CHARGED WITH VIOLATION OF THE GAME ACT

William Francis Slade and William Townshend, both of Grand Pre, were Monday apprehended by one of the Federal Game Officers at Evangeline Beach, for violation of the Migratory Birds Convention Act. These young men, it is alleged were killing small sandpipers which are commonly called "peep" and which are protected continuously until January 1st, 1928, (in other words a closed season until then.) The birds which they had in their possession were seized together with the guns which they were using. One of the guns was a valuable Ithaca hammerless, said to be worth $100. Their cases will be heard in Wolfville in the near future. This should serve as a warning to all gunmen to acquaint themselves as to what birds may be legally taken in open season.

Hydro-Electric System

Work Now Going on That Will Make Success Assured

Messrs. Wright and Jodrey, the enterprising promoters and owners of the Gaspereau Light and Power Company, have been up against hard luck during the present and past summers. The unprecedented small rainfall has kept the water supply low and it has been with great difficulty that they have been able to carry on. In face of the adverse conditions which have prevailed the courage and perseverance of the men in charge have prevailed and they have been able to learn that their project of developing hydro-electric power is not likely to fail by any means. For some time negotiations have been going on with the Halifax Tram Co. to arrange for further utilizing the Gaspereau and Aylesford Lakes for the storing of water to tide over such a season as we are now passing through. Last year a temporary dam at the foot of the Gaspereau Lake supplied sufficient storage to meet the needs of an ordinary season and this has greatly augmented the head of water during the present summer. This week the terms were satisfactorily arranged and the work is now in progress by a force of men under the direction of Messrs. Welton and O'Leary, two men well versed in such operations. Although late for this season the erection of the necessary dams will make safe the future supply of water-power and allow of a wider development of the system of electric lighting which already extends over a large section of the country.

SUNDAY-NIGHT'S MASS MEETING

The meeting held at the Opera House last Sunday evening proved to be in every particular an unqualified success. At 8 o'clock, when the chair was taken by Mayor Fitch, practically every seat in the building was occupied. Rev. H. F. Laflamme, leader of the New York City Federation of Churches, had the whole charge of the exercises, and after reading the scripture lesson and offering prayer, made an earnest appeal for financial assistance to the G. W. V. A. in their efforts to provide a fitting memorial to Wolfville's sons who fell in the Great War. Pledges were circulated and a collection was taken, about two hundred dollars being received toward that end.

The theme of the speaker's address was "Fight the good fight", and in an eloquent and earnest appeal he pleaded for mobilization of all the moral forces in order to bring about the reconstruction which the world today needs—the cause for which the boys suffered the horrors of war and sacrificed their lives. Let those who survive make sure that such suffering and sacrifice shall not have been in vain.

Mr. A. J. Mason, who freely gave the use of the Opera House for the occasion, also gave a well rendered solo and was accompanied by Miss Lina Tufts. A quartette composed of Messrs. Mason, Rand, Stackhouse and Angus, accompanied by Mr. H. P. Davidson at the piano, rendered "The Wayside Cross" with pleasing effect.

St. Charles Church

The gathering of French Acadians at Grand Pre on Thursday last on the ground sacred to them of the original church of St. Charles of the pre-expulsion period and the site of the proposed new church, would be a touching episode in the history of any people. This was the first time in one hundred and sixty years that the Acadians met in a spot, which above all others in Acadia connects with these most hallowed associations. Then a persecuted people, forced from their homes by the cruel exigencies of war and scattered in towns along the Atlantic coast, where they received a not too friendly welcome—today, how different their position. Side by side with the Anglo-Saxon they are fulfilling their full share of the industrial and commercial work and the political functions of the country. They have won their way into the highest and most honored positions of a state whose glory it is that all affairs and dignities are open to the most humble citizen and where no man's race or religion is any bar to his advancement. It is the duty of the Acadian and Bluenose alike to maintain and perpetuate rights won by ages of struggle and fields gory with blood.

Any one who attempts to trace the source of Acadian growth and power today will have to attribute them largely to Acadian women. Their domestic virtues are a glory to the race. Laborious and thrifty they have done their full share towards the upbuilding of the race. There is no race suicide—no divorce—that cancer in many localities is eating away the heart of the Anglo-Saxon.

In the revival of interest in Acadian affairs, some controversy may arise as to who was responsible for the expulsion—La Lawrence and Belcher on the one side and Lalouette and de Ramey on the other. There are fire eaters on both sides ready for a wordy conflict. We cannot but deplore any opening of old sores or renewal of old time conflicts, in the press or on the platform. To stir up National feelings or prejudices can do no good and may do much harm. We occupy a common country; we enjoy the same liberties; we maintain the same political institutions. Much is to be gained by peace and harmony; nothing by throwing in fire-brands of discord. There is nothing in the aims and aspirations of our people that are not shared by all citizens of this country. To which any Anglo-Saxon could not heartily subscribe, except perhaps the bilingual matter. Many of our foremost educationalists regard the introduction of French into our schools as most important. The movement is rapidly gaining headway and if not messed up in the political ring will be accomplished in good time.

