

The Toronto World.

THIRD YEAR.

FRIDAY MORNING, JULY 7, 1882.

PRICE ONE CENT

DRY GOODS
TO THE PEOPLE OF ONTARIO.

We beg to inform you that we are retiring from the

RETAIL BUSINESS

Carried on under the name and style of

Petley & Co.,

And for the above good reason, we have marked down and advertised the stock, and what has been the result? Simply that the Intelligent public have responded to our advertisement, and crowds of people have visited our two immense retail stores, the

Golden Griffin,

and on all sides we hear nothing but praise and admiration for the tremendous reductions we have made.

Let us beg of you not to invest one dollar until you have seen the stock of

DRY GOODS, SILKS, MILLINERY, CARPETS, AND READY-MADE CLOTHING, which we are selling at about one-half the regular prices, in order to clear out our very large stock at an early date.

SALES FOR CASH ONLY.

PATRICK HUGHES,

B. B. HUGHES,

NOTICE OF REMOVAL
S. DAVIS & SON,
"Cable" Cigar Manufacturers of Montreal, have removed their

TORONTO BRANCH OFFICES
No. 34 CHURCH-ST.

Between King and Colbo streets. 340

HATS AND CAPS.
WHOLESALE HATTER
WHOLESALE HATTER

STRAW HATS.
HELMETS
in all the new colors.

CHRISTY'S DRAB SHELL HATS.
Children's Fancy Sailor Straw Hats.

J. & J. LUGSDIN,
101 YONGE STREET.

CALL
AND SEE

TONKIN BROS.

STRAW HATS
AT
25 and 50 CTS.

110 YONGE STREET
AND
57 KING ST. WEST.
TORONTO.

BUSINESS CARDS.

C. P. SHARPE, TORONTO STEAM LAUNDRY
24 and 26 Wellington street west, Toronto Orders from the country promptly attended to.
Send for particulars.

H. G. & W. WILLIAMS, 46 ADELAIDE STREET East, dealers in Fish, Felt, Carpet, and Shooting Papers. Roofing done to order. Agents for Warranted Asphalt Roofing, most durable material known.

J. H. BROWN, 125 YONGE STREET.
Hosiery, gloves, ribbons, and all the latest fashionable goods.
Send for price lists.

M. PALMER, ladies hair worker, in connection with hair dressing. Mrs. Palmer has opened fashionable dress and mantle making establishment, No. 10 Richmond street west. Three floors west of Yonge, Toronto. F. K.—Highest price paid for ladies cut hair and combings.

PLANNING AND OIGANS TUNED AND REPAIRED
BY experienced workmen.
T. CLAXTON, music dealer, 107 Yonge street, Toronto, Ont.

COPIING, HOOPING, FRET AND GRAVEL
By hand or by machinery. STEWART & ROBINSON, 115 Queen street west, Toronto.

SHORTHAND WRITING—150 WORDS PER MINUTE. Mr. James J. Johnson, certified teacher of shorthand, 29 Nassau street, is prepared to give a course of lessons to phonographers who desire to acquire this speed.

THE ONTARIO DISTRIBUTING AGENCY
287 Front street east—G. F. ROBINSON Proprietor—news-papers distributed to news-vendors on liberal terms—bills and hand bills distributed throughout all parts of the city—offices and windows cleaned. Orders left at Morris & Co., 3 and 5 Adeleide street East, will receive prompt attention.

W. BROWN, DEALER IN GUNS, rifles, shotguns, Fishing Tackle, and all sorts of sporting goods, 116 King-st. east, Toronto.
Orders by mail promptly attended to.

CASH PAID FOR ALL KINDS OF FEATHER new or old, at the Feather and Mattress manufacturing shop, 210 King street east.

FOR TWENTY-FIVE CENTS PER DOZEN YOU can have your collars and cuffs done up new at the Toronto Steam Laundry, 54 and 56 Wellington street west.

FAMILY WASHING PROMPTLY ATTENDED
TO. Special rates made at the Toronto Steam Laundry, 54 Wellington street west.

TO HIPPERS FOR OFFICE FURNITURE of every description: orders promptly attended to.
60 Adelaide street west.

"THE ONLY MAN IN TOWN" WHO CAN supply you with "Old Judge" cigars.
W. TUDOR, tobaccoist, 136 Queen-st. west, opp.
Post-Office station.

THE RUTH TO "MISS PHOENIX" continues unabated. All garments cut by a mathematical method, which saves 40% consequently a fit like a glove is the result of every case. The very latest Paris, London and New York fashions constantly on hand. Establishment at 415 Queen street west.

