

FOSTER KEEPS UP OBSTRUCTION USES YUKON AS TIME-KILLER

Sir Wilfrid Shows That Accused Men Were Useful Officials and Charges Most Indefinite—Estimates Pass After Tilt Between Fielding and Foster.

Ottawa, June 2.—The onus of blocking business and delaying the pay of the civil servants was tonight once more clearly placed where it properly belongs, namely, upon the Opposition. Hon. Mr. Foster, who for many days past has played the role of leading obstructionist, making interminable speeches on a variety of questions with delay as the paramount object, brought up this morning matters relative to the administration of the Yukon.

As usual he made the longest speech of the day, and was the direct cause of preventing the House getting into supply until 10:25 tonight. When the salaries of the department of the interior were taken up Mr. Monk, who has not taken any particular part in the hypercritical course of his colleagues, made a profession of sympathy with the civil servants in the delay in getting their salaries. Hon. Mr. Fielding promptly retorted that.

W. J. Deacon Run Over on C. P. R. Loses Foot and Otherwise Injured

A Peculiar Accident at Quebec Street Crossing Last Evening.

William J. Deacon, of 531 Richmond street, while crossing the Quebec street crossing of the C. P. R. last night about half-past seven, was knocked down by a freight car, which passed over the fore part of his right foot, crushing it so badly that when Deacon was removed to the hospital in the city ambulance it was decided to amputate that part of the foot at once. In addition Deacon sustained a very deep and dangerous cut about his right knee and the right elbow is fractured in several places.

Very Serious Condition. Deacon is in a very serious condition and passed a restless night, suffering great pain. It is impossible to say yet whether he will recover or not.

The train was in charge of Engineer McAllister, and it is supposed that Deacon was trying to board the caboose of the train.

Doesn't Know How It Happened. He himself says he does not know how the accident happened.

Deacon is a carpenter employed at the Grand Opera House. At the time of the accident he was with John Whitcomb, of the Grand Opera House, and George Franklin, of the City Parcel Express Company. They do not know how the accident happened.

Deputies Rejected By City Clerk Are Appointed By Conservatives

To Act in the Approaching Provincial Election in London.

Among the deputies appointed by Mr. E. H. Johnston, the returning officer for the provincial election, six have been named that City Clerk Baker refused to reappoint. Five of these deputies will not act at the municipal elections next year, because of errors, although they acted at the last municipal elections.

The five mentioned are: St. Turner, who is appointed to division 3 of ward 1. A. Acheson, division 8 of ward 1. R. J. Hennessy, division 9 of ward 1. W. H. Wood, division 10 of ward 1.

Francis Wright, division 2 of ward 2. These men are reported for mistakes in the last municipal election, and Mr. Baker has stated that they will not be given the ballot box again.

In addition, another man has been appointed to act on Monday next, whom Mr. Baker refused to appoint as deputy at the last municipal election. "I did not re-appoint him," was the remark of City Clerk Baker.

Made Mistakes. It is said that he was objected to as a deputy owing to the condition of his ballot box in several municipal elections.

That fact that he was objected to was the reason he was not re-appointed. It is also alleged that a certain civil servant in the employ of the Ontario Government is working on a Beck committee and is taking an active part in the election.

Grand Jurymen For June Session

The following grand jurymen have been selected for duty at the sessions of the peace, beginning June 11: Hugh Anderson, East Williams; W. J. Blott, Mosa; Walter Caverhill, Lobo; Ernest B. Graham, city; Harry

G. Gray, city; John Graham, city; Nathan McCracken, Ekfrid; Frank K. Shore, Westminster; John A. Thompson, Metcalfe; James H. Weir, North Toronto; George Walker, London; Thomas; George P. Wilton, Caradoc; Morley Weldon, Westminster.

Heating Systems in the City Schools

A permit was issued this morning to the chairman of the board of education to change the heating system and make alterations in the Chesley Avenue School.

City Engineer Graydon was not willing to issue the permit owing to the fact that the building bylaw called for the steam heating plant to be in a separate building.

Chairman Graham appealed to Acting Mayor Ald. Ferguson, and asked him to instruct City Engineer Graydon to issue the necessary permit. He pointed out that the plant would be placed in a fireproof room in the center of the school. The boiler would be low-pressure, and there would be no danger. The other system would be placed under one of the rooms, and Mr. Graham thought it was just as safe under the center of the building as under the room. Acting Mayor Ferguson thought the boiler would be as safe under the center as anywhere else, especially as it was a low-pressure boiler. He instructed Mr. Graydon to issue the permit.

City Engineer Graydon made the acting mayor write the permit out and take the responsibility.

"I want to enforce the building bylaw," said Mr. Graydon. "I had trouble with Mr. A. W. White regarding his building the other day. He wanted to have a 2-inch wall, when the bylaw calls for 14 inches, and he had to build it in spite of threats to leave the city and the rest. If the building bylaw is not carried out as I wish in connection with the Chesley Avenue School, I will not take the responsibility."

Fined for Riding on a Street Car

Henry Sherritt, a young man, 19 years old, appeared before Magistrate Love this morning, charged with trespassing on the property of the London street railway.

Mr. Ivey, who represented the company, stated that Sherritt had a few days ago jumped on a street car when it was crowded with people coming from the ball game.

Sherritt, he said, jumped off again, and when asked for his fare for riding on the car, would not pay it, and gave a wrong address.

tion for damages if they were injured in any way.

Fine Remitted. Magistrate Love held that Mr. Ivey was right, and fined Sherritt $2 and $2.50 costs.

Upon the intervention of Mr. Ivey, however, the court remitted the fine, and let Sherritt go on condition that he does not repeat the offense.

It is the intention of the street railway people to prosecute all those whom they find jumping on their cars and jumping off in this way, as it is alleged that many people jump on and ride for several blocks if the car happens to be crowded, and then jump off without paying any fare.

Leslie Jones, the young man who stole overalls and a monkey-wrench from the G. T. R. roundhouse was sent to jail for two months. Several first-time drunks were allowed to go.

RANK OUTSIDER WINS THE DERBY

Italian Horse at 100 to 1 Captures the Great English Turf Classic.

London, June 3.—A rank outsider, Signorietta, owned by E. Giniatelli, and quoted in the betting at 100 to 1 against, today defeated all the British, American and French cracks and captured the Derby stakes, valued at 6,500 sovereigns, and the greatest prize of the turf world. The Italian horse simply cantered home from the hot favorites by two lengths. A neck-only divided the second horse, the Duke of Portland's Primer, and the third, Barclay Walker's Llangwn.

MILK AND WHEY TO PUT OUT FIRE

The Woodstock Fire Department introduces a New Extinguisher.

Woodstock, June 3.—The fine brick residence of Reeve Wm. Pullin, of West Oxford Township, on Follens Corners, was badly damaged by fire this morning. Fire caught from an oil stove in the kitchen and spread very rapidly. Neighbors and men from a cheese factory near by came quickly, and the flames were energetically fought by a bucket brigade, using water, milk and whey as materials. The whole interior of the house was burned out, and most of the furniture was destroyed, but the services of the volunteer brigade prevented total destruction. The loss will be partially covered by insurance.

PERE MARQUETTE FLYER WRECKED AT MULLIKEN

Mulliken, Mich., June 2.—Striking an open switch while running at a speed exceeding 40 miles an hour, westbound passenger train No. 5 on the Pere Marquette, plunged into a mud hole here today, and came to a dead stop in less than 12 rods. Thirteen persons were slightly hurt, Engineer Fred Ives sustaining what may be fatal injuries.

PRISONERS' DARING LEAP

Handcuffed, They Escape From Train on Way To Central Prison.

Port Arthur, June 2.—George Mansfield and Charles Weir, two prisoners en route to the Central Prison, Toronto, from Kenora, though handcuffed together, jumped from the train early yesterday morning and escaped. So far they have not been located.

SINKING OF GLADIATOR

Case of British Admiralty Against the American Line Being Heard.

London, June 3.—The case of the British admiralty against the owners of the American Line steamer St. Paul was up for hearing today before Sir John Goffe Barris in the admiralty court. The British cruiser Gladiator collided with the St. Paul off the Isle of Wight, April 25, and as a result the cruiser had to be beached. The admiralty claims damages for the loss of the Gladiator, alleging negligent navigation on the part of the St. Paul, that she did not sound her sirens at proper intervals; that she improperly failed to pass on the port side of the cruiser; that she was travelling at excessive speed under the circumstances; that she attempted to cross ahead of the Gladiator, and that she failed to slacken her speed or reverse her engines in due time. There is also a cross-claim by the owners of the St. Paul, who claim damages against Capt. Lumsden of the Gladiator, and the navigating lieutenant of the cruiser.

