Trustees May be Forced to Consider Scheme Shortly.

Three Branches of Hydro Line Ready by January.

Will Hamilton Adopt Auto Street Flushers?

At the present rate of growth it looks as if it would not be long before the Board of Education will have to deal with the question of enlarging the Col legiate Institute building. The number of pupils enrolled each year has been steadily increasing and before the end of next month practically every available inch of space will be occupied.

The third form at the Collegiate is so crowded that a new class will have to be organized and another teacher appointed. The old manual training quarters will be used as a classroom. The domestic science room is being equipped as a junior laboratory, and this disposes of practically all the equipped as a junior laboratory, and this disposes of practically all the spare room in the building. The assem-bly hall on the second floor will always be retained for the purpose intended, and when more class rooms are re-quired the only thing left to do will be to enlarge the building.

Three of the main branches of the Three of the main branches of the Hydro-Electric power line will be completed by the end of the present year. Niagara to Dundas, 55 miles; Dundas to Toronto, 36 miles, and Dundas to Guelph, 30 miles. On the other lines over 50 miles more will be strung with wires. The first three are being hurried to the transformer, attations will be as the transformer stations will ready at the four points, Niagara, Dun das, Toronto and Guelph, before the ready at the four points, Niagara, Dundas, Toronto and Guelph, before the rest. St. Ann. where the pitchfork fracas occurred a week ago Saturday, is being used as a centre for the work on the Niagara-Dundas line, just as Rymal is, for both are crossed by railway lines and the towers and other material are thus easily brought in. Between Toronto and Dundas three gangs are at work east and west of Oakville, and work will be begun on the Guelph line next week.

The programme for the Public Schools annual games is out. They will be neld at the cricket grounds on Friday, October 8. The Public School sports begin at 9.30 in the morning and the Collegiate and commercial games at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. There are fifty-eight events. Bobby Kerr will officiate as time keeper.

If the experiment of using an auto-truck, fitted with a water tank for street flushing, proves a success in To-ronto, Hamilton may adopt the scheme. Dr. Sheard says the new truck will cover the work of three flushing wagons It costs now about $3,000 to run three flushing wagons for 20 weeks. One auto-truck will cost $1,200 for that time.

Miss Atwood, a Smithville young lady, who is also a nurse in the same hospital as the Misses Martin and Milford, thinking they had left Hamilton by the ill-fated train, notified the hospital authorities, and they instructed her to wire here, hence the anxiety which prevailed, until definite assurance was received that the round ladies were received

(Special Despatch to the Times.) (Special Despatch to the Times.)
(Grimsby Park, Sept. 27.—There is evidently trouble brewing for the Cleveland Realty Company, and it will not be all clear sailing in closing a deal with the cottage holders. Not many weeks ago everything seemed to be cut and dried, but now there leaks out that quite a number of those who were absent from the meeting refuse to sign the agreement with the rest.

From all reports these are but a quota, but their attitude if persisted in will effect any and all negotiations.

Railroad President Is Defendant In Sensational Suit.

Defendant Is Theodore Shonts, a Reputed Millionaire

And He Says It Is Case of Mistaken Identity.

New York, Sept. 27.-The World says: Theodore P. Shonts, president the Interborough Metropolitan Company, president of the Chicago & Alton railroad, president of the Toledo, St. Louis & Western railroad, a director of many other important companies and one of the most potent figures in the financial and business life of the city, has been sued for $200,000 damages by the husband of a woman whose affections he is charged with having alienated.

Through his lawyer, De Lancey Nicholl, Mr. Shonts declares he is the victim of one of the strangest cases of mistaken identity on record.

It would seem, according to Mr. Nicoll, that the president of the Inter-Met. has some doubt of whose misdeeds Mr. Shonts is being held responsible. As to who this double is there is no hint.

The suit against Mr. Shonts is brought by Frederick Hipsh, the New York manager of a Kentucky distillery, with offices in the Flat Iron building. Mr. Hipsh, while not a man of large wealth, has a comfortable income.

According to Mr. Hipsh his wife met Mr. Shonts at Narragansett Pier in 1907 and afterwards in this city. On behalf of Mr. Shonts it is declared that his acquaintance with Mrs. Hipsh was most limited and confined to the conventional courtesies which any gentleman pays to a lady whom he knows only casually.

On the other hand, Mr. Hipsh in his complaint charges Mr. Shonts with conducting an intrigue with Mrs. Hipsh for over two years.

Mr. and Mrs. Hipsh spent the sumper at Asbhure Park. Alton railroad, president of the Toledo St. Louis & Western railroad, a

Mr. and Mrs. Hipsh spent the summer at Ashbury Park. On August 2 Mr. Hipsh found a telegram to his wife asking he tor meet some one. The telegram was unsigned but on the strength of it Hipsh hired detectives and got evidence, he says, a message from Dr. Precentes A. Cook to the Ottawa Free Press, in response to an inquiry as to the delivery of supplies for Dr. Cook by Captain Bernier, in the strength of it Hipsh hired detectives and got evidence, he says, on which he began his suit. Mr. Nicoll says that on August 2 Mr. Shonts was sick in bed in care of Dr. Wolfe, and a trained nurse.

On Thursday Mr. Nicoll had a two hour conference with Mr. Hipsh and his lawyer, Mr. Harrington, and told them of his willingness to produce Dr. Wolfe and the trained nurse to satisfy the husband that his charges against Mr. Shonts were most unjust. At this conference Mr. Nicoll declared most emphatically that Mr. Shonts had no more to do with the trouble of the Hipshes than the man in the moon. charge of the Canadian Government steamer "Arctic," now cruising in the north, indicates that Captain Bernier met with unfriendly treatment at the hands of Boatswain Murphy, of Peary's crew. He insisted that it was a case of mistaken identity, and that Mr. Shonts would have no difficulty in proving his absolute innocence in court. He said it was a cruel outrage on an innocent man to force him to defend himself against charges of this kind. PEAR. S PLAN OF CAMPAIGN.

Bar Harbor, Me., Sept. 27.—Pending the conference to-night between General Thomas H. Hubbard, president of the Peary Artic Club, and Commander Robert E. Peary, on the proofs which Commander Peary has to support his position on the question: "Has Cook been to the pole?" no new phases on the Peary side of the Cook controversy are expected to develop. Commander Peary will reach here from Partland to-night and go at once to the home of General kind.

Mr. Nicoll's declaration made an impression upon Mr. Harrington, Mr. Hipsh's counsel, and he said to-day: Hipsh's counsel, and he said to-day:
"I am now examining a number of witnesses who are absolutely disinterested. I appreciate fully the importance of this matter and if by any chance it should be established to my satisfaction that Mr. Shonts is the victim of mistaken identity the suit against him will of course be dropped."

HAVE FACTS.

Gen. Hubbard has thoroughly acquainted himself with the Peary proofs which he has had under examination for several days and is prepared to outline a plan of campaign and procedure in the controversy with Dr. Cook. While seemingly quiescent the friends of Commander Peary say they are preparing to establish Commander Peary's position in a manner that will be convincing to those who desire to consider the facts in the Polar question. Mr. Andrew Martin, 87 Smith avenue, received a letter on Saturday evening from his daughter, Miss Ethel Martin, a nurse in the State Hospital, Trenton, N. It will be remembered that Miss Martin had been on a visit to her parents here, and Miss Milford had been visiting her friend, Mrs. Soucier, 36 Fullerton avenue. WEEKLY RAID IN NORTH EAST

Large Quantity of Liquor Seized by the Police

At the Home of John Sugar, Rosedale Avenue.

Another Foreigners' Boarding House Searched.

There was another raid on foreigners oarding houses on Saturday night by the police. Despite the fact that these raids have become weekly occurrences. the foreigners apparently continue to get in the usual abnormal supply of iquor, heedless of the warnings given them and the recent heavy fines im posed on previous offenders by the magistrate for breaches of the liquor

In making these raids the police are doing a good work, for almost every stabbing affair lately has been the aftermath of one of the usual Saturday aftermath of one of the usual Saturday night Bacchanalian orgies, which have been so prevalent. ANNEXATION DECIDED ON

Toronto, Sept. 27 .- (Special.) - City Clerk Kent, City Engineer Macallum Secretary Brennan of the Board of Works and City Solicitor Waddell of Hamilton, together with about fifty itizens of that part of Barton town ship that wants to be annexed, appeared before the Ontario Railway and Munici pal Board this morning to give their argument on annexation. There were also several people present who did not want to be seinexed

City Solicitor Waddell explained that the area of district proposed to be an nexed was about 1,000 acres, with 1,100 population. After hearing various speakers, Chair-

Both these lawyers said the terms could be fixed by agreement afterwards, but W. H. That was fortunate for Signor Tal-mir, for his worship said this morning, "If I had sentenced you on Saturday I would have given you a year. character.

"I do not care what Miss Mostyn would wish," Katharine cried, passionately and harshly, forgetting everything but her wild craving for him to be gone. "I desire you to leave me. At once, Lord Otway, at once."

