SPORTING MATTERS

INTERNATIONAL CRICKET MATCH

American Eleven is by No Means Strong

Poor Work on Both Sides

TORONTO, Aug. 5.—The international cricket match began today at Rosedale. A fair sprinkling of spectators was present. The day's cricket showed the American eleven to be by no means strong. Their batting was for the most part scratch and unenthusiastic, and had the Canadian fielding been all it should have been the United States score would have been appreciably less. The Canadian batting also was quite disappointing, and but for Hill's determined play the innings might have resulted in complete failure. Two bowlers distinguished themselves. Leroy for the Americans taking seven wickets for 41, and Black for the Canadians in the second innings securing three wickets for 7 in a few minutes left for play. At one period Leroy's analysis read 15 balls, 6 runs, 5 wickets.

WELL KNOWN NORTH END BOXER KILLED IN MAINE.

Tom Day, Better Known as "Tom Dingee," a South African Veteran, and a Well Known Boxer, Crushed so Badly by B. & A. Train at Brownville Junction Yesterday, That Death Resulted Within a Few Hours.

Thomas Day of this city, who is better known as "Tom Dingee," was so badly injured in a railway accident at Brownville Junction yesterday that his death occurred a few hours later. It appears that after seeing a friend away on the train he was endeavoring to make a short cut across the tracks by climbing through between the cars when the train started, causing him to fall. Part of the train passed over him, terribly crushing both of his legs and his left arm.

Day was well known in this city, having been born on Brook street in the North End. He took a great interest in sports and has figured in a number of fistie contests. While in South Africa Day won quite a name for himself as a pugilist, and when he returned he fought quite a number of battles in the ring. His last fight was with Bartley Connolly at Engle Lake a few weeks ago, when he bested the Maine boxer.

The deceased went from this city with the first contingent that left for South Africa. Since his return he has spent the greater part of his time in the United States. A little less than a year ago he was in St. John, and while here he was employed in scowling deals.

The fire had no effect on the working of the Sydney plant, as there was enough ore on hand here to keep the plant running until the new pier was built. The new pier is a fine piece of engineering and will be a great help to the Dominion Iron and Steel Co. in their work in reconstructing the pier. It was generally anticipated that the job would take from two to three months.

Ald. McCordick will interview G. S. Mayes and ascertain from him what dredging is necessary at the various berths and obtain a figure as to the cost of the work.

An address of congratulation was ordered to be drawn up to present to Dr. William Bayard.

A report from the sub-committee of the board of works asking that the Street Railway Co. be granted extension of time to complete their lines on the West side was passed.

A discussion took place over the grant to the firemen's tournament. Ald. He thought the money would be spent for a better purpose than that by the purchasing of fireworks, etc. His idea was not approved.

Experiments in Winter Wheat - Crop Prospects Continue to be Very Bright

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 5. - The concluding sessions of the Beef Commission for this province was held in Edmonton, and marked the completion of an investigation that went deep enough into the details of the stock raising and meat-packing business to afford data of some real value to the country and the government.

Prices are higher than there seems to be any justification for, yet the farmer is not reaping as large a proportion of the profits as he might reasonably consider himself entitled to.

WANT TO LEARN WELSH.

Ten Thousand Cardiff Children Make Application

LONDON, Aug. 5.-Cardiff Education Committee have been placed in a quandary by the appeal of over 10,000 children in the elementary schools to be taught Welsh.

Up to six months ago Welsh was an obligatory subject in Standards I, II, and III, and the teachers were qualified themselves to introduce the subject gradually into the higher standards. Then came an outcry against compulsory teaching of the subject, and eventually the British League was formed. The city was divided into hostile camps on the subject, and eventually by a narrow majority, the council instructed the Education Committee to make Welsh an optional instead of an obligatory subject-a decision that means splitting the classes in the schools, and renders necessary the appointment of supplementary teachers. A plebiscite was ordered to be taken of the 24,428 children who attended the schools, and as a result requests have been made for Welsh teaching on behalf of 10,000 children. The Director of Education, Mr. J. J. Jackson, states that the additional cost of the new arrangements would be £1,750 per annum.

WIRELESS PHONES.

Experimental Stations Now at Oxford and Cambridge

LONDON, Aug. 5.-Experiments in wireless telephony are shortly to be conducted on an extensive scale in Great Britain. For some time past experts have been making investigations in Germany and Denmark, and so successful have these proved in the latter country that two persons, twenty-five miles apart, speaking into instruments totally unconnected by wires, were able to converse distinctly.

The Amalgamated Radio-Telegraph Company possess experimental wireless telegraph stations at Oxford and Cambridge. These are now being controlled by Mr. Poulsen, the Danish inventor, and the management hope that when arrangements are completed the voice of a person at Cambridge will be audible at Oxford, sixty miles away. Whether the system will ever prove "commercially possible" remains to be seen. The great obstacle to this has hitherto been the difficulty of obtaining some scheme of perfect attenuation, in order that messages sent from a certain transmitter should not be received at any station other than that for which they are intended. This obstacle the Amalgamated Radio-Telegraph Company now claim to have overcome.

A MADMAN'S FREAK.

