RECIPIENTS WITH THE UNITED STATES.

Now that Canada is seeking in every way to extend her foreign trade and markets for the surplus commodities which she develops, it is interesting to see what is said about Canada in the United States.

THE BRITISH NAVY.

Notwithstanding the heavy deficit in the British finances for the past fiscal year, and the necessity which has compelled the Chamberlain to propose to put an additional penny on the Income Tax, and increase the duties on tea and tobacco in his Budget for the present year, Mr. Chamberlain has intimated in the House of Commons on Tuesday last that the Government could not see its way to allow any reduction to be made in the Navy Estimates.

the old wooden walls in which Nelson, Hood, Collingwood and other old naval heroes achieved such great victories and compelled the world to admit that 'Britannia ruled the waves'.

There was an interesting reference in Mr. Chamberlain's speech to the naval situation that the present war between Russia and Japan might bring about. Many publicists and naval authorities have expressed the opinion that, however the war ended, our great naval power at least would be wiped out and the international naval league have an account written off. Evidently the British Government does not take that view, but believes that the losses by war, however severe, will soon be repaired and the balance of naval power not be much different from what it is at present.

But for a certain class of immigrants, such as the immigrants from the North-West Territories, we have no desire, since it would be impossible to locate the immigrants with satisfaction to themselves or with advantage to the Province.

Gen. Sassulitch Has Been Retired Commander of the Russians at the Battle of the Yalu Displaced. Praised for Stubborn Resistance But Disgraced for His Disobedience. St. Petersburg, May 17.—(Bulletin.) He has been relieved of the command of the second Siberian army division and that Gen. Kellner, former governor of Khabarovsk, has been appointed to succeed him.

St. Petersburg, May 17.—Since the battle of the Yalu it has been predicted that Gen. Sassulitch would not long retain his command, but there has been no disposition to act hastily. The Emperor's advisers do not regard that while Sassulitch did not carry out the plan of operations which had been previously determined upon, he had displayed a stubborn resistance, which showed to his enemy and to the world that the Russians had not given up and that the Russians had not given up and that the Russians had not given up.

From Our Own Correspondent. New Westminster, May 17.—Ed year has seen some substantial evidence that New Westminster is naturally a great manufacturing locality, but it is most satisfactory is the latest deal which a large distillery is to be established here. For some time negotiations have been in progress with the result that the promoters considered it advantageous of the old town on the Fraser, as superior to those of other places, and they had arranged an agreement with the city. Under this the new distillery will be erected on the site of the old distillery, and will be a great benefit to the city. BREATHING IMPORTANT. To become a good sprinter you must master the art of breathing. As the runner approaches the start the command to 'get' the inhalation should be deep but not too full...

STRICT TRAINING RULES NEEDED. First, elementary training must be commenced long before the more vigorous course required to prepare a runner for public performance or championship.

USE OF THE ARMS. The arms should be developed as well as the legs, as they play an important part in sprinting.

LIVE AND TRAIN REGULARLY. Having gotten your body into condition to undergo a sprint and rigorous course, begin by running sprints of fifty or sixty yards for a week, running the distance about five times a week.

ACQUIRE LONG BOUNDING STRIDE. After a week of these bursts of speed, the art of starting may be taken up. On the start depends the race, and starting is the most difficult part of sprinting for the beginner to master.

ACQUIRE LONG BOUNDING STRIDE. The old method of an upright standing start has gone out of date. The proper method of starting is the 'crouching' or 'crawling' start.
