On Saturday last the ceremony of blessing the bell at Morell chapel, P. E. Island, was performed by His Lordship Bishop Macdonald, Rev. Father Sinnott, a native of the parish, and Father Gauthier of St. Dunstan's. This bell, which weighs over a ton, is the heaviest of any Catholic church on the island.

UNCLE SAM'S WAR.

MANILA, Oct. 10.—A detachment of the 21st Company of Macabebes today encountered a large force of insurgents near Lapa, province of Batangas. Lt. Beau of the Macabebes was killed and one of the force was wounded. The enemy was strongly entrenched. After two hours fighting the Americans retreated to get reinforcements. The insurgents numbering over 300, were armed with Remington and Mauser rifles and apparently had plenty of ammunition.

Martin, a teacher at Manban, was captured by insurgents while visiting a neighboring town, under an escort of native police. The next day his captors, releasing him in a hammock, carried him to a point within a mile of the town and released him, saying he was a non-combatant.

The entire police force of Catanga, province of Tayabas, numbering 11, have been carried off by insurgents armed only with bolos. Presumably the police made no resistance, as they were well armed with carbines and revolvers.

MISS STONE.

Report That Her Bandit Captors Are Surrounded.

The London Globe recalls the Experience of Lord Muncaster in 1870.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Oct. 9.—The surrounding movements of Turkish and Bulgarian troops on the mountain at Gueltepe on the Turko-Bulgarian frontier, near Dubnitsa, has commenced. The presence of Miss Stone and the bandits on the mountain is confirmed. The inhabitants of Dubnitsa are supplying the outlaws with food.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—A special to the world from Boston says:—It has been decided to give out no more statements of the condition of the fugitives, ransoming Miss Stone. The American board feels that the less the brigands find out just now the better it will be for Miss Stone.

LONDON, Oct. 10.—With reference to the announcement that the Turkish and Bulgarian troops are surrounding the abductors of Miss Stone, the Globe says it considers that unless the movement is suspended until she is safe out of the hands of the brigands there will be a repetition of the tragedy in Greece during the year 1870 when Lord Muncaster and a party were captured.

Lord Muncaster was released in order to negotiate for a ransom of £25,000. Then, as now, an attempt was made to surround the brigands with the result that four gentlemen of the party were murdered. Lord and Lady Muncaster and a party of English travelers were seized by Greek brigands, April 21, 1870, at Oropos, near Marathon. Lord Muncaster and the ladies of the party were sent to treat for the £25,000 demanded as ransom, with free pardon for the brigands. The latter were surrounded by troops and, in retreating, April 21, killed Mr. Vyner, Mr. Lloyd, Mr. Herbert and Count De Boyl. The accident caused great excitement, especially as many influential persons were charged with complicity in the brigandage. Several of the brigands were killed and seven were captured, tried and condemned May 23, of the same year. On June 29, 1870, five of the brigands were executed.

MYSTERIOUS SHOOTING.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Mrs. Lucy H. Carroll, who lives with her father, at 75 South Elliott place, Brooklyn, was shot and seriously wounded at her home early this morning by a man known as Captain John B. Neilson. The woman was shot three times, the first shot hitting her in the right temple and died instantly. Mrs. Carroll was removed to the Brooklyn hospital, where it was said that there was a chance that she might survive her injuries. She told her story of the tragedy to the police, saying that she did not know the man who had shot her. "I was awakened," said Mrs. Carroll, "by seeing a man in my room. I was much alarmed and cried: 'What do you want here?' Without reply the intruder drew a revolver and fired three times, and then turned and shot himself. I do not know him, nor can I imagine why he should have entered my room."

Mrs. Carroll's husband is said to be a soldier in the Philippines.

The police found a portrait of Neilson in Mrs. Carroll's room and when she was told of this she said she had known Neilson for some time, that he had paid her much attention and had been very jealous of her. Neilson was about 35 years of age and was at one time a sea captain.

Mrs. Carroll is about 30 years old. Her father, whose name is Korner, is a dry goods merchant, with a place of business in Brooklyn.

