ASQUITH CABINET AGREED UPON NAVAL ISSUE

Solicitor-General Buckmaster Made Important Announcement That Supposed Clash is Mere Myth—Stand United on Policy of Maintaining Unassailable Supremacy on Seas.

LONDON, Friday, Jan. 7.—(C.A.P.)—Speaking at Kebley last night, Solicitor-General Rt. Hon. Stanley Buckmaster made a statement on the armaments question which, in view of recent utterances from Lloyd George and Churchill, will be regarded as of the highest importance. He assured his vast audience that there wasn't even a rift in the Liberal ranks on this issue. Their policy remained what it had always been, namely, in the first place, to preserve beyond risk the safety of ourselves and our dominions and to establish and maintain the unassailable superiority of the fleet.

"At the same time and with no less emphasis they meant to make it plain that neither for aggrandisement nor aggression would they add a single unit to our naval strength. Their object was to show that as we wished only to maintain our own rights, so we did not seek to menace the rights of others, but desired good will and friendship to all. It was their hope that this policy, plainly expressed and steadfastly pursued, would in the end exercise the nightmare of suspicion which the nations of Europe gasped for breathing. Nothing could more deeply shock the very soul of Liberalism than that their party should accede to the rate of increase in armaments or lend themselves to the promotion of a scare between themselves and their fellow-citizens of Europe."

Dineen's For Real Hat Values. There must be no excuse proffered for emphasizing the consistently great hat values offered at Dineen's, 140 Yonge street. As usual they are quite exceptional and varied and must appeal powerfully to most all men and young men in town. Austrian velour hats continue in strong demand at $5 to $7. The best American and English makers of stiff and soft hats are represented at Dineen's, and all are specially reduced to clear stocks. A visit will convince the most sceptical regarding Dineen hat values.

UNION PACIFIC MELON NOT WELL DISTRIBUTED

Preferred Stock Shareholders Want Share and Invoke Aid of Courts.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Action to restrain the directors of the Union Pacific Railroad Company from distributing its holdings of Baltimore and Ohio stock, par value, $32,000,000, to the road's common stockholders, was begun in the supreme court here today by a group of preferred stockholders headed by James T. McCadden. Summons and complaint in the case were served upon Otto H. Kahn of the Union Pacific's executive committee.

The plaintiffs submit that as holders of preferred stock they are entitled to an equal share of the Baltimore and Ohio preferred and common stock to be distributed.

The Union Pacific acquired about $42,500,000 of its $32,000,000 holdings of Baltimore and Ohio stock from the Pennsylvania Railroad last July in exchange for an equivalent amount of Southern Pacific stock which the Union Pacific had to part with under the supreme court decision, forcing the dissolution of the Union Pacific system. On Jan. 6 it was announced that the board of directors of the Union Pacific contemplated distributing among the holders of Union Pacific common stock the Baltimore and Ohio stock owned by it, including that traded for the company's holdings in the Southern Pacific. A cash bonus of $2 was to go with each share.

The action brought aims to restrain the board of directors of the Union Pacific from carrying out this plan.

REGINA FEELS ANXIOUS POLICE ARE VIGILANT

Streets May Run With Blood Tonight, Also They May Not.

REGINA, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Not knowing whether to expect murder, rapine and arson, or demonstrations with fiery talk and fiery banners, or merely a frost, Regina is on the anxious seat tonight in regard to the "unemployed" situation. The unemployed are not saying anything, so the authorities are preparing for any situation they may be called upon to face.

The entire police force will be on duty tomorrow night when the unemployed have threatened to start their deadly work. The mounted police are ready to turn out and assist if anything serious develops.

WHERE IS MRS. HALL?

Sergeant Mackie of the detective office would like to locate a Mrs. Hall, believed to live on West Dundas street. He has two communications from the Guthrie, Douglas & Co. Railroad Construction Co. of Colmont, B.C., stating that her son, A. R. Carey, died suddenly in the western town a few days ago.

C.P.R. CALLS HALT ON POLICY OF EXTENSIONS

Official Statement is That "Comprehensive Schemes" Decided Upon Last Year Will Be Carried Forward Before New Undertakings Will Be Launched.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Discussions involving expenditures in the west by the C. P. R. have been carried on in Montreal during the past few days between Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and George Bury, with the result that appropriations have been passed.

A statement issued tonight by the C. P. R. states:

"The position this year is somewhat different from that of former years; 1913 was a year when large and comprehensive schemes for extensions, betterments and double-tracking, the company's system were pushed. These schemes cannot be completed in a day or two, and must be carried to a certain point before further extensions are undertaken, so that the expenditures estimated for in the western appropriations of 1914 are almost entirely confined for the present to the completion of track laying, etc. on grades already built, or branch lines, extensions and double-tracking, the latter of which will eventually connect Winnipeg to Vancouver, and the building of the Rogers' Pass tunnel, which will be pushed with vigor.

Ready to Lay Rails.

"So far as grading is concerned, no less than 600 miles are now ready for the rails, and there is extensive terminal work at Winnipeg, Calgary and Vancouver, the completion of which has been provided for.

"The consideration of the new construction will come up again later in the year, when further data has been secured and there will be then another conference with the president."

Mr. Bury said that under the direction of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy C. P. R. expenditures had always been made in accordance with the actual exigencies of traffic and with the building up of western Canada, and it was owing to this comprehensive policy that the C. P. R. in 1913 was able to move such a large grain traffic so expeditiously, at a time when the great strain of moving the harvest came. The facilities provided in rolling stock were such that car requirements in other directions were able to be met promptly and other traffic moved currently as well as the grain.

MONTREAL WILL LOSE FOUR GIDDY CABARETS

Licenses Will Not Be Renewed—May Be Appeal to Courts.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Four of Montreal's giddy cabarets—the Arlington, the Regal, Parthenon and Arbour's—will after May 1 next be a thing of the past unless something drastic is done to overturn a ruling handed down by the license commissioners refusing to renew the certificates of the owners of these places.

In the case of Kastel's, the license commissioners adjourned adjudication until tomorrow afternoon in order to give counsel an opportunity to seek recourse before the superior court. In the case of L'Etrole d'Italie, the commissioners ordered an adjournment until next Tuesday as there had been some irregularity in the procedure in dealing with this particular case.

LACHINE CANAL WATER TO RELIEVE MONTREAL

Emergency Supply Will, It is Hoped, Prevent Future Trouble.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Following a lengthy conference between members of the committee which Dr. R. A. Pyne, reader, a New York expert, the board of control and several engineers, a statement was issued tonight by the controllers stating that Mr. Freeman had recommended an emergency supply of water from the Lachine Canal by means of a connection between the canal and the well of the pumping station.

"This, it is believed, will prevent a repetition of the water famine experienced by the city during the closing days of December.

ELOPED WITH BRAKEMAN, TOOK HUSBAND'S MONEY

Mrs. Sarah Hutton of Toronto Arrested on Station Platform at North Bay.

On a charge of theft of $10, laid by her husband, Mr. Sarah Hutton, 25 Chamberlain street, Toronto, was arrested at the North Bay station yesterday. According to John H. Hutton, the woman's husband, she eloped on Wednesday with a brakeman. He stated that she took their 3-year-old boy with her, and stole $10 of his money before she left. Detective Montgomery left for North Bay last night to bring her back for trial.

CHINESE LUNCH MAY BE PRISON

Walter Whittam Thinks His Sister Susannah is Detained in Restaurant on Church Street.

Walter Whittam, 170 George street, yesterday asked police assistance in searching for his sister Susannah. For several days, according to him, his sister told him she had a meal at this restaurant a few days ago, and the Chinese proprietor told her not to pay for it but to come back again. His brother warned her not to go back, but fears she may have gone and been detained.

The brother's theory is that she is at the present time in a Chinese restaurant on Church street. According to him, his sister told him she had a meal at this restaurant a few days ago, and the Chinese proprietor told her not to pay for it but to come back again. His brother warned her not to go back, but fears she may have gone and been detained.

EARNED ENMITY OF MEAT RING

Morris Brooker Opens Action Against Two Combine Butchers—Say They Assaulted Him.

Morris Brooker, the Jewish butcher who claimed before the county crown attorney that he had been beaten up for refusing to keep up the prices of his meats, in conjunction with the combine, made good his threat of prosecution yesterday, and had Morris Selkowitz and Leith Selkowitz arrested on an aggravated assault charge.

Brooker states that he lately started up three stores in the ward, and when approached by these men, refused to put the regulation prices of the combine on his goods. He claimed he could make a profit selling meat at 15c per pound. Continued threats of violence and ruin from the ring of butchers, he claims, did not make him change his mind, and on Tuesday evening, when invited to a conference at 220 Simcoe street, he was set upon and badly beaten.

Both the accused were allowed out on $500 bail.

RALLING POWER AGAIN SHOWN BY PREMIER

Revival of Hope Follows Change for Better After Day of Restlessness, But Official Bulletins Are Officially Non-Committal—Sir James Conscious Most of the Time.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—While the official announcement from the bedside of Sir James Whitney, the Ontario premier, at the Hotel Manhattan, is that his condition is unchanged, there is evident among his faithful attendants a feeling of optimism.

The evening bulletin, issued at 9 p.m. by Dr. R. A. Pyne, reads:

"Sir James has had a rather restless day; otherwise his condition is unchanged."

