Germans Hurl New Army Against The French In Vain

Twelve New Divisions Fail to Check Nivelle's Offensive—London Reports Quieter Time on British Front

Paris, April 19.—The Germans threw twelve new divisions against the French between Soissons and Auberville last night. The war office announces that they were unable to check the successful offensive of the French. The French continued to make progress north of Vailly and Ostel, notwithstanding violent German counter-attacks. The successes of the French in the Champagne were followed with further advances in the region of Moronvilliers. Several important heights and strong positions were taken.

Two more batteries of German artillery were captured on the front between Soissons and Auberville.

Twelve German divisions at war strength constitute a force of about 226,000 men.

LONDON REPORT

London, April 19.—The official announcement from the war office today says there is nothing of special interest to report.

RUSSIAN REPORT

Petrograd, April 19.—Via London, 2.50 p.m.—"Activity on all fronts was confined to rifle fire and scouting operations," says today's official communication.

LLOYD GEORGE PROBABLY WILL ANNOUNCE PROPOSALS TODAY TO SOLVE IRISH QUESTION

London, April 19.—The Manchester Guardian says that it is virtually certain that Premier Lloyd George will announce the government's proposal for the solution of the Irish question on Thursday. The scheme will be based on a compromise, with some arrangement for keeping the counties that vote against home rule in orderly relation to the legislation of the Dublin parliament. The proposal will put the home rule act into force at once and while it is expected that both Irish parties will oppose the scheme, it is believed that neither will persist in their resistance.

The Guardian says that it seems probable that Sir Edward Carson has yielded to the premier's solution.

ANTI-GERMAN DEMONSTRATIONS IN BRAZIL GO ON

Heavy Loss in Riots in Porto Algre—German Newspapers Give Up—Huns Leave Parana

Rio Janeiro, April 19.—Telegrams from different parts of Brazil report the continuance of anti-German demonstrations. The president of the state of Rio Grande do Sul has issued a proclamation forbidding public meetings and declaring that any attempt to disobey this order will be met with force.

Porto Alegre, Brazil, April 19.—The loss in the anti-German riots, which resulted in the burning of several German houses yesterday, is estimated at 20,000,000 milreis. Prior to the war a milreis was valued at fifty-five cents American.

The German newspapers have suspended publication and the newspapers report that the Germans resident in Parana have withdrawn to Santa Catharina, where they are concentrating. Most of the German houses in Petropolis have taken down their German flags and substituted the Brazilian ensign.

A report that the president of the state of Rio Grande do Sul has been attacked was denied. The president addressed the crowds in the streets for an hour yesterday exhorting them to preserve the peace. Troops are being sent from Pelotas as a precaution against further disorders.

GERMANS USED 19 DIVISIONS OF FRONT LINE TROOPS AGAINST FRENCH

Trenches Filled But Enemy Could Not Hold On

DEFENCES VERY STRONG

Headquarters of the French army on the front, Tuesday night, April 17.—(Delayed.)—(From a staff correspondent.)—The success of the French in the great battle began on Monday continued when, despite most desperate resistance from the Germans their front position was occupied along another twenty miles, extending eastward from Rheims to Auberville.

The strength of the Germans can be gauged by the fact that they employed nineteen divisions of front line troops, the trenches were absolutely filled with men and, according to prisoners who now number more than 18,000, they had orders to stand until the last, but could not resist the French artillery and infantry.

Many fluctuations in positions naturally occurred during the course of the fighting, but whenever the Germans attacked they failed to maintain for any length of time positions gained and the French were able to bivouac on a depth of five to six kilometers. The defences were found to be very strong everywhere and were well provided with machine guns which already has fallen into French hands.

There has been no cessation of the battle even after nightfall and the fighting has brought about many separate battles at different points, in which the French usually remained masters of the field.

Two simultaneous attacks were detected upon, with Nanteuil la Forêt on the left and Chivy and Bray en Laonnois on the right as the respective objectives. The attack succeeded perfectly notwithstanding the determined resistance of the enemy, who had all the advantages of the ground.

Driven out of Nanteuil and Bray, the Germans nevertheless still clung to the intermediate positions, comprising Vailly and the important bridgehead on the Aisne, which they could threaten the French flanks.

The movement was then extended to the bridgehead which was soon carried and the attacking troops scaled the slope of the plateau north of Vailly. They advanced rapidly as far as Rouge Maison farm and a considerable quantity of ground on the summit of the plateau. Substantial progress was also made east of Nanteuil and it was left through which the Germans could withdraw the troops in the region of Conde, Celles and Sancy. These detachments are in serious danger of capture.

The violence of the French attack threw the enemy into such disorder that he was unable to bring up reserves quickly enough and consequently lost several guns. Toward the end of the day the French made further progress between the Plateau of Vailly and Bray, all villages south of the famous Chemin des Dames being taken.

A dwelling in George street owned by Mrs. Annie Massie of St. John was slightly damaged by fire early this morning. The fire originated from hot ashes in a shed.

A report from our river today was to the effect that the ice in the Reach had given way and was moving out, and that the heavier fields of ice farther up river were floating out with it. This was welcome news to owners of river steamships, merchants and residents of the river in particular, who are anxiously awaiting the first trip of the boats with their spring supplies.

The steamer Champlain came through the falls this morning and tied up in Market slip where she will have repairs made to her rudder casting. She has been repaired and presents a smart appearance. Robert S. Orchard, manager of the steamer, said that he expected to make his first trip on next Tuesday morning, as far as Gagetown.

The water continues to rise and in a few days it is expected it will be up to the wharf at the foot of Bridge street.

London Papers Predict Early End Of The War

SEVENTY IN AMERICAN MARATHON

Helped Along by News From Western Front

MANY OTHER REASONS GIVEN

London, April 19.—(New York Sun cable)—Predictions of a speedy end of the war are general here today. They are helped along by the news of immense victories on the British and French fronts and of heavy German losses. The newspapers are full of such headings as "War drawing to a close," and are selling like hot cakes.