INTERESTING PASSENGERS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—The ship "Fingal" and Capt. Cooper of the East Lancashire regiment, who arrived on the Oceanic yesterday, have come to this country for the purpose of buying uniforms for the British cavalry in South Africa. Sir Francis Younge, K. C. M. G., was also a passenger on the Oceanic. He is on his way to Canada to attend the laying of a corner stone for an extension of the Kingston University, at Kingston, Ont., on Oct. 15, and to be present at the reception to the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York.

TUBERCULOSIS.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—Interesting experiments of much importance to the public health are being made at the Bacteriological laboratory of the board of health. They are being held to test Professor Koch's theory that human tubercle bacilli will not readily infect cows or calves. So far, the experiments have shown the theory to be correct; it is said, all the calves reacted to a tuberculin test, but the reaction was very slight and may have been due, it is said, to the inflammation or other causes, considered by the investigators at the laboratory to be of minor importance.

ANARCHIST SENTENCED.

ROME, Oct. 10.—Glavinovich, the anarchist arrested here recently, after having been heard to threaten the lives of the Pope and of Cardinal Rampolla, pontifical secretary of state, has been sentenced to a fortnight's imprisonment for carrying deadly weapons and then to be deported to his home in Dalmatia.

THE KING'S HEALTH.

NEW YORK, Oct. 10.—London advices to the Tribune say:—The King has been forced by adverse rumors respecting his health to follow Queen Victoria's example and allow the public to know what is going on at court. The news is favorable and tends to discredit the alarming rumors current last week.

TORONTO WOMEN'S GIFT. (Mail and Empire.)

Many thousands of people availed themselves of the offer of Ryan Bros. to inspect the Gold Library set prepared by them for the women of Toronto for presentation to her Royal Highness the Duchess of Cornwall and York. During yesterday afternoon the crowd was so great that the police had to be called in to keep the crowd moving in line. The most extravagant words of appreciation were passed by those who saw the article.

BRIEFS BY WIRE.

The republican city convention of Rochester, N. Y., has nominated A. J. Rodenbeck for mayor, substituting him for the present incumbent, Mayor Carnahan.

Professor Fowler, of the Puget Sound Bridge and Dredging Co., a Seattle corporation, has been notified that his firm has been awarded the government contract, valued at $2,000,000, for dredging the harbor of Manila and completing the outer Spanish breakwater.

Resolutions against the reckless admittance of undesirable immigrants to the United States were adopted yesterday at a largely attended meeting of the merchants and members of the board of trade of New York. President Roosevelt was urged to give the matter attention in his message to congress.

There is no foundation for the report published in the United States that Ambassador Choate, who purposes to sail for the United States with his family on Saturday to take a holiday, will not return to London.

THE PURITY CONVENTION.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 10.—Vice, its causes, effects and its remedies, were discussed in papers and addresses delivered at today's session of the National purity convention. Papers were read by Mrs. A. L. Biddle, of New York; Dr. J. H. Kellogg, of Battle Creek, Mich.; Miss Annie Goff, of London, and Elizabeth B. Grannis, of New York among others. Owing to the action of the House of Bishops of the Episcopal convention at San Francisco in forbidding Episcopal ministers from solemnizing marriages between "any man or woman divorced for any cause whatsoever," the address of Rev. D. D. Mitchell, of Winnipeg, received marked attention. His address was entitled "Divorce, not a matter of choice," and in a philosophical vein he mustered facts in support of his text.

GOLD AT NOME.

PORT TOWNSEND, Wn., Oct. 10.—The steamer Santa Ana has arrived from Nome, bringing 35 passengers and $100,000 in dust belonging to returning miners. Captain Strands reports that when he weighed anchor at Nome a considerable quantity of mud was brought up and some of the miners on board prospected it with the result that several small nuggets of gold were found, the largest of which was worth one dollar. The Santa Ana was anchored off shore and a half mile from shore in six fathoms of water, and the captain expresses the opinion that with a deep sea dredge a large amount of gold could be secured.

FREDERICK AND THE DUKE.

(Gleaner.)

