overtake any requirements of long orders, such as the Experimental Farm Report. The folding and clamping up of sheets could be done on the ground floor in immediate connection with the presses thus saving the loss of time and labour in handling the sheets.”

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

Year by year since then it has been reported that the facilities of the Bureau were becoming more and more inadequate to cope with the increase of the work, but while these remain unchanged the volume of work grows, new branches of work are thrown upon the institution, the departmental reports are sent in later and later and are expected in shorter time. In the meantime the reserve resources of the Bureau have reached their limit. The map-mounting has invaded the shipping room, the only room available for any extraordinary pressure of composition has been taken for stamping and the manufacture of stamped envelopes (new industries added during the past year), and the bindery is congested to an unprecedented degree. The limit has been reached, and, if the Bureau is to do all that is expected of it, either the building must be enlarged or the newer appliances of the last few years must be put in to render the labour of the present staff more productive, because there is no room for additional work people.

VII.—THE PRINTING PLANT.

It is generally considered that the limit of wear of a fount of type is from five to ten years. The duration of time depends upon the proportions of the ingredients in the metal. The type in the Bureau has never been renewed. As the Departments of Government have year by year tasked increasingly the resources of the Bureau by calling for more and more standing matter the founts of type have been lengthened, but that no complete renewals have been necessary testifies to the care of the work people and the excellence of the presses. The process of lengthening the founts cannot go on indefinitely, for as type wears it becomes shorter and the new type when mixed with it shows up unevenly on the printed page. If the process be continued past a certain point the whole fount, new and old, is spoiled, as it is like putting new cloth into an old garment.

If the typesetting machines had not been introduced in 1892 this question would have been imperative before now. These machines incessantly renew their type, and so far as they are used the purchase of type ceases. They have served not only to economize type, but have enabled the Bureau to meet, so far as composition is concerned, the growing requirements of the country, and to make up by the diligence of the printers for time lost by delays elsewhere.

To show how radically the conditions now imposed differ from those required from the contractors, one passage in the Queen's Printer's Report of 1884 will suffice. He says, incidentally, that "it was not uncommon at the approach of a session to have a ton and a half of metal locked up in reports awaiting their revision and correction." This he cites as an instance of the enormous quantity of type required by contractors to meet the requirements of Government, and he cites it as an extreme limit reached. That sufficed then from contractors, but at the Bureau now two and a half tons of type are locked up for weeks waiting for correction in the Auditor General's Report alone, and on February 8th, 1898, when that report was published there were standing 1,219 pages of solid minion tabular pages, weighing nearly six tons, waiting for translation into French. This report was got out in three months, including all delays of copy and proof-reading. References are now made backwards and forwards through each part, and some parts are very long, hence the enormous quantity of type kept standing. No contractor could ever provide such immense founts of type and recoup their value in a five years' contract. Such an amount of standing matter was never dreamed of by the contractors.

That was in the Auditor General's Report alone, but all the other reports must also be considered; for the financial reports—the Trade and Navigation, Trade and Commerce and Finance Department reports should be going on pari passu with the Auditor's besides the usual work. No contractor was ever required to perform such tasks as these. The rule under the contract was that only two (but never exceeding four) formes, of any one report or book, were allowed to stand in type at once, therefore, the French translation could be kept closer up, and it was not thrown on the translators in large masses during a session of Parliament—the Bureau is expected to keep eight or ten or even twenty formes standing of one report alone, and some even complain that their whole report is not kept standing in pages so as to enable them to insert cross references from the first to the very last forme.

VIII.—PRESS ROOM.

While the introduction of linotype machines has increased the amount of composition, the facilities of the press room (excepting in the one item of envelopes) remain unchanged. For book and report work ten presses were purchased in 1888, and the same ten presses are still running, and have run unceasingly from the day they started. In 1892 the Queen's Printer reported:

“ Since my appointment, and evidently for some time previous, the press room “ has been worked to its utmost capacity. The presses are good and are all in “ perfect order. They have all been running steadily for many months. The “ absence of perfecting presses in an establishment of this magnitude is worthy of “ remark. In the Government Printing Office of New South Wales there are six “ perfecting presses out of twelve. New perfecting presses feeding from a roll, “ have been introduced into the Printing Bureau at Washington. Such a press “ would put an immediate stop to the block of work which sometimes exists here.”

These ten presses are still in admirable order—as good as new—and, allowing for changes of formes, turning out incessantly 1,000 impressions an hour. That is an equivalent of 80,000 sheets of 16 pages for the whole ten in a day of 8 hours. At the establishment of the Bureau the day was 9 hours long or 54 hours per week. It has been reduced to 8 hours or 48 hours per week, and the work is very much increased in volume. In the case of compositors it may be expected that the men will work with more energy and diligence, and the daily output may be the same. That is evidently not the case with a printing press. It runs at its regular speed and is never tired. It is not amenable to moral suasion, and will turn off in a day of eight hours just one-ninth less than in a day of nine hours. Besides these there were put in six drum presses for official forms, and seven Gordon presses for envelopes and small work. One of the Gordon presses was disposed of in part exchange for a newly invented press which is doing far more work than the whole remaining six. The result attained by that press is an indication of what would follow from the purchase of one of the new perfecting presses for book and report work.

It is most important to make this matter of press-work very clear, although it is really a purely mechanical question. If the output is insufficient for the needs of the Government the presses cannot be charged with idleness because, as a simple matter of fact they have worked on without intermission at full speed, every day, and every hour of the day, since they were first set up ten years ago, and moreover, they have worked exclusively on government work. Once only for two or three weeks did they overtake their work—about five years ago—but never save that once did the strain upon the press room slacken. It has been shown in the preceding pages that the presses, from the very first year, were barely sufficient to do the work of the Government as it stood in the year 1888 when the contractors gave up, and yet the work now expected from them is double. This may seem an extreme statement, but it is easily demonstrated.

In the year 1886 the Experimental Farm was instituted by statute and, in due course, the land was bought and the staff was organized. The first report was for the year 1887, and it is the only one with the contractors' imprint. It is a pamphlet of 58 pages and the whole style of the book, paper, type, headings and press-work may be taken as an exponent of what the Government was then in the habit of accepting. As the Farm developed, the work of the Dairy Commissioner was evolved and both branches soon required a very large number of reports. The reports of these two branches of one department are nearly equal in number and bulk to all the reports of all the other departments of Government taken together. On reference to page 60 it will be seen that the total number of reports printed for all departments in 1898 was 340,160 and of this the number for the Experimental Farm and Dairy Commission was 163,520. The press-work and binding of the whole mass of the report work is therefore doubled by the addition of this one item alone and it is new work never required of the contractors. The one small pamphlet of 58 pages, done under the contract in short number for presentation to Parliament only, has grown into two books in large numbers for general distribution with an aggregate of 814 pages and 12 full page plates, of which 11 are half-tone photo-engravings, worked separately on surfaced paper. Besides these there are many illustrations in the text, specially engraved, and there are in the Dairy report six large folded diagrams. All these plates and diagrams had to be inserted in their places when the books were bound. It is not sufficient to say then that the total report work of the Government is doubled in the press room, it was more than doubled by the plates, while the placing of the insets threw upon the bindery that additional burden; for under the contract illustrations were very uncommon while now they are extensively and increasingly used.

It was never, hitherto, supposed that this large mass of new work could possibly be put out while the sessional work was being prepared. When these large numbers were first asked from the Committees, it was recognized that at best it could only be done during the recess as the regular work would allow; for, clearly, the work necessary for Parliament and for the actual administration of the departments had to take precedence of any general distribution to the public, and the same ten presses had to do it all with one hour a day less to run. A few simple statements will give a clearer idea of the magnitude of this added work as it bore upon the press room alone, not to speak of the bindery.

The report work being doubled, about one half of the total quantity of paper provided for parliamentary work was used in printing these two reports alone. The total quantity of paper in them is 292,603 lbs, and if it were brought in at one time would fully load ten railway freight cars.

The bearing of this upon the press room will be seen when it is stated that the press-work upon these two reports mounted up to four millions nine hundred and sixty-two thousand two hundred and eighty-five sheets—to be printed on the ten presses available for such work. These presses print on one side only and, in long runs, will turn out 1,200 an hour. One press, then, running eight hours steadily, will produce 9,600 a day or would do the whole in 517 days of unceasing work. The ten presses, if all other work were stopped, would do it in 52 days, or, counting holidays, in approximately two months. The work can be done by spreading it over the year as heretofore, but it is plainly impossible to put out in shorter time these long numbers for distribution while doing the work necessary for carrying on the Government. While then every moment has been utilised on press and the hands have often been obliged to work from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m., it is sometimes supposed that there have been delays. This is not, however, a question of working hands upon whom slowness might possibly be charged; but of machines which will not be hurried and which have done nothing else than work for the Government upon requisitions supposed to be necessary and often supposed to be urgent.

In justice to those who organized the Bureau it must be said that in the period of contract, before 1887, there were no such long runs. The numbers printed were from 2,000 to 5,000—just the usual number for distribution. The Queen's Printer of that day did, indeed, suggest a web press, but for the work in sight at that time it was a little in advance, and, moreover, the web presses for book work were not at that time satisfactory in all respects. In 1892, however, such presses were successfully introduced into the Washington Printing Bureau, Presses are now running there which feed from a web, one such press will print and fold from 18,000 to 24,000 sheets of 16 pages per hour. In short, far more than do the entire work of the present ten presses, and in addition will do much of the work of the bindery for it will fold the sheets. It is on such presses as these that the agricultural work is done at Washington, and until such a reserve power is provided for the Bureau every long run of 100,000 or more will derange the regularity of the government work. Even in New South Wales the Government Printing Office has now eight perfecting presses—that is presses which print both sides at once. Each of these while running at the same speed as the Bureau presses turns out double the quantity of work, and although equal to sixteen presses such as ours, there are, besides, in that office thirteen presses printing on one side only, as well as a number of small presses.

It will, therefore, be seen that when Parliament is sitting, and the presses are occupied by the daily work of the Houses, an order for 50,000 or 100,000 copies even of speeches cannot always be immediately filled. The experience of the Bureau with envelope printing demonstrates the advantage of keeping the facilities of the press room up to date. In the summer of 1898 it was vainly struggling with the mass of envelope printing thrown upon it. One machine turned the tables on the departments. It turned out as many as 100,000 a day when put to full speed, and there is no demand that the departments can make which it is not able to overtake with ease and then stand idle for days at a time. One rotary perfecting press feeding from the web would make the same difference in the book and pamphlet work.

IX.—THE BINDERY.

While, by the purchase of one web press, the press room might be brought up to the present level of the printing art, and also to the utmost requirements of government, without enlarging the building, that would not be the case with the bindery. It is far too small as it is, but such a mass of matter as a web press would turn into it would bury it up beyond hope. The only radical cure would be to extend the western wing as proposed five years ago. That the building was planned on too small a scale was recognized at its first occupation. In 1889 the Queen's Printer reported that "every part of the building was occupied." In 1890 he reported that "the bindery is already overcrowded with the necessary hands and work, and increased accommodation will be required." The present Queen's Printer has urged extension of the building, year by year, but though the work increases and new duties are imposed on the Department no move is made in the direction of relief. It was not sufficiently recognized when the building was planned that, not only was the work then carried on by the contractors to be done, but all the work done outside of them had to be provided for, with an allowance for increase. The introduction of some of the latest labour saving machines would mitigate the inconvenience, but the additional room will alone bring up the output to the requirements of the public service. There is a rotary gathering table in the bindery, but only one, and only one work can, of course, be gathered at a time upon it, and the limited table area is required for other operations. It has already been explained how the crush of agricultural work was surmounted in 1892 and 1893, but even then the work ran over into the following year.

X.—WORK DURING SESSIONS.

The office of Royal Printer has not of itself any connection with or relation to the printing of Parliament. Each House of the Imperial Parliament appointed its own printer, and the service was continued for long periods by the same firm. Thus the Hansard firm printed for the House of Commons during 100 years and while the Eyre patent as Royal Printer (which issued in 1799) was in existence. In Canada the Queen's Printer is also printer to Parliament under a statute passed as recently as 1886, and for the printing of Parliament the Queen's Printer is responsible to Parliament acting by its various committees. The duties formerly performed by the late Mr. Henry Hartney and his assistant were transferred to the Queen's Printer's staff, and, therefore, the smooth and regular working of the business of Parliament depends much more upon the efficiency of the Printing Bureau than appears upon the surface and, inasmuch as Parliament is the supreme power in the State, the printing essential for its daily work is of primary importance.

It has been already pointed out that there are in the Bureau ten presses suitable for book work. The speed of these presses for long runs was taken in the preceding calculation as 1,200 impressions per hour on one side. When, however, formes are frequently changed the "make ready" reduces the output to 1,000, and sometimes less, and such a condition of affairs extends over the whole period of a session of Parliament.

The daily work necessary to the business of both Houses is:—

Votes and Proceedings in English—copies.....	2,412
do French— do	599
Orders of the Day in English—copies.....	560
do French— do	169
Senate Minutes in English—copies.....	1,906
do French— do	411

(The above are prepared through the night and must be ready to send out at 10 a.m.)

Hansard—Daily Edition—consisting of 48 to 80 pages and containing everything said in the House until it rose, copies

(This must be ready at 3 p.m. when the House next assembles).

Besides the above, although not so strictly bound down to the hour, there is:—

Senate Hansard in English—copies

In addition the following must be printed daily to keep up with the daily editions, at a definite distance, to allow for correction and translation:—

Hansard—revised edition—English—copies.

The above are the regular unvarying daily necessities of Parliament.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

Legislation, of course, requires Bills to be set up, in French as well as English, printed off, reprinted, revised, sometimes in draft but always in second and third reading and in final form, according to the daily orders of Parliament. There were 201 Bills set up during last session. These had to be printed in both languages.

Beyond these there are always committees requiring printing, and special committees all of whose proceedings and discussions must be printed with the evidence taken to lay before the committee at its next meeting, and often including documents. These are sometimes very voluminous, and in times of public strain are very urgent. During the long session of 1891 this work was unusually heavy. Similar conditions may occur in any session, and they are complicated by the fact that very frequently the report printed as a whole is not thought of until the committee rises and reports. The Bureau seldom receives orders to prepare for this, and has to anticipate the probable requirements of the House and print off the sheets for the final report without orders so as to have it ready instantly on demand.

The above is the printing absolutely necessary for Parliament alone without which the business could not go on. This must have precedence of everything else. Departmental work, no matter how urgent, is not allowed to delay Parliament, and so, in addition to the daily work, the reports and returns to Parliament have to be got out in some way, while the Departments are kept supplied with what they require.

The presses at the Bureau are thus kept on a constant strain during sessions of Parliament. Everything goes smoothly and attracts no attention nor comment. When, however, the very limited press facilities and the very small space for handling sheets in the bindery are considered, it is matter for great wonder that the work is done so well as it is. It is only the perfect knowledge of the routine and needs of Government possessed, not alone by the heads of branches, but in respective degrees by the old trained working hands which carries the work through without hitch or error. It is, however, clear that, with the sessional work running and only the present press facilities available, it should not cause surprise that long numbers of extra literature—speeches, immigration pamphlets, or other occasional matter should sometimes have to wait a turn. There are no vacant presses ever standing open at the Bureau.

XI.—THE HANSARDS.

It is worthy of remark that nowhere else in the world is there a service equal to the "Hansard" service at Ottawa. Its efficiency is primarily due to the reporters who not only perform their work well, but do it in such a way as to cooperate with the printers to produce the best results. Much credit is due also to the compositors at the Bureau and the proofreaders on the night staff who have to master the abbreviations and conventionalities of the copy and to set up and correct throughout the night and early the next day the matter which comes down every half hour. Even on those occasions when the House sat continuously day and night for a week, the debates up to 3 o'clock in the morning were on the members' desks at 3 p.m. every day. The pamphlet of debates often reaches five forms or 80 pages of double column. The introduction of linotype machines alone rendered such a service possible and steadily, session after session, without interruption or delay the work has been performed. It is taken now as a matter of course, but there is nothing like it done elsewhere. In England the speeches may be cut down by the reporters to "not less than one-third of their length," and yet the printer has three days in which to send in his first proofs. These are sent to members, and on the seventh day after delivery the speech is published.

In Washington the rules for publication in the Congressional Record are not so clear; but speeches may be withheld for revision, and, in any case, will not appear the following day if sent in after midnight. Speeches delivered may be withheld and speeches not delivered may be printed. The rules also provide that "any Representative or Senator may revise his remarks or speeches delivered and hand them to the Public Printer without their having passed through the hands of even the official reporters or any revising printer. Therefore, much of the matter appearing in the Congressional Record is changed from the manner in which it was originally delivered to suit the convenience of the person interested." (U. S. Red Book, p. 269). It is not extravagant then to say that there is nowhere so prompt and accurate a reporting service as in Canada.

Besides the daily edition there is a revised edition which is distributed to the public. It is translated into French and printed; so that the Hansard work of the Bureau is triplicated, and whether a debate extends to 20 or 80 pages it must be printed for the three editions. Finally after Parliament rises the index is compiled and the cancels and reprints ordered for the bound edition. The printing of the revised Hansard of 1898 was completed on July 24, so far as the work itself is concerned. The last forme of index was signed on 19th October. It would facilitate despatch if the preparation of the index went on day by day instead of keeping the whole task until after the House is prorogued.

The service of the Senate Hansard cannot be so expeditious because there are only two reporters, whereas there are eight in the Commons, and for this reason the shorthand notes cannot be written out concurrently and sent down to the Bureau every half hour, but are written out after the debate closes. Senators are not so prompt in the return of their proofs and there is no messenger service allotted to the Senate Hansard. The copy as well as the proofs are seriously delayed in consequence, and again there are no linotype machines to use for it. When an important subject is before the Senate there is as much spoken matter to report as in the Commons, but on the other hand there are often periods of adjournment when any lee-way may be made up.

XII.—DELAYS AND THEIR CAUSES.

The Printing Bureau is at once the refuge and the scapegoat of every official at Ottawa whose work is in arrear. It is a refuge when belated copy is brought down with pressing requests to the printer to make up lost time by putting it before something else already in hand; and it is a scapegoat when inquiry arises; because the "absent are always in the wrong," and it is easy to reply that the copy is at the Bureau without entering into details as to the time when it was sent. A diligent inquiry will usually resolve "Bureau delays" into delays in sending down copy and delays in returning proofs. The experience at the Bureau is that proofs take longer to get themselves read than copy to get itself set after it is once started. The Bureau is on record in the debates of Parliament for delay in printing matter when the copy was not sent down for a week after the complaint. It has been publicly blamed for not printing documents which at the very moment of censure had been reposing for many hours in a room over the complainant's head. It has been blamed for not printing documents which never were sent at all. In all the instances recorded in Hansard of complaint of delay there was a perfectly sufficient answer to be given, so far as the Bureau was concerned, and when asked for the answer was given on a following day.

Delays will, however, sometimes occur and mistakes will occasionally be made, and if more and more work is year by year thrown on the Bureau without a corresponding increase of facilities delays will tend to increase rather than to disappear. If Ottawa were a large labour centre, like New York or London, it would be possible to send out and get men in at an hour's notice (if there were room to stand them in, which is sometimes not the case in the Bureau), but there is never in the Bureau a staff of men standing idle to take up any job at a moment's notice—something must be dropped when belated copy comes down and a sudden urgent call is made. It is so everywhere. Even in London where the Queen's Printers own the largest plant in England and have the largest labour market in the world to fall back upon there are charges of delays. Mr. Eyre testified before a Committee of the Imperial House of Commons as follows:—

"Question 882. And yet the complaint is always raised that it (the work) is backward?"

"Answer. Because everybody wants to be served at the same time. What we have to do is to do our very best to satisfy the most clamorous demands. In fact the art of managing our office largely consists in keeping in continual touch with all the public departments; and we re-arrange our scheme of our work not only every day, but sometimes twice a day."

This is the experience of the English Queen's Printer with the immense resources of his establishment behind him. His answer is, however, precisely applicable to the conditions of work at the Ottawa Printing Bureau. Everybody wants to be served at once in Ottawa, as in London, and the Queen's Printer is compelled to do the best he can and put forward the most essential work. Another fertile cause of inconvenience is the delay of proofs. Even for the most urgent work it is unusual to send a clerk from the department interested down to the Bureau to read the proofs in the building, nor even are the corrected proofs returned by special messenger. All that is apparently considered necessary is to mark the requisition "urgent" as if anything the printer could do would make up for delays of the proofs. He must give as many revises as are asked for and wait until the final proof is signed, and when the urgent proof is sent up to the department after 4 o'clock it will lie over until next day to be read.

Under the late contractors the complaints were greater, and the Queen's Printer in 1885 (Col. Chamberlin) had some appropriate remarks upon the subject. He said (Report):

"And turning to the question of delays which are as undoubted and sometimes more vexatious than indifferent work—all the blame here is not to be fairly imputed to the printers and binders. I have known cases of work being ordered on a requisition—sometimes even marked 'urgent' or 'immediate.' The type being set and proofs furnished—these latter have lain for weeks—nay, sometimes months—in the departments while the contractors' type was standing useless, and those needing to use the work wondering why the 'printers' de-layed."

He then goes on to show that there were great delays fairly chargeable to the contractors, and traces their cause to the contract system.

Again, in 1888 the late Queen's Printer pointed plainly to a most fruitful source of "delays."

"Requisitions are delayed till the last moment and then marked 'rush.' Rushed work is pretty sure to be of bad or indifferent quality. But that is not all; it often happens that the rushed work of the laggard, who has been late in sending in his requisition, unfairly interferes with the execution of that ordered in reasonable time. Hence very possibly dissatisfaction on the part of the heads of the unoffending as well as of the offending Department. Proofs have been kept for weeks and sometimes months in the Department, and that sometimes of work originally marked 'immediate' or 'rush.' Only portions of copy, or imperfect copy is often furnished, and long weeks elapse with jobs in type ere the finishing touches are given by the Department."

This intermittence of copy is still a cause of delays. The Queen's Printer was even compelled to discontinue the custom of giving, in his reports, the dates of the first receipt of copy, because it gave rise to so many misconceptions. For instance, on one occasion it was recorded that certain copy came in on August 25th and the report was printed on March 18th of the following year. Although it was recorded at the same time that only a portion of copy had been received, a leading newspaper remarked that seven months was a long time to take to print a pamphlet of 300 pages. So it was—but what did not appear was the fact that the copy for the fifteen or twenty introductory pages to complete the report had not been sent in until three or four days before it was issued. The main body of the report had been for seven months clamped up in the attic. One proposition admits of no dispute—that no enlargement of the Bureau and no increase of plant will avail to prevent delays when copy is not sent in and proofs are not promptly returned. It is a misnomer to call these printer's delays.

The remarks above quoted from the Queen's Printer in London, and the late Queen's Printer for Canada, are applicable at the present moment in their full extent to the public printing at Ottawa; but while the Printing Bureau is straining every effort to meet the demands of the service the departmental work is rapidly increasing, and the copy for the Blue-books is being sent in later and later as if to neutralize the exertions of the printers.

Take for instance the Auditor General's Report. This has grown from a volume of 958 pages in 1887 to one of 1,944 pages in 1897. In 1887 the first copy came in on September 10, and in 1896 on November 16. For this present year the first copy came in on October 20th, and on November 8th it was all in type, but there was no further copy sent for ten days. On November 15th there was not a line of "report copy" of any kind in the Bureau. Of all the Blue-books to be presented at the approaching session of Parliament only the following had, when the month of November was half through, commenced to make an appearance at the Printing Bureau:—

Inland Revenue—Copy nearly all in and set.

Auditor General—About 50 pages in and all set and printed off.

Finance Department—Copy nearly all in and set.

Postmaster General—Copy nearly all in and set.

Fisheries—Portion of copy received set.

Civil Service List—Practically complete.

The fiscal year closes on June 30, and the law provides that the reports shall be presented within ten days after the opening of each session of Parliament; yet on November 15th the large parliamentary room had no copy for nearly a week and the management had to provide other work to keep the men busy. During the week before Christmas thirty compositors were suspended because work had again run out, and the copy for the Blue-books to be presented at the fast approaching session had not come in. Here then are "delays" which, later on, when Parliament is summoned for despatch of business will be transformed into "printer's delays," and the Bureau will be the scapegoat for all.

This is not a novel experience, but a steadily increasing inconvenience. In his report for 1896, the Queen's Printer said:

"The copy for the departmental reports was sent in very late, and nothing but the late session of Parliament prevented the want of them being felt. I beg most respectfully to record my belief that whenever Parliament again meets in January, all the reports will be behind time, and the discussion of the estimates will be delayed. Many of the reports were later than ever before. The time for preparing the reports should be during the recess, but if it be deferred until “Parliament meets, the current work of Parliament must necessarily take precedence of everything of a departmental nature, no matter how urgent the latter may be thought to be.”

When the summons to Parliament appears in the Gazette there will be a general panic, and torrents of copy with “pressing,” “urgent” and “immediate” requisitions for haste, but no more men can be taken on because there is no space to put them in.

French Reports.

While upon this subject it is convenient to answer a question sometimes asked—why the French reports are not published together with the English versions? The reason is that the reports are always presented in English, and have to be translated into French by a staff very limited in number working under the House of Commons and independent of control from the Bureau. This staff, moreover, during session is kept busy at sessional matter and has not time to do work on the long reports, but when the sessional work is finished the translation of the departmental reports is resumed. If the reports were presented in French the same thing would happen to the English versions. To get the two versions out at one time would require the building, plant and staff to be doubled, and translators would have to be attached to the departments to duplicate the copy. Every delay in sending in copy for the English version is repeated with augmentation in the French; for the translators do not usually get the sheets until after the House has long been in session. If the translation is sent to outsiders to be done it is not uniform in style and the corrections are very heavy, or rather the alterations; for the same English phrase or word will be represented by different French ones, and the regular staff must reduce the whole to uniformity on the proofs. As it is, the French reports are done in the recess and the Queen's Printer is able to equalize the work over the year and keep on a good staff all the year round. The staff is kept together and is available for anything required. Otherwise it would be scattered every time Parliament is prorogued. There is an advantage to the French workmen in it for most of them can set both languages while very few English workmen can set in French.

Preparation of Copy.

There is no more fruitful source of what passes current for “printer's delays” than careless preparation of copy. Instead of being revised for the printer, much of what is called copy is re-edited on the margins of the proofs, and frequently altered to an extent incredible to one who has not seen the work passing through press. Then, as the original proofs are always retained by the editor, no evidence exists at the Bureau to account for the large number of hours of correction which swell up the cost of a work. Nothing can be seen but the signed proof—the last perhaps of a series of revises in which the ideas of the writer were gradually developed, and in which every line has been repeatedly overrun until the cost of composition has been more than doubled. Many times proofs are sent back so altered and marked up that if new copy could be got it would be quicker, and therefore cheaper, to set the matter anew. Few people understand that every hour's work has to be paid for, and that one or two words inserted or struck out of a line causes the overrunning of every line to the end of the paragraph, and, if the matter is in pages, it may cause the overrunning of a series of pages. In private work the first printer's bill effects a radical cure of this habit, but when the bill is paid by the public the desire for alterations is apt to increase. The Public Printer at Washington reported in 1896 upon his efforts to stop what he calls "wholesale editing of proof sheets," which he adds with a touch of feeling is "a privilege so dear to the hearts of many gentlemen engaged in literary work for "the various publications of the Government."

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

He continues with somewhat of acerbity:

"Whatever fancied necessity may have existed in the past for the furnishing of type proofs by this office for the encouragement of literary style or to give opportunity for the insertion of belated ideas it does not exist in this age of the typewriter."

No doubt some alterations are unavoidable, but it is often cheaper and quicker to copy a manuscript than to alter it in type. It is often cheaper because the use of machines in setting is precluded when a series of five or six revises is required for alterations. All proof is first read against copy at the Bureau before being sent out, and if, at any time, proof should be sent out containing many typographical errors it ought to be returned to the Queen's Printer and his attention called to it in order that the proofreader and compositor may bear their share of blame, and any carelessness be checked at its first appearance.

It has already been observed that the quantity of type kept standing in the Bureau is very great, and is increasing. These increasingly exacting demands for standing type could not be anticipated in any contract and if the government work had of late years been done by contractors it would, if done at all, have been subject to large claims for extras and demurrage. In his report for 1895 the Queen's Printer said in reference to this:

"Under certain circumstances there is an economy in this; as for instance, in the case of tables carried over in series from year to year by the simple substitution or addition of the current year. There is, however, a growing tendency to delay signing proofs until the whole of a book is in type, in order to make cross-references from the first to the last. This is fruitful in delays. The work, to be available for cross-references, must be in page form, with all its leads and headings; and, so long as it stands in proof, so long will it be overrun, altered and delayed. While hundreds of pages of type are thus standing locked-up uselessly, the reports of other departments may be stopped for want of type. No establishment could carry a stock of type for such a purpose. Under the contract system as soon as a forme of 32 pages was made up, it was signed and worked off, and any standing matter was charged at the rate of five cents per month per thousand ems. Such a charge, if made, would alone pay the salaries of the whole department. The founts of type in the Bureau are long—far longer “than in any private establishment, and standing matter to a very great extent is “allowed without remonstrance, but if the system grows of holding back from “signature hundreds of page proofs, a large vote for additional type must be “asked for.”

And further delays will arise at press because instead of working off the books, sheet by sheet, as the presses are open, the proofs of whole books will be signed off at one time and masses of formes will be thrown at once upon the press room to block each other. The presses are full in the slackest times, and when masses of report work are held back and released only when the sessional work taxes the press room to the uttermost there must be what are called “printer’s delays,” the Bureau will fulfil its functions as a scapegoat and the delays will again be repeated in the French translations.

XIII.—THE BUREAU AS A BUSINESS INSTITUTION.

As before stated it will be more convenient to consider the question of comparative cost separately and in detail. It will be conclusively shown later on that there is a large saving to the country under the present system, but the argument would be confused by the introduction prematurely of tabular statements. Before setting these forth it will be advisable to notice a widely prevalent notion that it is impossible for a Government to make an economic success of such a manufacturing establishment as the Bureau.

There is no a priori force in this proposition. It is based upon a want of faith in representative institutions rather than upon any inherent necessity of the case. As a matter of fact whenever governments are deeply concerned in having any special work well performed they usually do it themselves. The large powder factories at Waltham Abbey, of small arms at Birmingham and Enfield, of military clothing at London, of artillery at Woolwich are all under the Ordnance Office. In like manner the great naval arsenals swarm with workmen under the Admiralty. Matters of vital importance are not entrusted to the competition of private contract. When the lives of Her Majesty’s soldiers and sailors, or the existence of Her Majesty’s empire is involved, it is not thought desirable to rely upon the efficiency of private competition. Even the maps and charts necessary for the public service are made, engraved and printed at one government establishment at Southampton, and the paper for the Bank of England notes and for stamps is made at Government mills. The same methods are followed in other countries whenever the public welfare is deeply involved. The a priori argument then falls to the ground.

It will be shown later on that the clerical staff of the Bureau allotted to the printing branch is much smaller than in a private firm. The certainty of work and its careful management renders it possible to keep together a permanent staff of steady skilled men. In private firms there are partners looking forward to a competence—the banks require interest on their advances—canvassers and travellers are engaged at high salaries to sweep in orders. In the case of companies dividends have to be earned, and in all cases there are unavoidable losses by bad debts. It is true that the capital of the Bureau is supplied by Government, but the government rates are much less than bank rates. The rent of a building suited for government work of its present volume would be more than the interest on the present building. The case of the Printing Bureau is the case of government ownership of capital resulting in benefit to the public by having its work better done at a lower cost, and in benefit to the work people by affording to them, out of what would otherwise be private profit, the most favourable conditions of labour compatible with economy and efficiency.

The opponents of such institutions argue that it must of necessity be inefficient because it must of necessity be carried on under other than business principles. There is no such necessity, though there may be a danger of it arising, and indeed it may be candidly admitted that, in so far as political influences are permitted to dominate over business methods, just in that proportion will the institution be a disappointment. That will not, however, be any argument against the institution of a Government Printing Bureau. It will be an impeachment of the system of government under which such extraneous influence may be permitted to operate.

The principle that the Bureau is in reality a business institution is laid down plainly in an Order in Council passed in 1893, with regard to appointments to the clerical staff, as follows:—

“ 18th March, 1893.

“ Printing and Stationery—

“ That inasmuch as the Department of Public Printing and Stationery is in effect a manufacturing and business establishment it is expedient that no one should be first appointed to a position therein who does not bring to the Department technical knowledge acquired in some similar place of business elsewhere, and that in the case of every appointment of a clerical nature made upon the Queen’s Printer’s account that officer shall make a report stating the reasons for such appointment, and detailing the circumstances under which the requisite technical knowledge was acquired.

“ That a general knowledge of book-keeping only is not technical knowledge in the sense of this report, and that the services of simple copyists or writers are not needed for the public service in said Department.

“ That the Queen’s Printer, under the direction of the Minister, may appoint youths as junior clerks who may acquire in the Department the requisite technical knowledge, but that such appointments shall be considered as temporary only, and shall be charged against contingencies.

“ That such junior clerks before they can obtain appointment on the Queen’s Printer’s account shall pass the Civil Service Examinations required for other Government clerks, and in addition must give evidence of having attained sufficient technical knowledge of the business of the Department to perform the duties of the respective branches to which they shall be attached.”

The statute of organization shows that a similar ideal was before the mind of Parliament at the inception of the Department. The statute provides that the working staff of men and women shall be appointed by the Superintendents of the practical branches; evidently with the view that the appointments should be based solely upon the industrial qualifications of the applicants, and that the operatives should look for support solely to their own merits as demonstrated in their daily work. Whenever a workman begins to feel that his real support is some far-off influence outside the establishment his usefulness to the State as a producer commences to wane. The reason is that any such influence is irresponsible and cannot be blamed if the work is defective and delays should arise. Blame for such occurrences falls upon the administrative officers; justly, only when the design of the statute of organization is carried out.

And now I would revert to a statement made on page 3 concerning the first engagement of the working hands. There was in reality no appointment at that time, because the establishment of Messrs. Maclean & Roger was taken over as a going concern. The premises were leased, the plant was leased, and the operatives went over with the work to their new employer, to wit, the Government of Canada. As the original or first appointment was therefore made by Maclean & Roger, and, as they were contractors working in their own interest, it is reasonably certain that industrial qualifications actuated their selection. Surely then the inception of the Printing Bureau was, as far as the operatives were concerned, upon a business basis.

The statutes of organization demand that the Queen's Printer and the heads of branches should possess certain business experience; and in 1893, that principle was applied formally to all subordinate appointments on the clerical staff. The Bureau commenced, therefore, with a staff of highly skilled operatives, trained through years of service under the contractors, to do precisely that kind of typographical work which the Government required. Most of these are still in the Bureau and they are its mainstay in time of hurry or difficulty. They are ten years older, but they have ten years more experience and they go to work to set, a Bill or a proclamation, or a departmental form, with all that traditional knowledge of what is really needed which enables them to go straight to the result without fuss or waste of time in tentative efforts. The advantage of this must be evident, and if the copy sent down to the Bureau in the first instance, or the interminable tangle of alterations and second thoughts which interlace the margins of proofs could be seen, the necessity for skilled workmen would be demonstrated to the most impractical mind. During sessions of Parliament when the functions of Government, both in its legislative and administrative aspects are at their highest activity, the printing goes on smoothly, and every document or day's debate is produced at its proper time without hitch or interruption. There is more of this due to the unnamed and unrecognized printer than is known to the world outside the Bureau.

Knowing this, as they do by daily experience and by the memory of many difficulties and sudden emergencies surmounted, the managing officers are naturally anxious to keep all the experienced hands steadily employed. They do not concern themselves with their private thoughts. They ask only that they shall attend to their business and not attend to the business of the general legislature which stands in no need of such assistance. In this way, therefore, a solid nucleus of specially trained workmen was formed and has been continued.

XIV.—THE COMPETITIVE SYSTEM.

Many of the arguments against government employment for operatives are drawn from the fact that the pressure and drive of competitive methods are more difficult of adoption in public than in private establishments. That is beyond doubt the case; but it must also be observed that during the last ten years an immense movement has occurred and is still going on which will seriously curtail the power of contractors to extract from their employees more than a fair day's work, and any government has the right to demand and can easily secure that. It is now admitted that, without any reference to the supply of unemployed labour, it is in the public interest that every operative should be able to feed, clothe, and bring up a family, and upon the way that is done the general welfare of the nation depends. For that reason the Imperial Parliament resolved in 1891:

“That in the opinion of this House it is the duty of the Government in all government contracts to make provisions against the evils recently disclosed before the Sweating Committee, to insert such conditions as may prevent the abuse arising from sub-letting, and to make every effort to secure the payment of such wages as are generally accepted as current in each trade for competent workmen.”

In the same direction is the condition recently placed in the contracts given out by the Postmaster General of Canada. It reads:

“With a view to suppressing the sweating system and securing payment to the workmen of fair wages, and the performance of the work under proper sanitary conditions, the contract shall be subject to the following regulations, &c., &c.”

Any future contractor, therefore, who may undertake the government printing at Ottawa will have to reckon with this advanced phase of the public mind. He must count upon supplying premises which shall, as fully as the present excellent factory, provide for the physical health and comfort of those who labour within its walls, and he will have to pay the fullest rates of wages. The law-makers of Canada, as well as of Great Britain, are now more deeply concerned in the well-being of the workmen than they are in getting the work let out to the lowest bidder.

XV.—THE TRADES UNIONS.

It has been shown (pp. 26-7) that the inception and first institution of the Printing Bureau was on an industrial, business basis; and that it is in the direct interest of the managing heads who are responsible for the output to continue it so. It is now in order to remark, that a very potent though unrecognized influence has been continuously at work in the same direction, and that this has greatly tended to neutralize those exterior influences which are commonly supposed to dominate all public institutions.

There exist in Ottawa two trades unions—the Compositors' Union and the Pressmen's Union—and of these, the men in the Printing Bureau form the great majority. They are in touch with all the Labour Unions, which in the aggregate, wield a not insignificant political power. When the men are right and have justice on their side, it is difficult to withstand them. A private firm with abundance of capital and irresponsible to public opinion might, but a Government would never wish to do so. It follows from this that no workman can enter the Printing Bureau unless he is a member of the Union of his trade; and no one can be a member unless he has served five years' apprenticeship and has arrived at a reasonable degree of competency as a workman at that trade.

It is not convenient to discuss the principles of Trades Unionism. The existence of the Trade Unions is a fact, and their influence at the Government Printing Bureau, in the matter of new appointments, is precisely as if there were a Civil Service Examination Board to exclude incompetent workmen. There may be slow men, and men may become careless or indifferent, but it is to the direct interest of the Trades Unions that they should be competent—that they should be real compositors and real pressmen—and the possibility of work will always be in them. For these reasons, then, those persons are mistaken who decide a priori that government institutions must be inefficient or inferior to private institutions. They may be or may not be, there is no necessity one way or the other. As Mr. Blackburn observed in his report in 1888, everything depends upon the management. There is here, therefore, a very effective though unrecognized check upon the appointment of incompetent workmen.

No doubt the managing officers, as administrators of public money, have occasionally had some uncomfortable hours with Trades Unions because of unreasonable demands; but, in justice, it must be said that during the discussions which have occurred the men have always been open to conviction and have never hesitated to admit they are mistaken when it has been shown to them. They are bound by their own constitutions and laws which in the main are founded on justice and equity and readily admit of appeal against some passing notion suggested by an over zealous junior. It may be a little tiresome after a hard day's work to discuss immature propositions in economics, but the Unions are on the other hand of assistance to the management in occasions of unworkmanlike behaviour. There have been instances when careless conduct has caused destruction of public property and the offender could not be traced; or where symptoms of untidiness or indifference began to appear. An appeal to the "fathers of the chapels" has always hitherto resulted in a remedy being quietly applied, whether in "chapel" or general meetings is never known to the managing officers. It is sufficient that the abuse ceased. It is not likely that the men would ever attempt to press claims beyond the limits of the public opinion existing at the time, for they would then so clearly be in the wrong that they would inevitably fail and injure their own cause over the whole country. They are quick enough to see that.

Holidays.

The subject of holidays has often come up in discussion, and every little while some thoughtless person in the daily press undertakes to expound it. Under the contract system there are no holidays. The men are paid when their work is wanted. When the Bureau was established four holidays were allowed, and the men chose them, viz.:—Queen's Birthday, Dominion Day, Labour Day and Thanksgiving Day. In the time of the present Queen's Printer three more were added: New Year's Day, Good Friday and Christmas Day. On these days the Bureau is closed down, but the hands are paid. There are, however, six other days, viz.:—Epiphany, Ash Wednesday, Easter Monday, Ascension Day, All Saints' Day and Conception Day which are statutory holidays. Besides these there are every year a Civic holiday and a holiday in exhibition week, together with occasional sporadic holidays granted for various reasons not provided for. When work presses the Bureau is kept open, but when work is slack the management closes down so as to postpone as long as possible the necessity for a suspension.

The officials cannot undertake to make explanations to writers in the newspapers. It is now, however, convenient to put on record the fact that every day the Bureau opens costs over $600 of public money in wages, and that to pay for these six statutory holidays alone would cost $3,600 per annum independent of power. That amount would have to be added to the cost of all the work done in the building. The Printing Bureau is not under the Civil Service Act. The present holidays are more than are allowed in other printing offices, and to extend them would involve a considerable sum of money annually. Attempts are made to represent it as a religious grievance when the Bureau is shut down on the last mentioned holidays, but without success; for Catholics as well as Protestants come to work and, when the weather is fine, Protestants as well as Catholics stay away. On these days when the Bureau is open no attempt is made to enforce attendance and the work of those who attend is of little avail because of the absence of more than one-half of the staff, while the expense of power, heat and light is the same. Still no money is paid excepting for work performed, and whenever the Bureau is closed down it is in the interest of the employees generally for it is never done when work is abundant, nor when Parliament is sitting. Whenever Parliament intends to extend the rules of the permanent Civil Service to an institution organized on a business basis some statute will be passed to manifest its intention. In the meantime the grievance is microscopic.

XVI.—SUSPENSIONS.

While in the press room and bindery there has from the first been a constant struggle to keep up with the work, and there has, therefore, never but once been a necessity for the suspension of a few of the hands, it has not been so in the composing rooms. When the large amount of work thrown on the Bureau during a session of Parliament is considered, and when it is also borne in mind that the current work of the departments is going on even more actively at that time it is evident that a staff sufficient to do the work during a session must be too large during the recess. Here a difficulty arises, for the management of the Bureau is anxious to retain on the staff the old hands experienced in the special work of the Government, while the new men taken on for extra work move every conceivable influence to be kept on and throw the suspension upon the older hands.

It is an axiom of justice among working men that the last on should be the first off. If that be not observed very serious injury is done to deserving men. A working man has his own little home with wife and children depending on his earnings. He often owns his house and is paying for it by his savings. His children are at school and he is anticipating a continuance of steady work, which by every principle of right known to a working man, he is entitled to. Suddenly he is deprived of work and his wages stop. In a small labour market like Ottawa he cannot find employment and he has to seek work somewhere else, and his home is broken up while another man who has come from some other city is continued on in his place. Working men know well that they have to face the vicissitudes of their employment and their minds are prepared for it; but when a man sees the home broken up which he has been saving for years to win; when he loses the instalments he has paid; when he has to take away his children from school and go to some other place to look for employment, he is apt to think that a bitter injustice has been done him. Influential people do not realize this. They do not know what they are doing in listening to the representations of men without having their stories verified by application to those who know all the facts. Suspensions must occur, although if the requirements of the departments were made with more system the work might be spread more evenly over the year, but that is not likely ever to be done. The public money cannot be paid away excepting for work done. The men know that well; but if the principle dear to the heart of every printer were, excepting for reasonable cause, adhered to—"last on first off"—there might be occasional hardship but never injustice.

In former years suspensions were much heavier than of late. This is due to the introduction of typesetting machines, and although the greater part of the departmental work is tabular matter for which the machines are not adapted, they assist very much with the plain matter. The work of Government is very uneven. It comes in rushes of matter so urgent that it seems almost wonderful the Government could have existed in the meantime. There must be a staff a little in excess of absolute necessity to meet such sudden requirements, and, in a small labour market, good men cannot always be had to meet them. It is here where the machines are so useful, for each machine is equivalent to four men, and when the cloth is drawn over a machine and it is suspended, no hardship or injustice is done. The man who worked it goes back to case at the wages of case setting, and the machine patiently waits until it is wanted again. In this way the nearest approach to steady employment is made possible.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

Apart, however, from all considerations of justice it is in the public interest that the experienced men should be retained. They are all skilled in some class of special work. There are hands in the Bureau who have set Bills for twenty years at each recurring session; others have set the Gazette, or worked regularly at some special government job as it came up year after year to be done. Such men it is important to keep on. They go straight to their work and set up their copy with all the conventionalities incident to it without delay or special instructions. They will notice a deviation from usage and draw attention to it, thus preventing unnoticed errors from causing inconvenience. New hands have to learn such things, and their education is won at the expense of delay and confusion.

XVII.—ORGANIZATION OF THE DEPARTMENT.

The building known as the Government Printing Bureau is generally supposed to be entirely devoted to printing. It is somewhat out of the way and few visit it—very few of the many who have formed opinions about it have ever gone over it. For that reason the whole staff of clerks on the Civil Service estimate is, in the minds of many, associated with the idea of printing to such an extent that they believe the existence of the staff is the result of the Government doing its own work. This is an utter misconception. It is on the contrary doubtful whether if the printing of Government were done by contract even one salary on the Civil Service estimates would be saved. The misconception arises from the fact that when the Department of Public Printing and Stationery was organized several existing services were consolidated, under an already existing head, and were located in one building plainly and separately visible.

Taking these services separately they are:

1. The Queen's Printer.

This is one of the oldest offices in the colony, and existed prior to the creation of any of the departments of government. At the appointment of the present officer his office and staff were in the Eastern Departmental Block. At his request they were removed to the Bureau building. In the East Block there were four clerks and a messenger, and their work is now done by one clerk less. The Queen's Printer is, and always has been, responsible (contract or no contract) for the correct and regular publication of the Official Gazette, the statutes and official communications from the Head of the Executive to the general public. Under the contract system all the work done for the departments was delivered to the Queen's Printer and examined and the accounts audited by his officers. There were two officers of the House of Commons to perform similar duties for the Parliamentary contract. The work had to be examined by somebody or other, whether it was done within or without the Bureau. Beyond this the Queen's Printer had the care of the printing under the Franchise Act, and the supervision and audit of all the government advertising. Later on the duty was imposed upon him of auditing all printing for the Intercolonial Railway, and of recent years, every outside bill for services connected with printing or stationery has been referred to the Queen's Printer for audit and certificate. If the printing were done by contract the staff would remain the same.

2. The Outside Distribution of Parliament.

It is evident that this service in no way depends upon a contractor. It occupies a large room on the ground floor of the Bureau. The staff was brought down from the House of Commons and is numerically the same as when the work was performed there.

3. The Accountant's Branch.

No change in system would affect this staff. It existed under the Queen's Printer, while the printing was done by a contractor, and under the Clerk of the Printing Committee of the House. No matter how or by whom the printing is done the accounts must be checked and apportioned to the different services. In this branch, moreover, the lithographing and engraving (other than Bank Notes and stamps) is put out and supervised. That class of work is not done at the Bureau. Not one clerk less would be required here if the government printing were done by a contractor.

4. The Stationery Branch.

This branch was organized in 1868, originally in the Finance Department under the Clerk of Contingencies. In 1873 it became a branch of the Secretary of State's Department under a Superintendent who reported to that Minister. On the organization of the Department of Public Printing and Stationery this branch was placed under the Queen's Printer, who was thenceforth also Controller of Stationery, and when the Government Printing Bureau was built it was removed thither from the basement of the East Block. This branch occupies nearly the whole of the eastern side of the building. In recent years the space originally allotted to it has been invaded by the growth of the Printing Branch, but it can yield up no more room without impairing its efficiency. It existed before and during the contract system, and was always a separate branch. Therefore, no change of system of printing would affect any clerk in it.

5. The Printing Branch.

Not even in this branch would a saving in the Civil Service estimates be effected by a change to the contract system. There must be requisitions made out, and, under any system inside or outside the Bureau, the work must equally be put in hand by experts trained in the technicalities of the printing business. It must be evident that if the clerks of the different departments put out the work the complicated provisions of a contract would be incessantly infringed. If a change were made more instead of less work would be thrown on this staff for it would take more time and trouble to rewrite the requisitions and keep them within the limits of a contract than to start the work in a business like way at first. Under the former system the Queen's Printer had nothing to do with the printing of Parliament. That was supervised by officers of Parliament. Now all the work—parliamentary, Hansard, Senate debates as well as departmental work is under the management of the Bureau staff.

These services are, therefore, consolidated in one establishment under the responsibility of the Queen's Printer as a Deputy Head. The aggregate of work has grown immensely of recent years. The clerical work which was scattered over many clerks in many offices and departments is now concentrated under a few technically expert clerks in the Bureau. It is work which had to be done somehow in former years and many very inexperts had more or less of a hand in it. Their salaries were mixed up with the general salaries, and were not seen together under one heading as now. It stands to reason that a service like this, aggregated under one staff and in one building, must be performed with more efficiency and economy than when disseminated over the general surface of the Civil Service. There is no escape from every detail of the work. All the checking of accounts, all the putting of requisitions into technical shape, all the watching of the contractors' methods has been performed by somebody. The sole thing assumed over and above at the change is the checking of the time of the operatives. That is charged on the work—it is not a charge against Civil Government.

C.—Cost of Work—Comparative Statements.

XVIII.—COMPARATIVE COST OF WORK.

The question of the cost of work at the Bureau, compared with the cost under the contract was, from the first, considered carefully by the Queen's Printers. In his report for 1889, the late Queen's Printer showed that while, during the four previous years the aggregate amount paid for printing had been increasing there was an immediate drop in the first nine months after the work was taken over by the Bureau; although the volume of the work done had not diminished but was steadily increasing. The question came up also before the Select Standing Committee on Public Accounts, in the summer of 1891. The affairs of the Bureau underwent very close investigation at that time, and it was shown in the evidence that there was a saving of 25 per cent upon the contract rates.

The present Queen's Printer was appointed in November, 1891, and this was the very first question to which he gave his attention. His report for the year 1891 was not written until May, 1892. His first impressions were as follows:—

“ It does not appear from the reports made prior to the establishment of the Bureau that the consideration of cost was the only one, or even the chief one, which led to its establishment. It was rather to raise the standard of the work to the level of the public printing in other countries and to do away with the manifold inconveniences of the contract system. A comparison must be made over all the extent of the work; and, if that be done, it will appear that to-day the work costs at least no more while it is plainly evident that it is very much better done. If single items are taken, the work in some instances seems to cost more. For instance, in plain solid setting of type, the contract price for parliamentary printing was 25 cents per thousand ems and for departmental work ten cents; while the evidence of the labour commission shows that the contractors were paying their men at the rate of 35 cents in wages. In this item then the cost in the Bureau is higher. But on the other hand there is a very large saving in all tabular matter, and a large saving in all blank form work with rules and figures, in all matter used more than once, in all standing matter. If the Bureau were allowed to charge the contract rate of five cents per thousand a month for the immense mass of standing matter which it is carrying it could well afford, as the contractors did, to take plain setting at less than cost. Five cents per thousand per month is sixty cents per annum, and that calculated on the seventy tons of type standing in the voters' lists alone would bring in a revenue of $38,000 per annum. But, besides the voters' lists, large amounts of standing matter have to be carried, as for instance the Criminal Code now in process of amendment, which has stood over for more than a year. The tabular matter is utilised for the French reports without extra charge, and the forms in continual use are stereotyped, so that composition is thus charged only once for all. Beyond all question there is a saving in the press work, and a very large saving in all the binding and sheet and pamphlet work. There is a saving in the stationery and paper supplied, and from the centralization of the control there is a check upon the consumption. All this justifies the conclusion that, upon the whole extent of the work, there is a large saving to the public, in addition to the advantages of superior workmanship and material. In this connection I would refer to two tables appended (A and B), showing the aggregate amounts for printing and stationery during the past four years. It is evident from the amount for printing paper that the quantity turned out by the Bureau is increasing constantly and largely; both on account of the gathering up into the Bureau of work formerly done outside, and on account of the evidently increasing demands of the Government.

“(Summary of Tables A and B referred to above).

	1887-88.	1888-89.	1889-90.	1890-91.
	$ cts.	$ cts.	$ cts.	$ cts.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

“This summary answers the question very fully. The Bureau is buying printing paper much more cheaply now than in 1887-88, and yet the paper used has largely increased in amount. It therefore follows, of necessity, that the quantity of printing done must be largely increased—but the total cost of printing in 1890-91 was nearly $9,000 less than in 1887-88.”

These conclusions lay on the surface and presented themselves irresistibly as soon as the figures were made up. There can be no mistake in the matter for the paper was paper for printing and was all printed; for nothing else could be done with it.

Although the general result of the operations of the Bureau was thus plainly manifest, it seemed altogether desirable to follow up the investigation into its smallest detail. Everyone familiar with the business knows how impossible it is to compare the cost of work which varies year by year. The quantity, the paper, the type, the matter even may vary and the name remain the same. As a matter of fact all the forms were greatly changed and improved in style. Then again the price of paper had fallen and the Government, not being bound by a contract, was every year buying at lower rates. It was, therefore, necessary to eliminate the paper. The saving in that was plain enough, and the comparison to be conclusive had to be confined to the more difficult question of printing and binding. To put the matter beyond any shadow of doubt it was arranged that, for five months, the cost of everything done at the Bureau should be made up on slips at the price of the last contract and then a comparison could be established with the price charged to the Government by the Bureau. The intention was to extend the inquiry over six months; but the extra work was very laborious and could be done only by the best and most experienced heads in the Department. It was carried on for five months, from July 1st to November 30th, and then the pressure of preparation for a session of Parliament closed in and it had to be abandoned. The five months give, however, a firmly established datum; because every single thing delivered in that space of time was taken into account together with the work of one whole session of Parliament. The result is a fundamental datum which outweighs any conceivable quantity of theory or loose statement. It cost great labour to arrive at it, but it was worth the trouble. The following table appeared in the Queen's Printer's Report for 1892, published in February, 1893:—

To which must be added the saving on one session of Parliament	4,794

Here then is over forty thousand dollars saved in a year without any charge for standing matter, and the quality of the work infinitely improved. The quantity of standing matter was carefully ascertained in November, 1895, and the minimum during the last few years was found to be 8,583 thousand ems (mille ems). At the established rate under the contract that would yield a revenue of $5,149 per annum. This, it must be carefully remembered, does not include 108 tons of type standing in the latest voters' lists. That would yield an additional revenue of $50,000 a year at the same rate if it were counted in.

A careful examination of the departmental table shows that the Queen's Printer had, in 1891, rightly apprehended the true condition of affairs. There was not a saving in every department. The work in the following departments cost more by the following sums; but in the other departments there was a saving of $15,303.34. This loss of $421.33 is deducted in striking the balance above.

Governor General's Office	$ 2 16
Justice	225 71
Public Works	162 13
House of Commons (Departmental, not Ses- sional which is a separate calculation).	31 33

	$421 33

The reason is evident to those familiar with the work. These departments use no large quantities of forms, but their work is for small numbers and in plain setting. The factums and similar documents of the Department of Justice can be done at a lower rate in outside offices where the competition of small offices with apprentices and cheap hands can be brought into play. The chief printing of the Public Works in like manner is for long specifications—solid composition and in short numbers. The Immigration Department was at that time attached to the Department of Agriculture and most of that work was given, despite the contract, to outside offices. There was not much saving in the Interior Department then on account of the nature of the work, although there was a saving of five per cent even there. The saving was, precisely as had been pointed out by the Queen's Printer, in the enormous masses of work continually repeated, and in the long runs of press work, in the doubling up of the size of formes and in the bindery. In short the contractors' price for composition was under cost and their profits were in the other items. The Bureau charged actual cost for everything.

Deducting then this loss of $421.33 per annum there is conclusively shown a clear gain (without charging standing matter) of $40,511 per annum to the Government of Canada. I have, therefore, no hesitation in saying that, at contract prices, the Bureau on its present work would be able to pay the cost of power, light, heat, and other necessary expenses and also interest on the investment. If the Bureau were provided with what it now needs—a fast press and some additional machines to bring the office up to the present date, it will do far more and in a very short time will recoup the whole additional outlay in additional saving.

Some detailed calculations will now be in order as to the result of the operations of the Bureau upon the work of the larger departments, and here attention is especially called to the fact that the linotype machines have nothing to do with the saving on this work for they were not and cannot be used for forms or table matter, such as Post Office or Customs or departmental work generally.

XIX.—COMPARATIVE COST OF POST OFFICE WORK.

A detailed inquiry into this branch of the present subject is fitly preceded by the following testimony of the Department itself:—

Extract from the Report of the Postmaster General for 1892.

“It is worthy of mention here that as time proceeds it is becoming increasingly manifest that by reason of the actual cost involved in producing the work only being charged by the Printing Bureau, instead of full rates on every job (whether standing matter or otherwise) such as was formerly done under the contract system, more work is turned out for less outlay than was the case prior to the creation of the Department of Public Printing, and to the consequent adoption of the mode of charging up the work now in vogue. That the quality of the work done is beyond comparison superior to what it once was, goes without saying.”

The Post Office is, excepting Parliament itself, by far the largest employer of the Bureau. If there is, as above stated, a saving in the Post Office Department, the question falls—no more need be said. The following figures demonstrate the great growth of the business of the Post Office in the nine years from 1888, at the close of the contract, to 1896, under the Bureau. The requirements for printing increased, of necessity, in the same ratio:—

	1888.	1896.	Rate of Increase.
Number of Post Offices.	7,671	9,103	20 per cent.
do Money Order Offices.	944	1,310	38 do do Savings Banks.	433	755	73 do
Revenue.	2,751,139	4,004,285	45 do
Expenditure.	3,533,397	4,705,282	33 do

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

Here then is an increase in revenue amounting to 45 per cent. The Savings Banks increased 73 per cent, and the Money Order Offices 38 per cent. The number of forms printed is known to have increased from 18,118,980 in 1890-91 to 27,839,970 in 1896-97, an increase of 53 per cent. The figures under the contract cannot be had, but the above items show an ascertained certain increase in seven years.

The following is a comparison of the cost of the last five years of the contract with the last five years of the Bureau. The printing is separated from the paper; because, as before stated, paper has been falling steadily in price. A thousand dollars worth of paper will suffice for sixty per cent more forms in 1897 than in 1887:—

Comparative Statement for the five years from 1883 to 1887, and from 1893 to 1897.

	Total.....	$144,824 07
	Average per year.....	$ 28,964 81

Decrease in cost of printing, 9 per cent. Increase in cost of paper, 28 per cent.

It will be plainly seen from the above that with the immense increase of work the total cost of printing is nine per cent less under the Bureau in 1897 than under the contract in 1887. An independent proof that the quantity of work delivered was enormously larger is that it took 28 per cent more value of printing paper to print it on. It must also be remembered that the paper having fallen in price is now bought at one-third to one-half less, so that the quantity of forms must be 28 per cent plus 33 per cent greater than in 1887, and that all this costs nine per cent less in aggregate value to print.

And now to go still further into detail let a single prominent item be taken, one that is easily checked, that of Money Order books. These are books of the well-known forms of Money Orders issued to the public. They are in duplicate, numbered, perforated and done up in books. They were made under a separate contract from the general printing and by a different contractor.

STATEMENT OF MONEY ORDER BOOKS.

All the Money Orders for the Post Office were provided by outside contractors until the year 1889-90.

The number of Money Order forms supplied in the year ending June, 1890, under contractors, was798,400 while the number supplied by the Printing Bureau in the year ending June, 1896, was1,202,000

The increase in volume was.....403,600 forms, or a little over50 per cent.

This largely increased volume was supplied at a cost of three hundred and eighty-one dollars less. That is:—

The 798,400 Money Orders from contractors cost.....$5,189.60 and the 1,202,000 Money Orders supplied by the Printing Bureau cost..$4,808.00

If this increased work had been done at the contract rates, it would have cost the Government $3,005.00 more than it did really cost.

The Printing Bureau is thus saving every year to the public the considerable sum of $3,005.00 in the one single item of Money Orders, and the larger the business grows the greater will be the saving.

.XX.—COMPARISON IN THE CUSTOMS DEPARTMENT.

The comparison in this Department cannot be made so easily, because the suits for damages showed that very large quantities of forms were, in spite of the contract, locally printed for the Custom-houses over the Dominion. It is impossible, therefore, to get at the whole amount of printing done for this Department in the period for 1883-87. The figures so far as found are:

Average per year.....	$ 5,640 88	$ 6,515 97

Increase in cost of printing, 22 per cent. A great deal of local printing and binding was done outside the contractors.

The increase in the volume of work is, however, shown conclusively by the number of forms printed:

In 1890-91.....	2,476,805
" 1896-97.....	3,147,728

Increase, 28 per cent.

Here also is a solid datum of increase in six years in the forms. If the comparison could be made to extend further back the increase would be much greater.

As in the case of the Post Office there are no data available to ascertain the quantity of forms printed by the contractors. All that can be done is to take the growth from 1890 to 1897 under the Bureau. The whole comparison is confused by the large amounts of local printing, outside of the contractors. A conclusion can, however, be solidly based on the quantity of printing paper used. The increase in the amount paid for paper was 33 per cent. All this paper was used for work, and, therefore, the quantity of printing done was very much greater, not only by the 33 per cent of present value, but also by the proportion of the fall in price which produced an increase of 33 per cent more in quantity to be printed upon.

XXI.—THE PATENT RECORD.

This was an outside contract separate from the main contract. The work was taken into the Bureau first in January, 1892. In this case also the testimony of the Department concerned is available and will conveniently precede any other remarks. The Queen's Printer asked, in 1896, the opinion of the late Deputy Commissioner of Patents as to the advantage of the change. The following letter was received:—

“ DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE, “ PATENT OFFICE,

“ OTTAWA, CANADA, 28th July, 1896.

“ SIR,—In reply to your letter of the 20th inst., I have much pleasure in stating that since the year 1891, when the printing of the Patent Office Record “ceased to be done by contract, and was printed in the Printing Bureau, under your supervision, the work has been done much more efficiently and expeditiously; it is improved in every respect, in the paper, in the printing, in the drawings, in the style, finish and the whole get-up of the work, while the cost is very much less than when the work was done by contract. Under the contract, for the four years ending the 30th June, 1891, although the number of patents issued was only 9,819, the cost was $50,060; while for the four years ending on the 30th June, 1895, during which the work was done at the Printing Bureau, and the number of patents issued amounted to 12,438, the cost was only $33,963.

“I have the honour, &c.,

“(Sgd.) R. POPE,

“Deputy Comr. of Patents.”

A calculation was made also at the Bureau covering four even years (viz. the last four years, 1888-91) of the contract, and 1892-96, the succeeding four years at the Bureau. The result is as follows:—

Comparison of the cost of the Patent Record published during the four years ending December, 1896, by the Queen's Printer with that formerly published under the contract system:

In the four years, 1888-91, 9,910 patents were printed at a total cost of.....	$44,465 53
In the four years, 1892-96, 12,913 patents were printed at the Printing Bureau at a total cost of.....	$31,820 28

Putting aside all question of the superior quality of the work done at the Printing Bureau, which is evident upon the most cursory inspection of any numbers of the respective publications, the saving effected will be shown by the following simple sum in proportion:

If 9,910 patents done under the contract system cost $44,465, what would 12,913 patents done by the Printing Bureau have cost if they had also been done under contract?

Patents...9,910	$44,465	Patents...12,913	$57,937
-----------------	----------	-------	------------------	----------

These 12,913 patents did not cost $57,937. They cost only $31,820.28. Subtracting the one amount from the other, there remains a difference of $26,116.72 saved in the four years through the Bureau besides the enormous improvement in the paper and printing.

The saving annually to the public on this one publication taken alone would more than pay the salaries of the Superintendent of Printing and all his clerks.

XXII.—COMPARISON WITH OUTSIDE WORK.

A most conclusive instance of the great cost of distributing the printing of Government over a wide area is recorded in the history of the late Franchise Act and the printing of the Voters' Lists for the Dominion. It is an ideal case for a comparison. The first revised lists were printed by local printers all over the Dominion. Neither the Queen's Printer nor any one of his technical officers was consulted with, and the accounts were not certified in his office.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

On the other hand all the succeeding revisions of lists were printed under the Queen's Printer's care and by the Bureau staff. The two systems were absolutely diverse and mutually exclusive. The following was the result. The details will be found in the Queen's Printer's reports for 1893 and 1895:—

First revision (printed outside) cost..... $180,960 43

The type was, of course, immediately distributed and the numbers printed were soon exhausted. They were done in all styles and sizes of type.

Second revision (under the Queen's Printer). The preceding lists were unavailable and everything had to be reset in order to get preliminary lists for revision. It was decided to be more advantageous and economical to purchase the type, and after setting, to keep it standing for future revisions.

Setting these preliminary lists cost..... $23,517 37

Supplementary and final lists cost..... 48,555 48

The supplementary lists contained the changes i. e. names to be added or struck out. They were done at outside offices and cost $11,534.71. The final lists done at the Bureau and kept standing, cost $37,021.41. The point to be noted in this comparison is that the lists of the first revision cost $180,960.43, and those of the second $72,072.85, or $108,887.58 less including the cost of preliminary lists which never needed to be done again. This saving more than paid for the entire voters' list plant, which amounted to $90,642.95 and left over $18,244.63 to the credit of the third and next following revision. All the succeeding revisions were done from standing type.

The supplementary lists of names to be added or omitted were always done outside, and the price allowed was 50 cents for each heading and three cents for each name. There were 1,332,857 names in the last lists, and the cost per name for those set at the Bureau was 2.128 cents including headings and paper. If the outside price (which is very low) had been paid the cost would have been $15,256 more than it was. The fact is then apparent that the immense plant in the Voters' Lists was more than paid for the first time it was used, namely, on the second revision, and has been continually saving $15,000 at every succeeding use.

It is also possible to compare the cost of printing at the Bureau with work done outside by reference to the bills for printing for the Intercolonial Railway.

This has always been done outside—mainly in the Maritime Provinces, and of late years under a permissive statute; but the accounts have for five years come for audit to the Queen's Printer's office where they are made to conform to a tariff laid down in an Order in Council. The necessities of the railway required local printing, but the local firms admitted that they could not do work at the prices charged by the Bureau, and although wages are less than at Ottawa and the private firms have all the advantages supposed to accrue under private management a margin of 30 to 40 per cent is allowed to them. It is, therefore, manifest that work of this nature is done more cheaply at the Bureau. Even at the advanced prices many of the offices incessantly complain they are not allowed enough.

XXIII.—CONCURRENT PROOFS.

The fact that there is an immense saving in money to the country at the Bureau stands out clearly in every way the question is approached. It has been previously shown that, over and above the amount paid to the contractors, large amounts were paid to outside firms, and the courts assessed the profits on such work at a very large amount. That was paid for profits, interest and law costs on work the contractors did not do. A portion of this is shown in the following statement—but only a portion.

THAT PORTION OF THE PRINTING OUTSIDE THE CONTRACT WHICH WAS AUDITED BY THE QUEEN'S PRINTER IN FIVE YEARS 1881-86, BUT NOT INCLUDED IN HIS STATEMENTS.

In addition to the amounts charged to the various departments for printing during five years of the contract, 1881-1886, should be added $223,653.84, or an average of over $44,730 per year, for printing work done outside the contract, but passing through the Queen's Printer's office for audit.

There are also, in addition to the above, large amounts paid by various departments for work done outside the contractors but not sent through the Queen's Printer's office for audit, as is evidenced from the facts produced in the various suits against the Government for breach of contract.

ments without passing through the Queen's Printer's Office cannot be so clearly traced.

The following table was made up a few months ago showing the annual cost of printing during the last five years of the contract compared with the last five years of the Bureau. In all these comparisons the paper is separated because, paper has been continually falling in price and would invalidate the comparison if included with printing.

TABLE OF TOTALS.

Cost for five years of printing and binding done for the Departments of Government. "A" during the last five years of the Contract, 1883-1887; "B" during the last five years at the Bureau, 1893-97.

A.

Paid to the Contractors, plus such amounts as are known to have been paid to outside parties from the fact that the accounts were brought to the Queen's Printer for audit:

	Printing.	Paper.
1882-83	$105,236 39	$ 47,807 50
1883-84	115,377 87	49,297 79
1884-85	115,733 52	50,277 31
1885-86	101,994 43	44,928 78
1886-87	116,807 63	54,597 60
	$555,149 84	$246,908 98
Total	Average	49,381 80
	111,029 97

To the above amount must be added the amounts which were proved, in the suits by contractors for loss of profits, to have been done by outside parties and not presented to the Queen's Printer for audit.

B.

The following is the cost at the Bureau. The table contains the absolute total cost, for nothing was given out to be done by outside parties.

	Printing.	Paper.
1892-93	$111,247 21	$ 79,377 42
1893-94	102,439 63	82,328 91
1894-95	112,681 90	68,725 49
1895-96	106,024 93	71,008 98
1896-97	109,234 37	75,920 44
	$541,628 04	$377,361 24
Total	Average	75,472 25
	108,325 60

It will be seen from the above that the average annual total of work was

Under Contractors	$111,029
Under Bureau	108,325
	2,704
Annual difference in favour of Bureau.....	$ 2,704

That is, the saving at the Bureau would have been $2,704 if the volume of the work had only been the same, but the work turned out was at least 75 per cent greater in volume, and besides all the work paid for outside which was not submitted to the Queen's Printer's audit.

XXIV.—PROOF FROM QUANTITY OF PRINTING PAPER USED.

This comparison must be absolutely conclusive; because printing paper cannot be used for any other purpose. Printed it must be and sent out also, or it must have accumulated at the Bureau. The quantity of paper purchased every year can be proved with absolute certainty from the books of the Stationery Department. And this is the most convenient place to point out that although the quality of printing paper used in the Blue-books had been greatly improved by the late Queen's Printer, when the Government took over the work in 1888 the present Queen's Printer found that mechanical wood pulp was still used as an ingredient to a greater or lesser extent in the paper supplied. This had not been observed, and in fact cannot be detected when in small quantity excepting by special and little known chemical tests. Still in the course of a longer or shorter time all such pulp will, under the action of light, return to the colour it had before bleaching, and books made of paper containing it will turn brown on the margins. Therefore, in 1892, a stipulation was introduced into all contracts for paper, forbidding the employment of ground wood as an ingredient in the book printing paper supplied to the Government. Similar action was afterwards taken by the United States and British Governments because they found that the paper used for their Blue-books was being continually lowered in quality, and that the paper in the Blue-books themselves on exposure to light and air turned brown and became brittle. The subject came up in the Imperial Parliament in 1893, and was fully inquired into. It is not necessary to dwell longer upon it, because the defect was discovered and remedied here before it was noticed elsewhere. It is referred to now to show that the quality of the paper used in the Blue-books is superior to that used prior to 1892, and if the printing paper costs less it cannot be said that the quality has been let down, for it has on the contrary been distinctly improved and is kept rigidly up to the standard by mechanical and chemical tests. Owing to the extensive introduction of chemical wood pulp the price of the parliamentary paper has fallen from $4.35 a ream in 1887 to $2.10 a ream in 1898. If there had been as formerly a long contract the loss to the Government would have been very large, but under the present system contracts are made annually by tender, and the public service has reaped the full benefit of the annual fall.

