Premier Assures Delegation Of An Earnest Attempt To Enforce Prohibitory Law

MEMBERS OF LEGISLATURE CONFER WITH GATHERING OF 200 TEMPERANCE PEOPLE

Urges Seeking of Co-operation With Ottawa— Bishop Richardson, Dr. J. A. Palmer and Donald Fraser Speak For Delegation—Ask Removal of Chief Inspector.

(Special to Times.) Fredericton, March 21.—That he would make the most earnest attempt of his life to see that prohibitory liquor laws given full force and effect in New Brunswick, but that enforcement of prohibition in this Province was partly a Dominion and partly a Provincial matter and therefore not entirely within the control of his government, was the assurance and information given by Premier Veniot this morning to a delegation of nearly 200 prohibition people from more than forty different places in the Province. The delegation was received in the assembly room by the Government and members of the Legislature.

MORE ACCIDENTS BUT EIGHTEEN LESS FATALITIES

Compensation Board's Annual Report in the Legislature

Increase was in Minor Injuries— Provisional Balance of $27,000 in Year's Finances— Factory Inspector Sees Better Times Coming.

(By Canadian Press.) Fredericton, N. B., March 21.—The fourth annual report of the Workmen's Compensation Board which was tabled in the Provincial Legislature yesterday shows that 5,216 accidents were reported during 1922 in New Brunswick, an increase of 882 over the previous year.

The fatalities numbered 28, a decrease of 18 from the year before, while permanent disabilities were less by 69. There were 1,069 minor accidents on which no compensation was paid beyond medical fees, this being the class of accidents which increased during the past year.

Their income for 1922 is shown as $468,842.10 and expenditure is placed at $441,044.75, leaving a provisional balance of $27,237.85. Costs of administration, including equipment, have advanced to 10 3-5 per cent, the report shows. The balance sheet as at December 31, 1922 after accounting for the liabilities shows $576,538.84, "reserves for pensions" and $27,237.85 "at credit of classes."

Factory Inspector. In his 13th annual report tabled yesterday, Factory Inspector John Kennedy expresses the opinion that New Brunswick is rapidly assuming a normal industrial condition, which he intimates is largely due to the improvement in the state of lumber business.

Only Few Hours At Work; Is Killed

Belgian Boy Who Arrived in Canada on Sunday, Victim of Refinery Accident.

Chatham, Ont., March 21.—Robert De Dorman, a young Belgian, was fatally injured at the Dominion Sugar Company's plant here yesterday, a few hours after he started work on his first job in this country. He attempted to apply a scraping tool to the sides of the vat when it was turning at 1,100 revolutions a minute. The force of the impact broke the tool, which struck the boy in the body and hurled him some distance. The boy came from Belgium last Sunday with his father.

ASKS AID TO ESTABLISH VETERANS IN PULPWOOD INDUSTRY

(By Canadian Press.) Winnipeg, March 21.—Urging that the Dominion Government approach the Ontario Government with a request that a certain portion of the Niagara forestry reserve be set aside where ex-service men might engage in the pulpwood industry, W. C. Miller, Fort William, presented the claims of returned soldiers in the Thunder Bay district to the Royal Commission yesterday at its final session here. The members of the commission will leave to-day for Ottawa and will return to Halifax for a week, sitting in Toronto on April 2.

MARRIAGE OFF, SHE ASKS $27,000

Rochester Manufacturer Sued for Breach of Promise by Hotel Cashier.

Rochester, N. Y., March 21.—Unusual interest has been manifested in Rochester by the announcement of a suit for breach of promise, brought by Miss Catherine Hurley against Frederick G. Yawman, president and manager of the Eisler Manufacturing Company and treasurer of the Defiance Checkwriter Corporation. Miss Hurley is cashier at the Sagamore, an exclusive apartment hotel. She demands $27,000. The trial is set for this week in Supreme Court. Miss Hurley asserts she was engaged to the defendant for eleven years. Yawman is fifty-one years old and a widower. It is alleged that the house at 219 West avenue was built expressly for the would-be bride and that the ceremony was arranged for May 2, 1922. Miss Hurley says she gave up her position at that time, sold her cottage and her real estate business and prepared to wed. She says Yawman telephoned to her that "our little party for Tuesday is all off."

DEFENDS BRITAIN'S EASTERN POLICY

Middle East Vital to Communications With India and Australia, Says Under Secretary Gore.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, March 21.—Defending the Government's policy in Mesopotamia, W. G. O. Gore, under secretary of the Colonial Office, in the House of Commons yesterday, urged that the Middle East was vital to British communications not only with India but with Australia. The line from Port Said to Aden was the neck of the empire. It was absolutely impossible to withdraw troops immediately from Palestine, Constantinople, and Mesopotamia and allow Britain's allies to go on alone. The British policy was that Iraq should become independent and provide its own defence at the earliest possible date. He believed the Government would be able to reduce the burden there to the vanishing point within a very short time.

DECIDES TO CANCEL HER AIR JOURNEY

Lady Carnarvon Going by Steamer to Her Ailing Husband in Cairo.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Marseilles, March 21.—Lady Carnarvon, abandoning the idea of flying to Egypt by airplane and seaplane so as to be with her husband, the Earl of Carnarvon, arrived here today from Lyons where she had intended to start her air trip. She will leave this afternoon aboard the steamer Lotus. Condition Still Serious. Cairo, March 21.—The condition of the Earl of Carnarvon, who is suffering from blood poisoning, was still serious this morning, although the patient passed a satisfactory night and maintained yesterday's improvement without a recurrence of high temperature.

Control Commission To Resume Its Duties

Paris, March 21.—The Allied Council of Ambassadors decided today to send instructions to General Nollet, head of the Allied military control commission in Germany, that the commission resume its duties of supervising the distribution of military material in Germany. The work of the commission has been suspended since the beginning of the Ruhr occupation because the Germans have refused to give facilities to that body if the French and Belgian members were present. The Berlin Government now has changed its attitude, hence the order for the resumption of the commission's work.

WHOLE FINANCIAL PROGRAMME OF GERMANY SHOT TO PIECES

Deficits Reach Into Trillions, Due, It Is Claimed, To Mark Depreciation and Ruhr Occupation. Berlin, March 21.—The budgetary deficits in Germany are now designated in figures of thirteen digits the new record being established in yesterday's official report. The Ministry of Finance announced in the Reichstag that the budget for the Reich for 1922-23 shows a deficit of 7,100,000,000 paper marks, or 6,200,000,000 in excess of the amount estimated last autumn. The representatives of the ministry stated that this was due to the depreciation of the mark and the occupation of the Ruhr which had driven the budget into trillions and forced expenditures to a height against which the Government was hopeless and the whole financial programme of the Government torn to shreds.

DEPORTATIONS TO IRELAND

Matter Brought Before the Dail— Free State President Says British Will be Consulted.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Dublin, March 21.—In the Dail last night the Laborites raised the question of the recent deportations from England and Scotland to Ireland. William Cosgrave, President of the Free State cabinet, in reply, admitted the possibility that some of those seized might be British citizens, for whom the British Government would be entitled to ask privileges, but the Free State Government would have failed in its duty, when it was aware of a consignment of deportees, if it had omitted to ask for their arrest. It intended, however, to keep its fair, just and equitable undertakings given to the British Government, and to present the deportees without an agreement and to allow them to go before an advisory committee.

C. P. R. Appoints Manager For Its Steamships

Walter Maughan Will Supervise Business on Two Oceans— Eighteen Passenger Vessels on Atlantic.

(By Canadian Press.) Montreal, March 21.—The appointment of Walter Maughan as steamship manager of the Canadian Pacific Railway was officially announced at the company's headquarters here today. The appointment includes the management of the company's passenger business on both the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The new steamship manager is a Toronto man, forty-six years of age, who joined the C. P. R. service in 1892. At present in regular service on the Atlantic between St. John, N. B., (winter season) and Montreal and Quebec, (summer season), and various European ports, the C. P. O. S. has eighteen passenger ships with an aggregate displacement of 860,800 tons.

ACCUSES SECRET SERVICE EX-CHIEF

Evidence That He Received $29,200 in Alleged Conspiracy to Defraud.

Philadelphia, March 21.—Harold L. Smith, local broker and former intercollegiate sprint champion, who has pleaded guilty to conspiracy to defraud the Government in connection with a shipment of 800 drums of alcohol and whiskey to Greece, yesterday testified that Matthew F. Griffin, former chief of the U. S. Secret Service in Philadelphia, received $29,200 for his part in the alleged conspiracy.

As Hiram Sees It

"Hiram," said the Times reporter, "is there any pleasure in life that could be enjoyed without getting in a crowd and spending money?" "Well," said Hiram, "that depends on how you're built. If you ain't got no more sense than the law allows you'll want to make a spread—an' you'll want to be in a crowd—an' you'll want to make the money fly. If you got the habit of settin' on the bleachers you ain't happy any-where else. I been thinkin' for a long spell I'd like to start a society that 'ud enjoy itself in the old simple way we used to do when I was young. You get a bunch of good folks that does their own thinkin'—an' believe the's somethin' more in life than bein' moth's 'round a candle—an' they kin hev a better time—an' improve their minds—an' git more out of life—an' live longer—than any helpless critters that has no use fer anythin' that aint in the spotlight an' costs money. Mister—the's too much good money wasted in times like these—an' that aint the way of it. While folks is wastin' it they're wastin' themselves, too. Yes, sir."

ALLIES CONSIDER TURKS' REPLY

Conference in London Today Examines Counter Proposals to the Lausanne Treaty— Venizelos Coming.

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, March 21.—Representatives of the Allied Governments are meeting here today to consider the Turkish counter proposals to the Lausanne treaty. The gathering is presided over by Lord Curzon, British Foreign Secretary. It is understood that after the discussion among the delegates committees of experts will be appointed to whom different sections of the proposals will be submitted. Greek Premier Invited. Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan are the nations directly represented. Considerable interest has been aroused by the announcement that former Premier Venizelos, of Greece, will be in London during the meeting, not as a delegate but in order to be available for consultation regarding questions directly affecting the Greek interests. It is understood that he was invited by the British Government.

BRITAIN DENIES HUGHES' CHARGE

No Modifications in Armament of Capital Ships, Says a Statement from England.

(By Canadian Press.) Washington, March 21.—The British government has categorically denied that a considerable number of capital ships in its navy bilges have been fitted, elevation of guns increased and turret loading arrangements modified, as was reported by Secretary Hughes in his New Haven address last December. Secretary Hughes, in a formal statement yesterday announced that Great Britain had advised the state department "that no alteration has been made in the elevation of the turret guns of any British capital ships since they were first placed in commission," and further that "no additional deck protection has been provided." The secretary said: "It gives me pleasure to make this correction as it is desired that there should be no public misapprehension."

Indication of Weakening Of German Officials In Ruhr

Follows Reports That Berlin Plans Negotiating for Peace

Germans in Occupied Zone are Ordered to Co-operate With the French—Reichstag Member Freed.

