LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

Inspector Dearness, of this city, twice addressed the Western Teachers' Association at Brandon, Man., on Oct. 5.

Seventy-five dollars cash and $25 in consolation prizes will be offered at the big quoting tournament on Oct. 22 and 23.

At the great Y. M. C. A. meeting on Tuesday night next in Victoria Hall, Hon.

G. W. Ross, one of the best speakers in Canada, will give the principal address.

Mr. Robert Holmes, of the Clinton

New Era, paid the advertisement office visit yesterday, on his way home from attending the opening of the Journal's new building at St. Thomas.

The preliminary examination of William Wilson, of Canadoc, before Squire Smyth, has adjourned until this afternoon. He is charged with the murder of Edward Upton at Strathroy last Friday evening.

Mr. J. A. McHarg, G. T. R. station master, yesterday presented to the of the late Albert Clark, baggageman, who was drowned at Kincardine Sept. 17, with $2,000, the amount of her husband's insurance in the Order of Chosen Friends.

-Young Wm. Brown was dismissed by the magistrate yesterday on a breach of the by-law charges. Sweeping papers from Pocock's store onto the street was the complaint.

-Rev. A. C. Courtice will address the western branch of the Women's Missionary Society at their ninth annual convention in King Street Church, Ingersoll, on Oct. 13, 14 and 15.

-Fred Griffin, an Exeter confectioner, has left for parts unknown with his wife and family, leaving mourning creditors, etc. He had an employee he was coming to London on business.

-Michael Tierney had Mrs. W. F.

Brown, of King street west, before the magistrate yesterday morning charged with assault. Tierney claims she threw pepper in his eyes. The case was postponed until Monday.

-Mary Burris' boy was badly cut around the mouth during a juvenile melee the yesterday before the magistrate. The latter considered both boys to be blame and dismissed the case.

-Obadiah Cannon, Wm. Jeffries, Mrs.

Annie Hull and James Guymer were taxed

$1 each by the police magistrate yesterday for infractions of the market by-law.

The offense of the three former consisted in huckstering operations and that of the latter in taking up too much room.

-No. 2 Committee of the Council and

No. 2 of the Board of Education met Thursday evening in their respective rooms.

The former had no quorum and the latter had no communications. Both, however, passed their accounts. The latter committee also considered the estimate for Hamilton road kindergarten school, and the engineer will call for tenders. The janitors of Lorne avenue, Hamilton road, Waterloo street, Akin street and King street schools were allowed $2 each for supplying light during the winter.

-A very happy event took place Wednesday afternoon at the residence of Alderman Bartlett, of No. 5 ward, the occasion being the marriage of his only daughter,

Arlene Florence, to Mr. Robert Parsons, of East London. The bride looked charming in white cashmere and orange blossoms.

She was supported by her cousin, Miss Ada Bartlett, and Mr. Peter Bremner assisted the groom. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. Philip, of East London Methodist Church. The presents were numerous, useful and costly. After a rich wedding dinner the happy couple left by G. T. R.

for the west. On their return they will make their home on Grey street.

Death of a Respected Pioneer.

Mr. Robert Somerville, one of the pioneers of the township of Blanshard, passed quietly away at his home there on the 5th inst., at the ripe old age of 74 years and 8 months. He was born in the county of Tyrone, Ireland. He removed early to the city of New York, and on account of ill-health came to Canada in 1849.

In the early settlement of the country he took an active interest in church and educational matters, and was a justice of the peace, but always declined to become a candidate for any municipal office. Five years ago he received a stroke of paralysis from which he never fully recovered. The death of his wife last December was a very severe bereavement, and he gradually grew weaker until the end came. He was respected by all who knew him, and leaves a family of two daughters and three sons, the youngest of the latter being the manager of the Huron and Erie Loan and Savings Company, of this city.