Department of Public Printing and Stationery.

A reference to the table on page 47 will show that the average annual value of the paper used in the last five years under the contract was $49,381, while the average annual value during the last five years of the Government Printing Bureau was $75,472, and that on a paper market which had dropped one-third.

Double Royal Printing.

The number of reams printed during the years of the contract cannot now be ascertained with accuracy; but it is possible to ascertain with accuracy the number of reams used for every year of the existence of the Bureau. The parliamentary work turned out of the printing office is chiefly in octavo and is printed on double royal paper. All the Blue-books, the Hansards and the Returns are done upon that size. The quantity of double royal then will be an accurate index of the increase in the volume or quantity of the output in that portion of the work, and if the double demy be added the result will be more certain.

TABLE of Printing Paper Purchased.

For Year ending June 30.	1889.	1898.
Double Royal Parliamentary..... Reams.	5,578	9,001
" " special..... "	2,536	3,504
" Demy..... "	1,250	1,942
	9,364	14,447

The above table demonstrates that the volume of this work done at the Bureau did increase at least 55 per cent in nine years.

This statement may be supplemented by the following to show the increase in the quantity of paper used for blank forms and blank books.

TABLE of Paper for Blank books and forms

	Reams.
Used in the year ending June 30, 1889.....	9,178
do do do 1898.....	13,448

That is an increase in nine years of 46 per cent.

It is thus clearly demonstrated by a number of separate converging arguments drawn from many distinct sources that the work thrown on the Bureau has increased greatly, is increasing rapidly, and is done at less cost than before. In the meantime the building has remained the same, the press facilities are less by the shortening of the day one hour, the departmental reports are coming in later than ever, and, instead of recognizing the efforts by which the Bureau staff has succeeded in getting through the work smoothly and in better time than formerly, the requirements made upon it grow day by day more exacting.

With regard to the cost of work the most unfounded statements are made without any attempt at verification. There is a certain plausibility about these current beliefs. The present Queen's Printer, coming comparatively recently from the outer world of business life, admits that he to a certain extent shared these beliefs. Considering that plain setting was contracted for at 25 cents per thousand it seemed as if the contractors must be ruined. When, however, it was seen that the bulk of the setting was tabular and that tables were kept standing and charged again and again whenever used—when it was seen that tables of figures were charged as English and again as French, and that many could be used year after year with one line left off at the top and one added at the bottom—when the working of the stereotyping room was fully apprehended and it became clear that forms used twenty times a year could be printed from plates and charged full tabular composition every time they were used—when the work of the press room and bindery were taken into account, then it became evident that the profits of government printing were not to be sought on the surface but depended upon things that were unseen and hidden to the unskilled eye. In that way the present writer quickly arrived at the conclusions embodied in his two first reports, and everything since has tended to strengthen them.

PRINTING AND BINDING.

For the charges against the several departments, the House of Commons and Senate, for printing, binding, lithographing, stamping, &c., I have the honour to refer you to the subjoined tabular statements, A, B and C.

A comparative statement for the past five years, from 1893-94 to 1897-98, for both printing and stationery, is subjoined—tables D and E.

ADVERTISING.

Hitherto the accounts for advertising have been kept for the calendar year, from 1st January to 31st December, but it has been deemed advisable to bring these accounts into line with the others for the fiscal year, hence the present report is for six months only.

The total amount certified by this department for Government advertising during the six months ending 30th June, 1898, was $16,312.58, the details of which are set forth in statement F. These accounts being paid by the several departments for which the advertising is done, the amount is not included in the statement of receipts and expenditure of this department.

The number of advertising accounts audited was 1,128; circulars issued, 785. There was, moreover, a considerable amount of correspondence in connection therewith.

I also subjoin a statement of the total amount of advertising accounts audited by this office for the years 1876 to 1897, both inclusive, and for the six months ending 30th June, 1898 :—

BOARD OF CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINERS,

OTTAWA, 1st March, 1899.

SIR,—Herewith I have the honour of addressing you the report of the Board of Civil Service Examiners for the year ended the 31st December, 1898.

This document embraces the information usually afforded under the following heads :—

1. Statement of the Promotion and Entrance Examinations, the number of candidates present thereat, and the number who passed and failed.
2. Copies of the Question Papers submitted at the said examinations.
3. Lists giving the names of the candidates who were successful in passing the Preliminary and Qualifying Examinations.

I have the honour to be, sir,

Your obedient servant,

WM. FORAN,
Secretary.

The Honourable

RICHARD WILLIAM SCOTT, Q.C., LL.D.,
Secretary of State of Canada.

Secretary of State—Civil Service Examiners.

REPORT

OF THE

BOARD OF CIVIL SERVICE EXAMINERS

The undersigned, constituting the Board of Civil Service Examiners for the Dominion of Canada, have the honour to report that during the year ended the 31st day of December last they held, or caused to be held, the Promotion and Entrance Examinations prescribed by "The Civil Service Act."

PROMOTION EXAMINATION.

The General Promotion Examination for employees of the Civil Service was this year held on the 17th and 18th days of May, and was attended by employees from the following departments, viz.:—Trade and Commerce, Customs, Interior, Militia and Defence and Public Works. The holding of this examination was this year again confined to the city of Ottawa, as none of the departments had reported the necessity for such a test at any of 'the outside "centres." It is thought, however, that during the ensuing year it will be very desirable to hold an examination at various points throughout the Dominion, in order to afford the employees of the Outside Service an opportunity, which they have not had now for two years, of undergoing the examination. The attendance at this examination for the past three or four years has been small, but this is not to be wondered at, inasmuch as the great bulk of the employees of the service have already passed this examination, and, promotion to the higher offices not being rapid, it follows that there is always a considerable number of officers qualified to fill the few vacancies which annually occur in the several departments. Then, there is an "unwritten law" acted upon by the Treasury Board and by the Auditor General for some years past, which allows an employee to be promoted from one class to another on his first examination, provided the percentages obtained at that examination would be sufficient to qualify him for the rank to which it is proposed to advance him. As a result of this, it may, and does frequently, happen that employees come up for examination only once, instead of for each succeeding grade as was the case before the practice just indicated was adopted.

It appears to the Board that the main objects of the Promotion Examination were, (1) that it should stimulate those who otherwise might feel disposed to do their work in a careless perfunctory manner, trusting to outside influence to assist them in procuring their promotion, and (2) that it should be a means of encouraging those who are attentive to their duties, and who strive by study and persevering industry to become thoroughly familiar with all the details of the department in which they are employed. Moreover, it not unfrequently happens that a clerk is transferred from one department to another, and it seems very desirable, therefore, that some means should be taken to ascertain whether his transference will be in the public interest. Suppose a candidate in undergoing the first promotion examination makes the necessary number of marks to qualify him for a chief clerkship, but let us suppose, that no vacancy for the position occurs for say a dozen years, what guarantee would there be that meanwhile the candidate has been keeping himself en rapport with all the details of his official duties. It seems to the Board, therefore, worthy of consideration whether this per saltum method of promoting candidates should not be abandoned and recourse be had to the system in force when the regulations were first authorized.

Notwithstanding the small attendance at this examination, the Board wishes to emphasize what was stated in its report for 1895, namely, that it is desirable that the promotion examinations should be held annually as an intermitting of them, even once, tends to produce a certain carelessness and uncertainty, culminating in the neglect of adequate preparation of intending candidates. The experience of examining bodies of every kind conclusively shows the necessity of regularity and certainty in procedure, if the best results are to be attained.

ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS.

The undersigned have the honour to report that personally on the usual days in November last, at Ottawa, Toronto and Montreal, and through the medium of sub-examiners at Charlottetown, Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Kingston, Hamilton, London, Winnipeg, Vancouver and Victoria, they held the Preliminary and Qualifying Examinations prescribed by the statute for entrance into the public service. No examination was held at the remaining "centres," viz.:—Port Arthur, Sault Ste. Marie, Regina and Calgary, as no applications were received from persons desirous of taking the examination at these places.

In several of the previous reports of the Board, extended reference is made to the nature and scope of the Entrance Examinations, the conditions of success thereat, and to other collateral matters which it was thought would be of interest to the public, but the demand for these reports in recent years has been so great that the editions for certain years are now out of print. As the Board is constantly in receipt of letters asking for information on these points, it is deemed advisable to include in this report, in a general resumé, the particulars already given in this connection, together with such additions as are rendered necessary by the existing condition of things brought about by various amendments to "The Civil Service Act" which have been noted by the Board from time to time as such amendments were enacted.

Secretary of State—Civil Service Examiners.

PRELIMINARY EXAMINATION.

The Preliminary or Lower Grade Examination, as it may be more aptly termed, embraces Penmanship, Orthography, the first four rules of Arithmetic, and Reading print and manuscript. The maximum of marks in each subject is 60; an average of 50 per cent or 30 marks is required; and the minimum on any subject is 18, any one falling below that standard is necessarily ruled out. Success at this examination qualifies the candidates to become "Messengers, Letter Carriers, Packers, Tide waiters, Sorters, Porters, Box-collectors, Assistant Inspector of Weights and Measures," or "such other offices in the Lower Grades as may be determined by the Governor General in Council. Prior to the 1st day of July, 1896, successful candidates at this examination were eligible for employment as "temporary copyists," but on that day an amendment to "The Civil Service Act" came into force, which provides that only those persons who have passed the Qualifying or Higher Grade Examination may be employed in that capacity. It would be well if intending candidates for this examination and those who take a special interest in them would make a note of this fact, as thereby the Board would be spared a great deal of unnecessary correspondence. It may also be added that failure in one subject at this examination is equivalent to total failure, and that there are no optional subjects in connection with it.

QUALIFYING EXAMINATION.

The Qualifying or Higher Grade Examination comprises Penmanship, Orthography, Arithmetic, Geography, History (English, French and Canadian), Grammar, Composition, and Transcription. The value of each subject is 100, and the candidates though making a minimum of 30 in one or more, may yet pass, providing they make sufficient marks in others to obtain an average of 50 per cent or a total of 400 upon the eight subjects. Failure in average means total failure, but if a candidate fails in one subject only and makes the average, he is entitled to come up for that one subject at the next ensuing examination—not afterwards, however, nor more than once. This examination qualifies for the position of temporary copyists and for Second Class Clerkships in the Inside Service and for Third Class Clerkships in the Outside Service.

OPTIONAL SUBJECTS.

In connection with the Qualifying Examinations, the following optional subjects may be taken by the candidates, but cannot be taken at any subsequent examination. These subjects are Book-keeping, Type-writing and Shorthand. The maximum of marks in these subjects is 100, and 50 per cent must be made to pass. A candidate may take any or all the options, and any one who has succeeded in the Qualifying and in one or more of the Options is entitled, if employed as a temporary writer, to $25 a year for each option so taken over and above the Entrance salary ($400).

All the examination papers are prepared and printed in both languages, and the candidates are at liberty to choose that in which they wished to be examined, but the same language must be used throughout the examination.

No person can be legally appointed to the Service who has not passed the prescribed examination, except graduates of Canadian Universities and of the Royal Military College, who, under subsection 2 of Section 31 of "The Civil Service Act," are exempted.

The greatest possible care is exercised in valuing the work of the candidates at these examinations, and it is useless, therefore, for unsuccessful candidates to ask the examiners to change their decisions. This remark is offered, because on various occasions influential persons, who have taken special interest in candidates, have importuned the Board to overlook shortages, which shortages, by the way, are usually in the most important subjects, on the ground that their proteges had, in other papers, such as writing and orthography, obtained marks sufficient to reach the average. The correspondence in respect to matters of this kind is very great, and as such requests cannot possibly be entertained, the Board will be grateful if it can be avoided in the future.

The results of the Preliminary and Qualifying Examinations of last November, and of the options, will be found in a statement appended to this report.

IRREGULARITIES, ETC.

The Board has pleasure in stating that no flagrant frauds have so far been reported in connection with the examinations this year.

A complaint, however, was lodged with the Board, that a certain candidate who took the examinations at Ottawa had copied from books, which he secretly retained in his possession, during the course of the examination. The accused party having been summoned before the Board admitted that he had taken books to the examination room with the intention of making use of them, but stated that, owing to the strict surveillance exercised over the candidates, he was unable to do so. Two witnesses were also examined and both testified as to their having seen the accused taking books out of his pocket, but neither could say positively that he had made use of them. The Board, however, agreed that sufficient reason had been adduced to warrant the cancellation of this candidate's work, which was accordingly done.

The offence in this case was most gratuitous and reprehensible, inasmuch as the accused was a teacher of some standing in the community, who could have passed the examination without resorting to such dishonest means.

FEEs RECEIVED, ETC.

The fees received from the candidates at the Promotion Examination in May and deposited to the credit of the Receiver General amounted to $15.

The fees received from the candidates at the Entrance Examinations in November and also deposited to the credit of the Receiver General were $1,419.*

* There is still a balance of ten dollars to be deposited.

Secretary of State—Civil Service Examiners.

Candidates at the Promotion Examination numbered 7, and at the Entrance Examinations 455.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

GENERAL SYNOPSIS OF THE WEATHER.

Value.

The atmospheric pressure was above the average, to the extent of .05, along the Middle Pacific Coast and over the Middle Eastern slope of the Rocky Mountains. It was below average to the extent of .05 over the Middle Atlantic Coast. Everywhere else it was average or very nearly so.

The temperature was slightly above the average over the Northern portions of Alberta and Manitoba, also over Nova Scotia and Eastern New Brunswick. It was below to the extent of 5° over the South-west States and Western California. Everywhere else it was slightly below the average. There were several unimportant low areas whose tracks were too doubtful to give their average rate of travel. Of four depressions, the paths of which could be determined, the average rates of travel were 23, 39.6, 36.6 and 18.2 miles per hour respectively.

1st—5th. An anticyclone hovered during this period over the central portion of the continent, covering the Lakes and extending gradually throughout Eastern Canada. It was attended by very fine warm weather, with winds for the most part moderate or light. On the other hand, in the North-west, the pressure was generally low and there were numerous thunderstorms, and the temperature was excessive, often exceeding 90° in most districts.

6th—10th. Lower pressure which had begun to set in on the 5th, from the Lakes eastward was soon general throughout, from Manitoba south to the Gulf of Mexico and eastward to the Atlantic Coast. The weather continued fair, however, with the exception of some local showers, and temperatures were generally high throughout Ontario, Quebec and New Brunswick, reaching at Toronto on the 7th, a maximum of 92° and next day 88° at Montreal and 90° at Quebec.

¶ The more cairefully we examin the history of the past, the more reason shall we find to disent from those who immagin that our age has been fruitfull of new soshal evils. The truth is that the evils are, with scairsly an exception, old. That which is new is the inteligence which disems and the humanety which remedis them. "AWHEEL IN PARIS."

Nothing strikes the visitor in Paris more forcibly than the number and variety of conveyances that swarm around the centres of traffic or pass up and down the Champs Elysée at the fashionable hour, when Paris shows off her fine plumage. Among the 'busses and carriages the two most conspicuous forms of transit and the ones of which I wish to speak are the bicycle and the motor-carriage.

In Paris the usual regulation exists that all cyclists must carry bells, and the French wheelmen interpret this in its literal sense, for they do in reality carry them. While the left hand is engaged in steering, the right is occupied with a cow-bell, horn, string of sleighbells or some such device for producing noise, and they certainly fulfil this object with great success, as you can imagine yourself in a farm yard, or listening to the tinkle of that familiar bovine attachment which disturbs your earlier hours at a Muskoka hotel. At night a Chinese lantern takes the place of the bell, and it certainly forms a beautiful sight to gaze along the boulevards and between the lines of illuminated cafés to see the delicate tints of these lanterns as they flit among the fierce red lights of the 'busses.

They are behind us in the ordinary bicycle, but vastly ahead in motor conveyances of every sort. One of the most popular is the motor-tricycle, which can be worked by the feet or propelled by its motor attachment.

ALLUVIAL GOLD MINING.

Value.	The early prospecting developed promising alluvial deposits at several points. At Tangier it was shown that a large extent of surface carried gold, and several hundred ounces were washed out. The limited extent of the areas, however, did not allow of systematic work, and attention was diverted to the rich vein outcrops. The most interesting alluvial development was at the Ovens, near Lunenburg. Here the sea has worn a number of large cavities in the cliffs which are composed of soft slates with small quartz veins often showing gold. The action of the waves concentrated the gold washed from the slates along the beach near these openings, and during the years 1861 and 1862, about 2,500 ounces were returned as taken out. It is believed, however, that only a small part of the gold extracted was accounted for. Since that date small amounts have been secured by persons living in the vicinity. The richness of the alluvium directed attention to the neighbouring quartz veins, but they proved uncertain and unprofitable with the crude methods of that day. Trial crushings of the quartz and slate from several points in this district would indicate the feasibility of dealing with them on a low grade basis.

At Gay's River explorations have shown that a conglomerate of lower carboniferous age, lying on the gold-bearing slates, carries at its junction with them considerable amounts of gold. At the time profitable mining was carried on here on a small scale along the edge of the outcrop of the conglomerate; but the miners turned their attention to richer districts. As the conglomerates at many points in this district show gold it is to be regretted that more attention has not been paid to them, as in a certain degree a parallel can be traced between them and the South African gold fields.

ENGLISH COMPOSITION.

Wednesday, 9th November, 1898; from 10.30 a.m to noon.

(Candidates are require to observe regulations strictly.)

Values.	1. Show in what respect the following sentences are faulty, and correct them:—
21	(a) In the House of Commons, a speaker once said that a certain witness had been ordered to withdraw from the bar in consequence of being intoxicated, by the motion of an honourable member.
	(b) Banks of sea-weed were piled up around these huts, kept down from the power of the wind by large stones laid on the top, to exclude the cold of winter.
	(c) When I hear a person use a queer expression, or pronounce a name in reading differently from his neighbours, it always goes down, in my estimate of him, with a ruinous sign before it.
13	2. Substitute other appropriate words in the following passage:— The progress of the British Colonies affords a striking contrast to all this sudden splendour and rapid decay. These early struggles and petty wars, were not for extensive power, and almost countless wealth. They landed on a dreary shore, to brave the rigours of an inhospitable climate; to combat savages as fierce as the clime, and more numerous than the intruders.
24	3. Distinguish between the following words,—giving an example of each:— Kill, murder and assassinate; pale, pallid and wan; construe and construct.
6	4. What is meant by an apostrophe , a hyphen and a caret —giving an example of each.
36	5. Write a letter of not fewer than 250 words on “The Advantages of Travel.”

Next to the work of Nansen, that of Dr. Sven Hedin is the most picturesque and important that has been accomplished of late years. Dr. Hedin is a Swede, a native of Stockholm, and still in the prime of early manhood. Ever since he was a child his absorbing passion has been geography, and he has studied under the best masters, including the greatest, Baron Richthofen, of Berlin. As a preparative for scientific research he made three preliminary journeys into Asia, an account of which appears in the October number of Harper's Magazine, and later, probably in October, his book, "Through Asia," will be published.

In his trip he travelled a distance of nearly 15,000 miles, of which nearly 2,000 miles led through absolutely unknown regions. His adventures were so many and varied that here we have but space enough to mention the crossing of the desert of Takla-Makan—an experience so racking to every faculty of body and mind that few men could have lived through it. During the first thirteen days everything went finely. The following day a well was dug, as usual, but produced no water, and it was then that he learned that his men had not taken water enough for ten days, as he had ordered.

THE ST. CLAIR FLATS CANAL.

From the official documents in the possession of the Dominion Government, it is possible to trace the exact progress of the construction of the St. Clair Flats Canal. The first time the attention of the Canadian Government was drawn to the improvement of navigation on the flats of Lake St. Clair seems to have been in 1855. In that year, a deputation from the Boards of Trade of Buffalo and Chicago, waited upon the Canadian Government to ask assistance to deepen the channel on the flats. Such an application would seem to argue that Canada had a recognized claim to, and interest in the question. The result was that the Canadian Government voted $20,000 to assist in the work. In the following year the contract for the work was let, the United States Government giving a grant also, and the use of Government plant, the assistance being valued at $60,000. The work on the channel and canal then proceeded.

A CANADIAN CLAIM ADMITTED.

The contractor for the work, which was under the direction of the United States Government, was one John Brown, a Canadian resident at Thorold, county of Welland. The Essex Review says that during the progress of the work he found it necessary to bring his timbers and other materials from Canada. The United States Government insisted upon the payment by him of the duty on the material thus, as alleged, imported into the United States. Mr. Brown paid under protest on each shipment, the amount aggregating $60,000. On the completion of the work, Mr. Brown demanded a remission of the duty, alleging that the materials used were not liable to duty, as the work had been done entirely in Canadian waters. The Government dispatched surveyors to the canal, and after several weeks of labour, they decided that Mr. Brown was right, and the money was accordingly refunded.

In 1858 the then Commissioner of Public Works for Canada stated his belief that part of the St. Clair Canal was certainly in Canadian territory, but no point was raised until two Canadian vessels were seized in the canal by the U. S. authorities for some alleged irregularity. Some fuss occurred in connection with this, and the vessels were released. The canal question then dropped.

REPORT OF THE JOINT LIBRARIANS OF PARLIAMENT

Session 1899

[17]

To the Honourable the Speaker of the Senate :

To the Honourable the Speaker of the House of Commons :

The Joint Librarians of Parliament have the honour to report for the year 1898 as follows :—

The usual efforts have been made to provide room for the accumulating contents of the Library. The artistic appearance of the room has been somewhat marred by temporary shelving ; but only in this way could the necessary accommodation be had.

The statistical side of the Library has been the object of the customary attention, and it is to be hoped will be found well supplied. The librarians respectfully point out that as it is quite impossible, with limited space and means, to provide many copies of books of reference, the rules as to the return of such volumes should be respected by members.

Efforts have been made during the year to fill up the gaps still remaining on our shelves in the Canadian section. Many works have been secured of general utility, but not of such importance as to require a special mention. To help students in Canadian history, our collection of books bearing on that subject has been made with a view of placing together, 1st. Works on the early settlement of the different provinces of Canada ; 2nd. On the French regime in New France and Acadia ; 3rd. On the intercolonial wars of the 17th and 18th centuries, ending with the seven years' war ; 4th. On the beginning of the English regime and military rule ; 5th. On Canada under the Quebec Act and under the constitution of 1791 and the division of the country into two Provinces ; 6th. On the war of 1775 and 1812, finally on the political events in all the provinces, and the establishment of a responsible government.

Despite the omissions already mentioned, this collection is now in such a forward state, that it can supply material on all questions connected with the history of the country.

Among the special additions to the Library during the year may be mentioned a collection of all the articles, pamphlets and addresses published separately or in the principal periodicals of England, regarding the career of the Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone.

These volumes, together with a similar collection made on the occasion of the Queen's jubilee in 1897, will provide at some time a most valuable repertory of materials for the history of Her Majesty's reign.

The customary collection of the annals of trade and commerce and general information has been made, and it is hoped that no place of business life will be found unrepresented.

The legal side of the Library has called for many additions during the year. The latest revisions of the laws of the various American states, and the latest editions of necessary text-books, as well as many new ones, have been added to the catalogue.

Among the donations to the Library during the year, the most valuable is that of Mrs. Mary Ford, of Pencarron, who forwarded to the government the bust by Behnes of her brother, the Right Hon. Sir William Molesworth, Bart., M.P., Secretary of State for the Colonies in 1855. The Prime Minister has placed the bust in the Library, where, as the Toronto Globe has appropriately said, it shares with the bust of the Duke of Newcastle by Boehm, (presented by Sir Edward Watkin to Sir John Macdonald) the merit of artistic distinction. The early death of Sir William Molesworth in 1855, deprived the Colonial office of a minister who would probably have enriched its traditions by a wise and liberal policy. The library also possesses the fine edition of the works of Thomas Hobbes, edited and published by Sir William Molesworth at his own expense, and presented by him to the Canadian Government. Sir William Molesworth was one of those who in a time of indifference took interest in Colonial questions and was at great pains to bring them before the Parliament and people of England. His labours deserve our grateful remembrance.

The librarians desire to acknowledge the receipt of a large collection of the civic reports of Toronto, made by Mr. John Blevins, the city clerk. These materials for history will one day prove very useful.

The Library is also indebted to Col. White, C.M.G., late Deputy Postmaster General, for a number of interesting books and pamphlets.

The catalogue of accessions for the year elapsed since the preparation of the previous number, has been compiled and will be distributed at an early date.

The list of donations is appended as usual.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

REPORT
OF THE
INSPECTOR OF PENITENTIARIES

FOR THE FISCAL YEAR, 1897-98.

To the Honourable
DAVID MILLS, Q.C.,
Minister of Justice.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit herewith reports and statistics in connection with the Penitentiaries of Canada and the Territorial Jails for the Fiscal Year ended 30th June, 1898.

The summarized tables do not include the Territorial Jails. These will be found in Appendix "M."

PRISON POPULATION.

Penitentiary.	In custody 1st July, 1897.	Received.		Total.	Released.						In custody 30th June, 1898.
		From Jail.	By Transfer.		Expiry of Sentence.	Pardon.	Escape.	Transfer.	Death.	By order of the court.

Increase of Population.—The average daily population for each of the last five years has been as follows :—

1893-4	1,179
1894-5	1,250
1895-6	1,314
1896-7	1,353
1897-8	1,415

The increase is not alarming in view of the natural increase in population; the drift of population to the cities, where the opportunities to commit crime are greater, and the reformatory influence less efficient, than in rural districts; the increased efficiency of police officials and the extended facilities for the detection and capture of criminals which are afforded by the expansion of the telegraphic, telephonic and railways system.

Releases.—The number of pardons, deaths and escapes during the past five year^s is as follows :—

Fiscal Year.	Pardons.	Deaths.	Escapes.
1893-4	49	18	1
1894-5	73	18	2
1895-6	52	8	1
1896-7	56	16	2
1897-8	53	8	2

Approaching death is sometimes made the basis of pardon, and for this reason the number of deaths in the prisons does not represent the normal death rate. When this is taken into account, however, the fact remains that the death rate is extremely low as compared with that of similar institutions in other countries.

The two convicts who escaped in 1897 were recaptured in 1898; and more recently one of the two who escaped in 1895, has come back to the institution from which he made such an abrupt departure.

TERRITORIAL JAILS.

REGINA.—Great difficulty is experienced at this jail in connection with the practice of utilizing it as a place of detention for lunatics and prisoners awaiting trial. The plan and structural arrangement of the jail makes it impossible to afford separate accommodation for these classes, and the sane and insane, convicts and unconvicted are therefore crowded into adjacent cells; the unconvicted having to suffer the disgrace attached to contamination with convicted felons, and the prison administration having to suffer the disorder and annoyance which arises from the utilization of the jail as a temporary mad-house. There is ample accommodation elsewhere in the vicinity for the unconvicted, and it seems not merely desirable but absolutely necessary, in order to avoid the existing scandal, that the use of the jail should be restricted to that for which it was planned and constructed, namely, the safekeeping and punishment of convicted prisoners.

The following is a comparative statement of the population and expenditure during the past five years:—

	Average daily Population.	Expenditure.	Cost per capita per annum.

PRINCE ALBERT.—The jail at this place has been opened during the year, but owing to the fact that a portion of the building is utilized as a Court-house there is a serious lack of accommodation. It is hoped that the erection of a Court-house in a more central location will, ere long, obviate the inconvenience and conflict of authority which at present exists.

MATERIAL CONDITION.

KINGSTON.—The principal scandal which has attached to this institution is being gradually removed. I refer to the size of the cells in the main dormitories. Many matters have been, from time to time, the subject of severe and repeated criticism, but the disgrace which has attached to the penitentiary in connection with the limited atmospheric capacity of the cells seem to have been considered of minor importance. The dormitory accommodation consists of three wings, one of which has been entirely remodelled in accordance with modern ideas and with due regard to the necessity for light and sanitation; thus adding materially to the comfort of the convicts. Another dormitory wing is now in process of reconstruction, and it is hoped that the remodelling of the entire dormitory accommodation will be pushed vigorously to completion. More detailed information regarding projected improvements will be found in the memorandum of the Chief Trade Instructor, attached to the Warden's report.

The repairing and repointing of the prison wall has added materially to its value and safety, as well as to its general appearance.

The output of the binder twine factory, for the year, was awarded to Messrs. H. N. Bate & Sons, of Ottawa, their offer being the only one submitted. Inasmuch as the sale was effected before the Spanish-American war had affected the price of raw material, the prices realized for the manufactured output were comparatively low; but it is extremely satisfactory to note that no complaints whatever were made regarding the quality of the twine, and that the remittances by the purchasers were prompt and satisfactory. The apparently combined effort on the part of certain competitors to injure the reputation of Kingston twine, which has continued since the inception of the industry, has thus collapsed and is not likely to be heeded in future by dealers or farmers.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL.—During almost the entire year this institution has been subject to the commotion and excitement which naturally attaches to a special investigation. During the greater part of the year the penitentiary has been in charge of Mr. G. L. Foster, Accountant of Penitentiaries, and it is worthy of note that as a result the expenditure has been reduced to a reasonable figure as compared with former years.

It seems unfortunate that the completion of the front gate has been delayed when but trifling changes were required to avoid the objections which were raised by convict Grenier, who seems to have been acting in the capacity of supervising architect. If this stoppage had not occurred the gate and wall would have been, ere this, completed, and the safety and convenience of the prison greatly enhanced.

The quarries which were taken over from the Public Works Department and operated by ex-Warden Ouimet, still remain in charge of the prison and afford a valuable adjunct in providing work for the prisoners.

Farming operations have been extended with satisfactory results, and other matters of urgent necessity have been taken up and put in train.

At the request of the Mayor and Council of the Village of St. Vincent de Paul, the penitentiary undertook to widen and improve the street in front of the prison premises, but the work has been, for various reasons, delayed. When completed it will add materially to the appearance of the prison property and the convenience of the residents of the village, who utilize this street as a means of communication with the railway station.

Among the urgently needed improvements are the installation of an electric light plant, the construction of a proper sewage system, the erection of prison stables, and the reconstruction of the north wing. Some of these works are in progress and for others plans are prepared. Inasmuch as the proposed improvements are approved by Dr. Duchesneau, the newly appointed warden, it is hoped that with his co-operation the changes will be effected without unnecessary delay.

DORCHESTER.—None of the improvements suggested in my last annual report have been carried out.

The principal improvement at this penitentiary has been additional land brought under cultivation.

MANITOBA.—The leading industry at this institution is farming, and it will be seen from the Warden's report that the results have been very satisfactory.

One of the difficulties which is likely to arise in the near future is the question of officers' cottages. The miserably constructed tenements which have been used for this purpose constitute a dangerous fire-trap, and are, with few exceptions, unfit for occupation. When the existing tenements have been condemned or destroyed, it is to be hoped that there will be no continuation of the absurd and expensive policy of constructing officers' residences and maintaining them at government expense.

The construction of the wall is being gradually carried on and will for many years afford a source of useful prison labour.

BRITISH COLUMBIA.—Since the incumbency of the present warden valuable and practical improvements have been pushed gradually forward, with a view to the betterment of the prison, and the lessening of expense. Among these may be mentioned the utilization of a local water supply by which the cost of water service has been reduced to five per cent of the original cost.

Owing to the overcrowding of this institution it has been found necessary to transfer, from time to time, a number of the convicts to Manitoba Penitentiary, and it is therefore a matter of pressing importance that provision be made for additional accommodation. The cost of building has been materially reduced by the success which has attended the introduction of the brickmaking industry, and the estimates for needed improvements are therefore not so formidable as they otherwise would be.

GENERAL.

CLASSIFICATION OF CONVICTS.—During the Wardens' Convention held in January, 1898, you were good enough to submit, for consideration, a suggestion as to the feasibility of grading and classifying the convicts incarcerated in the penitentiaries. The matter was very carefully considered and discussed and it was decided that the difficulties were not insurmountable. The carrying out of the suggestion would involve structural changes at some of the institutions, and the whole scheme would require to be matured with great care and deliberation, but in the opinion of the Wardens any practical solution of your suggestion would result in great benefit to the convicts, and to a great extent remove the scandal which exists owing to the contact between the habitual criminal and his less guilty fellow prisoner.

When the recently adopted regulations were codified the following regulation was inserted:—

“ Convicts who are not known to have been previously convicted of any offence, and who are not serving under conviction for murder, manslaughter, burglary, rape, arson, or any unnatural or heinous crime, or for attempt to commit such offence, may be separated in so far as practicable from other convicts, under such regulations as the inspector, with the concurrence of the Minister, may establish.”

When the reconstructed south wing of the Kingston Penitentiary was opened in August last I was present and had a classification made in accordance with the foregoing regulation. Those who were qualified under the regulation were given adjacent cells in the new wing, where their comfort would be greatly enhanced and their surroundings more cheerful. I have not since visited the prison, and it may be that owing to the unfortunate illness of Warden Metcalfe no further advance has been made; but the principal officers are in thorough sympathy with the object of the regulation; and I hope that ere long those who have been thus separated as regards dormitory accommodation will be placed in separate gangs and in this way make the separation as complete as possible.

The facilities for separation at St. Vincent de Paul and at Dorchester are sufficient for present purposes as regards dormitory accommodation, and to that extent the plan can be put into operation there at any time that an opportunity is afforded.

At Manitoba and British Columbia Penitentiaries the structural difficulties seem insurmountable at present, but when additions shall have been erected the structural changes can be arranged so as to render the scheme operative.

PHYSICAL QUALIFICATIONS.—A matter which has been neglected in the past is the physical qualification of police officers. The appointment, or retention, of those who are crippled, ruptured, deaf or of defective vision is a menace to the safety of the prison and indicates gross laxity or stupidity on the part of the warden. In the event of trouble arising, the weapons of the inefficient officers are available for use by the convicts, and it is thus apparent that the appointment of a guard who is not physically qualified for the emergencies, which his position entail, is simply strengthening the convicts and weakening official authority within the institution.

WARDENS' CONVENTION.—In closing this report I desire to bring to your attention the advantages which accrued from the convention of wardens held in January, 1898, and would respectfully ask your consideration of a proposal that a similar convention be held at Kingston during August or September next.

I am, sir, your obedient servant,

DOUGLAS STEWART,

Inspector of Penitentiaries.

WARDENS' REPORTS

Department of Justice.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

WARDEN'S OFFICE.

KINGSTON, 11th November, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to transmit herewith the financial statements and statistical tables of this institution for the fiscal year ended the 30th June, 1898.

I have the honour to be, Sir,

Your obedient servant,

GEO. L. FOSTER,
Warden.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

APPENDIX TO WARDEN'S REPORT.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the following report of the various works, which have been performed during the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1898, by the various departments under my control.

South Wing Extension.—The progress of labour on this important work has been unremitting, with the result that, the wing will be ready for occupation on or about the 1st day of August next.

The cells are arranged in two blocks, each block having four ranges or tiers, each range having 18 cells, giving a total of 144 cells, each of which is, 5 feet wide, 9 feet long and 8 feet 6 inches high; the cell fronts are of cut stone, fine bouchard; the walls are of brick all laid in cement mortar.

Each cell has been provided with a water closet of an improved sanitary type, a brass wash basin has been set up, both been trapped and vented.

The cells are lighted by electricity, a folding wire bed, folding table and stationary shelf are also provided; and from the floor and ceiling of each cell, runs a foul air vent pipe to ventiduct under roof of wing, which ventiduct is continued to cupola on roof.

To the door opening of each cell, is fitted a polished chrome steel door, and transom; the doors of each range are secured by a "continuous locking bar" operated from one end of range; the approved characteristics of this "bar" are, that all cells may be locked or unlocked at once, or individual cells opened or locked without interfering with others.

The galleries have Canadian slate floors 1 inch in thickness, and are supported by cast iron cantilevers; the railings are of 1½ inch polished pipe set in floor plates which are securely fastened to cantilevers.

The corridors are isolated from dome by iron barriers extending from floor to ceiling, and are illuminated by electric light, and heated throughout by steam.

West Wing Extension.—Considerable progress has been made towards the completion of this work, which comprises the extending of the west wing, about 18 feet west, the foundations have been extended to a depth of 17 feet below grade level, and all continued up to cornice of wing, a distance of 45 feet above grade; this extension has been roofed over and covered with galvanized iron on rolls. A ventilating shaft 3 feet square, has been built up to ground level from a depth of 17 feet and will contain a smoke flue which is designed to connect with boilers purposed to be set in cellar of kitchen, for the supplying of heat to main prison building when west wing is completed. All departments under my charge, are now engaged in preparing material for the construction of this work, so that upon the renewal of business operations, the extension will be pushed forward completion.

Deputy Warden's Office.—A new office for the deputy warden, has been fitted up in the north-east angle of ground floor of criminal asylum building; a window therein has been removed, stonework cut to base, and door inserted; interior neatly painted, marble wash basin with hot and cold water taps provided, and office comfortably furnished.

Chief Keeper's Office.—A new office for the chief keeper has been fitted up on the ground floor of attached building of prison of isolation, the alterations consist of new doorway and partitions interior being neatly painted and bath and water closet and marble basin with hot and cold water taps provided

Hospital, New Dispensary.—The guard-room on ground floor has been removed, south wall thereof taken down, and a neat glass partition substituted; a metal ceiling has also been affixed; the fixtures from the old dispensary have been set up in this room, and all neatly painted.

Overseer's Quarters.—The old dispensary has been renovated and fitted up as a dining-room; a portion of patients' water closet has been partitioned off, furnished with water closet and bath, and connected by a doorway through wall, with main hall, and assigned to the use of the hospital overseer; quarters have been fully renovated.

Trades Store.—The former dining hall is now fitted up, and will be ready for occupancy of storekeeper and trades store during the present month. Improvements consist of office for storekeeper, with partitioned section; remaining portion has been fitted up with shelving from old trades store, all repainted and stocked.

Steward's Department.—A portion of old dining hall has been partitioned off by a brick wall running from floor to ceiling, and the room thus formed used by steward as a dry store-room. Bath and water closet have been added, all neatly painted.

Roman Catholic Chapel.—Interior of this chapel has been thoroughly renovated, a new floor having been laid, seats repainted and ceiling redecorated.

North Lodge.—A water closet has been fitted up on the first floor and connected by a six inch vitrified pipe with main sewer at north of hospital.

Sewage Works.—Improvements have been made by placing windows in boiler-room, whereby light and air are diffused throughout. The compost heap has been removed to the farm, and in place thereof a sludge tank has been set up on cut stone walls. Into this tank is pumped sewage from precipitating tank and the supernatant water allowed to flow into filter bed; the sludge is run into a sludge cart constructed of sheet iron, 350 gallons capacity, and deposited in compost heap at farm, where compost reservoirs are in course of construction. The appearance of filter beds has been greatly enhanced by placing sodded border around same.

Separate System of Sewage.—It is proposed to pipe the yards with vitrified and iron pipes, to carry off the sewerage from water closets only. Under the present system the sewers carry off all matter from water closets, and all waste water from baths and laundry, and storm water from yards, all of which is collected in the precipitating tank and there chemically treated. By the new system all storm water and waste water from baths and laundry will be conducted directly to lake, leaving the excremental matter to be collected separately in the precipitating tank for the purpose of chemical treatment. To this date considerable work has been done and consequent progress made in this sanitary improvement.

Deputy Warden's Quarters.—The interior of these quarters have been thoroughly renovated, several rooms being repapered.

Department of Justice.

Farm Houses Nos. 1 and 2.—The interior and exterior of these dwellings have been thoroughly repaired and repainted.

Fencing.—Several portions of the fencing inclosing the farm, being in a dilapidated condition, same were removed and replaced with about 5,000 feet of new fencing, strung with twisted wire. It is purposed that this twisted wire fencing will gradually supersede the old style.

Stables.—The stables have been thoroughly repaired and granolithic floors laid in two harness-rooms, feed-room and carriage wash-room. The harness-rooms have been supplied with harness racks and cup-boards. In the carriage wash-room, a trap has been inserted in floor and pipe connected with main sewer. In feed-room a steam box has been placed, in which chopped fodder is steamed; woodwork throughout has been painted and walls whitewashed.

Criminal Asylum.—The plaster around the base of day-room being cracked and broken, a wainscotting to the height of 6 feet was built around the room; the room was then thoroughly renovated, painted and rendered clean and bright.

West Lodge.—A room in the south-east side of this lodge, has been fitted up as a mortuary; old floor taken up and granolithic floor substituted; walls have been wainscotted with cement mortar to a height of 4 feet, a stationary wash basin has been provided for the use of surgeon.

Main Boundary Walls.—A large number of convicts have been employed repairing and repointing the main boundary walls.

General Work.—The old store-room on south side of south work shops has been fitted up as an oil store-room for the binder twine factory.

The old laundry has been fitted up as a plumbing and steam fitting shop for the engineer.

All workshops, hospital wards, bakery, officers kitchen and mess-room, and prison of isolation, have been thoroughly repaired, repainted and whitewashed as required.

Trenches for the laying of pipe from the water tower to piggery have been made pipes laid and trenches filled in.

Prison Roads.—That portion of Johnson Street, running through the prison grounds, 700 feet x 40 feet of which was not completed, is now fully graded and passable, an average filling of three feet being necessary to establish grade. The prison roads have all received a coating of metal.

Considerable intricate and satisfactory work has been performed by the blacksmith shop, for the binder twine factory.

The returns fully set forth all works and their value, performed during the year. I would respectfully direct your attention to the extent and importance of the works which have been accomplished with the limited number of guards assigned in proportion to the number of convicts employed, and which works have extended over so large an area within and without the prison walls.

In conclusion I would state that, the officers in charge have always evinced a decided and active interest in carrying out instructions given them, and have fully established their disciplinary qualifications in the management of men under their charge, as also their thorough business capabilities in the quality of the work performed.

In the performance of the above enumerated works, I have endeavoured to, in every way, conform to the practical ideas so lucidly set forth in your various orders.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

E. J. ADAMS,
Chief Trade Instructor.

To the Warden.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 4th July, 1898.

SIR,—Having assumed my duties as warden of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary on the 2nd day of May last, 1898, it goes without saying that the report I have to submit you for the two last months of the fiscal year will not contain a great deal of important facts.

On my arrival, I noticed with sorrow, a lamentable feeling of acrimony and uneasiness among the officers of the institution, and also a dangerous and undefinable irritation among the convicts. Everybody knows the disorderly and tumultuous scenes which took place, some time before my taking charge of the penitentiary.

My first care has been to direct my efforts towards the pacification of minds, and I can assure you that I have already succeeded in a great measure.

Security of the Prison.—The dimensions of the prison wall are supposed to inspire a strong confidence for the security of the convicts, but there is a weak point which causes me to entertain serious fears every day, that is where the entrance gate is to be erected and which is now protected by a simple wooden fence.

Immediate orders to complete this work should be issued by the department.

In order to have the necessary stone for that construction as soon as possible I have given orders to reopen the quarry of the penitentiary, and necessary steps have been taken to push the work.

In the yard there is a large wooden building called the "stone shed," being used to shelter stone cutters. This shed is in such a ruinous condition that its immediate reconstruction should be ordered on the same plan as that of the stone workshop of the Kingston Penitentiary.

Salubrity.—On the 1st of June last, the surgeon of the institute handed me an elaborate report concerning the setting up of a washing machine alongside a hot air drying apparatus in a hall inhabited by some sixty convicts compelled to work in a suffocating atmosphere. On the surgeon's report, I did not hesitate to have this nuisance removed without any delay, and I have reported the fact to you on the 28th of the same month.

Insane convicts.—In the months of May and June last, two insane convicts were causing a great deal of trouble in the institution, and notwithstanding the surgeon's report and my own recommendation, asking that those insane convicts be transferred to the insane department of the Kingston penitentiary, no modification has been made to improve the situation before the month of July. This attitude was not in the interest of the two insane men; it had the effect of retarding the surgeon in the exercise of his duty and, at the same time to seriously prejudice good order and discipline.

Drains.—Drains constitute an important part of the improvements to be made and works to be proceeded with.

The system is in a good way of completion; at the beginning, it gave rise to some complaints, it is true, but it will be easy, I hope, for the department to establish a permanent system which will be satisfactory.

Isolation.—The Kingston Penitentiary is supplied with solitary cells for the treatment of unmanageable characters, recidivists and maniacs; why have we not the same system applied here? That is an improvement which an institution containing to-day more than four hundred criminals should claim as indispensable.

Department for Women.—A women's department for those sentenced to the penitentiary of the province of Quebec is a requirement which is greatly needed.

Workshops.—In order to furnish the convicts with continual and permanent work, more departments and a larger variety of trades are required. I strongly advise the introduction of a binding twine industry on the plan of that of the Kingston Penitentiary.

Department of Justice.

Electric Light.—And why should we not have the electric light as at Kingston? it is really a humiliation to use the present light.

Telephone.—Our institution should also have a telephone service at its disposal; it is needed every day. Such a deficiency is incompatible with the spirit of progress of our century and should not be allowed to stand any longer.

The warden's office should be connected with his private residence by a telephone which would, later on, be in connection with all the departments of the institution.

Hospital.—The hospital is not in keeping with modern exigencies. The surgeon's office is a disgrace. This improvement is needed without delay.

Farm.—Convinced as I am that the work of agriculture is suitably adapted to the convicts of our penitentiaries and directly contributes to the physical and moral welfare of the convicts, I intend to give all possible attention to the working of the farm attached to the penitentiary, and I particularly recommend its extension.

In conclusion I beg to offer congratulations to all the officers of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary for their good dispositions towards me, and their devotion to the success of the administration.

J. A. DUCHESNEAU,
Warden.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries.
Ottawa.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

DORCHESTER, N.B., 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report, with the usual returns, for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1898.

On the 30th June, 1897, there remained 193 convicts; received since from common jails, 86, military prison, Halifax, N.S., 12, total 289; discharged during the year by expiration of sentence 56, pardon 12, death 1, escape 2, total 69, which left remaining at midnight on the 30th June, 1898, 220 males and 5 females; total 225 prisoners, being an increase of 27.

The total expenditure for the year just closed was $46,945.69, as against $46,157.80 for the year previous, an increase of $787.89.

The per capita cost is $219.28, as against $258.63 for the previous year, a decrease of $39.35.

We have during the year erected for the staff four kitchens, two semi-detached wood-sheds and four cow stables. All the houses now have kitchens, wood-sheds and stables. The last five kitchens have not yet been plastered, nor have the chimneys been built. If this is not done they will be of no service to the occupants. The cost of doing this work will only be for the material.

The stone reservoir referred to in my last year's report has been built and is a grand success, doing all the work that was expected of it.

I am this year preparing stone to rebuild the old wooden reservoir erected some 17 years ago, and which is very much decayed and leaky.

We erected during the last summer a new hay barn 60 x 30 on the marsh.

The usual amount of bush land was cleared and brought under cultivation in the past year.

The root crop was almost a failure on account of the continued wet weather. The present appearances are that we will have an abundant crop of all kinds of farm products for the ensuing year.

The only industry that we now operate is the manufacture of butter tubs, and this trade has fallen off considerably, for what reason I am not in a position to say.

A deputy matron has been appointed to the staff, a much needed addition.

There has been very little serious illness during the past year; only one death occurred.

His Excellency the Governor General and Lady Aberdeen honoured us with a visit in October last. They made a tour of the prison and the different workshops, and evinced much interest in everything they saw.

The conduct of the prisoners has, with few exceptions, been good.

I have much pleasure in again being able to report the same good feeling as formerly, existing among all the members of the staff.

I attended a convention of all the wardens, held at Ottawa in January last, and presided over by yourself. This was the first meeting of the kind ever held in the Dominion. I think the idea of holding these conventions annually a good one, and I believe beneficial results should follow from the interchange of ideas between the inspector and the different wardens.

Thanking you for your prompt and courteous attention to all matters referred to you.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN B. FORSTER,
Warden.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries.
Ottawa.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

STONY MOUNTAIN, 1st September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1898.

The movements of convicts during the year were as follows:—

Remaining at midnight, 30th June, 1897	77
Received since	35
		112
Discharged by expiration of sentence	19
Pardon	3
Transferred to Kingston	1
Death	1
		24
Remaining at midnight, 30th June, 1898		88

The daily average during the year was 80, as against 75·15 in the previous year.

The per capita cost is seven cents less than last year, but, owing to instructions received from you, I have included the cost of building the wall, which, of course, has never been shown in per capita before, therefore the figure shown in the per capita statement is one cent more than last year, instead of seven cents less as it really is.

Although the large amount expended in improvements to buildings, fencing, etc., is included in the maintenance of convicts, in the per capita, I certainly do not consider it right that a large undertaking like the boundary wall should be included in per capita.

Department of Justice.

If another wing was built to the Parliament Buildings in Ottawa, the cost might as sensibly be distributed pro rata, among the expenditure of the different branches of the public service using the building.

The total expenditure for the year is $237.01 higher than last. This is accounted for by the amount of $2,148.76 expended for gratuities paid to Dr. Sutherland and Guard Puigh on retirement. Were it not for this item the expenditure would have been $1,911.95 less than last year.

The revenue this year has increased by $644, principally by the farm products. The revenue has steadily increased year by year since my incumbency, and I hope this year to make a still better showing.

Buildings Required.—As I have already mentioned in my last two annual reports we sadly require a new stable for horses. We have not sufficient accommodation for our cattle. I recommend that our present horse stable be used for our cattle, and a new stable built for the horses.

An implement and wagon-shed is also required. Our farm implements and wagons are now exposed to the weather, greatly to their injury.

A blacksmith and carpenter's shop, with a paint shop attached, should be built at once. The want of these shops prevents us repairing and painting our implements and wagons during the winter months, and so preparing and having them in good order for the spring work.

A store-house is badly wanted. We have no place in which to store our flour, or our double windows in the summer. At present we are compelled to use the penal cells for this purpose, which is not by any means convenient.

A slaughter-house is also needed for the killing of pigs, as we raise our own pork.

As I have before reported the building now used as a granary is far too small to store the quantity of grain raised. It was originally used as a coal and wood-shed. At present I have to store the wheat in the stalls of the warden's stables.

We urgently require a new penal cell building. The present building is old fashioned and unsafe, and I recommend a new and modern building being erected, with the least possible delay, and the present one turned into a store-house.

The old baths that have been in use for years, are now worn out and beyond further repair. We have only five baths, and our population is increasing. These baths are old fashioned, covered with wood, and I recommend more modern baths being supplied at once.

The heating apparatus, as I have several times reported, should be replaced by more modern appliances. It was put in the prison some eighteen or nineteen years ago. The pipes have become honeycombed with rust, entailing constant repairs and renewals.

The whole of the officers' quarters are in a very dilapidated state and should be seen to at once. I inclose an estimate, made by the carpenter instructor, of the probable cost of putting them into good repair.

Fire Protection.—As I have very many times reported we are in a bad condition in case of fire. The whole group of prison buildings require to be re-roofed with fire-proof material, as they are not only highly inflammable, but are in a leaky condition. The floors in basement should be concrete, and the lath and plaster partitions pulled down and re-built of brick. The wooden stairways should also be removed and replaced with iron.

A manual fire engine should be purchased, and wells, or tanks sunk in suitable positions outside. Every precaution against fire, with the extremely inadequate appliances at my command, is taken. Our total fire appliances at present consist of about one hundred and fifty fire buckets, and hose reels on the different floors. The hose reels are connected with pipes to tanks in the attic. The tanks are filled by a steam pump from a well in the boiler room. I would recommend that another tank of 5,000 gallons capacity be placed in the attic.

I am sorry to state the steam laundry was destroyed by fire on the 2nd May, full particulars of which have already been reported to you.

Work done.—We have fenced in the whole of the new land purchased, building during the year over two miles of fencing. We also graded half a mile of the public road, and I intend to gravel it this autumn.

We have cultivated 214 acres, as follows:—

	Acres.
Wheat.....	75
Oats.....	55
Barley.....	39
Potatoes.....	11
	<hr/>
	180
Fallow.....	31
Garden.....	3

Making a total of 214 acres under cultivation.

We have built a good proportion of the north wall, and quarried and dressed all the stone required for it.

The graveyard has been put in good order, and a new fence erected around it.

As I have mentioned in a previous report all the officers' uniform, viz., two suits each per annum, and a great coat every three years, together with all the outer and under clothing for the convicts themselves, as also the discharge clothing (a suit of clothes, and during the winter months, an overcoat) given to the latter when leaving, are made by the convicts themselves, also all the cooking, baking and laundry work is performed by the convicts without a paid instructor.

We also made uniform boots for the officers, all the prison and discharge boots for the convicts, as well as mitts for the officers at Regina Jail and boots for those of Prince Albert.

In this connection it must be borne in mind that all these things are manufactured by hand and not by machinery.

I have commenced to plant trees along the reserve running parallel with the main road, and I hope in time, to have them the whole length of the reserve. I am strongly of opinion, that the best thing for the country, and the convicts themselves, is to keep them employed cultivating the soil, and improving the roads. The end in view is to make this a model farm, an object lesson to the surrounding farmers, and an attraction to prospective settlers. I would go so far as to say, that another wing should be built to this prison, and prisoners sent from Kingston Penitentiary, where I understand you have not work enough to keep them fully employed. You have convicts lying idle there, and we have land lying idle here. Every foot of our soil that is fit for cultivation should be cultivated, and prisoners could not be put to more profitable work for the country at large.

We have raised 14,685 pounds of pork. This quantity has been disposed of as follows:—

	Lbs.
Issued to prison.....	3,144½
Sold to officers.....	2,966¼
Sold to J. Y. Griffin & Co.....	7,567
Sold to Mr. Scott, butcher.....	1,007½

In addition to the above we have raised 1,238 bushel potatoes, besides other vegetables, which were supplied to the prison, and sold to the officers on repayment.

We have cut and put up seventy-five tons of hay. While this hay was being made, as well as when grading the public road, the convicts and teams remained out all day as too much time would have been lost bringing them back to the prison at noon, consequently dinners for the men and forage for the horses were sent out every day.

We have also thoroughly repaired the piggeries, putting in new floors, making new pens, repairing the roofs and whitewashing them throughout.

The prison and officers' quarters have been repainted and kalsomined.

I have had all the prison furniture, which is not very much, that the convicts have in their cells, painted a light maple colour, as I believe in making the prison as bright as possible. I think it tends to promote a desire of emulation amongst the convicts to have their individual cells cleaner than their fellows, which not only occupies some part of the time they are locked in their cells, but inculcates a habit of cleanliness, without which an attempt at reformation is hopeless.

It is these seemingly small matters, so hard for a civilian to understand, that go to make up the tout ensemble that has led to the very satisfactory state of discipline I have succeeded in bringing about amongst the convicts.

No Escapes.—I am happy to be able once again to say there have been no escapes since I took charge of this penitentiary six years ago, and it gives me great satisfaction to report the excellent conduct and industry of the convicts. When the work performed, and the large area the convicts are scattered over, is taken into consideration, where gangs are often working a mile away from the prison, and with no wall around the prison, it speaks well for the convicts, as well as the vigilance of the officers.

In this connection it may be interesting to know that having no paid teamsters, all the teams are looked after by convicts, under the direction of the farm instructor, and my custom is to tell a team off to a convict, and leave him in charge of that team during his imprisonment, as long as he behaves himself, and I may say it is very seldom I have to change them, except when I wish the convict instructed in other work. By this means a man becomes interested and attached to his horses, and vies with the other men in keeping them in good condition.

Wardens' Convention.—I am glad to report that the wardens' convention, that had been so long thought of, and which you so strongly recommended in your last report, has at last become an established fact. There is not the slightest doubt of the ultimate good it will do if continued annually, which I sincerely trust is the intention.

In connection with these conventions I think wardens should visit, and look into the working of penitentiaries in the neighbouring states. By so doing they will be in a position to adopt new ideas, that may be beneficial to the safety, good order and discipline of our own institutions.

Uniforms.—At the wardens' convention the question of uniform was discussed, and I hope approved patterns will soon be authorized. As I mentioned last year, a good smart uniform tends greatly towards the promotion of discipline.

Telephone Line.—As I have before reported, our telephone line between here and Winnipeg requires to be partially rebuilt. It is often out of order for days, owing to the poles, which have not been renewed for many years, being rotten, and continually falling here and there.

Officers.—With two or three exceptions, that I have already reported, I cannot speak too highly of the support I have received from my officers. They have done all in their power to assist me in maintaining the discipline of this institution, and through their vigilance, is due, in a great measure, the fact of there being no escapes during my incumbency.

I am not in the habit of awarding praise where it is not due, but I can not refrain from placing on record my appreciation of the loyal support these men, with the exceptions above mentioned, have given me.

As I have already reported, too much care cannot be taken in the selection of officers for positions in a penitentiary. They should be men of exemplary character, intelligent and physically fit.

General Sir Edmund F. DuCane, the late Director-in-chief of English prisons, has observed :—

“The importance of selecting good officers for prison duties cannot be overrated. The officer who is in charge of prisoners has such power, for good or evil, over his fellow men, that I do not think there are many positions more responsible than that which he occupies, nor, on the whole, are there, I think, many in which the officer exposed to more temptation to neglect his duty, or abuse his trust.”

The Reverend John Clay (many years chaplain of Preston Jail) says :—

“In fact the great object of reclaiming the criminals, concerning which the regulations of the Home Office so solemnly warns all prison officers, is left almost entirely for the warders (guards) to accomplish. The importance of their office is, therefore, very great. They should be men endowed with divers notable qualities, etc. etc."

I might quote a good many others on the same subject, but it would be superfluous. I have given considerable thought and attention to this matter myself and I cannot impress upon you too strongly the importance of selecting competent men to fill these positions.

Another and very important point in prison affairs comes before us. I think there ought to be, in one or other of the penitentiaries, a school of instruction, corresponding with the depot in the Imperial service, where staff officers appointed to the penitentiary service should go to be trained in their respective duties. This is especially so in the case of the stewards and storekeepers, who should be instructed the same as quarter-masters in the service. Properly trained men in these departments would take an immense amount of worry and anxiety off the shoulders of the warden, to say nothing of the great saving in expense a thoroughly trained and competent man could easily effect.

In no branch of the Imperial service is more care taken in the selection of suitable men to fill positions than in the commissariat branch, and I strongly recommend that the same discrimination may be exercised in the penitentiary service.

I regret having to report the death of Mr. Jas. Fitzsimmons, who was transferred here from British Columbia Penitentiary on the 28th September, 1895. He died in St. Boniface Hospital on the 26th February last, having been sick for several months. His body was taken to Kingston, where he had lived for very many years in the penitentiary service, by the Rev. Father Cloutier. Since Mr. Fitzsimmons' death, the duties of deputy warden have been performed, in a most satisfactory manner, by Keeper Abbott.

One death, as you will see by the returns, occurred among the convicts. This man, James Mack, was transferred here from British Columbia Penitentiary on the 14th December, 1897. He was ill when he arrived, and got gradually worse. He died on the 26th June last.

I inclose usual reports and statements.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

A. G. IRVINE,

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., 1st July, 1898.

SIR.—I have the honour to submit my second annual report, with the usual returns from the British Columbia Penitentiary, for the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1898.

The vote for the maintenance of the British Columbia Penitentiary, during the year just terminated, was $45,700. Of this amount $39,892 was expended, leaving a balance unexpended, in the hands of the Government, of $5,808.

There remained in the British Columbia Penitentiary on 30th June, 1897, 100 male convicts, no females. We have received since then from Common Jails 50 males and one female. There were discharged during the year by expiration of sentence; 25; by pardon, 2; transferred to Stony Mountain Penitentiary, 12; transferred to Kingston Penitentiary, 2; making a total of 42 disposed of during the year, and leaving the total population of the prison on 30th June, 1898, 109. The daily average number of convicts in the British Columbia Penitentiary during the year was 103.

Department of Justice

The behaviour of the convicts and the discipline of the prison have been kept well up to the mark during the year.

Additional accommodation for the increasing number of prisoners is very much needed.

We have made a few necessary changes in the economic condition of the institution. We have now a water system of our own ; have changed the heating arrangements in the shops, and the bathing arrangements ; have put in a new front gate, which works very satisfactorily and have put gratings in the fences over the creek where formerly, when a rush of water came, a portion of the fence was carried away.

We have also continued to make brick—the production last summer being 100,000—and could have made a great many more, but, seeing no immediate prospect of using them, discontinued for some time.

Owing to the crowded condition of the prison population we had to transfer last December fifteen convicts to Stony Mountain Penitentiary, also two insane convicts to Kingston.

I would call your attention to the increase in the number of criminals in this province, owing to the large influx of population into the mining districts. As this is now a permanent increase our prisoners will continue to increase ; and at present we are crowded again and waiting for orders to transfer another fifteen to Stony Mountain.

I consider the time is at hand when increased accommodation should be provided for the criminals that are arriving here.

I found that the wardens' convention held at Ottawa, which I attended, was of great use to me personally, and I got an insight into the workings of other institutions of a similar nature, in Canada and in the United States, that is of inestimable benefit to me in the administration of this institution, from both a moral and an economic point of view.

My sincere thanks are due to yourself for the kind and courteous manner in which you have both encouraged and assisted me by correspondence ; at the same time I must express my regrets that we have not had a visit from you during the last year. I trust that before another year expires I shall have the pleasure of showing you what has been done here since your last visit, some three years ago.

My thanks are due to all the officers of this institution for the able and courteous manner in which they have performed their respective duties, especially to Blacksmith Instructor Coutts, who spent most of his time in engineering work ; to Guard Doyle, who had charge of the brickyard ; to Guard Johnson, who erected the waterworks tanks ; in fact these two latter men should be appointed trade instructors, as most of their time has been spent in tradesmen's work. Blacksmith Instructor Coutts should be appointed engineer, for the same reason.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

J. C. WHYTE,
Warden.

SURGEONS' REPORTS

Department of Justice.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

PORTSMOUTH, 1st September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report for the year expired 30th June, 1898. The hygienic state of the prison is in a most satisfactory condition as evidenced by the small number of prisoners who found their way during the year to the hospital for treatment for serious diseases. The wings and cells are kept scrupulously clean and pure air is at all times allowed to circulate so freely, that it would be impossible to detect the slightest unpleasant odour, notwithstanding the large number confined in such a small space.

It is certainly gratifying to be able to state, that so far as the heating arrangements of the prison are concerned, that there has been nothing to be desired. The uniformity of temperature maintained during the winter months added greatly to the personal comfort of the prisoners, and contributed in a measure to ward off impending disease. These remarks regarding heating and ventilation are applicable to all parts of the prison.

The new sewage system which is now on a fair way to completion will equal anything of the kind of which I am at present aware. The old system had many grave defects, but in the light of advanced sanitation, these have now been removed, and it is quite safe to say that the new arrangements will be a boon to the institution. The filtering beds which are nicely banked and sodded, are artistically decorated with flowers, and an air of good taste and cleanliness prevails, brightening up the whole surroundings.

The old dungeon and ducts have been thoroughly ventilated, cleaned and white-washed, and put in a sanitary condition.

The general health of the prisoners has been very good indeed during the year. With the exception of those who present external evidences of a phthisical tendency, they all appear to be robust fellows who thrive upon their now regular mode of life, their plain but supporting dietary, and the general care and supervision of the prison. This healthful appearance soon becomes apparent, despite the fact that the state of nutrition of the majority of those at the time of their admission is conspicuously vitiated by dissipation and disease.

It is to be deplored that delinquents so far advanced in years that general mental and physical enfeeblement has begun, should continue to be sent to the penitentiary. Other provision might be made for that class of criminals, who having lost all physical vigour and having settled down to a state of passivity have passed into the stage of senility or second childishness. It is almost impossible to give them the care they require unless they spend the term of their incarceration in the hospital.

The sanitary and heating arrangements of the hospital are complete in every particular. It has been completely renovated, the cells and wards kalsomined, the wood work painted, and floors waxed, whilst the necessary equipments for surgical cases such as an operating table, side table, and instruments, have been so generously furnished as to place the hospital on an equality with the best. A uniform temperature of 70 degrees has been maintained during the cold season, and patients during convalescence when permitted to be out of bed, enjoyed the luxury.

Four deaths occurred in the prison during the year. One, a patient in the last stages of consumption, who was in the hospital when I was appointed. Another died of perforation of the bowel during the course of fever. Of the other two, one hanged himself in his cell in the wing, the other succumbed from the effects of a gunshot wound in the abdomen inflicted by an officer in the discharge of his duty and in self defence.

One of the acquisitions to the prison is a morgue where the dead are placed whilst awaiting burial by the prison authorities, or being claimed by friends. This had been found necessary not only in a sanitary point of view, but also from the depressing effects the gloomy associations had upon the other patients when the dead were allowed to remain in the hospital.

Asylum.—Not the least interesting portion of the prison is the criminal asylum where prisoners suffering from the various forms of disordered mental manifestations are under daily observation. The day-room has been renovated and painted, and new self-flushing closets', so urgently needed are being placed in position. Every care which it is possible to bestow, has been given the insane prisoners, and their cells are kept clean and comfortable.

Special attention has been given the criminal epileptics, so that as far as possible they will suffer no injury during their convulsive seizures, and remedial measures have been directed towards lessening the number of attacks, and calming the subsequent irritability and uncontrollable passion. The insane enjoy the outing in the yard and look forward to it with much pleasure. Those who are able and willing to perform some useful work are given employment. Even those who are not cured, or not sufficiently improved to resume work, have been greatly benefited by medical treatment, baths, light employment, and systematic exercise. The number of insane in asylum at end of year 30th June, 1897, was 18; admitted during the year 36; admitted from prison alone 29; transferred to Provincial Asylum 6; discharged cured 8; improved to resume work 6.

Female Department.—Very little sickness occurred in the female prison during the year. Those who became invalided and required extra care and treatment were assiduously looked after in the little hospital for female prisoners. This hospital has been renovated and is a model of perfection. Two female lunatics were transferred to the Provincial Asylum during the year.

Prison of isolation.—The sanitary condition of the prison of isolation was most satisfactory, no sickness of a grave character having occurred during the year. Owing to the frequent complaints of catarrhal affections it was found necessary to recommend as a sanitary procedure, that prisoners employed in performing work necessitating a great amount of dirt and dust, should not be permitted to sleep in the cells in which such employment was being carried on. The good effect of the change was soon quite apparent. The treatment of refractory delinquents by isolation is thought by many to be a prolific source for the various forms of mental deterioration. No insane case occurred during the past year which could be attributed to solitary confinement.

The number of prescriptions dispensed during the year amounted to, for officers 598, isolation ward 657, insane ward 194, females 344, males 5,166; independent of hospital patients.

DANIEL PHELAN, M.D.

Med. Sup., Insane Asylum.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—Having assumed the duties of surgeon of this institution, 22nd April last, I can only transmit you a report comprising the last nine weeks of the fiscal year.

On my entering in charge of my department, the first thing which struck me was the exiguity of the hospital and the insufficiency of its ventilation.

My predecessor had judiciously remarked the same thing in his last two reports.

I have been given the assurance that the hospital and dispensary will be enlarged. So much the better. This cannot be done too soon.

During the first weeks following my entering into office, I heard several complaints from convicts about the uncomfortableness and inconveniences experienced by them in the tailor's department; I did not, at first, give those complaints all the consideration they deserved, but I had to ascertain, upon the spot, the cause of them.

Upon entering the tailor's department, a "sui generis," indefinable smell first struck me, and then my eyes perceived heaps of dirty stockings and clothes; a cloud of vapour impregnated with unhealthy smell rose up above a large washing machine installed without ceremony alongside of a hot air drying apparatus in a hall occupied by about sixty convicts. I immediately submitted on elaborate report of the facts to the warden and, sustained by the dictates of science, I asked Dr. Duchesneau to kindly come to the rescue of a colony of convicts doomed to work in a repulsive and suffocating hall in the name of the grand secular principle: "The action of the atmospheric air on man is of every instant and this gas is the most indispensable agent to life."

It is the pabulum vite.

The warden caused this nuisance to disappear in the twinkling of an eye.

Meanwhile, two convicts, James Kane and Chas. Bishop, insane, were giving the officers and inmates of the penitentiary much trouble for some three months past. Two reports dated, 26th and 27th May, were transmitted to you by the undersigned to inform you that James Kane was a turbulent insane and Chas. Bishop, another turbulent insane, who had made an attempt on his life, and on the 1st of July following the two unfortunates were still in the institution, notwithstanding the repeated reports of the warden and surgeon asking you to kindly open the doors of the Kingston Asylum to the said James Kane and Chas. Bishop. Intrenched behind a poor scientific reason, you have kept in check two old physicians counting each of them upwards of forty years practice and the two turbulent men are still here at our despair.

Everybody knows, Mr. Inspector, in this Dominion of ours as in every other civilized country, that any time a poor unfortunate who suddenly becomes insane, is considered as a public nuisance and, as such, handed to the local authorities whose duty it is to make haste to take the necessary steps to put him in a safe place befitting the condition of his mind.

The literature of mental diseases has never taught that an insane person ought to be confined in his bed for months and years before being recognized as such; it does not teach that the unfortunate is unfit for any corporal and mental work; it does not teach that he ought to be incoherent in speaking or writing every day or every minute of his existence; it does not teach, neither, that the insane ought to be treated in the sanctuary of the family; no, but it teaches that the mental insanity is a cerebral disease, a feverless affection and generally of long duration, and distinguished by lesions supervening in the sensibility, understanding and will; disease showing itself in a thousand ways.

The fact that an insane convict soon after his arrival at the Kingston Asylum is sent to work with a squad of convicts is not a proof that the surgeon of a penitentiary was wrong to order the transfer of such an insane to the above mentioned asylum; it is not an argument establishing that the subject is sui mentis compos ; far from it ; a convict being susceptible to be affected with transient mental insanity, another with intermittent insanity and a third one with permanent mental insanity.

It is elementary.

In every case of mental insanity the first thing to be done is to isolate the patient from his habitual lodging, to procure him a good change of scenery and to occupy his mind with work, amusements and distractions of all kinds ; it is what I ask in the present case.

To the professional man alone belongs the exclusive right to interpret all psychological and pathological phenomenon showing itself in the human being.

I claim for the surgeon of this penitentiary all latitude of action ; the privileges and the use of his rights as acknowledged by the laws of this country.

On that condition alone, he will be able to fulfil his duty in a profitable manner to society and to the unfortunates intrusted to his solicitude.

On 27th May, Mr. Thos. McCarthy was struck down with cerebral apoplexy and on June 6th, he died, aged sixty-one, having been in the employ of the penitentiary as chief keeper and deputy warden for the last forty-one years. Mr. McCarthy was a judicious and great experienced man ; he rendered valuable services to the late Warden Ouimet. He knew, by his firm and delicate temper how to gain the confidence and respect of the convicts ; his ways of conveying orders never hurt the self-love and particular feelings of the unfortunate convict.

On the 30th April, convict J. E. Hudon was visited by sudden death, a victim of heart disease.

From 22nd April up to the end of June, 19 convicts were treated in hospital ; these 19 patients received 351 visits followed by advice and prescriptions.

During the same lapse of time 1,368 consultations were given to patients in hospital and cells.

Annexed is the list of diseases treated in hospital and cells.

I have the honour to be, dear sir,

Your obedient servant,

L. A. FORTIER, M.D.,

L. A. FORTIER, M.D.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

DORCHESTER, N.B., 14th September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

The sanitary condition of the prison keeps very good. The heating and ventilation are all that can be desired for the health and comfort of the occupants.

The sewerage continues to give satisfaction, and only requires occasional flushing to keep it in good working order.

The new waterworks, spoken of in my last report, were completed last fall. A stone tank has been built and a complete system of pipes laid down, connecting the spring with the officers houses. The work was well done, and it is a complete success. The quality of the water is the best and the supply almost unlimited. It supplies 32 houses and the overflow is constantly running.

