ARMIES WITHIN STONE'S THROW Japs and Russians Almost Clinched Again Another Great Battle Will Take Place on Shakhe River in a Few Days.

MUKDEN, Nov. 7.—The Russian and Japanese armies extending from Bentsiapute, east to the Liao River, west, at places are almost within a stone's throw of each other. At Bentsiapute not more than 400 yards separate the advance parties. At Huangshantze the Russian centre has thrown advance posts across the Shakhe river. Both armies are still strengthening their operations all along the line. The slightest movement on either side is the sign for firing which occasionally lasts all night. The Russians are using six-inch guns on the railway, which must greatly harass the Japanese. Undoubtedly the most decisive if not the greatest battle of the war will be fought in the vicinity of the Shakhe river. The Russians are confident of their ability to hold their positions. The soldiers are building mud houses for winter quarters. The nights continue cold but the days are bright and crisp.

RAISING THE VARIAG. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A Seoul, Korea, despatch to the Herald, dated Oct. 28, via Che Foo, Nov. 6, says: The efforts of the engineers to raise the Yalu, at which they have been working for six months have ended in a complete failure. At extreme low tide, powerful pumps were started in the presence of naval officers of all nations, but the pumps were quickly choked by mud and the attempt abortive. The officer in charge asserts that a new method will be used and another attempt made in a few days. He expressed determination to achieve success in spite of all obstacles.

JAP COMMUNICATIONS THREATENED. NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—A despatch to the Herald from Woonon, Korea, via Che Foo, Nov. 6, says that 15,000 Russian troops are south of Tumen river with 22 guns. Of this number, 6,000 of the main body are quartered at Kyung-sung, 2,000 along the coast in town garrisons and 4,000 cavalry are throwing out westward in small bodies, menacing the Japanese lines of communications and railway construction between Pin Yang and Woonon. The remainder of 3,000 are in small scouting detachments to the south. The Russian cavalry by long detachments frequently appears in the rear of the Japanese outposts within a mile of the gates of Hamhung. In an interview with a Russian officer occupying Hamhung, a small force of Japanese retiring to Kaksan Yung upon the approach of the Russians. The Japanese are provisioning Hamhung, where 5,000 tons of rice are quartered. Thousands of tons of army stores are being transported from Hamhung to Hamhung, a distance of 12 miles over an excellent road. The line of transportation is liable to interruption by raids of Cosacks, who a few days ago cut the telephone near Saho between Woonon and Hamhung. A thousand Japanese patrol the road right and day with strong support and give a total of Japanese forces on the east coast of well inside 5,000.

NATIVES MASSACRE SCORES OF SAILORS, Captain and Twenty-One Men of British Steamship Baron Inverdale Slain

LONDON, Nov. 5.—According to information from the Island of Perim, at the entrance to the Red Sea, an investigation of Massira Island, made by the Sultan of Muscat, shows that a boat crew, comprising the captain and twenty-one men which left the British steamship Baron Inverdale, which ran ashore at the Kuria Muria Islands reached Massira Island and were massacred by the natives there. Nine of the murderers have been arrested. The India Office confirms the report of the massacre of the captain and twenty-one of the crew of the British steamship Baron Inverdale. The vessel was wrecked and the Greek crew took to the boats. It is supposed they landed or were driven ashore in a monsoon. According to a despatch from Aden, Arabia, August 30 last, a boat containing the captain and sixteen members of the crew, which was ashore at the Kuria Muria Islands, off the southeast coast of Arabia, capsized and all the occupants were drowned, with the exception of one boy, who was saved by the natives. The Baron Inverdale was bound from Kurrachee, British India, July 27, for the United Kingdom or to a port of Europe.

DANIEL'S MAJORITY 1151; STOCKTON'S WAS 637. Declaration Day Proceedings Quiet and Uninteresting--No Speeches Made--Crocket's Majority in York Was 162.