EXCITEMENT IN ENGLAND
OVER THE DARK AND HEAVY WAR
CLOUD IN THE EAST.

No work being done an Alexandria's Deference-France to Remains Passive-Will Turkey come?

LONDON, July 6.—There is intense excitement here over the Egyptian difficulty.
The feeling is that any moment may bring news of hostilities. The intelligence of hostilities being begun would probably be re-satisfied in the public as to the way matters have been going. Egyptian securities closed firmer to-day on the report that Turkey had assented to enter the conference.

In the house of commons Gladstone said that though he quite recognized the merits of De Lesseps, he could not be guided by his aid in the policy to be pursued in Egypt.
He said it was not his intention to propose a vote of credit for warlike preparations, because such measures at present would not be justified.

The constitution of the first army corps is now settled. Fifteen thousand men of the corps go from England to Egypt and the rest from India.

Sir Herbert Macpherson will command the force to be sent from India to Egypt with Gen. Hughes and Col. Tanner as brigadier general. It is stated that the government will summon the reserves on Monday.

The turret ship Orion has sailed for the Mediterranean. The troop ship Assida has been ordered to get ready for Mala.

An Alexandria despatch says that although Arabi may yield at the last moment, he still preserves a defiant attitude. Seymour received a reply to his ultimatum, stating that the report as to the work upon the batteries and forts was untrue.

PARIS, July 6.—The cabinet considered the instructions of the French government of the French fleet in view of the possibility of England's fleet bombarding the defences of Alexandria. It is understood that they decided to abstain from any and only participate if provoked by some act of violence.

The report stated in the chamber of deputies to-day that France's preparations do not exceed the limit of necessary precautions. If French intervention should be decided upon, the government would not be the previous course of the legislature.

ALEXANDRIA, July 6.—On Tuesday, in a council of ministers Arabi Bey violently attacked the cabinet and demanded that they should leave the country immediately. The president immediately left the room. Yesterday Darwish was informed that the sultan had refused to take the hint and leave Egypt he will be sent away.

Yahia Pasha, commander of the garrison, has received a telegram from the sultan announcing that the British fleet would bombard the forts unless the instant cessation of the construction of earthworks and the withdrawal of the batteries.
Constantinople concerning the matter to be made, in consequence of which the sultan's permission to resume work was asked. Failing the sultan's reply no definite resolution would be adopted.
Admiral Seymour has sent his ultimatum to the authorities, demanding the instant cessation of the construction of earthworks under a threat of opening fire. The sultan has ceased for the moment.

Arabi Pasha's answer does not satisfy Seymour, who sent out a call on the English war ships. The French are encouraging Arabi to resist.

Tonla Pasha, commander of the garrison, replying to the ultimatum assures Seymour that no such hostile act as he apprehends has been or will be taken. He appears to be decidedly in favour of the ultimatum. The sultan has again summoned Wallace, the American minister, to the palace for important conversation relative to Egyptian affairs.

Serious doubts are again expressed regarding the entrance of Turkey into the conflict.

LONDON, July 6.—The government has received a despatch from Alexandria asserting that Egyptian bands attempted to cut the Suez canal.

THE ARREARS BILL.
John Bright supports it—He says the Irish People Look to the Government for Relief.

LONDON, July 6.—In the house of commons, John Bright supported the motion to go into committee on the arrears bill.
He expressed confidence in Gladstone's estimate of the cost and means of defraying it from the church surplus. He expressed astonishment at the opposition of the Irish members to the emigration clause.
He believed if the clergy became more willing to purchase clauses would go into extensive operation. He approved of the method of making advances and did not believe the bill was a failure. Regarding the taints of half-heartedness flung at the government he said there was no virtue more required in dealing with Ireland than patience. The Irish were not discontented, disloyal and dishonest, but well disposed as looked to the house of commons for means to promote peace and good order, and hundreds of thousands weary of anarchy were willing to support the government as far as they could and in restoring obedience to the law. Bright thought that the repression bill would receive the support of the best portion of the people. Chaplin's amendment that the house dores to proceed with a measure imposing taxation which tends to demoralize the people was rejected by 283 to 208. Parnell announced that his party did not intend to further oppose the represson bill. The house went into committee on the arrears bill. At 2.15 a.m. the committee reported progress.

The Convicts at Concord.
CONCORD, Mass., July 6.—This morning at 10 o'clock a party consisting of the attendants at the prison, many of the prisoners being exhausted. It is reported that the government sustains the warden. One of the convicts tried to strike an officer with a long pipe.