During the year, we have had our female prison re-arranged. The cells are now, as you directed, on the ground floor. They are nicely fitted up and are all that is required for the health and comfort of the female prisoners. It is a great improvement in every respect, as regards health, safety and convenience, and gives the utmost satisfaction.

The admissions during the past year were 96 males and 2 females. Lads under 16, eleven; 16 to 20, thirty-four; 20 to 40, forty-eight; 40 to 60, four; above 60, one.

The physical condition of the men admitted has been generally good, although some few have come here suffering from diseases, brought on by their vicious habits, and, as always is the case, a certain percentage come, suffering from constitutional predispositions to disease, which frequently develops during their confinement.

The number of lads admitted is, I believe, a higher percentage than we have had for several years, and taken in connection with the fact that 45, out of a total of 98 are below twenty years of age, is certainly a state of matters much to be deplored.

In September last we admitted an insane man, to serve a two years' sentence. He had been insane at times for years, and part of the time had been in an asylum, I reported the case at the time to the department. He continues in about the same condition mentally as on his admission, is very filthy in his habits, destroys his clothes and bedding, giving the officers in charge of the cells a great amount of trouble and anxiety.

The number of weak minded, or partially idiotic prisoners admitted, has, I am glad to say, been few.

The general health of the men last year was good. The greater number are kept at work out of doors as much as possible in good weather. They are generally employed at farming, quarrying, cutting stone and other outdoor work which tends to keep them in good health.

The experience here has been, that there is nothing that conduces so much to the health and contentment of prisoners as moderate, systematic daily employment, and if possible, of a productive and useful character, just and fair treatment to all industrious men, and prompt discipline to the negligent.

The diseases from which our men have suffered this year, have generally been only such as are incident to prison life, as, for instance, mild attacks of diarrhoea, an occasional case of dysentery, common colds, &c.

I am glad to say we have not been visited by any contagious or epidemic disease.

We have only had two accidents of a somewhat serious character; one a case of comminuted fracture of the left leg, resulting from a fall on the stone floor. Another man had his hand severely injured by its coming in contact with a circular saw, requiring the partial amputation of his fingers.

I have to report one death from tuberculosis, a delicate man. He had suffered from the disease for some months; was sent to hospital and died 56 days after admission.

There were 14 cases sent to hospital during the year. The number of days spent in hospital was 330.

The number of applications for minor complaints and imaginary diseases was 880.

Annexed are the tables showing cases sent to hospital, those treated in cells, return of deaths and expenditure for drugs.

ROBERT MITCHELL, M.D.
Surgeon.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY,

STONY MOUNTAIN, 26th August, 1898.

SIR,—Last February, when I took over the duties of surgeon of this institution, I found the sanitary condition satisfactory, with the exception of the ventilation, which is defective. I trust the department will see the advisability of having it improved.

The cells occupied by the convicts were very clean, comfortable and tidy. In fact the whole of the prison is kept in a perfect state of cleanliness, due to the untiring energy of the warden, coupled with the assistance of his staff.

Shortly after assuming my duties, a convict was paraded before me, suffering from hemiplegia, and had been for some months previously. I did all I could for him, he did not seem to improve much under treatment I returned him to the hospital where he became imbecile and died. An official report of his death was sent to the department at the time.

There are seven convicts troubled with hernia, all of whom have to be supplied with trusses, which causes an unavoidable increase in the expenditure.

Mr. Beaupré, hospital overseer, is very attentive to his duties.

Having only taken over my duties in February last, my report is necessarily short, but before closing I must thank the warden, and his subordinate officers, for their kindness and courtesy.

The usual returns are hereto appended.

I have the honour to be, sir,
 Your obedient servant,

List of insane convicts on the 30th June, 1898.

RODERICK MACDONALD, M.D.,
Surgeon.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY.

NEW-WESTMINSTER, B.C., 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report as surgeon of this penitentiary, for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

The health of the convicts has been, upon the whole, very good, no serious illnesses nor accidents having occurred. It is gratifying to be able to note that another year has passed without a death having occurred in the prison.

The number of cases treated in hospital shows an increase over last year, and the number of days spent in hospital is materially larger. Thirty-two patients were treated in hospital during the year, the number of days spent there being 685, and average of 21·44 days for each patient. There were, as usual, a large number of convicts treated for minor ailments in their cells, the number of prescriptions given to this class of patients being 1,193.

One convict became insane during the year, and one was carried over from last year. One of these were removed to the Provincial Asylum for the insane; the other was sent to Kingston Penitentiary.

The lack of a suitable hospital continues to be felt. The place used at present as a hospital is unfit at any time, and was particularly so during the past year, when, owing to the crowded state of the prison, the hospital was used as a dormitory. I believe it was owing to this fact that two convicts admitted with trifling wounds, which ordinarily should have healed in a few days, were obliged to make prolonged stays in hospital. One of them contracted erysipelas in the wound which delayed his discharge for some weeks.

I beg also to call your attention to the unsatisfactory manner in which drugs are supplied to the prison. For some reason it was most difficult last year to have requisitions filled, the delay in some instances extending to nearly four months. This necessitates carrying a much larger stock of drugs than would be the case if the drugs were purchased in town, while the delay has in some cases, interfered with the treatment of the patients. Occasionally, too, the article supplied has not been the article ordered, or the quality has been inferior, and further time has been consumed in effecting an exchange.

The hospital overseer, Mr. W. J. Carroll, has been most painstaking in the discharge of his duties. I beg also to acknowledge my indebtedness to the warden and other officers for their uniform courtesy.

I have the honour to be, Sir,
Your obedient servant,

W. A. De WOLF SMITH, M.D., L.C.P. & S., Que.

APPENDIX D

CHAPLAINS' REPORTS

Department of Justice.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

PORTSMOUTH, 30th June, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to present my report for the year ending June 30th inst.

The duties performed include two services on Sunday and one on Wednesday every week, with services on Christmas, Good Friday, Thanksgiving, New Years and Queen's Birthday. There were also addresses by Mr. Moody, Miss Read, etc., on a few occasions.

Eight hundred and fifty-three visits were paid by me to men in hospital. The men in the isolated ward were seen nine hundred and thirty-two times. Owing to the change of dining in the cells, I had to drop the large voluntary classes and take the men by ranges which seldom exceed twenty men. The total number of men seen in the vestry, singly or in classes, was thirteen hundred and eighty-four.

The library returns given below include twenty books from religious library, kept in circulation among those confined in the prison of isolation.

I submit below the table of religions as requested in you circular.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,

PORTSMOUTH, 30th June, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to present my report for the year ending 30th June, inst.

It gives me pleasure to be thus able to acknowledge my indebtedness to the department for the many improvements made in our chapel during the year that has passed. In my last report I stated "improvements are almost continually going on in our chapel, making it look more and more sacred and more worthy of the service to which it has been consecrated. The floor alone remains untouched, and is now in even a worse condition than when I called your attention to it a year ago." During the past year an entirely new floor has been put in, giving the chapel a clean neat appearance. I was anxious about this because some (very few) of the men made it an excuse for their disrespectful posture during mass and benediction with the Most Blessed Sacrament. I hope the department will continue the good work and see its way to replace the present benches with regular church pews, having kneeling stools attached.

A serious accident occurred during the Christmas holidays. The chapel, as usual, was tastefully decorated with palms and flowers and lights. I superintended the arrangements myself to see that everything would be secure. But you cannot always prevent accidents from occurring. A small piece of dried palm became detached during service, and falling upon one of the lighted candles immediately caught fire. It fell from thence on the other ornaments of the altar, carrying the fire amongst them. Suddenly the whole surroundings of the altar and sanctuary were on fire. The men showed great presence of mind. Those who were nearest the altar rushed into the sanctuary, and, at the risk of being badly burned, succeeded in extinguishing the fire. One man indeed was badly burned in his face and hands. I hope the department will take notice of the action of these men. If some reward, such as mitigation of their sentence, were conferred upon them it would have a very good effect in all such future cases. The beautiful painting over the altar was completely destroyed, and the walls and ceiling blackened by fire and smoke. The painting has been restored and the walls and ceilings repainted and redecorated by the men here.

Since my last report we have lost through death, our learned and saintly Archbishop, Most Reverend James Vincent Cleary. It was his intention, even to the last, to visit the prison for the purpose of conferring the Sacrament of Confirmation on those who either neglected it in their youth or who had not had the opportunity. I am preparing a class of twenty-two for the reception of this sacrament when our new Archbishop shall be appointed. During the past year also, I baptized two men and am preparing two more to receive this sacrament which they should have received as children. I am instructing these together with eight others for their first communion.

Finally I most thank the department for restoring to us those articles of devotion of which we were for a time deprived.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

JAMES VINCENT NEVILLE,
Roman Catholic Chaplain.

Inspector of Penitentiaries,

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

St. VINCENT DE PAUL, P.Q., 30th June, 1898.

SIR,—I beg to present my annual report for the year ending to-day, concerning the Roman Catholic chapel and its concerns.

During the past year, 135 men have been received, 90 released, 12 pardoned, 9 transferred to Kingston, 1 transferred to the Protestant chapel and 1 died. 338 men at present attend religious service in our chapel.

Though noticed by the inevitable consequences of the investigation, the ending year has not notably affected religious worship, and I profit by the occasion to express my sincere thanks to the acting warden, Mr. G. L. Foster, who has displayed a most constant care in order to maintain reverence in the Holy Place, the fulfilment of religious duties and the success of my functions more particularly in the troubles of the last fall. Dr. Duchesneau has proved as zealous and deserves the same expression of gratitude.

Department of Justice.

The former way has been resumed in the school and the school master is ever the same zealous and successful teacher, careful alike for the library which meets the demands of more and more conscientious readers.

At the end of the elapsing year Mr. Thomas McCarthy, late deputy warden in the institution, departed this life. He was a most serviceable official to all, but especially to our congregation. I feel it my duty to recall his services and express my thanks for his benefits.

Allow me, Mr. Inspector, to acknowledge, among your many favours, your having restored to us some most essential devotional articles previously suppressed, and believe me.

Your respectful servant,

L. O. HAREL, Priest,
R. C. Chaplain.

The number of convicts under my charge during the year, viz., 102—shows an increase of five over that of the year preceding, although the number received was five less.

The religious census, although carefully compiled from the official “Notices” sent to the chaplain when new convicts are placed in his charge, is not to be held as absolutely correct, since it frequently occurs that an incoming prisoner gives misleading information of himself, either to conceal his identity, as for some other reason best known to himself. As an example: there is now a convict here doing his third, or fourth term, who has changed his name as well as his religion each time.

The library continues to be well patronized by the men, and requests for books of a more solid and instructive character are more frequent.

Fifteen of the convicts under my charge have attended school during the year. In this connection I beg to draw your attention to the vague wording of the 34th Regulation which governs the admission to school. It may mean either, “those who need instruction,” or “those who ask for instruction. Hitherto the latter interpretation seems to have been the one acted upon; but a comparison of the regulation with Regulation 168, will I think, show that the former rendering is the correct one.

It is pleasing to me to be able to state that the behaviour of the men in chapel during Divine Service continues to improve; and I greatly regret that Regulation 48, ordering daily morning prayer in the chapel, has been ignored for the last ten months. I am given encouragement to hope, however, that this excellent rule will shortly be observed again.

Since the order prohibiting any, except convicts and necessary guards, attending the Sunday services in the chapel, I have, besides the morning and afternoon services in the chapel, held a third service in my house for the benefit of the Protestant guards and their families, as there is no Protestant church which they can attend within less than five or six miles of the prison. The average attendance at this service has been from 14 to 18.

Before concluding my report, I beg to acknowledge the courteous treatment received from the officers generally, and from Warden Duchesneau in particular, under whose firm, and judicious, rule order and discipline are being steadily enforced.

I remain, sir,
Your obedient servant,

JOHN ROLLIT,
Protestant Chaplain.

nature, which proves to me that they are learning the errors of their past life. While with them, they conduct themselves in a becoming manner, and this, I am glad to learn from the warden, is their general demeanour.

The general library is satisfactorily managed by my brother chaplains, who are willing at all times to let my charges have such books as they may require.

In thanking the warden and staff for their uniform kindness, permit me to state that this is particularly evident during our festivals, when every assistance is given to enable my men to faithfully carry out the requirements of their religion.

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

DORCHESTER, 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report as Protestant chaplain of this Penitentiary for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

On that day I had 114 convicts under my spiritual care, and singularly enough, after all the movement of prisoners during the year, it was exactly the same number that I had on the corresponding day of the preceding year.

I had but one convict funeral in the year—the only death I believe in the prison during the year—that of John Croxon, incidentally a remarkable testimony to the healthy condition of the prison.

Nothing has occurred during the year in connection with my work, but what indicates the well working of that domain. A few changes have taken place. The position of organist has been taken out of female hands; and whilst the change is felt to be prudential, I shall always gratefully acknowledge the good work done by Miss Forster.

Another change is that in the position of schoolmaster. Mr. Gray the accountant, who for several years did admirable work as schoolmaster, has been followed by Mr. Papineau in the triple capacity of surgeon's assistant, schoolmaster, and librarian. I visit the school from time to time; and in my judgment, Mr. Papineau does his work well. I may remark in passing that this arrangement is the one that obtained satisfactorily for some years after the opening of the prison.

Another very good change has been made. From being a prison with female convicts without the conveniences required for such, by an ingenious adaptation of existing rooms, an arrangement has been made, not more safe and commodious, than it is convenient for the transaction of such business as the chaplains have with this class of convict. In this connection I may add that Mrs. Bartlett as matron is always courteous and ready to facilitate our work.

The need for replenishing the library referred to in my last report, has been, thanks to the department, sufficiently met for present necessities.

There has been an unbroken continuance of Lord's day services in the prison chapel, which are marked by a reverence, heartiness and voluntary attentiveness, that are no less surprising than they are encouraging.

The numbers that continue to attend the Bible class are most interesting. The attendance of an average of forty such men may have in it some of the dross of mixed motives; but all I can say is, that I look on it as a means of getting at what is in the men's minds, that is necessarily denied in more formal services.

Although not necessarily of the nature of an annual report—still, in view of the importance of the drink question in its bearing on crime generally, and more particularly at present, when the mind of the Canadian electorate is being exercised on prohibition or no prohibition—I may here record the statement that, of the 808 convicts received on the Protestant side since the opening of the institution in 1881, down to 30th June, 1898, 268 stated on their incoming that they attributed their misfortune, directly or indirectly, in part or in whole, to liquor. A glance at the figures will show that, within a very minute fraction, 33 per cent of the total number charge liquor as the cause of their crime.

The following table shows the number of convicts who were, on 30th of June, 1898, attached to the following denominations:—

Baptist.....	41
Church of England.....	38
Presbyterian.....	17
Methodist.....	17
“Protestant”.....	1
Total.....	114

In closing this report, I beg to add that I am debtor to every member of the staff with whom my duties have brought me in contact, for uniform courtesy and readiness to facilitate my work.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your very obedient servant,

J. ROY CAMPBELL,
Protestant Chaplain.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

DORCHESTER, 1st September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit to you my annual report as Roman Catholic Chaplain of this penitentiary for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

At the close of the fiscal year, I had inscribed on my register the names of 108 male and 3 female convicts, a total of 111, as against 84 figuring thereon twelve months previously. This is the largest number ever reported before by the Roman Catholic Chaplain of this prison. Out of this number I have about 10 per cent who have never made any profession of religion either before or since entering here.

I cannot assign any particular reason for their registering as Roman Catholics. If at any time during the year the general good conduct at Divine Service has been marred by what could be styled irreverence, it is to be referred to some of this class. As a rule I must render good testimony as to the behaviour of prisoners under my charge, in all my dealings with them.

I cannot refrain from mentioning again the fact that, it is a very sad necessity, which compels the civil power to send a relatively large number of young boys, to be incarcerated here. They can hardly be expected to be benefited morally. The criminal atmosphere of a penitentiary will naturally foster the yet tender germs of crime in those youthful natures and soon fan them to their full development. In most cases it is an apprenticeship to a life of crime, as inoculated in them by the unavoidable contact with old and hardened criminals. Assuredly they are the ones, on account of their age, who under favourable circumstances, can be expected to be reformed by the benign influence of religion, and a large percentage therefore could be rescued from the destruction of rising passions, and diverted from the incipient instinct of crime. Confronted with such bare facts we are brought to acknowledge that it would be a most commendable action on the part of the Department of Justice to endeavour to bring a remedy to the above existing state of affairs.

I have much pleasure in saying that both school and library are, as far as I can judge, well conducted. This is shown by the fact that good work is done by the former and excellent results by the latter. I have no sad casualties of any kind to record this year.

In concluding I have only words of kindness to address to all the officers of the prison, in all things pertaining to my office as chaplain, and wish to convey to them my thanks for their uniform courtesy.

A. D. CORMIER,
R. C. Chaplain.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

STONY MOUNTAIN, 18th August, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report, as Protestant chaplain of the Manitoba Penitentiary, for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

Having entered upon the duties of my office on the 1st March, last, I have to ask your kind consideration if my report is not as full as it otherwise would be.

I find on looking over the books that there were remaining :—

July 1st, 1897	58 convicts
Received during the year	25 “
	83
Total	83

Of these fifteen were released by expiration of sentence, three were pardoned and one was transferred to the Kingston Insane Ward, thus leaving sixty-four still under my care.

According to the statement made by themselves on entering, these are distributed among the following churches :—

Church of England	32
Presbyterian	12
Methodists	10
Lutheran	4
Baptists	2
Adventists	1
Salvation Army	1
No religion	2
	64
Total	64

We have some very young convicts here, one, a boy, only fifteen years of age. The warden and myself are doing all we can to keep him from contact with those hardened criminals necessarily found in these institutions.

Our service on the Sabbath day is characterized by devout and reverent attention unsurpassed by any congregation I ever served. Guard Ward renders valuable assistance in training the choir, and leading in the service of sacred song. The singing is hearty and full of inspiration.

I spend the Sablath afternoon in personal visitation and try by direct application of the truth to guide and direct those committed to my care to a reformation of life, and entire surrender of themselves to the Lord Jesus Christ. I think more is done by this personal appeal and urgent entreaty than could be accomplished in any other way, and I am convinced that my labour in this respect is highly appreciated.

The school continues to advance with increasing interest under the able management of Mr. Beaupré and painstaking staff of monitors.

The library, though large, needs replenishing, as many of the convicts assure me that they have read almost every book in it.

I cannot close my report without giving the following statistics, compiled from statements given by the convicts under my care, on entering this institution. It shows the part the liquor evil plays in ruining men and filling prisons :—

Total abstainers	12
Moderate drinkers.....	17
Intemperate.....	35

64

I am satisfied that if the real truth was known, that over seventy-five per cent of those here could trace their ruin to the licensed traffic in intoxicating drinks.

I desire to express my high appreciation of the valuable assistance rendered me by the warden and all the officials, and I am satisfied that the kindly and firm discipline administered here cannot fail in having a beneficial effect upon the lives of the convicts.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

F. M. FINN,
Protestant Chaplain.

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY.

STONY MOUNTAIN, 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to send you my report for the fiscal year which ended on the 30th day of June last. At that time there were twenty-four convicts under my charge.

During the course of the year, one died, though he was yet a young man. I must say the men confided to me have given me satisfaction generally. The only thing they complain of is the want of new books for the library. On that question it may be said that the Catholic library has not received any books for the last four years, and it is to my knowledge that the other library has received numerous volumes.

It appears that there is some different opinions as to the kind of books that are to be placed in the hands of unfortunates outlawed. I may be allowed to state my views:

We are called to reform men that have abandoned the path of duty. And it is my opinion that reform is to form again. And the principles of reformation are the same as those of formation that was done before their fall. It is known that if you have to make the education of man, the formation of his character and to prepare him for the future fights of life, it becomes necessary at first to look to the formation of his intelligence, then of his heart and then of his will. It becomes a necessity to cultivate his intellectual faculties, and to develop in his mind that seriousness which appreciates the good, that delicacy which judges of the beautiful and that accuracy which judges of the true.

The second step is to cause in his heart the love of the good, the beautiful and of the true and at last his will has to be led to hold very strongly to what he has understood and to what he has loved. The oral teaching not being sufficient, he has to be facilitated with the use of books within the reach of his intelligence and knowledge, said books being intended to develop the notions already possessed of. With a great deal of care must it be avoided to give him books that would be useless, thereby making his progress rather slow, and books that might cause him, for various reasons, a great deal of harm.

Now, when a man has forgotten his duty and when he is in one of these institutions where he is expected to be reformed, he finds the oral teaching by the ministers of religion first, and also by the good advices of the officers. But this is not sufficient. There are lots of times the minister cannot preach and the officers have something else to attend and the convict has lots of time to himself. The oral teaching is not sufficient. It must be completed by the reading of books. And in the libraries there should not be placed but serious books in which shall be found a moral teaching producing serious convictions and which shall lead the will to hold strongly to what is good.

It is my opinion that there should not be placed in said libraries frivolous and sportive books, also certain scientific books writing up gunpowder and poisons. Also must not be shelved there, books that are colourless, purposeless, works of fiction, good only to produce dramatical impressions and to give the reader as much pleasure as possible. With such books the convict has the advantage to lose his time without any fatigue for they lose it without being idle, and the aim of the reformation has not been reached just because it is absolutely impossible to reform man if we do not reach the intelligence, the heart and the will of the one that has gone astray. And this is that much more necessary in the case of convicts that it is found in his nature numerous defects; defects which have grown deep roots and which have become to a great extent a second nature and whose resistance is terrible.

Let us keep away from our libraries books which can only lull to sleep the bad tendencies of human nature.

When a physician is willing to cure a patient, he does not only use medicines to make the pains easier; but by his prolonged cares and proper medicines he brings his patient to a condition of being, later on, useful to society. In the same way, if we are allowed proper books to enlighten intelligence, to guide the affections of the heart and to strengthen the will of our unfortunate convicts, it will be possible to reform them and to make of them citizens full of integrity and very useful in society.

I have the honour to be,
Yours truly,

G. CLOUTIER,
R. C. Chaplain.

BRITISH COLUMBIA PENITENTIARY.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B.C., 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report as Protestant chaplain for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

On the 30th June, 1897, I had under my care 67 convicts. The number now enrolled on the register is 63.

Received during the year 26, discharged 20, pardoned 2, transferred to Manitoba penitentiary 7, removed to provincial asylum 1.

We have had no deaths.

The conduct of the men under my care has been good, in the church and in all my intercourse with them.

I continue to meet the convicts separately in the church, immediately after the Bible class on Sabbath morning. I believe much good is done in this way. Two of the Chinese convicts professed to embrace the Christian religion while confined in the penitentiary; one of these was discharged during the year. Many of the convicts on leaving the institution express their gratitude for the help they have obtained, the kindness they have experienced, and their determination to lead a new and better life. I am hopeful that the seeds of truth which have been sown will not be lost.

During the year I formed a class for religious instruction of the young men under my spiritual care. We meet immediately after the service on Sabbath morning. I have been a little disappointed with the results of this work; still I shall continue the work and do all I can for those who attend.

I am sorry to report that we have now one female convict in our number. This institution has been singularly free from such convicts, and as a consequence we have not proper accommodation provided for them. We have arranged in church for her where she is not seen by the men.

The choir continues to meet on Saturday, at noon, for practice, under the leadership of Messrs. Disney and McKee. This practice is very helpful in our service of praise in the church.

The school, under the care of Mr. Carrol, does good work. Some have made good progress in the rudiments of education, and also in some of the higher branches.

The library has been taken advantage of by those who can read. Some of the convicts have read a large number of the books that were added last year. I find the more substantial books are less read than the lighter literature. I advise them to read works of history and biography.

I have the sympathy and help of the warden, the deputy warden and all the officers, for which I am deeply grateful.

The following table gives the religious sects to which the convicts belong, according to their own statements taken at their entrance:—

SIR,—I have the honour to submit the report of the Roman Catholic chaplain for the year ended 30th June, inst. I regret that my short tenure of office has allowed only an imperfect acquaintance with the men under my spiritual care. There are about forty Catholic prisoners in this institution; a few were transferred to another prison during the year, previous to my assumption of the chaplain's duties, and four were discharged. The behaviour of the men at religious exercises in the chapel is all that could be desired.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

PORTSMOUTH, ONT., 1st July, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my third annual report of the school in this penitentiary for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

The total number enrolled during the year was 72.

The present attendance is 50, the studies of which are divided as follows:—

Reading in Part I	8
“ “ II	13
“ 2nd book and writing.....	16
“ 3rd book and arithmetic.....	13

The intention is to impart instruction to the wholly illiterate and to those whose education is very limited. When such proficiency has been attained, enabling them to read and write, with a fair knowledge of the elementary rules of arithmetic, they are passed out and others take their places. This keeps the number within the limit.

Good progress has been made and the conduct of the pupils while attending school, all that could be desired.

Mr. Thompson, assistant schoolmaster, has been most attentive in the discharge of his duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 30th June, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to transmit to you my sixteenth annual report on the school and library departments for the fiscal year ending this 30th day of June, inst.

The school has been in good working order up to 17th September, time at which the Dominion Police took possession of the school room for their quarters.

After the departure of the police force, 18th October, the school resumed its operation up to 29th January, when the acting warden, Mr. G. L. Foster, ordered me to give up teaching in the school-room for the individual system of teaching the men at their cells. Thirty men only availed themselves of this privilege of obtaining lessons from the schoolmaster. Mr. Warden Duchesneau, a few days after his taking charge of the institution, desired me to resume the former system of taking the men to the school room to receive there instruction from the schoolmaster.

Sixty-six men have been received as pupils during the year.

The average daily attendance was 35. To-day the school register shows a total of 51.

The school has been attended during the year by 98 pupils distributed as follows :—

French pupils having learned	French.	46
“ “ “	English	28
English “ “	“	11
“ “ “	French.	13

The subjects taught are reading, writing and arithmetic. The instruction imparted in those branches is given in French or English as is most intelligible to the pupils.

The hours of teaching are from 9 to 11 a.m. and from 2 to 4 p.m. ; each pupil being allowed one hour's school per day.

The school might be more largely and at least, more regularly attended could some more stringent means be employed to compel the pupils to attend school every day when once admitted to it. The fact of refusing to go to school should constitute as great an offence as that of refusing to work, such offence being generally punished by solitary confinement. The school, I am sorry to say, is not held in great favour among the officers in charge of gangs. They, sometimes, reluctantly see their men leave their work for the school room when they do not urge upon them to remain, pretending that the work is pressing.

If, on one hand, the teacher is required to devote all his time and energy to instruct those entrusted to his care, on the other, he should not be expected to teach characters whose intellect, conduct and general dispositions are obstacles to the good management of the school. It is, also, a known fact that some convicts take advantage of the school to flee from work. This stratagem has, for a long time, been resorted to by men who are not only a stumbling block to the teacher, but also a hindrance to their more studious fellow convicts.

The present warden has taken notice of the great moralizing effect the school has in the institution and has not hesitated to take energetic measures in view of securing order and to maintain the authority of the teacher. Let him be pleased to accept my sincere thanks for his kind and prompt assistance.

The general library is a great acquisition to the institution by its affording better satisfaction to both denominations of convicts in offering them a better choice of books.

The bookbindery department has taken a greater importance since a few days by the appointment of a skilled bookbinder. Hereafter I will be able, with his assistance, to keep the books in a better condition. Also, the library is about to be increased by the addition of a number of volumes.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

DORCHESTER PENITENTIARY.

DORCHESTER, N.B., 3rd September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report as schoolmaster of this penitentiary for the year ended 30th June, 1898.

During the year 115 convicts availed themselves of the privilege of attending the school at one time or other.

The highest number of pupils enrolled during any one month was 71, and the average daily attendance for the past year was 49.

In June last the school was attended by 66 pupils distributed as follows:—

Reading, writing and arithmetic.....	41
Reading and writing.....	18
Reading only.....	7

Twenty-one (21) were reading in the 5th Reader, thirteen (13) in the 4th Reader, six (6) in the 3rd, nine (9) in the 2nd, eleven (11) in the 1st and six (6) in the Primers.

I am well pleased with the progress made by most of them, especially by the beginners who seem to take more interest in the school, and take every opportunity to improve themselves by careful attention while at school, as well as by studying in their cells.

The conduct of the prisoners during the school hour is generally very good. I was rarely obliged to dismiss a pupil for misbehaviour in the school-room.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

MANITOBA PENITENTIARY,

STONY MOUNTAIN, 15th August, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to present you my sixth annual report which is merely a repetition of what I said in the others : that the convicts attending school, during the past year, have behaved very well and the attention they paid, to their lessons, has been most satisfactory.

The daily average attendance was 13·534.

The twenty-nine convicts, who attended school, were classified as follows : three had to learn the alphabet ; three were put in the First Reader ; four in the Second Reader ; six in the Second Reader and the elementary arithmetic ; seven studied elementary arithmetic only ; three grammar, advanced arithmetic and algebra ; three, algebra only ; and all were provided with copy-books to practice penmanship in their cells.

Forty-three convicts, who did not attend school, were granted the privilege of having school books in their cells, and some of them, with very little help, have improved themselves very much,

The work done in the bookbinding department is neat and solid, and the library books bound here will last much longer than those that were bought in the past.

I beg to express my thanks to my superiors for the facilities afforded me in the discharge of my duties.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

J. O. BEAUPRE,
Schoolmaster.

DORCHESTER, 30th June, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my third annual report of the female department of the Dorchester Penitentiary.

I am glad to be able to say that the industry of the women has been most satisfactory, and their conduct, with the exception of one, very good.

Two women were discharged during the year and two were received.

During the past year very great improvement has been made by the building of cells on the lower floor, well ventilated, and adjoining them a spacious corridor, which enables me to obtain better discipline and general order.

I remain, sir,
Yours very respectfully,

REGINA JAIL

Department of Justice.

REGINA JAIL.

REGINA, N.W.T., 26th September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my annual report with sundry returns for the fiscal year ended 30th June, 1898.

During the year there was one attempt at escape, namely that of prisoner F. J. Gregory. He was promptly captured by one of the turnkeys. There were no deaths.

Twenty-one lunatics were committed to the prison from different portions of the Territories by Justices of the Peace, to remain until the pleasure of His Honour the Lieutenant Governor be known. Twenty of these were afterwards committed to Brandon Asylum by warrant of the Lieutenant Governor and one discharged. Some of these lunatics were exceedingly violent and noisy and owing to the want of isolated accommodation are a great menace to the discipline of the prison. Possibly some arrangement might be made by which these unfortunates could be taken direct to an asylum which would be much better for the patient, less expensive and prove beneficial to this institution.

Work was again pursued on the farm but owing to dry windy weather during the first half of the season the crops were not as satisfactory as usual. Seven acres of new land has been broken on the jail reserve on the outside of that portion which is enclosed by fence, and it is my intention to still extend the work until a field of about twenty-five acres is secured and placed in a thorough state of cultivation. This being done, and before seeding, it will be necessary to fence the land in order to protect the crop, the premises being so close to town, from which many head of cattle come daily. In fact in about two years from next spring I think all of the jail reserve should be enclosed by fence, for by that time fences at present in existence will have become almost useless. All that portion of the reserve lying south of the creek and opposite the prison would make splendid pasturage for prison stock, or if more desirable, a portion of it could be utilized as a hay meadow.

The usual routine work of the prison has been carried on and the premises kept in a good state of repair by prison labour.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

A. L. LUNAN, Jailer.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,

REGINA JAIL.

REGINA N.W.T., 4th September, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report for ten months of the year, which ended on the 30th June, 1898. My duties at the jail began on 1st September, 1897. When I took over the duty of medical officer I found that no record had been kept by my predecessor, so that I can supply no information for the months of July and August of the fiscal year.

The general health of the staff has been good, and that of the inmates fairly good. The general sanitary condition and water supply is satisfactory.

If the present arrangement of bringing all lunatics in the Territories to Regina jail for examination prior to being placed in an asylum, is to continue, some provision should be made for separating them from the ordinary prisoners. At present they are placed in the ordinary cell, and if violent, prevent any one in the wards sleeping. This unsatisfactory arrangement is more apparent when we happen to have (as we had last winter) persons held here for extradition examination, and as no better provision exists, must be placed in cells adjoining one in which is placed a raging lunatic.

We have no hospital in connection with the jail. All medical and surgical cases have been treated in the cells. I beg to append a statement of the cases treated. As at present no hospital exists between Brandon and Medicine Hat, cases are at times sent to the jail as vagrants, that would in the proper course of events be found in the wards of an hospital.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

OLIVER C. EDWARDS, M.D.,
Surgeon.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT ON ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY

Department of Justice.

COMMISSIONERS' REPORT ON ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

HON. DAVID MILLS,
Minister of Justice,
Department of Justice,
Ottawa.

The undersigned, James Noxon, Oliver Kelly Fraser and David Lafortune, appointed by Commission dated 20th March, 1897, "to investigate, inquire into and report upon the state and management of the business of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, with special reference to matters relating or pertaining to economy of the management thereof, and upon all such matters or questions affecting the state and management of the business of the said penitentiary, or the conduct of any officer in the service of such penitentiary, so far as the same relates to his official duties, as may from time to time be authorized or directed by order of His Excellency the Governor General in Council, or by the Minister of Justice," beg to submit the following report :—

The Commissioners were handed their commission on the 12th April, and the Easter holidays intervening, it was thought prudent to devote a few days to reading the literature of the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary as supplied by the Department of the Minister of Justice and to formally enter upon the inquiry the following week.

It was therefore on Monday, 19th of April, that the Commissioners met at St. Lawrence Hall, in the city of Montreal, and proceeded the next day to the penitentiary and read to the warden in his office the commission appointing them. There being no public house in the village offering suitable accommodation, the earlier meetings of the Commissioners were held at the St. Lawrence Hall, in the city, and at the penitentiary alternately, as determined by the greater convenience of witnesses to attend at Montreal or at the penitentiary (some of them being resident in the city) until arrangements were finally made for rooms at the convent of the Sisters of Providence, at St. Vincent de Paul, when subsequent meetings were continued to be held at the penitentiary. The Commissioners as a body met daily, until 24th August, and afterwards resumed their meetings from 22nd to 30th September; 25th to 29th October; 12th to 20th November; and 4th to 7th December, when the final evidence was taken in the inquiry. In addition to the time thus spent a large amount of time was occupied by the Commissioners individually in perusing and collecting evidence, &c. The intervals which elapsed from 24th August in the meetings of the Commissioners, were occasioned by the application of Warden Ouimet to the Department of Justice, to be permitted to call witnesses in his behalf in respect to matters respecting his official conduct; also to be permitted the assistance of counsel in conducting his defence; and which being granted by the further extensions asked for from time to time, and allowed him, to produce all the evidence he desired to offer in support of his case, being represented before the Commissioners by the following counsel, of J. N. Greenshields, Q.C.; P. E. Leblanc, Q.C.; T. Dickson and A. Labelle. A still further time was granted at the request of the warden's counsel, in which to prepare and deliver written argument, but it was not until after repeated demands for this argument, and a request by counsel on behalf of the warden for a further delay, that the Commissioners were notified by letter, dated 24th December last, and received on the 27th, that it was determined to not submit any factum.

The amount of evidence taken covers over eight thousand type-written pages, including that portion of it which is written in both languages. There are some 400 depositions from 160 witnesses, many of whom were recalled several times. The taking of this testimony occupied more time than would have been the case ordinarily, owing to the fact that much of it had to be given with the aid of interpreters and afterwards transcribed in two languages.

At the outset of their inquiry the Commissioners called upon the warden to produce certain contracts for supplies, tenders for the same, and correspondence in connection therewith ; but in a number of cases they were not forthcoming, and after much urging, the reason given by the warden's clerk, Mr. Papineau, as to why they were not produced, was, that a large number of the official documents and papers in the warden's office had been burned, and that, therefore, they were not in existence. It was found, also, that the warden was actively interesting himself in suppressing evidence, and the intimidation exercised by him over prison officials and convicts, who were in a position to give evidence, so far tended to impede inquiry, that the Commissioners felt that their only course was to recommend his suspension, and the recommendation being acted on, they were finally able to obtain access to books and papers, and to evidence which permitted the inquiry more freely to proceed. There was evidence from the first that a long course of preparation had been made for the visit of the Commissioners. Omissions in the accounts in which should be entered the dealings of the officers with the penitentiary were attempted to be corrected by making entries long after the proper date, and with figures arrived at by mere guess work. Statements had also been prepared with reference to the engineer's and other departments, as well as for the stone quarried for the use of the penitentiary, that were calculated to mislead the Commissioners, and instead of being assisted by the officers of the institution having charge of the several departments of work, in performing the duties the Commissioners had entered upon, it was made clear that a compact had been entered into by certain officers to defeat the object of the inquiry.

DISCIPLINARY.

Before entering upon details of the disciplinary management and its moral bearing on the officers and convicts, or upon details of the economic management, a few general observations in respect to these matters will serve to lift the veil on what is to follow. The first impression from surface indications was that the discipline was not particularly faulty, and it was only as inquiry was made into the workings of the system that its utter hollowness and deceptiveness became apparent. Under it a system of trafficking had grown up between the guards and convicts, and of petty thieving participated in by both. The convicts were allowed to make from prison material, articles of various kinds and to sell them, and very frequently to present them as gifts to the guards. There were guards who employed convicts to steal supplies from the store or from the kitchen for their use, and in some cases the convicts had facilities afforded them to steal freely from these departments on their own account.

Some of the guards with the warden's knowledge were permitted to keep supplies of fruit and other delicacies to sell to the convicts, and to employ the latter to sell them to other convicts, while some of the prisoners stationed near the elevator from the kitchen to the change room on the floor above were permitted to keep what was known to their fellow prisoners as the "restaurant" supplied with what could be stolen from the kitchen and sold to other convicts. In some instances the grocer called regularly upon certain prisoners to take their order for what they might require in his line. These, it is true, are somewhat notable instances of what was permitted under prison discipline ; but they are the outward and visible signs of the general system of trafficking, and of the irregularities which prevailed more or less openly among the officers and the convicts. In the disciplinary management but little regard appears to have been paid to the book of rules and regulations. To the disciplinary staff it is practically a sealed book. No one seemed to care to know anything of its instructions, and it certainly has not been the practice to refer to it for guidance in the conduct of discipline. In the person of the warden appears to have been embodied the rules and regulations and his will was the supreme law which governed the institution. He dominated over every official whether of the penitentiary or the Department of Public Works branch, and over every department of the work. He directed in everything and from all received a willing obedience ; with this he appears to have been content, and did not push his authority to restrain the irregular dealings of the officers with the institution or with the convicts. Between the warden and the majority of the staff was something both could regard with satisfaction. The warden that all were submissive to his will ; the staff that the warden raised no voice against their methods of turning to profitable account their relation with the institution and with the convicts. The manner in which the duties of the warden's office have been performed in respect to the proper filing and preservation of important papers and documents, the keeping of proper records of correspondence and the treatment of letters to and from convicts, is strongly to be condemned. The vault and cupboard in the office were littered with a confused mass of books, papers and letters; many important papers and documents having disappeared. Only partial records were kept of the official correspondence. There were hundreds of letters addressed to convicts which had remained in the office for years unopened and undelivered. There had also been hundreds of similar letters burned unopened, from which the convicts, while burning them, had taken considerable sums of money.

ECONOMIC.

The economic management is simply the disciplinary management magnified. The accountant, storekeeper and steward have discharged their duties with apparent fidelity although beset with difficulties in the performance of them in quarters from which they should have received assistance and protection. The accountant has had the keeping of the accounts, while the business of the institution was being conducted in almost complete disregard to the regulations, which could not fail to make the account keeping difficult. The storekeeper has had supplies forced upon him in large quantities which were not requisitioned for, were not wanted, and at prices far above their market value. The steward has had the daily supplies drawn from the store scattered beyond his power to protect them, by the encouragement given by officers to convicts to purloin them. There is evidence that the contracts for supplies were manipulated in the interests of favoured dealers. The prices paid for goods purchased by public tender are invariably higher than similar goods could be purchased by large private consumers in the open market. In some instances the price paid for goods purchased by public tender, notably in the case of flour at $8.75 per barrel in 1889, is so greatly in excess of the market value which in Montreal averaged $4.89 per barrel, for the year, as to indicate wilful disregard of the public interest in awarding the contract. It is also shown that provisions and other goods, the property of the penitentiary, were in some cases given away to the officers, and in other cases sold to officers, not only of the penitentiary but to the ex-inspector of penitentiaries, at prices less than was being paid by the institution for similar goods. The practice has likewise been permitted of allowing officials to sell supplies to the institution using the name of others to conceal the transactions, and on one occasion the warden had been a serious offender in this respect.

INDUSTRIAL.

The industrial management is conducted chiefly in the interests of officers and of convicts. Requisitions are issued to those who apply for goods produced by convict labour in the stone department, especially at a nominal fee, and then the holder of the requisition is permitted to deal directly with the convicts as to the price at which they will undertake to make the goods, and this price goes into the pockets of the convicts. In some cases convicts have taken contracts in this way for considerable sums, and not a single dollar of it was paid into the prison revenue. In other cases they have contracted to produce goods for some of the officers for which they were paid a part in money and the balance in tobacco, in butter and cheese and other eatables. To facilitate this traffic the accountant is required to act as banker for the convicts by accepting deposits of their money, keeping an account of it, and paying orders that they may give on the amount standing to their credit. By the practice of this system, and the facilities provided for carrying it on, it is not surprising that a community of interests has been established between officers and convicts, and that each, in his own way, has been seeking opportunities to extract from his surroundings whatever can be turned to his advantage. By the regulations officers are permitted to have articles manufactured for their own use by the convicts on supplying their own material and paying twenty-five cents per day for convict labour. In practice it has been the custom for the officers to offer, in some cases, material entirely unsuitable, in other cases insufficient material, and in still other cases a broken piece of board, or a piece of cordwood picked up in the prison yard, and utterly useless as material from which to make the goods ordered by them, when all the unsuitable material would be thrown aside, and the proper material and any that might be lacking for the purpose required, would be taken from the penitentiary stores. There is no regular system of keeping the time of convicts employed on any piece of work, and the result is, the articles so produced are charged for at a few cents by the trade instructor, apparently on the principle that the party ordering it is "one of us" and ought not to be made pay more than a pittance for them. The privilege of obtaining convict labour at twenty-five cents per day is limited to the officers of the institution, to the exclusion of all others, who are required to pay fifty cents per day, but to evade the exclusion officers requisition for goods for their friends and neighbours, thereby admitting all to the privilege. In the stone quarrying department there have been the most flagrant waste and abuse. Enormous quantities of stone have been accepted from the contractor for use in the penitentiary wall that was not of the description called for by the contract, and that was absolutely unfit for any purpose to which it could be put in connection with the penitentiary work, and had to be thrown on the waste dump. Much of this stone, when delivered, was measured by convicts and paid for on their measurement. By the system pursued in the industries there was a premium put on the waste of stone. No charge was made for waste stone to those who applied for permission to cart it away. If they desired selected waste they would go to a convict working in the stone-shed and bargain with him to select a certain number of toise of a good quality of waste stone, roughly dressed to dimensions, and the price agreed upon to be paid to the convict. The contracting convict bargains with other convicts working in the stone-shed to assist him in getting out stone to fill his contract. All the convicts in the stone-shed are employed dressing stone to dimensions for use in the penitentiary wall, now a number of years in building. As illustrating the convicts methods in securing selected waste stone, they take advantage of there being a nice sound piece of stone on the blocks, nearly dressed, ready for the wall; but before the last stroke of the hammer is given, the remark is made "this will make good corporation stone" when it is struck a blow knocking off a corner to spoil it for the wall and it is then worked up to fill the convict's contract. By "corporation stone" is meant stone in which convicts have an interest. If the stone is for an official the convicts have an additional stimulus given them to select just such as are wanted, by gifts of tobacco, &c., and in this way large quantities of stone have been taken from the prison, for which it has received absolutely nothing. It need, therefore, be no matter of surprise that the quantity of stone paid for by the Department of Public Works in prison construction and for use in penitentiary wall is $65,662.52 in excess of the value of the stone contained in the work erected, calculated at the contract price. For all this excessive and wasteful expenditure of money the penitentiary has practically nothing to show, it being the result of the greatest maladministration. No officer has profited to a greater extent by the abuses of the industrial system than the warden, as will appear in the details hereafter given.

POLITICAL.

That the warden used his position and that of the prison organization under his control to actively promote the interest of his political friends will be abundantly shown by the evidence.

With this brief reference to the characteristics of penitentiary administration the Commission will now submit in considerable fulness of detail several matters into which they have extended their inquiries with the conclusions at which they have arrived respecting them, and will conclude with the recommendations which as a result of their inquiry, they have been led to adopt.

Department of Justice.

INDUSTRIES.

The trades carried on in the penitentiary are blacksmithing, carpentering, painting, stonecutting, stone quarrying and tinsmithing, all of which are engaged almost exclusively in supplying goods and materials for the use of the penitentiary. There are at rare intervals orders placed with the tailor and shoe shops for supplies required in other public departments, and some work is from time to time done for people in the neighbourhood, but not to an extent to make this a marked feature of these industries. In what follows as to the working of the industries there is in all cases the reservation as to their being conducted without a proper observance of the requisition system and with the irregularities which have been referred to elsewhere, the present purpose being to deal with them in respect to the service they give to the necessary penitentiary work. The tailor and shoe shops are in a good building and are well arranged; and under proper regulations and strict discipline could be made to produce a large amount of goods required for use in other public departments as well as supplying the needs of the penitentiary. The carpenter shop, although fairly equipped for plain carpenter work, has little or nothing to do. There is no work of construction going on in which carpenter work forms a part, and the demands upon the shop are limited to ordinary repairs. As is always the case where there are idle men, with tools and material at hand, there is a temptation to be doing something, and the result is this shop has been going on in a disorderly fashion, a prey to every abuse, and attended with a large loss of material taken from both the public works and penitentiary supplies, for which no proper return has been made. The shop has not been in charge of a competent instructor, and having little or nothing to do except in the way of making trifling repairs, it scarcely deserves to be called an industry.

BLACKSMITH SHOP.

The blacksmith shop should be made much more useful than it is in the work of the prison. The extraordinary thing in connection with it is, that much of the work it should do is done by outside tradesmen. The dressing of stonecutting tools and horse-shoeing which must cost hundreds of dollars yearly, to a large extent is done outside the prison. Much of the work it should do, it does not; and work it ought not to do, that it does. The regular and necessary work of the prison is in large part avoided, and the illicit work of the officers and others has a considerable share of its attention. If brought under proper regulation as the rules of the prison provide, there would be a saving in having it do the work of the prison, and an additional saving in the cost of material used in the work done for officers, for which the prison is not paid. The blacksmith instructor in charge of this department should be required to do all the work of the prison, and if not competent, should give way to another who is.

STONE-SHED.

The stonecutting has not been under the charge of a capable instructor. He was not a tradesman and was unable to properly instruct in stonecutting. In no department of trade is it more necessary that the instructor should be a man of knowledge and skill if waste of material is to be avoided.

This officer was compelled to rely on a convict to lay out every important piece of work, being himself incompetent to do it. He was no less incompetent to instruct than to how the work should be done. The convicts all knew this and having no confidence in his skill ventured to do pretty much as they pleased with the material they were working on.

From this they were led to destroy the stone for use in the wall that they might use it as "corporation stone" in filling their own contracts, elsewhere referred to in this report.

They had set up among themselves a system of convicts rights. This system was applied to the work they might or might not be properly called upon to perform. To work on stone for the penitentiary wall they regarded as legitimate, and yet this was open to tricks of the trade, in spoiling any of the stone they wanted to fill their own contracts. If required to work stone for any other purpose it came within the domain of convicts rights to say upon what terms the work should be done. If attempted to be done without in some way contributing to the profit and privileges of the convicts, piece after piece would be spoiled until they carried their ends. In this way the stonemasonry has passed from under disciplinary control and has been conducted as the convicts willed to have it. This department should have been placed under a thoroughly competent instructor, one possessed of the faculty of managing men, and if this had been done it would have resulted in the saving of thousands of dollars in the construction of prison work.

STONE QUARRY.

Previous to 1896 the stone for prison use was supplied by contract, worked by convict labour, and from quarries on the prison property. The transactions of the penitentiary in connection with the stone contracts have resulted in a great waste of public money. The part taken by the warden in these transactions throws upon him much of the responsibility for the money wasted. Not until very recently, however, and against the will of the warden, has stone quarrying become a prison industry under prison control. The stone now being quarried on the prison farm is of a much better average quality than the stone delivered by the contractor, by which it would appear that there was no necessity for accepting the poor quality of stone delivered by the latter. All the stone delivered at the prison has been for use in prison construction. When the construction shall have been completed it will not be practical to make stone quarrying and stonemasonry commercially successful as a prison industry, therefore, the time cannot be far distant when they will cease to give employment to the convicts. It were wise to consider whether it would not be advantageous to introduce into this prison the manufacture of woollen cloth, woollen blankets, and knitted goods such as are used in the penitentiaries and other departments of the public service. There could also be introduced the manufacture of cocoa mats and matting, brushes of various kinds and certain articles of furniture, such as are used in the several departments of Government.

WATER SUPPLY AND FIRE PROTECTION.

The water service of the penitentiary is supplied from a pumping station located near the river bank and about 1,500 feet from the prison. The station is equipped with duplicate pumps of sufficient capacity to afford reasonable fire protection to the prison property. The fire fighting apparatus consists chiefly of 700 feet $2\frac{1}{2}$ in. canvas hose now more than seven years old and unreliable for fire duty. There is no fire organization in the village, and in the event of fire in the penitentiary, sole reliance must be placed on the fire appliances with which it is provided. For this reason they should be sufficient and reliable, which now they are not. The number of wooden buildings within the prison are an element of danger from fire in the dry season of summer, and there should be no neglect in keeping the fire apparatus in a fit condition for duty. In connection with the water service there is being supplied from the prison water mains, water to the Convent of the Sisters of Providence and to two houses belonging to Cy. Bisson, merchant, for which no charge is made. There is nothing on record to show that any authority was ever given for a water service to these premises, and the privilege should not be continued unless fair compensation is given for the water supplied. As to the supply given to the convent, it appears from the evidence of Senator Bellerose and others that negotiations were entered into with some of the Ministers with a view to securing the concession, and their consent obtained, but no record of this appears. In the case of Bisson it is alleged he was given permission to connect his own dwelling with the prison water service on condition that the drain from the chaplain's residence might be connected with his, but it also appears that since that time he has taken upon himself to connect another building belonging to him with the same service without the knowledge or consent of any person in authority.

Department of Justice.

SEWAGE.

The sewage of the penitentiary discharges into a small stream at the bottom of the ravine crossing the penitentiary farm, and is conveyed into the Back River, about one mile below the penitentiary. In the summer season this stream becomes almost dry, when along its whole length, after receiving the sewage, it becomes very offensive. The horses and cattle on the adjoining farms below the penitentiary have access to the stream, and there are serious complaints by the owner of the property as to the damage he claims to have sustained year after year by his cattle drinking the water, so seriously polluted, as in a number of instances to have caused death to a number of them. This nuisance should be immediately abated, as there was no necessity for such a system of sewage construction. It would not be difficult to make a sewer to the river by a more direct route, and thus remove what has been a serious cause for legitimate complaint in the neighbourhood.

In addition to this sewage the contents of the cell buckets have to be disposed of daily, and this is done by emptying them through a pipe in the wall into a car which carries the contents to a compost heap situated on the farm some distance from the prison proper, but yet so close to both the prison and the village, as to be not only unsightly, but extremely offensive at times, and possibly injurious to health. In this connection it might be well for the prison authorities to consider the advisability of introducing a system similar to that in operation in other public institutions, whereby all this sewage could be utilized for the purpose of improving the farm.

OFFICERS.

There are on the disciplinary staff, 39 keepers and guards, a ratio of 1 to 9 $\frac{1}{4}$ convicts. This number can be reduced without endangering the safe-keeping of the convicts, and should be reduced to a ratio not exceeding 1 to 12 of the convict population. In the state prisons of New York State the number of keepers and guards is limited by law to a ratio of 1 to 14 convicts. In some of the state prisons, notably the Auburn State Prison, the full number allowed is not employed. From this it would appear the provision made by law is ample for the administration of this class of persons. At the Dannemora, N. Y., State Prison the convicts are employed on the public roads, in some cases long distances from the prison, and also on the streets of the village of Dannemora, in maintaining a system of waterworks erected and operated by the prison. Such an employment of the convicts is similar to the employment of the convict on the farm and in the stone quarry at this penitentiary, and with a proper disposition of keepers and guards, and with judicious management, the number certainly should not exceed a ratio of 1 to 12 of the convicts.

Since the opening of the inquiry several officers have been retired or dismissed, thus facilitating the work of reduction and reorganization. In this latter work care should be taken not to employ any officer who is not sufficiently familiar with the English and French languages as to be able to give their commands and instructions intelligibly in both. We found several officers and a large number of prisoners who could speak but one language, and from the information received from reliable sources it was evident that much unnecessary friction arose between these officers and prisoners as a result. The difficulty becomes aggravated in the case of an instructor who is not able to impart to some of the convicts under his charge, the instructions necessary to enable him to learn the trade at which he is employed, or to carry out the orders given him. A case in point is that of the shoemaker instructor, who can speak scarcely any English, and in consequence cannot properly direct the work of several convicts under him who understand nothing of the French language. There is another matter of importance to which attention should be paid in making future appointments, namely, the education of the applicants. The Commissioners were surprised to find that no less than nine of the officers, some of whom held important positions, such as the engineer, a gate keeper and instructor, are unable to read and write notwithstanding that it is expressly required that all officers shall be able to do both, and that there are several others who can write but little and that in a very indifferent fashion. The warden whose duty it was to see that these men were properly qualified, appears, upon his own admission, to have made no effort to learn what their qualifications in this respect were. He knew that two of them were illiterate but did not report them.

It is not necessary that subordinate officers be able to read and write both languages, although they should be able to speak both and write one intelligibly. In the case of superior officers a thorough knowledge of both ought to be a necessary qualification. Most of the superior officers have all that is required in this respect but some have not, and amongst the latter is the warden, who admits that he cannot carry on any correspondence in English and his ability to do so in French is very limited and imperfect.

In fact from an educational standpoint this officer is unfortunately almost entirely devoid of qualifications for his present office. It will be impossible to maintain the efficiency of the staff and carry on satisfactorily the work of the prison if this carelessness in the selection of employees is allowed to continue. One of the duties of the warden as well as the inspector is to see that all officers are sworn in, when finally appointed, but your Commissioners find that nearly forty officers, who were appointed since the present warden took office, have not been sworn in, and so far as we can learn, the warden himself has not taken the oath of office as warden. The warden knew these officers had not been sworn in yet made no effort to have them properly qualified.

DISCIPLINE.

While outwardly it would appear to the casual observer, that the discipline of this prison was of superior character, yet inquiry brought to light that most of the officers had but a very indifferent knowledge of their duties, and many of them, owing to their being illiterate, were unable of themselves to acquire any knowledge save what was picked up from time to time on their daily rounds. The rules providing for regular instructions were practically a dead letter, the practice latterly being to give an officer some instructions upon his first entering upon duties and leaving him afterwards to depend upon whatever he could learn from his fellow officers. The work of holding monthly musters was delegated by the warden to the deputy warden and chief keeper, but the warden took no precaution to see that this branch of the work was attended to, and, as a result, these meetings were of late years practically abandoned. That subordinate officers paid little heed to many of the rules and regulations laid down for their guidance, is not perhaps to be wondered at, when their superiors openly neglected their enforcement or condoned the violation of them by others. It is not surprising that dishonest practices were prevalent to a considerable extent when it is found that officers actually caught purloining goods which did not belong to them, were either allowed to go with the infliction of a small fine or with no punishment whatever; and even when one of their number who was forced to leave the prison because of his being detected in committing an unnatural crime with a convict, was recommended by the warden as entitled to a retiring allowance which he actually received. The evidence shows that much of the so-called instructions given by the warden to his subordinates, was given in such a harsh manner as to create fear of him rather than respect, and this harsh treatment meted out to them in the presence of convicts, as often occurred, could not but have the effect of destroying the influence of such subordinates over those in their charge. As is elsewhere set out in this report, the rules governing the issuing of requisitions and delivery notes and the keeping of books by the different instructors, were practically ignored, as were those relating to passes and generally governing the dealings of officials and others with the prison. Little or no precaution was taken to protect the prison property from the petty thieving and other loose dealings of many of the officers and convicts which had become a common complaint at the prison, and for the prevalence of which the relaxation of the foregoing rules were largely to blame. Then again the warden appears to have usurped the duties of very many of the officials, particularly of those who had most to do with the management of the more important departments, as the farm, engineer's and blacksmith's shops, stone-shed and quarry. All these things culminated in a blind obedience to the warden, whether that meant violating the rules or not, with the result above indicated.

Department of Justice.

LOCKERS AND COOKING.

There is not any serious amount of trouble in this prison from the presence of the lockers and the cooking abuse, because these are not so prevalent at the present time as in other prisons. It is only a short time, however, since they were pretty generally in operation here. There should be no great difficulty in totally eliminating the locker system from the shops. The only excuse for its presence is that it gives the several convicts a means for protecting their particular tools or implements of trade from the rapaciousness of their fellow convicts. If there must be such protection it should be entirely under the control of the officer in charge of the shop or department, and in the absence of some better arrangement a large cupboard, with compartments if necessary, for each prisoner might be supplied in which these articles could be placed under lock and key during the time they are not in use, the key to be always in possession of the officer. There never was an excuse for permitting cooking outside of the kitchen, and no officer should be retained in the service who tolerates its continuance.

CONVICTS' CORRESPONDENCE, &C.

There is nothing perhaps to which the average convict, or at least the better class of them, attaches more importance than the correspondence, restricted though it be, which passes between them and the relatives or friends outside. It is the only legitimate mode of communication with the outer world, for those of them who have not relatives or friends near by who take advantage of the stringent rules permitting occasional visits to the prisoners. Even those who are so fortunately situated as to have those friends within visiting distance, have others—and perhaps the most valued of them—so far removed as to make the mails the only means of communication. Apart from the convict himself, only those who stand by and witness the eagerness with which he receives and peruses the message from the wife, the mother or the child, as the case may be, can fully realize all that such a message means to the unfortunate behind the bars, and only the convict can feel the loss which follows the break in the chain of correspondence which they strive to maintain. No one should be more impressed with this condition of convict life than those whose duty it is to inspect and deliver all the correspondence coming and going between the prisoners and those with whom they are in communication. Yet your Commissioners find that the prison officials directly responsible for the carrying out of this branch of the work have been as callous in their treatment of the unfortunates under their charge as they well could be. During the whole term of office of the present warden and his clerk, the negligence manifested in this connection has been nothing short of criminal. Early in 1895, just before the change in prison inspectors, the present warden caused to be burned in the prison furnaces huge quantities of documents and papers of various kinds pertaining to prison work and with them hundreds—and it is said thousands—of letters to and from the prisoners, many of them containing remittances, some of which were found and taken by those employed in the work of destruction—and most, if not all of them, containing that which was of more value—the news from home, or the kindly word of advice and encouragement from those who were in all probability in the best position to give it. Notwithstanding all that was consigned to the flames at that time there remained scattered in and about the warden's vault and other receptacles in his office, quantities of these letters—which had been added to until they now number hundreds—consisting of those written by convicts to their friends and from relatives and friends to the convicts—some of the latter had never been opened—almost all of them opened and passed as being of the proper character to reach those to whom they were addressed. Letters to and from all degrees of kindred—letters from wives and mothers since dead, to husbands and sons still in confinement—even sacred things as crucifixes, bibles and the like, thrown here and there instead of being permitted to reach their proper destination. Not only were these letters and various articles thrown to one side but numbers of petitions addressed to the Governor General, Minister of Justice and others were pigeon holed and never allowed to reach those to whom they were addressed. The same negligence was manifested repeatedly when the Department of Justice requested certain reports concerning prisoners, and it was found that time and again the warden was reprimanded for this negligence. Occasionally a prisoner was found to have sufficient courage to complain of the non-delivery of the letters, petitions, &c., and more than one of these was severely punished for having done so. It is admitted by the warden that from time to time he saw numbers of convicts letters in and about the prison which required attention but he did nothing about them.

The warden admits that he allowed his clerk to keep the moneys of the prisoners and that received for admission of visitors mixed with his (the clerk's) own funds, but did not put a stop to it; that the work in his office was neglected or improperly done—that books which should have been kept were not kept—official letters not copied—that the vault in which should be the official records, was in a most ill-kept condition, the reports, vouchers, correspondence, contracts, tenders, and other official documents, being deposited without any regard for order, in the various pigeon holes, thrown upon the shelves or strewn upon the floor. Your Commissioners found that several tenders and contracts which they required were missing, and it is said in evidence by Papineau that these also had been destroyed by the warden, but the latter denies this although in his letter to the Commissioners, dated 5th May, 1897, speaking of these missing documents he says:—"As regards such contracts and tenders which are not now inclosed, or not among those already in your hands, they have presumably been, through an oversight, destroyed a couple of years ago along with some other old papers of prison routine."

The warden's clerk pleads nothing better than "carelessness" as the reason for this deplorable condition of things, while the warden himself tries to shift the blame entirely to the shoulders of his subordinate, but the fact is these things were going on under his eyes, and he must have known of it, if he were paying the least attention to the work of his subordinate, and besides this it is established that in many ways, and continually this condition of affairs was being brought to his attention and nothing was done to put a stop to it. These two officials are alike responsible for this worse than negligence which of itself is sufficient to justify their dismissal.

THE FARM.

The farm connected with the penitentiary consists of 201½ arpents of which 64½ arpents were under grain and root crops, 44 in meadow and 40 under pasturage and the remaining 52½ arpents are occupied by the warden's residence and garden, and the officers' cottages and grounds, the Protestant chaplain's residence, the inclosure of the penitentiary walls and the tram road and quarry. Included in the area under pasturage is the ravine which crosses the farm, having in some places a considerable breadth of bottom land, and also the portion of land formerly occupied as a brick-yard. The soil of the farm is generally of fair quality, although light in some places, of but little depth to the rock in others, and in some portions too wet for cultivation in a wet season. On the whole, however, it appears to be of fair average quality as compared with adjoining farms, and to be capable in ordinary seasons of producing fairly good crops, coarse grain and hay. With the exception of a few acres of land, lying between the prison and the ravine referred to, planted to root crops, the cultivation of the farm is neglected and not nearly as productive as it could be made under a proper system of cultivation. The management of the farm certainly does not show thrift and good husbandry as compared with many other farms in the locality. The growing crops are choked with wild mustard and other weeds, and there is an absence of careful attention to farm work observable over the whole farm.

On the portion of the farm formerly occupied as a brick-yard, (brick-making being abandoned) there remains standing a large dilapidated looking shed that adds to the general appearance of untidyness and neglect. The farm instructor admits the unsatisfactory condition of the farm, and explains it by saying that although he is a farm instructor, he is not permitted to have anything to do with its general management, this having been assumed by the warden, and that, therefore, he does not feel that he is responsible for its present condition.

Department of Justice.

In this connection it is interesting to be reminded that Warden Ouimet at one time occupied the position of farm instructor on this farm, and was removed from it because of his incompetence. Now after many years, and after becoming warden, he practically ignored the farm instructor, and takes upon himself the responsibilities of the position in which he before failed, and to display in the present condition of the farm that passing years have added nothing to his capabilities as a farm manager. It may appear remarkable that for an institution having no stock to pasture, 40 arpents of the farm should be devoted to pasturage. It is also quite remarkable that an institution having 17 horses, an abundance of labour, and a farm of about 150 arpents available for cultivation, should find it necessary to purchase every year, at exorbitant prices, large quantities of feed and fodder to maintain these horses. Nearly all the land under pasturage is suitable for cultivation, for if it will yield pasture it can be made to produce hay and other crops. What more need be said to condemn the poor management? With capable management every part of the farm should be kept in a high state of cultivation, when there would be no need of expending large sums of money every year in the purchase of farm products for prison maintenance. The 40 acres of pasturage is used to pasture cows for the officers and others, at a charge of $6 per cow for the season, and until recent years no charge was made at all for pasturage in many cases. Apart from the improvidence of selling pasture and buying feed and fodder which the land pastured could be made to produce more profitably, there accompanies it a most objectionable practice of children and others, who take the cattle to and from pasture, mingling with the convicts on the farm. In the interest of economy, and of good morals in the community, as well as of good order and discipline in the prison, the practice of pasturing cattle on the farm should be discontinued. Farm Instructor Kenny, while doubtless quite able to manage the farm if allowed to exercise his judgment and knowledge in carrying on the work, has not been giving his undivided attention to his duties. He is engaged in cultivating a market and fruit garden with the assistance of convict labour, by consent of the warden, and there is reason to believe that this has taken up a large share of the time and attention he should have given to his duties as farm instructor. He should be required to give up his market gardening business, as a first step towards placing him in his proper position. He should then be given the management of the farm, and if after having the opportunity, he is not able to improve its condition, he should be required to give way to a more capable and successful farmer.

Certain testimony given by the warden drew the attention of your Commissioners to the extraordinary prices paid for portions of the lands connected with the prison, and although these transactions are of a remote date they deemed it advisable to inquire briefly into one of them, which appears to be a fair sample of several such transactions. The testimony of Césaire Germain, Notary of Montreal, formerly of St. Vincent de Paul, and the exhibits filed herewith set forth the facts connected with the purchase of the prison quarry. This piece of land comprising some seventy-six or eighty arpents, was formerly owned by one François Xavier Auclair (now dead) who said he had tried to sell it to the Government for $9,000 but did not succeed. He, however, negotiated with one Eustache Hugh Lemay, who appears by the deed and by the evidence of Mr. Germain to have paid $9,000 to Auclair for the property on the 12th December, 1872, and sold it to the Government on the 21st October, 1873, for $18,000. The sale made by Auclair to Lemay was considered at the time an extraordinary one, as the property at top value was worth about $3,500. That Lemay made the purchase with the intention of selling to the Government is evidenced from the fact that he secured from the owners of lands intervening between this quarry land and the prison farm a right of way connecting these two parcels. In connection with this purchase we find the following extract in the 5th annual report of the directors of penitentiaries:—

“ A valuable limestone quarry of large extent, with land in all about eighty acres, is situated about one mile from the penitentiary, whence the requisite supply of building and rubble stone for the new edifices can be readily obtained. As extension mason work such as bridges, culverts, &c., in connection with the railway projected on the north shore, between Quebec and Montreal must be undertaken at no distant day this quarry would be a source of great profit to the Government. The directors have therefore recommended its purchase, and after a close valuation by competent and reliable judges have placed the sum of $18,000 for that purpose in their estimates for St. Vincent de Paul. This sum it may be added is nearly $10,000 under the lowest valuation price."

PURCHASING SUPPLIES.

Ostensibly the purchase of supplies is on the public tender plan, but as a fact large quantities of goods are purchased in the open market, and as the public tender system is accepted in theory as being most in accord with true economy, it is instructive to trace its workings in the transactions of this institution. Until recent years all tenders called for by public notice were addressed to the warden, and by him handed or transmitted them to the inspector, who, after opening them, submitted them to the Minister that he might by his initials on the tenders indicate the awarding of the contracts. Owing to the large numbers of tenders and contracts destroyed or missing during the last ten years, the Commissioners are not able to list each particular tender and contract, and therefore are not able to make as full and detailed a statement in this connection as is desirable in so important a feature of the inquiry. It is found in numerous instances contracts have been awarded for large quantities of supplies on a single tender, and therefore without competition. The supplies so purchased in the seven years ended 30th June, 1894, amount in the aggregate to $26,171.82. In a number of instances where more than one tender has been received, the contract has been given to the highest tender, notwithstanding the initialing in some cases of the lowest tender by the Minister to indicate to whom the contract was to be awarded. No explanation is to be found on record as to why this course was taken, although the difference between the highest and the lowest tenders in some cases amounts to hundreds of dollars. The character and responsibility of the parties tendering do not appear to have been a factor to influence the awarding of the contracts. What appears remarkable, however, in this connection is that the tenders on which the contracts were awarded in most cases are not to be found. Again there were contracts for supplies in considerable quantities continued from year to year without calling for fresh tenders, and without any change being made in prices. There are also instances of contractors being permitted on the eve of the expiration of their contracts, when markets were falling to deliver large quantities of supplies to the institution, without being requisitioned for, and sufficient to last eight or ten months, that they might reap the advantage of the lower market rates on the goods furnished.

A notable case of this kind occurred in 1896 in the delivery of pork. The price of pork had depreciated $3 per barrel, and the contract would expire on 30th June. The consumption of pork at the penitentiary is now 75 to 80 barrels per year; less in the spring and summer than in the fall and winter months. In the month of March the steward had six barrels in stock, and requisitioned for twelve more, making eighteen in all, or sufficient to last with the then rate of consumption to the end of June. The contractor induced the Department of Justice to allow him to deliver 75 barrels of pork to the penitentiary, which was done. The steward did not want it, being opposed to carrying a large stock through the summer months. The warden was also opposed to receiving it but on pressure from the department fifty out of the 75 barrels were accepted, making a total quantity sufficient to last to the end of the month of January of the following year. The contract made for pork in June, 1896, for the fiscal year 1896-97 was $3 per barrel less than the contract of the previous year, so that the contractors by being permitted to force the fifty barrels of pork on the institution, made $150, at the expense of the institution. This abuse of the penitentiary management by the Department of Justice is not limited to the wasteful expenditure in maintaining the institution, but is no less an abuse of the convicts who had cause to complain of having to eat pork that went off flavour before the last of it was consumed. The prices paid for supplies generally are much higher than similar goods could be bought by private purchase in the open market. Even in staple goods purchased in large quantities the prices paid in many cases are 15 per cent to 80 per cent above the fair market value of the goods. In some instances the public tender system has been abandoned because of combinations or other methods adopted to exact high prices, and in such cases the goods have been purchased in the open market at much lower rates than the tendered prices received for them. Every year there have been purchases in the open market of considerable quantities of supplies for this institution, and comparing prices and values, there appears to have been greater economy in those purchases than in the purchases of goods made by public tender.

LOSS RESULTING FROM SENDING OUT WORK WHICH SHOULD BE DONE IN THE PRISON.

In connection with both the Department of Justice and the Public Works there has been a considerable loss caused by sending out work to be done which should have been done in the prison, and by purchasing articles which should have been made there. Examples of this class of transactions are to be found in the Auditor General's Reports such as the payment out during the past ten years by the Department of Justice of $381.67 for shoeing the warden's carriage horses; and by the Department of Public Works during the same period of $5,310.30 for recutting and sharpening bush hammers and tools used in the stone-shed; and during the eight years from 1887-88 to 1894-95 of $690 for hammer handles and stonecutters' mallets. The whole sum thus paid out for blacksmith work under the foregoing headings amounts to $5,691.97, a sum almost equal to the salary of the blacksmith instructor during the same period.

There is no good reason why this work could not have been done at the prison, and the blacksmith instructor claims that, perhaps with the exception of the horse-shoeing, this blacksmith work could have been done at his shop had it been given an opportunity of doing it. There is no good reason, either, why such articles as hammer handles and stonecutters' mallets could not have been made in the carpenter's shop.

The Department of Public Works is, of course, mainly responsible for this loss, but the prison authorities should have made some effort to secure this additional work for the convicts.

TAILORING DEPARTMENT.