Walked Around Three Stories Above Ground, Gave an Address to Those Seeking to Capture Him

EDMONTON, Alta., Aug. 6.-Providence, together with the anxious care of the nursing staff of Mitericordia Hospital, saved George E. Wood, a young carpenter, from a horrible death yesterday. The ward where the man was on the third story of the hospital, and a stone cornice a foot wide runs around the building on a level with the window-sills. Wood made a dash for the window, and to the consternation of the nurses, set himself to walking along the stone cornice. He paraded up and down the cornice, garbed like the acrobats, to a large extent, in his own majesty, until he finally reached the tower at the corner of the hospital. There he stood and commenced an address to an audience gathered on the street below. Some of the staff of the hospital coaxed the man to return to the ward, but he was deaf to their appeals. He did not share their terrible fear that he might slip and be hurled to death on the ground floor below. Finally a neighbor was sent for and a bottle of whiskey produced. With this one of the nurses calmed the man in from his perilous position, and, once safely within, the windows were closed and the man was detained until the police authorities arrived.

BOOMING THE IDEA OF A PERMANENT HAGUE COURT

THE HAGUE, Aug. 5.-Joseph H. Choate and James Brown Scott, of the American delegation to the peace conference, spent the entire day today conferring with the leading delegates about the American proposal for the establishment of a permanent court of arbitration at The Hague, which is to come up for discussion tomorrow before a special commission.

The institution of a permanent court is now considered definitely assured. Even if the differences arising from the appointment of the judges should prevent the adhesion of some of the smaller countries the court will be established by the great powers, America and Great Britain alone having enough cases to present to keep the court busy for several years. The influence on the reputation of the court through its sentences, it is believed, will gradually attract the countries which might refrain from taking part in its establishment.

FRANCE AND MOROCCO.

The presence of a number of warships of different nationalities on the Moroccan coast will no doubt prove a powerful sedative to those natives who during the past week have amused themselves by slaughtering Europeans and other. But the ships cannot remain there forever, and so long as the Sultan, a totally irresponsible ruler, is permitted to exercise nominal control the situation is liable to become dangerous at a moment's notice. By the terms of the Algeiras conference France and Spain were delegated to perform police duty under certain conditions. That measure of order which has prevailed during the past few years has been maintained solely by the efforts of Cald Sir Harry McLean, the Sultan's chief advisor. Since his abduction by Raisuli pandemonium has broken loose and outside intervention has become absolutely necessary. France and Britain had previously arranged on joint action, but the interference of Germany which threatened the peace of the world, and which necessitated the Algeiras conference, blocked the plans of the other powers. Germany of course feared that the proposed arrangement would lead to the extension of French influence in northern Africa and determined to oppose this. The conference imposed police duties on France and Spain, and this authority is now about to be exercised. It is at present the safest course, though there is a possibility that Germany, in spite of the fact that she is seeking French friendship, may still retain suspicions and may object to whatever programme is adopted. This is a risk which France must take, but there is little doubt that she will be supported by those other powers which participated in the conference, and which desire to have an end put to the series of outbreaks which of late have shocked the world. The position of France is a delicate one, but since it is realized that decisive action is necessary, the fear of European complications will not likely hinder her in the performance of her duty.

IN WEST ST. JOHN.

News from the west side these days is more cheerful than at any time in the past few months. It appears that the dredging for the second section of the wharf is going along very well, that several of the city sites are almost completed, and that the sinking of the crisis may be commenced within a very few days. There is no hope that this second berth will be ready for the coming winter's business, but construction may be so far advanced that the work will be over before the cold weather sets in. On the first portion of the wharf, differences between the contractors have been brought to harmonize with the ideas of the engineer or chairman of the board of works or whoever is supposed to be in charge. Construction of the warehouse or rather the preliminary work, has commenced, and this contract will no doubt be hurried, though too much need not be expected. Even when all this is done, considerable will be left for the civil engineer to supervise, in the surveying for tracks, planning the construction by the railroad company of the grain conveyor, and rebuilding Union street. This last mentioned undertaking is most important of the lot, and there is reason to fear that trouble will be encountered there. The Sand Point basin must be dredged right up to the street line if steamers are to be handled easily and with safety at the new wharf, and this dredging will inevitably result in a landslide unless the greatest precautions are taken. The situation, however, is clearing, though it would be very unwise for anyone to become too optimistic about facilities for next winter's trade.

THE SLEEPING CAR GRAFT.

The Canadian Railway Commission has enforced many reforms in railroad management, has done much to make the lot of the Canadian traveller safer and cheaper. But there is much yet to be done, and as one of the abuses which the long-suffering public is enduring some relief, we beg to suggest the sleeping car extortion. From Holyhead, England, to London, you can ride in a sleeping car where you have a bed room to yourself, a roomy, comfortable bed, no berth over you, a chair, complete toilet accessories, seclusion, privacy and ease. And for all this you pay $1.50. In this country travelling a similar distance you must pay $2 or more for the privilege of undressing in public and retiring on a shelf. For anything approaching the accommodations of the Holyhead-London sleeping car you would pay in Canada for a similar distance about $7.

We recognize that the Railway Commission is very busy. It is not to be expected that it can do everything at once. Possibly, owing to the fact that the Pullman monopoly controls the sleeping car service on most Canadian lines, it can do nothing in this matter. But the situation certainly demands an effort. —The Sun.

"ONLY SEVEN."

(A Pastoral Story After Wordsworth.) I marvel'd why a simple child, That lightly draws its breath, Should utter goings so very wild, And look as pale as Death.

Adopting a parental tone, I ask'd her why she cried; The damed answer'd with a groan, "I've got a pain inside!"

"I thought it would have sent me mad Last night about eleven!" Said I, "What is it makes you sad? How many apples have you had?" She answer'd, "Only Seven!"