The suggestion has been made and is received with considerable favor that Auditor General Beek accompany the civic delegation to St. John on the occasion of the visit next week of the Duke and Duchess of York; and that Mr. Beek be presented to their royal highnesses as the gentleman who as mayor of Fredericton received the Prince of Wales, now King Edward, the duke's father, upon the occasion of his majesty's visit to Fredericton forty years ago.

There are three others persons yet living who had important positions in the reception to the Prince of Wales and who, it is suggested, should accompany the mayor and aldermen to St. John when the civic address is presented to their royal highnesses. These three notable personages are John Hamilton Reid, who was chairman of the decorating committee on the occasion of the prince's visit; Alex. Block, who was an alderman on that memorable occasion and was one of the city council to receive our present king; and Miss Lizzie Wilson, who wrought all the artificial roses and other flowers which decorated the triumphal arch which spanned Queen street opposite the Normal school.

CANADA'S SUPREME COURT.

When the Supreme Court of Canada meets this month the judges who will compose the tribunal will be: Chief Justice Sir Henry Strong, aged 75, appointed to the court on its establishment in 1875, and made chief justice in 1892, on the death of Sir William J. Ritchie.

Judge Taschereau, aged 65, appointed in 1878, in succession to his cousin, Judge J. T. Taschereau, one of the original members of the court.

Judge Gwynne, aged 57, appointed in 1879, when Sir William Ritchie became chief justice in succession to Chief Justice Richards, the first to hold that position.

Judge Sedgewick, aged 53, appointed in 1893, while deputy minister of Justice, after the promotion of Judge Strong to the position of Chief Justice.

Judge Girouard, aged 55, appointed in 1888, in succession to Judge Fournier.

Judge Sir Louis H. Davies, aged 56, appointed in 1901, in succession to Judge King.

The Supreme Court as constituted in 1875 by the government of Hon. Alex. Mackenzie, when it was first established, had as judges: Chief Justice Richards, puisne judges Ritchie, Strong, Taschereau, Fournier and Henry Sir Henry Strong of this able body alone remains, and Mr. Justice King, subsequently appointed, passed away last summer. It was understood early in 1896 that Mr. Justice Gwynne was ready to retire on the statutory pension given to judges who have served for a long term, but he seems to have reconsidered his determination, as he still holds on to office, though 57 years of age.

BURGHIARS ROB CLAUD SPRECKELS.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The residence of Claus Spreckels, Clay street and Van Ness avenue, was entered by burglars last night. They forced a rear window while the family was at dinner, went upstairs and carried off jewelry valued at $5,000.

TURNED HIM LOOSE.

Lord Cadogan's gift of a chain of office to the Chelsea mayor recalls a story which has been current lately, says the St. James's Gazette. An alderman of one of the new boroughs, meeting a friend who occupied a similar position of dignity and usefulness in a neighboring district, said: "You have provided our mayor with a splendid chain: what are you doing for yours?" "Oh," replied his friend, "we are going to let our boulder run loose!"

SHE KNEW HIM.

EVERY WIFE SHOULD HAVE AN ALLOWANCE.

(The Ladies' Home Journal.)

It is one of the most humiliating elements in woman's life in America today, and one of the phases which is most uncompromisingly reflective upon American husbands, that a just allowance is withheld from many wives. No matter how small the allowance may be, so long as it is fair in proportion to the income earned, every wife should have a purse of her own, sacred to herself and her needs, and free from the slightest intrusion on the part of her husband. Every wife is entitled to this, and no young man—I care not how small his income nor what his reasoning may be—starts married life aright who withholds that courtesy and that right from his wife.

AFGHANISTAN AFFAIRS.

The death of Abdurrahman Khan, the Amir of Afghanistan, recalls the tragic events in that country. Before he became its ruler, it was in July, 1880, that he was chosen amir, in the same month in which Sir Frederick (now Lord) Roberts made his famous dash from Kabul to Kandahar. Robert crushed Ayoub Khan, and Abdurrahman, who had just returned from years of exile in Russian territory at Samarcand, was chosen amir by the people of Kabul, and acknowledged by the British Indian government. Then Roberts and the British forces retired, and the amir has ever since remained the friend of England as against the designs of Russia. Roberts had entered Afghanistan in 1879 to avenge the massacre of Sir Louis Cavagnar, the British envoy at Kabul, and seventy-eight British officers and soldiers. Abdurrahman Khan had gone into exile in 1880 because he had been defeated by his cousin, Ayoub Khan, and he opportunely returned at the time when the treachery of the latter was so severely punished by Roberts. It was Ayoub's turn to go into exile, while his cousin assumed the reins of power.

