ANOTHER BREAK IN ONE OF THE MAINS

Another break occurred last night in one of the twenty-four inch water mains. The break occurred in the Jewish cemetery, Westmorland road. A night crew was rounded up and rushed to the scene and work was continued all night. The work still is in progress this afternoon. The lack of the additional supply has not affected the pressure in the city seriously, except on the higher levels.

said a well educated man the other day when he was asked this question: "Why, when you have a cold, a cough or bronchitis (troubles, you will note, of throat and chest) do you persist in pouring cough syrups, lung tonics and the like into your stomach, which is perfectly sound?"

Ever think of it? The stomach and the lungs are not connected, otherwise food swallowed would choke you. Lung and throat troubles were never yet cured by dosing the stomach. To cure coughs, colds and bronchitis, you must breathe the cure. Peps provide the rational treatment for these ailments. Peps are tablets made up of pine extracts and medicinal essences, which when put into the mouth turn into healing vapors. These are breathed down direct to the lungs, throat and bronchial tubes—not swallowed down to the stomach, which is not ailing. Try a 5c box of Peps for your cold, your cough, bronchitis or asthma. All drug-gists and stores or Peps Co., Toronto, will supply.

CANADIANS PREFER THE SOMME TO YPRES

Could Not Live Much in Open in Flanders as They Now Do

London, Oct. 8.—How Canadians appreciate the territory on which they are now fighting, as compared with the Ypres salient, may be gathered from views expressed by two officers, the one from Toronto, the other from Edmonton, recently seen in hospital. Around Ypres it was absolutely necessary to keep under cover, as one was constantly exposed on all sides; hence trenches and dugouts were the only safe place to be in. Down on the Somme, however, the troops live largely in the open, and such shelter as is needed is supplied by shell holes. At Ypres the enemy was carefully hidden, and there were numbers of men who rarely saw a German soldier alive, whereas on the Somme the Boche can be seen moving about, but he is in front only and his movements can be watched. At Ypres the Brothers Meet at. Mrs. John T. Browne of 119 Guilford street, West St. John, received a letter yesterday from her son, Sergeant Thomas B. Browne of the 4th Siege Battery in France, saying that he was well and had met his brother, William B. Browne who is with the 28th Battalion.

INDIA'S PROBLEM.

The message from India which Mr. Brooks of the International Y. M. C. A. Committee delivered to a group of St. John men at luncheon yesterday was an interesting one, and showed that the people of India are more tolerant of western ideas than we in Canada are of the claim of a Hindu to the rights of British citizenship in Canada.

WOMAN HAD NERVOUS TROUBLE

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Helped Her.

West Danby, N. Y.—"I have had nervous trouble all my life. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for nerves and for female troubles and it straightened me out in good time. I speak nearly all the time, as we live on a farm and I have four girls. I do my own sewing and other work with their help, so it shows that I stand it real well. I took the Compound when my ten year old daughter came and it helped me a lot. I have also had my oldest girl take it and it did her lots of good. I keep it in the house all the time and recommend it."—Mrs. DEWITT SINCBAUGH, West Danby, N. Y.

Discriminating purchasers specify Neolin soles on their favorite shoe, when they have their fitting.

You, too, should ask your dealer to show you Neolin soled shoes and test for yourself its many superiorities.

J. M. Humphrey & Co. Manufacturers ST. JOHN, N. B.

Neolin is literally a new substance of incalculable economic value. Yesterday it did not exist, today it is a new, a practical and a proven product, destined to play a part in the daily lives of thousands of homes.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

appreciation in reference to the new St. John bridge. Through a misunderstanding as to the date, the band of the 160th, which was expected, was not present. Those in charge of the exercises were much pleased with the cheerful way in which the band was promised, and were sorry, indeed, that it was not present. It was not the fault of the band.

His honor also spoke in a reminiscent way of the bridge and of the promoter, Warden McLellan, representing the county, expressed his appreciation of the new bridge, and hoped it would be the beginning of a system of thoroughly up-to-date road construction. He said the government had done well in this particular, and the municipality was under obligation to it for having provided so satisfactory a means of communication between the city and the county. In the course of a particularly strong address he said that while governments may not rise to full measures of their greatness they must not fall below the standards of public duties and obligations.

The mayor was the last speaker on the programme. He also expressed his appreciation along similar lines touched upon by the warden.

The attorney-general, who had been directing the proceedings, brought them to a close by stating that similar works had been and were now being carried on in other parts of the province, and he was pleased to hear the expressions of

CONDITIONS IN CANADA

(From Bank of Commerce, October letter.)

The crop which a month ago was looked upon as being very discouraging is threatening out better than anticipated. The inspections reveal a better quality than was hoped for, and the general shortage has resulted in such price advances as will make the monetary return for this year's cereal crops almost as large as that for the exceptional crop of the previous year.

