TWENTY MILLION DOLLARS

About To Be Invested in Niagara Property—The Storm's Victims.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22.—The Express this morning prints a story of the proposed investment of $20,000,000 of capital in property north of Niagara Falls. The scheme is said to be the handling of Canadian freight. The capitalists who are said to be behind the enterprise are such men as John Jacob Astor, William K. Vanderbilt, W. Seward Webb, J. Pierpont Morgan and others.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 22.—A telephone message from Kameche, a small town on the Grand Trunk railway, fourteen miles from Sarnia, stated that four bodies had been washed ashore there. Nothing is known here of any boats having gone ashore near that place. The crew of the bark Montgomery, ashore above here, or the Canadian side, were taken off and landed here. The bark is in bad shape, being full of water.

MORE BOUNDARY NONSENSE

The Washington Liar Writing Wide of the Mark on the Alaska Question.

Buffalo, N. Y., Nov. 22.—A special to the Evening News from Washington says: The United States has been compelled to abandon the contention as to the exact location of the 141st meridian between Mount St. Elias and the Arctic ocean. It appears now that this country is almost brought to the point of open hostilities with Great Britain on the question of the boundary line between Alaska and British America because of the action of the chief of the coast and geodetic survey distributing the patronage of his office. When the present chief of the bureau, W. W. Durfee, was installed he found in the employment of the service Mr. McGrath, surveyor. McGrath had been assigned the duty of running the line of the 141st meridian, which is the boundary line always recognized.

He had completed the field work, but had not worked out his notes when dismissed. That portion of the work was given to other men in the office. In the meantime the Canadian engineer surveyed the meridian and established the Canadian line 7 and 31.10 miles west of the presumed line of McGrath's. The boundary, according to the Canadian authorities, was west of the mining settlement known as Forty Mile. No one could understand how the surveyors were so wide apart. Although they worked with chronometers and sextants, and without the aid of a definite survey of the coast, it was declared that they ought not to be a hundred feet apart. The notes and proved his line and that located by the Canadian engineer are in reality 22 feet apart, and now the Canadian line is acknowledged to be approximately correct. This means, apparently, that the 141st meridian of Alaska, north of Mount St. Elias, has been definitely determined. But it leaves the town of Forty Mile in British territory. The question of the location of the southeast line of the boundary is still in abeyance, and continues to give the administration a great deal of trouble, especially as the British insist that the city of Juneau, including the United States custom house, is within their territory.

Denver, Colo., Nov. 22.—Jos. Murray, United States commissioner of fisheries, Alaska, and special agent of the treasury, passed through Denver en route from Alaska to Washington, having been summoned by the president to report upon the boundary survey, which has been causing international interest for the past month. In an interview to-day he said: "The published reports of the excitement in Alaska, of British seizures and the building of forts, are all a bore. There will be no trouble. There are no forts building, and there is not a brick within one thousand miles of our territory."

DEBS OUT OF JAIL.

The Labor Leader Serves Out His Term of Imprisonment and is Released.

Great Demonstration at the Prison To-Day to Welcome the Martyr.

Debs Will Deliver an Important Speech on the Labor Question To-Night.

Chicago, Nov. 2.—Eugene V. Debs became a free man again at 12 o'clock last night. Debs finished his sentence in about the same condition, both mentally and physically, as when Sheriff Eckert took him in charge 183 days ago. He is the same earnest and magnetic champion of organized labor as in days gone by, his genial disposition not having suffered in the least by his enforced confinement.

He explained this last night while sitting in the Sheriff's office at Woodstock by saying: "I have been sustained by the consciousness that I was paying a penalty for doing what I conceived to be my duty."

There was a big demonstration to-day at the labor organizations in the city had delegations on the special train for Woodstock. Besides these there were many sympathizers with Mr. Debs who went along to swell the crowd and make an imposing demonstration. When they reached Woodstock jail to meet the labor leader on his release from prison, the delegation with bands of music, formed a procession, marching from Woodstock depot to the jail. There was an informal greeting there and Mr. Debs in a carriage was escorted to the train, which will arrive in Chicago about 7:30 o'clock.

The trades unions will be at the depot in a body. Then a procession will be formed, parade through the streets to Battery D. At Battery D Mr. Debs will deliver an address which will be an important utterance on the labor question. He will speak for two hours. His address, which has been prepared with much care, is awaited by the laboring men with considerable interest.

JUMPED DOWN TO DEATH.

Girls Leap from the Fourth Storey of a Burning Building.

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 22.—This morning a disastrous fire broke out in the Exchange building at VanBuren and Market streets. Several persons were injured by jumping from the fourth story. Nellie Turner, Kittle Landgraf and Fanny Nell all jumped into the street and may die from their injuries. As soon as the presence of the fire was made known panic reigned everywhere, and before some of the girls could be restrained they had climbed out of the windows and jumped. One of the first to appear at a window was Nellie Turner. She screamed for help. Some one on the ground called jump. She did not do this, however, but left the window. A moment later another girl appeared near the fire escape. She climbed out on the sill, clung to the fire escape and commenced to descend. Officer Flaherty was also on the fire escape between the first and second stories, when he saw the girl above him and started up to aid her. He was too late; she lost her balance and fell to the street. The officer tried to catch her, but failed. She was picked up almost unconscious, and the stimulants which were administered failed to revive her. The entire loss exceeds half a million dollars.

ATHLETIC PATROLMEN.

Chicago to Introduce a Physical Culture Police Department.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—Chicago's policemen are to be trained to be athletes, and if the plans of Dr. Joseph Hawley, medical director of the civil service commission, carry, they will soon be able to compete physically with the "Trained Bobbies" of Scotland Yard. Dr. Hawley has secured the consent of both Mayor Swift and Chief Badenoch of the police department, to the introduction of a system of athletic and drills in the department, extensive in its scope, and tended to make active, athletic, brawny men of the officers. The system is to be introduced in the next ten days in every police station in Chicago, and within two weeks there will be a well-equipped gymnasium provided for the exercise of the men. Dr. Hawley will also distribute a pamphlet on hygiene for policemen and they will be questioned on its contents at regular intervals. The principal object of this is to reduce the enormous sick roll of the two departments, which is now a serious menace to their effectiveness. It will contain all sorts of rules for the proper care of the body of men doing the kind of work done by policemen and firemen. The Chicago police department will be the first to inaugurate such a system. The only thing that approaches it anywhere is the system in vogue in Scotland Yard, London. Here the officers have a trained boxer, who assists them in the development of their muscles. Every man is an amateur boxer and this system has proved so advantageous that the men were able to do away altogether with clubs, which have for years been used as a means of punishment in the hands of policemen. It is a very simple matter. Dr. Hawley and others interested in the plan for Chicago hope to be able to accomplish the abolishment of policemen's clubs in this city eventually.

THE UNION PACIFIC FLYER.

Reduces Time Between Chicago and the Coast to Three Days.

San Francisco, Nov. 21.—The Pacific limited train which left Chicago at 6 o'clock last Sunday evening via the Chicago & Northwestern, Union Pacific and Central Pacific, arrived here at 8:45 last evening, reducing the running time between the two cities to practically three days, instead of three and a half days. The roads between Chicago and San Francisco have reduced their westbound schedule from 16 to 14 hours, and the reduction on the Central Pacific between San Francisco and Ogden amounted to about half an hour, the greatest saving of time is on the Union Pacific between Omaha and Ogden, amounting to six and a half hours. The new train, which is composed of the vestibule sleepers and dining cars, gives the fastest regular service ever established between Chicago and California. The new train made an average speed of between 50 and 60 miles an hour over the Union Pacific through Nebraska, and from 35 to 35 miles while ascending the grade to Sherman.

ANOTHER SACRIFICE AVERTED.

With Saturday's Lesson Before Them Motorists Are Criminally Careless.

Cleveland, O., Nov. 22.—A narrow escape from another frightful bridge disaster occurred at 2:30 o'clock this morning on the Superior street viaduct. Three street cars were waiting for the draw to be closed. While the motorist was waiting for the draw to swing over they deserted their posts and were gossiping among themselves, when the rear car started up at a lively rate. With a terrific crash the car struck the one ahead, smashing the dashboards on both cars, but the car did not stop there. No one had yet shut off the current, and both cars were forced forward against the first car. Luckily the brake on the latter was set tightly. Nevertheless, the car driver forward only stopped within a foot of the closed draw.

SPURIOUS COIN—IN WINNIPEG.

Four Men Arrested—Ontario Drummers After Clean Haul.

Winnipeg, Nov. 22.—A considerable quantity of spurious American coin has been circulated in Winnipeg recently. The police were notified of the fact, and early on Wednesday morning four men were taken into custody charged with issuing counterfeit money. The ring leader of the gang is supposed to be George Anderson, who was arrested at Pembina yesterday on information furnished by the Winnipeg police department.