Many circumstances bear out the feeling that the end is approaching. Germany not only has failed to reduce Russia to a separate peace, but is faced by internal dangers exactly like those she tried to propagate in Russia. The Kaiser is reported very ill at Homburg. The peace advocates in Germany are emboldened and utterances stronger than ever before are permitted. Especially important are the great captures of German prisoners. "Well, I always wanted to see England," said one German officer, "starting from a front trench."

"What do you mean?" asked an Englishman. "The German did not reply, but held up his hands suggestively. He was taken prisoner soon afterwards. His case is typical of thousands. The German soldiers are deeply affected by America's adherence to the allies. The French and British are overwhelming superior in months, ammunition, supplies, numbers, guns and machinery. They are winning now without great losses."

Renewal of the report that Turkey, Bulgaria and Austria are seeking a separate peace, the acute disaffection in Berlin and Hamburg, anger in Bavaria because of the revival of reports that the German staff is deliberately sending Bavarian troops into impossible positions and sacrificing them recklessly, contribute to this result.

The carriage among the Germans is the greatest in the war. French reports of enormous successes swallow up are confirmed from English sources.

ALL HABITUAL LOAFERS ARE TO BE ARRESTED

Chief Simpson Issues Order—Two Men Taken to Headquarters Soon Afterwards

"Arrest all habitual loafers in the streets in St. John," was the order which appeared on the order sheet in the local police headquarters this morning. Scarcely had the ink dried when two men were arrested at the corner of Charles and Union streets by Sergeant Journey and Policeman Ward. One was charged with drunkenness and being an habitual loafer, the other was charged only with loafing.

Chief Simpson in speaking of the order said that there should be no one idle in the city of St. John under present conditions. "There is plenty of work for everybody and farmers are daily coming to the jail from outside the city in quest of help," said the chief. He signified his intention of rounding up all those who make a practice of loafing around street corners when there is no work for them to do. "The order will be rigidly enforced," concluded the chief.

The men under arrest are John Sharp, charged with being an habitual loafer and John Givén for being intoxicated and also with loafing.

DOUBLE CAPACITY OF THE C.P.R. ROUND HOUSE AT BAY SHORE

Plans have been completed by the C. P. R. for doubling the capacity of the round house at Bay Shore. There are six stalls in the present structure, and the new plans call for six more. A new machine shop also is to be erected, of sufficient capacity to meet the demands of the enlarged round-house. The present machine shop will be converted into a repair shop.

Notice has been given, through an advertisement in the local religious weekly, that the railway company will apply at the next session of the legislature, for legislation authorizing the municipality of the city and county of St. John to grant to the company permission to occupy a certain portion of road lying between and connecting the Bay Shore road and Sea street, in the parish of Lancaster, for the purpose of an extension of the round house of the company.

This permission will leave a roadway building to encroach a distance of nine feet on what is known as Bay shore road, the road running parallel with the shore. The road would leave a roadway at least forty-three feet wide.

MANUFACTURERS PLAN TO ASSIST IN WORK ON THE FARMS IN QUEBEC

Montreal, April 19.—Some thousands of men will be released from business activities to engage in agricultural work in the province if recommendations made by the Montreal branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association are carried into effect.

The association yesterday adopted a resolution recommending to its members that they arrange to release one man of agricultural experience for every fifty men in their employ for one month and that they return to actual work on the farms, and that the co-operation of the national service board be obtained to assist in the proper distribution of these men.

ST. BRIDGET'S CHURCH AND RECTORY AT CHAPEL GROVE REPORTED BROKEN INTO

A report reached the city this morning that St. Bridget's church and rectory at Chapel Grove had been broken into and that considerable damage had been done to the furnishings and interior. The church is owned by the Redemptorist Fathers of the North End, and is picturesque located on the banks of the Kennebecasis river.

The association yesterday adopted a resolution recommending to its members that they arrange to release one man of agricultural experience for every fifty men in their employ for one month and that they return to actual work on the farms, and that the co-operation of the national service board be obtained to assist in the proper distribution of these men.

Shakespeare's immortal play has been portrayed with settings more sumptuous and magnificent than anything yet done in moving pictures.

The story tells how the two lovers are married secretly, because of a feud which has long existed between their families. Just after the ceremony, Romeo becomes embroiled in a duel with Tybalt, cousin of Juliet, and kills him. The result is that the bridegroom is banished from Verona. Juliet's father tries to force her to marry Count Paris, and the girl in desperation, takes a heavy sleeping potion, which makes her parents think her dead. Romeo also gets tidings of the supposed death of his wife, and hurries back to Verona. There, in the tomb of the Capulets, he takes poison, and falls dead beside Juliet's bier. The unhappy girl awaking from the effects of the potion, finds him there and kills herself with his dagger.

"For never was a story of more woe Than this of Juliet and her Romeo."

This Wm. Fox production of Romeo and Juliet will receive its final presentations at the Star this evening at seven and half past eight.

HALIFAX GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL KILLED IN WAR

Halifax, N. S., April 19.—Word received here is that James H. Ewing, of Halifax, assistant inspector of government steamers, has been killed in action.

WAR NOTES

The new government of Russia, it is reported, will not negotiate a separate peace for Russia as a result of the overtures that have been made by German and Austrian socialist representatives.

In Wednesday's battle in the forest of Villa-Au-Bois an enveloping movement was carried out by the French against the Germans and 1,800 of the enemy threw down their arms and surrendered. In addition 180 machine guns were captured.

There have been further losses of British hospital ships; no details. The British House of Commons will meet in secret session some time soon.

The German official statement today contains this rich sentence: "Near Ville Aux Bois," the statement says, "the forest position became untenable to us and we established ourselves in a rearward line."

