UNITED STATES FEARS REPRISALS IN TARIFF

Leaders in Congress and Senate Plan Resolution to Meet Any Penalties.

NEW TRADE AGREEMENTS AS SOON AS POSSIBLE.

Senate Wins Fight for Heavier Tax on Big Incomes—Committee to Determine Amount of Income Exemptions.

Washington, Sept. 22.—Apprehension lest the Democratic tariff bill lead foreign nations to impose tariff penalties against the United States as soon as the new law goes into effect caused administration and Senate leaders today to plan the introduction of a joint resolution in congress making specific provision for the continuation of existing relations in all countries until President Wilson has time to negotiate new trade agreements.

The seriousness of the situation that will confront the administration was impressed upon Chairman Simmons, of the Senate Finance Committee, today, by State Department officials.

It was pointed out that the trade relations established by President Taft's proclamations under the Payne-Aldrich law of 1909 would terminate as soon as the new law becomes effective and that the United States would face the possibility of having higher tariff rates applied against its exports by many countries.

While the tariff law would give the President authority to negotiate trade and reciprocity treaties, it would also require him to apply special penalty rates against any countries discriminating against the United States.

The Senate conferees on the tariff amendments, increasing the tax rate to a maximum of seven per cent. on incomes of more than $50,000.

At the end of a day's consideration of the income tax, the committee had so nearly completed the section tonight that the concluding details will be worked out by a sub-committee at the conference.

The amount of income that is to be free from tax fixed at $4,000 by the house and $5,000 by the Senate; the exemptions to be allowed on account of families and the provisions to be supplied to mutual insurance companies, are still at issue.

The deductions that are to be allowed from ordinary incomes, in arriving at the "net income" that is to bear tax, were accepted practically as determined upon in the Senate.

No decision will be made by the conference committee upon the suggested compromise on the cotton futures tax, until other sections of the bill have been disposed of.

THAW'S MOTHER VISITING SON BEFORE FIGHT

Frail and Feeble but Determined to Remain Until the End.

LAWYERS PREPARE FOR FINAL BATTLE

Governor Felker Examined Extradition Warrant for First Time Yesterday—Flooded by Telegrams from Citizens.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 22.—On the eve of the proceedings which are expected to decide whether or not Harry K. Thaw shall be returned to the insane asylum at Matteawan, N. Y., he was joined here tonight by his mother, Mrs. Mary Copley Thaw, and by his brother, Josiah. "I have come to give Harry the support of his mother's presence in his fight to keep away from the mad house," Mrs. Thaw said.

It was the second attempt of the fugitive's mother to meet him since he escaped from Matteawan a month ago. Although in feeble health, she had made the long trip from her home at Cresson to Concord a few weeks ago, in the expectation that Harry would be brought here, but she was disappointed.

Harry greeted his mother and his brother affectionately just outside his rooms, and then the party retired to the apartments which had been reserved for Mrs. Thaw. There they spent much of the evening, while down stairs the large staff of Thaw's attorneys went over their plan of campaign.

Tomorrow's proceedings are based on the request of the State of New York for the extradition of Thaw on a charge of conspiracy in connection with his escape from Matteawan.

The only point that was definitely established tonight about the hearing which will be before Governor Samuel D. Parker, is that it will be held in the chamber of the senate at the State House beginning at 11 a. m.

Governor Felker saw the fugitive today for the first time. At noon and again this evening they glanced across as they looked about the hotel dining room. Each manifested interest in the appearance of the other, but there was no introduction.

Mexico City, Sept. 22.—Rebels are reported to have dynamited a south-bound train on the Mexican National Railway early today at Vanegas, in the northern part of the State of San Luis Potosi, blowing up the locomotive and the two forward coaches. The casualties are not yet known here.

Despatches from San Luis Potosi, the capital of the State, say that on Saturday rebels estimated to number 1,000 sacked the town of Venado and routed a federal force of sixty men at Laguna Seca. The rebels reached Charras on Sunday, well armed and supplied with dynamite. The attack on the train this morning is presumed to have been made by the same band.

The American legation has vainly urged the Chinese government to protect American citizens in China with the aid of the militia. At the legation it is considered that the Chinese officials take advantage of American friendship in various pending cases, in which the legation cannot obtain satisfaction.

LONGSHOREMEN SUBMIT NEW SCHEDULE OF RATES FOR WINTER-PORT WORK

New Rate Asked For is Big Advance on Last Season's Schedule.

SHIPPING MEN WILL NOT COMMENT ON IT

Men Ask for Increases all Round and Pay for Time Lost While Waiting for Work—Heavy Charges for Sunday Labor.

The schedule of wages asked for from the steamship companies by Local 273, International Longshoremen's Association, has been handed to the steamship agents in the city and is to go into effect on November 15th. When looked over it was almost enough to make the shipping men gasp with surprise for the increased rate is one that will perhaps be handed over to the Shipping Federation to look into.

When spoken to about the new schedule yesterday afternoon, prominent shipping men, although they acknowledged having received the schedule, refused to discuss the matter and while they stated that the new rate was much higher than that of last year they would not say just what these rates were. The new schedule to go into effect in November is, however, as follows:

Nine hours a day, or eight, from 7 a. m. to 5 p. m., or 7 p. m. to 5 a. m. Double time at meal hours.

The prevailing rate of wages in rigging, and unrigging gear, stowage, etc., and latches.

Half time for waiting to be paid when ordered out after 7 a. m. and 1 p. m., and full time for waiting when ordered out after 7 p. m. from 7 p. m. to 3 p. m., and half time if kept waiting after 3 p. m.

Double time on Sundays, Christmas, New Year's Day and Good Friday.

That these Sundays and holidays consist of 36 hours from 7 p. m. preceding the Sunday or holiday until 7 a. m. succeeding Sunday or holiday.

Triple time when working meal hours on Sunday or holidays.

Fifteen cents an hour extra when handling bulk grain on week days, and thirty cents per hour extra on Sundays and holidays over and above the prevailing rate of wages on days succeeding Sundays or holidays.

Sixteen men to a gang loading and discharging and no less than ten men per gang on deal work.

Forty cents per hour week days, 45 cents per hour by night on week days, and work performed on grain on Sundays or holidays pro rata as in foregoing connection.

Five cents per hour extra for bulk sulphur, bulk salt on week days or night, bulk salt on Sunday and holidays.

The rates are said to mean $1.10 per hour on bulk grain by day and $1.30 by night, $1.35 per hour at meal hours at night, and $1.50 for handling bulk grain at meal hours on Sundays or holidays.

PETITCODIAC VISITED BY DISASTROUS FIRE

Damage Aggregating $20,000 Done by Blaze which Broke Out Early Last Evening—Fire Fighting Force Inadequate and Moncton Sent Timely Aid.

Special to The Standard. Petitcodiac, N. B., Sept. 22.—Fire broke out here shortly before ten o'clock this evening which wiped out seven buildings and four stores, making seven families homeless, the complete loss being in the vicinity of $20,000. The fire spread with lightning rapidity and the small and inadequate fire fighting apparatus of this place could by no means cope with the disastrous blaze.

The fire kept swooping everything before it, going to U. Z. King's residence next, then to Mrs. William Follock's millinery store, then to Robert Wilmet's residence, next to William Bickerton's tailor establishment and residence, and then to Thaddeus Drysdale's harness shop, and ended at the warehouse of the Sussex Mercantile Co., which was stocked with farm implements of every description.

A good lot of furniture, millinery, clothing, etc., was removed from some of the burning buildings, but this was more or less damaged and many cases of pilfering were reported.

There was very little insurance on any of the buildings and contents and everything is practically a total loss.

The individual losses follow: Dr. McDonald, Dorchester, building, $200; U. Z. King, $1500; Jones' building, $1000; Thaddeus Drysdale, $2800; W. Bickerton's, $500; Parkinson's store, $1500 (building and $1000 in stock); Robert Wilmet, $1000; Parkinson's new stable, $500; Pollock's millinery store, $2000; stock $1000; Mrs. Follock, $100 loss on furniture and $300 in cash; E. R. Lockhart house, $2000; Furniture $1000; Mansion Hotel, $300; Freeze Taylor, $500; Jacob Jones, $500.

GOVERNOR WILLIAM SULZER TO FACE CHARGE IN COURTS

Decided by High Court of Impeachment by Vote of 51 to 1 After Lengthy Secret Session—Overrules Motion of Governor's Counsel.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 22.—Governor William Sulzer must go to trial. This was decided by the High Court of Impeachment tonight, when by a vote of 51 to 1 its members overruled the motion of the governor's counsel to dismiss the proceedings on the ground that he was unconstitutionally impeached by the assembly because that body was in extra session when the impeachment was brought.

Senator Gottfried H. Wende, of Buffalo, Democrat, an ardent supporter of the governor, cast the solitary nay. Senators Brown, Bussey, Fitzgerald, Thomas, Walters, Wheeler, and Judge Gray were absent.

The governor's defeat was the second that has marked the battle waged by his attorneys to annihilate, as far as possible, the impeachment proceedings. Last week the court thwarted the efforts of his counsel to prevent four senators from sitting as members. Their remaining ammunition consists of arguments to prove that certain of the offences charged against the governor were not impeachable. These arguments will be heard tomorrow.