Thanksgiving day was spent here in a variety of ways. Church services were held generally throughout the city. Football was played in the afternoon, and curling on the ground being the first game of the season. There were entertainments in the evening.

Halifax, N. S., Nov. 22.—Hill & French's lumber mill at Ship Harbor, Halifax county, was burned yesterday. Loss $70,000. Insurance $20,000.

Cobourg, Nov. 22.—Edward Scarlet, for over 40 years school inspector for Northumberland county, is dead.

Toronto, Nov. 22.—A deputation of commercial travellers waited on Provincial Treasurer Harris to-day asking that an inspector be appointed to look into the sanitary condition of hotels throughout the province.

Ottawa, Nov. 22.—An unknown man was found to-day lying dead in a ditch on Merrivale road, near the city, with a mark upon his face and a bullet hole in his head. He had on an overcoat, in the pocket of which was found a dead squirrel. He is supposed to be a highway robber. There have been several robberies in this locality lately.

Beirut, Syria, Nov. 23.—Rev. Dr. Cornelius V. A. Vandyck, the translator of the Bible into Arabic, and acknowledged by experts to be the greatest Arabic scholar in the world, is dead. The cause was the primary cause, hastened by an organic trouble with which Dr. Vandyck suffered during the latter years of his life.

While Dr. Vandyck was known throughout the civilized world as the translator of the Bible, he also translated many other valuable books into Arabic. The last great work he accomplished before he died was the translation of General Lew Wallace's "Ben Hur" into Arabic. This work was completed shortly before his death, and most of it is yet unpublished. The Turkish authorities are trying to obtain possession of it in order to destroy it, as they object to its publication. The result is that the book will not be published for some time, and when it appears it will be in some country outside of Turkey.

Vanhuskatten, D. C., Nov. 23.—That Sultan Abdul Hamid II. is making efforts to quell the disturbances in the various provinces of Turkey and intends to hold his subordinate officials strictly to account for future disorders, is confirmed by the following cable message received by the Turkish legation here to-day: "All news about plots against his imperial majesty the Sultan are absolutely and entirely false. I transmit you below the text of three telegrams that have been sent to the valis and to the military commanders of those provinces whose troubles lately took place, and I beg of you to give them the widest publicity:

"First—A telegram addressed to the governors-general of the vilayets of Trebizond, Erzeroum, Bitlis, Van, Diarbekir, Mamouretou-Azis, Sivas, Adana, and Aleppo, dated November 15: 'The commanders of brigades, in detaching flying columns for the repression of disorders will send out a proclamation to the people, in order to advise those who are under arms against the legal authorities of their country to give up their seditious plans and abstain from all acts directed against the high wishes of his imperial majesty the Sultan. The commanders will have to deal immediately and by force of arms with those who do not obey these injunctions. They will also try to prevent by all possible means the high points all movements of the brigades, if murders or insurrectionary acts take place suddenly within the sphere of evolution of a flying column, said commanders will have to pursue immediately, and without giving any preliminary warning, the authors of those crimes. The commander in chief of the Fourth imperial corps will help with his troops the commanders of the brigades under his orders, with the view of securing the success of their task. The department of war has been instructed to transmit telegraphic orders as above to the muhich and to the commanders of the said imperial corps. The line of conduct of the civil authorities towards the agitators having already been shown by telegrams, according to an imperial decree, you will have to make to the proper parties all recommendations in conformity with said telegram before the sending of troops for the repression of disorders. The above dispositions having received the imperial sanction, the needful instructions have been sent to the department of war and to the other valis. I request you again to conform yourself to the same as regards your vilayet. Our august sovereign's determination is that order shall be restored immediately in all disturbed parts; that life, honor and the property of every one shall be safeguarded, and that all acts contrary to justice and equity shall be prevented. You will watch day and night to secure the realization of the said imperial determination by putting a stop to disorder without delay.

"Second—A telegram addressed to the valis of Van, Bitlis, Erzeroum, Aleppo, Diarbekir, Trebizond, Sivas, and Mamouretou-Azis, dated November 17: 'Although repeated instructions were given you with the view of adjusting in your vilayet all necessary measures for preventing all possible troubles and all shedding of blood, and of forbidding as well that one class of the population attack the other, or that acts contrary to justice should occur, such cases continue, however, to take place. One of the most important duties of the valis being, according to the formal orders of his imperial majesty, the Sultan, to secure public peace in the provinces, I hasten to warn you that if, after the receipt of the present telegram, there should occur acts like fires, seditious movements, perturbations of public order or shedding of blood, such an omission of duties could not by any means be forgiven, and would carry with it grave and absolute responsibility. Such responsibility falling also on the mount-sariffs and caimacams, you must also put yourself in accordance with the commanders for the adoption of the necessary dispositions. You will principally look with the greatest care after the consulates and foreign subjects, in order to place them out of any danger and to avoid any motive for complaint on their part. All guilty parties should be arrested and punished according to the law. You will telegraph in plain words every twenty-four hours to the department of war, to the grand vizier and to the imperial palace the situation of the vilayet.

"Third—A telegram addressed to the marshal of the Fourth imperial corps and to the military commanders of Aleppo, Bitlis, Adana, Trebizond, Sivas, Mamouretou-Azis, and other parts of Asiatic Turkey, dated November 17: 'The explicit will of our august sovereign being that the tranquillity of the country should be maintained, more than ever, and in a more efficient manner, and in order to prevent absolutely any such acts as fires, revolutionary movements, shedding of blood, or attacks upon the part of, or against the population upon the other, or against the consulates or foreign subjects, the necessary instructions have already been transmitted to the functionaries of the civil administration. In conformity with an imperial decree, the imperial military authorities shall put themselves in accord with the valis and mount-sariffs in order to secure public peace and to see that the officers and soldiers of the military regulations, abstaining carefully from all acts tending to cause complaints. Any disobedience of the above, or any neglect or any proceeding contrary to discipline, will entail grave responsibility.'

FRUIT GROWING ON THE COAST

Professor Robertson's Views—Prospects of a Large Inter-Provincial Trade.

Lord Aberdeen's Fruit Farm—An Object Lesson to British Columbia.

Ottawa, Oct. 29.—Prof. Robertson, Dominion Dairy Commissioner, has returned to the experimental farm after having been absent for six weeks in British Columbia and the Northwest Territories.

On the Pacific coast, where everything except floods have been discouragingly quiet for a few years, things have taken a turn, and the better times and hopeful spirit which pervade Vancouver, Victoria and New Westminster are spreading into the agricultural districts.

How do you account for it? Well, the travelling dairy has been abroad in the land and the people are getting better butter to eat and more of it. Did you ever note what an antipathy to depression, despondency and pessimism there is in exquisitely good butter? No, then you need to eat more of it on bread from No. 1 hard and find that it is materialized sunshine.

You mean publish "good news"? Certainly, that is the gospel of bread and butter. Are you going to do any special dairy work in the west? Yes. One of our travelling dairies have been visiting nearly all the agricultural districts in British Columbia and will continue at work there until the end of this week.

The meetings have been well attended by farmers and their wives and great interest has been shown. As yet there is only one co-operative creamery in the Pacific province and two comparatively small cheese factories. The dairying has been carried on chiefly in Great Britain, similar to the practice in home dairies. The farmers of the province do not produce enough butter, cheese, eggs, bacon and other concentrated foods to supply the demands of the population.

The imports are mostly from Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. In the spring of the year and early summer low priced and inferior butter is sent in considerable quantities from California and other States, notwithstanding the duty. Next year I expect to see much enlargement of the production of butter in the province.

Did you stay with the travelling dairy in the west? Only a short time at three different places. I visited the agricultural exhibitions at Victoria, Mission City, Chilliwack, Kamloops, Vernon and New Westminster. I also addressed meetings of farmers at several other places.

At these exhibitions I had excellent opportunities of seeing the quality of the farm products in the different localities. Potatoes, carrots and other vegetables were unappreciated by any one. The appearance and the appearance and quality of some of the fruits was most creditable. An impression prevails—it certainly had clung to me from its frequent expression—that while the fruits of British Columbia were nice-looking in color, shape and size they were inferior in quality, coarse-grained and deficient in fine agreeable flavors.

Where will they find a market for their surplus fruit? In Manitoba and the Northwest Territories. The supply for the people of that vast territory comes mostly from California and the other States, but the superior quality of British Columbia fruit and the reasonably low prices of freight—last fall it was $1.12 1/2 per 100 pounds—will enable British Columbia to capture the markets.

quite as much, and more, satisfaction from the eating than in the other case, and the dollars would be in Canada besides. They would go around through every avenue of circulation and make better times.