The 26th annual convention of Ontario Society will be held in the city of Ottawa, Ont., on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday, Oct. 27, 28 and 29. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has granted liberal terms of travel, viz., Toronto and return $5, points west of Toronto single fare to Toronto, added to the $5. Arrangements with the Grand Trunk Railway Company are equally favorable. The committee are happy to be able to say that Mr. B. F. Jacobs, chairman of the International Society, and Executive committee, has definitely promised to be present, as has also Rev. Principal MacVicar, of Montreal. Other speakers will be announced immediately. Efforts have been made during the past year by officers of the association, assisted by warm friends of the cause, to complete the organization of the Province. Much has been done in this regard, of which reports will be given.

"The Advertiser" is an organ of news and of thoroughly independent opinion. The Advertiser alone is responsible for opinions expressed in these columns.

"The Advertiser" advocates Continental Free Trade, and as early as possible after, free trade with the whole world.

"The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an independent Canadian Nationality, in equally friendly alliance with the United States and with Great Britain, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States. As to Imperial Federation, sometimes spoken of, the Advertiser as yet has seen nothing proposed that bears any stamp of practicality, and in any case infinitely prefers the grander and more really hopeful scheme of a federation of the English-speaking peoples of the world.

"The Advertiser" advocates prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor; and all expedient general legislation and persuasion in the meantime.

"The Advertiser" is an advocate of equal rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work.

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The Advertiser will endeavor to promote the movement for Christian union not alone by direct appeal and argument, but by seeking to present the best rather than the worst side of each denomination.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

London, Monday, Oct. 12.

A CANADIAN I was born, a Canadian I will die.—Hon. A. S. Hardy.
That is the way to talk.

During the first nine months of this year, the total mileage of new railways built in the United States was 2,892. It is not expected that the new lines will extend to more than 5,000 in the present year.
In 1890 the new mileage was 5,738. Our neighbors are now extremely well supplied with facilities for traveling and for the carriage of freight.

HON. CHARLES CLARKE, ex-Speaker of the Ontario Legislature, is reported to have sent in his resignation to the Speaker.
The honorable gentleman has for many years been a member of the Legislature, and he desires, for personal reasons, to retire from public life. Col. Clarke has been one of the most popular members of the House, and his retirement will be regretted by his legislative associates on both sides of the Chamber.

GRAPEs sell in Windsor at 14 cents a pound.—(Toronto Empire of Saturday.) Grapes are still plentiful and the market is easy. Catawbas are quoted at 4 cents, Concord at 2 1/2 cents and fancy white grapes at 2 1/2 to 3 cents per pound.— (Detroit Free Press of Saturday.)

Seems to us that under unrestricted reciprocity the Canadian grape grower would find a profitable market for part of his surplus in the United States. The farmer could also take his eggs over there, for whereas 15 cents a dozen has been paid in the Windsor market, in Detroit 19 to 20 cents is the ruling price.

A CAMELEMAN from Berlin announces that as the "cold weather" approaches there is a marked increase in the want and misery among the working classes in that city. In order to get rid of the dangerous and able-bodied, they are given work on the North Sea Canal and other public improvements away from the city. This cannot be done with the aged and infirm, and the departures hardly make an appreciable difference in the number of paupers apparent on every hand. In other cities of the empire, especially the industrial centers, there is more poverty this year than last year, and the high price of bread makes harder the lot of the poor. Germany is one of the European countries that adopted "protection" as a policy, avowedly for the benefit of the workers, but really to afford a means of abstracting money from the people by a system of indirect taxation. The more a political manager desires to fleece the taxpayers the greater becomes his anxiety to keep them in ignorance of the extent of their burdens. The masses, however, cannot continue to pay high taxes, even if collected indirectly on what they wear, without being impoverished. At times, their burdens may be lightened by as the case in Canada at the present time, but the collection of unnecessary taxation only prevents the people from enjoying the full bounty of the Creator. Neither in the old world nor in the new has the system of high taxation benefited the masses.

THE GOVERNOR-GENERAL.
To the Editor of the ADVERTISER: In your editorial of Thursday night to Governor-General you ask: "What do we get for the money?" I will try to inform you regarding the matter.

1. Canada having the fifth largest mercantile navy, have great need for a consul at the different ports at which they touch, and they use the one appointed and paid by England.