It would be a happy consummation of the jealousies, misunderstandings, struggles and heart burnings of the past, if the people of this community who occupy the lands once owned by the Acadian farmers—were to substantially aid in the re-erection of a church, the architecture of which would beautify the grounds and which would exemplify the courage and faith of the Acadian people.

W. C. MILNER.

A SPLENDID CONCERT

The concerts given here in past years by Wadsworth Provandie and Marion Lina Tufts have all been greatly enjoyed by the people of Wolfville and the surrounding country, but none have been enjoyed more than the splendid recital given last evening at the Opera House, which was filled with a most enthusiastic and appreciative audience. Mr. Provandie's splendid baritone voice was heard to advantage in all his numbers and he was forced to respond to numerous encores. The old favorites, "Largo al Facotum" from The Barber of Seville, and the "Toreador Song" from Carmen, were loudly applauded.

Miss Tufts again captivated the audience with her playing. She is a most sympathetic pianist and her technique is marvellous. She also was forced to respond to numerous encores. An accompanist she excelled.

The recital was most enjoyable and these artists can be assured of always being warmly received by a Wolfville audience.

DEATH OF E. W. FOX

The death of a well known citizen, Mr. Enoch W. Fox, occurred at his home on Highland avenue last Saturday morning. The deceased was 63 years of age and a native of Hillsboro, N. B. He had resided in Wolfville for many years and was highly esteemed. He is survived by his widow, a daughter of the late J. B. Angus, to whom much sympathy is extended. The deceased was a member of the Methodist church and was a painter by occupation. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, the service being conducted by Rev. Mr. Watts, a former pastor, the interment being at Willow Bank.

MEMORIAL SERVICE AT TABER-NACLE

The Tabernacle was well filled on Sunday evening last on the occasion of the Memorial Service for the late Rev. Maynard P. Freeman, a warm friend and for many years a faithful worker in the Sunday-school and others services. Mr. C. A. Patriquin, the superintendent of the school, presided and made a short address. Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Roof and an appropriate portion of the scripture was read by Rev. D. W. Crandall. Rev. Dr. Gates gave a most impressive address in which he paid a most eloquent tribute to the departed. Other speakers were Rev. C. H. Martell and Rev. D. W. Crandall, long associated with him in the work of the Baptist ministry; Rev. R. F. Dixon, who spoke of the pleasant associations he had enjoyed with the deceased since coming to Wolfville, and Mr. B. O. Davidson, who spoke fittingly of Rev. Mr. Freeman's zeal for the cause of Temperance and the high place he held in the order of the Sons of Temperance. During the exercise a number of favorite hymns were sung and the program was enlivened by the rendition of several well given vocal duets by the Misses Roof, with mandolin accompaniment.

THE FOE OF LIBERTY.

I am not temperamentally in favor of prohibition. I have an instinctive repugnance to the words "Thou shalt not," when coming from another source than the Creator and Sovereign Lord, all wise and all loving, who uses them only when they are necessary to the preservation of the order He has established. Therefore, if I support the total prohibition of the manufacture, sale and distribution of intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes, I do so because I regard these so employed as the worst enemies of everything good, and the most potent promoters of everything bad.

Wherever I have in my long experience found blasphemy, filth, moral and physical defiance of laws of God and man. I had no difficulty in the great majority of cases in finding the bottle at the root of the evil. The bottle is the deadliest foe of Christianity, of industry, of liberty.

On this point I wish to briefly dwell, because the opponents of prohibition are making Liberty their watchword. Liberty, God's noblest gift, source of all glory, we hail thee! Thy sacred name has often been invoked by scoundrels, but never by a more dastardly, and dishonest, and treacherous crew than those who wish to associate thee with thy deadliest foe, "Strong Drink."

—Rev. Father L. Minehan, P. P., Toronto.

From every township in the country it was reported that families who had received poor-relief for many years were able to support themselves because the head of the family was sober and felt inclined to work. Home life was happier. Tradesmen reported increased sales.

While thousands of labor saving machines are being invented in all lines of business, we don't see why someone doesn't invent one to write editorial squibs.

SHOULD MARRIED FOLK QUARREL?

A good quarrel, now and then, is said to clear the atmosphere of the home. Certainly an "understanding" between husband and wife, an exchange of points of view, is better than the cold indifference and silent suspicion which Folly and Anthony Bond sustained in their married life which is so powerfully pictured in the heart-stirring picture "THE FURNACE". No married man or woman, or young people looking forward to marriage should miss this drama at the Opera House next Friday and Saturday.

PRODUCTS GROWN IN CANADA

Products grown in Canada should be better advertised. When it comes to growing grains, fruits and vegetables, none better are grown than those produced in Canada. But there is something wrong when the States to the south find our market centres a profitable dumping ground for their surplus produce.

A splendid movement is abroad through which Canadian manufacturers will benefit. Farmers are urged to purchase implements and other necessities that are manufactured in their own country, which is perfectly right and proper. But why not go a little farther and include in the same campaign a movement educating the housewives of Canadian manufacturers and others to give preference in purchasing the farmers' products also. It would appear that such a movement would be entirely consistent.