Is the area suitable for fruit culture in British Columbia sufficient for the great plains of the west? I think so, with a great deal to spare. Climatic and other conditions make the people living on the plains crave succulent fruits, and they will become larger and larger consumers of fruit per head as they get better off; but the yield per tree and per acre in British Columbia is enormously larger, and there are thousands and thousands of acres where apples and plums will be grown successfully.

The experimental farm at Agassiz has given an impetus to fruit-growing and much information and guidance to fruit growers in the province. Mr. Sharp, the superintendent there, is playing a most important part in the progress of the province; and the general plan and equipment of this branch farm are another tribute to the comprehensive skill of Director Saunders in devising and adopting means whereby each of the branch experimental farms can best serve the interests of the farmers in the widely different and distant parts of Canada where they are situated.

Did you visit the fruit farms of the Governor-General in British Columbia? Yes, I spent several days in the Okanagan valley. His Excellency's main ranch is in Coldstream, about four miles distant from Vernon—a thriving place of some thousand or twelve hundred people. Of the number of the people I am not sure, in fact, nearly every budding place in the west, even before it flourishes into a blooming place, is a city with a prospective population a few thousand larger than is the residential one.

But Coldstream is a beautiful place. Over one hundred acres are planted with fruit trees, many of which are just coming into bearing. To my eyes, although not those of an expert fruit grower, excellent foundation work has been done. The other branches of the ranch are hop culture and the raising and feeding of cattle. At the Grimsbach estate, some forty miles further down the Okanagan valley, the plan includes the joining of dairying to fruit culture. Some thirty or forty of the neighboring farmers gathered to a meeting in the house at the Grimsbach place one evening; and there, as well as in other parts, I learned that British Columbians are watching Lord Aberdeen's doings as a farmer with a keener interest than they follow his movements as Governor-General. His place has much power of service for the encouragement and guidance of other farmers; as well as great opportunities for a consistent and wholesome advertisement of the agricultural resources and possibilities of the province.

Did you come direct from British Columbia? No, I stayed there for the agricultural exhibition at New Westminster and then stopped off at Calgary. I went up the Calgary & Edmonton line and addressed meetings of farmers at Red Deer and Innesfall. At both places there is a co-operative creamery, and farmers are generally going into the kind of farming which enables them to feed their crops to some kind of live stock. The altitude of the land is about 3,500 feet above sea level—and the distance from the seaboard makes the growing of grain for sale risky as to the ripening of the crop and unprofitable in the price that may be realized. With the raising and feeding of cattle and swine the case is quite different. In these cases, joined to dairying in co-operative creameries, they can do very well. Feed costs very little, and not more than 10 per cent. of the value of butter is absorbed by transportation charges from Calgary to Liverpool. I stayed one day at Moose Jaw, where we have a branch experimental dairy station. Travellers who pass the place by railway call it a bare, dry, inhospitable district. It does not look particularly promising as a dairy country, but our creamery there will turn out over $10,000 worth of butter this summer, and from reports which I received I am confident that the output next summer will reach 100,000 pounds of butter.

Then you have confidence in the future of what is now western Canada? Certainly; wherever a cow thrives there men will do well. That is one of the best means of diagnosing suitability of climate and soil for a prosperous agricultural community. The fine crop of grain throughout Manitoba and the west is late in being harvested and threshed. Perhaps less fall ploughing than usual is being done, but the frequent rains of the fall have put more moisture into the soil and subsoil than for several years. That is one very promising factor in the outlook for next year.

What kind of weather did you have in the west? Fine, warm and agreeable nearly the whole time. I met only two west winds, and one of these was when I had a chance of a holiday to go fishing on a lake in the mountains. It rained as only a British Columbia sky can rain. Never mind how many fish I caught. It rained hard enough to drown some of the trout that slipped off the hook into the bottom of the boat.—Toronto Globe.

BENNETT'S NOTE TO BOGGS. Tacoma Bank Receiver Wants to Sue For the Full Amount. Tacoma, Nov. 23.—Receiver A. R. Titlow, of the Bank of Tacoma, has asked leave of the superior court to file an amendment to his suit against Nelson Bennett to recover $65,000 balance on a note. Mr. Titlow states in an affidavit that the credits on the note, which was drawn originally for $10,000, amounting to about $50,000, were made by the transfer of capital stock in the bank by Mr. Bennett to the bank. This was done in February, 1894, and the receiver alleges that the bank at that time was insolvent and the transfer therefore void. Permission was given to amend the complaint, and the receiver will sue for the full amount of the note.

THE RIFLE COMPETITION

Victoria Garrison Artillery Rifle Association in Hold a Meet at Clover Point.

The Prize, who Won Them and How They Did it Very Successfully.

Thanksgiving day was spent by the members of the Garrison Artillery Rifle Association at Clover point range inaugurating what is sure to be a series of rifle matches that will before next fall place the annual association matches among the best in the province. The weather was delightful, but a light, puffy wind bothered some of the old shots and many of the younger ones. There was a large number of members of the battalion and great interest in the matches was shown. Lieut.-Col. Prior was on the range during the day. Col. Wolfenden acted as range officer in his usual pleasant and satisfactory manner. The citizens contributed to the prizes, which were as follows: To equalize the competition the members were divided into three classes.

The ranges were 200, 500 and 600 yards, and the grand aggregate of these ranges for each of the above classes made twelve matches. In the evening the hall a large number watched the representation of the prizes by Mrs. H. G. Ross to the winners, at the close of which Senator McInnes made a very neat speech, in which he congratulated the members of the battalion upon their enthusiasm and success, shown at the competition. A vote of thanks to those citizens who contributed prizes was passed.

Captain Blanchard presented his prize, a chair, to the sergeants' mess, while the surgeon regaled the men with a barrel of beer.

A VICTORY FOR VICTORIA

The Redoubtable Hornets of Nanaimo Are Defeated by the Victoria Team.

Grand Game of Rugby Played at the Black Diamond City Yesterday.

All those who journeyed to Nanaimo yesterday to watch the football match between Victoria and the Nanaimo Hornets, and they were numerous, agree that it was the best and most hotly contested match they have seen for some time. The day was as fine as anyone could have possibly wished for, and there was a big crowd of spectators, about one thousand in all. The ball was kicked off by Victoria at 3 p.m., the visitors playing towards the town. The ball kept on centre field for about ten minutes, when Segre, breaking away, made a fine run up the field and through a good pass to F. Smith enabled the latter to get a try, which Petticrew failed to convert, it being a very long kick. Time 3:10. Nanaimo soon after they had kicked off to convert, a free kick, which took the ball down to the Victoria 25, and a series of scrummages took place right on the Victoria goal line, lasting for about ten minutes, when the Nanaimo half made a good pass out to English who was prevented from scoring by Scholefield and Miller, the latter touching down in defence. The ball was well returned by J. Riley after Victoria had kicked off from the 25, which resulted in a scrum close to the Victoria goal line. Here Spain made some good play, but eventually S. Wilcox, for Nanaimo, managed to just get the ball over the line, thereby obtaining a try for Nanaimo, which F. English failed to convert. Soon after half time was called, score one try all, strongly in Nanaimo's favor.

At 3:40 play continued when Miller got the ball from Smith and with a good run and kick compelled Nanaimo to touch down in defence. For some time the ball went backwards and forwards from one 25 to another, till Victoria was awarded a free kick, which F. English returned well. The ball kept in centre field for some time, Spain, Macleod, Petticrew and Gamba, who were forward from Victoria's goal line, Petticrew later on got offside in Nanaimo's 25, they taking a free kick, which made things look black for Victoria, as the Nanaimo forwards followed up the well and a scrum was the result five yards from Victoria's goal line. The Nanaimo forwards got the ball through the scrum and over the line, but Scholefield, through plucky play, managed to touch down in time and save a try, the being at 4 p.m. The Nanaimo's charged, Petticrew's kick and the ball still remained in Victoria's 25. Here F. Smith played well. Miller the ball being well in Victoria's 25, did some grand play and dribbled the ball through down to the Victoria goal line, closely followed by C. Bamford, of Nanaimo, scoring a good try amid the cheers of the Victoria spectators. Petticrew again failed to kick a goal, and play continued for about five minutes when time was called, score 6 points to 3. The team yesterday proved itself about the best that has ever represented Victoria. All the three-quarters played well, with one exception. The full back and halves also put up a grand game, the forwards, although weak in the first half, took all before them in the second. Of the players individually Miller and Segre played the best game, ably assisted by Smith, Scholefield, Petticrew and Gamba. Honors in the forwards were equally divided. Mr. Billinghurst as referee gave general satisfaction. This is the first time the Nanaimo team has been beaten. The only time they have been beaten, Victoria holding both victories to its credit. To-morrow the second eleven of Victoria play Victoria College on Caledonia grounds at 2:30. The names of the teams will appear to-morrow.