2. In case of any trouble between our vessels at any foreign port the navy of old England as our defender commands respect and justice, and we don't have to pay for it.

3. Every four or five years we would have to elect some one, the cost of which and the loss of time to the people, not saying anything about the turmoil and trouble, would be far more than what we pay now, and the one elected would only be a party man, while the one that is appointed may be the opposite of the party in power. He is generally a man of wealth and spends all or the best part of what we pay him in this country.

And finally you ask: "Why do we pay the Governor-General about $100,000 per year?" Because as Canadians we like to carry out our agreement with the mother country, that has done so much for us, and don't wish to be a nation of sops altogether—take everything and give nothing.

Yours truly,
J. B. COOK.

It was easy to reply to our correspondent's plea for the continued dependence of Canada upon Great Britain. The Advertiser makes no secret of its belief that the ideal destiny of Canada is to be an independent nation, in friendly alliance with the other two great divisions of the English-speaking race in the old and new worlds.
It is, however, not very pertinent in arguing the question of what we get for the $100,000 or so a year that goes for the sustenance of a Governor-General, to say that we have the use of the British navy as a return for maintaining a mere figurehead.
Equally beside the question is it to suggest that, in the present circumstances of Canada, the only alternative to the payment of this very large subsidy is an expensive and troublesome election to provide someone in his place.

May we call our correspondent's attention to one remarkable incident chronicled this year: Lord Stanley, the present incumbent of Rideau Hall, is appointed Governor-General presumably to see that no laws are enacted that shall clash with treaty rights or international obligations entered into by the imperial authorities.
During the recent session of Parliament he went off on a fishing excursion, lasting several months, and farmed out his duties to a judge of the Supreme Court.
The judge found no difficulty whatever in looking after the routine work thus put in his way. If the Governor-General can delegate his functions to another during a momentous session of Parliament, there seems to be nothing to hinder the person to whom the task was temporarily handed over from taking the job permanently.
Why could the revisory powers now entrusted to the Governor-General not be exercised by the Supreme Court, and the Governor-General be relieved of the burden of the work altogether? In that case we could dispense with the services of a Vice-Royal Court at Ottawa and save the money now lavished on that establishment. To effect such a change in the interest of the Canadian taxpayers, would imply no disrespect to Great Britain. We admit the payment is now made under agreement, but agreements are not like the laws of the Medes and Persians, and should only be maintained as long as both parties thereto are satisfied. The British people would not be so unreasonable as to demand that the chief justice should equally well do at a title of the cost, nor could they resist from the understanding that they should have the use of their consuls or the protection of their navy because we preferred the cheaper and equally satisfactory method.

Our correspondent suggests that if Canada were a Nation, and selected its own Chief Magistrate, the cost of his maintenance would be greater than that of an irresponsible figurehead, and there would be much election turmoil and trouble every four or five years. We fall to see the force of his contention. We have elections every four or five years in any case. Would it be a very great burden on the electors to vote for a chief ruler at the same time as they vote for M.P.s? The discussion of that point is unnecessary at this stage, however.
We cannot confess that Mr. Cook has convinced us that a Governor-General, who is a mere figurehead, and who finds no difficulty in delegating his only powers to another, is a necessary adjunct to continued dependence upon Great Britain.

On each ballot to be cast, according to the provisions of the new election law in Ohio, are to be those distinguishing devices that have been adopted by the parties: Republican, eagle; Democratic, rooster; Prohibition, wagon; People's, plow and hammer.

Red Rag for Chapleau.

Independent Clergymen Condemn Wrongdoing at Ottawa.

Some Sentiments that Their Quebec Traducer Will Not Like.

"P. D. L." Lindsay, replies to the Advertiser's query, "What is the best cure for present-day political corruption in Canada?" as follows:
1. Let all honest men, if there be enough of them left in the House, write upon the platform of common honesty and genuine patriotism, and upon those lines form a coalition Government.
2. Let hoodlums in all its forms be made a criminal offense, punishable by a term of imprisonment and loss of franchise. But as the poor man, in this infamous traffic, is much less blameworthy than the rich and influential, let the heaviest punishment be visited upon the giver of hoodlum. It is a wonder to me that criminal actions have not been entered in Ottawa ere this. Have the thieves of thousands of dollars become respectable?