The past year has seen the importation of more than $64,000,000 worth of produce into the market centres of the Dominion, in excess of exportations. There is something wrong here, when we realize that Canada is an agricultural country.

The Canadian people are loyal to their own country. They are progressive and alert, courteous and contented, but greatly lacking in understanding of those cardinal principles of loyalty to one another when it comes to trade. They are too easy going for their own welfare in this respect, with that neighborly spirit of "live and let live" prevalent everywhere. But the time is at hand when a change must come, if we are to get ahead and no better way can be devised than through educational channels. Advertising our products will do the business in less time than any other means.

If a man hasn't anything but a long line of excuses, people soon lose interest in his samples.

SAD ACCIDENT AT PORT WILLIAMS

On Tuesday morning, August 16th, Port Williams was truly saddened and shocked when the news quickly spread, by word of mouth and old, as well as over the telephone, that little Frankie Fraser had been instantly killed. He was the second child of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Fraser, of this place, Mrs. Fraser being a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser, of Greenwich. A large two horse sloop wagon, owned by Mr. George Gates and driven by one of his men, was drawing sand from the pit on Belcher Street. Frankie and his little brother Ivan, aged three and four and a half years respectively, knowing the driver ran in and asked their mother if they could go on the team with him, they received the desired permission, the mother not thinking of accidents, they having been on the teams before. It seems on the return trip, Ivan was holding to end of wagon and playing along, little Frankie on the load and it is supposed he stood up in the attempt to get back with his little brother, as each wanted to do whatever the other did. He fell over the side to the ground, the back wheel crushing the back part of his head, death being instantaneous. The driver immediately stopped the horses who were walking and at once gathered little Frankie and Ivan up in his arms and springing to his seat, ran the horses in to the Port. In his shocked state he had enough presence of mind to carry little Frankie into his own home nearby, not to the child's mother at once. He then rushed to the factory to tell the father the sad news. The poor mother first heard of it from her little son Ivan, who ran in, his little face pale and blood on him from the close contact with his little brother in the driver's arms, saying "Mamma Frankie is dead". The two little boys were constantly together and often called twins being so near of a size. Everyone noticed them and they were often seen passing through the Village hand in hand, or arms around each others necks, going to meet "Daddy", or to the home of their aunt, Mrs. George Gates. Frankie was a lovable and pretty child and is sadly missed. The young parents are nearly heart broken in this their first great sorrow. Besides little Ivan, they have a little daughter, Velma, a year and a half old, left to help comfort them. The funeral was held Wednesday afternoon, being largely attended. It was conducted by Rev. O. N. Chipman who spoke nicely from the words of David, "I shall go to him, but he shall not return to me", 2nd Samuel, 12:23. The three hymns, Rock of Ages, Safe in the Arms of Jesus, and Someday we'll understand, were beautifully sung by Mrs. O. G. Cogswell, Miss Thelma Gates and Mr. Bordman Lantz. Flowers in great abundance were given, many beautiful pieces being from near relatives, as well as two lovely pieces from the "Loyal Workers", a class in the Baptist Sunday school, of which the mother is a member; also quantities of lovely cut flowers from friends as well as little bunches of flowers from many of little Frankie's playmates. One that was especially touching was a little bunch, from one of his little playmates, picked from his little garden and fixed by himself, who took it to the home asking with tears in his eyes, that it might be laid on Frankie. The sympathy of the entire countryside is extended to the bereaved parents. A large procession of relatives and friends followed little Frankie to his last resting place in Willow Bank Cemetery, Wolfville. —Contributed.

DRIVING AWAY GLOOMS

The "gloom-bug" which has infected the mind and heart and very soul of the pessimist for years and years is sure to be destroyed if Mack Sennett, the comedy king, has his way. He has been spending the better part of his "young life" finding ways and means by which this infection can be destroyed and with each of his big special productions his doses come nearer and nearer. The real "gloom" dispeller is at last found in his latest five reeler, "Down on the Farm" which is released by United Artists and will be at the Wolfville Opera House on Monday and Tuesday, Sennett, when he first began to find the remedy in despair for he found that most people were pessimists, but he has gradually wormed his ideas of laugh into their beings that he now has a following that numbers more than thirty millions and with each getting at least a thousand laughs out of his latest sensational comedy, the thirty billion laughs should have at least some effect on the populace.

GREENWICH ITEMS

GREENWICH, August 23rd.—We notice Murray Forsythe in soldiers uniform, on horse back. He is in training at Aldershot, in "The Kings Nova Scotia Mounted Rifles", (6th C.M.R. Batt. C.E.F.) who went into camp on Tuesday of this week. George Chase, Port Williams, a returned soldier, is a Major on duty there.

Mr. and Mrs. Burpee Bishop, with their sons Robert and Maurice, spent the week-end, a week ago at Bedford, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cobb, the former, Mrs. Bishop's brother. Little Miss Charlotte Cobb, came home with them visiting them a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bishop, with four children, also Mr. Leslie Bishop, returned last Tuesday from an outing of several days, in their new auto, around the South Shore, going through to Yarmouth first. The trip was much enjoyed. Several of the relatives in this place attended the Bishop-DeWolfe wedding in Wolfville, last Tuesday.