Crime Reports in the States.
WASHINGTON, July 6.—The advice of the agriculture department about crops are very encouraging. From every section of the country wheat and oats are yielding out even better than was expected a month ago. The reports in regard to corn are improving every day. The grass crop will be unusually heavy.

TARIFF REVISION IN THE STATES.
The Commission will Work for the Establishment of a National Policy.

WASHINGTON, July 6.—The tariff commission held its first meeting to-day, all the members being present. Hayes, the president, delivered an address. He said: The great, the objective point of our law declares that the establishment of a judicious tariff or the revision of the existing tariff lapses upon a scale of justice to all interested. With this end in view no special industry can have an undue advantage, no private interest can be subserved, no duty promoting one industry yet depressing another can be justified, and the relations of industries to each other no less than the special necessities of each must be considered. Through the revision of justice to all interests, constitution or theoretical scruples which might have existed as to the original propriety of the existing national or special tariff will be waived. A dual or subservient change in the present general economical policy of the country would be a revolutionary evolution but not a revolutionary vision of the existing tariff if it is declared to be the object to which our labors should be directed. It is the duty of the commissioners to remember that while no industrial independence of its position among other nations, its acquisition of all arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position
among other nations, its acquisition of all
arts which fortify, enrich and adorn its
territory, and its maintenance of its
lands and the comfort and means of support
of all its people by making its national
interest paramount to those of a section
of the highest possible material life
for the nation, its security in time of war,
and its independence of a dependence on
other nations for the necessities of its
industrial independence of its position among

TRANSFER OF TEACHERS.

PROMOTION, CHANGES AND APPOINTMENTS.

Made by the Public School Board Last Night—The New Arrangements in Full—The Kindergarten System.

A special meeting of the school board was held last night. The board immediately went into committee of the whole, W. MacInnes in the chair, on the report of the school management committee, which was submitted at the regular meeting on Wednesday night and laid over for special consideration. The promotions, transfers and new appointments, as finally passed in committee of the whole, are printed below. They take effect on Sept. 1. There was no other business transacted and the board adjourned until the first Wednesday in September. Mr. Crombie and Dr. Wright were anxious to have the feeling of the board on the proposition of the transfer (based on the report of the committee) of Mr. Haggard and E. P. Hodin to St. Louis, to have Mrs. Susan E. Blow and Mrs. Kraus locate in Toronto and lecture on the kindergarten school system. Mr. Crombie explained that he felt deeply in the matter and he was given to understand that the minister of education had expressed his approval of the visit of these ladies in a practical way, viz., by offering to contribute half the expenses. The board, however, did not feel disposed to deal with the subject last night and left it over.

TO SENIOR FOURTH BOOK CLASSES.

- Miss G. Bond, from junior fourth Victoria street to senior fourth Wellesley street. Miss E. M. Hamilton, from junior fourth Dufferin street to senior fourth Wellesley street. Miss J. Campbell, from junior third Winchester street to junior fourth Dufferin street. Miss M. A. McDonald, from junior third Dufferin street to senior third Winchester street. Miss J. A. Agnew, from junior third John street to senior third Winchester street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior third John street to senior third Winchester street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior third John street to senior third Winchester street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior third John street to senior third Winchester street.

TO SENIOR THIRD BOOK CLASSES.

- Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street. Miss A. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior third Niagara street.

TO SENIOR SECOND BOOK CLASSES.

- Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior second Hope street to junior second Hope street.

TO SENIOR FIRST BOOK CLASSES.

- Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street.

TO SENIOR FIRST BOOK CLASSES.

- Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street. Miss J. C. Brown, from junior first John street to junior first John street.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare, Ingersoll; J. H. Phipps, J. H. Edith and A. Marshall. The church was filled with a fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Elwell, assisted by Mr. Roberts.

Executive Committee.

Ald. Boswell presided at the executive committee yesterday. Messrs. R. B. Hamilton and C. A. Massey appeared before the committee on behalf of the Toronto lacrosse club asking that the assessment be reduced from $84,000 to $75,000. The committee decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000. The committee also decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000.

Closing of the City Schools.

The usual closing examinations were held simultaneously in the city schools yesterday. During the afternoon there was a large number of visitors present at the distribution of prizes in the junior divisions. The proceedings at the various schools were really entertaining and artistic, the program consisting of singing, recitations, etc. A number of pencil drawings of maps, flowers, etc., the work of Wellesley street pupils, were exhibited, which reflect great credit upon the teachers. At 2 o'clock the entire public meeting will be held at Heimrod's for the purpose of presenting the medals, scholarships and prizes to the successful pupils. The entire program, under the circumstances, is unparagoned in this issue of The World.