Ormande paused only a second, then, with a sad look on his handsome face, that only a moment before had glowed with such happiness, he bowed silently, and the next moment his tall, well-built form was striding down the dusty

"I am his wife-his wife!" she said "I am his wife—his wife!" she said over and over again to herself in a slow, meditative fashion. "I saved him from death—for what? That I should live in torture for ever after! Why did I do it—why? why? why?"

She suddenly clenched her hands tightly together, and in her mad agony of mind, regardless of her lameness and weakness, she started forward to walk onward—anywhere, she cared not where. "The wife of a murderer, a liar, a liar, a thief—his wife!" The words kept beat with her footsteps.

Day by day the full horror of what she had done had been creeping unon her; it reached its crisis now. Who could tell exactly what urged this? Perhaps some strange chord had been struck between Ormande's great love and hers—some vague, indefinite sense had come to show her what might have been.

Instinctively shrinking from meeting as few people as she could. Katharine walked to a gate in the wall that led by a short route to the back of the

"I cry aloud for peace, and there is no peace!" the poor girl murmured to herself as she entered the pate and pushed it to behind her. "If—if I could find some comfort, some light in all this darkness and trouble! Oh, father, father! If you were only here now to help me, to tell me what to do!"

Weakened by her emotion and fatigue,

"For the poor boy is not dead, Miss Brereton," he went on quickly, careful not to startle her by any hift or allusion yet to that future. "We shall have him among us again one day soon, I her brows and throat: it was nature's hope." edy in this moment of mental tor

The bitterness of the weeping over, Katharine was aroused to remember her position by the sound of the Hall tower clock striking seven.

She rose to her feet, and leaning back against the friendly tree, covered her turning eyes with her hands to give herself one more moment of rest before she took up her mask and hard role again. Buried in her confused thoughts, she did not hear the sound of approaching footsteps, and she started wildly as Miss Mostyn's clear, rather shrill voice broke the silence.

"Pray, are you rehearsing for theatricals, Brereton!"
Katharine dropped her hands. There were deep blue marks round her glori-

Barbara eyed the sad, beautiful face with bitter jealousy, anger and mad hatred mixed.

"A little comedy, evidently," she said, with a sneer. "The old story; a hand-some young lord and a poor, misguided menial!"

Her light eyes were flashing furiously Katharine's pride rose, and with it came all her old self-possession and cour age.

"I am at a loss to understand you,
madame," she said, very coldly.
Barbara clinched her gloves in her in with such curt, cold tones that Ormande unconsciously flinched, and bit his lip.

"She resents my speaking so familiarly to her," he thought to himself, quickly and sadly. "Well, she is right, she is alone, and she is so proud, proud, my beautiful darling."

There was a moment's pause after this, during which he stood looking at her, as she held herself erect by the aid of the tree, and Katharine wished madly, wildly, that he would go on and leave her, before her strength gave way beneath this new horror, and she should fall on the ground at his feet.

"I must be alone—alone!" was the one desire in her mind, and as it grew greater it forced itself into words.

"Please go on, Lord Otway," she said, almost sharply. "Miss Mostyn expects you, she—"

"Will Metalement of the property of the station of the tree, and walk as the petch of the station of the tree, and the station of the station of the tree, and the station of the

I forbid you to go near the station, or anywhere outside the grounds, unless you have my permission; and if I find you trying to get up a flirtation—" Katharine stopped her.
"That will do, Miss Mostyn," she said, quietly. "I think you will allow that, in anger, many things are said that in cooler moments one 'regrets. So it is with you now; your anger must be your only excuse for daring—yes, daring!" with a flash from her large eyes that somehow cowed Barbara strangely—"to say such things to me. I am sorry that Lady Drummond exerted any influence she had to get me into your household. It has been a mistake from the first, and so, Miss Mostyn, I beg to tender you my resignation, and to inform you that I shall leave Brexley Hall at the end of the month."

Katharine's quiet, cold, proud words were like fuel to the flame of Barbara's anger; but cunning—mean, low cunning anger; but cunning—mean, low cunning—was distinctly one of Miss Mostyn's characteristics. Her suspicions had been suddenly aroused. It was not for nothwith such happiness, he bowed silently, and the next moment his tall, well-built form was striding down the dusty road, and was out of sight.

Katharine watched him go with a pang of bitter pain. The news that he had met Gordon, that Gordon had dared to have uttered such a terrible lie, simply overwhelmed her.

"Am I mad?" she asked herself. mutely, as she still clutched the gnarled hough of the tree with her ice-cold fingers, or is it some awful. horrible dream? Let me try and think it all out."

She stood, with her gray eyes distended out of their beauty, gazing down the road on which Ormande's form was growing smaller, and would soon vanish altogether.

"Gordon has lied to him. He has taken Craven Adair's kife, and now—now he has lied to him. and says the boy still lives." She shuddered with irrepressible horror. "He is not a man ast all, he must be a fiend—some evil fiend!

Round and round buzzed the happy careless insect world, basking in their short existence, luxuriating in the heat of the summer sun. A magnificent dragon-fly, with its wings gleaming rich in the golden light, came uite close to that black-robed figure with a warlike sound, as if to frighten the white-faced girl, but Katharine never moved. Gnats and midgets encircled her in a fairy ring; a gwellow butterfly almost kissed her care have a seen all going to be thwartest, and beer cheeks. But she saw none of them.

"Only let me find out," she said to herself, with a vicious, ugly look in her face, that was growing uncomfortably red, from the unusual exertion of walking on a rough country road in prepaterously high-heeled French boots; "or ing on a rough country road in preposterously high-heeled French boots; "only let me find out, and if I do not, give her some misery, it will not be my fault."

And then she came to a standstill with an exclamation of annoyance as she emerged into the high road and saw no signs of Lord Otway anywhere. To retrace her steps would be a painful thing, and to lower her dignity enough to use the servants' gate was almost as painful to such a nature as Barbara's, but, with a glance of despair at her feet, she finally determined on sacrificing her dignity rather than her shoes.

It took some little time to reach the lower gate, and then all of a sudden her eyes fell on Katharine leaning against the tree in that attitude of weakness and despair, and Barbara knew better than if anyone had told her that her rival was before her.

Infuriated by anger and jealousy, she went up to the girl, and we know how and in what manner she addressed Katharine, the quiet way in which Katharine answered, and the mere suggestion of losing this rival now that she was in her power roused all Barbara's slyness and cunning.

Katharine must not be allowed to go if—and how her cold eyes flamed at the thought—if she could but find out whether Katharine loved Lord Otway. What a chance of revenge was open to her! Yes, but the chance would be gone of Katharine were allowed to leave the Hal.

tion, Barbara was silent for a moment; then in a low voice, as if overcome with enotion, she suddenly said:

"No, no; I can not let you go! I—I am sorry for what I have said, Miss Brereton." Then, as Katharine drew back, almost too astonished for words, she went on with an artful break in her voice:

"What a miserable, awful temper I have. Ah! see what it is to be alone in the world, with no father or mother's hand to guide one; always flattered and pampered for the sake of my money; with not one single real friend to tell me my faults and to help me to crush them. Please forgive me, Miss. Freerton, I have been very rude to you. Yes. I know I have; but I have been spoiled all my life. I am not really bad; indeed, I am not. Won't you forgive me, please?"

Ruins of Messina.

New York, Sept. 26.—A cable despatch to the Sun from Rome says: It is estimated that $2,000,000 in coin, $6,000,000 in bonds and other securities and $1,000,000 worth of jewels recovered from the ruins of Messina are still unclaimed. In addition to the foregoing there is a further deposit of 100 strong boxes and 4,000 sealed packages, known to contain valuables, which have not been opened, representing at least $4,000,000. This total of $13,000,000 does not include the treasures from the cathedral, churches and vaults of banks.

The valuables were simply excavated, and were sometimes found clutched in the dead hands of unidentified men and women. The excavations will be commenced again on October 1, when the unclaimed deposits will naturally increase.

As it is generally impossible for survivors to establish claims to the property, the State will benefit largely.

London Mulberry Trees.

Finsbury Circus gardens, which have just furnished fruit for the Lord Mayor, are by no means the sole city haunt of the mulberry tree. The "wisest of trees," os Pliny termed it, evidently "likes London," and flourishes even at the Charterhouse in murky Smithfield. A thriving little sapling has recently been planted in the picturesque northeast corner of St. Paul's Church yard hard by the spot where once stood the famous Paul's Cross. Asked how the prospective fruit would "be protected from marauding street arabs, chapterg gardiener replied, "I hope he won't never bear no berries in my time."

London mulberry trees are supposed to derive their descent from an attempt of James I. to found a silk growing industry, but seem really to have been introduced by the Romans. Another unlikely tree which appears to do well in the heart of London is the fig. numerous specimens of which can be seen London Mulberry Trees.

STEALING AT DUNDAS.

Fruit Owners any Milk Men Are the Victims.