FAMOUS STAR AT THE GEM—LEW FIELDS

One of Most Satisfying Pictures Shown is "The Man Who Stood Still"—Bright Vaudeville Also

Stand on any corner of any large city and you would never think that anything stood still, especially the men. Therefore when you hear about "The Man Who Stood Still," you are inclined to think, at this wonderful age of progress, that he must be something picked up in the old curiosity shop.

"The Man Who Stood Still" was Louis Mann's triumphant stage success. It is now produced in motion picture form with that wonderful artist, Lew Fields, who has demonstrated his ability to make people laugh, the world over. "The Man Who Stood Still" is one of the most interesting stories ever screened. In one scene you laugh until it becomes painful, only to find your laughter blending into tears, when, behold, there is another laugh coming. It is a clean drama, highly entertaining, instructive and chuck-full of wholesome amusement.

The Gem showed it last night, in its programme, in the new vaudeville series. Mr. Fields was outstanding as the lovable old New York Jeweler, who is so wrapped up in his pretty daughter that business is secondary. Great sorrow comes to Marie and joy goes out of the life of the old man, but all comes right again. Miss Doris Kenyon plays Marie very daintily. The picture made a lasting impression. It is wholesome, satisfying and a master play of the best of our emotions. Its five reels were brimful of interest. The vaudeville acts also are very entertaining.

Florence and Lillian, two clever young women provide an interesting quarter of an hour of fun and music. They have a lot of sprightly jokes and snappy dialogue with dancing and several song numbers.

Gayles and Raymond, man and woman, have a classy act, well presented. They offer pleasing comedy, good talking and singing in solo and duet. The young woman's singing was particularly pleasing; her voice is of excellent quality.

On the whole the Gem's programme is a very meritorious one. It will run until including Friday night with an entire change on Saturday afternoon.

NEW PICTORIZATION OF ROMEO AND JULIET

Wm. Fox Production of Shakespeare's Great Play at the Star

Some time ago the Metro Film Co. challenged any other feature producing company to make the same production to compare with theirs, of "Romeo and Juliet." William Fox took up the challenge and put out what all critics claim to be the superior production. However, those who have seen both these features can better judge for themselves.

Theda Bara as Juliet and Harry Hilliard as Romeo are well adapted for their parts, and ably supported by an all-star cast.

Shakespeare's immortal play has been portrayed with settings more sumptuous and magnificent than anything yet done in moving pictures.

The story tells how the two lovers are married secretly, because of a feud which has long existed between their families. Just after the ceremony, Romeo becomes embroiled in a duel with Tybalt, cousin of Juliet, and kills him. The result is that the bridegroom is banished from Verona. Juliet's father tries to force her to marry Count Paris, and the girl in desperation, takes a heavy sleeping potion, which makes her parents think her dead. Romeo also gets tidings of the supposed death of his wife, and hurries back to Verona. There, in the tomb of the Capulets, he takes poison, and falls dead beside Juliet's bier. The unhappy girl awaking from the effects of the potion, finds him there and kills herself with his dagger.

"For never was a story of more woe Than this of Juliet and her Romeo."

This Wm. Fox production of Romeo and Juliet will receive its final presentations at the Star this evening at seven and half past eight.

FORD'S OFFER WORTH $3,500,000 A YEAR

Detroit, Mich., April 19.—"Mr. Ford has offered his money and plan to the United States government for war purposes and will set on it just as soon as the government desires," said Ernest G. Liebold, Mr. Ford's secretary, when asked to reply to a statement attributed to Mr. Ford in New York in which he offered to loan his personal funds without interest and turn over his plant for the manufacture of war supplies. Henry Ford's offer of his personal fortune would save the American treasury approximately $3,500,000 a year on the present war bond issue of $5,000,000,000.

It is estimated that Mr. Ford could make available enough to buy $100,000,000 of the $5,000,000,000 bond issue that would likely be giving the United States $500,000 a year.

MAINE TOWNS BOOST GARDEN CAMPAIGN
(Bangor Commercial.)
Now that the campaign for doubling the production of farm products in Penobscott county is well under way, under the direction of the committee on food resources, the committee is making plans for the launching of a campaign for increasing the number of home gardens in the cities and larger towns of Penobscott county.

F. W. Farrar, who was in Augusta, Tuesday, to attend a conference of the food resources committee chairman of the state said that among the matters to be taken up was that of home gardens, with the idea of standardizing methods and aims to be advocated by the committees.

Among the matters already under consideration by the local committee is an exchange of facilities for gardening. This will provide for the registration of garden plots and the committee will endeavor to bring about the utilization of all plots. In case an owner of a plot does not plan to make use of it, the committee will try to make it available for some person desirous of gardening.

Upon Mr. Farrar's return from Augusta, the committee on food resources will hold a meeting to arrange for a definite programme of work and because of the general appeal, it is expected that there will be a widespread interest in the home garden movement.

In connection with the home garden proposition which is now attracting nation wide interest, the department of agriculture at Washington is issuing useful information in booklets, which may be obtained for the asking.

The committee on food resources received Tuesday morning the first returns on the farm production of the country from George W. Worcester of North Bangor. They consisted of 40 returns from the farmers in his section.

THE NOBLE DEAD

Following a news of the death of Lieut. Mullaney, a young man of fine character and great promise, came that of the passing of Lieut. Manning, whose record as a student had marked him out for a career of great usefulness and distinction.

It is perfectly clear that Germans are not popular in South America. In three of the southern states of Brazil there are said to be half a million Germans, and they have formed colonies in several of the other republics, no doubt as part of a great Pan-German scheme.

The American flag may now be seen side by side with the Union Jack in the city of London, which is the heart of the Empire.

THE WAR MAY BE LONG

Mr. Frank H. Simonds is of opinion that the United States may be called on to carry the heaviest burden of the war in 1918 and 1919. This does not mean that the other nations would be completely exhausted, but that the immense resources of the United States, when brought into full play, would be the deciding factor in the struggle.