(Canadian Press Cable.) Essen, March 21.—The passive resistance inaugurated by the Germans when the French marched into the Ruhr is beginning to show modification in various parts of the occupied area, according to French announcements. This is accepted in French circles as an indication of weakening by the German officials as a consequence of continued reports that Berlin is planning to make definite proposals soon designed to bring about negotiations for peace. Co-operation Ordered. The Ober President of Westphalia, part of which is in occupied territory, has authorized the German officials at Bochum, Dortmund and other towns in the hands of the French to confer with the French commanding officers concerning requisitions and other details. Heretofore the local Government officials by order of Berlin have refused to consult with the French. Hostage Released. Herr Quast, member of the Reichstag, one of the hostages taken by the French after the killing of a French soldier here Sunday, has been released. 184 More Banished. Coblenz, March 21.—The expulsion of 184 additional officials has been ordered by the occupational forces, and 21 more newspapers in occupied territory have been compelled to suspend publication. D'Abernon's Mission. London, March 21.—Political gossip is speculating as to the purpose of the visit here of Lord D'Abernon, British ambassador to Berlin. The general assumption is that he has come to report to the government on the situation in Germany as regards possible developments in the Ruhr. He is credited in some quarters with having a warm sympathy for Germany and with disapproving of the Franco-Belgian policy.

Saw Dickerman In Gutter, Wife Says

Assisted Him to N. Y. Apartment, She Testifies in Suit.

Boston, March 21.—Mrs. Eugene Dickerman smiled broadly in East Cambridge Court when asked if she saw her husband in New York the night of March 12, 1918. "Yes," she said, "that very evening I saw him rolling in the gutter of Park avenue." She had just returned from France and they had lunched at the Hotel Vanderbilt, she said. Later he telephoned to her. His voice was thick. Asked if he had been drinking he said he had and that he was coming to see her. She persuaded him to wait where he was until she came to meet him. Then, according to her testimony, she came abreast of a Park avenue saloon just as Dickerman and his cousin, locked in each other's arms, made a rolling exit from a barroom door. They gyrated across the sidewalk and dropped into the gutter. With assistance she guided the pair into a taxicab and accompanied them to Dickerman's apartment in One Hundred and Fourth street. While neighbors looked on, she said, Dickerman and his cousin crawled in on hands and knees. Mrs. Dickerman's testimony was given in answer to questions put by attorney Stinson, her counsel in her $100,000 alienation suit against her mother-in-law, Mrs. Minnie Dickerman. It was believed that the recital would save time and eliminate the reading of many of the letters which are being introduced. Forty-one of Dickerman's endearing letters to his wife were read yesterday, prior to Mrs. Dickerman's testimony, and at the conclusion the reading was resumed.

POPE PROTESTS RENAN CENTENARY CELEBRATION

(Canadian Press Cable.) London, March 21.—A Milan despatch to The Times says that Pope Pius, receiving members of the Academy of St. Thomas Aquinas, delivered an allocution in which he protested against the recent commemoration of the centenary of the birth of Ernest Renan, "whose name sounds as a blasphemy against Jesus Christ." The Osservatore Romano, the despatch adds, prints a letter from the Pope to Cardinal Pompili, protesting against the anniversary of the French historian's birth should have been commemorated in Rome and ordering an expiatory Mass for March 24.

INDIANS RESENT ARREST OF YOUTHS; START SMALL WAR

(By Canadian Press.) Salt Lake City, March 21.—A small Indian war is in progress in San Juan county in the southeastern part of Utah. It was reported late last night that one Indian had been killed and two wounded near Blanding. Blanding is isolated by a band of Indians. The wires have been broken. The outbreak was caused by the arrest and retention of two Indian youths on charges of robbery. Renegades in Allen Canyon prepared to rescue the captives, who succeeded in escaping after overpowering the sheriff. The last word from Blanding was taken to Monticello early today by courier, asking for the formation of an armed body of men to aid the inhabitants.

INQUIRY INTO CHIPPEWA CANAL DEVELOPMENT

Hearing Opened Before the Gregory Commission Yesterday

To Determine Reason for Increase of $60,000,000 in Estimated Cost— Colonel Carmichael's Resignation.

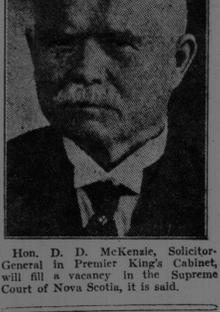

(By Canadian Press.) Toronto, March 21.—The resignation of Hon. Col. Carmichael as a member of the provincial hydro electric commission which was tendered to Premier Drury on March 3, 1922, bore fruit yesterday at the Parliament buildings in the beginning of an inquiry into the Chippewa Canal construction by the Gregory commission. Col. Carmichael tendered his resignation because he had to tell the Legislature last year that the estimated cost of $55,000,000 for the completion of five units, or 300,000 horsepower of the canal, which he had given a year previously, would be exceeded by $14,000,000. He thought that proved that the hydro engineers were incompetent or dishonest. Instead of accepting the resignation of the Drury Government appointed the Gregory commission. The reason for the increase of the estimated cost of the Chippewa Hydro Development from around $10,000,000 to about $70,000,000 is the subject of the enquiry. Hon. N. W. Rowell, K. C., appeared as counsel for the Gregory commission.

BLUE BONNETS NEXT YEAR IS ASSURED

Compensation for Collection of Revised Taxes Will be Given to Track Owners.

Montreal, March 21.—That thoroughbred horse racing will be conducted in Montreal again next summer is now practically assured, notwithstanding the rumors and declarations made that the tracks would not be operated under the revised taxation. In speaking of the conference with Hon. Jacob Nicol, Provincial Treasurer, and Hon. Mr. David, Provincial Secretary, K. L. Ross said that he was well pleased with the promises made and that he could see a way to race at Blue Bonnets next spring. That the revised tax will remain unchanged is an assured fact but the owners of race tracks will be granted a concession which will compensate them for their expenditure in collecting the taxes.

London, Mar. 21—Lady Astor's dinner for Labor leaders and their wives, at which for the first time in history King George and Queen Mary met and chatted chummily across the coffee-cups with the plain Mr. and Mrs. of English politics, has set a new fashion among monarchs—a new and very democratic fashion.

Following Lady Astor's unprecedented dinner-party, at which the former American girl found no end of merriment in watching and trying to relieve the mutual embarrassment of King and subjects meeting face-to-face across her dinner-table, King George himself gave a dinner March 15 for Ramsay MacDonald, Philip Snowden and other Laborites at Buckingham Palace.

"Mr. Marshall's" Acquaintance With Murdered Model

At Her Flat Ten Times in Year, He Asserts—Exonerates Rich Boston Man, Despite Elevator Pilot's Contradictions.

New York, March 21.—The detailed story of the intimate relationship of the mysterious "John Marshall," reputed Boston millionaire, to Dorothy Keanan, the model slain by chloroform in her apartment at 144 West Fifty-seventh street, some time after midnight of last Wednesday, and the circumstances of his last visit to the girl's apartment on the night of the murder, have been revealed by Acting District Attorney Pecora.

The story, says Mr. Pecora, is substantially as "Marshall" told him. Taken with the conflicting statements of John Thomas, the negro elevator operator at the Fifty-seventh street apartment house, it presents a criminal mystery of the most baffling nature.

While steadfastly declining to disclose the real identity of "Mr. Marshall," Mr. Pecora admitted that he is a married man, has known the girl a year and gave her jewelry and money aggregating $10,000. He told the District Attorney that he had visited the model in all about ten times. His gifts, he said, were at no stipulated time or in any regular amounts.

He told Mr. Pecora he had met members of her family, with whom he was on friendly terms, but had not met or heard of any of her other friends. He had had no contact either with the girl or her family, the District Attorney said.

"Mr. Marshall told me," said the Assistant District Attorney, "that he and his confidential associate, Mr. Wilson, went to the girl's apartment Wednesday evening and had dinner with her. They left the girl in her apartment shortly after dinner and returned about midnight."

"Did the girl spend the evening out with Marshall and Wilson?" Mr. Pecora was asked.

Returned Later in Evening.
"No. They left her in her apartment after dinner and came back again later."

"Were you informed that the girl did after the men left earlier in the evening—whether she also went out later or remained at home?"

"No. We do not know what she did, but she was not out with the two men. At any rate, Marshall and Wilson went up to her apartment about midnight. Mr. Wilson left the two shortly thereafter, about half an hour or so, and was taken down in the elevator. Mr. Marshall left some time later—about 2 a. m., says.

"Mr. Marshall told me that he and the girl had champagne together, but that the girl did not become intoxicated, and that he left her in the apartment and good spirits. He did not notice any chloroform."

"Does Mr. Marshall say that he left the house at 2 a. m. by the elevator?"

"Yes. He says he was taken down in the elevator. He was met by Mr. Wilson a few hours later at the place where Mr. Marshall was stopping, and says that he called up the girl's apartment about 12.30 p. m. Thursday. Mrs. Keanan, the model's mother, had been called to the house in the meantime and it was she who answered the telephone. This has been corroborated. Story Satisfies Pecora.

"In fact," said Mr. Pecora, "Mr. Marshall's story is so direct that we feel satisfied he had nothing to do with the crime and we no longer hold him under suspicion. He has agreed, however, to give us some further information and descriptions of things, such as clothing and jewelry, which we have asked for. The various little details in his story and the nature of his relations with the girl show a complete absence of motive and convince me he could not have killed her."

"As to that comb in a leather case found on the bed beside the girl's body that has been identified by the model's mother as belonging to the girl."

"Mr. Wilson, I might say, is also married and is about ten years younger than Mr. Marshall. He has corroborated everything that Mr. Marshall has said. He is employed by Mr. Marshall in a confidential capacity. You might call him a secretary."

Elevator Man Disagrees.
There are many vital points upon which "Marshall" is flatly contradicted by the elevator operator of the girl's apartment house. In the face of these contradictory facts Mr. Pecora showed a tendency to accept Mr. Marshall's statement while inclining to regard the operator's story as "not conclusive."

Thomas, the operator, has a good reputation, has been at the place for years and is regarded by the owner of the property as trustworthy.

Despite Marshall's statement that he and Wilson left the girl after dinner Wednesday night, Thomas says he is sure he took the girl down with the two men about nine o'clock that night. Despite "Marshall's" statement that he and Wilson revisited the girl about midnight, Thomas is sure the girl came back with the two men about 12.30 o'clock that night and that he took the three to the fifth floor of the house where the model lived.

Thomas is sure, also, that Wilson came down a short time later in the elevator, but that Marshall did not ring for the elevator and did not go down in it.

There are stairways from the upper floors of the building which are separated from the elevator side by a room on the ground floor. This stairway, however, is so latched that it can not be used for exits.

The operator said on former occasions he had frequently taken Marshall up and had not been rung for by him the rest of the night or morning. He leaves the elevator at eight a. m.

It would have been practically impossible for any one to have entered the apartment house and been taken to the girl's apartment on the fifth floor without the elevator operator's

P. E. ISLAND LEGISLATURE.
Charlottetown, P. E. I., March 20.—After a fortnight's delay the Legislature was opened today. The speech from the throne was read by Lieutenant-Governor Mardock Mackinnon. It was announced that the expenditure last year was within the revenue.
The Ladies' Aid of Centenary church at its regular sewing meeting yesterday afternoon had a largely attended gathering. Mrs. George Jenkins was in the chair, and at the close of the meeting refreshments were served, the proceeds of which realized a substantial sum for the Protestant orphanage.

There are no keys available for tenants to enter through the stairway, and the elevator is the only way of reaching the fifth floor.
Operator Is Positive.
Thomas is sure that he took no one up to the girl's apartment after the model, Marshall and Wilson. The only other persons he carried that night, he says, were Mr. and Mrs. Graham, who occupy an apartment next to the elevator on the same floor as Miss Keanan.