Dundas, Sept. 27.-Some boys in the town will find themselves in serious trouble some day for stealing fruit from citizens and surrounding farmers, if they do not desist. A bunch, especially brazen and bold in this respect, lives in brazen and bold in this respect, lives in the east end. They persistently make raids on the gardens of their neighbors, and one day recently when the woman of the house discovered them just as they were about to depart with their baskets well filled, the marauders refather, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

He was while here an emploeye of the Grafton people. Subsequently the visitor, Mr. Hagar, did a stove business and kept the postoffice in Sheffield in partnership with Elam Will. NOT HOPEFUL.

Unionists in England Do Not Expect to Win.

London, Sept. 26 .- Unless all prophets are at fault, Great Britain will be in the throes of a general election shortly before or soon after next Christmas. The political excitement which began with Lord Rosebery's denunciation of Lloyd-George's budget as rank Socialism, and George's budget as rank Socialism, and Premier Asquith's rejoinder that it was a poor man's budget, was carried to the highest pitch during the past week by a speech by former Premier Balfour, in which the Unionist leader was understood to have called upon the House of Lords to reject the financial proposals of the Government. The result of the battle is not likely to be immediately decisive. Though the Lionist papers of London are declaring loudly that the general election will be a Conservative victory, practical politicians on the Unionist as well as the Liberal side hold that the present Government will secure a majority. The only point of difference is as to the size rmment will secure a majority. The old established law urm of your of difference is as to the size of that majority.

The archabilities are for a considerernment will secure a majority. The only point of difference is as to the size of that majority.

The probabilities are for a considerable reduction in the Government ranks in the House of Commons, a continued period of Liberal administration, and eventually an appeal to the country on the question of free trade or a system of moderate protection.

Mr. James Keir Hardie, member of Parliament for Merthyr-Tydvil, outlining the policy of the Laborites in the general election, said to-day that he believed the Liberals would emerge from the conflict with a working majority. The Laborites, he said, were confident of increased strength in the House of Commons, from 54 members to between 65 and 70. Although supporting the budget, they will follow their usual course in the election, running a Laborite wherever, they think they have a chance of the strength of the commons.

Positively Announced to Take Place in April Next. London, Sept. 26.—It is positively stated in Lisbon that King Manuel will marry in April. Enquiries here, however, fail to bring forth any confirmation of the report.

AN EPOCH EVENT.

The Hudson-Fulton celebration which opened in New York on Saturday and which will be continued till Saturday Oct. 9, will be an event of much his torical and spectacular importance. It has been planned on a large scale, and patterned after the British pageants which have in recent years proved so successful. About $1,000,000 has been provided. $725,000 by the state and city of New York, to finance the fete, international importance has been given to it by the participation of warship contingents from the various

The event will celebrate the 300th anniversity of the discovery of the Hudson River by Henry Hudson in 1600 and the 100th anniversary of the inauguration of steam navigation on that river by Robert Fulton in 1807. Naturally and very appropriately the chief the river. In the naval parade a great fleet of vessels will participate, led by replicas of Hudson's "Half Moon" and Fulton's "Clermont." The latter, a wonder in its day, was a vessel 150 feet long, 13 feet wide and a depth of 7 feet in the hold, and drew 2 feet of water. Her bow was wedge-shaped, and she had a flat bottom, without kee! being fitted with two steering boards to prevent drifting. She had two masts but no bowsprit. Her engine was made in England and the boiler was of conner Her two paddle wheels were 15 feet in diameter, and were uncovered, so that the passengers got well drenched. To turn around, one paddle wheel was disconnected from the nower. The engine flywheels were outside the boat. Her proposed trip up the river on Aug. 17 was made the subject of much ridicule and sareasm, but she disappointed the critics and attained an average speed on the 150 miles to Albany of nearly five miles an hour. The "American Citizen" of Aug. 22 contained this modest notice of the epoch-making achievement:

We congratulate Mr. Fulton and the country on his success in the steam-boat, which cannot fail of being very advantageous. We understand that not the smallest inconvenience is felt in the boat either from heat or smoke.

But Fulton's triumphs did not end with the "Clermont"; in the following nine years he made great advances. His fame as the father of American steam boating is well founded.

In the celebration now in progress on battery of four electric searchlights will be used, the strength of which will equal 400,000 candles. Another of forty lights will be of 2,000,000,000 (two billion) The decorations and floats represent an outlay sufficient to build many hundreds of such vessels as "Clermont." It has been a pregnant 100 years.

SCHOOL FRATERNITIES.

Secret societies in connection with our ublic schools are an evil with which we n Canada have not yet had to reckon. Fraternities in connection with college exists however and opinion as to their on student s very much divided. In some parts of the United States. however, "fraternities" and "sororities have invaded the public and high schools the result has been to cause mire difficulty to school boards, and to arouse a strong feeling in favor of their

That judge shows that he possesse large common sense, and his remarks touch the broad principle too much overlooked in this day and generation. Children have too little respect for authority in these times. They grow up as weeds, morally uncultivated and undirected; they fail to get a true perspec tive of life and duty. They become con tumacious, selfish and overbearing. The blame for this rests with the parents and teachers to whom their training is committed. The remarks of this judge should be given wide publicity should be seriously taken to heart by the parents of the country.

THE LORDS' FATUITY. ere are many indications in dom, notwithstanding the fact that it mostly filtered through Tory sieves, that the Lords are not adding to their popularity by their fatuous course. It is not only with regard to the budget that they are sowing "dragons' teeth"; they appear to go out of their way to antagonize the masses of the people on all questions which bear on the public welfare. Recently John Burns brought in a bill, the object of which was to ameliorate the condition of the British poor by providing better housing. This bill made no very startling proposals, its object being simply to improve the laws already in existence with reference to the housing of the people. There was only a single innovation in the bill—namely, concerned with "town planning. The public generally approved of the measure, and were it not for the Lords, practical benefit might have resulted to the poorer portion of the population. It would, at least, have contributed to sanitary improvement and to lessen the evils of overcrowding. The Lords would have none of it-perhaps they feared it slaughtered. Had Mr. Burns' bill become law, the local authorities could, with the assent of the local government board, prepare schemes for remedying this lamentable state of affairs. Powers of compulsory purchase were given, and by a rider to the bill the authorities were enabled to compel the sale of the land required for building workmen's Thus the old inhealthy dwellings. enement houses, which have contribut ed so largely to infant mortality in The measure also made compulsory regstration of workingmen's dwellings and required a survey of them every five the measure was good, but if it were regarded as entailing too much inconrenience, it might easily have been diswith without sacrificing the features of the bill by an amendment that would provide that reasonable inspection of dwellings which would protect the tenant poor against the callous and grasping landlord, and ensure them at least decent sanitary lodging places. Surely the Lords migh have conceded that much to English physical and moral demands. But they would have none of it, and threw out the bill. It is just such actions as that that will weaken their cause in any appeal. thy of the masses on the side of the As

This declaration may be said to be a counterblast to the sulphurou pronouncement of the Trades and Labor Congress the other day.

Speaking of the revelations of the Montreal civic inquiry and the adoption of a new system of city government, the Monetary Times remarks: "Pernicious civic practices, like noxious weeds, need hoeing until their vitality is killed. It is well to govern a big city with few men. But they must be good men." That touches the weak spot in municipal government. With good men in control, the people would be safe under almost any system. But good and capable men not seem to be over-plenty.

The United States agreements France, Switzerland and Bulgaria will expire on October 31, 1909; those with United Kingdom and Germany on February 7, 1910; those with Italy, Spain Portugal and the Netherlands on August 7, 1910. Rev. Dr. Rose, in an able paper the Methodist Theological Conference at Victoria University, emphatically de-clared for the "higher criticism." He is one who is not alarmed that the cause truth will suffer by the historical method of Biblical analysis, but rather that it will be served. "The final apologetic," he says, "is historical exegisis. It is a part of the process whereby God has revealed Himself to man." He would have the minister adopt the methods of the higher critic. Dr. Rose is not one of those who fears to submit the basis of his faith to the greatest of tests

The United Mine Workers at Glace Bay, having defied the Canadian law and refused to abide by the finding of the onciliation Board, precipitated a great strike in violation of the working agreee ment then in force. By doing so, they caused enormous loss, not only to the workingmen, but to the industries of Nova Scotia. Out of the trouble grew rioting, destruction of property, and ser ous crime, and now, it is said, starvation faces thousands of the strikers. Now the Mail and Empire sheds crocodile tears because the Government does not interfere and put an end to the trouble What would it have the Government do? The Conciliation Board did its work, and after investigation stated what with contempt. Would the organ have the Government compel these strikers to return to work against their will? If

The Toronto Mail and Empire regards the attacks upon Lieutenant-Governor Gibson for his remarks upon municipal surd, and a confession of lack of confi dence in the "principle." "Public owne ship," it says, "is not yet a fetich. There does not think the cause of the owner shippers can be "permanently served by the gagging of opinion, unless it is an bject that requires the he'p of terror ism for its promotion." Our contempo rary declares that public ownership not yet a fetich." It probably intended that to apply to those who are, as it says, "less fanatical in the cause": cause no worshipper of Mumbo-Jumbo ever was more devoted than are many of these same ownershippers. But as to the Mail and Empire's general statement it is a very fair and proper one: The thick and thin advocates of public warership will hardly say that the afairs of the majority of our cities and owns are perfectly administered. In country, uninciral towns are perfectly administered. In Toronto-nunicipal management comes very far short of even the standard ordinarily maintained in private business, to say noting of perfection. If our city rulers do not handle the common municipal questions in the most advantageous way, can they be expected to handle public utilities any better? The Lieutenant-Governor's criticism was entirely moder. Governor's criticism was entirely moder ate, altogether legitimate, and outside the field of party controversy.