Count Reventlow says that German victory is necessary to save the German monarchy. No doubt he is right. The German monarchy, therefore, is doomed; for German victory is out of the question.

It was pleasant yesterday to realize perhaps more fully than at any time previous that the earth has shaken off the burden of winter, and we are to enjoy the mildness of spring.

The opponents of daylight-saving are backing their views with a well organized campaign. And the leading spirits are gentlemen who know how to conduct a campaign.

The German submarines destroyed more vessels last week than the weekly average for seven weeks. The British and American naval authorities are now in conference, and hope to be able soon to break the back of the submarine campaign.

FRAME LEGISLATION ON FOOD SUPPLY REGULATION
Washington, April 19—Legislation to empower the council of national defense to supervise distribution of food and if necessary fix maximum and minimum prices is being framed as one of the results of a conference between the great Chicago meat packers and Secretary Houston of the department of agriculture.

The licensing of food distributing agencies so that the government may trace any movements of middlemen or others to monopolize supply or force increases in prices is one of the features of the plan the packers proposed. As their own bit in defending the nation, the packers offered a plan to distribute their products at a minimum of profit to themselves, and one of them estimated the saving to the public would approximate at least $100,000,000 a year.

MAINE WOMEN URGED TO CO-OPERATE IN GARDENING

The National Emergency Food Garden commission is urging the women's clubs of America to join in the home gardening movement, thus helping to solve the problem of food supply. The chairman of conservation of the Maine Federation, Mrs. J. H. Knowles, of Northeast Harbor, has received a circular letter stating that the commission, which has recently been organized, aims to inspire town and city people to plant 2,000,000 new gardens this year in back yards and on vacant lots. If that number is reached, millions of people in American cities and towns will become partially independent of market food supplies in proportion as their demand falls off, food becomes more plentiful and prices lower to the rest of the population; the railroads at a critical period of the burden of carrying supplies to the cities and villages, thus helping to solve the problem of food supply; the farmers will be able to devote more land to the raising of wheat and other crops which the world will need this year more than ever before.

The commission will furnish daily gardening instructions free to any newspaper. The gardening instructions prepared by the co-operation of experts in the Department of Agriculture, and the information is accurate and reliable.

The conservation department urges the women of Maine to co-operate in this great garden movement. Plant a garden. Buy the seeds, tools and fertilizer for your neighbor's garden if necessary. Help the children in their garden. Let a professional gardener for your community and, if necessary, offer prizes. Be patriotic—and help to conserve our food supply.

Thousands of Prisoners and Hundreds of Guns Captured

Paris, April 18—Since the beginning of the great French drive on the south end of the battle line the French have captured 17,000 unarmoured prisoners, together with seventy-five cannons, according to the official statement issued by the war office tonight.

Desperate fighting took place over many sectors between French and German troops today, the Germans launching numerous powerful counter-attacks, all of which were put down with great losses, the official report says.

Brilliant victories were achieved at several distinct points, today, the French taking 1,300 prisoners and 180 machine guns in one wood alone. At other points cannons were taken in large numbers.

The British plunge forward in Easter week reached a greater depth in a shorter time than any attack on such a large scale since entrenched warfare began on this front. The total of 227 guns brought in, together with ammunition by the thousands of rounds and other supplies, exceeds any haul made during a similar period of the war.

New York, April 18—A special cable from The Hague to the New York Times says: The European countries learn in well informed Dutch circles that a difference of opinion regarding the political and military situation and its possibilities exists in competent German circles. Further details are not available, but the violent attacks by Count Von Reventlow on the German civil government, especially Foreign Secretary Zimmermann, illustrated the strained situation.

Reventlow says the terms wherewith the German government officially supported the peace offer to Russia were nearly as idiotic as Zimmermann's attempt to stir up trouble in Mexico and Japan. Reventlow reproaches the apologetic tone used toward Russia regarding the recent advance on the Stokholm.

"Russia is our enemy. Dare we say it now." He adds: "If it is intended to abandon all our war aims in the east it would have been better to court martial the German general responsible for the 'strategic necessity' on the Stokholm and send the Socialist representatives to the Hindenburg staff."

BRITAIN WELCOMES UNITED STATES AS ALLY

London, April 18—A secret session of the house of commons is to be held soon after the premier's return from the continent, says the Press Association, to discuss man-power, air service, the submarine menace and other questions.

London, April 18—Today's sitting of the British parliament will be a historical landmark. Both the legislative houses adopted the house of lords unanimously, and the house of commons with one dissenting vote—resolutions expressing the profound appreciation of the British nation for the action of the United States government and people in entering the war in defense of the high cause of freedom and the rights of humanity.

The unusual importance of the occasion was shown in the crowded state of the galleries in the house of commons. Among those in the galleries were Walter Hines Page, the American ambassador, and many other Americans, as well as the representatives of the Entente Allied states. An unaccustomed air of enthusiasm was given the occasion.

MORE ACTIVITY ON ITALIAN FRONT

Rome, April 18, via London—(British Admiralty)—The Italian war office today issued the following statement: "Between the Adige and the Brenta the artillery action yesterday was more intense. Our artillery destroyed enemy huts on the Zugna slopes, bombarded the station at Rovereto, and harassed the movement of troops and trains along the Sugana valley road and railway."

"On the northern slopes of Col Bricon, Travignola, an attempted enemy attack was immediately repulsed by our troops. Two attacks against our advanced position on the second summit of Col Bricon last night met with the same fate."

"On the Julian Alps front yesterday the enemy's artillery continued particularly active. In the Gorizia region it was energetically answered by our artillery. Some shells fell in Gorizia."

"One of our aerial squadrons bombarded Chiapovano, an important enemy revictualing centre east of the Spirito Bandizza plateau. In spite of a violent fire from the enemy's artillery our aviators returned to our lines unharmed."