The declaration proceedings took place at the Court House today, commencing at eleven o'clock. The city and county ballot was first declared and then the city ballot. The sheriff's task was an arduous one, for he had to go through no less than ninety-eight boxes. He was assisted by the deputy sheriff and the court constables. When the city and county ballot was declared Dr. A. A. Stockton made the following motion: "That a vote of thanks be tendered to the high sheriff for the fair and impartial way in which he conducted this election." H. A. McKeown seconded the motion, which was carried unanimously. The sheriff responded in a few appropriate remarks. He said that great credit was due to Deputy Sheriff Rankine, whose knowledge and experience of the running of elections wonderfully assisted in the present campaign. At the conclusion of the city ballot, Richard O'Brien moved a similar resolution, which was seconded by Dr. J. W. Daniel. There was only a small attendance at the proceedings. Following is the result of the recount:

THINKS PORT ARTHUR'S FALL WILL STOP WAR. (Special to Star.) MONTREAL, Nov. 7.—Consul General Noyes, of Japan, in an interview today, stated he believed the fall of Port Arthur would bring about the close of the war by intervention of the powers. Discussing the Dogger Bank outrage, he said it was undoubltly inspired by a desire to bring about the intervention of England and the holding back of the Baltic fleet.

ANOTHER GOVT. SUSTAINED. ROME, Nov. 7, 11 a. m.—Definite returns show that all the members of the cabinet have been re-elected. Former Premier Rudini, Baron Sonnino, leader of the Constitutional opposition, and Signor I. Prenteti, the former foreign minister, and Ferrer, the socialist leader, have also been re-elected. The government has been victorious over the extremists who had demanded a re-organisation against the general strike. This was the predominant note in the elections.

A MIXED UP ARRANGEMENT. Queer Plan For Accommodation of Horses in No. 1 Fire Station. Work has been commenced on two new stalls in No. 1 hook and ladder station for the horses that will be placed there when the chemical engine is moved and is placed in No. 2 fire station. As it is the entire arrangement is considered a farce. The new stalls are being erected in the middle of the barn floor having but a narrow passage all around them. There will be six horses on the floor; the socialist leader will only room to clean one horse at a time. One of the engine horses will follow the chief's horse and the other, one of the hook and ladder track horses will follow the chief's horse. It is not clear how the horses are to get into position as both come out on one side of the engine, the pole of which will almost meet the chief's feet. Another fault found with the arrangement is that in No. 2 station the hose cart will take the place now occupied by the steamer and as a result the horses for the hose cart will have to be let out after the chemical gets into and that will take considerable time.

U. S. ELECTIONS TOMORROW. And Both Sides Claim To Be Confident. The Populist Candidate Complicates the Situation in New York—Lively Fight in Mass.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—An extremely large vote is looked for in this city and state. Now that the speeches, except one or two to be delivered today, have been made, and all preparations for getting out and protecting the vote have been completed, both sides continue to express the utmost confidence in the result. An interesting feature of this year's campaign in New York is the canvass made by Theo. A. Watson, the populist nominee of the presidency and some attention was attracted to the day before election express confidence of success. Still there was a little relaxation in campaign activity. The Democratic leaders devoted their energies to making sure of a solid labor vote for W. I. Douglas for governor. Measures to one of the main campaign issues. Efforts were also being made to turn the socialist vote of about 25,000 into Democratic channels. The Republicans assert they will elect 12 out of the 14 congressmen from the state and the Democratic claim five. In the electoral college district the contest will be close. Eugene N. Foss, the leading exponent of reciprocal trade relations with Canada, is the Republican candidate opposed to Congressman John A. Sullivan. Each party claims that it will show gains in the legislature. CHICAGO, Nov. 7.—Nothing contained in the state report has materially changed the outlook for either the national or state ticket, the Republican leaders claiming a plurality of 15,000 for Charles S. Deneen, candidate for governor, while the Democratic managers give no figures but reiterate their confidence of success, laying more stress upon the presidential campaign than on the state contest. TOPEKA, Kas., Nov. 7.—Kansas is conceded to the Republican electoral ticket by a large plurality, but both sides claim the state ticket. RALPHIGH, N. C., Nov. 7.—The outlook for tomorrow is for a sweeping Democratic victory with majorities ranging for both state and national tickets near 60,000. CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 7.—The Republicans adhere to their claim that Ohio will give Roosevelt the largest plurality the state ever gave a president.

An Endless Table

That works like a large elevator belt and passes along loaded with coal between two rows of sharp-eyed boys, is one of the features of the modern mining equipment installed at the Springhill mines. As the coal is dumped from the mine over the screens and is carried along by these tables, the boys pick out all the shale and other impurities in the coal, and this makes Springhill coal one of the best prepared coals and adds much to its already high reputation for quality.