The vote tonight was taken in secret session after an afternoon of impassioned oratory by the opposing attorneys.

PROTECTIVE CRUISER SEIZES JAP VESSEL

Ship at Simpson, British Columbia, Without Proper Papers—Believed to Have Smuggled Many Japanese.

Ottawa, Sept. 22.—The development of the deep sea fisheries on the Pacific coast has led the Hon. J. D. Hazen, minister of marine and fisheries, to take necessary precaution in preserving them for Canadian fishermen, and two new fisheries protective vessels will be placed on the British Columbia coast.

The "Malaspina built in Dublin dockyard with a speed of 15 knots, is now on her way across, and is expected at Victoria, B. C., at the beginning of December.

A second vessel is being built on the lines of those used by the Irish Fisheries Board. The vessels now in use are out of date, and until completion of the two new boats the Naval Service Department was obliged to hire boats. On the East coast, reports at the department show that adequate protection is being afforded.

The seizure of a Japanese vessel some days ago by the Canadian fisheries protective cruiser "Joliffe" at Port Simpson, B. C. has resulted in the discovery of official facts here which tend to show a much more serious state of affairs than at first appeared. It is now learned authoritatively that no trace could be found of a crowd of 100 Japanese who embarked on the vessel when she left Japan, that the clearing papers were wrong, and that a set of complete charts of the British Columbia coast were found when the vessel was searched.

When the Japanese vessel was seized by the Captain of the Joliffe, the clearing papers were found for violation of the customs law the vessel was seized. Not a trace could be found of the 100 Japanese, who undoubtedly were on board as informants had been received from British agents in Japan to the effect that they were on board when the vessel left Japan. There is no information that they were landed at Alaska, and it is feared that they were smuggled into some part of the British Columbia coast.

The captain of the Japanese vessel denied he had charts of the British Columbia coast, but a search being made, these were found as a complete and accurate chart of every inlet and point on the coast.

Officials here are inclined to treat the incident delicately, as it might easily be construed into one of international significance, but it is believed that a daring attempt at smuggling has been pulled off successfully. The captain of the Japanese vessel was fined, and then released. There was no other course open to the authorities as the clearing papers were not made out for Port Simpson.

No official report of the seizure of the school had been received today, but the State Department is prepared to protest to the Greek government vigorously for the protection of American and their property in Albania, under the new political order.

It was pointed out in diplomatic quarters that the great European powers will do whatever might be necessary to guarantee American rights in Balkans, as they have even since the first outbreak of hostilities a year ago. British consuls have been solicited for the rights of Americans, especially in Asiatic Turkey, and before the arrival of the American warships last winter, both British and Russian men-of-war offered an asylum to any Americans who feared for their safety.

SAYS JOHN BULL IS YET FAR AWAY FROM DEATH

Refers to British Immigration to Canada and Says Australia Has Absorbed More Old World Money and Men.

Montreal, Sept. 22.—"A gentlemen's agreement," and "a cast-iron and rigid constitution" were the terms applied by Lord Northcliffe to the British and the United States constitutions respectively when he spoke before the Canadian Club today. In reviewing the history of the two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon nations since the parting of the ways in 1776, the distinguished director of newspapers made an interesting comparison between the different methods and policy of the two peoples, although he found that they had largely arrived at the same results. The British Empire branch was referred to as "a great business combination of five nations," governed by a constitution that could be departed from by any one of these component parts on desire.

Contrary to many imperialists, Lord Northcliffe suggested that the strongest link was one of utility and reciprocity service rather than mere sentiment. Immigration and the relations of England and Canada figured largely in the address, and the speaker refuted the German-American allegations of decadence either in England or France. The presence of Henry Bourassa at an imperial talk last night some seat to the occasion, the speaker saying high tribute to the Nations' list leader and to the stock that he represented.

GREEKS SEIZE AN AMERICAN INSTITUTION

Mission School Confiscated in Karitza, Albania—U.S. State Department Preparing a Vigorous Protest.

Washington, Sept. 22.—State Department officials said today that the reported seizure of the American mission school at Karitza, Albania, by Greeks, would raise an important diplomatic question, as the status of American institutions in Albania has not been determined under the new territorial delimitations growing out of the war between the Balkan allies and Turkey, and the latter conflict among the allies themselves.

Under a convention with Turkey, made when that nation exercised sovereignty over Albania, Americans, in addition to their rights under treaties of commerce and travel, were given extra territorial rights, which protected among other things, educational institutions.

No official report of the seizure of the school had been received today, but the State Department is prepared to protest to the Greek government vigorously for the protection of American and their property in Albania, under the new political order.

WOODSTOCK NEWS

Special to The Standard. Woodstock, Sept. 22.—Hon. Isaac Stephenson, who was born in Sunbury County, 84 years ago, and is worth $74,000,000, the wealthiest member of the United States Senate, is visiting his relatives in this town.

The will of the late C. Miles Moore, lumber merchant, has been probated by his brother, George Moore. His real estate is valued at $5,000 besides some large life insurance policies.

The annual exhibition of the Centre-Village Agricultural Society will be held in that town on Wednesday and Thursday of this week.

THE CHINESE PERSECUTE MISSIONARIES

Special Dislike Manifested Against Americans who Refuse to Leave Refuge—Cannot Guarantee Their Lives.

Peking, Sept. 22.—Although the British and French missionaries who had taken refuge in Fu-Chow have returned to their mission homes in Hinghsia and Sien in the province of Fo-Kien, the American missionaries remain there because the Chinese authorities declare they cannot guarantee their lives.

Americans are especially disliked by General Hwang Liang, who during the anti-Manchu revolt proclaimed himself the sixteenth Ming Emperor. Hwang Liang had encouraged the replanting of poppy in the province. The American missionaries informed the government of this and urged military action, but after the poppies had been uprooted Hwang Liang's followers regained control of several districts where they persecuted or assassinated a number of Christian converts. When the town of Hing-Iwa was attacked by Hwang Liang the missionaries took refuge in Fu-Chow.

CHATHAM FAIR BIG SUCCESS

Officially Opened Last Evening with Speeches by Lt. Gov. Wood, Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. Dr. Landry and Others.

Chatham, Sept. 22.—The ceremonies marking the opening of the agricultural fair here this evening were of more than usual interest, and were attended by the greatest crowd ever seen at the inauguration of an exhibition on the Miramichi. The large music hall, in which the opening proceedings were held, and which was very prettily decorated for the occasion, was filled to the doors.

W. B. Snowball, president of the M. A. E. Association, occupied the chair, and after a few remarks introduced Lieut. Governor Wood, who in an appropriate speech, formally declared the exhibition open for the enjoyment and edification of the people.

Following the Lieut. Governor brief speeches were made by Hon. J. D. Hazen, Hon. Dr. Landry, Hon. L. J. Tweedie, Hon. John Morrissey, W. S. Leggie and Mayor Tweedie.

OFFICER 666 AND THE BIG LAUGH

Clever Comedy by Good Co., in Opera House—Well worth Visit Tonight or on Wednesday.

Officer 666, in several peculiar and distinct personalities, held the boards at the Opera House last evening and brooded his way into the cackling gables of considerably less than 666 people. A good many St. John theatre goers stayed at home and thereby fooled themselves—as they occasionally do. The play is described as a "melo" dramatic comedy. This scarcely correct. It should be called a comical dramatic melo. For the comedy is predominant, the drama of purely secondary importance and the "melo" scarcely apparent even with a Jorgnette. The story is one of a youthful hero who for reasons of his own returns secretly from abroad and finds an unknown usurping his name, his home and preparing to elope with a fair damsel who displays an astonishing appetite for grape fruit and romance. By borrowing the uniform of Officer 666 and posing as a guardian of the peace—an institution now only too rare in St. John—the millionaire attempts to frustrate an endeavor to rob his picture gallery, elope with the grape fruit victim and muss things up generally. The plot has many ridiculous complications, numberless amusing situations and an abundance of snappy dialogue. The play had a very long run in Chicago and also met with much success in New York.

Most of the work falls on half a dozen players. Mr. Ahearne as the rich man bothered by thieves; his friend Mr. Duncan as Whitney Barnes, and Mr. Malloy as Officer 666 carried the story until the advent of Mr. Clayton in the part of Wilson the picture thief. Then the latter shared the honors. Mr. Newman as a villainous character gave a clean cut interpretation of a minor part. Among the ladies, of whom there are three, Miss Gilyard played the romantic fair one in love with a name. Miss Sinclair as her cousin, and Miss Wallace as the aunt were both satisfactory. They looked well and acted quite as well as was necessary. The supporting players were capable, and in fact the whole was a clean single comedy, was well looked after.

NORTHCLIFFE DENIES BRITAIN'S DECADENT

Speaking of what Great Britain had done in the way of sending men and capital to all parts of the world, Lord Northcliffe said: "We have sent a great deal to Canada, and are delighted to do so; but after all, Canada is but one of many places to which British capital is pouring daily, and as you know, the amount of capital and emigrants we have sent to this country does not yet compare with what we have sent to Australia.

