WILD TIME AS POWER IS TURNED ON

Forty to Fifty Thousand People in Crush in Toronto

SOME ARE INJURED

Women Collapse, The Mayor is Badly Hurt and Premier Whitney and Speakers Are Caught in Wild Rush—The Ceremonies Cut Short

(Canadian Press) Toronto, May 3.—Striving vainly to make his voice heard above the roar of thousands of people, punctuated by piercing shrieks as women here and there the singing crowd collapsed in fainting fits, Sir James Whitney last night officially inaugurated hydro-electric power in Toronto, as the button that threw the darkened streets of the city into light and set ablaze the wonderful electrical decorations about the city hall was pressed, the crowd broke through the restraining lines of police and forced its way like a human hatter into the hall. Sir James Whitney, Hon. Adam Beck and the hundred prominent citizens receiving places of vantage on the steps were carried along, practically helpless. There were between 40,000 and 50,000 people in the crowd, and they were kept off the steps of the City Hall by a heavy wire cable strung around and guarded by a strong force of police. It was this cable that proved a source of danger later when the crowd broke, and resulted in Mayor Geary having his hand painfully crushed. The danger point came while Sir James Whitney was speaking. He had been in his feet but a few moments when the crowd began to sway. Those standing at the foot of the steps were caught by the surge of the crowd behind and, unable to get free, were crushed against the cable. Several men behind the premier became alarmed and shouted that the crowd was becoming unmanageable, urging him to press the button at once. Then a woman scurried among others on one of the big pedestals, threw up her arms and collapsed in a faint upon the people below. Other women cried out and fell, creating little twisting eddies in the human mass. As the lights were flashed on, the premier rushed forward, sweeping the crowd with his hands. Mayor Geary, realizing the danger to the people crowded against the cable, had run down to release them. The mayor succeeded in loosening the cable, but as he did so the weight of the people pulled it tight with a jerk. The mayor's hand was caught in a loop and crushed severely. Several persons were hurt in the rush.

SHALL WE CELEBRATE?

Coronation Day should be observed in St. John by a general celebration, having features that would attract crowds of visitors to the city.

So far as at present planned, this year offers no special attractions for visitors to St. John. There will be no exhibition, and there is no talk of a carnival, old home week, horse show or other event of public interest.

Coronation Day will be locally observed in St. John as elsewhere in the empire, and it would not be at all difficult to provide features which would attract visitors and make the day memorable in local annals.

Mayor Frink referred yesterday to the desirability of a civic observance of the day in some suitable manner. Perhaps if the mayor invited representatives of the board of trade, the school board, the militia, the patriotic and fraternal societies and trades and labor council to meet at once in conference, a general plan of celebration might easily be formed, such as would make the day one of universal pleasure and of patriotic significance.

WAIT FOR THE ENQUIRY

Editorial—Wait for the Enquiry.

Certain insinuations having been made affecting the reputation of Hon. Frank Oliver, the minister rose in parliament yesterday and after a flat denial of the veiled charges asked for an investigation. This was the proper course to pursue, and all fair-minded persons would withhold judgment pending the result of the enquiry. The St. John Standard, however, in its Ottawa correspondence, seeks to convey an impression of guilt and a desire to prevent an investigation. The Toronto World is a Conservative paper, but it does pursue the same tactics as the Standard. The World says: "Mr. Oliver has enjoyed the confidence of the public and the west of the whole province. He will, we imagine, feel it his duty to assist in any way he can the parliament to which Sir Wilfrid has left the matter. He may be the victim of the insinuations that centre in Alberta. It is not a crime for a minister to have a bank account."

Mr. Oliver has done what the World regards as his duty. The rest may well be left with the committee of enquiry. The Standard's insinuation that an attempt will be made to "whitewash" the minister is unworthy of a reputable newspaper.

