

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., NOV. 1, 1889.

Thanksgiving Day.

Thursday next, November 7th, is the day set apart by the Government as a day of thanksgiving. Surely we in Canada have every cause to be thankful. While we hear of casualties of the most terrible nature befalling the people of other lands in all parts of the globe, we in Canada are enjoying peace and prosperity with freedom from severe storms and floods. The past season's crop has been an abundant one and the prospects are bright for all. The farmer will get good prices for all he has to sell, and this will tend to promote a general prosperity in all classes. Let us then give thanks to Him who has favored us above all people and showered down upon us so many rich blessings; and let those who are in prosperity not forget their less fortunate fellows.

A Seasonable Hint.

The conductors on the Windsor and Annapolis railway have issued a notice to the parents of children who are in the habit of jumping on and off the trains while in motion. The following pertinent remark we clip: "We do not want the parents to be under the expense of mourning, which will surely be the case if the practice is not stopped, for let the boys be as smart as st-cl traps they may get under the wheels when they least expect it." Some of the boys of Wolfville in common with those of most other towns are inclined to this custom, and it is a wonder more accidents do not occur in consequence. We trust this hint to the parents will be heeded not only by them but by the boys themselves, as we do not wish to record such an accident as might occur. Better stop it, boys.

Christianity and Infidelity.

Professor Clark Braden lectured in College Hall Monday evening upon "The Issues between Christianity and Scepticism." The lecture was attentively heard and many of the points made by the speaker were received with favor. It was a popular treatment of the subject discussed and one adapted to do good. We are persuaded, however, that the effect would have been better if fewer reflections upon scepticism had been made and a little less egotism had been exhibited. The speaker destroyed many common objections and showed how few things scepticism is willing to affirm. The lecturer said: The language of truth is, "Accept me, and me alone." The most intolerant thing is truth. Infidelity is destructive of everything and constructive of nothing. Get infidelity to let Christianity alone until it agrees upon what it will affirm and there will be no need of discussing the differences between Christianity and Scepticism. A thing cannot evolve out of itself what was never in it. Darwin's origin of species is a tissue of assumptions. Evolution only accounts for varieties, not for the origin of matter or of life. There are no ideas so universally obeyed as religious ideas. Infidelity however is abroad in the world and the Church must be on her guard against it and establish people in the truth. The best minds of the world are religious minds.

Maritime Union.

The matter of confederating the three provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island is again being brought to notice and is obtaining considerable attention. It is a matter of considerable importance and must some day become an important issue to the people of these "provinces down by the sea." For years the matter has from time to time been agitated, but so far little has been done toward its accomplishment. It seems to us very plain that we have no need of three lieutenant governors and three sets of legislatures to conduct the affairs of three provinces which could easily be looked after by one. The large expense involved in maintaining these three legislatures would be greatly reduced if we had but one to support and the money so saved could be very profitably laid out in providing needed improvements. Besides the benefit derived in this way, we believe a union of the three provinces would place us in a much better position as a part of the Dominion. We would then possess an influence in the confederation equal to that of Ontario or Quebec. We hope that those who are in a position to do so will use their influence to bring about this desirable union which we believe would be greatly to the advantage of the people of these Maritime Provinces.

As is well known, the Russian church is one of the three divisions of the Greek Catholic church, the others being the established churches of Turkey and of Greece, the latter having been separated from Constantinople in 1833. The Greek Catholic church teaches that the Holy Ghost proceeds only from the Father, like the Roman Catholic observed seven sacraments, holds a three-fold immersion of the body in baptism as necessary, and practices in connection with the same the Chrism, or anointing with oil, prayer, and laying on of hands, teaches worship of Mary and the Saints, Transubstantiation and sacrifice of the mass, but not worship of the Host, at Communion allows children as well as all others of both sexes, to partake of the sour bread and mixed wine and water used, does not recognize a purgatory, allows the lower secular clergy, as they are called, to marry, but not a second time, lays much stress upon fasting and the like observances, and has no common church language. The lower secular clergy consists of readers, singers, deacons and subdeacons and priests. The Bishops are chosen from the clergies.