TWO McEVY MEETINGS TONIGHT

Two open-air meetings will be held this evening in the interests of Mr. J. M. McEvoy, the Liberal candidate.

One meeting will be held at the corner of Horton and Waterloo streets, and will be addressed by Ald. Armstrong, Jared Vining, B.A., John Stevely, and Mr. John McEvoy, the Liberal candidate.

The other meeting will take place at the corner of Adelaide and Grey streets, and will be addressed by Ald. Ferguson, J. H. Fowler, C. G. Jarvis and Mr. McEvoy.

These meetings are attracting a great deal of attention and are being largely attended. All are welcome.

MR. BECK BLOCKED HOSPITAL FOR CONSUMPTIVE PATIENTS

Now Tries To Hedge Out of the Responsibility—He Repeatedly Boasted That He Would Kill the Bill in the Legislature—The Facts of the Case.

It was noticeable at the nomination meeting on Monday, Hon. Adam Beck did not repeat his offer to give $1,500 to the tuberculosis hospital.

He made the offer at his Jubilee Rink meeting, but did not make it again to the electors at the city hall.

Didn't Make Good.

"He made the promise to give $1,000 to the Nurses' Home, but the money has not come yet," said a prominent physician today. "We are still waiting for that offer to be made good. That is of a piece with the offer to the tuberculosis hospital. The agitation for a consumption hospital has been going on for some time, and Mr. Beck never offered a cent towards this object until he could make political capital out of an offer he does not intend to keep."

Blocked It.

"As for his opposition to the tuberculosis hospital, it is certain that he did his best to defeat the will of the people. He boasted of the fact that he would defeat it."

"He stated to many people that he could not come out openly and oppose it on account of the fact that he had his power scheme to look after, but that he would defeat it when it came before the private bills committee."

"It was defeated before that committee, and the fair inference was that he kept his promise. That is no longer an inference, but a fact, and Mr. Beck knows it just as well as anybody else. Mr. Beck in this matter hides behind the private bills committee and blames that committee for work he knows he is responsible for."

Opposition Still Killing Time Flit From One Thing To Another

Commons Announces Goderich Is Next Camping Site.

Ottawa, June 3.—There was more obstruction of supply by the Opposition in the Commons this morning.

Sir Frederick Borden, in answer to Mr. Bristol, confirmed the report that camp for military district, No. 1, will be held at Goderich this year instead of London. Goderich grounds were larger than those at London and facilities better.

Long-Winded.

On motion to go into supply, Mr. Taylor made a rather long speech in support of his contention that the order for the papers respecting a break-water at Port Rochers had not been finished.

Sproule Delays.

Dr. Sproule delayed business another five minutes by criticising the minister, being under the impression that he had refused to bring further papers desired by Taylor. His error was pointed out by Hon. Mr. Pugsley and the matter dropped.

Mr. Borden asked when it was likely that Mr. Justice Cassels would resume his inquiry as commissioner in matters arising out of civil service commission's report. He considered that the Opposition would be justified in refusing any supplies to marine and fisheries department unless investigation was resumed and pressed to a

"Big Chief Loved a Kickapoo Maiden"

If the charges against him be true, Thomas Charles, an Oneida Indian, allowed his love for a dusky Indian maiden to lead him astray, with the result that he is now out on bail on a charge of theft.

It appears that some time ago Charles accompanied another Indian named Dockstader to London, where the latter bought, among other things, a silk waist and a skirt for a lady relative. On the way home, it is alleged,

Charles, becoming covetous of the articles in question, and thinking that they would just about fit a lady friend of his, managed to spirit the waist and skirt from the buggy.

When the goods were found missing, Charles was at once suspected, and the suspicion was made stronger when he decamped for Syracuse, N. Y. He just returned Tuesday, and was at once arrested by High Constable Hughes. Charles will appear for election of trial some day this week.

LIBERAL CANDIDATE IN EAST END MR. McEVY ADDRESSES CITIZENS

Also Spoke To a Large Crowd in the North End—Given an Enthusiastic Reception at Both Meetings—Criticism of Alleged "Cheap" Power Scheme Heard With Approval.

Two more capital meetings were held in the open air by Mr. J. M. McEvoy, the Liberal candidate, last night, and no more successful meeting could be wished for. There were large crowds at each meeting, and splendid order prevailed.

The meeting in the north end, held at the corner of Pall Mall and Richmond streets, was attended by over 200 people, and all remained until the end.

The south end meeting held in Lovett street east, was even more largely attended, fully 400 citizens listening to the speeches.

There was a great deal of enthusiasm. The public questions were discussed frankly and fairly, and the people appreciated the amount of information they received by applauding vigorously all through the meeting.

Mr. Alex. Stuart, K. C.

Mr. Alex. Stuart, K. C., was chairman of the north end meeting. He was pleased he said in opening the meeting to see so large a representation of electors. It showed that the citizens of London were alive to the importance of the issues to be discussed, and were anxious to hear the discussion. He paid a glowing tribute to the worth of the Liberal candidate, Mr. McEvoy.

Mr. J. H. Fowler, B. A.

Mr. J. H. Fowler, B. A., followed. He dealt with the record of broken promises of Mr. Whitney, and declared that in no instance had the Premier lived up to his prospectus. He dealt with "that last awful week," at some

Damages Claims Re St. George's School Two Presented To the School Board

As the Result of the Recent Collapse of the Ceiling.

Two claims for damages were presented to the board of education yesterday afternoon at its regular meeting, arising out of the collapse of the ceiling of St. George's school not long since.

Meredith, Judd & Meredith, on behalf of Mr. Fred Parkinson, informed the board that they will bring suit for damages on behalf of Mr. Parkinson's daughter, Alma, who was injured in the wreck, and Mr. John Johnson also put in a claim on behalf of his daughter, who was also hurt in that crash.

Both communications were sent to No. 1 committee to be dealt with.

Canadian Teachers' Trip. A circular was read from Hon. Dr. Pyne, minister of education, regarding the trip of Canadian teachers to England this summer, and informing the board that the department was anxious that London should send representatives.

The communication was sent to No. 1 committee, with power. Miss Edith Adams, C. H. Holland and J. H. Childs asked for appointment on the public school staff, No. 1. Miss Jean R. Laidlaw, supervisor of kindergartens, applied for leave of absence to attend an educational convention in Cleveland from June 23 to July 4. Granted. (Continued on Page Nine.)

Good News for York Loan People

Toronto, June 3.—Progress, slow, but reasonably certain, is being made toward a settlement of the complicated affairs of the defunct York Loan Company. The shareholders have been making impatient inquiries as to when they are to receive a dividend on their holdings, or to get some definite announcement concerning the progress of the liquidation, but they have had to be content with the statement that there was nothing to be given out and would not be until the appeals from the referee's decisions, now before the courts, were settled. "The matter is now in the courts," explained an official who is in a position to speak authoritatively, "and there is a good prospect of very good progress of the liquidation, but they have had to be content with the statement near future."

Stratford Teachers Will Visit London

The Stratford teachers to the number of forty will visit London on Tuesday next to inspect the schools here.

They will arrive in the morning and will be met by Inspector Edwards and Chairman, Graham, and a committee from the board of education. The board of education will entertain the teachers at luncheon at noon in the Masonic Temple.

After luncheon the teachers will visit the schools of the city under the guidance of Inspector Edwards.

Playgrounds Free To All Children

All arrangements for the opening of the public playgrounds, south of Victoria bridge, were completed by the Playgrounds Association at a meeting held last night in city hall.

The association wishes it understood that the grounds are open to all children, and that no charge of any kind will be made at any time. The opening day will be made a memorable one, and will fittingly usher in a long-felt want, especially in sections of the city where the children have had little or no place to play, except on the streets.

Still No Money for Customs Officers

The custom house officials deny the story that has been circulated that they have received 40 per cent of their salary.

"We have not received one cent of our last month's salary," Collector Elliott told The Advertiser this afternoon.

noon. "We have no idea when the money will come, either. Absolutely no word has reached us from Ottawa, or any place else regarding our checks. The salaries at the custom house amount to about $1,700 a month, and we would like to see them come along soon."

Lady Fell Before a Moving Car

What might have been a very serious accident was narrowly averted today about 1 o'clock at the corner of Colborne and Dundas streets.

Car No. 126 of the Belt Line, was going west at a fairly swift rate when a lady crossing northward fell directly across the rails.

Had it not been for the prompt action of the motorman and Sergt.

McDonald, of the police force, who was waiting for the car, there would certainly have been a very serious accident.

The lady evidently tripped over the ties where the new "T" rails are being laid. Sergt. McDonald quickly signaled the car and assisted the lady to arise. She was uninjured, and proceeded on her way.

