Explanations, and Principal Articles of the Calendar for 1871.

EXPLANATIONS.

All the calculations are reduced to local mean time for Charlotetown, lat.  $46^{\circ} 13' 55''$  N., long.  $63^{\circ} 7' 23''$  W., with the exception of equation of time and Sun's right ascension and declination, which are given for apparent noon. The Sun's apparent semi-diameter is also inserted on the respective days for each complete second of arc.

At the head of each month, beside the changes of the Moon, are given the Moon's bearing at the time of change, the Perigee or Moon's nearest approach to the earth, and the days when the Moon crosses the Equator, and reaches her greatest north or south declination; on which point Saxby's system of Lunar Equinoxials is founded; the principle being that on these days the Moon's influence on the atmospheric tides is most marked; and when these times fall close upon the time of Moon's change or Perigee, this disturbing influence is proportionably increased. These cases are marked ** or *** according as two or three of these influences combine. When *** occur, a gale or other strong atmospheric disturbance may be expected with considerable certainty.

In addition to the general local disturbance on these days, the effects of a storm generated within the tropics is sometimes propagated so as to arrive in about two or three days—it having been found that the average rate at which these travel is about 16 miles per hour.

MOTION AND OCCULTATIONS OF THE PLANETS.

MERCURY. Always in the immediate neighborhood of the sun, apparent motion being alternately direct and retrograde between the following dates, when he will be either stationary to the east or west of the sun: January 8th, E.; January 28th, W.; May 4th, E.; May 27th, W.; December 23rd, E. Mercury is most favorable for observation at the times of his greatest elongation or apparently angular distance from the sun, which is about 10 or 12 days after being stationary to the East, when he may be discovered a little after sunset—or 10 or 12 days after being stationary to the West, when he must be looked for just before sunrise. Occultation by Moon, June 15th.

VENUS.—The apparent motion is direct till September 2nd. Retrograde till October 15th, then direct the rest of the year. She is at her greatest elongation about 45 days from the sun, when she is stationary; at which time, like Mercury, exactly half her disc is illuminated: but she is at her greatest brilliancy when she presents the appearance of the moon between 3 and 4 days old. This will be about August 20th and November 1st, when she may be seen during the day, coming to the meridian, 9h. 20m., a. m. Venus will be an evening star till her inferior conjunction with the sun, September 17th; after which she will reappear to the west of the sun as a morning star.

MARS.—Apparent motion direct till February 9th: retrograde till May 2nd, and then direct till the end of the year. In opposition to the sun, March 19th, coming to the meridian at midnight. Occultation by the moon, November 15th.

JUPITER.—Retrograde till February 10th. Direct till November 17th; afterwards retrograde, in conjunction with the sun, June 30th; after which he will reappear as an evening star. Occultations by the moon: March 27th, April 24th, May 21st.

SATURN.—Direct till April 19th: retrograde till September 17th; then direct till the end of the year. In opposition to the sun, June 28th; on the meridian at midnight. Occultations by the moon: January 18th, February 15th, March 14th, July 2nd and 29th, August 25th, September 21st.

URANUS.—Retrograde till March 30th. Direct till November 6th. In opposition to the sun, January 14th, coming to the meridian at midnight, about  $1\frac{1}{2}$  times the distance southward on the prolongation of the line joining the Twin Stars, Castor and Pollux, a little to the west. In conjunction with the sun, July 19th. Occultations by the Moon, January 7th, February 3rd, March 2nd.

NEPTUNE.—Direct till July 28th. Retrograde afterwards to the end of the year. In opposition to the sun, October 15th.

None of the occultations above noticed will be observable at Charlottetown, all with one exception occurring in the daytime or when the moon is below the horizon. The occultation of Uranus on the 2nd of March will be central at the time of conjunction at Long.  $87^{\circ} 12' W.$ , Lat.  $78^{\circ} 29' N.$  To us it will appear as a near approach, the planet being to the south of the moon about  $\frac{1}{4}$  of her diameter at 11h. 18m. p. m.