"W. F." a Barrie preacher, replies: Enlightenment of conscience. All pervading conviction that the denouement is not a dead letter. Realizing sense of individual responsibility to the Judge of all the earth. No effectual abiding cure except in the practical application of the principles of the Gospel of Christ.

Reflections—"The fear of the Lord is the beginning of wisdom; a good understanding have all they that do his commandments" (David). "Righteousness exalteth a nation, but sin is a reproach to any people" (Solomon).
"Because sentence against an evil work is not executed speedily, therefore the heart of the sons of men is fully set in them to do evil."

Rev. E. Topping, Woodstock, writes: As you have been asking the opinion of ministers in regard to the alleged scandals at Ottawa, I will venture to give my humble opinion in a modest manner. I will lay it down as an axiom that we ought not to have party government, and that it tends to create and perpetuate strife, and greatly hinders the progress of pure legislation.
The great question at Ottawa was started as a party question. Mr. Tarte, a Conservative, brought a charge against a member of Parliament for using his influence as such with the Government to secure certain contracts for parties who tendered for them, and for which he seems to have been well paid. Mr. Tarte brought no charge against the Government. Why, then, should they step in as defendants? That large committee was appointed, I believe, without any adverse discussion by the Parliament, irrespective of party, composed of members from both parties in the House. Had Parliament conceived that any member of the Government would be implicated it would have been highly improper to have appointed such member on the committee; but it was soon made to appear that the complaint did touch some members and their subordinates and they then seemed determined to throw all the responsibility of the present upon the Government, for our best of all the "Grits" to defend or screen the culprits, as they appeared from day to day to increase in number. All appeared to be in some way connected in a scheme to obtain money from the public treasury, to which they were not honestly entitled, and divide it among themselves.

Mr. Topping strongly argues in favor of the no-party idea. His view, he argues, may seem utopian to some, and even foolish, but he adds: "We come to an important and even dangerous crisis in our public affairs. It requires some one if he can do or say anything to help to raise the standard of our political situation from its present disgraceful position to one of the highest honors. Let us ask what has become of those ancient great nations and cities. They had great commercial wealth and well organized governments, but where are all those now? They were warned of portending calamities, forgetting that sin is a reproach to any people, while righteousness exalts the nation."

The "Advertiser" sees no immediate prospect of government by party being done away with. It prevails all over the world, except in those countries that are under autocratic rulers, and there the people have nothing to say, no matter how bad their rulers may be. Let us try to make the best of the system. Why should we not follow the British view, and if one set of men prove false to the public interest, as has been the case with the Administration now in power, let them be turned out? In the event of their successors being little better let us keep changing them till we are satisfied. In these days of democracy in Great Britain, thieves and those known to have a blighted moral character could not be retained in a Government; if they were, the Government would be defeated as soon as the people could get at it with their votes. Why should decent people in Canada

Speaking of the situation the Montreal trade bulletin says: Trade in English and foreign cheese has been firm this week, but no change in prices is visible to the naked eye, though scattered reports from some quarters have a decided bull aspect. Speculators here are waiting to see what the market will do after American exporters, too often, start to break their necks on the other side; and they are consequently waiting to see what the market will do in the way of making will be. In any case, the market is not likely to be very active in September have been made at 50c to

DOMINION VOTERS' LISTS.

Revision Preparatory to Next Election Now On.

All complaints against the Dominion voters' lists for the city of London, recently compiled by Revising Officer Fraser, must be lodged with that official before Oct. 27.

If the complaints are not filed at Mr.

Fraser's office, they must be sent to him by registered letter on or before the date named.