Indian Lister Caught With Liquor

What may likely be a very interesting case will develop as a result of an arrest made by the police this morning, when they took a woman who has been on the Indian list for some time to the station and charged her with being drunk.

It is stated that for a long time Inspector Galpin and others have been trying to find out where the woman obtained her liquor.

Before Magistrate Love the woman admitted that she had been drinking but pleaded not guilty to being drunk. She was remanded to jail for a week, and in the meantime the inspector states that he intends to take action against the grocer or his clerk for selling liquor to a woman who is known to be on the Indian list.

scandal. He would have given the officials a chance.

House in Supply.

At 10:35 the discussion dropped, and the House went into supply, taking up the salaries of the department of the interior.

Mr. Monk's Sympathy.

After raising objection after objection to an item of $100,000 for salaries in the interior department, Mr. Monk took occasion to sympathize with the plight of the civil servants who had been placed in regard to their salaries, saying he regretted the delay.

Hon. Mr. Fielding—Why, then, has the honorable gentleman been opposing them for so long?

Mr. Foster—What foolishness! Hon. Mr. Fielding—I have a perfect right to say what I think. The honorable gentleman has been spending so much time in opposing the passing of this one item.

Mr. Foster (excitedly)—Does the Minister of Finance think he can come here and induce the country to believe that we should pass any estimates without due and reasonable questioning of them?

Hon. Mr. Fielding—I am responsible for what I said, not what the honorable gentleman attributed to me. The honorable member for Jacques Cartier has included in some of his speeches the names of the civil servants because they have not got their salaries, and I simply pointed out that the reason was that the honorable gentleman opposite have delayed the passing of the salaries, not for tonight alone, but for weeks and months.

Mr. Foster—I pleaded with you to take up these civil service estimates three weeks ago. The Finance Minister has been playing to the gallery all along. It is played out. Small boys in small debating societies play that sort of game. Why should we do it? Hon. Mr. Fielding—I cannot speak as to what passed between the honorable member and the Prime Minister; I can only speak for myself, and when the honorable gentleman says that he offered to give the civil government estimates why they were not passed, I am getting excited. I venture to say he is entirely mistaken.

Mr. Foster (warmly)—I venture to say he is absolutely right, and the words are on Hansard to prove it.

Hon. Mr. Fielding—The honorable gentleman can prove nothing in view of the constant objection of these estimates. If honorable gentlemen want to give the civil government estimates why they were not passed, I am getting excited. I venture to say he is entirely mistaken.

Mr. Foster—if the Prime Minister and his first lieutenant had exercised ordinary diligence they would have had these large measures down before six or seven months of the session had elapsed. I am sure the Finance Minister is getting excited.

Hon. Mr. Fielding—I am not excited, but I have an observation to make about that.

Mr. Foster—Oh, well, we will say carried to this item.

Hon. Mr. Fielding—On that condition I will say no more.

The item having passed, the House adjourned at 12:05.

OPTIMISTIC IN THE WEST

Prospects of Fine Crop Puts New Life Into All Business.

Winnipeg, June 2.—A remarkable feature of returning confidence, due to the exceptional crop prospects, is the number and volume of orders being fired down by Winnipeg and western jobbers to eastern wholesale houses.

This movement is quite unprecedented for this season of the year, and represents orders held back pending the conclusion of seeding operations.

Crop prospects continue to be satisfactory and growth vigorous and rapid. Many points report wheat up from twelve to fifteen inches, while in the fall wheat areas of Southern Alberta some of the grain is two feet high.

The C. P. R. crop report today, covering the system, shares the optimism of all previous reports of the company.

Every point tells the same story of prospects of a magnificent crop, such as was never surpassed in the country. General conditions are ideal.

COTTON MARKET ACTIVE.

New York, June 2.—A sharp advance in the cotton market today followed the publication of the Government report receipts. The figures were just about as expected, but shortly after they were made public the market became much more active.

There was a continued good demand during the late session, and the market closed very near the best, at a net advance of 29 to 30 points. The day's business was estimated at about $50,000 bales.

TORONTO SEES SNEATH GOWN

Hurry-Up Call To Morality Department, But No Arrests Made.

Toronto, June 2.—A Directorate gown was seen on Yonge street this morning. It was worn by a pretty maid of twenty summers, and occasioned much surprise.

The girl boarded Belt Line car No. 1102 at Spadina avenue and Bloor street at 10:30 o'clock. She rode as far as Yonge street, and then walked north on Toronto's Broadway to a grocery store in the second block, where, after making a purchase, she proceeded down to town.

Everybody stopped to gaze, and hurl questions about the gown at their neighbors. The girl didn't appear in the least embarrassed—didn't even blush. Some of the onlookers had read about the dress, and were able to explain all about it. Many hadn't heard of it, however, and it was these who caused the commotion.

"It is like one of the actresses in a burlesque show," remarked a man, "and it's not a bad method of advertising the show."

The gown resembled in every particular the patterns shown in the American papers. It was made of dark material, and was open at each side.

When Staff Inspector James Stephens, of the morality department, was bearded in his den at the city hall and informed of the venturesome girl he was taken by surprise. However, honesty and cautionness, as well as a certain amount of reasonable curiosity, are characteristics which may be found in the morality officer, as well as anywhere else.

"I'd like to see it myself," said the staff inspector, with a smile.

"What action will the police take in the matter?" he was asked.

"I am not saying anything about that part of the matter yet," he replied, "and until the matter has been brought to our attention we will do nothing. I think that if it is the same costume that the English ladies are wearing it can be worn here."

Montreal Young Lady Makes Charge of Breach of Promise.

Montreal, Que., June 2.—Chas. H. Shaw, son of the president of the Jamesville (Ohio) Tile Company, was arrested here last night on a charge of breach of promise of marriage. The plaintiff is Miss Charlotte Webster, of Montreal, but her relations are nearly all in New York, and are of prominence. She was to have sailed with her mother from New York this week, but the marriage was arranged early last week, and was to have taken place on Saturday last. Miss Webster claims $20,000 damages. Shaw is in jail without bail.

Ottawa, June 2.—Alex. Laurin, a pursesnatcher who took a roll of bills, valued at $84, was this morning sentenced to three years in the pen.

PARIS MURDER MYSTERY

Slayers of Steinheil Believed To Have Been Ex-Convicts.

Paris, June 3.—The police have secured what is believed to be a most promising clue in the Steinheil murder case. A barber of Montmartre, one of the lowest quarters in Paris, has given the information that two men, with full beards and long hair, the color of the hair of one of the men being looked for, came into the shop Monday morning and had their beards shaved and their hair cropped, completely changing their appearance. The barber declared that the men looked like models, and that his attention was first attracted by their peculiar behavior. He came to the conclusion that they were criminals, recently released from prison, and later when he saw the description of the murderers in the papers his suspicions were aroused and he communicated with the police.

FATAL STRIKE FIGHT.

Vigneux, June 3.—Twelve gendarmes, while attempting to arrest a striker here, were surrounded by 200 of the workmen. Believing they were in danger of their lives, the gendarmes used their weapons.

Reached the scene, and in the fight with revolvers which ensued, two of the workmen were killed and six wounded. Four gendarmes were wounded.

KILLED BY MOROS.

Manila, June 3.—News that Harry I. Ickis, a Government mining expert, and reinforcements to be sent to Luzon, had just been received here. Ickis was engaged in general survey work and was accompanied by one guard. While sleeping in a hut in a remote section of the mountains the two men were murdered in their beds by two Moros, brothers, whose father was killed fifteen years ago by Spaniards. It is said that the two Moros killed Ickis and his guard in revenge against the whites for killing their father, Ickis' home is in Creston, Iowa.

LONDON, WEDNESDAY, JUNE 3.

MR. McEVY'S SPIRITED CAM-PAIGN.

Mr. McEvoy is proving a capital campaigner.

He is making full use of the hustings, on the sound Liberal principle,
"Trust the People," and is showing splendid energy, capacity and fighting spirit.

He is an attractive speaker. His addresses are of a high order, and are making many votes for him. He reasons and argues, and is vigorous without abuse. On the platform he has shown greatly to advantage, in comparison with his opponent.

Mr. McEvoy is admirably equipped for public life. He has the foundation of a thorough education, with a special training in political science.
A knowledge of first principles ought to be of some value in a legislative body.

Mr. McEvoy is not a mere dreamer and theorist, like some political philosophers. His debating talent, his intellect, his training, his faculty of analyzing a complicated practical question, which has been illustrated
in this campaign, would make him an acquisition to the Liberal contingent
in the House.

London would lose nothing by the substitution of Mr. McEvoy for Mr.
Beck as its representative.