It is quick, clean and sootless. At Springhill, N. B., it is sold at $15.00 per ton; at $12.00 per chaf of 2800 lbs. delivered, cash.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION.

To-morrow, being the first Tuesday after the first Monday in the November preceding the March when the presidential term expires, is the date of the presidential election in the United States. And, unless all signs fall, the Democrats are in for a beating as comprehensive as that recently borne by the Conservatives in this country, and by the unfortunate opponents of the government in Newfoundland. This has been a bad year for oppositions. This side of the world generally is too prosperous to permit the growth of any notable revision of popular feeling against governments whose tenure of office has been fortunately coincident with the fat years.

To us the process which the American people are forced to go through in their choosing of a president seems most unnecessarily complicated. No voter has the opportunity of voting directly for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Parker. Instead he votes for men as members of what is called an "Electoral College," who in turn have the responsibility of selecting the men they think best fitted for the highest office in the land. That is, theoretically, for practically these presidential electors are bound to choose the regular nominees of the party which chooses them.

This year there are six of these electors divided among the various states, according to the number of senators and congressmen from that state. For instance, New York, having 2 senators and 27 congressmen, has the privilege of choosing 33 presidential electors. The Republican and Democratic tickets each contain the names of 33.

An elector, if elected, to cast their vote for Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Parker respectively. If the Republican ticket should be successful in that state 33 New York Republican electors will meet on the second Monday in January and cast their ballots for Mr. Roosevelt for president and Mr. Fairbanks for vice-president. The certificate showing the result of their voting will be sent to Washington, where, on the second Wednesday of next February, the president of the Senate with the two chambers of congress in session will open it, together with the certificates from the forty-four other states, will count the votes and will formally declare the persons having the greatest number, if such number be a majority of the whole number of electors, president and vice-president of the United States. This year the successful candidate must have at least 239 votes.

This roundabout process is further complicated by the possibility that the Populist, or the Socialist, or the Prohibitionist candidate may secure enough votes to deprive Mr. Roosevelt or Mr. Parker of a clear majority. In that case the choice devolves upon Congress. Should any of the candidates succeed Monday in next January, another party convention will be held and another candidate chosen for whom the already chosen electors would likewise be expected to vote.

According to what professes to be impartial forecasts, the Republicans are absolutely sure of the states of Iowa, Kansas, Maine, Massachusetts, Michigan, Minnesota, Nebraska, Nevada, New Hampshire, North Dakota, Ohio, Oregon, Pennsylvania, Rhode Island, South Dakota, Vermont, Washington and Wyoming, with a total electoral vote of 180.

The Democrats are equally certain of Alabama, Arkansas, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, Missouri, North Carolina, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Virginia, with a total of 162 votes.

That leaves 124 electoral votes which are not conceded to either party, divided as follows: New York, 33; Illinois, 27; Indiana, 15; Wisconsin, 13; New Jersey, 12; Connecticut, 7; West Virginia, 7; Colorado, 5; Montana, 3; Utah, 3; and Idaho, 3. Of these the Republicans in order to be successful must win at least 77. Republicans are claiming that they will have about 134 of them, making a total of 314 for Roosevelt in the electoral college.

A DISASTROUS VICTORY.

Since it was written that the Conservatives were to be defeated, it is more to their advantage than otherwise that the defeat was so overwhelming. It is not a good thing for the country for one party to be so predominant in parliament as the Liberal party is now; neither is it a good thing for that party. A great superiority of strength over what is needed to maintain power breeds over confidence, which breeds carelessness of the futility of criticisms of the opposition, of the opinions of the people generally and, finally, of the interests of the country.

During the last session the government gave evidence of having reached at least the second stage. With the increased arrogance which this new and greater victory will inspire in them it will not be long before the people become unmistakably aware that the third stage has been arrived at. Then something will drop.

In 1867 Sir Charles Tupper was elected to the house of commons by the constituency of Cumberland. He was the leader of the unionist or confederate party in Nova Scotia and was the only candidate elected on his side. The vote of his province stood only one better than it does today. But Sir Charles Tupper's public career was a Nova Scotia legend did not end at that time. He did not wait long to see quite a different representation from his province. Mr. Hildesden is very little older than Sir Charles Tupper was then, and he has the same right to expect a splendid career as a Canadian statesman.