FALLS FROM WHARF AND IS DROWNED

Richey Simonds, a trucker employed discharging sugar from a steamer at the Pettungill wharf, met with a sudden death by falling from the landing stage into the waters of the harbor at 7.30 o'clock last evening. So sudden was the accident that there was no time to do anything more than throw a rope to the man as he appeared above the surface. Falling to grasp it, he was gone immediately, and swept down the harbor by the swift current of the freshet, was lost to sight. The body has not been recovered.

The dead man was a native of Nova Scotia, but had been working along the water front for more than two years. He was twenty-nine years of age and married, residing with his wife and one child at 394 Main street.

Found Dead In Bed; Victim of Civic Neglect

Sad Case Reported in Halifax Newspaper. While Health Board, Police Department and S. P. C. Were Deducing Responsibility. Says Echo, Aged Woman Died.

(Halifax Echo). "Found dead in her bed. It is a common enough tragedy in big communities, but there is a wrench to the feelings nevertheless, when want and neglect accompany the approach of death at the age seventy-two in a city no larger than Halifax such a thing should be impossible and in this particular case it was unnecessary."

Years ago Mrs. Murphy, of No. 11 Rottenburg street was comfortably well-to-do, and among those who knew her she was highly respected. She was Deputy-Sheriff Scriven. About seven years ago, when the last of her property, the house 11 Rottenburg street, was put from her hands, Mr. Scriven bought it in, and agreed to let the old lady live in it rent free, and also collect the rent for the upper floor. The rent was $2.25 a week, and this constituted the old lady's sole income. She kept the street floor and basement kitchen, and being a proud, peculiar temperamental determined to support herself upon that small sum.

But prices of commodities such as food, fuel and light have steadily risen in Halifax and old Mrs. Murphy had become practically helpless from a condition of senility or of the nature of locomotor ataxia, and could only get about on her hands and knees. She grew less and less able to care for herself and less willing to be helped. She spent most of her days in her bed and was unable to keep either bed or room in any degree of order. She would crawl about on her hands and knees with a small lamp in her hand for getting down to her basement to prepare her food at night. It became a menace not only to the tenants in that one house, but to the whole of a block of wooden houses, there was danger for the whole block. The odor from the room she occupied became more and more offensive. To open the street door was to open a window of filth and smell. The matter was brought to Mr. Scriven's attention, and he, anxious to have things remedied before too late, asked the police-woman to take action in the matter. She called that same day and found such unspeakable conditions that she hesitated to enter the house for fear of having the police creature removed to the City Home, where she might be cleaned and fed, her small income would then be added a few comforts to the regular diet.

The chief declined to act, until the police-woman pointed out the danger to the city if so helpless a person was allowed to continue to go about that way with a lighted lamp. The chief referred her to the Police Association. The application was made there and the answer was that Mrs. Egan did her work as it was properly S. P. C. work, to which, of course, the police would not be held. So long as it was done it mattered not who did it. She also reported it to the Board of Health and was there told that Mrs. Egan did not allow it and that every body agreed it was S. P. C. work. Again time elapsed, until a few days since, when the secretary of the S. P. C. was again approached and offered an excuse that Mrs. Egan was out of town, but was informed that she was in the city that day and had been there the previous nights anyway. Still no move was made.

About the middle of last week the old lady locked herself in her room and was not heard or seen leaving it again. The tenants upstairs became nervous, and at intervals went to the door and knocked, each time receiving an answer. This continued until Saturday afternoon, and they having no authority to open the door were forced to be content. About four o'clock Saturday the worried tenant knocked again and got no reply, and then reported the matter.

The door was finally opened, and Dr. Morton of the health board staff was called. After examination he declared life in the poor thin, worn old lady extinct. About six o'clock the body was removed to Snow's undertaking rooms and the funeral was held from there yesterday afternoon.

It causes a shudder not only to those who are themselves advanced in years to think of such a fate—to die alone, neglected, starved and dirty—but also to any who meditate upon such a fate for those near and dear to them. Halifax is a Christian city and philanthropic societies multiply, yet in spite of their persistent effort to avoid such a climax, poor old Mrs. Murphy's soul passed out alone and unattended, and the body lay neglected until the anxiety of a neighbor led to its discovery. "Am I my brother's keeper?"

ANTI-GERMAN FEELING INCREASES IN BRAZIL

Rio Janeiro, April 18—Popular feeling against Germany is increasing in the city of Porto Alegre, which has a large German colony, the situation today passed beyond the control of the police. Crowds attacked several German establishments, burning a hotel and a large store. They marched through the streets cheering for Brazil and the Entente Allies. President Braz and the minister of war conferred in regard to measures for re-establishing peace.

Late reports from Porto Alegre say that several big German establishments are in flames. Among them the business house of Bromberg & Company and the building of the Germania Club. The Grand Hotel Schmidt has been reduced to ashes.

DEADLOCK IN I. O. D. E.

Fredericton, April 18—The Provincial Chapter Imperial Order Daughters of the Empire closed its annual meeting here tonight with a very strong probability that another meeting must be held as the officers elected have refused to act.

Councillors were elected as follows: Countess of Ashburnham, Mrs. D. Lee Bisset, Mrs. W. J. Scott, Mrs. W. C. Crockett, Mrs. A. J. Gregory, Mrs. O. S. Crockett, Mrs. Robert Fitz-Randolph, Mrs. B. C. Foster, Mrs. G. W. Hodges, Fredericton, Mrs. Freeman Lake, Sackville, Mrs. George McK. Blizard, Mrs. F. K. Sayre, Mrs. Fenwick Fraser, Mrs. D. P. Chisholm, Mrs. Busby, Mrs. Daval, Mrs. Hugh Mackay, Mrs. Guy Fitz-Randolph, Miss Marion Hoar, Mrs. G. S. Mayes, St. John.