THE DUTY OF TEMPERANCE MEN

Mr. Beck, in his nomination speech, defended the three-fifths clause as a Government measure, and predicted that "within a very few years the liquor interests would be coming to the Government and asking for the repeal of this clause."

If Mr. Beck were to take the advice of the Pioneer, the organ of the militant temperance people, he would cease to refer to the three-fifths clause as a temperance measure or a measure for the repression of the liquor traffic. Since it came into force 145 municipalities, representing 407
barrooms, have been saved from local option by its means. That is, 407
more barrooms would have been closed
than have been closed had the people not been deprived of the right
to say by a majority of their votes
whether licenses should be granted
or not.

The temperance people have realized that when they assisted Mr. Whitney and his friends into power they cut a rod to beat themselves, and they are not likely to repeat their mistake.
As the Pioneer says, "there are a great many men in the Province who supported them (the Government)
last election, but who are greatly dissatisfied with their position in regard to the temperance question."

A correspondent of the same paper
voices the opinion of the great majority of temperance people when he says:

"I sincerely hope that three-fifths clause will be worked by temperance people and by the Liberals for all it is worth (and that ought to be a good deal), for I have no faith
in Whitney on temperance lines,
and if he is returned he will take
it as an indorsement of his course."

In this city one of the candidates is a member of the Government which introduced this legislation. While pretending to be a friend of temperance
he boldly indorses an enactment
which has proven so unfair a handicap to temperance effort. The other candidate, Mr. J. M. McEvoy, comes out squarely in opposition to it, and,
if elected, will do his utmost to secure
its repeal.

For true temperance men in this city there is but one choice. If they would have this great wrong undone,
so that every community in which
the majority desires local option may have it, they will do their part by assisting in the return of Mr. Mc-Evoy and the party which he supports.

THE FINANCES OF THE PROVINCE.

The arguments employed by the present Provincial Treasurer when in opposition, would be destructive if applied to his last budget.

In his criticism of the budget four years ago he said (vide Mail and Empire):

"The receipts for 1904 were $5,466,- 000 and the expenditure $4,888,000.
Deducting the proceeds of the timber sales and the return of the drainage debentures an ordinary revenue remained of only $4,109,000."
In 1907 the receipts from the sales
of timber lands and drainage debentures

Convict Labor—Reactionary Step

In 1889 the Government of Sir Oliver
Mowat made an agreement with the Brandon Manufacturing Company, Toronto, for the manufacture of a large quantity of wooden goods in the Central Prison, on what is known as the contract system basis. The prisoners in the Central Prison were hired out to the Brandon Manufacturing Company,
and piecework prices at that time were based on prison labor at 50 cents per day. In addition to this, the Brandon Manufacturing Company agreed to pay
the Government the sum of $6,500 per year to cover the salaries of the Government employees engaged upon the industries. When this contract came before the Legislature for ratification
in March, 1890, it was strongly opposed as being unfair and unjust to both manufacturers and labor. Owing to the opposition offered, Sir Oliver Mowat decided to appoint a commissioner to inquire into the whole system
of the management of prison labor.
The commission was appointed and reported at a later date, and as a result of such report the contract system was abolished, and a different system was adopted.

TURNING THE HANDS BACK.

The present Government, however,
on the 20th day of July, 1905, without advertising and without notice to the public, secretly entered into a contract
with Ellen Charlotte Taylor, of the city of Toronto, trading under the firm
name of Taylor, Scott & Co., for the manufacture of woodenware at the Central Prison. A deputation representing manufacturers and labor
unions waited upon the Government,
placed their position in writing in a document addressed to the Honorable Provincial Secretary, and dated May 25, 1905.

After recalling the steps taken to abolish the contract system under the Mowat Government, the document
contained the following:

"Now, after this long lapse of time,
although the cost of living has greatly increased and the wages of all classes
of mechanics have materially advanced—in most cases from 50 to 75
per cent—and the cost of the manufacturer for paid labor has in consequence greatly increased, yet prison
labor is now hired out under the present agreement at a very much lower rate than it was fifteen years ago,
now being based on only 30 cents per day, instead of 50 cents, as formerly.
Surely prison labor, if it is to compete with paid labor, ought to bring the same proportionate increase in value.

"We are very strongly of the opinion that the present system of equipping the prison industries with the latest improved machinery and hiring out prison labor at such ridiculously low rates is wrong in principle, and should be stopped. If the object sought to be obtained by such a system is to give employment to prison labor, then why not use machinery that would require more hand labor, and thereby give more employment to the prisoners? In this way the prison labor could be used, without coming into such strong competition with free labor. The present system of equipping the prison

industries with improved machinery
and hiring out prison labor is inconsistent with the policy of excluding prison manufactured goods from this country.

"In looking over the prices of piece-
work on the various goods mentioned
in the present agreement, we notice
that they range from one-fifth to one-third of the cost at which these same goods can be manufactured by paid
labor, and that the basis on which these piecework prices are made is prison labor at 3 cents per hour, which is less than one-fifth of the price at which unskilled labor can be had in the market. We also notice that the Central Prison prices include, not only labor, but all general expenses, and the only item entering into the cost of production, which Taylor, Scott & Co.
have to supply, is their raw materials.
All this gives them a great advantage
in the sale of their goods, for they can place, and are placing, these goods
on the market at a very much lower price than any other manufacturer.

In addition to the piecework prices arranged by present agreement, clause 3
therein gives the firm of Taylor, Scott & Co. the right to manufacture 'other products in the manufacture of which
the use of machinery or tools of an unduly hazardous character is not required.' Under this clause the company can manufacture almost any line
of wooden goods, and in this way would compete with almost every factory
manufacturing wooden goods in the Province of Ontario."

EVIDENCE OF DEMORALIZATION.

One effect of the Whitney gerry-
mander, so far as it concerns Toronto,
has been to split the rank and file
of the Conservative party in that city
into opposing factions, and to set the leaders at war one against the other.

It is no secret that the creating of what are known as "B" constituencies
in Toronto, though designed as a means of placating some of the more ambitious and impatient Conservatives and at the same time doubling
Mr. Whitney's following from that city
in the Legislature, has caused much heart-burning amongst the men whom the Government particularly desired to propitiate. Four additional safe seats in Toronto, it was thought, would be a popular move, and so it proved, for there has been a scramble amongst the Conservative
ward politicians to secure nominations. In a constituency where a man must fight to win, probably not one of these aspirants would have the courage to enter a contest. But the "B's"
were regarded equally as safe as the
"A's," seeing that it was identically
the same electorate that voted in both
and it was felt that nomination meant election.

In two of these newly-formed constituencies compromises were patched
up, and the result is straight party
candidates in the field.

In West Toronto "B" and East Toronto "B" it is different. There the rejected aspirants to nomination are irreconcilable and take comfort in running in opposition to the conventions'
choice. In the first-named, two men who for years have held high place in the Conservative party, are found as opponents. Mr. W. D. McPherson, a lawyer, who acted as junior counsel

for Gurney in the bribery investigation, is the regular nominee of the Conservative convention. Against him
is opposed, and bitterly opposed, Mr.
A. W. Wright, who for years was prominently identified with the Conservative machine, and is perhaps more than any other man possessed of party secrets. In the course of Mr.
Wright's pursuit of Mr. McPherson
he has publicly declared that it was on the latter's advice that Gurney
made his celebrated trip to Buffalo
while the investigation was in progress, which drove his chief counsel,
Mr. Sam Blake almost to the point of throwing up his brief—a statement
which, if true, is certainly interesting.
Mr. McPherson has been called a coward by Mr. Wright and his friends, who are met with counter epithets of a like character. This contest, if not edifying, is at least a very warm one.

In East Toronto "B," where there is also a party split, the struggle is less exciting. To the regular convention nominee, Mr. Whitely, an inoffensive, non-aggressive and very ordinary party man is opposed Mr. Russell, who, like Mr. Wright, is running as an Independent Conservative.

In each constituency there is a Liberal in the field, and it is not impossible that the result will illustrate the adage that honest men get their due when others disagree.

Incidents such as these carry more than one inference. In the first place they serve to show that Mr. Whitney lacks personal prestige. Apart from distributing the spoils with the freest hand, he had done nothing to gain a personal following. Another inference is that among his followers personal ambitions are stronger than party allegiance. This is no rare phenomenon in the ranks of a democratic political party, but it is not often met in so aggravated a form in the ranks of a party only one parliamentary term in office. Evidently with only a small majority, the Whitney
regime cannot last long.

Strathroy should make it unanimous
for Rosa.

It is a safe wager that neither Mr.
Beck nor Mr. Whitney will refer to the gerrymander of Middlesex County.

Electors are talking of the ease with which Mr. McEvoy mopped the floor with Mr. Beck at the nomination.