An Ottawa despatch to the Toronto World says: "Regarding the story, it may be stated that it is one which has been handed around to newspapers of eastern Canada for the past six weeks, but which, up to the present time, none have published. The author is a former participant in a western libel case. The alleged facts are absolutely denied, in so far as they relate to the government, and it is said by those who have investigated the story that there is nothing by way of proof to justify it. It is characterized in official circles as attempted blackmail."

TAX REFORM

There could perhaps be no better testimony to the value of the tax reform movement in western Canada than is found in the report of a committee of the board of trade of Seattle, which visited Vancouver, Victoria, Edmonton, Calgary and other cities to study the question. In its report this committee said: "We desire to call your attention to what has been done by our neighbors and competitors across the British line. To anyone who investigates carefully and intelligently, it is evident that Canadian committees, by changing antiquated methods of taxation, are offering inducements that divert commerce from Seattle to Vancouver and draw farmers to Alberta, from the State of Eastern Washington."

After quoting a statement by the tax commissioner of Edmonton to the effect that the taxation of land, without regard to improvements and personal property, was found in Alberta to be most conducive to the prosperity of the community, the committee turned to Vancouver, which would make a better comparison with the large cities in Washington state, and said: "To satisfy ourselves that these conclusions harmonized with the facts, we turned our attention to the building records of Seattle, Tacoma, Spokane and Vancouver. We have compared the records of the building inspectors' offices of these cities for the first seven months in 1909 and 1910, and the figures are certainly startling. In Spokane there was a decrease of 10 per cent. over last year; in Tacoma the decrease was 24 per cent., and in Seattle there was a decrease of 20 per cent. In Vancouver there was an increase of 20 per cent. These facts and figures indicate that Tacoma and Spokane, with approximately the same population, are no longer in the race with Seattle, that within a year it will lead Seattle in building operations, notwithstanding that this city has more than double its population and has the best natural advantages of any city in the northwest. Here we have conditions confronting us as well as theories, and we do not do to play ostrich, with our head in the sand, and pass resolutions that are safe. It is time to act, or Washington will soon be playing second fiddle to British Columbia, with Vancouver the leading city of Puget Sound."

That is to say, the cities of the state of Washington attribute much of the great prosperity of cities in the Canadian west to their adoption of a better system of taxation. No cities in America have made greater efforts to "boost" themselves than those of Washington state, and yet Vancouver outstrips them.

The city of St. John needs tax reform. The civic authorities should gather information and set about the solution of the problem. The general principles adopted successfully in the west should be applicable here, perhaps in a modified form. In an address delivered before the International Tax Association the Tax Commissioner of Edmonton made the following statement: "The system of assessment in vogue in most of our towns and cities is assessed according to the actual value of the land, exclusive of the improvement thereon, and there is no assessment of personal property. As it may be of interest to some of you to know how the system works out in practice, I may say that it is found to give splendid satisfaction. This system is found to be most conducive to the prosperity of the community. In the opinion of some of the most prominent men in some of our largest cities the system of taxation on land values without regard to improvements or personal property is the most equitable form of assessment, and any move to make a change and assess with little, if any, support. This conclusion is arrived at after years of experience in the raising of funds to meet the requirements of rapidly growing cities, and the expense of carrying on the affairs of such cities in a new country, such as the Province of Alberta, is as you are no doubt aware, very high."

A London cable says: "The London Daily News, the leading ministerial organ, appeals to the Canadian Conservatives to reconsider their decision, and by accepting reciprocity let Sir Wilfrid Laurier leave, lest they wreck the Imperial Conference."

The acts of vandalism at Duck Cove, reported from time to time, emphasize the need of some means of protection of property at that resort. It should be possible for the property owners and the municipal council to arrange matters that a proper patrol would be engaged. It is simply outrageous that thefts should be committed with impunity so close to the city.

The Toronto Star says: "Sale of the Intercolonial Railway to Macdonald & Mann is a hardy perennial in the garden of rumor. It has sprouted this spring as usual, and the Ottawa Journal notes its appearance with about as much joy as the suburban gardener exhibits when he notes the outcropping of the annual weed buds. It declares that any sale of the Intercolonial at the present time, no matter how favorable the offered terms appear to be, will be made against the will of nine-tenths of the people of Canada. So far, at any rate, as Ontario is concerned, such a statement is probably no exaggeration."