ECLIPSES.

There will be four during the year, two of the Sun and two of the Moon, one of which will be visible at Charlottetown.

I. A partial eclipse of the Moon, January 6th. Greenwich mean time of opposition, in right ascension 9h. 14m. 57s. Magnitude of eclipse, .688 of Moon's diameter towards the south. Visible at Charlottetown.

TIDES.
The time of High Water at Charlottetown is given for space in the 24 hours; the intervening tide being readily found by taking half the interval between the two tides. The local mean time of the tides at the places in the following list is to be found by subtracting from the Char'town time of High Water as indicated.

ZODIACAL LIGHT.

During the early part of March, after the Moon has passed her full, the Zodiacal Light may be seen after sunset, streaming upward from the western horizon towards the Pleiades. From recent observation by spectral analysis, Angstrom has arrived at the conclusion that this light is closely allied with that of the aurora borealis, which has been conclusively proved to consist principally of oxygen gas brought to an incandescent state by the electric discharge. See Report of Toronto Astronomical Society, in a paper by the President, S. Winder.

Position of the auroral bands compared with the principal lines of the Solar spectrum.—A to H, from Fraunhofer's lines; C, E, G, h, hydrogen; D, sodium; b, magnesium; W, W, bands in aurora and zodiacal light.

VEAL CAKE.—This is a pretty, tasty dish for supper or breakfast, uses up any cold veal which you may not care to mince. Take away brown outside of your cold roast veal, and cut the white meat into slices; have also a few thin slices of cold ham and two hard-boiled eggs which also slice, and two dessertspoonfuls of finely-chopped parsley. Put an earthenware mould, and lay veal, ham, eggs, and parsley in alternate layers, with a little pepper between each, and a sprinkling of lemon on veal. When the mould seems full, fill up with strong stock, and bake half an hour. Turn out when cold. If a proper shape be not at hand, veal cake looks pretty made in a plain pie-dish. When turned out, garnish with a few sprigs of fresh parsley.

SCOTCH BROTH.—Three pounds of beef, a three-pound neck of mutton back rib; cover with cold water, and set on a slow fire; one teacupful barley, half a teacupful of rice, one turnip, and two carrots cut small; carrots grated, one handful of parsley, and two good sized onions minced; few leeks finely shred, a cauliflower, or small head of cabbage, may be added. Time three hours.

TARTAR SAUCE.—Take the yolks of two eggs, half a dessertspoonful of vinegar, two dessertspoonfuls of oil, a pinch of salt, a pinch of parsley, a teaspoonful of mustard, a little Cayenne pepper. Put into a very small saucepan the yolks of two eggs, a dessertspoonful of the best vinegar, a little salt; whip up this mixture with a whisk as quickly as possible. When the whole forms a sort of cream, add the oil and mustard, which should be well mixed previously, a pinch of parsley minced very fine, and a little Cayenne. The oil should be put in drop by drop, to mix perfectly.

FRITTERS.—Make a stiff batter with one or two eggs, according to quantity required; season to taste with pepper and salt, according to taste. Dip each into the batter, and fry of a nice brown color, either in fresh lard or butter. Lay them on a clean sieve before the fire, until every particle of grease has drained from them, and serve them on a napkin.

PATELLES.—Mince some cold meat (either mutton or beef) very fine, mix with a little paste, and roll it out thin; lay the mince thickly upon it, and fold the paper over it, taking care to make the edges adhere together. Then take a rolling pin and roll the paste all smooth; cut them out with a tin in the shape of small roundlets, and fry them of a light brown color. Serve with a brown sauce.

VEAL SOUP.—Boil the veal with two-thirds of a cup of rice, and add sweet herbs or celery, and the usual seasoning. This makes a plain, wholesome soup.

NEW METHOD OF COOKING A LEG OF MUTTON.—Cover it well with water and bring it gradually to a boil; let it simmer gently for half an hour, then lift it out; roast it an hour and a quarter, or a half, according to its size. Dressed in this way it is particularly juicy and tender; but there must be delay in roasting it after it is taken out of the water. It may be garnished with roasted tomatoes or potatoes, and served.