Manufacturers and merchants very generally complain that it is impossible to procure goods in sufficient quantities to meet the demand; yet at the same time merchandise is being imported on a scale quite unprecedented. In August the imports were valued at $72,381,000, figures only approached in recent months and exceeding the average before the war by 82 per cent. Since January of the present year, as compared with the average of 1914, the increase in dutiable goods is 92 per cent, and in free goods 76 per cent. The latter class is composed largely of raw

JOHN FARMER, ST. JOHN SOLDIER, IS HONORED

The first St. John boy to receive the Russian decoration for gallantry on the field of battle was Sergeant John Farmer, son of Mrs. E. L. Jones, of 375 Main street.

The Russian decoration was granted him for his great heroism in getting despatches through safely to the Russian troops operating on the western front. He is very well known in the city and a few years ago was employed by J.

SERGEANT JOHN FARMER, who has received the Russian decoration for gallantry.

E. Wilson & Company, of this city, and a few years ago went west and at the outbreak of war enlisted with a British Columbia battalion. An officer, writing to his mother some time ago, said: "My I venture these few lines regarding your son Jack, for I know him well how pleased and proud you will be when you hear of his being decorated for gallantry, and I only wish to emphasize how much he deserved it.

"Perhaps I am saying a little bit more than I officially should, but cannot help telling you that after the battle of Ypres he was recommended for the D. C. M., and being only a lad of nineteen it is all the more praiseworthy.

"When the general heard the news, standing just by the dugout, he shook Jack by the hand, and with a glint in his eye congratulated him, for the general admires bravery beyond all else; besides, he actually saw some of the things Jack did at that time.

"Everyone around is pleased, especially my aunt and it is easy to picture your delight at the news. May we all congratulate you as the mother of our hero. He is being told now to look after himself and be able to come home and enjoy all the loving honors due him.

"Yours sincerely,
"ARTHUR P. SPRANGE,"
Lieutenant Prescott Killed.

Word has been received in Sackville of the death in action, somewhere in France, of Lieutenant Joseph H. Prescott, on Oct. 2. Lieutenant Prescott held good position in the Bank of Nova Scotia, Toronto, which he resigned to take a commission in the 82d Overseas Battalion, Toronto, early in 1915. On reaching England, in May of this year, he was transferred to the 4th Canadian Mounted Rifles, and was with them when he was killed. He was about thirty years of age and unmarried. He was a son of the late William Prescott, of Belle Verte, and was formerly with the Bank of Nova Scotia at Sackville. George Dibbille Wounded.

A cablegram was received this week by Dr. and Mrs. Dibbille, of Moore Mills, that their son, George, of the Mounted Rifles, had been severely wounded when in action in a late battle in France.

RECENT WEDDINGS

Brown-Pearson.

A wedding of much interest took place in St. John's church, Highfield, Queens county, on Oct. 17 at 3 o'clock, when Rev. C. A. S. Warneford united in marriage Miss Mabel M. Pearson, second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Pearson, to G. Roy Brown, of New York, formerly of Scotch Settlement, Kings county. As the bride entered the church accompanied by her father, The Voice That Breathed O'er Eden was rendered by the choir. The bride was becomingly attired in a wedding suit of navy blue large velvet hat and carried a bouquet of roses. She was unattended. Roy M. Pearson and Murray Pearson acted as ushers. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after which Mr. and Mrs. Brown left for New York. Many beautiful presents attended to the popularity of the bride, among them being substantial checks from the W. H. Thompson Company and staff, where the bride was a popular stenographer.

Adams-Stapleton.

Moncton, Oct. 19.—(Special)—Miss Kelsey Stapleton Manning, a well known and popular Moncton young lady, and Harold David Adams, were married this evening at 6.30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. G. H. Manning, Highfield street, Rev. Canon Siam, rector of St. George's church, officiated, in the presence of immediate relatives. The groom, formerly a resident of Amherst, is now accountant in the Atlantic Underwear Company, Moncton. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Sallie Manning. She was given away by her uncle, Douglas Biggs, of Amherst. The wedding march was played by A. A. Woodhouse, and the bride was accompanied by Miss Fannie Peters. Among the guests were the groom's father, William Adams, and Misses Adams, of Amherst; Miss Margery Adams, of Halifax; Mrs. C. H. Jackson, of St. John; Mrs. C. P. Clarke and Mrs. D. S. Briggs, of Amherst; Richard Rutherford, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. D. S. Briggs, of Amherst; Richard Rutherford, of Halifax. The bride and groom will leave this evening on a wedding trip to Montreal, Boston and New York.

A SUCCESSFUL FAIR.

More than 7,000 people have attended the Around the World fair of the City Comet Band, which was originally scheduled to close in St. John's last night, but which will be continued this evening. The attendance and participation in the fair have been so general that the management was induced to extend it another evening. Final drawings will not take place tonight, but will be held Monday night instead. It was estimated last night that the gross receipts will go beyond the $5,000 mark. All in all, the bandmen are confident that the fair has been the most largely attended affair ever held in the rink.