"And are you sure you took no more, My little maid?" quoth I; "Oh! please, Sir, mother gave me four, But they were in a pie!"

"If that's the case," I stammer'd out, "Of course, you've had eleven!" The maiden answer'd, with a pout, "I ain't had more nor seven!"

I wonder'd hugely what she meant, And said, "I'm bad at riddles; But I know where little girls are sent."

For telling taradiddles! Now, if you don't reform," said I, "You'll never go to Heaven." But all in vain; each time I try, That little idiot makes reply, "I ain't had more nor seven!"

POSTSCRIPT.

To borrow Wordsworth's name was wrong, Or slightly misapplied; And so, I'd better call my song "Scenes After Ache-Inside!"

THE DESERTED DOLL SPEAKS.

The "Teddy Bear" destroys the instinct of motherhood in little girls— interview with an observing priest.

She put me away last summer and told me she didn't care; She was weary of lips like cherries, and pink cheeks and golden hair; She had fallen in love, she whispered with a "cute" little Teddy Bear!

So I've waited in here in the darkness, Oh, the hours I've spent in longing for the touch of her baby hand! For, even though she loves another, She holds me in iron bands.

If my rival were only handsome I would never have shed a tear, But ugh! that horrid monster that I never would let come near!

Oh, the thought of that bear and her Highness is driving me mad, I fear. But I hope some bright, bright morning, she will turn to her love of old, And the Teddy Bear's place will be taken by her dolly's head of gold; And the arms of her Loving Highness will my waiting arms enfold!

Lawrence Mott, author and automobilist, condemned scorching at a dinner. "I condemn," he said, "scorching and the scorchers, but I don't condemn the accused man hastily. Heavy condemnation is always a mistake."

"There was a man beside me gobbling away, and when he finished I heard him say bitterly, as he took out his purse: "Call that a ham sandwich? It's the worst ham sandwich I ever ate. No more taste than sand, and so small you could hardly see it!"

"You've er ticket," said the waiter. "This here's yer ham sandwich."

"High finance is not confined entirely to Wall street," said John E. Wilkie, chief of the secret service. "I saw an example of it the other day that made me dizzy."

"One of the clerks in the treasury wanted to go to the ball game. He had but 25 cents, his exact admission, and nothing for car fare."

"My teacher's name is Brown," said the first little girl. "My teacher's name," replied the other little girl, "is Davis, but I don't know what color it is."

"Aren't your shoes comfortable?" "I don't know, but my feet aren't."

SAGACITY OF THE ANCIENTS.

Many quotations came from the works of Thales, the Greek philosopher, and one of the seven wise men. It was he who said, "Know thyself."

"Few words are a sign of prudent judgment." "Search after wisdom and choose what is most worthy." "There is nothing more beautiful than the world." "Time is the wisest thing, for it invents and discovers all things."

He also said that it was the hardest thing in the world to know oneself, and the easiest to admonish others. In his youth Thales was urged to marry, but he said, "It is too soon," and later in life upon being urged again, he said, "It is too late."

THERE IS HOPE.

Said the peace dove, "My brood at The Hague Is very distressingly vague, Po' the man with the gun Is still looking for fun. But at least I have there laid an egg!" —Lippincott's.

WORSE EVEN THAN THE CONGO STATE

Rev. Dr. Mackay Describes Japan's Treatment of Corea.

Ashamed That British Influence Should be Behind Actions of Japanese Government

(Mail and Empire.) Rev. Dr. R. P. Mackay, general secretary of Foreign Missions for the Presbyterian Church in Canada, in a letter to Mr. Hamilton Cassels, K. C., gives a very different idea of the Japanese people from that which is generally accepted nowadays. Dr. Mackay is on a tour of inspection of the Presbyterian missions in the East, and is now in Manchuria, having gone there from Corea. He describes the Japanese Government's treatment of the Koreans as barbarous and atrocious.

"It is oppression—atrocious oppression," he says. "I was a Japanese enthusiast until I came here, but I have changed in spite of myself. They have spent tens of thousands in writing themselves up and winning the confidence of Europe and America, and thus securing moral support and funds. Yet in reality they are barbarians. Their treatment of the Koreans is scarcely less atrocious than the horrors of the Congo."

WILLIAM AND NICHOLAS TOGETHER AT SEA

Conference of Rulers Tends to Strengthen the Friendship of the Two Nations. SWINEMUNDE, Aug. 5.—Emperor William, of Germany, and Emperor Nicholas, of Russia, have spent the entire day together at sea. A review of the German fleet was witnessed in the morning from the German battleship Deutschland and this evening was a reception on board the Russian Imperial yacht Standart.

A semi-official communication regarding the meeting of the two sovereigns declared that their conferences have served further to strengthen the traditional friendly relations between them and that the meeting has given proof of the good understanding existing today between the leading statesmen of the two countries. "It is declared from the same semi-official source that neither the silliness of Russia and Germany, nor the relations of either power with other powers have been affected as a result of the meeting, in the course of which both rulers expressed the most earnest desire that the present period of peace in the world continue adding the hope that the Swinemunde meeting would assist in the maintenance of universal confidence in peace."