Albert E. Guimares, to whom the model had given expensive jewelry, and who is being held in $10,000 bail for illegal possession of a pistol, says that he tried to call her on the telephone at two o'clock Thursday morning, but could get no answer.

"Marshall" says that it was about this time that he had left her. The girl's body was found about noon Thursday. The label number on the chloroform bottle had been scratched away. It has been suggested that the girl had many letters which she might have been anxious to regain, and that this might have been the motive for the crime.

Captain Carey of the Philadelphia Bureau said that a Philadelphia detective came to New York with a description of a man who is known to have robbed many wealthy women after giving them chloral to drink. It is believed possible this man may have had something to do with Miss Keanan's murder.

ARBITRATION.
Paris, March 20.—Arbitration by the United States government of the Ruhr problem, falling which, the entire situation must be referred to the League of Nations. N. S. FARMERS.
Amherst, N. S., March 20.—The United Farmers of Nova Scotia are to take an active part in the next provincial elections, so it was decided at a meeting of the provincial executive held yesterday afternoon at Truro. It was decided to call a provincial convention which will be held in Truro the last week in April and will probably be of two days' duration.

SHACKLETON EXPLORERS DISCOVER A NEW BIRD
Thorough Examination of Results of Expedition Will Take Many Years.

London, Feb. 28.—(By mail.)—It took twenty-five years' hard work to examine the results of the Challenger Expedition, so it is much too early to appraise the value of the scientific work done by the Shackleton-Rowett Expedition, says The London Daily Mail. The first rough survey reveals some most interesting points. One is this: that with all the wealth of sea-bird life encountered, the outstanding discovery at present is in connection with two land-birds. One, a kind of bunting to which the name of "Rowettia" has been assigned, is established as forming a new genus. As it comes from lonely Gough Island—more remote and distant even than Tristan da Cunha—it is probable that the bird will remain in a class by itself—a small creature shaded from dark olive on the back to a faint primrose on the breast.
Another, a kind of finch from Nightingale Island, has been "placed" as belonging to a new species, and there is a question as to whether this too ought not to be promoted to the more splendid honor of a new genus. For the sake of comparison, one of the fifty-year-old specimens finches from the Challenger Expedition was brought out and placed beside it at the museum. After half a century its colors were undimmed and a casual visitor might be forgiven if he confused the two.

THE BONNE ENTENTE

Naturally there is widespread interest in the recent excursion of leading men of Quebec to Ontario to promote better feeling between the two provinces.

HOMES AND CHILDREN.

One reads with deep interest the following paragraph from a recent address by Prof. Ernest R. Groves, head of the department of sociology at Boston University:

The Marriage Game

The Snappiest of Pastimes As Played to a Decision Every Day

By Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Hutton

SHOULD A WIFE WORK. His Playmate. One of the crosses childless homes have to bear is the urge of a man's wife to go out and get a job—only she doesn't know what to do and he doesn't know what to do.

years with sessions every day. The woman argues that she has to sit at home all day with her hands folded, and she walks bitterly that if she can't go out and do something she will be bored to death.

Her Counter-Playmate. Dear me, if I could, don't you think I would have solved it within a year after we were married? That is the hardest nut to crack in the marriage game.

WEIGHT AND MORALITY. Those Somewhat Under Weight Have Best Outlook, Experts State.

The average build in man is not the best as regards longevity, according to a statistical report of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co.

QUESTION. (Nelle) Burge Miller in The Independent.

Will you tell me, Mistress April, how the spring comes on in a certain little town in Iowa?

Is it green along the river? And does the old mill grind? Do the children dig for the northern side of Walker's Hill?

LIGHTER VEIN. Hidden Treasure. "One of the finest collections of stuffed birds in the United States is in the Philadelphia Academy of Natural Science."

Not A Picnic. A woman came into a car with five children. She hurried herself getting them. A benevolent old gentleman arose and gave her his seat.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT. (Ottawa Journal). The tale told to Parliament on Friday by Mr. R. H. Hoey, of how a young, penniless Irish immigrant came to Canada, found work when there was unemployment, toiled on starvation wages, saved enough to put himself through University, conquered a profession and achieved a seat in the Dominion Parliament.

AERIAL CHURCH

(Boston Herald). The "aerial church" of Greater Boston is giving evidence of a tremendous power scarcely dreamed of two years ago when the radio was still new.

Death By Hanging For Two Chicago "Female Bluebeards" is Asked

Chicago, March 21.—Death by hanging for both Mrs. Tillie Klimek and her cousin, Mrs. Nellie Koulik, two squat Polish women who have had a succession of husbands die of arsenic poisoning, is asked by the State, which charges that they carried out a poison plot which cost six lives and caused serious illness to many others.

Stories told by neighbors were that Mrs. Klimek behaved in a very cold-blooded manner during the illness of her fourth husband, who survived a bad case of arsenical poisoning.

Her eyes twinkled, it was said, when she sat at her husband's bedside and heard the doctor tell him of the seriousness of his condition.

Mrs. Florence Biering, a neighbor, testified in court that Mrs. Klimek complained to her: "Here I am paying out good money (to the insurance company) and he won't croak."

She also said that Mrs. Klimek showed her husband, who was thought to be dying, a picture in a magazine of the $30 coffin she meant to buy him. When he was critically ill, neighbors said, she played jazz records on the victrola and sang around the house.

A nurse attending Mr. Klimek became very much annoyed when her husband asked for a glass of water, and that she said to the nurse: "If he makes you too much trouble, take a two by four and hit him over the head with it."

Klimek lived, and his three predecessors did not, to tell the story, and sits in court every day watching the progress of the case. He says he hopes for the death penalty.

Neither woman speaks English, but learns of court procedure through an interpreter.

Officer Who Planned Colony in Nova Scotia in 1735 is Recalled.

London, March 9.—(By Mail).—Captain Thomas Coram, the philanthropist who planned the colonisation of Nova Scotia in 1735, the scheme being to settle unemployed English artisans, is chiefly remembered for his action in founding the Foundling Hospital, for which he obtained a charter in 1739. The hospital contains Coram's portrait by Hogarth, as well as the painter's "March to Finchley," which was won in a lottery, the winning ticket having been presented by Hogarth. In addition, Hogarth gave his picture of "Moses and Pharaoh's Daughter," which is being shown at Sotheby's. It contains an inscription, "To Miss Spes Coram (Miss Hope Coram), from her affectionate kinsman and humble servant, Thomas Coram, London, 27 Sept. 1748," and is a Basket Bible of the previous year. Perhaps this relic may join the Hogarth portrait of a man who was described by Horace Walpole, when discussing the Nova Scotia scheme, as "the honestest, most disinterested, most knowing person about the plantation I have ever talked with."

Incidentally, it may be stated that the exhibition of pictures at the Found-

WOMEN ACCUSES DAUGHTERS OF BINDING AND ROBBING HER

London, Feb. 28.—(By Mail).—A remarkable story was told by Mrs. Clara Parsons of Plaistow, when her two daughters, Mabel Malins, forty-two, and Maude Elston, thirty-two, both married, were charged at East Ham Police Court with assaulting their mother and robbing her of £20.

Mrs. Parsons stated, according to The London Daily Telegraph, that her two daughters came in and asked her for money for their single sister. The mother told them to wait for their father's return, whereupon, it is charged, they seized her and tied her arms and legs with webbing and cord to an easy chair. She freed herself with the aid of a knife, and going into the bedroom, she alleged, found her daughters ransacking the room. On seeing witness they pushed her back into the chair, and Mabel wrote the following note: "I hereby give Mabel £20 to keep my daughter Hilda during her trouble." Mrs. Parsons refused to

New Coats Favor Loose
Wrappy Lines

And among the latest arrivals you'll find an assortment of fine Velours, Veldynes and Poiret Twills.

Dark browns and shades, beaver tones, navy and black, are all prominently featured and are many times trimmed with belt and collar of contrasting color.

Lines hanging straight and loose from shoulder to hem; or modes slightly bloused at the waist line are equally favored. Styles are very becoming and in many cases are more dressy than for the past few seasons. Sports Models of camel's hair and tweeds are also an interesting feature.

Spring Frocks Are Bright and Refreshing

Whether you choose a street frock of finely corded Poiret Twill; an afternoon dress of flat crepe; a summery affair of printed silk or sponge—you'll find a new and refreshing note that will give zest to your wardrobe.

Trimmings of oriental influence, monogrammed effects, beaded and braided patterns, ribbon sashes and colorful embroideries are all featured among the new style ideas. Fashion has also decreed decorative sleeves and necklines out of the ordinary.

Easter Hats Include All Newest Styles

Your Easter Hat may be large or small, as this season both types of headgear have many adherents among fashionably dressed women. There are pokes, turbans, cloches, toques and capelines in many variations. Some of the smartest models are trimmed with peacock feather fancies, flower chous, ribbon bows or Oriental embroidery. Veils of various kinds and shapes are being used extensively. There are many new and becoming colors from which to choose a most becoming model.

The Origin of Persian Patterns

Once upon a time a wise and great Shah of Persia who could not write, signed his name to royal documents by clenching his royal right hand, dipping it in a royal dye pot—and imprinting the unique oval of color thus formed, onto the aforesaid document. This is the origin of the unique palm design that stamps a thing "Persian" or "Paisley."

It is expected that five new clinics at the Health Centre will be in operation by April 1. These are dental, eye refraction, pre-school age, pre-natal and nutrition. The dental and eye-refraction clinics will probably be the last to be opened.

A report circulated to the effect that Messrs. Torrie & Winter, managers of amusement shows in Moncton, had decided to instal private lighting plants in preference to depending on Musquash hydro was proved to be wrong. Yesterday a representative of an electrical supply house in the city, who had gone to Moncton to sell them the necessary equipment, said that after looking into the matter it had been

Why in New York They're Padding The Corset Waist!

So radically different is the 1923 straight up and down Corset silhouette that they are two inches larger at waist and two inches narrower at hip—exactly a reverse. And there is as much improvement this year over last as last year was over the earliest of all Corsets. In New York they are striving for this new "line" by padding the waist.

This is told you so you'll understand how insistent is the need of a new corseting to go with your Easter clothes. Every case is a separate study—one for a specialist—and since it costs no more, here is our twice diplomaed Miss O'Neill at your service gratis.

There is a soft flexibility, a freedom and reliable "hug" to the 1923 Modarts that's a wonder of comfort. Elastic webbing inserts across the back boning guarantee they will keep their position while you recline, and thus also they stay well fitted through the hip, preserving a graceful line.

Another Modart for the average figure requiring a low topped Corset has the elastic webbing at the bust, nicer by far than the old steels, and trimmer fitting. It has the long hip, is made of very light materials and comes in Pink Batiste at $7.85.

A Model for the short slender figure is a lightweight, has a low bust and under-arm, and is quite short below the waist. AND—big "and"—a free hip, so you see how it serves through any kind of dancing or outdoor sport. In fancy Pink Silk-figured Batiste, $8.35. The only Modarts sold in St. John are here on the third floor.

Sedan Satin Bloomers, $1.65

Comf-nicks have the fullness where it is wanted, no bulky pleats or gathers in the front waist, no band or side seams, need no gussets or reinforcements no back seams, and they never twist.