For 21 years Abdurrahman Khan has ruled the country with success. Originally the various provinces were ruled by sirdars, who were practically independent of the amir, being held in check either by divisions among themselves or by clever policy. But the late amir by degrees reduced the tribes to subordination, established a regular army of perhaps 60,000 men, and made his own power secure. The despatches yesterday stated that his son, the Sirdar Habibulla Khan, had been chosen amir. The new amir is the eldest son of Abdurrahman Khan, and is no doubt friendly to England, for he will receive, as his father did, £100,000 a year from the Indian government, besides quantities of arms and ammunition for his military forces. Afghanistan has no foreign relations with any other country than British India, but in all other respects independent.

The accession of the new amir has, according to the despatches, been accepted by his brothers and the sirdars and all is quiet at the capital. Harmony in Afghanistan means considerable to at least two other nations. That country has a significance out of all proportion to its size and population. Its area is only about 270,000 square miles, and its population about the same as that of Canada, yet its affairs are watched closely by more than one foreign office. The country forms, as it were, a barrier between Russian advances and British India. Through it there is easy access to the eastern possessions of Great Britain, and without an open door in that country there is no way by which Russia can obtain an easy entry to India.

Since the above was written a St. Petersburg despatch has come to hand stating that Russia favors the claims of the fourth son of Abdurrahman Khan to the throne, and that Russian troops are being ordered to the frontier in readiness if necessary to seize Herat. While one can never safely predict what will occur in Afghanistan, and while Russia would be very glad to have an amir of her own choosing at Kabul, it seems most probable that this is an alarmist despatch, and that the present amir will be able to hold the throne.

THE TORONTO FABIAN LEAGUE.

An interesting discussion took place in the Canadian Socialist League in Toronto on Sunday night on the question of public ownership. A declaration of principles was adopted, and one of them was public ownership of all the means of production, distribution and exchange. Dr. Hargrave, who was the socialist candidate in Central Toronto at the last dominion election, strongly opposed this paragraph. He said that the Fabian Society, which had done the most effective work for socialism in England, did not pronounce in favor of public ownership of all the means of production and distribution, but only such means as would conduce to industrial freedom. Even that was far more than he expected to see realized in his lifetime, and as practical men and women they should not aim at the unattainable, but keep on the earth.

Despite the vigorous opposition of Dr. Hargrave, however, the clause was almost unanimously adopted by the society.

An exchange says: "Toronto's chief of police advises that bicycles and baby carriages should be kept off the streets when the crowds turn out to see the duke and duchess, thereby reducing the danger of accidents."

Toronto's chief of police is a wise man, and this advice might well be taken in St. John. During the royal visit there will be crowds on the streets and baby carriages and bicycles would be better and safer at home.

THE INDIANS AT CALGARY.
 A Picturesque Group Reviewed by The Duke and Duchess.

(Regina, West.)
 After the review the royal party proceeded to the Indian encampment, at Shaganappie on a wide plateau among the foothills overlooking Calgary. Here two thousand Indians were assembled from the various reservations, including the Blackfoot, Cree and Sarcee. A tent was erected for the Duke and Duchess bearing the message "Kitikimsia tsimponion," signifying "Welcome" in the Blackfoot tongue, and before it squatted the great chiefs of the various nations smoking their pipes. Beyond were the children of the Indian schools of the district and beyond again were hundreds of Indian women with their paposes and blankets, the whole a great semi-circle of mounted Indians on their wary ponies. They were in full war paint and gaudy with turkey feathers, beads, cattle horns and many colored fabrics. The horses had been decorated with feathers and paint. The splendid little bodies of the almost naked Sarcee were brilliant with ochre which had been rubbed into face and legs.