Within an hour after the issue of this announcement, Dr. Pyne stated that his patient was once more resting comfortably. The minister of education was down in the hotel round-up, spend an hour reading the newspapers and chat with friends, while Horace Wallis, the premier's secretary, had gone out for a stroll. The simultaneous absence of the two who watch over their chief so closely was, in itself, a sign that things looked brighter. Both, however, insisted that conditions in the sick room had not changed.

Not Alarming Symptom.

Dr. Pyne explained that the restlessness referred to in the bulletin had come late in the afternoon, and did not regard it as an alarming symptom, however, nor did it give rise to any ground to state that a decided improvement had taken place.

The doctor also said that the periods of delirium still manifested themselves since Monday Sir James had been conscious most of the time, and had made enquiries at times about details of matters left unfinished at his office when he left for the south. He was apparently satisfied with the assurance that everything had been attended to, and there was nothing requiring his attention.

In talking over the case, Dr. Pyne remarked that he had been well satisfied with the patience manifested by Sir James. For a man who has always been so active and impetuous in his movements, he has submitted with remarkable docility to the requirements of his physicians.

Restlessness Disappeared.

The fact that he has always lived quietly, and has been in good physical condition at all times, without any trace of organic trouble, counts strongly in his favor at the present juncture.

The restlessness referred to in the bulletin became manifest about four o'clock in the afternoon. The patient awoke in the evening, and on several times, instead of lying quietly for long periods, and in other ways manifested a feeling of an uneasy spirit. Early in the evening, however, he settled down again, and the prospects at a late hour were that he would have another good night's rest.

MOTOR SKIDDED MAN WAS KILLED

James Addison Crushed Under Car as He Was Stopping to Light Rear Lamp.

While stopping to light the rear lamp on his motor car, which was standing on the south side of Queen street, just west of Dowling avenue, at 9 o'clock last night, James Addison was struck by a motor car driven by Fred Harding of 171 Grenadier road, and his back was broken. He died a few minutes later, his body was removed to the morgue. Harding was taken into custody on a charge of manslaughter.

Addison's car was standing close to the kerb and he was about to light his rear lamp before taking a trip in the car. Harding was driving from the west close to the kerb, and on account of the darkness and the absence of a light on the rear of the other car, did not see it until his large car was almost upon it. He at once applied the brakes and tried to swing his car clear, but the wet pavement caused the rear wheels to skid. The car swung and struck Addison in the back.

Addison was 25 years old and lived at 451 West Adelaide street. Harding has been driving motor cars for several years and is a good driver.

An inquest into the accident will be opened at the morgue today.

FRESH EFFORT TO FREE "KING OF LOAN SHARKS"

Half Million Dollars to Save Tolman From Two Months in Jail.

ALBANY, N.Y., Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—A new proposition for the pardon of Daniel H. Tolman, the New York money lender who is serving a six months' term for usury, is now under consideration by Gov. Glynn. It amplifies the offer on behalf of Tolman and his assignees for an unconditional surrender of approximately $500,000 in notes from nearly 20,000 different borrowers in this state, principal and interest, in return for the remission of the remainder of his sentence, which covers a period of little more than two months.

The men who presented this proposal to the governor today in behalf of Tolman, his family, and some of the debtors, brought assurance that Judge Zeller, before whom the money lender was convicted, is in favor of the pardon, and that it will not be opposed by District Attorney Whitman.

It is said that the new proposal removes the possibility of any attempt being made in the future to realize on the notes.

DANCER'S APPEAL SAVED CHAUFFEUR FROM JAIL

Isadora Duncan, Whose Two Children Were Drowned, Showed Forgiving Spirit.

PARIS, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Moverand, the driver of the automobile which last April plunged from the roadway into the Seine, carrying with it the two children of Isadora Duncan, an American dancer, and her governess, all of whom were drowned, was today sentenced to six months' imprisonment and to pay a fine of $40.

Miss Duncan interceded in behalf of Moverand, not wishing the prosecution to continue. The sentence was suspended.

Goldsmith Arrested.

Goldsmith was described and Divisional Detective Holmes went to Parkdale and arrested him. He was lodged in No. 512 police station. As the station was crowded he was transferred to No. three.

In some manner Goldsmith got paired off with a man and on a temporary charge of vagrancy. The real sergeant and station duty man came on about midnight and took charge. As is customary the sergeant looked over the drunks and prepared to discharge those he thought would go home and get back to work. Goldsmith and the other man were taken with the drunks, and when the sergeant called out the names of two drunks who were recognized. Needless to say they lost no time in getting away.

When the books were checked up in the morning there were two drunks many and two real criminals too few.

WILL ADD FOUR MILES TO INTERCOLONIAL LINE

Will Shorten Approach to North Sydney, N.S.—Contract Awarded.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—The government has awarded to the Union Construction Co. of North Sydney a $67,571 contract for the building of a little over four miles of railway, which will mean a considerable shortening of the I.C.R. line running in North Sydney.

RAILWAY STRIKE SEEMS FAILURE

Movement Likely to Be Confined to Transvaal and Orange Free State.

CAPE TOWN, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Present indications are that the railway strike in the Union of South Africa will be a failure. Probing the experiences of the strike last July, the government seems to have the situation well in hand, and its loyalty of the Cape railwaymen appears likely to be the calculations of the strike leaders. If this loyalty can be depended upon the strike will be confined to the Transvaal and the Orange Free State, and it is said will be eventually broken down by the transference of loyal Cape men to the interior to carry on the railway service.

Thus far the strike is mainly confined to the railway workshops, and even there it is only partial. In the Transvaal the service has not been seriously affected.

Several mass meetings of the men have been called for Saturday and Sunday when a course of action will be decided upon.

According to the strike leaders it is too early yet to predict success or failure.

YOUTHFUL CRIMINALS ARRESTED AT WELLAND

Four Lads Confess to Series of Petty Thefts—Half a Dozen Houses Entered.

WELLAND, Jan. 8.—Four local boys, all under fourteen years of age, were taken into custody this afternoon by the police. The youths confessed to being responsible for a series of petty thefts ranging over a period of two months. In their loot, half a dozen houses and as many business places were entered.

FARMER LOSES EYE.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—Jacob Bryan, a resident of the rural district near Brockville, sustained a serious injury to his eye while cutting down a tree on the farm. The sight was completely destroyed, and the removal of the optic followed.

CROOKS ESCAPED BY POSING AS "DRUNKS"

Lined Up by Police Officer, They Pleaded Guilty to Charge of Being Intoxicated and Their Getaway Was Not Discovered Until the Following Morning.

Held on charges of theft and fraud, John Goldsmith, dealing as a vagrant but wanted for a more serious crime, made a clever escape from the Clarendon street police station, and although a vigilant search has been made for him he has so far evaded the officers. By posing as common drunks he and another man tricked the relief sergeant, he discharged them after they had pleaded guilty to being intoxicated, and it was not until several hours later that the mistake was discovered.

It is alleged that Goldsmith went to the home of a woman in number three division to do some plumbing work. She announced her intention of going out to see some friends. It is said that while she was away Goldsmith sold the silverware. He then went to a furniture dealer named Marshall in Parkdale and offered him the contents of the house. A bargain was struck and Marshall paid a sum of money on deposit. He was to return for the furniture the following day. When he reached the house of course the woman was surprised and refused to give up the furniture. She then called in the detective.

Goldsmith was described and Divisional Detective Holmes went to Parkdale and arrested him. He was lodged in No. 512 police station. As the station was crowded he was transferred to No. three.

In some manner Goldsmith got paired off with a man and on a temporary charge of vagrancy. The real sergeant and station duty man came on about midnight and took charge. As is customary the sergeant looked over the drunks and prepared to discharge those he thought would go home and get back to work. Goldsmith and the other man were taken with the drunks, and when the sergeant called out the names of two drunks who were recognized. Needless to say they lost no time in getting away.

When the books were checked up in the morning there were two drunks many and two real criminals too few.

SENATE'S COURSE HELPING GORDEN

Rejection of Redistribution Measure Will Be Party Boomerang, Belief in Government Circles.

(Special to The Toronto World). OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—It is freely stated in Ottawa today that the senate will kill the government's redistribution bill this session, whatever the bill may be. Redistribution will be one of the chief items of business the government will introduce.

So far as the government is concerned this does not seem to give any worry. The belief is that every measure the senate throws out will be introduced again during the session of parliament before the election, and with this the government will go to the country.

It is the opinion of many on the government side of the house that if the senate throws out the redistribution bill, and they are forced to go to the country without redistribution, the situation will help rather than hurt the government.

Hope to Swop West.

Western members especially hold the view that if the senate takes this action the Conservatives will make a pretty clean sweep of the west.

While of course the general election will be two sessions of parliament before that it is evident already that the government will go to the country with this platform defeat by the Liberal majority in the senate; the Liberal bill, the good roads bill, redistribution and other smaller issues.

Coupled with this will be the request for a mandate from the people to reform the upper house.

NEW COMMITTEES WERE APPOINTED

Board of Education Held First Meeting of the Year.

McTAGGART CHAIRMAN

His Appointment Was Unanimous Except for Trustee Ellis.

The inaugural meeting of the board of education for 1914 was held last evening in the council chamber at the city hall, when W. O. McTaggart was elected chairman to replace W. W. Hiltz, who retired from the board to enter the city council. The appointment of Mr. McTaggart as chairman was practically unanimous, all the trustees with the exception of J. A. Ellis, who declined to vote, casting their ballots in his favor.