TRIED TO CHOP HIS CHUM'S BODY TO PIECES

Man Murdered His Friend and Narrowly Escaped Lynching—They Fought Over a Woman.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Aug. 5.—After, it is charged by the police, shooting his chum dead and then attempting to chop the body to pieces with a hatchet in the street at Blair Station, twenty-four miles from this city Adam Laczach, a foreigner, was rescued from a mob that tried to lynch him tonight and landed in jail at Clatsco. The shooting occurred in the main street at Blair Station and was the result of a complaint made to the police by Joseph Warech against his friend Laczach. The latter met Warech and asked him why he made the complaint. Before Warech could reply Laczach shot him twice with a 35-calibre revolver. Mortally wounded Warech fell and Laczach drew from his clothing a hatchet.

YOUNG MAN SAVES THREE LIVES IN THREE WEEKS

PORTLAND, Me., Aug. 5.—John Anglin, a barber, employed on Franklin street, was rescued from the dock between Portland pier and Commercial wharf today after an attempt to commit suicide following a dispute with a woman and while in an intoxicated condition, according to the police. His rescue was accomplished by Arthur Snowden, a youth, who has within three weeks, rescued three other persons from a watery grave. The rescue was watched by fully 50 people. While the dispute was in progress, Anglin threw off his hat and coat and jumped into the water. Snowden put out in a boat and succeeded in pulling him from the water. The woman disappeared. Anglin was taken to the police station after being revived.

PLENTY OF GOLD REMAINS IN YUKON

Government Examiners Estimate Future Output at About $64,000,000. OTTAWA, Ont., Aug. 5.—The Government has had an examination made of the gold producing districts of the Yukon to see what amount of gold was still to be gained from gravel banks, hillsides and valleys, where the pioneer miner with placer methods has skinned off the rich cream. Four experts spent a season sampling, surveying, boring and measuring the gravels. They estimate that there is still almost $64,000,000 gold to be taken from the gravels, from which $19,000,000 had been taken. The miners up to present have been getting gold from rich gravels by crude placer methods. To recover what is still scattered through the soil, there will have to be applied such advanced methods of mining as hydraulic washing and dredging. The report also states that the estimate of the output may have to be revised as new discoveries are probable. A careful examination was made of Upper Bonanza Hills, Klondike River Hill Gravels, Hunter Creek Hills and Eldorado, Bonanza, Bear and Hunter Creeks. They have yielded $84,700,000 gold and it is estimated they still hold $5,842,500. A less thorough examination was made of the Indian River slope, which has yielded $24,250,000 and from which it is estimated there is still to be won from eight to ten millions, making the total assured future output about $68,000,000. The examination and report was made by R. G. McConnell, of the Geological Survey, assisted by Joseph Keele, a geologist; F. H. McLaren and F. O'Farrell, topographers. The report gives an interesting statement of variations in gold values. It says: "Klondike gold varies greatly in grade not only on different creeks, but also along different portions of the same creek." "The difference of grade is due to the gold being in all cases alloyed with silver in varying proportions. The lowest grade gold camp occurs in Big Shookum and Henry Gulches, and has a value of about $12.50 per ounce. The highest grade gold on the Klondike Creeks is found on Upper Hunter Creek where assays occasionally exceed $125.00 per ounce. The gold from Gold Run Creek on the Indian River slope averages over $17.50 per ounce, and assays at $17.75 per ounce. The average value of all the gold shipped from the Camp in 1905, according to the U. S. Mint returns, amounted to $14.02 in gold and $10.94 in silver. In the lowest grade gold, the silver almost equals the gold in volume, the ratio being 1 to 1.4. In the high grade gold the ratio is 1 to 5, and the general average is 1 to 2.3. In value the ratio of silver to gold is very small, the proportion calculated from a number of returns being approximately 1 to 100. The total gold production of the camp is estimated at $119,000,000 and the silver at $793,000.

VOLVIA SAYS HE WILL START ANOTHER ZION

CHICAGO, Ill., Aug. 5.—Refusing the granting of his petition that he be appointed by Judge Landis of the United States district court as co-receiver with John C. Hately, now in charge of the Zion City property, and unheeding in his protests against the sale of the Zion City property, Overseer Wilbur Glenn Volvia, who usurped the place of John Alexander Dowse, as head of the Christian Catholic Church, today asserted his defiance of the forces organized against him, and declared that he would abandon Zion City to establish a colony of his own elsewhere.

SOPHY OF KRAVONIA.

A Novel, by Anthony Hope
Author of "Prisoner of Zenda," "The Intrusions Peggy," Etc.