THE RIDDLE OF THE SPINNING WHEEL

Being An Exploit in the Career of Hamilton Cleek, Detective
By MARY E. AND THOMAS W. HANSHEW

"Well done, well done!" Cleek laughed, the words softly into his ear. "So Mr. Duggan, you are free—for the present. But understand, you are on parole and must not leave this house unaccompanied by a constable or plain-clothes man. This thing's got to be affixed to the bottom, and what's more, it's going to be, too. And whoever has murdered that poor old man will swing for it, so help me God!"

CHAPTER XIV

In Which Rhea Takes A Hand

The silence that followed this last solemn remark of Cleek's was fraught with unknown, tremendous issues. One could have heard a pin drop in the still room. Then at last Lady Paula stirred.

"You have finished, Mr. Deland—Mr. Narkom? I may go now?"

"In one more moment, Lady Paula. There is simply the matter of the will now to be thrashed out before you disperse and leave us to work out the problem as best we may. You have, no doubt, put it away, Mr. Duggan? I didn't see it here when I investigated early this morning."

"I've done nothing of the sort, Mr. Deland."

"Oh!—is that so? I beg your pardon. Then perhaps you, Miss Duggan?"

"Certainly not. I've never laid a finger upon it," returned she, with a shake of the head and amusement written all over her countenance. "I've never thought about it again from that moment to this! Why, of course it must have been upon the table—when poor Father had his—death. He was just about to alter the name when the light went out."

"Then you were using the electric switch last night instead of the customary lamp, I take it?"

"Yes, Father did use it at intervals, and I suppose in this case he thought it better for seeing with. For it was certainly on. A lamp could never have failed as that light did, Mr. Deland. No doubt it would have been better if we had not used the electricity, for the dreadful thing could never have taken place then, could it?"

"And so we must put that down to Ross, and lay the whole blame upon him, at any rate?" snapped out Lady Paula in an angry voice; and Cleek thought, for a woman so shortly bereft, she was singularly well recovered from the shock—if it had ever been one in the first instance.

"For if he had not installed this dreadful thing, then surely, surely my poor, poor husband would never have met with his death at all!"

"Oh, have done with your nagging, Paula!" responded Ross irritably as she ceased speaking.

And Cleek obtained silence simply by stepping into the breach himself.

"Well," he said serenely, "he will be disappeared, at any rate. No servant has touched it, I suppose? Or entered this room last night before I came, Miss Duggan?"

"None that I know of. It's peculiar, to say the least of it."

"H'm. Then among this little company around and about him Cleek registered the fact that one might include a thief and a murderer. Not any too pleasant a thought, when the guilt could not be definitely fixed upon any single one. But stay!—there was the boy Cyril, and if that will have been stolen, why should not he have done it as much as anybody? He and his mother would benefit more if the will disappeared entirely than by the simple bequests which Maud Duggan had told him had been left to them.

A widow had always a third share by law, that was an understood thing; and a third share of this enormous estate meant a good deal more than one at first imagined. The boy Cyril must be interviewed in due course.

Then there was another point to be taken up, the question of Captain Macdonald's presence in these grounds last night, shortly after the murder had taken place. That gentleman must account for his movements in the proper quarter. And if by any chance there were footprints outside that very window, then—b'gad! he, too, might be included in the circle of possible criminals.

He strode quickly over to the window and leaned out of it, looking down upon the flower-bed beneath it, just a matter of three feet or so, and the little walled-in courtyard that girt it about. Eh? what? There were marks in the soft earth, and plenty of 'em! Then the assembled company fairly gapped at his next action, while Mr. Narkom, knowing him better than they did, peered over to the window and leaned out of it. For Cleek had climbed upon the ledge and had let himself down—light as a cat—down on the bed, and stood looking in through the window at them with serenely smiling face.

"Gad!" he ejaculated excitedly. "Well, and why not? Footprints! . . . Constable, just nip along into the village, and fetch me back Captain Angus Macdonald. I want to speak to him rather particularly. Tell him it's the Law—and that he's got to come—and he'll come along pretty lively, I can promise you."

The constable nipped along forthwith with a sudden Maud Duggan's whistle of welcome, the coming and speeding the parting guest, threw in Cleek with a laugh. "I'm going to shove down the latch now, so watch him, my friend. Here goes!"

He sent the door clanging to with a vigorous pull, but—not a sound rang out over the still air. Rhea had fallen in his duty for once, his whole long, dutiful lifetime. Cleek spun round and looked at him, face gone suddenly blank.

"What!—that's the funniest thing! It's never failed before, except last night, when I found it conveniently ajar," he ejaculated, staring up at the sky. "Unless—perhaps it would have failed last night, too. There's no knowing. But Miss Duggan assured me positively that the thing had never been stopped. But if it had been stopped for this very happening last night, to silence the approach of an unwanted visitor, what to prevent 'em from swaddling the chapter up—and not had time to undo it again? And yet, when the Inspector came it rang all right. No—! that theory won't hold water, my friend."

"What's that you're mumbling about, Cleek?" threw in Mr. Narkom at this juncture. "Clapper swaddled up? You surely don't think the bells been stopped for any purpose?"

"No—simply to protect the sensitive ears of the housekeeper," threw back Cleek with a contemptuous laugh; and then whirled around upon him and caught him by the shoulder. "Forgive me, old friend. My tongue campers ahead of my heart sometimes, which is a very poor trait for a policeman to possess. What I mean to say is simply this: Up to yesterday that bell rang—even when we came here for the first time—for I have the evidence of my soft earth through a magnifying glass. "I don't think, Miss Duggan—it's a policeman's business to know," he reported; and then set about his task, while those others in the fatal room crowded about the open window and stood looking down at him with blank, unhappy faces.

Carefully he measured their length with his little foot-rule and noted the size down in his pocketbook. Then he fitted one of his own slim feet into the indentation, saw that it was rather larger and broader, stepped back upon the courtyard and faced them all clustering about him, with serene countenance.

"A fair-sized boot, ladies and gentlemen!" he remarked; "quite a fair-sized boot! Number tens, if I know anything of sizes. And looks like hunting-boots, too. Evidently a chap who rides and talks over things, and then come back to you here in the allotted time. Willing, Mr. Narkom?"

"Perfectly willing."

And so it came about that, arm in arm, the two friends went off together down by the wide drive-way that led to the great doors of wrought-iron which Rhea so ably guarded, and Cleek, stopping in the pathway, pointed up to the statue etched out against the sky in sinister outline, and bade Mr. Narkom the story of it.

"Cinnamon! But what a magnificent thing it is!" ejaculated that gentleman with awe, when the tale was finished. "That's something to be proud of—ch, old chap! Now, if I had a fellow like that for an ancestor there'd be no living with me at all these old families!—there's certainly something in this thing they call Birth and Race—though for the life of me I never can make it out."

"No," thought Cleek, with a smile, "you wouldn't." But he said nothing, merely passed on toward the iron gates, and seeing that they had been left ajar, clanged them to sharply behind them.

"He'll ring his great bell when the latch falls—that's his ceremonious way of welcoming the coming and speeding the parting guest," threw in Cleek with a laugh. "I'm going to shove down the latch now, so watch him, my friend. Here goes!"

He sent the door clanging to with a vigorous pull, but—not a sound rang out over the still air. Rhea had fallen in his duty for once, his whole long, dutiful lifetime. Cleek spun round and looked at him, face gone suddenly blank.

What I mean to say is simply this: Up to yesterday that bell rang—even when we came here for the first time—for I have the evidence of my own ears to prove it. And now—it doesn't ring. So what's prevented it? I'm going up to see."

"Cleek, my dear fellow!—to climb that height! And in daylight, too!"

"What's the harm? say I—if you'll keep watch and tell me of approaching visitors. Here goes! Keep your eyes peeled upon the high-road, Mr. Narkom, because it wouldn't do to be seen, y'know, and if any one approaches whistle 'od Save the King,' and I'll slip into a hiding-place somewhere until the coast's clear. And don't tell any strangers who you are, will you?"

The Easter Breakfast
Premium Ham or Bacon

THAT breakfast on Easter Morning should consist of Bacon and Eggs has become almost as honored a national institution as Turkey for Thanksgiving.

But on this Easter Morning, bright with the promise of Springtime—vigor—and joy—the Bacon certainly should be "Premium"—the world's standard—as befitting the occasion. Substitute ordinary Bacon or Ham for Swift's "Premium" and you dull the joy of the meal.

For Swift's "Premium" Bacon is of characteristic and distinctive quality. Firstly, by its choice selection—for "Premium" Brand must have just the right proportion of fat and lean. Then next it possesses an unmatched succulence and savoriness due to the exclusive Swift process of curing and smoking.

Be careful to get Swift's "Premium" when you buy Bacon or Ham—make sure of it this coming Easter Morning. Order from your Butcher or Grocer.

"Oscar of the Waldorf"
Honored on Thirtieth
Anniversary of Hotel

New York, March 21.—Who doesn't know "Oscar of the Waldorf?" The famous maître d'hotel of the even more famous New York hotel, whose hospitable portals have opened to the great, the near-great, the rich and the pseudo-rich of every land under the sun for over thirty years, came into "his own" last week.

At the thirtieth anniversary dinner given by the management of the hotel, Oscar sat at the head of his own table as guest of honor.

For a brief time, Oscar was no longer the solicitous host, catering to the whims and fancies of capricious guests. For an hour or two Oscar was himself the guest, and the entire kitchen message of the Waldorf-Astoria was kept hopping filling his wants and those of his fellow guests. These included Mayor Hylan and famous artists, writers, officials, and other prominent folk.

When the coffee came, Oscar was called upon for a speech. "These are not the old days," he declared with genuine grief. "Nowadays people won't look at more than six courses, but I can remember when nine to eleven courses was the thing. Our menus used to start with caviar, then oysters, soup, fish entrees, a little asparagus, sherbet, roast, salad, ice-cream, coffee and crackers and cheese. No, the old days are gone!"

If you do not know Oscar otherwise, you will know him as the inventor of the famous Waldorf salad whose lusciousness has penetrated to the corners of the earth.

Honored with Oscar was Mrs. George Smith, for 30 years head of the telegraph desk at the Waldorf, and Pat Sheridan, head houseman.

CANADIAN CLUB MEETS AT FLORIDA

New Organization Includes Many Well Known in the Dominion.

Tampa, Florida, March 20.—The Canadian Club organized less than two weeks ago by Canadians spending the winters in Tampa, opened its spring social season with a delightful picnic luncheon at Ballast Point, one of the nearby Tampa Bay pleasure parks.

Among those attending the luncheon were: Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grigsby of Montreal; E. P. Park of Brantford, Ont.; Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Lloyd, Miss Reata Lloyd, Winnipeg, Manitoba; Mrs. F. A. Belcher, Mrs. Mrs. H. M. Vanderlip, Miss Norma Vanderlip, Miss A. S. Cole, all of Brantford; Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Lumb, Miss M. E. Lamb, Bancroft; Miss Eva Mitchell, Orono; Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Allyn, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hutchinson, Dr. C. D. Allyn, Mount Forest; Mrs. T. F. Chamberlain, Mrs. W. D. Barnage, C. F. Bolton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lamb, Toronto; S. H. L. Newcombe, formerly of Nova Scotia, but now living in Tampa; Mrs. Shearer, formerly of Mount Forest; Dr. W. P. Chamberlain of Montreal and Tampa; Mrs. W. H. Mallett, Sharnot Lake, Ont.; Mrs. R. Warren, Tampa; Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Hoskins, Mrs. H. M. Acey, Strathroy, Ont.; Mrs. John Pugsley, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Lamb, Mr. and Mrs. Rube Allyn, Tampa.