Remarkable Report On Prosperity Across Border

(Bradstreet's) Dry weather is complained of in the southwest as delaying wheat seeding, but a large, in fact record, area will go in in Kansas. The Nebraska crop is in good shape, but needs rain. It has been a good season for drying and curing corn, and the crop has turned out better than expected some months ago.

August of last year. Figured on a per mille basis, gross earnings for August work out at $1,438, against $1,290 in the recent supplies later on. The lake iron ore for August this year 8542, compares with $487 for that month in 1915. For two months of the fiscal year gross earnings were $861,028,813, an increase of $106,764,916 over last year, and for the two months' period net earnings, $202,556,488, contrast with $163,754,008 for the corresponding time last year.

Instead of pausing, price movements in iron and steel continue soaring. Sales of pig iron for export are extraordinary, buying of steel rails for the first quarter of 1916 is noteworthy, and, on the whole, the situation is one in which the main point is to guard against insufficient supplies later on. The lake iron ore shipping season of 1917 promises to be a busy one, and practically all of the more attractive vessels are already under contract for next year.

Report to Bradstreet's Journal from 145 cities of the United States show permits for 25,083 structures and expenditures of $67,876,112 in September, a gain of 8 per cent. in permits and 1.1 per cent. in values over September of a year ago, which showed a gain of 30.5 per cent. in value over September, 1914. Expenditures for nine months of the calendar year show a total of $761,611,297, a gain of 28 per cent. over 1915, an amount equal to that of the entire year 1914, and 6.5 per cent. in excess of 1915, hitherto the record year in building.

Commodity Prices. Bradstreet's monthly report on the course of commodity prices shows another upward surge during September to a new high level for the past twenty-five years, and many commodities are now on a par or above civil war levels. The Bradstreet Index Number as of October 1 is 22 per cent above September 1, itself a record level, 22 per cent above August 15, 1914, and 20.5 per cent above October 1, 1915. Index numbers of breadstuffs, provisions, hides and leather and textiles are all at high record levels, and ten groups of commodities advanced in September while only three declined.

...Railway Earnings. Railway gross earnings for August, as reported by 162 large roads operating 159,888 miles, aggregate $290,810,099, an increase of 19 per cent over August, 1915. Operating expenses advanced 22 per cent, and net earnings amounted to $106,110,269, a rise of 24.4 per cent. over 383,303,064 Passengers Carried Last Year on New York Railways, a Gain of 735,647.

The New York Railways Company reports gross earnings amounting to $18,714,681 in the year ending June 30, a gain of $314,763. As operating expenses of $8,740,078 were $170,964 less than in 1915, and income from outside sources was $46,627 more, the company was able to solve a substantial gain in net. The net income amounted to $4,570,199, a gain of $221,091.

The company carried 383,303,064 passengers, an increase of 735,647 over the preceding year. Of these 1,021,893 were on free transfers, 1,421,487 fewer than in 1915.

President T. F. Shonks says in the pamphlet report that in order to avoid extensive litigation growing out of the reversion of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, a settlement of all claims was proposed to the directors, and finally carried out.

"As a result of the settlement," he continues, "and by virtue of the various contentions raised on behalf of this company during the course of the receivership of the Metropolitan Street Railway Company, a settlement of all claims was proposed to the directors, and finally carried out."

There is no impression of dominating physical energy as in the case of Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Asquith speaks very often, indeed, as if he were physically tired, and rarely, if ever, does he raise his voice.

MIX-UP OVER OLD GOVERNMENT HOUSE

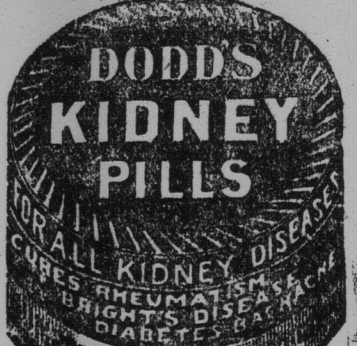

Governor Grants Use to Kilties, Government Takes Opposite Course

(Frederick Gleason) Last evening's St. John Times says, under date of Fredericton, that "Mayor Mitchell has been notified that the government, at its last meeting, passed an order in council stipulating that the old Government House could be used as a convalescent home for troops but for no other purpose."

A few days after getting the authority to recruit the 28th Battalion the Kilties—Col. Guthrie wrote to Lieutenant Governor Wood asking for the use of Old Government House for recruiting purposes, and His Honor replied cheerfully complying with the request. His Honor's letter is as follows:

Lieutenant Governor's Office, Sackville, N. B., 1st of June, 1916. Colonel Percy A. Guthrie, Fredericton, N.B. Dear Colonel Guthrie—I am in receipt of your favor of the 27th and am pleased to hear that you are to be another overseas battalion, which is to be the 28th, and desire use of the Old Government House building for recruiting purposes. I have several times objected to the government allowing the buildings and grounds for picnics and other such purposes, but nothing should stand in the way of assisting in any way we can the cause for which we are fighting, and I cheerfully comply with your request. I would, however, ask you not to allow the house or grounds to be mutilated or injured in any way by the men. I presume you will have sufficient officers to see that this is done.