"Roughly speaking," continued Lord Northcliffe, "you have had in fifty years nearly two millions of immigrants from Great Britain and Ireland, and two thousand five hundred millions of capital. But do not forget that we have invested twice as many dollars in Brazil and the Argentine, and, as you know, Australia has taken more money and many more people than not only in size and people that your partner, John Bull, has done well. His international and financial ranking were never so high. It is the great law-maker, ship-owner, ship-builder, cotton and wool spinner, and controller of the world's banking, and much of its gold and diamond supply. Speaking as a newspaper man, I have never known a capital is observation, I have never known a country to be in a greater state of vitality.

In conclusion Lord Northcliffe said: "These five nations of which you are one and I belong to another have equal reason to be proud of all we have accomplished in the way of good government, good laws, financial progress, a progress that is reflected all over the world."

At the guests table were:—
Sir Hugh Graham, Lt. Col. Jeffrey Burland, Mr. Henri Bourassa, M.L.A., Mr. D. Lorne McMillan, Dean Moyses, Mr. Hamilton Fyfe, Dr. L. L. Todd, Mr. Smeaton White, Mr. F. L. Higginson, Mr. G. N. Drummond, Mr. R. L. H. Ewing, J. Barlow, M.P., and Mr. J. Williams.

EXCELLENT PICTURES ENTERTAIN AT UNIQUE

Crowds Thronged Popular Little Theatre Yesterday and Thoroughly Enjoyed Programme.

At the Unique, yesterday's patrons found a splendid programme for the week opener and large audiences which thronged the popular little theatre were delighted with the pictorial programme.

"The Girl of the Cabaret," the head liner in the bill, is an interesting story. The theme, while not exactly new, is so developed that the picture entertains, holds the attention and leaves a very pleasing impression, as the denouement is just as one would wish it to be.

A prosperous young farmer from the west on a visit to New York goes to a cafe. Here he falls in love with a cabaret girl. They marry after a brief courtship, and he takes his bride to his home on the prairies. After the novelty of the surroundings wears off, she tires of the monotony and the fascination of the white lights, the gay crowds, etc., comes back and she flees, taking her little son. But after an absence of four or five years from the profession she finds that she, to use the common parlance, cannot come back. The husband finally catches her, and having learned a salutary lesson she is content to return to the peace and joys of home life.

"Just Kids," in which juveniles play the leading roles, is a delightful little story. The youngsters give an astounding exhibition, their knowledge of stagecraft is remarkable and the picture was an enjoyable feature of the programme.

The third of the pictorial features, "Tom Blake's Redemption," is a thrilling railroad story, a heart interest story, capably presented and conspicuous for its realism. It treats of the downfall of an engine driver whose weakness for drink brings about his ruin. He retrieves himself, however, and by his noble and courageous work in saving a train from bandits regains the confidence of his employers. This proves the turning point, starting him on the road to self redemption.

These three films constitute an excellent programme.

PRIEST-SLAYER WITH BEARD, GIRL WHOSE PICTURE WAS FOUND IN HIS TRUNK

The illustration of Hans Schmidt shows the priest with a beard, and that beard makes a wonderful change in his facial appearance. Somehow it softens the lines of his face and does not make it so cruel and cynical as it really is. In Father Schmidt's trunks were found wigs and make-up which showed clearly that it was nothing unusual for the priest who murdered Anna Amnunnler to go out in the streets disguised.

Tortures of Chronic Dyspepsia Cured by "Fruit-a-lives."

Sydney Mines, N. S., Jan. 25, 1910
"For many years I suffered a torture from indigestion and dyspepsia. Two years ago, I was so bad that I vomited food constantly and lost 25 pounds in weight. I was afraid the disease was cancer.

I read about "Fruit-a-lives" and the wonderful cures this fruit medicine was making, and I decided to try it. After taking three boxes, I found a great change for the better and now I can say "Fruit-a-lives" has cured me when every other treatment failed, and I reverently say, "Thank God for 'Fruit-a-lives'."

EXPECT WARM CONTEST IN HOPEWELL PARISH

Capt. R. V. Bennett and I. C. Prescott Opposing W. J. Carnwath and C. F. Pye—Other Parishes Not Excited

Albert, Sept. 22.—Leaders of the Liberal party in Hopewell Parish held a meeting at Hopewell this evening and nominated W. J. Carnwath, of Riverside, and C. F. Pye, of Hopewell Cape, as candidates for the municipal council. Mr. Pye has been at the council board two terms, and Mr. Carnwath has also several years' experience on the council. The Conservatives have nominated I. C. Prescott, of Albert, and Capt. Ronald V. Bennett. The two tickets are probably the strongest that could be selected in the Parish of Hopewell, and an interesting contest is expected. Capt. Bennett, who retired from the sea some time ago, is a brother of R. B. Bennett, M. P. of Calgary, and is a man of wealth.

It is expected that in the Parish of Alma J. A. Cleveland and Wm. Rommell will be returned without opposition, and as yet there are no signs of a contest in either Elgin or Hillsboro.

P. C. MADEIRA, COAL OPERATOR AND LION HUNTER, IS SUED FOR DIVORCE

MRS. PERCY C. MADEIRA.

A divorce action against Percy C. Madeira, a coal operator and lion hunter, has been started. His wife, Mrs. Elizabeth C. Madeira, has been separated from him about a year.

Mr. Madeira is wealthy. He has been and still is a large coal operator, but some time ago retired from the major part of his business activities. His hobby always has been the hunting of big game, and on several of his expeditions Mrs. Madeira accompanied him. On one of their trips into British East Africa Mrs. Madeira was lost two days and was rescued by a party of Englishmen. Her husband wrote a book of his adventures during the trip.

THE NEW ATHLETIC CLUB.

The young men who, last evening, attempted to revive an interest in many sport in this city, and as a start in this direction formed the St. John Athletic Club, should receive the encouragement and support of all citizens. Sympathy in the movement is all very well, but what the new organization will probably require is tangible evidence that citizens favor the idea of a more prominent place than it occupies in the sports of the nation. For many reasons there has been a regrettable decline in athletics, but probably the chief obstacle has been the lack of a suitable field on which to practice and hold sports.

The suggestion was made in The Standard a few days ago that it would be well to look ahead and start at once to provide a suitable athletic ground for the young men of the future. The new organization, as it progresses, might well take this matter in hand. In the meantime it can be of much valuable service in upbuilding the young manhood of the city and in such capacity is to be highly commended.

THE SULZER IMPEACHMENT CASE

While it is not possible to approve of a public official, charged with violating the trust reposed in him by the people, yet there will be a certain amount of sympathy for William Sulzer, the former Governor of New York State, who, in his present difficulty, is fighting, single handed, the might of Tammany Hall, as it is alleged it was the Tammany lash that drove the state legislators of New York into the impeachment process. Sulzer, during his career, must have become possessed of many facts regarding the workings and the wiles of Tammany and if, as he has promised, he presents such information before the Court of Impeachment as will draw the notorious organization into the limelight of publicity the State and the cause of good government will benefit.

While the former governor may be proven guilty of the charges against him it is quite within reason that his revelations will provide some fuel for the fire of public opinion, which must eventually utter its condemnation of the infamous Tammany crew. Sulzer may be a grafter, and he probably is, but in any proceedings where Tammany Hall is involved he will not be lonesome.

THE BALKAN SITUATION.

The possibility of another war in the Balkan States will not tend to ease the minds of the European holders of foreign bonds who are now speculating on the ability of the Balkan kingdoms to pay their debts. In more than one financial centre in Europe the opinion is freely expressed that, with the exception of Roumania, which kept out of the recent struggle, the Balkans are on the verge of bankruptcy. In spite of this, their governments are already concerning themselves with the expensive question of future armaments and this means they will soon be seeking to raise additional funds in the money markets of Europe.

This possibility brings up the question of the Balkan debt, which, as a result of the Turkish war, and, more lately, the intercorine strife in which Serbia, Bulgaria, Montenegro and Greece engaged, has amounted to large proportions. Two authorities, the London Economist, and the London Daily Telegraph, have pronounced on the Balkan debt. The Economist estimates the debt as the result of the war, at £25,000,000 for Turkey, £20,000,000 for Bulgaria, and £12,500,000 each for Serbia and Greece. On this the charges amount to £1,500,000 for Turkey, £1,200,000 for Bulgaria, and £750,000 each for Greece and Serbia, figuring at six per cent, at which rate the little Kingdoms were forced to borrow. The Economist's figures are based on the actual returns made by the Balkan States to the conference of the powers at the close of the first war.

The London Daily Telegraph adds to the actual war cost figures to represent the loss suffered as the result of the terrible damage to property, towns, railways, buildings, etc. In this estimate Bulgaria's loss is set down at £90,000,000, Turkey £80,000,000, Serbia £50,000,000, and Greece £25,000,000. At six per cent it will easily be seen that the Balkan States are now struggling under an enormous burden as the result of the Turkish war, to say nothing of the expenditures involved in the second struggle. The difficulty in the Balkans has been held responsible to a considerable extent for the financial stringency which has affected Europe and also this continent. The financial world, viewing it from a purely business standpoint, will regard with much disfavor the prospect of a renewal of hostilities. It seems, however, that the European money kings have it in their power to crush the impending trouble before it attains serious proportions.