Mrs. A. K. Forsythe entertained the young people at her home last Tuesday evening. "The best time ever" was the verdict of a pleasant evening.

Mr. Charlie Fenwick recently left on one of the excursions for the great North-West. All success to him.

Miss Bertha Fraser who has spent several years in the Canadian West, returned home recently, for a visit, receiving a cordial welcome from relatives and many friends. She is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Fraser, but this home, in the midst of their gladness in having Miss Bertha home again, received a sudden and very sad shock on Tuesday morning last week when they got the sorrowful news that little Frankie Fraser had been killed, their daughter Lalia's child. The little fellow with his little brother was often noticed over here at the home of their grandparents, very bright little boys and only the day before some of the neighbors saw them there, they having been left for the day by their parents, who took a long drive that day. Much sympathy of friends in this place is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Fraser and family. We understand this is the first break in the grandchildren. We think the number was twelve.

Mr. T. A. Pearson and Mr. Grant Murphy, who is on vacation from duties at the station, motored to Halifax last week where they spent a few days. Mr. Merry is supplying at the station and is assisted by Mr. Stanley Crockett, who recently returned from his home at Centrellea, Annapolis Co.

Mrs. Wallace, whose home is in Hants Co., returned home last Saturday, after several days' visit with her brother here, Mr. George Fraser. Mr. and Mrs. Burgess, of Massachusetts, who also were guests at the same home, left for their home last Saturday morning.

Miss Fisher, our new school-teacher, arrived last Saturday evening and our school opened on Monday morning, a very good attendance, but more yet are expected to attend. Our school house met with some repairs and improvements during the holiday season. We welcome Miss Fisher to our village.

BAD ROADS ARE COSTING MOTORISTS MILLIONS

The value of good roads to the motorist has been figured out in dollars and cents, in "Public Works." The saving that could be effected in Canada can be imagined from the figures this magazine gives in connection with highway traffic in Iowa.

"In that state," says the writer, "it is estimated that there are now about 430,000 automobiles and automobile trucks that have an average mileage of 5,000 for their tires, and the present mileage could be increased to 12,000 if the roads were well paved. With tires at $20 each, there would be a saving of more than $17,000,000 a year on tires alone.

"One-third of the present amount of gasoline would be saved on good roads and assuming this to be only one-third of a gallon a day for each automobile, it would amount to $10,000,000 a year. The saving on repairs and upkeep of cars would reach nearly $7,000,000 more which, with the additional sum derived from the auto tax, is sufficient to build three roads across the full width of the state at a cost of $40,000 a mile."

APPLE CROP IN QUEBEC REDUCED

MONTREAL, Aug. 16—The apple crop will be materially reduced in this Province, according to Mr. Robert Brodie, of the Province of Quebec Pomological Society, owing to the recent hot weather and drought. Mr. Brodie has just completed a tour of inspection of the various apple growing districts and states that the fruit matured too quickly during the torrid spell, and as a consequence a lot of it has dropped off the trees. He states that there will be a fair crop, however, but far from what earlier indications pointed to.

ADVERTISING RATES.

One of the surprises eastern weekly publishers got at the convention recently held in Vancouver was the advertising rates which the Western publishers received for space. A minimum of 40c. and 50c. an inch for yearly contracts is quite general in British Columbia. The new rates approved by the King's Printer in Alberta for display advertisements are as follows:

Circulation	Rate Per Inch
500 or less	30c.
501 to 1,000	35c.
1,001 to 1,500	40c.
1,501 and over	45c.

It is very evident that in the East the merchants are being more generously dealt with by the newspapers. Were THE ACADIAN'S rates based on circulation at the same rate as the Alberta papers we would be getting a minimum of a good deal more than double the present rates. Considering the circulation and service given, THE ACADIAN'S rates rank as the biggest values in the advertising business.

Editorial Notes

It is interesting to note from a report in a Kentville paper of a recent meeting of the Board of Trade of that town that the manager of the D.A.R. had kindly offered to donate twenty-five carloads of gravel for the improvement of the street in the west end of that town. The street in question, we presume, is that extending from the railway crossing to the town limits, a distance of perhaps two miles, and it undoubtedly needs attention. A prominent citizen of the county suggested to THE ACADIAN a few days ago that the Good Roads Association might safely offer a substantial award for any worse piece of road that could be found in the province, and that the Minister of Highways, Manager Graham and the members of the Highway Board be made the judges. Kentville is certainly to be congratulated in having among its people such a public-spirited citizen as the railway manager, and the prospect of the improvement of the street in question. It would appear that while the railway management is in the present generous frame of mind it might be an opportune time for the authorities of the town of Wolfville to again call to their attention the need of a little work being done on the railway grounds here. The approach to the station is in a very unsatisfactory condition and we understand that some weeks ago a request was put in by the streets committee for sufficient material to make very necessary improvements, so far without success. The shire-town is also moving in the direction of getting the Dominion Government to become responsible for the cost of extending the pavement to the Experimental Farm, a proposition which is certainly not lacking in enterprise to say nothing of modesty. During recent years our sister town has profited much from the generous expenditure of public money, from the Federal and Provincial Governments and the Municipality of Kings County, and its people evidently realize that when a thing is wanted its worth asking for.