The rate of Japan's progress in the science of war is well indicated by the fact that Great Britain, which only about a decade ago was sending soldiers and sailors to help the Japs create an army and navy is now seeking instruction at her pupil's hand. An army officer last week stated that four officers not above the rank of captain will annually be selected for two years' course of study with residence in Japan.

It is rumored that Mr. Costigan is to be called to the senate and that Mr. McKeown is to contest Victoria-Madadaka in the Liberal interest. Mr. Costigan carried the constituency by over a thousand and it is quite possible that Mr. McKeown, if the report prove true, might be elected. He is not very well known in that part of the province.

NEMESIS.

(By Alfred Austin). Still surging, surging, surging onward, down the bank we look before. Human billow-battalions rolling to war's insatiate shore. Curving, ever curving, reforming, ever replenished tide, Wending, they know not whither or why, to die as their kin had died. From woman's matron and weeping maid in famishing homes afar: Roofless, sleepless, heedless, lifeless. But sloughing the raiment of graceful peace, and winged with the scowl of war.

And grafting on thoughts and things that were the things and the thoughts that are. An angry people, impelled by wrath at smart of a triple wrong, Than doggedly dauntless yet dauntless more, than colossal strength more strong. Seals peaks and passes, and clamor up cliffs that only the thunder knows. Till the granite Moscovite ranks are shattered, and scattered like drift of snow.

And the strong young Scion of yet young Sire keeps watch, but with weariness faint. And British sentinels motionless stand at the fortress gates of the world. While Nemesis nears fraud-pilfered Port with Narrowing knots of steel. And the prowling Sloth skulks snowward more, with the feck of Fate at his heel! And high Heaven reigns Right Divine, still wields the sceptre and rod. And worshippers throng to Buddhist shrines, praying the will of God. Chateau D'Oex, Switzerland.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE.

Interesting Lecture by Bliss Knapp of Boston, Yesterday.

Bliss Knapp, C. S. B., of Boston, delivered an interesting lecture on Christian Science in the York Theatre before a fairly large audience. He was given a very attentive hearing and spoke for over an hour. C. N. Skinner occupied the chair and introduced the speaker. Mr. Knapp said that he had been one of the misapprehension common among the people of what Christian Science really was.

Rev. Mary Baker Eddy first discovered the Christian Science in 1825. This book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," is the recognized standard of Christian Science. The lecturer said that science and health with key to the Scriptures, is the inspired word of the Bible scientifically, drawing the line carefully between science and superstition or sentiment, so that reason is reconciled with revelation and the sick and sinning are healed in response to its logic.

The first church was started in Boston with a membership of twelve. At the present time there are more than 300,000 who look to Mrs. Eddy for light and leading. Speaking of Mrs. Eddy's writings the lecturer said they counteracted to a great extent the tide of evil engendered by the misleading and demoralizing literature with which the country is flooded, elevating the morals and bringing a spiritual uplifting that has destroyed in many an individual a suicidal intent because his truth has renewed hope and brought peace to the suffering heart.

HER $300 GIFT RETURNED.

BALTIMORE, Md., Nov. 5.—Among those who sent contributions for the relief of the sufferers by the great fire here was Miss Susan Travers, a daughter of the late William R. Travers, a noted wit and raconteur. Miss Travers sent a check for $300. Mayor McLane decided that outside aid was not necessary and authorized that that check be returned to the contributors.

Miss Travers was abroad and her check was only recently returned through General Allan McLane, brother of the late Mayor. The mayor's secretary, Harry W. Rodgers, has received a letter from Miss Travers, under the address of Newport, R. I., thanking him for the return of the check.

FOUND DROWNED.

Body of Peter McLaughlin Discovered in McAvity's Sloop.

On Saturday afternoon about a quarter past two o'clock Peter McLaughlin was found drowned in the McAvity's sloop. He left his home on the West Side, on Friday morning, crossing the harbor in the ferry. He was seen for the last time early Friday evening. It is supposed that he wandered down on the wharf and in the darkness stumbled and fell over.