The chairman appointed a striking committee, consisting of seven of last year's members and one appointed member, who chose the various committees for the ensuing year, which are as follows:

Management Committee.

Dr. A. McKay (chairman), Dr. Steele, W. H. Shaw, William Houston, R. D. Fairbairn, F. J. Conboy, Dr. R. H. Hopkins and W. J. Boland.

Property Committee.

J. W. Jackson (chairman), Dr. J.

Noble, C. A. B. Brown, Miles (Vokes), Dr. A. McKay, W. W. Hodgson, J. A. Ellis and William Dineen.

Finance Committee.

W. H. Shaw, C. A. B. Brown, Dr. A. McKay and J. W. Jackson.

Advisory Industrial Board.

J. R. Clark, 3 years; H. H. Mason, 2 years; G. Bridgdon, 1 year; J. Richards, 3 years; R. J. Stevenson, 2 years; Fred Bancroft, 1 year; Miles Vokes, J. A. Ellis, R. R. D. Fairbairn, Dr. J. Noble, W. O. McTaggart.

Advisory Commercial Board.

W. J. Boland, W. W. Hodgson, Wm. Houston, Dr. R. H. Hopkins, C. E. Marriott, T. H. Bradshaw, T. D. Bailey and Charles E. Stone.

In addressing the members of the board after he had been selected as chairman, W. O. McTaggart spoke of the good work done last year by W. W. Hiltz, and stated that the past chairman had set up a high standard which he would make an effort to follow. The new chairman promised not to be partial to any member of subject brought up during the year.

The forming of the committees caused some dissatisfaction among two or three of the board. Dr. Noble last year served on the finance committee, but retired. He wished to serve on the committee this year, but was appointed to two other committees instead. He raised an objection, but the members on the striking committee claimed that the committee had been elected by a vote, and that Miles Vokes had beaten Dr. Noble out by one ballot.

DUNCAN NOW I. T. U. HEAD.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—James M. Lynch, state labor commissioner of New York, today formally retired as president of the International Typographical Union and was succeeded by James M. Duncan of New York City, who has been first vice-president of the organization. The transfer of the office was completed at the union headquarters here.

GREECE IS EAGER FOR GOOD WILL OF ITALY

Premier Venizelos Seeks to Remove Friction by Pacific Utterances.

ROME, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—Eleutherios Venizelos, the Greek premier, who is on a tour of the European capitals, arrived here today. He said that his object in coming to Rome was to improve the relations between Italy and Greece and re-establish a close friendship between the two countries. He desired to have Italians and the Italian Government realize that the claims of Greece were based on sacred rights, which had their foundation in that principle of nationality that had led to Italian unity and greatness. He hoped to demonstrate that the interests of Greece coincide with those of Italy. Premier Venizelos will be received by King Victor Emmanuel on Saturday, dining with the sovereign. He will leave Rome that evening for Paris, where he expects to remain for several days in connection with the proposed loan.

LEEDS MAY GET WARDENSHIP.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—With the municipal elections over the personnel of this year's council to represent the united council of Leeds and Grenville is available. The representatives elected shows that many new faces will be seen at the board. The majority of the old members have been returned and among these the choice for warden goes to Leeds County, with Hugh Stinson, reeve of Kitley, as the most likely candidate.

OTTAWA TO HAVE PEACE MEMORIAL

Parkman and Champlain Not to Be Forgotten by Coming Generations.

OTTAWA, Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—At a meeting of the executive of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association this afternoon it was announced that part of the celebration will be the erection of a Parkman and Champlain memorial in Ottawa. This memorial will be the gift of the general committee of the American Peace Centenary Association and will be quite apart from any memorials to be erected by the various governments.

This announcement was made in a telegram from John A. Stewart, chairman of the executive sub-committee of the American committee.

"Our committee," telegraphed Mr. Stewart, "have favorably acted on a motion to present the people of Canada with a Parkman and Champlain memorial, to be erected in Ottawa. An eminent sculptor will undertake to have the memorial completed by next spring."

The meeting of the executive was held in the railway committee room of the senate and was presided over by Sir Edmund Walker, president. Others present were Sir Alexander LaCoste, Hon. G. H. Perley, Sir Joseph Pope, Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Lewis C. A. Magrath, C. F. Hamilton and E. H. Scammell, organizing secretary.

Action was taken in regard to a number of suggestions concerning the celebration. A resolution was passed suggesting that the final gathering of the celebration should take place at Niagara Falls.

The question of the erection of bridges and other joint memorials was referred to the Canadian members of the joint international committee for report. A suggestion for the establishment of the final gathering of the celebration was received and was endorsed by resolution.

A number of new members were added to the general committee of the Canadian Peace Centenary Association. This provides for fuller representation of all phases of Canadian life.

Executive Increased.—The executive committee was increased by the addition of the secretary of the National Council of Women, Mrs. F. H. Torrington of Toronto; G. A. Clare, W. C. Welch, Arthur Devigny, William M. German and Lt.-Col. Farquhar, military secretary to the Duke of Connaught, who succeeds Lt.-Col. Lowther.

Captain, Wife and Two Daughters Are Among the Rescued.

ASTORIA, Ore., Jan. 8.—(Can. Press.)—The German bark Ellbeck arrived early today from Santa Rosalia, Mexico, in ballast. She brought Captain W. Martens, his wife and two young daughters and sixteen officers and men of the British bark Battle-Abbey, burned at sea Dec. 28 last. The party abandoned the vessel after her coal cargo had been burned for more than a week. After three days in a lifeboat the castaways were picked up by the Ellbeck.

The Battle-Abbey was owned by Hing, Ross & Co. of San Francisco, and was registered under the British flag. She was of 1468 tons burden, built of steel, and launched in 1876. The ship's papers and instruments were saved.

She was out of Newcastle, N.S.W., Oct. 18, bound for Vancouver, B.C.

WHAT DYSPEPTICS SHOULD EAT

A PHYSICIAN'S ADVICE.

"Indigestion and practically all forms of stomach trouble are, nine times out of ten, due to acidity; therefore, stomach sufferers should, whenever possible, avoid eating food that is acid in its nature, or which by chemical action in the stomach develops acidity. Unfortunately, such a rule eliminates most foods which are pleasant to the taste, as well as those which are rich in blood, flesh and nerve building properties. This is the reason why dyspeptics and stomach sufferers are usually so thin, emaciated and lacking in that vital energy which can only come from a well fed body. For the benefit of those sufferers who have been obliged to exclude from their diet all starchy, sweet or fatty food, and are trying to keep up a miserable existence on gluten products, I would suggest that you should try a meal of any food or foods which you may like, in moderate amount, taking immediately afterwards a teaspoonful of bisulphate of magnesia in a little hot or cold water. This will neutralize any acid which may be present, or which may be formed, and instead of the usual feeling of uneasiness and flatulency, you will find that your food agrees with you perfectly. Bisulphate of magnesia is doubtless the best food corrective and antacid known. It has no direct action on the stomach; but by neutralizing the acids in the food contents, and thus removing the source of the acid irritation which inflames the delicate stomach lining, it takes more than could possibly be done by any drug or medicine. As a physician, I believe in the use of medicine whenever necessary, but I must admit that I cannot see the sense of doing an inflamed and irritated stomach with drugs instead of getting rid of the acid—the cause of all the trouble. Get a little bisulphate of magnesia from your drug-store, eat what you want at your next meal, take some of the bisulphate of magnesia as directed above, and see if I'm not right."

Imported Models in Fashionable Designs and Fabrics Marked Down to Half Their Original Prices

TO BEGIN WITH the fancy wraps for afternoon and evening wear: The collection comprises smart kimono-sleeved models in mole plush, crush velvet, heavy silks, and fine face cloths, most of them gracefully draped, with collar and cuffs of velvet, plush or silk. All are beautifully lined with silk or satin. Among the number are a model in tango broadcloth from Paul Poiret, and another in old gold color metalase from Bernard. Prices, reduced to half and less, range from $12.50 to $37.50.

The second group consists of all black coats—American and European models in corded silk, ratine, wool and silk ratine, Ottoman cord, moire, and Austrian broadcloth, suitable for mourning or general wear. A few of them are lined with purple and amethyst silk, the others with black silk or satin, while all are smartly trimmed with braid, silk cord or velvet ornaments. Every coat in the collection will be reduced for Saturday to half the present prices—the amounts ranging from $12.50 to $22.50.

Coats for Misses and Juniors Featured in the Great Offering at Prices That Scarcely Cover the Cost of Material or Making

Up-to-Date Designs in a Magnificent Range of Fabrics and Colors---Five Leading Lines at $4.75, $6.50, $7.50, $8.50 and $10

THE SEASON'S SMARTEST STYLES and materials are represented in these five groups of coats being featured at amazingly low prices in the Misses' Department. Thus:—

At $4.75, a collection of full-length and three-quarter coats in sizes for misses and juniors. Some are in diagonal curl cloth in two-tone effect—black with understripe of red, blue or brown—made in popular peg-top style with rounded fronts and straight backs. Others in cut velours in navy blue, green, and brown have broad belt over the hips. Sold in the regular way at double this price.

At $6.50, a wide selection of designs and materials, including these: Kimono sleeve model in flake tweeds in greenish and brownish tones, the shoulder and yoke seams bound with cord. Another kimono shoulder model in brown chinchilla cloth, with velvet collar and pipings—a beautiful little coat. A Raglan-sleeve model in taupe boucle, with taupe velvet collar—very trim and smart. And, also, a coat in cut chinchilla cloth in two-tone effect in green, and in golden brown—with velvet collar. All of which coats would be regularly priced at more than twice this amount.