The time has undoubtedly come when the citizens of Wolfville should take some steps in the direction of a town planning campaign. Through the creation of a brick district and the adoption of regulations governing building operations something has been done along this line, but unless the proposed work is carried out in accordance with a well defined plan little of real value will be accomplished. Wolfville has many beautiful homes and well laid out gardens and grounds, but much more might be done by the combined efforts of citizens to make the town still more attractive. In the business section conditions are far from ideal, and it is here that in the coming years much improvement must be made. Steps should be immediately taken to decide on a general scheme for determining the architectural design and placing of future buildings in order to secure the best possible effect. Every building that is erected should conform to this general plan, with a view to making Wolfville something of what nature intended that it should become. A complete plan of the town should be prepared by some one qualified and if properly done the necessary expense would be well justified. The present haphazard way of doing things is neither good business nor good taste. In future years the members of the different building committees will naturally differ in their opinions, and in any case cannot be expected to be the best qualified to decide on matters requiring special training to determine. With a well prepared plan to work by much better results may reasonably be expected.

CARD OF THANKS

Mrs. E. J. Stevens and family desire through the columns of THE ACADIAN to acknowledge the kind sympathy, beautiful floral offerings and kindly actions of friends and neighbors in their recent bereavement, not forgetting the Masonic Lodge, who rallied so nobly in paying the last tribute to their loved one.

GASPEREAU HONORS MEMORY OF FORMER BELOVED PASTOR

At the Baptist church at GasperEAU on Sunday evening last a very impressive and interesting Memorial Service for the late Rev. Maynard P. Freeman, a former highly esteemed pastor, was held. There was a very large congregation present, the church edifice being filled to capacity. The surrounding sections were well represented some of those present coming from as far away as Hantsport. The pastor of the church, Rev. Dr. Bennett, gave an able and appropriate address, taking as his text the words: "For me to live is Christ, to die is gain". He referred in fitting terms to the high esteem in which the departed was held in GasperEAU and vicinity and to the faithfulness of his work as a minister of the church. Though gone from earth his influence for good will long endure. The singing by the choir and congregation was in keeping with the occasion and of a high order. Miss Verna Westcott sang very sweetly "Crossing the Bar", and a splendid quartette was well rendered by Messrs. Kenneth Hunter and Adelbert Coldwell, Miss Verna Westcott and Mrs. N. O. Benjamin.

Mrs. C. A. Bentley had the misfortune to sprain her ankle badly last Sunday evening in coming out of the Tabernacle. There being very little light she missed her footing and fell. She was taken to her home in a car and we trust will soon be fully recovered.

A game of baseball was played at Porter's field last Friday evening between Lakeville and Wolfville. The local boys did not have their regular team but put up a good fight. Errors were numerous on both sides. The score was 9 to 7 in favor of the visitors.

A number of the ladies of the town entertained the patients of the Provincial Sanatorium, Kentville, at a picnic Tuesday afternoon, on the College grounds. The patients were driven here in autos loaned for the occasion and thoroughly enjoyed the drive and the good things prepared for them.

The Henshaw place on Acadia street has been sold to Capt. Wilfred Lockhart, of Hantsport, and Mrs. Lockhart and family took possession this week. THE ACADIAN is glad to see this fine property pass into such good hands and again occupied. Capt. Lockhart is a Nova Scotian who has made good and is now in command of one of the finest steamers sailing out of New York.

Mr. F. W. Barteaux has begun excavation for the foundation of the new store he is about to erect on the property which he recently acquired on Main street, just west of the Royal Bank. The new store will be 23 x 64 feet and two stories high with cement basement and will be constructed of brick. Mr. L. R. Fair is the architect and Mr. Gates, of Middleton, the contractor.

Mr. E. C. H. Young, had our veteran townsman, Dr. E. N. Payzant, out for a car-ride around town on Tuesday afternoon. The doctor, who has been shut in for the past two years, displayed a lively interest in town affairs and noted a number of changes and improvements that have been made. Notwithstanding his 91 years, he retains a wonderful possession of his mental faculties and appears to be gaining physical strength every day.

The united services of the Presbyterian and Methodist churches began most auspiciously on Sunday last with good congregations at both churches. Rev. Douglas B. Hemmeon, the clever pastor of the Methodist church, was the preacher both in the morning at the Presbyterian and in the evening at the Methodist church. The sermons were able and most practical, his theme in the morning being "the Law of Continuity in Conduct", and in the evening "God's challenge and Man's answer—"Are you able?" and "We are able".

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. I. Ray Fraser, Port Williams wish to extend their most grateful thanks to all friends who showed them sympathy and great kindness in so many ways, in their recent sudden and great sorrow.

