SCARCITY OF FISH.

The reports of the fisheries around the southern shore are not very encouraging, nor does it appear there is much chance of making a respectable catch this season.

Vessels arriving from the Banks report fish scarce. The same reports come from around our coast. It appears also that the American fishermen in the North Bay and around the coast of P. E. Island have done nothing this season and many vessels have left for home with scarcely any fish. Various theories are advanced by the fishermen as to the cause of the scarcity of fish. One of the reasons given by a fishermon to our reporter yestgriday, and which he stated was now the opinion of many, that there was a great deal of white water in the Atlantic this year, and which caused the fish to leave the coast. Don't Kill Tue Old Hens.

When hens are shedding feathers they often top laying and grow fat. Most people con-ider fat, a sign of health. phosphate-elements in their food when moulting which if not supplied they stop laying, because the growing feathers have used all, and let no nitrogenous matter to form eggs. At this season, killing old hens and relying on young pullets is a great mistake; where people have a few hens and late pullets. Because, if properly fed the hens will have their new plumage and lay well all winter; while the pullets unless specially treated may not commence laying until spring, when high prices for gegs have fallen one half. Again an old hen's egg will hatch a more vigorous chicken than a pullet's egg. hen's egg will hatch a more vigorous chicken than a pullet's egg.

John R. Jones, Suffield, Conn., a breeder of prize winning mottled Javas, says:

"I find Sheridan's Condition Powder fed once daily in the food, very valuable for moulting hens. I have used it two years fer exhibition birds. It assists in growing new feathers, makes the combs a bright red, and gives a rich gloss to the plumage. It will also make hens lay and the eggs hatch well. I find when other egg-foods are used in quantities to force egg.

The above is the experience of many people in using Sheridan's Powder. If fed to young publicts now as directed, they will begin to lay before six wonths old. Commence at once using Sheridan's Powder. It helps old hens through moulting, and gets the pullets in laying trim before the season of high prices. Eggs will sell very high this fall and winter.