War cannot be waged without money and a sudden stoppage of Balkan credit might prove most effective in preventing hostilities. So long as the fiery peoples of the Balkan Peninsula can be kept from open hostilities it will make little difference to Europe how long they continue to pull faces at each other.

A FREAK TAX.

A town in France has recently adopted a provision whereby a resident's tax shall be regulated according to his weight. The man weighing less than 135 pounds pays nothing, while citizens of more generous avoirdupois pay accordingly. There can be no good reason for taxing the fat man, but every reason why the authorities should deal leniently with him. He, himself must bear the burden of his own obesity, and usually he does it amiably. If the French habit should spread and the idea of a freak tax become popular there are many classes of citizens upon whom it might well be levied. Among others we beg to suggest the neighbor who uses your telephone, borrows your books, and forgets to return them, looks over your shoulder in the street car and thus gets a secondhand reading of the newspaper you have paid for, and, above all others, the lady who wears a picture hat and sits directly in front of you in the theatre. These and many more should pay in some way for the privileges they now get free—but do let the fat man alone. He has trouble enough as it is.

The Commissioners, sitting as the City Council yesterday afternoon, discussed removing the West Side coal pocket from its present location which adjoins the ferry slip, but took no action regarding it. Very many complaints have been made by patrons of the ferry to the effect that the coal pocket in its present location is almost a public nuisance. At the same time it is unquestionably a great convenience for vessels discharging coal on West Side. It is understood the Commissioners will endeavor to find a location for it where the requirements of the trade will be served and the objectionable features of the present arrangement removed. There will be a general hope that the search for another location will be successful.

The New York World has offered to pay to William Jennings Bryan, U. S. Secretary of State, the sum of $8,000 per year if he will devote his entire time to the duties of his office and refrain, during his term, from all lectures, or other addresses where admission fees are charged. It would be offering for Mr. Bryan to accept the offer, but certainly if he cannot live on the income he receives from the people of the United States, and they are unwilling to pay more, he should make way for another who will not place such a high value on his services. It must be repugnant to Americans to realize that their secretary of state is parading himself in company with jugglers, Swiss yodlers and ventriloquists before the very people who helped to make him what he is.

A judge in New Mexico has sentenced a prisoner who appeared before him charged with many offences, to terms of imprisonment aggregating 68 years. As the prisoner is now almost fifty years of age, that judge must have great confidence in the preservative qualities of the New Mexican climate.

Toronto has been called "the good," but it is noteworthy that while Winnipeg and other western cities placed the Thaw "movies" under the ban, Torontonians will see them in all their cheap sensationalism.

CURRENT COMMENT

The Boy Scouts.

If we understand the scout organization rightly, there is nothing in connection with it that should suggest war, or encourage warlike feelings among the boys. There is discipline, but discipline has its place, and a very important one, outside of the army. It is necessary for success in life; it makes better boys, and more successful men. There is a certain amount of physical drill, but no one questions the benefits that follow a course of bodily training, nor would anyone claim that it should be monopolized by the military.

Liberal "Gains."

The standing of the Liberal party in Ontario is reflected in the results of the seven by-elections held in that province since the last general provincial election. The seven contests have returned seven supporters of the Whitney government. Two of the seats were formerly Liberal strongholds. They were East Middlesex and North Grey.

DIARY OF EVENTS

HISTORIC DAYS IN CANADA

Major John Andre, the gallant young adjutant-general of the British forces in America, was captured by the Americans on this date in 1780, and was soon afterward hanged as a spy because of the part he had played in arranging with Benedict Arnold for the surrender of West Point to the British. The unfortunate end of the youthful soldier aroused universal sympathy, especially in Canada, where he had commenced his military career. In for much censure, and many Americans mourned his death. Andre, a young man of genius, a poet, painter and actor, joined the English army because of an unfortunate love affair and a profound distaste for business. He came to Canada in 1774, as lieutenant of the Royal Fusiliers. He was taken prisoner by Montigny when the latter captured St. John's, and a year passed before he was exchanged. He quickly won the favor of Sir Henry Clinton, by whom he was promoted to the rank of major, and appointed adjutant-general of the British forces in America.

FIRST THINGS

THE RELIGIOUS PRESS.

The first Roman Catholic periodical in the United States was established in 1825 at Charlestown, S. C., by John England, first bishop of Charleston. The United States Catholic Miscellany was the title of the publication which was the pioneer in a journalistic field now occupied by scores of able journals in all sections of the United States and Canada. Bishop England was born in Cork, Ireland, 127 years ago today, Sept. 23, 1786, and was the editor of a weekly paper, "The Religious Repository," Catholic Journal, "The Truth Teller," was published in New York by William Denman in 1829. "The Shamrock," founded in 1816, the first Catholic paper, but not strictly a religious periodical. The first religious journal in America was the Boston Recorder, founded in 1816. Boston's Catholic weekly, "The Bostonian," was founded about the same time.

THE PASSING DAY

THE CONQUEST OF THE AIR.

Military aviation, which has played so important a part in recent wars in the near East, had its beginning as far back as 1794, when Guyton de Morveau made two ascents in a balloon during the battle of Fleurus. Balloons were used for military purposes in the battle of Solferino, in 1859, and by the balloon corps of the United States army in 1862. These pioneers laid the foundation of the science of aeronautics to the use of war were of little or no practical value, and it remained for a French aeronaut, M. Durouf, to prove the utility of balloons in war.

It was forty-three years ago today, September 23, 1870, that M. Durouf, a French aeronaut, volunteered to take a balloon trip. Paris was then besieged by the Prussian army, and all communication with the outside world was cut off. Various schemes were tried in an effort to get despatches and letters through the Prussian's impenetrable lines. All failed until M. Durouf volunteered to make the trial in a balloon. Carrying important letters and despatches weighing 350 pounds, he successfully got away, and after a flight of about four hours landed near Evreux, sixty-five miles from Paris, and forwarded his letters.

The balloon service was continued throughout the siege, and letters were carried for only twenty centimes, or four cents. Not all of the aeronauts were as fortunate as M. Durouf. One to whom balloons were then unknown, and the balloons were at the mercy of the winds. Two aeronauts were driven to Norway, and a fourth was driven to England. The balloon La Ville de Paris, descended in Prussia and the aeronaut and his mail were captured by the enemy. The same fate befell the General Chansy, which landed in Bavaria.

The balloon post was again resorted to during the Boer war in South Africa, and the Japanese made good use of military balloons during the war with Russia. The dirigible balloon, which aroused fear in England of an aerial invasion by the Germans, no longer inspires terror. The invention of the heavier-than-air flying machine has made the dirigible a "back number," owing to its much greater cost, and the risk involved in its operation. France, where military aviation had its beginning, leads the world in the strength of its aerial military equipment. That country now has nearly 300 flying machines, including thirteen dirigibles. The Russians have a 117 flying machines and nine dirigible balloons. Great Britain stands fourth with 100 flying machines, and the United States have small but efficient aerial fleets. Many other countries have added the flying machine to their military equipment.

During the wars between Turkey and Italy, and Turkey and the Balkan States, the aviators rendered valuable service. The bird-men made invaluable sketches of the positions of the enemy. All of the nations involved engaged aviators of various nationalities. The bird-men with the Italian army in Tripoli performed many deeds of valor. Effrom, a Russian aviator, led the world in the number of circulars printed in the Turkish language, demanding the surrender of the city. The Bulgarian army's aviators dropped fire bombs into the forts and barracks of Adrianople, with terrible effect. It is estimated that France will spend over $100 million in the present year, Russia nearly five millions; Great Britain over a million and a half dollars, and Germany a similar sum.

The Little Canadians.

(Mail and Empire.)
Hon. Herbert Samuel says that the "Little Englander" element has disappeared from the Liberal party in Great Britain. The struggle over the naval bill, however, showed that unfortunately the "Little Canadians" control the Liberal party in Canada. But they will get over it, for the naval bill will pass.

OPHELIA'S SLATE

IN LIGHTER VEIN

Of Two Evils.
A certain island in the West Indies is liable to the periodical advent of earthquakes. One year before the season of the periodical event of the terrestrial disturbances Mr. X, who lives in the danger zone, sent his two sons to the home of a brother in England to secure them from the impending havoc.
Evidently the quiet of the staid English household was disturbed by the eruption of the two West Indians, for the returning mail steamer carried a message to Mr. X, brief, but emphatic:
"Take back your boys; send me the earthquake!"

Bad Advice.
Friend—What's worrying you?
Manager—The prima donna of my company refuses to sing oftener than twice a week. I am making only hundreds where I ought to be making thousands.
Friend—I'll settle that. If I were you I'd marry her.
(A year passes.)
Friend—My gracious, you look seedy! What's happened?
Manager—I took your advice and married the prima donna, and now she won't sing at all.