At $7.50, a group of coats in which will be found a number in fancy duvetyne in mauve and in green, the yoke and drop

The Celebrated Zambrene and Burberry Coats at Greatly Reduced Prices

The "Zambrene," one of the world-famous English ulsters, featured in the smartest of slip-over styles, with raglan or set-in sleeve and the regulation bell-shaped back, will be found in herringbone and flaky tweeds, principally in black and white and grey and white combinations. The models have been divided into three lots, priced for Saturday at $11.50, $13.50 and $15.00—in each case many dollars below the present price.

A number of the real "Islay" homespun coats in tobacco browns will be reduced in price to $17.50 each.

And last but not least in the offering, the few remaining Burberry coats in stock—raglan and set-in sleeve models in Harris tweed, homespun and fleece coatings. These will be reduced to $25.00 each.

MRS. SHARPE SAYS WRIGHT WAS CZAR

Starved Her, She Claims, and Took Nearly All the Money.

BOUGHT AN ANNUITY

Solicitor Advised Against It, But "Theo" Forced the Purchase.

Mrs. Harriet Sharpe, the aged woman who claims to have been victimized by "Dr." Francis C. Wright, "The God in the Flesh," yesterday filed an affidavit in the high court in connection with the civil action she is bringing against Wright. Mrs. Sharpe disappeared from her home, 790 Euclid avenue, a short time ago under such mysterious circumstances that the police arrested Wright, Alex Macgregor is acting for Mrs. Sharpe.

In her affidavit, Mrs. Sharpe claims that she first met Wright thru a Mr. and Mrs. McKay, who rented a house from her on Euclid avenue. Mrs. and Mr. McKay showed letters to Mrs. Sharpe from a man in Dartmouth, England, who described himself as a martyr to his religious convictions. They knew that his prison term was to be short, and invited him to visit them when paroled in July 1913. It was feared, however, that the man's wife, Madame Des de Bar, described by the Pinkertons as one of the greatest criminals in Europe, would accompany him. Mrs. Sharpe had to pay for the "martyr's" passage to the McKay's left for California before his arrival. He arrived in September. About six weeks later a cheque for $60 came from the McKays to pay the costs of the trip, but Wright took the money.

Bought an Annuity.

Mrs. Sharpe further says that Wright forced her to go into an annuity scheme of about $700 per year. Mr. Macgregor at the time advised Mrs. Sharpe against such a proceeding, as she was 70 years of age. Wright took offence at the lawyer's attitude and forbade the lady to go to him again. The annuity was, however, purchased, and afterwards Wright secured one for himself, squeezing all the money out of Mrs. Sharpe, according to her own words. Mr. Bostedo afterwards refused to grant the request of the martyr that his annuity should be paid out of the payments under Mrs. Sharpe's annuity.

Mrs. Sharpe claims that Wright got her into new trouble over the sale of houses. He made her sign a deed for the sale of two houses, giving her to understand that he would pay her $4000 for the property, despite the fact that she had already received an offer of $5000 for the houses.

The money was never paid, and when she asked Wright for it, the latter laughed and said, "Take it as your own lookout. I have nothing to do with it."

Mrs. Sharpe claims that later the "martyr" insisted that she see a lawyer and give evidence that he had paid her the money for the property. She refused. He thereupon alleged to have called her a foul name.

Almost Starved.

Mrs. Sharpe states that Wright seemed to exercise a power over her which she could not overcome and that he often massaged her. She asserts that the operation seemed to weaken her mind and cause her. He treated her that way every night and confined her to a fruit and nut diet, and did not allow her to even take a piece of bread or cup of tea. The woman declares that he almost starved her. She claims that this starving process only increased the oppressed feeling brought about by the massaging.

Wright is alleged to have defrauded her of half interest on $3000, the amount received for the sale of a house. When she objected the martyr replied that he was keeping within the law.

Finally when she became unable to tolerate these conditions longer, Mrs. Sharpe appealed to a neighbor, Mr. Wehr. He took her to Mr. Macgregor, who is now working on her behalf.

"He got me so worked up under his influence that I became just like a whipped dog around my own house and could not call my soul my own," the woman declared. She adds that the man refused her any money and once declined to secure a plaster for her back.

LONDON HAS A CLUB FOR DEAF AND DUMB

Nearly Two Hundred Members Enrolled of Whom One-third Are of Fair Sex.

One of the most unique clubs in the world is the National Deaf Club of London. Nearly 200 members are enrolled, and they can dine and wine and play cards and billiards at the clubhouse whenever they desire. Women are admitted, and it is said that at the present time they form about a third of the membership.

There are no talkative waiters employed by this club, says the Chicago Tribune. There are no electric bells, no large signs, no notices to observe silence in any part of the building. There are no signs of deafness or dumbness. There are no criticisms of the table, the balls or the cue. Everything is peaceful and quiet.

There are some remarkable men belonging to the National Deaf Club. One, for example, is head of an important firm in Sydney and has under his control hundreds of men of all nations.

Another member has travelled over the world a record number of times, always accompanied, and, though he has been in many uncharted lands, has always been able to look after himself. Then there are various professions. One actually teaches music; another is a nurse. There is an annual banquet for deaf and dumb persons, which is usually presided over by some eminent mute.

DRUNK, HIT WOMAN WITH IRON PIPING

Sophia Vook Badly Gashed in Free-for-All at Polish Feast.

AUSTRIANS FOUGHT

A. Shipka Slashed With Razor—Hebrew Butchers Summoned in Ward Seven.

The foreign element in Ward Seven gave the police a busy time of it last night at their annual "Twelfth Night" celebrations, and numerous arrests followed the usual wind-up of such festivities. In the northern part of the ward where the Russians and Poles are quartered, the merry-making waxed mad and furious until the love feast became a free-for-all fight.

Many injuries resulted, most serious of which was that of Sophia Vook, 915 Erie avenue, who received a severe blow on the head from an iron gas pipe wielded by one of the combatants. She was knocked unconscious, and when Dr. J. J. Thompson on Duane street was summoned he found an ugly gash across her head and many smaller cuts which required several stitches. Her assailant, who gave his name as William Dugar, was arrested by Officer 321 in a drunken condition and will appear today in court.

Meanwhile in the Austrian settlement on Maria street another Latin Christian celebration was rapidly nearing a similar climax at 151 Maria street, and large quantities of the raw liquor had been consumed and the fracas was growing serious when Officer 359 arrived on the scene in time to arrest Andrew Vendek, who had just slashed Alexander Shipka across the face with a sharp weapon, which appeared to be a razor.

Both were taken to the Kettle street station, where Dr. Thompson dressed some severe cuts about the man's head. In addition to this Shipka's left eye was

VALUABLE OF THE PRACTICAL IN TAKING OF EXERCISE

Inventor Combines Bicycle With Storage Battery to Conserve Current for Illuminant.

There is no doubt but that exercise is a good thing for those who do not get it, but to many the daily use of dumb-bells, weights and similar apparatus grows irksome, the reason being lack of stimulation owing to the fact that the person taking the exercise sees nothing accomplished as the result of the work and time spent. Gladstone and Roosevelt preferred to work at the woodpile, and here there was the constantly maintained interest after each period of action. The same has been accomplished in a real up-to-the-moment manner by a French inventor who has taken an exercising machine which is rather familiar in the shape of a bicycle on a permanent stand and he has combined this with a storage battery. When the various members of the family are taking their daily exercise on this machine they are storing up current to be used in the form of illuminant after nightfall.

CURIOS BASKET BOATS SEEN ON RIVER TIGRIS

One of the curious sights along the river front at Bagdad is the string of bowl shaped basket boats, which are used on the Tigris when it rises in its annual flood.

The rising of the water necessitates the withdrawal of the pontoon bridge to the sides of the river, explains Popular Mechanics, and all persons who must travel between the two parts of the city must be carried back and forth in these basket boats, which are called goafas. They are woven of reeds, and the outside coated with bitumen.

As many as ten persons may ride in each goafa, which is propelled by large, spoon shaped paddles. Travel down-stream is swift and pleasant, but up-stream travel requires towing from the bank, a rope of twisted date fiber being used.

Such boats were used in transporting Turkish troops to the front in the Balkan war.

NOVEL METHOD OF INDIRECT LIGHTING

London Theatre Shows How Impression of "Flatness" Can Be Removed.

A decidedly novel method of lighting a London moving picture theatre is interesting, as showing how the indirect method, as lighting can be introduced without giving rise to the impression of "flatness" of which some people complain.

The greater part of the light, according to The Electrical World, is derived from the illuminated dome. This dome has a blue and gold style of decoration, so that it gives, in a sense, the effect of an "artificial sky." It is lit by twelve concealed electric lamps.

Round the dome is a ring of forty-eight lamps above diffusing glass disks. The remainder of the lighting is provided by concealed lamps, which also serve to illuminate the decorative painted panels in the background.

Patent has been taken to the idea of having a lamp in a room that when the room is lighted without any apparent source there is feeling that the installation is somehow incomplete. The use of a dome seems to avoid this impression. The brightly illuminated dome surface is involuntarily accepted by persons entering the interior as being separate from the ceiling, and itself constituting a source of light. The feeling of flatness is also skillfully removed by the use of the concealed lighting over the panels.