Here the chiefs presented the duke with a royal address which was read. Several of the chiefs spoke in their native language. In reply to their address the duke made a lengthy reply. The duke cast his reply in high flow language, the only previous occasion on which he has during his tour having been in speaking to his native tongue. He pointed out that their pipes were empty and their hearths cold when the Great White Mother had come to their aid, but the part which he was speaking of was his hearth, his allusion to their loyalty during the rebellion of 1885. This allusion was loudly applauded by the chiefs and head men around him. The duke's reply was translated by a clever half-breed who repeated it to a chief who called it out in native tongue to the assembled tribes.

A war dance was gotten up for the benefit of the duchess.

SOUTH AFRICA.

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A despatch from Middelburg to the Times says: "Colonel Buller, in an engagement with Myburgh, killed two and wounded three Boers. He also captured 60 horses, 20 saddles, 8 rifles, 600 rounds of ammunition and many blankets."

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A despatch to the Times from Mafeking says: "Fifty mounted men of the Northumberland Fusiliers proceeded on the night of the 18th inst. from Lichtenburg to a farm at Dukerfontein with the object of capturing General Delarey, his staff and family. The farm was rushed at daybreak on the 19th inst. but Delarey had fled overnight. Eleven Boers were captured."

LONDON, Oct. 8.—A Johannesburg despatch to the Times says: "The following have been caught in arms in the Transvaal. They have been permanently banished from South Africa: Field Cornets Botha, Hugo, Nieuwoudt and Duijssels; Captains Olivier, Coetz, Coetz and Kruger; and Adjutant Van der Linde."

CAPE TOWN, Oct. 9.—Marital law will be modified in its application to the ports by leaving the docks, railroads and harbors under the control of the civil authorities. Military rule will be mitigated in some other respects.

MARINE MATTERS.

The new Battle line Bellia sailed yesterday morning for Cape Town via Londonburg with 54,633 bales of hay, which is equivalent to 2,700 tons. Schr. Chesle, previously reported damaged off Cape Blomford, repaired at Port Greville and proceeded on her way to New York.

The Donaldson line steamer Heftia has been fixed to load deals here for England next month at 36.

Schr. Merce, from Antigua and North Sydney for Baddeck, was wrecked at the entrance of the Big Bras d'Or lake; crew saved; vessel is now submerged.

Str. Oruro, Capt. Seeley, arrived yesterday from the West Indies with some 50 tons of cargo for this port and 500 for Halifax. The trip up Capt. Seeley describes as a delightful. The Oruro brought three British passengers, viz. Mrs. Merce and R. W. Dolan, from Antigua and Mr. Freeman from Bermuda. She will land here 14 Chinese passengers who are going from Demerara to Hong Kong.

The remains will be interred in Portland.

(Mail and Express.)
 We see a little coast Philippine village, eastward-looking, its low huts and palm trees commanded by a church and convent, joined together. The church has its dome and bell tower in this tower hangs a chime of bells, open to the weather. The town is known to be in the neighborhood. The sun has risen, and the mess-call has sounded on the bugles. All the village knows that the soldiers and officers are at their somewhat boisterous breakfast. The soldiers' arms are stacked within the enclosure made by the quarters. The whole town wears an aspect of perfect peace. The president, or mayor, has been a very friendly visitor of the American captain, young Connell, and his people have been profuse in their expressions of loyalty.

As the officers and men begin to breakfast, the people, dressed in their white, loose tunics, and trousers, begin to arrive for morning service in the church. Evidently some special service is taking place. Religious feast days are rather more common than work days in the Philippines. The bells of the convent begin to ring clamorously, and the people—not a man of them apparently armed—flock into the church in large numbers. The smiling president, the good friend of the Americans, is prominent among them. They advance with genuflection along the open floor, for there are no such things as seats in Philippine churches.

Doors give from the back of the church and convent to the space occupied by the troops. All at once, to the surprise of the unsuspecting officers and men, the band of sharpshooters begin swarming out of the church and convent into this space. Out from under their tunics they whip their bolos—savage sword-knives which they know very well how to handle. Before a command can be uttered, a hundred of these natives rush in between the breakfasting soldiers and their guns. A hundred others swarm out of the convent. At the same time a smaller force has fallen upon the three officers, captain and his two lieutenants, whom they cut down instantly. The soldiers, dropping their cups and mess-kits, are rushing for their guns, and fighting madly with their hands and with such revolvers and knives as they have, to regain the rifles. Meantime another force of natives, armed also with bolos, has poured in upon them from the rear. The bells have been a signal for a general attack from all directions.