Prints Press Mechanisms.

Messrs. Westman & Baker of Bay street, completed on Tuesday night the task of removing the double cylinder Hoe press on which The World is printed into the new office. The machine weighs about eight tons and is made up of many parts, but these gentlemen were quite equal to the occasion and took it down and set it up so exactly that on the first trial the machine started off and printed the paper as if it had been sitting there for years.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare, Ingersoll; J. H. Phipps, J. H. Edith and A. Marshall. The church was filled with a fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Elwell, assisted by Mr. Roberts.

Executive Committee.

Ald. Boswell presided at the executive committee yesterday. Messrs. R. B. Hamilton and C. A. Massey appeared before the committee on behalf of the Toronto lacrosse club asking that the assessment be reduced from $84,000 to $75,000. The committee decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000. The committee also decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000.

Closing of the City Schools.

The usual closing examinations were held simultaneously in the city schools yesterday. During the afternoon there was a large number of visitors present at the distribution of prizes in the junior divisions. The proceedings at the various schools were really entertaining and artistic, the program consisting of singing, recitations, etc. A number of pencil drawings of maps, flowers, etc., the work of Wellesley street pupils, were exhibited, which reflect great credit upon the teachers. At 2 o'clock the entire public meeting will be held at Heimrod's for the purpose of presenting the medals, scholarships and prizes to the successful pupils. The entire program, under the circumstances, is unparagoned in this issue of The World.

Prints Press Mechanisms.

Messrs. Westman & Baker of Bay street, completed on Tuesday night the task of removing the double cylinder Hoe press on which The World is printed into the new office. The machine weighs about eight tons and is made up of many parts, but these gentlemen were quite equal to the occasion and took it down and set it up so exactly that on the first trial the machine started off and printed the paper as if it had been sitting there for years.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare, Ingersoll; J. H. Phipps, J. H. Edith and A. Marshall. The church was filled with a fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Elwell, assisted by Mr. Roberts.

Executive Committee.

Ald. Boswell presided at the executive committee yesterday. Messrs. R. B. Hamilton and C. A. Massey appeared before the committee on behalf of the Toronto lacrosse club asking that the assessment be reduced from $84,000 to $75,000. The committee decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000. The committee also decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000.

Closing of the City Schools.

The usual closing examinations were held simultaneously in the city schools yesterday. During the afternoon there was a large number of visitors present at the distribution of prizes in the junior divisions. The proceedings at the various schools were really entertaining and artistic, the program consisting of singing, recitations, etc. A number of pencil drawings of maps, flowers, etc., the work of Wellesley street pupils, were exhibited, which reflect great credit upon the teachers. At 2 o'clock the entire public meeting will be held at Heimrod's for the purpose of presenting the medals, scholarships and prizes to the successful pupils. The entire program, under the circumstances, is unparagoned in this issue of The World.

Prints Press Mechanisms.

Messrs. Westman & Baker of Bay street, completed on Tuesday night the task of removing the double cylinder Hoe press on which The World is printed into the new office. The machine weighs about eight tons and is made up of many parts, but these gentlemen were quite equal to the occasion and took it down and set it up so exactly that on the first trial the machine started off and printed the paper as if it had been sitting there for years.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare, Ingersoll; J. H. Phipps, J. H. Edith and A. Marshall. The church was filled with a fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Elwell, assisted by Mr. Roberts.

Executive Committee.

Ald. Boswell presided at the executive committee yesterday. Messrs. R. B. Hamilton and C. A. Massey appeared before the committee on behalf of the Toronto lacrosse club asking that the assessment be reduced from $84,000 to $75,000. The committee decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000. The committee also decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000.

Closing of the City Schools.

The usual closing examinations were held simultaneously in the city schools yesterday. During the afternoon there was a large number of visitors present at the distribution of prizes in the junior divisions. The proceedings at the various schools were really entertaining and artistic, the program consisting of singing, recitations, etc. A number of pencil drawings of maps, flowers, etc., the work of Wellesley street pupils, were exhibited, which reflect great credit upon the teachers. At 2 o'clock the entire public meeting will be held at Heimrod's for the purpose of presenting the medals, scholarships and prizes to the successful pupils. The entire program, under the circumstances, is unparagoned in this issue of The World.

Prints Press Mechanisms.