IRVING'S IDEA OF MACBETH.

He Defends the Role of Lady Macbeth Before Columbia College. New York, Nov. 22.—Sir Henry Irving delivered an address to the students of Columbia College on the "Character of Macbeth." Sir Henry began by saying: "The generally received opinion regarding Macbeth has been that of a good man who had gone wrong under the influence of a wicked and dominant wife. The tradition has been in force for many years and was mainly due to the powerful portrayal of the character of Lady Macbeth by Mrs. Siddons, whose strong personality lent itself to the views of an essentially powerful and dominant woman, and, as the play was not given as often as might have been expected, the tradition flourished without challenge of any kind, save now and then some scholarly comment which practically never reached the masses. I think we shall find that Shakespeare in his text, gives Macbeth as one of the most bloody-minded, hypocritical villains of all his long gallery of portraits of men instinctive with murder."

Sir Henry then, by quotation of lines and lucid argument, proceeded to defend Lady Macbeth, and said: "It is quite possible that Macbeth led his wife to believe that she was leading him on. It was a part of his hypocritical character to work to her moral downfall in such a way. We see a similar instance of his hypocrisy in the scene in the first act, when the witch salutes him with the new title of the Thane of Cawdor, he answers 'The Thane of Cawdor lives, a prosperous gentleman.'"

The summing up of Sir Henry Irving's idea of Macbeth was clear cut, and not devoid of poetic idea in itself. "A poetic mind on which the presages or suggestions of supernatural things could work; a nature sensitive to intellectual emotion, so that one can imagine him, even in his contemplation of bloody crimes, to weep for the pain of the destined victim; self-torturing, self-examining playing with conscience so that action and reaction of poetic thoughts might send emotional waves through the brain whilst the resolution was as grimly fixed as steel and the heart as cold as ice; a poet sensitive in power of words with vivid imagination and quick sympathy of intellect; a villain, cold-blooded, selfish, remorseless, with a true villain's nerve and callousness, when brazened to evil work and the physical heroism of those who are born to kill; a moral nature with only sufficient weakness to quake momentarily before superstitious terror, a man of sentiment and not of feeling. Such was the mighty dramatic character, which Shakespeare gave to the world in Macbeth."

FILIBUSTERS FOUND

An Expedition of Cuban Patriots From New York Arrested on Landing.

Important Insurgent Instructions Issued to the Island Sugar Planters.

Stories of Spanish Reverses and Small Losses on the Insurgents' Side.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 22.—Official information has been received here of the capture of the filibustering steamer Horsa and the arrest in Cuba of the principal members of the expedition. A dispatch from Havana states that on Sunday a boat with five passengers and crew arrived from Aguaduros, six miles from Santiago de Cuba. They said they were fishermen from Jamaica, but afterwards admitted that they were on the way to join the rebels and had thrown overboard their arms when discovered. Their names are Fernando Rodriguez, Francisco Zaldívar, Manuel Harrota, and Leonardo Venet, all Cubans. As soon as the foregoing names were identified here as well known members of the Cuban colony in New York, who had left that city secretly on the night of Saturday, November 9, and boarded the steamer Horsa off Cape Barnegat.

In view of the seizure of the steamer Horsa at Kingston, Jamaica, and the capture of five leaders, and the expected capture of others, the details of the expedition are made public. The reports received here show that after a public meeting of Cubans held in New York on November 8, the filibustering party rendezvoused at the junta headquarters, of Broadway, each man carrying a bundle supposed to contain arms. Later the party met at a wharf, where a tugboat was in waiting. A piece of cloth was nailed over the name of the tug. It is claimed that the tug moved through New York harbor without lights and endangered shipping there. In the morning the Horsa was met off Cape Barnegat, and the passengers, forty in number, transferred. The Horsa had sailed from Philadelphia, claiming to be bound for Port Antonio, Jamaica, but was regarded as more than ordinary importance, as it was commanded by General Francisco Carrillo, with Colonel Jose Aguirre second in command. Both of these officers have been prominent in the diplomatic negotiations with the United States concerning Cuba. They were in prison in Havana when the rebellion began, and were set free at the request of the American consul at Havana, Mr. Williams, on the ground that they were American citizens. On being released they came to the United States. General Carrillo was captured at Wilmington, Del., as one of the alleged filibusters captured there, but was acquitted. With Aguirre he planned the Horsa expedition and took command of it. After the party had sailed no secrecy was made of the details of the expedition, and it is from publications of the junta as to the names of the party that the five arrested in Cuba have been identified by the Spanish authorities as members of the New York expedition. The arrest was made by a Spanish corporal and his men on the Cuban coast. After landing part of the men the Horsa was chased by a Spanish warship and sought shelter at Jamaica, where the British authorities seized her.

Following is a copy in translation of an order, believed to be authentic, and issued from headquarters of a portion of the insurgent forces operating party in Santa Clara and partly in Matanzas: "Liberating Army of Cuba, Fifth Corps of the Army, First Brigade.—In accordance with orders of the provisional government, and to the end that no one may allege ignorance, I hereby make known to the sugar manufacturers, cane planters and proprietors of these plantations under my command: "First, the buildings and canefields of all plantations will be considered and respected, provided no work is given to any able-bodied laborer, nor the operations of grinding commencing. Second, when there are no fortifications, no forces located in the same for their protection. Third, a term of ten days, to expire on the 12th inst., is hereby granted for the substitution of all work, if commencing last spring and the bonching of C. W. Mock, who had filled the position for several years, was gone into at length. From the testimony of Maj. Oliver, president of the bank, and unlately president of the school board, and from that of Deputy Prosecuting Attorney Shackelford, Director Lawshe, of the board, and Mr. Mack, it was proven that Mr. Taylor used his influence with Mr. Oliver to have Votaw elected. Mr. Oliver said it was intimated to him that it would be a good thing for the bank if Mr. Votaw, who was at that time a member of the finance committee of the council, was chosen secretary. The city's deposit at the bank was over $100,000 at the time. Mr. Shackelford testified that he and Mr. Taylor had visited Mr. Votaw and requested him to resign, giving him to understand that a place would be provided for him either at the court house or the city hall. Mr. Votaw did not resign, although Mr. Votaw was elected over him, and is still out of a job.

HE LOOKED LIKE DURRANT

The Man Who Was Seen With Eugene Ware the Night Ware Died.

A Deaconess of the Shelter Home Saw Him and is Pretty Positive.

Sister Julia, the manager of the Sheltering Arms Home, is strongly inclined to believe that Theodore Durrant knows something about the murder of Eugene Ware, says the San Francisco Examiner of the 17th inst.

Her theory is not based on speculation, but on the fact that near midnight on December 13th she left a man in the St. Nicholas pharmacy, who bore a striking resemblance to the murderer of Eugene Ware. She had the man in the store while Ware was waiting on her. She did not know his name nor could she in any way ascertain his identity. She thought it rather strange and a rather peculiar circumstance that all the people who were in the store that night were the same as those who were in the store when she left. He kept in the background and made no statement to the police. Sister Julia is interested in rescue work and is frequently at the city hall. Every one knows this little woman. She managed to keep track of what the police were doing with the Ware case. But at that time no one knew of her suspicions.

It was not until Theodore Durrant's picture appeared in the papers as the supposed murderer of Eugene Ware, that Sister Julia was reminded of the man she had seen in the store on the night of the 13th of December. Sister Julia feared that the newspaper cuts might be at fault, and in order to satisfy herself she went to the city prison to see Durrant.

In the meantime she had told what she suspected to her friends and the information was given to the police in some way Durrant heard of the story, and when the little deaconess called on him at the city prison he refused to see her. But Sister Julia had the entrance of the jail, and made up her mind to see the prisoner when he consented or not. She went up to the cell where Ware was confined, but he turned his back and kept his face averted as long as she remained in the vicinity of the cell. Sister Julia went away without being able to accomplish her purpose, but the next day she returned. Her success was no better. After several other attempts she gave up the effort.

The second day after the opening of the Lamont trial, Sister Julia was in Judge Murphy's court. She had a good seat near the prisoner, and during the proceedings had a favorable opportunity to watch him. It took but one searching glance to convince Sister Julia that Durrant was the man she left with Eugene Ware on the night of December 13th—or was, at least, his exact counterpart.

Mr. and Mrs. Durrant also heard about the deaconess, and when she appeared in court Mrs. Durrant sent her a message asking her to remain until after the adjournment and have a talk with her. The mother did not approve of the policy of her son. She was willing to be gracious. She was eager to be reconciled. She was some length and told Sister Julia she was mistaken.