The service at the Tabernacle next Sunday evening will be conducted by Rev. Mr. Lafamme.

A league cricket match between the Wolfville and Windsor teams will be played here on Saturday.

The pulpit of the Baptist church was occupied on Sunday last, morning and evening, by Rev. E. M. A. Bleakney, of Hyde Park, Mass., who is spending his vacation in town. Both sermons were of a high order.

Middleton was the winner in the baseball game with Yarmouth at Middleton yesterday in the elimination series for the Provincial Championship. Middleton's next game will be with Stellarton. The score at yesterday's game was 10-3.

Mr. James Coldwell was taken to the Victoria General Hospital for treatment on Friday afternoon last. It was thought at first that he would require an operation but later this was found to be unnecessary. The latest report was that he is doing well and hopes to be able to return home in about a week. THE ACADIAN wishes him a speedy recovery.

The Sunday-school of St. Andrew's church held their annual picnic on Tuesday afternoon at Evangeline Beach. Including a number of the members of the congregation and visiting friends the company numbered about sixty-five. The day was a most delightful one and the tide was just right for boating and bathing. With bountifully spread tables and plenty of amusement the young folk enjoyed a very pleasant outing—in which the grown-ups heartily joined.

THE ACADIAN had a pleasant call on Saturday last from Mr. Lindsey S. Gowe, a former member of the staff of this paper who has made good in the journalistic world. Mr. Gowe since leaving Wolfville has been connected with newspapers in different parts of Canada, occupying the editorial chair in Lethbridge, Portage la Prairie and elsewhere. He now resides in Toronto where besides being connected with other advertising enterprises he occupies the position of advertising representative of the Selected Town Weeklies of Ontario. CHAS. L. NEWMAN WEDS IN NORTH CAROLINA

The Hendersonville, North Carolina News, of July 29, contains the following, which will be of interest to Mr. Newman's Wolfville friends:

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Rev. and Mrs. M. F. Moores on Wednesday, July 27 when Miss Mildred Hill of this city and Charles L. Newman, of Halifax, Nova Scotia were married in the presence of relatives and a few intimate friends. The bride was charming in a suit of navy blue tricotine, with accessories of soft gray, and wore a corsage bouquet of brides roses. Rev. Moores officiated, using the beautiful and impressive ring ceremony, rendered more impressive by the sweet tones of the violin playing a soft accompaniment to the words so full of meaning and beauty. Mrs. Woodard, a friend of the bride, furnished the music for the wedding, giving a beautiful rendition of the wedding march. The bride was given away by her father, J. R. Hill, while A. Rolie Sogswell, of Dayton, Fla., stood up with the groom as best man. Little Lois and Martha Moores, who attended the bride, were daintily dressed in frocks of white organdy and lace.

The house was prettily decorated in white and green, the mantle before which the bridal couple stood being massed with Shasta daisies, white Hydrangeas and ferns. The room with its profusion of flowers was lovely in the subdued light of the candles. There were numerous gifts of silver, cut glass and linen, while several telegrams of congratulation from absent friends and relatives arrived during the ceremony. After the wedding, which took place at three o'clock, Mr. and Mrs. Newman drove to Chimney Rock, where they will spend their honeymoon, returning to Oak Retreat in a few weeks. Later on they plan to tour North Carolina, and then go at once to New York.

Mrs. Newman is well known to the people of Hendersonville, where her charming personality and decided musical talent have won for her many warm friends. All join in wishing her the greatest possible happiness.

WOODEN SHINGLES CONDEMNED.

Three Rivers, Que., Aug. 10.—In sixty years, fires in Canada and the United States have destroyed property worth nearly fourteen hundred million dollars, and a large share of this immense amount is chargeable to the wooden shingle. "We have tolerated too long," remarked Chief A. B. Teneyck of Hamilton, at the fire chief's convention yesterday afternoon, speaking on the hazard of wooden shingles and its remedy.

PLANS UNDERWAY FOR "MADE-IN-CANADA" CAMPAIGN

Montreal, Aug. 16—Plans are under way by the Quebec division of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association for a "Made in Canada" campaign, to be conducted at the sixty local fall fairs, and the four provincial fairs during this Autumn. Arrangements are being made for this by R. W. Gould, secretary of the provincial division, and a member of the staff will visit the fairs, distributing "Made in Canada" cards, with literature showing the advantage of buying Canadian made goods and furnishing employment for Canadians, instead of sending $300,000,000 a year abroad to purchase foreign goods that could well be made in Canada.

Jules Misch—"Say, Otis, do you believe in heredity?"

H20 Weaver—"Most assuredly I do. Why, for instance, my month-old girl is continually trying to get her toes in her mouth. This I lay to the fact of her dad's constant struggle to make both ends meet."

The man who does not advertise because it costs money, should quit paying rent for the same reason.

Is it paid? With most people the grocery bill, the dry goods bill, the telephone bill, the tax bill, the boot and shoe bill, the clothing and hat bill, the drug bill is paid up promptly and gets attention at once, but the newspaper debt is generally put aside to be attended to later, and is often forgotten altogether. Isn't this true? Is it true of you?