GRUMBLERS AND GROWLERS

The weekly Thursday evening entertainments last night at Central Y.M.C.A. took the form of a humorous lecture by Wm. Douglas, K.C., entitled, "Grumblers and Growlers." A large audience enjoyed to the full Mr. Douglas' talk, which contained much sound advice and wholesome suggestions, and was interspersed with many witty stories told in a truly clever fashion. These Thursday entertainments are becoming quite a feature at Central Y., and open as they are to all men, are every week attracting large numbers.

SAYS PARCEL POST HELPS HOUSEWIVES

Helen Ring Robinson Tells Toronto Women to Ask More Privileges.

NARROW BACK YARDS

Make Real Homes Sometimes When Holly Hocks Grow There, She Says.

Senator Helen Ring Robinson was the guest of the Housewives' League Committee of the Household Economic Association of the home Mrs. Clair Wade, Woodlawn, avenue, yesterday. "We want to preserve the homes," she said. "I mean the narrow little houses with backyards and backyards in the yards. We must help women with narrow means to keep up homes that are worth while."

Asked regarding the markets in Denver the visitor replied: "We have recently had several city markets established under the full control of the department of social welfare. Denver, as many other American cities, is governed on a basis of commission. There are women on the market, commission and on most of the other boards."

Mrs. Robinson was then asked as to the working of the parcel post system, and answered: "In Colorado we are getting more and more to cut out thru the agency of the parcel post the middleman. Don't grumble at your allowance of eleven pounds, she continued. "Just wait a year and then ask for twenty pounds, as we did."

LIVED UP TO IDEALS

Women's Art Association Has Never Wavered and Never Had Deficit.

The annual luncheon of the members of the Women's Art Association and their friends took place in the galleries of the society yesterday. Over two hundred were present. Mrs. Dignam in a short address outlined the course of the organization in the twenty-seven years of its existence, when despite criticism they had never wavered from the high ideals they had set themselves.

A short sketch prepared by Miss F. Deeks was read by Mrs. J. Home Cameron, first vice-president. Miss Lindsey, the treasurer, gave an encouraging report of the financial standing, and said that a deficit had never been presented on any report of the association. Encouragement to membership was offered to all interested.

ANCIENT AZTECS HAD THEIR GAME OF BALL

Agility One of Prime Requisites of Big Leaguer—Emoluments Often of Great Value.

One of the most popular games among the ancient Aztecs was called "totolague," and it was played with a ball on a court known as a tlaccho. The players were clothed only in a waxtlatl or girde around the loins. There were pitchers but no catchers, and the fielders were few. When pitched the ball was struck by an upward movement of the thigh or elbow, according to how it was aimed, whether high or low. After being struck the sphere, in order to count, had to pass thru a hole in one of several stone disks hanging just in front of the wall of the court. The feat of bunting that ball with the thigh and sending it thru one of these holes required a great deal of skill as might be imagined.

Agility was one of the prime requisites of an Aztec big leaguer. Any player touching the ball with the hand lost a point. The emoluments of the game were quite interesting. Things of great value were usually given to the winners, and not only the prize. The victors were often presented with jewels, the cotton suits, feather work or plumes of great value.

THE WOES OF MRS. NEWLYWED

"Look at these hands," demanded Mrs. Newlywed as she held them out to Mrs. Neighbor. "How did you get them so stained?" asked the latter. "Oh, from peeling vegetables," "But I know a way to take them out, then," smiled the more experienced woman. "A piece of lemon peeling rubbed on your hands just before you wash them will make them as white and pretty as before."

LETTERS RELATE STORY OF BATTLE

Valuable Old Documents Read Before the Women's Historical Society.

The chief feature at the meeting of the Women's Historical Society yesterday afternoon was an address by Alexander Fraser, provincial archivist, and his reading of two valuable old letters. The documents were written by Col. Fitzgibbon and related to the war of 1812-14. One sketched the battle of Stony Creek, and the other the life of Major Plenderleath of the Royal Navy, Exeter, England, who was situated in Canada at the time of the war, and to whose action the success of the Canadian arms at Stony Creek is attributed by his biographer.

Col. Fitzgibbon's letter relates that owing to lack of judgment the Canadian troops rushed to the charge with noise and hubbub, when prudence should have taught them otherwise. The battle was fought in the darkness of the early morning hours, and the order was given that only the bayonet should be used. This precaution was rendered futile by the indiscretion of the officers and men, who advanced with noise and shouting. Col. Fitzgibbon was so enraged that he declares: "I could have killed some of them," and he evidently thought the situation very serious, and gives it as his opinion that it was the action of Major Plenderleath and his party which saved the day.

A Sergeant Fraser, 19 years of age, is also mentioned for what was looked upon as prowess, as having stabbed seven Americans, and his brother, a boy of 17, who stabbed four of the enemy. Mr. Fraser commended "genealogy" to the women of the society as a branch that would be congenial, and in which they would effect more valuable things even than men. The study and account of the social life of a hundred years ago was another suggestion.

The financial statement showed about $5000 towards the memorial fund. It is proposed to approach other women's societies with a view to the erection of a women's building.

HANDS AND FEET FROZEN.

BROCKVILLE, Jan. 8.—(Special.)—John Smith, a patriarchal resident of Prescott, was brought to the Brockville General Hospital suffering from frozen hands and feet, but it is not thought that amputation will be necessary.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING BY HENRIETTA D. GRAUEL DOMESTIC SCIENCE LECTURER

Tea-Cosies REVIEW of some old household magazines shows that about a generation ago there was much learned discussion concerning the best material from which to make tea urns, tea pots and coffee boilers. Some writers contended that tea would not draw in a glazed china pot; others condemned all metal, claiming that a taste of tin was imparted to both tea and coffee made in such ware.

The discussion seemed to end when Godey's Lady's Book declared in their household department, in the late fifties, that the nature of the material from which the utensils were made could have no action on the tea itself. The main point that should be considered, they thought, was that the heat of the tea should be retained until it was poured out for serving. To further this idea "tea-cosies" were invented, and it is a pity that they were never discarded for they did serve to keep both hot and aromatic. Some of the cosies were made from black velvet, heavily padded and fearfully and wonderfully embroidered. Others were only flannel caps that fitted snugly over the tea pot. These caps or cosies were put on the pot of hot tea as soon as it was made and left there until the beverage had drawn a sufficient length of time to insure adequate strength.

We know, now, that the material which is the best conductor of heat is the poorest for containing anything that should remain hot. All substances when heated throw off invisible rays of heat, but the smoothness or roughness of the surface aids or retards the conducting power. So that polished steel, silver or aluminum, the good conductors, are not good radiators and, therefore, they do retain heat.

We have found, however, that all acid affects tin and an analysis of tea made in a tin vessel shows a strong trace of tin content which is an active, injurious poison.

Tea testers, who must secure the pure, natural flavor of the article examined, use china cups for their brewing, but real tea lovers who have given thought to the best materials for brewing in, universally declare themselves in favor of a heavy, unglazed earthen ware pot. Some of these are covered with a silver finish and many are inlaid with India and Japanese designs; all are attractive and most satisfactory.

The newest tea pots are of burnished copper or hand-beaten silver, but if you will peep inside you will find an unglazed clay interior. It seems to me that some clever woman might put her inventive power to work and construct an asbestos cloth, or asbestos lined hood, similar to the old style cosy that would fill a need as that did.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D.

HUNTING FOR NESTS OF VERMIN.

Yesterday we spoke of the brown-tailed moth, its life history, its powers of working infinite harm, and its typical nest. Today it is just as well to sound the warning a trifle louder. After all, most warnings will bear some repetition.

Now that the trees show their limbs and branches bare of leaves, the ordinary person will have little difficulty in spying the various cocoons fastened either to the bark of the tree or swinging at the ends of small twigs.

It is the plain duty of every citizen, whether he owns trees or whether he does not, to keep his eyes peeled for the powers that be in the never-ending war against the vast army of voracious insects, that yearly infest our shrubs and trees, in the parks, along the boulevards, in vacant lots, and, indeed, wherever a hiding place presents itself, suitable for the concealment of their eggs and young.

Our citizens are too familiar with the dreadful results of the invasion of the Tussock moth, a pest that has cost our own city thousands of dollars, to say nothing of the total destruction of splendid trees—trees that took many long years to bring them to a week, or two months, or a year. And here in crowded cities every tree needs constant help.

There is no man, woman or child who is not under the influence of this pest, most people do not know, because they do not understand. But remember every single little bit helps. One single cocoon destroyed now (and every time you see another one) means also the destruction of untold numbers of tiny eggs, ready to wiggle into life at the first fairly warm touch of the sun. Every egg means a caterpillar, and every caterpillar means thousands more eggs in the fullness of time. If every boy destroys one cocoon he can remember that he has probably saved the life of a splendid tree, perhaps forty, fifty or a hundred years old.

SPECIAL SERVICE AT ST. JAMES' SQUARE.

Next Sunday evening at St. James' Square Presbyterian Church, there will be a special lecture and musical service. The Rev. Andrew Robertson, D. D., minister of the church, will deliver a lecture entitled "The Romance of the Samaritan Bible." There will be appropriate selections by the choir and quartet and solos will be sung by Dr. Ernest Caldwell and by Mrs. W. D. Barron, an eminent soprano of New York City. At the close of the service Dr. Davies will give a recital on the fine electric organ (71 stops and couplers).

A DAILY STORY FOR CHILDREN

THE COASTING PARTY

By Virginia Vale.

