year 1849 will hold in every history of the numericant century. The Protectionist agitation continues as active as ever. Large meetings have recently been held in various parts of the country, and prepara-tions are in progress for holding many more be-tween this and the assembling of Parliament. The Pres-Traders purpose commencing a counter-ngitation throughout the Kingdom. Everything is now brought about by agitation. In Lan-cashipe a movement is on foot for promoting the reform of the tes duties, so as to benefit the interests of the consumer, without damaging the cashire a movement is on foot for promoting the reform of the tea dutice, so as to benefit the interests of the consumer, without damaging the Revenue. It is significant of the future policy of the Peelites, that their organ, the Morning Chronicle, is devoting much space to an expoure of the unit in a bisurdities and injustice which characterise our system of excise. It shows that in the article of puper, the amount of duty is the least of the evils of the present excise laws. All ingenuity is forbidden devolopment, because ex-periments are either much too costly or impossi-ble ander these laws; and it is proved that the English paper manufacturer will have to sustain an actuous and unequal contest to maintain his ground against foreign competitors. It appears that there was as truth in the statement that Lord Denman had resigned the Lord Chief Justice-ship i Minister' were desirous that the noble Lord should retire to make room for Lord Camp-bell, but they met with a point-blank reducal. The subscrip-tions have dwindled down to low or five pounds weekly; and, to add to this, we have this amail agitator addressing to the constituents a letter re-signing his seat for Limerick, in which he candidly states that pecuniary difficulties have competied him to zetter from Parliament. Mr. O'Connell does not, however; intend to withdraw from pub-life life, while the people of Ireland support him in the Repetil Association. QUENEC, October 10, 1849.

QUEREC, October 10, 1849. Ssa,-At the request of Dr. Morin, my medic-adviser, I was induced to take some of your really valuable Plantaganet Mineral Waters; and, for the banefit of my suffering fellow-creatures, and mankind in general, I cannot but bear my hum-ble testimory to their baneficial effects. Having suffered, for some time back, from severe attacks of optical delusion, and deringement of the lower intestines. I was induced to try the Plantaganet Water, from the use of which I have derived in-calculable benefit. If my testimory should ap-pear to you likely to induce others to try the Water, you have my full consent to use it in such manner as may seem most advisable to yourself. I subsettibe myself, dear Sir, with gratitate, your obliged servant,