Retreating, the old sergeant, has assumed command. The onslaught has been so sudden and so fierce that the majority of the soldiers have been already cut down. Betton and twenty-five of his men remain as many rifles, and for a time they beat back both waves of the assailants. But it is a losing fight. The surviving Americans are assailed by a mass of savages climbing over the bodies of their comrades. In the little interval in which they saw with the general, the soldiers devote themselves, in addition to their desperate fighting, to drawing out the bolts of the Krag-Jorgensen, thus rendering them useless. By and by, dragging with them such wounded men as they can move, they make their way, still fighting, to the shore, where they are cut down.

Union Blend tea is used by the masses used by all classes, use it and you profit, only if you lose.

SOLEMNIZATION OF MARRIAGE.
 SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8.—The action of greatest importance taken today by the tri-ennial Episcopal convention was the adoption by the convention of bishops by a vote of 37 to 21 of Canon 38, which relates to the solemnization of marriages. All of its provisions had previously been argued except those contained in section four, which forbade the marriage of persons divorced for any cause not existing before marriage.

"For any cause not existing before marriage," is understood to refer to such causes as insanity, inability to execute a contract, the existence of a living wife or husband, or like reasons which practically render the marriage null and void. This section has been a bone of contention, a strong element in the church holding that the re-marriage of the innocent party to a divorce, granted on the ground of infidelity should not be forbidden. The bishops have refused to accept this view of the matter.

RATS ATTACK CHILD.

Cries of Infant Brought Help Just in Time.
 WATERTOWN, Oct. 8.—The other night neighbors of Mrs. Mary Martin, who resides at No. 35 Court street, heard a child crying in her house, and, knowing that she was about from home, Fred Eaton broke in the door and found Mrs. Martin's 6-months' old daughter lying in a cradle screaming and almost covered by a swarm of rats.

Eaton drove the rats away, and called Dr. B. C. Cheeseman, who reached the house just after the mother returned. He found that the rats had fed the feet and legs of the child. Portions of it had been gone, and the parts remaining were badly lacerated by the sharp teeth of the rodents. He dressed the wounds and the child will probably live unless blood poisoning sets in.

There is full value in every package of Red Rose tea.

JOHAN MOST'S TRIAL.
 NEW YORK, Oct. 9.—Johan Most, the anarchist, was tried in the court of special sessions today on a charge of violation of section 69 of the penal code, in publishing on Sept. 13 an article in his paper, the Freiheit, entitled "Murder against murder." Most testified that the article had been published years ago and that he had copied it in the Freiheit on March 14, 1893, the time of it, but at the time of the murder of President McKinley, he said, was an unfortunate coincidence.

Decision was reserved until Monday next.

FREE BAPTISTS.
 Thought it advisable to Co-operate with Maritime Baptists in Educational and Missionary Work.

At the closing session of the Free Baptist conference at Fredericton it was resolved that 3,500 copies of the year book be printed and $200 per annum be spent in advertising in the Religious Intelligencer. It was decided to ordain H. H. Ferguson, A. A. Rideout and F. H. Knollin, to renew the license of J. H. Puddington to grant commissions to W. C. Wilson, E. H. Cochran, W. O. Kierstead, R. W. Ferguson and W. E. Kirkpatrick, and that Geo. Bolster be continued on a district license. The ordination services were then proceeded with.

Dr. McLeod, for the committee of resolutions, presented a report which touched upon the death of the queen, the accession of King Edward and the visit of the Duke of York.

Rev. L. A. Fenwick, for the home mission executive, reported: Receipts, $504.30; expenditures, $501.58; balance, $2.72. Gideon McLeod reported for the sick and disabled members fund: Receipts, $275.76; expenditure, $20; balance, $255.76.