Sentence on an Egg.
"Walter!" From the table by the window the voice of an elderly gentleman rose in accents wrathful.
"Walter!"
"Yes, sir," replied the much harassed one, hastening forward.
The elderly gentleman, overcome by his emotions, made several vain efforts to articulate utterances. Then, "Take this egg away!" he roared.
"Yes, sir," said the waiter, obligingly, as he flinched at the sight of the egg.
"Do with it!" the outraged customer rose menacingly from his chair, and recovered himself.
"Why, wring its neck!"

Counter Diplomacy.
"I think you will like this goods, madam," urged a salesman in a bank street shop. "It is just the thing for a stout, middle-aged lady."
"Sir!" squealed the customer in a rage. The clerk saw his faux pas and recovered himself quickly.
"Pardon me," he smiled, "I mistook you for the young lady who was in for her grandmother. Now that I look at you again, I see that you are an older person. Now, if you are buying for yourself, we have something over here that—"

Magnificent Scenes Along Loute Compel Unreserved Praise of Canadian Manufacturers.

Quivering with the pulsing life of her engines, the steamer Victoria, bearing a distinguished company of Canadian industrial captains, drew away from her wharf at Indianown, at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon, bound on a pilgrimage to the Celestial city. Past the huge mills, sprawling like dragons among the lumbered hills around the basin, through the gorge where the iron-red bluffs (fit abode of Bellerophon, the grim rock idol), stand like sentinels abwart the waterway leading into the heart of the land; across the mouth of the Kennebec into the coire splendors of Long Reach, she ploughed the silvery path through the waters lustrous with the light of a perfect day. And before her, and around, unfolded continuously a panorama of unrivalled natural beauty, an ever-changing view of tree-covered hills, rolling bottom lands, and picturesque valleys, arrayed in varied and vivid colors, majestic in outline and perspective, and steeped in a vast serenity under the enchantment of a sky tropical in its brilliance. As the river narrowed above the Long Reach, and the land flattened out, and the farms came down to the river's edge, and the views assumed a richer loveliness, and brighter coloring, the magnates of industry, exhausted their expressions of surprise and delight, and content with placid staring, gave themselves up to quiet enjoyment of the charm of the ever-changing river scenery.

It was as though the steamer was bearing them into the very sanctuary of beauty; as though for the time being they had left behind the world of business, the realm of wealth and power, of strife and struggle and tariff questions, and were entering into a world of enchantment, a world filled with the promise of glorious visions, insistent with voices seeking to deliver some wondrous message. The water in the reaches of the river shone peacefully, and a spirit of profound harmony brooded over the scene, and lay like benediction upon the little hamlets along the banks. Something alluring and inviting seemed to emanate from the beauty of the wonderful breathing earth, and cast its spell over the hard-headed men of business. Something that was at once a welcome and a challenge, something that made them in this fertile land lived and labored in harmony with nature; proclaimed too, that man achieves to the true freedom and the mastery of the world, the mystics have taught, by complete separation from creation, but by perfect unity with it. The world knew what they were about when they flung Ariadne's crown among the stars, and wring Demeter's grief on a barren corn, and the world's joy in the fruitful field. And the peace of the fruitful fields along the river arrayed in the pageantry of the Autumn beauty, with shimmering blades and tossing banners greeting the sun with joy for the furtherance of their life and purpose, and for the glory of the harvest time.

Now and then we passed little islands, glorious in gold from the sun, and a fringe of reeds at the water's edge whence arose a flood of snipe, and flew frightened across the marshes. Again we swept great groves of trees, gorgeous in their Autumn livery, a pageant wondrous shades of green, decorated with the flaming scarlet of maples, and the yellow gold of birches.

Towards the close of a perfect day the ship swung into the sun, from the river at the promontory, and the sun set right ahead, its rays turning the river into a miracle of iridescence, a waterway of white and gold leading into a glory ineffable. The day ended in a serenity of still and entrancing brilliance. The sky was without a cloud, a glowing dome of unstarlit light. Presently the sun, changing from glowing white to dull red, dropped into the river ahead, and for a moment the sun shone over the water, and the serenity became less brilliant, but more profoundly wonderful, the glimmer of light set like a constant around. The darkness, like benign immensity, settled over the venerable river, and in a short time a gleam of light set like a constant around the river bank, appearing as we were at the Celestial City.

STREET RAILWAY GRADES COMPLETED
TRAFFIC ON MARSH ROAD COMPLETE

City will have to do Considerable Work to Make it Correspond - Would Take Large Sum to Make Ideal Highway - Commissioners Transact Much Business.

There was a good deal of criticism of civic affairs at the meeting of the city council yesterday, but not much business was done. There were complaints about the street railway, the Marsh Road, the sidewalks, and the police force.

The Commissioner of Finance presented the following report regarding a letter of Henry L. McGowan, concerning claim for remuneration on account of sale of Greenhead property:

"This property was leased for a number of years to Mr. Armstrong and others and assignment of his lease was made to the late Charles Fawcett together with all the property rights which had been established by the city. In the year 1908 the city decided to acquire this property, to purchase the improvements thereon and cancelled the lease. For which improvements it paid approximately $10,000. Negotiations were begun in 1909 for the lease of this property by David Craig Company, they agreeing to pay $1,200 a year and to establish a cement factory, employing a certain number of hands, etc. Mr. Mc-Gowan was a member of the council at this time and was very desirous of seeing a large industry established here and took a keen interest in carrying the negotiations through.
The next year Mr. McGowan retired from the council and was actively associated with the David Craig Co., which for many reasons had not gone on with the work. Mr. McGowan of their lease to the city and the city further agreed to write off all arrears of rent upon such surrender, such arrears amounting to $637.50. On the 13th April, 1911, Max McCarty with E. N. Beach of the Pennsylvania company, made a proposal for the Greenhead property, offering to buy the same for the sum of $25,000 with the purpose of manufacturing cement.
In addition to this Mr. McGowan was agreed by order in council to give Mr.
McCarty an option for 10 months at $1,200, the balance, $23,800, to be paid at the end of 10 months. At the expiry of the option A. H. Hannington representing certain interests, offered to pay $24,500 for the property under the conditions agreed to with Mr. Mc-Gowan in regard to the manufacturing of cement particularly, and also offered to pay an additional amount of $12,500, providing that the city make it compulsory to manufacture cement be struck out. This was agreed to, making a total of $37,000.

"In addition to this Mr. Hannington acquired for his clients two additional lots at an additional sum of $4,250. It would seem to me that the conditions agreed to with Mr. Mc-Gowan and the David Craig Co., assigning their lease to the city and being relieved of all rent in connection with the same, and the fact that his interests therein ceased, and I am at a loss to understand how his claim can be substantiated, but I am disposed to give a hearing to Mr. McGowan.

Com. Wigmore thought the report was complete, but at the same time he was willing to give Mr. McGowan a chance to be heard.

Com. Agar moved that the report be filed. If Mr. McGowan wanted an audience, it was up to him to apply to the council.

Com. McLellan did not know what
Mr. McGowan had been acting as a broker, and after a thorough hearing in the furnace the two are placed under a trip hammer and welded as one metal. The bit drawer next exerts heat, and after a thorough heating in the furnace the two are placed under

"The axe is now set aside to cool and taken next in hand by the grinder, who even the surface and edges in upon a rapidly revolving grindstone.
The axe is then passed upon an inspector who rejects all unfit products.

"Having reached this stage of products," continued Mr. Heustis, "an important part still remains—the tool must be tempered. It is heated to a cherry red, dipped in brine and plunged into a secret combination of liquid which makes for durability and a peculiar toughness. In the finishing department the firm has recently installed an etching plant and bluing oven.
After being brightly polished the axe heads are painted different colors and labeled, and handles are inserted. They are then boxed in the shipping department and sent out for service."

"On account of the difficulty experienced with the sulphur in hard coal, in order to produce the highest grade article," said Mr. Heustis in conclusion, "the firm has found it necessary to install a crude oil plant, thereby eliminating all sulphurous effect."

Secretary Hoag of Board of Trade Receives Letters from Prominent U. S. Manufacturers.

Secretary Hoag of the Board of Trade has received a letter from a firm in the United States saying that if conditions as regards raw materials, labor, and sites at St. John are satisfactory they would be prepared to come here and establish a plant for making fire brick. In regard to the plans of Allison and Lamson, who have been talking of establishing an umbrella factory here. Mr. Hoag said yesterday that it was now up to St. John to offer them inducements to come here.

"Mr. Hoag has received another letter from Mr. Rolker, a silk manufacturer of New York, who as a side line engages in industrial promotions, giving his views on St. John. Mr. Rolker does not intend to locate here, but Mr. Hoag thinks he may do something to induce new industries to come here. The letter is as follows:

"My reasons for selecting St. John as an industrial site are many and varied.

"Some of the principal causes of my decision that St. John is an ideal point from which to operate a factory are as follows: The city being a seaport and geographically located as it is, it is certain of having a natural growth, which natural growth coupled with certain other advantages outweigh the inducements which have come to my notice offered by other cities.

"The harbor which is open year around offers advantages to shipping interests, the fact that it is the terminus of the C.P.R., and fed by the Intercolonial Railway, the vast amount of money which is being spent for improvements, all tend towards a healthy and sure development to St. John.

