PORTER PEETERS PRISONER. Napanee—Holds Promises to Testify and "Music" is Predicted.

Napanee, Ont., Aug. 4.—(Special.)—The trial goes briskly on, though the keen edge of Pare's startling confession is being dulled. Mr. Porter is putting the witness through a scorching examination, eliciting bewildering mass of details that will require enormous corroboration to establish the veracity of the witness. The witness is never the least abashed and has a penchant for saying funny things. He has told a pretty straight story, and has seldom if ever been put into a tight place. He is reckoned the most desperate of the prisoners, and is on the elucidation of the working of a combination that he was put up at home and discourses as fluently and delightfully as a professor. One is forced to the conclusion that the witness is rather proud of his notoriety as a safe cracker.

FARE'S EVIDENCE CONTINUED. He Was Called Into the Job Because More Help Was Wanted.

Pare was again called as soon as the court had been opened, and taking the stool provided for him continued: "I was called into the job because more help was wanted, not because of my particular ability. When I came the rest had seen that they couldn't work the job, that the reason I was called in. "When I made my confession in Manchester Detective Dougherty was there. I had seen him in Napanee when Ponton was acquitted. I knew him from that time on from the fact that I had seen him in Manchester and Napanee. I saw him at the Paisley House before all the passengers took their. It was near 8 o'clock. He was in the office then. I knew he was Detective Dougherty, because I heard a man say, 'There he is, that's Dougherty.' I looked at him, and he looked at me. He had his side to me. That's the only view I got of him. He was in Manchester both before and after I made my confession.

Examined the Bank. "I went to make an examination of the bank after the first report was brought. I took Mackie Roach with me and Mett Holden.

Went to the Bank. "We went over to the bank to the corner of St. John-street, walking by the bank. Roach pointed at the manager's room. I took a good look in when going by, and then I went down to Main-street and sent Roach down to the G.T.R. depot, and told him I would meet him again at the grove. Then I went back to the bank and examined the surroundings myself. I went through the lane to Centre-street without stopping, but I looked about me just the same. I found two woodsheds back of the grove.

There Was No Signal. "Was that all? Was there any signal?" asked Mr. Porter.

Holden Went to See the Bank Man. "Holden went down that night to see the man in the bank. He reported that it was arranged for the next day. Mackie was still with us. It was talked over that the 'hold-up' would be done at the first chance. We would do this 'hold-up' if the game of cards would go on, but Roach and I were not satisfied with the way it was to be done. Roach said the game of cards was only a bluff of the bank man to us and that we would go away. Roach went down town to get the sign if there was to be a game of cards. He reported that the bank man had been waiting for 4 and 5 o'clock. He asked, 'Is there anything new?' We said no. At 9 o'clock, dark, Holden and Roach went down town again and stayed about an hour. They did not

WHEATON BAY MURDERERS. Eight Persons Murdered in Cold Blood in Four Years—Clear Recollection of an Indian Girl Who Was Only Seven Years Old at the Time of the First Murder.

In 1887 Isiah and William David were murdered at Wheaton Bay, where they were with a wigwam and had been battered out with a club. William, the son, went through the woods to the railway track, and was followed some distance, and he was struck on the head with a stone. Louis and Joe Moses, two Indians, were suspected of the crimes, and an inquest was held. A verdict of murder was rendered against Louis. The Indians then disappeared for a period of six years.

Boat Found Upright. Not returning, a search was made and some few days after the boat was found upset, with the sails up and tied tightly. The information among a great many was that the men had been accidentally drowned. It was learned that the boat had gone to Pic Island and that two brothers of Louis Moses, Mohaw and Antoine, went in the boat with the men, and they were supposed to have been drowned with the others.

Arrangements for Capture. The arrangements were made to capture the four Indians, and they were to be taken to the Provincial Constable Whalen while they were in the boat. The boat was to be taken to Port Arthur on July 25 and the principal witnesses were to be taken to the court before the coroner's inquest were held.

Inspector Rogers. Inspector Rogers, in company with Provincial Constable Whalen, proceeded to Heron Bay, where they found the bodies of the four Indians. The bodies were found in a canoe, and they were found in a canoe.

WOMEN'S ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE. While bringing the Indian women to Port Arthur, a party of two of them attempted to escape, one jumping through the window and the other through the door of the train while it was running about 15 miles an hour. They were taken by the Indian men, and the men gave up attempting to get away that they believed their brothers were dead, and they didn't want to go, being very superstitious.