Resolved, on motion of Rev. Dr. Hartley, seconded by Dr. McLeod Vince, that "as God has blessed us as a people while teaching the doctrine of free grace, free agency, free salvation and free and open communion, therefore we will continue to urge home to the hearts of the people the Scripture truthfulness of these doctrines with unabated earnestness."

Rev. Jos. McLeod, from committee on Maritime Baptists' proposal, reported that while rejoicing in their prosperity and reciprocating their feelings of friendship, yet this conference thought it inadvisable to co-operate in the education and missionary schemes proposed.

Conference adjourned sine die.

POLICE COURT.

Charged with Attempted Robbery—An Array of Drunks—A Squabble.

There seemed to be no satisfactory reason why John Oren should have left the sweet smelling woods of Maine to be arrested in St. John, but last night such a thing did happen. In the police court this morning he explained that he had never been arrested for drunkenness here before. But then he hadn't been long in the city. Four or ten.

Frank Blizard, of Fredericton, occupied a comfortable corner of the bench, charged with being drunk and with indecent conduct. He wastes no words in idle talk.

"Frank Blizard!"
 "Here!"
 "You are charged with being drunk
 on the ferry boats!"
 "Drunk!"
 "Yes!"
 "Drunk!"
 "Drunk!"

"Guiltily. How long?"
 "Eight dollars or twenty days."
 Joseph McDonald and Fred Donnelly were arrested by Officers Lee and White about one o'clock this morning for assaulting John E. Slater on the north side of King Square. The evidence given went to show that while the affair may have provided some thrilling amusement for onlookers, it did not appear very favorably to the victim.

Slater had come to town on the late train with forty dollars and three brass knuckles, and was looking for a boarding house. Four men accosted him at the corner of Sydney street and King Square, and tried to persuade him to leave the paths of virtue. They grabbed the knuckles and commenced striking at him. Then he ran and two of them endeavored to follow, but accidentally met the police officers. They were remanded until two o'clock in order that they might bring witnesses.

James Brown, for being drunk on Charlotte street, was fined four dollars or eight days.

The two boys, Louis Kinsella and Arthur Winter, charged with breaking and entering Robt. J. Ritchie's store on Charlotte street, were remanded
 until tomorrow.

A quarrel between two women, who live in the one house, and which started in a difference over the water supply in the house and ended rather roughly, was allowed to stand until Saturday.

STREET ROLLER RAN AWAY.
 Some part of the machinery of the street roller working on the north side of Queen square, this morning gave way just as the roller was back of the hill leading down to Charlotte street. It started slowly and ponderously on its career, and gained impetus as it went along. The men in charge were unable to stop its progress, and it looked as if it would dash down the hill, facing on Charlotte street. Fortunately the gutter is rather deep and the roller dropped back into it after hitting the front of the Queen's rink
 a gentle bump, that damaged only a few clapboards.

AWARDED ONE HUNDRED AND FIFTY DOLLARS.
 In admiralty court today Judge Mc-Leod gave a decision for the plaintiff
 in the case of Geo. Dickson v. Sch.
 Comrade, for $150 and costs. The Comrade went ashore near Goose River, parish of St. Martins, in July, 1900,
 and was towed off by the schooner Susie Pearl, Capt. Dickson, and taken to Bruce River. Capt. Dickson entered a claim for $1,200 salvage. The costs in the case are heavy, and with the award will almost equal the original claim. L. A. Curry, K. C., and A. A. Stockton, K. C., for the plaintiff, and Att. Gen. Pugsley and A. P. Barnhill for the defendant.

THE ARCHES.
 Work was this morning begun on the arch to be erected at the corner of Mill and Pond streets. There is a complicated structure lying at the corner of Douglas avenue and Main street which the residents fear may be the beginning of another arch, but of which no satisfactory explanation can be had. A rumor is afloat in the city that the football goal posts from the Athletic grounds are to be brought to the city and converted into arches, but this rumor cannot be verified.