At the last business meeting of the club there was created a number of new offices and appointments were made to fill the newly organized positions. The list includes: W. P. Chamberlain, Governor-General; W. C. Grigsby, Lieutenant-Governor; Fred Pook, Secretary; Dr. C. D. Allyn, Treasurer; S. S. Lloyd, Premier; H. M. Vanderlip, Provincial Secretary; J. T. Allyn, Miss M. E. Lumb, Executive Committee.

It is planned to carry the club's social activities through the whole year from now on.

GIRLS GOING TO NEW SOUTH WALES

London, Feb. 18.—(By Mail)—Twenty bonny, healthy, happy girls who are going out to New South Wales as the "pioneer" party under the Home Commissions scheme, are leaving London under the care of their officer in charge. "Australia badly needs women emigrants of the right stamp," said Miss Ettie Rout, the honorary secretary of the Home Commissions Association, to "The Westminster Gazette."

"We are taking out groups of twenty women, as far as possible friends and equals, who on their arrival in Sydney will be received by the Sydney Feminist Club and introduced to their employers. Employment in the country districts is guaranteed, also hospitality and social introductions.

Much wool for carpet making is imported from the Orient.

RUM SUGGLERS STIR MANY TOWNS

Unusual Activity is Reported Along the Jersey and Long Island Coasts.

New York, March 20.—Unusual activity in landing rum along the Long Island and Jersey coasts and in trucking it to New York City was reported last week from a number of towns bordering on the ocean near New York.

New York gunmen were said to be employed in large numbers as armed messengers on motor trucks which carried rum across Long Island, while fast boats, built to serve as submarine chasers during the war, were reported to be engaged by the score, darting to and fro between rum ships and landing places on shore.

At Riverhead, L. I., it was reported that fishermen generally had ceased to pursue their lawful calling, that oyster-men had quit the search for oysters and beachcombers were leaving the beaches unkempt, because of the money to be made unloading rum ships. It was alleged here that for a time the market at Riverhead was glutted and that sizable ships off shore were peddling Scotch whisky as low as $4 a bottle, and even $45 a case.

Until recently, it was reported, ships usually landed their liquor, according to a pre-arrangement with agents on the shore who had cable or radio information of the date of the ship's arrival. But the rum-peddling steamship is alleged to have become a factor recently, holding a kind of public market beyond the three-mile limit, selling to all comers. The recent rum glut is alleged to have caused one or two rum ships to sacrifice their stocks at something like pre-war prices.

High Seas Hamper Traffic. The rum fleet off the Highlands was reported yesterday to number sixteen bottoms, but no business was done, because strong winds and high seas prevented small craft from approaching them and taking off cargoes. The customs boats Lexington and Porpoise were lying off the Highlands, unable to tackle the rum fleet, because of the three-mile limit, but ready to chase small boats.

Exaggerated and conflicting reports came from various towns along the coast, some of them making it appear that the bootlegging navy formed a kind of whisky conduit from Scotland to Sandy Hook.

Some discounting was done by William H. McMullen, the Currier filer, who piloted newspaper men on a search along the Long Island and New Jersey coasts yesterday for a sight of squadrans of rum dresdhoughts. Mc-

Mullen expressed the opinion that there was no rum fleet off these coasts. He said that the plane had covered a distance of twenty-five miles off the coast and found no conviction of whisky ships or any other groups of ships.

The publicity given the rum-running at Freeport and neighboring towns had the effect, it was reported, of making enforcement agents more active and bootleggers more careful in that neighborhood. The rum ships reported off Long Beach are said to have taken to other waters.

At Riverside, L. I., and Sag Harbor, L. I., the rum traffic was reported to be extremely heavy. At Riverhead, it was said that many who used to be poor fishermen were now well-to-do bootleggers and refused to act any longer as hired men, but were buying and selling on their own account. They were able, it was asserted, to buy whiskey at from $45 to $55 a case and to sell it for a $20 increase.

Big trucks, each carrying a driver, a "fixer," and a gunman, were asserted to rush boldly through the streets of Riverhead to load at the waterfront with cases of whisky. The "fixer," it was asserted, was taken along to take care of volunteer excise men. The gunman is said to be employed, like the shotgun messengers of the stage-coach, to fight off highwaymen. It was reported that several revolver battles had taken place near Riverhead between gunmen guarding whisky trucks and bandits waylaying them.

The Rev. Dr. James A. MacMillan, pastor of the Methodist Church at Sag Harbor, said yesterday that it was commonly reported and generally believed in Sag Harbor that whisky was being landed there in huge quantities and that the good citizens of that community were highly indignant.

"I do not know for a fact that this town is the centre of a great bootlegging traffic," said Dr. MacMillan, "but it is common rumor that boats come right up to the shore here, landing rum openly, and that it is carried away in motor trucks and that the whole thing is done brazenly, without interference from local or Federal officers. There is a general protest here against this sort of thing, founded on the belief that these reports are true."

Motor trucks full of liquor are said to leave Sag Harbor commonly in fleets of three. The loading is usually done at night, but in at least one instance recently a truckload was removed in daylight.

The illegality of interfering with ships beyond the three-mile limit, the speed of the former submarine chasers used as runners, the numbers of places along where they can land and the fast work of the bootleggers on land—these advantages combine to give the bootleggers the ability to operate freely, and enforcement along the coast is alleged to have broken down almost completely. The few Government ships out success, it is asserted, in stopping only one or two holes in the sieve through which liquor is pouring into Long Island and New Jersey.

COUNCIL RELEASES WOMAN OFFICIAL

London, March 9.—(By Mail)—After a heated debate, Edmonton District Council has decided to dismiss Miss E. S. Daniels, a health visitor for alleged insubordination. It was stated that, after being warned not to do so, Miss Daniels continued to give information to mothers with regard to birth control and the limitation of families.

The council decided to dismiss her immediately and pay her a month's salary in lieu of notice. She had previously been suspended by the Welfare Committee pending the decision of the council.

THIS SOUNDS WELL For the second time since Monday the police sheet has been marked "nil". There have been no arrests made by the local police since the week-end.

BARBER SHOP FIRE. A still alarm brought part of the fire apparatus to a slight blaze in a barber shop conducted by Charles Conway in Waterloo street today about one o'clock. The premises were locked at the time and the firemen had to force an entrance. Fire was discovered in the walls next a chimney. Little damage resulted.

LAST CAR CLUB. Sixteen members of the Last Car Club met last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Nickson, Miss Nickson and Mr. Angel being the hosts of the evening. The prize winners at whist were Mrs. Mofford and Mr. Angel; consolation prizes awarded to Mrs. Wrench and E. McClean. Daily refreshments were served after the third game. "Auld Lang Syne" finished a pleasant evening.

CASE CONTINUED. In Chancery this morning before Mr. Justice Grimmer further evidence was taken in the case of Franklin Ingraham, a Grand Manan action to set aside a deed. It was expected to have finished this case yesterday but to have had the case of the Workmen's Compensation Board vs. Bathurst Lumber Co. heard, but the expectation now is that the latter case will not commence before tomorrow.

NOVELTY SHOWER. About thirty-five friends of Miss Augusta Sullivan of St. Martins rendered her a novelty shower at the residence of Mrs. Logan, 120 Chesley street, last night. In anticipation of a happy event which is to take place in the near future, Miss Sullivan was made the recipient of a great many beautiful and useful gifts, and expressed her delight and pleasure. The evening was most enjoyably spent in music, games and dancing. Refreshments were served and appropriate speeches were a feature of the evening.

SUCCESSFUL SALE. A successful sale was held last evening by the Beacon Lights Class of the Pleasant Point Sunday school of which Harvey Arbo is teacher. A large number of people were present and upwards of $70 was realized. The money will be used toward supporting and educating a boy in Africa. Those in charge of the tables were: Fanny work, Mrs. Nelson Barnes, Mrs. William King and Miss May Kierstead; candy, Mrs. R. Gould; Miss Edith Kierstead; home cooking, Mrs. W. E. Hamm and Mrs. W. Moncton Satisfied With Hydro Current Understood When Line Was Put Through That Connections Were Temporary, Says Tramways Manager - 20,000 People Using It.

That, with the cause of interruption of service removed, Moncton would be entirely satisfied with hydro was the statement made to a Times reporter this morning by E. A. Cummings, manager of the Moncton Tramways, Electricity & Gas Company, who was in the city.

With hydro Moncton was getting the full 110 volts. All the current that was needed for all purposes was available. The daily peak load was about 160 kilowatt hours and there was a hope that the consumption would be increased.

CITY HALL NOTES

Plans are being drawn for a steel spiral stairway and renewed electric wiring for City Hall, West St. John. They are being prepared by G. G. Hare, city engineer, for Commissioner Thornton.

Commissioner Thornton, who returned last evening from Fredericton, government in the old Queen Hotel recently leased from the government by Mrs. A. B. Pugsley, who formerly conducted the American Hotel in Moncton.

The commission said it was not anticipated that this would be a long session of the Legislature. It was expected to last more than five weeks from the date of opening.

H. E. Wardrop, common clerk, who has been confined by illness to his home, King street, is somewhat improved. He is still suffering considerably from a sore throat, but hopes soon to be around again.

The report of Commissioner Thornton on the matter of fire protection for Beauséjour is ready and was expected to be presented at a meeting of the Common Council this afternoon.

Rev. Isaac A. Corbett of Canso has accepted the call to the George Street Baptist Church, Fredericton.

The "Abbies" of Charlottetown play in Chatham tonight. If they win they will be the hockey champions, if not there will be a three-conceded tie.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR HYDRO LINE

Bronze Clamps for Wire Being Made Locally—Thorough Service Within a Month—Further Extension.

Speaking of the effect the storms recently had had on the hydro line between St. John and Musquash, Gordon Kribs, consulting engineer to the New Brunswick Power Commission, said this morning that because of the nature of the wire which had to be used it was hard to hold it solid to the towers at the most exposed points.

The switches for Sussex had arrived and will be installed on Sunday. The switches, which have been in use at Sussex will be installed at Fair Vale and give service there. There had been a great deal of trouble about getting delivery of equipment and the work had been delayed thereby.

Mr. Kribs said any interruptions which occurred after the complete equipment was installed would be of short duration. It is expected that within the next thirty days enough equipment will be on hand to give a thorough service.

The Grand Falls. C. O. Foss said that Musquash was functioning and would tell his own story. He said it would be to extend hydro to Sussex Corner, Norton, Apohaqui, Pettitodac and other places in the near future.

He was writing to the Mayor of Fredericton regarding the Grand Falls project and said the hope was that power might be brought to Fredericton from Grand Falls, then taken across country and connected with the Musquash line around Sussex.

Cincinnati, O., March 21—What is a child worth? Courts may sit and juries may ponder, but nobody really knows but the mother who has lost one, or the pair whose home must always be childless.

To these a little freckle-faced kid who the neighbors probably consider a community nuisance may easily be cause priceless.

Ray G. Piper, of Cincinnati, is just six years old. He has a thriving crop of freckles and a front tooth out. On muggy days he tracks up the kitchen floor and sometimes his mother has to frequently invert across his mother's knee and smacked.

But all the faults of a six-year-old child worth?