Yours truly, JOSHUA WOODS. On the authority of this letter of His Honor the work of fitting up Government House for the Kilties, temporarily, was proceeded with and was still going on when the mayor yesterday received a copy of the order-in-council, a copy of which Col. Guthrie also received last night. The situation is a bit awkward from more than one standpoint.

The picture, which was sent over on the London Daily Mirror exclusive war service, was first marked by the British censor "not to be published." THE DEMOSTHENES OF THE COMMONS

(By T. P. O'Connor, in Reynolds's As I look on Mr. Asquith I often recall the figure of Mr. Gladstone; three could not be two figures more unlike.

Mr. Gladstone was not only volcanic in temperament, but was volcanic in look, in physique, and in volence even when he seemed to be in repose.

Of course, a man so exuberant was at once the greatest and the most disturbing leader of the House of Commons could have. A personality so vivid, so dominating, and so restless, absolutely commanded the whole plane.

Coming to Mr. Asquith, he has none of the special gifts of Mr. Gladstone—either physically or intellectually. He has a constitution of iron. After ten minutes read in his bed at night he can sleep his regular eight hours, even in the most critical times; never seems tired; never seems excited, just goes phlegmatically on.

He is not a man who seems to lose speaking for speaking's sake; words do not come from his lips in a great torrent as in the case of Mr. Gladstone; he never seems anxious to take the answering of questions or other work out of the hands of his subordinates.

And yet—daring as it may seem—I regard him in many respects as a more effective leader in the House of Commons than even Gladstone was. This is mainly due to an incomparable power of a certain style of speech. I have heard that Mr. Balfour says that never since the days of Demosthenes was there a speaker who had such an unerring power of using exactly the right word, and I may add, saying the right thing.

He is no more like Gladstone in speech than Cicero was like Demosthenes. It may be partly his devotion to the Greek classics, but probably it is more largely because of his own natural tendencies and gifts that the style of Mr. Asquith is in the stern and chaste simplicity of a Greek speaker or of a French classic.

You take time to discover the splendid art that conceals the art so consummately. He seems to be using the language of everyday life, the short and simple words and the blunt and unornamented phrase. It is only when he sits down that you realize that he has put his case with such simplicity and such lucidity, that it appears to be so reasonable and so simple as to be unanswerable; it looks as if there were nothing more to be said.

There is no impression of dominating physical energy as in the case of Mr. Gladstone. Mr. Asquith speaks very often, indeed, as if he were physically tired, and rarely, if ever, does he raise his voice.

SUCCESSSES IN GERMAN EAST AFRICA

A War Office communique gives good news from German East Africa. The villagers are giving their assistance.

With the Canadian Troops

They've Captured More Than 2,000 of Enemy Since September 3; Something of Their Work

Ottawa, Oct. 19.—Lieutenant-General Sir Sam Hughes, minister of militia, has received the following communication from the Canadian Corps Headquarters in France, via London, Oct. 19.—It is impossible for those who are not actively participating in this great battle, and who must still entertain a conception of warfare based on former wars, to understand the extraordinary revolution which has gradually taken place in our methods of attack. The Somme offensive is being conducted upon new principles, drawn from the study and experience of the last two years. It is at the same time the most colossal and the most fearful form of warfare which has ever been evolved. Its novelty is its character of change and invention. Its bold departure from military precedents is well exemplified by the famous tanks. Its gigantic scale is illustrated by the casualty returns which represent, however, but a small fraction of the troops employed. Its infinite detail may be seen from a study of the trench maps, where the facing and interlocking of innumerable lines form a most intricate pattern and show the slow labor and nature of the advances. Objectives of attack must be defined with the exactitude of a city plot. They must be approached by the construction of parapets, jumping-off trenches and communication trenches, and so on, as to reduce as much as possible the period of infantry exposure and also control the direction of the assault. Aeroplane photographs must be obtained of the area objective, to show the precise location of the enemy's lines and the results of the artillery preparation there. Photographs are clear and searching, and some taken during the assault, even show the advancing figures of the infantry. Every detail, every secret of the German defence laid bare. Soon after the aeroplane observer, sweeping low over the enemy's lines, has taken the photographs, the pilots have been distributed to the staffs concerned.

Dominate the Air. In this respect the British and French domination is almost absolute. Here all day long we watch our planes circling above our heads. Closely they come and go, with speed and abruptness of engines, far off they seem to hang suspended in the sky. Occasionally a flight of five or more planes, intent upon some special mission, go over high up and disappear into the distant mist. So rarely do the German machines appear that some men who have been here daily for a month have not seen a single one. The Canadian corps is only a unit in the great drama. Its movements depend not upon its own volition but upon the intricate web of the great scheme of battle. Let any essential portion be checked in its allotted task, and a rearrangement of the whole fabric must be made.