The lists are now ready for the inspection of citizens at the Liberal rooms, Odd-fellows' block, and the rooms are open each afternoon and evening. Experience has proved that personal examination of the lists must be made by each voter. By no other means can he be assured that his name is on the lists. Every man who wants to vote should therefore visit the rooms and make assurance doubly sure, and save the disappointment on election day, as many citizens experienced last March. Those in charge will see to it that the proper steps are taken to have all omitted names of voters inserted. The court for the revision of the lists on Nov. 10, but all changes must be sent in before the 27th inst.

LONDON AND ENVIRONS.

—“He has made his wife sleep in the woodshed the last two weeks and he has smashed nearly all the crockery in the house,” said Chief Williams to the police magistrate Saturday morning in allusion to a prisoner Hugh McDurdy. The latter defied all this and claimed to be a most peaceable man. The magistrate didn't think so and fined him $2 or one week for drunkenness.

—A boy 5 years of age, a son of Daniel Duncan, of Melbourne, wandered out of Shakespeare's barber shop Saturday while his father was shaving. He was found shortly afterwards crying and taken to the police station. He knew his name was Dan, but could not tell anything more, except that he had a white seal on his finger. His father came to the station shortly afterwards, and was glad to find his Resignation of the Premier's Private Secretary—Scrip for Volunteers.

The Mail's Ottawa special says: There was no Cabinet Council to-day (Friday), but in the private room of the Premier, adjuncting the Privy Council Chamber, Mr.

Chapleau was closeted with Mr. Abbott for more than an hour. One of these visits, when he came out of his room, wore a somewhat harassed expression, the indications are that he will not be the made such a desperate fight before for high place and power, but neither was the Government ever before face to face with such desperate odds. The balance of opinion is strongly on the side of the belief that the Government's only chance of winning, if not its fortunes, at least its honor, is that Premier Abbott shall show an unflinching determination in forcing Mr.

Chapleau to make way.

After leaving Mr. Abbott Mr. Chapleau

The Royal Humane Society have also taken cognizance of little Eddie Pritchett's attempt to save the life of his brother, and have transmitted a diploma for him, which will be presented at the same time. The joint presentation will be made at 9 p.m. No doubt there will be a large attendance of the general public.

Better Without Him.

"Do I want him? No, indeed; I can make my own living. For eight years I have been trying to keep out of this court, but I can stand it no longer. You may do what you like, but I will not live with him any more." Such was Mrs. Rebecca Kelly's indignant remarks in the Police Court on Saturday concerning her husband, John, who stood by her side during the trial. He was all right when sober, she said; but when drunk she was afraid for her life. Last night he drove the family out of the house and was thrown the lamp around in a manner that would have soon caused a fire. He had assaulted her daughter some time ago, but it was kept quiet; she had paid his debts and he had ill-treated her in various ways. The magistrate gave the prisoner the option of paying $2 or spending seven days with Governor Kelly. The complainant is a hardworking, respectable woman, living at the corner of Milliland and South streets.

Robert Mantell.

Robert Mantell, one of the princes of the stage, will appear at the Grand Opera House, Wednesday and Thursday evenings, Oct. 14 and 15. In endeavoring to place such high-class attractions before the public, the management should be encouraged. On Wednesday evening he will impersonate the mystically united twins in "The Corsican Brothers," a powerful heroic romance, presented elaborately by an admirable dramatic organization of over 50 people. Thursday evening the beautiful romance of "The Marble Heart," will be on the boards. The scenery for both is new, the costumes rich and elegant and the properties and stage accessories unequalled. Suddenly summoned to the theatre, the people in the neighborhood of St. James and Waterloo streets were startled on Saturday to hear of the strange and sudden death of Mrs. Margaret Thomas, wife of John Thomas, 896 Waterloo street. It seems Mrs. Thomas left her home Friday and spent the day with a friend on Ridgeway street. She started to return about 10 o'clock in the night, but never reached her destination alive. Early Saturday morning, while John Hance, an employee at Carling's brewery, was on his way to work he discovered her lying dead on her face in the grass a few feet from the sidewalk on the south side of St. James street, between Wellington and Waterloo streets. He could not identify her, and at once communicated with Chief William. Her identity was established through a bottle of medicine which was found in her pocket.