Durrant evidently thought his mother's tactics commendable, for he proceeded to adopt them. He expressed a desire to see Sister Julia. The deaconess was quite as ready to talk with him as he was to converse with her. As soon as a convenient opportunity presented itself she went to the Broadway jail and paid him a visit. She stayed for half or three-quarters of an hour, and came away more than ever convinced that Theodore Durrant was the man she saw in St. Nicholas pharmacy the night Eugene Ware was murdered.

When seen last night Sister Julia was reticent about the affair. "I don't want to be mixed up in any murder cases," she said; "I have too much else to do. I don't like the idea, anyway. I have had a police officer refer me for a while, and I can tell you I did have a time with the detectives. I have also had a number of talks with Capt. Lees about the subject. "I went into the store some time ago about 11:30 and made a considerable stay. When I entered the store Durrant, or his counterpart, was there talking with the clerk, Eugene Ware. I asked Ware for something I wished to purchase. When I first went in I was attracted by the peculiar appearance of Ware's companion. He had the same face as Durrant. The high cheek bones, the long look from here," running her fingers from her forehead to her chin. "You know what that peculiar look is—that heavy countenance and odd-shaped head? Well, the young man I met in the drug store was the same. It was his uncommon appearance that attracted my attention. "He had his hat off, and you see I had a good chance to scrutinize him. He had an umbrella or cane in his hand. I think it was an umbrella. On the head of this umbrella I saw the same twirling it round in a nervous sort of way. "As I entered the store a woman passed me on her way out. There was no one in the store when I went in but Ware and the young man. They were alone when I went in. I do not remember when I left, but it was quite late. "In speaking of her attempts to see Durrant at the city prison Sister Julia said: "I can't imagine why he was so averse to seeing me unless it is that he is re-

NO REACTION IN BUSINESS

Business Men Who Bought Stocks in Advance Must Wait for a Demand.

Dun's and Bradstreet's Review of Week's Trading—Bank Clearings in Canada.

New York, Nov. 22.—R. G. Dun & Co., in their weekly review of trade, say: Reaction in business there is none. Efforts to explain it or attribute it to this or that temporary influence are all wasted. In every business men now perceive the fact many times noted in Dun's Review, that the purchases in advance of current distribution, which were made when prices were booming, involved the necessity of a season of halting, when the rise stopped, and until the actual demand for consumption has been measured. When stocks bought in advance of consumption have been worked off, men will be able to judge what final distribution is to be expected, and meanwhile prices are depressed by the selling of the quantities bought for speculation by the pressure of stocks for which consumers have not yet been found, and by the idea that prices may still go lower.

Products are lower, without disturbance or sign of panic. The more sober estimates of wheat months ago were 80,000,000 bushels or more above the government guess, and now a reputable estimate of 475,000,000 bushels creates little remark. Western receipts were 23,415,874 bushels in three weeks, against 12,314,674 last year, and these receipts are so persistent that prices have again declined about one cent, and Atlantic exports, flour included, are slightly less than a year ago, for three weeks 4,768,745 bushels, against 4,840,214 last year. Corn declined half a cent farther. Pork products also have reason for weakening. Lard 15 cents, 100 pounds and pork 25c per barrel.

The cotton market has been assisted all the week by small receipts and remarkably stiff statements of scarcity, and has gained a sixteenth, though some think that the short receipts were deliberately organized by planters. In this country the cotton manufacturer has fared better than in most others, escaping an excessive rise and the result from the decline.

The opening of clay worsted by two leading mills at advanced prices has not yet been followed by others, and it is doubted whether foreign prices after London wool sales next week, will be helpful. Lapham prizes have been opened at a reduction of from 10 to 15 cents, with large orders, while some heavy and keener are quoted higher. A reduction of 2 1/2 cents on Sloan tapes has stopped the expected advance on carpets, and Lowell ingrains open at last year's prices, which Philadelphia makers consider too low for operations. Iron and steel products are lower, averaging one per cent and seven per cent from the highest. Bessemer anthracite No. 1 and Baring are quoted lower, while sales below quotations are frequent. There is competition for orders, most works having little ahead, and new business is remarkably small.

Leather is weaker, although only one class is quoted lower, but Chicago hides have again declined about two per cent, and average relatively lower than leather or shoes. Failures for the week have been 320 in the United States, against 320 last year, and 42 in Canada, against 31 last year.

London, Nov. 22.—The stock markets were idle to-day, pending the settlement which will commence in mines on Monday. The tone opened firm, but became flat, and closed a trifle better. There is again a nervous feeling about the coming settlements, and names are freely bandied about, but, as cabled yesterday, the bears are now strong, and gloomy rumors must not be too greatly relied on. Amalgams were dull but quiet, with a nervous feeling about the coming settlements, and names are freely bandied about, but, as cabled yesterday, the bears are now strong, and gloomy rumors must not be too greatly relied on. The markets in Paris opened good to-day, but grew nervous later, and the closing was dull. The Berlin market was quiet, with few changes from yesterday's prices.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The report of the minister for foreign affairs shows that the export trade of France has increased 108,000,000 francs for the first quarter of 1895. This is said to be greatly due to the effect of the Wilson bill.

A semi-official warning of unusual nature has been issued to the effect that a group of foreign speculators is attacking successfully each of the large French credit establishments with a view to damaging the public credit. It is reported that a manoeuvre of this kind will be attempted to-day, and it is announced that it will not be executed with impunity.

Washington, Nov. 23.—D. N. Morgan, the treasurer of the United States, in his annual report on the operations and condition of the treasury, says the net ordinary revenues of the government for the fiscal year ended June, 30th, 1895, were $218,300,007, an increase of $15,968,055, as compared with the year before. The net ordinary expenditures were $250,195,298, a decrease of $11,329,981. Including the public debt the total receipts on all accounts were $720,916,625, and the expenditures $710,472,157. A further sum of $31,157,700 was deposited in the treasury prior to the end of June, on account of a purchase of gold coin to maintain the reserve, but was not formally covered in and, therefore, does not appear in the account for the current fiscal year.

New York, Nov. 22.—The engagements of gold for shipment on Saturday exceeded the most liberal estimates, yet that fact did not cause activity in today's stock market; it also failed to impart special weakness. As a matter of fact, the speculation could legitimately be termed a negative one.

In only a few stocks was there even an approach to animation. London was again a victim of American securities and the late news from the leading foreign financial centres indicated an unsettled condition of affairs. The early announcement of gold engagements, amounting to $3,000,000, together with the foreign developments influenced a

SOVEREIGN ELECTED AGAIN

The Socialist Knights of New York Overwhelmingly Defeated.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Knights of Labor general assembly to-day received a telegram from August E. Gans, of Chicago, for the American Railway Union, saying: "Your resolution on the decision of the United States supreme court expresses the feeling of the masses."

The proceedings took a sensational turn this afternoon, growing out of some very harsh criticism passed upon various local assemblies by the general officers. This afternoon in executive session District Assembly No. 49, of New York, retailed with charges of general mismanagement against Grand Master Workman Sovereign, whereupon the latter resigned. But the majority of the delegates sided with Sovereign, and after a very heated debate he was triumphantly re-elected. His majority was ten votes in excess of the two-thirds vote.

To-morrow the assembly will act upon a proposition to enforce a general boycott against the Lorillard Tobacco Co.

CLEVELAND'S CATASTROPHE. Inquest on the Victims of Saturday's Car Accident Begun.

Cleveland, Nov. 22.—At the coroner's inquest in the central viaduct tragedy, August Rogers, motorman of the ill-fated car which plunged into the river, testified that the conductor ran ahead when the car stopped at the safety switch and signalled "all right." He stated that the glass in the vestibule was blurred by rain, and he did not discover that the bridge was open until the car was within thirty feet of the gates. He then turned off the current, set the brakes and jumped. He testified that he saw no red light, and believed that if there had been one displayed he would have seen it. He admitted that he had been misled by the fact that the electric light of the car set the brakes and jumped. He testified that he saw no red light, and believed that if there had been one displayed he would have seen it. American News. San Francisco, Nov. 22.—The Merchants Exchange has a message from the steamer City, Oregon, stating that the steamer Handerville is ashore on South Emery bar. The captain has been drowned, but his body has been recovered.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Second Lieutenant Chester M. White of the revenue cutter Bear has resigned from the revenue cutter service. His action is in connection with an unpleasant feature of the Bear's cruise to Behring Sea, of which so much has been said. White is the officer who made the active fight against his superior officer, and it was he who carried the signatures of officers who deemed Captain Healy culpable.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—E. V. Debs spoke at the Central Music hall last night. Most of the leading labor organizations were present. A large number of Debs' friends gave him a most enthusiastic reception, and when he stepped from the train here he was carried on the shoulders of men to the hall, about a mile distant. The speech delivered by Mr. Debs was received with great applause.