M OST SACRED DAY.

To the Editor of the Times:
Sir.—In their eager quest for picturesque journalism Canadian newspapers, I regret to say, are too ready to give publicity to matters which are so illustrated as to reflect very seriously and very unfairly on Jews and Judajsm. Let me explain the character of the day of atonement and how it is kept. It is observed in and how it is kept. It is observed in accordance with biblical precept as rigorous fast and the whole of the day spent in prayer and intercession. The irpose of the day is to entreat God or forgiveness, and each individua eeks reconciliation with his Maker. Th seeks reconciliation with his Maker. The ritual is very sublime and impressive, and the music of a very inspiring character, and both in the Bible lessons and in the pulpit discourses the themes dealt in concern the sovereignty and power of the Divine Ruler of the universe, God's love and mercy, the aim and purpose of existence, etc.

The thief in "The Thief" play by the great French dramatist, Henry Bern stein, which Charles Frohman is to pre sent with a special cast at the Grand to-night, is a woman deeply in love with her husband and tortured by his indifference. She notices that he has no eyes for her in the simple clothes she can afford. She knows she would be as attractive and as interesting as others if she possessed their various fancy trimmings, and she is determined that she will be trimmed and decorated as they are to win her husband's attentions. And sha resorts to theft to win that attention. The company is said to be an excellent one, and is playing only the large cities.

These men were guests in the house and are said to have done the stabbing. Their names have been given to the police by the wounded Italians.

He had promised to supply the drinks, and when the men arrived wine and a keg of beer were on hand. A number of other boarders in the house joined the party, among them Toni Mucille and Liberto Scinnoca.

A card game was started, and after it had been in progress for some time a quarrel broke out. Knives were brought into play and in a moment a hand-to-hand fight was under way. The three visitors fought their way out of the house, smashing several pieces of furniture and a glass door front en route. A neighbor, who saw the tail end of the fight at the door, telephoned the police and Patrol Sergeant Umbach sent four constables to the house.

The officer found Mucille with a deep knife wound in his back and Sciunoca with a similar injury in his shoulder. Neither Italian is seriously injured.

FAREWELL TO HIS PEOPLE.

Rep. J. C. Sycamore Preached an Impressive Sermon.

Refers Appreciatively to Kind Treatment Received Here.

James Street Baptist Church Was Filled to Overflowing.

Rev. J. C. Sycamore's parting message to the people of the James Street Bap-tist Church last night was a simple, im-pressive plea for Christians to echo the truth of Jesus Christ in their lives, and to grasp the thought of service. To-night the congregation will say farewell and to-morrow he will leave for the west to become pastor of the First Baptist Church, Calgary. The edifice was filled to overflowing, a fitting tribute to Mr. Sycamore's popularity and an evidence of the host of friends of every denomination he made during his six years' work in the ministry here.

Before concluding his discourse he expressed the real affection he felt, not only for the people of his own congregation, but the friends in other churches, and the delightful fellowship with ministers of all denominations. His only reason for leaving Hamilton was the demand of the west. "I will not dwell on that," he said, "because I would not trust my voice to-night. It is not a case of money, but love. The autographs presented to Mrs. Sycamore and myself by the Sunday school workers today means more than any material thing. It means respect, and that is something you cannot buy. It means love, and that is something that can only be given." Mr. Sycamore referred appreciatively to the treatment accorded him by the press and public officials of Hamilton.

His text, verses 8 and 10 from the only for the people of his own congrega-

His text, verses 8 and 10 from the first chapter of Thessalonians, he said, conveyed the thought of echo. In preaching a farewell sermon he realized the importance of a subject that would appeal not only to his own people, but to all Christians and thus he chose this message.

"I am going two thousand miles away," he said, "and at times I want to put my ear to the ground and listen to what you are doing here. I want to hear the echo of what James Street Baptist and the other churches are doing, and I hope that across the big prairies and the Province of Ontario will roll the echo of what we are doing in Calgary. The echo of the text is such a message as I would have every church echo out."

The text was very suggestive as one of truth and all truths soon became echoes, ringing down the ages. "It is far better," said the speaker, "to echo-out a truth than to attempt to be orig-out a truth than to attempt to be orig-inal with something that you are not sure is based on truth."

With numerous examples from Chris-tian history Mr. Sycamore illustrated how great truths had echoed down the valley of time.

One of the most gratifying tributes history Mr. Sycamore Hustrated how great truths had echoed down the valley of time.

One of the most gratifying tributes to his work, said the pastor, was the testimony of a young man at a recent meeting who congratulated him because he did not argue about God, but made God more real to them. To make spiritual things more real to men was the highest ideal. Truth made all men free, and Jesus Christ, the embodiment of all truth, freed them from those things that marred the best intellects. Other thoughts emphasized by the speaker included the echo of faith, of service and of opportunity. Turning from idols, he declared, was only the beginning of reformation. We must turn to some power capable of attracting, holding and saving. That power was Jesus Christ.

Mr. Sycamore's last words were an earnest plea with young men and women earnest plea with young men and women In the afternoon the Sunday school held an open session, and the service was of a farewell nature. Rev. Chester New, B. A., a Hamilton boy who has re-cently toured the continent, gave a short address. Rev. Mr. Sycamore also adnew, B. A., a rramition boy who has recently toured the continent, gave a short address. Rev. Mr. Sycamore also addressed the gathering, and referred to his stay among them. Mr. Sycamore was presented with a morocco bound address, which was signed by all the teachers and officers of the Sunday school.

Mrs. Sycamore was presented with a large bouquet of roses. At the evening service 39 members were received, the majority of them being from Herkimer Baptist Church, where there has been some trouble of late.

The presentation made by the Sunday school workers was a beautiful illuminated address of four pages, elegantly bound in morocco and gold. It read as follows:
To the Reverend John C. Sycamore, M.

To the Reverend John C. Sycamore, M. A., pastor of James Street Baptist Church, Hamilton, Canada:
The members of the James Street Baptist Sunday school, upon your departure to a new field of labor, in our great West, desire to express their deep regret at the necessary severance of the many ties and associations that have bound us together during the years you have been with us. When you came to us, in September, 1903, our school was in a flourishing condition. However, the work has steadily progressed during. us, in September, 1903, our school was in a flourishing condition. However, the work has steadily progressed during your pastorate, numerically, financially and spiritually, the attendance showing an increase of 19 per cent., and the collections 40 per cent., while one hundred and fourteen members of the school have joined the church. The present condition and the bright outlook is due in large part to your hearty co-operation and support at all times.

Mrs. Sysummer and yourself have be-

Mis. Sygmmore and yourself have become endeared to us all, and we sincerely pray that you may be granted many years of usefulness in building up the Master's kingdom, and that the richest blessings of God may attend you. Yours in the Master's work:

Lindsay, Field Secretary for the Brotherhood of Andrew and Philip, gave a very carnest and interesting address, however, and those who were present were greatly interested. The music was in charge of Prof. A. J. Stone, and the singing was led by D. M. Moors Ask Terms of Spanish General -- Villages Burned.

Madrid, Sept. 27.-The War Office to day announced the complete success of the manoeuvres in Morocco against the Moors. Both Nador and Zeluan have been surrounded. At the latter town there was bloody fighting with large bodies of Moors, the details of which have not yet been published. The ring around Mount Gurüga is now considered almost closed, and the position of the around Mount Guruga is now considered almost closed, and the position of the Moors is desperate. Caid Amais appear-ed before Gen. Marina, the commander of the Spanish forces, yesterday, and asked terms of surrender for the tribes entrenched on Mount Guruga. The suits of this conference are not know but it is believed the Moors are ready to submit without conditions.

to submit without conditions.

The immediate successful termination of Spain's war against the Moors, which has been going on since July, would be of inestimable value to the Government of Premier Maura, against which the campaign in Spain is daily becoming more intense among the lower classes. A large section of the upper classes, however, are manifesting warm support of the Government. The Minister of the Interior is being deluged with letters beging him to continue the work of maintaining public order.