ARTHUR WENTWORTH HAMILTON EATON, M. A., D. C. L.

By Mary Kinley Ing'ham

(From Sunday Leader)

In my recent article in the Sunday Leader entitled "Philosophers and Psychologists of Nova Scotia," I promised that I would summarize in later articles what eminent Nova Scotians have done in our field of scholarly endeavor. So many of our people have achieved distinction in poetry that I did not feel that I could do them adequate justice in one short monograph.

Before continuing the series, however, I wish to call the attention of Nova Scotians to the work of one really great living man of letters, Arthur Wentworth Eaton, M. A., D. C. L.

Dr. Eaton has made himself eminent as a priest and theologian, as a scholar in the broadest, most catholic meaning of the word, as a poet, as an historian and genealogist, as a teacher who writes and edits important text books, as a man with that rare but selective genius for friendship that draws to itself the best people in the best circles with the sure, straight attraction of gravity.

He has done many good things and he has done them all with distinction.

Dr. Eaton was born in Kentville, Kings County, Nova Scotia. Surely the Annapolis Valley is one of the loveliest places in Mother Nature's ample lap. The imagination of the young man was kindly but strongly matured there, and a passionate love for his native province was born that endures to this day.

As an example of his Nova Scotian sentiment I venture to quote from a personal letter:

"I am first, last, and always a Nova Scotian... I might keep on writing about Nova Scotia for many years more, if I had many years to write. The province stirs my imagination and compels my continued love. I know its remoteness, I know its limitations, but it has present charms and a history that gives it a high place in the regard of any lover of interesting localities."

Dr. Eaton's father was William Eaton, Esquire, at one time inspector of schools for his county, and at his death in 1893 an honored official in his town. His mother was Anna Augusta Willoughby Hamilton, a lady of interesting Scottish ancestry and of rare social charm.

As early as 1873 Dr. Eaton left Nova Scotia and has ever since been resident in the United States.

He was graduated from Harvard in 1880, in the same class with Theodore Roosevelt. In college he gave special attention to philosophy and the fine arts, but immediately after his graduation he began reading theology with vigor. Reviews of Dr. Eaton's life hint that this period was one of great mental and spiritual conflict, the Calvinist in his singularly yet very complex personality being at war with the Anglican.

Finally, he became a Broad Churchman of the delightful Charles Kingsley type, was ordained to the deaconate in 1884 and to the priesthood. For a year he was minister in the Parish of the Redeemer, Chestnut Hill, Massachusetts, and then he removed to New York.

Dr. Eaton made his home in bachelor lodgings in the most socially conservative section of New York City, the region near Washington Square. Then he prepared youths for Harvard and Yale, giving special attention to the teaching of English literature; there he studied and wrote, and there he gathered about him a distinguished coterie of literary friends.

He removed to Boston in 1907 and continues to reside there. While his time is devoted principally to literary work, he is always ready to exercise his functions as a priest of the Anglican Church. His address is 48 Pinckney Street, Boston.

It is not my purpose in this article to catalogue Dr. Eaton's many works in the various fields where he has used his pen so effectively, but to call attention to the most significant ones, and thus attempt to indicate the scope of the man's brilliant mind and great, loyal heart.

"The Heart of the Creeds: Historical Religion in the Light of Modern Thought," was the first important literary venture. This work, which has already passed through several editions, was first published in 1888, and immediately established its author's fame. It was a "Broad Church" essay, or series of essays, that suited the temper of our rationally thinking times.

The subjects treated were: God, Man, Christ, The Creeds, The Bible, The Church, The Sacraments, The Liturgy, The Future Life. The book received high praise from leaders of modernistic religious thought and also from men who did not as a rule care much for theological writing, but were profoundly interested in literary style.

No less a critic than Edmund Clarence Stedman, meeting the author soon after having read the book said: "Eaton I seldom read books on theological topics, but I sat down to your book and never stopped reading it until I had read it through. Your views are so reasonable that I cannot help fully sympathizing with them—and where did you get such a beautiful English style?"

"The Heart of the Creeds" should be in every Nova Scotian home. The author had reacted greatly to all that parental training, Nature, wide reading, and his own deep spiritual vision had taught him concerning the eternal verities, and the result is a book that speaks alike to the mind and the heart.

"The Church of England in Nova Scotia and the Tory Clergy of the Revolution," published in 1891, is Dr. Eaton's greatest contribution to the subject of American ecclesiastical history. "The History of Kings County, Nova Scotia, Heart of the Acadian Land," is, I believe, unique among local histories by reason of its literary appeal. It can be read with interest by one who knows nothing about the locality as can Longfellow's "Evangeline", for by its large grasp of the local concerns it lifts them into the realm of the universe.

Such books as this give our province a priceless prestige in the world. It was published in 1910.

From 1915 to 1921, Dr. Eaton has published a series of monographs. "Sixteen Chapters in the History of Halifax," in "Americana," a noted historical magazine in the United States. We hope these will be published in book form and thus made available for wide distribution.