But I am forgetting Orjevo. It was now past noon, we were getting hungry, and a dinner among such surroundings was not to be thought of for a moment. As there was no train back to Lyck until late in the evening, we resolved to go on foot to Proskien, a town about four or five miles distant, from where there was a train somewhat earlier. Our lunch we could eat on the way, and Miss Von Oin knew a good German Frau in Proskien who would be delighted to serve us a dinner. So we turned our faces toward the large pine forest lying between, and began the long walk over the dusty road to Proskien. The stage passed, but we let it go by without accepting the tempting offer of a passage for 6 copecks,—about 5 cents. If you could only have seen that stage! It had only one little horse tugging upon one side of the long pole, and the body of the wagon was somewhat like those used to carry coal in Berlin, and very nearly as "springs." The driver of this equipage stood in a barrel, cracking his whip with a report that had long ceased to have any effect on the horse's nerves, or applying blows with still less impression upon its skin. The wagon was full of men and women, dogs, pigs and flocks of hens and chickens. Such was the "stage" from Grajewo to Proskien!

As we neared the border, and saw the road, across which was stretched a heavy iron chain, guarded by two fierce looking soldiers, we wondered if there was any difficulty ahead. This was soon determined. A man in official dress came running out of a house near by, asked who we were, what our business was, and demanded our passes. These we produced, and were told to follow him into the house where they would be examined. After waiting about fifteen minutes another official appeared and informed us, in German, that they were not legal.

"Why not?" "Firstly, this is not the same place where you first crossed, and secondly the passes are not legally made out. Here at the top, instead of "good for 15 days," it should be only 3 days."

"This was nonsense, and we did not hesitate to tell him so; but he persisted in repeating it."

The Foundry and Machine Shop buildings are about completed; engine, boiler and machinery, and machines finished and in course of construction, will be moved in this week. It will be remembered that this company are taking over the extensive business of J. A. Mansford, Esq. The Foundry will not be in operation for some weeks yet. The new Parker rink is finished outside, and is receiving a gay coat of paint of different colors by T. M. Smith. Part of this expense is borne by Walls, Richardson & Co., the famous manufacturers of diamond dyes, upon certain stipulations in regard to same.

The frame and lumber has arrived for the Episcopal church, which is to be erected and finished outside this fall. The fine ship Lodiana, build at North's yard, will be launched about the 7th November; so reports, the delay having been occasioned by an accident to Mr North, who was recently injured in the yard.—Hants Journal.

A Few Hints on Getting Married.

BY BEN ZEENE.

Getting married is a serious matter, and I am not one that would receive a person. Some regard it with no more solemnity than they would building a barn or getting a set of false teeth; but they are mostly old bachelors. Most people regard it in an entirely different way. It is right that people should have some idea of what married life means before they entertain any serious thoughts on the matter. I knew a man once that thought that marrying didn't amount to much more than apparently selling a cord of wood, or pitching off a load of hay. He thought he would like to get married, and he went to work to make the necessary arrangements. He built a house, bought a cook stove and a frying pan, spoke for a half dozen hens and ordered a barrel of flour. As he imagined he had got everything ready, he went to work to get married. He found a girl, went home with her two nights, courted her an hour and a half, and one rainy afternoon when it was too wet to make hay, they went off and got married. Their marriage wasn't a success. They weren't well enough acquainted beforehand to find out whether they were intended for each other or not. As it happened, they were not. He was easily provoked, while she was by no means slow to anger. They lived together for a while, and then separated. Both their lives were marred, and the happiness of each destroyed. Marrying is not like getting up in the morning—the quicker it's over the better. It's more like paying up back subscriptions to a newspaper; it's a thing that ought to be done, but there's no great rush about it.

I believe in marrying, but I also believe in single life. If I was a girl I believe I would rather live an old maid all my days than run the risk of marrying. There is a considerable of a risk on both sides however.