Messrs. Westman & Baker of Bay street, completed on Tuesday night the task of removing the double cylinder Hoe press on which The World is printed into the new office. The machine weighs about eight tons and is made up of many parts, but these gentlemen were quite equal to the occasion and took it down and set it up so exactly that on the first trial the machine started off and printed the paper as if it had been sitting there for years.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare, Ingersoll; J. H. Phipps, J. H. Edith and A. Marshall. The church was filled with a fashionable audience. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Joseph Elwell, assisted by Mr. Roberts.

Executive Committee.

Ald. Boswell presided at the executive committee yesterday. Messrs. R. B. Hamilton and C. A. Massey appeared before the committee on behalf of the Toronto lacrosse club asking that the assessment be reduced from $84,000 to $75,000. The committee decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000. The committee also decided to recommend that the assessment be reduced to $75,000.

Closing of the City Schools.

The usual closing examinations were held simultaneously in the city schools yesterday. During the afternoon there was a large number of visitors present at the distribution of prizes in the junior divisions. The proceedings at the various schools were really entertaining and artistic, the program consisting of singing, recitations, etc. A number of pencil drawings of maps, flowers, etc., the work of Wellesley street pupils, were exhibited, which reflect great credit upon the teachers. At 2 o'clock the entire public meeting will be held at Heimrod's for the purpose of presenting the medals, scholarships and prizes to the successful pupils. The entire program, under the circumstances, is unparagoned in this issue of The World.

Prints Press Mechanisms.

Messrs. Westman & Baker of Bay street, completed on Tuesday night the task of removing the double cylinder Hoe press on which The World is printed into the new office. The machine weighs about eight tons and is made up of many parts, but these gentlemen were quite equal to the occasion and took it down and set it up so exactly that on the first trial the machine started off and printed the paper as if it had been sitting there for years.

HACKED BY HER HUSBAND.

A Maltese Stab His White Wife Because She Will Not Give Him Money.

Early yesterday morning a Maltese named Willie M. Housha attempted to murder his wife by cutting her throat with a razor, three gaping gashes being inflicted. The would-be murderer was promptly arrested by Officer Wismer and taken to police headquarters. The prisoner, who is a drunken, good-for-nothing fellow, has often been in the hands of the police. His wife, who keeps an eating house at 147 York street, has had to keep him for years and has often paid fines for him in the police court. He only got out of jail on July 1. On Wednesday night he threatened to kill his wife because she would not give him more money to buy liquor, and yesterday morning he asked her for money again. He then caught her by the shoulder and drawing a razor said, "You won't give me the money, eh?" This was followed by three cuts with the razor on her throat, inflicting three wounds about four inches in length. Housha then fled to a neighboring house, where he was followed by the police and arrested. Mrs. Housha is a white woman with three children. The prisoner was remanded until the 10th instant, pending the result of the injured woman's wounds.

PUBLIC SCHOOL PROPERTY.

One Third of a Million Invested in the City of Toronto—Education for All.

The property belonging to the public school board of the city of Toronto amounts in the aggregate to the large sum of $365,500. There are 23 school-houses in all. Toronto is as well supplied with educational institutions as any city of its size in the world and with this vast sum invested in places of learning no one should be without knowledge. The values of the various sites, buildings, etc., are:

One in a Piece.

From the Ontario Spectator.

By the morning train from Toronto yesterday three immigrants arrived. They were three immigrants agents to meet them, and each seized one of the newcomers.

A World Man.

Last night The World had a call from the editor of its namesake in Cobourg, Mr. Hough, who has been rusticated for the past week in Michigan. He says there are many Canadians in that state who are doing well, but he thinks there is no country like Ontario, and he is glad to be back in it again.

Testing Fire Hose.

The parties tendering for the supply of hose for the use of the city fire brigade produced samples of their goods at the court street fire hall yesterday for the purpose of testing them. At the pump and one of the gauges broke after two samples had been tried it was decided to adjourn till Monday next. A great interest was taken in the test by the public.

Bon Voyage.

Judge Morrison and John D. Irwin left on the S. G. W. R. train yesterday afternoon for New York, whence they sail for Europe to-morrow. A number of their intimate friends entertained them at luncheon at Heimrod's just before the train went out. The health of the genial judge and the popular ex-convict was demonstrated with great gusto and every one wished them bon voyage.

A Happy Event.

In the Catholic Apostolic church at Victoria and Gould streets yesterday morning, Alex. Leith, barrister of Bowmanville was united in marriage with Miss Mary Edith, second daughter of Henry Edith, Rosedale. The bride was Miss Emily Edith, Alice Edith, Maggie Alexander and A. Elwell. The groomsmen were C. H. Hoare