By the window she sat on the night of the King's name-day on a low chair. The heavy figure of a girl carrying a lamp—a specimen of her landlord's superfluous stock—stood unemployed on the window-sill. The room was dark, for the path of light from the illumination, which made the roadway below white, threw hardly a gleam on to its sombre walls; but Sophy had no need of a lamp and every need to save her money. She sat in the gloom, luscious in thought, the fresh evening air breathing soft and cool on her brow from the open window.
"Return to your barracks at once and report yourself under stringent arrest. I will deal with you tomorrow."
"And tonight, Sergius Stefanovitch?"
"At least he was being as good as his word, as was acting up to the standard he had thrown out so boldly in the great hall of the Golden Lion."
"Tomorrow we shall both be cooler,"
"He was almost up to scratch now,"
"Stand out of my way, sir,"
"Mistich did not budge. There's room for you to pass by," he said. "It won't hurt you. But the middle of the road belongs to me tonight."
"His voice seemed to grow clearer with every word; the critical encounter was sobering him. Yet with sobriety came no diminution of defiance. Doubtless he saw that he was acting for the worst now, that forward was the word and retreat impossible. Probably for the moment he did not intend for the Prince to pass by, but he intended to stand by the door, and he would not lack shelter, friends or partisans if he dared the desperate venture. He said for himself that there were few things he did not dare. He dared now, growing sober, to stand by what the times of wine had fired his tongue to."
"For a moment after the big man's taunt the Prince stood motionless. Then he drew his scimitar. It looked as though he meant to charge, and which sprang in answer from Mistich's scabbard."
"A duel between gentlemen!" the Captain cried.
"The Prince gave a short laugh. "You shall have no such plea at the court-martial," he said. "Goodness, don't waglay one another, in the streets. Stand aside!"
Mistich laughed, and in an instant the Prince sprang at him. Sophy heard the blades meet. Strong as death was the fascination for her eyes—ay, for her ears too, for she had just heard the moving feet and the quicker breathing of the mortal combat. But she would not look—she tried not even to listen. Her eyes were for the man she could not see, her ears for the man she could not hear. She remembered the lean fellow in the front of the crowd, the man in the window. She dared not call to warn the Prince of him, a turn of the head, a moment of intention would cost her combatant his life. She took the man in the porch for her own adversary, his undoing for her share of the fight."
"Very cautiously, making no sound, she took the heavy lamp—the massive bronze figure of the girl—raised it passively in both hands, and pointed it half-way over the window-sill. Then she turned her eyes down to watch the mouth of the porch. Her cut was a hot hole. Yet suddenly the Prince came into her view; he circled half-way round Mistich, then sank on one knee; he heard him say, "Go back to your heels with lightning-quick movements of his nimble soldier. He was holding a pistol for hundreds of years at the end of his parry with an upward-tipping stroke under the adversary's nose, to strike the temple, the side of his forehead and cut the tendons of the wrist. The trick big Captain Mistich, a man of the plains, did not know."
"A single—slither—a blow of pain, of rage! The Prince had made his mark. The billows of Volens were justified of their pupil. Mistich's big sword clattered on the flags. Facing his enemy with his back to the porch, the Prince crouched motionless on his knee; but it was death to Mistich to try to reach the sword with his un-maimed hand."
"It was Sophy's minute; the message that it had come ran fierce through all her veins, straining to the weight raised the figure in her arms and leaned out of the window. Yes, a lean hand with a long, thin, arrow, the window, long back, crept out of the darkness of the porch—crept silently. The body drew itself together for a fatal trust. It would be death—and to Mistich salvation torn from the jaws of ruin."
"Surrender yourself, Captain Mistich," said the Prince.
Mistich's eyes went by his conqueror's, and saw a shadow on the path beside the porch.
"I surrender, sir," he said.
"Never!" Mistich roared.
The crouching figure sprang—and with a hideous cry fell struck on the flags. Just below the neck, full on the spine, had crashed the Virgin in the lamp. Sterkoff lay very still, save that his fingers scratched the flags. Turning, the Prince saw a bronze figure at his feet, a bronze figure holding a broken lamp. Looking up, he saw dimly a woman's white face at a window.
"Then the street was on a sudden full of men. Rastatz had burst into the Golden Lion, all undressed for a race, almost sense gone. He could stammer no more than this: "They'll fight!" and could not say who. But he had gone out with Mistich—and whom they had gone to meet?
"A dozen officers were round him in a minute, trying: "Where? Where?"
"He broke into frightened sobs, hiding his face in his hands. It was Max von Holbrandt who made him speak. Forgetting his pretty friend, he sprang in among the officers, caught Rastatz by the throat, and put a revolver to his head."
"Where? In ten seconds—where?" Terror beat terror. "The Street of the Fountain—the Silver Cock!" the cry answered, and fell to his hubbubbing again.
"The dozen officers, and more, were across the Square almost before he had finished. Max von Holbrandt, with half the now lessened company in the inn, was hot on their heels.
"For that night all was at an end. Sterkoff was picked up, unconscious now. Sullen, but never cringing, Mistich was marched off to the guard-room and the surgeon's ministrations. Every soldier was ordered to his quarters, the townsfolk slunk off to their

RIOTS AND BLOODSHED FOLLOW
ATTEMPTS OF BOURASSA AND LAVERGNE TO ADDRESS MEETING.

QUEBEC, Aug. 5.—Blood was shed, windows and electric lights were smashed and five arrests were made in the course of a tumultuous meeting of the Jacques Cartier squares tonight, when Henri Bourassa, M. P. for La Belle, attempted to outline the programme which he mapped out since his entry into the arena of provincial politics. The disturbance which started at the outset of the meeting was caused by some hundred young ruffians stationed near the speaker's platform. Armand Lavergne, M. P. for Montmagny, the editor of one of the French dailies, came to blows over the trouble.
Finally Mr. Bourassa was forced to cut his speech short. Eggs, stones and sticks flew right and left, and many of the front of the crowd were struck. Mr. Bourassa himself escaped injury. When the politicians returned to the Chateau Frontenac, a prominent lawyer of Montreal and the editor of one of the French dailies, came to blows over the trouble.

WILL TAKE CASE
TO PRIVY COUNCIL
Pilot Commissioners Granted Leave to Appeal in Cumberland Coal Gas Case

The case of the Cumberland Railway and Coal Company against the St. John Pilot Commissioners will soon be taken before the Privy Council. The company had several barges for the purpose of carrying coal, and the commissioners held they were liable for pilotage here. The fees were paid, but the company maintained, as they had no propelling power and could not get along without a tow being supplied by tugs or other means, the barges did not come under the law. On the strength of a Quebec case, the company took action to recover $8,122, and Judge McLeod gave his decision in their favor. The decision has been approved both by the supreme court at Fredericton and at Ottawa. Leave has now been granted to appeal from the Ottawa decision.
E. H. McAlpine, K.C., and C. J. Coster, K.C., appeared for the pilot commissioners, and H. H. McLean, K.C., and F. R. Taylor for the Cumberland Railway and Coal Co. E. L. Newcombe, deputy minister of justice, presented the petition to the Privy Council for leave to appeal on behalf of the commissioners.