Once upon a time there was a big snowstorm. It covered the ground and houses and made everything look white and pretty. All the boys and girls were glad for they wanted to use their sleds and big double runners. One morning they started for a big hill where they were all as happy as could be. What fun they had. They didn't care if their sleds did tip them over once in a while, they picked themselves up and went on.

The boys were very nice to the little girls and would often draw them up the hill and give them a good push to start them down the hill again. As last they thought they ought to have a race. That would be lots of fun, they all said. They decided on two double runners about the same size. Then they had to decide who should steer and who should be the one to give the push that would send it flying down the hill. After this was decided they must choose who should ride, for you know for a double runner to go fast it must have lots of passengers.

The double runners were both side by side, not one inch ahead of the other. One, two, three! off they go whizzing thru the air faster and faster down the steep hill.

Oh, wasn't it fun? When they reached the bottom there they were both so near together that the children said they really couldn't tell which was the best one, and to be sure they would have to try it again sometime.

EMMA ABBOTT

And Her Songs.

The winsome and witching personality of Emma Abbott will always be associated with Balfe's "Bohemian Girl," although she made a great triumph in "La Traviata," and Meyerbeer's "Faust" in London and Paris. Emma Abbott was born in Chicago in 1849, and her early death in Salt Lake City from pneumonia in 1891 deprived America of one of her most gifted prima donnas. It was her delight to sing selections from "The Bohemian Girl," "The Heart Bowed Down" and "Then You'll Remember Me."

These songs are contained in "Heart Songs"—a collection of 400 of the world's favorite songs. This paper endorses this book and is now distributing it. Read the coupon elsewhere in today's issue.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA INTERPRETED STRAUSS

"Death and Transfiguration" Called Forth Utmost Skill of the Organization.

No more successful concert from a musical point of view has been given by the Toronto Symphony Orchestra than last night's in Massey Hall. The audience was eagerly up to the usual standard, and it was an excellent one when the many intricacies of the work were conducted, and it was most cordial and appreciative. With good reason, for the program, though entirely confined to the orchestra itself, contained two absolute novelties, and three fine Wagner items, so that Mr. Weisman is thoroughly up to date in his selections.

The first novelty was Richard Strauss' symphonic poem, "Death and Transfiguration," which is perhaps without the exception his "Sinfonia Domestica," but is replete with picturesque and striking musical expression and profound musical thought. The poem is said to depict the dying hours of a human figure in a world of pain. There are four sections in the first of which he sinks to sleep and dreams. In the second he remembers of childhood and later life returns, and he strives towards a goal, but learns that what he seeks cannot be attained. In the fourth heavenly voices reveal in death all that he desires. This is not logical or optimistic perhaps, nor best answer to the idea that life has no revelation worth anything but the opening bars, in softest suggestion, disclose the sick room, and the desolation and yearning of the soul, and the music follows. Then with a dramatic drumbeat, the struggle against death begins, agonizing, despair, and the golden memories of life. Then come the golden memories, and the poem fades away into gloom once more.

The second novelty was the interpretation of the score and the selection of the orchestra were both very successful. The music is more readily grasped than the scenic or historic impression of a country. At all events the delicacy of strings and reeds and the developing richness of the brass section were notable.

Sir Edward Elgar's overture, "The South" was the other novelty. The joyful spirit of Elgar's compositions is fully in evidence in this overture. The music is full of variety and conception. Some of his devices are of unorthodox and his massive descending chords climbing down huge precipices of orchestration may mean the fall of Rome in the degenerate progression of the centuries, but they are vigorous and astonishing and they have graphic intensity. Quicker themes abound and a beautiful passage on the viola, played in exquisite style by Converse Smith, represented the pastoral spirit of shepherd Italy. The achievement of the orchestra was most notable, and the body of tone was not fully appreciated in the finale, perhaps, but the roundness and smoothness of the "Tannhauser" overture showed that the familiarity may achieve a similar fullness of effect in the Elgar selection, which should be heard again.

The orchestra gave a fine rendering of the "Flying Dutchman" overture with its wild storm motives, the shriekings of the gale and tumult of waters, and nothing could have been more charming than Wagner's "Siegfried Idyll," which, in its simpler and more playful mood, was given with fine delicacy and feeling. The brass was played with taste and strength.

There are still some people who go to first-class concerts only to carry on conversation. The lips of the whippersnappers and gossip buzzers away thru a symphonic poem is not what the conductor expects or the audience expects, but some still do it. Let us hope they are not of the country. A. E. S. S.

HELEN KELLER

The blind and deaf lady who has become a world-famous name, Helen Keller, is now in Toronto. She is the most remarkable woman of the twentieth century, will lecture at Massey Hall. Miss Keller, deaf and blind from birth, learned to speak. During the past few years she has taken lessons from a professor of music in Harvard University and has developed voice expression. Mrs. Keller, who has been her teacher and pianist for 30 years, will introduce Miss Keller.

The Famous Fonzaleys

Musical people are anticipating delightful entertainment at the concert recital in Foresters' Hall tomorrow evening by the famous Fonzaleys Quartet. The quartet admitted the greatest quartet in the world. This formation of music is rarely heard at the present time in America, and everywhere they will pronounce their work incomparable. The Fonzaleys need not be introduced to the public. They are now on their eleventh annual tour of the continent. In the perfection of their ensemble they stand alone. The organization has secured a number of following, and highly appreciated audience will greet them on Monday evening. Seats may now be reserved at the Lyceum Bureau at 200 King Street West.

"Bunty Pulls the Strings"

When "Bunty Pulls the Strings" was produced someone remarked, "It's all it takes a Scotchman." Well, this is true or not, the fact remains that it is more or less a general endorsement of Scotchmen to poke fun at one another. As for instance, members of the "Bunty" company tell many facetious stories at the expense of "brother Scots." Here is one which William Lennox, playing the part of Yvetum Stratum, tells. A certain Highlander was on his deathbed and was visited by a clergyman, who asked him to prepare his soul for the hereafter. He had committed on earth. The minister strongly urged the absence of necessity of the forgiveness of his Highlander's enemies. The Highlander shrugged his shoulders at this request but finally agreed to give every person who had harmed him except one who had long been mortal foe and of whom he hoped to see again. The minister made an exception, the Highlander at last said, "I will forgive him, but I will not forgive the man who forgave him, but I will forgive the first time anywhere at less than dollar fifty scale of prices."

DARK CONTINENT STILL HAS UNKNOWN ANIMALS

Africa gives suggestion of still more animals not yet known. One of them, according to C. H. Hobley, has described as a creature seen on the Gori River, Lake Victoria, as about fifteen feet long, with a head as big as that of a lioness, but shaped and marked like that of a leopard, two long white fangs, the upper jaw, armadillo-like scales, leopard-like spots, a back as broad as a hippopotamus, a broad tail, and large feet with reptile-like claws.

Another monster of the natives is of like size, going sometimes on two legs and sometimes on four, with the appearance of a huge and very fierce baboon.

IT was cold and dreary in the kitchen this morning. The painters were just getting through. All the windows were open and a whining wind complained at the keyhole.

Answers to Health Questions

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygiene and sanitation subjects that are of general interest.

Q. V. H. W.—Is there a lead poisoning law that compels a company to pay salary to the afflicted one?

A. No; such a law would be unconstitutional. Any one who engages in any dangerous or poisonous occupation does so at his own risk.

Q. L. S.—My little daughter bites her nails. Can this habit be cured?

A. Yes. Brush her nails three or four times a day with a mixture of mustard, red pepper and safflower. Do not cease doing this until she has acquired the new habit of avoiding her nails.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

'Ware "Granny" Cures For Your Holiday Ills

By Dr. Leonard Keene Hirschberg

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

AS the day lengthens the cold strengthens. It is only true to the Ideas of March. Ere this, however, most of us have had enough and to spare of the New Year's cold weather aching!

Out of the flying winged week of unforgettable merry-making and feasting comes an accumulation of joy-pains. The outcome of this is the quest of a medical rejuvenator or a hygienic elixir of life and of healing restorative.

What to do? Emphatically avoid all of the very physical extravagance and boisterous doings which give origin to your regrets. If it be possible, then parry and put a pause upon the over-solicitous, blinding hospitality of the holiday cheer.

You may remember Pippa Passes, scene I, "Old Year's Sorrow, cast off last night, will come again to-morrow, whereas, if thou prove gentle, I shall borrow sufficient strength of thee for New Year's sorrow."

The dial-plate of Time stands still for those superstitious purveyors of health, who recommend "gin for the kidneys," "liver pads for gallstones," "finger rings for rheumatism," "laying on of hands," "thoughts" and "mind cures," "pink pills," and a host of strangely popular absurdities for the cure of "colds," "cancers," "rheumatism," "eczemas," "humors" and other maladies that are unknown entities to skillful physicians who have spent the all-day long years of the honest lives adopting around among filled hospitals and laboratory test tubes.

Such persons who go on through the world and among their neighbors recommending wrong remedies, the same to-day as they did years and years ago, really never have a New Year. All New Years are old years to such as they, because they never learn anything new, and they continue forever to perpetuate what they learned years ago—all the errors with the rest.

Sick people tell no tales about the well-meaning "granny" cures and casual amateur medical advice that almost killed them. When they finally get well they are so grateful that they either forget or bear no ill-will to Mr. Tom, who does the po' folks can't see how they gits along at all.