There is a certain inevitable litter of material, salvage heaps and smoking incinerators; there is an obsession of a looting military. The houses are all occupied by uniforms more or less cleanly, eggs, candles or embroidered picture cards, and other odds and ends. The procession of arm vehicles or marching units. Either the dust rises in a choking cloud or the mud spreads and splatters everywhere. This area of active occupation gradually thins and abuts on a region of more sinister appearance. Here trees have broken bodies, and the houses seem in pain, for their roofs are rent, their windows gone, their walls scarred and pierced. Grass-grown trenches appear fringed with depths of rusted barbed wire entanglements, and shell holes fresh or old become more and more frequent. But the full view of the land of war is not nullified in effect by its gradual coming over beyond the bleak gray slopes east of Albert, with their chalky scars cut by the long lines of trenches. The view suddenly sweeps into the valley. Before La Boisselle there were the original German and British lines on July 14. This was the outer wall, the stoutly resisting shell of the defence, through which the indomitable English had fought their way and so permitted those who followed, other English, Australian, South Africans and Canadians to come and deal their blows. Of La Boisselle there is more upon a map than on the ground. A few shattered trunks, here and there a splintered beam, perhaps a corner stone or two, some cellars roofed with wreckage. Otherwise only the upheaval of tortured earth, mine craters, heaps of rotting white sandbags, half-choked trenches and a dreary litter of old wire, cans and human rubbish remain. On the left is the twin city of desolation, Ovillers, La Boisselle, and between the two the white road running beyond and mounts to the level of Pozières. All the way is a vista of utter ruin and desolation. This is a desert land, but the silence of the desert is not here. Night and day the silence is shattered by the never-ceasing fire of our own guns, or by the crashing explosion of the enemy's guns. Posters shares the fate of La Boisselle. No hand could trace the outlines of a single house or garden plot. There are no bricks or beams which could be used in restoration. As a village Postieres has disappeared. Just beyond Postieres, and still below the summit, runs the line of trenches first occupied by the Canadians. These are in the midst of the ground which has most suffered. Here is the scene of destruction. No grain or surface remains undisturbed. There is no room for a fresh shell hole. Nowhere now is the power of modern artillery or the thoroughness of preparation better exemplified. We have here a blasted way forward. Rain appears not only in the devastated earth and the crushed houses but also in the sadder waste of human life. This is all ground sacred to the memory of our dead, and so the severely defined trenches of the enemy the German corpses lie thickly.

Last Week's Fighting. Already the scenes of our earlier attacks are losing the clearness of the detail. The memory of this ground is short, the immediate interest of the front line is absorbing. During the past week our advance has not been the result of infantry assault, but of hand labor, under artillery fire, and sometimes at night subjected to the sweep of machine gun fire or the bullets of the enemy snipers. Only upon one occasion did the enemy attempt, by counter attack, to check the advance. At 2.30 p. m., on the afternoon of Oct. 11, he opened a heavy fire on our front line trenches, shortly afterwards about 100 Germans attempted to leave their trenches, but our signals were promptly replied to by our artillery, and so effective a barrage was placed upon their lines that they were driven back with considerable loss. As they retreated northwards along the Pys they were met by our field artillery which discovered them with shrapnel and scattered the survivors. The normal artillery duel continued without cessation. Our supply of ammunition is abundant, and we fired a proportion of our shells to the enemy's one. Aeroplane photos showed the destructiveness and accuracy of our fire. Enemy batteries were destroyed several emplacements destroyed. One of our self-acting can be mentioned as that of Private Camille Shoule, of a Nova Scotia battalion. He made a great advance on Coquerelle of Sept. 15 he was a stretcher-bearer, and was severely wounded in the shoulder. His wounds were dressed, but he refused to be removed, and immediately continued his work of ministrations for the remainder of the day and during the night. In the morning he was again wounded, this time through the leg, but he still refused to leave. Finally, about noon, while he was actually dressing the wounds of another man, this gallant, gentle soldier was shot through the heart and killed. His general has said of him: "Greater devotion to duty I have never seen."

Montreal Officer Reinstated. The whole Canadian army has learned with sympathy and delight the reinstatement of Lieut. O. B. Jones to his commissioned rank. Deprived by court martial of his commission because of a act of intemperance while on duty, Lieut. Jones immediately enlisted as a private in a well known Montreal battalion. He showed not only strict devotion to duty, but conspicuous gallantry upon several occasions. He became a corporal, then won his sergeant's stripes, courage, and again a bar for his meritorious service. On Sept. 15 he was in the thick of the fighting. It was said of him he was perpetually killing Germans. His conduct was such as to recommend him for further reward. Later he was so severely wounded that it is improbable he will be again able to serve his country as a soldier, but he is now reinstated as an officer, and he has won back his honor. THE TOTAL NUMBER OF PRISONERS CAPTURED BY THE CANADIAN CORPS SINCE SEPT. 3 IS NOW 42 OFFICERS AND 2,052 OTHER RANKS.