This has been apparently one of the most extravagant departments in this prison, but your Commissioners note that a change for the better has taken place, and with reasonable efforts at economy a still larger saving may be hoped for. The following statement will indicate more clearly what is referred to. These statements are based upon the returns to be found in the reports of the Minister of Justice covering the fiscal period 1888-89 to 1895-96, inclusive, and gives the average cost per capita for the whole period in the five penitentiaries.

It appears from the evidence that prior to 1896-97, the prices paid on all clothing supplies were excessive and no doubt much of the unusual expenditure may be attributed to that cause, but the evidence of general loose management, petty thieving, and the trafficking which was continually going on in this department and the change room amongst the convicts themselves, and with the officers, has had a great deal to do with it.

With the exercise of proper care in buying, limiting the number of uniforms supplied each officer to what is necessary for prison purposes, and putting an end to the abuses above referred to there is no reason why this department at St. Vincent de Paul should not be conducted more cheaply and satisfactorily than are any of the other prisons at the present time.

THE CHANGE ROOM.

The condition of this department at the time this investigation opened and its management previous thereto under Napoleon Plouffe, could not well have been worse. The stock of clothing was poorly kept and the distribution of it carried on without any proper record, so that it was impossible to tell what was on hand at the time without taking stock. Neither could it be shown what should be in stock, or what had become of that which was missing. It was from this department that the convict Denis procured the extra pants, coats, boots, &c., which were given by him to Assistant Engineer Trudeau, and of which there was no record. It is not to be wondered at that this state of affairs existed when we find that the instructor knew nothing whatever about bookkeeping and admitted that he could not prepare a balance sheet showing the stock under his charge.

In this department cooking appeared to have been carried to a considerable extent, and from the kitchen to the convicts in this room quantities of provisions were at all times finding their way without hinderance from this officer. Whether this resulted from carelessness or neglect on his part or from the fact that his trafficking with the convicts and dishonest dealings with prison property, had left him at their mercy, is not known, but it is safe to assume that a combination of these elements was the cause of these wrongful acts. This officer was recently found guilty of larceny and fined. The Commissioners are strongly of the opinion that not only should an officer so found guilty be immediately dismissed, but he should be prosecuted. If such offences on the part of officers are to be treated so lightly it will be difficult indeed to impress convicts with a sense of the justice of their incarceration for long periods for similar offences. The evidence taken at the time showed that the officer had secreted under his own clothes an undershirt belonging to a prisoner named Lee, who has been transferred to Kingston Penitentiary, and was detected in the act of carrying it away from the prison. The only justification offered for the leniency extended to him was that the property belonged to the prisoner and not to the prison, but this could not change the nature of the offence, and the very fact of his having hidden the goods, as he did, indicated his consciousness of acting dishonestly. He maintained that the articles were returned from Kingston Penitentiary with the clothing of the prisoner which was returned to St. Vincent de Paul, but there is the positive evidence of Guard Fitzgibbon who accompanied Lee to Kingston, that the prisoner did not take the article in question with him, and this he knew to be the fact because of his having searched Lee on that occasion, which statements are corroborated by the deputy warden. The evidence shows that Lee lost the garments some days prior to his departure, and this taken with what appears to the Commissioners to be the untrue statement of Plouffe, that the garment was returned from Kingston, indicates that the latter had possession of it before the prisoner left and had premeditated the dishonest act. There seems to have been many complaints regarding the dishonesty of this officer—that he was having various articles of clothing made at the prison for his family, and taking prison goods without paying for same, and his own evidence coupled with the finding in his department of various articles referred to in the evidence of Chief Keeper Contant and Keeper Gibson strengthen the suspicions which have been aroused, and led to the belief that they were well founded, and in fact he admitted having appropriated certain articles of prison property to which he had no claim. He continually trafficked with the convicts and his position gave him special facilities for so doing. He bought from them for money tobacco, &c., their discharge suits and various other articles of wearing apparel and received many things from them gratuitously.

The Commissioners would be disposed to recommend the dismissal of this officer were it not that some of his offences have already been dealt with, although not in a manner to reflect credit upon those who are responsible for the leniency extended to him. They, therefore, recommend his retirement.

TRAFFICKING WITH PRISONERS, &c.

It is recognized by leading authorities on penology that no more pernicious system can be introduced or permitted to exist in any prison than trafficking amongst prisoners, or amongst prisoners, officers and outsiders, and between officers and the prison. The practice of officers selling to the prison under their own name or that of some relative or friend, was admitted to be somewhat common and is said to be in force to some extent at the present time. There are many cases of this kind. Officers have sold horses, milk, vegetables, socks, &c., from time to time, but the most glaring case is that in which the warden himself is the principal. He had a horse which he says he purchased from his brother, the Hon. Justice Ouimet, but for which he says he did not pay. This animal he sold to the prison, using for that purpose the name of a young man Manseau, and receiving the price himself. The price paid by the prison was $115, which according to the evidence given was much more than the animal was worth, it being unsound and broken winded at the time of the sale. At another time he attempted to sell to the prison another unsound horse procured from the Hon. Justice Ouimet, but this sale was prevented by the objection of the farmer that the horse was unsound and unfit for the prison. He was to get $140 or $150 for this horse, but the farmer says it was worth little or nothing in the condition it was. Last spring the warden tried to sell a third horse to the prison, but desisted when the farmer objected that such a purchase would be contrary to law. It is not only against the rules and regulations of all well organized penal institutions, but is subversive of good order and discipline and a menace to the safety of public property and the integrity of officials. It is indeed difficult to understand how this system could have been permitted to grow to the extent it has at this prison. The fact that this latter class of transactions is carried on under fictitious names leads to the conclusion such is being done or attempted to be done without the knowledge of the department. Nearly all the officers of this prison have either bought from or sold to this institution, contrary to well defined regulations forbidding them to do so.

It is true no one of these transactions involves any large sum of money, but in the aggregate they amount to considerable, and beget a familiarity with prison property which leads to very deplorable results, as has been shown in many cases during this inquiry.

It is admittedly difficult to entirely prevent the prevalence of this practice amongst the convicts themselves. More or less of it will be carried on under the most rigid discipline, but there can be no excuse whatever for the open and apparently unchecked intercourse of this kind carried on with the sanction of the warden, between the convicts and apparently any others who might wish to deal with them.

The prisoners were permitted to sell to officers and others, articles of various kinds made by them and in most cases so far as officers are concerned, to give these articles as presents. Officers, such as Demers and Kenny, were for a time permitted to sell fruit, &c., in considerable quantities to the convicts, in return for which they received money, as well as tobacco and fancy articles. It was quite a common practice for guards to sell and give tobacco to the prisoners, although the law provides heavy penalties for such offences and it is not a matter for great surprise to find these privileges followed by complaints that officers were actually supplying liquor to the convicts, and the finding of convicts on several occasions under the influence of intoxicants. Convicts at the pump house were able, with the knowledge of those in whose charge they were, to procure from grocers in the village anything they desired, including butter, ham, eggs, tobacco, &c., and generally speaking those of the prisoners, who had the means of purchasing, were able to procure pretty much what they wished, particularly if they were in the good graces of the officers in whose charge they happened to be. In the change room was found a small job printing office in operation, the plant in which was owned by the prisoner in charge. Some printing for the prison was done by him in return for the privilege of having the proceeds of all other printing done by him for outsiders placed to his credit. Your Commissioners have learned since leaving St. Vincent de Paul that this prisoner has been forced to make an assignment for the benefit of his creditors. At the stone-shed, convicts were allowed to make tomb stones and monuments and do general stonecutting, not only for officers, but for any one else who wished to deal with them. For tombstones, the prison received $1 for the requisition and in the case of monuments, the fee was $5. The balance was a matter for arrangement between the purchaser and the prisoner, the latter being paid in money, tobacco, &c., for his labour. Some of this money was paid into the accountant's office to the credit of the prisoner, but often to the prisoner himself. In this way, Clerk of Works Labelle, procured almost all the stone used in building his two houses for which he only paid the prison $12. Quevillon and others got a considerable quantity of stone dressed for a similar purpose, and for this nothing was paid to the prison, although the money so earned should certainly have been so paid. Almost all the stone used by the prisoners in this work was supplied from the stone furnished by the contractor and paid for by the Public Works Department.

It appears from some of the evidence that a considerable quantity of good stone was made useless for prison purposes, by prisoners who had bargained with purchasers for the supply of certain stone and took this method of procuring the material.

Some prisoners were permitted to sell their discharge clothing to officers Plouffe, Prevost, Charlebois, Leblanc, and others for a money or other consideration, and officers, on the other hand sold their uniforms to prisoners. In almost every way possible it was permitted to deal thus between prisoners and others without any regard for prison rules and regulations or the propriety of the transaction.

Your Commissioners approve earnestly of any legitimate arrangement by which prisoners, in a systematic way and as a result of dealing directly with the prison management, can lay by something with which to enable them to face the necessities consequent upon liberation, but they cannot but condemn most strongly the pernicious system above referred, which they found in full operation at this prison.

Department of Justice.

RULES REGULATING SALE OF ARTICLES AND WORK FOR OFFICERS.

Almost every rule, which has for its object the protection of public property and the prevention of dishonesty on the part of employees, has been openly and continually violated at this prison. Amongst the many such rules in force are the following :—

(228.) The gate-keeper shall permit no articles to be taken out without a pass authorizing it from the warden, or deputy warden, or accountant.

(332.) The chief keeper, the storekeeper and the steward, or such three officers as the inspector may name, shall form a board, whose duty it shall be to determine whether an article which has been in use is unserviceable or not.

(333.) Officers in charge of departments shall be held responsible for every article given to them, until it shall have been condemned by the board as unserviceable.

(334.) When articles in use become unserviceable, they shall be sent to the storekeeper with a description thereof in writing by the proper officer, and the storekeeper shall notify the other members of the board of a day and hour convenient for them to assemble to pronounce their judgment thereupon.

(335.) The board shall determine whether the articles should be repaired, used for any other purpose, sold, or declared condemned, and lay their decision before the warden.

(336.) They shall keep a record of all articles submitted to them, and of their proceedings with regard to them.

(14.) The warden may, if he see fit so to do, sell at a fair price to any officer for his own use only, any article manufactured in the penitentiary shops, or grown upon the penitentiary property, but not any other article the property of the penitentiary.

(15.) The warden may, if he see fit so to do, allow any officer for his own use only, at a fair value, to have any work done for him in the penitentiary shops.

(16.) Nothing shall be so sold, and no work shall be so done :—

(a.) Without an application in writing by the officer, stating that the article sought to be purchased, or the work to be done, is for his own use only ; and

(b.) Without a proper requisition, duly signed by the proper officers, according to the penitentiary rules in other cases in force.

(17.) Subject to revision as hereinafter provided, the fair price or value of any article sold or work done for the warden shall be fixed by the deputy warden and accountant jointly, and in order cases by the warden.

(18.) Any officer signing a false application shall be dismissed.

(20.) Any article so sold or work so done shall be paid for in cash on or before the last day of the month in which it is delivered or finished.

(21.) No officer who is in arrears in respect of an article so sold to him or work so done for him, shall be paid his monthly salary until such arrears are discharged by payment.

The neglect of rule 228 was apparently of daily occurrence, in fact little attention appears to have been paid to it, excepting in cases where goods were obtained upon requisition and not always then. Verbal orders were being constantly given by the warden and his deputy and under these there were carried from the prison, by prison employees and others, large quantities of stone, articles which had been brought for repairs, fuel, bread, meat, ice, &c., for the warden and deputy, and different articles at various times for these and other officers. The substitution of the verbal orders for written passes and the general relaxation of this rule naturally led to permitting much of the prison property to go out of the prison yard without any pass, written or verbal, and without the prison being in any way indemnified for the same. This abuse was intensified by placing in charge of the gate, as a relieving officer, one who could neither read or write, and who consequently could not tell what articles were to be permitted to go through on the pass which might be handed to him.

Rules 332 to 336, provided for the organization of a "Survey Board," consisting of the chief keeper, storekeeper and steward, or such three officers as the inspector may name, whose duty it is to decide, when articles have become unfit for prison use or not, and whether they should be repaired, sold or condemned.

These duties were to a large extent, assumed by the warden and no attention paid to the board, and consequently much of the prison property found its way out of the prison without their knowledge or consent. This was particularly the case in regard to property disposed of from the engineer's department and from the stables and farm, and is fully established by the evidence of these officers and those who should compose the Board of Survey.

Rules 14, 15, 16, 17, 18 and 20, are as plain and simple as they well can be and of the most imperative character, yet the evidence shows that scarcely a day passes upon which one or more of them was not broken.

The first of them requires that no article, save such as is made or grown upon prison premises, shall be sold to any officer, nevertheless it is found that the warden got fuel, meats, oil, stone, &c., the deputy warden meats, wood, oil, &c., Leblanc and Demers purchased the empty bags, flour barrels, pork barrels and syrup puncheons, at low figures, and horses, wagons, &c., &c., were sold to various other officers. These pork and flour barrels and bags were sold to the officers named in large quantities, without requisition properly made therefor, and without any authority save that of the warden, and were afterwards disposed of by these officers at a considerable profit to themselves, sometimes over 100 per cent, which should have gone to the prison. So it was in the case of several of the other articles mentioned. Many officers buying tombstones, monuments, horses, sleighs, buggies, stone, &c., &c., all of which is forbidden by these rules. The next rule (15) forbids any officer buying goods from the prison for any one other than himself, and then only under certain regulations and restrictions. This rule was repeatedly broken by officers with the warden's knowledge and sanction, and by himself, as for instance, in the case of the steam yacht furnished for his brother on the requisitions of the warden and Clerk of Works Labelle at the warden's request. So in the case of several subordinate officers who procured the making of furniture, refrigerators, &c., for persons not connected with the prison. Such of this work so procured, was, when charged for at all, only charged at the price at which officers are allowed to get it which is understood to be about half the amount to be charged non-officers. Subsec. (a) of the rule (16) was entirely ignored, your Commissioners not being able to find an instance in which its requirements had been complied with. From the rule laid down in subsec. (b) the deviations were very frequent. The great bulk of the prison stone was given without requisition or record of any kind; so for a long time with the scrap iron, which Daignault was given to sell and the proceeds of which went into his own pockets; so with all the bones, which, up to last year, were given to the keeper at the piggery and the proceeds of which he was allowed to keep; for the bread, meats, ice, fuel, oil, &c., regularly supplied to the warden and his deputy, requisitions were made at long intervals only, in most cases yearly, and after delivery of the goods; much work was done for various other officers and no requisition made until afterwards and in many cases only at the end of a month; requisition as between the various departments were made in the same way. It is also established that in most cases the requisitions and delivery notes were made at same time, and that in the interval between the giving of an order and the making of the requisition and delivery note, no proper record of the time and material was kept. There is ample evidence both of a general and specific character to warrant the belief that the general non-observance of this rule was a common practice, which led to much of the dishonest dealing with the prison property. To justify the great neglect of this rule the deputy warden, at the presentation of the warden's defence, alleged that it was impossible to enforce it. But from another witness (Nantel) heard upon the same occasion it was learned that while formerly it was the practice at his shop to do work for the farm, &c., and only make out requisitions monthly, he was now having the requisitions made out before the work was started. The deputy warden in defence of the same violation quoted from page 21 of the Supplementary Report of the Minister of Justice for 1886, being an extract from a memo. of the then Deputy Minister of Justice to the then inspector. The extract is as follows:—

“While accepting generally the views expressed by you, the Minister is of opinion that we cannot, by general rules and regulations, make provision for every case, and that much must be left to the good judgment and discretion of the warden, and that within certain limits each warden must be left to choose as to whether he will communicate verbally or by writing with his officer."

The context of this memo. clearly shows that it had no reference to or bearing upon the question of requisitions whatever, and in no way justified the slightest variations from the foregoing rules.

Rule 17 was totally ignored, the accountant and deputy warden never having been consulted in the matter, hence there was practically no check upon the quantity or price of what the warden got.

Rule 18 was totally ignored. Had this rule been enforced it would have required the dismissal of the warden, and many of his subordinates long ago.

Rules 20 and 21 were ignored in several instances, particularly in the case of those officers, such as the warden and deputy, who made their requisitions for several kinds of articles before referred to only yearly.

As has been before said these rules were especially framed for the purpose of preventing the loose and dishonest dealing which has actually occurred in this prison, and most of which, in the opinion of the Commissioners, would not have occurred had these regulations been strictly enforced. The only excuses offered for their non-enforcement is the saving of time, but it is submitted that this cannot be taken as a sufficient excuse in any such case. The attainment of the object which these rules have in view is of vastly more importance than the amount of time which might be lost in their enforcement, and under no circumstances should any deviations from them be permitted. It has been urged by way of justification for the carrying on of the practices forbidden by these rules, that it was the custom in former years, but it must be borne in mind that it was to put an end to these very practices that the rules were specially framed by Order in Council of 30th June, 1887, shortly after the present warden was appointed. It would appear from the conduct and testimony of the chief officers of the prison that they had little regard for these, and many of the other regulations laid down for their government, and this is not surprising when it is found that the ex-inspector looked upon them with contempt, and characterized them as the production of feather-headed people, and adds that they should have been abolished long ago.

DISHONEST PRACTICES.

In addition to the wastefulness which prevailed in the prison, which was the result of laxity of discipline and failure to enforce particular rules, there followed much in the way of petty thieving by officers, and by convicts at the instigation of officers. So prevalent had it become that the warden, at some of the musters of the officers, did not hesitate to tell them that there were robbers amongst them. Some of the offenders were dismissed, but others of them, such as Plouffe and Bertrand, were but lightly fined, and in the cases of Leclerc and Labelle no punishment was inflicted and no action taken. Why there should have been any distinction made in these cases, your Commissioners are at a loss to understand, and certainly no sufficient reason for discrimination has been advanced. It is this leniency, which has been too often extended, that has, no doubt, encouraged others to offend in the same respect, or in a way so much like it as scarcely to permit of any distinction, as, for instance, in the case of Trudeau, Champagne, Monette and Deloges, and your Commissioners are of opinion that, especially in an institution of this kind, summary and severe punishment should be meted out to any official detected in dishonest transactions, and nothing short of prompt dismissal should follow. It will be impossible to prevent the evil habit spreading among the officers themselves, where so many are employed, unless strict measures are adopted, and it can scarcely be hoped that any degree of reformation can be achieved among those undergoing punishment for theft and other crimes, if those who are placed over them as guardians are practically allowed to go unpunished when detected in the very offences for which the former are incarcerated. It has been said that this state of affairs was due in a measure to the failure to enforce particular rules and there can be no doubt of the correctness of this conclusion. Trafficking between officers and prisoners, and amongst the prisoners themselves, was the common practice ; so also were the prisoners allowed to deal with outsiders on their own terms ; officers were permitted to make purchases of prison property and to make profit out of it ; officers were allowed to sell to the prison ; goods were manufactured for outsiders on the requisitions of prison employees ; prison property was given away to officers and others ; those high in command appropriated large quantities of prison supplies to their use on the pretense that they were entitled to them as perquisites, and often times without even that pretext.

Permitting officers to take prison property free of charge and sell it for their own profit, as in the case of Teamster Cloutier who was given all the bones and some other articles such as lard ; and public works Storekeeper Daignault, who received all the scrap iron and steel from the prison and Public Works Department, all of which articles were, up to a recent date, sold by such officers and the proceeds put in their own pockets, discloses another class of transactions closely akin to those just referred to. The same defence of " custom " was set up as in other cases and it is open to the same objection. It is no doubt true, as was urged that Daignault was an officer of the Public Works Department, and therefore not under the jurisdiction of the warden, but this only applied to so much of the material as belonged to that department, and even as to this, such improper dealing should, we think, have been reported, by the warden, to the proper authorities.

There is ample evidence that in addition to these already mentioned many of the friends of officers were in receipt of special favours and succeeded in procuring materials and labour from the prison for which no charge was made, an example of this being the gift to Calixte Bastien of a certain steam engine. The warden says he loaned it to Bastien, but the evidence does not bear him out in this contention. Briefly the facts are as follows :—There was an engine with pump attached at the quarry which cost $500. Through carelessness the pumping attachment was allowed to freeze up and burst. It was taken to the prison, the pump detached, the engine thoroughly overhauled and made as good as new and given to Bastien, he paying $6 for some labour and furnishing two or three small attachments which were placed upon it. The engineer says it was cheap at $150, when Bastien got it from the prison. Considerable work has been done since upon the engine and no charge has been made therefor. This engine was supplied to Bastien about the time he purchased the old boiler out of the yacht of the Hon. Justice Ouimet.

All these acts were direct contraventions of well defined regulations, especially framed to guard against possible dishonesty in dealing with the property of the public, and it is the fact that nearly every, if not every, regulation of this kind has been violated here. It must be admitted that, from time to time, circumstances will arise which may justify a deviation from some rule or regulation governing prison organization or discipline, but your Commissioners are unable to conceive of any occasion upon which these rules which have for their object the safeguarding of the prison property and the honesty of the staff, can be departed from with propriety. If these regulations had been strictly adhered to, from the outset, no doubt many of those who now find themselves in an unpleasant predicament as a result of their failure to comply with them, would be saved the humiliation which necessarily follows an investigation of their acts.

OFFICERS BUYING AND APPROPRIATING PRISON SUPPLIES.

There are many instances to be found in the accounts of the officers of the purchases from the prison supplies for their own use contrary to the regulations. It is urged that no harm is done in such cases if the prison suffers no loss, but your Commissioners are of opinion that not only does the prison now suffer loss, but this practice opens the door to the more serious offences which unfortunately have occurred in the case of many of the officers of this prison. The warden following the illegal custom of his predecessors, but contrary to the laws expressly forbidding it, took from the prison supplies his ice, quantities of vegetables, &c., without paying therefor and allowed others to do the same. His bread, and that of the deputy warden, was made at the prison under an arrangement by which they supplied a quantity of flour and in return received all the bread that was produced from that quantity, that is to say for every 100 lbs. of flour they received 132 to 138 lbs. of bread—the prison losing the materials which went to make up the additional weight and the labour and fuel employed in its manufacture. This is not a very serious matter in itself, but is only an example showing how many matters of a similar character were managed. The evidence shows that much work was done for various officers for which no requisitions were made and nothing paid. In this way the warden got part of the stone used for flagging in front of his property at Ste. Rose, also certain blacksmith and tinsmith work used on his house, fencing and stables at the same place, and the prices that were paid for the flagging and woodwork about the same property which were charged for were ridiculously low. In addition to this, much of the carting of this and other materials were done by prison teams with prison officers without payment therefor. It was alleged that a large family monument erected at Ste. Rose had been cut in the prison and had not been paid for, and although the warden claims to have paid $40 for the work, no entries of any kind are to be found in the prison books in connection with the transaction, and he was unable to produce any evidence to corroborate his statement as to the payment having been made. The work on this monument appears from the evidence to have been begun prior to the time the warden was appointed to his present position, but a large part of it was not delivered until after he had assumed the duties of warden. The witness Felix Labelle called by the warden and questioned with a view to showing that the work on the monument when placed in his hands to erect, was of an inferior character, says the work alone was worth $75 to $80, and the monument itself worth $120. A considerable quantity of the engraving in silverware, &c., was done for him by a convict for which neither the convict nor the prison received any remuneration. For several years he and the deputy and other officers pastured their cows upon the prison property paying nothing therefor. The evidence goes to show that the prices paid for work done in the carpenter's department, such as making furniture &c., were out of all proportion to the value of the work done, and that much of the time employed by convicts in this work was not charged for at all. In addition to this there is ample evidence to establish that much of the materials used in making the warden's furniture such as black walnut, pine and other lumber, nails, screws, paint, varnish, &c., came from prison supplies and were neither charged nor paid for. The warden's answer to this is that he gave instructions to the officers in control of these departments to charge for all labour and materials, and if they did not do so it was no fault of his. But he knew what he was getting and ought to have known that the charges did not cover all, and in addition he knew that it was contrary to the rules to get any of these materials from the prison supplies whether he paid for them or not. It appeared in evidence that a considerable quantity of black walnut belonging to the prison had been used in making furniture for the warden. It also appeared from the prison accounts that some 2,523 feet of that kind of lumber had been purchased and paid for by the prison and about 500 feet by the Public Works Department, but only a small portion of it could be accounted for as having been used in prison work. The warden practically admits that the last lot of this lumber used for his work came from the prison stock and the requisitions made by the warden at the time indicate that this was so. The warden claims to have purchased 1,500 feet of black walnut from Bulmer & Co. at different times and calls Teamster Leblanc and Gilbert Chartrand and others, who, to some extent, corroborate his statement, but in a rather indefinite and unsatisfactory way. The man, Lefevre, employed by Bulmer & Co., from whom the purchase is said to have been made, died some time ago. Mr. John A. Bulmer says that no such purchases were made so far as he is aware, and there is no record of it to be found on the books of the firm. Assuming, however, that the warden's contention as to this quantity is correct, there can be no doubt that the last lot, before referred to, was supplied from the prison stock. An attempt was made to establish the subsequent delivery of black walnut, to the warden by the witness Napoleon Bastien but it failed, and it is significant that the warden in his evidence claims no such delivery to or purchase by him as is suggested by Bastien. Requisition No. 5868, dated 2nd December, 1896, and the delivery note of same date show that no material was furnished by the warden for the bed-room set made under its authority—both this requisition and the delivery note were made on the same date and after the work was finished.

Department of Justice.

In 1887, the regulations which permitted the wardens of the various penitentiaries to have fuel and light, were repealed and the salaries of these officers were increased with a view to meeting the changed conditions, but the warden of this prison has, notwithstanding, been continuously in receipt of his fuel and latterly his light. The correspondence in connection with the matter is to be found in official file No. 129 of the Department of Justice, 1890, which file contains, as the warden admits, all the correspondence so far as he knows upon the subject. This correspondence shows that the first application of the warden was for fuel from 1st July, 1890, and says nothing of that which he had actually received from 1887 to that date but had not paid for. His request for fuel from 1890 was refused by the then Minister, Sir John S. D. Thompson, who in writing to the inspector says: "Am sorry this cannot be done. It is contrary to law. The deprivation has been considered in arranging the salaries." Another application was made in 1892 and whatever official answer (if any) may have been given to this is not on file.

In the evidence of the Honourable Justice Ouimet he says that at this time he had some conversation with the Minister of Justice, about the matter, which resulted in the Minister telling him that the law was imperative, and that he could not entertain the request of the warden. He said it was his (Ouimet's) intention to have the law altered, but it was then too late in the session to do so, and the Minister suggested that a fair solution of the question might be the following. The warden being told to continue to take his supply of coal (and coal oil he thinks was added, although not important) and to have the whole thing charged in the books of the institution, leaving the matter in abeyance in the meantime to be settled later on. This was communicated to the warden. The matter seems to have been dropped at that—no further consent having been given and the law not having been changed as suggested. Your Commissioners have no reason to doubt the truth of the Hon. Justice Ouimet's statement of what occurred as he remembered it, but they submit that having regard to the unqualified refusal in 1890, and the statement of the Minister of Justice in 1892 in answer to the application made at that time, that "the law was imperative and that he could not entertain the request of the warden," that he could only have intended at the most, to deal with the supply of fuel in the future—and the failure of himself and his successors to so deal with it was sufficient notice to the warden that the law was intended to remain as it was. The law was afterwards changed but not so as to effect the case of this warden and of this he had due notice. Such record of the amount of fuel so supplied without requisition and without charge to the warden during the period mentioned shows him to have received $831.22 worth. He had in addition to this received in the way of lighting, materials to the value of $31.36 for which application was at no time made and no authority given, and it appears in evidence that quantities of oil in addition to this were supplied to the warden's residence from the pump-house at the dock, which the warden does not deny but of which he says he knows nothing.

Since the passage of the amending Act in 1895 the deputy warden acting on instructions from the warden has been in receipt of supplies for lighting such as coal oil, lamps, chimneys, &c., to which he had no right.

Elsewhere throughout this report will be found instances where numbers of officers were detected actually stealing the prison property, but in addition to this scores of instances came to the notice of your Commissioners where subordinate officers with the knowledge and consent of their superiors were in receipt of supplies which appear to have been looked upon as perquisites but to which they had no shadow of claim save that which comes from following the illegal practice of some one else. The evil example set by the superior officers seems to have permeated almost the entire staff, and your Commissioners were convinced that these practices had become so general that the prison was necessarily a heavy loser thereby. As a matter of fact the revenue accruing to the prison from the amount paid into it by its employees is of so little moment as not to be longer worthy of serious consideration, and we fear is counterbalanced by the abuses consequent upon permitting them to deal with the prison in any way. The interests of both prison and staff seem to demand that an end be put to selling to officers as speedily as other employment can be arranged for the convicts, and that in the meantime it be permitted only upon the strictest compliance with the regulations.

DECEPTIVE STATEMENTS, &c.

Many attempts were, from time to time, made to mislead and deceive the Commissioners. Prior to their arrival at the prison the warden caused the engineer and clerk of works to prepare certain statements to put before the Commissioners, and at the request of the latter caused a report to be made as to the cost of maintaining the steam yachts. These statements, so far as your Commissioners could learn, were in almost every respect untrue, and most highly coloured in the interests of the officers effected by them with the evident object of misleading those who had charge of the investigation. For instance, the clerk of works in preparing the statement undertook to account for the large quantity of cement for which the prison paid, but which up to the present is unaccounted for, and it appears from the evidence that large quantities of this cement were charged in this statement to places where none whatever had been used, and that in other places the quantity charged was many times more than that which was actually used, and that the whole thing was prepared without any knowledge of the facts or a wanton disregard of them. So with the sand and stone and labour. So was it, also, in the engineer's statement, which was admittedly all mere guess work and unwarrantably exaggerated. On the other hand, the statement showing the cost of maintaining the steam yachts did not show a tithe of the actual expense as is shown beyond question by a comparison of this statement with the evidence of the engineer and the many witnesses who have testified as to the number of times the boats have been used, and the length of the trips taken as well as the costs of painting, repairing, and otherwise caring for said boats. The testimony of the warden, engineer, clerk of works, public works storekeeper, and some inferior officers, were in many cases apparently untruthful as was shown by the departmental and prison records and accounts, the evidence of several witnesses and their own admissions subsequently made. Who was responsible for the various attempts made to deceive the Commissioners in the warden's defence, they are not prepared to say—but that several such attempts were deliberately made—including the falsification of several books elsewhere referred to—your Commissioners have no doubt whatever, and it is difficult to believe that the warden knew nothing of them. We found, too, during the inquiry that many of the convicts from whom it was expected information was to be had, had been approached by some of the officials with a view to having them colour their testimony or refuse to give it, and in some cases there can be no doubt that those who sought to bring about these results succeeded, for some five of the convicts who were in the best position to testify, absolutely refused to do so, giving as their reasons that they were afraid of the consequences, and it was only with difficulty that from many of the others any information was obtained. It was proven that the Keepers Demers and Prevost and Guard Monette were transgressors in this respect. As has already been intimated there came to the knowledge of your Commissioners that an organized effort was being made by the guilty ones to screen each other, and it was only after the most persistent efforts accompanied by great delay that the Commissioners were able in some measure to get behind this and reach some of the truth.

It was not with the Commissioners alone that this deception was practised, for traces of its prevalence in the dealings in the earlier years of the present warden's reign and up to the present time are plentiful, as for instance in the case of the killing of the horse by Daignault; the discharge of the convict Hebert; the report in the case of Officer Breland; the dealings in reference to the yacht, and officers prerequisites; the engineer's bogus stock sheets, the selling to the prison and Department of Public Works under fictitious names and very many other instances which appear throughout the evidence.

STEAM YACHTS.

It appears from the correspondence filed that in 1888 the warden was negotiating with the inspector for the purchase of a yacht, but the then Minister of Justice declined to grant the request. In 1889 the attempt was again repeated but failed. The warden then seems to have abandoned the effort to secure a boat in the ordinary and proper way, but nevertheless continued to have the use of one which he had in his service occasionally from 1887 to 1892, and exclusively from that time to the commencement of this inquiry. From 1887 to 1892 the yacht "Iris" belonging to Mr. John H. Garth of Garth & Co., of Montreal, with whom the prison had extensive dealings at the time, was for a certain period during each year left to the prison for the use of the warden and his family, and from that time up to the fall of 1896 it was kept there altogether.

In 1893 Mr. Edouard O. Champagne, boiler inspector of Montreal, conceived the idea of making a present to the Hon. J. A. Ouimet, then Minister of Public Works for Canada, and brother of the warden, in return, as he says, for personal and political favours. He proposed to present the Minister with a yacht engine and to give his attention more or less to the completion of a boat which it was proposed to build for the Minister. The Minister intimates that he agreed to the proposition and was anxious to have such a boat at St. Vincent de Paul for the pleasure of his constituents.

In pursuance of arrangements between them a hull was procured from one Dumas, and this with the engine furnished by E. O. Champagne and some lumber for the cabin and wheel-house donated by Hurteau & Co., was brought to the prison from Montreal by Eugene Champagne, the prison engineer. The hull was then sent to one Limoges, to have some additional work done upon it and returned to the prison, completed as to the hull and decking, but with no other work done upon it. Some additional fittings and materials were furnished by the Minister or his friends, but all the additional labour and much of the materials required to complete this boat and her boiler and machinery, were furnished from the prison supplies and but a small portion of them paid for.

When the work upon the yacht was begun at the prison, there was but the bare hull and the separate parts of the engine; all the labour necessary to complete the engine and place it and the pump, build a tubular boiler and place same, together with smoke stack, wheel, shaft, &c., build and fit the cabin and three wheel-houses, (the first two built not being suitable) make cushions, tables, chairs, flag staffs, &c., make and fit all forgings and other iron and brass work; painting, glazing, &c., was supplied by the prison and in return for the same, there was paid but the sum of $61.64.

The Commissioners are satisfied that all the material for the first boiler made for the yacht (excepting the dome) all paint, putty, varnish, oil, nails, screws, most (if not all) of the brass fittings for engine and boiler and cabins including steam whistle at $11, and safety valve at $30, bar iron used in keel, stem and guards, some lumber and the pump now upon the yacht, which cost the prison $75, came from prison supplies, and for them was paid the sum of $86.09 only, a sum about sufficient to pay for the piping used in the boiler.

Gabriel St. Onge, an expert yacht builder, says the labour on the wood work, done at the prison, including the two extra wheel-houses, is worth $325. The painting including material is worth $50. This is corroborated by the testimony of those who did the work.

Robert S. Weir, a marine engine builder of long experience says, it is worth $50 to $60 to place and connect the engine and boiler, and Edouard O. Champagne agreed with him in this. The boiler, after deducting the cost of placing and the price of the steam dome, is worth $300, and both Edward and Eugene Champagne corroborate this estimate. The railings, brass posts, and cleats, rudder, shoe, steering gear and brass wheel, and bow forgings are valued by Weir at $106.70, to this must be added some minor items mentioned in evidence but not referred to, aggregating some $90.

Eugene Leclair, carriage maker instructor; Proscope Dumas, carpenter instructor; Treflé Nantel, blacksmith instructor; Eugène Champagne, engineer; and many other witnesses give testimony as to the quantities of material and time not charged at all or charged to the engineer's and carpenter departments.

Department of Justice.

The above items give a total of $921.50 for work and materials for which only $147.73 has been paid. But this is only a part of the expenditure of prison funds in connection with these boats. We find from the evidence that some one of them was in use almost every day during the summer season of the year mentioned, and all the fuel, oil, waste, and labour required were supplied by the penitentiary as well as all the materials and labour for repairing woodwork and machinery, and painting the boats each season, and when it is remembered that the Garth yacht was almost entirely rebuilt during that time, it will be readily seen that the bill for repairs must have been large indeed. Apart from the authority for the expenditure of $45 in repairs and permission given in 1894, to use prison coal while the boat was being used by officials only, no permission has been at any time given to expend any money or labour upon these yachts, and no requisitions were issued for the labour and the materials used. Fuel, oil, paint, lumber, &c., was taken from the supplies of the various departments in which they were kept, and no record whatever was made of them so that when a statement of the cost of maintaining the yachts was asked for, we could only get the result of the guess work of the engineer and other officers of the prison which proved quite unreliable. Then a boat-house, large enough to shelter the two yachts, had to be built at the cost of the Government of at least $250 to which must be added the truck for moving boats, valued at $18 or $20. On being questioned about the building of this boat-house, the warden at first strenuously denied that it was built for the purpose of sheltering these two boats, but your Commissioners are satisfied that it was. He also alleged that only old lumber was used for the purpose, but it transpired that 4,000 feet at $22 per M. were purchased for this purpose from Prevost by the Department of Public Works of which the owner of the yacht was then Minister.

While there can be no doubt that the yacht is the property of the Honourable Justice Ouimet, subject to such accounting as the department may deem fit to enforce, there was a studied effort to conceal this fact for we find that all requisitions for work were made in the name of Octave Labelle, who was clerk of works, or the warden, all charges on account of said yacht were made to them and as late as 17th May, 1895, the warden is found claiming it as his own property, as will be seen by the following letter:—

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 17th May, 1895.

DOUGLAS STEWART, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Department of Justice, Ottawa.

SIR,—I beg to be authorized to be used for the yacht, coal purchased by the institution. The reason for such demand is this: The yacht, although my property, is at the disposal of the officers of the penitentiary, and is used by them evenings and Sundays, for a cruise round the bay, to relieve their bodies and minds of the toils of the day and breathe fresh air. The item is not much but would be a great boon for the staff.

Your obedient servant,

TEL. OUIMET,
Warden.

The Commissioners experienced much difficulty in getting at the facts of this case, with the result that a great deal of evidence had to be taken and much time wasted. A comparison of the statements furnished by the warden and engineer before evidence was taken, indicate on their part a deliberate attempt to deceive the Commissioners or an utter disregard for the truthfulness of their statements. This is in keeping with their professed inability to give information concerning these things, which it is only reasonable to expect them to know.

All the evidence goes to show that the only use to which these boats were put, was to furnish pleasure to the warden and his friends and such officers of the prison as the warden might select, with the exception, however, of the two occasions upon which it was used to carry people to political meetings.

The evidence of Prison Surgeon Gaudet corroborated by many others, indicates that the conduct of officers on many of the trips was not such as it should have been. Liquor was supplied plentifully, and at times the trip extended over several days, when many of the principal officers (sometimes nine at a time) were absent from their duty. The precaution seems to have been taken to see that no account of this lost time was kept or charged against any of them. On the short trips to Varennes, Boucherville, and other places, a convict invariably accompanied them, and the attempted escape of one of these came very near costing the life of the engineer.

The evils indirectly flowing from the introduction and continuance of these privileges, at an institution such as this are manifold, as are shown in this case. It has led to the violation of prison rules by almost every officer who has had anything to do with these boats and these violations have been followed up, in many instances, by false testimony given with the view of covering up the improper dealing with the prison property and labour and the falsification of books of account, mentioned elsewhere in the reference to the warden's defence.

Another transaction closely connected with the building of the new yacht, was the exchange with Calixte Bastien of the first boiler built for it, for materials for the new boiler at present in use. Bastien appears to have supplied materials for the new boiler and paid $15 for making same.

It will be seen in evidence that the warden paid $5 for making the first boiler, so that the net result of these transactions to the prison is the payment to it of $20 for all the labour connected with the building of two boilers and the material furnished for the first of them.

It appears to your Commissioners that there can be no legitimate excuse for permitting a continuance of these abuses. Directly and indirectly this and similar extravagances have cost this prison thousands of dollars, with no result except supplying the warden with means of enjoyment for himself and his friends at the expense of the public, and it is again urged that prison officials have no more claim to special privileges of this kind than any other employees of the Government.

HORSES, VEHICLES, &c.

In addition to the high prices which appear to have been paid for the ordinary horses in use at the prison, of which there seems to be considerably more than is necessary, large sums of money have from time to time been expended in the purchase of expensive horses, harness and vehicles, which according to the warden are only used for the pleasure and convenience of himself and friends, and for driving the officials from Ottawa, who, from time to time, visit St. Vincent de Paul, to and from the station. Since the year 1880 the Canadian Pacific Railway, which runs through the penitentiary property, and whose station-house is within a few blocks of the prison proper, has been running several trains daily to and from Montreal stopping at St. Vincent de Paul, thus furnishing easy access to that city for all the purposes of the prison. Such being the case, your Commissioners do not see the necessity for supplying this prison, for the use of the warden and his family, with a team of horses at $500; harness, one of which cost as high as $200, ordered to match that of the Lieutenant Governor, silver mounted and bearing in various places the monogram of the warden; sleigh robes costing $300, and all other appointments on a similarly expensive scale; a landau costing $675, and three double seated carriages and a phaeton, with three family sleighs (one of which cost $250) and one single sleigh; nor do they think it necessary to retain any horses or vehicles for the purpose of conveying Government officials from the station to the prison. There can be no more reason for supplying a warden of a prison and his family with luxuries of this description than there is for supplying the same to any other employee of the Government. It might be necessary to keep one or two conveyances of a common character for use in the emergency of attempted escapes, and these could be drawn by any of the ordinary prison horses, some of which are at any time available and are quite good enough for that purpose, or for any other legitimate purpose of the prison. This and the yachts are samples of the extravagances which go to make the expenses of maintaining this penitentiary more than they should be, entailing in addition to the original expenditure the yearly cost of the maintenance and repairs and the time of employees in caring for and accompanying them every time they are used. The warden claims to have had the authority of the department to build the various vehicles at the prison excepting one, which he began on his own account and upon which was expended some $165 or $175, but the building of which for some reason was abandoned. No record of such authority was to be found at the prison, but even though it were granted it makes the extravagance none the less. When the carriage team above referred to was purchased for some reason not satisfactorily explained, one of them was charged to the Department of Justice and the other to the Department of Public Works, and apparently both departments were being deceived in the matter.

In the opinion of your Commissioners the number of horses (17) and vehicles (which is quite large) in and about the prison, in addition to what has already been mentioned, is unnecessarily large, and a saving in this respect might well be made, particularly in view of the fact that the building of the wall is about completed. With proper management the business of the prison requiring the use of horses should be so conducted that, at most, ten animals would be sufficient for all purposes.

STONE AND MASON WORK.

From information which came to your Commissioners from various sources, they were satisfied that there were many matters, in connection with the erection of the prison wall, towers and gates, and other structures about the prison, and the supply of materials therefor, which warranted the strictest investigation, but they found it utterly impossible to procure any reliable information from those in charge of the work, and were forced to enlist the services of an independent and experienced person, who was thoroughly conversant with that class of work. Mr. George Crain, of Brockville, and formerly of Ottawa, a practical builder of wide experience, was called upon and a full report of the result of his investigation is filed herewith together with many valuable exhibits. It was found at the outset that much of the information we were being furnished with by the clerk of works, relating to his department, was such as could not be depended upon, and this necessitated an independent investigation involving complete and accurate measurements of all materials on hand, used and unused, with a thorough analysis of the various accounts, vouchers, estimates, reports, &c., connected with the various structures dealt with in the report, and a personal investigation of the quarries, and the workmanship upon the walls, and materials used therein. The unwillingness to give information shown by the clerk of works and others who were in a position to furnish it, made it necessary to devote much more time to this work than would otherwise have been required. The thoroughness with which Mr. Crain has performed his task is clearly demonstrated by the evidence of Contractor Bastien, Stonecutter Instructor Sigouin, Mason Instructors O'Boone and Labelle, Clerk of Works Labelle, Storekeeper Daignault and many other witnesses who, in their testimony, have corroborated almost every point touched upon by him.

The report established that having regard to the contracts for stone, the plans and specifications and the work as actually built, there has been a waste of some sixty per cent of material over and above the ordinary waste in preparing stone for laying. The chief excuse given for this is that the convicts destroyed it, but when the evidence is taken into consideration, other reasons present themselves. The laxity of business methods employed by Storekeeper Daignault whose duty it was to receive the stone and measure it, accounts in the opinion of your Commissioners, for some of it, they being of the opinion that all that was paid for was not received. The reason for the major part of the waste, however, is to be found in the fact that much of the stone sent to the prison and accepted was not fit for use for the purpose for which it was intended. The evidence shows beyond question that from the time a quarry was opened until a change was made everything that was taken out of it was sent to the prison, and for the most part these were strippings, for five different quarries were opened and the whole output of each was delivered at the prison. Daignault says that he accepted everything sent to him and measured it as dimension stone, whether it was thick or thin, good or bad, and when dimension stone was actually ordered the contractor was allowed full measurement for all stone that was delivered no matter how much it overrun the dimensions, which as a rule was beyond all reason. Daignault practically kept Bastien's books and made out his accounts, and whatever was done in this way met Bastien's approval. Only a small quantity was ever refused and that was refused by the stonecutter instructor, or at his instigation, because it was so bad that he could not attempt to cut it. His evidence shows beyond question that anything that could be held together until it was shaped for the wall was put in the structure—much of it fell apart when being cut through no fault of any one—simply because the stone was full of dry shakes or shelly.

The stonecutter instructor's orders were to cut everything that could be put in the wall and in order to carry out these instructions, he was undoubtedly forced to cut the bulk of the stone on edge, as it came to him too thin to cut otherwise, or shelled off after cutting was started. The Commissioners are agreed that some of this extra waste was due to carelessness or other fault of the convicts, who were employed at cutting, but they are equally well satisfied that most of it was the result of the gross negligence in the checking and acceptance of the stone from the quarries, and the want of proper supervision of the work; for this the Storekeeper Daignault, Clerk of Works Labelle, and Warden Ouimet are responsible.

Everything possible seemed to have been done to favour the contractor. Under the first contract, which called for 20,000 feet of stone, they were allowed to furnish 300,000 feet; after the expiration of the contract of 1892 they were allowed to continue two more years without calling for tenders; 20,000 feet of flagging was asked for under the contract of 1892 by the warden, when he knew that none was required, or was likely to be. This was made known to the successful tenderer and the conversation which took place between Labelle and the contractor (but which the latter now claims was a falsehood told by him) corroborates this, as does the fact that no flagging (as such) was used, but all the stone which came from the quarries in the shape of flagging was received and accepted at the prison as dimension stone. This same contractor, at least so far as the tenders called for about 1st August, 1896, are concerned, was able to find out in advance the prices fixed by other tenders, some of which information came from the warden's son-in-law; and Bastien was at the warden's house that day before time was up for filing tenders. He was also at Charbonneau's hotel, at which place he claims he got the information, and in this connection attention may be drawn to the fact that some of the bidders on the occasion of the last tendering for stone, complained of this and said that their prices had been given away to Bastien the former contractor and successful tenderer on this occasion. The facts are that Bastien admitted he did know all the prices excepting perhaps those of one Gallagher before he put in his own bid. The warden was asked for an explanation and his letter to the department speaks for itself. It fixes the time of the filing of the tender of Louis Labelle & Co., (in which name Calixte Bastien, the then contractor, was tendering) at 10.30, Desormeau at 10.45 and Gallagher at 11.15. When put upon his oath Bastien said the Labelle & Co. tender was not filed until 11.15 or 11.30 o'clock and of that he was certain, and not until after he had got all the information possible, and the warden on oath said the same time, until he was confronted with his letter, when he retraced his sworn statement.

There are many other circumstances indicating an anxiety and efforts to have Bastien get the contract and to favour him afterwards, and Bastien in return was a generous contributor to election funds, an active political co-worker with the warden, and in the habit of making gifts to the latter and other officers. It will be noticed that the Stonecutter Instructor Sigouin and other witnesses say that very little of the flagging actually paid for was wasted or destroyed in the cutting, yet one-half of it cannot be accounted for. The cement and sand with which the stonecutters had nothing to do and as to which it is not claimed that the convicts made any waste, is similarly unaccounted for in the main.

Department of Justice.

It was, of course, necessary to dispose in some way of the large quantities of stone thus wasted, and a considerable quantity of it was given to build the convent and school at St. Vincent de Paul. Many persons used it for making walks and some for building cellars and other purposes. Large quantities of it were taken to the river bank and used for building up the shore in front of the warden's residence and adjoining properties not belonging to the Government. Very little of it brought any return to the prison, it was given away to whoever asked for it. Your Commissioners submit, however, that such of it as was used for building purposes and flagging should have brought a fair price, and no doubt would have done so had an effort been made to obtain it.

The result is that the Government paid $107,796.25 for 539,435 feet of stone and that only 215,448 feet worth $42,133.73 at contract prices are accounted for, as being used, leaving nearly sixty per cent wasted or unaccounted for, and the major portion of that which was used, instead of being first-class stone is of the poorest quality—not fit for the work for which it was used, and not worth, as the evidence shows, more than half as much as was paid for it, and in fact a large quantity of it was nothing more than the flagging which had been contracted for at 1½ and 2 cents per foot, but for which dimension stone prices were paid. In connection with this work it is also found that some 1,637 barrels of cement were paid for the Department of Public Works and only about 650 accounted for and so with the 5,587 loads of sand purchased for the same work. Add to this the fact that the stone was improperly prepared, most of its being cut upon its edge, having loose beds and slack joints which made the proper laying of it an impossibility, and you have a work which for extravagance and incompetence is difficult to surpass.

PUBLIC WORKS STORES.

Up to July of the past year there was located at this prison what was known as the Public Works Department store in which was kept the supplies of various kinds used in the construction of new buildings and the maintenance of those already erected. Formerly a larger portion of the prison staff was under the jurisdiction of this department. Large sums of money have been, from time to time, expended in and about the premises through this department, for stone, lumber, hardware, machinery and various other supplies, and the recklessness with which the property has been treated and the prices paid for it are proof that the waste, in comparison with the amount expended, has been enormous.

Up to the time of the first sitting of the Commission and for some time subsequently, this department had a storekeeper, one Elzéar Daignault, in charge of the general supplies and engaged in the work of receiving stone from the contractors. A reference to his past history and the methods employed in the performance of the duties assigned to him will suffice to show how the conclusions above set out have been arrived at.

Prior to the appointment of this officer to a place in the Department of Public Works, he had been engaged at the prison as accountant, and the affairs of his office were investigated by Messrs. Taché and Miall in 1880, and the following is an extract from their report referring to his work and conduct up to that time :

“ It is further our painful duty to report that the present accountant has proved himself incompetent for his duties. Previous to his appointment in that capacity, he had acted as storekeeper of the institution, and it is only just to mention that he is reported by his superior officers to have performed his duties as such entirely to their satisfaction. Whatever were his qualifications, however, for other pursuits or functions, it is manifest from an examination of his books, as it is also from the intercourse we have had with him, in matters relating thereto, that his aptitudes and qualifications are not such as are required for the performance of the somewhat complicated duties of accountant to an institution of this nature. Without reporting to the same extent against the present storekeeper, we have nevertheless to point that he, in conjunction with the accountant, has certified as correct copies of invoices and statements of accounts in which quantities or prices had been erroneously transcribed ; both having evidently contended themselves with ascertaining the correctness of the totals, although those documents were invariably certified as examined and found correct as to prices, quantities and extensions; although the institution has not, as has been charged, been made to suffer any loss thereby. Still such offhand and negligent modes of conducting office business cannot be permitted to continue."

The following from the Minutes of the Treasury Board held on 3rd April, 1880, show the action taken by the department in this case:—

"The Board have had under consideration a report from the Department of Justice with reference to the proposed superannuation of Mr. E. Daignault.

"Mr. Daignault, who is 46 years of age, was appointed storekeeper at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary in 1873, and was promoted to the position of accountant in 1876 with a salary of $1,000 per annum. His health, however, has become so much impaired that he is compelled to relinquish his position, and the Board considering all the circumstances recommend that under authority of Sec. 2 of 33 Vic., chap. 4, a period of three years be added to his term of actual service, and that he be superannuated from the first of May next with an annual allowance based upon a period of ten years service, and an average salary for the past three years of $1,000 per annum, and amounting to $188."

In 1881 he was appointed storekeeper for the Public Works Department at the prison and the evidence adduced during this investigation establishes that his methods, instead of improving, have retrograded. The stock in his department was kept in a most slipshod fashion, and at most times was so kept that any person about the prison could help himself without check of any kind, and as a matter of fact the practice was to do so. It was his duty to keep a record of all supplies furnished him and the disposal of them, but examination demonstrated that his bookkeeping was a farce, the result of incompetence or worse. His records of goods received was not to be relied upon, for we found upon comparing the accounts with the Auditor General's Reports that he had no record of large quantities of the goods actually received by him. This applied to the accounts for fuel, sand, cement, and almost every other account in his books. But where apparently the goods were properly entered as received and the account balanced by distribution, an even worse state of affairs presented itself. Instead of keeping check upon his stock as it was given out, he allowed things to run along for a considerable period and then charged up to some department of the prison, which was in the habit of using such goods whatever quantity was missing at the time he made his balance. When it is remembered that much of the time his store was in the custody of a convict, or left wide open with no one in charge, it can readily be surmised what this kind of bookkeeping meant. A short time before the Commissioners arrived at St. Vincent de Paul, Daignault balanced his books in the usual way as above described, but for some unexplained reason dated his balance of 12th January, 1897. It was established by his own testimony that many lines of goods had been exhausted long before the date of balancing, but no record had been kept of the disposition of them, nevertheless he made the accounts balance by charging all the missing carpenters' tools to "carpenter shop," the oils, paints, galvanized iron, &c., to "prison buildings," the shovels to "excavation" and so on. A quantity of brass screws charged to the carpenters were still in stock. Several brushes charged to same department were found hidden behind the books in Daignault's desk, and these instances are but examples of what the books disclosed.

Comparison of the Auditor General's Reports with his books indicated double payments for goods furnished this department, and there will be found there some work which ought to receive the attention of some reliable official of the prison or department. Your Commissioners were unable to follow up some cases which suggested themselves, but did investigate one with the result that one firm, which had dealings with the prison, has since refunded some $603.59, being the amount paid to them twice in 1892, together with interest thereon, since the date of payment.

It is quite evident that some of the materials, used in the manufacture of the boiler, &c., for the Ouimet yacht came from this department and with Daignault's knowledge. He admits this in the case of the safety valve and whistle, which he says were purchased at the request of the engineer, and for which, so far as he knows, there could have been no other use. It is significant too that these items were never entered by Daignault in his books, and he offers no explanation of why he ordered them, when the Public Works Department had no need of them. The mysterious finding at his door by the prison engineer of the pipe and fittings used for making the boiler, and the various inconsistent stories told about it, coupled with the disreputable attempt by the warden to account for it later on in his defence, leaves no doubt in the minds of your Commissioners that all these materials came from the premises presided over by Daignault and the engineer, and that he knew of these as well as of the valve and whistle.

In addition to being grossly negligent, this officer proved to be untruthful in many instances, and he admitted his weakness in this respect when questioned about the horse loaned him from the prison some years ago, for the purpose of polling his votes in outlying districts, and which horse was apparently overdriven and killed. He was not asked to make this good, owing, perhaps, to the fact that he and the warden apparently succeeded in deceiving the Department of Justice as to the merits of the case.

His record in connection with prison work is not that of an honest man, as is shown by the evidence taken in the investigation of Messrs. Taché and Miall, as well as what has transpired since. We find from correspondence on file at the prison, that as far back as 1878, he was accused by one Léon Derome of obtaining from him a receipt for $154, under false pretenses, which accusation was referred to Daignault by the then warden, Duchesneau, but of which Daignault now says he has no recollection. While he has had charge of the public works stores he has been taking for himself quantities of wood and coal yearly, which he says was granted him by Mr. Bowes, who has been dead some years, but for which he can produce no authority. But even if this were true—and it is doubtful—there never was, and it is not pretended that there was any right or authority to take more coal or wood than he needed for his own purposes and sell it to another. Yet this he did on more than one occasion, when he sold both coal and wood to his nephew Desloges. They do not agree exactly as to the quantities but do so as to the main facts. It is suggested before that the truth of the assertion that Mr. Bowes gave authority to Daignault to get fuel from the stores is doubtful and there are several reasons for this. It does not appear that Bowes had any authority to grant such perquisites, and no record of them having been granted by any one is found in the Department of Public Works or anywhere else—then too, there is shown by the books and the evidence that the purchase of the particular kinds of fuel used by those officers was covered up—it not appearing in the requisitions or invoices or entries anywhere. François Couvrette, who delivered the wood, explains the way in which this was managed. Each year there was delivered to Daignault five or six cords of hardwood and he would allow the contractor to charge to the department a quantity of soft wood equal to the value of hardwood he received, and thus the officials over him were deceived.

It was this officer who appropriated all the scrap iron, and sold it for his own profit. This he says was customary, but your Commissioners submit that it is contrary to all rules and not an honest way of dealing with property under his charge.

It was this officer's special duty to receive and measure the large quantities of stone coming to the prison and in connection with which there has been so much waste and loss, the blame for which he must share. His own testimony in connection with this work displays the utmost disregard for the interests of his employers and his negligence or carelessness is little, if any, less than criminal. He says his orders were to receive the stone supplied by the contractors and adds that he always took the warden's orders as he had been advised by the visiting architect to "always work easy with the warden." His duty was clearly under the warden to inspect the stone and properly measure, classify and cull it, and he says that prior to 1892 he did so, but since that date he received everything that the quarries produced, whether it was thick or thin, good or bad, and passed it as dimension stone, and it was only when some other officer, such as the warden or Labelle or Breland, refused some pieces (which was not often) that he deducted anything from his allowance to the contractors.

There are numerous other derelictions of duty chargeable to this officer, such as selling all the scrap iron belonging to his department and the prison, and pocketing the proceeds, but these given are sufficient to indicate the abuses which were made possible in the absence of other supervision, many of which would certainly have been avoided had the work of keeping these books and stores been delegated to competent and trust-worthy men such as the present accountant and storekeeper of the prison appears to be.

Mr. Daignault has been removed from office since the work of investigation begun; and your Commissioners recommend that no appointment be made to fill the vacancy thus created, but that the work formerly carried on by the Public Works Department, in connection with this prison, be carried on under arrangement similar to that in operation at Kingston Penitentiary.

CLERK OF WORKS.

Octave Labelle has held the office of clerk of works at this prison for about nine years. During that time he appears to have paid no attention whatever to the working of the various departments outside of what he may have done in connection with the erection of the boundary wall and buildings, and even in these cases he has done but little. The evidence of himself and the warden together with what came under the personal observation of the Commissioners fully justifies this conclusion. In fact the Commissioners are at a loss to know why his services were retained so long, when, as appears by the evidence, almost all the work he was employed to do, was done by the warden or some one else under the warden's instructions. Were the prison staff properly organized and the various officers permitted to perform the duties required of them by the regulations, there would be work for an efficient chief trade instructor, but for such a position Labelle has not the necessary qualifications, his knowledge being almost entirely confined to the building trade. In addition to the lack of that general knowledge required by a chief trade instructor, the clerk of works appears to be greatly wanting in energy and capacity for work, or as the warden expresses it in his evidence, "Labelle has ability, but lacks push and energy, and does not hurt himself working." He complains that his powers and duties were usurped by the warden and while this in a measure is no doubt true, yet the whole work over which he was supposed to exercise supervision has been done in such a careless and unworkmanlike manner as to leave no room for any other conclusion than that he took no interest whatever in the proper carrying out of the work entrusted to him. It was with great difficulty that any data could be obtained from him to enable the Commissioners to get the information necessary in connection with the erection of the various works undertaken during his employment, and in more than one instance he was detected in attempts to deceive the Commissioners. A notable case of that kind was the statement prepared by him for the Commissioners at the request of the warden. Almost from the beginning to the end it turned out to be mere guess work, and in scarcely an instance did his statement correspond with the facts as proven by the evidence of George Crain, Gedeon Labelle and Delphis O'Borne and the other witnesses who gave evidence bearing upon matters referred to in the statement. It showed conclusively that he either knew little or nothing about what he professed to report upon, or that he deliberately attempted to deceive the Commissioners, who are of the opinion that the latter is the correct conclusion. Not only did this officer prepare a statement intended to deceive, but he afterwards attempted to verify it on oath as will be seen on reference to his evidence concerning the enormous quantity of cement unaccounted for. The waste and extravagance practised in connection with building the boundary wall, &c., is chargeable to be warden, Clerk of Works Labelle and Storekeeper Daignault, and their conduct in connection with that work is sufficiently reprehensible to warrant the dismissal of all three of them. In addition to these matters there was evidence of questionable dealings by Labelle with prison materials and labour. He got almost all the stone which he used in building two houses owned by him, all the stonecutting being done by prison labour, and for this, he only paid the prison $12, the balance going to the convicts in money, tobacco, &c. Large quantities of work for two houses were prepared for him at the prison at ridiculously low prices. There is evidence that much of it was not charged for at all. Work was done for him and some materials supplied in blacksmith and carpenter shops without proper requisitions, and he had work done for outsiders on his requisitions, and induced other officers of the prison to do the same. He was one of those directly responsible for the improper manner in which the work for the new yacht was carried on, all the requisitions for such work having been made in the name of himself or the warden. The evidence taken in reference to the work and material connected with the engine and pump built at the prison for himself shows that the interests of the prison were sacrificed in the transaction. He was one of those who persistently trafficked with prisoners—giving them money and tobacco—notwithstanding the regulations to the contrary. With the consent of the warden he took an active part in political affairs spending much of the time which should have been spent in the performance of his duties for the purpose of canvassing and otherwise assisting at parliamentary and other elections. The Commissioners are of the opinion that the office of the clerk of works as at present constituted should be abolished, and that in any event the present clerk of works should be dismissed.

ENGINEER'S DEPARTMENT.

This department appears to be in good condition so far as the keeping in order of the machinery and stock are concerned. High prices were paid for the various supplies furnished, but the officer in charge apparently had no hand in fixing those or in directing the place of purchase. Had the investigation not gone farther than this there would not be much to complain of, but it was found necessary to inquire into the qualifications and personal conduct of the two officers in charge, and this led to the exposure of certain serious irregularities upon which it is found necessary to report.

Eugène Champagne succeeded his brother as chief engineer at the prison in 1890. Your Commissioners are of the opinion that no man can properly fill this position unless he has a reasonable amount of education, and we were therefore astonished to find that this officer could neither read nor write. Apart from this fact there are many reasons why his services could not be retained. He was one of those responsible for much of the work done upon the new yacht and either not charged for at all or wrongfully charged to the engineer's department. He supplied both labour and material from prison for this and other work, such as the Bastien boiler and engine, and much of the labour and material which were charged for in this department were put at a price far below what was a fair value. He was partially responsible for the waste in connection with the running of both yachts, and allowed the material from his departments to be taken without requisition and without record of any kind being kept, and when asked for the statement showing the cost of running these boats, caused one to be prepared which was plainly intended to deceive the Commissioners. Such also was the character of the general statement prepared by him for the Commissioners, of work done in his department; and it was found that year after year instead of supplying his superior officers with a correct stock sheet, he was furnishing one which showed his stock on hand to be far in excess of what it actually was, the last stock sheet showing a balance of $58,727.83 to the credit of his department when in reality the stock only amounted to $27,949.57 as is shown by the statement now filed. There is evidence to show that this officer appropriated prison supplies such as oil, coal, and other articles for his own use without paying therefor and without any authority.

The Commissioners had much difficulty in procuring from the witness satisfactory information concerning many matters in his department, particularly was this the case in connection with the yachts. It seems unreasonable to suppose that a man so closely connected with the building of Judge Ouimet's yacht, should be unable to tell where most of the materials for the machinery and boiler came from, and more surprising still to find that the engineer who had charge of constructing these particular parts of the yacht, and who, likewise, had charge of such prison materials as are used in similar work, is unable to even attempt to establish that prison supplies were not used for the purpose. We find this officer untruthful in many of his statements and ridiculously so in some. An instance will show the character of many of them. The Commissioners had been informed that a brass cannon had been made at the engineer's shop, and on inquiry were told by the engineer that one had been made and broken up. Not satisfied with this they caused a search to be made, the result of which was that all the parts of quite a large and complete cannon, mounted on a carriage and supplied with ammunition boxes, &c., were found distributed here and there about the premises where they had been hidden away. The workmanship was of a good class, and all the brass work was highly polished. The carriage was composed of brass wheels, steel or iron axle, and wooden body. When asked to explain his former answer and tell why, or for whom the cannon had been made, his answer was that two were made, one of which had been broken up on account of a flaw in the casting, that they had not been made for any person, nor were they intended for any purpose other than to prevent the convicts stealing the scrap brass, a statement which the Commissioners find it impossible to believe. Champagne, when charged with giving away or appropriating several articles of prison property, would not deny many of the accusations, and admitted several of them, and many of his statements regarding his work on the yacht, and the appropriating of property, were found to be contradictory and untrue. Like others, he tried to fasten the blame for some of his misdoings upon the late Mr. Bowes, but inasmuch as that gentleman had nothing whatever to do with his office or his department at the time the irregularities occurred, the Commissioners could not accept his statement. The dismissal of this officer is recommended.

Ephrem Trudeau, the assistant engineer, not only permitted those under him to violate the prison rules with his knowledge, but in several instances was a most flagrant transgressor himself. He allowed the grocer, Picard, to traffic with convict Denis, and other convicts, and sell them groceries, tobacco, and practically anything else they desired. There is evidence that he helped himself to prison oil and fuel, and he was actually found in possession of a quantity of prison clothing and other property, most of which was secured by the convict Denis for Trudeau from the prison supplies. Many of these articles which were discovered in his possession by Chief Keeper Contant and Guard Fatt, were secreted in various places about his quarters, and his own admissions and attempted explanations, coupled with those given by his wife, show beyond question that most of them were procured dishonestly with Trudeau's knowledge and connivance. The Commissioners recommend this officer's dismissal.

BOOKKEEPING.

The work done in the offices of Accountant Malépart and Storekeeper Lamarche appeared to be of a most satisfactory kind so far as it went. The former officer, however, appears to be doing more work than was intended, for not only does he keep the books required to be kept in his office, but all the shop blotters as well, which latter should be kept by the instructors in the various departments over which they have supervision. In the different trades departments the bookkeeping is most unsatisfactory and unreliable. It is only since July, 1896, that the engineer attempted to keep account of labour and materials in his department. In the carpenter's, blacksmith's and other departments the accounts of materials and labour used were not kept in a reliable way and often not at all, the sums charged being merely guessed at. When the time was kept it was on slips of paper from which delivery notes were afterwards made and the slips then thrown away. The tailor's books were managed in a similar way, and that officer admits that clothes were made of which no record was kept, yet strange to say the books balanced. The same state of affairs occurred in the steward's office, that officer admitting that his balances were forced, hence it is impossible to tell how much of the supplies were wasted either through the dishonesty of the convicts or otherwise. The bookkeeping of the Storekeeper Daignault and that required in the warden's office has already been referred to, and here as in many other places certain books required by the regulations were not kept. There should be a complete overhauling of the system of bookkeeping in vogue here, and the method of carrying out the system, or it will be impossible to tell at any time the true condition of the prison affairs. All the prison supplies should be directly under the supervision of the storekeeper, who should keep the general stock book provided for by the regulations so that at any time it might be seen at a glance how much of any class of supplies has been purchased, sold, and is still in stock. A register should be kept at the gate which would indicate each day the hours of arrival of each officer and the time of leaving. It appears from the evidence that quite a number of books have, from time to time, been destroyed by the convicts, or used by them in the manufacturing of various articles. Many of these books were given to the convicts by officers, not with any improper motive as has been suggested, but apparently under the impression that they were of no further use. It was found also that for no good reason, leaves were, from time to time, torn out of some of the books. These practices should be stopped or their repetition made severely punishable. All books including requisition and delivery note books should be paged so that it would not be difficult to discover the tearing out of leaves whenever it occurred.

Department of Justice.

POLITICS.

That the affairs of this prison as regards appointments, purchases and general management, have as a rule been so conducted, as to bring the greatest aid to the political party in power for the time being, is, of course, the natural sequence of party government. It is, however, much to be regretted that the management of institutions of this kind, which are part and parcel of our system of administration of justice cannot be raised to the same level as to the other portions of that same system. It is quite apparent that the chief consideration in making these appointments is the party claim of the applicant, or of those who urge his being employed, and that in too many cases the appointee's education, probity and knowledge of the particular duties assigned him, are of but secondary importance. Hence it is that we find that most of the officials so appointed, fail to leave their politics behind them when entering upon their duties, and fail to remember that they are servants of the people, paid by the latter to do their work, and that they have no right to devote any portion of their time to party purposes nor allow the prison interest to suffer for the party's advantage.

Much of the time of the officers of this prison has been devoted to advancing the interests of those political friends through whom they received their appointment, and for similar reasons the property of the institution has been allowed to be wasted and rules have been violated continually to the detriment of the prison's interests and the injury of the discipline.

It is established quite clearly and admitted by the warden that he took an active part in the various political contests in his district and authorized and induced other officers to do the same. The prison yachts and vehicles were used for political purposes, the warden's residence was frequently the place of meeting for organization purposes and for revising and checking of voters' lists; voters' lists for the use of the scrutineers were printed at the prison free of charge; notices for political meetings were printed and issued from them; the warden took charge of nomination papers for his constituency; the prison was closed before the regular hours on several occasions to permit the officers to attend political meetings; various officers were sent out at different times on political errands, and to bring voters to the polls, and Clerk of Works Labelle spent weeks at a time canvassing and working in elections, with the consent of the warden; Storekeeper Daignault at the request of the warden collected subscriptions from prison officials and others for use in the by-election in Verchères and handed such subscriptions to the warden, and the evidence of the prison surgeon shows that on another occasion a similar attempt was made but failed as a result of the refusal of some of the officers to subscribe; three officers of the prison were allowed to resign to vote in a provincial election in which federal officers were not entitled to vote, and were on the following day again appointed to their former positions on the authority of the warden alone and without reporting to his superiors. These and several similar instances show conclusively that the warden and several of his subordinates were quite constantly and actively engaged in political work, although the subordinates seem to have acted at the request of the chief officer.

Some evidence of a negative character was introduced to show that the warden took no active part in the last federal election, but the warden himself has not said that he did not do so.

Whoever may be fortunate enough to devise some means by which the management of the prisons will be removed from the pernicious environment of party politics, will confer an incalculable benefit on the community, and especially on those who are charged with their management and honestly desire to perform their duties conscientiously.

TELL TALE CLOCKS.

The Auditor General's Report for 1894-95 shows that there was supplied about that time to each of the penitentiaries in Canada, an Eco magneto clock of the capacities and at the prices following:—

Kingston	20 Stations	$796 00
St. Vincent de Paul	16 "	725 00
British Columbia	10 "	695 00
Dorchester	6 "	625 00
Manitoba	10 "	695 00

The price paid for these clocks struck the Commissioners as being excessive and led to the taking of sufficient evidence to warrant their arrival at the conclusion that the Department of Justice had been defrauded out of hundreds of dollars in each of these transactions. A complete investigation of the matter meant a journey by the Commissioners to New York and elsewhere, which would entail considerable expense, and it was decided to leave any further inquiry to the discretion of the department.

The evidence of John Shaw, manager of the Montreal Electric Company, and copies of correspondence (the originals of which had been inspected by the Commissioners) filed by him indicates that there was considerable friction between this company and the clock manufacturers owing to the intervention of one C. D. Bernsee in the Canadian business supposed to be controlled by the former.

The correspondence affecting this case speaks for itself.

MONTREAL, 28th February, 1894.

CHAS. A. WHITE, Esq.,
Eco Magneto Clock Co.,
Boston.

DEAR SIR,—We are just in receipt of a communication from our traveller, dated at Kingston, Ontario, yesterday, which causes us not a little surprise and annoyance and which demands an explanation.