How does the po' folks get along—the cook and I looked at each other over the head of the woman from the basement. A dollar and a half a day, three children of her own, a worthless husband, and two grand-children to take care of—sick, old, tired—the woman from the basement, lying awake nights to thank the Lord for her good fortune and to feel sorry "for the po' folks."

She isn't "po' folks" at all, never was, and never will be—not so long as her brave heart sings in her brown breast—not so long as she holds close to her the little helpless ones she loves—not so long as she works for a living and is proud of it.

Blessed be the poor in spirit; so we used to learn at Sunday school. Somehow I love better those who are rich in spirit, no matter how poor they are in everything else.

Bless your heart, you little wrinkled, tired old brown woman you. It is such courage and such love as yours that makes this gray world look golden sometimes.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

KATY GRASSHOPPER was sitting by the fireside one evening when her little sister asked for a story.

"I am very busy now reading," replied Katy. "As soon as I am through we will go to bed and then I can tell you the story while you go to sleep."

While Sallie was busy tucking her dolls in bed Katy finished the story she was reading and then they both went upstairs to bed where Katy helped Sallie undress.

She had a hard time doing it because the little jumps in Sallie's legs just wouldn't keep still. When she finally unlaced Sallie's shoes both of her little feet jumped and the shoes went flying out the window.

After a while they were comfortably in bed when Katy told Sallie to try as hard as she could to keep the little jumps in her legs from kicking the clothes off.

"There," said Katy, "I have an idea and I will tell you to-night how there came to be little jumps in a grasshopper's legs."

This is the story that Katy told her sister: "A very long time ago, before you and I were born, there lived in Bugville a funny looking kind of a bug which I think I will call Mr. Funny Bug.

"He had very straight legs with which he could walk on the ground, but he couldn't climb. One day he got so tired walking all over the meadow and walking up and down the blades of grass that he said to his good wife, 'I do wish we were able to jump instead of walk.'

The Toronto World

FOUNDED 1880. A morning newspaper published every day in the year by The World Newspaper Company of Toronto, Limited; H. J. Maclean, Managing Director.

FRIDAY MORNING, JAN. 9, 1914.

DECIDING OFF ITS OWN BAT.

Last Monday there appeared in the Toronto Mail, The Winnipeg Telegram, The Regina Province, and in all of the government organs, from sea to sea, a despatch from Ottawa, forecasting the decision of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners in the western freight rates enquiry.

These are the conflicting aspects of the big problem which the board of railway commissioners, the special representatives of western cities, and the railway representatives have been forced to consider.

The World ventured to think that the story from Ottawa, evidently more or less inspired, indicated that the commission and the government were in conference, and that the judgment was a joint production.

But now comes Commissioner MacLean, than whom there is no more able or conscientious member of the railway commission, and says in effect that the commissioners have arrived at no conclusions, that what purported to be a press of their judgment was absurd and unwarranted guess work, and that the commission is not in the habit of secretly giving out its judgments in advance of the decision rendered in open court.

We cannot but accept Mr. MacLean's statement, that it robs the government of the credit claimed for the reduction of freight charges upon coal, lumber and cement.

CHANGING THE PLAY BILL. Five years ago every theatre in New York was filled with musical comedy.

It is possible to find persons in Toronto at present who admit to being slightly "fed-up" on Shakespeare. The charming chairman of the Stratford-on-Avon trust recently related in this city how a certain property man, after a prolonged season of history and tragedy, came from behind the curtain one Friday night at the close of one of the slaughter pieces, with the fervent ejaculation: "Thank God, there's another of them bloody kings gone!"

to fashion. The public really likes to vary its entertainment, and in the old days of stock, we used to have a comedy, a drama, and a farce all on the same evening.

We are thankful to note the improved tone of the plays presented this year. The Shakespeare engagements have been remarkably attractive. Last year's musical comedies were, as a rule, pitiful things. They could well be spared. But there have come also this year many fine plays, and many of these have come from London.

But we depend too much on New York for our fashions in drama. If the New York managers would go about the country a little they would find that people have not such morbid tastes as New York critics would have you believe, or New York audiences would almost make you think.

HENRY FORD AND HIS WORKMEN. Henry Ford, the automobile millionaire of Detroit, has decided to share a lot of the profits of his concern with employees, and hereafter the wages of his men will be at least $5 a day of eight hours.

Our opinion is that Mr. Ford's distribution is based in part on the fact that under the new income tax he will have to pay 6 per cent. of his income to the United States; and on an income of $20,000,000 a year, this means $1,200,000. Perhaps sooner than give all this money to the people at large, Mr. Ford may prefer to give part to his own employees, and we cannot blame him for taking this view of it.

generous instincts. At the same time it must be noted that men of great wealth are more or less suddenly changing their views in regard to their accumulations and their duties. One noticeable surrender is the case of Mr. Morgan, son of Mr. J. Pierpont Morgan, who sees that he must withdraw, and has decided to withdraw from active control in a lot of banking companies, a lot of trust companies and railways in which he was the dominating factor.

MR. MACMASTER MUST EXPLAIN. Mr. A. C. McMaster, the legal adviser of the board of trade, it was stated last night, has declared that the proposed purchase agreement between the city and the street railway company does not "terminate the franchises of the Toronto Railway and the Toronto Electric Light Company."

When did Mr. McMaster see the agreement? Did he really make the statement The Telegram attributes to him? Is it merely a legal quibble, that the agreement does not, but that it will when signed and sealed?

It is there a deliberate attempt being made by the Telegram, thru Mr. McMaster, to deceive the board of trade and the citizens generally? Mayor Hocken and Controller McCarthy have over and over again insisted that a clean-up of the franchise is a sine qua non. The mayor knows that any other kind of agreement would be useless for submission to the people.

PUBLIC OPINION CHANGES. WINTER FAIR A SUCCESS. AMHERST, N.S., Jan. 3, 1914.—The Amherst Winter Fair held here is a fine demonstration of what the Maritime Provinces are capable of doing in the way of raising dairy and beef cattle, sheep, swine and poultry.

cow was announced on a card over each stall, and it was the usual demonstrations of milking, separating and butter making. In beef cattle there were many very fine steers, fat and well proportioned. With the mean prices prevailing, and the fact that there is now a keen demand for cattle for export, these created a lot of attention. The benefit of breeding was, of course, instilled into the minds of the visiting farmers, and the lesson taught that it was the fattened animal of good substance that brought the highest price.

The sheep shown were representative specimens of the kind of animals our farmers ought to be encouraged to breed. Experts on the sheep industry declare that in New Brunswick and Nova Scotia there are the finest opportunities to raise sheep on a large scale and profitably. In many sections farmers raise sheep without much regard to the standard of the animals and with little thought of proper care and feeding.

THE MAN WHO WROTE THE MIDLAND LETTERS.

If The Globe named the wrong culprit who wrote the letters sent round concerning the amateur status of Midland players we can put him right. It was the self-same correspondent who penned the Midland notes and also the anonymous stuff a few weeks ago, concerning the standing of the Parkdale Canoe Club that local newspaper dupes stood for.

Senior O.H.A. Teams Play Tonight in Arena

ST. MIQUES PLAY OSGOODE TONIGHT

Clean, Close and Fast O.H.A. Senior Game Expected at Arena.

St. Michaels had a light workout in the Arena last night and will start and practice of Wednesday and a game on Tuesday the players are in the best condition for tonight's game against Osgoode Hall. Richardson will be unable to play for a week owing to a hand bruise. Jimmy Dissette has a sore arm, but will be in the lineup.

No matter how numerous or serious the injuries seven men will start and not a player will be left in the line unless he is legitimately hurt. This was the statement of Frank Dissette yesterday, as an effort must be made to relieve amateur hockey of the black eye it received lately due to sharp tricks. Chapman and Chapman are showing up well in their work with St. Mike's and would be ready to start a game any day required.

Osgoode Hall have a host of men registered. They have worked patiently and the players are in the best condition for tonight. A fast, clean and close game is assured. St. Michael's team for tonight: Goal, Thompson or Addison; defence, Murphy and Dissette; rover, Rankin; centre, L. Flammie; right, McCamus; left, Matthews. Referee—Rgn. Caldwell.

THE MONTREAL ASSOCIATION CONTROLS CANADIAN CRICKET

According to Annual Report Just Sent Out—Will Select Team to Play the States.

MONTREAL, Jan. 8.—President Chas. E. Morse of the Montreal Cricket Association has sent out his annual report to the members of the various affiliated clubs for the season of 1913. The report contains the annual financial statement which shows a satisfactory balance on hand. The largest expenditure was the amount paid to the Australian cricketers, they being given $1000 for their visit to Montreal.

The report points out that a great advance has been made in the game during the past season. For the first time in eleven years the public has had the opportunity of seeing first class cricket, which was due to the visit of the Australian team.

Owing to the generous response to the association's appeal for funds, it was found possible to bring the Australians to Montreal, and had the association not been in existence and not received such support, Montreal would have been omitted from the Australian program. Montreal had the honor of being named as one of the six "first class" teams met by the Australians during their tour of this continent and Bermuda in the course of which the visitors played some forty matches.

The association also sent a representative team to New York and Philadelphia, in fulfillment of its engagement to play return matches with the clubs which visited Montreal in 1912. Apart from a creditable measure of success in the field, this visit ensures the presence of representative American teams in Montreal at regular intervals.

The association—being as it is—has been entrusted with the control of Canadian cricket for 1914 and 1915. This, among other things, means that the association shall choose the teams to play for Canada against the States in the annual international match.