ACUTE AND CHRONIC RHEUMATISM. The exact cause of rheumatism is unknown, though it is generally believed to be due to a germ. It may be also said with equal truth that no remedy has been found which is effective in all cases. In fact the literature of rheumatism shows that only a few drugs which have not been given a trial. In the hands of our observers, however, a new drug has been used with the utmost satisfaction, and it is believed that it is to be a great disappointment. All physicians who remedy the pain and quiet the nervous system and Dr. W. R. Schaeffer's Rheumatism Tablets should be resorted to for the relief of the pain in all forms of rheumatism. EARNINGS OF SCHOOL BOYS AND GIRLS DURING VACATION. Spokane, Wash., Oct. 20.—Amazing results showing the thrift of the students of the North Central high school in earning money during the summer months are revealed in a statistical report completed by Miss Ida May Wilson, head of the vocational department at one of the two Spokane high schools. Sixty-five per cent of the boys enrolled in the high school worked during the summer. They earned a total of $28,885.50. Twelve per cent of the girls worked, earning a total of $4,347.63. The senior A girls during the summer averaged only $50.50 in comparison with the average of $102.66 by the boys of the same class. The average earned by the girls gradually decreases by classes from the standard set by the senior A girls. The freshman B girls hold the lowest average, each worker earning only $24.81. The average earnings of all the girls and all the boys was $54.62, while the average earning power of the boys was $72.82 and of the girls $36.62. The total number of boys who worked during the summer was 395, while 115 girls worked. More boys chose farm work and common labor in mines, mills and factories than any other occupations. Either is good for removing grease stains from clothing.

Roumanians Winning
Back Territory; Serbs
Break Second Line

(London Times Special Cable to The Telegraph.)
Bucharest, Oct. 18, via London, Oct. 19.—It has already been fifteen days since the enemy began hammering at the Roumanian front in the Carpathians, which has become the tomb of thousands of our enemies. The rush of Germans against the new fighting front can easily be understood as after defeat in the western and eastern fronts this is the only place where they hoped to find a spectacular victory. The Germans and their allies are playing now what is hoped to be their last card, for if repulsed in the southeast, the whole game will probably be considered lost. They are well aware of this. They have drawn from both of the principal fronts all available troops comprising from twelve to fourteen divisions, and have massed them against the small country. Although it is more than a fortnight since the Roumanians had to withdraw, the enemy has not advanced. The impetuous attacks of the Bavarian Highlanders were repulsed with enormous losses at the points which the enemy penetrated. They did not develop into successes.

ROUMANIANS RESUME OFFENSIVE.
Near the Rucar Torzburg pass the Roumanian troops were driven back and took a strong defensive line and are now holding their own. At some points the troops took the offensive. At the Otioz pass the enemy was repulsed over the frontier and in the Buzen Valley where the troops had taken positions at Yana Buhur.
On the rest of the front the Roumanians are resisting with strong attacks, counter-attacking at many points, the positions changing hands several times daily. The inventive spirit of the troops found a new method of fighting by rolling from heights barbed wire and throwing it over the enemy. Although the Roumanians strongly hold the passes, it cannot be assumed that the crisis has permanently passed. Lessons learned in the present war show that the Germans will probably continue to send reinforcements as long as the fine weather will permit operations in this mountainous region.

London, Oct. 19.—After desperate fighting the Serbians have captured the village of Brod, in Macedonia, the heights to the north of that place, and the village of Vite-Sebo, and are pursuing the Bulgarians northward, according to a Reuter despatch from Saloniki.
On the remainder of that front there is heavy fighting in favor of the Serbs, who have captured, since Sept. 14, forty-three guns, not including trench guns.
"By the capture of Brod and Vite-Sebo," the despatch adds, "the Serbs have pierced the Bulgarian second line, and are now confronted by the third and final line on the western slopes of Morshova range, which brings them appreciably nearer to Monastir."

As yet no decisive result has been achieved by either the Austro-Germans or the Russians in the violent fighting that has been going on for several days in Volhynia and Galicia. The Petrograd war office says that near Kislina and Simlinsky, in Volhynia, violent attacks by the Teutonic Allies were repulsed, while Berlin records the capture of Russian trenches on the west bank of the Stokhod and the repulse, with heavy casualties, of Russian attacks near Babnow.
Except on Monte Pasubio, in the Trentino region, where the Austrians, in violent attacks, recaptured positions taken Tuesday by the Italians, only be driven out again, artillery duels are taking place in the Austro-Italian theatre.

British Right Flank Holds.
London, Oct. 19, 2:25 p. m.—The British right flank in the Doiran sector of the Macedonian front was subjected to a heavy attack by the Bulgarians on the night of Oct. 17. The war office announced today that the assault was repulsed. The statement follows:
"Nothing of importance has occurred on the Struma front.
"A strong attack, launched by the enemy on the night of the 17th against our right flank in the Doiran sector, was repulsed."