Some time ago we told you that we were putting a man on the road to exclusively attend to selling your dictators. Amongst the first he struck was Kingston Penitentiary, who we have been working quietly for some weeks, our actual outlay on their account being $30.40. At their request we left them to think over the matter, and not hearing from them as they had promised we this week again sent our representative to call upon them with the result that he reports: "they have just accepted the tender of Mr. C. D. Bernsee, Room 817, Vanderbilt Building, New York, for a 35 station Eco Magneto Clock." This accounts for hitch in the one we sold at Ottawa, as both going through the Department of Public Works there and this Bernsee's figures being probably under ours we can safely count ourselves out of it altogether at Ottawa and other points he had interfered with.

We are quite aware that our territory was originally Quebec Province, but before going beyond that we wrote and asked and got your permission to do so, and now after an expenditure of over $200 and talking up your clock all over the country, another party steps in and reaps all the benefits, nay more, actually takes the bite out of our mouth in the shape of the Government order.

We shall be pleased to know just who is authorized to sell your clocks in Canada, and who recoups our expenses in connection with Kingston sale for which we take whole credit in beginning and working up. If this man Bernsee had no authority from you when you do not require to fill his orders; if he had, then it is well that we should have a clear understanding, as, of course, paying no rent, taxes or expenses further than his railway fares in Canada, it stands to reason he can walk in at any time if he chooses and undersell us, awaiting reply.

GENTLEMEN,—We are much exercised at the tone of your letter, as we should have told you had we supposed that you were going to Kingston, that Mr. Bernsee had been working this matter up for the penitentiary job for over two years. The man that he employs in New York came to him from Kingston some three years ago and has been in his employ ever since, and this man worked up this trade. If we had thought that you were going to send your representative to Kingston, we would have told you that that matter had been worked on so long, but it is only recently that the trade was closed. Every time the writer has been in New York, for the last two years, this job has been talked about. We would say, however, right here, that situated as Mr. Bernsee is, and with the prices he gets, he cannot compete with you unless he gets it through some political pull with the Dominion Government, and there is no reason why you should not get all of the other jobs.

We do not wish this to come from us, or to be repeated, but we know that Bernsee got over $1,000 for the clock, &c., installed. This we wish you to consider confidential, as far as we are concerned.

We want you to get all the business you can, and between us we would prefer you to get it to Mr. Bernsee, although he is our sole agent in New York City, and a hustler and sells a great many clocks. He has been our agent since 1888. We do not think there is the slightest danger, as we said before, of his competing with you, outside of this particular job; but this job was promised to him, faithfully, a long time ago, and I guess he went through all of the formula of getting Government jobs to get it.

DEAR SIR,—We are in receipt of your favour of yesterday's date, re Bernsee transaction with Kingston Penitentiary, which satisfactorily accounts for what appeared to us a most inexplicable transaction.

The warden at Kingston has lied enough to us to sink a ship about this clock, our figures were certainly away below those at which you mention order was taken by Bernsee.

The only comfort we have in the matter is that we notice from newspapers the warden of Kingston Penitentiary is likely to be suspended for alleged "irregularities," at which we are not surprised.

We presume it is clearly understood that outside of Kingston, Bernsee cannot sell your clocks in Canada.

GENTLEMEN,—Since our conversation with Mr. Bernsee about the Government business in Ontario, we are convinced that it would be simply a waste of time and money for you to undertake to get the Government business. He worked nearly three years to get started with the Canadian Government, and his efforts were successful with the Kingston Penitentiary. In doing all this he made acquaintances and friends all along the line, and he now tells us that he can get all of these Government orders at fair prices for himself, but that he will in no way interfere with you outside the Government business, and, as he expresses it, "wishes you to keep your hands off, and not be giving lower prices," as it will only interfere with him and you will not get the business.

We think, under the circumstances, that if Mr. Bernsee will keep his hands off the business outside of the public buildings, that it would be better to take it that way.

The point he claims is that in going for the Government business in Canada he antedates your connection with us some two years or more, and he thinks this two years labour and expense should not be wasted.

Yours truly,

GENTLEMEN,—We are in receipt of your favour of the 7th instant.

So far as Bernsee's statement regarding his being successful in getting Kingston Penitentiary clock is concerned, he is correct, but as to reason of his getting it being owing to three years hard work in endeavouring to get it, we happen to know the true reason (so does the party who assisted him, for a consideration, to his sorrow).

As to his being the first to approach the Government about your clocks, he states a deliberate untruth, and he knows it, in saying so. When we first approached Commissioner Sherwood at Ottawa, he had never even heard of your clock, nor had the Public Works Department, or if they had it had been totally forgotten. Our talk interested Commissioner Sherwood so much that on our invitation he came down to Montreal, and we drove him out to Belding, Paul & Co., and showed him their clock, with which he felt so satisfied that he promised to try and get one into the Printing Bureau at Ottawa, and work them into the other departments by degrees; a month ago he stated he had not lost sight of the matter and did not appear to have seen or heard of Bernsee, at least he never mentioned him

As to Brockville Asylum we were again first in the field, and as we can prove by more reliable authority than we consider Bernsee's statements, or rather misstatements, it was only after we had given plans, &c., that this piratical party appeared on the scene in his usual character of trying to reap where we had sowed.

As to our ever having given lower prices than he, we can prove the reverse to be the case.

As to the "friends" he has made in Canada, we think we can count five hundred to his one.

We do not know whether he is the individual who by underquoting did us out of the Grand Trunk Railway, Singer Manufacturing Co., &c., but we rather suspect he is, possibly he includes them under the heading of "public buildings."

Finally, gentlemen, we do not interfere with Bernsee in the United States, or conflict with Starr in lower provinces but we either are or are not your agents here, with or without Mr. Bernsee's permission, and after latter's condensed essence of meanness towards us we decline to be dictated to by or enter into any arrangement with him, and are,

GENTLEMEN,—We have your's of the 8th instant, and are much impressed with your facts and logic. This matter has annoyed us a great deal, from the fact of conflicting interests, and we sum the whole case up to this result, that we shall accept any and all orders that you may send us. If they happen to be for the Canadian Government, all is we do not care to know who your customer is for some time after the shipment and installation. All is, go ahead and we will say nothing. However, in the matter of the Kingston Penitentiary, Bernsee told us of his prospects and hopes in the matter at least two years before he got the order. He writes us under date of the 9th:—

"In the meantime you can assure your Montreal agents that I am not in any way interfering with any business that they could get, and that I have not made one bid for any business but the Government."

GENTLEMEN,—The writer has been in New York this week and has had a long talk with Mr. Bernsee regarding the Government business for Canada, and we went over the entire matter, commencing in 1890, and the correspondence and work done since that time has been very extensive. Mr. Bernsee says that he is in a condition to secure, in addition to what he has had, all of the Government business at fair prices, and he begs that you will not interfere with that particular business. He also says that he will not under any circumstances interfere with you in any other business in Canada, commercial or otherwise, but will furnish you with any information or points that he may have, or will get, as to commercial or other business. Mr. Bernsee's experience is getting the Government contracts has been very interesting and has cost him a large amount of time, money, nerve and fine figuring. The facts of the case are that he has "powerful friends at court" and that by your bids you might make him trouble or oblige him to change his figure, you would not secure the orders. This, of course, would be very annoying to him, as it is the dollars we are all after, and would do you no good.

He has already equipped the penitentiaries throughout the Dominion from Nova Scotia to Vancouver. Mr. Bernsee thinks he can be of considerable use to you in furnishing you information as to business in Canada. He said he was asked to bid on E. B. Eddy's plant, but declined to do so. We think you can secure Eddy's order very soon. Possibly not before spring, however, but we feel sure it will come to you before the mill starts up.

If you will kindly instruct your people not to interfere with the Government business, you will greatly oblige us. This is only right. We never fully understood this situation until we went over the entire business with Mr. Bernsee.

DEAR SIR,—We have your favour of yesterday's date, re Bernsee.

Whilst you have gone into the matter of his correspondence with Government, this has only shown you his side of the question. Ours we do not intend repeating further than that neither Bernsee nor your clock were known at Ottawa until we went there; after first obtaining your permission, talked it up, got Commissioner Sherwood down here, took him around, made him quotation, showed him clock working, and then Mr. Pirate Bernsee appears upon the scene. So with Brockville Asylum, where we had a man especially on the ground for ten days, made drawing and plans, got written promise that we would be notified when it was to be installed, &c., &c., and again this vulture appears to prey upon other people's brains, with his misstatements that he was your agent; he could (and did quote ———). We could go on, but this is a sore subject with us, and we might happen to use unparliamentary language, so we forbear.

If he says we underquoted him he simply lies, and to prove our statement we are prepared to show our figures in our letter book, if he will do likewise. It is not a question merely of allowing him to take Government business, what we object to is his misrepresenting himself as your Canadian representative and trying to make us out liars in stating that we are. Put yourself in our place; state that you are Canadian agents and sole representatives, and then have another one come and undersell the very goods of which you claim to have monopoly. As to his powerful friends at court, we have only his word, and it we do not trust.

At your request we will drop Government business, but certainly think we are entitled to commission on any orders for Ottawa Government Building or Brockville Asylum, although we will not ask Bernsee for it.

Eddy we have worked for all he is worth and can only wait until he is ready now.

It appears from File No. 84 of the Department of Justice for 1893, that the first official document connected with these transactions is the following letter from James Devlin, then engineer at Kingston Penitentiary, who, Deputy Warden McCarthy says, is related by marriage to J. P. Ryan, the agent of Bernsee, elsewhere referred to.

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 6th January, 1893.

M. LAVELL, Esq., M.D.,
Warden.

SIR,—I have the honour to call attention to the absolute necessity for a watchman's clock. I would suggest that one be obtained on trial, and retained if found satisfactory. I have carefully examined the various devices and would suggest the Eco Magneto as the best and most modern.

I am led to urge most strongly this matter, as I have reason to believe that there has been inattention at night due to sleepiness. On Friday morning last, the fires were found drawn from one of the boilers, the water having got low.

We run as many as three large steam boilers at night, one of them carrying a pressure of 100 lbs. per square inch, and, as I feel the real responsibility for such plant rests with me, I am concerned deeply that all proper precautions be taken to avoid, possibly, very lamentable consequences.

Were, say, a 20 station clock obtained and placed in the keepers' hall, it would serve as a very presentable time piece, and would prevent what is considered a weak point in penitentiary safety, viz., absence of the night keeper from the main building frequently during the night—as before him would be recorded the attention to duty of the guards on various posts, as well as the officer running engines and dynamos and the stoker in boiler-house.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

(Sgd.) JAMES DEVLIN,
Engineer.

This was followed by the recommendation of purchase by ex-Inspector Moylan, which was approved by the Minister. This was followed by a protest on the part of ex-Warden Lavell on the ground that it would tend to lessen personal vigilance, and that it was too expensive—the cost for clock being quoted at $600 for 20 stations, and $20 each for additional stations. It appears that these objections, on the part of the warden, were overcome, and on 4th January, 1894, the following letter is received by the inspector:—

KINGSTON PENITENTIARY, 4th January, 1894.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector, &c.,
Ottawa.

The agent of the Eco Magneto clock has been here and spent some time with me in determining location and the stations. He submits the inclosed tender ($796) for the entire work, we to furnish labour as stated in his tender and admission duty free. It will be cheaper for us to furnish the labour than have charged to us outside prices. We can easily furnish the few men. If duty is to be paid then that would be required in addition to $796. The clock is in operation at Peterborough, Ont., at the electric works there, with about the same number of stations. I wrote them for information as to its efficiency but so far I have not received any word from them.

(Sgd.) M. LAVELL,
Warden.

From this it appears not only had there been a large increase in the price quoted, but in addition there was a demand for remission of duty and free labour, which demand was afterwards granted. This was followed on the 10th January, 1894, by another letter calling attention to the increased price, nevertheless, without further investigation the purchase was made, and the clock duly installed on these terms.

Then after some further correspondence, some of which appears on the departmental files and some of which is apparently missing, clocks were ordered on 7th July, 1894, for each of the other prisons as follows:—St. Vincent de Paul, 16 stations; Dorchester, 16 stations; Manitoba, 11 stations; British Columbia, 12. Mr. Bernsee then advises the following increased capacities:—St. Vincent de Paul, 20 stations; Dorchester, 10 stations; Manitoba, 15 stations; British Columbia, 15 stations; which change was approved and orders given accordingly, but although these clocks may be capable of holding the necessary apparatus for the number of stations mentioned, the fact is the stations are not in existence, Dorchester having but six, St. Vincent de Paul, thirteen, and so on. The files do not indicate that any prices were quoted in advance for these clocks latterly ordered. In a letter dated 23rd August, 1894, Mr. Bernsee asks to be furnished with “convict labour, carpenter work such as labour and material for boxing the wires, poles with fixtures for holding the wires for outside work, and admission of all instruments and materials, duty free,” and the wardens of the various prisons were instructed to grant these requests. The work being completed on these terms there followed a rendering of accounts referred to by the wardens of Dorchester and St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiaries in the following letters:—

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY, 2nd November, 1894.

JAS. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector of Penitentiaries,
Ottawa.

SIR,—On 19th September I received an account for $381.44, from C. D. Bernsee, of New York, for one Eco Magneto clock for watchman, which account was included in our September schedule but struck out by Mr. Lane. On the 23rd of October I received from the same firm another account amounting to $715 for the same clock. Seeing the large difference between the accounts we wrote for explanation and received answer under same date 25th October, copy of which I inclose, I now desire to know from you which account I am to include in my next schedule.

An early reply will greatly oblige,
Your obedient servant,

TEL. OUIMET.
Warden.

Department of Justice.

(Copy.)

DORCHESTER, N.B., 24th October, 1894.

J. G. MOYLAN, Esq.,
Inspector.

Inclose please find two bills for the electric watchman's clock. One for $272.35, the other for $625; which one is right? I thought the first one was an extravagant price, but when I got the one for $625 I thought there must be some mistake. It struck me as something outrageous.

JOHN B. FORSTER,
Warden.

When the attention of Mr. Bernsee is called to these discrepancies he answers the warden of St. Vincent de Paul in the following letter, and sent a similar explanation to the then inspector in reference to a letter from him:—

NEW YORK, 25th October, 1894.

TEL. OUMET, Esq., Warden,
St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

DEAR SIR,—I am just in receipt of your favour of the 23rd instant, relative to the bills I sent you for the Eco Magneto watchman's clock. The account sent you on 19th September for $381.44 was simply to charge the clock for customs duties and represented the actual costs of the instruments sent. The account sent you in October was for the completed work.

On the 19th September account I could not include the expenses of travel of my superintendent nor his wages (which is an expense to be added to the cost of the system) nor could I add my own profits, &c., also wire, &c., purchased in Montreal.

These make up the difference between the first bill sent for customs and the bill of 18th October.

I trust you will find the explanations satisfactory and remain,

Yours truly,

(Sd.) C. D. BERNSEE.

That the explanation is flimsy will readily be seen when attention is drawn to the fact that the warden asked for duplicate invoices for the department and the prison; that inasmuch as he was getting the goods in duty free the amount of the invoice made no difference to him, and further the wire he speaks of having been ordered in Montreal was charged in the detail bill rendered. But the correspondence between the Eco Magneto Clock Co., and the Montreal Electric Co., suggests other reasons, which suggestions are strengthened by the fact that the latter have supplied and installed clocks to the following places, of the capacity and for the price opposite each:—

Montreal Board of Trade.—15 station clock complete, installed 22nd September, 1894, for $250.

Thomas Davidson & Co., Ste. Cunegonde.—20 station clock with 10 generators, 30th November, 1894, for $220.

Beauharnois Woollen Co.—14 station clock with 9 generators, 4th January, 1894, for $225.

Montreal Rolling Mills.—18 station clock, 15 generators, 31st December, 1895, for $210.

Watson, Foster & Co.—6 station clock, 6 generators, 30th January, 1897, for $140.

Protestant Insane Asylum, Verdun.—20 station clock, 15 generators, March, 1897, for $440.

Your Commissioners submit that a fair comparison may be made between this latter clock and the one at St. Vincent de Paul, because they are of about the same size and equally difficult to install. The manager of the Montreal Electric Co. says this was a fair price, and he was not in competition with any one. He supplied all the materials necessary, paid the duty on the goods, and furnished all the labour. At St. Vincent de Paul they paid $285 more, to which is to be added the duty, all the labour (save that of the agent sent to install the instrument) and the posts and lumber which the deputy warden, in his statement of the 11th August, 1897, estimates at $47.25, allowing only 25 cents per day for labour and without regard to the time of instructors and other officers, making over 100 per cent excess charge for this one clock. The other clocks, as has been before stated, were supplied on the same terms.

It appears further from the files that the department would not pay these accounts without some further explanation than that already given through the ex-inspector. The latter was informed by Mr. Bernsee, that it would be necessary to give his agent, Mr. Ryan, a personal interview, but the result of that interview, beyond the fact that the accounts were paid in full, does not appear.

Who is responsible for all this is not established, but your Commissioners cannot but conclude that the officers who had charge of these transactions were sufficiently put upon their guard to have prevented the perpetration of what is undoubtedly a fraud upon the public revenue.

THE REVOLT OF 1886.

The revolt of the convicts on the 24th of April, 1886, during the wardenship of Godfroi Laviolette, is an event so remote as not to have called for inquiry, were it not that the effects of it still remain as an element of controversy, and of discord to some extent amongst the officers of the penitentiary, and that a complaint based upon the occurrence had been made to the Department of Justice and referred to the Commissioners for investigation. Before touching on Warden Laviolette's administration it may very properly be stated that his predecessor, Dr. Duchesneau, had been removed from the wardenship in 1880, for the principal reason, as alleged that order and discipline were not well maintained, and that H. B. Mackay became acting warden until his (Duchesneau's) successor was appointed. It appears the misfortune of this penitentiary to have been in a condition of turbulence and of disorder for a considerable period prior to November, 1881, when Warden Laviolette first assumed the duties of warden. This was brought about and became a public scandal through contending factions on the disciplinary staff during a seventeen months contest of rival applicants to be appointed as Duchesneau's successor. Amongst the known applicants were G. Laviolette, H. B. Mackay, then deputy warden, and T. Ouimet, then clerk of works, the contest finally resulting in the superannuation of Mackay, the appointment of Laviolette as warden, and Ouimet as deputy warden. Although this was the action taken, it did not end the contest, for in 1883, it appears on the records that an Ottawa newspaper gave publicity to the rumour that Warden Laviolette was to be superannuated, and that T. Ouimet, the deputy warden, was to be his successor.

It was made an objection to Warden Duchesneau as one of the reasons for his removal, that the discipline was lax. During the time Mackay was acting warden it was objected that the discipline was not sufficiently improved and this no doubt operated against his permanent appointment to the position of warden. If, therefore, a lack of discipline had assisted to depose one warden, (Duchesneau) and barred the advancement of an acting warden (Mackay) to the position of warden, it is not unlikely to have occurred to the deputy warden, who had failed to obtain the wardenship, and who was still continuing his efforts to secure it, that a low state of discipline might have the effect of removing his rival and open the way to his securing the coveted position.

The then deputy warden, T. Ouimet, first became connected with the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary in 1870 as farm instructor, was removed in 1873 for incompetency, and offered a position as guard which he declined to accept and left the service. In 1879 he again became connected with the institution as chief trade instructor and clerk of works. It is not for the purpose of personal disparagement that reference is made to the fact that he is illiterate, is without skill as a tradesman, and has no knowledge of accounts, but as evidence that there were strong influences behind him by which he attained to positions in the institution he had not the qualifications to fill, and that some of those influences were at work is evidenced by the letter of Storekeeper Lamarche to Warden Laviolette which appears hereafter. He continued to act as clerk of works until the removal of Warden Duchesneau in 1881, when the then deputy warden, H. B. Mackay, became acting warden and T. Ouimet, clerk of works, was made acting deputy warden. The then chief keeper, Thomas McCarthy entered the service of the Kingston Penitentiary in 1856, afterwards became chief keeper and was afterwards transferred, in 1881, to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary as chief keeper in that institution. At the outset of Warden Laviolette's administration in the early part of 1882, he had a serious controversy with the inspector of penitentiaries because of his refusal to purchase upwards of 6,000 yards of cloth for convicts clothing which was not required during the current fiscal year, and which the inspector insisted he should order. The dispute was acrimonious and led, with possibly other causes superadded, to the breaking off of cordial relations between the warden and the inspector. This incident is referred to, merely for the purpose of setting out the position of the warden in the struggle upon which he was about to enter, in maintaining himself against those who were seeking to have him removed as an obstacle to their ambition. By the penitentiary regulations the deputy warden is made responsible for the police and discipline of the prison, and the duty of the chief keeper is to assist that officer in the duty of general supervision, and in the maintenance of discipline, order and general good conduct among officers and convicts. Those two officers being responsible for good order and discipline, the warden alleges in his letters to the department that they, while assuring him the discipline was good, were at the same time reporting to the inspector that it was lax and could not be maintained because the warden was too lenient in punishing convicts when reported. The warden when making his rounds of the prison can know little or nothing of the conduct of convicts because all are on their good behaviour the moment he makes his approach. If the two chief disciplinary officers are not perfectly frank and loyal to the warden, he can only have a scanty knowledge of what is going on among the convicts. The position of the warden as may well be imagined was one of extreme difficulty. His deputy was openly compassing his removal to secure the wardenship for himself. His chief keeper expected to be made deputy if the deputy warden succeeded to the wardenship. Those two officers were commenting adversely on his administration to the inspector, who, to say the least, was not friendly to the warden, and lent a willing ear to their statements. The deputy and chief keeper likewise had it in their power, to allow disorder among the convicts to become rampant. That this was the position of the warden in the early part of 1883 does not admit of doubt, and such being the case it is not difficult to see what must be the ultimate result. The warden alleges in his correspondence with the department that he was counselled by the Department of Justice when entering upon his duties, to treat the convicts with fairness and leniency and to secure their good-will and obedience to prison rules by kindness rather than by severity, that he endeavoured to act upon this principle, that the discipline after he first entered upon his duties improved, and that the industrial operations and economy of management very much improved, is in evidence.

It soon began to be charged by the deputy warden and chief keeper to the inspector that the warden was too lenient in his punishments, and that disorder in consequence prevailed. While these reports were being made the inspector wrote this entry in the inspector's minute book in October, 1882: "I observe that the corporal punishment has been inflicted by the warden rather frequently since my last inspection (April, 1882)." The warden alleged that the deputy warden and chief keeper were representing to him that the order and discipline were good, while representing the reverse to the inspector, and that there might be a record made he required these two officers to make written reports daily of any lack of order and discipline that might come under their notice. This order it was alleged had a very good effect upon both officers and convicts. The practice after being kept up two weeks was abandoned because the two officers refused longer to continue it. In this refusal they were sustained by the inspector giving as his reasons therefor that "the warden is acting ultra vires by making rules and imposing duties upon the deputy and chief keeper not enjoined by the authorized rules and regulations." The 96th rule defining the duties of deputy warden reads, and it shall be his duty to report to the "warden in writing, strictly and promptly every neglect of duty or of impropriety or misconduct on the part of any officer, and verbally whatever is not of importance." This ruling of the inspector was brought under the attention of the Minister of Justice, Sir John Thompson, by the warden, who decided, "that much must be left to the good judgment and discretion of the warden, and that within certain limits each warden must be left to choose as to whether he will communicate verbally or in writing with his officers. The officers should understand that they must obey the warden, if the orders are improper or unreasonable, they may, of course, through him appeal to you the inspector and, if necessary, through you to the Minister, but pending such an appeal they must obey the warden's orders, leaving the responsibility with him." It was most important to the warden in the position in which he was placed, that there should be written reports on the state of discipline to avoid future misrepresentations to the inspector, and it was a proper and reasonable exercise of his authority, to require it of his officers. The act of the inspector in upholding the insubordination of the deputy warden and chief keeper, necessarily had the effect of breaking down the warden's authority over the disciplinary staff, and of inspiring among the staff the belief that the warden must eventually yield his position to the deputy, who would then be their warden. Whether rightly or wrongly it also conveyed the belief that the inspector was with the deputy warden and chief keeper in their contest with the warden, and that with such a combination against him he must certainly be overthrown. The warden has to rely on the deputy warden and chief keeper to see that his orders in the management of the prison are carried out. This was done generally in a very indifferent way, in some cases not done at all, and in other cases orders given by the warden to other officers were countermanded by the deputy warden. The officers on the staff were divided, some favouring the warden and some the deputy, but a significant circumstance is, that the officers who were not on the disciplinary staff and therefore not under the supervision of the deputy and chief keeper, were favourable to the warden, and had confidence in his ability, if properly supported, to efficiently administer the prison.

Some indication of the undermining influences that were being employed against the warden and those officers who were loyal to him, is given in the following letter written by the storekeeper to the warden after meeting Mr. Alderic Ouimet, while in Montreal on the business of the penitentiary.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL PENITENTIARY.

(Translation.)

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 22nd February, 1885.

TO GODF. LAVIOLETTE, Esq.,
Warden of the Penitentiary.

I think it my duty to inform you of the fact of my meeting J. Ald. Ouimet, Esq., M.P., for Laval, at Montreal in the shop of J. B. & N. Bourassa, our contractor, yesterday, Saturday. I had gone there on business connected with the institution. Mr. Ouimet, on seeing me, without bowing or any acknowledgment of his presence on my part, called out, "Say, Lamarche, when are you going to stop your noise over there? It must be put a stop to." "What do you mean?", I answered quite surprised. "You must understand it," he said "better than any other." The thing has lasted too long, it must be put a stop to. You know that I do not speak for nothing, you know the English proverb "a dog has always his last days" (or something of that kind), well that is what will happen to you fellows, you are gone coons. More surprised than ever I said to him, "But my dear Alderic you are forgetting yourself, you should not speak so before so many people. (There were about ten persons present.) You should have called me aside and spoken to me as is customary among well bred persons." "No," said he, "I am not afraid to speak to you and you will perceive it before long." "Is that a threat," I inquired. "No," said he, "but you are gone coons." I was so surprised and annoyed that I could not help telling him that he spoke like a rough. On this he reddened up and left me.

Department of Justice.

I cannot conceive what Mr. Ouimet intended by this unseemly attack, but I think he would have done better to attack the head than the subordinates, the latter, after all, having no responsibility in the establishment. I will express no opinion as to the conduct of Mr. Ouimet on that occasion. Every just and honest person will be able to draw conclusions.

I have called your attention to the fact because I thought it my duty to warn you. I am under the impression that Mr. Ouimet is primed and pushed on by certain officers of the establishment, as up to that time I had nothing to complain of in his way of treating me, and would not have lost his friendship had he not been deceived concerning me.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your obedient servant,

G. B. LAMARCHE.
Storekeeper.

The fact that the officers of the institution had become divided into two contending factions, the one seeking to overthrow, and the other to support the warden, was of itself enough to destroy all discipline even if the warden in command were possessed of the highest qualifications. Acting Warden H. B. Mackay, in his annual report of 1881 on the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary foreseeing the troubles, writes :

"When the management of the affairs of the penitentiary was entrusted to me, the officers of the institution were divided into factions, one of which had espoused the interests of Dr. Duchesneau whilst the other had opposed them. After the late warden was relieved of the cares of his office these two parties continued to exist. Now it requires but a slight knowledge of the difficulties of maintaining discipline in a penal institution to perceive that it is absolutely necessary that there should be no asperity of feeling between the officers in order that they may always be ready to act in concert, and to obey orders promptly. When there is no united action on the part of the officers, vigilance and discipline are relaxed. Next escapes and even mutinies are planned for convicts quickly perceive the existence of contentions between those placed on guard over them, and are not slow to turn such quarrels to their own account." These words have a special application to what happened in 1886 as a result of the quarrel between the deputy warden, chief keeper and warden. It appears by the evidence that the deputy warden and chief keeper took little or no interest in maintaining discipline, their personal aims and objects leading them to allow the discipline to fall into disorder.

This it continued to do until the convicts became uncontrollable and broke into open revolt in April of that year. The ex-inspector says he foresaw it. There were premonitions of the outbreak before it took place. It had been spoken of among the convicts and mentioned by some of the guards as an event likely to happen. The convicts became more and more excited and less attentive to their work. The time for the revolt had been arranged to take place at different dates only to be given up, to wait a more opportune moment. The deputy warden was absent without leave several days before as well as on the day of the revolt. Illness is given as the cause of his absence, but he had not notified the warden of his illness as required by rule 255 of the regulations. This case of illness of the deputy warden was unlike his other periods of illness, as in almost every other case he had obtained from the prison surgeon medical prescriptions for his recovery, but in this case he had not. He was seen about the village the days he was absent, and supposed to be ill before the revolt and on the day of the revolt. When the revolt occurred he was in the church adjoining the prison and on hearing the firing left the church. That he could have been in the prison in four or five minutes, had he desired to go to the rescue of the warden, is beyond doubt. From twenty to thirty minutes elapsed from the time the firing commenced till the revolt was over, and during this time he was not seen as taking any part to suppress it. While the revolt was not yet entirely over and while the guards were calling for some one to lead them, he was seen walking leisurely in front of the prison apparently unconcerned in what was going on. A large number of guards who were in the service of the penitentiary at the time of the revolt, as well as some persons living in the neighbourhood of the prison were examined, and although the lapse of time might be expected to obscure the memory as to minor details, there was very great clearness of recollection among all as to the general facts. The event was a terrible one in the experience of all, and happening in a small and peaceful community, it has never ceased to be talked about, so that the principal events were readily recalled.

There is a general agreement among all who were examined that the deputy warden and chief keeper made no efforts to carry out the warden's orders in the management of the prison. That in many cases they openly ridiculed him, saying they would not take orders from him, and that he would not long be warden. That out of this grew the revolt, all concur. It was known among the officers, according to the testimony, that the convicts were planning a revolt, and that it was believed by some of the convicts that it was the desire of some of the officers that it should occur. Nothing was done to prevent such an event. The generally expressed belief of those testifying, is, that the deputy warden was absent from duty before and on the day of the revolt without cause, even if not intentionally absent in the expectation of trouble. It is also testified to, that on the first shots being fired, which warned the deputy warden of the revolt, he did not display energy and courage in going to the rescue of the warden and in assisting to quell the outbreak. The chief keeper, according to the general testimony, did not possess the coolness and bravery to take command of the guards, who were waiting for some one to lead them to the assistance of the warden, and to restore order. No investigation was ever ordered into the causes which led to the revolt, and no searching inquiry was ever made to ascertain them. There was a coroner's inquest on the body of the convict Corriveau, shot and killed during the revolt, which was accepted as sufficient, and there the matter was allowed to rest. The verdict of the coroner's jury nowhere appears in any of the reports made to the Department of Justice, or in the correspondence with the department, regarding the revolt. The Commissioners desiring to see the records of the inquest applied at the office of the Clerk of Peace for permission to examine them and then learned that all papers relating thereto had been abstracted from the office, and no trace of them could be found. They then made search for the records of the criminal proceedings taken against some of the convicts implicated in the outbreak, and these also were missing, but these circumstances are no more surprising than the suppression of the report made by Warden Laviolette after he had sufficiently recovered from his wounds to be able to write. The original report is produced and bears the stamp of the Department of Justice, 8th January, 1887, and an endorsement in the handwriting of Warden Laviolette in these words: "The Deputy Minister of Justice, Mr. Burbidge, being at my residence on the 11th January, 1887, in the evening returned me this document." The following is a translation of Warden Laviolette's report to the Minister of Justice, being referred to as Exhibit B in the evidence of Senator Bellerose.

ST. VINCENT DE PAUL, 3rd November, 1886.

To the Hon. J. S. D. THOMPSON,
Minister of Justice.
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to submit my report on the revolt of the convicts at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, which took place on the 24th April last, report which I should have made immediately after that serious occurrence, but which I was prevented from doing by the wounds I received on that occasion, and which I have great difficulty in doing to-day.

Department of Justice.

On the 24th of April last at 4 o'clock p. m. I left my office to inspect the prison. I visited the tailor's and shoemaker's shops situated in the same department. I did not remark that the convicts were more excited and turbulent than usual; the instructor and guard in charge of both shops made no complaint or remark against them. From thence I crossed the yard and entered the western dormitory. I was inspecting the cells of the second row when Guard Boyer, who was in charge of the dormitory, called me in all haste. I descended and he informed me that there was trouble in the yard among the convicts. The convicts of his dormitory told me that convict Kinsaler had just been beaten before the stone-shed by other convicts and more especially by convict J. B. Durocher. As I was going out I met Steward Mazurette and Chief Keeper McCarthy. The latter announced to me of an uprising of the convicts. I ordered the convicts in their dormitories back to their cells. In leaving the chief keeper who was returning into the penitentiary, I told him in such case to call together several guards armed with rifles and to meet me in the yard.

I then proceeded accompanied by the steward to the eastern extremity of the yard. On reaching the end of the stone-shed, I saw that a heavy ladder had been raised against the outer wall near the bakery and that a number of convicts were coming from that spot in my direction. These were convicts Viau, L'vesque, Durocher alias Mc-Edrigan, Peters, Mentil, Corriveau, Cadieux, and perhaps a few others. On seeing me they ran and surrounded me. Several had revolvers in their hands and threatened me with them. They appeared very much excited and I perceived by their actions that it was not a fight among themselves, but really a revolt. I did not lose my presence of mind but endeavoured to reason with them, asking them what they wanted and what was their object. They would hear nothing but dragged me into the stone-shed and placed me in the "stand" of the officers in charge of the stonecutters shed. They several times threatened me with their revolvers. They pushed me inside while Cadieux and Durocher pointed their revolvers at my head; I seized my own revolver to defend myself, but at the same moment, at the command of Viau, the rebels wrenched it from me, injuring the weapon in so doing. Viau took it up, but could not use it as it would not work.

On being pushed into the guard "stand," I saw officers Therrien, McIlwaine, Couvrette, A. Plouffe and Lablanc seated on the floor and securely bound. The rebels had taken their revolvers from them. Some convicts were beginning to bind my legs when their chief, Viau, saying to his companions, "let us bring Mr. Warden with us, we will want him, let no one hurt him." They carried me with them, yelling and threatening me with their revolvers to the western extremity of the yard, near the wooden fence; then convict Corriveau having in his hands a crowbar, made repeated attempts to detach one of the boards of the fence. The other convicts held me securely in front of them to shield themselves and prevent Guard Paré from firing at them. Paré was posted on tower No. 6, on the wall seven or eight yards from the gate and about fifty yards from the spot where I was held by the convicts. Paré held his rifle ready to take advantage of the first opportunity to fire on the convicts, but the rebels constantly kept me before them with seven or eight revolvers aimed at me ready to fire if Paré fired. The rebels continuing to threaten cried out that they wanted liberty and called upon me to have the gate opened. I replied that I would not do it, that they might if they were able, break through the boards of the fence and get out in that way. They cried that they did not want that, that they wanted to get out by the gate and called upon me to order the guard to open it. I replied once more that I would not do so, and remarking that Paré aimed principally at convict Corriveau who was near the fence, five or six feet from me, I signalled to him with my hand and called out to him to fire without minding me. At the same moment I heard a report and had just time to see by the bloody hole in his shirt that convict Corriveau, who was almost facing me, had been hit in the region of the heart. He was still on his feet; before he fell I received myself at close range (I was facing the fence) a ball in the back of the neck that broke my lower jaw into several fragments, knocked out four teeth from the upper jaw and came out from the cheek. Copious bleeding followed. I picked up my stick which the shock had caused me to drop and walked the distance of a few yards when I received two other bullets, one entering the muscle of the upper part of the thigh, behind and coming out by the groin, the other ploughing deeply into the right wrist. Several convicts whom I recognized raised me and carried me to the hospital where the penitentiary physician, Dr. Pominville, gave me the necessary care. He succeeded after repeated efforts in stopping the terrible hemorrhage which had continued from the time I was struck in the yard by the first bullet.

Surgeon Brosseau, of Montreal, who had been sent for, arrived in the evening and spent the rest of the night with Dr. Pominville at my bedside. I owe to their skill and care and to my strong constitution that my life was preserved during that terrible night. During all the time I was in the yard at the mercy of the insurgent convicts, I remained alone with Steward Mazurette also retained by them, and with this exception I saw no officer or subaltern. The deputy warden had been absent from his post since four or five days, I do not know why, as he sent me no notice that he would be absent.

Such, sir, are the facts which took place during the revolt to my personal knowledge.

I now give from information handed to me, an account of the acting of the insurgent convicts during the few minutes preceding my entering the yard.

I stated above that I had visited the tailor's and cobbler's shops where I had noted nothing irregular, and that from them I had gone to inspect the cells of the western dormitory. It was during my inspection of the cells that convict Kinsaler was assaulted by convict Durocher and others either to disguise their intention or to give the signal for the revolt. After I had left the shop the convicts surprised the two instructors, Beauparlant and Mazurette, Instructor Leduc, who happened to be there, and Guard Bostock, bound them securely, took their revolvers and brutally illtreated Instructor Beauparlant. They locked the outer door took the key from the store of Instructor Mazurette and laid hands on some spare clothing.

Meanwhile the insurgents, convicts in the stone-shed made prisoners Instructor Therrien, yard Guard McIlwaine and Guards Couvrette, A. Plouffe and Leblanc, appropriated their revolvers and bound them hand and foot. They removed two rafters from the shed and built a strong ladder which they carried outside and raised against the outer wall at the eastern extremity of the yard near the bakery. Some of the insurgents, the leaders, mounted the ladder with the intention of jumping into the garden beyond, but luckily farmer and gardener Kenny with Guards N. Chartrand and Fred. Chartrand were watching over a gang of convicts in the garden under the wall. Mr. Kenny warned by Guard Saunders, posted on tower No. 2, seeing convicts at the top of the ladder fired on them with his revolver, Guard F. Chartrand also fired with his rifle.

The insurgents came down from the ladder and immediately attempted to scale the wall once more, but were finally obliged to give up the idea; they, however, wounded Guard Chartrand in the thigh.

The convicts thereupon abandoned the ladder and moved towards the other end of the yard, when seeing me near the stone-shed they came upon me and made me prisoner as above related. Farmer Kenny was then informed by Guard Saunders of No. 3 tower that the insurgents were moving towards the western extremity of the yard bringing the warden with them. Mr. Kenny hastened with Guard M. Chartrand to lead back his convicts to the penitentiary. Guard F. Chartrand was carried home.

The deputy warden, who was during the firing in the vestry of the parish church situated near the walls of the penitentiary, while returning home was informed while standing before the Bertrand Hotel by a guard who was passing, of what was taking place in the penitentiary; he went into the garden which Kenny had just left. Guard Saunders informed the deputy that the insurgent convicts were masters of the yard and of the warden and were going to illtreat him.

It did not appear to me that a large number of convicts took part in this revolt; there is no doubt, however, that had the insurgents succeeded in their plan of escape all the others would have taken advantage of it.

As to the cause which led to the uprising, I attribute it to the severe discipline enforced which precluded all chance of isolated escape; to the love of liberty cherished even by the most hardened criminal several times condemned. Several of the latter have also the ambition of acquiring notoriety and become famous in the opinion of other convicts. Viau is one of them; he proved it on that occasion by acting as leader of the revolt ; he has also the mania of working continually at some scheme for his own escape. In February or March this same Viau declared to some of his friends that the convicts had no chance of making isolated escapes in consequence of the constant watch kept over them by the officers ; that a revolt alone might give them a chance during the disorder and confusion it would cause among the officers. I had on that occasion warned the officers to keep a constant watch in the yard and during my visits to the shops I recommended that the movements of the convicts be closely watched lest such an event should occur. Nothing came to my knowledge, however, to induce me to believe that the plot was being concocted, still less that it would be carried out that day, the 24th April, 1886.

I am not in a position to judge of the conduct of each of the officers who occupied posts during this unfortunate affair, but I have reason to be astonished, nor can I even to-day understand why, during the revolt in the yard, and while I was alone facing these insurgent malefactors of whom eight or ten were around me with revolvers ; why, I say a superior officer did not enter the yard at the head of a detachment of ten or twelve guards armed with rifles and revolvers. A considerable number of officers remained inactive in the keeper's hall ; it is only late during the revolt it appears that eighteen or twenty guards were placed outside the yard near the wooden fence under the orders of two superior officers, where five or six would have been sufficient. The appearance of this detachment in the yard and the shooting of some of the insurgents had they refused to surrender, would certainly have cornered them all and would have caused the terrible and durable influence on the convict population.

Instead of that, they hastened the Montreal police to recall order, but a few moments after the insurgents had dispersed and returned to their posts of labour. As stated above a counter order was dispatched to the chief of police.

Can it be true that certain officers knew of this revolt five or six weeks before it broke out ? I hesitated to believe that officers of superior rank especially, knew of the revolt projected by convicts, and concealed the fact.

Excuse, sir, this long report dealing at length with the facts especially concerning myself, but I thought that in view of the gravity of the occurrence which I had to relate, I should give you minute and truthful account of this unfortunate affair, the revolt of the convicts, which might have had much more terrible consequences without my intervention. It is true that my conduct exposed me to great danger, because it disturbed the plans of the insurgents, delayed their action, dispersed and drove them back to their posts of labour. Guard Paré in obeying my order in firing on the insurgents displayed great address and presence of mind. Farmer Kenny and his guards also deserve praise for their attitude in the face of the convicts.

Leaving you, sir, to judge of the consequences, had I abstained from doing what I did on this occasion in the absence of the two superior officers, to whom was entrusted the command of the prison, I most respectfully submit the present report which I certify to be true, to your favourable consideration.

I have the honour to be, sir,
Your most obedient servant,

(Signed) GODF. LAVIOLETTE.

In a letter of ex-Warden Laviolette to Senator Bellerose of 22nd March, 1888, (original produced) referred to his speech in the Senate on the revolt, he used these words :—

“I received your two inclosures of the Senate Debate containing your speech against Moylan, &c. I perused it with pleasure and distributed copies to persons in a position to appreciate it. It is impossible for the Government to refute your factum, and I am sure they will not attempt to do so.”

In a second letter to the Senator dated 26th March, 1888, are these words :—“I distributed your factum, and those who have read it agree in saying that everything indicates an infamy ; yes, and I do not hesitate to declare that all you advance is perfectly true, that I have a personal knowledge of all the facts, correspondence, &c.”

In still another letter to the Senator dated 28th April, 1889, are the following words:—"Without producing my report on the revolt you might refer to it, bringing out the fact that the deputy minister, Mr. Burbidge, the 12th January, 1887, in the evening obtained the resignation of Dr. Pominville as penitentiary physician, that that gentleman passed the night at my house with a view of obtaining also my resignation ; which I refused to do unless a serious and honest investigation was ordered. That the deputy minister handed me back my report of the revolt to correct it. That some days afterwards, and still under the influence of the excitement caused by my interview with the deputy minister, I told you of my refusal of his proposition and gave you communication of my report on the revolt of the convicts which he had handed back to me—or that I gave you communication of it after distribution of T. Ouimet's which you called a false report, &c., with reason."

Senator Bellerose in his place in the Senate in the session of 1886 brought the matter of the revolt before the House and urged a thorough investigation to fix the responsibility on the men who were the cause of it. The following is an extract from his speech on that occasion.

"The investigation I asked for was a natural consequence of the revolt. It commended itself to the common sense of every honest man. Why, in every case when something extraordinary happens in such institution, an inquiry is ordered, even in the case of a single escape. Yet after such a sad event as the revolt, nothing was done to find out what was at the bottom. Why was nothing done? Because, answered the good inspector at page 310 of the blue book, the coroner's investigation was considered sufficient. Not so, gentlemen, quite the contrary, the coroner's jury having sufficient evidence to report on the death of the convict shot dead, stopped their proceedings, gave their verdict and recommended a minute investigation to be made in the following words:—

"Considering the evidence given by Guard Bostock, who states that he heard it spoken, and that he then believed in a rising of convicts, and that he reported the facts to the authorities of the penitentiary on the Thursday preceding the day the revolt broke out. The coroner's jury in the investigation as to the death of convict Corriveau, having given their verdict, particularly recommends:—

"That a minute investigation be made into the details of the revolt, so that the responsibility may be put on the proper man.

"A few days after, on the 31st of May, the Minister of Justice stated in the Commons, as I have already read from his speech:—

"There was an investigation in the ordinary course of justice by the coroner's inquest, and subsequently there was an investigation made by the inspector. I may call that a preliminary investigation, because it is not intended that it should be a final one * * * I do stand committed as the head of the department, to having a full and thorough investigation."

That there was an evident disinclination on the part of the then inspector of penitentiaries and of the Department of Justice to having a full and thorough investigation made into the revolt is manifest from the fact of the suppression of Warden Laviolette's report on the revolt and the further fact that the promise of the First Minister that there should be one, has never been acted upon. It is likewise apparent that the motive in abstracting the records of the coroner's inquest ; and of the trial of the convicts in the Court of Queen's Bench from the office of the clerk of the peace was to prevent them from being used in the investigation it had been promised should be made.

From the evidence, and from reading the correspondence and the proceedings at the investigations held from time to time into the conduct of the officers during Warden Laviolette's management of the penitentiary, your Commissioners are of the opinion that the direct cause of the revolt of the convicts on 24th April, 1886, was the breaking down of the authority of the warden and the destruction of the prison discipline resulting from the persistent opposition of the then deputy warden, T. Ouimet, and the then chief keeper, Thomas McCarthy, to the authority of Warden Laviolette, in which they had the countenance and support of the then inspector of penitentiaries, J. G. Moylan ; and that the consequences of the revolt to Warden Laviolette might have been avoided had the said deputy warden and chief keeper exhibited the energy and courage to take command of the guards armed with rifles and lead them into the prison yard at the moment of the outbreak to suppress the revolt. Had this been done with resolute courage it is quite unlikely any serious harm would have befallen the warden.

THE WARDEN.

Telesphore Ouimet after having filled several offices in the St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary was appointed acting warden after the revolt of the convicts in 1886, and shortly afterwards was made warden. He entered the prison in 1870, and from that time until 1873 he acted as farmer, and not being successful in that position was reduced to guard after two and a half years' service. He then left the prison but returned in 1879 as clerk of works, for which position, according to his own testimony, he had little if any qualifications. In 1881 he was made deputy warden; in 1886 acting warden, and a year later became warden. The evidence taken in reference to the revolt leads your Commissioners to the conclusion it was largely the result of insubordination and intriguing on the part of this officer, who was then deputy warden, and other officers of the prison, and his conduct was not what ought to be expected from a loyal and courageous subordinate. One of the chief results of that revolt was the deposing of Warden Laviolette and the promotion to his place of the present warden. Since his accession to office he has ruled with what may be termed a strong hand, and has thus compelled obedience to his orders whether they were right or wrong, and without much regard to the rules and regulations laid down for the management of the institution. In the opinion of your Commissioners he was not at the time of his appointment qualified for such position nor is he so qualified at the present time.

The examination into the conduct of this officer has taken considerable time and the report of the Commissioners would have been delivered at a much earlier date were it not for the repeated delays consequent upon allowing him to be heard by counsel, and to produce testimony to show that he was not responsible for many of the breaches of prison rules and discipline which the evidence indicates were chargeable to him, and to justify those which he admitted; to show among other things that certain prison materials and labour which it was said in evidence had been used in building a yacht, in making furniture for the warden, and otherwise supplied to him were not so supplied; and to make his defence generally to other matters which came to the knowledge of your Commissioners, and which were not in keeping with honest administration and good management. Everything possible was done to aid those in charge of the warden's case in preparing and presenting their defence—copies of all depositions were furnished—he was represented by four advocates—access to all exhibits and official files and documents and anything in relation to the case was allowed, adjournments from time to time were granted, the Commissioners held sittings both in Montreal and Ottawa for this purpose, he was permitted to recall all the witnesses already examined, to produce any additional witnesses he might deem necessary and he had already been examined on all points which affected him, and unusual latitude was permitted in the examination of such witnesses as were called, and in order to further facilitate their work the Commissioners, although in no way bound to do so, caused to be prepared and furnished to the warden's counsel a list of infractions of the prison rules and regulations which were either admitted by the warden or prepared to be established by the evidence, and for which they considered the warden either wholly or in part responsible. These delays were not altogether fruitless for the nature of the defence set up in almost every case showed the justice of the conclusions which were based upon the testimony already taken. A few matters were explained satisfactorily, but much of the evidence offered was a repetition of what had already been given, or merely matters of opinion or hearsay, and some of that which was new not only served to weaken the warden's case, but the presentation of it is, in the opinion of your Commissioners, sufficient in itself to condemn the one on whose behalf it was offered. This is especially the case with reference to the production of the books of one David Ouimet and certain entries therein. The Commissioners were of opinion that certain materials used in the construction of the boiler of the yacht of the Hon. Justice Ouimet had come from prison supplies, and so informed the warden. The first witness called to disprove this was Edouard Octave Champagne who had already sworn in his earlier examination that he knew nothing about these materials or where they came from, but who, when called upon this occasion said he thought he had been spoken to by David Ouimet, a plumber and steamfitter in Montreal, about the matter, and that he had told Ouimet it would take 432 feet of $\frac{3}{4}$ -inch pipe for the boiler. The Commissioners were strongly impressed with the belief that much of this witness's evidence was not true, judging from the manner in which it was given, and their conclusion in this respect was confirmed by what occurred in reference to this matter later on. On the following day the defence called on Zéphirin Turgeon who produced a statement of an account which he was asked to swear was "an exact copy of the books" (of David Ouimet). The Commissioners objected to this evidence and insisted upon the production of the books, and of David Ouimet, as the witness then present had no knowledge of the transaction having only been in the employ of Ouimet since March last. It was said that Ouimet could not be got as he was then out of the city and would not be back in time, but the fact was as afterwards appeared in evidence that he was not out of the city and had not been for several days. It was quite evident up to this time that it was the intention to rest the warden's case, as to these materials, on the evidence of these two witnesses. Counsel then insisted that they were not bound to bring the books as Mr. Ouimet was the best evidence and they would wait for him. But the Commissioners persisted in having both and on the evening of the following day David Ouimet appeared but without the books. The Commissioners were informed, however, that the books were down stairs in the hotel, and would be forthcoming if their production was still insisted upon, and this being the case they were brought forward. It was only then the Commissioners were able to account for the very apparent reluctance to furnish these books, for the account for materials said to have been used in making the boiler, and which appeared upon page 98 of Ledger "A," had every indication upon the face of it of being but a clumsy forgery. It had every appearance of being recently written by the one person, with the same pen and ink, (excepting one line in red ink) and at the same time although it covered a period of twelve months not another page in the book of 600 pages appeared to have been written with similar ink, and these pages immediately surrounding it were clearly different ink and written with a different pen. The dates on the preceding pages indicated the inscribing of the account on this page at a subsequent time and there was every facility for doing this on any one of several blank pages scattered here and there throughout the book. What was still more striking was that the person who had made the entry had, in starting the account, very naturally written "1897" in quite plain figures, and upon discovering this had corrected his mistake by writing a "4" over the "7," so that the year date would be that in which the boiler was built. Then we have the evidence of Mr. Ouimet that Mr. Lalonde kept his books in 1894, and the evidence of Zéphirin Turgeon, his present bookkeeper, that this account in question, is, he believes, in the handwriting of Mr. Caron, who is still in his employ, and this is to some extent corroborated by the testimony of the same witness that the statement of account first produced by Turgeon was made from a copy given him by Caron. Many other peculiarities are apparent in the writing of this account. The bookkeeper of 1894 made a practice of opening his accounts with a heading in large letters, which is not done in this case. No where else in the book is to be found an entry of "Par Caisse P & P," ("By Cash, Profit and Loss"), and so with other details.

These circumstances lead your Commissioners to the firm conclusion that all the evidence produced to establish the furnishing of this material is a fabrication. The attention of the warden's counsel was called to this, and it was open to the warden to produce both Caron and Lalonde, but they were not brought forward. Neither did the warden himself attempt to corroborate any part of this evidence. This account as it appears in the book was submitted to the well known expert Dr. J. Baker Edwards, the Dominion Official Analyst and Expert on handwriting, together with photographs of the same, and his opinion which is filed herewith fully coincides with that of the Commissioners. The same witness Champagne was asked by warden's counsel to state where the steam whistle and safety valves which were used upon this same boiler came from, and he said he had begged of Mr. John Garth to give them and he believed he had done so, but Mr. Garth was not called to corroborate this. The fact is, however, that the Auditor General's Report for 1894 shows that a steam whistle and safety valve were sold by Garth & Co., to the prison, and the prison engineer, who is a brother of this witness, Edouard Octave Champagne, after much hesitation admitted that these were used upon the yacht, as did Elzéar Daignault. Who is responsible for the concoction of this class of evidence your Commissioners are not able to say, but it was offered on behalf of the warden, and he must abide by the consequences. It is only fair to assume that he knew the nature of the evidence, as he took an active part in the preparation of his own defence, and knew these witnesses were to be called on his behalf. Almost all of these infractions, a list of which had already been furnished the warden and many of which have been set forth at greater length in different sections of this report, remain unexplained and unjustified. It is established that it was with his knowledge and consent that (1) he and other officers sold to the prison under their own and fictitious names; (2) that he and other officers bought from the prison goods, the purchase of which was expressly forbidden; (3) that officers were permitted to take and sell prison property for their own profit; (4) that prison property and labour was given away without authority and without remuneration; (5) that to a great extent the Board of Survey was ignored, and he usurped their powers; (6) that the accountant and deputy warden were not permitted to fix the prices of goods purchased from the prison by the warden; (7) that officers were permitted to requisition for prison work for other persons not officers, and that he did so; (8) that prison property was continually being allowed to leave the prison without proper passes; (9) that the rules as to requisitions and delivery notes were either not enforced at all or very indifferently enforced; (10) that he appropriated to his own use quantities of prison property without authority and without requisition; (11) that he made no genuine effort to see that proper prices were being charged for prison work, but allowed his subordinates to do about as they please in this respect; (12) that he had a great deal of work done for himself at ridiculously low prices. His justification for all these irregularities is that it was the custom in the time of his predecessors, but the complete answer to that defence is that in 1887, after he had assumed charge of the prison, a set of rules were put in force for the express purpose of doing away with these abuses, and although he was supplied with those rules he paid no attention whatever to them, and did not require his staff to do so. Even if these rules had not been in existence, these practices were not in keeping with proper and honest administration, and should not have been tolerated. It will be noticed in the defence of the warden that he attempts to justify himself having had considerable quantities of furniture made for his son-in-law by the assertion that these were given to the latter or his wife as a present, but this is a direct violation of the following rules, which apply with equal force to the work done on the yacht, &c. :

"Rule 16. Nothing shall be so sold, and no work shall be so done :—

"(a.) Without an application in writing by the officer stating that the article sought to be purchased, or the work to be done is for his own use only.

"Rule 18. Any officer signing a false application shall be dismissed."

He admits retaining the services of officers convicted of theft and not investigating charges of theft which were brought to his notice, and it is proven that he recommended Guard Breland for a gratuity after it was known that the latter was forced to leave the prison service as a result of being detected in the commission of a most heinous crime; it was with his knowledge that some forty officers have been installed at the prison without being sworn in, and he is largely responsible for the employment of the many illiterate officers who are there and for placing one of them as gate keeper. He is chiefly responsible for the failure to properly instruct the officers and enforce the rules and regulations, and for much of the lack of proper discipline and management in the various departments consequent upon his usurpation of the functions of the subordinate officers in charge and frequently reprimanding them in the presence of convicts and with unnecessary harshness. He is in a great measure responsible for that interpretation of the law which permits officers to have annually a certain number of suits of clothing and of the various other articles of uniform whether these uniforms are necessary for prison service or not, and in this way several officers who did not require these clothes were permitted to take their value in material which they gave to their families or sold to others. Some officers profited to a considerable extent in this way, among them the tailor who used but one uniform in five years, and therefore had nine uniforms or their equivalent to sell or give away.

For the extravagance manifest in the management of this prison the warden is largely if not altogether responsible. It was at his urgent and repeated demands that there was made the altogether unnecessary and excessive expenditure for purchase of horses, harness and vehicles used almost exclusively for the pleasure of the warden's family and friends, and which together with the yacht occupied most of the time of the Teamster Leblanc; he is responsible for all the loss of time of the officers, labour of convicts and loss of material in connection with the building, repairing and maintaining of the two steam yachts and boat-house, and he cannot be exempted from the responsibility for these things on the ground of his having had the sanction of the department—for it was upon his demand and recommendation that the expenditure for horses, &c., was incurred, and the great bulk of that connected with the yachts was neither asked for nor in any way authorized—the fact being that the only expenditure ever authorized in connection with the yachts aggregated $45, while hundreds of dollars were spent upon them, and as to the coal used upon the boats there was no authority for use of it prior to 1894, although the yacht "Iris" had been at the penitentiary some five or six years before, and had been coaled, repaired and maintained and almost rebuilt at the expense of the prison. No authority was given for the use of prison coal at any time, excepting when the boats were being used to give recreation to officers, nevertheless the prison furnished all the fuel and other supplies that were consumed upon these boats no matter who was using them. For the high prices paid for materials used in ordinary prison maintenance and purchased on the open market, he is largely responsible and seems to have made little or no effort to prevent the abuse. He is responsible for the condition in which the affairs of his office were permitted to be conducted by his clerk Papineau and for all that is referred to else in that connection, including the unjustifiable treatment of the convicts' correspondence and the destruction of prison documents; for the wide spread prevalence of that worst of prison evils, the fraternizing and trafficking between convicts and officers; for the improper practices before referred to under the heading "Politics."

He is likewise responsible (with Labelle and Daignault) for the gross waste practised in connection with the building of the new boundary wall and other erections in and about the prison, and the very bad workmanship displayed in same which are elsewhere referred to in this report and the report of George Crain, Esq. The warden attempts to escape responsibility for this worse than negligence in this matter by saying that the Department of Public Works is responsible, and he was not an officer of that department. But the evidence shows most conclusively that he assumed full control of the work, and was recognized by the Department of Public Works as controlling it; requisitions for public works supplies were countersigned by him; and the contract for stone, expressly made deliveries of same subject to his inspection—that he did so inspect—that he ordered and directed how the work should be done—instructed not only the clerk of works, but the stonecutters, masons, and all others engaged upon the work, and these men took orders from him. He endeavoured, contrary to the wishes of the department, to have the stone contracts continued instead of working the quarries with prison labour, as is now being successfully done. It was upon his order that the plans were repeatedly changed, each change of the gate plans involving considerable loss to the prison. It was the warden who disposed of all the stone which was wasted or destroyed. In a word he had full control of this work, which control was either assumed by or delegated to him.

Many other matters which have appeared in evidence chargeable to the warden, such as allowing one Quevillon to use the prison scales for weighing for various people for which service he made a charge which he (Quevillon) pocketed; allowing the Teamster Leblanc to take a contract for placing buoys in the river, such contract being taken under a fictitious name, and with the warden's knowledge ; allowing convicts to go beyond prison limits on steam yachts and to work outside of prison for various persons free of charge ; discharging convict Louis Jules Hebert instead of convict Victor Eugene Hebert, and afterwards making a misleading statement to the department about it ; receiving gifts from contractors who were supplying the prison ; returning lowest tenders to tenderers for supplies ; are not here dealt with at any length, as it is not considered necessary to deal with them further. What is already set out is, in the opinion of your Commissioners, sufficient to warrant the dismissal of the warden, and they so recommend.

THE PRISON SURGEON.

Prison Surgeon Gaudet, owing to his age and consequent infirmities, is, in the opinion of your Commissioners, no longer able to perform such duties as are constantly required of him. The surgeon himself feels this to be the case, and has asked to be retired, and your Commissioners are of opinion that this request should be complied with and that in view of the fact that Dr. Gaudet and his family have nothing upon which to depend save what may come to him in the way of superannuation allowance, and that his age and condition will prevent his entering into active practice of his profession, he should be liberally dealt with by the Government.

THE DEPUTY WARDEN.

Deputy Warden McCarthy has been in the prison service some 41 years, 16 of which have been spent at St. Vincent de Paul. His conduct, as well as that of other officials, during the revolt of 1886, did not commend itself to the Commissioners as that of a prudent and loyal officer, and from time to time he has been guilty of some infractions of the prison rules which although blameworthy are not, perhaps, to be wondered at considering the influences by which he was surrounded, and are not of sufficient seriousness to call for his dismissal. He is now well advanced in years, and his physical condition is such as to unfit him for the arduous duties of his office, and we therefore recommend that his request to be retired, which has been filed with the Commission, be complied with.

THE WARDEN'S CLERK.

Gordon B. Papineau has occupied the office of warden's clerk about 12 years. During that time some most serious irregularities have characterized the conduct of the business in the warden's office. The correspondence, official documents and books were kept in an extremely careless manner. Many of the books required by the regulations have been abandoned without any authority. Hundreds of business letters have not been copied, and most of these received are not to be found. The reason given for this neglect of the ordinary official duties was "to save time," but the Commissioners have reason to know that the clerk had ample time for the work had he been disposed to properly attend to it. Until very recently, the clerk, with the warden's knowledge, mixed the money of the prisoners and the gate money with his own, but although this method of doing business is most reprehensible, the Commissioners are of opinion that he did not knowingly benefit by it. On the other hand the carelessness displayed in the handling of the moneys belonging to the prisoners undoubtedly led to many losses, as was indicated on the search of the vault and at the burning of the convict's letters, &c., in 1895. To the charge of this officer was confided the examination and mailing of all letters from convicts to their relatives and friends and the proper and prompt distributing of the letters and mail matter coming from outside to the convicts. The treatment accorded the prisoners in this connection was cruel, and in the mind of the Commissioners unpardonable. Perhaps the worst feature of Mr. Papineau's conduct of his office is the utter indifference apparently shown by him for the welfare of the prisoners. It is true he was but following the example of his chief, but that cannot excuse him.

Officers who have so little regard for those under their charge should not be retained in the prison service. They should be made to understand that even convicts have rights which must be respected, otherwise the influence for good is lost. Mr. Papineau's usefulness as a prison official is certainly gone, and his conduct merits dismissal.

KEEPERS AND GUARDS.

Edouard Provost was a keeper at the prison a short time ago, when he was reduced to the rank of guard as the result of carelessness which led to the escape of a prisoner who was afterwards recaptured. He is one of those officers who can neither read nor write, yet was selected to relieve the gate keeper when that officer was regularly performing night duty or otherwise absent. When it is considered that it is the gate-keeper's duty to permit the passage of goods on written passes, it is not difficult to understand how much of the prison property may have been passed from the prison without proper authority when the gate was in charge of one not capable of telling what the pass called for or whether the document, if any, presented, was in reality a pass. Several infractions of the regulations on the part of this officer came out in the evidence of various witnesses, but almost all were denied by him. The Commissioners were of the belief that the testimony given by him as to these infractions was in the main untrue, and they were convinced of this when they discovered that he had been tampering with the prisoner Denis, who, for a considerable time, was with him at the gate, with a view to having him suppress certain evidence which he was called upon to give. He also denied positively that he had in any way tried to influence this witness, but the testimony of the prisoner on this point was too well corroborated to admit of any doubt. The Commissioners consider that an officer who is not only untruthful himself, but would try to induce a convict to assist him in his falsehoods is not a fit person to have the supervision of prisoners, and for this and the other reasons disclosed by various depositions, recommend his retirement.

Jérémie Leblanc, teamster, has devoted the greater portion of his time during recent years to the care of the steam yachts and the warden's horses and carriages, and acting generally as a servant to the warden. If the recommendations of the Commissioners with regard to these luxuries are carried out, there will be no further need of the services of this officer. During his term of office some rather serious infractions of the rules are chargeable to him, although he seems to have had the consent and encouragement of the warden in most of these cases. He trafficked to a considerable extent with prisoners and furnished them with tobacco and other articles, bought from the prison large quantities of bags and pork barrels, at a low price, which he re-sold at a profit of from 50 to 125 per cent; a short time ago, while still employed by the prison, he, under a fictitious name, entered into a contract with the Government for placing buoys in the river, and although the inspector notified the warden that Leblanc should be dismissed for this offence, the warden insisted upon retaining his services. Leblanc attempts to justify his action by saying that he had the consent of the late Sir John Thompson for what he did, but the evidence does not bear him out. No doubt the fact that Leblanc was so closely connected with the warden, and his household had much to do with the special treatment which was meted out to him. The retirement of this officer is recommended.

Guard Monette, has been guilty of frequent violations of certain of the prison rules. He was continually getting food of various kinds from the kitchen, appropriating to himself quantities of stone supplied to stone-shed, and trafficked more or less with the prisoners. He was one of those who interfered with at least one prisoner with a view to influencing his testimony before the Commissioners. His flat denial on oath of ever having received any food from the kitchen in face of the testimony of the steward and warden and several convicts to the contrary, satisfied the Commissioners that his testimony was untrue, and for this and unlawfully taking prison property they recommend his dismissal.

Joseph Desloges has been employed as a guard at this prison for several years. He is a nephew of Elzéar Daignault who had charge of the stores of the Department of

Department of Justice.

Public Works at the penitentiary. Daignault claims to have received permission to take from these stores his supply of coal and wood. Desloges knew that Daignault was being so supplied. Nevertheless he received from the latter at different times, quantities of this coal and wood for his own use. These articles were brought to him by the persons who were delivering the coal and wood to the prison under contract. Desloges says he agreed to pay Daignault for the wood and coal, Daignault says he did not. It makes no difference which of these statements is correct. Desloges knew he was getting from Daignault property of the institution, which the latter had no right to give or sell him. Holding, as your Commissioners do, the opinion that these practices should not be tolerated under any circumstances, they recommend that the services of this officer be dispensed with.

CONVICT TESTIMONY.

Considerable comment on the propriety of taking convict testimony having been indulged in, your Commissioners deem it advisable to say that in no case have conclusions been based upon this class of evidence alone—but in every case substantial corroboration was required. It is a remarkable fact that the great bulk of such evidence was borne out by independent testimony of books, documents, free witnesses, and what was actually seen by the Commissioners. Having regard to the fact that so many of the officers of this prison had a common interest in covering up the misdoings of each other, it would have been practically impossible to procure evidence of many reprehensible transactions which are here reported, were it not for the information first obtained from some of the prisoners.

YOUTHFUL PRISONERS.

From a return handed the Commissioners on the 21st of August last, it is found that on that date there were incarcerated in this penitentiary the following number of convicts at the various ages under 21 years, most of whom had already spent several years at the prison :

2 convicts at	16 years.
10 "	17 "
7 "	18 "
12 "	19 "
8 "	20 "
24 "	21 "

The evil effects flowing from this enforced mingling of young boys convicted of a first offence, and perhaps not instinctively criminal, with the oldest and most hardened criminals has been so often discussed that nothing remains to be said about the matter further than to call the attention of the department to the extent to which the evil is here prevalent, and to urge that some steps be taken to overcome the difficulty in the hope that in future these youths may be consigned to a more suitable place of confinement and thus escape the baneful influences at work in an institution of this kind.

RECOMMENDATIONS.

In addition to such other improvements as the foregoing report may suggest, your Commissioners beg, as the result of their investigation into the affairs of this prison, to make the following recommendations, in the hope that they may meet with your approval and aid in improving the condition of the institution.

1. Steps should at once be taken to thoroughly revise the prison rules and regulations with a view to removing many inconsistencies which appear therein, and every officer should be provided with a copy thereof and required to make himself familiar with them.

The rule requiring instructions to be regularly given subordinates by superior officers should be enforced.

2. The keeping of all maintenance supplies under the supervision of the storekeeper, to be distributed by him on proper requisition made before delivery, and to be delivered from time to time as required for consumption; a proper ledger to be kept which will at all times show what has been received, what issued and the balance on hand.

3. An annual stock taking on business principles, and a checking of such stock taking with the storekeepers stock ledger to see that the latter has on hand such stock as the ledger calls for.

4. A thorough overhauling of the present system of bookkeeping, and a proper distribution of work in connection therewith; a renovation of the warden's office with special attention to the proper filing of all official documents and correspondence, the copying of all letters, proper indexing of all letter books, convicts registers, &c., the keeping of proper records of all moneys, &c., coming to convicts, and the daily return of same together with all gate moneys, to the accountant, and generally such other matters as are necessary for the proper conduct of the business of this office.

5. The strict enforcement of all rules relating to requisitions, delivery notes, and passes for goods going out at the gates, and generally such rules as have been framed for the protection of the prison property.

6. The purchasing of fuel, fresh meat, flour, oatmeal, pot barley, split pease and potatoes only by tender, the balance of prison supplies to be bought in the open market.

7. The rules permitting officers to purchase supplies from the prison stores or to have work done for them in prison shops should be rescinded as speedily as possible.

8. The furnishing to officers only such uniform clothing as may be necessary to enable them to present a respectable appearance while on duty.

9. The abolition of the Public Works stores and the adoption in connection with this branch of a system such as is now in operation at the Kingston Penitentiary.

10. The quarrying by prison labour from prison quarries of such stone as may be, from time to time, required for the purposes of the institution, or for any other purpose to which it can be advantageously applied.

11. The trafficking amongst convicts, and between them and officers or outsiders; the purchasing by officers for convicts of food or other articles, the buying by officers or others of articles from the prisoners, or taking same as gifts, the manufacturing by prisoners for sale or other purposes of fancy articles, &c., and the selling to the prison by officers or any one on their behalf of any articles or merchandise, to be totally abolished.

12. Steps should be taken to provide ways and means for suitably employing the convicts during working hours, either in the way before suggested in this report, or in some other way which will properly employ the prisoners and fairly remunerate the prison.

13. The adoption of proper regulations as to the admission of mere sightseers to visit and inspect the prison, with a view to avoid the too frequent disturbances of the prison work and management and to prevent intrusion at unseasonable hours.

14. Such addition to the fire apparatus at present in use at the prison as will render it efficient for fire duty, and is necessary to give a reasonable amount of protection to the prison buildings.

15. The introduction of a properly regulated system, whereby as a result of direct dealing with the prison authorities, the convicts may be enabled by extra labour performed during working hours, to earn some money for themselves, which money is to be given to them upon leaving the prison, or under their direction sent to any needy relations.

16. The same kind of clothing should be used for all convicts, the different grades being designated by a distinctive mark, such as strips, and the greatest care and fairness should be exercised in the distribution of good conduct marks and promotion.

17. That the horses, carriages, sleighs, &c., now at the prison and in excess of what is actually necessary in carrying on the work of the prison be promptly disposed of to the best advantage ; and that the maintenance of yachts and other similar luxuries be forbidden in future.

18. The making of some arrangement by which young prisoners may escape the contamination of the older and more-hardened class of prisoners.

19. The rearrangement of the methods of disposing of the prison sewage in such a way as to abate the present unsafe and unpleasant conditions, consideration being given to the possibility of utilizing it for the purpose of improving the farm and garden.

20. The employing of a competent and experienced man of business to act as chief trade instructor, who shall have supervision of the various workshops and trade departments ; and who shall, under proper regulations, be given authority to purchase all manufacturing and engineering supplies and to sell all prison products.

21. That the farm management be conducted with closer and more intelligent attention so as to produce as far as possible the supplies necessary for prison maintenance, and that to this end the farm instructor be required to give his undivided attention to his duties.

22. The prison inspection should be so conducted in future as to discover many, if not all, such irregularities as are herein revealed, should such exist ; and the inspector should not be content with investigating only such matters as are brought to his notice, but ought to make such inquiries from time to time as will be sufficient to ascertain whether or not the work of the prison is being in all respects properly carried out.

23. The reduction of the staff of keepers and guards so that the work of the prison may be conducted with the smallest possible number of officers consistent with safety and good management, which number in the opinion of your Commissioners, should not exceed one officer to twelve prisoners.

24. Married officers should not be allowed to reside within the prison walls.

25. Officers closely related to each other should not be employed in prison at same time.

26. The summary dismissal of any officer detected stealing or appropriating to his own use prison property of any kind, or any property for the time being in the custody of the prison or belonging to the convicts.