As a general thing it is not well to have too rapturous ideas concerning one's intended wife or husband. If I was a young man and was going to get married to-morrow and had an idea that the girl I was going to marry was an angel in human form, it seems to me I would feel mean about it. I wouldn't have the heart to marry a girl that was so much better than I was. I would feel that I was perpetrating the meanest swindle that ever a mortal perpetrated on another and probably the next time I met myself on the street would cross over on the other side and pass on without noticing. Angels in human form are scarce, although splendid girls are quite often come across. I would a great deal rather marry a good girl than an angel anyway.

It is just as well not to think too much of one's intended wife in public—that is, too outrageously much. There is such a thing as carrying a thing too far. Offentimes a man that is most ostentatious in his affection before he is married, after a few years of wedded life, lets his wife get up in the morning and make the fire while he sleeps till breakfast time, and when the baby cries in the evening looks mad enough to choke it or else gets up and goes out, not to come in again till midnight. A little affection all the way through looks well.

It is well to have a pretty good idea of the vicissitudes of married life before one rushes into it. Married life is not all strawberries and cream and sugar or even plum preserves. It is not all like walking home after church Sunday evening, when it takes three-quarters of an hour to walk as far as across the street. Married life has its happiness, but it also has its troubles and sorrows, like every other life.

"The kindest and the happiest pair I have oft occasion to forbid; And something every day they live, To pity, and perhaps forgive."

Hurrah! Halifax Attractions! Among the many attractions for visitors during the Carnival week at Halifax were the gaily decorated and brilliantly illuminated shops with their elegantly dressed windows and fine stock of goods.

The following firms and lines of goods were most popular and their employees very polite and attentive to county visitors. Heavy orders for the most elegant and fashionable goods in the different lines have gone forward and between now and Xmas purchasers will find everything in quantity and quality to suit the most fastidious taste.

No trouble to show goods or send on customers. Go and examine or send for samples and get a handsome photo of yourself. A VIGNON. Dry Goods.—Mahon Bros., 97-101 Barrington St.; G. M. COURT.—The County Court will be held in Kentville on Tuesday of next week.

LAST TRIP.—The direct steamer from Boston to Annapolis will make her last trip for the season, leaving Annapolis Thursday, November 7th.

Go to Payson's for Dentistry.

PERSONAL.—Mr. Fred Godfrey is back from Annapolis on a short visit to his old home. Mr. G. has recently met with a severe affliction in the death of his wife which occurred after a short illness from diphtheria. He has the kindest sympathy of many friends.

A full line of Brushes of all kinds at WALTER BROWN'S.

St. John's Church, Wolfville.—Next Sunday, November 3d, there will be a service with celebration of the Holy Communion at eleven o'clock in St. John's church. To-day, November 1, being All Saints' Day, there will be service at eleven a. m., in St. John's church.

W. & A. R.—The W. & A. Railway have added a few new box cars to their rolling stock and expect shortly to get another new locomotive of the same style and make as the "St. Kolahie". Business on the road is brisk this autumn and special freight trains are constantly employed.

"Tweed and Rubber Coats cheaper than ever at Borden's, Wolfville.

Big Beet.—As the season for big cucumbers, apples, pears, squashes, carrots and beets are in order. H. C. Vaughan, Esq., leads with a magnificent beet which tipped the scales at 17 1/2 pounds. If you have any larger bring them along or send word.

TRIAL BY JURY.—"One-third of the book in the country that they can beat the lawyer in expounding the law. One-half think that they can beat the doctor heading the sick. Two-thirds think that they can beat the minister preaching the gospel, and all of them think they can beat the editor in running the newspaper."

LETTERS, the latest and best, 75c. at PRAT'S.

FIRE PAGE.—On our first page will be found the first half of a very pleasant letter written entitled "The Tide that Came up Pleasant River," by Miss Grace McLeod, of Berwick, one of our dearest young authors. Miss McLeod contributes to some of the best periodicals on the continent and her writings always please. The story, we are sure, will be liked by all.

Wheat Train, a few tons, Choice, just received at B. PRAT'S.

A CLOSE CALL.—While stopping at the "Acadian Hotel," Halifax, one night last week, Mr. Andrew Borden, of Grand Pre, came very near being suffocated by gas escaping from an imperfect burner. In turning off the gas he turned the button too far, turning it on again. When found he was unconscious, but we are glad to learn he has now nearly recovered.