Alhucemas, Morocco, Sept. 27.—The entire coast him here is illuminated with the fires of burning Moorish villages. After the Spanish batteries, in the fighting of yesterday, had silenced the native artillery, the infantry advanced and drove the Moors from their positions. The immediate successful termination

P., was paid by Mr. W. O. Sealey, M. P. for Wentworth, his deskmate in the Commons:

"Finding myself so closely associated with a medical man, I feared at the outset that he might not be familiar with the great agricultural interests of Canada, that I had so much at heart and which was my special forte; however, I soon found that in his rounds of practuce he had evidently made a keen study of agriculture in its various branches, and after the committees were formed he displayed special activity, interest an I knowledge in the Agricultural and Railway Committees, and the Dominion of Canada to-day, and particularly North Perth, are enpoying some of the advantages, benefits and profits that are accruing from the help he gave on these committees. For instance, he devicted particular energy to helping to prevent the inferior surplus pork product of the United States being dumped into our Canadian market at slaughter prices, thus preventing to an extent the packers and speculators of Canada purchasing this product on slaughter price days, providing for their requirements until they could force the price of hogs to the Canadian producer on foot down to five cents or less, which was ruinous to the producer without giving the consumer any of this unfair speculative advantage. But during the post year so successful have we been in trying to prevent a continuation of this that producers are to day renlizing from eight to nine cents on foot, which is a clear gain of three cents to the producer, without any increased cost to the consumer, and as the nearest ducers are to-day realizing from eight to nine cents on foot, which is a clear gain of three cents to the producer, with out any increased cost to the consumer, and as the average farmer takes awa annually about three batches of eight hogs each, weighing an average of alog-two hundred pounds, which totals about 4.800 pounds, which, at, say, two cent per pound extra, would make a gain of 896, so I feel Dr. Rankin has helped it make the average hog producer alons make the average hog producer about an extra hundred dollars richer this year an extra hundred dollars richer this yes If we are able to get the tariff increas a little to prevent United States surpli-stock being unfairly slaughtered on or market without the necessity of or representatives being constantly on it alert, we will have succeeded in makin you a continuous extra annual prof-and what works well in pork produc-will work account of the producatert, we will have succeeded in makin you a continuous extra annual profit and what works well in pork product will work equally well in other lines o agricultural products, such as butter cheese, eggs, hay, grain, horses, etc. be agricultural products, such as butter, cheese, eggs, hay, grain, horses, etc., because at present the United States population is fifteen times greater than that of Canada, and, therefore, under equitable tariff conditions, we should be exporting to the United States fifteen times more than they export to Canada. The trade and commerce report shows just about the opposite to be the present situation under present tariff conditions, and, therefore, if we agree that free trade is not a possibility at the present time, there doesn't seem to be any good reason why our revenue tariff should not be applied to preserve the home market for the home producer along agricultural lines to equally as great an extent as along manufactured or any other lines without asking any special favors for the agriculturist, even though he is by far the most numerous and important of any industry in Canada, and the only reason why we haven't equal considerations to day is because, as farmers, we have not unitedly and forcefully asked for it.

Robert Hiscock, twenty-three years, old, proposed marriage.

At first Miss Suffern, who is worth $1,000,000, was undecided, fearing that her neighbors in Ridgewood, N. J., would crowd the Episcopal Church during the marriage ceremony and make unkind remarks. Hiscock suggested that they elope, so the pair drove to the office of Justice of the Peace John Keep in Paterson and were wedded. Then they returned to the Ridgewoid home of the bride. Yesterday the couple went to Suffern, N. Y., where the aged bride maintains another home. A long honeymoon trip also is planned. Miss Sufferin had held herself aloof from the townspeople and has been called eccentric. She is noted for her gifts to charity. called eccentric. gifts to charity.

Moors Made Night Attack on Spani ards, But Were Repulsed.

Madrid, Sept. 26. -The Spanish rees in Morocco captured day the Town of Nador, an importday the Town of Nador, an important position on the road to Zeluan. The fighting which preceded the capture was severe, and the Moors again sustained heavy losses. The native villages around Nador were burned. The Moors made an attack at night on the Spaniards in Nador, but were repulsed and shattered by artillery. The character of the place is regarded here as likely to have an important influence on ending the Riff resistance. The Spaniards now surround three sides of Mount Gurugu, the central Riff stronghold, and with the capture of Nador, Zeluan is regarded as doomed.

Peary Refused to Take Any of Dr. Cook's Instruments or Records on Board.

Cook's Proofs Delayed Many Months—Peary Says He Has Direct Proofs.

Paris, Sept. 26 .- The Paris edition of the Herald prints a despatch from its correspondent aboard the steamer with Harry Whitney, sent by wireless from Indian Harbor, giving Whitney's account of his meeting Dr. Cook on April 17, when Cook told him he had passed two days at the pole. When Cook left on a sledging trip to Upernavik, he entrusted Whitney with his sextant and horizon finder, as Whitney said a ship was certain to come for him. Cook requested only to tell Peary that Cook had passed Péary's record, but not to say anything about his finding the pole. This Whitney promised, and therefore he did dot tell Peary or anyone aboard the Roosevelt what Cook had told him about his success. Fearing that no ship might arrive, Whitney determined to return with Peary. The latter told him in the most emphatic way that he could not take anything on board belonging to Cook. He added he would say no more about it, but would trust Whitney's word of honor that he would not take anything with him belonging to Cook. Whitney was forced to unpack the instruments, flags and boxes, of the contents of which he was ignorant, and leave them on the rocks at Etah, where they now are. ney said a ship was certain to come for Peary refused also to take Cook's sledge, which Cook had given to Whitney, on which Cook had made his entire journey. Whitney ends by expressing faith in Cook's story, which the Eskimos corroborated as far as Whitney was able to understand.

PEARY'S JUSTIFICATION.

Portland. Me., Sept. 26.—It was learned from a source close to Commander Peary to-night that the commander justifies his action of refusing to allow Dr. Cook's instruments or records on board the homeward bound steamer Roosevelt on the theory that he had been evere the nomeward bound steamer Roosevelt on the theory that he had been aware for some time of Cook's intention to claim the discovery of the North Pole, and that Peary, therefore, would sanction nothing to aid his project.

WHITNEY'S TELEGRAM.

New York, Sept. 26.— Commander Robert E. Peary refused absolutely to allow any of the records or instruments of Dr. Frederick A. Cook to be brought aboard the steamer Roosevelt, and was thus instrumental in causing these records to remain in a cache at Etah, Greenland, according to Harry Whitney, the New Haver sportsman, in a despatch received in this city by Dr. Cook to-day. The message, which came as a response to one sent by Dr. Cook, is as follows: "Strathcoma, via Indian Harbor and Cape Ray, Nfld., Sept. 25.

"Dr. F. A. Cook, Waldorf, New York.—Started for home Roosevelt. Nothing arrived for me. Peary would allow nothing belonging to you on board. Had to leave everything in cache at Etah.

"Met Capt. Sam, North Star. Did not go back after going schooner bound St. John's take steamer home. Hope you well. See you soon. Explain all. Good shooting. Harry Whitney."

COOK'S PROOFS DELAYED.

New York, Sept. 26.—Dr. Frederick A. Cook, the Arctic explorer, is practically bound hand and foot, so far as is concerned his ability to prove within the immediate future that he did discover the North Pole. It remains for Harry Whitney, the New Haven sportsman to undo the cords which now render Dr. Cook almost helpless. Whether or not he will succeed at his task remains to be seen. At present he is hurrying in this direction from the Far North as fast as the Jeanie can travel under full steam pressure.

"I can't very well do anything until I have had a talk with Mr. Whitney," said Dr. Cook in an interview. "I have proofs—plenty of them, but I have waited for Mr. Whitney to corroborate my statements by producing the instruments and all of the data which I gave him when at Etah."

Someone asked him whether he had any cause to ballaye the I. W.

PEARY'S PROOFS.

Portland, Maine, Sept. 26. —The Roosevelt, with Peary's crew on board, arrived here to-day. The men of the Roosevelt feel certain that when the statement of Peary's, now in possession of the Peary Arctic Club, is given to the world there will be but one opinion relative to the claim of Dr. Frederick A. Cook, and that its publication will so clear the atmosphere that when Peary stands upon the Roosevelt's bridge in the Fulton parade he will be acclaimed as the only man who has ever atood upon the man who has ever of the earth. tood upon the Hensen, the negro, who accompanied Peary to the Pole, took to his stateroom when the newspaper men stepped aboard the Roosevelt, and was only brought out when Capt. Bartlett went in to find him for the newspaper men. Prof. Mc-Millan was disposed to talk, and did talk with some readiness, but the others volunteered little.

Hensen said he had seen the Eskimos who had been sent back by Dr. Cook when he started on the last stage of his journey for the Pole. He intimated that there were not 12 of them in the party sent back, but he would not say how many.

Hensen talked freely about the talked freely about the Hensen talked freely about the handling of Eskimo dogs, and said that Dr. Cook knew nothing about dogs, and could not harness one or handle them after they were harnessed.