The balloting took a long time. The session, which began at 2.30, did not adjourn until 4.30 o'clock. The St. John delegates were sufficiently numerous to out-vote the Fredericton delegates, and they refused to take office, leaving the chapter with the great majority of offices vacant. It is expected that another meeting will be held in the near future at which the tangle will be unravelled.

HOUSEWIVES LEAGUE

One hundred new members were enrolled at the monthly meeting of the Housewives League yesterday afternoon, at the Kings Daughters, Guild, with the president, Mrs. J. W. Y. Laylor in the chair. The league laid elaborate and far-reaching plans for eliminating many of the unsanitary conditions existing in the city market and grocery stores, and with this end in view appointed a vigilance committee consisting of Mrs. Silus Alward, Mrs. W. E. Raymond, Mrs. Bruce Weston, Mrs. Arthur Adams, Mrs. George Ellis, and Mrs. F. E. Holman to carry on the work.

The league is working on the basis of the science of economics to work out the best means of buying and utilizing food-stuffs. War will be waged by the vigilance committee against the butter samplers used in the city market, and the league will make every effort to have all producers of butter, maple sugar and similar articles sold by the cake, stamped with their names on their produce. The New Brunswick Power Company and the New Brunswick Telephone Company Limited will be interviewed by members of the league concerning existing conditions and prices, particularly with reference to cooking gas. Miss Helen Leud Reed, of Boston, preparing an address to be given at the next mass meeting of the club, and the Countess of Ashburnham has written asking information concerning the league, with the hope of establishing one in Fredericton.

Large doses of pills for the liver are not as efficient as small doses. The big dose purges its way through the system fast, but does not cleanse thoroughly. The small dose (if right) acts gently on the liver, and gives it just the slight help it needs to do its own work, and do it well. Take one pill regularly, until you know you are all right.

DEATH OF A ROCKEFELLER

Youngest Brother of John D. With Whom He Quarreled Years Ago. Frank Rockefeller, youngest brother of John D. Rockefeller, died on last Sunday in his apartments at a Cleveland hotel from a stroke of paralysis and a blood clot on the brain as a result of a relapse he suffered following an intestinal operation a month ago. He became seriously ill on Monday, and had been unconscious since Friday. He was seventy-two years old, and is survived by his wife and three daughters.

Frank Rockefeller was not on speaking terms with his brother, John D., as a result of a quarrel they had years ago. In comparison with his brother, John D., he was a poor man, his fortune probably not totaling more than $800,000.

Frank Rockefeller was the youngest of the three brothers, in the family made famous by petroleum. For several years he was associated with John D. Rockefeller and William A. F. Rockefeller in the oil business, but was not as widely known as they. He was born on a farm in Richford, N. Y., in 1844, coming of a Scotch family that had settled originally on a small farm in the western part of New York state. His father was William Avery Rockefeller, who sold medicines about the country.

When his brothers organized the Standard Oil Company, Frank Rockefeller became identified with the company, and served for a time as one of the vice presidents. He acquired considerable wealth, but his relations with his brother John became strained and he severed all connections with him. That the gap was wide one is shown by the fact that Frank Rockefeller testified in court in Cleveland, Ohio, in 1912, that he was not on friendly terms with John D. Rockefeller. In reply to a question from a lawyer as to how much his brother paid his chauffeurs, Frank Rockefeller replied: "He and I have not spoken to each other for two years."

The trouble between the brothers dates back to the time when John D. Rockefeller first began to amass a fortune from the establishment of his oil monopoly. It is said that it was because of Frank's defense of his friend, the late James Corrigan, who died a few years ago, a multi-millionaire. Corrigan made his money in iron and steel. In the early days when John D. Rockefeller had laid the foundation of his fortune, Corrigan was just coming into the world. He needed money for one of his ventures, and John D. Rockefeller let him have it, and Corrigan gave as security a large and valuable tract of ore land. It is said that when the time of the loan expired and Corrigan could not pay he went to Rockefeller and asked him to extend the time. He refused.

Rockefeller took over the property and Corrigan sued, claiming the property was more valuable than the loan, but Rockefeller won in the courts, and took title to the land.

When Frank Rockefeller learned that his brother would not grant Corrigan an extension of time he severed all connection with him, and withdrew from the Standard Oil Company, in which he was then an officer. Although the two Rockefeller brothers lived part of each year in Cleveland, they never spoke. William Rockefeller tried last year to effect reconciliation, but Frank refused to consider a truce.

With great aversion to being called "John D. Rockefeller's brother," Frank Rockefeller always spoke his mind on the subject. Just as quick was he to respond being called "the other Rockefeller."

"I am Frank Rockefeller, stockman," he would say, "not Frank Rockefeller, a brother of John D."

Becomes a Stock Raiser. Although he closely resembled his brothers, Frank was rather stocky and a little more squarely built than they. In 1909 he turned his attention to stock raising, purchasing a stock farm at Belvidere, Kan. There, on 12,000 acres, he built up a stock farm which became recognized as a model throughout the southwest. He divided his time between Cleveland place, Lakeland, his ranch at Belvidere, and traveling. During the five months in the year he resided in Cleveland he spent on an average of six hours a day in his office. Lakeland is approximately 100 acres in extent. There is a private trotting track on the place where he often sped his own horses for the fun of it. Though he was exceedingly fond of trotting as a sport, he confined his indulgence in it to his own track. As to blooded animals, he went in more for cattle than for horses.

The Rockefeller animal ranch is at the end of a branch railroad and there he kept thousands of horses and tens of thousands of cattle. He was well equipped physically for ranch work and he took a great personal interest in it. Attired in overalls, like a farm hand, Frank Rockefeller was the active overseer of his property, and when there were fences to be repaired, ditches dug, and heavy work to be done, he did his part. He also directed large range interests in Texas and Arizona. Some of the purest bred cattle in the world are to be found on his ranch in Kansas.