Detroit, Mich., Nov. 23.—A warrant was issued to-day for the arrest of J. Blair Simpson, one of the justices of the peace of this city. He is charged with attempted criminal assault upon Mary A. McAulay, 22 years of age.

Yankton, S. D., Nov. 23.—South Dakota officials have completed the appraisal of Defaulter Taylor's properties and find there is still a shortage of $140,000. His bondsmen have to make this up. Actions will be commenced against them at once.

Ligonier, Pa., Nov. 23.—A saw mill boiler at Mark Bros. mill, located two miles east of here, exploded last night, instantly killing John Clark, aged 21 years. Aaron Mark and Martin Campbell were fatally injured.

Somerville, Mass., Nov. 23.—City Engineer Horace L. Eaton, under municipal investigation for alleged irregularities, committed suicide by shooting himself this morning.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Details of the ceremony on the elevation of Mgr. Satolli to the cardinalate, are practically completed. The ceremony will occur on December 15, at the cathedral at Baltimore. Archbishop Kain, of St. Louis, will preach the sermon.

The demand for Ayer's Hair Vigor in such widely-separated regions as South America, Spain, Australia, and India has kept pace with the home consumption, which goes to show that these people know a good thing when they try it.

shading of all prices at the opening. The African speculation was almost devoid of significance. The actual engagements of gold for to-morrow aggregate $3,100,000 in bar and $1,500,000 in coin. An amount of $50,000 in bars, ordered to-day, had not been withdrawn up to the close of business.

Exports for the week will foot up to $7,350,000. All of Saturday's output will not be reflected in the treasury reserve until Monday next, neither will the full loss to the banks be indicated in to-morrow's statement of averages of New York associated institutions. Leading bankers express the opinion that a continuation of the gold export will tend to harden the rates for money. Up to the present time, however, there has been no symptom of increasing strength in the market for funds. At the same time the demand has been very light. The tendency of stock speculation for some time past has militated against activity in money. In the closing in some of the industrial shares, some activity was apparent, and imparted a heavy tone at the finish.

Bradstreet's report the week's clearings for the Dominion of Canada: Montreal, $11,029,958; increase, 3.7. Toronto, $5,298,003; increase, 13.0. Halifax, $1,023,444; increase, 11.8. Winnipeg, $1,644,491; increase, 20.5. Hamilton, $717,258; increase, 21.2. Totals, $19,713,124; increase, 8.5.

A sharp decline appears in the volume of bank clearings as reported by Winnipeg, Hamilton, Toronto, Montreal and Halifax as was to be expected with the week short one day, Thanksgiving day. The decrease amounts to more than 20 per cent, from last week, but a gain of 10 per cent, from the corresponding week last year, and 25 per cent, as compared with the week two years ago, but her, 1892, and 25 per cent, as compared with a decline of about 16 per cent, as compared with the third week of November with the like week in 1891.

The leading distributing centres in the Dominion all report a check in the volume of business early in the week, due to the mild weather and a tendency to improvement later. The logging industry has been aided by rains in New Brunswick.

Larger jobbers at Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton and other centres regard as favorable the prospect for trade in the Dominion after the holiday season. There are 42 business failures reported in the Dominion this week, as against 45 last week, 24 in the week a year ago and 39 two years ago.

McInnes & McInnes, barristers and solicitors, have opened a branch business at Wellington. Mr. Foster is engaged in organizing an orchestra composed of some talented musicians.

The Nanaimo-Alberni Mining Company, of this city, have received official information of the sinking of the preliminary shaft down to bed rock, and the discovery of seven feet of gold-bearing gravel.

This shaft with the greatest difficulty was sunk through a strata of the hardest cement, under which was found the gravel and then the bed rock.

The gold discovered is of a copper color, while the other sample is what might be termed, for want of a better expression, the bright natural color of gold.

Experts state that the indications in this shaft are almost identical with the indications in the rich mines of Cariboo. The prospect has given the company sufficient encouragement to attempt to sink a proper working shaft to the pay level, the work on which has already been commenced, and will be energetically prosecuted during the winter.

The first of the present year between the Barber and Hainship of England, 1900, the winner of a victor, was won a boat length.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

NANAIMO.

(From our own correspondent.) Nanaimo, Nov. 22.—The death of Captain Charles Honeyman from heart enlargement took place at his residence on Wednesday afternoon. The deceased was generally considered a hale and hearty man, but on Saturday night last he was taken suddenly, and never rallied. The captain was a genial-hearted man, and at all times ready to assist in any good cause; he was always prominent in work of reform, political and otherwise, and his presence will be missed at many a gathering in the future. He held the position of Lloyd's agent for Nanaimo, and also the position of Stevedore. He was well known to all manners visiting this port, and his manners visiting this port, and his manners visiting this port.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at 2 o'clock, at the residence of Mrs. A. E. & A. M., of which deceased was a prominent member.

The steamer Esperanza left on Thursday morning with a hunting party consisting of W. K. Sloan, R. Hindman, and Sloan and W. Vanhouten. The vicinity of Qualicum will be cleared out of game.

eral service was conducted by the Rev. Mr. Winslow, Rev. Mr. Mannel and Rev. E. Wilson, incumbents of Salt Spring. The coffin was carried with wreaths and crosses, sent by sympathizing friends, one beautiful wreath being sent by the Union Lodge. She was buried in St. Mary's churchyard. To her family her death is an irreparable loss, as she left eight little ones, the youngest but a few weeks old. A faithful wife, a kind mother, a true and generous friend, her loss will be felt in the settlement for a long time.

ENGLISHMAN'S RIVER.

(From our own correspondent.) Englishman's River, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Florence Davis, of Beauséjour, French creek, left on the Joan for Victoria. In consequence of her long and severe illness, Mr. Davis has decided to board the children for the winter and take a complete rest. It is stated that she has disposed of her beautifully situated ranch and thinks of taking another on Denman Island. In that case the settlement will be one of its most amiable, clever and hospitable ladies.

Mr. D. McMillan is recovering from his dangerous sickness. Mr. Andrew Hirst is putting a large addition to the store and postoffice.

Early in the morning of the 19th instant, two barges left Englishman's river for Wellington, and at noon the quiet wedding ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Cooper, which united Miss Lizzie Andrews, of Birmingham, England, to Adam Berkenstock, formerly of Michigan, U. S. The bride was given away by her sister, Mrs. Joe Hirst. Mr. William Harris acted as best man. The bride arrived from England this spring to visit her sister, from whom she had been separated nearly ten years ago, and only by accident discovered to be living. Miss Andrews, by her sterling good qualities and kind heart has made many friends here, and Mr. Berkenstock is to be congratulated on his choice of a partner for life. A number of friends met at the residence of Mrs. J. Hirst to welcome the happy couple on their return and wish them joy. The boys expressed their sentiments by saluting the house of the bridegroom with rifle shots about midnight on Tuesday and on the following day. They intend bringing a surprise party on Saturday, when there will be a dance, and all will enjoy themselves in true colonial fashion.

There are 20 men, whites and Japs, working on the Lacey and brick work, between 25 and 30 on the washer building, six with W. Laughlin on the wharf, and A. Pare has himself and two giants at the treble work at Union. J. Hancock, too, and his gang of trackmen are laying track, putting in switches, etc. T. Piercy is busy hauling earth and filling in along the masonry. Altogether it is a busy camp just now, and all are anxious for a continuation of fair weather, but the sky is lowering and the mountains to the southwest are covered with mist and rain clouds, so that we are, as it were, on the ragged edge of work and idleness. No man, however, need start at Union for this, as there is a fine clam bed available at low water, the bays and creeks are full of fish, which can be killed with pitchforks and clubs, and for those who can eat crow, any number of these sable treasures abound.

Charles Peterson, better known as Jesse James, accidentally shot himself recently up near Campbell river. While getting over a log he put the gun down in front of him as a kind of support. The trigger was caught in and pulled by the brush, exploding the gun and blowing off his right thumb, the bullet grazing his cheek. He came down to the Comox settlement for assistance and was attended by Dr. Millard.

Mr. Ralph Smith, of Nanaimo, addressed a large number of miners and others at Union in advocacy of organization among the miners. After the open meeting was over a miners' union was formed.

MCPHERSONS.