"I can handle Eskimo dogs as well as any Eskimo," said Hensen, "but it has taken me years to learn how to do it. Dr. Cook knows absolutely nothing about them."

Professor McMillan has recovered

Professor McMillan has recovered the most valuable of the books stolen from him at Sydney by the souvenir hunters. The Earkimo census, which was reported as having been stolen, was not taken from the ship. Borup also found some of the articles he had lost by the souvenir hunters, but not two scientific books filled with notes. "Twenty volumes," he said, "were sent to me and cached at Cape York. The Eskimos did not touch this property, but the first white people we saw stole everything they could get their hands on."

the first white people we saw stole everything they could get their hands on."

Commander Peary leaves Portland for Bar Harbor at noon to-morrow. It is believed he will there give out the statement concerning Cook which he has prepared and which Gen. Hubbard has been examining. He is very impatient that it should be published. He said he would not go to New York until the controversy had been cleared up, but the people on the Rooseielt understand he is to be on the bridge of the Roosevelt during the Fulton parade. Peary believes he has proof of charges against Cook. It is not evidence based on a deduction of scientific facts alone, so they all say, but it is tangible, direct evidence. This is what those near Peary intimate, although they will not make public what it is. The Eskimos who were with Cook have all contributed something, but this is not the only evidence which Peary has, so his friends claim.

SPORT AND THE BUDGET.

One may judge that political movements are taking a pretty wide sweep when they bring into their course the M. C. C., the Football Association, and the Amateur Football Association. But the budget, touches all these bodies, and a deputation from them and other eporting organizations urged upon the Government a few days ago the expediency, in the interest of the national games, of exempting from taxation under the land clauses "grounds used for sporting and recreative purposes." The gentlemen who went up to play the Cabinet on their own ground only succeeded, so to speak, to the extent of a drawn game. The Chancellor of the Exchequer was exercising his skill in the House of Commons, and Mr. Masterman answered the remonstrant sportsmen on his behalf. He was able to say that as a public school boy he had played against the M. C. C. and Ground and had also played under the rules of the Football Association. Naturally the tone of his response was sympathetic; but his sympathy was guarded. w. J. Cunningham spoke on the subject, "What Has the Bible Done For Us?" The body was divided into three great departments, he said, the body, mind and soul. The Bible was a benefit to each one. It gave the true laws of health and of justice, not only for man, but also for animal. The Bible was the source of all knowledge, and any person who did not study and understand it was lacking one of the greatest essentialities for the education of the mind. It was only the Bible that could give peace and salvation to the soul.

The hymns selected specially for rally day were sung heartily by the school, under the leadership of Prof. Johnston, who conducted that part of the service. The secretary's report was read, and showed a substantial increase in the atand offering

The annual Children's Day service held in Central Presbyterian Church yesterday was largely attended. J. J. Evel presided. W. R. Dryman spoke on what has the Bible done for us? It had given us the Sabbath which was one of our greatest blessings. We would only have to go to heathen lands to see what this country would be without the Bible. The foundation of the country's greatness was based on it. The Bible had given us our Saviour who alone had given us the only hope of redemption.

Rev. W. H. Sedgewick spoke on "What use we are making of the Bible."

His text was the 84th Paslm: "Who passing through the valley of Beca make it a well." He said there were many wells, and hoped the boys would live within their laws. The first one was the word of God. and he asked the scholars always to tell the truth and when in temptation to consult God. Drink deeply of the truth, he advised. "If I wanted amusement and had time for it I would attend the theatres." Mayor McLaren thought the children should do what they were told by their superiors and be guided by other people's experience. He said if the elderly people had as many opportuities as the boys and girls of to-day had to become fine citizens they would have been thankful. He reminded the scholars of children who had to walk a mile to school, without fine sidewalks, and sometimes plow through snow. Children, he said, should be cafeful how they spent their money. Truthfulness or dishonesty would come back with interest. Mayor McLaren also referred to parents who neglected their children. Carelessness of people in younger days proved very costly later in life, and sometimes the parents were responsible. "This is the greatest country in the world," said the speaker, "for boys and girls to grow up and become great citizens.

FLOWER SERVICE.

The annual flower service was held at Christ Church Cathedral yesterday after-noon, when Rev. Canon Abbott spoke to the children.

The children were first assembled in the schoolroom and then marched into the Cathedral, and each carried a bouquet of flowers or a basket of fruit, which was placed on the alter after the service and was afterwards given to the hospitals, House of Refuge and similar institutions, as well as the poor of the parish.

Cannon Abbott, told the children that flowers were great preachers, for they told of the resurrection from death to life, for they have death and subsequent ressurection and so we shall all be like them and we shall be transplanted in the garden of Paradise if we live good lives. He then spoke of weeds and said that there were the weeds of bad temper, dishonesty and uncleanliness, which was the worst kind of all weeds in the garden of life.

Souter expressed pleasure at seeing so large a representation of parents and friends of the Sunday school present. Robert Symmers rendered two excellent numbers, "Fear Not, O Israel," and "My Saviour, I Cling to Thee," Dr. C. L. M. Harris playing the accompaniments. Ed. Montgomery gave a report of the Sunday school. Ald. Cooper gave an interesting address. At the outset he expressed pleasure in being with the Erskine Sunday school on rally day, and was pleased to see the order and good conduct of the scholars. He was proud of the principles instilled in the Sunday schools—right-eousness and truth, which were abiding. He told the scholars some things that had impressed him most on a visit to Governor Ogilvie Castle; some lessons to be learned by way of contrast. He urged upon the boys and girls to be always truthful, ever for the right, to be true to their Sunday school teachers and to parents, true to all that is good and right, to stand by the principles taught by good mothers and follow in the footsteps of Jesus.

Rev. S. Burnside Russell followed, commending his interesting address on the lessons of truth and righteousness. He touched on the importance of things that abide. The good we may do others and endeavor to influence those outside the Sunday school to attend. The orchestra, under the leadership of Mr. Hut-

The rally agan with the morning class meetings One of the very best rally days in the history of Emerald Street Methodist Church was held yesterday. The rally began with the morning class meetings, which were largely attended. The sermon in the morning was preached by Rev. Dr. Tovell, from the text, "Whatsoever thy hand findeth to do, do it with thy might." It was thoroughly practical, and the points of church work were beautifully brought out by the doctor and forced home with energy and power. Each point was clinched by a telling illustration, which never failed to make a fine impression.

They told Danser that Martin came along within a few minutes and Schuman, seeing him, picked up the shotgun and said. 'I will make him keep away from here.'

STEEPLE-JACKS.

Three Women Climbed Spire of Yorkshire Parish Church.

New York, Sept. 26 .- The London correspondent of The Herald sends the fol-lowing: The parish of Whitwell, near Malton, Yorkshire, has been the scene of a remarkable feat on the part of three adventurous ladies, Lady Construce Foljambe, Miss Octavia Cayley and Miss Nellie Beal, says The Daily Description.

Whitwell Parish Church, which lies on the main road from Malton to York, has a very high spire, on which steeple-jacks have recently been engaged in repair work.

Lady Constance, who lives at Kirkham Hall, near Malton, the seat of her brother, the Earl of Liverpool, accepted, together with her two friends, who also live in the vicinity, a challenge to ascend the spire, and they all successfully accomplished the daring feat while the workmen were away.

Lady Constance was the first to ascend scaling the spire by means of lad-cend, scaling the spire by means of lad-ders outside the building, all touching the weather vane at the top

Miss Cayley and Miss Beal followed in their turn, and then not satisfied with a single ascent, Miss Cayley re-peated her performance. peated her performance.

The church stands in the centre of the village, and many of the villagers watched the feat with considerable interest

A GREAT INFLUX.

115,000 Settlers Expected to Cross Border Next Year.

Winnipeg, Man., Sept. 26 .- "Immigra winnipeg, Man., Sept. 20.— Immigration from the United States to Canada has increased fully 30 per cent. this year, and next year there will be about 115,000 Americans come to Canada." This was the statement of Mr. W. J. White, Superintendent of the Dominion Immigration Agencies in the United States, today. White said that it was surpris ing how popular Canadian lands were becoming in the United States. Farmers were selling off their good farms, which bring possibly $125 an acre, and were coming over to Canada to take up land.

Don showed the gameness that has made him famous on the gridiron, and despite the intense pain, walked to the club house unassisted, where he awaited the arrival of Dr. McGregor. After the bone had been set Lyon was conveyed to his home in a seh No ne was to blame, as the affair cab. No one was to blame, as the affair was purely accidental. Harper was downhearted over the affair, but it was no fault of his that the accident happened.

The accident cast a gloom throughout the Tigers' camp, and it was evident that the team was unprepared for such a blow so early in the season. The boys made an attempt to continue their practive, but finally gave up.