POTATOES AND BACON.—Although a very homely dish, this is a most one to dress satisfactorily. The bacon should be of a moderate thickness, and should be done quickly and thoroughly, without being burnt. The boiled potatoes should be well chopped and peppered before they are put in the frying-pan. They should then be turned about without intermission until the steam arises freely from them. The fire should be brisk, and when done, put the potatoes in a dish, and arrange upon the slices of bacon in a circle round the margin. When properly dressed this is a very nice breakfast dish.

CONDITION POWDERS,

The best in the World for preserving good health and prime condition in Horses, Cattle, Sheep & Pigs.

These Powders PURIFY THE BLOOD, LOOSEN THE SKIN, ALLAY FEVER AND INFLAMMATION, CURE COUGHS, AFFECTIONS OF THE THROAT, and FOUNDER, (if resorted to immediately). They EXPEL WORMS of every description, and, in fact, are beneficial in all diseases of Horses and Cattle.

FOR HORSE DISTEMPER.—One of these Powders given in the early stages prevents Fever, and hastens the discharge; and after the fever begins to subside, one more should be given to carry off all humors and leave the glands of throat healthy.

DOSE. A Tablespoonful Night and Morning in a Bran Mash, or soaked in Water. To Colts under two years old, half the quantity should be given. In cases of Spasms, whether caused by Bots, Cholera, or Stoppage of Water, repeat the dose every half hour until relief is obtained. The same dose may be given to Cows after calving.

BEING COLD CHICKEN.—Some of the readers of Harvie's Almanac ought to know of two dishes that can be made of cold chicken as a treat. One is called "fried chicken," and the other (a sweet dish) "chicken pie." For "fried chicken," cut the chickens into quarters, and rub each with yolk of egg. Mix some bread crumbs with pepper, salt, nutmeg, and grated lemon peel, and shred parsley; cover the chickens with this, and dip them in some gravy with flour, and add to it Cayenne pepper, onion ketchup, and a little lemon juice. Serve the chicken with this.

PALACE PUDDINGS.—Two large teaspoonfuls of corn flour, mix half a teaspoonful of new milk, half a pint of cream, half an ounce of sugar, half-sugar to the taste, and a few drops of essence of vanilla. Let the ingredients boil together ten minutes over the fire, stirring one way and the other. Take the pan off the fire, and stir in quickly the yolks of two eggs, well beaten, stirring all together till nearly cold. Pour the mixture into small tin moulds, which must have been previously wetted with water. Put dried cherries at the bottom and sides of the moulds before pouring in the mixture.

WHAT TO DO WITH THE COLD MEAT.—Mince any kind of cold meat, season it well, and mix with it some gravy, thickened almost to a paste, yolk of egg. Make into balls, and dip them two or three times into egg bread-crumbs, and fry them brown. There should not be much fat in the balls will not be firm enough. This is a good breakfast relish.

OATMEAL CAKES.—Only one should be made at a time, as the mixture quickly. Put two or three handfulls of meal in a bowl, moisten with merely sufficient to form into a cake; knead it round and round with hands on the paste board, strewing meal under and over it; it may be as thin as a wafer, or any thickness (generally about half as thick as traveller's biscuit). Put it on a griddle; bake it till it is a little brown on the under side, then take it off and toast that side before the fire; which uppermost on the griddle. Oatmeal cake, instead of bread, is capital cheese.

WINTER SALAD.—Cut one pound of red cabbage in thin shreds, blanch in boiling water for fifteen minutes; cool, drain, and put in a basin with an ounce of salt, and let it pickle for four hours; then pour off the water, add half a gill of vinegar, mix, and let it remain for two hours; trim one pound of celery, cut it in small dice, and blanch it in boiling water for ten minutes and drain it; cut an equal quantity of cold boiled potatoes in the same manner, and mix with the cabbage and celery; add a quarter of an hour before serving, drain the cabbage and mix the whole in a salad bowl, adding three tablespoonfuls of oil, one tablespoonful of vinegar, tarragon, and two small pinches of pepper, and serve.