His Love for Animals. Mr. Rockefeller had a love for animals and there were some strange ones gathered on his properties. He gave many beasts and birds to the Wade Park Zoological Garden in Cleveland and elsewhere.

"Next to my family I love animals more than anything else in the world," he said once. "By simply having fun with them I have found out a great many things, and learned a good many lessons. I could never have learned otherwise." His pets at different times included dogs, antelope, moose, bear, cats, and elk. One of his great desires was to prevent the disappearance of the buffalo. He started a herd at Belvidere, but he met with no success in breeding them.

THE SYNOD COMMITTEES. The synod committee meetings concluded yesterday afternoon with the meeting of the executive committee. Reports from the various committees were received and acted upon, but no action, however, was taken in connection with the question of leasing the lot at the rear of the Church of England Institute, it being referred to a special committee. Owing to the fact of Bishop Richard having been called out of the city, the meeting of the committee on moral and social reform, of which he is chairman, was deferred. At the meeting of the committee on mobilization of spiritual forces it was decided to hold a retreat for the clergy in November at Rotheray Collegiate School, to be conducted by Rev. Dr. W. W. Almost any car runs good and looks good, and is good, in its fresh new paint and shining metal work when it is new; but consider it six months from now—a year from now, or two years from now—on this basis the Canada-built Studebaker is a sounder investment than any other car.

Control of the Tropics. Important as these commercial considerations are, however, the political results that would flow from a confederation of Canada and the British West Indies are even more important.

Mutual Advantages. Canada is already a great consumer of tropical products. Within the last ten years the imports of these products into Canada have more than doubled.

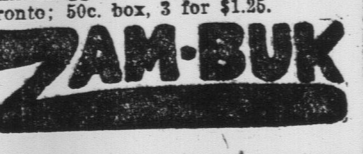

The practical advantages of economic and political union to the British West Indies are equally obvious. They would have a free and ever-growing market in Canada for their products.

Murderer Made Startling Escape From Auburn Not Captured Yet

Dangerous Criminal Knocked Down Aged Trusty With Club and Left in Warden's Uniform

Auburn, N. Y., April 19.—A pale little man of thirty-two, admitted murderer of one, and suspected of having murdered three other men, at least, with a prison record extending back to his early boyhood, and from thirty years to life yet to serve in New York's prisons, was calmly working in an inconspicuous corner of Auburn prison yard this afternoon.

As aged keeper John Betts, was passing, carrying a bomb out of two tin cups filled with some of the gasoline intended for blow pipes in the shop. It was found just before it was intended to explode and set fire to the shop, and the little prisoner's plan to escape during the ensuing confusion was foiled. He was placed in a dark cell and permitted to exercise only in a small stone-walled square with bars at its top. In December of 1913, a keeper discovered that for a long while Fossberg had been working on these bars with an iron tool which he had loosened from his prison bed, and which he replaced daily after a few minutes' work on the upper bars. When discovered he had the bars almost loose enough to escape. He was transferred to Auburn and is said to have become a "model prisoner," to such an extent that his earlier boast that no prison on earth could hold him very long was more or less forgotten.

It was a circumstance connected with the last unsuccessful attempt to escape that caused the guards to look for a discarded uniform in the woods near the prison.

CONGRESSWOMAN IS MOST MODEST MEMBER

Washington, April 19.—Miss Jeanette Rankin of Montana, the first woman member of Congress, made her debut today in the printed pages of the congressional directory, a publication of biographies and governmental information published at the beginning of each congress. Miss Rankin used just five words in her biography, to wit: "Jeanette Rankin, Republican, of Missoula."

It was not generally expected that the "Lady of Montana" would tell her age, but it was assumed she would speak of her early life, election and work for the suffrage cause. Instead, Miss Rankin supplies the shortest biography in the directory. The usual crop of biographies of fulsome praise written by first terms is missing, for some reason, from the publication, which came from the printer today. Most of the new members discuss their careers in a brief and matter-of-fact way. There are a few of the older members who vie with Miss Rankin in the brevity of their sketches. Representative Caraway of Arkansas, uses barely a line, and so does Representative Great of Pennsylvania; Martin of Illinois (a new member); Meeker of Missouri; Sanford of New York; Senator Harry Lane of Oregon, and Representative Dillon of South Dakota; Buchanan of Texas; Johnson of Washington, and Cooper of Wisconsin.

Amsterdam, April 17.—The German Crown Prince now commands the German centre army groups on the western front, according to the Frankfurter Zeitung. On the crown prince's right is Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria and on his left Grand Duke Albrecht of Wurttemberg, who previously commanded the German forces in Flanders. It was recently reported in the German press, says the newspaper that the German crown prince had been sent home to Berlin in disgrace.

and sentenced to from twenty-five years to life in prison. Margaret Ryan was held for a while and released. From Sing Sing Fossberg was sent to Dannemora, where he could be more closely guarded. He worked in the tin shop, and made a bomb out of two tin cups filled with some of the gasoline intended for blow pipes in the shop. It was found just before it was intended to explode and set fire to the shop, and the little prisoner's plan to escape during the ensuing confusion was foiled. Gems Worth $1,000,000 Go to Friends — Brother is Cut Off With $700

The New York Times learns that all of James Buchanan Brady (Diamond Jim's) diamonds and other stones, valued at $1,000,000, are to be distributed among his friends, and that nearly all of the remainder of the estate of several millions will go to the New York Hospital in West Sixteenth street to establish the James Buchanan Brady Foundation for a urological institute, similar to that at Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore, which he previously endowed with $200,000. Johns Hopkins Hospital is to receive an additional $200,000.

None of the relatives has yet seen the will. The document, which covers some six typewritten pages, and was dictated by Mr. Brady, expresses in detail his personal reasons for the disposal of his estate. It is now in the possession of James M. Gifford of Gifford, Hobbs & Beard. The four executors, which include the Columbia Trust Company and three of Mr. Brady's business associates, heard the will read at the office of Mr. Gifford. Mr. Brady's private secretary, Richard C. Crowley, was present as the representative of the estate.