Lyon may be forced to stay out of the game all season, and the great wing man, whose following up and tackling was a feature, will no doubt be a great loss to the team. His absence will give a few of the intermediates a chance to w of the intermediates a chance to their worth. While Lyon was in a show their worth. ginia, last week. The race was for a $1.000 purse, and the winner was presented with a floral wreath by the Clarksburg News. The wreath is now on exhibition at Dick Baird's hotel, the Metropole. This is the first pacing stake race to come to Hamilton and the owner is naturally proud of his victory. The Clarksburg News has the following to say of the race:

Dick Baird's Ideal

The Tigers' practice at the Cricket Grounds on Saturday afternoon came to a sudden termination when a most unfortunate accident occurred to Don Lyon, the fast outside wing who had one of the small bones in his wrist broken. The accident happened near the end of the afternoon, and it was done so easy that no one realized the extent of his injury. "Red" Harper, who plays on the junior team, was running towards the east goal with the ball, when Lyon came up from behind and tackled him. Both fell and Lyon's hand coming down beneath Harper received a blow hard enough to fracture one of the hones. Don showed the game. "Kid" Smith, Art. Moore, sford, Bramer, Vickley, son, "Kid" Smith, Art. Moore, Burton, Glassford. Bramer, Vickley, George Smith and a few others.

The juniors and intermediates had a fine workout. If both teams do not turn out to be champions it will not be because they lack material. Some promising players have turned up. Bramer is certainly making good in the scrimmage. A stone wall could not hold him back, and he is gradually getting on to the fine points of the game.

Tom Ross, the Cubs' manager, is a busy man these days. Tom has a hard job shead of him looking after the juniors.

Filman, a junior recruit, is showing fine form this year. "Fil" may find a place on the intermediates.

Callowhill, of the Y. M. C. A., was out on Saturday. He is a big, strong, muscular boy, and in a few years should make the seniors. He is one of the many valuable finds made this year, Higgins, the big Highfield boy, was in uniform. He has the same style of running as Art. Moore, and with his strength is a hard man to stop.

The bay gelding started in record fashion, but soon took the pole and kept it throughout the race, and was never in danger. At the conclusion of the race, the driver, John Rombough, was presented with a beautiful floral horse shoe by the News, and last night it was shipped to Hamilton, Ontario, the home of the horse, owner and driver. Ideal is a bay gelding, five years old. Last week this horse won from Ess N. Kay at Fairmont, the latter winning Monday at Colambus, O., taking a mark of 2.05.14. Ideal also won a great race at Rockfort track, Cleveland, Ohio, this year, and is in a class alone. He is sired by Arbuteskin, one of the most noted sires in the country.

successful ever held in this city. Despite the fact that the date was rather a ther was almost ideal, the bright sun phere. The track was in grand condition notwithstanding Friday night's rain, although no records were broken several were equalled, and the time in all events was fast. Some disappointment was felt over the non-appearance of Frank Lukeman, the speedy Montreal sprinter, who was billed as one of the sprinter, who was billed as one of the chief attractions of the meet. When seen in Toronto on Wednesday night by the secretary of the Tiger A. A., he promised to be here, but having in mind the difficulty he experienced in bzeating Sebert and knowing that Kerr had it on the Toronto boy by a couple of yards, he likely suffered a bad attack of cold feet at the last moment, and rather than feet at the last moment, and rather than come to Hamilton and get a trimming, he hied himself back to his haberdashery he hied himself back to his haberdashery store in Montreal, giving the time-worn excuse that business pressed. It was unfortunate that he did not discover it sooner as his action in this matter has left a bad impression amongst the Hamilton sports. There is a story going the rounds that he is not in the best of shape, and there may be something in that too. However, his absence did not prove any great calamity as Sebert and prove any great calamity as Sebert and Dent gave Kerr good races in both the 100 and 220 yards dashes.

He is often the wisest man who is not wise at all.—Wordsworth.

The crowd was well pleased with the manner in which the meet was run off. The officials knew their business and getting the first event off at 2.30 o'clock sharp ran the whole programme off on schedule time. In only one instance did anything of a dissatisfactory nature happen. In the final of the 100 yards men's handicap Morgan, the young Y. M. C. A. runner, who is looked upon by local experts as one of the coming men in the sprints, was interfered with by Kehoe, who ran a few steps in his lane. The offiender was disqualified and Morgan given third place.

Naturally Bobby Kerr was the popular athlete of the day, and his appearance on the field was always the signal for applause. When he equaled his own record, 21 2.5, for the 220 yards dash, beating Sebert by two yards, the crowd went went wild and cheered him to the echo. Bobby received these signs of the Brooklyn team. The Newarks, owned by Iron Man McGinnity, have made a game fight but the injury to Cept. Wolverton some time ago proved fatal to the team's success. McGinnity, however, has cleaned up about $20,000 in profits and has also demonstrated the fact that he is still able to pitch good ball.

The Hamilton champion took an early lead, and finished first, with a good four feet between himself and Sebert. Dent was about a yard and a half behind the

The 220-yard dash is Kerr's best dis-

Toronto man.

The 220-yard dash is Kerr's best distance, and in this event he trimmed Sebest by nearly three yards. Sebert is also supposed to be at his best in the 220, but Kerr has it on him considerably. Bobby drew away at the beginning, and when the 100-yards mark was reached was a yard in the lead. The time in this event equals the Canadian record.

Great interest was taken in the one-mile handicap run, in which H. Wilson, the English crack now with the Irish-Americans, of New York, and Chuck Skene, of the Irish-Canadians, of Toronto, were the chief contestants. The race was really between these men, and although neither of them won, it was which of them would finish first that in the stretch, and Skene set the pace with a fast clip, doing the half in 2.8. Wilson stuck to his heels, and in the stretch attempted to pass the big Torontonian, but Skene quickened his stride and finished ahead of the Englishman by about four yards. Charles Thorpe, of Peterboro, won the race with a 200-yards han dicap.

Goulding was easily the class of the field in the walking event. In the first three laps he had overhauled all the handicap men but Sodden, a local man. Goulding's style of walking is pretty, and the crowd applauded him when he stepped across the tape a winner by fifty yards on the second man. The Toronto walkers had some objection to John McVittie, the veteran Hamilton walker, who judged the event, and E. P. MacDonald, of the Toronto Centrals, refused to start.

Lunghi, the Italian speed wonder, had no difficulty in defeating George Lester in the 880-yards handicap. The Toronto boy got 45 yards start, and Lunghi beat him by 20 yards in 1.57 2.5. Eunghi holds the world's record for the half mile. He is a big fellow, and one of the prettiest runners ever seen on a local track. His stride is long and free, and the way his feet take hold of the ground shows his strength.

Hamiltonians had a chance Saturday to see the famous Canadian champion walker, Goulding, at his best, and the way he sprinted past the other contestants in the race showed that he is all he is reputed to be, one of the greatest walkers in the world.

A walking race is certainly one of the most amusing things to watch that has ever been offered the athletic public, and the spectators were thrown into spasms of merriment at the Indicrous manner in which nearly all of the contestants in Saturday's race carried themselves.

A prominent figure at the meet was Tom Longboat. He strode around the field in the wake of Sol Mintz, his manager, and mazaged to look pleased at everything he saw. His arrival was greeted with cheers.

Second Series of the Inter-City League is Now Tied-Hamilton Team Claimed That Umpire Miller Was Partial.

RANTFORD, SEPT. 27. — (Special.) — The s 27.—(Special.)—The Goold, Shapley & Muir team forced a tie in the second series of the Inter-series of the Intercity League here on Saturday, when the West End Pleasure Club was beaten by 3-2 in a scrappy game, marked by some of the best baseball witnessed here this year. Willie Simpson virtually won his own game in the eighth inning, when the score stood 2-2, with a clean three-base hit to deep centre, scoring on Shea's single to left. The visitors declared they were robbed by Umpire James Miller, who had a hard job with both teams, as the game was air-tight-all the way.

The Windmillers scored first in the air-tight-all the way.

The Windmillers scored first in the third inning, when Walsh and Shea drew passes and Cancella made a fine two-bagger to left, scoring both. The third and deciding run came in the eighth inning, and Sinpson was roundly cheered for his great work. The West Enders negotiated the plate once in the fifth and again in the seventh inning, although runners on third came dangerously near upsetting the calculations of the homesters on a couple of occasions. Umpire Miller probably gave the Windmill team the best of it. Certainly the West Ends received no close decisions, and they were warranted in their kicking.

In the sixth imning Miller gave a coatly decision against the West Ends. Hackbusch hit for two bases and went to third when Carey went out at first. With two down Southon banged an apparently safe hit into right field, Patterson getting the bound, however, and throwing the runner out at first. It was inches either way, and the side was retired, Hackbusch failing to register the run. This decision might have won the game for the visitors. On balls and strikes his umps," the visitors claimed, showed partiality to the home pitcher. Bothen, except for the five charities which he issued, and which were costly, pitched a good game, holding the Windmillers to three hits. Every hit the home team made, however, counted. In addition the Hamilton boy had seven strike-outs to his credit. Gage scored the first run for the visitors when he uncorked a three-base hit Cancells kroot.

the first run for the visitors when he un-corked a three-base hit, Cancella knocking the ball over the fence in going after it. The throw to third on the relay was wild, and the big fellow went right home. In the seventh the West Ends tied the score when Buscombe singled and Bothen doubled.