"Naturally when determining on an industrial site manufacturers desire to locate in a thriving and growing city so that there may be no uncertainty as to the labor supply and a certain amount of immediate outlet for your city to determine that St. John offers at present and in the future the necessary requisites to successful manufacturing. I have determined upon St. John as the base of my operations.

"Another factor which assisted me very materially in reaching my opinion was the active broad minded and fair spirit which I found existing among the members of your Board of Trade; they extended a welcome and hearty co-operation which in itself gave promise of great interest by the members of your Board in the welfare of St. John and its future development.

"I believe that when the dredging of your east harbor has been completed and the wharves are built in that harbor that St. John will surprise even its best friend.

"Yours very sincerely,

SPECULATION LANGUID, MARKET UNDERTONE FIRM

New York, Sept. 22.—A few stocks made good gains today, but in the great majority of cases changes were only nominal. Speculation was languid. The market was closed until noon on account of the funeral of Mayor Gaynor, and during the afternoon little interest was shown in the dealings. Many traders remained away from the street all day, and those on the floor found few opportunities for profitable operations. The undertone of the market was distinctly firm, with evidences of increasing strength until just before the close, when there was a mild reaction.

CLOSING LETTER BACHE & CO.'S REVIEW OF MARKET ON MONTREAL EXCHANGE

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
 Montreal, Sept. 22.—The local market today lacked any decided tendency and trading was narrow. The New York stock exchange was closed up till noon on account of the funeral of Mayor Gaynor and during the morning there was very little going on in local brokerage offices. When Wall Street opened at noon a disposition to slighter higher prices was shown and nearly every stock on the list made a gain in the afternoon session. Tram Power was again active this morning, selling up to 44 7/8, later it declined to 44 but in the late trading it recovered to 44 1/2. Montreal Tram stock sold at 190 1/2 against 180 last week. While it is admitted that the earnings of the Tramways Company entitles the securities to every consideration nothing whatever is known of the situation with respect to Tram Power Company. An official connected with the Tramways group today stated that the company did not contemplate issuing more securities and explained the advance in the price of Tram Power stock on the theory that the public is gaining more confidence in the Canadian Light and Power and Tramways companies as time went on. Brazilian Traction was a little on the easy side selling 35 to 35 1/2. Holders of the stock well qualified to judge look for a further advance to take place in this issue. C. P. R. was also a little easier selling around 232 1/2. There was apparently no special reason for the slightly lower prices but the disposition of the market is apparently easier at the moment. Canada Cement was traded in at 35 1/2, which was somewhat higher than to-day's London price. The situation in the London market is of small significance if any at all.

There was little trading in R. & O. around 112 to 112 1/2. There are said to be a large number of orders to buy the stock under 111. The Spanish River issues continue weak, the common selling at 14 1/2, and the preferred at 49 to 51 for broken lots. A good deal of uncertainty exists as to what showing the company made for the last fiscal year and it is hoped that the publication of the annual statement will clear the air.

Textile was firm at 85 1/2. The cotton industry in Canada appears to be in a particularly healthy condition and enquiries for the various cotton issues have been one of the marked features of the market for the past fortnight. The technical position of the Montreal market would tend to indicate that a higher range of prices is likely. After recent advances the stocks have been left to take care of themselves for a few days with a view to allowing traders to get a better publication of the annual statement of activity in two or three issues.

CLOSING LETTER ON COTTON MARKET

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
 New York, Sept. 22.—By the time the local cotton market opened following the forenoon adjournment taken as a mark of respect to the late mayor, there was quite an accumulation of bullish news circulating through the street. Cables were sharply higher; New Orleans showed pronounced strength; light frosts were reported from the Carolinas, Mississippi and North Alabama. The eastern belt forecast was for a dry frost in these sections; there was a bullish New Orleans Times' Democrat report and a good many scattering crop complaints from the south. The local market did not fully respond to these features, but first prices were 11 to 15 points higher, which made new high records for the season. There was heavy realizing by old longs at this advance and while there was every indication of a broadening outside demand for long accounts, the market eased off with active months selling about 10 to 13 points lower after 2 o'clock. Conflicting reports from Washington regarding legislative prospects appeared to unsettle sentiment and was doubtless responsible for much of this nervousness. There was some buying by trade interests early, and mills were said to be taking some cotton out of the market on the afternoon break.

E. & C. RANDOLPH.

POST WHEELER TO RETURN.

Post Wheeler, secretary of the American Embassy at London, is returning to Washington to make an explanation of charges which have been preferred against him by an American who claims to have been withheld. Details of the charges also have been kept secret, although one allegation is said to relate to the alleged evasion of the duty on gasoline imported into Italy for his automobile.

The better time to the stock market during the past week has been caused principally by the strength of Union Pacific, which has at present a tremendous cash surplus, regarding which it is rumored that it may be distributed in some shape or form to a reasonable extent. The bond market has also maintained a favorable and healthy tone. The best grades of bonds are today selling in the neighborhood of three points or more above the low level of the summer.

The continued unfavorable reports about the New Haven Railroad have occasioned a further serious decline in that stock, and although the low level may not yet have been reached it must be borne in mind that the New Haven is a tremendously valuable property, and that at the opportune time, it will undoubtedly dispose of more of its assets in the shape of trolley lines, etc., in return for which the company will receive a large amount of cash.

The Rock Island issues have declined because of the serious impairment to the corn crop, which will affect the earnings of the Rock Island road. The Rock Island Company has no early maturities of importance, and we understand has in its treasury a large number of bonds unpledged. Briefly summing up the situation as to the future of the market, there has been a certain accumulation of stocks by traders since the low level of the early summer, but accumulation has not reached a point where the market is weakened thereby, and with the money outlook continuing favorable, it is probable that the better grade of dividend-paying securities will seek higher levels.

LIDLAW & CO'S CLOSING STOCK LETTER

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
 New York, Sept. 22.—As was to be expected today's short session was devoid of striking feature, either in way of news or activity. The dealings were confined chiefly to room professionals, there being little or no outside interest. A sharp advance in People's Gas, attributed to the operations of a pool, furnished a little diversion but had a very limited following. The general list showed a steady undertone throughout and in the late dealings developed quite a little strength on what appeared to be professional short-covering. Sentiment as a whole continued fairly cheerful although an spirit of caution was still manifest in influential banking quarters. Foreign advices suggested that the Bank of England might center in any volume. The supposed ability of local institutions to obtain the metal from that source has been one of the reassuring factors in the financial situation and the possibility of opposition to such a movement renders the immediate money outlook less assuring than it was last week. So long as this uncertainty exists it is unlikely that any sustained upward movement will be sanctioned by the large interests. On the other hand the standard stocks still rule at a level which should prove attractive to investors and absorption from this source would tend to prevent any pronounced reaction. Total sales $181,500 shares.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PRODUCE PRICES

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
 Chicago, Sept. 22.—Wheat—Market had an easier undertone early as the result of large receipts of spring wheat in the American and the Canadian Northwest, larger volume of shipments than expected and lower cables from Liverpool, but the strength in corn and buying by commission houses on resting orders was responsible for a fair rally.

Corn—Damage reports from Iowa as the result of temperatures ten degrees below freezing has made an active and higher market although there was a small break early in sympathy with wheat.

Oats—Continue to follow corn and have made a fair advance with that grain.

Provisions—Firm with scattered buying on the advance.

EVANS ON STOCKS.
 A. O. SLAUGHTER & CO.

New York, Sept. 22.—The bank statement was more favorable than expected, and is the only development since Saturday's close, which is apt to affect the market. This may cause a little buying today, but it is not likely that this impulse will be sufficient to cause much change in values.

H. K. EVANS.

CLOSING STOCK LETTER FROM RANDOLPH

(F. B. McCURDY & CO.)
 New York, Sept. 22.—The market opened quiet and but little changed from Saturday's close, although there was strength in the first hour and a start. During the first hour and a half price changes continued insignificant, and even the professionals on the floor ceased trading. Union Pacific was brisk in demand, advancing over a point. Substantial gains were made in U. S. Steel, St. Paul and Lehigh. The movement seemed to be largely professional in origin, and when traders took profits in the last hour again receded, with fractional net gains as a result of the day's trading prevailing throughout the greater part of the list.

Sales, 175,000. Bonds, $1,029,500. E. & C. RANDOLPH.

CLOSING COTTON LETTER FROM JUDSON & CO.

(J. C. MACKINTOSH & CO.)
 New York, Sept. 22.—Higher Liverpool cables and bullish weather and crop news were the dominating influences in the cotton market during the four part of today's session. It was a big market for a time with prices 11 to 15 points higher, but on the advance there was heavy realizing by old longs and a little later the uncertain tenor of Washington despatches resulted in the withdrawal of a large measure of the market's support. Rumors and denials concerning pending legislation against trading in cotton futures came thick and fast during the afternoon and authentic despatches were of a character to suggest caution.

It looks as if the chances were even that the clerk bill in some modified form would be enacted. Until this matter is out of the way bad crop news will fall of its full effect.