Attacks Those Who Display Wrong Feeling and Pick Out Worst of Nation as Representing the Whole

(Halifax Recorder.) It cannot be denied that there is among certain classes of our citizens a strange prejudice against the people of the United States. This prejudice is due to various causes, and, perhaps, the most potent cause of all is an illogical assumption that a certain type of shallow and boastful American tourist sometimes encountered in this province is a true type of the people of that great nation. To be influenced by or to entertain such a notion about the American people is just as unreasonable as to assume that a certain type of bumptious Cockney is a fair type of the people of the mother country. Edmund Burke has said that you cannot indict a whole nation and then, by more than one class in our city. Even since the United States has joined the other great nations in the world-fight for liberty and humanity, there still lurks in some quarters this curious prejudice, and we still hear occasionally criticism of the people of the neighboring republic.

To be influenced by or to entertain such a notion about the American people is just as unreasonable as to assume that a certain type of bumptious Cockney is a fair type of the people of the mother country. Edmund Burke has said that you cannot indict a whole nation and then, by more than one class in our city. Even since the United States has joined the other great nations in the world-fight for liberty and humanity, there still lurks in some quarters this curious prejudice, and we still hear occasionally criticism of the people of the neighboring republic.

frontier. The whole civilized world should be proud of them. Again, if we regard the statesmen who from the beginning of the war presented from the platform the true principles involved in this war, no men of any country have advocated these principles more ably, more ardently and more vigorously than Ex-President Taft, Elihu Root and Theodore Roosevelt. Again, if we take the great journals of the world, none stand higher in splendid patriotic service in this war than an American newspaper. The New York Times, which in loftiness of tone, pure patriotism and breadth of view had far surpassed its great London namesake. In discussing the people of the United States let us be fair and take the best type rather than the worst. The American press in referring to the Canadians participation in the war has been generous in praise. They take the best Canadians as the true type of our country and ignore the type represented by the little critic on the tram-car. It is probable, indeed, that they would have "no use" for him.

taken at the same time as Main street. He felt that it was inadvisable to make the tenders for enough work to make it worth while for outside concerns to compete.

The commissioner submitted estimates for the work as follows:

Main street, Adelaide to Cedar streets, $32,540, less allowance from street railway of $2,600, $29,940
Union, Prince William to Charlotte, 11,930
Union, Waterloo to Brussels, less street railway allowance of $500, 6,912
Total, $48,382

While supporting the need for the Main street work, Commissioner Wigmore said he did not see such a pressing need for the Union street work, and he would not vote for it at present.

Commissioner McLellan approved of paving Main street, but questioned the use of any granite blocks, and received from the road engineer an explanation of their value.

Commissioner Wigmore moved that authority be given for issuing bonds for the Main street work, and that the work be proceeded with. Commissioner Russell seconded this.

All or Nothing

Commissioner Fisher said that he could not support the motion unless Union street was added, as he believed it to be at least as necessary, especially between Waterloo and Brussels, as there was no alternative route for this street. Further, he did not consider it economical, as outside contractors would not tender for less than 16,000 yards.

Commissioner McLellan objected to the principle of holding up the Main street work because the council did not feel disposed to vote for the Union street work. As for the Victoria street route, he said the haul from the wharf to Victoria street was up a hill almost as bad as that in Main street and was no advantage to the Main street merchants. He added that the council had promised the Main street work two years ago and he did not see how civic government could be carried on if an incoming member could defeat such a promise.

Commissioner Russell also felt that Union street could stand over, and suggested that Commissioner Fisher might reconsider.

Commissioner Wigmore spoke to the same effect.

His reasons for wanting tenders called for both streets at the same time

SENT UP FOR TRIAL

Following the evidence of Detective Barrett yesterday afternoon in the preliminary hearing against Peter, Mansfield, Bean and Hill, for alleged breaking and entering a saloon at the corner of Britain and Prince William streets, Detective Duncan gave evidence this morning which closed the case for the prosecution. The three prisoners said they were absolutely innocent of connection with the affair. The magistrate committed them to the police house to await trial.

Detective Duncan said that he placed Bean under arrest and that when he was leading Bean to the cell he remarked to the detective that he was not going to suffer for others and added that he had better get Hill. The detective department were supplied with a description of the three men.

Detective Barrett yesterday afternoon said that Hill had admitted that he was there when the window was broken and later on, it is said, had offered to pay for the damage done to the window.

When the three soldiers were told that they would be committed for trial, Hill started to dance as he was led to the stairs. The magistrate informed him that he was in a court of justice and must behave himself accordingly.

Four prisoners were fined the usual amount for drunkenness and another man was before the court for drunkenness and impeding people in Main street.

A KHAKI WEDDING

A quiet military wedding took place in Trinity church at 3.30 Wednesday afternoon, when Dorothy Eleana, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stewart (late of 20th Battalion) and Mrs. Pitt, was united in marriage to Sgt. Bert A. Burdon (late of 8th Battalion, C.E.F.), elder brother of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Burdon of Fredericton. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. L. Ralph Sherman.

The bride, who was given away by her father, wore a traveling suit of navy blue with white trimmings, and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilacs of the valley. After the ceremony the bride party left the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march and proceeded to the bride's home, where a dainty luncheon was served.

The happy young people, who were the recipients of many beautiful presents, left on the evening train for a short trip to points in New Brunswick.

As the groom expects to go overseas with the 23rd Battalion, only near relatives of the two families were present.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

The St. John board of trade has several times pressed the matter of national daylight saving upon the government at Ottawa, and sent a telegram the day the Ontario board interviewed Sir George Foster a few days ago. It is felt that a defeat for the measure in St. John would tend to delay the national movement.

The Times has received several anonymous letters on the subject of daylight saving, some for and some against. To ensure publication these letters should be signed.