There was a lot of excellent fielding in the contest, Dressbach and Buscombe being the best of the visitors. McCallum made two sensational catches at third base, and Patterson executed a quick play when he cut Southon off at first base. If Saturday's game is any criterion of the series of two games which these two teams will now have to play, the series will be a hummer. Larry Burke has been agreed on as the umpire for the games to break the tie.

AND GOSSIP

Bobby Kerr was certainly at the top of his form on Saturday when he equalled the Canadian record for the 220 yards dash. On a straight track with a speed merchant like Reg. Walker behind him it is safe to say that the record would have gone by the boards.

Carloads of horses have been arriving here for the last three or four days for the Autumn meeting of the Hamilton Jockey Club, which starts to-morrow. The track and steeplechase field is in the best of condition, and with the class of horses that are coming in some of the best racing in years should be seen. Many improvements have been made since the Spring meeting and addditional grandstand accommodation has been provided.

J. W. Pearce will again have charge of the programmes, and he promises that the card will be more complete than ever, which is going some, as it is now considered the best in Canada.

The Hamilton Riding and Cross Country Club had another good run on Saturday. The runs are becoming very popular and each Saturday sees an addition to the party.

Johnson cannot be convinced that Jeffries means to fight him and predicts that the burly Californian when he arrives in New York will sign vaudeville contracts that will carry him through the winter and spring. Since making a show of Kaufman, Johnson's confidence in himself has increased wonderfully, until he is sure that he can defeat Jeffries. In discussing the proposed big mill the other day Johnson said that he would agree to forty-five rounds or a finish contest and that he would tire Jeffries out by the use of defensive tactics. Jeffries cabled from Paris to a friend in New York yesterday that he would sail for America about the first week in October.

By winning Saturday the Shamrocks are now tied with Montreal for first place, and home-and-home games will be necessary. This will mean gigantic receipts and lots of pocket-money for the players, so this may have had something to do with the fast game put up by the Irishmen on Saturday.

Shamrocks got the first goal, and pressed hard, but the big Tecumseh defence men checked hard. Shamrocks seemed always ready to steal the ball from them, although when they did get it they did not do much with it. There was lots of running with the ball, but little really dangerous work on either side. After a time play steadied down, and the checking and covering were close and hard. The Tecumseh home players put up a good game, but were unable to break down the defence work of the Irish. The finish was all Shamrock, as Irish. OTTAWA FAVORS THE AMALGAMATION SCHEME

But Says Senior Series Must Not be Interfered With -- Gossip of the "Big Four" Teams.

Ottawa, Ont., Sept. 27.—The position that the Ottawa Football Club has decided to take with regard to the move towards affiliation or amalgamation with the O. R. F. U. may be outlined in a few words. The Ottawas are in favor of joining hands with the O. R. F. U. but are not in favor of expanding the senior series, believing four clubs the senior series, believing four clubs all that the Inter-provincial can hope to support in a senior series. Five or six clubs, the Ottawas believe, would hurt, rather than benefit the game. Last year the Ottawas, for the first time in fifteen seasons, wound up with a balance on the right side. Now that they are making a success of football in Ottawa they do not fancy taking chances of hurting it again.

series of the Inter-provincial must remain as it is. Messrs. Johnstone and Baskerville will represent the Ottawas at the meeting on Tuesday night.

Montreal, Sept. 27.—President Hagar states that no invitation has been received by Montreal to attend the joint meeting of the O. R. F. U. and the Inter-provincial. In this province the organizing of the intermediates and juniors is being left to the Q. R. F. U. and witn satisfactory results.

Montreal Rugby Club had thirty-four players in uniform Saturday afternoon, and although several of the seniors of last year did not turn out as expected, the workout was a satisfactory one. The senior back division was made up of stinson, Craig, Ducket, and Hamilton, with Baillie at quarter. McNamee, McAllen, and Kalls in the scrimmage, Magor, Baillie, and Fraser on one side as wing men, and Eagan, Scully and A. Cameron on the other. Young Savage and Ritchie alternated with Scully at the middle wing. The Executive expects to have out this week Ted Savage, George Kelly, and Walter Molson. If these men turn out the line will be put just right and the team will be able to give a good account of itself. Some of the new men are showing up well. Suckett is playing a good game at centre half and Eagan and Jim Baillie give promise of being first-class wing men. Montreal Rugby Club had thirty-four Ottawa Free Press: Friday was a hoodoo day for the Ottawa football team. Yesterday the seniors opposed the intermediates, and not only played loosely, but seemed to be unable to get going, the scrubbs scoring three trys on them, two being through fumbles, and the third was well earned, Snelling bucking over in two downs from ten yards out.

But the Jonah was present all through the practice. The men had only been going a few minutes when George Church was stretched cold by a knee coming in contact with his wind. It was during a run up the side in which a half dozen handled the ball. He recovered, but rested on the side lines several minutes before he was sufficiently recovered to resume.

it no one knows, not even himself. A tendon was ruptured in his left knee mid way in the practice, and though he continued on playing, it became greatly aggravated and he left the field limping badly at the conclusion. He was placed on a rubbing board, and Dr. Nagle examined the injury. Its extent will not be known for a day or so yet, but it would not be surprising if he was unable to play against Montreal next Saturday, a fact that will cripple the back line considerably.

"Kiko" Kilmartin also injured an old bruised knee of his, and will be laid up for some time. Billy Slade, who has been showing up particularly well on the intermediate took a flying tackle at Christie who was going like a streak through a broken field, and was knocked out. It was discovered later his nose had been broken. Walter Gillis was also laid out in a scrimmage.

Foction will be going in full swing next Saturday, when the leagues all over the city will play the opening games, and judging by the form and enthusiasm shown by the different teams, some rattling good games should take place. The only league that will not be opened this year is the Victoria Park League. It was the intention of the promoters to organize this league, but the players have scattered, and the managers find it impossible to form their teams. Most of the absentees are playing in the church leagues, while others have left the city. A new league has been formed that will take the place of this one, however, and the fans should see classy football, as the rivalry existing between the teams is said to be great. The league will be composed of the Blue Labels, Hurons, Victorias and Beavers. The players only weigh between 90 and 115 lbs. but the young sters are at times capable of playing ball coaul to any of their elders.

It was discovered broken. Walter Gillis was also laid out in a scrimmage.

The one great redeeming feature about the practice was the magnificent quarter-back work of Charlie Snelling. He tore holes through the senior line that fairly startled everybody. He got his distance on first and second downs, and once through the line it was almost impossible to pull him up. On his showing yesterday he is practically sure to play quarter against Montreal next Saturday.

The senior backs fumbled atrociously, while the line gave them very little protection. Eddie Pope, who played centre half, is coming up splendidly, and his tackling yesterday was quite a feature. Shound Jack Williams not come out, Pape looks good enough to till the bill.

The Montreal team will probably be a good deal stronger than was first expected. It looks now as if the back division will be Stinson at full. The Peterboro' Review says: There is talk of an amalgamation of the Interprovincial and O. R. F. U. Perhaps it would be a good thing. There is no reason why the two bodies should be scrapping. The Ascensions are composed of nearly all the Mission boys, and are only waiting for the whistle to start the excitement. The other game will likely take place between First Church and the Erskines. Saturday was a hoodoo for football. Besides a few of the Tigers being put out of business, a number of the juniors had the misfortune to receive injuries that will not better their condition any. The First Methodist Church, at Victoria Park, in an exhibition game, defeated the Central Y. team by a score of 7-4. The First Church had the better of the argument all the way through, and had little difficulty inu winning. The First Church outweighed their opponents.

how many have seen that paradise of apple trees, the Annapolis valley? If all ing on business the the township. This question was brought up at the last, meeting of the Council, and it was expected that the Council and it was expected that the Council would pass the by-law on Saturday night without any opposition. The general feeling was that township carters should have protection against city men, especially as the city by-law prevents township men from doing business in the city.

Councilior Lewis raised an objection to the by-law on the grounds that there are not enough township men to supply the needs. In East Hamilton, he said, there were only two carters, and over the mountain there were none, and he could not see how thees two could handle all the work. When the Council saw things in this light they decided to lay the question on the table and consider it. later. There is a probability that a by-law will be passed compelling city carters to may a license to carry on their business in the township, but until the township men can satisfy the Council that they are capable of meeting the needs of the people it is unlikely that any steps will be taken to bar the city men.

The Barton Board of Health also held after an ancient and classic model it con-forms to the general lines of the period. Perhaps this is one reason why the cul-tured and tasteful people of the Annapo-lis valley find satisfying qualities in this, the best instrument, it is claimed, pro-duced in Canada to-day.