MINISTER WILL OPEN NEW BUILDING AT O.A.C.

Hon. Martin Burrell and Hon. Jas. Duff to Take Part in Ceremony.

Hon. Martin Burrell, federal minister of agriculture, will officially open the new field husbandry building of the Guelph O. A. C., on the 12th inst. Arrangements have been made to make the affair one of importance, and Hon. James Duff will take part in the program.

Federal money was used in the plan, the total cost reaching $60,000, and special facilities are arranged for seed for 450 students, both regular and temporary. In dimension it is 146 by 84, constructed of brick, with upper story roughcast.

The assembly takes place under the auspices of the Ontario Agricultural and Experimental Union.

FIRST TIBETANS LEAVE THE LAND OF MYSTERY

Party of Natives Now on Visit to England—Took One Month to Cross Continent.

For the first time in the history of Tibet a party of natives have left that country, to pay a visit to England, reports a London exchange. The visit received the sanction of the dala lama.

The party consists of six persons—four Tibetan to seventeen years, and a Tibetan are attracted in their native costumes, but have adopted the English shoes, finding them more comfortable for travel than those of Tibet.

SUNSHINE AND CLOUD AS FOUND IN NORTH AMERICA

East of Rockies Comparatively Little Change in Going From South to North.

A German review of the weather of North America by A. Glaser states that the greatest amount of bright sunshine occurs in the southwest of the continent, and the least in the northwest and northeast, where the sun's power is weaker.

East of the Rockies there is comparatively little change in going from south to north. In the west the westerly winds bring most cloud, but clear sky in the summer results from the higher saturation of the air.

Eastward of the Rocky Mountains the sky is clearer, spring with northerly and southerly winds, being the most cloudy season. In the Eastern States, the low barometer of winter in the North Atlantic, causes easterly winds, and these, mixing with the relatively warm coast air, produce much cloud.

In the southeast the high pressure in autumn brings clear weather. In the south the clearest period is toward the end of winter, and in the south-west, including western Mexico, the clearest season is spring, the warm winds of the Gulf of California giving much cloud in summer.

I.O.F. Can Meet All Obligations And Has Provided Against Sorrow Disappointments and Distresses

Elliott G. Stevenson, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Order, Told in Figures of Millions How the Members Are Protected, and Spoke of the Gigantic Task That Was Worked Out to a Successful Issue—Fraternal Insurance Societies Must Be on a Sound Basis in Order to Continue Good Work—Society Is 100 Per Cent. Sound and Able to Meet All Obligations Present and Future—Impressive Tributes Paid to Head of Order at Banquet Given in His Honor Attended by Hundreds of Prominent Citizens.

The glorification of one man by a multitude was the banquet tendered to Elliott G. Stevenson, supreme chief ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters, by his many friends and admirers in the Temple Building, last night. It was a tribute that any man might be proud of, as it was a magnificent expression of the unbounded admiration of the members of the order for the personal character, the self-sacrificing devotion to the welfare of the order, and the remarkable executive ability of their supreme chief ranger, who took the reins of government in his hands at a critical time, and by the concentration of all his remarkable talents to the work, finally succeeded in placing the order upon a sound financial basis.

The gathering was a thoroughly representative of the feeling, not only of the Independent Order of Foresters as a whole, but of the commercial and industrial world as well. From the various courts of the order in all parts of Canada and the United States, representatives were sent to do honor to the supreme chief ranger. Among those present were men prominent in the civic, provincial and Dominion governments, as well as men prominent in business, industrial and commercial, in Canada and the United States. The clergy, too, was well represented, and men in all walks of life united in doing honor to the man whose sole aim it is to make the order one common brotherhood, united in one great international society.

"Our Guest" was proposed by R. J. Niddie, M.D., in the following words: To the Honorable Elliott G. Stevenson, Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters: Brother Stevenson, it is fitting at this time that we, representing as we do tonight, many of the high courts and jurisdictions in the Independent Order of Foresters, should tender you our best wishes for the coming year, which we hope will be for you and your colleagues as pleasantly peaceful as the year 1913 was honorably strenuous. The order among us has been a most successful one, and the nursing yards of this now powerful and stable order, and the hand-to-mouth existence of a slender band of earnest men, we are glad to see you take the steps by which the order gradually increased in numbers and in influence, until it emerged into the second stage of its growth, and the government of the order, which we have established our courts. With recognition of the fraternal system came responsibilities to make fraternal insurance safe and sound for the dependents of the members. It has fallen to your lot to bear these responsibilities, and you have discharged them with your six years' labor as supreme chief ranger.

At the outset, your administration was confronted with many and serious problems. These you have successfully solved. That success was due to the confidence of the members and of the public in your leadership. Of the continuance of this support we can confidently say. For you have shown us how to meet the early struggles of the order, proud as we have been to see it rear its temple in the Queen City of Ontario, and as we have been to see our chiefs recognized by statesmen and governments as men of public eminence, we are tonight proud to recognize you as the man who has enabled us to fulfill that first, last and basic obligation of an insurance fraternity, the obligation of sound finance.

When this work was completed it was, as indicated, found that there existed a deficiency in our assets of $25,000,000—a deficiency that had to be provided for unless the society was to be permitted to drift into slow liquidation. The situation that had to be met was that of a society that had to be provided for unless the society was to be permitted to drift into slow liquidation. The situation that had to be met was that of a society that had to be provided for unless the society was to be permitted to drift into slow liquidation.

After the situation had been referred to had been ascertained, we spent long and anxious days and weeks and months in endeavoring to work out a plan that would make the burdens that had to be imposed on those who had inadequate payments created this condition as light as possible, with the result that all who had part in deciding on the plan that was best to be adopted agreed that the plan we had adopted was best in the interests of our society upon a sound basis. The situation that had to be met was that of a society that had to be provided for unless the society was to be permitted to drift into slow liquidation.

levied against that portion of the society whose indebtedness payments had created the deficiency. In this connection the fact must be borne in mind that the society in 1893, when it adopted its new and increased table of rates and assessments, consisted entirely of what are now commonly spoken of as the old members. It was then recognized that the rates of assessments in force up to that time were inadequate, else there would have been no need of putting in force a table of assessments increasing such rates.

The representatives of the then membership, thus recognizing the inadequacy of the rates in force, made provision that only those who should thereafter join should pay the adequate rates then adopted, and that those who were in force up to that time should continue to pay the inadequate rates before then in force. In view of this it seemed inequitable that those who thereafter joined, and who have paid the increased and adequate rates of assessment should be later burdened in making provision in whole or in part for the inadequacy of the payments made by those who had joined before 1893. It was nevertheless recognized that the increased burden imposed upon the survivors of the members who joined before 1893, in that the deficiency amounting to $14,000,000 per annum, should be provided in our legislation recently adopted that $1,000,000 should be transferred from the post-1893 members to the pre-1893 members, and that for all time in the future there should go into the fund to relieve the pre-1893 members, and that one common brotherhood united in one great international society.

Great Enthusiasm.—Following the enthusiastic burst of applause from the audience that concluded the address of the chief ranger, "The Parliament of Canada" was proposed by Elliott G. Stevenson, high chief ranger, and the speaker, in the conclusion of a very humorous address stated that it was his belief that all the men who go to the legislature, in connection with the House, no matter to which party they may belong, ninety-eight per cent are honest and intelligent men, who are only too ready to recognize the rights of their constituents and the other inhabitants of the country.

An Able Man.—In response to the toast, F. F. Stedee, K.C., M.P., eulogized Elliott G. Stevenson both as a man and as an executor. He is a man of high standing, a man of high character, a man of high ability, and a man of high courage. He is a man of high standing, a man of high character, a man of high ability, and a man of high courage.

Mr. Rowell's Tribute.—N. W. Rowell, leader of the opposition, in proposing the toast, expressed his appreciation and admiration for the man who was responsible for placing the order upon a sound basis. He expressed the opinion that what had been done in the recent crisis was in the best interests of the order, and that his action had been conscientiously so, as he believed that in this case at least the majority was right.

Some Statistics.—It is difficult to comprehend what is involved in such figures as have been given. Some idea, however, can be gathered from the following statistics: The public debt of Canada amounts to $508,335,000, while fraternal insurance in force in Canada amounts to $550,000,000. The public debt of the United States amounts to $1,346,000,000, and the public debt of Great Britain to $5,523,000,000, making the total public debt of Canada, United States and Great Britain $5,447,269,000, which is but a fraction over 50 per cent of the fraternal insurance in force in the United States and Canada. If steps shall not be taken to place these societies upon a sound basis so they may be able to meet their obligations to the beneficiaries of the 10,000,000 members referred to, the consequences and the result that will follow can scarcely be comprehended. It would mean disappointment, sorrow and distress for millions of women and children who are relying upon this protection.

The Independent Order of Foresters has placed itself in a position where it can meet all its obligations and has provided against such contingencies. It is a sound and able organization, and its members are to be congratulated, not only by the membership of the society, but by the public generally. I must not be understood as attempting to minimize the importance of the work of the order, but I do recognize that they are among the greatest agencies available for improving conditions and protecting the interests of the workers throughout this and other countries.

On Sound Basis.—I do, however, desire to impress upon every one possible the importance of the work of the order. We are doing so much good placed upon a sound basis so that they may continue the splendid work they have been doing. It is a sound and able organization, and its members are to be congratulated, not only by the membership of the society, but by the public generally.