In Quarter of An Hour

London, Oct. 20.—Gradually the French are drawing their front closer to the town of Peronne, on the eastern bank of the Somme river in France. Following Wednesday's advance along a mile front between Blaches and La Maisonnette on the west side of the river, an attack launched Thursday was awarded further gains, which virtually brings them to the bank of the stream.
To the north and east of Sully-Saillisset, where the French had advanced their line in the past few days at what the Berlin war office asserts was a cost in casualties not commensurate with the gain, the Germans made a violent counter-attack, which was repulsed by the French.
Berlin admits that in their attacks on the Sars-Morval front the British captured German positions, but says these later were retaken.
Heavy rains fell Thursday on the British front and, except for a slight gain by King George's men at Butt, de Warlencourt and the repulse of a German counter-attack there, comparative quiet prevailed.

Village Swept in Fifteen Minutes.
With the French Army Near Comblis, Chantilly, Oct. 19.—(From a Staff Correspondent of the Associated Press)

Fifteen minutes of infantry fighting proved sufficient for the French army to capture the strong position of Sully-Saillisset from the Germans and to give the Allies command of five miles of the Bapaume road.

The Allied air mastery deprived the Germans of their eyes; consequently German artillery fire was ineffective, both in an endeavor to destroy the opposing batteries and in an effort to prevent reinforcements and supplies from reaching the attacking forces through a curtain of fire.

The Associated Press correspondent watched the fight from beginning to end from a hill near Comblis. The fire from the British and French guns had continued for a long time. The infantry officers had synchronously taken the attack exactly at 11:45 o'clock. The moment the range of the artillery, which had been battering Sully-Saillisset, was increased a few hundred yards; the infantry men's heads appeared over the parapets; then, in dashes, the men covered the short open space, throwing grenades, and within a quarter of an hour rockets sent up showed the airman observing from the clouds that the position had been won.

The Germans had announced that Sully-Saillisset was impregnable, in an order to the troops, and its rapid capture therefore came as somewhat of a surprise to the Allied commanders. One Bavarian and two Prussian divisions participated in the defense, showing the importance of the attack on the position. Despite this the French advanced even further, occupying also the shoulders of two hills to the northeast and northwest of the village, giving them virtual control of any counter-attack from the strongly organized German positions of Sully-Saillisset.

Killing the Calves.
—All sorts of excuses are offered for the high price of beef, the most plausible being the alleged demand for veal—"the killing of calves, which should be allowed to grow into regular beef." You cannot have beef if you eat it as "veal," but you can have Shredded Wheat Biscuit which contains more real nutriment than beef and costs much less. Shredded wheat biscuit is the whole wheat steam-cooked, shredded and baked. Make it your "meat" for ten days and see how much better you feel. Wholesome and strengthening for any meal with milk or cream or in combination with fruits.

NEW STAFF OF THE NEW BRUNSWICK COMMAND

The Telegraph, in conversation with Lieut.-Colonel P. A. Guthrie last night, was informed that the new staff of the New Brunswick command would be composed of Brigadier-General Hugh H. McLean, O. C. New Brunswick troops; Lieut.-Colonel A. H. H. Powell, brigade major, and Lieut. Frank Groves, staff captain. At the present time Major Herbert Stethem is the occupant of the office of staff captain, but he is to be returned to the Strathcona Horse for active service at the front. The command will be known officially as the Seventh Infantry Brigade.

France Will Never Forget.

Inspired by a lofty ideal, they are doing wonders on the Somme front. Nothing has been so fine as the enthusiasm of their fighting celebration of "Franchise day" on July 14, and the ardor with which they stormed three of our villages on that glorious day stinging the Marcellaise. The same ardor is shown in every battle. Yesterday their heroism shone again fiercer and more victoriously than ever. Behind the superb and unflinching bravery of these fine troops there is their number, which is growing continually, in spite of daily losses, and constitutes an absolute guarantee for the success of the allied cause and of that of humanity against barbarism. In order to make this military effort and at the same time supply the armies with the necessary equipment, arms, guns and ammunition, Great Britain had to make extraordinary financial and industrial efforts. The devotion and enthusiasm of the British Empire will for ever be one of the wonders of history. France admires and will never forget Great Britain's marvellous effort.

The Mood of a Wild Beast.

It is an altogether curious idea to imagine that one can deal with the German government of the hour and the German people in its present mood in the manner in which one might deal with an individual or a nation chiefly concerned with nice questions of honor and humanity. Germany is in the mood of a wild beast and she has broken over every restraint which civilization and honor impose. She can be restrained only by fear of gaining a new enemy, whose actual opposition would be most useful to her enemies than the submarine campaign would be costly to Germany.

LIGHT RIVER BUSINESS.

A river steamship captain, speaking of the Times reporter's statement that freight rates are lighter than he has ever known them to be at this time of year. He attributed the falling off to the high price of feed and other commodities. As a rule freights are very heavy prior to the closing of navigation.

Miss Babbitt is to be married on October 25 to Stanley Bates of Quincy, Mass., and formerly a well known baseball player in Fredericton.

THE FUND FOR THE 26th

One who knows makes a comparison that is none too creditable to this city and province. He says that in the fighting at the front the 26th Battalion had on one side a Nova Scotia battalion and on the other one from Montreal, and that while the Nova Scotia and Montreal battalion had each an ample battalion fund the 26th had none. The present effort to provide a fund for the 26th should meet with a general response.