SEEKS DIVORCE FROM WIFE NO. 6.

William T. Tolson, a Wealthy Kentuckian. Asks Courts to Make Him Free Agent.

OWINGSVILLE, Ky., Nov. 5.—William T. Tolson, a wealthy citizen of Campton, Wolfe county, has just filed suit for divorce from his sixth wife. He alleges incompatibility, her desertion and her refusal to support him.

Mr. Tolson is fifty-one years old and was first married when thirty. He soon obtained a divorce and married again, and quickly filed suit for divorce from his second wife. He has only been sued for divorce by one of his wives. It is said he was preparing to bring suit against his woman, but she anticipated his action.

Tolson and his former wives are good friends and he takes a new partner all the former wives are invited to the ceremony and wedding feast. When wife No. 5 died all the other wives attended the funeral in a body.

RAT AND LADY AVENGED.

Football Youth Kicks a Goal in Broadway With Quot Rebouand.

NEW YORK, Nov. 5.—A luckless rat wandered out of the basement of No. 121 Broadway at 1 o'clock yesterday morning, and on the sidewalk sat and gazed in awe at the array of white "Watch me make a goal," said one of three Columbia boys. His toe poked the unfortunate rat and it sailed through the air like a football. It dropped into the fur of a handsome blonde who was swinging down the street on the arm of a giant.

Her scream took the breath away from all Broadway with hearing. The giant dropped his fair lady, and in a second one, two and then three of the students who had kicked the goal were near to retreat. The rat had not lived to see.

NO USE IN THE DAIRY.

A salesman for a bicycle firm met a farmer to whom he tried to sell a bicycle without success. The salesman finally gave him up in despair but determined to use another effort on his return trip. A month later he made his way to the farm house, only to learn, to his disappointment, that his prospective customer had invested his savings in a cow—an act of folly upon which the salesman was moved to comment. "Why," he exclaimed, impatiently, "think how easily you might have ridden about the country on a bicycle! You'd look funny riding into town on a cow!" "Humph!" rejoined the farmer; "I reckon I'd look a darned sight funnier trying to milk a bicycle."

COST $40 TO PUNCH HIS WIFE'S ACUSER Willard Olive Got Some Satisfaction Assaulting William Cassidy, but it Came Pretty High.

Considerable time was taken up in the police court this morning in the hearing of the Olive vs. Cassidy assault case. It was shown that on Saturday morning Willard Olive, a resident of the West Side, waited for the ferryboat, and when he came along struck him, knocking him down and further assaulting him while on the ground.

Both men were represented by counsel; J. B. M. Baxter for the prosecution and J. B. M. Baxter for the defence. Mr. Baxter said that they wished to charge the defendant with assault and battery on the person of Cassidy and called Mr. Cassidy as the first witness. His evidence went to show that on the street; that Olive tried to hit him a second time and that in trying to avoid the blow he fell on the rough stones on the street with Olive on top of him. His assailant caught him by the back of the neck and jammed his face into the stones on the street. He showed out about the face as evidence of this. Just then two gentlemen came along and pulled Olive away. Olive had a stone in his hand.

Asked if he knew of any reason why Olive should attack him he said he did not. Further interrogation brought out the fact that Olive accused Cassidy of slandering his wife. Cassidy said that one or two years ago a Mrs. Smith told him that Mrs. Olive had gone on board a steamer soliciting contributions for the Salvation Army without authority, and he remarked if that was the case she was obtaining money under false pretences and was not a proper person to sit on the Salvation Army platform. All parties in the case are members or attend the army meetings. Cassidy told of Olive boasting of his strength and that he had once roughly handled a boy at an army meeting and said that on two occasions the army had investigated the trouble between them. The last was nine months ago, when he considered everything settled.

Mr. Holder, a sailmaker, and his son, said they were going to the ferry at the time. Saw the men fall to the street and separated them. Olive picked up a stone, but dropped it when asked to do so.

Olive took the stand on his own behalf and said that in consequence of what he had been told Cassidy had said about his wife he thought it was time to act. He struck him and when pulled away picked up a stone as he thought Cassidy had one in his hand, but dropped it when he saw that Cassidy did not pick up his hat.