There never was a government
which was better picking for the lawyers than the present one at Toronto.

Are Asylum supplies purchased by tender as Mr. Beck said they would be? His supporters snicker at the suggestion.

Members of the Government are obliged to say the same thing on the power question, though they think a dozen different ways.

Dr. Pyne recently declared that "every member of the Cabinet is a unit on the power question." The minister of education should be sent to night school.

The farmer has not been a favorite of the Whitney Government. Agriculture has got less of the increase of expenditure than any other department in the province.

It appears that Mr. McEvoy was engaged as counsel in a case by the Ross Government, and had the impudence to charge for his services. This is the only crime laid at his doors.

Dr. Hossack estimates that 30,000
Liberals voted for Whitney candidates
in 1905, when Whitney made an appeal for a non-partisan verdict. They have been sold and betrayed, and will not be fooled again.

Tonight Mr. Whitney will have the opportunity of contradicting the assertion that he fought the Beck power scheme in council, and that for three months it hung, like Mahomet's coffin,
between heaven and earth.

The late General Buller was a failure
in South Africa, that graveyard of military reputations. He was discredited by his repulse at the Tugela
River and by the shambles of Spion Kop; but he retained the affection
and confidence of his men in the darkest hour.

Unless Dr. Mearns of Woodstock
told a fib, or unless Mr. Beck told Dr.
Mearns a fib, the Ontario Government had a cat-and-dog time of it for three months on the power question. Yet, tonight the Premier will no doubt smear Mr. Beck with flattery and with a straight face tell a London audience

that the Government is with him to a man.

interests of Labor, the present Ontario

THREE KINDS OF CLERGY.

[Boston Globe.]
Bishop Potter, at an ecclesiastical dinner in New York, read a Cooperstown schoolboy's essay on clergymen. The essay, which created much amusement, was
as follows:

"There are three kinds of clergymen,
bishops, rectors and curates. The bishops
tell the rectors to work and the curates
has to do it. A curate is a thin married man, but when he is a rector he gets fatter and can preach longer sermons and becomes a good man."

CREMATION.

[British Medical Journal.]
Cremation in this country is almost wholly confined to persons of some intellectual distinction. The average citizen is still held in the fetters of custom,
in which sentiment has taken root so
deeply as to make it hard to eradicate.
This is doubtless the explanation of the fact that cremation so far has failed to become popular.

THE SHEATH SKIRT.

[New York Tribune.]
The action of the authorities at the Longhamps racetrack in ordering from the enclosure several young women who were wearing hats was resented by the dressmakers, who said that the gowns
were fashionable, and that women had the right to be "extreme." The director of the police also said that, although the fashion was "daring," he could not help in the matter. The incident recalls a happening nearer home, a few years ago,
when a young woman, on her way to a fancy dress party, arrayed as her grandmother would have been in civil war times, was threatened with arrest. Her costume included a huge hoop skirt, over which she wore a Dolly Varden dress.
The over-cautious police officer was reluctant for his lack of good judgment for his superior, who said that fashionable garments were beautiful or hideous—it depended only on when they were worn.

HOW IS THIS?

[Hamilton Spectator.]
The Whitney Government appeals to the electors on its general good record,
not on the hydro-electric scheme. The man who says that the power question
is an issue says more than the leader of the Government.

AUGUST IN MAY.

[Pittsburg Dispatch.]
Whatever else May has been it has also given a good imitation of August.

THE KING'S LIBRARY.

[Montreal Herald.]
King Edward has become studious in his later years, and has given orders for a new catalogue for his library, so that he can find a book when he wants it. He has also decided that a library is too
good a place for officers to lounge around when off duty. This provides a situation
to keep out of which must severely tax
Andrew Carnegie's self-control.

THINGS THAT GIVE A GOVERN-MENT A BAD REPUTATION.

[Toronto World.]
The change in South Lanark is effected
by placing Beckwith in North Lanark and North Sherbrooke in South Lanark. In North Lanark the Conservative candidate has 28 votes. In North Sherbrooke the Conservative candidate has 128 votes.
The transfer thus adds 100 Conservative votes to Dr. Preston's somewhat close constituency. It is things like these that give a government a bad reputation, and, persisted in,
eventually wreck it.

TAXICABS IN LONDON.

[United States Consular and Trade
Reports.]
Consul-General Robert J. Wynne reports that taxicabs have become such popular
street vehicles in London that the demand
for them is much greater than the supply. He adds:

"The taxicabs are used by all classes of people, day and night, at the uniform
rate of 16 cents a mile, and they present
a most attractive appearance in chocolate,
blue, yellow, red and green hues, with chauffeurs in the brightest and smartest liveries."
"Although scarcely a year has passed since these swift-moving electric and

petrol carriages appeared, the capital already invested in London taxicabs is $10,000,000. There are 733 taxicabs on the streets, 2,800 taxicabs on order, 1,700
licensed drivers, an average of 55 certificates granted each week. There are eight London taxicab companies, the average
day's takings of a taxicab being $11.20.
The average cost of a London taxicab is $1,700, and its average earnings are about $18 a week.

"Some chauffeurs already are buying
their own taxicabs on the installment
plan, and the picturesque hansom is disappearing gradually, like the old-fashioned horse bus, which practically has been crowded aside by the motor omnibus."

SIGN OF THE TIMES.

[Toronto Mail.]
It is doubtful if the railways of Canada
ever had a bigger Victoria Day traffic than they had this year. There could be no better proof that we still have good times in Canada than the enjoyment of a good time on that holiday by so great
a part of the population.

AFTER THREE THOUSAND YEARS

[Exchange.]
Mr. Harker—in this paper, Martha, the mummy of an Egyptian
lady was found with a hat on.

DOES NOT DENY IT.

[Woodstock Sentinel-Review.]
The Stratford Herald does not show
much kindness or consideration for Hon.
Adam Beck when it says that it was unnatural for him to make public the letter written to him by Ald. Dr. Mearns, of this city. The Herald's position is denying the fact that the possession of not only the ordinary instincts of propriety and courtesy, which help a man to distinguish between what is for private use and what is for public use, but it would deny him also
the capacity for judgment after mature consideration. This is unfair to Mr. Beck.
He made a serious mistake in allowing the publication for campaign purposes of a letter intended for his private use only;
but he has better taste than some of his supporters, and so has not attempted any justification of his conduct.

A DANGEROUS KISS.

[New York Post.]
The dangers of the railroad coupe were recently illustrated afresh on a Russian train between Kief and Kursk. On one side sat a clergyman next to a young girl
of unusual beauty. Opposite them sat
a student. Towards evening the girl put her head back and went to sleep. Pretty soon the clergyman dozed off likewise.
This was noticed by the student. Leaning forward quickly, he affectionately
kissed the young girl, and quickly disappeared behind his newspaper. The girl, awakening quite startled, believed, of course, that the clergyman was the guilty
person, and turning straightway upon him
gave him a terrific box on his ear. There resulted naturally a terrible scandal. The gendarmerie were called at the next station and began an investigation. The student promptly offered himself as a witness to the misbehavior of the priest, and it would have gone hard with the reverend gentleman had it not been that another girl, whom no one had noticed in a dark corner of the carriage, represented matters in their true light. This is one of the lighter happenings over which one
may smile, but the fact is that crimes
of a grave nature continue to occur in what must sooner or later be an obsolete
form of passenger car.

A FIGHTING LEADER.

[Toronto Globe.]
The political phenomenon of the moment
is the immense heart and spirit that has suddenly manifested itself in the fight against the Whitney Government. The appointees of Provincial Liberalism have been comforting themselves with the assurance that if it were not for them it was as powerless as if it were. The unpleasant fact has now come home to them
that it is about the liveliest corpse they ever tried to bury. The obsequies are of the most animated description, and the undertaker is having the time of his life in avoiding blows delivered in the region of his solar plexus by the unruly cadaver.
It but illustrates the deep wisdom of the man who said, When holding a funeral,
be sure and have the corpse on hand.
For this splendid fighting condition of the Provincial Liberal party every Liberal soldier will assign a large part of the praise to Hon. A. G. MacKay, leader of the forces in the Legislature and in the Province. An independent newspaper
the other day said something to the effect that for every frown that fortune
cast at him Mr. MacKay returned a smile, and it was well said. His words seem to be those of the old song:

THE MARCH OF DEATH.

Take 100,000 individuals at the age of 10, and only 13,000 of them will be missing when they have reached the age of 50. At the age of 60 the survivors should number 55,373. At the age of 70 there will be but

HE MAKES MENTAL GIANTS

Landone for First Times Makes Public
Astounding Discovery.

Los Angeles, Cal., June 2.—Dr. Leon
Elbert Landone has furnished an outline of what he intends to accomplish in his institution for the development of the higher faculties in mankind.

