The youngest member of the Council elect is Mrs. Oarne Johnson. She is only 23 years old, and was brought up in Oskaloosa. She is the eldest daughter of Terry Cricofuled. She was for a time a student at Bethany College. Her political views are Democratic, religious Episcopal. The reporter was shown into a pleasant parlor, fragrant with the scent of rises and bright and pretty things wroughs with her own dainty hands. There were books and magazines in profusion, and music too. The hostess received her greats in a pretty "at home" of some dark surah. Her blue eyes were shaded by fluffy blonde hair, which was toosely colled over her head. Truly are the Mayor and members of Oska-hoogs Council representative women. They are bright, cheery, intelligent, with a large share of common souse. They are representa-tive mochers and housekeepers too, for al-though the house hair was heatly done, not one but whose hair was nestly done, not one but whose hair was nestly done, not one but whose house was in perfect order. If they can direct their minvidnal households so well, can they not direct and ende the muni-oight affairs of their ersy? They have every appearance in their favor. They may differ politically, but they are staunch Proholibiton-ists, they are for principle more than party. Long may the "eity mothers " of Oskaloosa rule. Twelve More Amdavits. Mr. John T. Small told The World last night that he had twelve more affidavits ready to be filed before Chancellor Boyd in Osgoode Hall to-day in support of the two on which the in-terim injunction against the city ratifying the agreement between it, and the vallway com-jan be that they contain a lot more impor-tant matter telling against the proposed agree-ment.