A SOCIALIST PICNIC
TORONTO, Ont., Aug. 5.—The socialist picnic was an event of Toronto's quiet holiday, about five hundred English, Russian, Finnish, Italian, Jewish and Scandinavian socialists attending. National games and dances of the respective countries were an interesting feature.

TALES OF THE CITIES.
Barcelona, the metropolis of the Spanish peninsula, has a population of nearly 200,000 and is the great commercial and industrial centre of the country.
Pretoria promises to be the social centre of the Transvaal. Most of the great mining men either own or are building homes there, and the social season will be when parliament is in session.
Statisticians declare that in 1907 Vienna will have a population of 4,900,000. The city council, looking far ahead, is already considering how best to preserve for the coming generations a goodly supply of open air spaces. It is proposed to surround the city with a broad girdle of forest lands and meadows.

DELAWARE BREAKWATER, Aug. 5.—Passed up, Sir Manchester Exchange, was the ship Philadelphia.

NEW PENNY PIECE
COINED FROM NICKEL
This Will be Used After Opening of New Mint
Sixty Hands Will be Employed—Painful Accident on Ottawa Range—Longboat's Feet—A Carnival Blaze

OTTAWA, Aug. 5.—Soon after the opening of the new mint at Ottawa, next December, it is understood that there will be one or more new coins put into circulation. It is practically arranged that there shall be a new penny piece of the value of two cents and coined from nickel. This will be the first time that nickel, though one of Canada's great minerals, has been made use of for Canadian coinage. The United States have used it for many years for the manufacture of five-cent pieces. There is felt to be a need for a penny piece in Canada and nickel is to be used, to save bulk, which is a fault of copper coins of the value of two cents. When the mint is in full running order there will be sixty hands employed. It is expected to issue between sixteen and twenty million Canadian coins each year. At the present time the royal mint in London is coining sixteen million coins a year for Canada. Next year this will all be done in Ottawa.
There was rather a painful accident on the Rockcliffe range today, where a rifle match was being shot. A Lee-Enfield rifle burst in the hands of Sergeant Moody of the Governor General's Foot Guards. Pieces of the burst breach of the rifle cut the marksmanship of the Canadian Association. Sir Charles Ross, president of the Ross Rifle Company, happened to be on the spot at the time and gathered up the fragments of the gun.
A most successful athletic field day was held this afternoon under the auspices of the Canadian Association. Three Canadian athletic records were broken, and the meet ended with a grand finale, in which the big grand stand of the exhibition association was burned. The first team prize was taken by the West End Y. M. C. A. of Toronto with 83 points. The Irish Canadian Club of Toronto was second with 87 points. The first prize for individual performance went to Archibald, of Toronto, who took a first, three second and two third prizes. The second runner-up was Duncan Buchanan, who took a first, running the distance in 1.58 3-5. Archibald, of Toronto, broke the pole vault record. He jumped 11 feet 4 inches. The former record was 11 feet 2 inches. A great feature of the day was the appearance of Tom Longboat, who ran four miles against a relay of runners, which was a half-mile stretch. Longboat held them all and finished even with the last man in 30 minutes and 25 seconds. An athletic meet had been held at the exhibition grounds in the afternoon. An hour after the crowd had departed a fire broke out in the grand stand, which was entirely destroyed along with the experimental farm building, the C. P. R. offices and the ticket office. The stand was a large one with a capacity of seating thirteen thousand people. The damage is estimated at sixty thousand dollars. It is fully covered by New York insurance. The Exhibition Association will replace the stand in time for the fall exhibition, and it is not expected that the fire will affect the holding of the show this fall.
It is a peculiar incident that the summer carnival was inaugurated with a fire. The Edgwards lumber mills.

Essex market court charged by Lena Weinstein, 18 years old, with assaulting her, and Frank P. Body, a barber, was in the same court charged with attempting to assault a 9-year old Emma Diamond.
William Hoffman, 18 years old, was arrested today at his home in Port Richmond, Staten Island, on suspicion that he knows something about the death of Sophie Heckler, the servant girl who was found murdered in the home of her employers, in Sixty-second street, Saturday, after the house had been robbed. The police say that Hoffman was paying attentions to the girl, and believed that he was the last one to see her alive.
Deputy Commissioner O'Keefe, who is in charge of the police department during the absence of Commissioner Blinghman, today asked the mayor and the board of estimate and apportionment for funds to employ an additional 500 policemen. The request will be acted on on Wednesday.
The police are making every effort to stop the crimes which are being daily reported, but seem helpless. Most of the crimes are committed in little-frequented places, in cellars and dark hallways, and it seems almost impossible to prevent them. Mothers throughout the city are terror-stricken, and incidents which under ordinary circumstances would be passed over without a second thought are magnified hysterically and scores of reports are made daily to the police which have practically no foundation in fact. But with all this the situation is serious and the fact is realized by the police as much as by anyone else.

MORE BRUTAL CRIMES
ADDED TO NEW YORK'S
LONG LIST YESTERDAY.