Dr. Eaton's tireless energy in the local history field has resulted in many biographical, genealogical and historical monographs, such as "The Nova Scotia Eatons," "The Berwick, Maine and Nova Scotia Hamiltons," "Bishop Charles Inglis and His Descendants," and "Alexander McNutt the Colonizer."

There are many others, but I mention those I consider the most significant. Of educational works he has published "Letter Writing: Its Ethics and Etiquette," "College Requirements in English," and an edition of Pope's "Rape of the Lock". It is a delight to come to the discussion of Dr. Eaton's poetry. Poetry, I take it, is the distilled essence of a man's soul life, the kind of writing in which the author gives us the beauty of his personality.

I have on my desk as I write four volumes of Dr. Eaton's verse, "Acadian Legends and Lyrics", "Poems of the Christian Year", "Acadian Ballads", and "The Lotus of the Nile". The first of these was published in 1889, and from that time the author's place among poets has been secure. Not a single anthology of note has appeared in Canada or in the United States since that time but has given generous place to the poetry of Arthur Wentworth Hamilton Eaton. His subjects are various; "Sometimes I think the source of soul must be.

The Primal Beauty, we so quick respond To loveliness in earth and sky and sea—" is an excerpt from one of Dr. Eaton's poems that doubtless explains his facile genius. His poetic responses are so deep, so sure, that he can write on any subject whatever and endow it with beauty.

The striking events of Acadian history furnished him with many a theme. The intensity of his religious feeling finds august expression in his "Poems of the Christian Year". Perhaps he is right in estimating "The Lotus of the Nile and Other Poems" the best volume he has published of general verse.

I confess that nothing he has written stirs me more than that stately lyric "The Ancient Gods Are Dead". The hidden Titanic force in that poem make one wish that Dr. Eaton had conceived and written a great epic. I know he could have done so.

In selecting a quotation, however that will reveal the fine sensibility of this essentially poetic personality, I am compelled to take one quoted by Dr. James B. Wasson in his article on Dr. Eaton in the Canadian Magazine for August, 1907, entitled "Poet and Priest". The true spirit of a good man speaks here, as well as the poet sensitive to every loveliness: "When the still hour draws near that I must die,

I ask that in some western-windowed

Hay - Fever
SUMMER COLDS, ASTHMA, spoil many a holiday.

I love so well the blue and green and gold
That fuse in liquid splendour, ere the

As Librarian of Acadia University, I have been fortunate in coming into personal relations with Dr. Eaton. He has visited us several times, and has been a most generous donor to our department of Canadiana. We are always impressed by his lofty patriotism, expressing itself when he is with us in a zeal for the culture of his native province, and for a chastened development of our people's historic sense.

Last autumn he lectured to us one Sunday afternoon in the Library on the importance of caring for all local records, especially old township books.

The cultured judgement of the world makes Arthur Wentworth Hamilton Eaton the greatest literary man Nova Scotia has produced since Judge Haliburton.

It is indeed well that we should give studios care to his work, and that we should receive his teaching.

MACK SENNETT'S

Big New Five-Reel Comedy
Sensation

"DOWN ON THE FARM"

OH BOY! Oh Man!! Oh Lady! Lady!! One glimpse of the simple life and you'll sub-let your swell apartment, sell your mansion, trade in your twelve-cylinder limousine for a threshing machine and get yourself a farm like this—if you can find another just like it. And an all-star Sennett cast to milk the cows and feed the chickens—Oh! Neighbor! This is the life!

In the ensemble scenes of "Down On The Farm," Mack Sennett's latest five reel comedy sensation, the entire menagerie of feathered and four-footed folk is involved. This employment of his mute stars isn't accomplished merely for "atmosphere" purposes, but to help in the progress of moods with a rapidity to which Sennett admirers are accustomed to apply the description "Sennett-tempo." That's as fast as footage of fun can be run without tripping up the jokes.

A picture you will never forget and you will laugh yourself sick. A doctor in attendance.

Prices 20 and 35c. Show at 8 p.m.

Romance,—and then swift stirring action to a climax that thrills.

FOR months he had stood by and watched the woman he loved being abused, deceived and insulted by the man who, with treacherous lies, had stolen her from him. . . . But, there is a time when patience ceases to be a virtue, and that moment had arrived. . . .

'The FURNACE'

BY PAN

Like Caesar's Wife---

ANTHONY BOND'S bride must be above reproach. How difficult this was you will understand when you have seen "THE FURNACE." For Folly Bond was beautiful, admired, unconventional, —and not in love with her husband. "THE FURNACE" is one of the most powerful dramas of modern marriage ever shown on the screen.

When a Millionaire Marries an Actress---

THERE is usually one of two results—a divorce within a year, or a life of bitter quarrels, suspicion and disillusion; for the love of money and the love of admiration are poor foundations on which to build even a "modern" marriage.

"THE FURNACE" is the story of such a marriage, and the "furnace" was the hell-fire which the souls of these envied and yet unhappy people were compelled to pass before the dross of convention, jealousy and misunderstanding had been burned away.

No one, married or single, should miss this powerful picture.