It would not make Mrs. Ray G. Piper give him up. Even though he is not his own flesh-and-blood son, he is the most priceless thing she possesses, according to her plea, and she has just gone into court to fight for the right to keep him.

"I love him, and I won't give him up," says Mrs. Piper. "I paid $850 for his mother for him, and he is legally mine. He has been brought up as if he were my own, and it would be like the death of my own child if I were to lose him."

"I want my baby back," says Mrs. Stella M. Lewis, the child's real mother. "I accepted $350 payment for him when I was ill and not responsible."

The two mothers, represented by attorneys, are fighting it out in the courts.

Capacity houses greeted the presentation of "Nora" in St. Rose's hall, Fairville. The first three-act comedy was presented by St. Rose's Dramatic Club, under the direction of John J. O'Toole.

John J. O'Toole, in the leading role, gave a clever and pleasing interpretation, and her bright wit and winsome ways won the hearts of the entire audience.

Irene O'Toole, as Aunt Dinah, made a hit. She portrayed the part of an old colored servant, and furnished much amusement for the audience. She is a clever little character actress.

R. C. Maloney, as Peter O'Leary, gave a clever portrayal of the part of a rich and powerful Irishman, and received hearty applause.

John J. O'Toole, as the retired judge, was good. His impersonation was realistic and he was responsible for much of the comedy brought out.

His brother, Patrick O'Toole, also was well received in the character of Dr. Fisher.

The other members of the cast, in minor roles, also acquitted themselves in a commendable manner.

Brother Explains Wedding Incident

Sherbrooke, Que., March 21—Details in connection with the incident that took place at Boston in connection with the marriage of Rosamond Bradley, Boston heiress, to Charles A. Rheault, former officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, has been cleared up by a simple explanation. Emile Rheault, a local citizen, and brother of the bridegroom left for home in Montreal, and the wedding. He did not have time to change from traveling to church wedding attire, so he rushed to the church in the hope of winning some ceremony incognito. However, the police evidently took him for one of the many newspapermen clamoring for admission and prevented him from entering the church.

Captain and Mrs. Chas. A. Rheault stopped here yesterday on their honeymoon trip and expressed regret and displeasure on hearing of the circumstances of the incident. Capt. Rheault and his bride are now in Montreal, and after a trip to Quebec will again visit this city.

TWO-PIANO RECITAL A GREAT SUCCESS

Capacity Audience at Centenary Charmed With the Programme Rendered by Local Ladies.

To people of musical tastes such a recital as was given in Centenary Hall last night might be likened to an oasis in a desert of commercialized entertainment. It was a delightful occasion and the city in St. John is not privileged to enjoy more of the kind. Again, when such a treat is about to be spread it is regrettable more publicity is not given it so that people living in various parts of the city, mostly outside the group responsible for the entertainment, will be informed. This city's music lovers aggregate a very large quota and available talent for public appearances is proportionately large. In musical enjoyment, it is not written to indicate a small attendance last night for such was not the case; the big hall was filled; but to suggest that such rare programmes be given greater scope.

The artists in the recital are familiar to home folks, Mrs. S. Kent Scoville, Miss Beryl Blanch and Mrs. Louis M. LeLachur. The two married ladies received their musical education in Europe, and the big hall was filled; but to suggest that such rare programmes be given greater scope.

At the request of the Minimum Wage Board, representatives of employers and employees met in Spadina House last evening to present their cases for and against the proposed regulation to fix a maximum forty-eight-hour week for female textile workers in cities of over 50,000 population, and a fifty-hour week in smaller centres. No decision was announced, but the chairman, J. W. Macmillan, stated at the close that all the facts brought out would be taken into earnest consideration by the board in its final recommendation.

R. Davis, president of the Kingston Board of Trade, was spokesman for a string of deputations from that city, including W. F. Nickle, M. P., and Mayor Angove, offered by the Province of Quebec, which would be financially impossible to continue work at the plant, which was now running on a basis of fifty-five hours per week. Under the existing conditions competition from the Southern States, where the operating cost was much lower, the company would be forced to close down its Kingston plant, and either dispose of the equipment or transfer to Quebec, which offered to capital the advantage of freedom from restriction. At the present time the textile mill was the only industry in Kingston employing female labor.

Claims Quebec Has Advantages. "I feel certain that no textile manufacturer would think of starting a factory in Ontario when he can have the many advantages offered by the Province of Quebec," said a representative from Hamilton. In that city, he went on, where there were three textile plants which would be affected by the change, all mills were operating on a fifty-hour week, as against the sixty-hour week found in Quebec. Last week production in Hamilton was seventy-eight per cent; in the Southern States production went as high as ninety-four per cent.

One speaker believed that where the hours of labor had been lessened production had not dropped and, in many cases, the quality of the work had improved. "It should not be necessary to point out that, after six, seven or eight hours at a machine, a woman's energy is greatly diminished," he concluded. "I have been a textile worker these last twenty years," stated one woman, "and I am pretty sure that no textile manufacturer will shut down his plant because he loses a few hours a week. I have worked eight hours, ten hours and even sixteen hours a day, without stopping for lunch or anything else. We are now working eight hours and turning out the same production as we did when we worked more than go hours. All you have to do is to speed up the machines, tighten the pulleys, and you'll get the same production as you did at ten or twelve hours a day."

Stand and Watch. In reply to this argument a manufacturer declared that the work of women workers in his factory was principally to stand before the machine and simply watch the ends to see that they did not break. If the machines were speeded up it would mean a continuous breaking of the ends.

"The textile worker's job is about the hardest and dirtiest there is in any industry. It's not work for a woman at all," flashed back the worker. "I know that the spinner certainly can speed up his looms. The only time the ends break is when the manufacturer uses cheap cotton and is trying to work on a cheap basis."

"Are the workers simply hands, as you advertise them, or are they human beings?" demanded another woman worker. "You talk about the ignorance of the workers. What chance have they when they work forty-eight hours a week or more, day go hours exhausted, too tired to even read?"

Chairman Macmillan, in winding up the discussion, stated that the Minimum Wage Board must function for the good of the province and could not be governed by the conditions existing in one city, such as Kingston. Some of the workers worked at as low as forty-four hours, while others ran as high as fifty-nine, he said, and in several cases it had been found that there was as much as 100 per cent difference in the wage schedules of factories operating under precisely the same conditions. Over 1,000 of the 10,000 female workers in Ontario were under eighteen years of age, while, of the 291 girls of fourteen or fifteen years of age, seventy-nine were working a fifty-five-hour week.

MUTT AND JEFF—FUNNY HOW THE DAMES FALL FOR THIS "SHEIK" STUFF By "BUD" FISHER

CONSTRUCTION VETERANS RETIRE

(1) The "old timers" and one of their newest charges. (2) Born in 1882 and still going strong. THE recent retirement of three of the oldest locomotive engineers in the service of the Canadian Pacific Railway recalls the old construction days of the west, when they fired and piloted the old wood-burning engines used in construction work between them they have given the company 118 years of service, but they are not to be considered old men yet. They are seen above standing in front of one of the most modern of the iron horses which have been under their care, and are, from left to right, Tom Penhale, a veteran engineer of 1881, James Fisher, who entered the service of the Canadian Pacific in 1882, and Henry Hardy, who first worked for this railroad in 1887. These three old-timers were recently tendered a presentation banner by the Medicine Hat Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers. Each was the recipient of a valuable gift, and many glowing and well-deserved tributes were paid them, both by superior officers of the company and their fellow workmen. Tom Penhale, who is 66 years of age and the "oldest" in the service, enlisted in the construction days of the railroad, and he fired at first on one of the old wood-burners in between Winnipeg and Gleichen. In 1887 he was promoted to engineer and for two years he operated a switch engine in Winnipeg. He was transferred to Medicine Hat in 1890 and engineered on one of the construction trains in the Crow's Nest division until 1905, when he was transferred to passenger service. Jim Fisher has a most enviable record as a railroader. He started as a fireman on the old Intercolonial Railroad at Truro in 1871, when the road was of wide gauge, and in the course of the fifty-one years he has been "on the road" he has covered over two million miles in the cab of an engine. He joined the Canadian Pacific Railway in 1922, working as an engineer on construction, and he had the distinction of taking the first construction train over the initial pile bridge across the South Saskatchewan River at Medicine Hat. Three years later he pulled the first transcontinental train over the bridge with engine 124, which is pictured above, and sometime after, with the same engine, he made the fastest run ever recorded on his division, between Gleichen and Medicine Hat, a distance of 125 miles, in two hours and twenty-five minutes, with four stops and a detour occasioned by a hot box. He was at the front when the rails met at Craigellachie in 1884, and it was also his privilege to take the first engine equipped with air brakes from Winnipeg to Medicine Hat. He was promoted to passenger service in 1885, and it is his proud boast that during the 36 years in which he never had a passenger or trainman killed while he occupied the cab. Henry Hardy joined the railway 36 years ago. In three years he was appointed locomotive fireman on the Prince Albert branch. He took his first engine from Moose Jaw to Camrose in 1897 and from the following year worked as engineer from Medicine Hat, being promoted to regular passenger service in 1906. These men helped to nurse the world's greatest railroad in its infancy and have watched it grow from a speculation involving the fate of a nation to one of the nation's greatest assets. They can recall the days when, at cost of much blood and sweat, the iron rails were pushed forward mile by mile. They have helped to carry the freight and people which have made Canada what she is to-day, and they have each had a share in the making of the Canadian Pacific Railway one with Canada's greatness.

Girls In All Ages Fooled Wise Men

Recent Escanaba Fever Hoax Recalls Fastening Young Women Who Astonished Sages.

New York, March 21.—Temperatures as high as 114 degrees Fahrenheit, registered with the aid of a hot-water bottle by Miss Evelyn Lyons, who fooled the doctors of her home town, Escanaba, Mich., for more than two weeks, are actually recorded sometimes in cases of sunstroke, according to local medical authorities, who explain that the patient always dies within four or five hours unless the temperature is reduced. Hysterical temperature or thermal staxia, occasionally will run as high as 108 or 110 degrees without giving permanent injury, according to some medical text books. The young woman of Escanaba was described as a "hysterical malingering" by Dr. Morris Fishbein, editor of the Journal of the American Medical Association, who investigated her strange case and exposed her deception. It was found that Miss Lyons was running a slight temperature, due probably to injuries she is said to have received in an automobile accident. Miss Lyons's case suggests the cases of the "fasting girls"—found as far back as the Middle Ages—whose deceptions, usually the result of hysteria, convinced many learned men of their time that they were able with the aid of some mysterious power, to live for long periods without eating. Hysteria, in the opinion of many authorities, is certain to be accompanied by mental changes, in some cases disclosing only a lack of balance and will power, the partial loss of memory, or in other cases recurring melancholy, sudden emotional outbursts, loss of judgment and disregard of truth. One of the marked symptoms of the affliction is a craving for sympathy. The last two symptoms were the basis for the strange actions of the "fasting girls" and self-mutilating martyrs, as well as of persons who sometimes pretended they were suffering from paralysis, tumor, stone in the bladder, and other ailments, in order to submit to surgical operations. The story of a nun at Leicester who was said to have taken no nourishment for 18 years, and who, after her strength and health, attracted the attention of Hugh, Bishop of Lincoln in 1225. He assigned clerks to watch her, and she was taken to a room near the cathedral, where she was kept under the strictest supervision. The story of a girl at Leicester who was said to have taken no nourishment for 18 years, and who, after her strength and health, attracted the attention of Hugh, Bishop of Lincoln in 1225. He assigned clerks to watch her, and she was taken to a room near the cathedral, where she was kept under the strictest supervision. A history of the case of the little girl was left by Geraldus Buccolanius whose patient she was. The girl was said to have taken no food for three years, during which time she continued to grow, to walk, to read, and to enjoy herself like other normal children of her own age. She was said to have suffered greatly from hysteria during the first year. The child played her part so well that she was sent home to her friends by order of the King after she had been watched persistently and declared to be no dissiminator by Dr. Buccolanius and the parish priest. "Dr. Buccolanius appears to have been somewhat staggard," says Dr. William A. Hammond in his book "Fasting Girls," for he asks very pertinently: "Whence comes the animal heat, since she neither eats nor drinks, and why does the body grow and multiply?" Symptoms of the "fasting girls" varied, and there were some who were reported to have been made insane by Christ at crucifixion. One of the most recent cases of abstinence from food with stigmata, and reported widely about six months ago.