Teaching Morality by Machinery

If the plans of a group of public spirited educators are carried out, there is soon to be a nationwide organization for teaching morality by machinery. The device used is none other than the familiar stereopticon—with slides that point a moral as well as adorn a tale. The idea has long been in practice in the schools of Baltimore, and, according to Superintendent Van Sickle, has been extended during four years to the entire United States; 150,000 boys and girls in schools and churches have seen these illustrated lessons in morals. The five sets of slides that have been used thus far are entitled "Gentleness," "Personal and national thrift," "The true sportsman," "What I am going to do when I am grown up and," "What men think about boys' fights."

It would appear that the men and women back of this movement have hit upon an excellent idea, for visual instruction has a peculiarly telling effect upon boys and girls.—From Success Magazine.

UNAPPRECIATED

The attorneys for the prosecution and defense had been allowed fifteen minutes each to argue the case. The attorney for the defense had commenced his argument with an allusion to the old saying of "let feet upon boys and girls."—From Success Magazine.

FOREVER (A FANTASY)

(By Emma J. Shanks)

"Ah love me forever" the roses say—But alas, that "forever" doth pass away, With petals and perfume down, The queen of the garden dieth alone.

"Love me forever" the lilies sigh, But ere even cometh they droop and die, And their weary petals of spotless white, Are lost in the darkness of the night.

The violet breathes—ah, her eyes are blue! "Oh love, forever to me be true!" But as smiteth the sun, in the golden west, So passeth the violet to her rest.

Forever! Ah, who in this world may tell, Whether or not it meaneth well! Tho' youth and beauty pass and age, Have written the word on the old earth's page.

On the lily, the rose, and the violet—all! At the dawn of the day, my madress fair, But where even cometh, ah! who can say? Where love in his laughter bath sailed away.

And so, as the flowers, bloom and die, Mankind in his passions passeth by, His bloometh on earth for a passing day, And passeth forever from life away. St. John, May 3—

THE TRAGIC DIFFERENCE

William was lying on his bed, feet downward, when he heard his mother took him in her arms, the whole eight years of him. In a few minutes she learned all. It was a girl, and she had sent him a note.

"Here, William!"

"I lay on my back but Henry gave me the most kind!"

NEW DEVICE TO REDUCE WORK IN FIRING OF ENGINES

(Montreal Gazette.)

Containing that increased efficiency in the running of their trains can be obtained only by perfecting their equipment, the C. P. R. has now under consideration a new device which will reduce to a minimum the amount of work in connection with the firing of engines on its lines. So far the new device has been attached to the coal bins of the tender, and in order to get it into a position where it can be shovelled into the furnace, it is necessary for the fireman to go into the tender and first shove the coal towards the cab of the engine. With this device the coal begins to get low, the pulling of a small lever in the cab of the engine lifts the floor to a greater angle than before, and the coal tumbles towards the front.

Mechanically the device is a simple one, but it is so simple as to its efficiency. The engineer and fireman in charge of engine No. 1011 stated that it worked perfectly.

Your Danger From Kidney Troubles

BEDS WHEN YOUR BACK ACHES.

Backache is the first and the sure sign of kidney disease.

When the back aches or becomes weak it is a warning that the kidneys are affected in some way.

Next to the heart, the kidneys are perhaps the most important organs in the body. It is a good idea to find out if the kidneys are affected, and the best system must be used.

On the first sign of backache Doan's Kidney Pills should be taken. They go right to the seat of the trouble, heal the delicate membranes of the kidneys and make their action regular and natural."

Mr. E. J. Saulnier, Lake Annis, N.S., writes: "I take a great deal of pleasure in telling you of Doan's Kidney Pills. I was troubled with my kidneys for several years; my back was weak, I had terrible headaches, and was so restless I could not sleep at night. I commenced using Doan's Kidney Pills and in a very short time I was right and fit again."