LOCAL SHIPPING.

A barkentine, the Ethel Clark, 397 tons, came in for harbor last night during the storm. She was en route to Annapolis to load lumber for Cuba. She is commanded by Captain D. A. Reicker who is well known along the waterfront, although he has not sailed out of this port for the last twelve years.

POLICE COURT.

Two prisoners appeared in the police court this morning on drunkenness charge. One was fined $8 or two months in jail. The other was a soldier, who was severely reprimanded by the magistrate and was told he would be liable to six months in jail without a fine. Another tipsy individual was taken into custody this morning at the Nova Scotia Hotel. The man had a basket of grapes when arrested, but the police said that it was not the juice of the grape that set him "over".

A SEVERE STORM.

A rain and wind storm which swept over the city last night and early this morning, was one of the most severe experienced for some time. The wind blew strongly from the southeast and as the violence of the storm increased developed a velocity of thirty miles an hour. This was accompanied by an unusually heavy downpour of rain, which flooded the streets and carried all kinds of refuse to the sewer gratings, many becoming obstructed. One and eight-tenths of an inch of rain fell during the storm. This is the heaviest rainfall so far this autumn.

In his new work Mr. Slattery will have the best wishes of his many friends.

COACHMEN'S CASES

That the coachmen of this city are laboring under a misapprehension of the law in connection with going beyond the rail at the Union depot, was brought out in the police court this morning, when the case adjourned from last Wednesday was continued. The coachmen contended that when they were standing in that part of the station allotted especially to cabmen, if a passenger coming through the gate leading from the train slip into the main station was to signal to them they could step beyond the rail and take the passenger's grip and hand him off to the cab. This was an understanding they said, but the court said differently and that "misunderstanding" was not good law and did not hold.

The coachmen in court were Frank Donnelly, Kenneth Donabue, Robert Beckwith, William Sharkey, Ernest Starkey, John Glynn and H. A. Cronin. Urban J. Sweney appeared in their interests. All with the exception of Donnelly, Starkey and Cronin pleaded guilty. In the case of Donnelly, several witnesses said that he was not at the station on the night reported.

The magistrate said that all owners of coaches must obey the law and keep within the district allotted them. He imposed the full penalty of $20, but allowed the fine to stand, pending future observance of the law.

JESUIT FATHERS IN THE CITY TODAY

Going to P. E. Island to Give Mission—Father Casey to Conduct Retreat Here for Young Men

Rev. Patrick Casey, S.J., of Boston, and Rev. John Walsh, S.J., of Philadelphia, are at the Bishop's Palace in Waterloo street, today en route to Charlottetown, P. E. Island, where they will open a two weeks' mission in St. Dunstan's Cathedral on next Sunday.

Father Casey will be remembered by the people of this city as the conductor of the last diocesan retreat in St. John's. Last winter Father Casey was the leader of the band of missionaries who conducted the Lenten services in St. Patrick's Cathedral, New York. He is rated high as a speaker and as an organizer of young men.

At the close of the mission in Charlottetown Father Casey will return to St. John, where he will give a retreat to the Catholic young men in connection with the Young Men's Catholic Institute, which will be opened soon.

The retreat will be opened in the Cathedral on Wednesday, November 8, and close on Saturday, November 12.

HEARS FROM HUSBAND AND OFFICIAL OF RED CROSS

E. A. Sabean Writes of German Teaches and British Valor. Soldier is in Hospital

Mrs. E. A. Sabean of 88 Millidge avenue has received two letters, one from her husband in which he describes activities on the battle field, and the other from an official of the Red Cross telling about his condition while lying injured in a hospital in Cambridge, England.

In his letter to his wife, Private Sabean said he is of the opinion that the war will last until Germany is utterly crushed. He narrated some trying experiences he had during severe engagements. "I could tell you a great many things that I have seen," he said, "but the best part of the whole thing is to see the Germans throw up their hands when they get a taste of what our poor boys get. You never see a Britisher throw up his hands. When you hear of one of them being taken it's because he is wounded and helpless. It is wonderful the nerve they have."

"I have seen some mighty dirty work done by the Germans. One thing—one of our officers was out dressing a wounded German and just turned his back to get help to carry him in when the sneak shot the officer through the back of the head."

The second letter is as follows: The following letter also was received by Mrs. Sabean: Canadian Red Cross Society, 14-16 Cockspur Street, London, S. W. INFORMATION BUREAU.

Dear Madam—I beg to inform you that the Pte. E. A. Sabean is now at First East General Hospital, Cambridge, England, suffering from a shrapnel wound in the left forearm. Our authorized visitor has been to see him, and you will be pleased to hear, found him getting along very well and in good spirits. No doubt it will ease your mind greatly to know he is being well looked after and will be visited regularly and any little comforts he may desire, the society will be pleased to supply.

Further reports of his condition will be sent on to you from time to time. Rest assured that he will have the best attention. Sincerely yours, E. FRASER.