To comprehend fully the potency of what he claims he can do, it should be understood that there is here a man who asserts that he can change the tissue of the brain, and by that change endow the subject with faculties and mental processes which were not inherent before.

This, he asserts, he has produced not
by biological analysis, which in the case
of man is impossible, but by using the same
methods which have been applied to animals, and which in their case, by diffusion, have been proved.

For instance, a Gladstone, a Spencer, an Emperor Wilhelm and a Darwin, could have their mental faculties intensified,
their brain cells increased so as to impart
to them additional intellectual forces.

In his experimenting in order to prove his theory and his practice, he has so far utilized human deficients. Dumbness, deafness, color blindness, incapacity for constructiveness, entire absence of discrimination of beauty in tone or form, all three, he says, with deficients, he has remedied, and in the process has merely added to the number and construction of the brain cells.

In other words, he has changed the tis-

THE CRIMSON BLIND

BY FRED M. WHITE

"Well, I want to make Merritt my friend. I want him to imagine that I am as much of an adventurer as he is an adventurer. I want to let him see that I could send him to prison."

"So you can be telling the police of the loss of your star."

"And getting Merritt arrested and sent to jail where I couldn't make any use of him? No, no. The thing is pretty vague in my mind at present. I have to work it out as one would a story; as David Steel would work it out, for instance. Ah!"

Chris clapped her hands rapturously, and a little cry of delight escaped her.

"The very thing," she exclaimed. "If I could lay all the facts before Mr. Steel and get him to plan out all the details! His fertile imagination would see a way out of it. But he is far away and there is no time to be lost. There is no way of getting at him?"

Chris appealed almost impudently to her companion. She made a pretty picture with the old oak engravings behind her. Bell smiled as he helped himself to a cigarette.

"Why not adopt the same method by which you originally introduced yourself to the distinguished novelist?" he asked. "Why not use Littimer's telephone?"

Chris pushed her plate away impatiently.

"I am too excited to eat any more," she said. "I am filled with the new idea. Of course, I could use the telephone to speak to Mr. Steel, and to End as well. If the scheme works out as I anticipate, I shall have to hold a long conversation with End, a dangerous thing so long as Reginald Henson is about."

"I'll keep Henson out of the way. The best thing is to wait till everybody has gone to bed tonight and call Steel up then. You will be certain to get him after 11, and there will be no chance of your being cut off at that hour of the night in consequence of somebody else wanting the line. The same remark applies to your sister."

Chris nodded radiantly.

"Thrice-blessed telephone," she said. "I can get in all I want without committing myself to paper or moving from the spot where my presence is urgently needed. We will give Mr. Steel a call."

PATTERN-DEPARTMENT, LONDON ADVERTISER, 22-24.

Steel a pleasant surprise tonight, and this time I shall get him into no trouble."

The luncheon was finished at length, and an intimation sent to Merritt that his friends were waiting for him at the Lion. As his powerful figure was seen entering the big Norman porch Henson came down the street driving a dog-cart at a dangerous rate of speed.

"Our man is going to have his trouble for his pains," Bell chuckled. "He has come to interview Merritt. How pleased he will be to see Merritt at dinner-time."

Merritt shambled in awkwardly, obviously suppressing a desire to touch his forehead. There was a sheepish grin on his face, a suppressed triumph in his eyes. He had been recently shaved and his hair cut, but despite these improvements, and despite his clerical garb, he was not exactly the class of man to meet in a dark lane after sunset.

Chris, however, showed nothing of this in her greeting. Long before Littimer Castle was reached she had succeeded in putting Merritt quite at his ease. He talked of himself and his past exploits, he boasted of his cunning. It was only now and again that he pulled himself up and piously referred to the new life that he was now leading. Bell was studying him carefully; he readily saw that others' mind like an open book. When the wagonette finally pulled up before the castle Littimer strode up and stood there regarding Merritt quietly.

"So this is the gentleman you were going to bring to dinner?" he said, grimly. "I have seen him before in the company of our dear Reginald. I also."

Chris shot Littimer an imploring glance. Merritt grinned in friendly fashion. Bell, in his tactful way, piloted the strange guest to the library before Littimer and Chris had reached the hall. The former polished his eyeglasses and regarded Chris critically.

"My dear young lady," he said, smoothly, "originality is a passion with me, eccentricity draws me as a magnet; but as yet I have refrained from sitting down to table with ticket-of-leave men. Your friend has 'convicted' writ large upon his face."

"He has been in jail, of course," Chris admitted, cheerfully. "Then let me prophesy, and declare that he will be in jail again. Why bring him here?"

"Because it is absolutely necessary," Chris said, boldly. "That man can help me—help us, Lord Littimer. I am not altogether what I seem. There is a scoundrel in your house compared with whom James Merritt is an innocent child. That scoundrel has blighted your life and the lives of your family; he has blighted my life for years. And I am here to expose him, and bring back the lost happiness of us all. I cannot say more, but I implore you to let me have my own way in this matter."

"Oh!" Littimer said, darkly, "so you are masquerading here?"

"I admit it. Turn me out if you like; refuse to be a party to my scheme. You may think badly of me now, probably you will think worse of me later on. But I swear to you that I am acting with the best and purest motives, and in your interest as much as my own."

"Then you are not entitled even to the name you bear?"

"No, I admit it freely. Consider, I need not have told you anything. Things cannot be any worse than they are. Let me try and make them better. Will you, will you trust me?"

Chris' voice quivered, there were tears in her eyes. With a sudden impulse Littimer laid his hands upon her shoulders and looked long and searchingly into her eyes.

"Very well," he said, with a gentle sigh. "I will trust you. As a matter of fact, I have felt that I could trust you from the first. I won't pry into your schemes, because if they are successful I shall benefit by them. And if you like to bring a cartload of con-

"And you'll back me up in all I say and do?" Chris asked.

"Certainly I will. On the whole, I fancy I am going to have a pleasant evening. I don't think dear Reginald will be pleased to see his friend at dinner. If any of the spoons are missing I shall hold you responsible."

LIBERAL CANDIDATE

IN THE EAST END

length, subjecting the C. N. R. guaranty to a severe criticism.

The speaker referred to the courage and great abilities of Mr. McEvoy. The Liberal candidate was afraid of no issue, and met every criticism fairly and above board. He would make a worthy representative of the city of London, and there was no doubt of his election on Monday next. (Cheers.)

Mr. C. G. Jarvis.

Mr. C. G. Jarvis was the next speaker. He dealt with the gerrymander at some length, referring especially to the unfair treatment London had received at the hands of its member, Mr. Beck. The latter had not stood up for the rights of his own city, but had allowed Toronto to have too many representatives in addition to two votes for every man. That was not fair and Mr. Beck knew it. (Cheers.)

The speaker referred to the vilifying tactics of Mr. Whitney. He had called some of the best public men in the Province "Hirelings." These men had spent much time and a great deal of money for the public good, and had asked nothing in return. Yet Mr. Whitney called them "Hirelings."

When asked about this manifest expression of courtesy, Mr. Whitney said he was one of his little jokes.

Whitney's Extravagance.

Mr. Jarvis also spoke of the extravagance of the Government, and also of the broken promises of Mr. Whitney who had promised economy.

He also dealt with the classical expressions used by Hon. Dr. Pyne, in which he told his enemies "to go to the devil and shake themselves." This was no pattern to set to the young of this Province, especially by the Minister of Education.

Ald. Ferguson.

Ald. Ferguson made a telling speech. He dealt with the Niagara power by-law, and declared that the council of the city of London could not do anything other than send the contract back to the commission for information.

He also spoke of the notorious horse deal of Mr. Beck's, and reiterated that Mrs. Beck's name would not have been mentioned had not Mr. Beck himself introduced it into the campaign. (Cheers.)

Mr. McEvoy.

Mr. J. M. McEvoy arrived from the south end meeting just as Ald. Ferguson had finished speaking. He was given a great reception, and repaid it by making one of his very best speeches. He spoke of the tuberculosis hospital matter, and the Niagara power contract, and criticised the attitude of Mr. Beck on both.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when Mr. McEvoy ceased speaking.

The meeting broke up with cheers for Mr. McEvoy, Mr. MacKay and the King.

East London Meeting.

That East London electors are fully alive to the importance of the questions with which Mr. J. M. McEvoy is dealing in this campaign, was strongly evidenced last night, when a crowd of about 400 gathered on the commons, near Chesley avenue school, and gave him a most attentive hearing.

Mr. Henry Pocock presided, and in introducing Mr. McEvoy, referred to him as one of the cleverest men in his profession in Canada, and a man well able to represent the interests of the people. (Cheers.)