Doan's Kidney Pills are 50c. per box or 3 for $1.25, at all dealers or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

If ordering direct specify "Doan's."

Eastport, May 1—A ripple of excitement was apparent along Water street on Friday night and Saturday morning, when it was learned that the grand jury which has been sitting at Calais during the past week, had found indictments against several of the liquor dealers in this city and the presence of several of the deputy sheriffs on Saturday morning caused many of the "wine merchants" to have urgent calls to Campobello, N. WOMAN FALLS DOWN AIRSHAFT AT FIRE

Fatally Hurt and Husband is Crazed—Thrilling Rescues at New York Conflagration

New York, May 3—One woman was mortally hurt and a fire panic of exciting proportions swept through the six-story apartment house at 1654 3rd avenue when a blaze in some rubbish filled the house with smoke at 5 a. m. There were several thrilling rescues.

The ground floor of the building is occupied by stores. Twenty-six families live in the front and rear apartments. The dumb-waiter shaft is of hollow tile and fireproof in the middle of the building. The smoke, however, rushed up the passageway and frightened the sleeping tenants.

On the sixth floor lived Edward Dugan and his wife. They were aroused by the cry of fire, and could easily have escaped by the fire escape, but instead they lost their heads and attempted to reach the roof of an adjoining building which was just below them.

In making the leap, Mrs. Dugan struck some telephone wires and fell feet first down the airshaft, where she was found unconscious a short time later. The woman's husband gained the neighboring roof, but when he learned that his wife had fallen, he tried to jump from the building, and would have done so had not policeman Kronbitter, who had gained the roof by means of the stairway, prevented him from doing so.

Dugan became crazed and was removed in a straight jacket just as his wife was carried through the cellar to the pavement in front of the house, where the last rites of the church were administered by Rev. P. T. Talbot. She was hurried to the Presbyterian hospital.

Hugh O'Connor, his wife and two small children live on the sixth floor. They had never been in the country long and had never seen a serious fire before. Standing on the lintel of the window, she could have taken the fire escape, but had lost her head and was about to jump. Someone shouted for her to wait. Meantime Otto Ruhl, a rigger, living on the sixth floor, had forgotten the fire escapes and jumped to a roof four feet below one of his windows. James Fitzgibbon, an old, and when he got to the edge of the roof saw the perilous position of Mrs. O'Connor.

George Cunningham and Timothy Manning, tenants of the same house, rushed into the O'Connor apartment, not policeman Fitzgibbon then got a firm grasp of the roof on the adjoining house and told Cunningham to climb to pass him the woman and children.

Two feet intervened between the building on which the O'Connors stood and the eight-inch lintel on which Mrs. O'Connor was being held. A large crowd watched the man as he got to the woman over the four feet of space from her window to the roof. Cunningham and Manning then passed the children over in the same way.

Other tenants of the building had also become frightened, and one woman and her 9-months old baby were found nearly overcome by smoke. They were carried down the fire escape to a place of safety. The fire was soon extinguished, the loss probably not exceeding $150.

It is said at the Presbyterian hospital that Mrs. Dugan will die. Her husband was taken to the same hospital in another ambulance in a straight-jacket and was reported to be improving.

Children who need corporal punishment at school are those who receive it at home. If parents refrain from the rod and the strap, teachers will be spared the agony of such treatment.

A CONSERVATIVE PROTEST

(Victoria Colonist, Conservative.)

In a monthly periodical called "The Empire Trader" the leading editorial begins with this sentence:

"One result of the efforts which are being made to bring about a reciprocity agreement between the United States and Canada has been a renewal of the statement that certain of the Canadian public resent the predominance of the home government in all imperial affairs, and that under such circumstances they would welcome a political union with the United States, as well as a tariff union with their neighbors of the United States."