BARREL FACTORY.—Mr. Johnathan Hayes, who moved to Wolfville this spring, is, we learn, putting up a barrel factory at Ellerhouse. Mr. Hayes has the contract for making barrel hoops for the Halifax Sugar Refinery, and as he finds it difficult to get suitable wood at Bedford, where he is now located, is removing his machinery to Ellerhouse, where there is plenty of wood for that purpose.

C. H. Borden is showing the Best Assortment of Amherst Long Boots in Wolfville.

NEW ENGLAND SUPPER.—The above named entertainment was given by the members of Acadia Lodge in their Hall on Wednesday evening last and was a grand success and quite a large sum was realized to swell the funds of the society. The attendance was good and the whole arrangement was admirably planned and carried out. The affair was voted a most enjoyable one and those who attended will look forward with considerable expectation to the time when they may have another opportunity of attending one of these entertainments under the management of Acadia Lodge.

THIRD PARTY.—A circular addressed to temperance societies and all interested in the formation of a prohibition party in the Maritime Provinces has been issued. It is proposed to hold a convention in Moncton on Wednesday, Nov. 13th.

LABRADOR HERRING very choice, 1/4 barrels and barrels at PRAT'S.

TRAMETING.—As will be seen by a notice in another column the ladies of Greenwich intend having a teaming at that place on Wednesday evening next, Nov. 6th. The object is to purchase an organ for the church, is a good one and we hope to see the affair liberally patronized.

Wire Fencing, plain and barbed, and posts at WALTER BROWN'S.

A CALL.—It is rumored that the Rev. H. Fosdy has received a call to the Baptist church at Yarmouth. The reverend gentleman has many warm friends in Windsor who will regret to hear of his departure, should he decide to accept the invitation. The Yarmouth church is one of the leading churches in the province, and it speaks well for the reverend gentleman, that such a call has been tendered to him.—Hants Journal.

The largest assortment Men's and Boy's Wool Underwear at Borden's, Wolfville.

WALKING.—On Saturday last at the Kentville Driving Park Mr. D. E. Woodman made a successful effort to reduce the world best and toe walking record. Drs. H. B. Webster and W. B. Moore, Messrs. C. F. Rockwell, R. B. Masters, Jos. R. Lyons, Watson Bishop, and others were present. Mr. Woodman was accurately timed and succeeded in completing the mile in six minutes and twelve seconds being nine seconds less than the best previous record.—Hants Chronicle.

Johnson's Decorators' Pure White Lead, warranted equal to any lead in the market at WALTER BROWN'S.

A FINE VESSEL.—Capt. Thomas B. Lawrence, of Matland launched his beautiful new barkentine White Wings on Monday afternoon. Her dimensions are: Length of keel, 150 feet; length over all 162 feet; length of beam 31 feet; depth of hold 16 feet; register net tonnage 519 tons. The unanimous verdict of those who know whereof they say is that better material, better put together, never slid off Nova Scotia launchways. The White Wings takes her first cargo at West Bay. Captain Lawrence is sole owner and intends to sail her himself.

CURIOUS NATURAL PHENOMENON.—While this valley is admitted to be the "Garden of the Province" other parts are not far behind in wonderful productions this season. On the 24th of this month we saw dandelions and buttercups growing in the open air at Acadia Mines, Colchester county. One day this week the 28th, Mr. Milton B. Cox picked ripe strawberries, green strawberries and strawberry blossoms at Upper Stewiacke, in the same county, and sent them to us by mail. In our own county we have to report a Mayflower found by Mr. Henry Laybolt, of this place, on the 27th. Nothing is too wonderful to be expected this season, apparently.