BOY'S WORK.
 E. M. Robinson, of New York, international secretary of the Boys' Work in connection with the Y. M. C. A., is in town. Last evening a number of those interested in this department met at White's restaurant, and after supper an informal discussion ensued. Mr.
 Robinson is a native of New Brunswick and is the founder of the Maritime Boys' camp.

 dence of the late William Hocking, 79

 low and spring; dining room table,

UNHAPPY CAPT. PITT.
 The ship Addio Paddock is tied up on account of the illness of Mr.
 Stevenson, the commandant. Captain Pitt is now in the city looking for another experienced mischance to assume control of her interior complications, and hopes in a day or two to be able to again compete with M. Santos De-mont for the 100,000 francs offered.

TODAY'S FUNERALS.
 The funeral of the late Mrs. Annie Clark took place this afternoon from the residence of John McEachran, Forrest street. Shortly after two o'clock the body was taken to the Brindley
 street barracks, where, under the leadership of Brigadier Sharp, representatives of the Salvation army from all sections of the city had gathered to join in the funeral service. After the service the body was taken for interment to the Church of England ground.
 The procession was a large one, and the Salvation Army band was in attendance.

The body of the late Mrs. Catherine Doherty, widow of the late Frederick J. Doherty, will be taken by the evening's train to Fredericton, where interment will take place. At four o'clock this afternoon a service will be held at her late residence, Frederick street.

The body of the late Nathan Kaplan,
 who was murdered in Clark's Harbor,
 will arrive in this city by steamer from Digby this evening. It will be met by a number of the members of the Jewish congregation, and the funeral will take place from the boat to the Jewish cemetery. Rabbi Welensky will conduct the services at the grave.

There was a large attendance at the funeral of the late Mrs. Elizabeth Everett, wife of Charles A. Everett, which took place from her late home, 37 Brussels street, this afternoon. Services were conducted at the house at half-past two o'clock by the Rev. J. D.
 Doherty, after which the body was taken for interment to Fernhill cem-

FOR MERCHANTS' WEEK.
 A circular is being issued by the board of trade to the merchants of the maritime provinces. The board hopes that many merchants may be able to take advantage of the inducements offered by the transportation lines, and visit the city; and while enjoying the festivities on the occasion of the royal visit, may be able to spare time to visit the merchants with whom they do business.

The board of trade rooms and bureau of information of the Tourist Association, 55 Prince William street will be open to all visiting merchants
 and others during exhibition week.
 Return tickets will be issued at one single first class fare, good to leave on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 15th, 16th and 17th, and good to return, leaving St. John up to and including Wednesday, Oct. 23rd, 1901; excepting in the case of the Dominion Atlantic railway, where tickets will be good to leave on Monday, October 14th, Wednesday, October 16th and Thursday, October 17th, returning up to and including Wednesday, October 23rd.
 Excursions by the Intercolonial railway apply only to their line in New Brunswick.

ANOTHER TROUBLE.
 (Moncton Transcript.)
 The royal train and vice-royal train are, it is understood, to carry telegraph operators that is baggage men who can operate. Men have been intitled and measured for suits; now it is stated that men under Mr. Dube of Levis are to run through to St. John and Halifax off their own divisions.
 This is unfair to the local men, and especially so on the Quebec and men from here would not be tolerated off their divisions. The local men should be given a show-when honors are going.

CONDUCTORS FOR ROYAL TRAIN.
 An order has been issued on the I.
 C. R. changing the conductors who will have charge of the sections of the royal train. The latest order has been made so that the honor will go by seniority. Instead of Conductor Coffey, Conductor Andrew Haines of St. John, will have charge of the section carrying the Duke and Duchess. Conductor Duncan, of Halifax, will have charge of the section carrying Earl and Lady Minto, instead of Conductor Berry, as before announced. Conductors Rahn and Duncan are the oldest in point of service on the road.

WANTED.
 Five hundred carpenters, joiners,
 machine hands and finishers to attend
 a meeting of the United Woodworkers
 to be held in Laborers' Union hall, Water street, Friday, 8 p. m. J. A.
 Flatt will address the meeting.

CONTRADICTION.
 It is officially denied that the elevated stand which has been built over the King square fountain is intended as a pulpit for Lewis Austin, the colored evangelist.

George A. Henderson brought a lovely bunch of dog-tooth violets into town today. The flowers picked at the Chateau.