Italian Attacks Two-Year-Old Child and is Mobbed
by Neighbors—Child Seriously Injured—Several Suspects Arrested—500 Men Will Probably be Added to Police Force.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—One of the most brutal of the crimes which have swept over New York and vicinity recently was added to the long list of assaults on women and children today when Luca Fontana was locked up in the police station at New Brighton, Staten Island, charged with assaulting Antoinette Taluci, two years old, with whose parents Fontana boarded. Fontana was left to care for the little girl while Mrs. Taluci went out to make some purchases. The mother had not gone far when she heard the child scream. She quickly returned and found Fontana, she says, in the act of attacking the child. When he saw Mrs. Taluci, Fontana rushed from the house, Mrs. Taluci following him. Her cries brought out the neighbors, and soon a mob was following the flying Italian. He was overtaken and severely beaten by men and women until a policeman appeared and with club and revolver fought off the crowd and conveyed the prisoner to the police station. The child, on the orders of Judge Marsh, was examined by a physician, and Fontana was held in $5,000 bail on a charge of criminal assault. The child is seriously injured.
John Ambro, an Italian laborer, was arrested in Brooklyn this afternoon on a charge of attempted assault on Grace Winters, eight years old, and Amanda Barber, nine years old.

87 YEARS OF AGE;
ATTEMPTS SUICIDE.
Hezekiah Estabrooks, of Margsville,
Slaashed His Throat With Razor—
Was Tired of Life

FREDERICTON, Aug. 5.—Hezekiah Estabrooks, one of the oldest residents of Margsville, made a desperate attempt to take his own life by cutting his throat at an early hour on Sunday morning at the home of his son-in-law, who had reached the ripe old age of 87 years, and the only infirmity from which he suffered was partial deafness. The only excuse which he had to offer for his rash deed was that he was "tired of life."
Mr. Estabrooks was always an early riser and he had gotten up early yesterday morning and swept out the barber shop in the building he lives in with his son-in-law. Later on he returned to the house and had a smoke.
Mr. Estabrooks did not answer the call for breakfast. An alarm was given and the old man was found lying on the floor of the barber shop, with a deep gash in his throat, and with an old jack-knife and razor alongside of him. Further investigation showed that Mr. Estabrooks' neck was cut in three places, but the wounds were not deep.
Dr. E. B. Fisher, who was summoned, stated that the wounds had been made by a razor. He said that the razor would have proven fatal. Mr. Estabrooks is a highly respected resident of Margsville, and when Dr. Fisher asked him why he committed such a rash act he would only say, "I am tired of life." His wife died some years ago.

THEY'RE ALL TALKING ABOUT THIS SHOW.
The programme of motion pictures now being exhibited at the Nickel is openly stated to be the most beautiful and interesting yet put on; yesterday's patrons openly said so, and not a man, woman or child who saw "The Harlequin's Story," "Quick, Im On Fire" went home thoroughly satisfied that they had received a great big bargain in the line of clean, bright motion entertainment. The first mentioned picture is a long series of adventures of a big boy doll who loses his sweetheart, and with timely assistance from a good fairy succeeds at last. The other two films are humorous and create laughs after laughs. Sandwiched in this luscious list of moving pictures is Mr. Austin's new song, "Dreaming, Love, of You—in all a very enjoyable thirty-five minutes.

In the August non-jury sitting of the Supreme Court before Chief Justice Tuck this morning there was one case up. It is that of Alex D. McGillis, produce merchant of Montreal, against Jas. McIsaac, of Carleton County, for alleged breach of contract. Mr. McGillis offered to buy a quantity of potatoes from the defendant and claims a contract was made. The defendant afterwards failed to deliver the goods.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. Verner McEllan and Stanley Trueman had a rather trying experience in Mr. Trueman's motor boat on Sunday. They went up river and had gone quite a distance when a heavy rainfall commenced. Mr. McEllan was about to take a rug to keep off the rain when it caught in the machinery of the boat and was torn to shreds. The engine stopped and the party was obliged to sit in the rain and take the pieces of cloth out of the engine with penknives. When the boat reached the three occupants of the boat were drenched.

A few days ago the Star published a paragraph to the effect that a Duck Cove property owner had been wearing a couple of boys who had gone swimming near the cove. The citizen referred to informs the Star that the boys had been warned not to trespass on the shore, that their presence was objectionable to residents of this resort, and that they violated in all plans even after being warned. He further says that he did not take their clothing as alleged.

VISITOR FROM OAKLAND TALKS OF THE STRIKE

M. A. McInnis, Editor of the Maple Leaf, Thinks San Francisco Car Men Will Win.

M. A. McInnis, of Oakland, California, formerly of Prince Edward Island, was a visitor to the city today. Mr. McInnis has been spending a vacation on the Island and is now on his way to the Printers' Convention at Hot Springs, Arkansas, en route home. He is a member of the printing firm of the Harrington McInnis Co. He is also the editor of a paper called the Maple Leaf. This is devoted to matters of interest to Maritime Province people living in California, and serves as a bond between the members of the Sons and Daughters of the Maritime Provinces. There are two branches of this society, one in Oakland and one in San Francisco, embracing a membership of about 600. The object of the society is to promote paternal feelings between the natives of the Province and also affords them assistance in the way of procuring employment when first they reach the State of California.