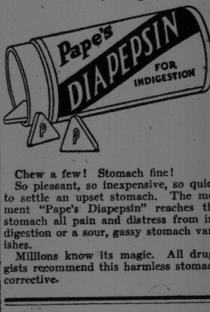

Makes a Family Supply of Cough Remedy

Really better than ready-made cough syrup, and saves about $2. Easily and quickly prepared.

If you combined the curative properties of every known cough remedy, you probably could not get as much real curative power as there is in this simple home-made cough syrup, which is easily prepared in a few minutes. Suggest 2 1/2 ounces of Pinex, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle and fill the bottle with syrup, using either plain granulated sugar syrup, clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup. Add the rest of the recipe in ounces of really better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made. Pinex saves easily $2. Tastes pleasant and never spoils. The Pinex and Syrup preparation gets right at the cause of a cough and gives almost immediate relief. It reduces the inflammation of the throat, soothes the sore, irritated membranes so gently and irritates the ordinary cough and the ordinary cold, whooping cough and bronchial asthma, there is nothing better. A concentrated, genuine Norway pine extract, and has been used for generations to relieve the most obstinate cough. To avoid disappointment, ask your druggist for 7 1/2 ounces of Pinex, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

SEQUEL TO RECENT FLORIDA ROMANCE

Captain Meares, Who Married Halifax Lady, Writes from Captiva That New Jersey Woman is No Relation.

As a sequel to the various reports published in connection with the marriage of Captain Thomas I. Meares of the British Army and Mrs. Selena Ritchie, widow of Jas. Donaldson Ritchie of Halifax, in Florida recently, the Halifax Chronicle has received from Captain Meares a statement for publication. It will be remembered that, according to copies of Daytona, Florida, newspapers published at the time of Captain Meares' wedding to the Halifax lady, a lady in New Jersey had communicated with the Daytona police, claiming that Captain Meares was her husband. The marriage took place quietly at Fort Myers, Florida, a chaplain of the United States Army performing the ceremony. Following this, the Daytona police received a letter from a woman in Montclair, New Jersey, signing herself "Mary C. Meares," in which she spoke of Captain Meares as her husband and asked how far arrangements for his wedding to the "other woman" had proceeded. Now, from Captiva, Florida, where he and his bride are spending their honeymoon, comes the following signed statement from Captain Meares for publication in The Morning Chronicle: "Owing to the numerous unauthentic and unfounded stories which have been published concerning my recent marriage to Mrs. J. D. Ritchie of Halifax, N. S., I beg to state that my marriage was perfectly legal, in every sense of the word, and that the lady in New York and New Jersey, who claimed to be my wife, was and is absolutely no relation of mine, nor has she any legal claim or otherwise against me." During the past few years Captain Meares has been delivering a series of lectures in the United States on "Egypt, past and present; Northern Africa and Palestine."

ONCE EX-SOLDIER NOW ARCHBISHOP

Establishes New Church and Confers Honors on Himself.

London, March 21.—A former private in the Artists Rifles has just turned the light of publicity upon himself by founding a new church in Maiden Lane, a street turning out of Covent Garden, London's big fruit, flower and vegetable market, and appointing himself archbishop. The Most Rev. James Bartholomew Banks, Primate of the Independent Church of the Great Sacrifices and Patriarch-elect of Windsor, to give him his full title, is under thirty years old and the son of a wealthy Wisbech farmer. His church is a large hall, at present unoccupied, with an altar draped in pink and little red lamps hung around the walls. His ordinary dress is a dark gray, with a clerical tie of Roman purple, a large cross suspended on a chain, and patent leather shoes with gold buckles, but at certain times he is seen in an immense blue cloak over a white cassock. To reporters, the el-dévant soldier explained that he was consecrated a bishop by a bishop of the old Roman Catholic Church. "I am not a 'Mr.," he added, "I am a doctor of divinity. There is no question of my rank." The patriarch claims to be the equal of the Archbishop of Canterbury and says he chose Windsor because he hopes to have churches in that See. His robes and the ritual of his services resemble those of the Roman Catholic Church. He was a theological student at Wells before he enlisted, and when demobilized he went to a theological college, but two or three years ago he felt that he could not be happy in any established church and so was inspired to start one himself. He has dedicated his church to men who fell in the war and declares that he has seen the spirits of dead soldiers, wearing full equipment, including packs, in his hall. His present congregation amounts to three, but he hopes to do better. His services are short and to use his own words "a little rag time," but this latter defect will, he says, "be quite all right soon." Armistice Day is the great festival day of the new church. When November 11 comes Archbishop Banks will lead a procession, presumably of his faithful three, to the Cenotaph in Whitehall, and on his return he is to be crowned as "patriarch," though who is to do the crowning he does not say.

OVERWORKED MOTHERS

We all know them. Mothers who in their anxiety to keep their homes neat and attractive and their little ones as well dressed as their playmates, toil on day in and day out, sweeping, dusting, mending and cooking, often suffering from backache, sleeplessness, all symptoms of more serious ailments. Thousands of such women have found relief from such suffering by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as is evidenced by the letters of recommendation continually being published in this paper. For nearly fifty years this old-fashioned root and herb medicine has been restoring ailing women to health and strength.

Haverhill Girl of 16 Weds Boy of 17

Bride's Father Married at 17 Himself, He Says. Haverhill, Mass., March 21.—Miss Doris Ryerson, sixteen-year-old sophomore at the Haverhill High School, was married last Friday to J. Floyd Plaisted, seventeen, in Boston, according to telegrams received by the parents. The young couple will be married ostensibly to attend the automobile show. They had been keeping company for eight months, and Plaisted often took the girl home from school in his automobile. She is the daughter of Sherman Ryerson of 83 Emerson street. He said last evening that while his daughter had done wrong, he could not blame her, since he himself was married at seventeen and that the couple would be assured of a welcome and forgiveness on their return home. Plaisted is the son of H. W. Plaisted of 24 Seventeenth avenue. His father could not be reached for comment. The telegrams which they sent to their homes said, simply, "Just married. Will be home next week."

Reduce Your Fat Without Dieting

Years ago the formula for fat reduction was "diet"—"exercise." Today it is "Take Marmola Prescription Tablets." Friends tell friends—these friends tell others. They eat substantial food, live as they like and still reduce steadily and easily without going through long sieges of dieticism, exercise and starvation diet. Marmola Prescription Tablets are sold by all druggists the world over at one dollar per case, or if you prefer you can order direct from the Marmola Co., 5612 Woodward Ave., Detroit, Mich.

PORTLAND SNOWFALL EQUALS RECORD MADE 50 YEARS AGO

Portland, Me., March 21.—The 60-year record of 121 inches of snow, established during the winter of 1866-7, was equaled on Friday. After depositing 1.2 inches, the exact amount needed, the storm turned to rain, which began to soften the three feet of snow still remaining on the level here. A sewing meeting of the Carleton Methodist Ladies Aid was held on Monday evening in the church hall. There was a good attendance.

DRINK WATER IF BACK OR KIDNEYS HURT

Begin Taking Salts if You Feel Back-ache or Have Bladder Weakness. Too much rich food forms acids which excite and overwork the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Flip the kidney switch occasionally to relieve them like you relieve the bowels, removing acids, waste and poison, else you may feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, the stomach sour, tongue is coated, and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment, the channels often get irritated, obliging one to get up two or three times during the night. To help neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste, begin drinking water. Also get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy, take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys may then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for years to help clean and stimulate the sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink, which millions of men and women take now and then to help prevent serious kidney and bladder disorders. By all means, drink lots of good water every day. Have your physician examine your kidneys at least twice a year.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

When Wilfrid St. Onge was sentenced yesterday to 100 days in jail for the murder of Nestor Gabriellovitch on April 1, 1922, his reply to the sentence was "Thank you." The jury which sentenced St. Onge maintained his innocence until the last. He will be hanged on Friday, June 15. A young son of A. W. Mason of St. Andrews Sharp, Miss Hazel Kathleen Cornwell was rescued from a watery grave on Sunday morning at the wharf there, when he went through thin ice and was dragged to safety by Ralph Cornwell. Two-year-old Maurice Gendron was burned to death yesterday in a fire which destroyed his parents' home at Beauport, Quebec. The origin of the fire is unknown. An explosion in a paint mill in Montreal yesterday was followed by a fire in which two lives were lost. One of them was J. Cook, a'd the other man unidentified. The sequel to an alleged hunting accident in Nova Scotia woods was heard yesterday when the grand jury of the Halifax court returned a true bill against Leonard Nason, charged with manslaughter in the case of the death of James Perry. A bench warrant has been issued for the arrest of Nason. H. H. McLellan, provincial fire marshal, yesterday conducted an investigation into the fire which did damage to the estimated extent of $15,000 to the Windsor Hotel in Moncton on Monday. F. R. Ross, proprietor of the cafe in the building in which the fire started was the only witness. Detective Austin P. Mitchell, Toronto, who has examined many parts of the world for Ambrose J. Small, missing theatre magnate, yesterday in Burlington County, Ontario, made the statement that the body of Small was buried in a 70 acre plot and that he knew where the plot was. Dorothy Foster, a schoolgirl, seventeen years of age living in Doderich, Ontario, left her boarding place with the announced intention of drowning herself, but has been found safe and sound. She was going to commit the act because she was behind in her work, but weakened in her resolution. A true bill was found in Halifax

Basilica To Have Twenty-Six Altars

Ste. Anne de Beaupre Church Will Be Largest in Canada. Quebec, March 21.—The plans for the construction of the new Basilica of Ste. Anne de Beaupre have been completed and provide for a church which will probably be the most spacious and finest from an architectural point of view in Canada. The lines of the old Basilica, which was destroyed by fire in March, 1922, will be entirely disregarded, and a far larger building will be erected to respond to the requirements of the future. In architectural style the new basilica will be a combination of Roman and Gothic and the steeples in front will tower 225 feet above the earth, giving the building a most imposing appearance. It is evidently the intention of the Redeemptorist Fathers to spare nothing to make their church a masterpiece of exterior and interior architecture, and it is estimated that it will require from seven to eight years to complete the building. The basilica will contain twenty-six altars in all, including those of the chapels. There will be seven doors giving access to the church from the exterior. The exterior length will be 312 feet and the interior length 280 feet. The exterior width of the transept, including the chapels will be 192 feet, and Restoring health to thousands—this simple fresh food!