There are some people in the Mother Country who cannot write about beet sugar or West India molasses without losing in something about the King or telling us how we can best promote imperialism. If some one speaks of the possibility of building up a market for horse-shoe nails in Canada, the suggestion serves as a text for a dissertation about kith and kin beyond seas and the relation of daughter colonies to their imperial mother.

In regard to the quotation from the Empire Trader it is hardly necessary to say that there is absolutely no foundation for such an absolute misrepresentation of the Canadian people. Any alleged feeling that the United Kingdom has too great a predominance in the affairs of the Empire is a fiction invented by some preferential creature who hopes to serve some purpose of his own by making sensational statements.

The Reciprocity Meetings

St. John: St. Andrew's Hall, Monday evening, May 8, Hugh Guthrie, M. P., South Wellington, Dr. Michael Clark, M. P., Red Deer, and Dr. B. Neely, M. P., Humboldt, (Sask.), and other speakers.

Woodstock: Opera House, Tuesday evening, May 9, Hugh Guthrie, M. P., and F. B. Carvell, M. P., and other speakers.

Sussex: Saturday evening, May 6, Hugh Guthrie, M. P., Dr. Neely, M. P., and Dr. D. H. McAllister, M. P.

Fredericton: Opera House, Saturday evening, May 6, Dr. Michael Clark, M. P., and other speakers.

THE VISITING SPEAKERS

Hugh Guthrie, E. C., M. P. of South Wellington, whose striking speech on reciprocity in the House of Commons some weeks ago was one of the outstanding features of the debate, is one of the strong men of the Liberal Party. He was elected to the House of Commons first in 1900 and has been re-elected at each election since. His constituency is South Wellington, which was represented by his father before him.

Dr. Michael Clark, who entered the House of Commons in 1908, is one of the ablest men in the west. He was born of English and Scotch parents in Northumberland, England in 1861, and educated at Edinburgh University. During the last seven years he has engaged in farming and ranching in Alberta. Dr. Clark bears thinking and effective speaking gained immediate rank at Ottawa as one of the most valuable men in the House.

Dr. Davis Bradley Neely, M. P. Humboldt, (Sask.), is an Ontario man by birth. He was formerly in the Saskatchewan legislature but resigned to run for the House of Commons in 1908 and was elected. He is one of the most popular, eloquent, and active of the strong Liberal group from the West.

These meetings will give electors in important New Brunswick centres an opportunity to hear this great question discussed clearly and intelligently by men thoroughly acquainted with the needs of the country and the effects of the proposed trade agreement. It is an opportunity of which all fair-minded men should be quick to take advantage.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION IN LIGHTNING STORM

Scranton, May 2—In an electrical and wind storm last night a girl was killed by lightning and an unidentified boy had his skull fractured by a falling sign. Four houses were blown from their foundations, a score of persons injured by flying glass and dozens of plate glass windows were shattered. The machine shop of the Finch Foundry Company was demolished by lightning, hundreds of trees were uprooted, electric wires and trolley cables blown down and at least 100 homes and business places damaged by wind or lightning. The property damage it is estimated will pass $100,000.

EGG-LAYING RECORD

Spokane, Wash., May 1—Twenty-four "eight months" old Plymouth Rock pullets, owned by George E. Peters of Sandpoint, Idaho, produced 2,436 eggs the last four months, thereby eclipsing the record made in New York, where a prize of $5,000 was awarded recently to the owner of a flock. The Idaho pullets averaged more than 20 eggs each the last 30 days. Eugene W. Sims, a resident of Sandpoint, also claims a record for his flock of 21 hens, which laid 428 eggs in March. Poultry raising is rapidly becoming an important industry in northern Idaho and eastern Washington and other parts of the Inland Empire, where the output amounted to $9,000,000 in 1910, in addition to which it is estimated that more than $8,000,000 was paid for poultry and eggs produced in Minnesota, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and other states in the central west. One hundred and fifty cars, or 1,800,000 dozens of eggs, were imported into Spokane last year to supply the market demands of the district, the population of which is estimated at 625,000.