McPherson's Station, Nov. 22.—The South Cowichan hall at McPherson's was opened on Thanksgiving evening by a very successful entertainment and dance, about one hundred people being present. Mr. Gibbons, president of the South Cowichan Hall company, said a few words regarding the hall, and then announced that the entertainment would commence. The following gentlemen sang and were accorded in every instance Messrs. Fale, Gardom, Shallard, Todd, D. C. Livingstone, J. Rutledge, F. Rutledge, Taylor, Young, Stewart and Howie. Mr. W. P. Jaynes gave a very humorous cross between a recitation and a song. Mr. James Nightingale danced a very pretty step dance, which brought the house down. Mr. Bruce's solo on the violin was deservedly encored over and over again. Refreshments were served about nine o'clock. Sandwiches, cakes of all kinds, soups, coffee and fruit were passed and re-passed around until they went begging. Ed. Miller, with his ready-made speech (made by Bob Young), backed down. A huge pile of logs close by the hall, was set on fire at dark and turned right into day the whole night through. The entertainment came to a close about eleven o'clock and the lovers of the light fantastic danced to the music of Mr. Bruce's violin until three o'clock in the morning.

WELLINGTON.

(From our own correspondent.) Wellington, Nov. 25.—The general store business of Mr. G. A. Huff, at Alberni, has been brought out by Mr. E. Ratten, of this place, who intends running the business in first class style.

The collar Progressist, on its way from San Francisco, sustained severe damage to her bow plates and was forced to return. She will be replaced by some other boat until repairs are made.

Messrs. Maher Bros., of Nanaimo, are trying to form a plan whereby they can operate Wellington's opera house in connection with the Nanaimo opera house. If this is successful we will receive our share of theatrical troupes coming this way.

We are gradually improving. Dr. W. J. Curry, dentist of Nanaimo, has opened an office here.

Owing to some difficulty in deciding on the amount to be paid Mr. Dummit by Mr. Jordan for a right of way through Mr. Jordan's property, Dr. O'Brien was appointed as umpire and awarded the sum of $150. Mr. Jordan has now a complete right of way to Nanaimo Bay and will shortly commence shipping coal.

At the regular meeting of the Wellington football team on Thursday it was decided to put a team in the field for the British Columbia championship, now held by the Union Lodge. She was buried in St. Mary's churchyard. To her family her death is an irreparable loss, as she left eight little ones, the youngest but a few weeks old. THE WORLD'S END IS NEAR Adventists Believe That the Turkish Crisis Foreshadows the End of the World.

They Base Their Belief Upon the Fulfillment of the Bible Prophecies.

Elwood, Ind., Nov. 22.—In an interview concerning the Adventist belief regarding the present Turkish troubles and their relation to prophecy, Elder W. H. Eberl, of Frankton, Indiana, one of the leading exponents of that belief, said:

"We Seventh Day Adventists believe the Turkish crisis foreshadows the end of the world, the destruction of its kingdoms and the second coming of Jesus Christ. We base our belief upon the fulfillment of the prophecy, and see it in the present movements of nations, the gathering together of the nations to fight the last great battle of the centuries—the battle of Armageddon. The Ottoman power, or Mohammedan power, is the one meant in the ninth chapter of Revelations, to which was to be given a power to torment men five months, or 150 years in prophetic time, when it was to kill men 301 years and 15 days. The Ottoman empire fulfills all these conditions, for it was founded by Osman, July 29, 1299, and for 150 years tormented men, when it became supreme until August 11, 1840. When the 361 years and 15 days ended its prophesied, when its power was dried up to prepare the way of Kings of the East, which was fulfilled when France, Russia, Prussia and England forced their ultimatum on the Mohammedan power August 31, 1840. Thus was fulfilled the first part of the vision of the sixth vial.

"The three unclean spirits were then loosed and went forth to deceive the nations, and they are spiritualism, nihilism and infidelity, and they are doing their work well. They are gathering the nations together to the great battle of Armageddon. The king of the south—possibly the English Power—after overrunning Egypt, Soudan and Turkey, will encamp in the glorious holy mountain in the holy land and the nations will be compelled to bring their mighty armies and munitions of war against this Power and will encamp in the plains of Armageddon.

"The nations are now moving towards that battlefield, and all their terrible implements of modern warfare will be there when the seventh vial is poured, when the battle of Armageddon, which is described in symbols in Revelations xvii:1-21, will result. The great city of the nations will be that tented field, and it will be divided into three parts—the Roman Power, the Mohammedan Power and the other Powers represented. The hall spoken of means cannon balls; the earth on the explosion of the batteries and the lake of fire and brimstone will be the battlefield itself. It will be a battle of annihilation, and the kingdoms of the world will go down to rise no more.

"The United States will probably not be represented in this battle, but it will be among the remnant left to be destroyed afterward. When this battle occurs, as it shortly must, its climax will be the second coming of Christ. The end of all things is even now at the door, and the nations cannot long struggle the Turkish complications, as the unrest of the nations is urging them on to bring about these things, for fear of which nations are trembling. The time is near, watch."

THE HOUSESMITHS STRIKE.

Likely to Throw 40,000 Men Out of Work in New York.

New York, Nov. 22.—Delegates of the housemiths and bridgebuilders are reported to have demanded that the delegates of all the other unions call out their men in all cases where non-union housemiths were employed in the event of being called upon to do so. The Iron League is said to contemplate a general lockout of all the union men employed by its members. Such action would throw 40,000 men out of work. The striking housemiths have caused the electric lights to be cut off on several large jobs of the J. B. J. M. Cornell and Milliken Bros., so that work cannot be carried on at night. The strike managers called on the hoisting engineers, derrickmen and plasterers on several buildings, and they quit work.

PRINCESS AND DRUMMER

New York Commercial Man Elopes With an Alleged Norwegian Princess.

And Make for San Francisco, Where the Defaultering Husband is Put in Jail.

San Francisco, Nov. 22.—Behind the arrest of Max Marx, alias Henry Martin, last Monday, on a charge of adultery, there seems to be a scandal which embraces two continents and a romance which reaches a family of royal blood in far-away Norway. At least this is so if any faith may be placed on the representations of the woman in the case, who is a handsome and buxom blonde with plenty of dash and money. Marx was formerly a drummer for the Lancaster Silver Plating Company, of Lancaster, Pa., drawing a salary of $300 a month. He was married to a Lancaster woman and the issue of the marriage consists of four children. About two years ago Marx became acquainted with a Norwegian woman in New York, named Marguerite Knudson, who, it is said, claims to be of royal Norwegian blood. Marguerite was then a woman of experience and of considerable means. The experience is said to have convinced her that she had found a man who had induced to desert wife and family for the sake of living with her. After she had acquired $40,000 or so of his money, so the story goes, he committed suicide in a fit of remorse and despair. The Knudson woman's season of mourning was, however, brief, for she seems to have found as ardent a lover in Marx as she had in the man who had grown weary of life. When he left New York on a business trip to Europe, Marguerite Knudson went with him, the two being known as Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin. They visited Paris, Berlin, Dresden, Vienna and other European cities before their return, living in a luxurious style. On coming back to the United States the "Martins" temporarily separated, she taking up her residence in an elegant establishment, which she furnished out of her own exchequer, and he, resuming the name of Max Marx, returned to his home in Philadelphia on business for the firm that Marx had eloped with the Norwegian princess and was on his way to California via Panama. As soon as the discovery was made steps were taken to arrest Marx, and he was arrested in Philadelphia here and for that purpose a correspondence was opened with Philip Bernard, a gentleman who has known Marx and his wife from childhood. "Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin" arrived in this port as passengers on the Pacific Mail Steamship City of Panama on the 12th instant and they put up at the Palace Hotel. "Mrs. Martin" is an attractive woman, has a well rounded figure, which is elegantly dressed in silks and laces and diamonds and other costly jewelry. When the couple arrived at the Palace she was accompanied by six large Saratoga trunks, which were loaded with her wardrobe. But a Kennedy was on the track of the guilty pair in the person of Bernard, who, after accumulating enough evidence to establish the illicit relations between Max Marx and Marguerite Knudson, decided to have the former arrested and prosecuted as a runaway for that purpose. It was intended to make the arrest on Friday last, but Marx was warned by someone of his danger and he and the princess suddenly disappeared from the Palace. Bernard discovered, however, that they had gone to Oakland and he finally found Marx there, told him what he was after, that a warrant was out for his arrest, and that it would be served unless he made suitable provision for his wife and children in Lancaster, who were in a delicate condition. Marx was apparently favorable to any plan that would relieve him from the odium of arrest and exposure, and is said to have sent $200 to his family. Bernard insists, however, that ample provision should be made for them. Pending the consummation of these arrangements for Marx's family, "Mr. and Mrs. Martin" came back from Oakland and were booked at the Baldwin. On Monday Marx became obstreperous and ugly and abusive, and he was placed under arrest and subsequently released on bail. Marx is now out on $250 bail pending his preliminary examination, which will take place next Monday. Since Marx's arrest, "Mr. and Mrs. Henry Martin" have left the Baldwin and "Mrs. Martin," otherwise the Norwegian princess, Marguerite Knudson has disappeared from town.