CREAM PUDDING.—Take a pint of sweet cream, boil it with a blade of nutmeg, then strain it, and let it stand to cool. Beat the whites of two eggs and the whites of two, mix with them a dessertspoonful of orange-flower water. Gradually mix these ingredients with the cream, take a doubled cloth, wet and well flour it, pour in the pudding, tie it tight, and boil it for twenty minutes in a good deal of water. When done, turn it into a dish, and pour over it melted butter and UTILIZING COLD TONGUE.—Cut what is left of a tongue, in very slices, taking off the skin and any hard bits; pound it in a marble mortar, adding by degrees a little fresh butter melted, till it is reduced to a smooth paste, seasoning it to taste as you proceed with pepper, salt, allspice, mace, pounded mace and cloves, or such of these spices as are preferred; when it is thoroughly beaten and mingled together, press it closely into small shallow pots, fill them up with a layer, a quarter of an inch thick, of clarified butter, and tie them down; they should be kept in a cool place. This potted tongue is nice to eat with bread and butter, and makes sandwiches.

FITTERS.—Rice fritters are most generally made with whole rice ground fine and may be used instead in the following way: Mix a handful of rice with milk, set it on the fire and stir it constantly, adding a little sugar, grated lemon-peel, and a few drops of essence of vanilla. When it becomes sufficiently thick and stiff, remove it from the fire, and pour it over a slab or flat tin; let it cool, cut out the fritters with cutters, dip them in butter or in egg and bread crumbs, and fry them in a very hot pan. As the fritters are a nice color, drain, sprinkle them with powdered WASNET BISCUITS.—Scrape off the skin carefully, grate the nut very fine and add half the weight of powdered sugar. Mix well together with yolk of egg, drop on water paper in small rough knobs, the size of a walnut, bake in a slack oven.

RETT.—The following is a very old receipt for this old-fashioned dish:—Take a pint of ready-boiled flour put by degrees two quarts of new milk and a pint of currants picked clean and washed; stir them, and boil till done. Beat the yolks of three eggs and a little nutmeg with two or three spoons of milk; add this to the flour, stir them together while over a fire, then sweeten, and serve cold in a deep dish.

A CHEAP PUDDING.—Three-quarters of a pound of flour, a quarter pound of suet chopped fine, a little chopped lemon-peel, a teaspoon treacle; mix to batter with two eggs well beaten in a little milk. The cloth and boil three hours. Serve with wine sauce if approved, but it is nice with only a little sifted sugar.

IRISH GRIDDLE OR SLIM CAKES.—Rub two ounces and a half of butter half a pound of flour with a little salt, make it into a stiff paste with a milk, roll it out half an inch thick, and cut it into squares and round any shape you like. It will take half an hour to bake; it should be baked a griddle over a stove, or in the oven with the door open.

SHORT BREAD AS MADE IN SCOTLAND.—Two pounds of sifted flour, a pound of butter, half a pound of moist sugar, a small teaspoonful of carbonate of soda, a few drops essence of lemon. Rub the butter into the flour with the hand; after the butter, sugar, and flour have been well mixed, add the carbonate of soda and lemon, and work all well together ten minutes. Wished very rich, substitute for the breakfastcupful of the flour one ground rice, and add a quarter of a pound of almonds blanched and mixed very fine. Made into cakes, and pinched round with the finger and thumb.

COCOANUT KISSES.—One cup of sugar to two of cocoanut, a tablespoon of corn starch; moisten it with enough white of egg to make it stiff. Bake in a very hot oven, or they will run together.

GRAND DIET OF WORMS,

DISSOLVED BY

WATSON'S

SCHOLEDION,

Which is offered to the public as a perfectly safe, pleasant and efficacious EXPELLER of WORMS from the human system.

As this preparation contains no mineral ingredient, the administration of it to young children is not followed by the dangerous, and—in many cases—fatal consequences resulting from the use of many of the Vermifuges at present before the public.