27. That no officers be hereafter employed who are unable to read and write either the English or French language, and to speak both languages sufficiently well to give orders and instructions therein, and make themselves readily understood in either language ; and that superior officers such as warden, deputy warden, accountant, storekeeper and clerk of works be required to be able to read and write both languages intelligibly.

28. For the reasons given in the foregoing references to the various officers, your Commissioners recommend the retirement and superannuation of Deputy Warden McCarthy, and Prison Surgeon Gaudet ; the retirement of Keeper Napoléon Plouffe, and Guards Edouard Provost, Godfroi Monette, and Joseph Desloges, and Teamster Jérémie Leblanc ; and the dismissal of Téléphore Ouimet, warden ; Gordon B. Papineau, warden's clerk ; Louis Octave Labelle, clerk of works ; Eugène Champagne, engineer ; and Ephrem Trudeau, assistant engineer.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES NOXON,
O. K. FRASER,
D. A. LAFORTUNE,
Commissioners.

Dated at Ottawa, this 27th day of January, 1898.

BROCKVILLE, 2nd September, 1897.

JAMES NOXON, Esq., Chairman,
St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary Commission.

DEAR SIR,—In accordance with your instructions I have examined the construction works carried on since January, 1886, in connection with St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, and now beg to hand you my report upon the same.

I have measured up the quantity of cut stone contained in the boundary wall, the four (4) towers, and the north-west entrance gate.

I have in like manner measured the quantity of cut stone contained in the entrance gate, now partly built, between the north tower and the R. C. Chapel, and the short uncompleted portions of the boundary wall on each side of said gate.

I have also measured up the quantity of cut stone contained in the several other buildings and works in which changes, alterations and additions have been made within the time mentioned.

I herewith present you with an accurate statement showing in detail the actual quantity of cut stone used in the construction of each of the several works above referred to by me, the flagging being given separately.

I also hand you a detailed statement of the quantity of dimension stone required to build the boundary wall, of solid masonry in accordance with the original plans prepared for that purpose by the late John Bowes, architect of penitentiaries.

To each of these statements I have attached a cross section and part elevation plan showing the dimensions and construction of the several works, which will more clearly show you than any words I may use the manner in which the work has actually been done, also a plan showing how it was originally intended to build said wall.

I also hand you herewith a block plan of the prison property showing the position of the boundary wall, the four towers and the gates, as well as all the prison buildings.

The quantities of cut stone actually used in the construction of the several works above referred to are as follows :—

	Cubic ft.
In boundary wall as actually built.	131,221 $\frac{1}{2}$
In the four towers "	14,208 $\frac{1}{4}$
In north-west gate "	10,324
In new unfinished gate "	5,447
In wall between gate and R. C. Chapel as actually built	820
In south wing and cells therein as actually built	28,583 $\frac{1}{2}$
In north wing as actually built	2,740
In tunnel to R. C. Chapel as actually built	740
In fountain at warden's residence as actually built	318
In entrance to sewer, masons road "	100
In drain by north-west gate and covering "	1,054 $\frac{3}{4}$
In boiler-house for workshops "	4,319
	199,905 $\frac{3}{4}$

THE UNFINISHED GATE.

The large quantity of cut stone piled up near the stonecutters' shed within the prison walls, I think, deserves special consideration. I have, therefore, had this lot all classified and repiled, and I have measured up the several lots as piled in order that you may have full knowledge of the manner in which the same has been cut, as well as the waste of both labour and materials incurred thereby.

Department of Justice.

The following are the quantities in cubic feet :—

	Cubic ft.
4,018 pieces, making 8,827½ ft. lin., 1·00 x 1·1¼ ft	11,034½
445 pieces, making 1,215 feet, lin., in odd sizes.	2,046
20 pieces, making 48½ ft. lin., 5·01 x 0·9	180½
Quantity cut as per first list for gate.	2,826½
“ second list for gate.	5,247
“ third list for gate.	6,990
Total cut for gate.	28,324½
Net amount brought forward.	199,905¼
Grand total.	228,230¼

Now of this 228,230¼ cubic feet, 11,782½ cubic feet has been recently supplied from the prison quarry by convict labour, and cut and made ready for the unfinished gate, in accordance with one or another of the four plans prepared for said gate, and forms part of the 28,324½ cubic feet, piled up near the stonecutters' shed before referred to.

To ascertain the correct amount of all that has been supplied by contract during the last ten years, this quantity supplied from prison quarry by convict labour as above named must be deducted. Therefore, subtract 11,782½ cubic feet from the 228,230¼ cubic feet, and it will give the net quantity of all dimension stone, and the stone used for ashler since January, 1886, viz.:—216,448 cubic feet.

FLAGGING STONE.

The following is a correct statement showing the quantity of all the flagging stone used :—

	Sup. ft.
Dome floor and hall in south wing	5,799⅙
Hall in north wing	930⅙
Over cells in south wing	2,583
Basement floor in dome.	3,690¼
Boiler-room floor to workshops.	624
Floor to piggery.	759
Kitchen floor.	1,332
Wash-room floor	1,197
Tunnel to R. C. Chapel.	196
Total quantity of flagging used.	17,211¼

By referring to Elz. Daignault's statement of the 10th June, 1897, it will be seen the quantities of dimension stone which he admits having received for the contractors, and which he has also certified to as having been actually supplied and used in the construction works at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, are as follows :—

From Louis Paré, from January 1886 to November 30th, following :—

Dimension stone, 11,195 cub. feet at 35 cts.	$ 3,918 25
Flagging stone, 3,086 cub. feet at 20 cts	617 20

F. X. Auclair and C. Bastien from 1st December, 1886, up to the 30th June, 1892 :—

Dimension stone, 263,297 cub. ft. at 20 cts.	52,659 40
Flagging, 30,729 square ft. at 15 cts.	4,609 35
Masons toise, 28 at $6	168 00

Calixte Bastien from 1st July, 1892, up to 24th July, 1896 :—

Dimension stone, 105,423 cub. ft. at 18½ cts	19,503 25
Dimension stone, 159,520 cub. ft. at 16½ cts	26,320 80

Grand total. $ 107,796 25

The above statement shows :—

539,435 cub ft. of dimension stone cost.....	$ 102,401 70
33,815 sup. ft. of flagging stone cost.....	5,226 55
28 masons toise cost.....	168 00
Grand total.....	$ 107,796 25

The above statement of dimension stone and of flagging purporting to having been actually supplied as above also appears in the progress estimates signed by the said Elz. Daignault and by the acting chief architect of the Department of Public Works at Ottawa, and upon those certificates the amounts have been actually paid.

I call attention to the report of the late John Bowes, architect of penitentiaries, made on 4th April, 1886, in which he says the boundary wall 2,650 feet long, and 22 feet high, and two lodges, with gates, will cost as follows :—

8,080 yds. dressed coursed masonry at $6.....	$ 48,480 00
17,136 cub. ft. cut stone in buttresses and coping at 66c	11,309 86
Two lodges with gates at $4,000.....	8,000 00
Superintendence.....	2,210 24
Total.....	$ 70,000 00

On October 2nd, 1890, Mr. Bowes again reports, as the wall is to be raised to 27 feet it will entail an extra cost of.....	10,000 00
Grand total.....	$ 80,000 00

The above report of Mr. Bowes shows, and it is also clearly indicated by the plans he prepared, that the wall was to have been built of solid masonry, requiring 235,296 cubic feet of dimension stone to complete it.

That was for a boundary wall 2,650 feet long, and was to have taken in the whole of the grounds lying between the present boundary wall and the buildings down to the public road. But the plans have been altered and the position of the boundary wall and gate have been materially changed in that it has been reduced by 413 lineal feet (as now located it measures only 2,237 feet long) making a saving of 37,290½ cubic feet of dimension stone. By this reduction of its length and a still greater reduction of 66,784¼ cubic feet of dimension stone, caused by the change from solid masonry, as originally indicated, to that of the thin ashlar set on its edge, as has been actually built, there should be a net reduction of the quantity of dimension stone used in said work of 104,074¾ cubic feet.

A still further reduction of 8,860 cubic feet of dimension stone has been made in the construction of the four towers and the gate, by the use of this thin ashlar, set in the wall as above described.

Notwithstanding all these reductions made from the 235,296 cubic feet required to construct the work of solid masonry as given by Mr. Bowes in his report to the department; by referring to Elz. Daignault's statement, and the regular monthly and final estimates passed by the acting chief architect of the Department of Public Works at Ottawa in favour of the contractors between 1st January, 1886, and the 26th July, 1896, when the supply of stone appears to have been cancelled by order of the Hon. the Minister of Public Works, it will be seen that 539,485 cubic feet of dimension stone and 33,815 superficial feet of flagging stone have been passed and paid for at a cost of.....	$107,795 25

Portland cement costing.....	$2,190 00
Hull cement costing.....	1,080 00
And 5,068 loads of sand of 1,500 pounds each, costing.....	2,027 20
	5,297 20
Grand total.....	$113,093 45

Department of Justice.

To ascertain the amount of money paid on account of dimension and flagging stone, cement and sand, in excess of the quantities actually used in these works, during the ten years above referred to, it will be necessary to give a detailed statement of the material supplied, the amount of work done, and the quantities of materials used therein, as well as the rates paid therefor, in accordance with the several contracts ruling the prices to be paid for such material during the time the said work was being constructed.

Referring to the $5,297.20 charged for cement and sand; I have carefully gone over the whole work with Mason Instructor O'Boone and G. Labelle, and have taken the quantities from actual measurements of the same, and as a result of the quantities so taken with them on the spot, ascertained thereby, that not half the cement and sand charged for as having been actually supplied and used in the construction work above referred to could possibly have gone into said work.

I therefore extend as unaccounted for one-half of the amount charged up for cement and sand say $2,648.60.

Now the quantities of dimension stone certified to by the clerk of works and passed by the acting chief architect of the Department of Public Works at Ottawa, and paid for as having been actually supplied, between the 1st of January, 1886, and the 30th June, 1892, were as follows:—

	Cubic feet.
Louis Paré dimension stone.....	11,195
Auclair & Bastien ".....	263,297
Total.....	274,492

The amount of masonry built during the above period and the quantities of cut stone used therein are as follows:—

	Cubic feet.
Tunnel to R. C. Chapel, using.....	740
South wing and cells therein, using.....	28,583½
Passage in north wing converted into six cells.....	572
Wall between north wing and wash-house.....	2,168
Boiler-house for workshops.....	4,319
950 ft. lineal boundary wall and one tower.....	59,178
Two sewer inlets.....	100
Total.....	95,660½

Now by deducting the amount of stone thus used from that supplied as shown it will be seen that 178,832 cubic feet of dimension stone certified and paid for, as above mentioned, is wholly unaccounted for, that 11,195 cubic feet of the above supplied by Louis Paré has been paid for at the rate of 35 cents per cubic feet and the balance of 263,297 cubic feet supplied by Auclair & Bastien at 20 cents per cubic foot as will appear on reference to the estimates passed by the department in manner I have already mentioned.

It therefore seems clear to me that 178,832 cubic feet of dimension stone should be extended as unaccounted for at the rate of 20 cents per cubic foot, at least amounting to $35,766.

The amounts of flagging stone supplied during the period abovementioned, i. e., between 1st January, 1886, and the 30th June, 1892, were as follows:—

	Sup. ft.
Louis Paré, flagging stone.....	3,086
Auclair & Bastien, flagging stone.....	30,729
Total.....	33,815

The work done during the same periods and the quantities of flagging stone used therein, are as follows:—

	Sup. ft.
Dome floor and hall in south wing.....	5,779 $\frac{1}{8}$
Hall in south wing.....	930 $\frac{1}{8}$
Over cells in south wing.....	2,583
Basement floor in dome.....	3,690 $\frac{1}{2}$
Boiler-room floor to workshops.....	624
Floor to piggery.....	759 $\frac{1}{8}$
Kitchen floor.....	1,332
Wash-room floor.....	1,197
Tunnel to R. C. Chapel.....	296
Total	17,211 $\frac{1}{4}$

By deducting the amount of flagging stone used from the quantity said to have been supplied above, it will be seen that 16,603 $\frac{1}{2}$ superficial feet of flagging stone certified and paid for, like the other lot, is wholly unaccounted for.

The 3,086 superficial feet of the above flagging stone supplied by Louis Paré has been paid for by the department at the rate of 20 cents per superficial feet and the balance of 30,729 superficial feet supplied by Auclair & Bastien has been paid for by the department at the rate of 15 cents per superficial feet, as will also appear by referring to the estimates passed by the department in manner I have before mentioned.

For reasons given I extend the 16,603 $\frac{1}{2}$ superficial feet of flagging stone unaccounted for, at the rate of 15 cents per superficial foot, that being the most favourable to the contractors amounting to \$2,490.57.

The quantities of dimension stone certified by the clerk of works and paid for like the other lots as being actually supplied between the 1st July, 1892, and the 31st of March, 1894, were as follows:—

	Cubic feet.
Boundary wall 700 ft. lin., using.....	41,066
One corner tower, using.....	3,444
North-west entrance gate, using.....	10,324
Total.....	54,834

By deducting the quantity of cut stone thus used from the amount said to have been supplied as above, we again find a large balance unaccounted for, of 50,589 cubic feet, supplied by Calixte Bastien, which has been certified to like the other lots, and paid for at the rate of 18 $\frac{1}{2}$ cents per cubic foot, amounting to \$9,318.96.

The quantities of dimension stone certified by the clerk of works as having been actually supplied, between the 1st of April, 1894, and the 26th July, 1896, all having received the signature of the acting chief architect at Ottawa, and having been paid for like those previously mentioned are as follows:—

Calixte Bastien dimension stone, 159,520 cubic feet.

The work done during this last period and the quantities of cut stone used therein are as follows:—

	Cubic feet.
Boundary wall 587 feet lineal, using.....	34,427
Two towers including stone below datum.....	7,314 $\frac{1}{2}$
The unfinished gate and pieces of wall.....	6,297
Fountain at warden's residence.....	318
Drain at north-west and covering.....	1,054 $\frac{1}{2}$
Cut stone piled up at stonecutter's shed.....	16,542 $\frac{1}{2}$
Total.....	65,953 $\frac{1}{2}$

By deducting the quantity of cut stone used during this last period from the amount supplied as above shown we find another balance of 93,566 $\frac{1}{2}$ cubic feet unaccounted for, which has also been certified to as having been received from Calixte Bastien like the former lots, and paid for at the rate of 16½ cents per cubic foot amounting to \$15,438.40.

Department of Justice.

These several amounts when added together totals up to the very large sum of $65,662.53.

Now, besides this discrepancy above shown, I wish to point out the fact that of the 216,448 cubic feet actually used in the boundary wall and construction works, at St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, the greater portion of the stone used therein has evidently been taken from the top or upper beds, usually known as quarry stripping, while about 75 per cent is flagging of from 6 to 10 inches in thickness, having irregular, defective beds, bad streaks or veins, and what is known as loose dries, to a very great extent rendering the material in question absolutely unfit for such work.

Notwithstanding that this defective and unsound stone was not of sufficient thickness to admit of its being dressed and set in the wall on its natural bed, as it should have been, it was dressed and set in the walls on its edge, as indicated on cross section and part elevation plans, which I prepared and annexed to the several bills of quantities supplied you.

I once again refer to the progress and final estimates, passed, which show that dimension stone in blocks were delivered as therein stated.

To show you how onerous were those progress and final estimates, I give on page 16 a detailed statement, giving the lengths, and showing the promiscuousness of the stone supplied.

Now by referring to the tenders received on the 4th August, 1893, and the report of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works on the 17th of January, 1894, to be found in the official file, marked "U" of the Department of Justice, it will be seen that tenders have been received for the supply of stone required for construction of boundary wall of St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary.

That the stone required (120,000 feet) to be limestone in blocks, and (30,000) limestone for flagging.

It appears that Joseph Papineau, and Calixte Bastien tendered, the former at 16½ cents for blocks, and 1½ cents for flagging, while Mr. Bastien's tender is 17 cents for blocks, and 1 cent for flagging.

The contract appears to have been let to Calixte Bastien on the report of the Hon. the Minister of Public Works on the 19th January, 1894.

That although Mr. Bastien's price for the 30,000 feet of flagging stone said to have been required for construction of the boundary wall, was only one cent per foot, it is worthy of notice that not one foot of flagging appears to have been received, and passed by the officer in charge as such, nor does it appear that any works were in contemplation requiring such stone.

It is clear to me that not only this 30,000 feet of flagging, but an additional quantity of material sufficient to make up fully 75 per cent of the whole work has been received and used, not as flagging, but as dimension stone, and certified and paid for under that head.

WASTE OF MATERIAL.

In taking the quantities supplied you I have made allowance for all reasonable waste in stonecutting dressed to dimension sizes for such work as this. Had the stone supplied been dimension stone in blocks, as certified to by the officer in charge; and had it been cut to dimension sizes, then something more should be allowed for waste because of the fact that the stone was cut by convicts, who would be more liable to break it while dressing it to a particular dimension, thereby requiring it to be reduced to a smaller dimension, which would cause more than the ordinary waste in such work.

The facts, however, are, the stone was not supplied as certified to by the officer in charge, nor has it been cut to dimension sizes. Fully 90 per cent has been cut in promiscuous lengths, the dimensions and character of which I have already described.

There are places where 3 or 4 small stones with small filling between are substituted in place of one proper sized dimension block; and while this was being done the officer in charge by his certificate appears to have received 28 toise or 6,048 cubic feet of rubble building stone for filling in centre of wall.

Having regard to the above facts and the promiscuousness as to lengths and sizes of stone actually used in said works, I have concluded that all reasonable allowances for waste in cutting has been made.

This does not take into consideration the stone supplied by the Government to St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary and used at Ste. Rose in front of ex-Warden Ouimet's residence, and other places outside of the prison works.

I have the honour to be,
Your obedient servant,

GEORGE CRAIN.

STATEMENT REFERRED TO SHOWING AVERAGE LENGTH OF STONES.

The following is a correct statement of the lengths and number of stones contained in one 15-inch course in boundary wall, measuring each piece separately from the north-west gate to the north tower, a distance of 323 feet 8 inches, in which there are 145 stones varying in length from 8 inches to 6 feet 3 1/4 inches, the average being 2 feet and 2 1/2 inches.

the entry on page 98 of a ledger produced marked on back "Ledger Jany to Decr 1894, A." and which page I have duly initialled. I find an alteration in said statement of account from the original entry of the interpolation of the numeral 4 over the numeral 7 in the year date, which alteration has been made by a denser or blacker ink than the rest of the account, which has been written probably at one time, by the same hand, and probably at a more recent period than the other accounts on various pages of the same ledger. On looking over a number of pages of the same ledger, I do not find any other account which appears to be so uniformly and recently written. I also note that the credit entry in red ink is less red than the usual ink employed in the same ledger, and appears to be a mixture of red and black ink as if the same pen had been used, laden with black ink.

I have also examined the photographs of this said page 98, and these conurm my opinion formed on the writing itself that the date 1894 has been altered by the writing of figure 4 at a subsequent time and overlapping the original figure of 7, but within so brief period that the blacker ink and fuller pen of the figure 4 has run back into a portion of the figure 7.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT ON

LATE ENGINEER, KINGSTON PENITENTIARY

Department of Justice.

COMMISSIONER'S REPORT ON CHARGES PREFERRED AGAINST JAMES DEVLIN, LATE ENGINEER OF KINGSTON PENITENTIARY.

To the Honourable DAVID MILLS,
Minister of Justice,
Ottawa.

SIR,—In conformity with the directions contained in the Commission issued to the undersigned by the Governor in Council, under the authority of chapter 114 of the Revised Statutes of Canada empowering him to investigate certain charges of conspiracy to defraud the revenue, preferred against James Devlin, late engineer of the Kingston Penitentiary, your Commissioner begs to submit the following report :—

After the receipt of a letter from the Deputy Minister of Justice transmitting the Commission and a copy of the charges, several weeks were occupied at Ottawa, Kingston and Montreal in examining departmental files and official correspondence, and in procuring books, accounts, vouchers and other evidence relating to the inquiry. The charges embrace a period extending from 1886 to 1894, and the difficulty of obtaining many of the original documents relating to the matters to be inquired into protracted the investigation much longer than was at first anticipated. The absence from the country of two witnesses also contributed to delay the proceedings; and it frequently happened that matters arose during the conduct of an examination which made an adjournment and further investigation absolutely necessary in the interest of a full and impartial inquiry.

In the course of the investigation sittings were held as follows :—

At Kingston, January 20th and 21st, 1898.

At Montreal, May 16th to 20th, 1898.

At Kingston, May 21st to 25th, 1898.

At Montreal, June 11th and 13th, 1898.

At Ogdensburg, June 18th, 1898.

At Ottawa, July 12th and 13th, 1898.

At Ingersoll, July 14th, 1898.

At London, July 14th, 1898.

At Toronto, July 16th, 1898.

At Ottawa, August 4th, 1898.

At the first sitting held at Kingston, Mr. Devlin was present with Mr. William Lount, Q. C., as his counsel, Mr. M. J. F. Quinn, Q. C., M. P., of Montreal, was also in attendance at this sitting but took no part in the proceedings. At the subsequent sittings at Kingston, Montreal and Ottawa (except the last at the latter city) Mr. Devlin was again present and had as counsel Mr. M. J. Morrison, of Quinn & Morrison, Montreal. Mr. Quinn also attended the first sitting at Montreal and in the course of the proceedings asked to be allowed as a member of Parliament interested in the administration of public justice to examine one of the witnesses. This request was granted and thereupon Mr. Quinn examined the witness who was giving evidence at the time. Although duly notified of the sittings at Ogdensburg, Ingersoll and London, Mr. Devlin did not attend any of them, nor was he represented by counsel. Upon the conclusion of the sitting at London, on the night of 14th July, 1898, it was found necessary to examine witnesses at Toronto and an adjournment was accordingly made to that city. Owing to Mr. Devlin's voluntary absence from the Ingersoll and London sittings, and as he was not represented by counsel, it was impossible to give him formal notice of the sitting at Toronto. However, the evidence taken at Ogdensburg was read over to Mr. Devlin and his counsel at the next sitting held thereafter, and a copy of the evidence and proceedings at Ingersoll, London and Toronto was furnished by the official stenographer to Mr. Morrison, counsel for Mr. Devlin. At Mr. Morrison's request it was arranged to hold a sitting at Ottawa on 4th August, 1898, to receive Mr. Devlin's answer to the evidence taken at Ingersoll, London and Toronto. Mr. Devlin did not attend at Ottawa on the date mentioned nor did his counsel, but the latter sent a written communication containing Mr. Devlin's answer, and this is embodied in volume IV. of the Record. Thus Mr. Devlin has replied to all the evidence adduced in support of the charges.

The witnesses examined at Ogdensburg were sworn by Mr. Dennis B. Lucey, Notary Public. A certificate from the clerk of the court for St. Lawrence County, New York, showing Mr. Lucey's authority to administer oaths as a Notary Public, will be found with the papers returned to you herewith.

The investigation was formally opened in the inspector's office at Kingston Penitentiary on the morning of 20th January, 1898, by the reading aloud of the Commission and the charges.

The latter were as follows:—

"To James Devlin, of the city of Kingston, in the province of Ontario, engineer, and late engineer of the Kingston Penitentiary:—

"SIR,—You are hereby notified of the following charges against you of conspiring with sundry parties to defraud the Crown in connection with contracts given to them for goods furnished by them to the Kingston Penitentiary:—

"First.—That you conspired with one Frank Gormley of the city of Montreal to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $60, in connection with the purchase of a Balata belt in December, 1894.

"Second.—That you further conspired with the said Frank Gormley to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $400 in connection with the supplying of plumbers' fittings for the prison of isolation, from June, 1892, till April, 1893, by allowing the substitution of goods of less value than in the tender, by certifying to the delivery of more goods than was delivered, and generally agreeing to the changes in the specifications for the benefit of the contractor.

"Third.—That you further conspired with the said Frank Gormley to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $800 in connection with the purchase in July, 1894, of two pumps, revolution counter and governor from Frank Gormley, the latter using the name of J. A. Rafter & Co. to your knowledge. That you allowed the substitution of goods and certified to the delivery as per contract.

"Fourth.—That you conspired with Garth & Co. of the city of Montreal or some one or more of the members of the said firm, to obtain for them free convict labour in connection with their contract for the heating of the Protestant chapel and dining hall, during November, 1886, such free convict labour not having been agreed upon under the contract.

"Fifth.—That you further conspired with the said Garth & Co., or some of the members of the said firm, to make changes in the specification for steam pipes and fittings for the new separate ward in December, 1891, by substituting wall coil stays for wall coil pipe stays, the reason for such changes being that the tender of said Garth & Co. for the goods as per original specification was too high.

"Sixth.—That you did further conspire with the said Garth & Co., or some of the members of the said firm, to defraud the Crown in connection with the substitution of 6-inch for 8-inch wrought iron pipe in July and August, 1892, by allowing them to charge 69 cents per foot for pipe instead of 66 cents as agreed on, and further by allowing them to charge freight while the pipes were to be delivered free at Kingston."

Prior to the calling of witnesses your Commissioner thought it proper to define the scope of the inquiry and the procedure to be followed, and he accordingly made the following statement:—

"Before proceeding further with this investigation I deem it advisable to place on record the position which I occupy as a Commissioner, and to emphasize the difference between the powers conferred upon me and those conferred on the Commissioners last year. The former Commissioners were authorized to make an investigation into the internal management of the penitentiary generally, and not as to specific facts or in connection with the doings of any individual. On the other hand I am instructed to investigate into six charges of conspiracy to defraud the revenue preferred against Mr. James Devlin, and into these charges it is my intention to make the fullest inquiry. A copy of the charges just read were sent to Mr. Devlin by the Deputy Minister of Justice on the 6th of November, 1897, and on the 16th of November, 1897, Mr. Devlin filed a written answer and defence, in which among other things he says:—

“That if the said answer in the opinion of the Honourable Minister of Justice be not sufficient, he is prepared to prove the allegations thereof by the testimony of himself and other witnesses at such time and place and before such tribunal as the Government may deem proper.

“The position taken by Mr. Devlin would imply that the evidence adduced by the Commissioners last year could be used against him and that he was required to combat such evidence and to enter at once upon his defence. However, it appears to me as well as to the Honourable the Minister of Justice, that it would not be fair to Mr. Devlin to place him in such a position, and, therefore, it is my intention to call all witnesses before me and to examine them in the presence of the accused and his counsel, so that the fullest opportunity may be given for cross-examination. I may add that it is also my intention to afford the accused the fullest opportunity to prove his innocence of the charges made against him.”

The course outlined in the foregoing statement was strictly adhered to, and the proceedings throughout were conducted as nearly as possible after the manner of a judicial inquiry. In order that Mr. Devlin might have the benefit of his written defence it was identified and filed as the first exhibit in the case, but in presenting his subsequent defence Mr. Devlin was not at any time restricted to the contents of this document as he was left at perfect liberty to cross-examine witnesses and put in such additional evidence as he and his counsel deemed proper. Care was taken also not to close the investigation until after Mr. Devlin had announced that he had no further evidence to offer.

In setting forth the subjoined result of the inquiry the charges are considered seriatim, and the opinions expressed with regard to them are based on a careful and exhaustive analysis of the whole case.

FINDINGS.

Charge 1.—That you conspired with one Frank Gormley of the city of Montreal, to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $60 in connection with the purchase of a Balata belt in December, 1894.

On 20th May, 1894, Engineer Devlin sent a requisition to Storekeeper O'Donnell for a six ply endless Balata belt. Two days later, on 22nd May, O'Donnell forwarded to Frank Gormley of Montreal, an order for the six ply belt specified in Devlin's requisition. Nearly six months afterwards Gormley purchased a five ply Balata belt from Thomas Forrester of Montreal for $117.05 and this belt was the one sent to the Kingston Penitentiary. Gormley's invoice is dated 2nd December, 1894, and purports to be for a six ply belt for which he charged the penitentiary $178.76. This invoice is certified as correct by Devlin. The official voucher for the payment of $178.76 for the belt is also dated 2nd December, 1894, and in it Gormley again represents the belt to be six ply.

In connection with this charge it may be said at the outset that the custom followed in purchasing goods for the engineer's department at Kingston Penitentiary as outlined in Devlin's written defence (Exhibit 1) is not disputed. That Devlin's only connection with the ordering of the Balata belt was to make out the requisition for it is a statement not so easily accepted. In fact it is refuted by the evidence of Storekeeper O'Donnell, who swore that Devlin told him to send Gormley the order for the belt, and furthermore that Devlin also told him the belt was of a superior quality and that Gormley had it in stock. This evidence of O'Donnell's was uncontradicted. It is a complete refutation of Devlin's further statement in Exhibit 1 that he did not induce the storekeeper to send the order for the belt to any particular person. In his written defence Devlin also says that he had no knowledge of the price of the belt until after its delivery when he saw the price entered in the delivery book. This statement is not consistent with the oral testimony, as Devlin himself admitted that prior to the belt being ordered he had an interview with an agent for Balata belting and that the latter left him a catalogue or price list. Although Devlin claimed that Exhibit 130 was not the card or price list the agent gave him, he could not point out any difference between it and the catalogue or price list which he admitted had been in his possession and was handed over by him with other papers to the Kingston Penitentiary Commissioners. Exhibit 130 was procured from among the papers of the Kingston Penitentiary Commissioners and unless Devlin showed in what particular it differed from the card, the agent gave him his bare assertion that it is not the same card, is a statement devoid of credibility.

It was established that Devlin had a knowledge of the quality and price of the belt and where to procure it before he made out the requisition for it which is filed as Exhibit 2. Some time in 1894—the exact date was not ascertained, but it was evidently before the belt was ordered—Devlin had an interview at the penitentiary with A. R. Forrester, traveller for Thomas Forrester of Montreal regarding the purchase of a Balata belt for use in the penitentiary. There is no doubt that it was from A. R. Forrester Devlin received the catalogue or price list which contains in addition to quotations for different sizes of belts the information that Thomas Forrester of 298 St. James Street, Montreal, is the sole agent for Dick's Balata Belting. Despite his knowledge of this latter fact, and his oft repeated assertion that the penitentiary officials had instructions to buy from Canadian agents whenever possible, Devlin told O'Donnell to send the order for the belt to Gormley—a man who was not the agent and who Devlin himself admitted never carried any stock. When the belt arrived at the penitentiary, Devlin made no attempt to find out the number of plies in it, although it was proved he could have done so, nor did he ascertain if in other respects it corresponded with the original requisition and order. In the absence of any examination whatever he certified the account for the belt to be correct. He endeavoured to show that this certificate was put on merely to oblige O'Donnell and to indicate simply that the belt had been received, but this explanation cannot be accepted in the face of the untruth he told O'Donnell in the first place, and in view of his own knowledge before the belt was ordered. Clearly he must accept the consequences of his act in certifying the account. His manifest bad faith in attempting to repudiate his own signature on the account is additional evidence of the duplicity which characterized his conduct in securing the order for Gormley.

Gormley's evidence regarding this charge was very unsatisfactory. Beyond remembering that he bought a Balata belt from Forrester and sent it to the penitentiary he could not recall any other details of the transaction except in a hazy and indefinite way. Although served with a subpoena to produce all papers he did not produce a single one, and when pressed about his default in this regard he admitted that he had made no effort to get any of the papers. He sought to explain the absence of Forrester's account by stating that Commissioner Fraser of the Kingston Penitentiary Commission got all his papers and that Forrester's bill was amongst them; but this and similar statements by himself and Devlin were proved to be without foundation when Mr. Fraser subsequently gave evidence and handed over all papers in his possession to your Commissioner. These papers were carefully examined but none of Gormley's missing documents was found amongst them. Neither Gormley nor any of the other witnesses could give a satisfactory explanation of the delay that ensued between the issue of the order—May 22nd, 1894—and the purchase of the belt—December 2nd, 1894. The facts elicited show that while a 6 ply belt was ordered it was only a 5 ply belt that Gormley supplied, and that he received $178.76 for a belt that cost him only $117.05. Evidence was given in behalf of the accused that Gormley's profit was not an unusual one, but such testimony was not pertinent to the issue in so far as it was intended as an answer to the charge made against Devlin. Had he, instead of misleading O'Donnell, told him the truth about the agent for the belt, the order would have gone to Forrester instead of Gormley and the penitentiary would have received the benefit of the discounts allowed Gormley by Forrester. In fact the penitentiary might have secured the belt at a lower price than Gormley did as A. R. Forrester testified that at the time it was bought they had "all kinds of prices" and "would allow almost anything" in the way of discounts so as to secure an order.

While Devlin's conduct is in the highest degree reprehensible and open to the gravest suspicion it must be said that the direct evidence does not completely sustain the charge as laid. There is no proof of any communication or intercourse between Gormley and Devlin, but the bad faith of both as disclosed in their evidence, the failure to produce books and papers bearing on the matter, and the fact that Gormley made $61.71 out of the purchase and sale, are strong elements from which to deduce the inference that there was some understanding between them. They are the only men to say whether there was a conspiracy or not, and they both deny its existence; but when the transaction originated in a lie and its further stages show that a belt differing from the one ordered and of less value was actually supplied, and that the invoice accompanying the belt contained a false description of it which was certified as correct by Devlin, and when, in addition, it is recalled that this dishonest course of dealing ensured to the benefit of one of the principals connected with it there is ample justification for inferring that a conspiracy to defraud the revenue did in fact exist.

Charge 2.—That you further conspired with the said Frank Gormley to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $400 in connection with the supplying of plumbers fittings for the prison of isolation from June, 1892, till April, 1893.

(a.) By allowing the substitution of goods of less value than in the tender.

(b.) By certifying to the delivery of more goods than was delivered.

(c.) And generally agreeing to changes in the specification for the benefit of the contractor.

On 21st June, 1892, Warden Lavell wrote to Inspector J. G. Moylan inclosing a proposal from the engineer to furnish certain material required for the prison of isolation at an approximate cost of $4,000.

On 7th July, 1892, Mr. Moylan advised the warden that the Minister of Justice had approved of the expenditure for the material as proposed by the engineer. The inspector added: "In asking tenders for material required you will be good enough to include amongst those who may be invited to make offers, Mr. Frank Gormley of Montreal, (107 St. James Street) whom the Minister has been spoken to by a member of Parliament."

On 14th July, 1892, Storekeeper O'Donnell wrote to Gormley sending him a detailed specification and asking him to quote prices on form below—the letter and specification being contained on a double sheet of foolscap paper. A red ink memo on the letter says: "We would like a reply to this in two days after receipt."

It is evident that the other firms were also invited to tender, for, on 16th July, 1892, Garth & Company of Montreal, wrote to O'Donnell stating that the J. L. Mott Iron Works of New York, from whom they had asked prices for some of the goods required, did not make the "detached cisterns" mentioned in the specification, and that they would furnish instead the cistern plate 306G, in Mott's catalogue. They also suggested substituting No. 3 Unitas closet for No. 2 Unitas, as being heavier and more suitable for the work and a cheaper closet as well. At the same time Garth & Company wrote Devlin inclosing him a copy of their letter to O'Donnell and asked his help in the matter.

After the time limited for receiving prices had expired, and after the receipt of Garth & Co.'s letter, O'Donnell, on the 19th of July, 1892, again wrote to Gormley asking,— "What increase to the total would be caused supposing we should substitute No. 11 cistern plate 306G for detached service boxes, thus dispensing with 7 automatic cisterns plate 172—also Unitas unfinished brass trap instead of Cuddels, having strainer fitting &c., as called for in list sent out?"

On 20th July, 1892, Gormley wrote to O'Donnell on the back of the specification agreeing to furnish the goods specified therein for $3,370 or as amended by O'Donnell's letter of 19th July, for $3,612. It will be noticed by reference to Gormley's letter that there has been an alteration of the words comprising the first part of the offer.

On 23rd July, 1892, Warden Lavell transmitted to Inspector Moylan who was then in Kingston the following tenders, viz.:—

Garth & Co., Montreal	$4,443 70
McKelvy & Birch, Kingston	3,617 45
Frank Gormley, Montreal	3,612 00

The warden added : “ Any of these houses are presumably competent to carry out their engagements. Gormley’s tender is not itemized. I suppose it may be inferred he is ready to fill the tender in accordance with the specifications.”

Mr. Moylan sent forward the papers to the Minister of Justice with the following recommendation :—“ I recommend that the tender of Frank Gormley, Montreal, be accepted being the lowest. The work which he has done here is satisfactory.” This was approved by the Minister of Justice.

On 29th July, 1892, Mr. H. B. S. Lane for the inspector notified Warden Lavell that Gormley’s tender of $3,612 had been accepted, and at the same time returned all the tenders. Although searched for, none of the other tenders can be found.

There is nothing of record to show that Gormley was notified that his tender had been accepted, but it is apparent that there was some correspondence with him as in a letter dated 17th October, 1892, Acting Warden Sullivan thus writes to Gormley :—“ Your note of the 14th inst. to hand re water closets. We have decided on the Tornado. You will please forward as soon as possible.”

This note of Gormley’s of 14th October, 1892, cannot be found nor is there any record of its receipt in the register at the warden’s office, nor is the letter of Acting Warden Sullivan copied in the warden’s letter-book.

On 14th October, 1892, Gormley bought from Jordan & Locker, of Montreal, seven No. 3 Tornado closets at $6.50 each and these were sent to the penitentiary. It will be noticed that the day on which Gormley bought these seven Tornado closets corresponds with the date of his note to Sullivan which brought the latter’s reply of 17th October, 1892. Prior to this purchase in October, Gormley had bought from Jordan & Locker, on 26th September, 1892, one No. 3 Unitas closet for $9, and, subsequently on 9th December of the same year, he purchased from them ten crates containing 119 No. 3 Tornado closets at $6.50 each.

On 5th November, 1892, Warden Lavell wrote Gormley and inclosed “ memo. of engineer ” containing final corrected list as “ per contract.” This list was not produced nor could a copy be found, and thus it is impossible to say what it contained.

On 21st November, 1892, Gormley wrote to the warden acknowledging receipt of the letter of the 5th of November, which he states was handed him by Mr. Devlin, and adds that he has ordered the necessary changes with the exception of the brass tubing substituted for lead pipe. For this change he asks $107 extra.

On 26th November, 1892, the warden wrote the inspector saying the engineer had recommended brass tubing instead of lead pipe and stating the increase in cost to be $107, and on 6th December, H. B. S. Lane, for the inspector advised the warden that the Minister of Justice approved of the change and sanctioned the additional expenditure. The warden wrote Gormley accordingly on the 7th of December, 1892.

An attempt was made by Gormley to enter free of duty the goods bought by him from Jordan & Locker and by the latter imported from England in connection with this contract. On 9th December, 1892, Mr. H. B. S. Lane for the inspector wrote Warden Lavell inclosing an account for £178 11s 3d for goods imported by Messrs. Jordan & Locker for Mr. Gormley,—“ in order that you may pass free entry for the goods if according to Mr. Gormley’s contract.” Warden Lavell replied on 10th December, 1892, that there was no understanding express or implied as to free entry. On 12th December, Mr. Lane telegraphed Warden Lavell that the Minister had decided that Gormley must pay duty.

Gormley purchased the fittings for this contract from the J. L. Mott Iron Works of New York. Their invoices are dated respectively 6th and 7th March, 1893, and show that 117 sets of fittings were bought by Gormley, and it was proved that these were the only fittings sent to the penitentiary. Gormley did not render the department any detailed account of goods supplied but claimed a bulk sum of $3,612 and $107 extra for the brass tubing. Both of these amounts were paid to him.

Department of Justice.

The prison of isolation that Gormley contracted to fit up contains 114 cells and 3 store-rooms, and in each of these a closet was placed, so that in all there are 117 closets in the building.

(a.) It was established in evidence that Devlin prepared the specification for this contract. The first item of the specification calls for 120 heavy white plain pattern No. 2 Unitas closets with bowls of Twyford's Staffordshire English Pottery. There is nothing to show why Devlin selected a No. 2 Unitas closet in preference to others, nor did he give any explanation of the matter himself. In a box left by him in the engineer's office there was found a catalogue of sanitary earthenware and appliances manufactured by Thomas W. Twyford of Staffordshire, England, and it is reasonable to assume that it was from this catalogue that Devlin got the material on which he based his selection of the closet. The catalogue was issued in April, 1889, and is filed as Exhibit 25. At page 44 of the catalogue the prices of Unitas closets are quoted,—No. 2 being given as $10.20 each and No. 3, $8.50 each. At page 48 the price of Tornado closets is shown to be $6.50 each.

In the course of his examination O'Donnell swore that he was told by Devlin to invite Gormley to tender. As already stated the specification sent Gormley called for a No. 2 Unitas closet, and this is the closet Gormley agreed to supply. He did not do so, nor did he even send a sample closet of this kind to the penitentiary. However, a sample No. 3 Unitas closet, was sent and it is evident that it was forwarded as a result of certain correspondence from Garth & Co., to Devlin and O'Donnell. As previously mentioned when Garth & Co. received O'Donnell's invitation to tender they at once wrote to the J. L. Mott Iron Works of New York, for "best prices of cisterns and basins" and, upon receipt of a telegram in a reply, they sent O'Donnell the letter of 16th July, 1892, containing the terms of the telegram relating to the cisterns and this suggestion: "We think it would be advisable to use No. 3 Unitas closet, as they are a great deal heavier, and more suitable for penitentiary and factory use, the cost will be 50 cents each less No. 3, page 44. We send you Twyford's catalogue by mail." On the 18th July, 1892, Garth & Co., wrote to Devlin inclosing him a copy of this letter to O'Donnell as well as a copy of their tender, and adding: "You might get him to use No. 3 Unitas closet instead of No. 2 as specified."

Devlin was very emphatic in asserting that he took no action whatever regarding this letter from Garth & Co. In view of what happened it is extremely difficult to believe this statement. O'Donnell had kept the letter received by him from Garth & Co. for two days without doing anything in reference to the suggestions it contained, but the very day that Devlin received his letter from the same firm—that is on 19th July, 1892, O'Donnell wrote to Gormley suggesting certain changes and asking what the increased price for these changes would be. When questioned about this letter O'Donnell stated it was sent to Gormley on the strength of a memorandum furnished by Devlin. This memorandum was not produced and in its absence O'Donnell's letter based upon it must furnish the clue to its contents. A comparison of O'Donnell's letter to Gormley, with Garth & Co.'s letter to O'Donnell, establishes that the last mentioned letter is the source from which the suggested changes were taken; and as Devlin had a copy of Garth's letter in his possession when he gave O'Donnell the memorandum it is clear that the contents of this memorandum were substantially the same as those of Garth's letter. This becomes all the more apparent when it is found that certain technical terms used by Garth & Co., are repeated by O'Donnell in his letter to Gormley.

But these are not the only facts that tell against Devlin's statement. He is refuted by himself as he testified that the first change from closet asked for in the specification was suggested by him on account of Garth's letter to O'Donnell, and he admitted that the changes proposed in O'Donnell's letter to Gormley are the same as those mentioned in Garth's correspondence. Now as Devlin inspired O'Donnell's letter to Gormley, and as it is similar in purport to the copy of the letter sent Devlin by Garth & Co., it is impossible to conceive how Devlin can expect any person familiar with these circumstances to believe him when he says he took no action after receiving Garth & Co.'s communication.

There is no evidence to show that Devlin or O'Donnell said anything to Gormley about substituting a No. 3 for a No. 2 Unitas closet as suggested by Garth & Co., but the fact remains that Gormley sent a sample No. 3 Unitas closet to Kingston Penitentiary on 26th September, 1892. Prior to the date at which Devlin prepared the specification, the soil pipes for the closets had been placed in position. After the No. 3 Unitas closet arrived at the penitentiary it was fitted to one of these pipes, cell No. 3, in the prison of isolation. The horn or outlet of the closet was too large for the pipe and the defence alleges it was for this reason that a No. 3 Tornado closet was substituted for the contract closet. If the No. 3 Unitas closet was the one called for by the contract, and a test demonstrated it to be unsuitable, this might be a good reason for selecting the No. 3 Tornado closet, but when the contract expressly stipulated that a No. 2 Unitas was to be supplied, the reason given for the change is no reason at all. Besides Devlin himself swears that there never was a No. 2 Unitas closet sent to the penitentiary.

Referring to the soil pipes in the prison of isolation, Devlin in his written defence says that they were put in place by Mr. Adams, an officer of the penitentiary, and that they were smaller than the standard pipe, and on that account could not be connected with the "Unitas closet." Devlin refutes this assertion by the evidence of W. G. Simmons, a witness called by him, who testified that the standard soil pipe is a 4-inch one. According to the evidence of James Adams the soil pipes in the prison of isolation were larger than standard pipes and could be connected with a No. 2 Unitas closet without the slightest difficulty. The interior diameter of the soil pipe is $4\frac{3}{8}$ inches, while the exterior diameter of the horn or outlet of a No. 2 Unitas closet is only $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches, thus allowing ample space for the connection to be made. The outlet of the No. 3 Tornado closet has an exterior diameter of $4\frac{1}{4}$ inches also, so that in this respect it corresponds with the No. 2 Unitas.

A test after the contract was awarded should not have been necessary as it ought to have been ascertained before tenders were invited which closet would fit the soil pipes then in place in the building; but if a test were necessary the question that naturally suggests itself is why was a No. 2 Unitas not fitted to the pipes? There is no answer to this question, and it is an extraordinary fact that neither Devlin nor Gormley gave any explanation whatever as to why the very first item of the specification was thus deliberately ignored. If a dozen different closets had been tested and the outlets were found to be too large or too small, that would have been no reason for departing from the specification so long as it was not known whether a No. 2 Unitas would fit or not.

None of the parties concerned seem to have troubled themselves about the closet called for in the specification, and the substitution of the cheap No. 3 Tornado for the more expensive No. 2 Unitas is absolutely indefensible. The closets Gormley should have supplied cost about $11 each, while those that were substituted cost only $6.50 each, and it is with the latter that the building was fitted up contrary to the specification and contract.

It was demonstrated by a test during the progress of the inquiry that the outlet of a No. 2 Unitas closet has the same diameter as that of a No. 3 Tornado, and as the defence allege that the latter closet was selected because it fitted the soil pipes it is clear that the No. 2 Unitas would have been just as suitable in point of size. It is true that evidence was given regarding a change that had been made by the English manufacturers in the size of closet horns or outlets, but the date at which this change was made could not be determined and consequently it does not help Devlin in any way.

In his written defence as well as in his evidence, Devlin tried to prove that the substitution of a No. 3 Tornado closet for the one specified in the contract was approved of, if not actually decided upon, by Warden Lavell. The warden, however, would not admit that he had authorized the change directly or indirectly, and the attempt to fix him with responsibility utterly failed when he pointed out that the change was made during his two months leave of absence, from 1st September to 1st November, 1892, and that he had neither been consulted nor had he given any instructions regarding the change prior to his going away. It is also significant that the sample No. 3 Unitas closet and the first shipment of the No. 3 Tornados were sent to the penitentiary by Gormley during the two months the warden was absent. The dates of these two shipments have an important bearing on the evidence given by Devlin and Skelly regarding an alleged test in cell No. 3 in the prison of isolation, made, it was stated, before the warden went away. It was this test, the defence claimed that revealed the fact that the No. 3 Unitas closet was too large for the soil pipe, and it was asserted that the warden was present when it was made and that he thereupon selected the No. 3 Tornado closet as the one to put in the building, because of its outlet fitting the pipe. The warden denied that he was present at any such test and his denial is corroborated by the fact that the closets with which the alleged test was made were shipped on 26th September and 14th October, 1892, respectively, and that both of these dates fall within the time that he was absent from the penitentiary on his two months' vacation. A further corroboration of the warden's testimony is the fact that the selection was made before his return on 1st November, 1892, as Acting Warden Sullivan on 14th October, 1892, wrote to Gormley advising him that they had decided on the Tornado.

Apart from Sullivan's letter of 17th October, 1892, there is nothing to show when the change from the contract closet to the cheap No. 3 Tornado was decided upon. This letter does not give any indication as to how the decision to make the change was reached nor do the witnesses help to clear up the matter. In his written defence Devlin alleges it was the warden who made the change and that he did so because the soil pipes were too small to permit of connection with the Unitas closet. These statements were refuted by the evidence, as it was shown that the deputy warden made the change, and that he did so without there ever having been a No. 2 Unitas closet at the penitentiary to test whether it would fit or not, although that was the one called for by the contract.

Devlin in preparing the specification proves that he knew the No. 2 Unitas closet was white in colour, and as the No. 3 Unitas is oane colour there was no possibility of mistaking one for the other. Moreover, he was the person responsible for the proper conduct of the work and it was therefore his duty to see that the closet mentioned in his own specification was sent up to be tested. Having regard to all the evidence bearing upon this branch of the inquiry it must be said that no justification was shown for the change in closets.

Devlin's statement regarding the change of closets having thus been proved to be without foundation it is difficult to avoid the conclusion that the responsibility for substituting the cheaper closet for the more expensive one rests upon Devlin himself. He was in charge of the work,—familiar with its details and active in having them carried out, and the fact that he made no effort to procure the closet contracted for, coupled with the silence of himself and Gormley upon the subject, are features that reflect most seriously upon the conduct of both engineer and contractor. Then when it is recalled that the change was made during the warden's absence, and that the acting warden disclaimed all responsibility for it, there is only other man who could have authorized it, and that man is Devlin. There is no direct positive proof that he did so, although ex-Deputy Warden Sullivan testified that Devlin spoke to him at one time about closets being too small or too large; but in view of all the circumstances it is impossible to believe that any other official had anything to do with the substitution.

From the catalogues in his possession at the time he made out the specification, Devlin must have known the prices of the different kinds of closets, and therefore his dishonesty is made manifest when he stood by and allowed Gormley to be paid for a No. 3 Tornado closet at the same rate as if he had supplied No. 2 Unitas closets when there was a difference in price of $4.50 upon each closet. A portion of Devlin's written defence is evidently intended as a cloak for such actions, as he says it was no part of his duty to negotiate with Gormley for a reduction in the contract price. Apart from the cynical disregard shown by Devlin for the obligations of his office as a position of public trust, he does not establish that it was not his duty to see that in this instance the price charged was fair and just. It was he who prepared the estimate for this work and none of his superior officers knew anything about the prices except as he may have informed them; and it is safe to say that when a $6.50 closet was substituted for an $11 one, Devlin's superiors were ignorant of the difference in price. For him to remain silent under these circumstances and allow Gormley to be paid the full contract price is as deliberate an act of malfeasance as any public official could be guilty of.

Before dismissing this branch of the inquiry it is material to consider Devlin's final testimony regarding the number of changes made in the contract. He enumerated many of these changes and speaking with reference to the ones he mentioned, and to others which he did not specify, he said that while the substituted articles were in some cases of less value than those mentioned in the contract they were an improvement on the goods originally called for, and that by reason of their use he had secured a better class of work and more modern equipment, on the other hand when, on his recommendation, after a personal interview with Gormley, brass tubing was substituted for lead pipe $107 extra was allowed. Apart from the improvement due to the use of brass tubing no opinion can be expressed as to the benefits which Devlin claimed were the result of the other changes, for the reason that Devlin's statement is a mere general assertion and there is no other evidence bearing upon that particular feature of the contract. Assuming then that what Devlin said as to efficiency was true, he is open to censure for withholding from the warden his knowledge as to the decrease in cost occasioned by these changes, and, as in the case of the closets, permitting Gormley through his default in duty, to reap a profit to which he was not entitled. When Devlin's attention was drawn to the fact that the contractor was paid his original price plus the cost of the brass tubing, Devlin intimated that it was only after the inquiry commenced that he became aware of such payments having been made, and referring to Gormley he said:—"His account was never presented to me for certificate or anything of the kind." This statement, so far as the evidence is concerned is true only if limited to Gormley's account for the original contract, because Devlin certified both the account and the invoice rendered by Gormley for the $107 extra in connection with the brass tubing. It is extremely suggestive that Devlin should certify his friend's account for the only item that entailed extra cost, while he allowed to pass unheeded or deliberately winked at the items that lessened the cost and which should have been deducted from the amount of Gormley's tender.

(b.) Now with reference to the second part of the charge—that of certifying to the delivery of more goods than were delivered—it may be proper to recall that the prison of isolation contains 117 closets and fittings. Such being the case it is difficult to understand why Devlin made a requisition for 120 closets and 120 sets of fittings. There is no explanation given but the fact remains that he did so. A reason offered by himself was that the 3 extra closets and sets of fittings were specified so as to provide for breakages. This explanation might apply to the closet bowls which were to be of pottery, but it could not apply to the fittings which are of iron or metal. Devlin in his written defence states that he certified to the delivery of 120 closets and 120 sets of fittings and when it was pointed out to him that the building contained only 117 closets he said that the extra sets were placed elsewhere in the penitentiary. Asked to indicate the places where they were put up he could not do so. A tour of the buildings was made and while a number of closets and fittings were found similar to those in the prison of isolation, Devlin could not establish when they were set up, nor would he say that they formed part of the shipment for the prison of isolation. For the latter building only 117 closets and sets of fittings were required, and when Devlin stated that 120 were received the onus was upon him of showing where they were placed. This he failed to do, and his failure is not surprising when his own requisitions were produced showing that he had asked that No. 3 Tornado closets be supplied to the institution at different dates subsequent to the fitting up of the prison of isolation. A further refutation of Devlin's statement that 120 closets and sets of fittings were received is furnished by Gormley's invoices which show that he imported only 117 sets.

In connection with this part of the charge Devlin made a very characteristic and reckless statement which illustrates much of his general line of defence. In explaining why he certified Gormley's account, Devlin at page 4 of his written defence says:—"That the closets, &c., sent by Mr. Gormley as samples and which he shipped from Montreal, formed no part of the 117 imported by him, and which are represented by the import account, but were included in his account for the total number supplied, and hence the seeming discrepancy between the import invoice and the account furnished by the said Frank Gormley." This statement was repeated by Devlin on oath, but when confronted with one of his own requisitions "covering over contract and samples sent"

Department of Justice.

(that is an over plus of goods remaining in the penitentiary which it was decided should be kept) he admitted that he was mistaken and that the sample closet sent by Gormley was the one mentioned in this requisition and therefore was not included in Gormley's final account. This is but one of many such statements made apparently on the assumption that if asserted boldly they would secure a measure of belief to which they would not otherwise be entitled.

The extract quoted in the preceding paragraph forms the basis of Devlin's reason for certifying to Gormley's account as he says "in good faith." The good faith of the action may be judged by the refutation contained in Devlin's own requisition. It is true that Gormley sent 127 closet bowls to the penitentiary and it might be said that in this particular at least he fulfilled his contract and that there was nothing wrong in Devlin certifying to 120 being received when 127 were actually sent. To this it may be answered that there is nothing to show that the extra pieces of the 127 sent, were not included in some of Devlin's subsequent requisitions for the same kind of closets used in other parts of the penitentiary just as he requisitioned for the sample No. 3 Unitas closet after it had remained in the penitentiary for many months. Whatever doubt exists on this score there can be none whatever regarding the fittings. Only 117 sets were required and as that is the exact number bought by Gormley it is idle to pretend that any more went to the penitentiary. Devlin is involved in a maze of contradictions regarding his certificate, as at one stage in his examination he swore that he never certified to the delivery of the goods in Gormley's contract, while in his written defence he says he did certify to their delivery and that his certificate was attached upon receiving the reports of the assistant storekeeper, whom Devlin alleges did the checking of the goods. Now, O'Donnell swears that he checked the goods and that after he had done so he went to the engineer and inquired if they were all in, and the engineer answered they were. In view of Devlin's contradictory and untruthful assertions and of the light thrown upon the matter by O'Donnell there can be no doubt that while Devlin did not perform the physical act of attaching his certificate he induced O'Donnell by a false statement to certify to the delivery of more goods than were actually delivered.

(c.) Now with reference to the third part of the charge it may be pointed out that the change from lead pipe to brass tubing is not such a substitution as would justify the conclusion that it was improper on the part of the engineer to recommend it. True it was a change in the specification and it enured to the benefit of the contractor; but it was clearly an improvement upon what was first proposed and on that account was a benefit to the institution also. There is no evidence to show that the extra price allowed Gormley was not a reasonable price and the only significant feature of this change is that the price was not mentioned until after Devlin and Gormley met in Montreal. But there were other changes agreed to by the engineer which were not so clearly for the benefit of the penitentiary. There was a change, for instance, from the cisterns first proposed and it is quite evident that the engineer made this change as a result of the suggestions in Garth's letter inclosing him the copy of their letter to O'Donnell. Whether this change was either necessary or beneficial is a matter for expert opinion. Devlin enumerated a number of other changes that were made in the specification, some of which he admits would lessen the price, and although such was the case, Gormley was paid the amount of his original contract. In other words there was only one change that increased the price and for this Gormley was paid extra; while in the cases of the changes that lessened the price no deduction was made from the amount of the original contract. Devlin's only justification for his inaction with regard to the amount paid to Gormley is his stock excuse that it was no part of his duty to attend to the price, but in view of his superintendence of this contract, and his consequent knowledge of the value of material and supplies it is impossible to justify his conduct on any such ground as he mentions.

By reason of the substitution of No. 3 Tornado for the No. 2 Unitas closet, Gormley made a profit of $540. Then he was paid for 3 sets of fittings that he did not supply, and the amount that he thus received coupled with the lessening of the cost by reason of the several changes, netted him a further profit, the exact amount of which it is impossible to determine. As in the case of the first charge no direct intercourse could be traced between Devlin and Gormley—except the meeting in Montreal in November, 1892. Their evidence, however, is most unsatisfactory. They chose to be evasive or silent when nothing short of a full and frank explanation would establish the honesty of their actions; and no matter from what point of view their testimony is regarded the impression it creates is distinctly unfavourable to both of them.

Charge 3.—That you further conspired with the said Frank Gormley to defraud the Crown to the extent of about $800.

(a.) In connection with the purchase in July, 1894, of 2 pumps, revolution-counter and governor from Frank Gormley, the latter using the name of J. A. Rafter & Co. to your knowledge.

(b.) That you allowed the substitution of goods and certified to the delivery as per contract.

(a.) In connection with this charge it is necessary at the outset to determine Devlin's knowledge of pumps, especially those made by the Stilwell-Bierce and Smith Vaile Company. The evidence establishes that in 1893 Devlin was in Chicago at the World's Fair. While there he claimed that he consulted a relative of his wife's, whom he states was an engineer, as to the best make of pumps, and that he also examined the different pumps on exhibition. The conclusion reached by him at the time was that the Smith-Vaile Company's pumps possessed advantages over all the others and it is quite evident that Devlin made up his mind to recommend their make of pumps whenever any should be required at the penitentiary. On 1st May, 1894, he wrote the warden (Exhibit 110), and asked to be allowed "to examine the Smith-Vaile High Service Compound in the town of Ingersoll, Ontario, likewise the nearest Fairbanks & Co. Duplex Compound. From information obtained after careful inquiry I am of the opinion that our selection should be from either of these makers." It is important to consider whether or not this request was made in good faith. Devlin cannot state where he got the information that there was a Smith-Vaile pump in use in Ingersoll. He contents himself with saying,—“Somebody told me so,” but without having been informed where it was Devlin states he inferred it was in connection “with the water works.” There is no doubt that Devlin's letter of 1st May, 1894, was given to the warden for another purpose than that stated therein, and this other purpose is disclosed by the evidence. In the year mentioned Devlin was one of the principal members of the Ontario Association of Stationary Engineers. On 22nd February, 1894, he attended a meeting of the board of the association in Toronto and moved a resolution that the annual meeting in London, Ontario, be held on the first Monday after the 24th of May which was adopted. At the same board meeting he moved a second resolution which was also adopted fixing a per diem allowance for the members of $4 for each meeting attended. Although his travelling expenses and per diem allowance were thus provided for, he seems not to have been satisfied, and he accordingly planned the pretended trip to Ingersoll so as to secure payment of the same expenses from the Government as well. It is questionable whether he ever went to Ingersoll at all as his recollection of the trip is very hazy. He could not say how long he was there nor could he give the names of the hotels he stopped at, although he claimed to have had meals at two of them. When he gave details as to the surroundings of the water works his description was so inaccurate that it became evident he had never visited the pumping station. However, it was shown that he was in London, Ontario, on the night of 26th May, 1894, where he had a room and breakfast at the Grigg House, for which he paid $1. It is likely that the rest of the time he remained in London he spent with a friend, the late Thomas Power, to whom reference is made in Devlin's evidence. Having started out with the false representations already mentioned it is not surprising that Devlin followed them up with forgery and ended by defrauding the Crown.

Attached to the account for expenses are four vouchers, two of which purport to apply to the Ingersoll-London trip and two to the Ogdensburg trip, hereinafter referred to. One purporting to be a receipt for $5 from the Daly House, Ingersoll, is for 2 days board at $2.50 per day. It is written on a sheet of hotel letter paper and is signed “G. L. Thompson per A.” Mr. Thompson and his two clerks were examined and established that Devlin was not registered at the Daly House from 26th May to 30th May, 1894, that being the period of his absence from the penitentiary, and that there was no entry in the cash book of any payment by Devlin during that time. All the parties denied the signature to the voucher and while they could not recognize the handwriting they proved it was not in the writing of any one having authority to receive money or give receipts. It was also proved that the rate of board at the Daly House was only $1.50 per day. Devlin asserted that he sent the money to his friend, Thomas Power of London, to pay his hotel account at Ingersoll after he got back to Kingston. Such an explanation is too absurd to be believed and shows to what straits Devlin was put when he made it. While he swore that he was at two hotels in Ingersoll, yet he only produced a pretended voucher from one of them and this voucher was proved beyond doubt to be forged.

Another charge in the expense account was "cab-hire at Ingersoll to visit pumps situated out of town, two trips at $2.50 each—$5." Devlin admitted it only took him part of an hour to drive to the water works. It having been ascertained that there was only one cab driver in Ingersoll in 1894, viz., Geo. Matheson, he was examined and testified that he did not drive any one to the water works at the period named by Devlin, and that the regular fare was only from $1 to $1.50 for the round trip. Although the account showed the charge was for cab-hire, and your Commissioner would have been justified in ceasing to make further inquiries once he had examined the cab driver, yet he did not confine his investigation of the matter to the evidence of this witness but went further and endeavoured to ascertain who were the livery stable keepers in Ingersoll, in 1894. It was found that they were all out of business and their successors did not have any of the old books covering the period in question. This, it is submitted is a complete answer to the objection filed by Devlin's counsel that the Commissioner "was guilty of great negligence in not taking the evidence of all the livery stable keepers." Devlin was notified that the examination would take place at Ingersoll, and it was his duty to furnish the names of any witnesses who could throw light upon any part of his account, and it may be fairly assumed that the reason he did not do so, was that he knew his account was a fraudulent one, and that there was no witness who could divest it of that character

John Goble, the man who was in charge of the Ingersoll water works in 1894, testified that Devlin never was there to see the pumps, and Geo. Duncan, the superintendent, proved that Devlin never made any inquiry about the pumps from him. A personal inspection of the pumping station at Ingersoll, clearly disproved Devlin's statement that it was a marshy, muddy place, the nearest marsh or swamp being nearly a mile away. It appears from all these facts that Devlin was not at Ingersoll at all, and the pretended payments were merely a blind to cover up his trip to London so that he might attend the meeting of the Ontario Association of Stationary Engineers.

The voucher of the Grigg House, London, is on the letter paper of that hotel. The charge is for 3 days at $2.50 per day, or $7.50 in all. The hotel clerk produced the books showing that Devlin stopped at the Grigg House only for one-half day for which he paid $1 and that the rates for board at the hotel were only $2 per day, and were so advertised. The clerk also proved that the voucher was not in the handwriting of himself or Mr. Horsman, the proprietor, nor in that of any one whose writing he could recognize. The evidence, therefore, establishes that this voucher is another forgery. Devlin pretends to have made this payment himself but he stated that the receipt for it was subsequently procured by Mr. Power to whom he sent the money to pay the hotel at Ingersoll. Devlin swore at first that he did not remember going anywhere else when on the Ingersoll trip, but he subsequently said he went to London, Ont., merely to fill in time, and not on any particular business. Upon looking at the first page of his statement of expenses, he said:—"I do not charge there for going to London, but I may have gone, I cannot recollect." Afterwards on seeing the Grigg House voucher attached to the account he changed his position and said:—"I must have gone to see some pump, but I do not recollect." Then when his attention was called to the charge for 3 days board at London he naively stated:—"I would imagine that I had a certain amount of latitude allowed me which, after submitting the circumstances to the warden and the account for expenses, I thought quite justified in charging for. If he had objected to my trip to London and my expenses there, it would have been certainly my loss." This attempt to justify a charge because he subsequently obtained the approval, as he claims, of the warden, though there is no proof of such approval—is but a sample of his idea of right and wrong. It is quite certain that had he informed the warden that he went to London to fill in time or to attend the meeting of The Ontario Association of Stationary Engineers, that the expenses for such a trip would have been struck out of his account, and that in addition he would have received a reprimand from his superior officer. The account as prepared by Devlin professes to be for expenses to Ingersoll and Ogdensburg to examine pumps. As has been pointed out the real reason of his trip to London was to attend the annual meeting of the Stationary Engineers. The officials of that association were examined and proved that Devlin was at the annual meeting in 1894 and took an active part in the proceedings, moving several resolutions and forming one of the committee on railroad fares and per diem allowance. The report of the committee fixed Devlin's remuneration for his attendance at $13.50, while the treasurer testified that he paid him $19.50 on 28th May, 1894, but he could not account for the difference between the two amounts. Devlin in his evidence says he did not see any pumps at all on this trip, for the good reason that he was not looking for pumps, as he falsely represented. He therefore obtained from the penitentiary $36.55 for alleged expenses incurred on the pretended trip to Ingersoll, by means of fraud and misrepresentation and by the production of forged vouchers.

On Devlin's return to Kingston he reported to the warden that he had examined the pump for water tower service at Ingersoll, and that he desired to see one in operation at the new asylum a few miles below Ogdensburg, N.Y. This report was contained in a letter from Warden Lavell to Inspector J. G. Moylan, dated 29th May, 1894, (Exhibit 114). This is another false statement as Devlin testified that he did not see any pump in operation in Ingersoll, and therefore his report must have been intended to provide for a further absence from the penitentiary. It is at about this juncture that Frank Gormley first appears in connection with the pumps, as it was established that on 30th May, 1894, he telegraphed to the Stilwell-Bierce Co., for the price for a pump 10 x 16 x 9 x 12. There is nothing in the evidence or documents filed to show where Gormley got the information on which to base his request for a quotation from the company, but there was only one source from which it would emanate and that was from the engineer. There must, therefore, have been a meeting between Devlin and Gormley, or a letter from the former to the latter, upon Devlin's return from the Ingersoll trip. The request of the engineer to visit Ogdensburg was acceded to by the Department of Justice, and the warden authorized the trip by letter dated 6th June, 1894 (Exhibit 134). It appears by Devlin's expense account that he had been at Ogdensburg prior to the permission being granted, as the dates defining his stay are from 30th May to 4th June, 1894. Devlin attempted to explain this peculiar state of affairs by saying that the date of the warden's letter may have been wrongly stated, or that the warden had probably anticipated the reply from the department and allowed him to go in advance of its receipt. This is mere conjecture and cannot be accepted, as the warden in his letter to the inspector shows that although favourable to the engineer's going he would not assume responsibility for the trip without authority from the department. However, the point to be considered at present is did Devlin make this trip to Ogdensburg in the interest of the penitentiary? As at Ingersoll the movements of Devlin cannot be traced. In his evidence he stated some one must have told him a pump was there, but he cannot designate who did so. He says he went to the State Asylum at Ogdensburg and saw a pump there, and was told it was not of the Stilwell-Bierce make. For this reason he did not pay any attention to it. He further stated that he was only a day or a day and a half in Ogdensburg. He only swears to one visit to the asylum and John Hollingsworth, who claims to have been with him at the time, also swears to having been only once at the asylum with Devlin, but he cannot fix the date. Devlin in his account for expenses at Ogdensburg charges as paid:—

Seymour House, Ogdensburg, 4 days at $3.....	$12 00
H. Chatterton, 3 trips to asylum at $5.....	$15 00

The evidence of the Seymour House clerks as well as the hotel books, show that Devlin was not registered there from 30th May to 4th June, 1894, and that there is no entry in the cash book of the payment of any money by him; that the pretended voucher is made out on a sheet of letter paper of the hotel and not on one of the bill heads used by them in rendering board accounts; that the writing on the account is not the handwriting of the late F. J. Tallman or any of his employees, and that the signature "F. J. G. Tallman" is not in the writing of any one connected with the hotel who had a right to receive cash and give receipts. There is, therefore, conclusive proof of a third forged receipt being produced by Devlin in support of his expense account. Then Chatterton, the livery stable keeper, who kept his own books, swore that Devlin never hired a cab or other vehicle at his stable and did not pay $15 for three trips to the asylum; that the usual price for a trip to the asylum was $1.50 to $2; that the receipt was not signed by the witness and that he had no one in his employ who was entitled to receive money and give receipts for same. This receipt is therefore the fourth document of its kind that was forged and attached to the expense account.

As soon as Devlin learned that evidence was to be taken at Ogdensburg he went to Prescott and had an interview with John Hollingsworth. The outcome of this interview was that Hollingsworth crossed over to Ogdensburg to interrogate Chatterton, the livery stable keeper. The latter testified that after some conversation Hollingsworth told him that he was not to know anything about this man,—the reference being to Devlin. Hollingsworth admitted that Devlin told him the Commissioner was to take evidence at Ogdensburg, and that being in Ogdensburg he merely asked Chatterton if he had any charges in his books against Devlin. There can be no doubt that Hollingsworth's motive in seeing Chatterton was an improper one, and the whole incident does not conduce to the belief that Devlin merely went to Prescott to see Hollingsworth on ordinary business as he pretends.

Mr. Morrison, counsel for Devlin, moved to have rejected from the record all the evidence taken at Ogdensburg, London, Ingersoll and Toronto on the ground of its irrelevancy, as he claimed it did not relate to the charges served on his client. The objection was overruled because the evidence in question was quite relevant to the charge now under consideration. If the inception of the order for the pumps was fraudulent, and Devlin made representations that he had examined pumping machinery at different places, when as a matter of fact the contrary is proved, surely such false representations are an element of the conspiracy, and it was quite within the scope of the inquiry to see if the pretended visits had been made or not. In this connection it may be mentioned that in his written defence Devlin makes no reference whatever to the alleged trips to Ingersoll or Ogdensburg and for very obvious reasons the document is also silent regarding his trip to London.

Devlin's recommendation to purchase the Stilwell-Bierce and Smith-Vaile Company pump is contained in his letter of 11th June, 1894 (Exhibit 117), in which he says: "I have examined the steam pumping engines near the town of Ingersoll, Ontario, and other places and have concluded to recommend the Stilwell-Bierce duplex compound and Fairbanks-Morse receiver and condenser." The evidence of the different hotel-keepers and clerks at Ingersoll and Ogdensburg proves that he never was at either of the places he specially asked permission to visit, and it also establishes the falsity of the statement in his recommendation that it was on account of an examination made at these places that he had come to his decision regarding the make of pumps to be selected. Devlin's own evidence also disproved the same statement as he testified he did not examine the pumps at Ingersoll or Ogdensburg.