TAKE NOTICE.—If your razor is dull, take it to J. M. Shaw's Barber Shop, and he will put it in first-class order for the small sum of 15c. 10

FLATTERY.—The pulpit of the Baptist church was filled in the morning by E. E. Daley, a student, we believe, of Acadia College, Wolfville. He found his text in the second book of Chronicles, ch. 32, and verse 25.—"But Hezekiah rendered not again according to the benefits done unto him." From those words the young man preached a useful and comparatively thoughtful discourse in which he taught some useful lessons to his hearers, one of which was to be found in which he saw a way of medieval art in which he saw a way of rendering again according to benefits bestowed. His rhetoric was good for so unexperienced a speaker, and his voice and manner were to our mind exceptionally good. Study may make him a clever preacher and an honor to his denomination.—Hants Monitor.

Gaspereau.

Mariner Davison and sons have built a dam to flow their interval between Union St. and Greenfield, which is thought will flow some twenty-five or thirty acres.

Gordon Benjamin and sons are building a shingle and stave mill on Black River, near the lake. The site is a very fine one and the country around abounds in timber suitable for such business, and there seems scarcely a doubt but that it will be a paying affair to the proprietors, and a great convenience to the neighborhood.

Owen Davidson has completed the Government grant, and for the small sum of $75 has made a great improvement in the road. If he receives another grant next year he will have the road in a very passable condition.

We are sorry to hear that our friend and neighbor, Russel Kenola, has sold his farm and talks of leaving the place. We hope it may prove a good move for him, but are sure it will be a loss to us and the country in general.

We are also sorry to hear that our organist, Miss Ethel Graham, intends leaving us to spend the winter with her sister in Mass. She has been very faithful in her duties as organist and certainly deserves a rest. We hope she may have a pleasant visit.

The parties in quest of Kidd's money have returned, but we have not seen any particular display of wealth, nor have we seen the best load of gold of the three horse team spoken of by the prophets.

The Lord of Deer Island visited the locality last winter and did many marvelous things, such as healing the sick, or attempting to. But his Apostles either lack faith respecting the Cape Blight enterprise or have sinned in some other way. They have followed their oracle for the last twenty years with every appearance of zeal, and why they have not reaped their reward is a mystery to the outside world if not to themselves.

DEATH OF MR. J. E. WOODWORTH.—A telegram was received on Monday afternoon announcing briefly that Mr. Joseph E. Woodworth had been drowned in Georgia. No particulars are yet to hand. Mr. Woodworth was the eldest son of Mr. B. B. Woodworth, of Canning, ex M. P., and of the proprietor of this journal. He is well remembered as an extensive ship builder and ship owner in this County. Since leaving here he sat for a term in the Legislative Assembly of Manitoba. The news of his death will be heard with regret by his friends in all parts of the Dominion, while to his aged father, to his brothers and sisters the bereavement is one for which they cannot be consoled. He leaves a wife and several children, the eldest of whom, Fred, is a barrister in Toronto. The body will be brought to Nova Scotia for interment.—Hants Chronicle.

The excellence of the Comet Store Polish, produced in this country by the Letteney Manufacturing Company, is now conceded. It is just what it pretends to be, the best article of the kind now before the public, and as a result it is fast taking the market to the exclusion of all other kinds. Orders are coming in so rapidly that they can be filled, and the producing power of the factory is strained to its utmost. We congratulate the company on its well earned success, which is due to the care, energy and perseverance, which has been continuously shown, from the first formation of the company to the present time.—Daily Weekly Courier, Oct. 4th.

Good Horses.—Mr. Charles Hiley weighed on Saturday a sucking colt by "Barriester" which weighed 625 lbs., a pretty good showing for a four months' old. A yearling by "Harry Morjan" turned the scales at 1050 lbs. A "Barriester" mare 3 years old weighed 1560—a heavy heat and a brood mare. Imported from a P. E. Island horse, the mother of these colts weighed 1500. "Barriester" colt is an exceedingly fine animal, while all the others will pass muster among good stock.—Hants Journal.

MARRIED.—ROBINSON—RILEY.—At Woodville, 23d ult., by E. C. Ford, James K. Robinson and Miss Mary A. Riley, all of Woodville.

DIED.—CORDEY.—At Lakeville, on Wednesday 23d ult., of consumption, Jane, wife of John Cordey, aged 52 years.