The buoyant health and vigor which are every man's birth-right— The sparkle and animation which every woman craves— Today we realize that they are impossible without one thing: a body kept free from poisons! You must get rid regularly of the poisonous waste that accumulates in the intestines. Drugs and cathartics are worse than useless, for they have to be taken in larger and larger doses, and at last the weakened intestinal muscles refuse to respond at all. Regular daily eating of Fleischmann's Yeast is helping thousands of men and women to regain the splendid vigor of normal health. Like any other natural food, it must be eaten regularly to achieve results. Eat two or three cakes a day—plain, or dissolved in water, milk or fruit juices—preferably half an hour before a meal or the last thing at night. If you eat it plain, follow with a glass of water. Get several cakes at a time—they will keep several days in a cool, dry place. Be sure you get Fleischmann's Yeast! All grocers have it.

Y.W.C.A. DIRECTORS HOLD MEETING

Monthly Reports Show That Much is Being Done for Girls' Welfare.
The monthly meeting of the board of directors of the Y. W. C. A. was held yesterday afternoon with Mrs. W. H. Lugsdin presiding. Mrs. Percival Foster, general secretary, led the opening devotions.
In her report for the month, Mrs. Foster touched upon each department of the work. The King street residence was proving a real home for self-supporting girls under Miss Pauline Baird's efficient management. The Traveler's Aid, as usual, faced a deficit and Mrs. Foster pointed out the imperative need of this work as a protection for traveling women. She recommended an effort being made to have every citizen, every organization and every church get behind the work and assure it adequate support.
Mrs. Foster declared that the citizens were mutually responsible for the care of those arriving in the city. Regarding the physical department, she said the gymnasium girls had enjoyed many happy and profitable occasions. They were preparing for the big gymnasium victories in May. The High School girls' recent victories in basketball games came assistance had been given, as the girl was alone during the day.
The children of the orphanages in West St. John and Wright street had had regular gymnasium classes each Saturday, and on one occasion had been given a treat.
The Loyalty Club attendance kept up well and Miss Bettinson's millinery classes were very popular. Two Y. W. C. A. classes were taking the health course at the Health Centre.
Mrs. Foster told of a meeting of the men's committee which has in hand the campaign for funds, and said that the meeting had been greatly encouraging, but the men asked for a budget of the coming year's expenditures and recommended the endeavor to secure a sustaining fund. This recommendation was heartily adopted yesterday.
The project of starting a kindergarten as a means of raising revenue was discussed at a temporary standstill because of difficulty in securing a teacher.
The Russian Refugee.
Speaking of the use of the Y. W. C. A. as a friend for strangers, Mrs. Foster referred to the coming of the Russian refugee, Miss Olga Martynoff, concerning with the Danish Y. W. C. A. had written, she being the second girl of the St. John association had met at the request of the Danish organization. Miss Martynoff was temporarily attached to the staff of the Canadian Women's Hostel in St. John, but left on Monday night for Toronto, where she will seek employment. She was given several letters of introduction from St. John. Five newcomers to St. John had been brought in touch with the "Y" in the last week.

National Council.
Mrs. Foster gave a brief account of the meeting of the National Council of the Y. W. C. A., at which the national secretary, Miss M. Ferguson, had brought forward the St. John association's recommendation that the "World's Penny" collection should be given with the regular Y. W. C. A. membership fee. The annual meeting had not approved the St. John suggestion, believing that a separate appeal should be made. This report was submitted in turn. Mrs. H. A. Goodwin gave the membership report, telling of the enrollment of the department had accomplished under Mrs. Foster's direction.
Mrs. A. E. Logie, for the physical committee, told of an average attendance at the gymnasium classes of 257 and reported on the basketball league games, a series of pantry sales held to raise funds and the successful Valentine fete which realized $400.

Mrs. James F. Robertson, for the Traveler's Aid, reported twenty boats and 227 trains met, eighty-six persons taken to the transient home, 105 assisted at the station and employment found for three. She gave particulars of the special cases which had been aided, showing the very helpful work which had been done under Miss Hoyt's direction.
Mrs. W. C. Cross gave the report of the cafeteria and resident, referring to recent improvements made by the dividing of a dormitory and the purchasing of extra furnishings with money which had been a donation to Miss Baird. Both residence and cafeteria showed a credit balance for the month.
Miss Baird's report told of the resale being filed and 1,728 meals served to the public. The remodeling of the dormitory had been satisfactorily completed.
Two interesting communications were read at the meeting. One was

SARABINE CITY IS CHIEF BUSINESS BEFORE B.B. HOUSE

Much Discussion Over Proposed Excise Tax—Other Matters Before Legislature Yesterday.

A great deal of discussion was provoked at the meeting of the Legislature yesterday afternoon by a motion from John W. Scovell, M. P. for Charlotte, seconded by W. E. Scully, M.P.P. for St. John, that an export duty of $10 per hoghead be imposed on all hardines sold for less than $10 a hoghead at the Charlotte and St. John County weirs. This duty was suggested as a remedy for the low prices received by the fishermen later in the season. It would have the effect of making the price at least $10 per hoghead and would give the fishermen an opportunity of operating at a profit.

Foreign Trade in the United Kingdom During January was the Highest in Two Years.

London, March 9.—(By Mail)—Once more progress towards the restoration of stability in European trade has been interrupted, this time by the occupation of the Ruhr district. No man can foretell the outcome of this adventure. While a distinct fillip has been given to the British coal and iron and steel industries owing to the unforeseen curtailment of activity in this live of German industry, one result has been to set the continental exchanges wobbling again and to disorganize foreign markets generally.

NOISELESS TRAMS FOR TWIN CITIES

St. Paul and Minneapolis to Have Special Roller Bearing Cars.

St. Paul, Minn., March 20.—The twin cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis are to have the first noiseless street cars in the world. At least, such is the plan of the Twin City Rapid Transit Company, which has been conducting experiments at its St. Paul shops with this objective according to an announcement today by Mr. J. C. McGill, vice-president. Trucks are being made at the shop which are equipped with roller bearings and will be installed under cars late in April.

According to Mr. McGill, the roller bearings will make street car operation almost as noiseless as eight-cylinder automobiles, remove friction in the truck shafts and save 12 to 15 per cent of the power, enable operators to start and stop cars more quickly, and speed up the service.

Young Girls Need Care

FROM the age of twelve a girl needs all the care the thoughtful mother can give. Many a woman has suffered years of pain and misery—the victim of thoughtlessness or ignorance of the mother who should have guided her during this time.

Hamilton, Ontario—"When my daughter was thirteen and until she was fifteen, she suffered every month so that she could hardly move around the house, and when she would have the pains in school she would have to be carried home. She also had headache, dizzy and faint spells, and soreness in her back. I saw your advertisement in the 'Hamilton Spectator' and got Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for her. She does not have the least bit of trouble now, and we recommend your medicine. She works in a candy-shop now and seems well and strong."—Miss I. P. CLARKE, 2947, Oxford St., Hamilton, Ontario.

KING KARL'S MARE SAVED FROM BUTCHER'S BLOCK. Hungarian Government Provides Home For Royal Horse at Last Moment.

Vienna, March 21.—The Austrian Government is in the midst of an economy campaign, and relies of imperial days, slowly being sold. The latest royal belonging to come into the market was the white mare used at the coronation of King Karl at Budapest in 1917.

When Karl rode in his coronation procession he wore a heavy robe, a solid gold crown and an enormously long sword, but the mare was a patient animal and she bore her burden with the same good grace that she listened to the cheering of Karl's faithful subjects.

Some of the last duties of the old animal were to perform at the Vienna Opera, her final appearance before she was dismissed from the state service being in "Gottterdammerung." The mare nearly was sold to a Viennese butcher, but a Hungarian count appealed to the Government.

The Hungarian Government bought the animal, and she was housed in the old royal stables.

HAIR STAYS COMBED, GLOSSY. "Hair-Groom" Keeps Hair Combed—Well-Groomed.

Millions Use It—Fine for Hair! Not Sticky, Greasy or Smelly. A few cents buys jar of "Hair-Groom" at any drugstore, which makes even stubborn, unruly, wavy, combed hair stay combed all day in any style you like.

"Hair-Groom" is a dignified combing cream which gives that natural gloss and well-groomed effect to your hair—that final touch to good dress both in business and on social occasions.

Greenest, perform "Hair-Groom" does not show on the hair because it is absorbed by the scalp, therefore your hair remains so soft and pliable and so natural that no one can possibly tell you used it.

Possibility of Matches With Halifax and New Glasgow Discussed at Annual Meeting of St. Andrew's Ladies' Curling Club.

The St. Andrew's Ladies Curling Club annual meeting was held yesterday afternoon in the club rooms with a large attendance of members.

The secretary's report, presented by Mrs. J. M. Magee, contained a record of the year's activities. Miss Jean White, in her treasurer's statement, showed the club had a comfortable balance on hand.

Bankrupt Baronet Wants to Die With a Clear Name. Sir Thomas Gordon Fairbairn puts in Appearance After Thirty-five Years.

London, Feb. 20.—(By mail.)—Giving as the reason for his appearance, after thirty-five years, that he did not wish to die an undischarged bankrupt, Sir Thomas Gordon Fairbairn attended the London Bankruptcy Court the other day, says The London Daily News.

The court sat for the public examination of Sir Thomas, who had lodged a statement of affairs showing gross liabilities of £109,965 and a deficiency in assets of £17,965. A receiving order was made against Sir Thomas' estate on February 11, 1888, on the ground that he had departed from his dwelling house and place of business with intent to defeat or delay his creditors.

Answering the official receiver, Sir Thomas said that in 1887, after carrying on business as a stock broker, he was declared a defaulter on the Stock Exchange. Shortly afterwards, with £155 provided by relatives and friends, he left for France, and a few days later went to the United States, where he had since lived.

Harris is wanted in Cleveland for neglecting to support his two minor children. It is also alleged that he deserted his wife in that city. The local bride of 10 days is Mrs. Eva Lillian Bell, who conducts a lodging house at 407 Highland avenue, West Somerville. Harris will be arraigned in Somerville court today on the charge of bigamy.

CAMPING IN THE CARIBOO. The smaller fur bearing animals, such as a trappers paradise of the Cariboo district, which is also the fishing country of the West. Rain bow, cut-throat, silver, dolly varden and lake trout are found in abundance, and the smaller streams and lakes contain gamey mountain trout in plenty.

Big game hunters who have discovered the district use Ashcroft, a station on the Canadian Pacific Railway, 203 miles east of Vancouver, as the "going in point." From Ashcroft they make their way by automobile to Harper's Camp (180 miles north), Barkerville, or one of the other hunting centres. The road over which they travel is the one made famous by the gold Charge of Bigamy Disrupts Honeymoon. Harris, Taken for Neglecting Children, Married 10 Days Ago.

Boston, March 21.—A recent request from the Cleveland police to the police of Somerville to arrest Charles Nelson Harris, 36, on the charge of being a fugitive from justice, and fulfillment of that request brought a shock of surprise not only to Harris, but also an additional charge against him of bigamy, and broke up a honeymoon of 10 days.

Harris is wanted in Cleveland for neglecting to support his two minor children. It is also alleged that he deserted his wife in that city. The local bride of 10 days is Mrs. Eva Lillian Bell, who conducts a lodging house at 407 Highland avenue, West Somerville. Harris will be arraigned in Somerville court today on the charge of bigamy.