Asked if he had not boasted that he got twenty dollars worth he said that perhaps he had, but he would go to jail for six months to avenge his wife. His honor said the matter was more serious than common assault and that under the act he could send Olive to jail for six months and longer, he considered a fine of $40 or three months in jail sufficient. A request was made to have Olive bound over to keep the peace, another member of the army saying that he did not feel safe. Olive was warned that he must conduct himself properly or he would be again arrested.

POLICE COURT.

A Mixed Assortment of Cases—Another Tanyard Gang on the War Path.

There were fifteen prisoners in the police court this morning including four women and a boy and the offenses ran all the way from common drunks to stealing aggravated assault and the keeping of bawdy houses. These arrests were all made since early Saturday morning and a number of them are yet to be disposed of.

The drunks were all fined eight dollars, with the exception of Thos. Maden, who in addition to being very full was disorderly in the I. C. R. yard on Sunday. He was fined eight dollars and two months for the drunk and eight dollars or thirty days for being disorderly.

John McCann and Mrs. Jane O'Dell, two of the drunks have only been out of jail a few days. McCann who lives on the City Road was arrested on St. John street Sunday. When asked where he secured his liquor he could not tell. Sergeant Baxter, who was in court, said, when arrested McCann was so drunk he could not talk and he had heard him speak since arrested.

William Foley, fourteen years of age, was arrested on Sunday charged with stealing and wounding Joseph Gilbert by hitting him with a stone in a yard off George street.

One witness, a man named Walker, said he happened to go to his back door and saw a crowd of boys there with a rope about Joseph Gilbert's neck. The prisoner then called on the boys to get stones, saying he would be the leader. The boys ran away, presumably to get the stones and Foley struck Gilbert with a stone on the head. A surgeon found it necessary to put two stitches in the wound. Mr. Walker complained of the actions of this crowd of small boys. He says they have a camp, or something of that nature in that vicinity and there they smoke cigarettes and play cards. They are there quite late at night.

Gilbert who is much older and larger than the prisoner told a similar story about the assault.

Mrs. Foley denied that her boy spent all his time in that vicinity and said that young Gilbert admitted to her that he had thrown a stone.

At her request the case stands over till tomorrow till she can secure witnesses.

EVIL HOUSES RAIDED.

Police Break Up Places of Ill-Repute on Sheffield St. and Westmoreland Road.

The police raided two bawdy houses early Sunday morning and arrested all who were found on the premises. Sergeant Campbell and Officers Marshall and McNamee visited the house on Sheffield street kept by Eva Morrell, a well known character who has been several times through the hands of the police. There they found John Tobin, a man fairly well advanced in years, and both were locked up. About this time Sergt. Hastings with Officers Burchell and Henry visited a house on Westmoreland road kept by Margaret Kizer, who says she is only eighteen years of age, and there arrested Margaret Anne McDermott, also known as Dunham and Thomas Armstrong, who are charged with being inmates.

At the police court this morning, the two men pleaded guilty. They were remanded to the police station. Eva Morrell unblushingly admitted that she kept a bawdy house, but was quite indignant when accused of stealing money from John Tobin, who was in the house at the time. When arrested, Eva, who is sometimes known as Margaret Kizer, ten dollars in her possession. John Tobin pleaded not guilty of being an inmate of the house.

CLERGYMEN CHASE CONVICT.

A Dozen Broke Jail During Church Service—All Were Recaptured But Two.

DENVER, Del., Nov. 7.—A number of prisoners have made a dash from the Kent county jail. The man hunt which followed dotted the roads and marshes with pursuers for the remainder of the day. The Sunday services generally are conducted by divinity students and at the time they were due the prisoners, evidently by preconcerted arrangement, snatched about the corridor entrance. As the door was opened to admit the students, there was a rush. Doorkeeper and students were hurled aside, and a dozen prisoners fled in all directions. They had not gone many yards before jailers and visitors were in full cry after them, the prison officials firing as they ran. Most of the fugitives quickly getting away. They are Samuel Barrett and Louis Clarke, the former of whom was recently sentenced to a seven year term. One of the divinity students, a member of the Wilmington conference academy foot ball team overtook Clarke and tackled him. There was a short but severe struggle. The prisoner was getting the worst of it, when he drew a razor and compelled his captor to release his hold.