ANOTHER FIRE IN MONTREAL. Messrs. J. & B. Grier's Lumber Mill Was the Starting Point.

St. Lawrence Portland Cement Company's Property Also Got a Warning—The Insurance Companies and the Plebeians—Montreal News. Montreal, Aug. 4.—(Special.)—A second fire broke out here to-day. The blaze was in the lumber mills of Messrs. J. & B. Grier, 228 Notre-Dame-street west, and before it was subdued had spread to the adjacent property, occupied by the St. Lawrence Portland Cement Company. The property and buildings are owned by A. Cantin and their loss will amount to about $500,000, including the damage to the flumes, about $7000. The loss to Messrs. Grier will be principally confined to the machinery in the saw mills, which is valued at about $3000 or $4000. The buildings and machinery are insured. The machinery in the St. Lawrence Portland Cement Works belongs to the tenants, and they value it at about $20,000. They will immediately remove to other premises. Mr. Cantin expects to rebuild as soon as possible.

MARINE DISASTER FEARED. Large Trans-Atlantic Liner, Probably the British Steamer Ipsden, May Be a Wreck.

St. John's, Nfld., Aug. 4.—The telegraph operator at Hill Cove, the most northern office of Acadia, has received a report which has just reached there of the loss of a large trans-Atlantic liner steamer in the vicinity of Belle Isle, with all hands. Particulars are lacking, but the operator says it seems likely there is truth in the report, because the Labrador steamer 'Virgin' of the same line was reported to have been accounted for by her being at the scene of the wreck. The steamer referred to in the above dispatch may be the British steamer Ipsden, bound from Quebec for Plymouth, which was yesterday reported ashore on Belle Amour Point, Straits of Belle Isle. The report received stated that the cargo was being saved.

WAR NEWS IN BRIEF. Spain has asked for more details regarding the terms of peace. The Washington Government has replied, insisting on the position of the world's attention.

Government and Plebeians. The prevailing opinion here is that if Sir Wilfrid Laurier, within a month, decides upon a dissolution, after the date of the next session, the plebeian appeal will be postponed and that both votes will be recorded at the same time. Mr. C. C. Cleveland, ex-P.M. for Richmond, told our correspondent to-day that he believed this was a very risky program. The fact of the liquor men here, who seem to have the ear of the Government, making no move whatever, would seem to lead up to such a belief, as that enunciated by Mr. Cleveland and other shrewd politicians.

Personal and Other Notes. Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. James Sutherland, M.P., are going to Port Rotonde to see Mr. Sifton.

THE FATE OF THE GOVERNMENT. Mr. Whitney's Amendment.

Mr. Whitney moved, seconded by Mr. Marten: "That the following words be added to the said address: And also to represent to Your Honor that this House, being convinced that one of the best safeguards of the prerogatives of the Crown, as well as of the liberties and franchises of the people, is to be found in the application of the principle that the Government should be conducted by Ministers responsible to the people, and holding seats in the Legislative Assembly, avails itself of this opportunity to express its regret that the Government has not the Legislature for the despatch of business with two members of the Executive, the heads respectively of two of the most important departments of the Government, without seats in the Legislative Assembly, having been defeated at the last general election."

MR. WHITNEY'S AMENDMENT. The above was proposed in an able speech last night, and on the result of the discussion the fate of the Hardy Government depends.

OPENING OF THE DEBATE. The combatants on Parliament Hill have begun in real earnest. So far nobody can complain that time has been wasted. The House met pursuant to agreement at 4 o'clock instead of 3 yesterday, and between that time and 6 o'clock the mover and second of the motion, Messrs. Pettipiece and Clarke, respectively, made their speeches. The mover of the motion, Mr. Whitney, took the floor for two hours, and, spurred by the applause of an extra score of followers, and inspired by the late expression of the people's confidence, made one of the master efforts of his life. The Attorney-General took up the mantle after 10 o'clock and, after an able defence of an hour and a half's duration, the debate was adjourned until 3 p.m. to-day, when Mr. Browder will resume it.