Mr. McInnis says the Maritime Province men are in the front rank of those in the State. They are well up in all branches of trade and mechanical work. During his eighteen years spent in California Mr. McInnis has never seen any Maritime Province people in trouble. In speaking of the San Francisco street car strike Mr. McInnis says this is the greatest fight between labor and capital ever known on the coast. The strikers have the sympathy of the majority of citizens. Cars are only carrying half as many passengers as before the strike and 'bus lines charging twenty-five cents against the five-cent toll on the street line are doing a thriving business. The street car men are asking for $3.00 a day, which is the lowest rate paid to a union workman. The iron workers strike has been settled in favor of the men and although the finish seems far off Mr. McInnis thinks the men will be victorious in the street car strike also.

TONIGHT'S CONCERT. Visitors in the city who seek entertainment this evening will have an opportunity to hear some of St. John's best musical and literary talent in the concert to be given in St. David's church school room. Male and mixed quartettes, instrumental trios, vocal and instrumental and whistling solos and readings make up a programme not surpassed by any offered in St. John for a long time. The concert is under the direction of Walter H. Felding, and more than a score of entertainers will participate. It is really the musical event of the season.

WILLIAM H. LOGAN WANTS TO RUN A NIGHT FERRY

Asks Permission to Operate a Service When the Day Boats Are Off the Route

William H. Logan, 8 Ann St., the well known boat builder of Strait Shore is endeavoring to obtain permission to run a ferry boat across the harbor during the hours the city ferry is laid up. He forwarded a communication to the common council yesterday asking that he be appointed night ferryman to run a boat after the other had ceased running for the night. He offers to do this without entailing any expense to the city, only requesting the permission to use the east and west end floats to land passengers.

Mr. Logan was in consultation with Ald. Baxter, chairman of the ferry committee this morning and outlined his scheme.

He intends building a row-boat, sufficiently large enough to handle the number of passengers liable to use the boat. He would run trips at regular intervals. He has not yet decided how often but would have a service to suit related passengers.

Ald. Baxter, when interviewed by the Star regarding the project, said it met with favor in his eyes as such a boat is really needed, and the city is not yet prepared to take up the matter. He was impressed with Mr. Logan's scheme and thinks it will meet with the favor of the ferry committee. He sent Mr. Logan to see the superintendent of ferries about the matter, which will be brought up and dealt with at the next meeting of the ferry committee.

The service will start shortly if Mr. Logan is given the permission to run the boat, and there seems to be no obstacle in the way at present.

THE TOURIST SEASON IS A RECORD BREAKER

Three Thousand More People by Boat This Year Than Last—Big Crowd Arrived Today.

The tourist travel is now on its earnest and it is safe to say that there are at least 1,000 American visitors in town. The steamer Yale arrived at 5.30 o'clock this morning from Boston. She had 704 passengers on her list, but this number did not include the many children who arrived. The total number of passengers was about 800. During the last two weeks the American boats have had record passenger lists. On Friday the Yale brought 1,000. Large numbers of Americans have also been arriving on the trains. The hotels today are crowded and many visitors found it difficult to secure rooms.

Enquiry at the Eastern Steamship Company's head office elicited the fact that the travel so far this year is far in advance of last season's. The exact figures cannot yet be obtainable but it is thought that the increase in the number of passengers brought here by boat this summer is well on to the three thousand mark.

COMMUNICATIONS TO THE COMMON COUNCIL

Mispec Pulp Co. Want the Mill Buildings Inspected—Requests for Damages and Increases in Wages

The following communications were presented at the meeting of the common council yesterday but were not taken up by the members. There were the usual requests for increases in salaries and for damages sustained by citizens from the alleged defective water works.

A communication was received from George McAvity, vice-president of the St. John Pulp and Paper Company, asking that a man be sent down to inspect the property and make a report to the chairman of the sewerage board. He further suggested that if the chairman would visit the mill in company with an engineer he would be pleased to have a consultation. He asked that this inspection be made in reference to the roofs and buildings owned by the city there and also for repairs needed on the dam.

A communication from MacIae & Sinclair, on behalf of Miss Reid, 61 Clarence street, whose residence has been damaged by the overflow from the water in the sewer pipe asked for a recompense of $500 for Miss Reid and also requested that some chemical appliances be used to prevent the water backing up and injuring the property and rendering the house unfit for habitation.

A petition from George A. Earle, janitor of the central police station, asked that his salary be increased from $1.50 a day to $60 a month. R. P. Hamm made application for the lease of the city lot in Lancaster known as the Mott lease. He offered $50 a year as rental for the lot. John Kerr, on behalf of Mrs. J. Murray Kaye, desired to appeal from the assessment on her property on St. Piasent. He asks that the property be revalued at what it would naturally and fairly be worth at public auction.

W. H. McIntyre asked for an investigation and indemnity for damage sustained by a retaining wall which caused damage to his property on Portland street. Henry Lord and Allan H. Lambert, mates on the ferry steamers, asked for increases in their wages from $45 a month to $50 a month owing to the increased amount of work required of them.

BEAUTIFUL VIEWS OF THE ST. JOHN RIVER

Mr. John Woodruff who takes pictures more for the love of his art than because of his position in the department of the interior, spent yesterday on the river and all last night in his dark-room. Sleep was forgotten in the desire to see the results of his day's outing, and Mr. Woodruff was delighted to find that he had been unusually successful. He took thirty snaps, and everyone was perfect. The pictures are representative of the beauty spots of the St. John river, and also include several of timber rafts being towed down. The detail in the negatives is remarkably fine, and the pictures when printed will be very beautiful. This morning Mr. Woodruff left on the Aurora for Grand Manan, where he hopes to obtain some views depicting the fishery industry.