While there is no direct evidence as to when and where the intercourse between Devlin and Gormley first began in connection with this contract, there is an admission that they met in Montreal. Devlin says that there was only one meeting between them, when Gormley told him that Rafter was the agent for the pumps but that he was out of town, and Devlin alleges that he then left particulars with Gormley to get prices from Rafter and that he only gave him one size for a pump, and did not afterwards make any change in the size. Gormley admitted that he had a meeting with Devlin in Montreal, but he could not say when or in what place. The written evidence discloses at least three interviews or communications between Gormley and Devlin. On 30th May, 1894, Gormley as already stated, telegraphed the Stilwell-Bierce Company for their price for a pump 10 x 16 x 9 x 12, as shown in Exhibit 56. It is important to note that this is the date at which Devlin claims to have been in Ogdensburg, and as he was the only one who could give the size of the pump required it can fairly be assumed that Gormley had either met or heard from Devlin on that date. Gormley would not admit he had received the letter (Exhibit 56), although he admitted that the contents thereof would indicate that the Stilwell-Bierce Company had answered his communication. Gormley also tried to insinuate that the pump referred to was not connected in any way with the one eventually ordered for the penitentiary. However, when his own letter of 6th June, 1894 (Exhibit 21), to the Stilwell-Bierce Company was produced, acknowledging receipt of a letter from the company dated 1st June, 1894 (Exhibit 56), confirming their quotation by telegram, and when his attention was drawn to the sentence "I have been out of town since Friday procuring fuller details about pump" he was forced to admit that he did not know of any place except the penitentiary for which a pump was required. He was unable to say where he went to get this fuller information or from whom he procured it. As Devlin was the only person who could give the information there is every reason to believe that he and Gormley had a meeting between Friday, 1st June, 1894, and 5th June, 1894, and that they then completed arrangements about the contract.

Permission was given Devlin by the warden on 6th June, 1894, to go to Ogdensburg, and five days subsequently, that is on 11th June, 1894, he reported on his pretended visits and stated that the agent at Montreal of the Stilwell-Bierce Company had informed him the price for the pumps would be $2,260. On 9th June, 1894, which fell on Saturday, Gormley had received a telegram from the Stilwell-Bierce Company in reply to his letter of 6th June, 1894, giving him the prices of the large pump and receiver. The reference in Devlin's letter of 11th June, 1894, to what an agent told him indicates the third interview or communication between Devlin and Gormley. It was claimed in Devlin's behalf that Gormley was a favoured contractor of the department, and that he was to be given all the work possible, yet in this matter the name of a third party was used, viz., "J. A. Rafter & Co." Devlin's written defence in which he says "that neither directly nor indirectly did he have any communication with Gormley or Rafter & Co., as to the price to be charged for the pumps" is completely contradicted by his letter to the warden of 11th June, 1894, in which he states the agent informed him the price would be $2,260.

The explanation given by Gormley and Devlin as to the introduction of the name of J. A. Rafter & Co., is quite unique. Devlin says he had consulted with the warden as to pumps and had recommended the purchase of one of the Stilwell-Bierce Company's make. The warden, he asserts, then asked him if they were made in Canada and on his replying in the negative, the warden inquired if there was a Canadian agent, and as he did not know he told him he would endeavour to find out in Montreal. After this, Devlin, says he went to Montreal and asked Gormley, who told him he would make inquiries, and that subsequently Gormley informed him the agent was Rafter who was then out of town. On this account, Devlin, as before mentioned, says he left particulars with Gormley to give to Rafter who was to send a price forward to the warden and also to himself. Gormley says he met Devlin in Montreal and talked over pumps. He added:—

"I suggested that I might be able to supply that—that I knew a man who could supply it." It is evident that the assertions of both Devlin and Gormley are untrue. Devlin's letter of 11th June, 1894, to Warden Lavell (Exhibit 117), states "the firm's agent at Montreal informed me they would send on to you their offer in writing ere this." Then, the warden in writing to Inspector Moylan on 15th June, 1894, inclosing the Rafter tender says:—"The engineer states this is in accordance with arrangements with Rafter & Co." As Devlin never met Rafter, according to his own testimony, and that of Gormley and Rafter as well, there is here strong evidence of an understanding between him and Gormley to use the name of Rafter & Co. in connection with this tender. The tender is dated 13th June, 1894 (Exhibit 52), and is written on letter paper with this printed heading,—"John A. Rafter & Co., sole agents for the Stilwell-Bierce Co. Engineers, founders and machinists, steam pumps, hydraulic machinery, flour and oil mill machinery, Victor Turbines." Rafter testified that this letter paper was not his, that he never authorized the printing of it, and that all he had to do with the tender was to sign his name, and that he never had any business transactions with the Stilwell-Bierce Company. Gormley stated that it was he who had the letter heads printed with John A. Rafter & Co.'s name on them, but he could not remember when or where the printing was done, and he admitted that he could not specify any other business on which the paper was used except in connection with the pump tender. The only reason he gave for using the letter heads was that he and Rafter had business dealings before, but he stated that he never used Rafter's name before in connection with Government contracts. He further admitted that he was the actual tenderer. It is quite evident that the use of this paper as well as the use of Rafter's name was part of the conspiracy between Gormley and Devlin, and was intended to indicate to the warden as well as to the Department of Justice that the tender was being sent in by the direct representatives of the Stilwell-Bierce Company, and that there would be no use of inquiring elsewhere for the pumps in question. Thus the final link in the chain of conspiracy was completed. The first link is Devlin's letter of 1st May, 1894, saying he considered the Stilwell-Bierce or the Fairbanks-Morse pumps should be used, and asking permission to see these pumps in operation at Ingersoll and subsequently at Ogdensburg. The second link is his report of 11th June, 1894, recommending the Stilwell-Bierce pumps after pretended examinations at Ingersoll and elsewhere. The third and final link as already stated, was the sending of tender on letter paper with a false heading thereon.

As Devlin arranged the amount of the tender and recommended its acceptance, it is essential to see what his knowledge was as to whether the sum stated was a fair price or otherwise. As previously mentioned, Devlin was at the World's Fair in 1893 and saw the Stilwell-Bierce Company's pumps, and, as he says, asked the representative of the firm to send him one of their catalogues. This was done on 5th September, 1893, when the company's Chicago agent sent a catalogue and price list accompanied by a letter (Exhibit 47) in which he says: "We will be pleased to figure with you when you are in the market for anything in our line," thus indicating that the prices in the list were merely pro forma. Then on 20th February, 1894, Devlin, through his son, wrote to the Stilwell-Bierce Company asking the price for a sewerage pump. The price quoted by the company was $300 while the catalogue price was $440, or a discount of over 30 per cent off the list price. A further evidence of his knowledge of discounts is furnished by Thomas Driver, customs appraiser at Kingston. When the pumps were sent to Kingston and entered at the customs-house, Mr. Driver considered they were entered too low and went out to the penitentiary where Devlin furnished him with a catalogue and price list, and at the same time declared there was a large discount off the list. Devlin himself admitted that he told Driver there was a discount on the quotations in the company's catalogue, and it is thus evident that from the data in his possession he knew perfectly well that the price mentioned in Rafter's tender was an exorbitant one. His recommendation of the purchase under such circumstances was tantamount to a fraud upon the Crown and formed a fitting close to a transaction that from its inception was based upon false representations and deceit practised by Devlin and Gormley upon the warden and the officials of the Department of Justice.

(b.) The charge of substituting goods in connection with this contract relates to the Stilwell-Bierce Receiver and Condenser supplied in place of the Fairbanks-Morse & Company Receiver and Condenser recommended by Devlin. When Devlin made this recommendation he had the catalogues of both companies, and there must have been some superiority in construction or operation that led him to select the Fairbanks-Morse pattern. The only reason that he gave for allowing the change was that he afterwards found that the Stilwell-Bierce Company made the same receiver and condenser as the Fairbanks-Morse Company. A comparison of the two pumps upon the data supplied by the catalogues does not bear out Devlin's statement, as, while they correspond in other respects, it is shown that the Fairbanks-Morse Pump will drain 10,000 square feet of heating surface more than the Stilwell-Bierce pump. To determine accurately the relative merits of the two pumps and thus test Devlin's statement it would be necessary to have expert evidence, and in the absence of such evidence no opinion can be expressed upon the truth of the assertion. Indeed the inclination would be to accept it as true were it not for an answer made by Devlin to his own counsel.

He first said the Stilwell-Bierce pump was exactly the same as the Fairbanks-Morse pump—but he immediately added,—“It must be the same, or made from the same pattern,—the same in construction and height.” This raises a very strong suspicion that Devlin knew he was not telling the truth. If his first statement were true why does he qualify it by implying a doubt? The last part of his answer taken in its literal acceptance is evidently incorrect as a comparison of the two pumps discloses that they are not made from the same patterns and they are certainly not of the same height. If Devlin meant something else than what his words imply, and spoke in a technical or ambiguous sense there can be nothing further said about the matter.

That part of the charge alleging that Devlin certified to the delivery of the goods as per contract was not sustained. In fact it did not appear that the delivery of the goods was certified at all.

The actual cost of the pump, the receiver and condenser, and the revolution counter and governor as per invoice was	$908 00
To this add duty at 27½ amounting to.....	249 70
And add also estimated freight.....	42 30

So that the net cost to Gormley was . . . $1,200 00

The penitentiary paid Gormley through John A. Rafter & Co., the sum of $2,260 so that his net profit on this single transaction was $1,060.

Both Devlin and Gormley denied the charge of conspiracy, and as in the case of the two former charges there was no direct proof of an illegal compact between them. At one stage of the inquiry Devlin mentioned that if he thought Gormley was playing the game he was, he would not have had any conversation with him. This somewhat belated display of virtue at Gormley's expense would have been more creditable to Devlin if it had influenced his conduct before he projected the bogus trip to Ingersoll. It did not appear that any payment was made by Gormley to Devlin and there was no advantage or benefit derived by Devlin from their relations so far as the evidence discloses. However, the bad faith of both is apparent even from a cursory reading of their testimony. Devlin's evidence regarding his financial affairs was far from satisfactory. He declined to give any explanation as to how the large sums of money deposited by him in the banks were acquired further than a general statement that “he got all his money honestly.” To accept this statement as true, a different standard would have to be employed from that by which his general conduct must be judged.

Charge 4.—That you conspired with Garth & Co., of the city of Montreal, or some one or more of the members of the said firm—

(a.) To obtain for them free convict labour in connection with their contract for the heating of the Protestant chapel and dining hall during November, 1886, such free convict labour not having been agreed upon under the contract.

On 11th August, 1886, Garth & Co., of Montreal sent a tender to the late John Bowes in his lifetime superintending architect of the Public Works Department, undertaking to fit up the steam heating in the Protestant chapel and dining-room of the Kingston Penitentiary, for the sum of $1,414.25.

This tender does not appear to have been accepted by the department for some weeks afterwards, and in the meantime some correspondence took place between Mr. Devlin, Mr. Bowes and Garth & Co.

On 23rd August, 1886, Mr. Devlin wrote to Mr. Bowes urging that the contract be given to Garth & Co. On 15th September, 1886, Devlin again wrote to Mr. Bowes pressing for a decision as to the contract, and on the same day he also wrote to J. H. Garth, one of the members of the firm of Garth & Co., asking if he had heard anything more about the heating work, and informing Garth that he had written to Mr. Bowes.

On 17th September, 1886, Devlin wrote two letters to J. H. Garth—the first stating that he had received a letter from Mr. Bowes notifying him that the contract had been awarded to Garth & Co., and the second one being an acknowledgment of a letter received from J. H. Garth and inclosing him Mr. Bowes's letter.

It would appear that some additional correspondence passed between Garth & Company and Devlin, but unfortunately there are ten pages out of Devlin's letter book that would apparently contain the copies of any letters sent by him to Garth & Company about this time, and as the latter did not produce any correspondence received from Devlin there is nothing to indicate the purport of such further letters as may have been exchanged between them.

A few days prior to 30th October, 1886, Devlin received a telegram from Garth & Company saying they were ready to go on with the work and were sending up their man. Devlin thereupon informed the warden who stated he would not recognize Garth's man, nor furnish convict labour unless he received proper instructions. Devlin then wired Garth not to send the man and he would be in Montreal on the following Monday when he would call and explain. On 30th October, 1886, Devlin wrote to Mr. Bowes as follows:—"I beg to inform you that on Thursday last I received a telegram from Messrs. Garth & Company, stating they were ready to go on with a contract awarded them by the Public Works Department to construct heating apparatus in the Protestant chapel and dining hall of this place, and would send their man that evening, upon informing the warden of this he told me he would not recognize Messrs. Garth's man, nor allow any convict help whatever unless he received proper instructions. I know that when Mr. Garth was here calculating before he tendered he presumed he would get all the convict help he needed, so I thought it but fair to telegraph him not to send man for the present. I told him I would be in Montreal on Monday and would call and explain, in the meantime I consider it my duty to inform you of the facts, that steps may be taken to have the work proceeded with as soon as possible."

There is no proof of Devlin's going to Montreal but on the 10th of November, 1886, Mr. Bowes, who was then at the penitentiary, wrote the warden a letter which is copied in Devlin's letter book. The following is the letter in question:—"Mr. John Cowan, the steamfitter sent by Mr. Garth to do the steamfitting required for the heating of the dining hall and Protestant chapel has arrived, and is ready to proceed with the work. Please to afford him the assistance he may require in the form of convict labour as provided by contract."

On the same day Devlin wrote to John H. Garth as follows:—"Your man Mr. Cowan is here and all is satisfactorily settled. Mr. Bowes was here when he arrived. He is to go on changing the coils or condensers, as you call them at once. The convict help matter has been settled satisfactorily so all will go well. Please attend to Mr. Cowan's demands for material promptly."

About this time Garth & Company had two Government contracts in hand, one being at Stony Mountain Prison, and the other the heating contract at Kingston Penitentiary. In connection with the former they paid for the convict labour at the rate of fifty cents per day, while for the latter they got the convict labour free.

(a.) The letter sent by Garth & Company to Mr. Bowes on 11th August, 1886, is their tender for this work. It contains all the terms of the contract but makes no reference whatever to convict labour. Henry W. Garth testified that no agreement was made with him as to convict labour, and John H. Garth the other member of the firm, stated it was not understood they were to have free convict labour for this contract.

It was established by the evidence of John H. Garth and Téléphore Latourelle, the foreman who had charge of the work, that convict labour was employed upon the contract. The number of convicts who were thus employed could not be definitely ascertained. Latourelle testified that as a general thing he had one or two convicts working with him and that there might have been two others engaged in breaking holes to let the pipes go through the walls. Neither was it ascertained what profit was made by Garth & Company through their being supplied with this free convict labour, as, owing to the length of time that has elapsed since the work was done, no records could be found containing this information.

That Devlin was instrumental in getting the free convict labour for Garth & Company there can be no doubt. His letter to Bowes of 30th October, 1886, was the first step made by him in that direction and the terms of that letter indicate how far he was prepared to go in order to secure for Garth & Company a favour to which they were not entitled under their contract. He stated a deliberate untruth when he wrote: "I know that when Mr. Garth was here calculating before he tendered he presumed he would get all the convict help he needed," because both of the Garths testified that they did not act upon any such presumption nor did free convict labour enter into their calculations when they were making up their tender. Devlin was thus more solicitous about the matter than the contractors themselves. As a result of Devlin's letter and owing to his influence with Bowes the latter was beguiled into writing the letter of 10th November, 1886, in which he authorized the warden to furnish Garth's man with convict labour "as provided by contract" although nothing of the kind is mentioned in the contract. The fact that this letter from Bowes to the warden is copied in Devlin's letter book is a circumstance that indicates how closely Devlin supervised Bowes's action. Devlin's intimate connection with the matter is finally established by his letter to John H. Garth written on the same day as Bowes wrote to the warden and containing this significant sentence: "The convict help matter has been settled satisfactorily so all will go well." It cannot be pretended that it was any part of Devlin's duty to have made himself so officious about the convict labour, and in view of the testimony given by both members of the Garth firm and of the written evidence already referred to there is no doubt that Devlin voluntarily interfered in a matter that did not concern him, simply for the purpose of benefiting the contractors.

It did not appear that Garth & Company ever requested Devlin's assistance to obtain free convict labour for them nor was there any proof adduced that he received any pecuniary reward for having done so. The general intimacy between him and the Garths and a possible return for his kindness is referred to later on in the report.

Charge 5.—That you further conspired with the said Garth & Co., or some of the members of the said firm,

(a.) To make changes in the specifications for steam pipes and fittings for the new separate ward in December, 1891, by substituting wall coil stays for wall coil pipe stays,

(b.) The reason for such change being that the tender of said Garth & Co., for the goods as per original specification was too high.

In the beginning of December, 1891, the warden instructed Devlin to make out a requisition for the material and fittings required to equip the new separate ward (prison of isolation) with a water and steam heating service. Devlin did so, and on 7th December, 1891, Garth & Company and other dealers were invited to tender. The list of fittings sent to each firm contained an item calling for "25 dozen 3 pipe wall coil stay."

On 11th December, 1891, Garth & Company sent their tender to Storekeeper O'Donnell and referring to the wall coil stays said: "Inclosed you will find cut of new pattern pipe stay which we think will answer your purpose better than the ordinary hook plates, this stay does away with any woodwork on the walls and the weight of coils falls on the floor instead of the walls; we have sent you a sample by express."

On 30th December, 1891, Storekeeper O'Donnell wrote to Garth & Company asking to be informed "by return the cost of 25 dozen wall pipe stays same as sample sent us by you." The reply to this letter was not produced.

On 31st December, 1891, Devlin wrote to H. W. Garth as follows:—

"Private and confidential.

"DEAR SIR:—Your tender was some $300 over the lowest, therefore, the only thing I could do was to have the wall coil stays struck out and you will be asked to give a price for them, if so refer to your catalogue and send on one as giving your price. They tell me also your tender was for Canadian pipe therefore I could say nothing."

On 4th January, 1892, Devlin wrote to the warden as follows:—"Re tenders for supplying pipe and fittings for the new separate ward. It would seem best to leave out the item of wall coil stay pipes altogether as I found when in Montreal that an improvement had been made in this particular fitting of which I was not aware when I called for the old style, it is manufactured by the firm of Chas. Garth & Co., and instead of requiring 25 dozen pipe castings and 17 dozen wall plates there will only be required about 17 dozen of the combination fittings mentioned. I have not gone over the tenders or correspondence but I should judge from what you read to me there is some misunderstanding, in fact whilst the pipe might be proper material for hardware men's competition, I think it were better to deal with plumbing and steamfitting firms for the fittings, otherwise we might get culls, and we could not have much certainty of getting everything as we require. Hardware men as a rule do not deal in such goods, therefore in my opinion, it were better to ask for new tenders. Plumbing and steamfitting firms to compete for both pipe and fittings. Hardware firms for pipe only to be either American or English, the latter preferred, and the sample of each fitting accompanying the tenders, thus we shall know the pattern and style of fittings we must expect."

On 26th January, 1892, the warden forwarded to the inspector all the tenders received for the fittings as per the original specifications, and also sent him the correspondence relating to the engineer's suggestion that instead of the wall coil stays first asked for the patent stays made by Garth & Co. should be procured. On 6th February 1892, Devlin made out a requisition for seventeen dozen of the latter stays, and on the same date Storekeeper O'Donnell sent Garth & Co. the order for them. Meanwhile the rest of the work had been awarded to another tenderer.

If Devlin's letter to H. W. Garth of 31st December, 1891, were an ordinary business letter, written without any ulterior motive it is not conceivable that Devlin would have marked it "Private and Confidential." That it is not an ordinary business letter, is evident from its phraseology. There is the intrinsic evidence of Devlin's anxiety that Garth & Co. should get the whole contract, and when that was found to be impossible that he did the next best thing for his friends by getting the wall coil stays struck out so that they might secure this part of the contract by a separate tender. There is also the further evidence in this letter that he wished Garth & Co. to get the highest price possible for their patent stays as he advises them to refer to their catalogue and to send on one as giving their price.

In forming an opinion regarding the honesty of Devlin's motive in having the wall coil stays struck out of the original specification it is necessary to take into account the probable date at which he became aware of the patent stay manufactured by Garth & Co. It was proved that this stay had been in use since the year 1889. Devlin was in the habit of going to Montreal frequently, and when there, he usually called at Garth & Co.'s place of business, and H. W. Garth was of opinion that he and Devlin had talked about the patent stays before the tender was sent in and that Devlin had been shown one of them. On further examination Mr. Garth was not certain about the matter, and he stated he did not know whether he and Devlin spoke about the pipe stays, nor did he know whether one was shown to Devlin. His final answer was: "It was just the general run of business we talked about at the time. He might have seen the pipe stays, or he might not have seen them." This reply leaves the matter undetermined so far as Garth is concerned. Devlin did not fix the date of the interview mentioned by Garth and it is impossible to say whether it was before or after tenders were invited on the 7th of December, 1891.

That an interview took place is clear, but the date and purport of the conversation are in doubt. However, apart from what Devlin may have learned at Montreal it was proved that one of the patent stays and an illustrated price list were received at the penitentiary on 12th December, 1891. Now it is a peculiar circumstance that if Devlin discovered the superiority of the patent stay after he made out his specification that he said nothing about it until he learned that Garth & Co. were not going to receive the contract for the whole of the fittings. Even then he seems to have concealed his knowledge until he had thought out a plan of action, for while he wrote H. W. Garth the "private and confidential" letter on 31st December, 1891, telling him, that owing to the firm's tender being too high the only thing he could do was to have the wall coil stays struck out and that the firm would be asked for a new price, he did not inform the warden about his preference for the patent stay until 4th January, 1892, when he wrote suggesting that it should be substituted for the fittings first mentioned. Why Devlin should write to Garth a private and confidential letter before communicating with the warden is not clear unless it was to prepare the way for what followed. There is nothing to negative the presumption that Devlin knew of the patent stay earlier than he pretends they did, but while the exact date when he first saw it is in doubt, it is evident from his letter to Garth that it was some time before the amounts of the tenders were made public, and therefore early enough to have told the warden about it before it was known whom was the lowest tenderer. However, he did not chose to do this, and his letter plainly indicates, that he had the stays struck out of the original specification for no other purpose than to benefit Garth & Co.

Another feature of this matter that requires to be mentioned is that when Devlin requisitioned for seventeen dozen or 204 pipe stays he asked for 87 more than the number required for the work to be done in the prison of isolation. There were only 117 pipe stays used in the building so that the 120 first sent were ample for the requirements. Devlin explained that the pipe stays are distinguished by numbers and that these numbers have reference to a difference in the height of the rest, or hole, for the pipes in each stay, and he offered as a probable reason for getting a second consignment of seven dozen stays that the latter might have been required for the purpose of selecting from among them a sufficient number of stays so graduated that when in place the steam pipes would have the proper fall each way. He did not say that this was the actual reason for getting them, and he could not truthfully have done so for his plausible explanation is not borne out by the letter he wrote to Garth & Co., on 16th May, 1892, in which speaking of the additional seven dozen pipe stays that he requests them to forward he says to send one dozen No. 6 and the other six dozen to be ordinary sizes. It is quite clear that in the first place he asked for a greater number than were required as he should not have requisitioned for more than the ten dozen first sent and it was evidently his duty to have specified the different kinds required to erect all the coils and secure the proper out-flow and return of the steam in the pipes.

Whatever fault may be found with Devlin for his conduct in regard to this contract it is only fair to him to state that the fitting supplied by Garth & Company is much superior to the one originally called for, and that the work done is of a more durable character on account of the patent stay having been used in its construction.

Charge 6.—That you did further conspire with the said Garth & Co., or some of the members of the said firm to defraud the Crown in connection with the substitution of 6-inch for 8-inch wrought iron pipe in July and August, 1892.

(a.) By allowing them to charge 69 cents per foot for pipe instead of 66 cents as agreed on.

(b.) And further by allowing them to charge freight while the pipes were to be delivered free at Kingston.

On 9th May, 1892, Devlin wrote to H. W. Garth as follows:—"I am authorized to inquire if you will take in exchange a quantity of 8-inch wrought iron second hand pipe for a similar quantity of new pipe of a smaller size, allowing what may be considered a fair valuation."

On 11th May, 1892, Garth & Co., sent Devlin the following letter in reply:—"In answer to your inquiry re 8 inch wrought iron pipe, second hand we will take it back from you and furnish 6-inch pipe of same at 66 cents per foot. Hoping to hear from you again."

On the same day they wrote Devlin a second letter as follows:—

"Private.

"In sending the old 8-inch pipe back, charge us with long lengths and put in the pieces as scrap and all old fittings, we will pay the freight to here. If the inclosed will not suit, please let me know."

An explanation was sought regarding what was meant by the words "the inclosed" in the last sentence of this letter but nothing satisfactory was elicited. H. W. Garth said he did not know what they meant and Devlin was silent about the matter. There can be no doubt that the first letter containing the offer of 66 cents was the inclosure in the second. It does not appear that Devlin sent any reply to Garth, but on 19th May, 1892, he wrote to Warden Lavell as follows: "To complete alteration of main steam pipe in the underground ducts, I propose taking out the 8-inch pipe which is altogether too large and out of all proportion to our requirements, replacing it by a 6-inch pipe which can be permanently covered. This 8-inch old wrought iron pipe could only be sold here for scrap, therefore in accordance with your instructions I wrote

Department of Justice.

Messrs. Garth & Co., Montreal, asking if they would take 8-inch pipe in exchange for new 6-inch pipe allowing a reasonable price therefor. Their proposal is to furnish 320 feet, the quantity required of new 6-inch pipe in exchange for the same number of feet of our 8-inch pipe at 69 cents per foot, they to pay freight here on new pipe and also from here to Montreal on the old. As wrought iron 6-inch heavy pipe is worth about $1.25 per foot, I think the offer a remarkably good one."

As will be observed Garth & Co.'s letter, written on 11th May, offers to furnish the pipe at 66 cents per foot, while Devlin's letter written eight days afterwards quotes the price for the pipe at 69 cents per foot. This letter was sent to the warden and up to the time of its receipt he evidently did not have any knowledge about the price. It will also be observed, that Devlin's letter, in addition to falsifying the price, also falsifies Garth & Co.'s proposal regarding freight, as they agreed to pay it one way only, while Devlin represents to the warden that their proposal is to pay it both ways.

On 30th May, 1892, the warden wrote to Inspector Moylan inclosing him Devlin's letter of 19th May, and stating among other things that he had asked Devlin to ascertain on what terms the exchange could be made. He also added: "I have to assume from his statement that the change would be beneficial." It is thus evident that the warden's knowledge of the price was obtained from Devlin, and that in all matters pertaining to this change he relied on the representations made to him by Devlin.

On 1st June, 1892, Devlin again wrote the warden urging that the change be made on 6th June, the department asked the warden for an estimate of the cost. The warden requested Devlin to prepare an estimate and upon receiving it from the engineer he sent a letter on 10th June, 1892, to the inspector saying that he had been advised that the cost would probably be $250.

There is nothing on record to show the authorization of the department for the exchange of pipe, but on 14th July, 1892, Devlin made out the following requisition:—

320 feet	6-inch	wrought iron pipe.
2	" 6	" expansion joints.
4	" 6	" elbows.

"The pipe to be obtained from Messrs. Garth, Montreal, in exchange for a similar quantity of old 8-inch pipe by paying 69 cents per foot as per their offer."

JAMES DEVLIN, Engineer.

This requisition also falsified Garth's offer by again quoting the price at 69 cents per foot instead of 66 cents as contained in the original letter.

On the same day as the requisition was issued Storekeeper O'Donnell sent Garth & Co., the order for the pipe at 69 cents per foot, the freight to be paid by Garth & Co.

The pipes were forwarded to Kingston on 15th July and 2nd August, 1892, respectively. Garth & Company's invoice is dated 2nd August, 1892, and in it the pipe is charged for at the rate of 69 cents per foot and the department is also charged with the freight. This invoice is certified as correct by Devlin, although he must have known it was false in two particulars—that is with regard to the price per foot, and the freight.

(a) H. W. Garth could not explain how the price came to be changed from their original offer of 66 cents to 69 cents and supposed that the invoice clerk must have copied the figures from O'Donnell's order when he was making out the account. He also stated that if he had seen the account before it was rendered he would not have allowed it to go with the price inserted at 69 cents. O'Donnell testified that he wrote to Garth & Company on the strength of the requisition received from Devlin. The requisition as has been mentioned misquoted Garth's letter and thus O'Donnell was misled in stating the terms of the offer both with regard to the price of the pipe and the freight. In his written defence Devlin says: "The warden deemed it advisable to have Garth & Company pay all the freight in connection with the exchange and allowed three cents extra, (making it 69 cents) to cover the freight charges on the 6-inch pipe from Montreal to Kingston." Now the warden when examined would not subscribe to this version of the matter at all. In fact he was emphatic in saying that he did not know anything about it, and the attempt to fasten upon him the responsibility for the change was an utter failure. It has also to be remarked that if Devlin's story were true it is a singular thing that Garth & Company were left in ignorance of the warden's alleged decision in the matter when they were the persons affected by the change. The facts are altogether against Devlin. He alone is responsible for the change but the evidence, except as hereinafter mentioned, does not disclose why he made it.

(b.) The absurdity of the reason given by Devlin for the change in price is made manifest when it is further examined in connection with the charge for freight. According to him Garth & Company got the extra 3 cents per foot so that they would pay all the freight. Now the invoice submitted by Garth & Company and certified by Devlin shows that the firm actually paid none of the freight as it was charged back against the department and afterwards refunded to Garth & Company. O'Donnell testified that he thought some one told him to put the words "freight to be paid by you" in his letter to Garth & Company; then he stated that he might have done it to make "as safe a bargain as he could" but he finally admitted that he could not recall any conversation with anybody about the freight. He was led to say that the engineer had nothing to do with freight but he added "we paid the freight here." In this instance, however, according to Devlin they were not to pay any freight and, as he alleges, for a reason that shows he intervened about the matter with the warden. It is thus evident that O'Donnell's statement has only a limited application. There can be no question that Devlin misled the storekeeper as well as the warden and thus secured for Garth & Co. an advance upon their original price together with the amount paid both ways for freight. The storekeeper was also asked to define the meaning of Devlin's certificate on an account and he said that it meant merely that the goods on the face of the bill were correct as ordered, and that Devlin had received them. This may have been all that Devlin's certificate should have meant in a technical sense, and according to the rules of the penitentiary defining the duties of the respective officers, but it is not the meaning that can be attached to it in this case in view either of Devlin's general practice or of his manipulations in this particular instance. If Devlin were a man who attended strictly to his duty, the storekeeper's definition might be apt enough, but as Devlin constantly exceeded his duty when his friends were in question, the actual, and not the theoretical, effect of his actions is the only one that can be considered. Moreover, the storekeeper was as clay in his hands and he moulded him to his various schemes without any suspicion on O'Donnell's part. From the evidence adduced the conviction is irresistible that Devlin knew the freight was an improper charge when he certified the account as correct.

The only question that remains to be considered is why did Devlin manifest such constant zeal in behalf of Garth & Company. The evidence does not furnish a conclusive answer but it supplies some facts that seriously compromise Devlin and the members of the Garth firm.

During the progress of the heating work at the Protestant chapel and dining hall in the penitentiary, Garth & Company placed a hot water boiler and fittings in Devlin's house at a cost of $182.90, and at different times afterwards he got from them a buggy top and trimmings, a bath boiler and other minor articles for which he alleged that he paid John H. Garth about $46. So far as the evidence discloses none of the goods supplied Devlin by Garth & Company were ever charged in their books to his account and there is no entry in their books of the payments alleged to have been made by Devlin. Omissions such as these could not be accidental in the course of a business like that carried on by Garth & Company. Their bookkeeper it was proved was a competent man and they had every confidence in him. When Mr. Noxon of the Kingston Penitentiary Commission visited their establishment in December, 1896, he examined their cash book covering the period from 1886 to the date of his visit and found no trace of any payment by Devlin for the goods supplied him by the firm. This cash book has since disappeared and both members of the Garth firm professed their inability to account for its disappearance. In addition to this exceptional state of affairs it must be said that the circumstances surrounding the alleged payment of the account for $182 are very suspicious. Devlin says he paid the amount by the hands of Conductor Robinson of the Grand Trunk Railway, who has since died, and in proof of the payment

Department of Justice.

there was produced the letter that he sent with Mr. Robinson to Montreal which runs as follows:—

“ KINGSTON, 13th February, '87

(1).....	$100 00
(1).....	50 00
(3).....	10 00
(1).....	2 00

“ DEAR SIR,—I send you per bearer my friend Mr. Robinson, conductor G.T.R. the sum of one hundred and eighty-two dollars amount of your account which you will please return receipted for heating job done in my house. Everything works very well, but like Mr. Cowan I think it would have been better if I put in a new furnace, however, it may turn out all right. Mr. Robinson would like to look at your conductors, lanterns. Kindly favour him and oblige,

“ Yours truly

“ (Sd.) JAMES DEVLIN.

“ J. H. GARTH, Esq.,
“ Montreal.”

It is peculiar that this letter was not copied in Devlin's letter book as at the time it was written he seems to have copied all kinds of letters, both private and official. Another strange feature of the affair is that the receipt for the pretended payment was not given to Mr. Robinson, the messenger who was supposed to have brought the money, but was contained in a letter sent to Kingston on 15th February, 1887, with Latourelle, Garth's foreman. The letter entrusted to Latourelle is as follows: “ This will be handed to you by Joseph Latourelle, who goes up to take Jno. Cowan's place, and we have sent with him H. Allen to help him through with the work. Our reasons for our doing so is that Latourelle's wife is very sick and may be called back at any moment and the other man can carry on the work during his absence, give them all the help they may require and oblige,

“ Yours truly

“ (Sd.) GARTH & Co., R.M.G.

“ We have also inclosed your account returned to you receipted for work done at your residence, which accept our thanks for the amount. Hoping to hear from you again soon and be favoured with your commands.”

Robinson would have been a material witness in connection with this matter but as stated, he died some years ago. Devlin pretends to have sent bills in payment of this account, and as 13th February, 1887, fell on Sunday it would be scarcely possible for him to have got bills of the denomination of $50 and $100 on that day, although he suggests that he might have got them from a friend.

There is a still stranger circumstance connected with this alleged payment and that is that the account which Garth & Company are supposed to have rendered Devlin and which was returned receipted bears a date three days after the date of Devlin's letter inclosing the money for its payment.

In view of all the circumstances, and particularly the fact that Garth & Company's books contain no entry of the payment it is imposible to resist the conviction that the goods never were paid for.

The $46 said to have been paid to Garth & Company by Devlin for a second account, was it is alleged handed in cash to Jno. H. Garth in the presence of a witness. It was stated that the money was paid over by Jno. H. Garth to the firm's bookkeeper who it appears is also dead. It was impossible to verify these statements as there is no entry in Garth's books of this money having been paid to them. However, it is not such an improbable story as the first one, and there is a bare possibility that Jno. H. Garth may have received some money and not handed it over to the bookkeeper as he asserts he did. But the fact remains that the goods for which this payment is said to have been made were not charged against Devlin in Garth & Company's books nor do these books contain any record or entry of any money having been received by Devlin. Neither was it shown that any account had ever been rendered to Devlin or that the $46 said to have been paid was the value of the goods supplied him. While the statements made regarding this payment are very unsatisfactory and without confirmation of any kind there is the shadow of a possibility that some money may have been paid to Jno. H. Garth. This, however, is so slight that it does not conduce to a belief in its probability when viewed in the light of the surrounding circumstances.

During the inquiry attention was directed to the fact that the engineer's recommendations regarding his department were not in all cases acted upon by his superior officers. The evidence referring to this fact was apparently elicited in order that the inference might be drawn that when the engineer's advice was disregarded it would be unfair to hold him responsible for the consequences that resulted from a contrary course being followed. Such a deduction is quite proper as a matter of general principle, but it has no bearing on the subject of the investigation as it was not pretended that Devlin's advice or recommendations were ever opposed in connection with any of the contracts or purchases covered by the charges.

An observation that may be made in conclusion is that it was no less remarkable than unfortunate that so many persons with whom Devlin alleged he had dealings that came within the scope of the inquiry, should have died prior to the investigation. Their evidence would have been most material in clearing up several matters regarding which it was absolutely necessary for Devlin to adduce testimony in order to sustain an important part of his defence.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

Militia and Defence.

PART II.

REPORT

OF THE

DEPUTY MINISTER

DEPARTMENT OF MILITIA AND DEFENCE,
OTTAWA, 9th March, 1899.

The Honourable F. W. BORDEN,
Minister of Militia and Defence.

SIR,—I have the honour to lay before you the following ordinary annual reports which relate, in detail, to the operations carried out in the Department of Militia and Defence :—

1. The report of the General Officer Commanding the Militia, with appendices relating to Active Militia and Permanent Corps; also, the report of the Officer Commanding the Royal Military College.

2. The report of the Chief Superintendent of Military Stores, giving a detail of all clothing and military stores issued to the force during the year. It also contains a return of all monies collected for rents, ammunition, gunpowder, friction tubes, issued on repayment—together with important suggestions.

The 30,000 sets of Oliver Equipment authorized to be manufactured, are now being received into the stores and over 3,000 are inspected and ready for issue when authorized.

3. The report of the Chief Engineer of the Department showing the work of repairs done under his supervision in the different districts.

4. The report of the Superintendent of the Government Cartridge and Shell Factory. Nearly a million of ball cartridges .303 have been manufactured during the year and in the shell factory about 10,000 projectiles have also been made for the 9-pr., 12-pr. and 64 pr.-guns now in possession of the Batteries of the Artillery.

It is expected that in the near future an important addition will be made to the factory by the manufacturing of steel shell projectiles.

The financial statement for the year is as follows :

APPENDIX No. 1.

REPORT OF THE CHIEF SUPERINTENDENT OF MILITARY STORES.

STORE BRANCH, OTTAWA, January, 1899.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that during the year 1898, I visited the military stores at Halifax, St. John, Quebec, London, and Toronto, and found the duties of the Store staff being carried out as satisfactorily as possible under existing circumstances.

The buildings at Halifax, Kingston, Toronto and London, as previously reported, are altogether unfit for storage purposes and render the proper care and efficient working of the Staff very difficult. The buildings at Halifax and London are held under lease. The lease at London will expire during the coming year. I would strongly urge and recommend that provision be made in the estimates for the erection of a new building for the Department. This would not entail a larger sum than the rental paid, if capitalized, but would, I believe, effect a saving in a few years. The same would apply equally to Halifax. The building leased there is an old and dilapidated one and thoroughly unsuited for military stores purposes—necessity will compel a change, if not to a building erected by the department then to another one under lease, which will be more suitable for store requirements.

The early erection of the store buildings at head-quarters is a necessity in order that the stores may be gathered under one roof for care and supervision.

The artillery at Quebec have gradually encroached on the store accommodation at that station to such an extent as to greatly interfere with the proper receipt, storage, and issue of equipment. During the year, in order to facilitate the handling of large consignments, and so save expense of transport, which was considerable, I personally made arrangements with the Honourable the Minister of Marine and Fisheries for a portion of the store building on the Queen's wharf, to be handed over to militia charge for the purpose.

Attention is drawn to the fact that the Store branch is only charged with the custody and proper care of the matériel in its charge, and its issue, under the authority of the Honourable the Minister. Experience has proved that the latter is a necessity in the interest of the Public.

The correctness of patterns, inspection when in store as to fitness for issue to the troops, &c., are all vested in the military authorities. If they do not come up to the service requirements, the officers charged with the above duties are responsible. They have free access at reasonable hours to the store buildings when necessary. They have, also, every facility for knowing the number, and quantity, of each article in store as they are checked by them annually, or are supposed to be, by regulations and orders for the militia, and their correctness verified by reference to the store ledgers in charge of the respective Superintendents.

That there is the existing quantity of matériel in charge is due to the persistent efforts of the branch under my charge in repeatedly pointing out that their purchase was an absolute necessity. This was done from personal knowledge of the wants of the force and not based on any estimate supplied by its officers.

No estimate of probable requirements for any given period, has ever been furnished by the Military branch of the department, and it is not possible that any other branch should be cognisant of its actual, or probable requirements by intuition. If the articles required are not forthcoming when demanded, the responsibility must consequently rest with the officers who are charged with attending to this necessary duty, and not with the Store branch.

No information is supplied to my office of the number, quantity, or description of stores ordered either in Canada or from England, the first intimation received is an order to take a certain quantity of stores on charge, after inspection, or after their delivery on the wharf at Quebec, or elsewhere, if from England. This interferes materially with the work of receiving stores, as I am unable to notify officers concerned to make necessary arrangements. When the 12 pr. B. L. batteries, Maxim guns and other stores were ordered from England by Colonel Lake, then Quarter-Master General, no notification whatever was received by me as to the nature, or quantity of the stores to be received, for what service they were required, or to what station they were to be sent. It is utterly impossible under the circumstances to make due provision for the effective working of the branch under my control.

Annual boards of survey, in accordance with the regulations and orders, were held during the year under the presidency of the District Officers commanding at the following stations, on the dates mentioned :—

London	22nd February.
Toronto	1st to 14th January.
Kingston	7th September.
St. John, N.B.	5th and 6th April.
Victoria, B.C.	27th January.
Charlottetown	11th and 12th April.

As the store ledgers were verified on the above dates by the officers composing the board, I did not during my visit enter into any minute inspection, more particularly as returns from the several stations are checked monthly under my supervision.

The inspection of ordnance and other warlike stores is entrusted by regulation to the Inspectors of Artillery and no action is taken with regard to them without reference to these officers through the Military branch. The officers of the Store branch are, however, quite competent to carry out the inspection, care and preservation of any warlike stores as yet provided for use in Canada.

The greater number of the articles referred to in my last annual report as being obsolete or unserviceable have since been disposed of by public auction. In every instance, however, the articles so disposed of had been reported upon either by a board of survey, or by the Inspector of Artillery, and the action taken was in accordance with the recommendation of these officers after subsequent approval at Head-quarters.

There is still a large quantity of shot and shell for smooth bore guns on charge at some of the stations. After inquiry it is not considered that any saving to the public would be effected by transferring them to Quebec for use at the Cartridge factory. The recommendation is again made, therefore, that they be sold, locally, either by public auction or by tender.

Former conditions as to magazine accommodation remain unaltered. It is quite inadequate.

Attention is requested to my remarks in last report with reference to supply of clothing for issue to the force. Much of the trouble during the present year was due to the inability of the contractors to fulfil their obligations. If, however, a reasonable stock were provided over and above the year's demands, an emergency, such as occurred this year, would be easily met.

The two additional batteries of 12 pr. B. L. Guns received from England have been ordered for issue to the 1st (Quebec) and 7th (Welland Canal) Field Batteries. A supply of spare parts and small stores liable to become unserviceable by accident or from fair wear at drill is required to meet probable demands—the supply in store is limited and I have no knowledge of any having been ordered as a reserve.

Militia and Defence.

The fifteen Maxim guns imported have been distributed as under :—

R. C. Artillery	1
Cartridge Factory	1
Yukon Contingent	2
“ B ” Squadron R. C. D.	1
Regimental Depots	4
2nd Queen’s Own Rifles	1
8th Royal Rifles	1
10th Royal Grenadiers	1
43rd O. and C. Rifles	1
48th Highlanders	1
13th Battalion	1

It is suggested that these guns should be thoroughly examined and cleaned by a competent Armourer at least once a year.

Lee-Enfield Rifles have been marked and issued to corps as ordered. The services of the armourers are available for inspection of rifles in possession of corps when required. This should be done at least every two years. Great want of care is evident in the handling of these rifles when issued to camps for instructional purposes. The rifles in store at Quebec will all be placed in racks in the armoury as soon as the necessary alterations which are being effected are completed. This has been delayed waiting for authority to incur the necessary expense.

The 30,000 sets of Oliver Equipment authorized to be manufactured for the use of the militia, are now being received into stores at Toronto and Halifax as passed by the Board of Inspection. Two thousand sets have been sent to each of the stores at London, Kingston, Montreal and Quebec, and are ready for issue when authorized.

In accordance with the recommendation of Mr. Woodcock, Departmental Saddler at Toronto, the whole of the leather work of the new saddlery is being thoroughly treated with dubbing, as received into store. Mr. Woodcock’s services have been used by the department in inspecting the saddlery and Oliver equipment (at Toronto) as received from the contractors. He has proved himself thoroughly efficient in his duties.

The establishment, by the Honourable the Minister of Militia, of the principle that only men who have acquired a knowledge of stores by service in the permanent force should be eligible for positions as foreman of stores, cannot fail to secure good and capable men. In accordance with this decision Sergt.-Major Ingram has been appointed foreman at Winnipeg from “ B ” Squadron, Royal Canadian Dragoons.

I have to acknowledge the faithful and efficient aid given to me at all times by the members of my staff at Head-quarters. Major Donaldson’s long service and experience as an artillery officer and his thorough knowledge of the artillery branch of the service have been of invaluable assistance to me.

Detailed statements as to quantities of clothing, ammunition, gunpowder, &c., issued, of moneys received on account of stores sold, and rents collected are appended.

Chief Superintendent of Military Stores.

DEPARTMENT OF MILITIA AND DEFENCE, ENGINEER BRANCH.

OTTAWA, 31st December, 1898.

The Deputy Minister of
Militia and Defence.

SIR,—I have the honour to report that the following works were carried out, and repairs made, at the military buildings and fortifications in the several Military Districts throughout the Dominion, from the 1st July, 1897 to the 30th June, 1898, which are under the control of the Department of Militia and Defence.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 1.

LONDON.

Wolseley Barracks.—A granolithic floor was put down, and a new sink placed in the men's kitchen. General repairs were made to the steam heating apparatus. A new floor was put down in the guard room. The draining system was overhauled, proper ventilation provided, and two hydrants repaired.

Store Buildings.—The water pipes in these buildings were partly renewed. Painting, papering and glazing was done in the office of the Superintendent of Stores.

Drill Hall.—General glazing was done to windows in this building.

Camp Grounds.—The buildings here were generally repaired.

Rifle Range.—General repairs were made to markers mantlets, firing points, targets, &c.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 2.

TORONTO.

Stanley Barracks.—The ceilings and walls of Sergeants' Mess were papered, and plaster repaired. A new sink, complete, was placed in the Men's Cook House. The water pipes at these barracks were repaired and partly renewed: hydrants were also replaced and repaired. Slight repairs were made in sergeant's and men's latrines. One attached officer's room was papered and painted. The roads leading from these barracks were graded, levelled and rolled. An isolation ward was provided in the hospital, the halls and rooms generally were kalsomined, and ventilation provided for wards. Maxim gun accommodation was provided in building 16 at these barracks.

Drill Hall.—General repairs to plumbing were carried out in this building. The wood work in armouries was painted generally. A new room was opened up in S.W. tower of drill hall, for a tool room for pioneers of the Queen's Own Rifles. General glazing was carried out. The gun shed and harness room of 9th Field Battery were enlarged, repaired and altered, for accommodation for increased establishment. The gates at drill hall were repaired and fence extended to complete inclosure. The arm racks in all armouries were re-numbered, and new locks put on store room doors of the several corps. The ceiling in boiler room was lathed and plastered.

Old Fort.—The board walk through Old Fort to the C. P. R. Bridge was thoroughly repaired.

Store Buildings.—The roof and chimneys of main store building were repaired. Storeman Pirrie's quarters were generally repaired, a storm porch put up, and new doors and windows placed. An office was fitted up for the Superintendent of Stores in the main store buildings.

BRANTFORD, ONT.

Drill Shed.—A new hard wood floor was laid in the main hall of this building.

WATERDOWN, ONT.

Drill Shed.—Repairs were made to walls and doors of this building, slight damage being caused by fire.

BURLINGTON, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The armouries of the 20th Battalion in this building, were repaired generally. Drains were constructed to carry off surface water, and new eave troughs were put up.

SIMCOE, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The eave troughs of this building were repaired, and provision made to carry the water away from the foundation.

DUNDAS, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The roof of this building was thoroughly repaired, the foundation sills were renewed, and other small repairs made.

NIAGARA, ONT.

Rifle Range.—The markers butts, firing points and targets of this range were all thoroughly repaired and put in order, for use at Brigade Camp.

Camp Grounds.—A new bridge was erected over Hospital Creek, and the necessary temporary buildings were put up for use at Brigade Camps.

ST. CATHARINES, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The quarters of the 7th Field Battery were altered, and fitted up, to provide for increased establishment. This building has since been damaged, and almost destroyed by a cyclone.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 3.

KINGSTON, ONT.

Tête de Pont Barracks.—The floor and joists in rooms 6 and 13, Block "E" were renewed, new chimney tops were placed on hospital kitchen Block "D", and Men's Kitchen Block "C", and the porches of Block "E" were flashed. The plumbing was repaired generally in these barracks. The ceiling of the Gunners' Library was kalsomined. A new steel clad bath and fittings were placed in the C. O.'s quarters. The floor in No. 7 Barrack Room, Block "E", was repaired. The stall posts in battery stables were renewed, and the sills and door of shed near stable repaired. The passages and billiard room of Officers Mess, and one room in the Sergt. Major's quarters were painted and papered.

Barriefield Common.—Several buildings were erected here for the Brigade Camp, and the two windmill water tanks were painted. Two chimneys on the Foreman of Stores quarters were repaired and a pump put in order.

Fort Henry.—The roof at east and west ends of gorge well was repaired, and the ends of walls covered. Wood covering was placed on the parapet of east and west flank walls. Fifty four chimneys not in use were covered, and those in use were repaired. Two ladders, each twenty-four feet long, and four fire buckets, were supplied. Six openings in Advance Battery were built up to prevent snow blowing into magazines. Windows in Caretaker's quarters were repaired. The fence around store property was partly rebuilt.

Artillery Park Barracks.—Alterations and repairs were carried out in the armouries of the 14th Battalion at these barracks.

Militia and Defence.

ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE.

Commandant's Quarters, King Street.—The drainage at these quarters was generally overhauled and repaired.

North Building.—The various rooms and passages have been washed, kalsomined and painted. General repairs were made to plumbing, electric light and gas fixtures, and various slight repairs to plaster. The reading room was kalsomined and papered, the heating apparatus repaired, and general repairs made to windows, and glazing. A photographic dark room was fitted up in tank room, woodwork painted, and gas pipes laid. The doors in main tower were repaired. The walls and ceilings of No. 3 class room were kalsomined, and woodwork painted.

East Building.—General repairs were made to floors, doors, and ventilators. The various rooms and passages were washed, kalsomined and painted. General repairs to plumbing were made, also various repairs to plaster. New coal bins were made in furnace room. A new radiator and main pipe were placed in attic. The hot water boilers for bath room hot water supply were renewed.

Non-Commissioned Officers' Quarters.—General kalsomining, papering and painting were carried out at No. 2 and 3 quarters, one chimney was taken down and rebuilt and other chimneys flashed, the roof re-shingled, and fire ladders, doors, shutter and blinds repaired. One room in No. 3 quarters was kalsomined, painted and papered, floors repaired and sink sheeted.

Rifle Range.—A new stop butt was constructed, targets renewed, markers butts repaired, telephone line and boxes fitted up.

Quarter Master Stores.—New shelves, wickets and standards were put up in these stores.

Gymnasium.—The electric light fixtures were repaired, floor and vaulting horse repaired, and the apparatus refitted generally. A bicycle rack was also fitted up.

Carpenter Shop.—The fitting up of a new carpenter shop was completed, and the exterior of same painted.

Inner Gate House.—The walls in this building were papered, ceilings kalsomined and woodwork painted.

Bathing Shed.—The floors were repaired, and a new spring board, gangway and fence put up.

BELLEVILLE, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The drainage around this building was re-constructed and repaired.

Rifle Range.—The markers mantlets and firing points were extended at north and south ends, and extra targets provided.

PETERBOROUGH, ONT.

Drill Shed.—Electric light was installed in this building.

PORT HOPE, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The harness room of the 14th Field Battery was altered and extended to provide accommodation for increased establishment, and three armouries of the 46th Battalion were fitted up to complete the regimental armoury. A new chimney was also built in battery harness room.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 4.

OTTAWA.

Drill Hall.—A new concrete floor was laid in the Field Battery Gun Shed, and a new door opened from main hall into same. The harness room of this corps was altered and extended to provide accommodation for increased establishment. Two chimneys on this building having fallen, and one in a dangerous condition, were rebuilt. The roof, where damaged by falling chimneys, was repaired. Small repairs were made to plaster in several armouries. The interior of caretaker's house was papered and kalsomined, and woodwork painted. A water-closet was also fitted up in these quarters.

The foundation wall of drill hall was thoroughly pointed, and the tar and gravel roof over skylights was renewed. All windows were thoroughly glazed.

Rifle Range.—A survey was made, and a plan of the proposed Rockliffe Rifle Range was prepared. The construction of the range was commenced, and good progress made. [See supplement to my report herewith.]

The old Rifle Range was levelled, according to conditions of lease, and the ground handed over to the owners. The Caretaker's quarters at this range were temporarily repaired.

Store Buildings.—The roof of work shops below Dufferin Bridge was recovered. The flag pole at Nepean point was painted.

CARLETON PLACE.

Drill Shed.—This building was slightly repaired, and windows glazed.

PRESCOTT, ONT.

Drill Shed.—The windows in this building were repaired generally.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 5.

MONTREAL.

Victoria Rifles Armoury—A new galvanized iron roof was put on this building, and roof gutters, down pipes and ventilators were repaired, and a new skylight was put in. The rear wall of building was pointed below ground, and the whole length drained. A brick wall being in a dangerous condition in furnace room was taken down and rebuilt. The floor, doors and plaster generally were repaired where necessary.

Drill Hall.—Alterations and repairs were made in the armouries of the Montreal Hussars. Twenty-nine new saddle racks were put up, new carbine racks provided and placed, cupboards and shelving re-constructed, an iron staircase erected to connect quarters on first floor, and new entrance made to store room, which was changed to officers quarters.

Three new rooms were fitted up, one for the field and two for the Garrison Batteries of Artillery. Cupboards, arm racks and fittings were placed in the former, and the heating and lighting installed in both.

New water and waste pipes were put in lavatories of main hall, and railing of stairs leading to galleries repaired. A new counter, shelves and drawers were fitted up in the Brigade Office.

ST. HELEN'S ISLAND.

The camp grounds on this island were extended and levelled, and fences renewed. General repairs were made to storemen's quarters.

ST. ANDREWS, P.Q.

Drill Shed.—General repairs were made at this drill shed, including re-shingling portion of roof, raising chimney and pointing same, renewing sills, and repairing doors and locks.

The Barracks.—General repairs were made to quarters occupied by the District Officer Commanding, also to those of Capt. Chinic. A new wicket gate was put up at main entrance of barrack inclosure. Two baths, two large water-closets and sixteen wash-basins were fitted up in men's quarters. Small repairs were made to plumbing in hospital, and one new water-closet put in.

Camp Grounds.—These grounds were drained preparatory to occupation by brigade camp.

SHERBROOKE, P.Q.

Rifle Range.—A survey of a proposed range has been prepared.

RICHMOND, P.Q.

A new regimental armoury was fitted up in the post office building for the 54th Battalion.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 7.

QUEBEC.

Citadel.—General repairs were made to plumbing in officers quarters, Jebbs' redoubt.

A new hot water heating system was installed, to replace wood stoves, in each of the following quarters in citadel :—The hospital, citadel armoury, Mann's stores, Orderly and Quarter Master stores, and general repairs were made to the hot water heating apparatus in different quarters.

The arches and walls of coal vaults were rebuilt, and a new coal shed built for hospital building

The floor of 7-inch gun emplacement was cemented, walls painted and traversing bolts refixed at King's bastion. The staircase and steps in magazine, Cavalier, were repaired, The roof of cells building (one side) was renewed, and a new ash pit built. The floor of 8-inch gun emplacement was cemented, and steps repaired at Mann's bastion. The wall in gun emplacement at Diamond bastion was repaired and coped, and traversing bolts replaced. The chimney of carpenter shop was repaired. The floor of room 23, of officers quarters, was renewed. The chimneys over casemates in Dalhousie bastion were thoroughly pointed. The roof gutters and down pipes on casemates, from Dalhousie to Richmond bastion, were refixed and repaired. The stairs east of Diamond bastion were repaired.

A new wooden ceiling was put in sergeants' mess, and the floors of mess, billiard rooms and cook-house were repaired.

A hose tower was erected at the hand ball court, near "A" magazine. A new floor was put down in hall and ward No. 2 of hospital, and hot water connections made to baths. Twenty-two new storm window sashes were supplied for Mann's stores, doors and windows repaired, and coal bins built for these stores and for citadel armoury. The men's barrack rooms were painted and whitewashed generally. The plank wall in front of casemates 24 to 29 was removed. The floor in the officers' mess room was also renewed.

Field Artillery Barracks.—A drain at the entrance to these barracks was covered with concrete and connected with stable drain. This entrance was also graded and paved.

A new stairway was provided in the sergeant major's quarters. One chimney was encased in galvanized iron, and a chimney pot put up. A new chimney was also built for kitchen.

The water pipes in men's ablution room were repaired. New shelving was placed in the offices. The roof and floors of stables were repaired.

Brigade Office Building.—The interior of offices were painted, cleaned and kalsomined. The galvanized iron roof of sheds was repaired. The roof of main building was also repaired and roof gutters renewed. A new cowl was placed on one chimney.

General interior repairs were carried out in the quarters occupied by the District Officer Commanding. Floors, doors and windows were repaired, painting and papering done, a new water closet and bath was put in, and general glazing, Married Men's Quarters, St. Louis Street.—A new hot water heating system was installed in this building, and general repairs were made to windows and doors. General plumbing was also carried out.

Fortification Walls.—The wall between Half Moon and St. Charles batteries on the ramparts was pointed. Slight repairs were made to wall on Mount Carmel Street. The wall on Mountain Hill, from post office steps to terrace, was partly rebuilt, thoroughly pointed and coped. Gun platforms on ramparts were renewed. Coping of wall in St. Genevieve Street was renewed, and a wire fence placed upon same.

Store Buildings.—The offices of the superintendent of the stores were generally repaired, painted and kalsomined. Lavatories were also fitted up in office building. The quarters of the foreman of stores at main store buildings were kalsomined, papered and painted, and the main entrance gate was renewed.

New caretaker's quarters were fitted up in lower park stores.

Quarters occupied by Armourer Sergeant on Palace Hill were repaired, the galvanized roof renewed, chimneys pointed and repaired, and gable end of building pointed.

Drill Hall.—A new galvanized iron chimney top was placed on a chimney on Caretaker's quarters.

A small brick magazine was built in main hall for storage of small arm ammunition. Slight repairs were made to stairs in towers on both sides of main entrance.

Two new cupboards were placed in the armouries of the 8th Battalion, and the officers room of 9th Battalion was wainscoted, and varnishing and kalsomining done. A sink was also placed in passage.

CARTRIDGE FACTORY.

Office Building.—General repairs, painting and kalsomining were carried out in this building.

Cartridge Factory.—Four chimneys on this factory were repaired and pointed, and one chimney lined with galvanized iron. A new floor was laid in the engine room. The main gate was repaired, and walls and pillars pointed. Roof gutters were repaired generally. The floor under main shaft was renewed.

Shell Factory.—A new floor was laid in this building, and several doors and windows renewed. The skylights were repaired, and all properly glazed.

A portion of the shell factory wall was rebuilt, and the whole pointed.

Superintendent's Quarters.—General interior repairs were made at these quarters, including papering, painting and kalsomining, repairs to doors and windows, new floors in hall and one room. The roof was slightly repaired, and new porches built.

Laboratory Buildings.—These buildings were painted, and lightning rods repaired on danger buildings.

Fulminate Buildings.—These buildings were painted. The foundation of one building repaired, and galvanized iron ventilators placed.

Captain Panet's Quarters.—These were repaired generally, and painting and papering done.

LÉVIS, P. Q.

Engineer Park.—General repairs were made at the Engineer Park, preparatory to holding Brigade Camp there, including repairs to cooking oven, roads, bridges, latrines, &c.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 8.

FREDERICTON, N. B.

Men's Barracks.—The outside woodwork of these barracks was painted.

Park Barracks.—The Sergeant Major's quarters in these barracks were generally repaired.

Militia and Defence.

Officers' Quarters.—A new porch and steps were built at the attached officers' entrance, and the officers mess quarters were altered and generally repaired.

Drill Hall.—The floor of main hall and the roof of tower were repaired. Two new galvanized iron chimney caps were put up, and the main door repaired.

ST. JOHN, N. B.

Store Buildings, Sydney Street.—These buildings were generally repaired, and painting done.

Fort Howe.—The roofs were repaired and walls pointed, of the store building, brick magazine and stone magazine at this fort.

Fort Dufferin.—A fence was repaired at this fort, and repairs made to doors of magazine.

Dorchester Battery.—A fence at this battery was renewed.

Martello Tower, West End.—All outside masonry of this tower was pointed, and loose stones reset.

SUSSEX, N. B.

Camp Grounds.—Temporary stables were erected on these grounds for the use of the 8th P. L. Hussars at Brigade Camp.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 9.

HALIFAX, N. S.

New Drill Hall.—This drill hall, now under construction by the Department of Public Works, is almost completed, with the exception of interior fittings.

Old Drill Hall.—General repairs were made to this building, both inside and out, and fences repaired.

WINDSOR, N. S.

Drill Shed.—A new drill shed is now under construction here, by the Department of Public Works.

ALDERSHOT, N. S.

Rifle Range.—The markers' butts at this range were re-constructed. New firing points raised. New targets and frames put up, and a small shelter shed erected for storing targets.

SYDNEY, C. B.

The Barracks.—Further general repairs were made this year to these buildings, including painting, glazing, clap-boarding, shingling, re-flooring, re-silling and pointing.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 10.

WINNIPEG, MAN.

Quarters of District Officer Commanding.—General repairs were made to these quarters, including painting, papering, &c.

Men's Barracks.—The rooms and halls in these barracks were cleaned and kalsomined, and repairs made to plaster in basement.

Married Officers' Quarters.—Repairs were made to doors, windows, floors and chimneys in these quarters, also plastering and kalsomining done.

Married Men's Quarters.—The roof of this building was re-shingled, eave troughs and down pipes were renewed, and walls, doors and windows repaired.

Stables.—The stables were whitewashed, and the north side of sick stables sheathed.

The drains between blocks “D” and “E” were repaired, and thirteen chimneys on the several buildings were repaired.

Drill Hall.—A number of trees were planted in the drill hall grounds, and a new floor laid in the quarters of the caretaker.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 11.

NEW WESTMINSTER, B. C.

Drill Hall.—The roof of this building was slightly repaired.

VICTORIA, B. C.

Drill Hall.—Alterations were made in the electric light fixtures to improve the lighting.

MILITARY DISTRICT No. 12.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I.

Victoria Barracks.—A new fence and gates were erected at these barracks. All buildings and fences were lime washed.

Drill Shed.—The armoury of No. 3 Company, 87th Battalion, was fitted up, and cupboards placed in same.

Fort Edward.—An arch in the magazine at this fort was rebuilt, and the floor of magazine was renewed.

Kensington Rifle Range.—Small repairs were made to this rifle range.

MINOR BARRACK SERVICES AND REPAIRS.

The usual amount for the supply of materials for “Minor Barrack Services and Repairs” was authorized at each permanent military station, and the work carried out by the men of the corps.

SUPPLEMENT TO CHIEF ENGINEER'S REPORT.

ROCKLIFFE RIFLE RANGE.

This rifle range, a plan of which is attached, has been practically completed since the 30th June, 1898.

The range property is about three miles from Ottawa, down the river.

It is bounded on the north by the Ottawa River.

There are three main routes to this range from Ottawa :—

1. By way of the Ottawa River.
2. By way of the Montreal Road.
3. By way of Rockcliffe.

The area of land acquired is 399.05 acres, a large proportion of which was acquired to provide for safety on account of the great penetration and velocity of the Lee-Enfield rifle bullet.

The length of the range from 1,000 yards firing point in the direction of the fire, is 3,223 yards.

The width at the 500 yards firing point is approximately 473 yards.

The direction of the range is practically from west to east.

Along the south side, from the 1,000 yards firing point to the targets, there is an elevated plateau which will afford an ideal camping ground.

The soil is of blue clay, which made the construction of this range much more difficult than it otherwise would have been.

The markers' trench is below the ordinary surface of the ground, and is revetted on the west side with a stone wall set in cement on a concrete foundation. The east side is sloped to the ordinary ground level.

Shelters are provided in front of each target for the markers.

A wide platform, the entire length of the markers' trench, eight feet below the top of the revetment wall, has been built.

Access, under cover, to a latrine on the river bank is provided for the markers by a deep ditch and platform.

Access, also under cover, from the south boundary of the range to the markers' trench is provided in the same manner.

The ditch in the markers trench, to carry off all surface water, is cobblestoned.

The markers' trench proper is about 780 feet long, and contains 55 target frames set 14 feet centre to centre.

Target frames [a drawing of which is attached] are secured by lag screws to posts set five feet in the ground in concrete.

The target frames, of iron and practically indestructible, are a new device invented by the Chief Engineer of the Department of Militia and Defence, by which a target of any class and a dummy may be operated simultaneously. The frame is entirely under cover, the target only showing over the top of wall.

When the target is in sight the dummy is under cover and accessible to the markers. When the target is struck the shutter on the dummy is moved by the marker to show the value of the shot and the target is lowered, the dummy at the same time coming up and taking the place of the target.

The marker then patches and spots the target and raises it to the firing position, the dummy at the same time coming down under cover.

The dummy and target counterbalance each other.

The friction in operating this frame is so slight that it may easily be operated by a boy.

A system of double targets may be used with this frame. It was tried during the last Dominion Rifle Association matches, but it was then decided that the dummy system was preferable.

A stop butt has been erected 50 feet in rear of the targets.

It is built of open cedar cribwork, filled with field stone, and sheathed on the target side with three inch plank. The numbers of the targets are painted white on an alternately rounded and square black ground, on this sheathing immediately above the targets when in the firing position.

The stop butt is 830 feet long, and extends 10 feet north of the northernmost target, and 40 feet south of the southernmost one.

It is 25 feet high, 25 feet thick at the bottom and 8 feet thick at the top.

Firing points have been laid out and marked at every 100 yards from 200 to 1,000 yards.

Enough land has been acquired to provide firing points up to and including 1,200 yards.

A flag pole about 90 feet in length, consisting of mainmast and topmast with cross trees, has been erected near the 600 yards firing point.

A building for the housing of the targets, and for a work shop, has also been erected. It is 45 feet long, 20 feet wide and 10 feet high under the eaves. This is also placed near the 600 yards firing point.

A telephone line has been erected on the range connecting each firing point with the markers' trench. Telephone instruments complete have been purchased by the Department of Militia and Defence.

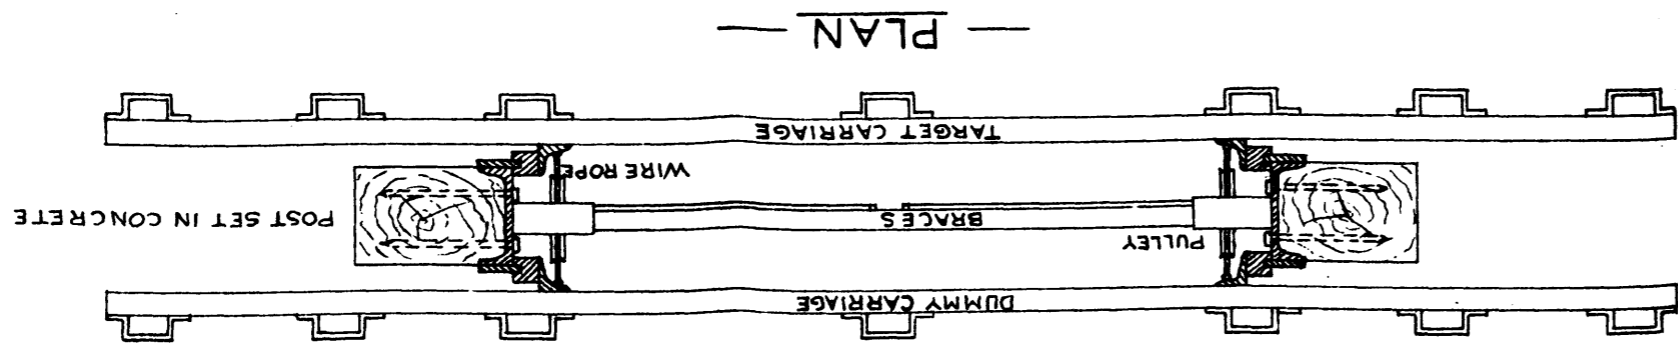

The range proper has been fenced in with the Page wire fence.

Chief Engineer M+D

will be seen that a sum amounting to probably $20,000 annually is expended abroad for the purchase of materials. By erecting a suitable plant all this money will be paid out here in wages to our own work people, and in buying material from Canadian firms. The machinery required and estimated cost of same are as follows:—

- 1 Furnace for annealing metal strip.
- 1 Machine to punch blank and form brass cups.
- 1 Rolling Mill, fitted with roller bearings and chilled iron rolls.
- Enlarging foundry, Ingot Moulds, Pickling Tanks.
- Installation of plant, &c., &c.
- Total estimated cost $5,742.67.

It will thus be seen that in return for the comparatively small outlay of about $5,700.00 we shall be in a position to offer work and profit to our own people, consequent on the annual expenditure of about $20,000, which are now beyond our control, and that the plant cannot but pay for itself in a very short time. From an economic standpoint there can be no doubt that benefit will accrue, and that the spending of money in this manner is judicious.

As the impression prevails in some quarters that fired cases are repaired and reloaded for issue as new work, an extract from the annual report for 1897, (p. 19) which reads as follows is submitted: "The fired cases of solid draw ball cartridges returned to us are not suitable for reloading as such, because the condition of the metal after firing renders it unfit to stand the strain imposed by further firing with ball." Long before this was written, we were fully alive to the danger of employing old cases in this manner, and have been careful to avoid it. Experiments made by the United States Government have shown that the cartridge metal employed by them, which is of similar composition to ours, cannot be depended upon for use in a reloading cartridge. The Winchester Company make the following statement on this point: "No manufacturers of rifle ammunition are to-day able to successfully and satisfactorily produce a smokeless powder shell suitable for reloading; and for this reason the Winchester Repeating Arms Co. cautions its patrons against the reloading of smokeless powder rifle ammunition, and wishes to do its utmost to discourage this practice." Finally, if further and conclusive proof be needed, it may be stated that the diameter of the cartridge case at the mouth after the operation of "necking" (which gives the cartridge its bottle-shaped appearance) is smaller than that of the assembled 60 strands composing a charge of cordite; hence, in using fired cases we should be compelled to load by hand each of the 60 strands or cords forming the charge which would be extremely tedious, inaccurate and expensive. The work is actually performed in improved machines having a capacity of 15,000 per day each, and which weigh the charge within the narrow limits required.

Money has been voted by Parliament for the repair of defective ammunition purchased from the War Office. The special machinery required for the performance of this work was ordered in England as soon as funds became available, and will it is expected arrive here shortly. The repairs to be executed consist in extracting the percussion caps and replacing them by new ones, containing an improved detonating composition.

The manufacture of Mark IV bullet, having a cavity in the point is being taken up as rapidly as circumstances will permit; the fact that we have on hand a large amount of work in course of manufacture, which cannot be adapted to latest pattern, will, however, compel us to issue a larger amount of Mark II ammunition than we would have wished. For drill purposes, the solid bullet is equal in every respect to that recently adapted, and its accuracy of shooting is about the same.

The new bullet is practically a modification of the old pattern, made by piercing the point with a hole 0.1" in diameter and 0.35" deep; it thus differs from the Tweedie and Dum-Dum bullets in that, in the latter the point is left uncovered by the nickel, forming what has been termed a "soft nose."