THE TOPICS OF SPORT AT HOME AND ABROAD

THE ST. JOHN ATHLETIC CLUB; HUNDRED MEMBERS ENROLLED; WILL BOOM ALL SPORT HERE

About one hundred young men who are interested in athletics assembled in the rooms of the Victoria Rink last night and organized the "St. John Athletic Club." The meeting was an enthusiastic one which lasted over two hours, and from the expressions of a number of those present, and the manner in which the members started to work, there is a very bright prospect of the new athletic organization being a pronounced success. The new club starts out with a hundred members enrolled and about a third of that number were enrolled as new members last night.

After talking on the lines of athletics for some time the following officers were elected:

Ernest Sterling—President.
Harry Ervin—1st Vice-president.
George Stubbs—2nd Vice-president.
W. S. Nelson—Sec-treas.
H. G. Spearman, F. H. Howard, Frank Greason, J. C. Barberry, G. G. Anglin and Elmer Ingraham, executive committee.

There were many addresses delivered during the evening at which it was pointed out that for some years back St. John had gone far behind in the sport line, and that the few athletes that it now claims have had but very little encouragement. It was shown that years ago St. John was to the front with athletics, having clubs with large memberships, and athletes who had become famous in aquatics. St. John had the world's champions, the Paris crew. In skating, St. John boasted of a world's champion speed skater in Hugh McCormick and Fred Logan as the international speed skater.

In addition to these skaters there were many others who could rank with the fastest in the world, and while the Paris crew won the world's championship there were a number of other crews in St. John who were rated equally as good. Then St. John boasted of some of the best sprinters and long distance runners. It had good hockey teams and lacrosse teams and in fact this city was represented by some of the best athletes, but during the last ten or twenty years the city was gradually getting off the athletic map, whereas a city with a population nearing 70,000 mark should be well up to the front.

St. John has at the present time a growing population of young athletes, who, if given some encouragement, should make good, and it is the earnest intention of the St. John Athletic Club to develop new material and assist in every manner and means every line of sport.

One principal topic discussed at great length was the fact that at the present time the city had no suitable grounds where field sports could be held. Only last summer when the St. John High School athletes wished to compete in the championships, it was found necessary for them to travel to Rostehay as there was the only suitable field near the city.

BEAVERS HAD GOOD BALL GAME

Brownville Jct., Me., Sept. 19.—On Saturday, Sept. 13th, the C. P. R. Beavers, of Brownville Jct., closed out one of the most successful seasons in the history of baseball in this town, and making a record which should satisfy the most ardent fans. Out of 23 games played during the season 18 were won and 5 lost.

The team was composed largely of local boys employed in the C. P. R. offices here. James, Baker and Mackie, being the only boys from out of town on the team.

The pitching of James, the Colby college catchers, was one of the features of the season, he winning ten out of fifteen games pitched, and the majority of those lost were lost through no fault of his. His best work for the season was against the Bangor league team, which he held to four scattered hits, striking out 12. Beavers 7; May 31, at Milo, MILO 4, Beavers 8.

Baker, as backstop, did good work, catching in nineteen games and batting for .309. "Dave" was in the game all the time and his work was satisfactory to all.

Clubs at Evans, Roberts and York played first class ball, both at bat and in their positions in the infield, while Fischer, Allen, Mackie and Grand James, did not issue a single error in the outfield.

During the greater part of the season Fischer, local pitcher, was the star from box work on account of illness and injuries sustained in a game at McAdam Junction. He pitched 17 games, however, the latter part of the season and should do good work next season.

Below is the list of games played: May 17, at Brownville Jct., Lake Beavers 10; May 24, at Brownville Jct., Milo 0, Beavers 12; May 30, at Brownville Jct., Jackman 12, Beavers 7; May 31, at Milo, MILO 4, Beavers 8.

TAYLOR TALKS WILL TUNE UP FOR THE GOLF VICTORY WORLD SERIES

London, Sept. 22.—The defeat of Harry Vardon and Edward Ray by young Francis Oulmet, at Brookline, Mass., is commented upon today by John H. Taylor, British open golf champion.

"Youth has no nerves," he contends. "Youngsters playing golf do not realize how difficult it is to play really well, and when he has made a reputation and understands the direct consequences of failure is one properly thankful, if one is playing well. Oulmet is a splendid golfer, endowed with splendid nerves. At the same time my impression is that he had everything to gain and nothing to lose. Vardon and Ray, on the other hand, knew they carried on their shoulders the reputation of this country. That did not make their task easier. It is much more easy to make a reputation at golf than to maintain it."

Taylor himself won his first open championship in Great Britain at the age of twenty-three.

1873—Tom Allen defeated Mike McCool in 7 rounds at St. Louis, and regained the pugilistic championship of America. Both men had been claimants to the world's title. Their first battle was in 1869, and was advertised as for "the heavyweight championship of the world," which was then in a muddle, with Mac, Wormald, Baldwin, Goss, Allen and McCool all claiming the honor. In 1870 Mac again secured the undisputed supremacy by whipping Allen.

1878—Jack and Mike Sullivan, "fighting twins," born in Cambridge, Mass.

PHILADELPHIA SHUTS DETROIT OUT; WON AMERICAN LEAGUE PENNANT

Philadelphia, Sept. 22.—Philadelphia won the pennant of the American League for this season and its fifth championship in the thirteen years history of the organization by two victories from Detroit this afternoon. It was a day of triumph for the home team, as the Detroit team was whitewashed in each contest, the scores being 4 to 0 and 1 to 0, not a fielding error marring the afternoon's work of Connie Mack's combination.

A comedy, "The Wager," supplies the merriment of the entertainment and created no small amount of mirth.

As a special feature of the programme this week, the management of the Lyric have engaged Gilmour and Allan, two charming young ladies who are seen in a novel singing and dancing specialty. The duo made their first appearance last night and from the outset proved popular. Both are good singers and dainty dancers and their contribution to the programme lent an additional charm to the evening's entertainment.

THE GRAND CIRCUIT AT COLUMBUS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 22.—Leta J. A. California mare, was second choice to Frank Bogash, Jr., in the Hotel Hartman pacing stake race that held the place of prominence on the programme for the evening day of Columbus Grand Circuit racing, but she won in a five heat struggle in which the sprinting through the stretch was a feature.

Several times this season these apcers have met, and today's victory is the third for Leta J. In the second heat she did the final quarter in 29 1/2 seconds, and completed the next mile with a quarter in 28 1/4 seconds. Winning this heat gave her an advantage over Frank Bogash, Jr. They did not have much to do to overtake Del Rey in the fourth heat, but were fresher in the fifth, which Leta J. took, staving off her rival by a burst of speed. She was credited with pacing the last half in 1:00 3/4.

Directum was a pronounced favorite for the King Pacing Stake, and won without trouble. Though the track was slow, he did the third and final heat in 2:04 1/4, to keep clear of Walter Cochato and Branham Baughman.

Omar, purchased six weeks ago by Louisville, Ky., horsemen, made his first Grand Circuit start today and disposed of Newel, the first choice. They met in the 211 trot. Newel won the first two heats, with Omar close up. In the third heat the result was reversed, and Omar did not have much trouble taking the next two. Cleo B. was almost overlooked in a field of thirteen 215 pacers, of which Princess Margaret was thought to be the best. The first two miles were won handily by Cleo B. The third heat went to Zanibar, and then the race went over for resumption tomorrow.

IMPERIAL'S PROGRAMME ENTHRALLED THOUSANDS

New King Square House Presents Tremendous Bill for an Opener—Eleanor Rae Ball, Artiste

The big new Imperial Theatre on King Square commenced its regular weekly career yesterday afternoon, and judging from the quality of entertainment provided the shows will be in keeping with the magnificent structure and its luxurious appointments. It would not be extravagant to say that St. John people have in store a very refined order of amusement in this sumptuous house. The attendance was a large one, not only because citizens and their families proud of this new civic possession, were anxious to visit the theatre, but the announcement of the bill proved a strong magnet to say nothing of the splendour of the house to all central avenues of traffic.

The star of the program was, of course, Rae Elinor Ball, whose merit as a violinist have perhaps never been surpassed in St. John. Miss Ball who has a charming stage presence to begin with, simply enthralled the hearers with these exquisite selections, and in response to an insistent recall played a fantastic arrangement of the great Sextette from Lucia di Lammermoor. It did not take long for the audience to realize that a remarkable artiste was playing, and appreciation was unbounded. Signor Manetta, the unquestioned premier singer in Nickel history, was just as welcome as ever and the finished manner in which he rendered, "For All Eternity," elicited tremendous applause, demanding an encore. The Imperial's orchestra, which sounds especially good because of the splendid accompaniment of the splendid accompaniment of the house, played the various pictures with taste and realism, especially the Edison production, "The Pied Piper of Hamelin," a veritable classic, and for which the "Dawn" music from William Tell proved an entrancing accompaniment.

The big picture feature of the show was a Vitagraph double reel, entitled "The Call." It is a story of love and adventure, the most realistic feature of which is an actual train wreck—two on-coming trains colliding with most disastrous results and bringing watchers almost to their feet with excitement. A Lubin comedy concluded the bill, making a double bill of pictures in addition to the excellent musical attractions.