Mover of the Address. For a pair of orators, Messrs. Pettipiece and Clarke certainly monopolized attention well, though of course the circumstances and surroundings were propitious. The member for East Lambton, Mr. Pettipiece, rose, amid applause, about 4.15. He spoke for nearly an hour. For a novice after the speech must be voted fairly successful. It was not, however, a very original one, and it was not very eloquent. In fact his speech was quite Landerkinian. He manifested considerable assurance, boldly bearing with the occasional ridicule of the Opposition, which, however, he heard him most patiently. He made one or two breaks. One of them was a gratuitously denying any intention on the part of the Government to jump into the port-cannibal territory of Fort Cudahy, Yukon.

Second's Speech. Between the mover and the second there was a marked contrast in style. Mr. Clarke of West Northumberland spoke in a more humorous and at the same time more apologetic vein. In fact his speech was quite Landerkinian. He manifested considerable assurance, boldly bearing with the occasional ridicule of the Opposition, which, however, he heard him most patiently. He made one or two breaks. One of them was a gratuitously denying any intention on the part of the Government to jump into the port-cannibal territory of Fort Cudahy, Yukon.

PACIFIC COAST NEWS. Vancouver Wants an Admiralty Court—Goes North. Vancouver, Aug. 4.—The Board of Trade and City Council will ask the Dominion Government that an Admiralty Court be established here. The case of Laurada's schooner, the 'Laurada,' which was lost about $4000 because the Government refused to establish a court here.

Forest fires are blazing in many places in the province. The salmon run continues to be bitterly disappointing. The Department of Marine and Fisheries will probably be asked to extend the time.

A COWARDLY BICYCLIST. Bicycle collisions are of almost daily occurrence, notwithstanding the efforts of the police to stop "scorching." Last evening Miss Louisa Blasdale was badly hurt by collision with a young man near the corner of College and Yonge-streets, and the coward rode away without stopping to see what would be had inflicted. Any man or boy who runs down a woman or an old man and deliberately runs away is a scoundrel and should be severely punished.

Surely Not! Mr. Hardy threatened Mr. Whitney last night that he might get the curtain pulled and expose something in connection with the Opposition and the liquor traffic that neither Mr. Whitney nor his party would like to bear.

The Odds are Even. The great significant fact at the Legislature yesterday was that when the Opposition applauded Mr. Whitney, every hand and desk but two on the Speaker's left responded.

Grey and Freeman Put the Ball Over the Fence—Cy Vorhees Was Hit Hard and Often—Buffalo Beat Springfield and Providence Won from Ottawa.

It was an expensive method of stinging up the Stars on Wednesday, but evidently Toronto had to drop one game, and now the Islanders are in a better position to win in a bunch. The visitors romped in the rear all the way yesterday, and it was only a gallup for the Toronto. For four innings the day before last had had Cy Vorhees always of the coaching line. He ran in from the field in the fifth to question Doerscher's apparent correct decision in calling one of the Toronto men safe at first base.

The Toronto secured sweet revenge yesterday afternoon at the island for the defeat by the day before. Freeman walked bases opposed to him on the slab, and the southerner pitched around the elongated specimen from the mound. Only Wally Taylor's unfortunate fumble and wild throw would have been a bear. The Islanders bunched five hits and scored three runs in the fifth for six runs and a certainty of the game. Grey and Freeman made home runs, both over the right field fence. Freeman also cleared the bases, and would have cleared the bases and there was a splendid crowd in attendance.

Toronto's first run was a soft one. After Freeman fouled over the right field fence Taylor sent an easy grounder that Smith hit for two runs. Doerscher pitched the ball to the fence in the third, putting Toronto ahead.

Toronto drew six in the fifth on five singles, three errors and a few stolen bases. Gaston opened with a homer, but Grey bunted a safe one. Hannigan scribbled, leaving the bases full. Taylor singled two in. Donnelly sacrificed and the second hand dropped. Gaston walked and Grey retired the side with a pop up.

Casey's punt hit and Freeman's homer opened the Toronto box. Taylor's fumble and wild throw in the fifth around to third in the Stars' half. The hit search on O'Brien's grounder to Taylor. Three clean singles and a fly to Freese.

The plan for Toronto 7, Syracuse 0, being too close, Vorhees' grounder retired the side.

Thomson, T. Sullivan, Thomas, Whelan, John, Toronto Junction; P. Whitney, U. T. O'Malley, Uxbridge; T. Canavan, Brampton; J. Rodden, Willowdale.

The Solemn Service. The organ now wailed out the chant for the dead and the vast congregation rose to its feet.

Following the mass came the funeral oration by Bishop McQuaid of Rochester, the life-long friend of the dead Archbishop.