Given an Ovation.

Mr. McEvoy was given an ovation as he rose to speak.

"I am coming among you," he said, "because I think you are issues of the greatest importance which ought to be discussed. Mr. Beck seems to think it is beneath his cloth to hold meetings of this kind and place his name of the question before the electors. I want to speak to you regarding the tuberculosis hospital particularly. You all know the awful state of things at present. Mr. Beck says it is a municipal question and he blocked it most effectively in the Legislature."

"I say it is not a municipal question. If one of you ladies or gentlemen before me were to break your leg this minute, and it were known that you were suffering from tuberculosis in any form, there is not a hospital in the city that would take you in."

"What would you do? If you had no friends you would have to do like the young Scotchman did last spring. When he got so weak that he could not work he was placed in jail like a common criminal, and in jail he stayed until he died."

"This is an unfortunate state of things to have in a city as big as London. If it were not for Mr. Beck we would have had a statement, and by this time, and that young man in the East End who a short time ago had to spend the last few weeks of his life out in a backyard in a tent, because no one would have him in the house, could have been taken to the hospital and been properly treated."

Beck Did It.

"Mr. Beck, and Mr. Beck alone, blocked London's tuberculosis hospital scheme, for which some of our citizens, men who had hearts, and wished to aid the suffering, had contributed money enough to build a hospital that would accommodate 30 or 40 people."

"The citizens of London by an overwhelming majority carried the bylaw to provide funds to assist in the erection of the hospital. The county voted 'He himself had debentures issued for the nurses' home without a vote of the people, but when a debenture issue for a tuberculosis hospital is asked in the same way, he blocks it, just because it is his whim."

Nothing Doing.

"In the meantime nothing has been done. The hospital project was good one and one which Londoners wanted. Many who are taken with the disease might be saved if we had a hospital, and Mr. Beck was wrong when for purposes of his own he blocked the hospital. (Cheers.)"

Power Question.

"It is just three weeks since I asked Mr. Beck to publish the power contract. Not until after I had printed it myself and was distributing it to every house in London did he do it."

"About eight years ago the power question was first gone into by the Liberal Government and they came to an agreement by which the company furnishing power must put up $200,000 with the Government and must give power to the people of Ontario at the same cost they were supplying it to the United States. The Ontario Government was asked to co-operate. The Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission is simply a body of men formed by the Government to combine with the municipalities to carry out a project for getting power. Remember this, that as far as London is concerned, no one else but you citizens are putting up one dollar. (Cheers.)"

"You, together with the other municipalities, are putting up the money. The hydro-electric commission takes your money and once you have signed the contract it can do with it as it pleases. If it is extravagant you have nothing to say about it. You signed the contract and gave it control of your money, and for thirty years you must put up with what it does."

What It Means.

"If your council does wrong you can turn it out at the end of a year. Not so with the power commission. It has you under its thumb for thirty years. How is this so-called cheap power going to benefit you? Suppose one of the shoe companies down town gets its power cheaper, will you get your shoes one cent cheaper? It isn't very likely."

"You have to pay the power taxes, though, just the same."

"Mr. John McClary says he will take the power if they can make it cheap enough."

"You must remember that Mr. McClary has a fixed assessment, and if any one can afford to experiment, it is him. Besides, because he says so now, it is not impossible that he may change his mind and when the time comes, he might refuse altogether to take power."

"There is nothing whatever to hold him."

"Mr. McClary is working for himself, and if you want to put up a million dollars and go into the power business on suppositions, all right."

"It will be too late, though, after you have signed the contract."

The Cost.

"Mr. Beck said at the nominations that the power was not going to cost the citizens of London one dollar. Unfortunately for him I had the printed estimates which any of you can get at the city hall and in it you are assessed already just four times as much for Niagara Power as you are for your new fire halls, and as yet not a soul has been turned out."

"Are you getting any good out of it?"

"I do not ask you to take these statements from me; go to the city hall and verify them for yourself."

"There is only one way in which you can escape paying a million dollars, and that is by selling your power at a price greater than you pay for it."

"The very outside limit of power you can sell in London is 3,000-horsepower. Take the contract and figure it out for yourself."

"If the power costs you what I say it will, and my figures are borne out by the auditor's statement, you can not make it pay."

"Figure it for yourselves; any of you can do it. Your power cannot cost you less than $2. Mr. Stevens, of the Empire Brass Company, is generating power under guarantee for $14 a horsepower from producer gas. What he can do, any one can do, and what is to prevent anybody from selling power to the citizens at this price?"

"Where will you be with your expensive plant then? Yes, you go right on paying for it for 30 years, whether it pays you or not."

Annual Cost.

"The annual cost for maintaining your plant cannot be less than $97,000. Mr. Beck does not say these figures are wrong. Taking 3,000-horsepower, this means a cost of over $32 a horsepower, and add $10.40 for the initial cost at the Falls, and you have over $43."

"The figures have not been disputed. The aldermen asked the city auditor to give them a statement, and he shows that the cost will be over $44, so that I am well within it, and give them every chance. Are you going to have your homes mortgaged for this purpose?"

A voice: "Niagara power won't come out to East London."

"Is it fair to London?" continued Mr. McEvoy, "Hamilton gets power for $15,000. London has to pay $671,000. It is fair for it in your taxes, though. Every man, woman and child in this city is liable for $15, as against $1.95 in Hamilton."

"Is this contract fair to London? I say it is not. Toronto pays $2.30 against our $15."

$23.50.

"You never voted on a bylaw to take power at any such price. We were not to take it according to Mr. Beck at a figure exceeding $23.50. I was never more astounded than when I heard Mr. Beck say he never told you this."

"That certainly was his statement, published broadcast, and now he says he didn't. I defy anyone to find it in the contract that your power will cost you $23.50, and no more, yet that is what you were led to believe."

"What we are really being asked to do is to pay a share in building power lines to other places, and I maintain that this power contract is so loaded against London that it is unfair to every citizen."

"All I ask you to do is to study it for yourselves, and you will see it."

Price of Power.

Before asking Ald. Armstrong to speak, Chairman Pocock said: "If you are going into the power business you must sell to the small manufacturer. The large ones will not need it. Many of them have to have steam to utilize their waste and heat their factories. I want to tell you that I am a small consumer of power, and at present I am getting my power for $13; that is better even than Mr. Stevens is doing. I have a gas engine, and use city gas, and if anyone cares to come and see the plant, I will show him. There would be nothing to prevent me or any other gentleman starting up a plant and selling you power at $13 a horsepower. Would it pay you to buy Niagara power from the city at $44, then? I can put any electric power company right out of the business that way." (Cheers.)

Ald. Armstrong.

Ald. Armstrong spoke of the manner in which Mr. Beck had tried to hurry the power contract through the council, and had been unable to answer when asked questions regarding the cost. The council, he thought, were perfectly justified in wanting to know all the details of such an important contract.

ant contract, and it was most unbecoming of Mr. Beck to criticize them when they were doing the best they could to perform their duty to the citizens.

Mr. Jared Vining made a splendid speech, in which he dealt with the gerrymander, the promises of the Whitney Government, the La Rose mining deal, and other political questions.

Mr. Vining condemned Mr. Beck's attitude in jumping on the council and city auditor for the stand they had taken in regard to the power contract.

REPUBLICAN PLATFORM

Chicago Convention Stands Squarely on the Roosevelt Policies.

Cincinnati, June 2.—The planks to be presented for the Republican national convention at Chicago, as decided on at various conferences at the White House are given in a Washington special to the Times-Star as follows: "The Chicago platform will take advance ground on the tariff, on control of the trusts, on the amending of the Sherman law, on the currency, and on the question of limiting the power of injunction. It will stand squarely in other regards on the policies which have been the success of the Roosevelt-Administration. In the ough, it will be drafted by Wade Ellis, attorney-general of Ohio, who will return to Virginia Beach for that purpose tonight."

Such were the decisions reached at a White House conference last night. There were additional conferences today and other conferences are to follow.

MITCHELL FOR GOVERNOR.

Washington, June 2.—Organized labor and the trade unionists of Illinois particularly will play a conspicuous part in politics during the approaching campaign, according to a statement made here last night by Secretary Nickels, of the Chicago Federation of Labor.

Mr. Nickels, in addressing the central labor union of this city, last night, stated that at the meeting of the Illinois State Federation in Springfield on June 14 John Mitchell, the retired president of the United Mine Workers, would tell the delegates whether he would be willing to accept a nomination for governor of that state. He predicted that in the event of Mr. Mitchell's acceptance he would be elected governor of Illinois on the labor ticket.

WILL NOT TAKE PART.