A compliance with the directions accompanying this, will prove that it deserves the character claimed for it above, while the promptness and painless character of its action render it the cheapest and safest remedy for worms hitherto discovered.

To be given at night, on going to bed, and on getting up in the morning, fasting for three hours after. Two to four doses, according to symptoms, will ENTIRELY eradicate every species of Worms.

Charlottetown, 21st Sept., 1869.

W. R. Watson, Esq., has informed me of the composition of his "Worm Candy," and I can unhesitatingly recommend it as a safe and efficacious vermifuge.

JAMES N. FRASER, M.D., L. R. C. S. Ed.

Having prescribed "Watson's Scholedion" in a large number of cases, in which Worms were indicated, we have much pleasure in stating that we consider it a very safe and efficient form of Anthelmintic.

Charlottetown, Sep. 22, 1869.

Messrs. JENKINS & BRINE, Physicians and Surgeons.

Summerside, August 10, 1869.

DEAR SIR.—I shall feel obliged by your making known, for the benefit of others, my opinion of your "Scholedion." The use of it in the case of my infant child has satisfied me that it not only merits the character claimed for it in your advertisement, but also that the advertisement does not do adequate justice to a most valuable remedy.

Yours truly,

WM. M. HOWE.

Little Wanzer!

SEWING MACHINE.

The most perfect and compact Sewing Machine ever offered for Sale. Wherever exhibited it has been awarded the First Prize, of all competitors.

At the World's Fair held at Paris it was awarded the First and HIGHEST PRIZE, over eighty-seven other Machines.

At the Exhibition held in Montreal, on the 15th September 1870, at the time of the Lachine Boat Race, the First and Second Prizes were awarded to the Little Wanzer Sewing Machine.

For Simplicity, Strength and Durability, it has no equal.

INTEREST TABLE FOR ONE YEAR.

By the annexed Tables unlimited calculations may be made. Thus, to learn the interest upon £1,250 per annum, add the sums given for £1,000, £200, and £50. 2 per cent is found by taking one-half of 4 per cent.; 8 per cent. by doubling 4 per cent.; 7½ per cent. by adding 5 to 2½ per cent., and so on.

ALL CURES MADE EASY

BY

HOLLOWAY'S OINTMENT

BAD LEGS, ULCEROUS SORES, BAD BREASTS.

No description of wound, sore or ulcer can resist the healing properties of this excellent Ointment. The worst case readily assumes a healthy appearance whenever this medical agent is applied; sound flesh springs up from the bottom of the wound, inflammation of the surrounding skin is arrested and a complete and permanent cure quickly follows the use of the Ointment.

PILES, FISTULAS, and INTERNAL INFLAMMATIONS.

These distressing and weakening diseases may with certainty be cured by the sufferers themselves, if they will use Holloway's Ointment, and closely attend to the printed instructions.

Both the Ointment and Pills should be used in the following cases
BAD LEGS, BAD BREASTS, BURNS, BUNIONS, BITES OF MOSQUITO AND SAND-FLIES, COCO-BAY, CHILBLAINS, CHIEGO-FOOT, CHAPPED HANDS, CORNS (SOFTS) CANCERS, CONTRACTED AND STIFF JOINTS, ELEPHANTIASIS, FISTULAS, GOUT, GLANDULAR SWELLINGS, LUMBAGO, PILES, RHEUMATISM, SCALDS, YAWS, SKIN-DISEASES, SORE NIPPLES, SORE-THROATS, SCURVY, SORE-HEADS, TUMORS, ULCER WOUNDS.

Sold at the Establishment of PROFESSOR HOLLOWAY, 244 Strand (near Temple Bar,) London, and by all respectable Druggists and Dealers in Medicine throughout the civilised world, at the following prices:—1s. 1½d., 2s. 9d., 4s. 6d., 11s. 6d., 22s., 33s. each Pot.

** There is a considerable saving by taking the larger size.

N. B.—Directions for the guidance of patients in every direction are affixed to each Pot.