His heart was as tender as that of a father's, as he so easily brought tears to his eyes.

The service of consolation was begun. Surrounded by tapers and incense, the service was pronounced by Archbishop Broche of Montreal.

The coffin lid was then reverently closed and the sacred remains, preceded by lighted candles, were carried amid last mournful wailings by the organ.

The City Council met yesterday morning in the Council chamber for the purpose of attending the funeral of the late Archbishop Walsh.

TORONTO'S BIG CENTRAL HOTEL.

It is Assured That the Million-Dollar Structure Will Go Up on King-Street.

Mr. Leland of New York, who is more interested in hotel property in the United States than probably any other capitalist, is in Toronto yesterday in connection with the erection of the proposed big hotel on King-street east.

Mr. Leland said he hoped to secure a large interest in this hotel, which will have the hands of a syndicate.

PORTER PESTERS PRISONER PARE.

"I thought it was a bluff, except Holden, who knew him better than the others."

"Roach and Mackie had no trust in the bank man, and Holden did trust him. Roach told me he knew the man."

Talk About Blackmail. A new point was added when the witness said that Mackie and Roach talked about blackmailing the bank man.

Holden first, and afterwards, objected to this blackmailing. This question was discussed on that occasion.

"I didn't know if they would be armed. All four of us were armed. Each of us had a revolver."

"The next night the bank man came on his bicycle by the Belleville-road, and Holden met him and talked to him first."

"I didn't understand that the man in the bank and Durand were accustomed to go bicycling. The signal that a bicycle ride was to be taken was given by the bell."

"Then we got ready. One went to sit on the bridge over the road and see them start from the village. The three others were to go to the bank and see that nothing happened."

"The bank man came at 9 o'clock to Centre-street. I told him to get out of the street. This talk lasted about 15 minutes. Holden knew at that time that the bank man was not coming back and we didn't know what to do."

"The bank man met the four of us that night for about half an hour. He said that he would go to work on the day after tomorrow, and if the middle window curtain is up you can come up to my room and talk over what you want."

"The bank man came back that night to go to Centre-street. Mackie met him between 9 and 10, and stayed with him half an hour. They reported that the bank man could not see any keyhole inside the house."

Afternoon Session. Pare and Holden Made Arrangements and Called in the Bank Man.

By a quarter to 2 this afternoon there was no standing room and Constable Huff forthwith barred the door to all who came to the bank man's office.

are said to be gathering material for sermons that will point a moral and adorn a tale. Mayor Jamieson, Rev. D. Carruthers, F. W. Smith, Dennis Daly, Cyrus Allison, John Thompson and T. W. Casey form another group of the boys and slavers of the town that sits the whole session through.

On the opening of Pare's cross-examination was continued. The witness said Holden reported that the man in the bank was willing to go on and get the desired information. Mackie, Holden and Roach suggested that Pare make direct connection with the man in the bank.

On the next day the matter was again discussed. I said to Holden: Bring your key with you as well as any other time that we are here for nothing. I want to talk to him direct, but nothing was done that day.

"How far have you got on in it?" He told me he had tried to find the keyhole, but could not. He said: "Are there any squarish holes there?"

"This is the man we had reference to. Will, who was to get into the bank" was called George. I told Will that Holden had written to me, asking if I could help him. He said: "How far have you got on in it?"

"The method by which the combination was changed was explained. Mackie explained by saying: 'You have enough in the key to try to get it to-night.'"

WHO WOULDN'T DRESS WELL?

It's no longer a question of cost, because the price of fashionable clothing here is now too small to be noticeable.

Commencing Saturday, we start in to close out our magnificent stock of Summer Clothing. The sale will continue from day to day until not a garment remains to tell the tale of the mighty sale at which were given the biggest values in seasonable and up-to-date clothing ever seen.

Just notice these figures. They're facts, and speak volumes. There's no necessity to prolong this talk—we have the goods at the right price, and a sight of them is convincing.

It's no longer a question of cost, because the price of fashionable clothing here is now too small to be noticeable.

Commencing Saturday, we start in to close out our magnificent stock of Summer Clothing. The sale will continue from day to day until not a garment remains to tell the tale of the mighty sale at which were given the biggest values in seasonable and up-to-date clothing ever seen.

Just notice these figures. They're facts, and speak volumes. There's no necessity to prolong this talk—we have the goods at the right price, and a sight of them is convincing.

STORE OPEN TILL 10 P.M. SATURDAY.