The Imperial is town talk. Its magnificent interior has captivated the classes of residents and the unexpected announcement that lowest priced would prevail has been received with such outpouring surprise and pleasure that there is little worry about the immense crowds attending. Truly it is no head-quarters for wholesome amusement for a long time to come. On Wednesday two of the Imperial reels will be the usual Pathé Weekly and the seventh of the famous series. The other two reels will be comedy and drama.

JAILED FOR SPITTING ON POLICE COURT FLOOR

Frank Morrison will be Tried by Magistrate this Morning — Reported by Court Room Sergeant.

While the police court was in session yesterday morning Magistrate Ritchie remarked that he had noticed quite a large expectation on the Court House steps as he was entering the building, and said that if he knew who the guilty person was he would make an example of him. He said that those who expected on the floors or sidewalks had better look out for themselves.

Yesterday afternoon Frank Morrison, alias Moran, who a short time ago was arrested on suspicion of having stolen a violin from a North End residence, entered the court and wished to swear out a warrant for the arrest of a man who had insulted him. While awaiting an opportunity to do business with the court the man accosted a couple of times on the court room floor, and being noticed by Court Sergeant Hastings, he was invited to take a seat within the case had been concluded by the Magistrate. Sergeant Hastings charged the man with having expectorated on the floor. Magistrate Ritchie did not take time to try the case but remanded Morrison to jail and will take up the case this morning.

NO. 2 BATTERY HOLD ANNUAL CELEBRATION

Artillerymen Enjoy Dinner and Pleading Programme at Bond's

CUPS PRESENTED RIFLE EXPERTS

Soldiers Took Advantage of Opportunity to Present Colonel Baxter with Miniature Gun.

An interesting incident took place last evening at Bond's, during the course of a dinner held by No. 2 Battery, when Capt. J. T. McGowan presented Col. J. B. M. Baxter with a miniature twenty-four round gun, as a mark of the battery's appreciation of Col. Baxter's efforts in obtaining new barracks for the battery.

The gun is mounted on a carriage—a perfect miniature in every detail. The barrel is made of brass. The woodwork is taken from the quoin of an old 64-pound standard carriage. In addition to the gun a set of plungers and wadhooks as well as hand spikes were included in the gift.

In making the presentation Major McGowan referred to the many favors the battery had received from Col. Baxter, and the latter's thoughtfulness on many occasions. The recipient replied briefly, expressing his appreciation of the gift.

The dinner, which was held in accordance with an established custom of the battery to mark the close of the drill season proved an enjoyable function. A pleasing musical programme was carried out during the course of the evening and the gathering was made the occasion for the presentation of trophies won during the season.

Major J. T. McGowan presided over the festive board and when the menu had been cleared a number of toasts were proposed and elicited happy responses. The first toast was that to the King. The toast to the City of St. John was responded to by Commissioner Wigmore, an old member of No. 2 battery, and who was also on the staff of the regiment.

Lieut. Archibald sang a solo, after which the health of the regiment was proposed by Col. Baxter, and responded to by Lieut. Col. Armstrong and Capt. and Adjutant Harrison. Lieut. Ring and Archibald sang a duet and then the presentation of trophies took place.

Col. Armstrong presented the Solomon cup to Maj. J. McGowan, on behalf of No. 2 battery, which recently won it in the rifle competition. Col. Baxter presented the Baxter cup, belonging to the company, to Sergeant A. A. Dodge. Lieut. Gombili presented the cup donated by him to Lieut. Archibald. Col. Armstrong presented the cup donated by him, to Sergeant Dodge. Sgt. Duffy presented the cup donated by him to Major Sewell, and Maj. McGowan presented the Provincial Rifle Association medal to Sgt. Dodge.

Sgt. Lanyon sang "The Old Brigade," after which the toast to the sister batteries was proposed by and responded to by Lieut. Gombili, Sgt. Maj. E. M. Sadler, Q.M.S. J. E. Edwards, Sgt. Sullivan, Sgt. Bentley, of the Ordnance Corps, and signalling instructor Sgt. Lindsay were heard in happy speeches. Gunner Brimmer was heard in a pleasing solo as was Maj. McGowan. A quartette consisting of Lieut. Ring, Sgt. Fullerton, Sgt. Lanyon and Corp. Harrod elicited much applause in several numbers.

Altogether the evening proved an unqualified success. The gathering broke up about midnight.

HOLTON GIRL WILL GO HOME

She Robbed Employer and then Denied it — Caught at Railway Station and will be Deported.

In the police court, yesterday afternoon, the fifteen year old domestic from Maine who was arrested Saturday on suspicion of having robbed a West End lady, strongly protested her innocence, but after a number of witnesses had been examined and it was pointed out quite clearly that the girl had stolen money amounting to $25, two small purses, a handkerchief, a pair of gloves and a pen holder, she was branded by the court as a thief and a liar.

It was shown in evidence that the young girl had come from a Maine town to the city about two weeks ago, unaccompanied, and became acquainted with a woman on the train at McAdam who, on finding that the girl had no friends to meet her when she arrived in the city, provided her with shelter for a few days until she got employment in a West End residence. On Saturday last the girl left the home where she was employed and had not gone more than a few minutes when her employer found that she had been robbed and her pocket book emptied of what money was in it was thrown in the vestibule. The police were notified and the thief with a ticket for Houlton, Maine, was captured by Detective Killen and Deputy Chief Jenkins in the I. C. R. depot.

Despite the fact that the evidence was against her the girl stoutly denied having stolen the money and said the reason she left her employment was that her mother had sent her $4.80 in a letter and instructed her to return home. She claimed that she came to St. John to visit a married man whom she had met a couple of weeks before in Houlton and who promised to meet her at McAdam Jct., but was not there when she arrived and she did not know his address in St. John.

After she had received a talking to by Magistrate Ritchie, the girl acknowledged that she had stolen the money and she was then committed to the care of the Salvation Army officers, who will look after her for a few days and see that she is sent back to her mother who resides a few miles out of Houlton.

Commissioner McLellan Again States His Determination to Look into Dock Street Fire.

At the Council meeting yesterday Com. McLellan stated that there would be an investigation to find out where the police were when the second fire broke out in the Foster building on Dock street. Com. Agar asked why nobody had been left to watch the building after the first fire had been put out.

Com. McLellan stated that the Salvage Corps were supposed to furnish guards or patrolmen at the request of the insurance companies or the owners, but in this case it was not the fault of the Salvage Corps. Capt. Macrae was not asked by the insurance men to put on watchmen, and when Capt. Macrae asked Mr. Wilson if he wanted salvage men the latter said he would have two of his clerks watch the building. It was said the insurance people did not ask the salvage men to go on watch because only one insurance man was present and there was some trouble between the Salvage Corps men had not been paid for keeping watch after the two previous fires.

"If the salvage men had been left to keep watch they would have retained hose and would have been able to prevent the second fire which did so much damage," added the commissioner. "I am going to hold an investigation, or ask the magistrate to hold one, to find out where the policemen were. I think I will be able to prove that an hour before the alarm was given the reflection of the second fire was seen in the sky."

John Woodruff, of Immigration Department Here Taking Pictures.

USED IN LECTURES BY ENGLISH AGENTS

Has Many Beautiful Colored Scenes of Farm Life and Conditions in this Province.

"New Brunswick is a fine province," said John Woodruff, chief photographer of the Immigration Department of the Dominion Government, who is in the city. "The scenery along the St. John River is very beautiful, and other parts of the province I have visited offer picturesque and interesting views. Very few people have any idea of the beauties of New Brunswick. Somehow, you cannot, on a railway journey through the province, get anything like a fair impression of the country.

Of course, everybody's attention has been centered on the West," added Mr. Woodruff. "When we started taking pictures in the Province of Quebec nobody had any idea of the fine views we would be able to secure. And it is the same here in New Brunswick; nobody has taken the trouble to get views of its natural beauties, and few realize what might be done in this line. Around Sussex, for instance, there are many splendid views.

"My department is not interested in exploiting scenic attractions of the country. We leave that to the fellows. What we are after are photos that will give possible immigrants a picture of the farm and industrial life of the country. Many of our pictures are made into slides and used in connection with lectures delivered by the immigration agents in Great Britain and other countries. Many more are used as illustrations in the pamphlets issued by the department. They are also supplied to the railways for use in their publications and to magazines and journals of all sorts."

Mr. Woodruff has been taking some pictures of farm scenes around Woodstock and after taking some views of the harbor of St. John he will go to Digby to get some fishing scenes. At the residence of William Hawker last evening Mr. Woodruff showed a reporter a large number of views which he has taken in different parts of Canada. Among them were a number of interesting scenes in New Brunswick, but it was noticeable that New Brunswick was not represented in the collection to the same extent as the other provinces. Mr. Woodruff has visited the province before on brief picture-taking tours, but does not feel that he has covered the province as well as its attractions for immigrants demand. One thing he is doing for the province now is to have Peter Warming, the well known artist of St. John, color a number of enlarged views of the province. He is much pleased with the coloring work done by Mr. Warming. Some of the enlarged colored views he had on exhibition last evening were certainly a credit to the artist, and well calculated to give a fine impression of the province. Mr. Woodruff has been in the employ of the immigration department for 24 years, and has taken photos in every part of Canada.