Grand Jury Presentation—Chinatown Gaming Cases.

The assizes were resumed to-day. Regina vs. W. R. Jackson, charged with keeping a common gaming house on Piquet street, was the first case. The case first came up in the police court in July 1894, but for one reason and another has been shelved until the present time. Four Chinese witnesses were examined by the crown, and Mr. Elyson, who appeared for the defence, said no case had been made out, and he would not call any witnesses. His Lordship advised the jury that there was not sufficient evidence on which to convict, and without leaving their seats the jury returned a verdict of "not guilty."

Regina vs. Lee Heng Yin also charged with keeping a common gaming house, is now being heard.

The grand jury handed in the following presentation: "Victoria, B. C., 22nd November, 1895. To Hon. Mr. Justice Drake: 'Sir, We, the grand jury, beg to congratulate your lordship on the light accorded before you at the present assizes. In the early days of the province it was generally the custom of the grand jury to bring to the notice of the presiding judge such matters as had been brought to their notice in the interest of not only law and order, but other complaints of a serious nature, but now in these days, municipal and provincial government relieve us in a great measure of the responsibility of the grand jury. We would be pleased to see the city authorities make more strenuous efforts to suppress gambling, as we have every reason to believe that this vice is practised in the city to an extent injurious to the morals of the inhabitants, particularly the young. The grand jury have visited the provincial jail, and were pleased to find everything in a satisfactory condition. Although not a public institution, the grand jury visited the Protestant Orphan's Home, which they found to be in a very satisfactory condition and worthy the support of the public.'"

PUGET SOUND MILITARY POST.

General Otis Again Recommends Magnolia Bluff, Seattle.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—General E. O. Otis, commanding the department of the Columbia, in his annual report to the war department, enters into a very elaborate account of the status of Indians who have taken up allotments of land in severalty, and also on the subject of the proper use of troops on reservations. These matters were made prominent in his department during the last year by the legal proceedings growing out of the arrest of Umattila Indians by the Indian police and their subsequent release by the Oregon circuit court. In the ground that under the allotment act they had become full-fledged citizens of the United States. General Otis says that this decision will be reviewed by the state supreme court, but if it is upheld the use of troops to quell disturbances among Indians who hold land under this tenure may be illegal. He holds that the legitimate use of troops in such cases must be understood by army officers, as these difficulties threaten to arise frequently, and the allotment acts are difficult to construe. He points out the grave danger involved of a conflict of state and national jurisdiction as evidence of the need of a carefully considered decision on this point. With this exception of this incident the year has been unusually quiet in the department. General Otis renews his recommendations of last year that the garrisons at Fort Spokane and Fort Sherman be consolidated in the principal continental posts abandoned; also that Fort Townsend be given up and its garrison moved to Mangonia bluff, near Seattle. He speaks of the necessity of a garrison on Puget Sound and of strong defensive works at Arrowstone point, assisted by fortification at Admiralty head and the bluffs in the rear of Point Wilson. Also fortifications at Double and Poughkeepsie bluffs and Tala point. General Otis says that the Indian population here is a trouble during the winter months, and that the department authorize him to send an interpreter and surveyor among the Columbia river bands to securely settle them on unimproved lands.

A USEFUL PUBLICATION.

U. S. Commissioner of Labor's Bulletin an Interesting Document.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Carroll D. Wright, commissioner of labor, in compliance with the law enacted by the last congress providing for the publication of a bulletin at stated intervals of the department of labor, issued to-day bulletin No. 1. The commissioner says he will limit the size of the publication to 100 octavo pages and issue it every alternate month. To-day's bulletin treats exhaustively of strikes and lock-outs in the United States during the thirteen years ending June 30, 1894, and strikes and lock-outs in Great Britain and Ireland during recent years, and the strikes in the principal continental countries during the same period. Ten thousand copies of each bulletin will be published and distributed gratuitously.

B. McQuarrie, and the secretary and general manager, G. W. Bailey, left the city. The former is said to have gone to Salt Lake and the latter to Seattle. Briefly stated, the company was organized as follows: By paying $2 initiation or advance fee and signing an agreement to pay $125 a month for an indefinite length of time, the investor was given a certificate. Herein the company promised to pay the sum of $1,000 to the owner of the certificate upon its maturity. By this it was explained was meant that as soon as $1,000 had accumulated in the proper fund in the company's treasury the certificate would be declared matured. It is

WILL OBEY MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Mrs. Mooney Triumphs Over Her Son-in-Law, Lord Sholto.

Oakland, Nov. 21.—There was no band of music at the sixteenth street station last night to greet Mrs. Mooney, mother-in-law of Lord Sholto Douglas, when she stepped off the train. Mrs. Mooney felt, however, that her home-coming was in the nature of a triumph. Her son, Thomas Addis, was on hand to meet her and to hear the news of her conquest from her own lips. "I feel that I have returned in triumph," said Mrs. Mooney last night. Lord Sholto has been subdued and he has promised to be a loving and obedient son-in-law. He was inclined to give me a battle when I first arrived, but he soon got over that and came to my terms. He has promised that in the future he will write me respectful letters. I won every point I made against him. In the first place I took him to task for writing me an insulting letter. He apologized for that in a most humble way and said it would never happen again. Then I demanded that he pay me the $20 he borrowed from me and he did so, and gave me a great deal more. I told him that I wanted him to allow my daughter to write me whenever she pleased, and he agreed to this. I simply had my way in everything. His lordship asked me what my terms were, and I told him and he agreed to them. Before I left we were the best of friends, and now I guess everything is all right. His lordship understands me better than he did a week ago. He asked me why I had his letter printed in the paper, and I asked him why he wrote it. That was all the satisfaction he got out of me. "I am sorry to say that his lordship is not a very well man. He took a bath yesterday and he was so weak after it that he had to go to bed and rest for a couple of hours. The poor fellow couldn't work, even if he had to. "He does not understand our ways. You see he was never brought up with any home life like the members of our family. He always had a tutor at his heels, and it was study all the time. He will know us better after awhile. But I am satisfied with the way the whole thing came out. I am glad we did not have to resort to violence to subdue him. "While I was in Los Angeles I found one thing that surprised me. I learned that my daughter really loves her husband. Yes, she is fond of him, and I did not know it before. Loretta really thinks the world of him, and I guess they will get along happily together. "So long as Lord Sholto treats me with respect there will be no trouble in the family. Now that I am home I do not want to be placed in the position of crowing over him. I am going to give him a chance to do better in the future. I guess he is man enough to keep his word to me."

THE CONVICTION OF TAYLOR.

Attorney For the Alleged Boodler Talks Of an Appeal.

M. M. Taylor, ex-president of the board of public works, who was expelled from his office last night by the city council, was not taken down to the city hall to-day. His chair was vacant and the case was closed. Mr. Taylor's trial was the sole subject of conversation at the city hall, and speculation was rife as to the successor of the deposed official. It was pretty generally conceded among city officials that Mayor Gray will allow the office to remain vacant until his successor is elected in the spring, on the score of economy. The mayor was asked about the matter, but declined to say what he intended to do. He did say, however, that if it is possible legally to allow the business of the city to be managed by two men, he was in favor of it. Attorney Frank W. Cushman, who put up a vigorous fight in defense of Mr. Taylor, says he will apply to the superior court for a reversal of the council's action.

A FIRE INSURANCE WAR.

Is Threatened Among the Companies Operating in San Francisco.

San Francisco, Nov. 23.—Another fire insurance war is threatening. Of six or three companies doing business in this city fifteen do not contribute to the supply of the fire patrol. The remaining forty-eight are divided, about half desiring to withdraw and abolish the patrol and account of the action by the patrol and fifteen. The other companies state that the patrol will be maintained at any cost, and if necessary they will resort to the obsolete system of placing a brass plate on buildings covered by them, and the patrol will be instructed not to engage in salvage where plates are not displayed. If this threat is carried out a bitter war will be precipitated, which cannot fail to spread broadcast.

THE SMUGGLERS' PICNIC.

Newfoundland Authorities Are Confronted With a Peculiar Trouble.

St. Johns, Nfld., Nov. 23.—The smugglers, whose release has been expected for the past few days, were offered their liberty conditional upon paying fines proportioned to their sentences and imprisonment, but they rejected these terms, insisting upon an unconditional release, as they claim they have all suffered at least a month's incarceration. The authorities are now in a quandary. They expected the offer would be eagerly accepted and they are now afraid that they will be compelled to release the prisoners next week, owing to the popular clamor, without obtaining any fines whatever.