As considerable interest has manifested itself of late on the question of expanding bullets for military and sporting purposes, no apology is needed for the insertion of the following remarks. Much of the information here given has been taken from a book entitled "The evolution of Modern Small Arms and Ammunition" by Edward C.R. Marks, A.M.I.C.E., M.I.M.E.

Militia and Defence.

The bullet made at the Government Cartridge Factory at Dum-Dum, a town of the Bengal presidency, which was the scene of the first open resistance of the Sepoys to the use of the greased cartridges, has a soft lead point which causes it to expand on impact; the lead protruding from the opening in the jacket, makes the bullet assume a mushroom-like shape, by which it inflicts a serious wound. From experiments we carried out last year previous to the despatching of the Yukon expedition, it was ascertained that the lead and nickel of these bullets break up into a number of small pieces which would remain in the body. It has been alleged by the Germans that England has broken the St. Petersburg Convention of 1868, under which the Great Powers agreed to refrain from the use of an explosive bullet. The Dum-Dum bullet is not an explosive bullet, although its "man-stopping" qualities of necessity make it compare unfavourably with the ordinary Lee-Enfield (Mark II) bullet in the nature of the wounds which it inflicts. In reply to questions in the House of Commons, Lord George Hamilton stated "that according to information supplied to him, the effects of the Dum-Dum bullet were not more serious than those of the Snider bullet, nor than those of the M. H. bullet; but, on the other hand, it was clearly shown that during the Chitral expedition the Lee-Metford bullet frequently failed to attain the object for which all missiles were discharged in war, viz.: that of disabling the enemy with the least possible suffering. The Dum-Dum fulfilled this object, as did the bullets previously used by the English army, and fulfilled it in the same way. That the Dum-Dum bullet was consonant with international law, as set forth by the terms of the St. Petersburg Convention of 1868, was perfectly clear, inasmuch as what the convention forbade was the use of any explosive projectile beyond a certain weight charged with fulminating or inflammatory matter. He had received as yet no medical reports from India as to the effects of the Dum-Dum bullets in the recent frontier engagements, but he had asked the Indian Government to expedite the information".

Referring to this bullet, the Engineer of November 4th, 1898, says: "The nickel case small-bore bullet is liable to go through man and beast almost without making its passage felt at the time, and the small hole it makes is said generally to heal on first intention, and with great rapidity. The Chinese, it is true, when marching away before the Japanese—which was their chief operation in the field—generally quickened their pace after receiving a shower of bullets into them, but the bullets would not always even have this effect. In the coal riots at Lord Masham's pits, in the afternoon, after the troops fired, one pitman said he felt his thigh a bit uncomfortable as he walked, and on examination it was found that a bullet had passed through it. A bullet should do more than make a man rub his leg for some hours afterwards. Consequently efforts have been directed to causing bullets to set up on impact. The Dum-Dum and the Tweedie bullets resemble each other in the fact that the point is left uncovered by the nickel. The bullet sets up on impact, but unfortunately the nickel breaks and flies about, which is undesirable. Our own Mark III bullet, designed at the Royal Laboratory, has a hollow in the head, into which the nickel case enters, lining it, as it were with nickel. This bullet sets up a little on impact, but not enough to give it the stopping power that belonged to the old-fashioned heavy ball. The nickel case, however, remains intact, and probably this bullet, which is regularly adopted may be our service one possibly in a modified form. There is a great difference between a bullet that sets up, and whose case accidentally splits and flies more than could be wished, and bullets purposely made to contain explosives and act as a shell. It seems curious that all nations should have adopted bullets that hurt so little on impact as to create an obstacle to their use."

The following particulars relating to the new bullet are from the Times of January 28th, 1898:—

"A new service bullet, just adopted by the War Office, will be used for the first time in the Khartoum expedition. Several million rounds are being sent for the use of the infantry who are going to Egypt. The reason assigned for the change in the service bullet is that the Lee-Metford, though it is more deadly at ten times the range of the old musket ball does not disable an enemy as effectively as could be desired. Soldiers have been known to go on fighting after a dozen Lee-Metford bullets have gone through them, whilst the bullet itself has passed through two or three men consecutively, shock being sacrificed for penetration. The Dum Dum bullet, now also superseded, came into use for the purpose of stopping the rush of hordes of fanatics, as it had the advantages of spreading out and breaking up whenever it encountered resistance; but there has recently been some discussion in France as to the propriety of remonstrating with the British War Office on the ground that it is contrary to the convention made with other European powers in 1868. The new service bullet is the same diameter, weight, and length as the Lee-Metford bullet, and fits all the service rifles and machine guns. The case is of nickel, the base only being filled with lead. The conical end is left empty, and when it strikes the enemy, burrs, opens backwards, and lodges in the body, penetration being lessened and shock increased. The new bullet is spoken of as 'the man killing bullet,' in contradistinction to 'the man-penetrating bullet.'

The Engineer of July 8th, 1898, referring to the foregoing states:—"It is not correct to speak of the new bullet as having a hollow conical nickel head, and only containing lead in the base. The lead runs up to the point inside the nickel to the same extent as the lead in the Snider-Boxer bullet. That is to say, a bullet with the ordinary form of point has a small cylindrical hollow made in the axis, the nickel being run to the edge, and a disc of nickel being pressed down to the bottom of the cylindrical hollow. As we have often pointed out, it is a matter of some delicacy to make a bullet spread sufficiently to give it stopping power and shock and yet not fly and form what is termed a cruel bullet."—The above descriptions refer to Mark III bullet, which had a metal cup 3 inch deep inserted in the cavity, in the head of the bullet. We are now manufacturing a modification of this pattern, Mark IV, in which the metal cup has been discarded.

SHELL FACTORY.

We have manufactured and delivered into store the following projectiles during the year:—

9 Pr. R.M.L. Shrapnel shells.....	2,656
12 Pr. B.L. " " cast iron.....	52

This of course does not represent the output of the factory, as we have in hand a very large number of projectiles which we could not deliver, as the Store Department could not furnish boxes. The following figures will give an idea of the work performed; a very large proportion of this work is finished, and ready to hand over as soon as boxes are received. On the 31st December, 1898, we had under manufacture at various stages:—

9 Pr. R.M.L. Shrapnel shells.....	5,171
12 Pr. B.L., cast iron practice Shrapnel shells.....	2,045
64 Pr. R.M.L., Common shells.....	250
Total.....	7,466

It has been decided to complete the 9 Pr. R. M. L. projectiles under manufacture and to make no more new ones for the present, as there is a very large reserve in store. To prepare for the manufacture of steel shells, a 12 Pr. B. L. cast iron shell has been turned out for practice purposes. A complete set of gauges, templets, jigs, &c., have been made, and as all the interior parts are similar to those of steel shell, we are ready at a moment's notice to begin the manufacture of the latter with a trained staff who have already had some months' experience. In this manner it has been endeavoured to make the factory as useful as possible, and to keep pace with modern requirements, but the limited plant and resources at our disposal preclude the possibility of further advance. Complete reports have been submitted on different occasions, detailing our requirements which are somewhat lengthy. It will suffice for the purpose of these remarks to say that to introduce the manufacture of B. L. steel projectiles of latest Imperial Government pattern, on a small scale of about 6,000 to 8,000 per annum, the nature and cost of plant will be as follows:

Militia and Defence.

- 1 Circular Saw for Hot Iron.
- 1 Hydraulic Pump.
- 1 " Press.
- 1 Accumulator.
- 1 Bouching Lathe.
- 1 Brass Lathe.
- Total estimated cost $7,542.00.

It is earnestly hoped that this small sum will be authorized as the benefit to be derived cannot be under-estimated.

GENERAL REMARKS, AFFECTING CARTRIDGE AND SHELL FACTORIES.

Pursuant to a report submitted, it was decided to substitute steam motive power for the combined system of electricity and steam we have been using. The latter was found to be expensive and unsuitable for many reasons. Measurements were taken to determine the amount of power required, and after making due allowance for probable expansion in the size of the establishment, an order was given for an automatic engine of improved pattern.

A handsome stone power house has been erected adjoining the north end of the Cartridge Factory, and the fortification walls which were made use of to avoid building new ones. Power is transmitted from the engine by belting in the usual manner, and steam is conveyed for heating and other purposes as required. The installation of the plant is barely complete at the present time, and we shall endeavour to use our exhaust steam for heating purposes, due regard being paid to economy of energy and other important considerations. It is proposed to move the dynamo used for electric light to the new power house, and to extend and improve the system of lighting to provide for additional requirements. The suggestion is again offered, that this establishment is able to manufacture a number of articles purchased in England provided funds are voted for the service of the factory.

In addition to the work of building a power house the following new work and repairs have been executed during the year.

Office.—Roof painted.

Cartridge Factory.—Eight new chimney caps. New floors and repairs to foreman's office. New floor to bullet room. 15 new double-windows.

Shell Factory.—Repairs to foundry skylights. Three windows renewed. New porch to foundry.

Laboratory Buildings.—Lightning rods repaired, repairs to gates, pointing of walls of magazine, pointing chimney of engine house, repairs to chimney, watchman's quarters.

Fulminate Buildings.—New gates and platforms, repairs to fences.

Miscellaneous.—Building proof house and rebuilding walls of sally port for Maxim gun range. Repairs to windows and two new floors in Superintendent's quarters. Chimneys of Dauphine barracks repaired. New door step and one new ceiling, also new floor in passage and cellar, Mr. Hall's quarters. Doors and windows of Mr. Davies' quarters repaired. Mr. Panet's quarters: Storm sashes and one room painted, front of building whitewashed.

It is suggested that arrangements be made to provide for security against fire for our books and papers. We have in our office documents and plans which money cannot replace without long and inconvenient delays, entailing perhaps a suspension of manufacturing operations. It is intended to recommend that some old cells in the lower story of the office building, formerly used for the custody of military prisoners, and which would adapt themselves admirably to the purpose, be converted into a fire proof vault for the reception of our books and valuable papers.

In conclusion I should again invite attention to the insufficiency of the amount voted by Parliament for the performance of the work we are expected to furnish. This matter has been alluded to in former annual reports and dealt with in detail in special reports submitted from time to time. It is requested that this vital question shall receive the consideration that it deserves.

PART II.

REPORT

OF THE

MAJOR GENERAL

The Honourable the Minister of Militia and Defence,
Ottawa.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward the following report of the troops under my command for the year ending 31st December, 1898.

The report is divided into three parts, namely Part (1) Narrative of events in 1898; Part (2) Proposals for the current year 1899; Part (3) General report and recommendations dealing with the Military situation in Canada.

PART I

NARRATIVE OF EVENTS IN 1898.

The following is the narrative of the events in connection with the troops under my command, ending 31st December, 1898, which I consider to be of interest to bring in an official form to your notice:—

CHANGES IN ESTABLISHMENT.

(1) The Winnipeg Dragoons and the 60th "Missisquoi" Battalion of Infantry have been disbanded. A Company of Mounted Rifles and 5 Independent Infantry Companies have been raised in British Columbia, and a Bearer Company in Halifax. The 1st Battalion "Prince of Wales" Regiment and the 6th Battalion "Fusiliers" were, on the 1st May, amalgamated under the designation 1st Battalion "Prince of Wales' Regiment Fusiliers." On the 1st September the 69th "1st Annapolis" and 72nd "2nd Annapolis" Battalions of Infantry were similarly amalgamated, under the designation 69th "Annapolis" Battalion of Infantry, and on the 1st December the St. John Rifle Company, a small independent unit, was amalgamated with the 62nd "St. John Fusiliers" Battalion.

APPOINTMENTS.

(2) Field Marshal His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales has been pleased to signify his acceptance of the appointment of Honorary Colonel of the 1st Battalion "Prince of Wales' Regiment Fusiliers," which, upon the 5th November, 1898, was duly notified in the Canada Gazette. The appointment of His Royal Highness has been received by the regiment in particular, and by the Militia generally, as a special honour and as a much appreciated mark of His Royal Highness's interest in the Troops of the Dominion.

The distinction of Honorary Lieutenant Colonel has, among others, been offered to and accepted by the following, viz. :—

The Right Honourable the Earl of Aberdeen, G.C.M.G., The Governor General's Foot Guards; Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, G.C.M.G., 3rd Battalion, "Victoria Rifles of Canada"; The Right Honourable Sir John Sutherland Campbell, Marquis of Lorne, G.C.M.G., 15th Battalion, "Argyll Light Infantry"; The Right Honourable the Marquis of Dufferin and Ava, G.C.M.G., 38th Battalion, "Dufferin Rifles of Canada," &c.

On the 30th June last Major General Gascoigne resigned the command of the Troops to which he had been appointed on the 19th September, 1895.

The appointment of Major (Local Colonel) P. H. N. Lake, East Lancashire Regiment, as Quartermaster General terminated on the 11th August last.

I had the honour to be appointed to the command of the Canadian Militia on the 11th August, and assumed the command upon my arrival at Ottawa on the 23rd day of that month.

Major (Local Colonel) Hubert Foster, Royal Engineers, similarly, and upon the same dates, was appointed to, and assumed the duties of Quartermaster General.

Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel J. L. H. Neilson, M.D., R.C.A., was, in March last, appointed Director General of Medical Staff.

YUKON FIELD FORCE.

(3) It was considered advisable, early in the year, in the interests of the public security, that a detachment of troops should be sent to the recently developed Yukon District. Upon the 21st of March last it was directed, by an Order in Council, that a Field Force, composed of volunteers from the permanent troops of the Dominion, under the command of Major (Local Lieut.-Colonel) T. D. B. Evans, Royal Canadian Dragoons, should be despatched to Fort Selkirk. The force consisted of Staff.

Commanding Officer	Lieut.-Colonel Evans, R.C.D.
Adjutant	Captain Gardiner, R.C.D.
Paymaster	Major Talbot, 9th Battalion.
Medical Officer	Surgeon-Major Foster, 68th Battalion.
Supply Officer	Major Bliss, R.O.

	Officers.	N. C. Officers and men.
Royal Canadian Dragoons	1	15
Royal Canadian Artillery, (Field Division)	1	16
Royal Canadian Artillery, (Garrison Division)	2	30
Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry	3	130

Total.

Officers	12
N. C. Officers and men	191

Civilians attached.

Mr. Carry, C.E.	1
Assistants	3
Artificers	9

Total 13

The above force left Ottawa on the 6th May, and reaching Vancouver on the 11th, proceeded by steamer to Wrangel, thence by river boat to Glenora, by march route, via Telegraph Creek, to Teslin Lake, and thence by river steamers to Fort Selkirk, where the first detachment arrived on the 25th July.

Militia and Defence.

The march of this force across an hitherto but little known and very difficult country was conducted with judgment and skill on the part of the officer in command.

The difficulties encountered were not unlike those experienced by the Red River Expedition in 1870. It may fairly be said that this small force of Canadian troops has well-sustained the reputation of British soldiers for perseverance, persistence of purpose, endurance and discipline under trying circumstances.

The small field force under Lieut.-Colonel Evans is now divided between Dawson City and Fort Selkirk, but happily its services in the cause of public order or security have not, hitherto, been called into requisition.

The following officers have been specially mentioned for zeal and energy in connection with the expedition, viz.:—Major D. C. F. Bliss, Reserve of Officers; Captain H. E. Burstall, Royal Canadian Artillery; Captain P. E. Thacker, Royal Canadian Infantry Regiment; Captain L. G. Bennett, Royal Canadian Artillery.

TRAINING OF THE ACTIVE MILITIA, AND MILITARY SCHOOLS OF INSTRUCTION.

(4) A limited number of camps of instruction were held during the year, the details connected with which will be found in Appendix "B."

I personally inspected a camp of instruction at Aldershot upon the 15th and 16th September. I regret to say that the standard of military knowledge, the system of organization, the equipment of the troops, and other matters connected with the camp were far from satisfactory. The standard of military efficiency was, generally, not equal to that which my experience with similar troops in other parts of the Empire had led me to expect, and was certainly inadequate to the national requirements of Canada. This condition of things was not, in my opinion, due to the troops themselves, but to the faults of the system and organization under which they labour. By the employment of a carefully selected and properly instructed staff, by an improved system of organization, and by encouraging a higher degree of military training, it may be safely predicted that the camps of instruction in 1899 will better satisfy modern military requirements.

A tactical Field Day, and review of the Toronto troops was held on the 24th of November last. It was satisfactory to note the great interest and military spirit displayed by all ranks. I hope that during the current year, it may be possible to develop a system of tactical instruction for the troops of the Dominion generally, which the officer in command of No. 2 Military District has initiated to the great benefit of the city corps under his command.

The mobilization of the Halifax garrison, which included the quota of Canadian militia allotted to that fortress, took place on the 26th and 27th October, 1898. The General Officer commanding Her Majesty's troops in British North America, has been pleased to report that the result was fairly successful, so far as the Canadian Militia are concerned.

The instruction of the portion of the 5th Regiment Canadian Artillery, allotted to the defence of Esquimalt, has been carried out by the officer commanding the Royal Marine Artillery at that place, with distinctly beneficial results to the militia, and a satisfactory report has been received from the General Officer commanding Her Majesty's troops in British North America.

Much valuable work has been done by all the Schools of Instruction during the year, and a considerable number of officers and N. C. officers have passed through and qualified, the details of which will be found in Appendix "C."

The officers, N. C. officers and men of the Permanent Force, employed at the various schools have worked with zeal and with commendable energy. The Cavalry School of Instruction under the Inspector of Cavalry deserves an especial word of praise. This officer has instilled much of his own energy into the cavalry service. Further remarks will be found in section 10.

The following officers and N. C. officers, Royal Canadian Artillery, have with your approval, proceeded to England for the purpose of undergoing a complete course of gunnery at Woolwich, and Shoeburyness, viz.:—

Royal Canadian Artillery, Field Division:—Captain Benyon, Sergeant Hébert Sergeant Jordan.

Royal Canadian Artillery, Garrison Division:—Major Rutherford, Sergeant Weatherbie, Sergeant Benson.

The foregoing detachments should complete their course of instruction at the beginning of 1900, except Major Rutherford, who will complete the "Firemaster's Course" in the Autumn of that year.

Training, &c., Permanent Troops.

(5). In accordance with arrangements made before my arrival, No. 2 Company of the Royal Canadian Artillery, (Garrison Division), were, on the 18th April, 1898, with the co-operation of the General Officer commanding Her Majesty's troops in British North America, sent from Quebec to Halifax, and replaced by a company of Royal Artillery. The opportunity was thus, for the first time, afforded to a Garrison Company of the Royal Canadian Artillery to be put through a complete course of annual training and drill with armament of modern type.

Cadet Corps Schools and Colleges.

(6). In April last, amended regulations were issued for the formation of High School Cadet Corps in high schools and collegiate institutes. A most desirable system of military instruction for Canadian youths has thus been further developed, and I cannot too earnestly commend the importance of this movement to your favourable consideration. It is difficult to conceive any instruction which is better adapted for teaching the rising generation of Canada to realize that among the obligations of citizenship, the defence of their country is, above all, a national duty and a sacred privilege.

ARTILLERY AND RIFLE PRACTICE.

(7.) (a). Field Artillery.—It is much to be regretted that annual artillery practice by the Field Batteries has not been regularly carried out during the past year. The number of batteries exercised and the rounds fired will be found in Appendix "D".

The totally inadequate amount of artillery practice which has been given is due, in a large measure, to the difficulty in finding a suitable Field Artillery Land Range. The practice which was carried out at Deseronto in 1897 was not satisfactory, as the danger area is reported to be inadequate. I trust that measures may be taken to rectify this difficulty, during the present year.

(b). Garrison Artillery.—The instruction given to, and the practice carried out, by the Permanent Garrison Artillery, and by the Garrison Artillery regiments and companies of the Active Militia, respectively, (No. 2 Company, Royal Canadian Artillery, trained at Halifax, excepted), has been unsatisfactory in the highest degree. The absence of modern armament makes it impossible that the Garrison Artillery can fulfil, under existing circumstances, modern requirements. This important matter has received your consideration, and preliminary steps are being taken to rectify this serious condition of things. A certain number of 5 inch B. L. Howitzers will, shortly, arrive from England, and two officers and four N.C. officers of the Royal Canadian Artillery have been sent to England for a Long Course at Woolwich and Shoeburyness. The absence of technically or scientifically trained officers as instructors prevents an adequate scientific training in gunnery being given to the Canadian Artillery generally.

(c). The Dominion Artillery Association.—This valuable body has done its best to assist in promoting the interests of the artillery, and to compensate for the disadvantages above pointed out. It is deserving of every encouragement and assistance.

(d). Rifle Practice.—It is much to be regretted that effective instruction in rifle shooting has not received the attention which its importance deserves in the annual training of the Militia. With the present long range rifle, and in the absence of suitable ranges, the effective instruction of the Infantry becomes yearly more difficult. I have dealt with this question in Part II. Sec. 17, in a manner which, as a temporary measure, may I hope prove successful.

Militia and Defence.

(e.) Dominion Rifle Association, Etc.—The new rifle range at Ottawa was opened at the meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association on the 29th of August last. It is hoped that the institution of this excellent range may be followed by others, and that improvements may be effected and further encouragement given to rifle shooting throughout the Dominion. It is essential that the competitions and matches fired under the auspices of state-aided institutions such as the Dominion Rifle Association, the Canadian Military Rifle League, and others, should partake of a more modern character than heretofore.

A representative detachment of Canadian riflemen, familiarly called "The Bisley Team" under the auspices of the D. R. A., left for England on the 16th June, 1898, under the command of Lieut.-Colonel Cooke, 1st Battalion "Prince of Wales' Regiment, Fusiliers." The detachment well-sustained the reputation of Canada among the other competitors at Bisley.

In the near future it may be possible to arrange for a system of Musketry Instruction to be conducted at Ottawa, under properly qualified instructors, upon the principle of the School of Musketry at Hythe, England, where officers, N.C. officers and men of the Canadian Troops may be taught the principles and science of modern rifle shooting, and thus utilize to the full the benefits conferred by the above-mentioned range.

ADMINISTRATIVE CHANGES.

(S.) The district commands have been enlarged so as to include the Permanent Units and Schools of Instruction.

An acting Chief Staff officer has been appointed, and an improved system of conducting correspondence has been instituted at Head-Quarters.

From November last an Unattached List was created so as to facilitate the transfer of senior and valuable officers from one portion of the force to another, whenever the exigences of their civil duties necessitate change in their place of residence, without their being relegated to the Reserve of Officers or the Retired List.

DEFENCE COMMISSION.

(9.) In accordance with the request of the Canadian Government a Defence Commission, composed of the following Officers, commenced its proceedings early in August, and concluded them in December last:—

Major General Leach, R.E., V.C., C.B.	President.
Captain White, R.N.,	} Members.
Colonel Dalton, R.A.,
Major Lake, East Lancashire Regiment,

The Ministers of Marine and Fisheries (The Hon. Sir Louis Davies, K.C.M.G.,) and Militia and Defence (Surgeon Lieut.-Colonel The Hon. F. W. Borden), representing the Canadian Government, formed part of the Commission.

INSPECTIONS BY THE GENERAL OFFICER COMMANDING.

(10.) With your concurrence, as soon as possible after my arrival I inspected the Military Districts (Nos. 10, 11 and 12 excepted) as follows:—

Ottawa.	5th	September
Montreal.	6th	do
Quebec.	8th	do
Aldershot, N.S.	16th	do
Halifax, N.S.	19th	do
St. John, N.B.	22nd	do
Fredericton, N.B.	23rd	do
Toronto.	8th	October
London, Ont.	15th	do
Hamilton	20th	do
Kingston.	22th	do
St. Johns, P.Q.	28th	do

All the Commanding Officers of Regiments and Corps in each District were summoned to meet me for the purpose of discussing collectively and individually, questions affecting the welfare and efficiency of their commands. An opportunity was further given to all officers to make my acquaintance, which was very generally taken advantage of. By these means I have been able to gain a knowledge of the personnel and to gauge the requirements as regards administration and organization in each district, which may, I hope, prove of value in my military advice to yourself, and of benefit to the force generally.

At the same time the whole of the permanent units and schools of instruction (Winnipeg excepted) were inspected. I have been much impressed by the general excellence of the permanent force of the Dominion. The physique, the discipline, and the soldierly bearing of N. C. O., and men are very satisfactory. An excellent esprit de corps pervades this valuable force and the troops are well commanded. The Staff Instructors are an especially valuable set of N. C. officers.

The instruction however given at the various schools is, for the most part, of a purely elementary character, and the standard of knowledge attained by the officers, N. C. officers and men in the permanent units generally, is not equal to their responsibilities as instructors. This condition of things is not due to lack of zeal or energy, but to the want of opportunity, and to the fact that too much has been expected of the permanent staff and troops during the last four or five years. Courses of instruction for officers and men of the active Militia have been held continuously throughout the year, and no time has been allotted to that most essential of all modern military training—a properly conducted system of Annual Training—or to relaxation from the incessant round of instructional courses. The companies of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry, for example, have not received a connected Annual Training under their superior officers since their concentration at Pointe Lévis in 1893.

This question has been dealt with in Part II., Section 18 of this report.

MEETING OF OFFICERS COMMANDING MILITARY DISTRICTS.

As the sequence to the Meetings of the commanding officers held in each district, a Meeting of officers commanding Military Districts (Nos. 10 Winnipeg, and 11 Victoria excepted), and of the Inspectors of cavalry and of artillery took place with your concurrence at Ottawa, from the 15th to the 18th November.

Agenda of important questions affecting the future of the militia were circulated beforehand, and formed the subject of collective consideration. The views and opinions of these officers will be of value in assisting me to judge the means best adapted to increase the well-being and efficiency of the force.

The opportunity thus given for the interchange of opinion and for the discussion of important military questions has been of the utmost value, and it may be assumed that all the officers concerned will benefit by an increased intelligence, and from an enlarged experience, and thus be enabled to discharge the responsibilities of their commands with greater confidence and renewed energy.

MILITARY STORES.

(11.) I visited, with your permission, the military stores in each district, which by the present system are under civil administration and apart from military command. My notes upon these inspections have been submitted to you. The absence of regulations, the want of system, the inadequate knowledge for the most part of the officers and employees concerned in the custody of government military stores are matters which deserve immediate attention, and render the organization of a properly constituted Ordnance Store Corps as part of the military command to be absolutely essential in the public interest. It is contrary to universal military precedent elsewhere, to economy, and to military efficiency for the custody and issue of military stores to be in the hands of a civil department. Special recommendations on this matter will be found in Part III.

Militia and Defence.

CARTRIDGE FACTORY.

I inspected the cartridge factory on the 13th September, which I found to be well organized and performing excellent work. It appears that much of the material required in the factory is purchased in England, through the High Commissioner and not through the War Office. The result is that stores so purchased are not properly tested before delivery. The defects in cartridge cases, which have been complained of, are traceable to this cause.

I recommend that all stores should be tested in England before shipment, and that the War Department at Woolwich be invited to co-operate for this purpose.

It is only possible at present to manufacture wrought iron shells for the field artillery. I recommend that the necessary additional plant for manufacturing steel shells shall be procured. Wrought iron shells are not sufficiently powerful for service purposes. The extra expense entailed would not be great.

ARTILLERY AND INFANTRY EQUIPMENT.

(a). Field Artillery.

(12). The new 12 pr. B. L. field gun, complete with harness, has been issued to the following field batteries, during the year :—

- “ A ” Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery.
- “ B ” Battery, Royal Canadian Artillery.
- 1st Field Battery, Quebec.
- 2nd Field Battery, Ottawa.
- 3rd Field Battery, Montreal.
- 4th Field Battery, Hamilton.
- 7th Field Battery, St. Catharines.
- 9th Field Battery, Toronto.

The new guns and equipment for two additional batteries are now ready in England for shipment, and will be issued during the current year. There will then remain nine field batteries still equipped with the 9 pr. R. M. L. gun. These latter have, during the year, been made up from 4 to 6 guns.

(b). Garrison Artillery.

There will shortly be available for issue to the Garrison Artillery the following :—

Movable armament or guns of position, a proportion of 5 inch B. L. Howitzers, and of 40 pr. B. L. guns.

(c). Infantry small arms.

The Lee-Enfield (303) Magazine Rifles have been issued to the permanent troops and city corps. The rifles for the remaining battalions should be held for issue in district stores.

The Oliver equipment for the infantry, ordered on the 2nd April, 1898, will shortly be ready for issue.

GENERAL SERVICE MEDAL.

(13.) A general service medal, for Canada, has been graciously approved by Her Majesty, the Queen. It is hoped that the medals may be ready for distribution at an early date in accordance with the regulations issued in G. O. 63, July, 1898, for war services in the Fenian Raids of 1866 and 1870, and the Red River Expedition of 1870.

INTERCHANGE OF A FIELD BATTERY OF IMPERIAL TROOPS WITH A FIELD BATTERY OF THE ROYAL CANADIAN ARTILLERY.

(14.) The interchange of a field battery of the Royal Canadian Artillery with an Imperial Field Battery from England has been suggested, and the greatest importance is attached to the bringing into closer relations the permanent units of the Canadian army with Her Majesty's regular troops elsewhere. An amendment of the existing Militia Act would be required to enable this proposal to be carried into effect. It must be remembered that the permanent troops in Canada are instructional cadre corps, and are maintained for the instruction of their militia comrades at the respective schools, in peace, and for distribution in war among the militia units as a stiffening. It would be necessary therefore, before carrying out such an exchange, to insure that the Imperial Troops are prepared to take up all the duties now assigned to their Canadian comrades.

It would be necessary, in order to carry out the proposed arrangement, to amalgamate the two Instructional Batteries, Royal Canadian Artillery, ("A" and "B" Batteries) so as to make up the Establishment of the single Field Battery, which it is proposed to send to England. This would leave available in Canada, the Imperial Field Battery, and a fraction only of the R. C. A. Field Artillery, which would be quite inadequate for instructional purposes. An increase in the Establishment of the Field Artillery R. C. A., would therefore be required.

ROYAL MILITARY COLLEGE—KINGSTON.

(15.) I inspected the College upon the 24th October, and have great satisfaction in bringing to your favourable notice its excellent condition. Lieut.-Colonel Kitson and his staff deserve the highest credit for the good discipline and satisfactory standard of educational training which has been reached. The cadets are well clothed and comfortably housed. A high moral tone and esprit de corps has been fostered.

The students, since the present Commandant has assumed charge, have increased from 49 in 1895 to 74 in 1898. A similar increase in 1899 to that in 1898 may be anticipated, and the requisite accommodation is being prepared without addition to the existing buildings. This increase speaks for itself, and is an indication of the confidence which the present Commandant has created with the Canadian public.

The College has in the past, more especially during the last two years, supplied many able and well-trained officers to the Imperial Army, but the advantages of the excellent education given at the College have not been sufficiently utilized in supplying officers to the Staff and the Permanent Force of the Canadian Militia. This may, I trust, be rectified in the future. It may be assumed that the primary object of the maintenance of this college by the State is to turn out young gentlemen whose services could be utilized in the military service of Canada, and be available if required, as officers in the Reserve. It should, however, be borne constantly in mind by the Commandant and his Staff that the training given and the education imparted must be that which will also fit the students for becoming worthy and valuable citizens in all pursuits of life.

The useful surveys of the neighbourhood of Kingston and other districts which have been conducted for the instruction of the cadets during the last five years are now being prepared for publication, on a scale of 1 inch to a mile. The maps thus available will prove of much value.

It is proposed, in future to still further utilize the educational advantages presented by the College, and to institute a Course of Instruction in the duties of the General Staff for officers of the Canadian Militia. This course will partake of the character of the instruction given at the Staff College in England.

The Annual Report of the Commandant is submitted for your favourable consideration. (Appendix "A".)

Militia and Defence.

PART II.

PROPOSALS FOR THE CURRENT YEAR, 1899.

POSITION OF THE GENERAL OFFICER COMMANDING THE MILITIA.

(16.) The definition of the responsibilities and powers of the General Officer Commanding upon the lines indicated in Part III., para. 39, and Appendix "G" of this Report, is of primary importance.

CAMPS OF INSTRUCTION.

(17.) I beg to recommend, as essential to the efficiency of the troops under my command, that the whole of the Active Militia should be embodied for training during the current year. I attach the greatest importance to this embodiment being carried out, as far as may be by concentration at various central camps, where a regular system of company, regimental and brigade training can be carried out under proper supervision. The troops thus concentrated would be formed into Brigades and Divisions, with a properly constituted Staff, under my own personal command. The best officers available would be selected to command, and to fill the requisite Staff appointments. An opportunity would thus be afforded for giving practical instruction to those senior and responsible officers upon whom the command and administration of the troops would devolve in case of National Emergency. It is, moreover, of great importance that the opportunity should be given me of personally becoming acquainted with the efficiency and military value of all regiments and units under my command.

Relying upon the military instincts and zeal of the troops I propose to carry out a higher degree of training than in previous years, and during the last two days to include Tactical Instruction in which the city regiments shall be invited to take part.

In consequence of the short duration of the training, and the inadequate range accommodation it has hitherto been found impossible to give the necessary time and attention to musketry. In order to meet this difficulty I propose, as a provisional measure, to carry out individual rifle practice with special Morris Tube ammunition at miniature targets, and at miniature ranges. For this purpose small wooden targets and portable mantlets should be provided at small cost, and utilized at the different camps. By carrying out this system for Individual Firing and by adopting the same regularity, precision and exactitude as upon the regulation Ranges, very useful training can be given. When practicable, the existing ranges will be utilized for Mass Firing in the attack formation. An elementary knowledge of rifle practice can thus be taught in a minimum of time, and to the whole of the troops without additional cost. The system proposed is, however, to be regarded only as a temporary expedient to meet the existing difficulties of want of range accommodation.

The saving effected by substituting Morris Tube ammunition for Service ammunition will cover all the outlay required in targets, and portable mantlets, &c.

The period of training sanctioned by the Estimates of 1898-99 of twelve days is, for rural corps, admittedly inadequate, more especially for the Field Artillery and Cavalry. I trust that the training to be carried out during the summer and fall of 1900 may be for the increased period of sixteen days. I propose to submit the increased amount required for the Estimates.

A complete programme of the Field Training proposed for the year 1899 will be found in Appendix "E."

ANNUAL TRAINING PERMANENT FORCE.

(18) The difficulties under which the various units of the permanent force labour have been pointed out in Part I., paragraph 10. A proposed programme to meet the case will be found in Appendix "F", giving the periods of duration of each Course of Instruction at the various schools, and the dates of the Annual Training, etc., throughout the year.

The proposed arrangement will give the permanent troops the means to acquire a satisfactory knowledge of their duties under proper supervision, and will thus enable them to impart a better and a higher standard of training at the various schools.

I recommend most strongly that the concentration of the companies of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry for their Annual Training shall take place at Ottawa, where it will include the annual meeting of the Dominion Rifle Association, at which officers and men can be usefully and profitably employed.

I recommend that "B" Squadron Royal Canadian Dragoons be removed from Winnipeg in May next, and transferred temporarily to Kingston.

The two squadrons of the Royal Canadian Dragoons exist primarily for instructional purposes. "A" Squadron, quartered at Toronto, is insufficiently large to provide the instruction necessary for the whole of the cavalry and for the equitation courses in the Dominion. "B" Squadron is at present of little value in Winnipeg, where two squadrons of Manitoba Dragoons constitute the whole of the cavalry force. Its services are urgently required as an instructional cadre and nucleus for the cavalry brigade in the Province of Quebec. The squadron can be accommodated in existing barracks at Fort Henry, until barracks have been constructed for their permanent occupation at Montreal as recommended in Sec. 28.

In order to afford the requisite relief to the permanent corps, I propose to reduce the existing three months' "Officers' Course" at the various schools to two months, and to institute, in addition, a short or "Cadets' Course" of one month, which shall be carried out concurrently with the two months' "Officers' Courses". Officers undergoing the former will be expected to have mastered the elementary part of their drill before arrival, for which purpose the "Cadets' Course" is available. There will be no extra expense to the public by this re-adjustment.

MOUNTED RIFLES IN THE NORTH-WEST.

(19) I recommend that a regiment consisting of two battalions of Mounted Rifles should be raised in Manitoba and the North-west Provinces.

The instructional head-quarters of the regiment should be established at Winnipeg as soon as the squadron of Royal Canadian Dragoons has been transferred to Kingston. The population of the western provinces is rapidly increasing, and the resources of the prairie districts are peculiarly adapted to the creation of a most valuable force of mounted riflemen.

HALIFAX AND ESQUIMALT GARRISONS.

(20) The General Officer Commanding Her Majesty's troops in British North America has been pleased to promise his assistance in furthering the instruction of the Canadian troops allotted for the defence of Halifax and Esquimalt. It would be of the greatest benefit to the Canadian Militia Artillery to be placed for instructional purposes under the officers of the Royal Artillery, upon whom in time of war would devolve the responsibility of their command.

It has been arranged that the annual mobilization of the troops, and the manning of the forts at Halifax shall take place annually on the 1st of July in each year.

CREATION OF A CANADIAN GENERAL STAFF.

(21) There are not, at the present moment, any officers now serving in the Militia who have received practical or theoretical instruction in the higher duties of the general staff of an army in the field. It is necessary, as a primary condition of raising the Canadian militia to the level of a modern army that the nucleus of a trained general staff should be created.

Militia and Defence.

With the above objects in view, a Special Staff course has been arranged with your approval, to take place at the Royal Military College, under the direct supervision of the Commandant. Fourteen officers from the Permanent and Active Militia have been selected for this training. The first steps towards the creation of a trained and experienced staff will thus have been taken.

MONTREAL RIFLE RANGE.

(22) The Montreal District is, at present, without any rifle range. I need hardly point out that a rifle range is a matter of vital necessity for the military training of this very important District. The efficiency of the troops and the legitimate aspirations of those interested in rifle shooting as a branch of the National defence, merit your earnest and favourable consideration.

AN OFFICER OF THE ROYAL ARTILLERY TO COMMAND THE ROYAL CANADIAN ARTILLERY.

(23) The professional attainments in, and the technical knowledge of artillery as a science on the part of the officers of the Royal Canadian Artillery are insufficient for modern requirements. This is, as I have stated, in no way due to lack of zeal, but to the absence of opportunity and to the want of proper means.

The organization and administration of the artillery service, the effective supervision of modern armament, gun matériel and ammunition, require an artillery officer of the highest technical knowledge and experience.

The Schools of gunnery for garrison artillery at Quebec, and for field artillery at Kingston, are quite elementary, and are not equal to the instruction of the officers and non-commissioned officers of the Canadian Artillery generally in the science of modern gunnery.

At the present moment there is no officer of the Canadian Artillery who has had the technical and scientific training in Artillery to enable him to efficiently fulfil the above duties.

I recommend therefore, as an essential factor in the present and future efficiency of the artillery of the Dominion, that a specially selected field officer of the Royal Artillery (Lieut.-Colonel if possible) be appointed from the 1st May next to command the whole of the artillery for three years. This officer will be able to initiate a system of artillery command and administration upon modern lines which, at the termination of three years, our own Canadian Artillery Officers should be competent to carry on.

MESSING.

(24.) The greatest importance should be attached to the messing of the troops when concentrated and mobilized for training. An improvement might well be effected in this respect, which would materially conduce to the popularity of the force, to the contentment of the men and to improved discipline. I recommend that the system of messing recently adopted in England should be introduced, and that a limited number of marquees should be purchased and issued on loan to battalions as messing tents. Greater attention shall be paid to improving the cooking and regimental cooking places, &c. I especially recommend that the arrangement of the contracts for supplies, &c., be left entirely to the officers commanding the several military districts.

CLOTHING AND BOOTS.

(25) The serge frock has, with rural corps, been substituted for the tunic. It is most essential that two serges, one new and one part worn, should be available under company or regimental arrangement for each man. This system might be gradually carried into effect by granting a fresh issue after the second training.

It is a question which will merit careful consideration in the future if some especial emblem or Canadian characteristic should not form part of the Canadian uniform.

The quality of the boots in use by men at training has, in the past, been a fruitful source of irregularity and inefficiency. In accordance with existing regulations all militia men on joining are expected to provide themselves with serviceable boots. This rule in many cases is not observed, and the men do not provide themselves with satisfactory boots. I propose that those men, who on joining for training are found to be insufficiently booted, should be supplied with a pair of government ammunition boots at contract price, and that the amount for the same be charged against their pay. In order to meet this proposal a supply of government boots would be necessary at the various camps and points of concentration for training.

REGULATIONS

(26) The militia regulations for 1887 have been amended to date, and a limited number of copies will shortly be issued provisionally.

Regulations for clothing are urgently required. Uniform is issued in a spasmodic and irregular manner, so as to very seriously affect not only the efficiency but the very discipline of the troops concerned. There is nothing which directly affects the amour propre and, therefore, the esprit de corps of military units so seriously as an unsatisfactory supply of clothing. So long as the department which is charged with the custody and issue of clothing is under civil control no system which will satisfy military requirements from the point of efficiency as well as of discipline is practicable. The result is absence of military supervision and consequent irregularity. I earnestly invite your consideration to the necessity of the department charged with the maintenance and issue of clothing being transferred to the military department. I recommend that detailed clothing regulations be framed without delay.

Regulations for Dress are also required in greater detail.

I also recommend that Regulations for Pay and Allowances based upon those in force in the Imperial Service should be framed. At present there are no regulations governing the details of Pay and Allowances, which are, therefore, a constant source of correspondence, delay, and irregularity.

As soon as the necessary Regulations have been framed and approved I recommend that a Pay Department should be organized as part of the military command, which following the custom of all armies, will deal with the issue of pay, and petty disbursements under the Regulations. The Pay Department, as in the Imperial Service, would be responsible to the Finance Branch, and render an account periodically. The issue of the soldier's pay involves discipline and necessitates military supervision, and cannot be dis-associated from the military command.

OFFICERS TO ENGLAND.

(27) Following the excellent precedent of previous years, I recommend that selected officers shall be sent to England and attached for duty and for instruction so far as funds admit. Four selected Non-Commissioned Officers have been recommended to be sent to qualify as Instructors for the Army Medical Corps, which it is proposed to create.

BARRACKS AT MONTREAL.

(28) I desire to invite your attention to the necessity for making the important City of Montreal a permanent military centre. Montreal is, indisputably, the centre of commercial activity. It is also a strategical point of great importance in the long frontier line of the Dominion, due to its being the all-important railway centre, and to its dominant position at the head of the ocean navigation of the St. Lawrence. Having these points in view I recommend that arrangements be undertaken and that barracks be erected for the accommodation of a proportion of the Permanent Troops required for the instruction and training of the troops of the three arms in this portion of the Dominion.

Militia and Defence.

The necessity for a Squadron of the Dragoons at Montreal has already been urged in section 18 of this report. A company of the Garrison Artillery is similarly required as the nucleus and instructional cadre of the artillery defence of this important city.

I recommend that barrack accommodation be provided as follows:—

- One Squadron of Royal Canadian Dragoons.
- One Company of Garrison Division—Royal Canadian Artillery.
- One Company (Depot) Royal Canadian Infantry Regiment.

Quarters and accommodation, for the officers attending courses of instruction, stores for the troops allotted to the defence of this portion of the Dominion, and offices and quarters for the district staff, are also requisite. Gun sheds are also required for the movable armament allotted to the garrison artillery.

REGIMENTAL ARMS AND EQUIPMENT STORES, GUN SHEDS, ARMOURIES.

(29) It will not be practicable, in my opinion, without serious loss to the State, to proceed with the issue of the new arms and equipment to battalions which are not provided with suitable stores. The Lee-Enfield rifle is costly and requires care in its custody. The Oliver equipment is of brown leather, and will require to be most carefully looked after and attended to in this climate. The means at the disposal of officers commanding companies belonging to rural battalions are quite inadequate to the responsibility. This opinion is shared by all officers commanding military districts. It will be necessary, therefore, to provide a regimental arms and equipment store for each regiment. This can be done in two ways; either by adding to existing stores, or by building.

I recommend that this service should be carried out gradually and that as an instalment the sum of $30,000, be set aside in the estimates for 1899-1900. A rough estimate of the cost of a new Regimental Arms and Equipment Store, including headquarters offices, may be taken as ranging from $800 to $1,200, and of the necessary addition to existing stores from $600 to $800. The Regimental Arms and Equipment Store should provide storage not only for the Lee-Enfield rifles and Oliver equipment of each unit on its peace establishment, but also its war establishment. Storage for the additional regimental clothing to complete the units to war strength, and offices for the commanding officer, adjutant and quartermaster are also necessary.

The clothing for the companies on peace strength, together with the Kit bag, should be taken charge of, as at present, by the officers commanding companies, to which might possibly be added the waist-belts and haversacks.

In view of the re-equipment of field batteries which has taken place with the new 12 pr. B. L. gun, and having in regard the fact that the balance of the batteries will, shortly, be equipped with Q. F. pattern of the same weapon, it is essential that adequate storage in the shape of gun sheds for guns and harness rooms for harness should be completed. The modern type of gun is one which must inevitably suffer unless adequate steps are taken to meet this want. Suitable storage is also required for the saddlery, arms and equipment of some portion of the cavalry.

Accommodation for the stores of No. 1 Military District is urgently required at London, Ontario, as the lease of the present building expires in October next. I recommend that a store be constructed within the inclosure of Wolseley Barracks.

A store building No. 2 Military District is also required at Toronto, in place of the Old Fort, which, with its tumble-down wooden buildings is no longer adapted for the purpose, and which might, with advantage, be disposed of. I recommend that a store be constructed on government ground in proximity to Stanley Barracks.

New stores are required at Ottawa, towards the construction of which a certain sum is available. I recommend that the site be selected, and the details of construction be framed, having in view the future of Ottawa as a strategical military centre. The construction of suitable military headquarters, providing accommodation for the staff and heads of departments should also be considered.

Having in view the delay which must ensue before all infantry battalions in the Dominion can be provided with suitable regimental storage, I recommend that all the Lee-Enfield Rifles and Oliver Equipment required for each district be issued and stored in the District Stores. The rifles should be unpacked and stored, in arm racks, which in many cases, already exist. By this means the prompt issue of the new rifle can be carried out upon emergency arising, which otherwise, under existing circumstances, with the arms stored in boxes, etc., would involve a serious delay.

Suitable drill halls, or armouries, are also urgently required for several city battalions.

PURCHASE OF EQUIPMENT.

Field Artillery, Quick-firing guns.

(30) With reference to section 12, part I., of this report, there are still 9 field batteries which are equipped with the obsolete 9 pr. R.M.L. gun. I recommend that these batteries be gradually equipped with the latest pattern quick firing gun, about to be adopted into the imperial service, and that instructions be given for the guns now under order from the War Office to be of that pattern. It may be safely assumed that, in the course of two or three years a quick-firing armament will be universally adopted. The necessary sum for the provision of two additional batteries to those now under order should be debited to the special vote for equipment and matériel, of which a balance still remains unexpended, so as to enable a further order for quick-firing armament to be forwarded to the War Office.

Camp Equipment.

Having in view the fact that, except tents and blankets, there is, at present, insufficient camp equipment available, I beg to recommend that the articles required to complete two infantry divisions and one cavalry brigade, in accordance with tables 57 and 61, War Establishments, 1898, shall be provided.

Medical Staff Equipment.

I attach the greatest importance to the organization of an Army Medical Service, and recommend as a commencement that a complete medical equipment for four bearer companies should be purchased together with a limited number of ambulances. This equipment, when purchased, will be available for instructional purposes, and the organization of Bearer Companies can then be proceeded with.

Band.

I beg to recommend the re-organization of the Band of the Royal Canadian Artillery. I have submitted, for your approval a small addition to the estimates, so as to provide sufficient remuneration to secure the services of a highly qualified band-master, and to provide the necessary band instruments.

A good permanent military band is much required, which should form a Military School of Music for improving the existing militia bands. Its services should be available for purposes of state, and for public occasions at Ottawa, and other Cities in the Dominion.

YUKON FORCE.

(31) I trust that the Detachment of Permanent Troops now on duty in the Yukon District, may be permitted to return to duty with their respective corps in the early summer. It is satisfactory to know that the services of the troops have proved valuable but in the event of its being considered advisable to retain the whole or any portion of the Force, I request that a corresponding increase in the Establishment of the Permanent Corps may be approved. With the reduced number of Permanent troops now available, it is found to be impossible to satisfactorily carry out the instructional system for officers and N. C. officers of the Active Militia at the various Schools of Instruction. It is even difficult to carry out the ordinary routine duties appertaining to troops in barracks. I have already represented that officers and men at the various schools of instruction are overworked.

Militia and Defence.

In the event of it not being found possible to relieve this detachment of its present duties, I propose to recommend for your consideration that an increased establishment shall be sanctioned.

There are now serving with the Yukon Field Force, 12 officers and 191 of other ranks, making a total of 203, or 24·4 per cent of the total establishment.

RECRUITING FOR THE IMPERIAL SERVICE.

(32) It has been proposed by the Imperial Government, that recruiting for the Prince of Wales' Leinster Regiment (Royal Canadians) shall be open to British subjects in the Dominion of Canada. Complete arrangements for carrying this out have been prepared, and will be published as soon as the final instructions and the requisite official forms have been received.

MILITIA ACT.

(33) The revision of the Militia Act of 1886, has been constantly urged. The Militia, originally formed as a supplement to Her Majesty's Regular Army garrisoning Canada, has now become the military force charged with the responsibility of National Defence. An amendment of the Act upon these lines is required.

RETIREMENT SCHEME FOR OFFICERS OF THE STAFF AND PERMANENT FORCE.

(34) A system for conferring pecuniary consideration upon officers on their retirement from the service on account of age, physical incapacity, or other causes, has become a question which requires urgent attention.

It is universally recognized that it is not to the true interest of any State to abandon its public servants, be they soldiers or civilians, to want or poverty-stricken old age after having extracted from them years of faithful service.

The pay of the junior officers of the Staff and Permanent Force in Canada is on an average about equal to that of the Imperial Service, but the pay of the senior officers is less. Consequently the longer a Canadian officer serves, and the more experienced he becomes, the less relative pecuniary reward for his services does he receive. Officers in the Imperial army have, moreover, a fixed rate of pension or gratuity to look forward to, so that their position and prospects are in this respect far better than those of their comrades in Canada.

PART III.

GENERAL REPORT AND RECOMMENDATIONS DEALING WITH THE MILITARY SITUATION IN CANADA.

(35) I desire with all respect to bring forward, for your earnest consideration, the whole question of the military situation of Canada. I do so with a very deep and abiding sense of the responsibility which rests upon me, not only as the military head responsible to yourself and to the Government of Canada for the efficiency of the troops under my command, but with the even still greater feeling of responsibility as military adviser.

I propose, in the first place, to bring to your notice the present condition of the military forces of the Dominion: in the second place, to invite you to consider the principles which govern the defence of Canada, and upon which the solid structure of future military organization must be based: in the third place, to submit the changes which are necessary in order to carry out those principles in a manner which shall be worthy of the Canadian nation, and consistent with the grave responsibilities which rest with her Troops.

PRESENT CONDITION OF THE MILITARY FORCES OF THE DOMINION.

(36) The existing condition of the military forces of the Dominion can only be characterized as unsatisfactory in the extreme. The troops themselves generally are endowed with a profound patriotism, gifted with an excellent physique, and enfolded with that zeal and aptitude for military service which is an historical attribute of the Canadian people. The Canadian Militia consists of a number of small units of cavalry, artillery and infantry of varying strength, and of a very varying condition of discipline and efficiency. Valuable as such a force may be in the fighting qualities of its personnel, it is useless for military purposes in the absence of a trained general Staff, in the absence of administrative departments, and in the absence of an adequate supply of those stores of arms, ammunition and equipment which are indispensable to the maintenance of an armed force intended for military operations. The militia force of Canada is not under the existing system, an army, in its true sense: it is but a collection of military units without cohesion, without staff, and without those military departments by which an army is moved, fed, or ministered to in sickness.

Absence of a Trained General Staff.

There are no officers of the Canadian Militia who have received training in the higher functions and responsibilities of the general staff of an army. I need hardly remark that it is the staff which constitutes the brains and motive power of an army.

The initial step to fulfil this want has been taken by your recent approval of the necessary expenditure connected with the staff course already alluded to, but the creation of a general staff, whose members shall be able to discharge with the requisite efficiency their duties as organizers and instructors in peace, and as leaders in war, can only be encompassed after a lengthened period of theoretical and practical training.

Absence of Administrative Departments and Corps of Engineers.

There are no military administrative departments at present in existence. With a view to more particularly inviting attention to the importance of this matter, it is as well to enumerate those departments, and to state their functions, which are:—

1. Army Service Corps, charged with the supply of food and forage, and the transport of military stores, of supplies, of baggage and of the sick.

Militia and Defence.

2. Ordnance Store Corps, charged with the military custody, maintenance and issue to the troops of equipment, ammunition, guns and warlike stores of all kinds.

3. Army Medical Corps, charged with the care of sick and wounded.

4. Army Pay Department, charged with the issue of pay and petty disbursements under the regulations in time of peace, and the custody of the military chest and the issue of the requisite funds, in time of war.

5. Corps of Engineers. Although not strictly an administrative department it may be here observed that no Corps of Engineers, exists. There are two weak independent companies of engineers who are partially provided with equipment. There are, not however, in Canada any of those stores which are included in the requirements of an engineer field park. A corps of engineers which shall include field companies, a bridging section, and a military telegraph section, is an indispensable adjunct to all armies intended for active operations.

Absence of sufficient Stores, Arms, Ammunition, etc., and Clothing.

With the exception of blankets and tents there are not sufficient stores to enable a military force of any size to be placed in the field. A reserve of arms and ammunition is required, based upon the recognized scale. The custody, maintenance and issue of all warlike stores and military equipment is in the hands of a civil department. The anomaly of placing in the hands of civilians the custody of military stores has already been pointed out. A system which removes from the knowledge and supervision of a general in responsible military command all those stores which have been provided by the Government for the use and efficiency of the troops under his command, will, I trust, be amended. The difficulty can be met without extra expense by converting the existing civil department into an Ordnance Store Corps which could then adopt the War Office regulations for the custody and maintenance of stores, etc., and be under military supervision. There are no stores of reserve clothing.

Impossibility to organize Departments and purchase Stores at short notice.

The military administrative departments enumerated above would be required at the very outset of the preparations in the event of a national emergency, and it is absolutely impossible to organize them at short notice.

These departments, from their technical character, require a most thorough knowledge on the part of the personnel if they are to fulfil their indispensable functions efficiently. It would be unreasonable to expect that officers and men could be capable of at once performing the very responsible administrative duties which only careful preparation by previous training could fit them to discharge with any hope of success.

Inadequate Standard of Military Efficiency.

I am not in a position to report fully upon the standard of military proficiency attained by the whole of the troops under my command.

The fact, however, that the training of rural battalions has in the past been spasmodic and uncertain renders the efficiency generally of the whole of the militia an undetermined factor of defence. Until the training of the rural troops is an annual fixture it would be folly to suppose that the militia of Canada as a whole can attain any satisfactory standard of military knowledge, or be reckoned upon as a solid and dependable military force.

The period of twelve days allowed for training of all arms is all too inadequate for infantry, but, when it is attempted to condense into this short period, which amounts, after deducting a Sunday and the days of arrival and departure, to nine working days, the training required for cavalry and field artillery, it needs no argument to show that the military value of troops thus trained cannot be of a high order.

The insufficient range accommodation at the various camps of exercise has, hitherto, prevented the troops from receiving anything but a very hurried and irregular course of musketry instruction and rifle practice during the period of their annual training. The provisional arrangement for the training in 1899, which I have submitted in Part II., Sec. 17, will, I hope, to a certain extent ameliorate this difficulty.

PRINCIPLES GOVERNING THE DEFENCE OF CANADA.

(37) It may be assumed that two factors govern the future organization and administration of a Canadian Army, viz. :—

(a.) The defence of Canadian soil.

(b.) The power to participate in the defence of the British Empire.

It is justly claimed for Canada that she is now a nation. In establishing this claim it must equally be accepted that with her birth as a nation are indisputably born the responsibilities of self defence. The defence of its own territory is the primary duty of a state. It would, indeed, be hardly consistent with the development of Canada as a young and vigorous nation if she were to abrogate her responsibility, or, in the robust period of her national youth rely upon the strong arm of the mother country to supply that which her own sons are so eager and willing to undertake. Canada is, moreover, a part of that larger empire which has given her birth, and it is the pride of Canada that in the past, whenever British or Imperial interests have been threatened, she has been the first to offer her assistance. If public opinion has been rightly judged there is, at the present time, a universally held determination to uphold at all costs the integrity of the empire, and at all hazards to maintain its interests against hostile aggression or foreign interference.

(a.) For the defence of Canadian soil there are two essentials, viz. :—

Garrison Troops for the protection of certain pre-determined strategical centres.

Field Troops for the active operations which are of primary importance in the defence of an extended frontier.

It is not necessary that the Troops for Garrison duty should be mobile. Field Troops however must be not only well trained, carefully organized, and thoroughly equipped in all respects, but must also be ready for active operations in the Field at the shortest notice. It is troops of the latter description which have been in the past, and would in the future be the determining element in the early issue of a campaign in Canada.

As a most important element in the defence of Canada, I cannot but impress the necessity of the naval defence of Lakes Erie and Ontario. The Militia Act of 1886 contemplated the formation of a Naval Militia Brigade, and I strongly recommend that steps should be taken with that intention. Training ships with an instructional staff might be obtained from the Admiralty. I feel sure that the formation of such a force would be productive of most valuable results, not only as a strong and most important element of defence, but as a means of educating the seafaring population, and of improving the shipping interests of the inland waters of Canada.

(b.) For the power to participate in the defence of the British Empire it will be obvious that the Field Troops above alluded to could be made quickly and readily available. Active operations could thus be undertaken conjointly with other British troops in whatever part of the Empire it might be the desire of Canada to employ them.

3rd.

CHANGES NECESSARY IN ORDER TO CREATE A CANADIAN ARMY.

(38) The following changes are required in order to carry out the principles indicated in Para. 38, viz. :—

(1.) The position of the general officer in military command to be amended.

(2.) The creation of the existing militia force into an army complete in staff, in administrative departments and in all the important elements which constitute a modern army.

(3.) The provision of military stores and buildings for their custody.

Militia and Defence.

(1.) Position of the General Officer Commanding the Militia.

The responsibilities of the General Officer in command of the Militia are laid down in the Militia Act of 1836, as those of "Military Command." Military Command is defined by the Queen's Regulations and Orders which are equally binding in Canada as elsewhere in the absence of other local legislation, (Militia Act, sec. 82). It is essential that these responsibilities, which are clearly indicated in Section 2 and Appendix I, Queen's Regulations, 1895, should be made clear and definite. The necessity for this step has been frequently urged, and the absence of a clear definition of these duties has been a fruitful cause of difficulty and friction between the Military and Civil Branches of the Militia Department. The Civil Branch has usurped many of the functions of the Military Command, thus reducing the powers of the General in Command, while leaving him his responsibilities as the military head under, and as the military adviser to the Minister of Defence.

If any system of sound military administration is to replace that which exists it can only be by placing in the hands of the General Officer Commanding his legitimate military functions.

In Appendix "G" will be found the responsibilities which, in accordance with Queen's Regulations, are recommended as consistent with the position of the General Officer Commanding and the Deputy Minister, in their relation to the Minister of Militia and Defence.

(2.) Creation of a Militia Army for Canada.

Under the existing circumstances any considerable increase to the present strength of the Militia Force is inadvisable, but I wish most strongly to urge that a complete though gradual change should be effected in the organization and administration of the whole Force, so as to conform to the requirements of the principles which I have ventured to submit. This change can be effected with comparatively small increase to the yearly Budget. It will be time enough to consider whether an increase of the troops is necessary, when the present military situation in Canada has been made to approximate to modern military requirements.

The difficulties incidental to the transformation of the existing Militia Force into a Militia Army need not be great.

The creation of the necessary administrative departments indicated in Sec. (36) does not present any serious difficulty. The system existing in Switzerland for the organization of these departments might be adopted with advantage. I would instance, as an illustration, the Army Service Corps. This all important department consists of two separate branches, viz. :—Supply and Transport. The Officers and personnel required for the Supply Branch might, with the greatest advantage, be recruited from those citizens whose civil occupations associate them with similar vocations in ordinary life. Similarly, the personnel of the Transport Service would be recruited from those whose civil occupation is concerned with transport by rail, land or water. The personnel required for each branch is not large, as the detail work of supply of food and forage, and the work of transport would be largely, if not entirely, performed by contract, and the military staff would be only concerned in the direction and military supervision of the contract system. This is the method adopted in most of the colonies of the Empire, and has been usual in many of our recent campaigns. It will be observed that the difficulties of organizing this department are more those of organization, administration and of military training than of a large expenditure of public money.

As with this department, so with the Ordnance Store Corps, and Pay Department. The Army Medical Corps and the Corps of Engineers would alone necessitate the organisation of a considerable personnel and the purchase of a suitable equipment. It may well be arranged for the conversion of some of the existing units into the personnel required for these two indispensable departments, and thus save the additional expense which an increase in the existing militia establishments would otherwise entail.

It is impracticable to attempt any form of administration which can be applicable on mobilization for war unless the existing small units of varying size are increased in numerical strength and made up to a uniform establishment. Regiments of cavalry, batteries of artillery, and battalions of infantry must necessarily be of uniform strength. This change might well be carried out gradually, and existing battalions, weak and varying in size as they are, might at first be combined into provisional regiments without interfering with their present identity, having a fixed peace establishment which would, as required, be increased to a predetermined war establishment. The units thus organized could then be combined into brigades and divisions. The Staff Officers would be apportioned, and the proportionate quota of administrative departments detailed. The War Office manuals, lists of stores, mobilization tables, etc., could then be utilized.

(3) The provision of military stores, and buildings.

It is indispensable that the existing want of the necessary stores should be rectified, but this might be gradually carried out as the creation of the army progressed.

CONCLUSION.

(39) It would be necessary for the troops comprising an army thus created, to be trained annually and for fixed periods, if they are to possess any real military value.

Success in modern war, whether in defensive or in offensive-defensive operations, can only be ensured by deliberate slow organization during peace. History and modern facts alike testify that men only, no matter how brave and no matter how deeply endowed with military qualities, are powerless to oppose an army which has, in times of peace, been perfected by measured organization and matured by scientific preparation for war.

Some interesting facts are given in Appendix "H," as regards the expenditure upon military defence, which is undertaken by foreign nations, by Great Britain and by her self-governing colonies. It will be of interest to note that the Canadian people, who have a frontier of 3,260 miles, contiguous to a foreign State, pay less per head of its population towards the defence of its own soil than any other country in the world. It has been estimated that exclusive of capital expenditure upon guns, stores, etc., an expenditure of $1,650,000, or 33 cents per head of the population would be sufficient for the requirements of the force proposed in paragraph 39 (2) during the next financial year. This will be an increase of $130,000 upon the estimates of 1897-98.

A comparison of the military expenditure with that of other self governing colonies of the Empire will make it apparent that the annual outlay of $2,000,000 upon her defences will be the lowest expenditure to expect of the Dominion in the near future with its vast resources, its increasing wealth, and its ever widening responsibilities.

The creation of a Militia army upon the lines indicated will transform the existing militia units into a Military Force, which shall in some degree at least be worthy of the Canadian nation, and be equal to maintaining the rights and liberties of the Canadian people. It will be, in its true sense, a National Army, and will, as such, be able not only to defend inviolate the integrity of Canadian soil, but it will be capable of contributing to the military defence of the British Empire in a manner and with a power which will place Canada in a position of unparalleled dignity and influence among all the possessions of the Crown.

I have the honour to be,

Sir,

Your obedient servant,

EDWARD T. H. HUTTON, Major General,
A.D.C. to Her Majesty The Queen, Commanding Canadian Militia.

OTTAWA, 1st January, 1899.

Militia and Defence.

APPENDIX A.

REPORT OF COMMANDANT R. M. C.

To the General Officer Commanding the Canadian Militia, President Royal Military College.

KINGSTON, ONT., October 22nd, 1898.

SIR,—I have the honour to forward my annual report on the Royal Military College for the year 1898.

(1.) At the commencement of the year 1898, there were fifty-seven cadets in residence. Of these :

Two were granted commissions in February.

Three were withdrawn at the request of their fathers.

Eight graduated in June.

One extra commission was granted to a cadet of the second class.

One failed at the midsummer examination and was withdrawn from the College, leaving forty-two old cadets. A new class of thirty-two joined in September, thus bringing the strength of the College at present up to seventy-four.

(2.) Only eight officers of the militia attended the long course, of whom four obtained first class certificates and one failed to qualify.

With one exception these militia officers were quite young men, anxious for a training to enable them to get into the Imperial Service, or to qualify for the permanent corps.

I do not consider that these young officers are those for whom this course was founded, and should be very glad if you could see your way to induce more senior officers, whose training would be of service to the Canadian Militia, to come to the College.

(3.) In addition, one officer and four non-commissioned officers of the Charlottetown Company of Engineers were put through a special course of military engineering for one month in the spring. The results of this training are reported to me to have been most beneficial, and the company's improvement at this year's inspection was very noticeable.

(4.) During the midsummer vacation, a party of nine cadets, under the superintendence of Capt. Twining, R.E., were employed on a reconnaissance and military survey of the country between London and Port Stanley, and the Detroit and St. Clair River frontiers.

(5.) Under the sanction of the General Officer Commanding the Militia, seventeen cadets were attached to the Militia Regiments in Camp, twelve to the Kingston Camp, three to Niagara, and two to Sussex.

This duty is now considered an obligatory part of the College training, and is most beneficial to the cadets. Every endeavour was made to train them to be good Squad and Company Instructors, and in all these instances their services were highly spoken of by the Officers Commanding the Camps, as being of great use to the militia. I hope that twenty-eight cadets will be available for this service next June.

(6.) With the permission of the Minister of Militia, a party of thirty-two cadets under Capt. Lesslie, R.E., took part in the Toronto Military Tournament, giving an exhibition of rapid marching and free gymnastics, similar to the display given by the Aldershot Gymnastic Staff at the Military Tournament in London. Col. Otter, the President of the Tournament, subsequently wrote to me as follows :—

“I am desired by the Tournament Committee to thank the cadets for their most excellent and interesting display, it was without doubt the feature of the Tournament.”

(7.) On the invitation of Mr. E. W. Rathbun, the cadets of the first and second classes were able to visit his extensive works at Deseronto, an object lesson of great value to them.

(8.) With the permission of the Minister of Militia, I was able to accept the kind invitation of the Dean of McGill University to show the cadets of the first class over the magnificent workshops of that institution. The cadets actually saw performed and were allowed to assist at, “The testing of materials of construction, such as iron and steel bars, and heavy timber beams. Observations on flow of water over weirs, and through orifices, and the determination of hydraulic coefficients, the taking of indicator diagrams, and the determination of indicated and brake horse power.”

(9.) The behaviour of the cadets during the past year has been exemplary.

(10.) Now that the numbers of the College have been so greatly increased, a large Infantry and Artillery Drill Shed is much wanted at the College. The plans were submitted to the Chief Engineer, Militia Department, last year, but the money was not voted.

(11.) The midsummer examinations may be described as satisfactory. The outside examiners, in all instances, were pleased with the work done by the cadets, though in many instances a want of practical application of the work learnt was complained of. Owing to the long winter, the time available for outdoor training is much curtailed, but every effort is now being taken, especially during the fall of the year, to get the cadets as much out of door training as possible.

In the 1st class all the cadets obtained their Diplomas, Co. Sergt. Major Denison being distinguished in every subject. Three of the class obtained the “Diploma with honours.”

The following cadets were gazetted to commissions in the Imperial Army during the year :—

February 29th.—Royal Artillery :—Co. Sergt. Major A. C. H. Dean and Sergt. A. E. Smith.

August 10.—Indian Staff Corps :—Battn. Sergt. Major F. F. Hunter.

Bedfordshire Regiment :—Sergt. G. H. Rogers.

Lancashire Fusiliers :—Corpl. H. R. Payzant.

September 13th.—Royal Engineers :—Co. Sergt. Major G. W. Denison.

Royal Artillery :—Cadet H. St. G. Hamersley.

Two commissions in the Permanent Corps were offered to the Cadets, but were not accepted.

In addition to the above-mentioned officers, the following cadets graduated from the College :—

Co. Sergt. Major L. Sherwood.

do A. C. Caldwell.

Corpl. J. F. O'Connor.

Cadet W. B. Kingsmill.

In the 2nd class one cadet failed to qualify and has been withdrawn from the College.

In the 3rd class four cadets failed to qualify and dropped into the recruit class under para. 57 (1) “Regulations for the Royal Military College.”

Militia and Defence.

In all subjects, examiners were selected who had had nothing to do with the instruction of the cadets in the subjects they examined in.

The remarks of the examiners are given in the appendix.

I have the honor to be, sir,

Your most obedient servant,

G. C. KITSON, Lt.-Colonel,
Commandant Royal Military College.

REMARKS OF THE EXAMINERS ON THE EXAMINATION, JUNE, 1898.

MILITARY SUBJECTS.

MILITARY SURVEYING AND RECONNAISSANCE.

Very satisfactory.—The sketches were neat and fairly accurate, and a good knowledge of the general principles of reconnaissance was shown. In the application of these principles, however, the results of the oral examination on the ground were feeble.

TACTICS.

Book work thoroughly well got up, but the actual handling of a company in the field was, in many instances, very feeble.

MILITARY ENGINEERING.

1st class.—The results of the examination are satisfactory, the per centage of marks averaging 57 per-cent. Every candidate attempted every question, and all were equally well answered.

2nd class.—The paper set was a hard one requiring much thought. The result of the examination is satisfactory and shows a good general knowledge.

3rd class.—The papers as a rule are good and show that the practical work has been well taught.

ARTILLERY.

I considered the results very satisfactory. In this subject there were no failures.

CIVIL SUBJECTS.

CIVIL ENGINEERING.

I consider the work of the cadets on the whole very good. There is certainly a marked difference in the character of the work from that done last year. Of course the effects of a transition from one course to another can be observed, but the cadets show a good knowledge of the fundamental principles underlying civil engineering and in some cases the work is fully entitled to honours.

CIVIL SURVEYING.

The class does not seem to have had that practical experience of astronomical work, which is essential to a thorough understanding of the subject.

MATHEMATICS.

I do not think that better results can be obtained with students from the secondary schools of Canada, and in the time devoted to mathematics by the cadets of the Royal Military College. At the same time, while the marks are in several cases exceptionally high and the general average extremely good, I am led to think that a few students are entirely out of place in the college, and I trust that these results will be of some service to you in ridding the institution of a few men who are not likely to be a credit to it.

(Note by Commandant, R.M.C.—One cadet in the 2nd class has been discharged and four in the 3rd class dropped a term.)

PHYSICS.

All the papers were fully worthy of passing, and one or two showed quite special excellence. The work in Heat was fuller and stronger than in Electricity, and I desire to lay stress on the importance of practical work, however elementary.†

CHEMISTRY.

The answering is fair, and I think all the men, except one, should pass.

FRENCH.

The marks obtained by the candidates tend to reflect credit on the teaching of the institution, and on the application of the candidates examined.

ENGLISH.

The candidates gave very satisfactory answers to the questions set, but there is an evident lack of knowledge of orthography.

There is a general complaint of bad spelling among the examiners.

PRACTICAL GEOMETRY.

3rd. Class.—Paper on the whole very well answered, except in one instance. The average of the class was 56 per cent.

DESCRIPTIVE GEOMETRY.

Papers fairly satisfactory. The average of the class was nearly 50 per cent.