Montreal, June 2.—It is unofficially stated that the management of the Canadian Pacific Railway will not take part in the arbitration proceedings between the company and its mechanics at Winnipeg, notwithstanding the appointment of Mr. G. F. Gale by the department of labor to take the place on the board of Mr. Fullerton, the company's representative, who withdrew on account of the decision to consider eastern as well as western matters.

Inability to hit the Cleveland twirlers cost the champions two games yesterday afternoon. The double defeat was made more possible by some bad fielding in spots and the Naps managed to clean some timely hits. Lajoie sent in Check against Mullin in the first game, and while the big fellow was hit hard in spots, the Tigers would have won if they could have started their batting before. As it was, they did not get anything worth while off Check until the fourth round, when they pounded in four runs, just one too few to make it interesting. In the second game Summers was sent in to redeem himself and he, too, might have won if his support had been good and he had had any hitting at all behind him.

Both games were marked by long-range hitting. Three home runs were made in the two games. As George Mullin made the first, and as he is the first local player to achieve that distinction, the merchandise goes to him. In the second game, Summers made another to the scoreboard, and still later Bradley came through with another.

Start Off Well.
In the first game it looked like a pitcher's battle for many innings. It was not until the sixth that the Naps got to big George very heavily. Before that time the only scoring done was by Mullin when he made his homer, and by George Stovall, who advanced to second when McIntyre dropped his fly, made third on Lajoie's scratch hit, and scored on Nig Clarke's sacrifice fly.

Josh Clarke led the way in the sixth with a smash to left for a base and Bradley sacrificed him to second. Then Stovall hit the top of the left field fence with a drive, McIntyre cleverly holding him at second, but Clarke made second. Lajoie hit to center and Brother George cantered over the pan. Lajoie stole and after Nig Clarke had fanned, Hinchman hit to center, Larry Tigers Make Stand.

Check's single to short and Josh Clarke's dandy triple in the seventh netted still another. The sixth and really winning score came in the final round. With two down Check walked and the slugging Clarke got another single. Still another off Mullin added by Bradley scored Check and Josh and Bradley worked a double steal, but it was of no avail as a quick play by Coughlin got Stovall.

Then came the Tiger inning, the one big display of the day for the 7,000 fans who filled the park. Crawford started it by walking. Cobb tore off a single. Rossman hit a sacrifice fly that scored Stovall. Check came through with still another single that brought home Ty by a great sprint. Payne, who went in for Schmidt, popped out. Downs' drive to center sent in Coughlin and Mullin added to win his own game by hitting to center, scoring Jerry. Matty McIntyre, who had an off day ended the rally by flying to Clarke.

THE SECOND GAME.
Liebhardt looked like himself again. The Tigers were never dangerous against the spitter. As in the first game the first score came from a home run, and it was the only one made by the Tigers. Schaefer got it in the first inning.

The Tigers lead because of this rap did not last very long, for in the second inning the visitors began to score. Bemis scratched a hit to left and Hinchman was hit on the shoulder. Hinchman was walked and the bags were full. Birmingham forced Hick but Bemis scored. Schaefer was trying for a double play on Birney at first when Hinchman turned third. Rossman slid, Sheridan slid, Hinchman slid, Sheridan slid, Hinchman safe, but a protest was made by the Tigers. Liebhardt followed with a two-bagger and the third tally was over.

The Naps continued their batfist in the fifth when Clarke singled and was forced by Bradley. Stovall singled Lajoie hit to Downs, who in his eagerness for an easy double play fumbled the ball and Bradley scored. Downs' error on Birmingham continued the scoring in the sixth. Liebhardt followed with a sacrifice and after Josh Clarke had been fanned, Bradley hit his home run.

Liebhardt attained strong to the finish and although the weary fans sat through the game waiting for a rally it did not come.

Morgan Invincible in the First, Errors Count in the Second.
New York, June 2.—Boston won both games of today's double-header, the first by 7 to 0, because the locals could not hit Morgan, and when they had a good chance to win the second errors by Niles, Ball and Keeler in the ninth inning allowed the visitors to get four runs, which won out. The scores:

SUMMER SPORTS

Looks Like Bowlers' Banner Season
Local Greens Alive With Players

Hundreds in Training for the Summer's Tourneys, Which Begin Soon.

The greens of the London Bowling and Rowing Club and the Thistle Club are filled with players these fine nights, and hundreds are rapidly getting into trim for the coming tournaments, of which the Thistle Club's annual spring tourney is the first on the list. The Thistle Club tourney begins on June 8, and entries must be in by Saturday next. Each round will take one week. Of the outside tourneys, Ridgeway is the opening one, and at least six more will go there from this city. The play begins in Ridgeway on July 1.

CURRENT SPORTING GOSSIP

BY SOUTHPAW

A more thankful lot of athletes do not exist than the local oarsmen over the dredging of the Thames. Every night now the London Hanlons and Durmans are busy working out for the coming regatta on July 1, and, under the direction of such men as Captain G.W. Ward and Jimmy Tyler, the results are more than satisfactory.

This week the oarsmen are confining their trial spins to the Cove bridge and back. Next week they will go as far as Woodland and return.

Among the crews noted were those from the Bank of Toronto, the Waterloo Club, many number of independent crews, and a senior crew, stroked by Gib Ward.

The Bank of Toronto crew is composed of Hayward, Wilson, Ferguson, and Bernhard, and it is making them all pull a fast stroke to hold the pace.

The next crew, the Waterloos, looks like a small-sized hockey team, and is comprised of such ice and aquatic experts as Fred Marshall, Bobby Hogg, Ernie Thompson and Jimmy Hogg.

"Tiny" Elmer Sage strokes another crew, and his team mates are: Billy Rowland, Kenny Casselman and Vic Smith. Watch this outfit.

"Duff" and Harold Wood are great on the tandem canoe game, and are to be seen industriously "padding their own canoe" each warm night.

Colin Duffield has a likely-looking bunch in the fours, in Nichol, Ivey and McArthur, and Gib Ward's senior crew gets away like winners.

In the latter crew are Inglis, formerly of the Toronto Argos; Dick Wheeler, of Rugby fame, and Billy Aust, who looms up strong as an oarsman.

LOCAL SOCCERITES TAKE ANOTHER PARIS VANQUISHED ON HEIGHTS

London's Speedy Eleven Defeat the Visitors 3-0 and Practically Clinch District Honors, Which Will Put Them Into Championship Semi-Finals.

There was nothing to it but London in the W. F. A. match with Paris on the Heights last evening, the locals winning by 3-0.

The London team started in the first half, and scored all three of its points. Then it lay back and played on the defensive, otherwise the score might have been much higher.

Since the game at Paris last Saturday the locals have contended that on suitable grounds the Parisians would be meat for them, and last night's result amply proves the statement.

Last of the Home Games.
The contest was the last of the home games, but if the London win their district, which seems assured, the semi-finals and finals, or at least some of them, will be played here, possibly at Teumseh Park.

The attendance at Teumseh Park was the best of the season, and the players feel much encouraged by the patronage received.

It had been a long time since London has had a winning soccer team, and the present eleven looks like the best in Western Ontario, if not all Ontario, and possibly Canada.

Dundas Saturday.
On Saturday the Londons play at Dundas, and if they get away with that contest there will be little or no chance of any other team even trying them. On Tuesday next the locals perform at Woodstock, the last place on the list, and after that will come the semi-finals.

The teams last night lined up as follows:
London.
Field.....Goal .. Rutherford
Puncher.....Backs .. Lawrence
Greening.....Backs .. Dicker
Richardson.....Halfbacks .. Moakes
Felder.....Halfbacks .. Howell
Hymmen.....Halfbacks .. Fraser
Hollins.....Center .. Patten
Dunkley.....Left Wing .. Cole
Dunkley.....Left Wing .. Vipon
M. Garrett.....Right Wing .. Moffatt

READY FOR RACE DOWN THE COAST
Yachts Will Race From Marblehead Rock To the Bermuda.

Marblehead, Mass., June 3.—The weather conditions for the start of the annual Marblehead-to-Bermuda yacht race today were considered excellent by the crews of the six yachts, which will make the cruise under the joint auspices of the Corinthian Yacht Club of Marblehead and the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club.

The six contesting yachts, the Esperanza, the Dervish and the Zarah of class B and the Marchioness, Venona and Edith Anna of class C had hoisted main sails and lashed their small boats securely early in the morning, and after breakfast and showers were over, the yachts left the harbor for Marblehead Rock, between which place and the committee tug, the starting line had been laid out for the regatta committee's tug to anchor a short distance from Marblehead Rock, thus laying out an imaginary line over which the racing craft could be sent away on the long course. From Marblehead Rock the course lay about south-southeast, and it was expected that the yachts would be clear of Cape Cod before night fell.
